ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

UNION-BANNER

The Best Advertising Medium in Central Alabama

Circulation This Week 2,500

VOLUME XIII.—EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1926 NUMBER 38

LAWMAKERS BEGIN GRINDING AT WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

Long List of Important Legislation Pending, Including World Court Issue.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The Congress of the United States returned to work today, facing a bgger calendar than it left when it began the Christmas recess nearly two weeks ago. To the pre-holiday list of pending issues, including the world court, tax reduction bill, debt settlements and appropriation measures, have been added the surplus farm crop problem, the Geneva disarmament parliamentary conference and new angles of the anthricite situation. The question of American adherence to the world court remained before the senate with the probability that it might be displaced for a time by the case of Senator Gerald P. Nye, whose legal right to a seat by appointment by the North Dakota governor is involved.

The House was prepared to vote today on the treasury and postoffice appropriation bill, clearing the way for considering a joint bill, clearing the way for consideration tomorrow of a resolution empowering a joint congressional commttee to receive bids for disposal of the Muscle Shoals property.

Before long the administration is expected to ask congress for an appropriation to defray expenses of the American representation in parliamentary commission which is to meet in Geneva in preparation for a disarmament conference. President Coolidge has about decided on the step and he anticipates little opposition at the capitol. Important committees from both houses also have busy programs. The foreign debt settlements questions awaited the house ways and means committee today, the senate finance had before the recess. Secretary Mellon, who in conference with senate leaders has approved the tax bill in substantially its present form, was ready to testify. The house interstate commedce committe directed by resolution to inquiry into alleged manipulation of rubber prices by the British colonial governments, planned to begin the investigation during the week. The same committee in the senate is to open hearings on the first piece of railroad legislation of the session—the Gooding bill to prohibit railroads from charging more for short hauls than for long hauls.

Immediate hearings before the house agriculture committee on proposals for aiding farmers in disposing of surplus crops are to be sought by members of the Iowa delegation who have bills ready for presentation. The same question is being considered by Secretary Jardine who has arranged for conferences with interested persons during the month.

The situation resulting from cessation of work in the anthracite mines also is to come more favorably before the house one impending measure proposing government operation of the mines when a strike lasts longer than 30 days.

SMITH—JOHNSTON

The Union-Banner received the following announcement:

"Mrs. C. C. Smith, of Clanton, Alabama, announces the marriage of her daughter, Leona Gertrude, to Mr. Arthur Robert Johnston, of Tuscaloosa, on December 27, 1925.

At home, 2605 Broad Street, Tuscaloosa, Ala."

FARMERS INTERESTED IN NEW YORK AUTO SHOW

Farmers throughout the land are more interested in the 1926 Automobile Show than ever before, according to Geo. C. Polk of the Polk Brothers Motor Company, in this city. Mr. Polk declared this week that the feature of this year's show is the beauty and variety of Duco colors seen on the new cars exhibited by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The agricultural interest in these colors comes from the fact that two of the largest crops grown in the United States are combined by chemists in the manufacture of Duco. Cotton, in the form of linters, is mixed with nitric acid to form nitro-cellulose, while corn, after being distilled into butyl alcohol, is used as a solvent. The result is that today thousands of bales of cotton linters and millions of bushels of corn are being consumed by the du Pont Company in the production of Duco, which is unlike varnish, paint and enamel in that it contains no oils. Thus, as a new by-product of agriculture, it has opened new markets for the farmer.

In Mark Twain's days on the Mississippi no one had an automobile and no one dreamed that cotton and corn would some day be used as a finish for automobiles, and still this year this chemical achievement is arousing more interest among farmers than any other feature of the auto show.

The exhibit of the Chevrolet Company contained many new and beautiful Duco color combinations which can also be seen at the local show room of Polk Brothers Motor Co., of Clanton.

MANY PUBLIC BUILDINGS ARE BURNED IN COOSA

Goodwater, Ala., Jan. 2.—There seems to be an epidemic of fires to public buildings in Coosa County for the past year. Early in 1925 the public school building here and the court house at Rockford were destroyed by fire; late in the fall the public school building at Equality was burned, and news has reached here of the burning of the Baptist church at Equality. After the burning of the school building at Equality the Baptist church, among other buildings in the town, was used for the school. The church had not been built many years and was a commodious one and well furnished.

The court house has been rebuilt, is now occupied, and is an improvement over the old court house; and two public school buildings have replaced the one destroyed here, but it is stated that efforts will be made at Equality to rebuild both buildings shortly.

MRS. IDA THOMPSON

Mrs. Ida Thompson, age 48, wife of James Arthur Thompson of Concord community, died at her home Monday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock. She had been sick only ten days of influenza and pneumonia.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Concord church, Rev. R. L. Bonner and Rev. G. B. Golden officiating.

The deceased was a sister of Messrs. Joe and Walter Maddox of Clanton. All of her brothers and sisters were present at the funeral.

She leaves a husband and two children: Bernie Thompson of Birmingham and Mrs. George Tippett of Clanton.

The Legacy

CO. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IN SESSION HERE SATURDAY

W. G. Culp Tenders Resignation, and J. N. Dennis is Elected as County Chairman.

Pursuaut to the call previously made, the Republican Executive Committee of Chilton County met at the court house in Clanton last Saturday. Every Beat in the county was represented, and many other enhusiasic Republicans from over the county were in attendance besides the members of the committee.

A number of items of business of importance in the approaching campaign were taken up and disposed of. Some talks were made by a number of the members of the committee and others.

Reports from every Beat showed that the situation in Chilton County is very hopeful for Republican success, as there is not apparent any discord anywhere. All the Republicans appear to be well satisfied with the record that the party is making through its officials in the administration of the county's business.

Mr. W. G. Culp, chairman of the committee, tendered his resignation, which was accepted with regret. Mr. Jasper N. Dennis was elected to succeed Mr. Culp.

The Republican committee plans to make a vigorous campaign in the elections this year and hopes to continue the affairs of the county in the hands of the party of the people. Every indication points to its success.

BOARD OF REGISTRARS NOW ON THEIR ROUND

The attention of the people of Chilton county is called to the fact that the Board of Registrars are now at work making their rounds to the different Beats in the county. All who are entitled to register may meet the Board when they come to your Beat and get fixed up.

The Board will be at the court house from January 18 to 30, during which time and at which place any person in the county who is entitled to register may do so.

WALKER - PATE MARRIAGE

The marriage of Miss Pauline Walker to Mr. Lee Pate took place on Thursday afternoon, December 24, at the home of the bride. The home was beautifully decorated with potted plants, narcissus and carnations. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. P. Lowery of Thorsby.

The bide was attractively attired in blue with harmonizing accessories. She is a very charming young lady who enjoys the love and admiration of a host of friends.

The groom is a young man of sterling character who holds a responsible positon with the Dixie Cnstruction Company at Cherokee, where they will make their home.

Their many friends join in wishing them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

WILL TEACH AGRICULTURE BY RADIO

Announcement was made this week by Samuel R. Guard, director of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation that a radio school of agriculture would be established over the foundation's radio station, WLS. The opening session of the school is scheduled for the evening of January 12, stsarting promptly at 6 o'clock and continuing for one hour. Pupils will be enrolled from among the farm listeners to this short course in farming just as they are in a regular college or university, and their attendance, via the air, will be expected every day except Saturday and Sunday at the same hour.

Mr. W. J. Billingsley of Thorsby was a visitor in town Saturday.

JUDGE MAYFIELD ANNOUNCES FOR U. S. SENATE ON MONDAY

Papers Recorded With Secretary of State Blan to Make Race Against Underwood.

A formal declaration of his candidacy for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Oscar W. Underwood was handed to the Secretary of State by Judge James J. Mayfield Monday morning. Judge Mayfield's declaration is dated January 2nd, but owing to the fact that the office of the Secretary of State was closed Saturday afternoon, it was formally filed on Monday.

Judge Mayfield's formal declaration is as follows:

"I, James J. Mayfield, a resident and qualified elector of the State of Alabama, do hereby declare that I am a candidate for the office of United States Senator for the State of Alabama to succeed the Honorable Oscar W. Underwood. I do further hereby name and nominate myself as the person to receive, expend, audit and disburse all moneys contributed, donated or subscribed or in any way furnished or raised, for the purpose of aiding, or promoting the nomination or election f myself as such candidate.

"Given under my hand this the 2nd day of January, 1926."

Lyceum Number At High School Jan. 8

The Jane Case Company will present the first lyceum number at the high school building in Clanton on the night of Friday, January 8th. The course is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association and is given in the interest of the Clanton Grammar School. There are two more numbers of the course, one of which will be presented in February and the last in March. The price of admission is 50 cents for each performance, or $1 for a season ticket. An evening of pleasure is promised to all.

MRS. MATTIE HENLEY

Mrs. Mattie Henley, age 55, died at the home of Mr. I. V. Collins in Clanton, Gowan Addition, Monday morning. The remains were buried at New Harmony Tuesday morning.

ATKINSON AND PITTS FORM PARTNERSHIP

Messrs. J. B. Atkinson and Percy M. Pitts, attorneys, of Clanton, have formed a partnership in the practice of law and have established their offices jointly in the Johnson Building.

These men need no introduction to the people of Chilton County. They have been prominent figures at the Clanton bar for several years.

J. C. JONES OPENS NEW STORE IN CLANTON

Mr. James C. Jones, well known merchant of Clanton, has opened a new store in the building on First Street next to Dief's Service Station. Mr. Jones will hondle a full line of general merchandise, shoes, groceries, feed, flour, hay, and will buy cotton.

He is now opening up his goods and will be ready to serve his friends in a few days.

An Unpopular Invention.—A chemist has invented a process by which gold can be spread out more thinly. Shucks! It's spread out too thin already.—Farm and Fireside.

Mrs. Carrie Mullins is convalescing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart, following a three-week's stay at South Highlands Infirmary, in Birmingham.

Miss Kathleen Mullins is visiting Miss Marzelle Mullins in Montgomery.

NEW FIRM TO OPERATE LIME-COLA PLANT HERE

The Lime-Cola bottling plant in Clanton begins the new year under a new management. The owners now are Herbert Lowery and J. A. Pullen, recently of Gorgas. Mr. Lowery is well known in this section, being the son of Rev. W. P. Lowery of Thorsby. Mr. Pullen was reared at Randolph in which community he is well known.

These two young men are ambitious and expect to push the bottling business here for all it is worth. They will put up Lime-Cola, Red Rock ginger ale, orange and grape drinks, root beer, and all kinds of soda water. They are honest, hard working fellows and it is certain that they will conduct their business in a creditable manner. They will continue the plant at its present location, the Smith building next to the Jones Hardware Company.

They will operate a truck with which they will supply their products to all towns and stores in this territory.

Mr. Lowery and Mr. Pullen will bring their families here as soon as they can get a place to live.

FEDERAL-AID ROAD FUNDS APPORTIONED TO STATES

Secretary of Agriculture Jardine this week announced the apportionment of $73,125,000 to the States for use in the construction of Federal-aid roads. This apportionment was authorized by the Post Office Appropriation Act of February 12, 1925, and is for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1926.

The new funds will be spent entirely on the Federal aid highway system under the same plan of cooperation with the States that has been in successful operation for ten years. The roads included in the system are the most important in the country and reach directly or indirectly every city of over 5,000 population. The bureau reports that approximately 10,000 miles of Federal-aid road were brought to completion during 1925 and the indications are that the coming year will be equally successfull.

Alabama's part of the new apportionment is $1,540,799.

SQUIRE DENNIS'S ACORN CROP

Squire John S. Dennis of Beat 11 was in Clanton last Saturday attending the Republican Executive Committee.

In talking with him a few minutes he stated that he had made a good crop of acorns the past year, which we thought unusual, as we never before heard of anyone speaking about making a crop of acorns.

We have forgot how much acorns Mr. Dennis said he gathered from one white oak in his yard. It was either 50 pounds or 50 bushels. If you don't know enough about growing acorns to guess which is right you will have to see Mr. Dennis and find out, that is, if you want to know bad enough.

Anyway he said he fed the acorns to his hogs to fatten them, and they helped out his corn crop a whole lot.

H. A. Harris, ex-sheriff of Chilton County, was here Saturday attending the executive committee meeting.

Alf Mims of Thorsby was in Clanton Saturday. Some of his friends say they saw a political bee buzzing around his hat.

PROSPERITY WAVE PREDICTED TO CONTINUE ON THROUGH 1926

Industrial and Financial Leaders are Unanimous in Expressions of Optimism Over Year's Business Outlook.

New York, January 3.—Upon the heels of one of the most prosperous business years in history, the new year is ushered in with all signs pointing to a continuation of prosperity at least for the first half of 1926. Forecasts by financial and industral leaders revealed almost complete unanimity of opinion regarding the trend of business during this period, but many of them were tempered with caution in taking a long range view of the entire year.

Seldom have the cheerful predictions which were issued for 1925 been more abundantly fulfilled. Tangible evidence of improvement was noted in all lines of trade and industry throughout the year, embracing such important measures of prosperity as record-breaking railway car loadings, unprecedented holiday trade, substantial gains in the earnings of railroads and industrial corporations which was passed on to their stockholders in the form of higher dividends, decided progress in the restoration of European political and economy stability and indications that there would be little restrictive legislation affecting financial or railway enterprises from the present session of congress.

As a promoter of trade, the stock market functioned throughout the year with undeniable precision. The business prosperity of 1925 was foretold in the fall boom of 1924 and the sustained strength of stock trading up to the close of the year indicated that the time had not yet arrived to discount a reversal of trade tendencies. Underlying easy money conditions stimulated stock market operations most of the year, but 1926 begins with firmer conditions prevailing.

The traditional curtailment of trade activities during the holiday period brought no new features of interest to light last week. It was generally agreed, however, that the lull in production and distribution would be of short duration.

Many industries closed the most extraordinary year in their histor according to Dun's Review of Trad with operations in many basic lin running close to capacity. In so instances a tendency toward high prices was reported.

Although actual operations in th steel industry were reduced last week the year ended with the general rat of production standing at a high lev and with prospects bright for a co tinuation of the pace for seve months. Although December figu are not yet available, it is appare that ingot production exceeded 1917 war record of 43,619,000 tons

For the first time in history railw freight traffic has been maintai through December at an average r of more than a million car loadings weekly.

J. A. THOMPSON IN HOSPITAL

Mr. J. Arthur Thompson of Concord community was carried to the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton last Friday. He is suffering with a severe attack of influenza and pneumon Late reports from him say that he resting fairly well and improving.

Statement of the Condition of

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Clanton, Ala., Close of Business December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Loans,	$253,180.82
Overdrafts,	246.99
Banking House,	2,700.00
Furniture-Fixtures,	2,727.25
Bonds,	20,400.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	471,300.11
TOTAL,	0,555.17

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	78,934.58
Deposits,	$656,620.59
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

The Peoples Savings Bank, opening its doors for business on the morning of December 7, 1901, received deposits from twenty-one citizens of Chilton County... An examination of the books of the bank reveals that some of these original depositors have passed away; some have moved away; but over one-half of the original number or their direct heirs, still maintain accounts with The Old Reliable. Further examination reveals that at the end of the year 1901, the number of depositors had increased more than one hundred per cent, and out of these over fifty per cent of them or their direct heirs still do their banking business with this bank.

In 1901, The Peoples Savings Bank, a mere youngster, provided its customers with Safety and Service. Today, this same old institution, the trail blazer, Chilton County's first bank, the veteran that has weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century, provides its customers with that same safety and service.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS ON OUR RECORD

Condensed Statement of the Condation of the

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

At the Close of Business January 4, 1926

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts,		$476,727.53
Overdrafts,		1,713.73
United States Bonds,		30,000.00
Banking House,		10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures,		3,236.98
Redemption Fund,		1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank,		2,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	$227,104.40
Stocks and Bonds,	58,827.75
		285,932.15
TOTAL,		$811,688.90

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	34,854.78
Circulation,	28,800.00
Deposits,	698,034.12
Rediscounts,	(NONE)
Bills Payable,	(NONE)
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95

Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59

Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12

TOTAL RESOURCES MORE THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

Start The New Year Right!

Do Your Trading With The Store That SAVES YOU MONEY.

Our Prices are always LOWER than any others

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE
CLANTON, ALABAMA

We have some wonderful bargains in SHOES right now

THORSBY SECTION

(S. L. NORTON, Manager).

Miss Marion Fairbank of Thorsby Institute returned last week from Washington, D. C., where she spent the Christmas holidays. She visited as a gallery attendant the U. S. Senate chamber and heard speeches from Senator Walch of Montana in favor of the U. S. adherence to the World Court. Also Senator Underwood, who spoke in favor of the proposed action or organzation to handle surplus crop produce in agriculture. She regarded both men as interesting and forceful speakers who received close attention from the entire audience.

Word has been received from Dr. Wood that he will return to Thorsby in about three weeks. He spent the holidays visiting his mother in Texas, and went to New Orleans, after the 1st to take part in his special course in surgery at Tulane universty, postponing part of it to a later date.

Mrs. R. L. Primm, who returned Saturday night from two weeks visit with relatives and friends in Birmingham was carried back to that city Tuesday morning to receive surgical treatment in a local infirmary.

Miss Agnes Leary returned to Howard College last Wednesday, after spending a week or more with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Leary, in Thorsby.

J. D. Cleckler, Thorsby's Mayor, has been called to Washington, D. C., on account of the death of a relative. He expecteed to be gone two weeks, during his absence the duties of his office as Mayor have been delegated to Carl C. Petersen, a member of the Thorsby Council.

During the holidays Thorsby Institute Library received upwards of 500 books which are now being inspected, catalogued and placed on the shelves ready for use by the students and the public.

Mrs. Anna Junkerman, upwards of 80, living in her cottage near the hotel buliding, had a fall a few days ago and is now in a serious condition. She has for some time been under the watchful care of kind neighbors who are doing what they can for her comfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Meade and Mrs. Mead motored to Selma on New Years day to visit Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Barrett, who were former Thorsby residents. They found them very comfortably located in their new home, and apparently enjoyng life as it comes to them.

Thorsby Institute faculty and dormitory students held their usual Christmas party at the dining hall last Friday night, having by vote postponed it until they returned from ther vacations.

Mrs. King, a sister of Mrs. S. C. Wood, of Selma, with her small son, is spending a few days with her sister in Thorsby.

Mrs. Nels Peterson spent the week end at Prattville, her old home town, visiting old frends. She met her sister there, Miss Sadie Shannon of West Point, Ga., Ga., and brought her home with her Monday night.

The fruit growers association have moved their office into their new location on Jones St., near the highway, where J. M. Smith, the manager, will make his headquarters when there is any business needing attention. The business mens club whch has occupied this building for several years, have moved to the room at the rear of the Masonic building.

The Christan Endeavor Society had a very interesting meeting Sunday night in spite of the bad weather.

The copious rains of the past few days have helped greatly to lessen the trouble and inconvenience caused by Thorsby Institute water works being out of commission.

Miss Clara Peterson and Mr. Lewis Self of Brmingham motored to Thorsby Sunday to spend the day with Miss Peterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Peterson, and to say good bye to Walter, as this was the last day of his ten day furlough. He left Sunday night for Pensacola, Fla., where he will resume his duties in the U. S. naval air service.

COMMISSIONERS SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Probate Court.

In pursuance of the directions and terms of a Commission dated the 5th day of January, 1926, issued to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, on The 30th day of January, 1926, at Twelve o'clock, noon, at the front door of the court house of Chilton County at Clanton, Ala., the following described property:

24 acres on the west side of NE fourth of S Wfourth of Section Thirteen, Township Twenty-two, Range Fourteen; S half of the SE fourth of the NW fourth, and SW fourth of NW fourth, less that part of N half of SW fourth of NW fourth, east of the public road, all in Section Twenty-five, Township Twenty-one, Range Fourteen; S half of the NE fourth of the NE fourth, and one-fourth acre in SE corner of N half of NE fourth of NE fourth of Section Twenty-six, Township Twentp-one, Range Fourteen; S half of SW fourth of Section Five, and SE fourth of SE fourth of Section Six, and SW fourth of NW fourth of Section Eight, all in Township Twenty-two, Range Fifteen. All of the above being situated in Chilton County, Ala., and being known as the lands of Tom Jones, Deceased, which said property is to be sold under the order of said Probate Court, for the purpose of division and partition between the several Joint Owners thereof, viz:

Era Littleton, Essie Fulmer, Ruben E. Jones, Luther Jones non compus mentis, Leander Jones non compus mentis, Essie Fulmer, Guardian; Harvey Jones, a minor over the age of fourteen years; Essie Fulmer, Guardian; Everee Jones, Clifford Jones, Myrtle Jones, and J. T. Jones, minors under the age of fourteen years; Lula C. Jones, Guardian.

This, January 5th, 1926.

GRADY REYNOLDS,
Commissioner.

1-7-3t

Mr. Sam Upchurch left Saturday for Virginia, where he attends school.

Dangerous Cough —How to End it

To quickly end a dangerous cough there is a very simple treatment which gives almost instant relief and often breaks the cough entirely in 24 hours.

This treatment is based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but also loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So the worst cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

CLANTON LOCALS

Misses lee Stewart has returned to Jacksonville, Fla., after a delightful visit to Mesdames N. S. Johnson and John Browder.

Mrs. A. S. Jones and Miss Irene Jones spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Span Jones at Mulberry.

Mr. Tommie Sewell of Titus, was the guest of Mr. Jack Hayes last week.

Mrs. Harris returned to her home in Mumford Saturday, having been the guest of Miss Lurline Harper.

Mr. Bonnie Plyler has gone to Meridian, Miss., after spending the holidays with his family.

Mesdames J. Lee Smith, G. C. Harris, J. E. Gowan and Grady Broadhead spent last Wednesday in Billingsley.

Mrs. J. E. Gown and children motored to Montgomery Saturday and spent the day shopping.

Miss Willodean Reynolds has returned to Montgomery where she resumes her studies at Womans College.

Miss Beverly Hester left Tuesday for New York City, having spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

Mr. Jack Hayes returned to the University of Alabama Sunday, after spending the Christmas holidays with his parents here.

Mr. Eric Hart attended the Jones-Higgins wedding in Birmingham last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart have as their guest his mother from Demopolis, Ala.

Miss Lillian Taylor has returned from Greenville, Miss., where she spent the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. John Newell and children of Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bridges and children of Bessemer, were recent guests of Judge and Mrs. L. H. Reynolds.

Dr. Mary Sue Mullins has returned to New Orleans to resume her studies at Tulane, after being the guest of her mother, Mrs. P. D. Wilson.

Misses Thelma Guy and Leona Stanley have returned from Wetumpka, where they spent the Christmas holidays with home folks.

Joe VanDerveer has returned from a week's vsit to relatives in Bessemer.

Miss Margaret Hester has returned to Birmingham, where she holds a responsible position with the Postal Telegraph Co., having spent the holidays with home folks.

Mr. Lake Thompson of Birmingham came down Saturday to be at the bed-side of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thompson, who are seriously ill with pneumonia.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Young Mr. David Moore, who has been in the hospital for some time, is now rapidly recovering.

Mr. W. A. Reynolds underwent an operation at the hospital Tuesday.

Mr. J. A. Thompson, who has been in the hospital for several days is better.

Mr. Broadus Connatser, a leader in athletics and a member of the senior class at the Unversity of Alabama, has returned to school following an operation at the Central Alabama Hospital.

Master Willie McAdoo, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mcdoo, of Live Oak, Fla., is in the hospital with an attack of pneumonia.

Mss Evelyn Blalock, recently of the Selma Baptist Hospital, has returned to the Central Alabama Hospital to resume her training.

Miss Carre Mae Retherford has entered training here.

Miss Anna G. Baird, the new superintendent, has arrived, and assumed her duties at the hospital, whch she has been subjecting to a thorough renovation and re-organization.

A CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to try, in a measure, to express our many thanks to the good people of Samaria church and Sunday School and to our good neighbors and friends for their bounteous pounding on December 24th.

We cannot command words to express our thanks, but we do want each one who contributed to know that we greatly appreciate their donation and that we pray God's blessings upon them.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith.

COTTON SEED One More Week.—I will buy cotton seed for only one more week this season. If you have any to sell, bring them in at once.—J. A. Maddox, Clanton Mill and Gin

Miss Lurline Harper left Sunday to resume her duties as teacher in one of the Selma schools.

Misses Alma Robinson and Elizabeth Duncan have returned to Judson college, after spending the holiday season with home folks.

The friends of Miss French Evans will regret to know of her illness.

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Wilkerson have returned from a two weeks visit to relatives in south Alabama.

Mr. Joe Mullins left Sunday for Tuscaloosa to resume his studies at the University.

Mr. Charles Moore, who spent the holiday vacation with his parents, has returned to the University of Ala.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF THORSBY

Located at Thorsby, Ala., at the Close of Business December 31, 1925.

RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts,		$110,362.01
2 Overdrafts,		38.83
5. Banking House,		1,000.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures,		2,097.06
8. Cash, (a) Currency,	$3,144.00
(b) Gold,	660.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	327.21
Total,		4,131.
9. Due from Banks,		28,464.
12. Checks and Cash Items,		339
13. Cash Items in Transit,		5,696.
TOTAL,		$152,129.

LIABILITIES

1. Capital Stock Paid in,		$ 10,000.
2. Surplus Fund,		8,500.
3. Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		5,067.
5. Demand Deposits, (a) Individual Deposits,	$92,396.24
(b) Demand Certificates,	6,519.06
(f) Cashier's Checks,	1,096.83
Total,		100,012
6. Time Deposits, (b) Time Certificates,		28,549.
TOTAL,		$152,129.

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Before me came C. R. Foss, Cashie of The Bank of Thorsby, who being duly sworn, says that the above an foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, a shown by the books on file in said Bank.

C. R. FOSS,
Cashier.

ATTEST:
CHAS. E. LUCAS,
A. E. REAGAN,
J. H. GODDARD,
Directors.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 5th day of January, 1926.
WALLACE C. EDLER,
Notary Public.

AN OPPORTUNITY

—o—

We have for Sale a House and Lot in Clanton, can give you as much Land as you Want. This is an Opportunity that is not found every day.

—o—

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

OAK CROSS TIES WANTED

Am now paying following prices for Oak Ties, delivered to my yard at Clanton:

Sawn.

Grade 5—7 x 9 x 8½—8-inch face	$ .90
Grade 4—7 x 8 x 8½—7-inch face	.80
Grade 3—7 x 9 x 8½—6-inch face	.60

Smooth Hewn Ties, 5 cents less. Must be sound timber, and all bark removed. Cash paid for each load. See me for specifications.

ROBERT TEEL, Clanton, Ala.

Condensed Statement of the Condition of

THE BANK OF THORSBY

OF THORSBY, ALABAMA

December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Commercial paper	$ 30,000.00
Loans and discounts	80,362.01
Overdrafts	38.83
Banking house	1,000.00
Furniture and fixtures	2,097.06
Checks and cash items	339.58
Collections in transit	5,696.29
Cash in vault and in Banks	32,595.38
Total	$152,129.15

LIABILITIES:

Capital stock	$ 10,000.00
Surplus and undivided profits	13,567.05
Deposits	128,562.10
Total	$152,129.15

Comparative Statement:

Deposits December 31, 1921	$ 33,600.77
Deposits December 31, 1922	68,873.15
Deposits December 31, 1923	81,638.14
Deposits December 31, 1924	100,816.02
Deposits December 31, 1925	128,562.10

Total Resources Over One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars

A Bank for All the People, and the Peoples' Bank

J. R. OWEN

— DEALER IN —

GENERAL MERCHANDISE, SHOES, ETC.

A Good Country Store, where you can buy Goods at Standard Prices with the Guarantee of the Highest Quality to be obtained anywhere.

We call your attention to our Extra Values in Shoes, that are Guaranteed to wear a reasonable time or you get a new pair.

I buy Country Produce. Your trade Appreciated.

Owenville, Ala. Clanton, Ala., R. 3

Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)

REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted

Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

Senate Will Not Adopt "Gag" Rule

Washington, Jan. 4.—Fearful of disastrous results of an attempt to "gag" the senate and force a vote on the world court before the question has been debated, administration leaders have abandoned their plan to invoke the cloture rule as a means of speeding the debate, it is learned.

Instead they now plan to wear the irreconcilables down in their opposition to the court by holding eight-hour sessions of the senate daily, beginning immediately after congress reconvenes on January 4. Thus the senate will probably open at 10 a. m., instead of noon.

There are two reasons behind this shift in the administration's tactics in the court fight, it was stated. The chief reasosn is the fear that a move to impose the "gag" rule could not command the necessary two-thirds vote, despite the claims that more than enough senators have pledged themselves to vote for ratification of the world court protocol.

A secondary consideration is the almost universal opposition in the senate to the "gag" rule proposal sponsored by vice-president Dawes.

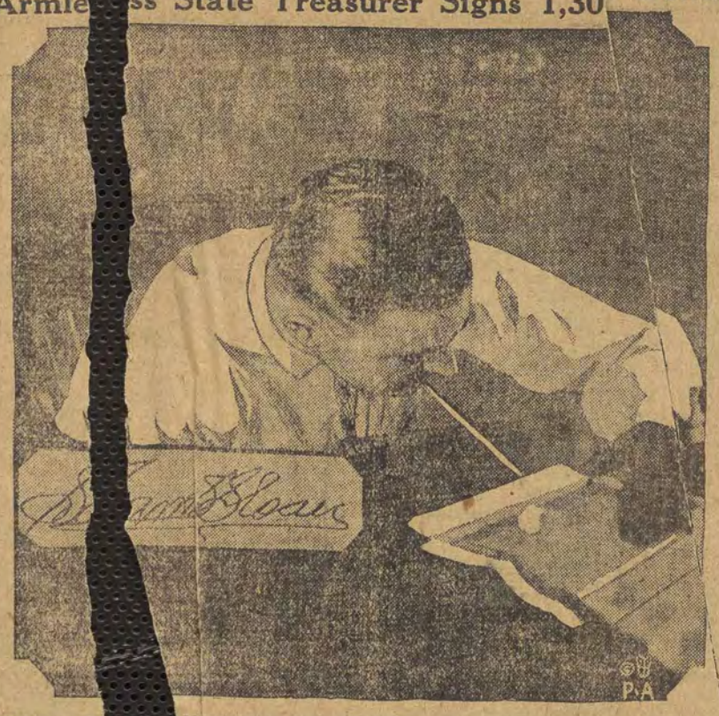
Since the suggestion was first made by Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, leader of the administration forces in the court battle, the opposition to employing the cloture to speed up the debate has grown to such an extent that it was found advisable by friends of the court to disavow any such intention.

While administration leaders continue to insist that the world court question will be disposed of before the tax bill is taken up for consideration, irreconcilable leaders contend that it will be necessary to lay aside the world court measure in order to give the tax reduction program a clear road.

OAK GROVE W. M. U.

Editor Union-Banner:

As we do not see much about our W. M. U. work at Oak Grove in the paper, and as we are doing a great work, we are sending you our program that is to be rendered Thursday, January 7, for consideration, and see if you think the work we are doing is worth while.



The program is as follows:

1. Song, "Revive Us Again."
2. Scripture Reading, Heb. 6:10-12; Topic, "Let Us Go On To Perfection;" Subject, "China's Need of Christian Prayers and Gifts."
3. "The Enrichment of Prayer," by Mrs. C. L. Martin.
4. "Gratitude for Blessings of the Past Year," by Mrs. A. C. Thornbro.
5. "Prayer is the Hope of Our Missionaries," by Mrs. J. ... Cobb.
6. Song, "Jesus Ke... Me Near the Cross."
7. Prayer of Than... iving for the Plan of Salvation.
8. "How My Mothe... Used Her Bible," by Miss Martha ... lden.
9. "Hindering or He... g; Which?" by Mrs. W. H. Faulkn... r
10. "Stewardship as... Taught in the Bible," by Mrs. L. R. ... Cobb.
11. "Hear the Cry ... e Missionaries," by Mrs. Jim C... l
12. "Meaning of the ... ," by Mrs. W. A. Martin.
13. "Womanhood in ... th America Waits Lifting," b... rs. Earle Cobb.
14. "Challenging Us ... ift in Japan," by Mrs. Perry Gla... s.
15. "Not Without a ... ess," by Mrs. John Glass.
16. "Promise Past Du... China," by Mrs. C. N. Cobb.

Dismissed with Senter... Prayers.

W. H. FA... INER.

Armle... ss State Treasurer Signs 1,30... Bonds

SAM S. SL... N, state treasurer of Arkansas, recently performed a task that wo... ha... daunted most men. Handicapped by the loss of his arms, he to... ...isen between his teeth and signed his name 1,300 times to some $65... ...worth of state bonds issued to make improvements on the state universi... at Fayetteville. In the above photo, you see him doing the work and ... so a facsimile of his clearly written signature.

Mr. Sloan lost ... arms in a saw-mill when he was only 15 years old. Yet he has ascend... to political heights despite his physical loss. When he ran for state tr... surer while serving as county clerk of White County, he won without o... position in both the primary and general elections, establishing a reco... .

W. M. U. QUARTERLY MEETING

The W. M. U. Quarterly Meeting of Chilton County Association will be held at New Salem Church, three miles southeast of Thorsby, on January 21. The Young People's Meeting will be held at Thorsby Baptist Church, January 16. We hope to have good crowds at both meetings.—Mrs. W. J. Billingsley, Supt.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, who was convicted at the Spring Term, 1922, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, on a charge of manufacturing liquor, and sentenced to the penitentiary for 1 year and 1 day to 18 months, will make application for full pardon and the restoration of civil and political rights.

This, the 5th day of January, 1926.
1-7-2t-ch OCIE MIMS.

The Union-Banned is $1.50 a year.

For January Inv...stment

ROGER BABSON, world's fore...st business statistician, says that the securities of ...ell-managed companies supplying light, power, gas, ..., are the best investments now available, considerin... safety and Yield. Our—

Preferred Sto...k

paid its twenty-third annual dividend ...January ... to the largest list of customer-owner... the history of Alabama Power Company. At the ...sent—and accrued divid...

Price 105

this stock is an attractive investment fo... individual who puts a high premium upon Safety a... the same time seeks a fair and regular return upon ...pital

Yield 6.66 per ct...

All dividends are cumulative and exemp... normal federal income tax. Ask any employe or ... direct to

INVESTMENT DEPARTM...T

Alabama Power C...mpany

Thos. W. Martin, Pres.

FARM LOANS SHOW BIG BOOST IN 1925

IMPROVED METHODS IN FARMING ARE ATTRIBUTED AS CAUSE FOR INCREASE IN AGRICULTURE

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Birmingham.—More money was loaned on farm lands in Alabama in 1925 than in any former year, according to Robert Jemison, Jr., president of Jemison & Co., which conducts an extensive farm loan business here. The large increase in this kind of business is attributed by Mr. Jemison to improved methods of farming and to the stocking up of the farms with better types of cattle.

Until a few years ago Alabama, with few exceptions, was stocked with scrub cattle, and modern methods of cultivating the fields were hardly known. But with the introduction of pedigreed stock and improved agricultural machinery different methods were employed and more money was needed by the owners to carry on their operations. Scattered over the State were many farms with Jersey and other high grade animals, and the superiority of these over the scrub soon demonstrated to the farmers the futility of trying to get ahead with their old methods and the live stock they had.

Mr. Jemison was one of the pioneers in this part of the State in developing first-class stock farm. He acquired a large acreage a few miles from Birmingham, bought a large number of mixed breeds of cattle, some of them best... from the Isle of Jersery, and it was not long until others fell in line, now Jefferson County has some of the best dairy cattle in the county and some of the best farms to be found anywhere.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

Many ... cities and towns in all parts of Alabama staged demonstrations in ... celebration of the University of Alabama's victory over the football team of the University of Washington at Pasadena, Cal., new year's day. The Alabama team won by the narrow margin of one point after it had been outclassed during the first half of the game.

Elementary school supervisors from Coffee, Covington, Jefferson, Tuscaloosa, Dale, Marion, Marshall and Lauderdale counties held a meeting at ... map out work for the year. Miss Cassie ... State Educational Department, ... Forest Hoffman, of Spencer of the ... .

Mr. and Mrs. ... miraculously escaped death at Mario... Junction recently when an auto in... by a locomotive and ing was struck ... Both were seriously hurled 35 feet. ... hurt.

Captain John Q... Quill, 87, of Mobile, died recently in B... ston. Captain Quill for many years ow... ned a number of river boats runnin... g out of Mobile. The two best-know... n are the John Quill and the Nettie ... the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co., is to make improvements in Fa... irfield, costing $15,000,000 has caused ... property values to double in several B... irmingham suburbs.

F. A. Bloodworth, o... Albany-Decatur, has been named a ... member of the executive committee of ... the board of trustees of the Mason ... ic Home, at Montgomery.

Dela Mae Steel, 15-yea... r-old girl, of Eoline, was burned to de... ath recently when her clothing caught ... ire from an open grate. A sister was ... hardly burned in a vain effort to save ... her life.

State Forester Page S. B... unker went to Washington recently to c... onfer with federal authorities about co... operation in the matter of forest fire ... control in Alabama.

Almost 100 additional lo... k boxes have been installed at the Tu... scaloosa post office, made necessary ... by the increased business being done ... begun

The Alabama Power Co. has ... put car. the operation of one-man stree... cars in Gadsden in an effort to ma... te the increase street car revenue meet the ex... pense.

Report has it that a merger is ... pend... ing between the Southeastern P... ower & Light Company and the Ge... orgia Railway and Power Co.

The City of Florence spent ... more than $250,000 in paving 37 blocks ... of her city streets during 1925, city ... records show.

Mrs. Henry McL... ain, of Jasper, was badly injured recently when a heate... r exploded. She was struck by flying fragments.

Extreme cold weather has retarded work on the new plant at Anniston, which is to house the M. & H. Valve Company.

A 900-gallon still was found near Tuscaloosa recently.

A dancing pavilion on Lookout Mountain in Etowah County, was recently destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $14,000.

Calhoun County is considering establishment of a sinking fund for her bonded indebtedness which totals $175,000.

The public service commission has given the Southern Bell Telephone Co. permission to install more modern telephones in Moulton.

J. L. Davis has just been named by Gov. Brandon as chairman of the Walker County Board of Registrars.

Subscribe for The Union-Ban...

PAROLE RECOMMENDED FOR HATTIE POPE

Last week the State Board of Pardons of Alabama reported to Governor Brandon a recommendation for the parole of Hattie Pope, who was sent to the penitentiary several years ago on a charge of second degree murder.

The Pope case was one of the most memorable in the annals of Chilton County's court records.

Sheriff Littlejohn went to Opelika Sunday night to bring back a couple of negroes, who are wanted here on a charge of decoying a child. The negroes formerly lived at the graphite mines near Mt. Creek.

Safety First.—Rafter—"I'm becoming so near-sighted that I bump into people when I walk along the street."

Shafter—"Goodness, man! That's dangerous. Why don't you buy a car and drive it?"—Life.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their kindness and help during the illness, death and burial of our dear mother. May the blessings of God be with you all.

J. T. BOWLES, Billingsley,
Mrs. EMA CAVER, Billingsley,
CHARLEY BOWLES, Jemison,
W. S. BOWLES, Billingsley,
IDA DERAMUS, Billingsley,
A. L. BOWLES, Clanton.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

WIFE AND HUSBAND BOTH ILL WITH GAS

"For years I had gas on the stomach. The first dose of Adlerika helped. I now sleep well and all gas is gone. It also helped my husband." (signed) Mrs. B. Brinkley. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Brings out old, waste matter you never thought was in your system. This excellent intestinal evacuant is wonderful for constipation. Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton, Ala. K-5

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

NITRATE OF SODA—I have ne more car of Nitrate of Soda. Better get yours now; $60.00 per ton. Farmers Hardware Co., L. H. Bean, Jemison, Ala. 1t-pd

LOST—Auto tag No. 12-6356, in or near Clanton, Saturday, December 26. Finder return to F. A. Ellison or Union-Banner office and get pay for trouble. 1t-pd

FOR RENT—One 1-horse crop on halves or standing rent. Located 2 1-2 miles northeast of Clanton. Apply to Banner office for particulars. 1-7-2t-pd.

STRAY MULE—Taken up by J. B. Smith on January 1st, two miles west of Jemison; mouse-colored mare mule abopt 12 years old, weight about 850 pounds. Owner may get same by paying for this adv. and fee bill. 1t-pd

This, Jan. 4, 1925.

SALES LADIES WANTED—Great, nationally advertised manufacturer needs local representatives. Permanent work—a chance to build a strong repeat business in your neighborhood. Every assistance given you through our permanent District office. Write at once. Sales Manager, Suite 401-5 Jackson Bldg., Birmingham, Ala. 12-31-3t-ch.

Write us for CATALOGS and PRICES on instruments of Quality. We can serve you best. PIANOS—PLAYERS—PHONOGRAPHS. A complete stock of genuine Victrola and Columbia records always on hand. Ask for latest list. Repairs done, and parts for all phonographs. Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., 110 Montgomery St., Montgomery, Ala. 12-31-2t-ch.

FROM A SUBSCRIBER OUT IN CALIFORNIA

The following letter has been received by The Union-Banner from a former Clanton lady who now lives in San Diego, California:

Editor Union-Banner:

Am enclosing my check for $1.50 to cover subscription for one year on "the old home town paper," so that I may keep close to the folks in my county.—Nettie Weesner, 1953 Kearney Ave., San Diego, California.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

Telephone subscribers now receive more for the money they spend for telephone service than for any comparable service or commodity.

MORE MILLIONS FOR ALABAMA

MORE than $4,406,000 will be expended for additions, extensions and replacements to Alabama's telephone service during the year 1926.

This is the largest telephone construction program ever undertaken in Alabama during one year. It follows closely our policy of building in advance to keep pace with the growth of the State.

It is estimated that more than 6,300 new telephones will be added to the Bell System in Alabama during 1926.

Such enormous additions and expansion makes the service indispensable to every community and more valuable to every individual user.

W. E. BARE, Alabama Manager
"BELL SYSTEM"
SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPA...

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

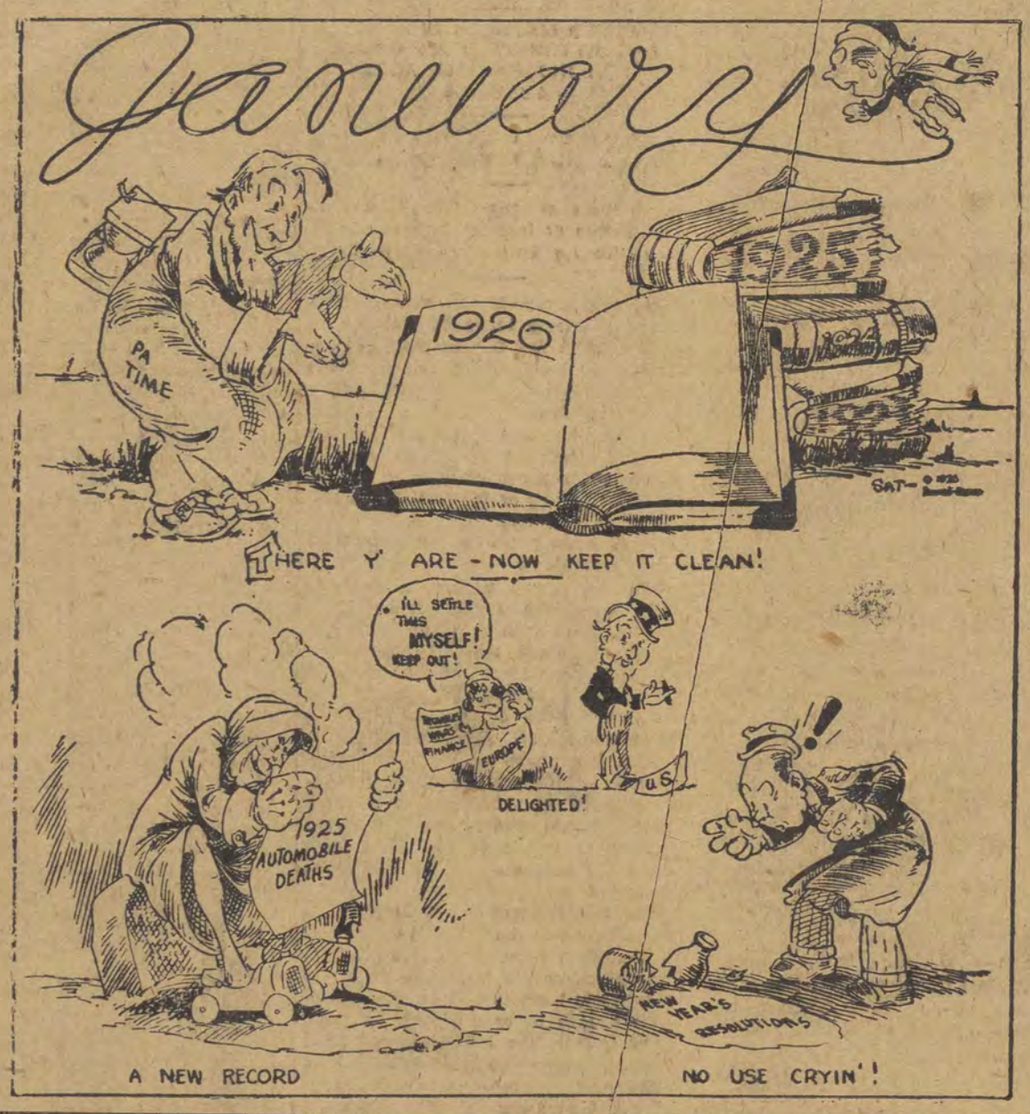
Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

A good new year resolution—Pay your poll tax and register.

The protracted rains of the past few days have been received with joy by the farmers of Chilton County. Much anxiety has been felt for plenty of rain before time to start the next crop.

Hermie Childress of Loxley, Baldwin County, was here the past week visiting friends. Mr. Childress has done well since going to Baldwin. He expects to return home this week and will begin immediately to plant his truck crop for the spring and summer season.

The year 1926 will be more interesting than 1925, for one reason if for no more—it is a political year, with congressional, state and county officers to be chosen. The primary in Alabama will be in August, with the final heat coming off in November.



Candidates in many counties are already showing signs of activity under the approaching warmth of the political season. They are announcing right along. None have announced yet in this county, but it would not be hard to locate a few who are mighty good prospects.

Gee, how times have changed since those days of yore. When the prodigal son gave up his job of slopping the hogs and returned home they put rings on his fingers and killed the fatted calf. But now, when the sleek little sheik comes home from college all dolled up in his stiff jacket and marcel wave, he takes up all the time shootin' the bull.

The press of the country is in a terrible sweat over the way the world is headed H—ward. But if you notice, these self same guardians of the public morals run one to four pages edited by high-salaried sports, to tell all about a bruising match, a prize fight or a foot ball game, but when some preacher rings the bell with a scriptural truth that might head off some of the world's hellishness, they only occasionally manage to wedge in half an inch notice of what the parson said, and oftentimes they never pay him any attention at all.

Prosperity to the right of us, prosperity to the left of us, prosperity behind us, prosperity in front of us—yea, this Republican prosperity is to be seen and felt everywhere one may chance to go. Do you hear anyone growling about unemployment? Do ever hear anybody complaining about low wages or about the high cost of living? No. These dreadful monsters which in such large numbers invaded the United States only a few years past took to their holes with the last Democratic administration. They are no longer stalking the earth and taking the joy out of the lives of so many people over the country. Mr. Coolidge and the Republican party told them to hunt the tall timber and they did it. Why even the Democrats of the solid South are getting their share of this Republican prosperity. Not many days ago a Prominent business man in Clanton—a Democrat, said that he had just closed the best year's business that he had ever had. When asked how long he expected this good business, he said, "Well, Coolidge has two more years, and then he will be re-elected. So that makes us certain of six more years; and it is very probable that the Republicans will remain in power much longer. And so long as they do we will enjoy good times." This was one of those thousands of good old Southerners who vote for Democrats for office because their grand daddies did and pra, for the election of Republicans so that they may have good business and peaceful prosperity.

LITTLE PEN-O-GRAMS

LET US HAVE BETTER ROADS

The statement of our County Commissioners and Probate Judge last week that they have plans for continued improvement of the roads in Chilton County is a welcome piece of news with which to begin the new year. It is the wish of The Union-Banner that they may be most wholly successful.

Everyone agrees that our officials have in the past few years done more in improving our roads than ever before. They are men who want to do something for the betterment of the roads, and it is fortunate that they have the means with which to carry forward their purposes. They have not got a plenty of money to spend on roads, it is true; but they have more than we used to have in this county, and they expend it wisely and in a way calculated to bring the best results.

These officials appeal to the people to cooperate with them, and we would remind our citizenship that they can do much toward getting better roads by the proper assistance. The mere moral assistance will be worth much even where material accistance is not a factor.

Let us have better roads yet, and let us help our Commissioners and probate judge in their earnest efforts to give the roads to us.

The service of Mr. W. G. Culp as chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of Chilton County, which was terminated by his voluntary resignation last Saturday, has been a record of good works for the party in this county. The affairs of the party have been directed along sane and judicious lines, and the result has been the formation of a stronger and more serviceable organization. His fellow-worker, Mr. J. Z. Mims, the committee secretay, will continue his work under the new chaiman, Mr. J. N. Dennis.

John, Dudley and Hugh Thompson, of Dadeville, were here Sunday to see their brother, Arthur Thompson, who is ill with pneumonia.

January is poll tax paying month. If you don't pay up before the first of February you cannot vote in the elections this year. It is the duty of every man and every woman to vote.

Uncle Stealey Jones from Beat 10 hadn't been heard from for some time past, but he showed up as usual at the Republican executive committee meeting last Saturday. Mr. Jones is a veteran Republican, and has done loyal service for the party for many years.

A GOOD MAN FOR OUR REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN

The action of the Republican Executive Commttee last Saturday in choosing Mr. Jasper Dennis as its chairman and thereby placing him in the position of director of the affairs of the Republican party in Chilton County, was a move that we calculate will be good for the party.

Mr. Dennis is a good man in every way that the word good may be used to describe a man. He is a good citizen, a good business man, and a good Republican. He has spent many years in the service of the people of Chilton county and in the service of the Republican party. His record has been above reproach in every single instance.

No one is more worthy and more qualified for the place of chairman and directing head of the Republican party. And there is not a man in the county in whose hands the interests of the Republican party would be safer.

We congratulate the Executive Committee upon their excellent selection.

GAMBLING IN COTTON

Senator Heflin, of Alabama, offered a suggestion in the course of his speech in the Senate on Tuesday which is worthy of the careful consideration of the committees of the Senate and House which have initial jurisdiction in the matter of shaping laws relating to the marketing of agricultural products.

Last summer, during the feverish activity of the Chicago grain market, Secretary Jardine devoted much time and thought to the subject of the control of grain speculation without offering a remedy. The publication of the department estimates of the cotton crop is frequently the forerunner of violent fluctuations in the exchange price of that commodity. Mr. Heflin has never been backward in expressing his views upon the causes which bring about these fluctuations in cotton prices. He points a way to constructive legislation, and his suggestion therefore deserves the consideration of his colleagues as a means of correcting a very grave evil.

Instead of proposing that the United States enter into partnership with the farmers and act as selling agent and warehouseman for every grower of cotton and grain, the senator from Alabama proposes that in all transactions involving the sale of these products of the soil only the actual commodity itself shall be sold. He would have cotton transferred from seller to buyer in the same manner as the soil itself is bought and sold. In explanation of his plan Mr. Heflin said in the Senate:

> You can sell a lot in Washington or elsewhere many times over in a month, but each time the lot itself is back of the transacton and is conveyed in the deed. We will say that a lot is sold down by the Potomac, the title is in the Vice President, Gen. Dawes. He sells it to me and he makes title to me. I sell it to the senator from Iowa and I make title to him, and he sells it to some one else and he makes title to that person. At no time would more than one person own that lot or be selling that lot.
>
> But how is it with cotton? The farmers make twelve or fourteen million bales, but the speculators are selling something which they call cotton, when they have no cotton, and the farmer maybe is sitting back holding his cotton off the market trying to get a price for it. He says, "I can not afford to sell at the present price;" but what happens? The speculators beat the price down and down on the exchange by selling fictitious cotton, preventing the farmer from getting a satisfactory rise in the price, by beating the price still lower, and that forces the farmer to throw his cotton upon the market.
>
> The same thing happens with the grain growers; and then what happens? When the speculators get the cotton and the grain in their hands they put the price back up, and they get the benefit of the rise in the price and make millions at the expense of the cotton and grain producers of the country.
>
> There is no question that impelled to produce a warehouse certificate, or similar document, with every sale of cotton, the grower would find his activities hampered if indeed he could continue in business. "I have been thinking seriously," said Senator Heflin, "about a legislative enactment confining speculation to the amount of cotton and grain produced. I believe that would solve the problem."

Congress might give serious thought to the suggestion of the senator from Alabama.—Washington (D. C.) Post.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of January 10, 1901.

Messrs. W. M. Wilson, John C. Dennis and C. R. Mullins of Clanton were in Stanton Tuesday on business.

Married on January 2nd, Mr. John Gay and Miss Amanda Davenport, Rev. J. M. Gothard performing the ceremony.

Mr. G. W. Taylor of Huckabee has opened a nice store at Billingsley.

Mr. T. U. Crumpton, who has been spending several months in Jerusalem and the Holy Land, is back at his home in Maplesville.

Rev. W. J. Armstrong preached an effective sermon at Macedonia last Sunday.

Mr. J. M. Mahan and lovely wife have located at Sportland.

Married this week—W. L. Williams and Miss Maggie Klinner, H. J. Deavers and Miss Addie C. Hornsby.

Mr. O. O. Roper has moved into his elegant new residence in the west end of Clanton.

Mr. P. C. Smith of Thorsby was in Clanton Tuesday.

The congressional reapportionment bill passed the House Tuesday. This increases the number of congressmen from 357 to 386, and went through by a majority of 165 to 102.

Miss L. E. Morgan returned home Sunday after a pleasant visit to relatives in Birmingham.

WE NEED MORE HOUSES

Clanton needs more houses for people to live in. There is not a vacant plact in the city, and every day or so somebody comes along looking for a place to roost.

A dozen good houses, if they were now in prospect of construction could be rented before they could be completed.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE COVERED

with a fire insurance policy in one of the companies we represent. Then you need have no fear of fire in a financial way. You can rest comfortably in the confidence that if a fire should occur at your house, the loss, large or little, will be paid promptly by the company you are insured in. Do it today.

& Insurance Co.

"Chuckle" Column

CUPID'S ENEMY?
(Sign in Laundry)
"We Darn Socks! Sew On Buttons! Mend Your Shirts! Why Get Married?"

Many man[illegible]d man has "darned" his socks when he found them f[illegible] of [illegible]es. O-My-Yes! VOCALLY!

See th[illegible]aper where a Berlin judge sentenced a man to a ment te[illegible]ust because he owned 300 shirts. That fellow wasn't craz[illegible] All he needed was a little business encouragement t[illegible]-start a Clearance Sale!

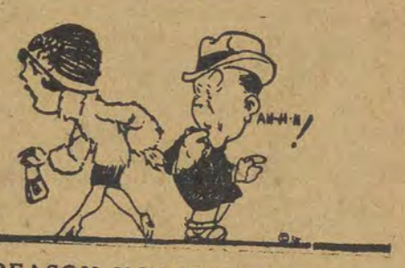
Zero In Jobs!

Shorthand Reporter at a political meeting attended by a thousand women.

Or - -

Working as an efficiency expert for a baker to figure up the saving accomplished by putting holes in doughnuts.

"Girls Warned Of Artificial Love Of Men"—says newspaper headline. Yes, girls— don't let 'im turn down the light. Look 'im over closely. That wavy, dreamy-looking hair may not be his own. Those pearly teeth may come out at night and that deep, mysterious, affectionate eye—may be glass. And if he walks with a slight limp—look out for a wooden leg.



Corporal Punishment - - Probably Was With The General!

Sentry in a South American city challenged an American motorist. Asked his identity, the motorist—having a sense of humor—replied:

"General Electric."

And much to his surprise, he was saluted and told to—"Pass on, General"—without further questioning.

Why is it—women's styles may change every twenty-four hours yet some of their habits don't? Just saw a sweet damsel crossing a wet street and carefully lift her skirt—said skirt normally reaching only to her knees.

THE REASON NOBODY WATCHES AEROPLANES ANY MORE!

Yes, it's too bad. Mary's lamb has been completely forgotten. In this short skirt age, it's her calf that gets the attention.

Babies are not the only ones who "pan" cake. A husband usually does that too, when his wife's baking efforts don't come up to his expectations.

Nothing gets a woman madder than to have her husband talk in his sleep—and not enunciate his words clearly enough to be understood.

Smilin' Charlie Says

"Just imagine what it would cost t' create as much stir now a days as th' fellow who rode th' first bicycle down th' street did - - -"

FAMOUS LAST LINES
(Husband to Wife)
"Did you set the Alarm Clock?"

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

Used Car Sale

We are offering our stock of used cars this week at very low prices in order that we may clean them out and make room for NEW CHEVROLET CARS that we have coming in.

Ford Sedan, late model, perfect condition	$225.00
Ford Touring, late model, a big bargain at	175.00
Ford Touring, late model, good tires, new top, and in perfect condition, only	175.00
Ford Touring, late model, good tires, new paint job and top, runs good	165.00
Chevrolet Touring, 1926 Model	475.00
Ford Touring, with starter	50.00
Ford Touring, with starter	75.00
Gaby Overland, in good shape	125.00
Ford Truck, Jumbo transmission	125.00
Ford Truck, in good condition	130.00
Chevrolet Truck, Perfect condition	225.00

ALL THE ABOVE CARS AND TRUCKS CAN BE BOUGHT WITH SMALL CASH PAYMENT WITH LIBERAL TERMS ON BALANCE. IF YOU ARE IN THE MARKET FOR GOOD USED CARS, IT WILL PAY YOU TO LOOK THESE OVER.

Blk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

Cars CHEVROLET Trucks

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Registration Notice

—o—

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of "An Act to Provide for the Registration of Electors," enacted by the Legislature of 1920, the Registrars of the County of Chilton, Alabama, do hereby give Notice that the following Appointments are set for the purpose of Registering those qualified under the law to Register as Electors:

Precinct 8—Stanton	January 7, 1926
Precinct 7—Shoults	January 8, 1926
Precinct 7—Maplesville	January 9, 1926
Precinct 3—Benson	January 11, 1926
Precinct 14—Macedonia	January 12, 1926
Precinct 2—Mars Hill	January 13, 1926
Precinct 2—Jemison	January 14, 1926
Precinct 13—Providence	January 15, 1926
Precinct 13—Minooka	January 16, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse	January 18 to January 30, inclusive, 1926
Precinct 16—Providence	February 1, 1926
Precinct 11—Cane Creek	February 2, 1926
Precinct 1—Mullins schoolhouse	February 3, 1926
Precinct 12—Mineral Springs	February 4, 1926
Precinct 12—Robinson's Store	February 5, 1926
Precinct 9—Thorsby	February 6, 1926
Precinct 6—Enterprise	February 8, 1926
Precinct 10—Cooper	February 9, 1926
Precinct 5—Verbena	February 10, 1926
Precinct 5—Mt. Creek	February 11, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse	February 12 to February 18, inclusive, 1926

—o—

No one can Register except in his or her own Precinct and at the Courthouse in Clanton, Alabama.

—o—

J. W. E. GULLEDGE, Chairman,
E. H. ADAMS,
J. L. JOHNSON,
Registrars of Chilton County, Ala.

As a compromise in a controversy about the sale to the city of the Anniston water system, which is now owned by the Alabama Water Co., the company has offered to pay the city $100,00 for a franchise to run 30 years longer, and to make a number of improvements in the system. The offer has been taken under advisement by the City Council.

Reports continue that the Southeastern Light & Power Co., which owns the Alabama Power Co. and several others, will shortly take over the Georgia Railway & Power Co. The Atlanta Journal states that only the formal announcement remains to be made.

Angeline Bishop, 15-year-old Black Creek girl, was instantly killed at a railroad crossing near Birmingham recently when she stepped from behind a freight train, going in one direction, into the path of an engine moving in the other.

A. E. Jackson, State Superintendent of Banks, arrested some time ago for refusing to allow a newspaper reporter and a lawyer see certain papers on file in the State Capitol, has been upheld by the court of common pleas of Montgomery County.

Edward O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau, was a speaker at a recent meeting of farmers, bankers and cotton men in Atlanta. The object of the meeting was discussion of plans to cut the 1926 cotton acreage.

State License Inspect Powers was in Tuscaloosa recently arranging with county officers to arrest all auto drivers who have no 1926 tag. This will be done throughout the State, he said.

Birmingham broke a number of business records during 1925, figures compiled in that city show. Bank clearings increased $125,000,000; building permits, $250,000, and postal receipts $176,545.

The new Talladega County courthouse which has been under construction for the past eight months has just been completed at a cost of about $100,000. It replaces the structure burned last spring.

The Alabama Public Service commission spent only $76,540.14 of the $100,000 appropriated for its maintenin 1925. The body also collected $41,567, which it turned in to the state treasury.

The C. W. Grayson Lumber Co., of Arkansas, has bought the timber on 22,500 acres of land in Lamar, Marion and Fayette counties. It is estimated that there are 22,000,000 feet of pine, poplar and oak.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Knicks and several boarders barely escaped with their lives recently when their home in Birmingham burned. The roof fell in as they rushed from the building.

Sheffield has raised a goodly part of the $100,000 necessary to secure the location in that city of the Key Company's plant for the manufacture of white way standards, it is reported.

Last year saw all building records shattered in Gadsden, reports from that city set out. Improvements to cost more than $4,000,000 were begun between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Campbell, the former a professional golf instructor at the Mobile Country Club, were burned to death recently when the club building was destroyed by fire.

A campaign recently put on in Sheffield to raise $100,000 to secure a plant of the King Co., manufacturers of white way posts, obtained the entire amount.

Mrs. J. W. Wyatt, of Oxford, was instantly killed near Anniston recently, when she jumped from a moving auto which had caught fire. Her neck was broken.

The State Highway Department will open bids on Feb. 10 for four State road projects, one each in Cherokee and Tuscaloosa Counties, and two in Lawrence.

Statistics gathered at Washington show that thousands of negroes who have gone North and East in the past two years are returning to Dixie.

The sale of Jamaica ginger or its possesion is now held to be a violation of the federal prohibition laws. This rule became effective on Jan. 1.

The Southern Manganese Corporation of Anniston, has increased its capital stock from $200,000 to $500,000.

Margaret Davis, three-year-old tot, was burned to death at her home near Wilson Dam recently when her clothing ignited from an open grate.

Scores of farmers around Brewton are preparing to materially increase their acreage in strawberries, reports from Brewton show.

Three autos took part in one smash on the Florence-Sheffield Highway. All three cars were wrecked but no one seriously hurt.

Several deaths were reported in Alabama, due to the recent bitter cold weather.

The Union-Banned is $1.50 a year.

A LETTER TO THE FARMERS

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me a small space in our Chilton County Headlight, to say a few words to the dear old farmers as a New Year's greeting.

The work of the farmer is the greatest work known to the world. In the early morning of time when God made Adam and Eve, he gave them life and put them out in the garden; so you see farming was the first and best occupation known to the human family.

Farming is the oldest occupation. In the mornning of time we had no lawyers, no doctors, no merchants, no railroads, no factories. All these occupations look to you, farmers, for help, and hundreds of others not mentioned. If you fail, they fail. You are the backbone of the world.

The farming indusary is not as profitable as some other occupations but it should be the most profitable of all. It is the oldest and best and should produce huge profits. However, farming is just like any other business—it is just what the farmer makes it. If the farmer needs help he should look to the farm and make it self-sustaining and profitable. If he looks to some other industry for help some one else will get his profits.

The thing the farmer should do is to look strictly after his own business and study how to make it a profitable success. One of the main things for the farmer to do it to learn just how to place his product on the market. Does the farmer know that the wealth of our country lies between the producer and the consumer of their products?

There is a way for the farmer to get full value for everything that he produces. Why not go to work to that end with the beginning of this new year?

With best wishes for The Union-Banner and the dear old farmers, I remain the same old

OBSERVER.

IN MEMORY OF R. P. KENDRICK

On the morning of December 24th the death angel claimed the spirit of R. P. Kendrick, after 78 years of service on earth.

Mr. Kendrick was a faithful husband, father and grandfather; a devoted Christian, and a patriotic citizen. He was ever ready to serve his country in any way that would be for the betterment of mankind.

He was a member of the Missionary Baptist Church. Until his health failed him he never missed a service of any kind at his crurch, and always took a leading part. Most of all, he was a loving father, always able to advise his children rightly in anything that came their way. He always had a kind smile and cheerful word for everyone.

Besides his brothers, sisters, grandchildren, and a host of other relatives and friends, he is survived by the following children: Mrs. W. L. Chandler, Mrs. Secar Harris, Mrs. W. T. Herrod, Mrs. J. H. Ramsey, J. S. Kendrick, and R. W. Kendrick.

He was laid to rest in Pilgrim's Rest cemetery, by the side of his wife, who preceded him a few years ago. Rev. T. J. Deason conducted the service.

Weep not, dear children, though we miss him here; let us live so that we can join him in our Eternal Home. We can rest assured that our loss is Heaven's gain.—One who loved him.

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

NOTICE TO HUNTERS

Have you ever been out hunting, was asked for a certain permit, and had either lost all your permits or left that particular one at home? If you have you know what a feeling it brings. We have prepared for the hunters small booklets of blank permits, all ready for the landowners' signatures, and then you are ready to go. The booklet contains 25 blanks, with wording that protects both hunter and landowner. They are bound inside a stiff pasteboard cover, which protects them, and keeps you from losing any permits. The price is 25c per book. It might be worth many times that amount to have all your permits at hand on some occasion.

SPECIAL NOTICE—All accounts and payments due Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., are to be paid to the general office of this company at Montgomery, Ala. Customers can get statements or particulars about accounts or otherwise from the Montgomery office. Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., 110 Montgomery St., Montgomery, Ala. 12-31-2t-ch.

IN MEMORY

On the afternoon of January 4th the death angels visited the home of Mr. J. A. Thompson and bore away the spirit of his loving wife—one of the most noble women of the community. Her death came as a shock to the whole community, although not unexpected, as she had been suffering for ten days.

She was a faithful wife, a loving mother, devoted to her church, and loved by all. She was endeared to her many relatives and friends by the tenderest cords of love and sympathy.

Everything was done for her that earthly physicians, nurses, relatives and friends could do, but nothing gave her relief. God had her mansion prepared, so He called her from this world of sickness, suffering and pain to a more beautiful world where all is rest and peace. It seemed so hard to give her up, her husband being in the hospital. Only five months ago we had to give up her dear sister, Mrs. R. F. Wyatt, but God called her and we must be submissive to His will.

Another golden link has been broken in the famly, but we must look to the father, whom she served all her life for solace and comfort.

Weep not, dear relatives, and friends, for she is now sweetly sleeping in the arms of Jesus—only taking the journey ahead of us. It will be only a short time until we too must go.

Oh, how we shall miss her. Her husband, children, brothers and sisters, will miss her, but we know heaven has been made brighter by her passing from among us.

She leaves a lonely husband, two children, four sisters and five brothers, and a host of other relatives and friends to miss her smiles and presence through life. She cannot come back to us but we have one great consolation—we can meet her when God calls us home.

Her form was dear we know,
To relatives so fond and true;
But Jesus called and she must go,
For God loved her too.

She was buried at Concord Tuesday afternoon. Her grave was banked with beautiful flowers tenderly placed by loving hands. She is now peacefully sleeping in the city of the dead, awaiting the resurrection morn when we shall all be re-united to part no more.

Her niece,
Mrs. Z. A. TIPPETT.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

The next Fifth Sunday meeting of the Chilton County Baptist Association will be held at Oak Grove, above Jemison, the fifth Sunday in January.
—T. J. Deason.

SALESMEN WANTED—Large manufacturer has openings for a few men of character and integrity. Our products are sold direct to the consumer and are nationally advertised. Want men that are willing to work hard for promotion and who can work without boss dictation yet carry out instructions and policies. If you can qualify we offer permanent wirk with assured success and promotion. Address Sales Manager, Suite 401-5 Jackson Bldg., Birmingham, Ala. 12-31-3t-ch.

Mr. W. O. Rich of Birmingahm was in Clanton recently.

STOCKHOLDERS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Thorsby of Thorsby, Ala., for the election of directors and the transaction of any other business that may come before the meeting, will be held at the office of said Bank, at Thorsby, Ala., on January 19th, 1926, between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock, a. m.—C. R. Foss, Secretary-Cashier.

12-31-3t-ch

From School Teacher To Great Eminence

A young man who was brought up on a farm, qualified for district school teacher, then managed to save enough money to put him thru medical college.

Later, he moved to Buffalo, N. Y. and today the name of this man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known blood medicine and tonic. More than fifty million bottles have been sold. If your dealer does not sell the Discovery, in liquid or tablets, you can obtain a pkg. of the tablets by sending 65c to the Dr. Pierce Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y. Also write for free medical advice.

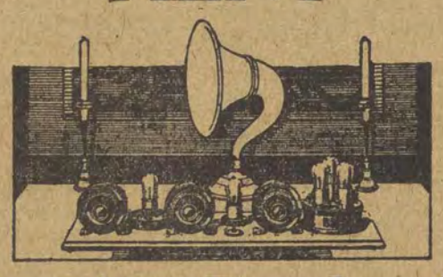
J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

Groceries --- Fruits



We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

ATWATER KENT

R A D I O

THINK OF WHAT IS BACK OF IT

THE same reasons that cause us to be proud that we sell ATWATER KENT Radio, will make you proud to own it. In the new models which we are now showing, new standards of excellence have been achieved.

Whatever you want—whether it be ease of operation, selectivity, volume, beauty or fine workmanship—you will find your choice of radio equipment in our ATWATER KENT Radio line.

O. M. CARTER
CLANTON, ALA.

A CATECHISM ON WORLD COURT

Taken from The Yellow Jacket, Issue of December 1925.

Question. What is the biggest international subject up before the United States Senate this winter?

Ans. The new extra World Court.

Q. Why should it be called a new extra World Court?

A. Because there is also in existence an old, real regular World Court.

Q. There is?

A. There is. At the Hague in Holland.

Q. Do we belong to it?

A. We do. We have belonged to it ever since 1899.

Q. What is the difference between these two World Courts?

A. The old World Court is a real, regular independent Court. The new World Court is an owned Court. It is owned by the League of Nations.

Q. Has the old World Court no connection at all with the League of Nations?

A. None. Nor has it any connection at all with any other international organization. It is entirely itself. It is totally independent and totally uncontrolled.

Q. What then have we against it?

A. Nothing. We have taken many cases to it.

Q. Wht cases?

Present Court Functioning.

A. A case against Mexico under Pres. Roosevelt. A case against Great Britain, Germany and Italy, again under President Roosevelt. A case against Great Britain, under President Taft. A case against Venezuela, begun under President Roosevelt and concluded under Taft. A case against Germany under President Wilson. A case against Norway, under President Harding. We went before this Court under every president from Roosevelt to Harding.

Q. Is this old World Court still open?

A. It is totally wide open all the time to any and all disputes which we may wish to send to it.

Q. How many countries belong to it?

A. Forty-eight, including without exception every large and important country in the whole world.

Q. The old Court is then a complete World Court?

A. It is.

Q. And the new Court calls itself a World Court?

A. It does.

Q. I then am very much puzzled. Why do we need two World Courts?

New Court Not Needed.

A. We do not. For many months the advocates of the new World Court have been asked this question: "What dispute is there which you would refuse to take to the old Court but be willing to take to the new Court?" They never have been able to answer that question. They never have named one dispute which they would refuse to take to the old Court but which they would be willing to take to the new Court. The new Court is not in any way needed. It is totally unnecessary.

Q. Why then do people urge us to join it?

A. The innocent ones are doing it because they are misled. The ones that are pulling the strings are doing it because they are plotting to get us into the League of Nations.

Q. What is the connection between the new World Court and the League of Nations?

A. There are three connections between the new Court and the League of Nations.

Q. What are they?

A. One: The Court is elected by the League. Two: The Court spends most of its time giving advice to the League. Three: The Court's decisions are enforced by the League.

Q. Do we belong to the League?

A. No. We have firmly decided that we will not belong to an institution in which we could be out-voted overwhelmingly by Catholic and pagan and colored countries.

Q. Is it now promised that we shall sit with those countries in choosing the judges of the new Court?

A. It is.

Would Out-Vote U. S.

Q. Shall we be out-voted?

A. Of course.

Q. How are the judges of the old Court chosen?

A. As follows: If we have a dispute with a foreign country, under the old Court, we name two judges and the foreign country names two judges and then the two countries together name the fifth judge.

Q. So under the old World Court we have held the power in the naming of the judges?

A. Exactly so.

Q. How much power would we have in the naming of the judges of the new World Court?

A. Sitting in the Council of the League of Nations, and helping to name these judges, we would have one vote out of eleven votes. Sitting in the Assembly of the League of Nations and helping to name these judges we would have one vote out of more than fifty votes.

Q. In the Council then we would have less than 10 per cent of the power and in the Assembly we would have less than 2 per cent of the power?

A. That is so.

Q. Would we then take any important case of ours to this new World Court?

A. Of course we would not, unless we had a president who deliberately wanted to get us into the League.

Q. Might we have such a president?

A. History teaches us that we may sometime. Our president, like our citizens, can sometimes be misled by foreign influences appealing to American idealism in order to betray us.

Q. If a president should take a case of ours to this new World Court, would he have to accept whatever judges the League had put into it?

A. He would.

Names Sound Bad.

Q. Who are the present judges in this League Court?

A. Dionisis Anzilotti, Rafael Altamiray Creves, Bernard Cornelia Johannes Loder, Didrik Galtrup Gjadde Nyholm, Robert Bannatyne Viscount Finlay, Charles Andre Weis, Epitacio da Silva Pensoa, Dimitri Negulesco, John Bassett Moore, Hans Max Huber, Michel Yevanovitch, Frederick Valdemar Nickolai Beicrman, Antonio Sanchez de Bustamantey Sirven, Yorozu Oda, Wang Chung Hui.

Q. Am I expected to be willing to entrust the destiny of the United States to these gentlemen?

A. We are.

Q. And are we expected to sit with these gentlemen and advise the League of Nations what to do?

A. We are. These gentlemen seldom settle anything themselves. They principally advise the League how to settle it.

Q. How many disputes have they settled themselves?

A. Three.

Q. In how mny disputes have they given advice to the League?

A. Twelve.

Q. What are the three disputes which they settled themselves?

A. One tiny dispute bout a ship which wanted to go through the Kiel Canal in Germany; one tiny dispute about a little money owed by Bulgaria to Greece, and one tiny dispute about a franchise for a waterworks in the city of Jerusalem.

Q. Is this all that the new Court has settled in four years of life?

A. That is all. From the standpoint of the actual settlement in international disputes, this new Court is an empty sham.

Q. Where then is the importance of this new Court?

A. In advising the League.

Q. Has it advised the League on important subjects?

A. On important ones and on dangerous ones.

Q. Will you mention one of them?

A. In a dispute regarding citizenship in Tunis and in Morocco, the new Court advised the League to the effect that questions of citizenship were not domestic questions but international questions.

Q. Would this make the citizenship of Chinese and Japanese and other aliens in this country an international question and take it out of our own hands?

A. It would if we consented to join Court and to submit ourselves to it.

Would Re-Open Doors.

Q. What would be the policy of the Court toward immigration?

A. It naturally will be the policy of the countries which have representatives in the Court.

Q. What are these countries?

A. European countries, Latin-American countries and Asiatic countries including China and Japan, all of which believe that they have an unlimited right to send immigrants into this country and an unlimited right to make us give them American citizenship.

Q. How can we avoid becoming subject to these alien ideas about American citizenship?

A. Only by not joining this new Court.

Q. What else will happen to us if we join the new Court?

A. We shall be forced by our own honor into joining the League itself.

Q. Why?

Forced to Join.

A. Because the new Court is nothing in practice at all but an advisory committee to the foreign club called the League of Nations, and because no honorable man will sit with a club to choose a club advisory committee and then sit with the club advisory committee to advise the club and then not accept the logical burden and the manifest duty of joining the club itself to put the advice into action.

Q. What is the idea of the innocent advocating of the new World Court?

A. It is that the United States is a sort of double-crossing amphibian animal, like an Alaskan seal—inhabiting both land and water. They think that we can swim out into the water and tell the League of Nations what to do and then, when the League starts to do it and when there is a big storm, we can crawl back on land and watch with indifference the storm which we ourselves have helped to make.

Q. What is the matter with this idea?

A. It is dishonoring to the American nation. The merican nation, if it gives any advice, will see the advice through.

Q. What is the idea in the minds of the men who are plotting to get the United States into the League of Nations?

A. They have a clever idea. They have abandoned their effort to get the United Sttes into the League of Nations directly. They now intend to get the United States into the League of Nations by three steps.

Q. What are the three steps?

A. The first step will be when we walk into the halls of the League of Nations at Geneva and enter into all of the international intrgues and bargainings for choosing the members of the new Court. The second will be when we walk into the halls of the new Court and help to receive a communication from the League of Nations asking for advice and help to write the document sending that advice back to the League. The third will approach when the League begins to perform its duty of enforcing that advice.

Q. Is the League really bound to enforce the Court's decisions?

A. It is. The covenant of the League says so.

Q. Then if we sat with the League to choose the Court, and if we sat with the Court to advise the League, and if the League went to war to enforce the decision of the Court, where would we be?

A. If we were not quitters we would be in the war.

Q. Do we want to get into war?

A. We do not. This is one of the reasons why we refuse to join the League of Nations.

Q. What then is this new World Court scheme?

A. It is a scheme for getting us into the wars which we avoided when we refused to join the League.

Q. Can a man eat and vote with a family and advise the family and then not get mixed up into the family quarrels?

A. He cannot. That is the whole nub and core of the issue regarding the new World Court. We cannot go two-thirds of the way down the sand slope into Europe's pit and not fall to the bottom.

Q. What then is duty of the American who loves ce and who is determined to pre the independence and the sovnty and the righteous and compleself-determination of the Unitedtes?

A. It is to resist ll costs and at all hazards this nefort to drag us down into Europeices and into Europe's internatl meddlings.

Q. Can the new eme be defeated?

A. It can be. Theague of Nations was defeated just fifteen United States Senat There are that many now agains new Court.

Q. Who are for thw Court?

A. All the internnal bankers who have put Amer money out of America into Eu and all the internatonal professo ho get their salaries from Ameri universities and then go abroad deliver lectures in European unities against American policies.

Q. What then will eat this new scheme?

A. There is just person who will defeat this new eme. He is enough. He will do He has defeated scheme after eme of this sort in our whole hry. He defeated the European F Alliance by means of the Monr Doctrine in 1823. He defeated European League of Nations in 9. He will defeat the European w so-called World Court in 1925 a 1926. Who is he? He is yourse He is the native white Protest American. That is the drum rol one more battle and to one moretory.

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

—o—

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixi your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired fe We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no mat how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a squa deal.

—o—

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SOP
CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

Chevrolet Reduces Prices

Effective January 1, 1926

Touring - - -	$510
Roadster - -	$510
Coupe - - -	$645
Coach - - -	$645
Sedan - - -	$735
1-2 Ton Truck -	$395
1-Ton Truck -	$550

All Prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

CLANTON, ALA.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

B. Y. P. Social.

The mers of the B. Y. P. U. enjoyed aristmas party last Wednesday eing in the basement of the Baptihurch. For this occasion Christmadecorating and potted plants w used to beautify the church. nes and Christmas music were enjd. In a contest, Pauline Pyron wvoted the prettiest girl. Deliciousfreshments were served by Mrs. D. Ross.

Those sent were Mildred Danforth, Pne and Charlie Pyron, Mary EllDalene and Gladys Williams, E Danforth, Mittice Duncan, Maree Pyron, Marjorie Mauney, Catine Hayes, Gertie Mae Fiquette,th Sessions; Billie Smith, Paul CoRaymond Mims. Chester Wingardluell Hyman, Robert Alred, Dickmp, Ralph Johnston, Samuel Mart and Philip Foshee.

Mrs. JorHostess At Pretty Tea.

One the most beautiful teas of the holy season was given last Wednes afternoon by Mrs. J. H. Jones her home, complimenting Mr. andrs. Norman Roberts of Atlanta G

The ne was decorated in the Christm motif and the lighting effects w very pretty.

The table was centered with a miniatu Christmas tree around which e crystal candlesticks holding ligd Crimson tapers. Miss Irene ved tea. The guests were met at door by Mrs. J. W. Hayes. The reving line was composed of Mr. arMrs. Roberts, Mrs. N. S. JohnsoMiss Alee Stewart and the hostess

A mual concert was enjoyed and the pri a tea bell, was presented to Mrs. berts, after which a salad courseis served to Mesdames N. S. JohnsoJ. E. Gowan, T. C. McSwain, L. F. erald, Oscar Jones, J. W. Hayesrady Broadhead; Misses Bessie Thas, Madelyn Orr, Kathleen Mullinfrene Jones, Willodean Reynolds, ma Robinson, Elizabeth Duncan, e Stewart; Messrs Charles Mooreohn D. Mullins and the guests of hon

Mr.oseph Hester left Saturday for Aurn, where he is a student at A. P.

Study Club Meets.

The members of the Study Club and a number of extra guests were entertained by Mrs. J. E. Gowan at her home on last Thursday afternoon. The club was called to order by the president, Mrs. Grady Broadhead, and all necessary business was dispensed with. Mrs. J. Watts Moore was unanimously elected to become an active member of the club. Mrs. J. Hugh Jones read a splendid paper on "Plays on Broadway." Mrs. J. A. Hester told of the wonderful success being made by one of Clanton's own, Miss Roberta Curry, who is playing in one of the most popular plays being staged in New York this winter. This news was enthusiastically received by those present. Mrs. Gowan, assisted by by Miss Bessie Thomas, served a salad course.

The members present were Mesdames Grady Reynolds, L. F. Gerald, J. P. Hayes, L. C. Ross, B. M. Roberts, John M. VanDerveer, G. C. Harris, J. A. Hester, J. Hugh Jones, Grady Broadhead and Miss Kathleen Mullins. The guests for the afternoon were Mesdames J. B. Mauney, Lilla C. Morgan, Haughey, Philip Horn, and Miss Bessie Thomas.

Mrs. Gerald Entertains.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. L. F. Gerald was a charming hostess when she entertained a group of friends at a bridge party complimenting her sister, Mrs. P. W. Horn of Birmingham. The spacious home was beautifully decorated with red and white carnations and potted plants. Bridge was played at four tables, arranged in the living and music rooms. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Grady Broadhead held top score and was presented a pretty wall vase. The honoree was given a jar of bath salts. The hostess, assisted by Mesdames Arthur Johnson and Grady Broadhead, served a delicious salad plate with hot chocolate. Those enjoying this lovely affair were Mesdames H. M. Simpson, T. C. McSwain, N. S. Johnson, John Browder, J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, C. Fenn Jones, Arthur Johnson, Grady Reynolds, Hugh Jones, J. Watts Moore, Omar Reynolds, Grady Broadhead; Misses Kathleen Mullins, Lurline Harper and Alee Stewart.

Mrs. Johnson Hostess To Club.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others on last Wednesday afternoon, at her home on Second Avenue. The living and dining rooms were effectively decorated with Christmas colors and potted plants. A series of bridge games were enjoyed. At the conclusion Mrs. N. S. Johnson held high score and was given two dainty hand-made handkerchiefs.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. F. Gerald, served a delicious salad plate to Mesdames H. M. Simpson, J. Watts Moore, Frank Callen, Grady Reynolds, Harris of Munford, J. Hance Alred, L. F. Gerald, Norman Roberts, Oscar Jones; Misses Alee Stewart, Lurline Harper, and Kathleen Mullins.

Executive Board Meeting.

The executive board of the Womans Missionary Union of the Unity Association was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. C. Hughes in Billingsley last Wednesday. The meeting was presided over by the superintendent, Mrs. Grady F. Harris. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Harris also. Programs for the Young Peoples Council and the quarterly W. M. U. meeting were planned. The Young Peoples Council will be held at Mt. Creek and the W. M. U. meeting at Maplesville. Mrs. Emma Leachman, field worker for the Southern Baptist Convention, will speak at Maplesville. Miss Leachman is a gifted speaker and has done great work in the convention.

At the noon hour a delicious course dinner was served. The table was centered with a crystal bowl of fruit and attractive cards in the W. M. U. colors, lavander and white, marked the place of each guest. Those present were Mesdames Hattie E. Dickinson, G. C. Harris J. E. Gowan, J. Lee Smith, Grady Broadhead and the hostess.

Mrs. Browder Hostess.

Among the social affairs of the past week was a pretty bridge party given by Mrs. John Browder, last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. S. Johnson, complimenting Mrs. Norman Roberts and Miss Alee Stewart. Narcissus were used in decorating the home for the occasion. A series of bridge games were played at five tables. Mrs. Frank Callen held high score and was given a set of bridge numbers. The booby prize, a bowl of narcissus, fell to Mrs. Harris. Mrs. Roberts was presented a beautiful bridge set and Miss Stewart a pretty piece of lingerie.

The hostess, assisted by Mesdames N. S. Johnson and McSwain, served a delicious salad plate to Mesdames Arthur Johnson, J. Watts Moore, Omar Reynolds, John C. Page, N. S. Johnson, T. C. McSwain, Frank Callen, J. Hance Alred, Hosea F. Downs, Oscar Jones, Loren Smith, H. M. Simpson, C. Fenn Jones, Harris of Munford, Norman Roberts; Misses Alee Stewart, Madelyn Orr, and Lurline Harper.

Teachers Entertained.

Another lovely affair was on Monday afternoon when Mrs. Hugh Jones entertained complimenting the teachers of both the high and grammar schools. The living and dining rooms gave forth a lingering Christmas cheer in the decorations. Mrs. L. F. Gerald assisted Mrs. Jones in receiving her guests. Mrs. Grady Broadhead poured tea at a table with a center arrangement of fruit and holly. The mints carried out the Yuletide color scheme. In the dining room a salad plate was served.

Those included in this charming affair were Mesdames P. D. Wilson, V. J. Heard, L. F. Gerald, D. C. Alred, Omar Reynolds, Grady Broadhead, Misses Eoline McCullar, Leona Stanley, Thelma Guy, Lillian Taylor, Ivilyn Ingram, and others.

Mrs. Jones Honors Mrs. Horn.

A pleasant event of the past week was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Hugh Jones, in honor of Mrs. Philip Horn of Birmingham, the house guest of Mrs. L. F. Gerald. The house was tastefully decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season. Mrs. J. P. Hayes presided over the artistically appointed tea table. Red and green tapers burned in pretty candlesticks, and the same color was featured in the bon-bons and other confections. Assisting in the amenities of the afternoon were Mesdames L. F. Gerald and Grady Broadhead.

Guests attending this delightful affair were Mesdames B. M. Roberts, L. C .Ross, J. B. Mauney, Grady Reynolds, Lilla C. Morgan, W. M. Wyatt, L. F. Gerald, J. P. Hayes, John M. VanDerveer, J. Lee Smith, C. V. Heath, W. H. Foshee, S. J. Ezell, J. P. VanDerveer, Clyde Jones, Grady Broadhead, and Laura White.

Birthday Party.

Miss Mary Agnes Welch entertained a number of friends last Thursday afternoon at the home of her parents, celebrating her twelfth birthday anniversary. The home was decorated with holly and Christmas colors. The table was centered with a large birthday cake, which held twelve lighted candles. In cutting the cake Earl Gray was lucky and cut the dime. Various kinds of games were played, after which hot chocolate and cake were served to the following guests: Elizabeth Harris, Janie Beth Johnston, Elizabeth McSwain, Pauline Plyler, Margaret Johnston, Vonceil White, Gladys Roper, Grace Plyler, Carl Jones, Adelia White, Earl Gray, Juanita Welch, Lavolia Roper.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore entertained at an annual dinner party Saturday. The home was decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. At noon a regular course dinner was served.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mullins; Misses Kathleen and Marzelle Mullins; Messrs. Charles Moore, John Deramus of Miami, Fla., and John Durwood Mullins.

Mrs. Alred Honors Little Son.

A happy occasion was on last Saturday morning when Mrs. J. Hance Alred entertained a number of little folks in celebration of the fifth birthday of her little son, Callen. Decorations of the season were tastefully arranged in the living and dining rooms. Various games were enjoyed by the children, after which they were invited into the dining room. The table was beautifully arranged, with a large pink and white birthday cake being the centerpiece. Five pink candles were placed on the cake and pink ribbons extended and were drawn by the guests. Myrtle Pitts drew the ring, Jane Neighbors the button, Dixie Johnson the dime, Joe Hall Johnson the pin, and John White Plyler the penny. Each guest was given a bird whistle as a favor. Jello, cake and candies were served by Mrs. Alred.

Those enjoying this lovely party were Olive Rainer Elmore, William Hodges, Joe Hall Johnson, Billie Callen, Catherine and Joe Ware, Peggy Page, Cecil Carter, Nell Ross Mullins, Dan Smith, John White Plyler, Dixie, Billie and Sam Johnson, Hal Broadhead, Guy and Dan Alred, Mary Calloway, Jane and Jake Neighbors, Jane and Myrtle Pitts, and Ila Mae Thomas.

Birthday Celebration.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. John C. Page delightfully entertained a group of little folks at a party, celebrating the fifth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Peggy. For this occasion Christmas decorations were used throughout the home. Many different games were played, and a contest, "Pinning on the donkey's tail," was enjoyed. Myrtle Pitts won the prize, a toy merry-go-'round, while the little guest of honor received the booby, a toy goat. After a story-telling period the little guests were invited into the dining room. The table was centered with a large white birthday cake, with five tiny lighted candles. Ribbons extended from the cake to the edge of the table and each child was allowed to draw one. Some were lucky and drew the usual symbols. Attractive gay colored paper hats were presented as favors, and also lollypops, dressed as dolls.

Mrs. Page, assisted by Mrs. George Trotter, served jello and cake to Jane and Myrtle Pitts, Olive Rainer Elmore, Grace Hicks Ezell, Callen Alred, Mary Courtney Jones, Cameron McDavid, Jr., William Hodges, Mildred Maddox, Joe Hall Johnson, Jane and Nell Neighbors, Dixie, Billie and Sam Johnson, Evelyn Maddox, Ila Mae Thomas, Hilda Hart, Nell Ross Mullins, Eloise Rasberry, Ruth Gowan, Nellie Mae Caldwell, and Mary Calloway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hammock have returned to their home in Mumford, after spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reynolds.

Miss Callie Watts has returned to her home in Piedmont, having visited relatives here and in Montgomery.

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt and children motored to Montgomery Friday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Harton.

Mrs. Philip Horn and son, Leroy, left Sunday for their home in Birmingham, after a delightful visit to Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald.

Dr. S. J. Ezell returned Friday from a short visit to relatives in Chesnee, S. C.

Mrs. J. R. Mullns and sons, John and Edwin and Miss Marzelle Mullins, left Saturday for their home in Montgomery, having visited relatives here and in Birmingham during the holidays.

On account of illness, Miss Eva Cheshire, who teaches in the grammar school, was not able to resume her duties, but expects to return soon from her home in Opelika.

Mrs. Arthur Broadhead has returned from a visit to relatives in Birmingham.

Mrs. Clara M. Jackson of Evergreen is the guest of her mother, Mrs. M. A. Mullins.

Mesdames Lucian Duncan, Bill Murphy and Miss Elizabeth Duncan motored to Montgomery last Thursday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mauney and daughter, Marjorie, have returned from Plains, Ga., where they spent the holidays with friends.

Mrs. W. H. Lanier and little daughter, Haden, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hart.

Miss Bessie Thomas has returned to Selma, after spending Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spigener.

Miss Frances Higgns returned Saturday from Birmingham, where she visited her aunt, Mrs. Z. T. Rudolph.

New Year's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Broadhead entertained at a New Year's dinner on Friday.

Christmas colors and decorations were used in making the home attractive for this occasion. At the noon hour a four-course dinner was served to Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Broadhead, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Broadhead, Mrs. S. J. Ezell and children, Messrs. Mack Broadhead, Jack Hayes, Tommie Sewell, Arthur Broadhead, Catherine and Alex Hayes.

P. T. A. To Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Grammar School building Friday afternoon, January 8, at 2:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

New Years Eve Party.

Circle No. 1 of the Womans Missionary Union entertained the Girls Auxliary and the Royal Ambassadors at a New Years Eve Party last Thursday evening in the basement of the Baptist church. Numerous games, as wink, Maranda, black sheep, etc., were played, after which hot chocolate and cake were served by Mesdames D. C. Alred, W. W. Wingard, J. A. Hester, Kin Vinson, to Kathryn Hayes, Gertie Mae Fiquette, Gladys Thomas, Gladys Cowart, Mildred and Janice Danforth, Ruth Moody, Virginia Alred, Vivian Gray, Mary Foshee, Marjarie Mauney, Pauline Lawrence, Julia Ruth Hester, Bill Minor, William Hester, Gaston Robinson, Robert Alred, John Ponder Lawrence, Aubrey Taylor, Jo Erle Gowan, Edward Wagoner Jr., and Mr. J. L. Johnson.

SHAREHOLDERS' MEETING

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the First National Bank of Clanton will be held in the directors' room of the bank at 8 o'clock p.m., on Tuesday, January 12, 1926, for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may legally come before them.

This, December 10, 1925.

3t J. C. PAGE, Cashier.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Located at Clanton, Ala., at the Close of Business Decembeer 31, 1925.

RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts,		$253,180.82
2. Overdrafts,		246.99
4. Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants,		20,400.00
5. Banking House,		2,700.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures,		2,727.25
8. Cash (a) Currency,	$34,224.00
(b) Gold,	3,690.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	2,600.12
Total,		40,514.12
9. Due from Banks,		421,786,59
12. Checks and Cash Items,		775.53
13. Cash Items in Transit,		8,223.87
TOTAL,		$750,555.17

LIABILITIES

1. Capital Stock paid in,		$ 15,000.00
2. Surplus Fund,		10,000.00
3. Undivided Profits, less expenses and taxes paid		68,934.58
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits,	$524,666.59
(f) Cashier's Checks,	528.75
(g) Certified Checks,	93.83
Total,		525,289.17
6. Time Deposits, (b) Time Certificates,		131,331.42
TOTAL,		$750,555.17

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Before me came F. J. Callen, President of The Peoples Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. F. J. CALLEN, President.

ATTEST:
N. S. JOHNSON,
G. C. HARRIS,
W. L. POPWELL,
Directors.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 6th day of January, 1926.
JOSEPH F. HIGGINS,
Notary Public.

Walk A Block
and
Save A Dollar

The new store of Jas. C. Jones, in front of Clanton Motor Car Co., is now ready for business with a big brand new stock of

Groceries, Feed, Fertilizer

We handle the celebrated CORNO line of Dairy, Mule, Horse and Chicken Feed

We Buy Cotton

JAS. C. JONES

Clanton, Ala.

BEGIN THE YEAR RIGHT BY TAKING ADVANTAGE OF OUR BIG BARGAINS

— o —

Don't fail to see our New Line of Betutiful Spring Hats. You will be Delighted with the lovely New Colors and Chic Styles.

A Big Bargain in Shoes, from $1.00 up

Exquisite new Laces in White and Colors for Trimming Bed Spreads.

Real Values In Hose

Our Rollins Runstop Hose are Best. They Mean Economy.

Dress-Making and Hemstitching a Specialty

— o —

Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Another Year of Prosperity Foreseen By G. O. P. Chieftains

(By Sen. Charles Curtis, Republican Leader of the Senate.)

Washington, Jan. 1.—Our nation greets the New Year healthy and prosperous with the benefits of a kindly providence scattered far and wide. The outlook for the next 12 months is particularly encouraging with all signs pointing to a continuance of prosperity for all alike. The present wave of prosperity, in which all the people are sharing, will last throughout the year.

The resources of the government are in excellent condition, due principally to the brand of economy practiced by President Coolidge and the republican congress. It is an economy which spares no necessary expense justified by good government but reject all necessary waste. This policy, resulting in frequent sharp reductions of taxes, has found hearty endorsement from the great bulk of the common people.

The administration will continue to show during 1926 the friendly attitude toward business and industry, large and small, which characterized its government activities during the last four years. The president has laid down a policy of using government agencies to foster and develop industry, commerce and business, rather than retard them or harass them with unnecessary intruding governmental regulations. This policy will be continued to the increasing comfort of industry and to the mutual benefits of producers and consumers alike. Its benefits accrue to all, as is evidenced by the present wave of prosperity.

It is very gratifying to see in congress indications of non-partisan handling of important legislation as evidenced by the dropping of party lines when the house enacted the new tax bill and by similar action in the senate in consideration of the world court. This is bound to result in more carefully considered and better legislation.

The record of the republican party is and will continue to be such, in my judgment, as to entitle it to continue in power.

By Sen. Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic Leader of the Senate.)

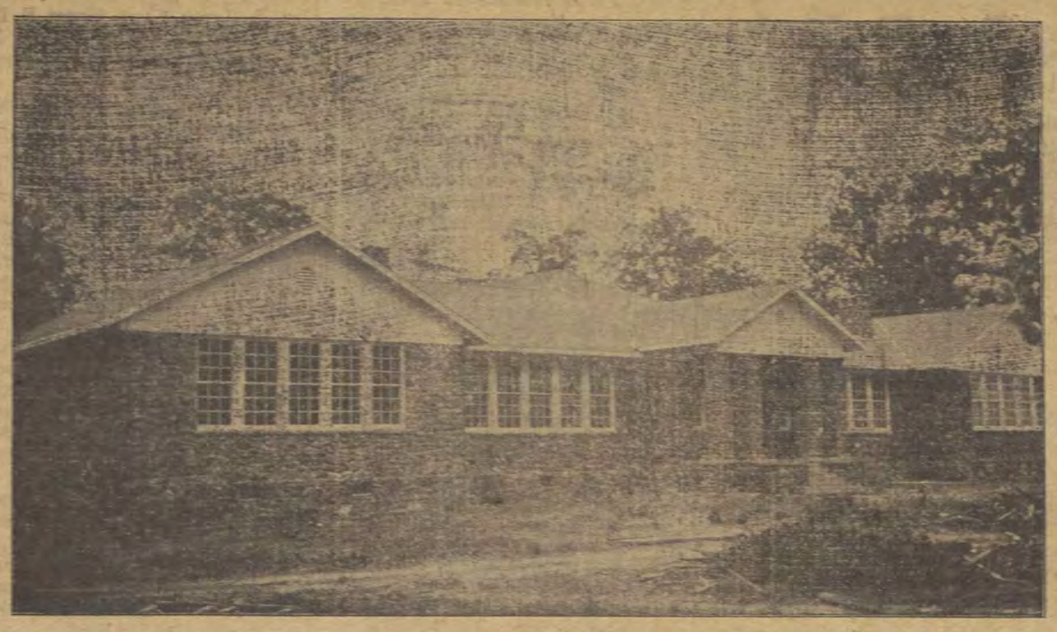
Washington, Jan. 1.—The new year 1926, promises good fortune to the democratic party. The factionalism, which divided our councils in the last national convention, has almost disappeared. I believe the democrats will have increased representation in both houses of congress after the 1926 elections. Of the 33 seats to be filled in the senate, only 7 are now occupied by democrats and we can assuredly retain them all. The chances seem more than equal that a sufficient number of places now held by republican senators may be won to give the democratic party the majority in the senate.

Frequent conferences of representatives of the minority in the senate with leaders of the democrats in the house have secured a gratifying degree of cooperation touching important measures. Absolute harmony and concert of action is not to be expected, but no such differences are likely to arise as will impair the effectiveness of the minority in either branch.

Much of the wholesome legislation enacted during the last four years may be fairly attributed to the efforts of the democrats in congress. They have not unduly obstructed in any instance and have actually improved every important measure passed. Democratic senators initiated the contest in the senate to admit the United States to the world court.

We also insist that the present state of public sentiment for peace throughout the civilized world should be taken advantage of to secure reduction of armament. Our government should devote its efforts to that end. Neither the world court nor any other agency can prevent those occasional conflicts of interest which give rise to controversies between nations. Surely this is an auspicious time for the United States to cooperate with other nations in substituting amity and good will for force in international disputes.

It is not only important that the democrats, as the minority party, obstruct unwholesome legislation, it is more important that we assume a fair share of responsibility for the enactment of constructive legislation. Upon this depends our prospects of success.



FORESTRY LETTER

Special attention to the forest industries will be accorded by the United States Bureau of the Census in its compilations for the biennial report upon manufactures covering the years 1924-1925, according to a communication received from the Director of the Census by the State Commission of Forestry.

Accurate information regarding the production of necessities is essential to public welfare for a number of important reasons. Manufacturing, of course, means the consumption of raw material. In the case of forest products this is chiefly the timber on the stump. Tmber is a restorable resource, but if it is to be perpetuated it must not be consumed faster than it is produced through forest growth. It is only by comparing the amount used with the annual growth that lumbermen can determine whether they are running themselves out of business or whether they can continue to operate and maintain perpetually one of the greatest industries of the state.

Another concrete benefit of complete production statistics is in connection with business policy. The balance between overproduction and underproduction is of vital concern to all manufacturers. While industrial organizations often keep very close account of outputs, there are a great many mills and factories not connected with such associations. Statewide and nationwide figures, however, fill many gaps left by unofficial compilations, and often present the very best infomation available regarding both consumption and production.

The Bureau of the Census proposes to send a schedule to each operator with a request that it be promptly filled out and returned to Washington. These will be correlated and compiled, and it is expected that a preliminary statement of tht totals will be issued somewhat earlier than in previous years. Later, of course, the complete report will be made available for distribution in printed form.

The Verbena Senior High School Building

The Verbena School Building pictured above is rated as the best school house in Chilton County. It was constructed during 1925, and is built of native stone which was taken from a quarry close to Verbena. The arrangement of the building is according to specifications of the State Board of Education, and is well suited to the needs of the splendid school which is the pride of Verbena. The institution has a senior high school rating.

CLANTON LOCALS

Miss Helen Evans returned Monday from Birmingham, where she spent the Yuletide.

Mrs. J. Watts Moore went down to Montgomery Wednesday to see "The Student Prince," now playing at the Grand.

Miss Joiner, who has been Assistant Superintendent of the Central Alabama Hospital, has gone to Montgomery.

Mr. David Moore, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Central Alabama Hospital, is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Farrior of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spigener during the holiday season.

Miss Gladys Oglesby left Wednesday for her home in Centreville, having spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade.

Miss Eoline McCullar returned Monday morning from her home at Carbon Hill, to resume her duties as teacher in the high school.

Mrs. F. J. Page of Nashville, Tenn., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Page.

Mrs. J. Hugh Jones spent Wednesday and Thursday in Montgomery with relatives. While there she attended the performance of "The Student Prince."

Miss Mary Upchurch left Thursday for Howard College, Birmingham, where she is a student.

Mr. M. A. Crumpton of Texas was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wingard Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Jack Seal and children left Monday for their home in Birmingham, after spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Davis.

Friends of Mr. W. W. Wingard will learn with regret of his illness with influenza.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Bonner of Jemison attended the funeral of Mrs. Arthur Thompson here Tuesday.

Miss Ethel Swint is visiting Mrs. Willie Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis and little daughter, Frances, of Verbena, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Davis.

Miss Vennie Fox and Messrs. Pearce and Weaver of Birmingham were holiday guests of Miss Goree Calloway.

Mr. Herbert Davis left Sunday for Tuscaloosa to resume his studies at the University.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jines returned last Wednesday from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shepherd in Birmingham.

Mr. Burton Mullins has returned to Marion, to resume his studies at M. M. I.

Miss Ivilyn Ingram has returned from Lineville, where she spent the holidays with parents.

Mr. Will White of Birmingham is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Of First Meeting, in the Distrct Court of the United States, for the Middle District of Alabama. — In Bankruptcy.

In the matter of G. C. Armstrong, bankrupt, post office Clanton, County of Chilton, Alabama.

The aforesaid party having been adjudged a Bankrupt, under the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to Establish a Unform System of Bankruptcy Throughout the United States" approved July 1st, 1898, meeting of the creditors of said bankrupt is called at the office of the undersigned referee, in the United States court house Montgomery, Ala., on the 15th day of January, next, at 10 o'clock a.m., to make proof of debts, and for the election of a Trustee, and such other matters as are necesary and required by the Act of Congress aforesaid.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 5, 1926.

M. S. CARMICHAEL, Referee.

Bill Benson, the veteran Republican from Beat 9, was here last Saturday to attend the Executive committee meeting.

WANTED—A few trucks for hauling lumber at Billingsley, Ala.
1pd. MAUNEY LUMBER CO.

SHOULTS NEWS

Well, we are a week late, but we want to tell everybody about our Christmas holidays. Everything was sure fine around here Christmas. Everyone had a very nice time. On Christmas eve night Santa Claus was up at Shoults schoolhouse. There was a splendid play and a nice Christmas tree. A large crowd was there and everyone enjoyed themselves.

Our Sunday school and church are still good and we hope it will still grow. Next Sunday is our preaching day, so we invite everyone to come and be with us Sunday morning and Sunday night.

The W. M. U. will meet Wednesday, January 13. Let everyone come and let us start the new year right. The Y. W. A. grils are doing good work; and let us keep it up.

Mr. Ernest Jarrett of Montgomery spent the Christmas holidays with his family.

Little June Giles from Montgomery was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. P. M. Sewell for a few days.

Misses Annie McGee and Edna Foshee were guests of Miss Lorraine Sewell Saturday night.

Miss Rose Hall is spending a few days in Montgomery.

Miss Clara Smitherman has returned to take up her work again after spending a few days with her mother and father.

There was a few Christmas parties given least week, which were enjoyed by large crowds.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Moore are the proud parents of a baby girl.

Everybody around Shoults has a bright smile for the new year; lets keep it up throughout 1926.

A BIRTHDAY DINNER

On the 4th day of January, 1926, the home of Rev. J. T. Nelson was thrown open for the entertainment of his children, grand children, great grand children and friends. It is useless to try to express the full appreciation of this yearly meeting of his family and friends.

The dinner table glowed with a cake of ninety-three candles, and was so heavily loaded with delicious things to eat until it must have moaned under the burden. The hoary white hair of the host caused us all to think of the great Beyond, as he bowed his head in reverence to our Creator. After everyone had eaten, the table was typical of the scene in the Bible where Christ and His aposties were fishing and the fragments were gathered and fed the five thousand. The candles were taken as souvenirs of this unusual occasion.

The tottering form seemed to be enjoying the best of health in his ninety-third year.

All his children were present: Mrs. L. S. Coleman from Sylacauga, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Taylor from near Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hendricks of Weogufka, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nelson of near Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Pate from near Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nelson from Birmingham, and step-son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Jones of Thorsby.

But owing to the inclemency of the weather, all the grand children were not there, however, there were fourteen present. Two great grand children were present and a host of friends, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Baxley from Weogufka. They together enjoyed the hospitality of this old soldier whose head is blossoming for the tomb.

The joy expressed from his dear old countenance as the children and grand children showered him with birthday gifts would cause the tears to flow from anyone's eyes—even a hard-hearted sinner.

The sad thought came to us all as we wondered would this be the last such a day, but there were wishes expressed for many others.

Mrs. T. E. Gray and little son, Thomas, Jr., and her mother, Mrs. J. M. Dykes, have been spending the holidays with relatives near Enterprise. They are returning to their home in Birmingham. Miss Mary Gray will accompany them home, and spend about two weeks in Birmingham.

HONOR ROLL FOR THE CLANTON GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The following pupils made an average above 90 and were not absent nor tardy during the month of December:

Junior II Grade.—Gussie Cassell, Ora Mae Lawley, Arthur Johnson, Nelson Parrish, Chas. Rasberry, Clarence Easterling, Bronson Ruffin.

Sixth Grade.—Zebbie Gray, Mary Heard, Herman Harris, Erin Littlejohn, Ottis Miller, Evelyn Nix, Jane Roberts, Manette Wallace, Joe VanDerveer Esther Lee Dennis, Charlsie Pyron.

Fifth Grade.—Herbert Ward, Carson Eiland, Anderson Wallace, Chas. Eubanks, Dewey Williams, Margaret Jones, Clyde Jones, Mary Robinson, Ruby Bates, Flora Jones, Gertie Mae Mims, Margaret Johnston, Lois Miller, Imogene Simms, Dorothy Sessions Elizabeth McSwain, Wilder Nix, Doris Aldridge, Nellie Mae Caldwell, Verawyl Johnson, Ruth Moody, Gladys Thomas, Marzell Cassell, Lealis Davis, Pratt Busby, Frank Sullivan, Bernard Jones, Jasper Cox.

Fourth Grade.—Julia Edwards, Elizabeth Harris, Mary Agnes Welch, Hal Broadhead, Lawrence Gerald, Cecil Jones, Carl Jones.

Third Grade.—Alfred Moatts, Renfroe Sorrell, Jesse Lee Headley, Clara Cowart, Grace Plyler, Ruth Jones, Elizabeth Gragg, Helen Roberts.

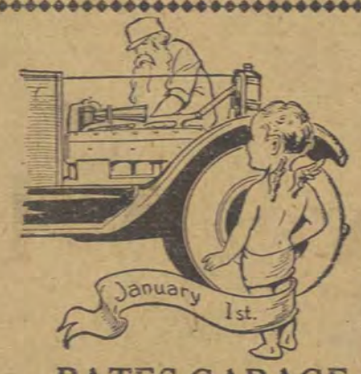
Second Grade. — Mary Courtney Jones, Gladys Martin, Bill Armstrong.

First Grade.—Joe Hall Johnson, Welna Gillespie, Juanita Miller, Gladys Roper, Elizabeth Williams.

Music.—Hilda Hart, Nell Neighbors, Mary Foshee, Elizabethrris, Ruby Louise Moatts, Elizabetragg, Mary Heard, Charisie Ph, Lavolia Roper, Eloise Rasberrgadys Martin, Frances Higgins, tette Wallace, Lucile Scroggins, cilla Johnson, Louise McSwain, Karet Johnson, Sally Mahan, Elizal McSwain, Dorothy Sessions, Ethdae Jones, Vivian Gray, Amie Gr Nell Ross Mullins, Esther Lee De, Lois Miller.

On account of the iss of two of the teachers, the honoll for the fourth and sixth grade not complete. The remainder the honor roll will probably be pshed next week.

W. E. MART Principal.



FOR SALE—I have 20 in Ozone, sub-division near Mob Ala., in Blocks 17 and 19, in Oe Add., in Section 30, Township Range 2, Mobile County. I hwo use for them so far away; I owe0 taxes on the entire bunch; firster of $10 each and party to assuthe taxes, will get them all. Who irst? Better wire V. A. PALM, Kings, Nebraska. 1-7-4t-ch

OMAR L. REYNDS
Attorney-at-L
OFFICE OPPOSITE URT
HOUSE
Clanton, Ala

L. D. POPWEI
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repair
Broken Lenses Duplied and Spectacles Fitte
Frames Repaire

DR. ARTHUR JOHON
CLANTON, AL.
Diseases and surgery oie eye, ear, nose and throat, anhe fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

Sanford Barber op
Clanton, Ala., 7th reet
The best shave inown, haircuts, tonics, et up-to-date. Your Patnage appreciated.
HOT AND COLD SHOWER ETHS

GET READY FOR 16
Don't wait for a conete breakdown. If youcar shows the least sign distress make up your mi to have it in good runningder again right away. V do auto repair work of very description and will bglad to give your car a thcugh overhauling right awayWe guarantee satisfactiomoth as to workmanship anour charges.
BATES GARAGE, Clanton, Ala.

ATTENTION
Farmers and Other Timber Owners
We pay Spot Cash for White and Red Oak Rough Split Staves, delivered to any railroad point within 100 miles of Birmingham, Alabama.
For full particulars regarding prices and specifications, Address:
Lucas E. Moore Stave Co.
P. O. Box No. 1002, Birmingham, Ala.
Factory & Office Located at Mims Station on A.G.S. R.R. West Birmingham.

Talcums Differ

as much in their quality as in their fragrance. If the best is the only kind you use, that and all other dressing table requisites will satisfy you if selected here. Our perfume and cosmetic department is a regular shopping place for ladies seeking the better grades in those lines.
ALRED DRUG COMPANY
"The Home of Quality"
CLANTON, - - - - ALABAMA

Auction Sale
Saturday, January 9
AT 11 O'CLOCK, A.M.
The home of Ed McCall and perhaps some other hoses and lots in Clanton, to be sold on this date.

Col. Thos. W. Millican
Auctioneer
This house and lot iadjoining the colored clrch on Second Avenue ast, and is a very desable piece of property. (me! You might buy a bagain. You make the Pric we make the deed.
Band Music
SATURDAY, JANUARY 9—11:00 A.M.
SOLD BY
Tenn-Ala. Auction Co.
FORT PAYNE, ALABAMA

ESTABLISHED 1903 THE ESTABLISHED 1892

UNION-BANNER

What's ?P.B.G.? Watch This Paper!

Like PIRATES? Read The Banner!

VOLUME XIII. —TWELVE PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 1926 NUMBER 39

YOUNG MAN JAILED ON FORGING CHECK

—?—

After passing a number of bogus checks in Clanton recently and getting the money on them, young Lorenza Smith of Enterprise community was taken up and placed in jail by Sheriff Littlejohn here Monday. He is the son of Mr. Perry Smith of Enterprise, and is about 18 years of age.

Officials say that the boy before being arrested had cashed checks in Clanton to amount to about $100. Two of the checks bore the signature J. A. Huett, one of a Mr. Courtney, and one of a Mr. Mims. They were cashed by Broadhead & Sons, Chilton Hardware Company, Elmore's and the Del Monte Store. He was trying to pass a check over the signature of J. A. Huett when he was picked up by the sheriff Monday. He was lodged in the county jail where he still remains at this writing Tuesday.

——PBG——

MACEDONIA

—?—

Miss Clara Ellen Calloway and brother, George Porter, from Prattville, are visiting Misses Maud and Glennie Mahan. Clara Ellen is taking examinations so she may enter high school at her home in Prattville.

Mr. Harlem Daniel, who is teaching school at Macedonia, went home Saturday to visit his father, Mr. Tom Daniel.

Miss Evie Bates had as her guest Sunday night, Mr. Clifford Vines.

Miss Prudie Smith, who holds a position with the Forbes Piano Co., in Birmingham, was home for the holidays.

Messrs. Rush Darby and Parmer Gartney from Russell, Miss., were the guests of Misses Maud and Glennie Mahan Saturday nig't.

Mr. Henry Smith, who has been ill, is improving rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jones (Rosa Lea Mahan) were visiting parents through Christmas.—A Reader.

——PBG——

STANTON NEWS

—?—

Mr. R. E. Fitt of Safford, Ala., was a visitor in Stanton Sunday.

Mrs. L. E. Warren of Montgomery has been visiting her parents here.

Miss Margarita Woolley sspent the Christmas holidays in Stanton. She has gone back to Wyoming, where she teaches school.

Messrs. Leo Langston and W. C. Dyer, Jr., went to Jemison to spend the week end.

We are indeed glad to have Mr. J. L. Burnett. He has moved to Stanton. Also, Mr. Jacks.

Mr. Morris Middlebrooks of Brent was in Stanton Sunday.

——PBG——

CARD OF THANKS

—?—

We wish to thank all the doctors, nurses, relatives and friends who helped us in any way during the sickness of our father, and sickness and death of our mother; also, for the beautiful floral offerings. May God bless each of you is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Thompson.
Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Tippett.

——PBG——

Mr. Guy H. DeShazo of Fort Payne spent last Saturday and Sunday at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. DeShazo, at Mulberry.

Can a pirate be a gentleman? Can a gentleman be a pirate? Can either be a buccaneer? Clear up all the mystery about pirates and read the startling novel soon to appear in The Union-Banner.

——PBG——

BUS LINE NOW IN OPERATION AGAIN

—?—

Mr. Langley of the Birmingham-Montgomery Transportation Co., has requested The Union-Banner to say that the Birmingham-Montgomery busses through Clanton have now resumed uninterrupted service and will be able to make schedule time every day with three busses each way. During the past few weeks the service has been irregular on account of bad roads on detours south of Clanton. Mr. Langley says that difficulty is now overcome.

The schedule of busses through Clanton is as follows:

Going to Montgomery—9 a. m., 3 p. m., and 8 p. m.

Going to Birmingham—7:50 a. m., 2:50 p. m., and 8:50 p. m.

The terminal of the bus line in Montgomery is the Exchange Hotel; in Birmingham, the Tutwiler.

——PBG——

MR. THOMAS GOING TO FLORIDA

—?—

To my friends and relatives in Chilton:

I am leaving today, January 10, for Florida, where I will spend two or three weeks, in Lakeland, with my daughters, Mrs. H. Honeycutt and Mrs. C. J. Henley. I expect to visit many points while in Florida. I will return home about February 1, to take up my work again.—J. L. Thomas, Jemison.

——PBG——

Mr. C. H. Plier, Jr., of Jemison Route 4 visited The Banner office last Saturday. Mr. Plier is one of our most loyal subscribers, and we appreciate the esteem in which he holds The Union-Banner.

——PBG——

Mr. Wallace C. Edler of Thorsby was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday.

——PBG——

Mr. Will Reynolds is much improved. For several days he has been confined to his home with the very unpleasant job of nursing a carbuncle on the back of his neck.

——PBG——

Hoyt B. Reynolds is now engaged in the sawmill business at Millbrook.

——PBG——

Walter Gillespie of the Federal prohibition enforcement office in Mobile was a visitor to Clanton last Sunday, spending a few days with his family and friends.

——PBG——

Start the new year by paying your subscription for your local paper a year in advance.

——PBG——

Dudley Collins tells us that W. G. J. Dorminey killed a Duroc hog recently that weighed 580.

——PBG——

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McGraw, friends and readers of The Union-Banner, from Randolph, were visitors to the office while in Clanton last Thursday.

——PBG——

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

WILL G. CULP ADDRESSES REPUBLICANS

RETIRING CHAIRMAN THANKS PEOPLE

Editor Union-Banner:

Please give me space in your most valuable paper to say a few words to the Republicans of Chilton County.

Having resigned as chairman of the Republican executive committee of Chilton County, I feel that it will be proper at this time for me to explain to the Republicans the cause of my resignation, and at the same time to express my thanks for the cooperation of the Republicans while I was your chailman.

First, I will say that my resignation was made because of the fact that I anticipate being a candidate in the primary this year, and I felt that under the circumstances of my being a candidate, it would be to the interest of the party to have its affairs directed by a chairman who is not personally interested in the campaign.

Now, I want to thank every Republican in the county for the loyal support and splendid cooperation given me during the six years that I have tried to serve you as your county chairman. I feel proud of the splendid success we have had during this time and I am glad that the honors for attaining this success are shared mutually by the great body of Republicans in all parts of the county whose fine spirit of cooperation has made it possible.

I realize that without your help and cooperation I could have accomplished very little, and as I stated in the beginning, I want to thank each and every one who has contributed in any way to make the Republican party in Chilton County the great party that it is today.

I have been connected with the party organization for a long time, having served as one of the committee for a number of years before I was elected chairman, and I think I can truthfully say that our party organization has never been in a better or more harmonious working order than it is today, and during the time I served you as chairman it was my policy always to put the party's interest above the interest of any individual. At all times and on all occasions when matters came up for action I tried as best I could to let my actions serve the best interests of the party first, and the greatest number of those interested second, and I am glad to say that our last meeting was the best that I have ever attended, from the point of attendance, as well as that of good fellowship. In conclusion, I want to insist that every Republican in the county rally to the support of our new chairman, and if we do this I feel sure that the same results will be ours in the future that have been ours in the past, for I don't think we could have a better fitted man for the place than we have in the person of Mr. Dennis.

Before I close, let me insist that each good Republican in the county let yourself be a committee of one to see that all your Republican friends pay their poll tax and register in order that they may be entitled to participate in the elections that are to be held this year.

I thank the editor for this space.—W. G. Culp, Clanton, Ala., January 11, 1926.

FARMING OUTLOOK FOR 1926 IS GOOD

—?—

The outlook for farming in Alabama in 1926 is brighter than it has been at the beginning of any year since 1919. Economists of the Agricultural College at Auburn have analyzed the situation thoroughly and come to the conclusion that this will be another good year for farmers, provided that they practice safe farming rules.

The 1925 crops turned out to be much better than was expected at the beginning of the harvest season. Cotton sprung the biggest surprise by turning out to be one of the biggest crops ever made in the State while corn came forward with a crop a million bushels larger than that of 1924. Only a few of the minor crops failed to exceed the previous year while all of the major crops made substantial gains.

Although the prices of cotton and cotton seed were lower, the official statistics show that the acre-value of the 1925 cotton crop in Alabama was $2.38 higher than that of 1924. This means that farmers made more money on their last crop, and with an increase in income more debts have been paid and more money is available for making this year's crop on a cash basis.

The county demonstration agents of south Alabama met recently in Montgomery, and those of north Alabama in Birmingham to talk over the conditions and needs of the new year. As spokesman for them, Prof. L. N. Duncan announced that the big needs of Alabama agriculture this year are no more acres in cotton, more corn, hay, and other feed crops, more good livestock and poultry, a good home garden and orchard on each farm, efficient marketing of all farm products, and better farm homes. He named as other big needs good seed of the best varieties of all crops, the use of more commercial fertilizer of the right kind, more improved farm machinery, and better production methods.

——PBG——

Our flappers of today will soon be grown up and begin complaining of the riotous doings of "our young people."

——PBG——

The many friends of Mr. Jim Grant are anxious for his recovery from an illness that has confined him to his home for several months past. We sincerely hope that he may be able to get out right soon.

——PBG——

"The big need of Alabama farmers is to take charge of their own business, which they can do by cooperation."—L. N. Duncan, Auburn.

——PBG——

Curses, cutlasses and cut-throats! Get on your sailing togs and embark on the greatest plundering expedition yet chronicled. The BIG pirate story of years appears soon in The Union-Banner.

——PBG——

County Commissioner J. L. Burnett was here Monday attending a special session of court. Mr. Burnett informed us that he has moved from Lawley to Stanton. Anyone wishing to transact business with Mr. Burnett will now find him at Stanton.

W. M. U. QUARTERLY MEETING AT MAPLESVILLE JANUARY 15

—?—

The followng is the program for the quarterly meeting of the W. M. U. of Unity Association, to be held at Maplesville on Friday, January 15, 1926:

Morning Session.

10:00—Song, "Revive Us Again."

Prayer of thanksgiving for the blessings of the past year.

Devotional, led by Mrs. Grady Broadhead.

Words of welcome, Maplesville W. M. S.

Response, Mrs. Urban Cox.

Business, appointment of committees, etc.

Recommendations from Associational Executive Board.

Reports from Societies (Gifts for 1925; aim for 1926).

Lottie Moon Christmas offering, (results from Week of Prayer).

Quiz, led by Mrs. J. E. Gowan.

Special music, Samaria W. M. S.

Talk, "Spiritual Growth A Result of Membership in the W. M. U.," by Miss Emma Leachman, Field Worker for Southern Baptist Convention.

12:30—Lunch.

Afternoon Session.

1:30—Song.

Devotional, Verbena W. M. S.

Special music.

Open discussion, Personal Service under the direction of a committee, conducted by Associational Personal Service chairman, Mrs. W. C. Dyer.

Brief review of Mission Study Book, Remarkable Answer to Prayer, from "Prayer and Missions," Mrs. S. J. Ezell.

Song.

Awarding of Banners.

Announcements.

Closing prayer.

The Young People's Quarterly Council Meeting of the Unity Association will be held at Mt. Creek on Saturday, January 16. Miss Hannah Reynolds, State Young People's Leader, will be present and deliver an address. All young people's organizations are urged to send representatives.

——PBG——

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

——PBG——

A Bright Idea.—There's been a new association formed to combat the crime wave and we suppose the first thing they'll do will be to pass a law making it unlawful to commit crimes. —Farm and Fireside.

——PBG——

NEGRO AND NEGRESS ARRESTED FOR VIOLATING PROHI LAW

—?—

On Tuesday of this week Sheriff Littltjohn and Deputy Foshee searched the home of Stewart Smith near the Graphite Mines out from Midway, and found in Smith's house a small quanity of whiskey. They also found in his yard a keg of beer buried. Smith was arrested and made bond.

The officers also searched the place of Smith's mother a short distance away and found in her house two jugs with a little whiskey in each. The negro woman's name was Amelia Smith. She was arrested and also released on bond.

Ho! for the Spanish main! The pirate story you've been waiting all your life to read is here! Watch for announcement.

——PBG——

JOE MADDOX BUILDING NEW FILLING STATION

—?—

Mr. Joe Maddox of the Clanton Mill & Gin Co., has begun work on the erection of his new filling station on the corner of Seventh Street and Fourth Avenue north near the railroad bridge. He has moved his store building back from Seventh Street and will build his filling station in front of the store. The structure will be of brick, and built on the modern drive-in plan.

Mr. Maddox expects to have his new place ready for business by the middle of February. In addition to the gasoline business he will handle a line of motor accessories, and will provide rest rooms for the convenience of the traveling public. He expects to handle the Gulf line of motor fuel, oils, greases, etc.

——PBG——

Commissioners Court of Chilton County was in session Monday for transaction of its regular road business. The court is getting ready for a more extensive road plan in 1926.

——PBG——

Leon B. Popwell of Thorsby was a visitor to Clanton Monday.

——PBG——

The Democratic executive committee of Chilton County held a meeting in Clanton Tuesday. We guess they were planning for Chilton to "fall in line" this fall when election time comes around. Yes, we do not think it will—go Democratic.

——PBG——

DEATH OF MR. C. M. CULP

—?—

On Friday, January 8, at 10:30 p. m., the death angel visited the home of Mr. C. M. Culp and carried his humble spirit into the realms of eternal bliss. He was ill but a few days with a severe attack of pneumonia, and every effort of faithful hands and medical skill was rendered to recover him but all failed. However, from his faithful life and his last expressions in the moments of death we feel assured that his soul is at rest in a Home of peace and love beyond this vale of sorrow.

The deceased was an old citizen of this county, just lacking one month of reaching his 75th birthday. He leaves a wife, two sons, three daughters, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn for him.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. F. Dykes and interment was made at Mt. Pisgah cemetery on Saturday, January 9, at 3:30 p. m.—His son, A. J. Culp.

——PBG——

Thrift in Disguise.—"I hear that you've bought your daughter an automobile. Pretty expensive game, isn't it?"

"No, it's a matter of economy. I figured that the car will keep her away from bridge parties."—Boston Transcript.

——PBG——

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

REYNOLDS TO SPEAK IN B'HAM JAN. 29TH

—?—

Judge L. H. Reynolds has been invited to speak in Birmingham January 29th at the Alabama State Council of the Southern States League. The occasion is the annual McKinley dinner of the League, and the subject upon which Judge Reynolds will address the body is "The Republican Party of William McKinley."

The invitation which was extended to Judge Reynolds says that he was unanimously selected by the committee on arrangements as speaker for this notable occasion.

Judge Reynolds is the outstanding Republican of Alabama and his selection by the League to make the McKinley address is a fitting tribute to his recognized ability as the State's chief exponent of the principles of the Republican party.

——PBG——

SMITH AND STEPHENS FORM LAW PARTNERSHIP

—?—

Mr. T. Calvin Stephens, former principal of the Chilton County High School, has given up teaching and entered the practice of law in Clanton. He has formed a partnership with Mr. A. C. Smith. Their offices are located in the Smith building near the court house.

——PBG——

ADAMS NEWS

—?—

Mrs. T. J. Deramus, who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Deramus of Mulberry dined with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams Sunday.

Mr. Lester Lenoir was the guest of Miss Beulah Chambers Sunday afternoon.

The many friends of Miss Bessie Williams will be glad to learn of her recovery.

Mr. Carson Williams was the guest of Miss Irene Headley Sunday afternoon.

Miss Bessie Williams spent a few hours with Miss Beulah Chambers on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Malcolm Chambers called on Miss Annie Giles last Sunday.

Mr. Gradie Deason is improving nicely from a recent illness.

Mr. Dewey Deason returned to Selma Sunday to take up his work.

Mr. Clarence Williams spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. Gradie Deason.

Prof. Glasscock motored to Mulry Sunday afternoon.

Miss Catherine Deramus is spending a few days of this week with her grandmother.—A Reader.

——PBG——

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS

—?—

Mrs. Howard Oden is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Joe Fox was ill for some time last week.

Wardie Martin from Birmingham was down one day last week on business. His grandfather, Mr. Campbell, 84 years old, from Baldwin County, accompanied him.

Mrs. Tula Edwards Smith from Birmingham was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Edwards, recently.

Mr. Earl Thomas has bought the Martin farm in front of the Isabella school building.

Statement of the Condition of

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Clanton, Ala., Close of Business December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Loans,	$253,180.82
Overdrafts,	246.99
Banking House,	2,700.00
Furniture-Fixtures,	2,727.25
Bonds,	20,400.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	471,300.11
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	78,934.58
Deposits,	$656,620.59
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

The Peoples Savings Bank, opening its doors for business on the morning of December 7, 1901, received deposits from twenty-one citizens of Chilton County.. An examination of the books of the bank reveals that some of these original depositors have passed away; some have moved away; but over one-half of the original number or their direct heirs, still maintain accounts with The Old Reliable. Further examination reveals that at the end of the year 1901, the number of depositors had increased more than one hundred per cent, and out of these over fifty per cent of them or their direct heirs still do their banking business with this bank.

In 1901, The Peoples Savings Bank, a mere youngster, provided its customers with Safety and Service. Today, this same old institution, the trail blazer, Chilton County's first bank, the veteran that has weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century, provides its customers with that same safety and service.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS ON OUR RECORD

Condensed Statement of the Condation of the

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

At the Close of Business January 4, 1926

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts,	$476,727.53
Overdrafts,	1,713.73
United States Bonds,	30,000.00
Banking House,	10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures,	3,236.98
Redemption Fund,	1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank,	2,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	$227,104.40
Stocks and Bonds,	58,827.75
	285,932.15
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	34,854.78
Circulation,	28,800.00
Deposits,	698,034.12
Rediscounts,	(NONE)
Bills Payable,	(NONE)
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95

Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59

Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12

TOTAL RESOURCES MORE THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

Semi-Annual Report of Treasurer of Chilton County, Alabama.

Statement of Money Received and Money Paid Out From July 1st, 1925, to December 31st, 1925.

STATE OF ALABAMA, Chilton County.
To the Honorable Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, Alabama:

The undersigned, as Treasurer of Chilton County, Alabama, herewith submits this, her report of the receipts, disbursements and registered claims against Chilton County, from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1925.

This, the 31st day of December, 1925.

GENIE COLLINS, Treasurer,
Chilton County, Alabama.

Filed in Office of Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, January 5th, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS, Judge of Probate,
Chilton County.

RECAPITULATION

General Fund.

Balance June 30, 1925	$31,516.54
Cash Received, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31, 1925	10,866.38
	42,382.92
Cash Paid out, from July 1, 1925 to Dec. 31, 1925	35,498.19
Balance Dec. 31, 1925		$6,884.73

Road Fund.

Balance June 30, 1925	1,112.29
Cash Received, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31, 1925	25,172.26
	26,284.55
Cash Paid out, from July 1, 1925 to Dec. 31, 1925	25,836.76
Balance Dec. 31, 1925		447.79

Special Gasoline Tax Fund.

Balance June 30, 1925	4,256.23
Cash Received, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31, 1925	19,646.80
	23,903.03
Cash Paid out, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31, 1925	17,856.59
Balance Dec. 31, 1925		5,046.44

Fine and Forfeiture Fund.

Balance June 30, 1925	135.37
Cash Received, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31, 1925	1,865.86
	2,001.23
Cash Paid out, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31, 1925	1,320.75
Balance Dec. 31, 1925		680.48

Land Redemption Fund.

Balance June 30, 1925	451.54
Cash Received, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31, 1925	185.54
	637.08
Cash Paid out, from July 1, 1925, to Dec. 31,1925	198.79
Balance Dec. 31, 1925		448.29

TO CASH RECEIVED, from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1925.—Road Fund.

July 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Road tax	$15.00
July 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Motor vehicle tax	37.38
Aug. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Mot. veh'le tax	55.65
Aug. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Road tax	125.00
Sept. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Road tax	185.00
Sept. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, Auto license	13.93
Sept. 8.—Transferred from General Fund	10,000.00
Oct. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Road tax	75.00
Oct. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Truck tax	14.92
Oct. 8.—C. B. Cox	62.10
Nov. 2.—J. T. Rockett, T. C., Road tax	1,437.93
Nov. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Road tax	45.00
Nov. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Auto license	1,276.76
Nov. 16.—J. T. Rockett, T. C., Taxes	1,105.45
Nov. 20.—Town of Thorsby, street work	75.00
Dec. 1.—J. T. Rockett, T. C., Road tax	540.84
Dec. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Road tax	85.00
Dec. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., motor vehicle	1,978.76
Dec. 8.—W. A. Reynolds, street building	11.60
Dec. 15.—J. T. Rockett, T. C., Taxes	1,031.94
Dec. 23.—Transferred from General Fund	7,000.00

BY CASH PAID OUT, from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1925.—Road Fund.

July 6.—Road work, R. Jones	$2.00
July 6.—Lumber, Pyron Lumber Co.	22.85
July 6.—Lumber, W. P. Cofer	37.56
July 6.—Right-of-way, S. L. Gray & T. E. Traywick	20.00
July 17.—Gravel, Mrs. D. N. Abernathy	2.50
July 17.—Damage for right-of-way by order of Court, J. Z. Mims, Clerk	652.55
July 17.—Lumber, Clyde Pierce	40.17
July 17.—Tractor, No. 30 Best, G. C. Phillips Co.	3,280.50
July 17.—Lumber, C. J. Klinner	37.86
July 27.—Parts, Galion Iron Works	38.26
July 27.—Road parts, Galion Iron Works	545.00
July 27.—Damage of land for right-of-way, Bolling C. Cooper, Cecil Cooper, Ada J. Cooper	25.00
July 27.—Tiling, E. F. Meade & Son	36.60
July 27.—Lumber, A. E. Wilkins	24.04
July 27.—Lumber, J. A. Huett	12.60
July 31.—Work on truck, Lawrence Motor Co.	12.10
July 31.—Lumber, J. S. Carter	35.25
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Redie Dobbs	2.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, J. R. Mitchell	3.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Oscar Miner	12.00
Aug. 18.—N. L. Miner	24.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, W. A. Foshee	2.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, W. H. Wilson	64.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, H. B. Vinson	24.00
Aug. 18.—Shoveling, Ernie Riggins	3.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge wirk, Henry Patterson	19.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, A. Riggins	10.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, J. S. Davis	18.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, J. D. Driver	24.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Garner Smith	1.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Sam Smith	8.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Eddie Kelley	24.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, B. D. Dennis	28.00
Aug. 18.Mdse. for Co. road work, Jones Hdwe. Co.	824.52
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, H. T. Patton	4.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Carl Nelson	14.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Eddie Little	18.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Brash Adams	8.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Walter Taylor	33.25
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Obie D. Smith	14.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Alpha Dobbs	10.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Joe Dennis	17.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Leonard Smith	7.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Roy Davis	10.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, Jno. A. Mims	2.00
Aug. 18.—Lumber, Goodgame & Gowan	49.12
Aug. 18.—Bridge work.—N. A. Dennis	12.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Grover White	9.00
Aug. 18.—Hauling lumber, Lunion Langford	3.00
Aug. 18.—Hauling lumber, W. D. Lovelady	14.56
Aug. 18.—Lumber, W. H. Hayes	97.02
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Eddie Little	1.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Lathem Wilson	7.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Ed Kelley	10.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, N. L. Miner	4.50
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, W. E. Parrish	4.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, W. A. Foshee	14.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, H. B. Vinson	5.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, B. D. Dennis	5.00
Aug. 18.—Hauling, T. W. Wilson	3.25
Aug. 18.—Oil, Jno. T. Ellis & Sons	228.37
Aug. 18.—Road work, J. R. Mitchell	8.25
Aug. 18.—Road work, Burnice Childress	36.00
Aug. 18.—Lumber, W. H. Hayes	31.95
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Oscar Miner	2.50
Aug. 18.—Bridge wor, Joe Dennis	1.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, C. B. Lenoir	13.00
Aug. 18.—Lumber, Clyde Pierce	19.53
Aug. 18.—Lumber, John Giles	23.50
Aug. 18.—Lumber, Walter Jones	4.08
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, W. H. Wilson	16.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, G. S. Burnette	4.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Harlem Peters	6.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Arthur LeCroy	7.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, N A. Dennis	7.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, J. S. Davis	3.50
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Carl Nelson	1.50
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, G. C. White	5.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Claud Davis	2.00
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, W. F. Deshazo	423.66
Aug. 18.—Bridge work, Robert Beline	6.00
Aug. 18.—Right-of-way, A. D. Scott	30.62
Aug. 18.—Lumber, J. J. Hayes	2.50
Aug. 18.—1 car gravel, Mitchell Bros. Cons. Co.	43.00
Aug. 25.—Bridge work, M. E. Dunsmore	18.00
Aug. 25.—Bridge work, Tom and J. V. Woolley	2.62
Aug. 25.—Bridge work, George Grover	1.75
Aug. 25.—Bridge work, Johnnie Lee Davis	4.38
Aug. 25.—Hauling gravel, Dan C. Hayes	4.00
Aug. 25.—Bridge work, Dewey Hughes	12.00
Aug. 25.—Parts, Parts Service Corp	138.63
Aug. 25.—Lumber, B. F. Rasberry	64.02
Aug. 25.—Lumber, Perry Cleckler	40.96
Aug. 25.—Lumber, D. O. Manning	151.17
Aug. 25.—Lumber, J. C. Griffin	196.07
Aug. 25.—Gravel, Mrs. Mattie Mims	1.10
Aug. 25.—Gravel, E. M. Jones	150.00
Aug. 25.—Sand, Roquemore Gravel Co.	9.20
Sept. 9.—Lumber, McSwain Lbr. Co.	18.95
Sept. 9.—Bridge work, Lee Davis	7.87
Sept. 9.—Hauling lbr. for bridge Clifford Childress	2.00
Sept. 9.—Bridge sills, H. T. Childress	2.50
Sept. 9.—Lumber, W. V. Dyer	9.86
Sept. 9.—Lumber, Sanders & Harrison	98.80
Sept. 9.—Sills for bridge, C. D. Duke	2.00
Sept. 9.—Hauling lumber, Ernest Davis	8.44
Sept. 9.—Bridge work, J. C. Dennis	3.00
Sept. 9.—Lumber, S. M. Edwards	8.52
Sept. 9.—Lumber, Sanders & Harrison	56.92
Sept. 9.—Bridge work, Dock Atcheson	1.50
Sept. 9.—Lumber, T. C. McSwain	137.06
Sept. 9.—Bridge work, Ek Edwards	6.00
Sept. 9.—Bridge work, Morris Logan	2.00
Sept. 9.—Lumber, L. C. Hawes	20.20
Sept. 9.—Right-of-way, D. L. Martin	10.00
Sept. 9.—Road work, W. E. Jacks	45.00
Sept. 14.—Oil for July, Standard Oil Co.	95.75
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, T. P. Franklin	4.50
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Jas. Franklin	4.50
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Emmett Miskelly	5.75
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, B. M. Franklin	4.50
Sept. 14.—Lumber, J. W. Gore	9.74
Sept. 14.—Lumber, D. O. Manning	6.32
Sept. 14.—Oil, Jno. T. Ellis	272.18
Sept. 14.—Right-of-way, A. G. Fraser	75.00
Sept. 14.—Right-of-way, R. E. Scarbrough	9.00
Sept. 14.—Right-of-way, T. F. Hawkins	40.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Porter Payton	10.20
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Will Wells	10.80
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. E. Sasterling	22.00
Sept. 21.—Work on bridge south of Clanton, Mitchell Bros. Cons. Co.	134.60
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, J. L. Easterling	9.60
Sept. 21.—Steel br'ge, Cooper, Highw'y I. P. Co.	1,831.90
Sept. 21.—Sand, fill S. Clanton, J. W. Smith	25.00
Sept. 30.—Road mch., Austin West. R'd Mch. Co.	1,220.00
Sept. 30.—1 c'rl'd slag, J. R. & J. B. Miller Con. Co.	99.00
Sept. 30.—Lumber, Jno. M. Robinson	5.14
Oct. 16.—Parts, Clanton Motor Co.	14.53
Oct. 16.—Oil, John T. Ellis	197.34
Oct. 16.—Lumber, Bud Wilson	97.62
Oct. 16.—Lumber, W. J. Gentry	8.48
Oct. 16.—Lumber, W. A. Reynolds	312.34
Oct. 16.—Lumber, Goodgame & Gowan	282.42
Oct. 16.—Lumber, B. G. Jones	40.50
Oct. 16.—Lumber, Goodgame & Gowan	113.76
Oct. 16.—Lumber, Jno. M. Robinson	9.49
Oct. 16.—Lumber, Pyron Lbr. Co.	38.84
Oct. 16.—Oil for May, Standard Oil Co.	157.59
Oct. 16.—Bal. right-of-way, R. E. Miller	15.00
Oct. 16.—Right-of-way, J. P. Stonecipher	5.00
Oct. 27.—Lumber, William Rasberry	13.30
Oct. 27.—Tiling, E. F. Meade & Son	137.85
Nov. 6.—Lumber, J. A. Cofer	65.60
Nov. 6.—Lumber, C. C. Vinson	2.50
Nov. 6.—Houling sewer, Henry Anderson	3.00
Nov. 6.—Steel beams, Ingall Iron Works	90.00
Nov. 6.—Clanton bridge, Highway I. Prod. Co.	1,409.23
Nov. 10.—Hauling tiling, C. B. Lenoir	8.70
Nov. 10.—Right-of-way, W. A. Simms	15.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Alphus Moore	7.12
Nov. 17.—Culverts, Tri-State Culvert Mfg. Co.	3,245.94
Nov. 23.—Oil, Jno. T. Ellis	159.40
Nov. 23.—Bal. on right-of-way, J. N. Dennis	37.50
Nov. 23.—Bal. on highway, L. D. Popwell	125.00
Nov. 23.—Oil, Standard Oil Co.	95.29
Nov. 23.—Road work, G. S. Minor	11.25
Nov. 27.—Int. due on $200,00.00 5% bonds, National Park Bank	5,012.50
Dec. 3.—Road machine parts, Yancey Bros.	591.73
Dec. 14.—Machine parts, G. C. Phillips Trac. Co.	829.45
Dec. 17.—Oil, Jno. T. Ellis	136.95
Dec. 17.—Lumber, Perry Gore	11.80
Dec. 21.—Oil, Gulf Refining Co.	133.22

TO CASH RECEIVED, from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1925.—Fine and Forfeiture Fund.

July 1.—J. Z. Mims, Clerk, fines	$1,081.11
Sept. 11.—J. Z. Mims, Clerk, fines	8.33
Oct. 19.—J. Z. Mims, Clerk, hard labor hire	144.66
??????—J. Z. Mims, Clerk, fines	631.76

BY CASH PAID OUT, from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1925.—Fine and Forfeiture Fund.

July 6.—Sheriff's fees, T. J. Littlejohn	$106.16
July 6.—Grand Jury wit. cert., A. T. Deavers	4.70
July 6.—Grand Jury wit. cert., V. J. Littleton	2.80
July 6.—State wit. cert., A. B. Headley	2.40
July 6.—State wit. cert., J. L. Traywick	3.30
July 6.—State wit. cert., Ida Roebuck	2.80
July 6.—State wit. cert., Pear Carter	2.80
July 6.—State wit. cert., R. W. Carter	2.80
July 10.—State wit. cert., J. O. Moore	7.00
July 10.—State wit. cert., W. G. Culp	1.00
July 10.—State wit. cert., Tom Taylor	1.20
July 10.—State wit. cert., J. C. Dennis	1.70
July 10.—State wit. cert., Eula Barnett	2.70
July 10.—State wit. cert., J. A. Sewell	.25
July 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. C. Dennis	1.70
July 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., James A. Gore	4.30
July 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. L. G. Hagler	.25
July 10.—Clerk's fees, J. Z. Mims	90.60
July 17.—State wit. cert., E. G. Caldwell	2.80
July 17.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Willie Bean	1.85
July 17.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. B. Littlejohn	3.30
July 17.—Grand Jury wit. cert., E. G. Caldwell	2.80
July 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. Huey Taylor	1.70
July 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Huey Taylor	1.70
July 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., W. L. Nix	4.00
July 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. Hurlie Mims	4.20
July 27.—State wit. cert., Bob Williams	1.80
July 18.—State wit. cert., Mrs. Lillie Anderson	2.80
July 18.—State wit. cert., J. P. Anderson	2.80
July 18.—State wit. cert., Henry Hicks	4.00
July 18.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. M. Bratton	5.00
July 25.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. T. M. Chandler	3.00
July 25.—Grand Jury wit. cert., B. M. Killingsworth	4.00
July 25.—State wit. cert., Henry Hicks	4.00
July 25.—State wit. cert., R. E. Scarbrough	1.40
July 25.—State wit. cert., Ed Driver	1.30
July 25.—State wit. cert., W. L. Powell	1.40
July 25.—State wit. cert., S. B. Powell	1.40
July 25.—State wit. cert., Clifton Deloach	1.40
July 25.—State wit. cert., W. H. Hayes	1.00
July 25.—Sheriff's fees, T. J. Littlejohn	42.50
Sept. 9.—Clerk's fees, J. Z. Mims	65.17
Sept. 9.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. M. Culp	4.00
Sept. 21.—Grand Jury wit. cert., T. K. Littleton	1.70
Sept. 21.—Grand Jury wit. cert., (Little Willie Gore	.25
Sept. 21.—State wit. cert., Malinda Wilson	.25
Oct. 16.—State wit. cert., Annie Spivey	25
Oct. 16.—State wit. cert.,J. P. Smith	1.80
Oct. 16.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Annie Spivey	.25
Oct. 16.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Eddie Little	2.40
Oct. 16.—Sheriff's fees, T. J. Littlejohn	13.37
Oct. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. J. W. Crim	2.30
Oct. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert.,Miss M. Freeman	3.80
Oct. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., R. L. Prim	4.80
Nov. 6.—State wit. cert., E. H. Foshee	4.70
Nov. 6.—State wit. cert., W. S. Clark	.25
Nov. 6.—State wit. cert., E. H. Foshee	2.30
Nov. 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., W. T. Hand	4.20
Nov. 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., W. H. McKnight	4.30
Nov. 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. N. Cofer	5.80
Nov. 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., H. N. Devaughn	1.30
Nov. 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Reese Mullins	1.00
Nov. 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. L. Johnson	1.00
Nov. 10.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Dr. V. J. Gragg	1.00
Nov. 17.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Gordon Dubose	3.40
Nov. 17.—Grand Jurp wit. cert., Mrs. R. E. Pill	2.80
Nov. 17.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. I. Roebuck	2.80
Nov. 17.—State wit. cert., B. M. Killingsworth	12.40
Nov. 17.—Sheriff's fees, T. J. Littlejohn	85.50
Nov. 23.—Sheriff's fees, T. J. Littlejohn	129.00
Nov. 23.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Leonard Glasscock	6.30
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., W. H. Hayes	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Jewell Traywick	2.30
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Loss Robinson	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Fate Littlefield	2.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. M. Curlee	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Wilbert Duke	2.20
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Curtis Webb	2.20
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Hubert Duke	2.20
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Carson Duke	1.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., C. O. Lawrence	3.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., S. M. Adams	1.15
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. T. Parker	3.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., C. H. Russell	5.80
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mary Burnett	1.70
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., John Glass	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mary Glass	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Isaac Glass	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Isabel Glass	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., D. H. Gentry	1.70
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. Maud Cox	1.80
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Enoch Cox	1.80
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Coy Kendrick	1.80
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Foster Glasscock	3.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., G. N. Bearden	6.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Jimmie Nichols	3.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Icey Avery	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mary Avery	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Robert Avery	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., W. J. Gentry	1.70
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Jessie Stroud	1.90
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mr. Blake	3.20
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Pete Easterling	3.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mr. Seales	3.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., F. O. Robinson	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., E. A. Norris	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., R. T. Headley	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Henry Hayes	2.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Alex Giles	2.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. J. H. McDaniel	2.70
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. H. McDaniel	2.70
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. P. Parrish	1.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. L. B. Parrish	1.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. Floyd Little	1.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Miss Cora Mims	1.60
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. Ella Mims	1.60
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. Leona Robinson	1.75
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., P. C. Weldon	1.60
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Floyd Little	1.80
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Jess Retherford	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., H. Ratliff	2.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. M. Curlee	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Joe Franklin	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., L. Lenoir	3.10
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Houston Lenoir	4.50
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. Irby Higgins	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Irby Higgins	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Luther Higgins	2.40
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. M. C. Foster	3.00
Nov. 27—Grand Jury wit. cert., Ralph Ellison	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., L. Ellison	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., J. D. Foster	3.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Sam Nelson	2.15
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Julia Gory	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Helen Mae Lykes	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Sambo Lykes	1.00
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Mrs. Anna Lenoir	3.20
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury wit. cert., Velma Lenoir	3.20
Nov. 27.—Grand Jury witness, H. A. Harris	3.20
Nov. 27.—G. J. Witness, Sebe Carter	3.20
Nov. 27.—G. J. Witness, J. Mell Martin	1.00
Nov. 27.—G. J. Witness, J. M. VanDerveer	1.00
Nov. 27.—State witness, George Guy	4.80
Nov. 27.—State witness, T. G. Lake	2.80
Nov. 27.—State witness, George Guy	2.30
Nov. 27.—State witness, J. R. Pri e	2.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, J. L. Easterling	1.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, Mrs. Charles Headley	2.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, Charles Headley	2.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, Will Morg n	6.60
Nov. 27.—State witness, J. L. B. Long	2.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, Snow Hart	2.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, W. G. Davis	2.20
Nov. 27.—State witness, C. T. Glenn	2.80
Nov. 27.—State witness, Bena Mims	1.60
Nov. 27.—State witness, Loretta Moates	1.60
Nov. 27.—State witness, J. D. Jones	2.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, C. O. Smith	1.80
Nov. 27.—State witness, Mrs. C. O. Smith	1.80
Nov. 27.—State witness, N. G. Deason	2.50
Nov. 27.—State witness, Rev. E. A. Norris	2.40
Nov. 27.—State witness, W. H. Hayess	1.00
Nov. 27.—State witness, W. G. Culp	1.00
Dec. 3.—G. J. Witness, G. D. Retherford	1.00
Dec. 3.—G. J. Witness, Chas. Glasscock	6.30
Dec. 3.—G. J. witness,A. C. Smith	1.00
Dec. 3.—G. J. witness, Green Retherford	1.00
Dec. 3.—G. J. witness, Mrs. Evelyn Klinner	2.50
Dec. 3.—Clerk's fees, J. Z. Mims	125.75
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Mrs. J. E. Bearden	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Miss Virgie Bearden	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. Witness, Miss Ollie Bearden	2.80
Dec. 14.G. J. Witness, Rufus Bearden	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Sam Martin	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, W. E. Nichols	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Miss Daisy Nichols	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Will Small	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Will Brown	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Cora Brown	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Dr. C. N. Parnell	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Henry Davis	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Roberta Headley	2.50
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Mrs. Carrie Headley	2.50
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, J. B. Lessley	2.50
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Barbara Langston	2.60
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, ObenLangston	2.60
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, B. Lawrence	1.00
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Everee Roper	2.30
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Keener Roper	2.20
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Jesse Jones	1.00
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Dr. Parnell	2.80
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, Pearli Minor	6.20
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness Jewell Minor	1.00
Dec. 14.—G. J. witness, A. N. Minor	1.00
Dec. 14.—State witness, C. N. Panell	2.80
rDec. 14.—State witness, J. G. Haigler	2.80
rDec. 14.—State witness, J. G. Haigler	2.80
Dec. 14.—State witness, C. N. Parnell	2.80
Dec. 14.—State witness, T. V. Eiland	1.80
Dec. 14.—State witness, Dr. C. N. Parnell	2.80
Dec. 14.—State witness, J. G. Haigler	2.80
Dec. 14.—State witness, J. P. McKee	2.80
Dec. 14.—State witness, W. W. Cameron	6.60
Dec. 14.—State witness, H. B. Roper	1.25
Dec. 14.—State witness, Ed Smitherman	3.00
Dec. 17.—State witness, J. M. Wells	1.40
Dec. 17.—State witness, Ed Smitherman,	3.65
Dec. 17.—State witness, Buster Darby	1.50
Dec. 17.— G. J.witness, I. L. Waldrop	4.10
Dec. 17.—Sheriff's fees, T. J. Littlejohn	147.50
Dec. 21.—Grand Jury witness, Tom Rockett	1.00

TO CASH RECEIVED—From July 1, 1925 to December 31, 1925.—Special Gas Tax Fund.

July 2.—State Auditor, Excise Tax	2,791.80
Aug. 8.—State Auditor, Excise Tax	2,646.31
Sept. 7.—State Auditor, Excise Tax	2,975.40
Oct. 1.—State Auditor, Excise Tax	2,996.92
Nov. 2.—State Auditor, Excise Tax	2,363.52
Nov. 4.—State Auditor, Excise Tax	2,897.69
Dec. 2.—State Auditor, Excose Tax	2,975.16

BY CASH PAID OUT—From July 1, 1925 to December 31, 1925.—Special Gas Tax Fund.

July 6.—Road Tax, G. L. Messer	1.00
July 10.—Road Tax, Ernest Adams	1.50
July 10.—Road Tax, Dudley Tippett	78.00
July 10.—Road Tax, W. D. Jones	78.00
July 10.—Road Tax, A. J. Thompson	4.00
July 10.—Road Tax, Jim Easterling	10.00
July 10.—Road Tax, J. L. Easterling	15.75
July 10.—Road Tax, Allie Easterling	12.00
July 10.—Road Tax, Lum Bearden	7.62
July 10.—Road Tax, J. S. Davis	6.00
July 10.—Road Tax, J. F. Bearden	21.37
July 10.—Road Tax, J. R. Popwell	121.50
July 17.—Road Tax, Dolphus Gordon	1.50
July 17.—Road Tax, E. B. Culpepper	84.50
July 17.—Road Tax, Albert Bowles	68.75
July 17.—Road Tax, L. C. Reynolds	126.35
July 17.—Road Tax, J. L. Mims	3.50
July 17.—Road Tax, Lenzize Mims	2.62
July 17.—Road Tax, W. G. Taylor	27.60
July 17.—Road Tax, C. S. Minor	2.62
July 17.—Road Tax, A. J. Maddox	3.50
July 17.—Road Tax, George Tippett	1.75
July 17.—Road Tax, C. B. Lenoir	6.25
July 17.—Road Tax, Dock Atchison	3.00
July 17.—Road Tax, W. T. Ward	58.50
July 17.—Road Tax, Paul Littlejohn	85.50
July 17.—Road Tax, W. A. Littlejohn	60.00
July 17.—Road Tax, G. S. Minor	13.50
July 17.—Road Tax, Ervin Baker	14.00
July 17.—Road Tax, E. A. Norris	18.00
July 17.—Road Tax, A. F. Childress	4.50
July 17.—Road Tax, Oscar Glass	13.50
July 17.—Road ax, W. E. Jacks	128.25
July 17.—Road Tax, Lussie Burnett	77.00
July 17.—Road Tax, Rush

REPORT, TREASURER, CHILTON COUNTY

(Continued from Page 2)

Aug. 18.—Road work, H. A. Barton 13.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, Pink Watley 3.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, Bob Moates 1.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, A. L. Bowles 77.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, J. R. Popwell 135.00
Aug. 18.Road work, J. H. Davenport 10.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, W. A. Moore 23.62
Aug. 18.—Road work, A. J. Thompson 4.00
Aug. 18.—Sills for Road work, W. G. Taylor 3.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, Perry Norris 5.25
Aug. 18.—Road work, Oscar Glass 23.62
Aug. 18.—Road work, W. A. Moore 5.62
Aug. 18.—Road work, W. G. Taylor 46.75
Aug. 18.—Road work, A. J. Maddox 7.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, W. B. Wyatt 19.25
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. S. Minor 4.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, Jim Price 7.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, Paul Smith 4.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, T. F. Patterson 12.37
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. W. Melton 26.75
Aug. 18.—Road work J. B. Parker 19.75
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. W. Melton 21.87
Aug. 18.—Road work, Walter Moates 4.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, O. R. Mullins 66.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, E. A. Norris 13.37
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. W. Melton 28.12
Aug. 18.—Road work, Ellis Foshee 3.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, H. L. Ratliff 29.25
Aug. 18.—Road work, L. P. Melton 3.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, Dudie Tippett 87.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, E. B. Culpepper 97.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, Arthur Roller 15.90
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. W. Melton 30.25
Aug. 18.—Road work, Archie Cleckler 1.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. C. Mims 10.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, T. F. Patterson 6.60
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. W. Melton 3.12
Aug. 18.—Road work, D. W. Jones 75.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, C. B. Lenoir 17.00
Aug. 18.—Road work, G. W. Melton 24.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, Dick BMurnett 4.37
Aug. 18.—Road work, B. F. Massey 12.50
Aug. 18.—Road work, R. N. Wilkins 17.00
Aug. 25.—Road work, Walter Wright 3.00
Aug. 25.—Road work, Harvey Mull 1.75
Aug. 25.—Road work, Jesse A. Davis 5.38
Aug. 25.—Road work, H. M. Devaughn 12.00
Aug. 25.—Road work, Lee Jones 1.50
Aug. 25.—Road work, Dolphus Jones 2.50
Aug. 25.—Road work, Calvin Jones 1.50
Aug. 25.—Road work, Moodie Jones 1.50
Aug. 25.—Road work, Joe Smitherman 8.75
Aug. 25.—Road work, Sam Martin 8.75
Aug. 25.—Road work, Lum Simms 6.12
Aug. 25.—Road work, Leonard Boyd 2.00
Aug. 25.—oRad work, W. H. Veazey 15.00
Aug. 25.—Road work, L. C. Wyatt 17.50
Aug. 25.—Road work, J. L. Conway 10.50
Aug. 25.—Road work, T. P. Gore 20.62
Sept. 9.—Road work, Dock Bryant 3.25
Sept. 9.—Road work, F. F. Merchant 10.00
Sept. 9.—Road work, Curtis Groom, ... 3.00
Sept. 9.—Road wok, W. M. D. O'Neal 8.00
Sept. 9.—Road work, Herman White 6.50
Sept. 9.—Road work, W. M. D. O'Neal 20.25
Sept. 9.—Road work, Anzie Garner 9.62
Sept. 14.—Road work, Clde Wilkins 2.25
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. S. Davis 8.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, G. W. Melton 39.49
Sept. 14.—Road work, Richard Hamilton 1.75
Sept. 14.—Road work, Charlie Price 3.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. A. Foshee 5.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, T. F. Patterson 11.25
Sept. 14.—Road work, E. B. Deramus 7.87
Sept. 14.—Road work, G. W. Melton 7.37
Sept. 14.—Road work, G. W. Melton 37.75
Sept. 14.—Road work, Aaron Parker 9.25
Sept. 14.—Road work, Allie Easterling 12.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Arthur Rollan 3.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Henry Burton 12.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Cleve Mims 10.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. M. Wright 15.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Jno Pearson 7.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, O. R. Mullins 19.44
Sept. 14.— Road work, J. L. Easterling 9.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Will Burnett 3.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, Middleton Favors 1.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, Tom Pearson 7.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. F. Bearden 44.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. C. Woolley 31.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, Thos. Moore 48.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, M. M. Moore 52.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. A. Moore 6.75
Sept. 14.—Road work, R. N. Wilkins 9.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Ronie Jones 3.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. L. Burnett 63.80
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. A. Moore 27.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Macie Riggins 1.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, A. F. Childress 6.75
Sept. 14.—Road work, Jim Easterling 10.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Coy Cates 28.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Garner Smith 9.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Melvin Lansford 9.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Lester Downs 9.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Claud Downs 9.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, W. H. Wilson 43.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Harland Peters 2.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, W. E. Coley 7.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, J. E. Easterling 19.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, W. F. Deshazo 67.50
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Leon Peters 22.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Robert Bowland 20.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, L. C. Wilson 9.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, A. E. Sanders 3.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, D. C. Mooney 2.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, H. B. Vinson 4.00
Sept. 14.—Arthur LeCroy 24.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Jim Mitchell 9.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Ed Kelley 8.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, B. D. Dennis 9.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, L. C. Reynolds 108.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, E. B. Culpepper 78.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. D. Tippett 72.00
Sept. 14.—Road work D. W. Jones 72.00
Sept. 14.—Road work A. L. Bowles 52.25
Sept: 14.—Road work DeWitt Tippett 8.25
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. T. Ward 52.25
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, B. F. Deloney 29.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge Work, Houston Burnett 5.25
Sept. 14.—Sand, B. F. Massey 24.50
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, W. J. Scott 2.00
Sept. 14.—Sand, B. F. Massey 30.00
Sept. 14.—Lumber B G Jones 90.48
Sept. 14.—Hauling lumber, Jno. Giles 10.50
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Grover White 3.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, A. P. Vinson 73.80
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, W. F. Deshazo 8.50
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, W. F. Deshazo 8.50
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Sherman Dennish 4.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Latham Wilson 2.00
Sept. 14.—Hauling slag, C. C. Pledge 1.75
Sept. 14.—Hauling slag, Coy Cates 1.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Jno. Littleton 4.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. G. Gibson 6.62
Sept. 14.—Road work, Wiley Melton 6.12
Sept. 14.—Road work, Lussie Burnett 13.75
Sept. 14.—Road work, A. Riggins 5.75
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Jno. S. Dennis 16.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, Robert Wright 8.00
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, M. E. Dunsmore 48.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Lum Bearden 49.45
Sept. 14.—Road work, Rush Burnett 15.00
Sept. 14.—Shoveling gravel, L. P. Melton 1.75
Sept. 14.—Road work, Tea Henley 7.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. R. Popwell 109.90
Sept. 14.—Road work Paul Littlejohn 94.50
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. A. Littlejohn 63.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, R. N. Wilkins 7.87
Sept. 14.—Road work, J. R. Parker 16.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Horace Patterson 8.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, G. W. Wilson ..... .75
Sept. 14.—Road work, W. H. Wilson 19.12
Sept. 14.—Bridge work, Walter Moates 2.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, Bergin Ray 52.75
Sept. 14.—Road work, Irby Popwell 30.25
Sept. 14.—Oil for August Standard Oil Co., ... 94.67
Sept. 14.—Road work, Robert Bowlane 11.00
Sept. 14.—Road work, S. R. Collins 6.00
Sept. 21.—Road work, H. A. Belcher 10.00
Sept. 21.—Lumber, W. A. Renolds 17.50
Sept. 21.—Road work, Rufus Childress 1.75
Sept. 21.—Road work, Marvin Merchant 3.50
Sept. 21.—Road work, Ernest Childress 32.10
Sept. 21.—Road work, J. L. Conway 9.00
Sept. 21.—Road work, Perk Davis 38.25
Sept. 21.—Road work, Redge Bearden 19.25
Sept. 21.—Shoveling slag, Lero Pledge 1.75
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, N. A. Dennis 2.00
Sept. 21.—Hauling slag, Lonnie Price 8.00
Sept. 21.—Road work, J. T. Childress 20.63
Set. 21.—Bridge work, W. J. Scott 6.00
Sept. 21.—Road work, Jesse Davis 12.25
Sept. 21.—Cement, T. D. Pornell & Son 7.75
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, Will Bailey 12.25
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, John Lee Davis 5.25
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, R. Moates 3.00
Sept. 21.—Road work, Joe Ford 5.25
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, Tom Woolley 5.25
Sept. 21.Bridge work, Walter Wright 12.25
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, Charlie Mitchell 14.00
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, Lee Davis 12.20
Sept. 21.—Bridge work, Prude Fuller 6.12
Sept. 21.—Road work, Enza Klinner 13.50
Sept. 21.—Road work, Clifford Popwell 81.00
Sept. 21.—Road work, J. H. Baker 3.50
Sept. 30.—Road work, Bernie Martin 3.50
Sept. 30.—Road work, Sam Martin 3.50
Sept. 30.—Road work, Pete Abbott 3.50
Sept. 30.—Road work, W. H. Veazey 15.00
Sept. 30.—Road work, Archie Chindler 2.62
Sept. 30.—Road work, W. M. D. O'Neal 27.70
Sept. 30.—Road work Marvin Martin 1.50
Sept. 30.—Road work, Luther Ellison 1.65
Sept. 30.—Road work, A. J. Wilkins 10.00
Sept. 30.—Road work, Broster Dutton 1.50
Sept. 30.—Bridge work, Curtis Dennis 9.00
Sept. 30.—Lumber, Arthur Willis 81.08
Sept. 30.—Road work, Grady Culp 3.50
Sept. 30.—Bridge work, Harvey Mull 12.25
Sept. 30.—Bridge work, Harvey Mull 12.25
Sept. 30.—Bridge work, George Grover 8.75
Sept. 30.—Bridge work, Ernest Davis 8.75
Oct. 16.—Road work, Joe Smitherman 3.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, W. J. Satterwhite 5.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, C. B. Lenoir 17.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Herman White 13.50
Oct. 16.—Bridge work, D. D. Easterling 1.00
Oct. 16.—Hauling parts for rd. mch., B.T. Childress 5.00
Oct. 16.—Bridge work, Robert Davis 9.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, W. T. Ward 64.12
Oct. 16.—Road work, Burgin Ray 10.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, L. C. Reynolds 108.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, D. W. Jones 69.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, E. B. Culpepper 74.75
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. D. Tippett 72.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, A. L. Bowles 63.25
Oct. 16.—Road work, Bill Tippett 2.75
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. M. Cox 10.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, George Lewis 31.62
Oct. 16.—Road work, Burgin Ray 101.25
Oct. 16.—Road work, Irby Popwell 11.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, W. A. Littlejohn 63.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Paul Littlejohn 71.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, W. E. Jacks 81.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, E. F. Klinner 54.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, R. W. Wright 49.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. R. Popwell 27.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, A. J. LeCroy 16.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, O. L. Devaughn 2.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, O. L. Popwell 4.66
Oct. 16.—Road work, W. F. Deshazo 50.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Enoch Headley 2.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, I. D. Huett 4.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Hubert Driver 4.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, John Driver 8.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Carl Nelson 8.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, D. C. Mooney 6.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. P. Cagle 8.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Harland Peters 10.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, John Logan 2.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, H. H. Davenport 2.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Latham Wilson 4.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, B. F. Delonie 10.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Coy Cates 6.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, R. B. Bolden 6.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, H. L. Peters 20.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, L. P. Melton 2.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Sherman Dennis 1.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, A. F. Childress 10.13
Oct. 16.—Road work, Dan C. Hayes 6.25
Oct. 16.—Road work, Jesse Hayes 2.38
Oct. 16.—Road work, W. J. Scott 5.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. F. Bearden 42.05
Oct. 16.—Road work, Tyler Harrison 19.25
Oct. 16.—Road work, Lum Bearden 37.75
Oct. 16.—Road work, Melvin Lansford 3.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, Allie Easterling 10.20
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. L. Easterling 11.25
Oct. 16.—Road work, Allie Easterling 10.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. S. Davis 11.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, W. A. Norris 5.75
Oct. 16.—Road work, Perry Norris 3.50
Oct. 16.—Road work. E. A. Norris 18.38
Oct. 16.— Road money, Oscar Glass 27.00
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. N. Glass 22.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. N. Glasscock, ... 10.50
Oct. 16.—Road work, Will Melton 8.74
Oct .16.—Road work, G. W. Melton 15.62
Oct. 16.—Road work, G. W. Melton 25.55
Oct. 16.—Road work, J. S. Dennis 8.25
Oct. 16.—Road work, Oscar Glass 27.00
Oct. 27.—Road work, Dewey Cotton 37.50
Oct. 27.—Road work, William Lambert 5.00
Oct. 27.—Road work, Wiley Ingram 4.00
Oct. 27.—Road work, Johnnie Walker 16.00
Oct. 27.—Road work, H. T. Ousley 19.25
Oct. 27.—Road work, Hubert Gantt 22.75
Oct. 27.—Road work, Ernest Davis 5.25
Oct. 27.—Road work, John Huff 14.00
Oct. 27.—Road work, A. O. Taylor 3.50
Oct. 27.—Road work, Gulf Refining Co., ... 202.38
Oct. 27.—Road work, Curtis Groom 10.50
Nov. 6.—Road work, D. Peters 1.00
Nov. 6.—Road work, Lawrence Peters 1.40
Nov. 10.—Road work, E. M. Ousley 3.50
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, H. L. Peters 10.00
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, Harland Peters 10.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, H. L. Rteliff 22.75
Oct. 17.—Road work, Enoch Headley 6.00
Oct. 17.—Road work, J. L. Easterling 2.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. A. Littlejohn 69.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Elijoh Wyatt 7.87
Nov. 17.—Road work, R. J. Downs 50.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, Allie Easterling 14.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. E. Robinson 3.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Jim Easterling 10.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. L. Easterling 11.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. J. Satterwhite 23.30
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, Dave Wilson 19.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Paul Littlepohn 99.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, B. F. Delans 5.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. C. Atchison 36.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, B. F. Rasberry 10.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Walter Moates 8.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Jim Mitchell 9.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. T. Ward 67.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, Lussie Bunett 91.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, G. W. Melton 4.74
Nov. 17.—Road work, T. F. Patterson 13.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Oscar Glass 11.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, Nathan Minor 3.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, T. W. Wilson 5.62
Nov. 17.—Lumber, A. J. Lecroy 21.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, M. C. Moore 10.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, G. W. Melton 26.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Lester Downs 14.45
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. D. Tippett 87.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Claud M. Downs 17.95
Nov. 17. Road work, G. W. Melton 20.24
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, B. F. Rasberry 6.96
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, Hubert Driver 9.00
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, S. M. Yates 4.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, John Cagle 18.00
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, D. C. Mooney 4.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Dock Atchison 4.50
Nov. 17.—Blacksmith work, T. E. Carlton 15.95
Nov. 17.—Road work, G. W. Lewis 67.37
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, T. G. Wyatt 33.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, D. W. Jones 87.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, N. A. Dennis 2.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. A. Moore 6.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, L. C. Reynolds 131.20
Nov. 17.—Road work, Oscar Glass 23.63
Nov. 17.—Road work, Ed Riggins 9.00
Nov. 17.—Lumber, Ousley Bros., ... 18.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, H. L. Ratliff 49.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. M. Glasscock 24.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, Dewey Patterson 23.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, E. B. Deramus 2.62
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. A. Green 2.00
Nov. 17.—Bridge work. Forest Popwell 2.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. E. Jacks 135.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Wiley Ingram 4.00
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, L. B. Popwell 7.67
Nov. 17.—Road work, H. L. Ratliff 33.50
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, Jethro Hayes 12.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, R. W. Wright 82.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Will Foshee 15.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, C. H. Robinson 8.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. J. Satterwhite 12.40
Nov. 17.—Road work, Tom Minor 8.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, E. F. Klinner 90.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, C. B. Lenoir 13.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, Denson Conway 1.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Walter Wilson 28.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, A. L. Bowles 77.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, E. B. Culpepper 94.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. R. Mitchell 11.80
Nov. 17.—Road work, Aaron Killingsworth 18.01
Nov. 17.—Road work, Kenney Easterling 1.50
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, W. J. Scott 5.83
Nov. 17.—Road work, Ervin Baker 20.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Burgin Ray 110.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, Lewis Driver 4.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Guy Williams 73.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. B. Williams 5.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, B. F. Rasberry 10.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. M. Wyatt 22.50
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, R. Y. Atchison 18.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. L. Burnett 67.45
Nov. 17.—Road work, Dan C. Hayes 15.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, G. W. Melton 23.39
Nov. 17.—Road work, W. F. Deshazo 53.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. F. Bearden 44.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. T. Childress 11.20
Nov. 17.—Welding for bridge, Polk Bros., ... 10.60
Nov. 17.—Road work, Rufus Childress 19.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Rube Riggins 2.58
Nov. 17.—Lumber, Crit Glass, ... 4.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Grady Chandler 5.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. T. Childress 4.50
Nov. 17.—Hauling tiling, Frank Smitherman 1.00
Nov. 17—Bridge work, Henry Patterson 1.00
Nov. 17—Bridge work, B. F. Rasberry 7.87
Nov. 17—Work, Harrison Smith 3.00
Nov. 17—Work, Bertie Martin 3.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Lee Cox 5.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. T. Childress 19.12
Nov. 17.—Work, John Driver 18.00
Nov. 17.—Merchandise for road, Burnett & Moore 22.57
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, Henry Patterson 4.00
Nov. 17.—Bridge work, Rufus Childress 10.12
Nov. 17.—Road work, Rufus Childress 27.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, John Huff 7.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. M. Driver 16.00
Nov. 17.—Lumber, Conway & Busby 13.87
Nov. 17.—Road work, Otis Glenn 9.20
Nov. 17.—Nails, T. D. Parnell & Son 6.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, Thomas Scott 3.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, A. F. Childress 10.12
Nov. 17.—Road work, Luther Smith 4.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, Carl Nelson 20.00
Nov. 17.—Road work, B. F. Rasberry 6.75
Nov. 17.—Road work, Crit Glass 4.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, J. E. Lovett 5.25
Nov. 17.—Road work, Erbie Ray 4.50
Nov. 17.—Road work, A. F. Childress 27.70
Nov. 17.—Road work, Jesse Hayes 3.50
Nov. 27.—Road work, Elijah Mims 4.35
Nov. 27.—Road work, E. Robinson 6.00
Nov. 27.—Garage work, H. M. Bates 1.55
Nov. 27.—Road work, Wiley Barron 4.00
Nov. 27.—Road work, E. A. Norris 5.75
Nov. 27.—Road work, J. W. Baker 5.00
Nov. 27.—Road work, Burnie Blow 3.50
Nov. 27.—Road work, Joe Moore 24.50
Dec. 3.—Blacksmith work, John Jones 4.00
Dec. 3.—Road work, Gilvep Roberts 3.50
Dec. 3.—Road work, Tyler Harrison 10.50
Dec. 3.—Road work, W. M. D. O'Neal 18.37
Dec. 3.—Lumber, J. A. Cofer 59.10
Dec. 3.—Road work, Curt Harris 3.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, H. T. Ousley 3.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Wiley Barron 17.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, T. G. Wyatt 45.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, John Langston 23.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. M. Wyatt 30.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Charley Hand 7.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dave Wilson 25.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Joe Moore 64.80
Dec. 14.—Road work, Walter Wilson 68.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, T. H. Langston 11.25
Dec. 14.—Road work W. E. Jacks 108.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jim Easterling 27.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. L. Easterlinig 20.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. C. Atchison 27.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jno. S. Dennis 11.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. A. Norris 4.00
Dec. 14—Road work E. A. Norris 30.38
Dec. 14.—Road work, G. W. Melton 113.38
Dec. 14.—Bridge work, Oscar Turner 15.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, L. P. Melton 7.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, L. P. Melton 14.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Sherman Dennis 5.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dan C. Hayes 35.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Eddie Little 6.10
Dec. 14.—Road work, Perry Norris 3.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, G. W. Lewis 57.75
Dec. 14.—Road woork, E. F. Klinner 69.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Burgin Ray 94.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, R. W. Wright 62.35
Dec. 14.—Road work, Guy Williams 63.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Kemie Easterling 15.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, A. L. Bowles 63.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, D. W. Jones 69.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. D. Tippett 69.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, E. B. Culpepper 74.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, R. Y. Atchison 16.00
Dec. 14.—Road workDec. 14.—Road work, R. 4DD
Dec. 14.—Road work, H. L. Ratliff 15.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, Allie Easterling 35.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, P. H. Grice 9.00
Dec. 14.—Lumber, D. O. Manning 5.12
Dec. 14.—Road work, Albert Wilkins 4.92
Dec. 14.—Lumber, Bud Wilson 2.70
Dec. 14.—Lumber, D. O. Manning, ... 26.88
Dec. 14.—Road work, Thos. Moore 5.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. F. Bearden 40.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dennis Burnett 24.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, M. C. Moore 24.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. A. Moore 15.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. B. Williams 15.49
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. B. Williams 5.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, T. F. Patterson 6.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jim Baker 5.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, Henry Cleckler 3.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Alvin Billingsley 29.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Ed Jones 2.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, O. R. Mullins 52.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jno. Bolton 2.18
Dec. 14.—Road work, Martin Wright 1.00
Dec, 14.—Road work, Henry Patterson 1.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Hom Minor 6.12
Dec. 14.—Road work, Charley Mims 29.30
Dec. 14.—Road work, Alex Bolton 6.30
Dec. 14.—Bridge work, W. J. Lambert 16.50
Dec. 14.—Bridge work, L. A. Gore 11.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dock Deloach 18.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Tom Minor 12.00

(Continued to Page 10)

Walk A Block
and
Save A Dollar

The new store of Jas. C. Jones, in front of Clanton Motor Car Co., is now ready for business with a big brand new stock of

Groceries, Feed, Fertilizer

We handle the celebrated CORNO line of Dairy, Mule, Horse and Chicken Feed

We Buy Cotton

JAS. C. JONES

Clanton, Ala.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

P. B. G. A new radio station? No! Read the Union-Banner and the mystery will soon be revealed.

——PBG——

School girls should think of clothes in terms of simplicity, of physical comfort, and of health.

——PBG——

President Coolidge said in a recent statement that the American home is the foundation of our national and individual well being. Its steady improvement is, at the same time, a test of our civilization and our ideals.

——PBG——

Red-blooded, two-fisted, hard-hitting he-men. A western story? No! A pirate yarn from the pen of a man who knows how to tell a story and keep it alive every minute. Read the great story soon to appear in The Union-Banner.

——PBG——

The demand for early spring broilers in Alabama appears to be very promising. Prof. John E. Ivey, head of the poultry department at Auburn, says that the supply in this State has never been anything like the demand, and that those who have early broilers for the market should dispose of them easily at good prices.

——PBG——

"An experiment which has been running three years shows that velvet beans are worth half as much as cottonseed meal as a dairy feed; and it does not pay to soak or grind the beans."—Prof. J. C. Grimes, Auburn.

Why Is It--

If you plant spring oats, plant them early.

——PBG——

American imports for the year just closed were more than $4,000,000,000 in value. They exceeded 1924 by 15%. Imports the first nine months of the year were larger than for any full year prior to 1919.

——PBG——

For the first time since cooperative marketing began, five years ago, the cooperative associations of the South have passed the million-bale mark. Leaders expect 1,250,000 bales of the 1925 crop. The Alabama Association will handle about one-tenth of this cotton.

——PBG——

Who buried all the buried treasure you hear about? And when? For a delightfully new slant on the always-interesting subject of pirates, read the thrilling new story soon to appear in The Union-Banner.

Attention Cotton and Corn Growers

Nitrate of Soda Test Right In Your County

Mr. J. S. Jones, Cooper, Alabama, applied 200 pounds Nitrate of Soda per acre to his cotton at chopping time, in addition to sufficient Phosphate and Potash. Results:

With Nitrate	1070 lbs. per acre
Without Nitrate	720 lbs. per acre
Increase	350 lbs. per acre

Mr. J. W. Gilmore, Thorsby, Route 1, Alabama, applied 200 pounds Nitrate of Soda per acre to his Corn when two feet high, in addition to sufficient Phosphate and Potash. Results:

With Nitrate	34 Bu. per acre
Without Nitrate	13.2 Bu. per acre
Increase	20.8 Bu. per acre

Write for information how to use Nitrate and state crop you are interested in

W. Lambert Myers, District Manager

EDUCATIONAL BUREAU
CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA
1128 Hurt Building
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

HAVE YOUR HOUSE COVERED

with a fire insurance policy in one of the companies we represent. Then you need have no fear of fire in a financial way. You can rest comfortably in the confidence that if a fire should occur at your house, the loss, large or little, will be paid promptly by the company you are insured in. Do it to-day.

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.

EDUCATIONAL NEWS

—?—

In a letter to the newspapers of the state recently R. W. Cowart, Secretary of the Alabama Education Association, makes the following statements:

"The Alabama Education Association has a committee at work on the school program to be presented, when completed, to the people of this state. Progress is being made in the study. Such large problems as are indicated below are receiving the attention of this committee:

1. Equalization: which involves a study of many factors affecting the educational opportunity of children in all sections of this state—terms, trained teachers, buildings and equipment; variations in wealth and ability to support schools, etc.
2. Teacher Training Needs.
3. Higher Education Needs.
4. Special and Corrective School Needs.

"Much time will be required to work out a program to meet the needs of the schools and at the same time come within the ability of the state to support it.

"Educational forces of the state are greatly encouraged by the interest of the people everywhere in bettering our educational facilities. The Educational Dinner, which was so enthusiastically attended by hundreds of citizens from all parts of Alabama, will be followed up by gatherings of a similar nature in a number of centers throughout the state. Plans are now under way for these conferences.

"We are striving to make an educational program for Alabama that will put this state on the map educationally in a much higher position that that which she now occupies.

"The people of the state will be taken into full confidence in all proposals made."

——PBG——

BAPTIST CLASS CONFERENCE

—?—

More than 1,500 delegates are expected to attend the fifth annual session of the Southwide Baptist Organized Class Conference in Birmingham January 12, 13 and 14, at which time leading experts in Sunday School work throughout the country will be on the faculty.

A well rounded program, which will include addresses, demonstrations, and departmental conferences has been arranged which is expected to give to Sunday School workers an opportunity to obtain many new ideas for the advancement of this work in their respective towns and cities.

A number of Alabama speakers will take part on the program, among them being A. L. Lindsley of Tuscaloosa, and Dr. M. M. Wood and J. Fred Scholfield of Birmingham.

——PBG——

Considerable corn is now going into the manufacture of sugar. One Illinois factory is now making 450,000 pounds of sugar daily from corn. A new plant is about ready to start in Kansas City. One bushel of corn makes 25 pounds of sugar that is exceptionally pure and is easily digested.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of January 10, 1901.

Miss L. E. Morgan returned home Sunday after a pleasant visit to her friends in Birmingham.

—?—

Mr. J. A. Skaggs of Jemison was in town last Friday.

—?—

Mr. Rush Vines, who has been confined to his room is able to be out again.

—?—

Mr. P. C. Smith of Thorsby was in town Monday.

—?—

Mr. John F. Peterson of Thorsby was in town Monday.

—?—

Mr. J. R. Kemp is very sick.

—?—

Mr. O. O. Roper has moved into his elegant new residence in west town.

—?—

W. M. Wilson & Bro., are getting their goods into their new store.

—?—

Miss Arra McKee has returned from Quincey, Ala., where she has been visiting sick relatives.

—?—

Judge Adams is in Texas with his son, Dr. J. B. Adams, who lost both his legs in a street car accident.

——PBG——

BRYAN UNIVERSITY PLANS

—?—

Dayton, Tenn., Jan. 12.—An attractive book of twelve pages giving the plans for Bryan Memorial University has been printed and delivered to the Bryan Memorial University Association for use in the $5,000,000 campaign for funds. This prospectus gives a very comprehensive explanation of the Association's object and method and will be of interest to all concerned with the establishment of this great memorial to the late Commoner.

The booklet contains several attractive illustrations, the first of which is a full page picture of the late William Jennings Bryan. In the center of the book is a double page reproduction of the proposed school plant at Dayton, Tennessee.

In the booklet an article headed, "The Birth of the Idea," explains how the idea first originated to establish a memorial university to Mr. Bryan. "On the Thursday before he died on Sunday," the article says, "the Great Commoner walked out upon a commanding hill near Dayton with a group of Daytonians and selected a site for a junior college for boys, which he had in mind to found and promote. After his death so closely following his great fight in defense of the faith, the movement grew in conception and prospect, and it was determined to launch a national drive for $5,000,000 to found a great university as a memorial to William Jennings Bryan and to stand for the faith for which he fought. Half of this will be used for equipment and half for endowment. An organization was formed to found and promote the university, which secured a charter from the state of Tennessee as a general welfare corporation. An excerpt from its charter states that it is to have power to select a board of trustees for the university, every member of which shall believe in the historicity and infallibility of the Holy Bible and will so affirm to the satisfaction of the association."

The building progam includes erection of about fifteen large buildings. The administration building, which will be the first unit of the school, is to be located on the crest of the hill Mr. Bryan selected just before his death. A quarter of a million dollars has already been subscribed in the enterprise.

——PBG——

CYPRESS OF THE SOUTH

—?—

Cypress swamps of the South have yielded richly in valuable timber, but have never heretofore been regarded as profitable for reforestation. The "wood eternal" as it has been advertised, has been cut out clean, leaving only the "poor relations" of the swamp land, chiefly tupelo gum, a tree long considered to be of very little worth.

Now comes a forester, E. W. Hadley, of the Southern Forest Experiment Station, to say that tupelo gum, the cinderella of the swamps, is coming into its own sylviculturally and may be the saviour of these dismal areas. Cypress will not produce rapidly or dependably enough to make reforestation possible there, but tupelo reproduces promptly and adequately. The growth of industry in the South and the demand elsewhere for southern woods promise an outlet for this wood. Tupelo gum is now used by the millions of board feet for boxes, crates, and veneer. It is beginning to be sought as a paper pulp wood.

The total area of cypress-hardwood land is estimated as 32 million acres, or more than one-fourth the area of the combined southern pine forests. On the land already cut over are plenty of tupelo seed trees, and practically none of cypress. Stands of tupelo in the lower Atchafalaya River basin of Louisiana are growing at the rate of one cord of peeled wood to the acre each year, according to the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. This is almost the average rate of gowth of the southern pines.

——PBG——

Hon. J. Osmond Middleton was at home in Clanton the past week end. Owing to a severe cold he was not able to be out very much while here.

"Chuckle" Column

SMILE—AND LET'S SEE YOUR DENTAL BARGAINS!

He who laughs last usually gives the others something to laugh at—if he's just had some front teeth extracted.

When some smart Alecks try using their heads, they usually come away—winners of the brown derby.

When "There Ain't Any!"

What puzzles us is how Success manages to fall into so many fat men's laps?

A self-centered person is one who eats in a cafeteria. "Self" service for one's own "center!"

Altogether Now - - "O Where Is My Wandering Meal Ticket To-night?"

Before they were married, he called on her seven nights a week. And now he's missing from home just that often. Ain't love grand?

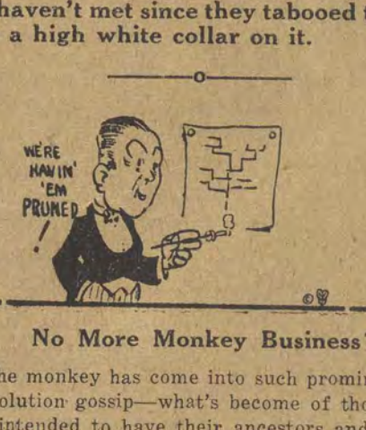
Raw words oft lead to raw—beefsteak over a black eye.

Speaking Of Darkened Lights—

Closed eyes are not always a sign that a man is asleep. He may have had a fight with his wife.

Some folks do their stretching when they get up in the morning. Others do it at the dinner table—they reach for a cracker and come back with part of your soup.

——PBG——



Sometimes—With Pickled Onions, Too!

Out west where men are men and—hot dogs always have a bun on.

Yeast is Yeast and Vest is Vest, and the two haven't met since they tabooed the stuff with a high white collar on it.

——o——

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"Accidents always occur where we least expect them--that's why they happen there----"

No More Monkey Business?

Since the monkey has come into such prominence through all the evolution gossip—what's become of those newly-rich who had intended to have their ancestors and family trees looked up?

It's been a long time since we've read any wedding reports about—"the bride who came in on the arm of her father" and the groom who "wore his best smile."

——PBG——

Righto!

Met a feliow the other day who, slapping himself on his chest, proudly boasted—"I don't believe in taking a gamble on anything!" We were convinced of its truth a few minutes later when we happened to notice that he wore both suspenders and a belt.

——PBG——

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"Quit cracking that gum!"

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Oyster Supper January 22.

The ladies of Circle No. 3 of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union will give an oyster supper Friday evening, January 22, in the basement of the Baptist church. The public is cordially invited to be present and help these ladies in raising funds to support a Missionary on the foreign field.

—?—

Mrs. Cox Hostess.

The members of Circle No. 4 of the Woman's Missionary Union were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Bama Cox Monday afternoon at her home on west Second Avenue. Mrs. G. C. Harris, Leader, was in charge of the program. Those taking part were Mesdames M. A. Mullins, Hubert Jones, Grady Taylor, G. C. Harris, and Mrs. W. I. Mullins. Plans were discussed as to raising funds to maintain a missionary on the foreign field. At the conclusion of the program and business session Mrs. Cox, assisted by Mrs. Taylor, served a delicious salad plate with coffee.

Those present were Mesdames W. I. Mullins, M. A. Marcus, G. C. Harris, Sewell, Hubert Jones, Grady Broadhead, M. A. Mullins, Grady Taylor, and Dunn.

—?—

Parent-Teacher Association.

Due to the inclemency of the weather the regular program of the Parent-Teacher Association was not completely carried out. The Treasurer reorted a balance of $208 after having paid for playground equipment and some other minor expenses. The pictures for attendance were awarded to Miss Stanley's room.

—?—

Girl's Auxiliary To Meet.

The Girl's Auxiliary will be entertained by Miss Marjorie Mauney, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mauney.

—?—

Mrs. Armstrong Hostess at Luncheon.

A pretty affair of the past week was a luncheon given by Mrs. John Armstrong, Thursday, complimenting her house guest, Mrs. M. R. Lancaster, of Birmingham. The home was artistically decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The luncheon table was centered with a basket of pink and white carnations. Covers were laid for ten. The guests for this occasion included the members of the Thursday Sewing Club.

Those present were Mesdames J. P. Hayes, T. C. McSwain, John T. Ellis, E. E. Upchurch, V. J. Gragg, Bama Cox, M. L. White, Lee Smith, and the guest of honor.

Mrs. Johnson Hostess to Club.

The Wednesday Bridge Club was delightfully entertained last Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. N. S. Johnson was hostess at her home on Sixth Street. Narcissus and other flowers were used in decorating the home for this occasion. Following a number of bridge games, Mrs. John Browder held high score and was presented two pretty hand-made handkerchiefs. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. C. McSwain, served a delicious salad course.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, John C. Page, Oscar Jones, John Browder, Grady Reynolds, V. J. Heard, H. M. Simpson, T. C. McSwain, Willis Lyman of Autaugaville, and Miss Alee Stewart.

—?—

Mrs. Alred Hostess.

A social event of this week was the lovely bridge party given by Mrs. J. Hance Alred at her home on Fifth Avenue Tuesday afternoon. Potted plants and narcissus were used to decorate the living and dining rooms, where the tables were arranged for the games. Mrs. Clifford Mullins of Mitchell Dam held high score and was presented a pretty candy jar. The next to highest score was held by Mrs. Hosea Downs, and she was given a deck of Congress cards. The booby, a miniature deck of cards, fell to Mrs. J. W. Hayes. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Callen and Miss Kathleen Mullins, served a delicious salad course with coffee.

Those included in this gracious hospitality were Mesdames L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, John M. VanDerveer, V. J. Heard, Grady Reynolds, Oscar Jones, Powers of Lock 12, John Browder, J. W. Hayes, Hughes Kennedy of Birmingham, C. Fenn Jones, John C. Page, N. S. Johnson, Clifford Mullins, Perry and John Hollis of Mitchell Dam, Hosea F. Downs, Eric Hart, T. C. McSwain, Omar Reynolds, H. M. Simpson, Frank Callen, Grady Broadhead; Misses Alee Stewart and Kathleen Mullins.

—?—

Watch for the announcement of one of the greatest pirate stories of all time. It's going to run in The Union-Banner.

Residence for rent on 6th Avenue. Apply to Mrs. G. L. Phillips. 1tp

Mesdames Clifford Mullins, John Hollis, and Perry, of Mitchell Dam, spent Tuesday with Mrs. J. Hance Alred.

Mrs. Hughes Kennedy and son of Birmingham are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Pipes.

Birthday Dinner.

A happy occasion was last Sunday when relatives and friends were guests at a dinner in celebration of the sixty-ninth birthday anniversary of Mr. W. I. Mullins, at his home on Second Avenue. The home was fittingly decorated with narcissus and potted plants.

A large white cake formed a centerpiece for the table, around which were seated the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Mullins, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ezell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore, Mr. Frank Mullins, Mrs. M. A. Mullins, Misses Bettie and Kathleen Mullins.

—?—

Birthday Celebration.

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. J. P. Hayes entertained a group of little folks at a party in celebration of the tenth birthday anniversary of her son, Alex. For this affair narcissus and potted plants were effectively used in decorating the home. Upon arrival of the guests punch was served to them by Miss Kathryn Hayes, from a beautifully appointed table in the library. Games and music were enjoyed throughout the afternoon, while the most entertaining feature was a contest, "Pinning on the Donkey's Tail." James Parrish was the lucky one and received a fountain pen. Late in the afternoon the guests were invited into the dining room. A color scheme of pink and white prevailed. The table was centered with a white cake on which were ten lighted pink candles. Streamers extended from the chandelier to the table, making a pretty effect. The usual symbols were cut. The ring fell to Cecil Jones, the thimble to Lawrence Gerald, Jr., and the dime to Herbert Neighbors, Jr. For a favor each guest was presented a kum-bak ball.

A desert course was served to Mary Agnes Welch, Margaret Johnston, Margaret Jones, Nellie Mae Caldwell, Frances Higgins, Mary Robinson, Clyde Jones, Alice Mae Polk, Elizabeth Harris, Vonciel White, Mary Courtney Jones, Nell Neighbors, Lawrence Gerald, Jr., Herbert Neighbors, Jr., Cecil Jones, James Parrish, William Arthur Willis, Hal Broadhead, Wesley Danforth, Joe Moore, and George Popwell.

—?—

Miss French Evans has returned from a visit to relatives in Birmingham.

Mr. L. F. Gerald made a business trip to Montgomery Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Curlee and little son, Bill, of Birmingham, were guests for the week end of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Curlee.

Mesdames John T. Ellis and E. E. Upchurch have as their guest their mother, Mrs. Latham, from Montevallo.

Mr. Mack Broadhead is spending this week with relatives at Altoona, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald motored to Birmingham Saturday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. Turner Dennis and children are visiting Mrs. M. R. Lancaster and Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Roper in Birmingham.

Mrs. Willis Lyman of Autaugaville was the guest of Mrs. N. S. Johnson last Wednesday.

Mrs. J. W. Hayes and little daughter, Bess, are leaving Sunday for an extended visit to Dr. and Mrs. Floyd in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Miss Kathleen Mullins has returned from a few days' visit to Miss Marzelle Mullins in Montgomery.

Mrs. M. R. Lancaster and little Mary Alice Williams of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong for the past week. Mr. Lancaster joined them Saturday and accompanied them home Sunday.

Mrs. J. P. Gore is spending a few days in Selma with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong motored to Boothton Friday to visit Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Roper.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan of Birmingham spent the week end with their mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones.

Miss Mary Lowe who holds a position with the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. at Birmingham is spending her vacation in clanton this week with friends and relatives.

Takes the Place of "Drastic" Calomel

Never take another dose of the old style "raw" calomel. There is a newer and more improved kind known as Pepsinated Calomel. It does not tear through your system like a streak of lightning. People who are ill or suffering with biliousness, constipation, indigestion, and especially with backache, headache and torpid liver can secure immediate and complete relief with this new mild Calomel. Hereafter when you buy calomel, always demand the "pep-si na ted" kind. It is better for you, for it is purer, milder and more beneficial to your entire system. In 25c and 50c packages. For sale by

Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton, Ala.

One reason why very few people recognize Opportunity as she passes is that she sometimes wears overalls.

——PBG——

Mr. Sam Upchurch left Saturday for Virginia, where he attends school.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

A Customer Who Wasn't Wanted

Almost invariably, when men fall to discussing examples of business sagacity, some one present is reminded of the illustrative incident of the white tramp and the colored saloonkeeper. For the benefit of those who have not heard the story—if any such there be—it is here and now set forth:

The colored man sat behind his bar in a moment when trade was slack. Through the swinging doors entered the ragged Caucasian.

"Give me a good five-cent cigar," he ordered.

The proprietor produced a box containing a number of malignant-looking dark-brown rolls. The patron made a discriminating choice and then in the act of putting the cigar between his lips checked himself as though struck with a new idea.

"Say, I've changed my mind," he said. "Believe I'll take a glass of beer instead."

The negro returned the cigar to its box and drew a glass of beer. The customer drank it, wiped his mouth on the back of his hand and started to withdraw.

"Yere, hole on, w'ite man," said the negro, "you forgot to pay fur dat beer."

"Why, I give you a cigar for it."

"Yes, but you ain't paid fur de cigar, neither."

"But you've still got the cigar, ain't you? What's the matter with you, anyhow?"

The colored man scratched his head.

"Lemme see, boss," he said, "ef I gits dis thing straight: You don't owe me for de beer, 'cause you give me de cigar fur it, and you don't owe me fur de cigar 'cause you handed it back to me. Is dat right?"

"Certainly it's right," said the crafty white.

"Ver' well, then," agreed the colored man, "but say, mister, I wants to ax you a favor: Next time you feels lak smokin' or drinkin' please tek yo' custom somewhars else."

(Copyright by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

WIFE AND HUSBAND BOTH ILL WITH GAS

"For years I had gas on the stomach. The first dose of Adlerika helped. I now sleep well and all gas is gone. It also helped my husband." (signed) Mrs. B. Brinkley. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Brings out old, waste matter you never thought was in your system. This excellent intestinal evacuant is wonderful for constipation. Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton, Ala. K-5

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

RESIDENT HAS AWFUL EXPERIENCE

—?—

"I was twice confined in hospital, in the last one nothing but gruel water was injected into me 4 times a day, as my stomach would not retain any food. I suffered terribly; was reduced to a skeleton. My folks saw an adv. of MAYR'S "One Dose Will Convince," and it has surely saved my life. I weigh 180 lbs. now." It is a simple, harmlesss preperation that removes the catarrhal musuc from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Alred Drug Co., and all duggists everywhere.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, who was convicted at the Spring Term, 1922, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, on a charge of manufacturing liquor, and sentenced to the penitentiary for 1 year and 1 day to 18 months, will make application for full pardon and the restoration of civil and political rights.

This, the 5th day of January, 1926.

1-7-2t-ch OCIE MIMS.

Battery Service

Let us Recharge your Battery with our Eight-Hour Recharging Machine

RECHARGING RADIO BATTERIES A SPECIALTY

Bring us your Battery in the morning and get it back the same day fully charged

We sell the famous U S L Radio and Automobile Batteries

We carry a good line of Auto Accessories and will appreciate your patronage

See the Improved Chevrolet

now on display at

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

Sales CHEVROLET Service

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Ne... Our Cust...

We sincerely wish you a... and happiness with the assura... with you in your prosperity. We be... holds much prosperity for us. This institu... so much good will for its customers will unde... work of service to them with great industry, vision ... ambition during the New Year.

Cordially and sincerely yours,

Elmore's LADIES & GENTS FURNISHING

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Charter No. 11,515. Reserve District No. 6.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

AT CLANTON, IN THE STATE OF ALABAMA,

AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON DECEMBER 31, 1925.

RESOURCES.

1 (a) Loans and discounts, including rediscounts, acceptances of other banks, and foreign bills of exchange or drafts sold with endorsement of this bank (except those shown in b and c)	$471,346.13
Total Loals		471,346.13
2. Overdrafts, secured, none; unsecured, $64.32		64.32
4. U. S. Government Securities owned:
(a) Deposited to secure circulation (U. S. bonds par value)	$ 30,000.00
Total		30,000.00
5. Other bonds, stocks, securities, etc.,		60,927.75
6. Banking House	$ 10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures	3,236.98
		13,715.49
8. Lawful reserve with Federal Reserve Bank		35,594.05
10. Cash in vault and amt. due from national banks		56,661.35
11. Amount due from State banks, bankers, and trust companies in the United States (other than included in Items 8, 9, and 10)		30,000.00
Total of Items 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13	$ 59,661.35
15. Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer and due from U. S. Treasurer		1,500.00
TOTAL		$672,809.09

LIABILITIES.

17. Capital stock paid in		$ 50,000.00
18. Surplus fund,		20,000.00
19. (a) Undivided profits	$ 24,484.19
(c) Less current expenses paid	9,483.81	15,000.38
21. Circulating notes outstanding		30,000.00
23. Amount due to national banks		25,352.72
24. Amount due to State banks, bankers, and trust companies in the United States and foreign countries (other than included in Items 22 or 23)		23,782.54
26. Cashier's checks outstanding		2,670.67
Total of Items 22, 23, 24, 25, and 26	$ 51,805.93
Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to Reserve (deposits payable within 30 days):
27. Individual deposits subject to check		330,565.15
28. Certificates of deposit due in less than 30 days (other than for money borrowed)		21,210.60
29. State, county, or other municipal deposits secured by pledge of assets of this bank or surety bond
Total of demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve, Items 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, and 32	$364,629.68
Time Deposits subject to Reserve (payable after 30 days, or subject to 30 days or more notice, and postal savings):
33. Certificates of deposit (other than for money borrowed)		141,373.10
Total of time deposits subject to reserve, Items 33, 34, 35, and 36	$141,373.10
TOTAL		$672,809.09

STATE OF ALABAMA, COUNTY OF CHILTON, ss:

I, J. C. Page, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

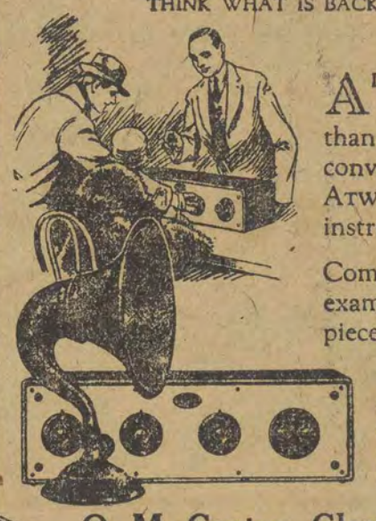
J. C. PAGE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of January, 1926.

J. B. ATKINSON, Notary Public.

CORRECT—Attest:

D. I. DERAMUS, Jr.



E. E. UPCHURCH,

G. C. WALKER,

Directors.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

THINK WHAT IS BACK OF IT

A DEMONSTRATION will do more than anything else to convince you that the ATWATER KENT is the instrument you want.

Come in today and examine these masterpieces of radio skill.

We will gladly instruct you in the operation—and install the set in your home.

O. M. Carter, Clanton, Ala.

Genuine Amoskeag

Apron Ginghams

Best Colors

Sale price, per yard

12 1-2 cts

Our Annual CLEARANCE SALE!

BEGINS MONDAY, JAN. 11th, 1926,

Closes Saturday, February 20th, 1926.

Alum

Dish Pans, Roasters, Percolators, Kettles, Covered Preserving Kettles, Buckets, Double Boilers, Pitchers, plain or paneled, values to $2.50

82 cts.

COME ON GOOD PEOPLE

You who believe in values, and see for yourself just what a real old fashioned Bargain Sale really means. Our Annual Clearance Sale, the Big Sale at the Big Stores, begins Monday, January 11th, 1926, and if you live south of Birmingham, north of Troy, east of Selma, and west of Opelika, it will pay you to attend this gigantic, value giving event.

No catch bargains, no time limit as to when you shall buy, all goods guaranteed as advertised, or money refunded, all goods marked in plain figures, so there is absolutely no chance of going wrong at this sale.

Our sales are a household word in this trade territory, annual events eagerly waited for each year by those who like to take advantage of this opportunity to lay in a seasons supply of really good merchandise at money saving prices.

Genuine M. F. C. Ginghams

Fast colors. 100 new patterns to select from. 25c values, Sale price

17 cts. yd.

Good Ginghams

20 cent value. Fast colors. Sale Price

15cts. yd.

Men's 220 Weight

Overalls

Sale Price Per Pair

91 cts.

36 Inch

LL Sheeting

Smooth Sea Island Finish

11c yd.

Blue Horse

Pencil Tablet

Sale Price

3 cts.

Good Quality

Lead Pencils

5 cent value, Sale Price

3cts

THEME

TABLETS

10 cent value, Sale Price

6cts

Silks and Dress Goods

Fine Silk Messaline, all colors, Special	$1.25
Crepe De Chine, $2.50 value, Special	1.69
36-inch Silk Finish Raylette, Special	.63
Fast color Soisette, all colors, Special	.42
Solid Color Pongee, 50c value, Special	.35
36-inch Suiting, Special	.31
Fine assortment Suiting, Special	.44

Men's and Boys' Clothing

J. & P. COATS

Spool Cotton

SALE PRICE DOZEN

44c

GOOD QUALITY

Mattress Tick

SALE PRICE

15c

Trunks and Suit Cases

Staple Dry Goods

10 quarter Bleached Pepperell Sheeting, yd.	.54
9 quarter Bleached Pepperell Sheeting, yd.	.50
10 quarter Brown Pepperell Sheeting, yd.	.50
9 quarter Brown Pepperell Sheeting, yd.	.46
Rail Road Cheviot, extra heavy, yard	.17
Best Quality Cotton Plaids, yard	.14
Full Standard Outing, all colors, yard	13 1-2c
27-inch Diaper Cloth, 10 yards,	$1.78
36-inch Bleaching fine soft finish, yard	.18
36-inch Fast Color Percale, yard	.23

For Men and Boys

Men's Fine Ribbed Unionsuits	$ .94
Men's Extra Quality Unionsuits	1.25
Men's Fine Ribbed Shirts and Drawers	.68
Boys' Extra Quality Unionsuits, Special	.89
Men's Blue Work Shirts, Special	.69
Men's Blue Work Shirts, Special	.79
Men's Best Quality Work Shirts, Special	1.10
Boys' Fine Dress Shirts, Special	.94
Men's Fine Shirts, collar attached, Special	.89
Men's Fine Shirts, Special	1.40
Men's Fine Shirts, Special	1.74
Boys' Caps, Special	.44
Men's and Boys' Caps, Fit-rite, Special	.94
Men's and Boys' Caps, Fit-rite, Special	1.25
Men's and Boys' Caps, Fit-rite, Special	1.88
Men's Wool O. D. Shirts, Special	1.74
One Lot Boys' Ties, Special	.10
Men's Athletic Unionsuits, Special	.89
Men's Cowhide Leather Belts, Special	.39
Men's Fine Sweaters, all sizes, Special	1.72
Men's Fine Sweaters, $6.00 value, Special	4.38
Boys' Wool Sweaters, Special	1.88
Men's Hats, $2.50 value, Special	1.88
Men's Hats, $4.50 value, Special	3.24
Boys' Unionalls, sizes 3 to 8, Special	.85
Boys' Unionalls, sizes 9 to 12, Special	1.05
Men's Khaki Unionalls, Special	1.69
Men's Khaki Unionalls, Special	2.24
Men's Khaki Moleskin Pants, Special	1.30
Men's Heavy Khaki Pants, Special	1.69

For The House

Good Quality Table Damask, Special	$ .47
72-inch Fine Table Damask, Special	.72
72-inch All Linen Damask, Special	1.44
72-inch All Linen Damask, Special	2.10
Fine Damask Napkins, dozen, Special	1.13
Fine Damask Napkins, dozen, Special	1.44
Fine Damask Napkins, dozen, Special	2.82
Fine Linen Napkins, dozen, Special	3.13
Fine Linen Napkins, dozen, Special	5.63
Good Quality Bath Towels, Special	.23
Good Quality Huck Towles, Special	.10
Extra Fine Bath Towels, Special	.43
Good Quality Scrim, Special	.10
Window Shades, 3X6 feet, Special	.48
Genuine Ripplette Bed Spreads, 81X90,	2.35

Groceries---Special

25 lb. Sack Granulated Sugar	$1.53
4 1-2 lb. Good Rio Coffee	1.00
12 lbs. Good Rice	1.00
3 lb. Bucket French Market Coffee	1.17
3 lb. Bucket Luizanne Coffee	1.17

Boys' Suits, 2 Pair Short Pants, Special	$ 4.69
Boys' Suits, 2 Pair Short Pants, Special	7.19
Boys' Suits, coat, vest, 1 long, 1 short Pants	5.98
Boys' Suits, coat, vest, 1 long, 1 short Pants	7.98
Boys' Suits, 2 Pair long Pants, coat and vest	12.48
Boys' Suits, 2 pair long pants, coat and vest	13.48
Boys' Knicker Pants, Special	.89
Boys' Knicker Pants, Special	1.48
Men's Fine Suits, $15.00 value, Special	9.98
Men's Fine Suits, 2 Pair Pants, Special	16.88
Men's Fine Suits, 2 Pair Pants, Special	18.75
Men's Fine Suits, Curlee and Style-Plus, 1 and 2 Pair Pants, values up to $35.00, choice of stock	25.00
Boys' Fine Overcoats, sizes up to 18, Special	8.69
Men's Overcoats, $25.00 value, Special	18.75
Men's Fine Pants, $3.50 value, Special	2.82
Men's Fine Pants, $4.00 value, Special	3.13
Men's Fine Pants, $4.50 value, Special	3.75
Men's Fine Pants, $6.00 value, Special	4.38
Men's Fine Pants, $10.00 value, Special	6.88
Men's Fine Flannel Pants, Special	8.48

Floor Coverings

Genuine Gold Seal Congoleum, sq. yd.	.66
9X12 Gold Seal Congoleum Rugs	$13.98
9X12 Matting Rugs	3.98
9X12 Krex Rugs	4.98
9X12 Axminster Rugs	15.98
9X12 Axminster Rugs	18.98
9X12 Velvet Finish Rugs	30.98
27X54 inch Axminster Rugs	2.48
36X72 inch Axminster Rugs	3.98
Good Quality Cocoa Door Mats, each	1.18
36X72 inch Krex Rugs	.89

8 OUNCE

Featherproof Ticking

32 INCHES WIDE
SALE PRICE, YARD

28c

Men's Union Suits

ALL SIZES
SALE PRICE

94c

Galvanized Buckets

8 AND 10 QUART
SALE PRICE

20c

Army Saddle Bags

SOLID LEATHER, USED,
SALE PRICE, PAIR

98c

ALL WOOL U. S. A.

New Gloves

SALE PRICE

25c

Bath Towels

EXTRA LARGE
SALE PRICE, EACH

33c

81X90 SEAMLESS

Bleached Sheets

SPECIAL

$1.00

BOYS'

Blue Buckle Overalls

HEAVY WEIGHT, TRIPLE STITCH
SIZES 8 TO 11
SALE PRICE

95c

Table Oilcloth

BEST MADE
SALE PRICE, YARD

30c

Fancy Tumblers

PLAIN OR FANCY, GOOD QUALITY
6 FOR

25c

Alarm Clocks

GUARANTEED
SALE PRICE

95c

U. S. A. Wool Sox

NEW
SALE PRICE, PAIR

20c

36 BY 24

Linoleum Rugs

SPECIAL

22c

ALUMINUM

Pudding Pans

SPECIAL

29c

24-inch Suit Cases, Special	$ .94
24-inch Suit Cases, $2.00 value, Special	1.25
24-inch Suit Cases, $9.00 value, Special	6.74
24-inch Suit Cases, Walrus hide, Special	8.48
One Lot Trunks, Special	5.24
Good Quality Trunks, Special	6.74
Good Quality Trunks, Special	8.98
Extra Quality Trunks, Special	9.24
Wardrobe Trunks, Special	21.98

Notions

Ladies' Handkerchiefs, Special	2c
Ladies' Handkerchiefs, Special	3c
Ladies' Handkerchiefs, Special	4c
Ladies' Handkerchiefs, Special	8c
Men's Handkerchiefs, Special	4c
Men's Handkerchiefs, Special	8c
Regular 5c Lead Pencils, Special	3c
Blue Horse Pencil Tablets, Special	3c
Piedmont Theme Tablets, Special	5c
Good Envelopes, package, Special	4c
Good Quality Linen Writing Paper, pound	35c
Envelopes to match, package	11c
Men's Work Gloves, Special, pair	22c
Men's Leather Work Gloves, Special	47c
Men's Leather Work Gloves, Special	94c
Buster Brown Sox, all colors, Special	22c
Fine Lisle Sox, all colors, Special	29c
Ladies' Fine Silk Hose seconds, Special	47c
Ladies' Fine Silk Hose $1.25 value, Special	82c
Ladies' Buster Brown Hose, Special	23c
Ladies' Hose, Black and Tan, Special	11c
Men's Socks, all colors, Special	12c
Men's Heavy Grey Sox, Special	12c
Colgates Talcum Powder, 25c size	16c
Good Quality Pearl Buttons, dozen	4c
Safety Pins, all sizes, dozen	4c
Brass Pins, Good Quality, package	4c
Men's Suspenders, Special	19c

36-inch Pepperell Sheeting, yard	.16
M. F. C. 25c Dress Ginghams, yard	.17
Fast Color Dress Ginghams, 20c value, yard	.15
Genuine Amoskeag Apron Ginghams, yard	12 1-2c
36-inch LL Sea Island Sheeting, yard	.11
Good Quality Pajama Checks, yard	.18

Blankets---Comforts

Full Size Plaid Blankets, Pair	$2.85
Large Size Blankets, Pair	3.60
Wool Mixed Blankets, Pair	5.31
Wool Mixed Blankets, Pair	6.25
Extra Fine Wool Mixed Blankets, Pair	8.94
Extra Quality Blankets, Pair	8.90
Full Size All Wool Blankets, Pair	8.13
Single Bed Comforts, Each	1.48
Full Size Comforts, Each	1.98
Extra Quality Comforts, Each	3.44

Solid Leather Shoes

Men's Scout Shoes, 6 to 11, Special	$1.94
Men's Lion Brand Work Shoes, Special	3.25
Boys' Scout Shoes, size 3 to 6, Special	1.88
Boys' Scout Shoes, size 3 to 5 1-2, Special	2.25
Boys' Fine Shoes, size 3 to 6, Special	2.34
Men's Fine Shoes, Special	2.69
Men's Fine Shoes, Special	3.24
Men's Beacon Shoes, Black and Tan, Special	3.34
Ladies' Fine Oxfords and Straps, Special	2.34
Ladies' Fine Slippers, Special	2.82
Ladies' Fine Slippers, new Spring stock	3.25
Children's Fine Shoes, sizes 3 to 5, Special	1.38
Children's Fine Shoes, sizes 5 1-2 to 8, Special	1.69
Children's Fine Shoes, sizes 8 1-2 to 11	2.19
Children's Fine Shoes, sizes 11 1-2 to 2	2.38
Ladies' Fine Shoes, sold up to $5.00, Special	.50
Men's Fine 18-inch Boots, Special	7.50
Men's Army Shoes, Hobs and Plain, Special	2.19
Ladies' Bed Room Slippers, 75c value, Special	.59
Ladies' Bed Room Slippers, $1.75 value	1.25

For Ladies and Misses

Ladies' Fine Cloaks, Fur Trimmed, Special	$7.50
Ladies' Fine Cloaks, Fur Trimmed, Special	11.25
Ladies' Ginghams Dresses, Special	.73
Ladies' Gingham Dresses, Special	1.69
Ladies' Fine Wool Mixed Dresses, Special	4.69
Ladies' Fine Silk Dresses, Special	8.44
Ladies' Rain Coats assort. colors, Special	4.48
Misses' Rain Coats, Special	3.75
Children's and Misses' Hats, Special	1.25
Children's and Misses' Hats, Special	1.88
Ladies' Fine Sweaters, Special	2.82
Ladies' Fine Sweaters, Special	3.75
Ladies' Fine Sweaters, Special	1.88
Ladies' Bloomers, Special	.47
Misses' Bloomers, all colors, Special	.39
Ladies' Outing Gowns, Special	.94
Ladies' Outing Gowns, Special	1.25
Misses' Outing Gowns, Special	.69
Misses' Ribbed Union Suits, Special	.75
Ladies' Fine Union Suits, Special	.86
Ladies' Fine Gloves, Special	.89
Ladies' Fine Gloves, Special	.44

Special Prices on Every Article in Our Grocery Department, Flour, Meal, Lard, Genuine Rust Proof Oats, Snuff, Tobacco, Crackers, Candy, Salt, Soda, Tomatoes, Washing Powder. All Canned Goods at Low Prices.

TERMS OF THIS SALE---STRICTLY SPOT CASH TO EVERYBODY.

Hohenberg-Lacy-Farrow Merc. Co.

Wholesale WETUMPKA, ALABAMA Retail

Big Special Sale This Week

We are now offering special prices on Men's and Boy's Suits, Pants and Shoes

We have a Big Line of Sweaters

Our Motto for 1926:
Bigger and Better Bargains for the Trading Public

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Our Prices are always LOWER than any others

We have some wonderful bargains in SHOES right now

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

January is one month in the year when annual meetings of corporations are prevalent.

On Wednesday night, January 6, the United Protestant Church of Thorsby (Congregational) held their annual meeting at the church, preceded as usual by a dinner provided by the ladies of the church in cafeteria style, for about 150 people, who enjoyed an hour or more of social intecourse. The business meeting, with Rev. Joseph E. Each, pastor of the church, presiding, moved along rapid and smooth from start to finish. Reports of pastor, officers and heads of departments showed a condition of affairs for which all interested have cause to rejoice. The report of the treasurer, Rev. E. W. Butler, indicated that all obligations had been met and a small balance in the treasury. Elections for the ensuing year were as follows: Deacons—J. W. McCain, R. L. Primm; Deaconesses—Mrs. S. E. Norton, Mrs. Carl C. Petersen; Treasurer, E. W. Butler; Clerk, S. E. Norton; Superintendent of Sunday ant, Miss Lorena Primm; Assistant in charge of Primary department, Mrs. S. E. Norton; Trustee for three years, H. H. Dahl, associated with Charles A. Peterson and Carl C. Petersen, whose terms of office have not expired. The pastor and clerk were elected a committee in charge of preparations for holding a series of special evangelistic meetings during the winter or early spring.

—?—

The annual meeting of Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association was held Saturday, January 9. The report of the Manager-Treasurer, J. Monroe Smith, showed a low ebb production in quantity of strawberries for 1925, owing to many plants and some fields being destroyed by drouth, but the quality of the berries produced was such that they brought top prices, and the shrinkage in net returns was comparatively small. As an indication that there at least some of our farmers who refuse to pin all their faith to cotton, the Manager stated to the writer that he already has orders placed for 108,000 new plants, to be set out as soon as the ground will permit. Orders for fertilizer and crates are also coming in. Officers elected for the ensuing year were Carl C. Petersen, President; T. J. Martin, Vice-President; H. G. Robinson, Secretary; J. Milton Smith, Manager-Treasurer; Carl C. Petersen, M. J. Soberg, T. J. Martin, J. W. Littleton, Will A. Hayes, Directors of the Association.

—?—

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will hold their annual meeting at the home of their president, Mrs. E. W. Butler, at 2 o'clock Wednesday, January 20. All members are urged to be present and participate in the election of officers for the ensuing year.

—?—

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will pass their January Social gathering due to be held on Thursday of this week.

—?—

Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association held an important meeting at the public school building Tuesday afternoon, but their proceedings were not available for publication this week. This live organization never loses an opportunity to have a meeting in interest of Thorsby public school. Hence they will utilize Thursday afternoon when the Baptist ladies have no social, for a social gathering at the home of Mrs. Chales S. Howard at 2 p.m., to which everybody interested in their work is invited.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will hold their regular monthly social at 2 p. m., Thursday, January 21st at the home of Mrs. Conrad Carlson.

—?—

Thorsby Hardware Company held their annual meeting on Monday of this week, at which some changes were considered looking to improvementss which are not yet ready for publication.

—?—

The regular quarterly meeting of the board of directors of Thorsby Institute will be held in the dining hall living room at 9:30 a.m., Thursday, January 14th. This meeting will require the presence of every local member of the board to furnish a quorum to do business because several of the Thorsby membes are not near at peseat.

—?—

Mr. and Mrs. Ira E. Sarber of Elmore, with William Shaffer from Indiana, paid a brief visit to Thorsby on Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Sarber announced that her brother, Rev. C. W. Snyder of Lebanon, Ohio, a former pastor of Thorsby Congregational church, who suffered a broken leg while here on a visit in the fall of 1923, and who because of improper attention at the time has been a cripple ever since, recently had a fall which broke the leg in the same place. He was carried to Cincinnati and under hospital treatment, had a portion of the bone which was decayed removed and a piece of live bone grafted in, which was so far healed and so knitted together that he was able to go home. He is now getting about on crutches with a prospect that in time the leg will be wholly restored.

—?—

There will be English services at the Lutheran church at 10:30 a.m. next Sunday. Sunday School every Sunday at 9:40 a.m.

—?—

The annual meeting came off successfully at the Scandinavian service last Sunday at 1 p.m. at the church, and we wish to express our appreciation.

——PBG——

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON

—?—

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, who was convicted in the Circuit Court of Chilton County on March 30, 1925, on a charge of violating prohibition law, and sentenced to six months in the penitentiary, will make application for pardon or parole.

This, the 13th day of January, 1926.—Martin Giles.

——PBG——

FOR SALE—100-egg incubator and lamp brooder, new, never been used but twice; price $15. Also, one new iron safe, price $55.—Mrs. S. J. Kicker, Clanton, Ala. 1t-pd

Don't Neglect That Stubborn Hacking Cough

It is not only dangerous but entirely unnecessary to let a persistent, hacking cough rob you of sleep and strength. For through a very simple treatment you can get almost instant relief, and very often break the most stubborn cough completely in 24 hours.

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So the coughing quickly ceases and you sleep right through undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

CEDAR GROVE

—?—

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove Singing Society met here last Sunday and redered a good program. There were quite a few singers from other places whom we were glad to have with us.

Directors for the afternoon were J. W. Lowery, Kermit Lowery, Houston Melton, Glover Smith, Henderson Hayes, and Harrison Hayes. Two quartettes were sung by the Society's quartette. Organists were Lucile Price, Onzelle Eiland, and Bonnie Rollins.

We were dismissed with prayer, by Mrs. Anna Collins.

This Society meets at Liberty Hill next Sunday. All singers are invited. —Secretary.

——PBG——

SAMARIA

—?—

On last Sunday, January 10th, preaching services were conducted by Rev. Dykes at Samaria church. A forceful sermon at 11:00 o'clock was enjoyed by a large congregation, at the close of which a member was received into the church. Rev. Dykes in his sermon Sunday evening spoke on the subject of the B. Y. P. U., which was very inspiring and helpful to all.

Sunday School is held at this place every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, followed by the B. Y. P. U. Preaching services are held every sescond Sunday of each month—morning services at 11 o'clock; evening services at 7 o'clock.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

——PBG——

COMMISSIONERS SALE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County. Probate Court.

In pursuance of the directions and terms of a Commission dated the 5th day of January, 1926, issued to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, on The 30th day of January, 1926, at Twelve o'clock, noon, at the front door of the court house of Chilton County at Clanton, Ala., the following described property:

24 acres on the west side of NE fourth of S Wfourth of Section Thirteen, Township Twenty-two, Range Fourteen; S half of the SE fourth of the NW fourth, and SW fourth of NW fourth, less that part of N half of SW fourth of NW fourth, east of the public road, all in Section Twenty-five, Township Twenty-one, Range Fourteen; S half of the NE fourth of the NE fourth, and one-fourth acre n SE corner of N half of NE fourth of NE fourth of Section Twenty-six, Township Twentp-one, Range Fourteen; S half of SW fourth of Section Five, and SE fourth of SE fourth of Section Six, and SW fourth of NW fourth of Section Eight, all in Township Twenty-two, Range Fifteen. All of the above being situated in Chilton County, Ala., and being known as the lands of Tom Jones, Deceased, which said property is to be sold under the order of said Probate Court, for the purpose of division and partition between the several Joint Owners thereof, viz:

Era Littleton, Essie Fulmer, Ruben E. Jones, Luther Jones non compus mentis, Leander Jones non compus mentis, Essie Fulmer, Guardian; Harvey Jones, a minor over the age of fourteen years; Essie Fulmer, Guardian; Everee Jones, Clifford Jones, Myrtle Jones, and J. T. Jones, minors under the age of fourteen years; Lula C. Jones, Guardian.

This, January 5th, 1926.

GRADY REYNOLDS,
Commissioner.

1-7-3t

Jan'y. Clearance Sale

TO MAKE ROOM FOR OUR SPRING GOODS THAT ARE NOW ARRIVING DAILY

$2.25 wool crepe now	$1.69
$1.65 wool crepe now	$1.39
Flanneletts, per yard	.35
Outings, all colors, 36 in. wide, 5 yds. for	$1.00
Sheeting, 12 yards for	$1.00
Bed Ticking (very best) price per yard	.16
36-inch Cretone, price per yard	.25
Curtain Scrim, price per yard	.09
Ladies Shoes, price per pair	.39

Millinery — Dressmaking — Hemstitching
LADIES REST ROOM

Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALABAMA

SPECIAL NEWS

—o—

I have bought the Bankrupt Stock of G. C. Armstrong, and am now in Business at his old Stand.

I can sell you Dry Goods and Shoes at less than Wholesale Cost.

I also have a fine line of Staple and Fancy Groceries. I can save you Money on anything you need.

These are not cheap goods but Good Goods at a Cheap Price.

Be sure and get my Figures before you buy elsewhere.

—o—

DONALD MERCHANT
General Merchandise
Clanton, - - - - - Alabama

Condensed Statement of the Condition of

THE BANK OF THORSBY

OF THORSBY, ALABAMA
December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:		LIABILITIES:
Commercial paper	$ 30,000.00	Capital stock	$ 10,000.00
Loans and discounts	80,362.01	Surplus and undivided profits	13,567.05
Overdrafts	38.83	Deposits	128,562.10
Banking house	1,000.00
Furniture and fixtures	2,097.06
Checks and cash items	339.58
Collections in transit	5,696.29
Cash in vault and in Banks	32,595.38
Total	$152,129.15	Total	$152,129.15

Comparative Statement:

Deposits December 31, 1921	$ 33,600.77
Deposits December 31, 1922	68,873.15
Deposits December 31, 1923	81,638.14
Deposits December 31, 1924	100,816.02
Deposits December 31, 1925	128,562.10

Total Resources Over One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars
A Bank for All the People, and the Peoples' Bank

AN OPPORTUNITY

—o—

We have for Sale a House and Lot in Clanton, can give you as much Land as you Want. This is an Opportunity that is not found every day.

—o—

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.
CLANTON, ALABAMA

J. R. OWEN

— DEALER IN —
GENERAL MERCHANDISE, SHOES, ETC.

A Good Country Store, where you can buy Goods at Standard Prices with the Guarantee of the Highest Quality to be obtained anywhere.

We call your attention to our Extra Values in Shoes, that are Guaranteed to wear a reasonable time or you get a new pair.

I buy Country Produce. Your trade Appreciated.

Owenville, Ala. Clanton, Ala., R. 3

MR. JIM GRANT IMPROVING

—?—

Late reports from Mr. J. M. Grant of South Clanton say that his condition of health is somewhat improved for the past few days, though he is not able to be out yet. Mr. Grant has been sick with some form of heart trouble since last August, and has been confined to his home since October. His case seems rather a puzzle to his physician, but it has been diagnosed as some form of heart trouble. It is hoped that Mr. Grant will continue to improve and will soon be able to be out again.

——PBG——

The Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association has received more than 100,000 bales this year. Prior to this year the high mark was approximately 80,000 bales, reached in 1924-25. The Association will close its pools on February 15. It is expected that deliveries will reach 110,000 bales.

——PBG——

Winter is a good time to prepare stovewood for use next spring and summer.

——PBG——

The most successful cotton farmers raise feed for their livestock.

NEW CEDRON

Miss Hollie Dickinson of Birmingham was visiting her mother and her friends of this community during the holidays.

Mrs. Ernestine Turner of Gorgas is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Burnett of this community.

Mr. Otis Weldon called on Miss Mary Ethel Brown Sunday.

Mr. Jim Burnett called on Miss Eudora Motes Sunday.

Misses Frances Bell Meade and Woodie Rawlinson visited J. M. Motes during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Alfred Penton called on Miss Lucile Motes Sunday, and Mr. Justus Culver visited Miss Bertha Hughey.

——PBG——

No Rapid Transit.—A few days after a farmer had placed his two children in a school a book agent called on him and said, "Now that your children go to school you ought to buy them an encyclopedia."

"Buy them an encyclopedia? Hanged if I do," was his reply. "Let them walk, like I did."—Farm Life.

——PBG——

Pots of blooming plants will brighten up the household on dark winter days.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF MAPLESVILLE

Located at Maplesville, Ala., at the Close of Business December 31, 1925.

RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts		$58,077.58
2. Overdrafts		36.27
3. U. S. Bonds, Cert. of Ind., and W. S. Stamps		100.00
5. Banking House		900.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures		1,351.56
8. Cash (a) Currency	$5,934.00
(b) Gold	345.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	209.16
Total		6,488.16
9. Due from Banks		17,993.38
TOTAL		$84,946.95

LIABILITIES

1. Capital Stock Paid in		$10,000.00
2. Surplus Fund		3,500.00
3. Undivided Profits less Expenses and Taxes paid		2,561.21
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits	$50,297.35
(f) Cashier's Checks	88.82
Total		50,386.17
6. Time Deposits (b) Time Certificates	$18,499.57
Total		18,499.57
TOTAL		$84,946.95

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Before me came H. L. Smith, Cashier of Bank of Maplesville, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. H. L. SMITH, Cashier.

ATTEST:
J. W. FOSHEE,
H. M. NIX,
F. H. BROWN,
Directors.

Sworn to and subscriber before me, this 6th day of January, 1926.
J. E. DENNIS,
Notary Public.

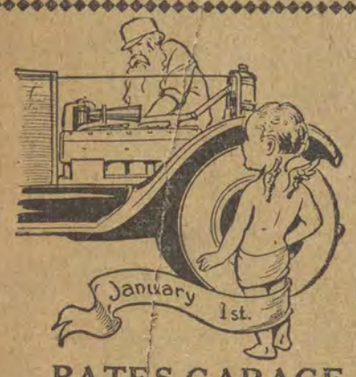
REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF VERBENA

Located at Verbena, Ala., at the Close of Business December 31, 1925.

RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts		$ 76,393.65
4. Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants		25,930.00
5. Banking House		2,800.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures		800.00
8. Cash (a) Currency	$6,350.00
(b) Gold	275.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	683.83
Total		7,308.83
9. Due from Banks		52,417.00
TOTAL		$165,649.48



LIABILITIES

1. Capital Stock Paid in		$ 15,000.00
2. Surplus Fund		6,733.00
3. Undivided Profits		4,119.37
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits	$138,477.78
(f) Cashier's Checks	19.33
Total		138,497.11
6. Time Deposits (b) Time Certificates	$1,300.00
Total		1,300.00
TOTAL		$165,649.48

The State of Alabama, Chilton County.—Before me came H. W. Davis, Cashier of Bank of Verbena, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. H. W. DAVIS, Cashier.

ATTEST:
W. A. GULLEDGE,
D. I. DERAMUS, Jr.,
H. B. OLIVER,
Directors.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 5th day of January, 1926.
J. C. PATTILLO,
Notary Public.

GET READY FOR 1926

Don't wait for a complete breakdown. If your car shows the least sign of distress make up your mind to have it in good running order again right away. We do auto repair work of every description and will be glad to give your car a thorough overhauling right away. We guarantee satisfaction both as to workmanship and our charges.

BATES GARAGE, Clanton, Ala.

Talcums Differ

as much in their quality as in their fragrance. If the best is the only kind you use, that and all other dressing table requisites will satisfy you if selected here. Our perfume and cosmetic department is a regular shopping place for ladies seeking the better grades in those lines.

ALRED DRUG COMPANY
"The Home of Quality"
CLANTON, - - - - ALABAMA

NATIONAL RADIO FADING TESTS START FEBRUARY 9TH

—?—

Dates for the National tests of radio reception to determine the causes of static and fading were announced this week after 4,000 of the 4,500 designated observation stations had expressed a willingness to take part in the survey, which is being conducted by the Stewart-Warner Speedometer Corporation in cooperation with the Northwestern University. The first test will be held on the night of February 9th, from 8 to 11 o'clock central standard time. The second and third will be on the two succeeding nights at the same hours. Subsequent trials will be held throughout the winter, should the data obtained indicate that real progress in a search for the causes of these two major radio annoyances is possible.

It was originally planned to hold these tests in January, but owing to the interenational tests scheduled for that month it was decided to hold the fading and static tests at a later date.

Most of the observations will be made by broadcast listeners using standard receiving sets and depending for the accuracy of their reports upon their own ears. However, to insure the scientific accuracy of the result, twenty control stations equipped with electrical measuring devices and automatic recorders will be placed in the principal boadcasting centers of the country.

——PBG——

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

—?—

Default having been made in the papment of the indebtedness secured by a mortgage executed by W. W. Ford and his wife, Sarah E. Ford, on the 2nd day of March, 1925, to Ingram Land Company, a corporation, conveying the hereinafter described property, which mortgage was duly recorded in the Probate Office of Chilton County, Alabama, in Volume 197, Record of Mortgages, at page 455, and which said mortgage, together with the indebtedness secured thereby, has been transformed and assigned to the undersigned, I, R. J. Foster, Jr., the assignee of the said mortgage and the said indebtedness, will, on the 16th day of February, 1926, between the legal hours of sale, sell in Clanton, in front of the court house door of Chilton County, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest and best bidder for cash, the following described real estate situated in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

Beginning at the Northeast corner of A. C. Wells' lot, said Lot being a part of Lot No. One (1) in Block "N" in the Town of Jemison, Alabama, thence West Fifty-two and one-half feet (52½) to Main Street, thence North Thirty-five (35) feet to Bibb Street, thence East along Bibb Street Fifty-two and one-half (52½) feet to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Depot Lot, thence South along said Lot Thirty-five (35) feet to the point of beginning, said lot being the North part of Lot No. One (1) in Block "N" in the Town of Jemison, Alabama.

The aforesaid property being the property described in said mortgage.

The proceeds derived at the said sale will be applied in strict accordance with the terms of said mortgage.

This 9th day of January, 1926.

R. J. FOSTER, Jr., Assignee.
EDGAR ALLEN,
Atty. for Assignee.

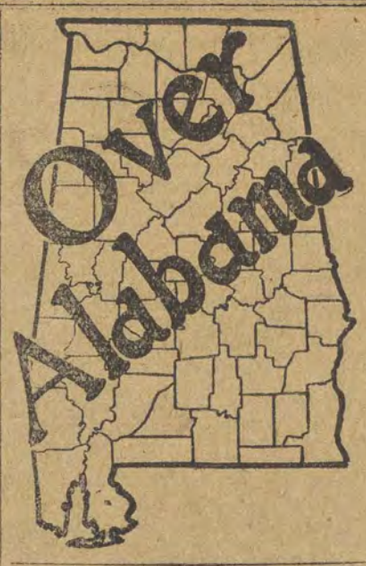
1-14-3t-ch

——PBG——

NEW CHEVROLET CARRIES MANY NEW IMPROVEMENTS

—?—

Many mechanical improvements, in the face of price reduction, were displayed on the new Chevrolet cars at the opening of the New York automobile show Saturday. The numerous mechanical improvements, together with lower prices, coming at this time when high tire costs threaten advanced car prices, concentrated attention on the Chevrolet exhibit.



The price reduction was announced several days ago by W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Co. At that time no mention was made of improvements to the car. These mechanical changes are designed to give even smoother operation, greater engine efficiency and smoother riding. One of the features is as air cleaner, something which only cars of much higher price have been equipped with heretofore.

Among the new improvements are: lighter pistons and pins; engine lubricating system of increased efficiency; special three-point motor suspension and redesigned motor head with larger cooling areas around the valves, all of which contribute materially toward smooth operation. The new car is well cushioned by long semi-elliptic springs of special design.

The new piston assembly is about a half-pound lighter, decreasing by approximately two pounds the total weight of moving parts in the cylinders. The piston is of the skeleton type, combining lightness with ample strength and large bearing surface.

Constant and complete lubrication is assured by the new oiling system which places the oil pump in the crank case where it is primed the moment the engine starts. It is driven from the cam shaft by noiseless spiral gears. The new motor with its larger cooling area increases value efficiency and life. The generator now is driven from the crank shaft by a silent V-type belt which also operates the fan. The water pump has a new mounting with larger bearings.

Other improvements are: an air cleaner at the intake opening of the air heater; tension springs at the joints of the spark and throttle control rods; greater rigidity in the dash and an increase of one-third in the braking area of the service brakes which are operated by an improved type of brake rod.

The L. & N. Railroad is doing everything in its power to destroy the Warrior Barge Line, Gen. Thos. H. Ashburn, in charge of operations of the Mississippi-Warrior Barge Lines, recently told a committee of the U. S. Senate. He cited rate reductions which, he says, proves his contention.

The State will sell $1,100,000 in harbor improvement bonds at the State Capitol on Jan. 22. The proceeds will be used for the erection of a concrete cotton warehouse on Pier No. 2, at Mobile, and to pay interest on outstanding bonds.

Dr. T. W. Palmer, of Montevallo, president of Alabama College, who died in a Birmingham hospital recently, was buried at Montevallo. Death came after a long illness of heart trouble. Dr. Palmer was one of the state's best known educators.

The Pike County Farm Bureau recently held a meeting attended by representatives of the women's clubs of the county, county board of health and county board of education. An educational and health program for 1926 was mapped out.

Judson Hodges, Jr., a telegraph messenger boy of Birmingham, recently escaped death by a hair's breadth when his bicycle was hit by a street car. He seized the front of the car and clung to it until the car stopped.

Stephen J. Lee, well known young white man of near Centerville, and two negroes were wounded recently when a shot gun in the hands of a negro boy was accidentally discharged. Mr. Lee may lose his sight, it is said.

The city of Decatur has just passed an ordinance forbidding the appearance on the streets of that city of any person or group of persons wearing masks or other devices to hide their identity.

The February term of the Morgan County Circuit Court, which opens the second Monday in February, will be one of the busiest the county has known in years, it is said.

William P. Smith, superintendent of a sub-station of the Alabama Power Company at Kilby Prison, was instantly killed recently when he came in contact with a high voltage wire.

A two-day conference of professors and instructors of the State Normal Schools at Troy, Florence, Daphne, Jacksonville and Livingston was held at Birmingham recently.

Judge John H. Disque, widely known lawyer and jurist, of Gadsden, died recently at the age of 79. He had only recently been elected commissioner of the Alabama Bar Association.

Charles McRae, proprietor of the Oaks Hotel, at Greenville, was recently knocked down and robbed by a man who had just rented a room at the hostlery.

The public service commission recently held a session at Jasper to go into the matter of a new passenger station at that city for the Northern Alabama railroad.

The Morgan County Health Unit's work has grown so rapidly in the past 12 months, that Albany-Decatur has found it necessary to greatly enlarge its quarters.

Reduction in freight rates from Mobile and New Orleans to points on the L. & N. north of Birmingham will become effective soon, officials of the road announce.

Judge John C. Eyster, of Albany-Decatur, one of North Alabama's most widely known lawyers and jurists, died at his home recently after an extended illness.

Stocking Alabama's state fish hatchery on the Talladega-Calhoun county line will begin this month, Commissioner of Game and Fisheries Quinn announces.

A Spanish steamer, the Manuela Pla, loading with lumber at Mobile, listed so badly recently that she went down by the stern.

Construction in Morgan county on the Decatur-Tuscumbia highway will begin in February, state road officials have announced.

A total of 1,507 companies began doing business in Alabama for the first time in 1925, records at the state capitol show.

Snow was reported all over north Alabama on January 8. In the extreme northern part it was several inches deep.

Etowah county will take an active part in the campaign soon to be put on by the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association, it is announced.

The recent cold snap did not seriously injure the Satsuma crop in Mobile and Baldwin counties, reports say.

The B. J. Schuster Hardware Co., of Selma, one of the oldest in Central Alabama, has just been sold to Bloch Brothers.

The Troy State Normal resu work on Jan. 6, after a two-weeks' cation for the holidays.

——PBG——

E. G. Caldwell of Pletcher was a business visitor to Clanton Tuesday.

The Excellence OF OUR Dining Car Service

has won for the "Old Reliable" a nation-wide reputation. The very finest food the market affords is prepared by trained chefs and immaculately served by courteous and attentive waiters. Comparison shows that the prices charged for these excellent meals are as low as, or lower than, those prevailing in first-class hotels, restaurants and cafes.

Almost every day the Passenger Department of this Railroad receives unsolicited letters of commendation on our dining-car service. These letters come from experienced travelers who know and appreciate the best; from women traveling with children, who have been shown some particular courtesy or have had some article of food especially prepared.

Nothing adds to the charm of travel more than having good meals, well-cooked, well-served, and at moderate prices. Remember that the dining-car service of American railroads is operated at a loss to the carriers and is made available simply to add to your comfort.

The menu on the L. & N. diner is complete and varied. A passenger may order a "compartment platter" (four suggestions from which to choose), consisting of a relish, meat, two vegetables, salad, coffee, tea or milk, and a choice of dessert; or he may choose from an a-la-carte bill of fare every seasonable delicacy—from Gulf oysters and sea food, to the tenderest of chops and game. The prices are much lower than you'd expect to pay for such service.

THE OLD RELIABLE L&N (LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.)

FOR SALE—One 5-room new house and lot in Gowan Addition, within one block of high school, complete with water and lights. See me at Service Barber Shop. Jesse C. Jones, Clanton, Ala. 1-14-2t-pd

Cotton Seed Wanted—Even exchange of good bright 7 per cent meal for sound cotton seed. J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala. 1t-ch

Nitrate of Soda—Orders taken now for delivery any month wanted. J. N. Dennis, Clanton. 1t-ch

For Prices on all fertilizers and fertilizer material see J. N. Dennis, Clanton. 1t-ch

CHEVROLET TRUCK—For trade for touring car, or for sale; good castings, good condition. Apply to H. L. Ratliff, Maplesville, Ala., Rt. 2. 1-14-2t-pd.

Use the Want-Ad Column for results.

It is time to put eggs in the incubator for the early spring broilers.

——PBG——

STOCKHOLDERS ANNUAL MEETING

—?—

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Thorsby of Thorsby, Ala., for the election of directors and the transaction of any other business that may come before the meeting, will be held at the office of said Bank, at Thorsby, Ala., on January 19th, 1926, between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock, a. m.—C. R. Foss, Secretary-Cashier.

12-31-3t-ch

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

Healthy Mothers, Healthy Children

Montgomery, Ala.—"A little less than a year ago, and during expectancy, I was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did so, and it proved to be a wonderful benefit to me. I advise prospective mothers to take the 'Favorite Prescription' for I am sure they will not regret it."—Mrs. R. F. Rudder, 323 Randolph St.

Obtain this famous "Prescription" now, in tablets or liquid, from your dealer, or write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Send 10c if you wish a trial pkg. of the tablets.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:

10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

WANTED—Man with car to sell complete line quality Auto Tires and Tubes. Exclusive Territory. Experience not necessary. Salary $300.00 per month. Milestone Rubber Co., East Liverpool, Ohio. 1t-pd

MONUMENTS & TOMBSTONES—Best Georgia marble; good work and satisfaction guaranteed. No money paid until set up at cemetery. See or write W. J. Bice, Clanton, Ala., Route 4. 1-14-4t-pd

FOR SALE—Milk cow and young calf; also, a cream separator. F. I. Popwell, Clanton Rt. 3. 1t-pd

FOR RENT—One 1-horse crop on halves or standing rent. Located 2 1-2 miles northeast of Clanton. Apply to Banner office for particulars. 1-7-2t-pd.

SALES LADIES WANTED—Great, nationally advertised manufacturer needs local representatives. Permanent work—a chance to build a strong repeat business in your neighborhood. Every assistance given you through our permanent District office. Write at once. Sales Manager, Suite 401-5 Jackson Bldg., Birmingham, Ala. 12-31-3t-ch.

FOR SALE—I have 20 lots in Ozone, sub-division near Mobile, Ala., in Blocks 17 and 19, in Ozone Add., in Section 30, Township 2, Range 2, Mobile County. I have no use for them so far away; I owe $30 taxes on the entire bunch; first offer of $10 each and party to assume the taxes, will get them all. Who is first? Better wire V. A. PALM, Hastings, Nebraska. 1-7-4t-ch

SALESMEN WANTED—Large manufacturer has openings for a few men of character and integrity. Our products are sold direct to the consumer and are nationally advertised. Want men that are willing to work hard for promotion and who can work without boss dictation yet carry out instructions and policies. If you can qualify we offer permanent wirk with assured success and promotion. Address Sales Manager, Suite 401-5 Jackson Bldg., Birmingham, Ala. 12-31-3t-ch.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

The next Fifth Sunday meeting of the Chilton County Baptist Association will be held at Oak Grove, above Jemison, the fifth Sunday in January. —T. J. Deason.

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

REPORT, TREASURER, CHILTON COUNTY

(Continued from Page 8)

Dec. 14.—Road work, J. T. Childress 48.17
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dalton Martin 7.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. T. Ward 62.75
Dec. 16.—Road work, Rufus Childress 132.35
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. N. Cassell 12.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, C. R. Deason 5.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, B. G. Jones 252.96
Dec. 14.—Road work, Oscar Glass 14.62
Dec. 14.—Road work, Sam Smith 3.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. N. Glasscock 13.50
Dec. 14.—Lumber, A. W. Bone 48.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Lussie Burnett 24.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, R. J. Downs 40.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Grover Dutton 6.10
Dec. 14.—Road work, Claud M. Downs 8.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, Martin Wright 7.85
Dec. 14.—Road work, Abe Smith 7.85
Dec. 14.—Road work, S. J. Smith 6.10
Dec. 14.—Road work, Lester Downs 2.60
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. R. Mitchell 10.90
Dec. 14.—Road work, Harrison Driver 12.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, Pete Wilson 2.60
Dec. 14.—Road work, Henry Patterson 18.00
Dec. 14.—Roa dwork, W. M. D. O'Neal 25.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, V. M. Mims 11.35
Dec. 14.—Road work, E. L. Mims 30.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. G. Taylor 49.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Calvin Gentry 6.10
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. L. Moore 20.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Ervin Baker 16.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Nathan Minor 12.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, G. S. Minor 18.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, C. B. Lenoir 42.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. M. Wright 32.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dock Aachison 10.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Walter Moates 14.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jade Culp 28.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, Macey Riggins 8.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, Lonnie Price 3.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Frank Martin 7.17
Dec. 14.—Road work, Arthur Collier 2.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, C. C. Vinson 2.54
Dec. 14.—Road work, C. C. Vinson 15.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, L. C. Reynolds 119.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. A. Littlejohn 60.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Archue Chandler 3.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, E. B. Deramus 7.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dewey Patterson 32.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. R. Parker 22.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. R. Parker 5.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. R. Griffin 16.07
Dec. 14.—Road work, T. F. Patterson 18.02
Dec. 14.—Road work, Cecil Huett 3.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. L. Patterson 1.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, Aaron Parker 9.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dewey Patterson 4.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Onzey Porter 2.25
Dec. 14.—Road work, Paul Littlejohn 99.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Charlie Price 3.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. J. Scott 13.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Dewey Klinner 10.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, John Moates 14.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Denson Conway 14.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Lussie Burnett 67.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, Bennie Dennis 13.53
Dec. 14.—Road work, W. J. Easterling 7.00
Dec. 14.—Oil for November, Standard Oil Co., ... 144.81
Dec. 14.—Road work, J. J. Hayes 6.00
Dec. 14.—Road wark, Aaron Killingsworth 21.37
Dec. 14.—Road work, Aaron Killingsworth 21.37
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jim Bluster 16.50
Dec. 14.—Road work, E. H. Foshee 6.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, E. H. Foshee 6.00
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jack Mongoff 1.75
Dec. 14.—Road work, George Glass ..... .87
Dec. 21.—Road work, Sanders & Harrison 56.20
Dec. 21.—Oil for Oct., Gulf Refining Co., ... 215.16
Dec. 21.—Oil, Standard Oil Co., ... 100.69
Dec. 21.—Road work, Willl Connell 7.00
Dec. 21.—Road work, Luman Langford 1.05
Dec. 14.—Road work, Jim Fountain 1.75
Dec. 21.—Road work, Grady Wallace 8.25
Dec. 21.—Road work, Henry Wallace 7.50
Dec. 21.—Road work, Felix Wallace 24.00
Dec. 21.—Road work, Ozo Waters 3.50
Dec. 21.—Road work, J. M. Robinson 27.75
Dec. 21.—Road work, Bascom Driver 6.60
Dec. 21.—Road work, Dock Bryant 6.95
Dec. 21.—Road work, Walter Vinson 17.00
Dec. 21.—Road work, J. W. Harrison 3.50
Dec. 21.—Road work, W. R. Harrison 3.00
Dec. 21.—Road work, S. R. Barnes 7.37
Dec. 21.—Road work, C. C. Jones 12.25
Dec. 21.—Road work, Curtis Lecroy 28.00
Dec. 21.—Road work, Alonza Oakes 8.75
Dec. 21.—Road work, Burnie Blow 11.79
Dec. 21.—Road work, Eddie Williams 14.00
Dec. 21.—Road work, A. F. Childress 25.87
Dec. 21.—Road work, Jesse B. Davis 5.25
Dec. 21.—Road work, Reese Blewster 8.00
Dec. 21.—Road work, Ben Armstrong 1.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, Leonard Boyd 1.75
Dec. 29.—Road work, Leonard Boyd 4.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, Floyd Norris 5.25
Dec. 29.—Road work, Jeff Huckberry 3.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, Fenny Huckberry 3.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, J. M. Mims 7.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, W. B. Wyatt 16.60
Dec. 29.—Road work, Lewis Driver 7.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, Boss Noah 3.00
Dec. 29.—Road work, Urshal Mims 3.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, R. N. Roebuck 22.68
Dec. 29.—Lumber, R. N. Roebuck 59.75
Dec. 29.Road work, Bennie Dennis 5.25
Dec. 29.—Road work Harrison Driver 3.50
Dec. 29.—Road work, Lester Downs 8.75
Dec. 29.—Road work, Oscar Glass 11.25
Dec. 29.—Road work, R. J Downs 29.25
Dec. 29.—Hauling gravel, Claud M. Downs 8.75
Dec. 29.—Road work, Grover Dutton 7.85
Dec. 29.—Road work, E. L. Mims 8.00
Dec. 29.—Road work, J. N. Glasscock 9.00
Dec. 29.—Road work, Joe Moore 16.00
Dec. 29.—Road work, J. D. Tippett 42.00
Dec. 29.—Road work, L. C. Reynolds 63.00
Dec. 29.—Road work, Frank Langston 2.00
Dec. 29.—Road work, Harvey Langston 2.00
Dec. 29.—Lumber, Pyron Lumber Co., ... 114.18
Dec. 29.—Road work, George Glass ..... .75

TO CASH RECEIVED From July 1, 1925 to December 31, 1925.—General Fund.

July 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., License 2.44
July 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Deed Tax 346.71
July 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Mtg. Tax 27.36
July 1.—J. Z. Mims, St. fee 41.34
July 21.—J. Z. Mims, Clerk, convict hire 49.04
July 27.—J. Z. Mims, Clerk, convict hire 83.41
Aug. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Mtg. Tax 26.84
Aug. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, J. of P., Deed Tax 23.56
Sept. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, License tax 2.40
Sept. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, Deed tax 12.35
Sept. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, Mt g.tax 15.20
Sept. 7.—W. G. Culp, for telephone 4.50
Sept. 30.—L. H. Reynolds, telephone fee ..... .29
Oct. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, License tax 4.88
Oct. 1.—L. H. Reynolds Mtg. tax 21.24
Oct. 1.—L. H. Reynolds, Deed tax 27.30
Oct. 19.—J. Z. Mims, Clerk St. fee 25.65
Oct. 19.—L. H. Reynolds, com. on telephone ..... .05
Nov. 2.—J. T. Rockett, T. C., Taxes 3,100.96
Nov. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, Deed tax 53.79
Nov. 2.—L. H. Reynolds Mtg. tax 41.38
Nov. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, license tax 1,378.04
Nov. 16.—J. T. Rockett, Taxes 2,210.90
Nov. 23.—L. H. Reynolds, com. on telephone ..... .06
Dec. 1.—J. T. Rockett, Taxes 1,081.68
Dec. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, license tax 433.15
Dec. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, Deed tax 45.66
Dec. 2.—L. H. Reynolds, Mtg. tax 54.24
Dec. 15.—J. T. Rockett, taxes 2,063.88
Dec. 29.—L. H. Reynolds, com. on telephone ..... .14

BY CASH PAID OUT, From July 1, 1925 to December 31, 1925.—General Fund.

July 6.—Typewriter carbon, McQuiddy Ptg. Co., ... 4.11
July 6.—Books, Geo. D. Bernard 30.65
July 6.—Telehone fees, So. Bell Tel. Co., ... 3.90
July 6.—Vat guard, Bill Jones 30.00
July 6.—Court reporter, Porter McKay 76.18
July 10.—Guarding vat, Jim Burnett 3.00
July 10.—Visits to poor house, Dr. S. C. Wood 72.25
July 10.—Commissioner, A. P. Vinson 38.90
July 10.—Clerk, Z. J. Jones 2.00
July 17.—Merchandise, Johnson Drug Co., ... 10.35
July 17.—Inspector, B. M. Killingsworth 90.00
July 17.—Commissioner, J. L. Burnett 73.20
July 17.—Freight, J. W. Franklin 4.50
July 17.—Work on Co. machine., T. E. Carlton 28.90
July 17.—Janitor work, Effie Duke 10.50
July 17.—Manager election, A. M. Attoway 2.00
July 27.—Guarding vat, J. D. Collins 12.00
July 27.—Merchandise, Chilton Hdwe. Co., ... 33.65
July 27.—Merchandise, Gulledge Bros., ... 84.74
July 27.—Merchandise, Maplesville Hdwe. Co., ... 11.20
July 27.—Work for County, Robinson Garage 29.85
July 27.—School Enumerator, J. E. McDowell 2.85
July 27.—Manager, W. R. Houlditch 2.00
July 27.—Manager, J. Dudley Collins 2.00
July 27.—Manager, W. R. Houlditch 2.00
July 31.—Telephone service, So. Bell Telephone Co., 4.80
Aug. 6.—Merchandise, Jemison Hdwe. Co., ... 33.65
Aug. 6.—Blacksmith work, J. W. Beasley 1.55
Aug. 6.—Work on pouper's teeth, J. P. Crumpton 4.00
Aug. 6.—Rebinding book for County, Ben Efaw 123.50
Aug. 18.—Court Reporter, Porter McKay 76.18
Aug. 18.—Guarding vat, John Smith 12.00
Aug. 18.—Solicitor fee, G. C. Walker 50.00
Aug. 18.—Toilet paper, Downs Grocery Co., ... 6.50
Aug. 18.—Stamps, Howard L. Foshee 15.00
Aug. 18.—Damages, Will Arnold 100.00
Aug. 18.—Supervisor work, A. F. Childress 24.75
Aug. 18.—Bal on summons, T. J. Littlejohn 75.65
Aug. 18.—Ex. in Juvenile Court, T.J. Littlejohn 19.50
Aug. 18.—Chief deputy salary, W. G. Culp 375.00
Aug. 18.—Washing blaknets, T. J. Littlejohn 4.50
Aug. 18.—Ex-officio fees, T. J. Littlejohn 150.00
Aug. 18.—Tick Inspector, B. M. Killingsworth 90.00
Aug. 18.—Tick Inspector, B. M. Killingsworth 90.00
Aug. 18.—Advertising, etc., The Union-Banner 441.06
Aug. 18.—Salary for 3 mo., Genie Collins, ... 250.00
Aug. 18.—Vat work, G. W. Lowery 5.00
Aug. 18.—Mdse. for Newton, Baker & Taylor 20.70
Aug. 18.—Keeping poor house, W. C. Burnett 484.27
Aug. 18.—Mdse., Baker & Taylor 17.85
Aug. 18.—Mdse., Jones Hdwe. Co., ... 166.95
Aug. 18.—Commissioner, J. L. Burnett 78.28
Aug. 18.—Salary, G. C. Walker 50.00
Aug. 18.—Commissioner, A. P. Vinson 96.35
Aug. 18.—Blacksmith, T. E. Carlton 39.15
Aug. 18.—Mdse., Wiley Littlejohn 1.20
Aug. 18.—Janitor, Hayes Darby 2.50
Aug. 18.—Ex-officio fees, L. H. Reynolds 200.00
Aug. 18.—Stamps, L. H. Reynolds, ... 3.75
Aug. 18.—Presiding over Court, L. H. Reynolds 83.50
Aug. 18.—Work at court house, Porter Payton 2.00
Aug. 18.—Making chairs, J. H. Pembleton 9.00
Aug. 18.—Work, Solomon Tucker 40.00
Aug. 18.—Freight, etc., L. H. Reynolds 502.16
Aug. 18.—Pauper, Mark Franklin 18.00
Aug. 18.—Parts, Bates Garage 5.50
Aug. 25.—Mdse., Jno. M. Robinson 1.68
Aug. 25.—Ex-officio fees, J. Z. Mims, ... 125.00
Aug. 25.—Commissioner, J. M. Mims 68.50
Aug. 25.—Visit to poor house, S. C. Wood 32.00
Aug. 25.—Dental work for inmates, A. A. Conway 61.00
Aug. 25.—Shop work, A. C. Marcus 2.00
Aug. 25.—Pauper, Mancer Tyus, ... 18.00
Aug. 18.—Making land book, S. M. Pate 550.00
Aug. 18.—Commissioner, T. J. Dorminey 57.00
Sept. 8.—Transfer to road fund, ... 10,000.00
Sept. 9.—Court Reporter, Porter McKay 76.18
Sept. 9.—Election manager, W. T. White 2.00
Sept. 9.—Election Manager, C. M. Foshee 2.00
Sept. 9.—Advertisement, Birmingham News 15.12
Sept. 9.—Oil for July, Gulf Refining Co., ... 274.84
Sept. 9.—Oil, Gulf Refining Co., ... 408.90
Sept. 9.—Hauling, Luther Vance 3.00
Sept. 9.—Shop work, J. E. Teel 1.35
Sept. 9.—Lights, Ala. Power Co., ... 33.01
Sept. 9.—Mdse., Maplesville Hdwe. Co., ... 7.95
Sept. 9.—Cripple child, Mrs. S. M. Dawson 18.00
Sept. 9.—Pauper, Ruby Chasteen 18.00
Sept. 9.—Stamps, Rev. B. Lawrence 7.00
Sept. 9.—Central fees, So. Bell Tel. Co., ... 3.45
Sept. 14.—Janitor, Solomon Tucker 40.00
Sept. 14.—Water, Town of Clanton 158.04
Sept. 14.—Cleaning well at poor house, J. C. Roper 4.00
Sept. 14.—Freight bill, L. H. Reynolds 103.49
Sept. 14.—Cost in Odie Groom case, T. J. Littlejohn 19.25
Sept. 14.—Work for Count, J. B. Farley 33.20
Sept. 14.—Freight, J. W. Franklin 8.50
Sept. 14.—Shop work, T. E. Carlton 27.00
Sept. 14.—Insurance, sheriff's house, G. Calloway 24.75
Sept. 14.—Election manager, T. A. Curry 2.00
Sept. 14.—Supplies, Roberts & Son 12.20
Sept. 21.—Moving paupers, J. M. Gore 5.00
Sept. 21.—Tick Inspection, Ed Smitherman 75.00
Sept. 21.—Vat work,Ed Smitherman 2.50
Sept. 21.—Vat work, G. W. Lowery 7.00
Sept. 21.—Advertisements, Chilton Co. News 15.61
Sept. 21.—Returning officer,J. W. Foshee 2.00
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, W. H. Hayes 2.00
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, L. E. Diefenderfer 2.80
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, J. Wiley Littlejohn 2.00
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, J. T. Retherford 2.60
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, L. H. Vinzant 2.50
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, Loss Robinson 3.60
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, J. W. Abbott 3.60
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, C. B. Huett 2.80
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, M. L. Milford 3.00
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, E. G. Milling 2.80
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, J. L. Easterling 2.80
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, T. J. Griffin 3.40
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, J. S. Jones 2.70
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, J. R. Short 3.70
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, W. S. Cox 2.90
Sept. 21.—Returning officer J. N. Scott 3.20
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, H. H. Armstrong 4.00
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, W. M. D. Oneal 4.40
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, Cleve Watson 3.80
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, T. D. Whitworth 3.00
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, W. M. Spivey 3.80
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, D. O. Manning 3.10
Sept. 21.—Returning officer, J. E. Smitherman 3.10
Sept. 30.—Returning officer, J. F. Anderson 4.20
Sept. 30.—Small pox vaccine, Gilliland Lab. 58.00
Sept. 30.—Plumbing at jail, M. L. Rogers 7.50
Oct. 16.—Reporter certficate, Porter McKay 76.18
Oct. 16.—Returning officer, S. P. Collins 2.80
Oct. 16.—Blacksmith, L. L. Seals 3.00
Oct. 16.—Merchandise, Maplesville Hdwe. Co. 8.59
Oct. 16.—Merchandise, Thorsby Hdwe. Co. 21.36
Oct. 16.—Expense of carrying Laura Davis to Hospital, J. E. Minor 15-10
Oct. 16.—Hauling parts toMaplesville, Ben Childress 2.50
Oct. 16.—Shopwork, John Jones 5.25
Oct. 16.—Central Fee, Sou. Bell Telephone Co. 3.40
Oct. 16.—Work at poor house, Chas. H. Rober 8.00
Oct. 16.—Work at court house, Chas. Rober 4.25
Oct. 16.—Freight, J. W. Franklin 4.00
Oct. 16.—Com. Tel. J. L. Burnette 46.90
Oct. 16.—Freight, W. E. Jacks 3.84
Oct. 16.—Blacksmith work, T. E. Carlton 12.10
Oct. 16.—Hauling to poor house, J. O. Smith 2.00
Oct. 16.—Tick inspection, Ed Smitherman 75.00
Oct. 16.—Trips to poor house, Dr. S. C. Wood 53.55
Oct. 16.—Work at poor house, R. W. Brooks 38.50
Oct. 16.—Janitor, Solomon Tucker 40.00
Oct. 16.—Making list of qualified voters, Audell Burnette 210.65
Oct. 16.—S. M. Pate's bond, Omar Reynolds Agt. 5.00
Oct 16.—J. T. Rockett bond, Omar Reynolds Agt. 345.00
Oct. 16.—Manager, J. L. Burnette 2.00
Oct. 16.—Manager S. J. M. Webb 2.00
Oct. 16.—Manager, W. F. Deshazo 2.00
Oct. 16.—Manager, Howard Oden 2.00
Oct. 16.—Manager, Mrs. G. D. Broadhead 2.00
Oct. 16.—Clerk, Izora Callen Alred 2.00
Oct 16.—Clerk, H. M. Simpson 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, W. B. Foshee 2.00
Oct. 16—Clerk, L. C. Ross 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, W. Y. Keel 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, G. S. Burnett 2.00
Oct. 16—Clerk, Henry Robinson 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, A. F. Mims 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer 2.00
Oct. 16—Clerk, Walter Parnell 2.00
Oct. 16—Clerk, John Childress 2.00
Oct. 16—Clerk, O. L. Devaughn 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, William Dorminey 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, Richard Robinson 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, Joe Bratton 2.00
Oct. 16—Clerk, R. S. Chandler 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, J. C. Culp 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, John Culp 2.00
Oct. 16—Manager, J. H. Cherry 2.00
Oct. 16—Salary for Sept., G. C. Walker 50.00
Oct. 16—Salary for Aug., G. C. Walker 50.00
Oct. 16—Pauper, Joe and Caroline Gray 8.00
Oct. 16—Manager, H. E. Robinson 2.00
Oct. 27—Hardware, Tissier Hdwe. Co. 13.61
Oct. 27—Typewriter, Underwood Typewriter Co. 149.16
Oct. 27—Inquest case, J. W. E. Gulledke 24.30
Oct. 27—Hauling, Grover Jones 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, Mat Vines 2.00
Oct. 27—Clerk, Willie Burnett 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, Bama Cox 2.00
Oct. 27—Clerk, Glennie White 2.00
Oct. 27—Clerk, J. P. Parrish 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, J. M. Grant 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, Julia Parrish 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, Lena Downs 2.00
Oct. 27—Clerk, Mrs. Lonnie Parrish 2.00
Oct. 27—Clerk, Ethel Downs 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, T. L. Robinson 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, M. F. Lett 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, R. N. Wilkins 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, J. E. Moore 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, M. E. Dunsmore 2.00
Oct. 27—Clerk, Thos. C. Woolley 2.00
Oct. 27—Manager, Mrs. Chas. Howard 2.00
Nov. 6—Pauper, Frank Abercombie 12.00
Nov. 6—Clerk, W. H. Veazey 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, W. D. Spigener 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, Dovie Armstrong 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, R. J. Jones 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, W. S. Clark 2.00
Nov. 6—Clerk, A. . Culver 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, J. R. Rucker 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, W. J. Billingsley 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, J. R. Taylor 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, Fate Littlefield 2.00
Nov. 6—Clerk, W. G. Shaw 2.00
Nov. 6—Clerk, Jesse Moates 2.00
Nov. 6—Clerk, J. T. Abbott 2.00
Nov. 6—Clerk, M. F. Wagoner 2.00
Nov. 6—Manager, G. M. Durbin 2.00
Nov. 6—Rent on telephone, Southern Bell Co. 4.05
Nov. 6—Manager, J. Q. Abbott 2.00
Nov. 6—Clerk, Jim Williams 2.00
Nov. 6—Petit juror, J. D. Deason 5.80
Nov. 6—Petit juror, Ben F. Vines 4.10
Nov. 6—Petit juror, J. Lee Billingsley 4.00
Nov. 6—Petit juror, Wm. H. Veazey 4.10
Nov. 6—Petit juror, Tom D. Parnell 5.20
Nov. 6—Petit juror, Henry R. Schurter 5.20
Nov. 6—Petit juror, A. Jack Dennis 4.50
Nov. 6—Petit juror, Malcom Manning 4.00
Nov. 6—Petit juror, B. B. Scott 4.00
Nov. 10—Manager, Wilson Sorrell 2.00
Nov. 10—Manager, T. J. Henderson 2.00
Nov. 10—Manager, G. W. Fox 2.00
Nov. 10—Manager, D. M. Apperson 2.00
Nov. 10—Manager, D. S. Robinson 2.00
Nov. 10—Manager, S. M. Yates 2.00
Nov. 10—Clek, B. M. Killingsworth 2.00
Nov. 10—Manager, E. Robinson 2.00
Nov. 10—Manager, J. N. Dennis 2.00
Nov. 10—Grand jury, Ben F. Edwards 12.20
Nov. 10—Grand jury, Ed E. Edwards 13.00
Nov. 10—Grand jury, Zack Y. Abney 14.20
Nov. 10—Grand jury, J. Luther Lecroy 13.20
Nov. 10—Grand jury, J. Allison Sims 13.20
Nov. 10—Grand jury, Robert W. Heflin 12.50
Nov. 10—Grand jury, D. M. Apperson 14.00
Nov. 10—Grand jury, L. H. Lowery 12.80
Nov. 10—Grand jury, Jeff L. Ruffin 12.00
Nov. 10—Grand jury, Payton D. Wilson 12.00
Nov. 10—Grand jury, D. C. Alred 12.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Ed W. Miller 3.10
Nov. 10—Petit, jury Jasper Robinson 4.10
Nov. 10—Petit jury, J. Wallace Wood 13.30
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Geo. W. Fox 13.80
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Zebudee McDowell 12.40
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Will E. Maddox 9.10
Nov. 10—Petit jury, D. Butler Lowe 12.10
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Jim M. Price 13.60
Nov. 10—Petit jury, John W. Cox 10.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Curry D. Thomas 9.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, John H. Benson 12.90
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Ben Sims 9.10
Nov. 10—Petit jury, J. Frank Wells 13.20
Nov. 10—Petit jury, W. Elijah Mims 12.60
Nov. 10—Pttit jury, Omar O. Gray 13.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, J. Donald Merchant 12.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Duncan O. Manning 13.10
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Geo. D. Strock 13.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, J. Monroe Parrish 12.70
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Oscar F. Davenport 13.40
Nov. 10—Petit jury, W. W. Bishop 9.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Jim W. Gay 14.80
Nov. 10—Petit jury, W. M. D. O'Neal 15.10
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Will W. Coburn 13.70
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Walter D. Taylor 12.80
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Columbus H. Robinson 12.70
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Wm. J. Billingsley 12.80
Nov. 10—Petit jury, D. S. Robinson 12.80
Nov. 10—Petit jury, J. Ed Connell 15.70
Nov. 10—Petit jury, John R. Robinson 18.60
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Cras. C. Gay 421.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, John L. Conway 19.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Will L. Nix 20.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Geo. T. Dickinson 19.80
Nov. 10—Petit jury, John F. Anderson 20.00
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Will J. Huett 19.10
Nov. 10—Petit jury, Tilman J. Deason 12.80
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Sam M. Yates 15.80
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Jesse W. Collum 16.40
Nov. 17—Petit jury, R. S. Chandler 16.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Benj. G. Blalock 3.60
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Robert W. Heflin 3.50
Nov. 17—Petit jury, John D. Armstrong 3.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, R. Lee Ousley 11.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, J. Leonard Hayes 12.90
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Ed Y. Conway 13.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Charlie H. Robinson 13.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, E. H. Waldrop 14.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, E. C. Groom 13.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Crayton B. Lenoir 12.90
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Red McAffee 14.30
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Peyton C. Jones 12.40
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Watt S. Willis 12.10
Nov. 17—Petit jury, J. Wiley Cooper 12.50
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Paul J. Jones 13.60
Nov. 17—Petit jury, J. Henry Eiland 12.70
Nov. 17—Petit jury, C. A. Williamson 12.40
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Wade H. Harris 15.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Harry B. Roper 12.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, G. Will Duke 13.30
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Wilson Z. Hodges 12.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Sam P. Collins 12.90
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Elijah Wyatt 12.50
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Milton C. Smith 12.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Henry M. Burnett 12.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, M. Whit Brown 13.30
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Will A. Edwards 12.10
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Robt. L. Williams 12.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, J. H. (Dock) Owens 12.90
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Elijah J. (Bud) Robinson 12.50
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Eli I. Moates 12.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, J. Newt Childress 13.60
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Durwood S. Jones 14.10
Nov. 17—Petit jury, H. C. Womble 15.50
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Dee Broadhead 12.90
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Sam L. Broadhead 12.90
Nov. 17—Petit jury, John W. Cagle 14.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, R. P. McKinney 13.50
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Evan F. Popwell 13.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, F. T. Atkinson 13.30
Nov. 17—Petit jury, J. G. Wood 12.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Rufus M. Sorrell 12.80
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Aurelius Attoway 13.20
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Tandy W. Robinson 13.00
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Sanford M. DeVaughn 12.40
Nov. 17—Petit jury, Newt A. Gray 12.00

(Continued to Page 11)

Registration Notice

—o—

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of "An Act to Provide for the Registration of Electors," enacted by the Legislature of 1920, the Registrars of the County of Chilton, Alabama, do hereby give Notice that the following Appointments are set for the purpose of Registering those qualified under the law to Register as Electors:

Precinct 2—Jemison	January 14, 1926
Precinct 13—Providence	January 15, 1926
Precinct 13—Minooka	January 16, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse	January 18 to January 30, inclusive, 1926
Precinct 16—Providence	February 1, 1926
Precinct 11—Cane Creek	February 2, 1926
Precinct 1—Mullins schoolhouse	February 3, 1926
Precinct 12—Mineral Springs	February 4, 1926
Precinct 12—Robinson's Store	February 5, 1926
Precinct 9—Thorsby	February 6, 1926
Precinct 6—Enterprise	February 8, 1926
Precinct 10—Cooper	February 9, 1926
Precinct 5—Verbena	February 10, 1926
Precinct 5—Mt. Creek	February 11, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse	February 12 to February 18, inclusive, 1926

—o—

No one can Register except in his or her own Precinct and at the Courthouse in Clanton, Alabama.

—o—

J. W. E. GULLEDGE, Chairman,
E. H. ADAMS,
J. L. JOHNSON,
Registrars of Chilton County, Ala.

REPORT, TREASURER, CHILTON COUNTY

(Continued from Page 10)

Nov. 17—Petit jury, Enoch H. Adams 3.90
Nov. 17—Reporter, Porter McKay 76.18
Nov. 17—Bailiff, W. B. Foshee 12.00
Nov. 17—Bailiff, J. L. Easterling 15.00
Nov. 17—Bailiff, J. H. Foshee 27.00
Nov. 17—Grand jury, Newton A. Vinson 12.60
Nov. 17—Grand jury, J. M. Deramus 13.40
Nov. 17—Grand jury, Jim L. Scroggins 12.00
Nov. 17—Manager, Oliver Mullins 2.00
Nov. 17—Manager, A. M. Attoway 2.00
Nov. 17—Clerk, W. T. White 2.00
Nov. 17—Clerk, O. R. Mullins 2.00
Nov. 17—Manager, Hill Foshee 2.00
Nov. 17—Manager, J. H. Carter 2.00
Nov. 17—Clerk, W. H. Harris 2.00
Nov. 17—Manager, John R. Robinson 2.00
Nov. 17—Manager, John S. Dennis 2.00
Nov. 17—Manager, F. D. Wilson 2.00
Nov. 17—Manage, J. S. Kendrick 2.00
Nov. 17—Work, B. C. Glass 100.00
Nov. 17—Janitor Oct. 9 to Nov. 9 at court house and jail, Effie Duke 29.29
Nov. 23—Bailiff, W. S. Cox 12.00
Nov. 23—Petit jury, Lewis W. Allen 16.30
Nov. 23—Petit jury, James L. Abbott 13.80
Nov. 23—Grand jury, Henry E. Robinson 12.80
Nov. 23—Grand jury, Houston Rogers 13.20
Nov. 23—Grand jury, L. G. (Tobe) Posey 13.80
Nov. 23—Stationery, Marshall & Bruce 961.42
Nov. 23—Merchandise, Alred Drug Co. 26.10
Nov. 23—Clerk, J. W. Howard 2.00
Nov. 23—Clerk, Lee Bookholdt 2.00
Nov. 23—Clerk, Mrs. J. E. Dennis 2.00
Nov. 23—Clerk, R. E. Jones 2.00
Nov. 23—Clerk, W. J. Gentry 2.00
Nov. 23—Pauper, Mrs. S. M. Dawson 18.00
Nov. 23—Freight, J. W. Franklin 2.00
Nov. 23—50 tons of coal and hauling sand for the county, Wiley Littlejohn 375.00
Nov. 23—Merchandise, Jones Hardware Co. 264.30
Nov. 23—Mercrandise, Jones Hardware Co. 815.21
Nov. 23—Attendance circuit court, T. J. Littlejohn 3.00
Nov. 23—Ex-officio fees, T. J. Littlejohn 150.00
Nov. 23—Service in juvenile court, T. J. Littlejohn 4.50
Nov. 23—Advertising, Union-Banner 711.89
Nov. 23—Work for county, E. W. Danforth 7.50
Nov. 23—Service at court, T. J. Littlejohn 6.50
Nov. 23—Service in inquest, T. J. Littlejohn 5.00
Nov. 23—Keeping poor house, W. C. Burnett 577.77
Nov. 23—Expense carrying Robt. McGraw to hospital, T. J. Littlejohn 22.00
Nov. 23—Salary 3 months, Genie Collins 250.00
Nov. 23—Deputy sheriff, W. G. Culp 375.00
Nov. 23—Com. fee, J. M. Mims 8.00
Nov. 23—Tick inspector, Ed Smitherman 75.00
Nov. 23—Com. fee, J. M. Mims 143.60
Nov. 23—Com. fee, A. P. Vinsin 47.50
Nov. 23—Visit to jail, R. J. Eiland 4.00
Nov. 23—Erecting rail for clerk's desk, J. W. Teel 2.00
Nov. 23—Plumbing, M. L. Rogers 7.5
Nov. 23—Plumbing, M. L. Rogers 7.50
Nov. 23—Coffin for Reed Gibson, Mullins & Moore 30.00
Nov. 23—Making list of voters, Audell Burnett 20.00
Nov. 23—Janitor, Solomon Tucker 16.50
Nov. 23—Paint'n, L. H. Reynolds 5.20
Nov. 23—Freight, L. H. Reynolds 8.2
Nov. 23—Ex-officio fees, L. H. Reynolds 200.00
Nov. 23—Presiding over court, L. H. Reynolds 65.50
Nov. 23—Freight, L. H. Reynolds 11.30
Nov. 23—Pauper, Mark Franklin 18.00
Nov. 23—Pauper, Ruby Chasteen 18.00
Nov. 23—Pauper, Mancer Tyus 18.00
Nov. 27—Manager, T. B. Minor 2.00
Nov. 27—Stamps, B. Lawrence 6.00
Nov. 27—Stationery, Roberts & Son 294.40
Nov. 27—Work, H. P. Willis 12.00
Nov. 27—Clerk, C. C. Conway 2.00
Nov. 27—Right of way, J. Watts Moore 150.00
Dec. 3—Merchandise, Mercantile Paper Co. 47.38
Dec. 3—Merchandise, Mercantile Paper Co. 159.49
Dec. 3—Manager, Ernest Mims 2.00
Dec. 3—Central fee, Bell Telephone Co. 4.60
Dec. 14—Clerk, C. W. Scott 2.00
Dec. 14—Clerk, Clarence Hayes 2.00
Dec. 14—Manager, H. B. Glenn 2.00
Dec. 14—Manager Newt Tracy 2.00
Dec. 14—Stationery, Geo. D. Barnard 4.41
Dec. 14—Pauper, Joe Gray 4.00
Dec. 14—Pauper, Caroline Gray 4.00
Dec. 14—Pauper, K. L. Edwards 18.00
Dec. 14—Account, Farmers Hardware Co. 26.00
Dec. 14—See order on page 546, Book 9, Sec. 350-351, School Code of Ala., 1925, Jno. C. Page, Treas. School Fund 564.82
Dec. 14—Cost in service of Culp case, T. J. Littlejohn 10.15
Dec. 14—Expense of carrying Long to hospital, T. J. Littlejohn 15.70
Dec 14—Washing blankets, T. J. Littlejohn 3.75
Dec. 14—Expense of Victoria Headley case, T. J. Littlejohn 7.50
Dec. 14—Pruett case, T. J. Littlejohn 3.00
Dec. 14—Mattie Green case, T. J. Littlejohn 4.00
Dec. 14—Attendance of July court, T. J. Littlejohn 270.0
Dec. 14—Martin case, T. J. Littlejorn 7.50
Dec. 14—Janitor work, Effie Duke 40.00
Dec. 14—Solicitor fee for October and November, G. C. Walker 100.00
Dec. 14—Reporter, Porter McKay 76.18
Dec. 14—Bailiff, J. H. Foshee 6.00
Dec. 14—Bailiff, J. L. Gore 12.00
Dec. 17—Freight, J. Z. Mims ..... .83
Dec. 14—Clek, Reed Mullins 2.00
Dec. 17—Manager, J. D. Collins 2.00
Dec. 17—Manager, Will Moort 2.00
Dec. 17—Manager, Tobe Posey 2.00
Dec. 17—Manager, W. H. Gibson 2.00
Dec. 17—Manager, W. W. Robinson 2.00
Dec. 17—Pine, H. P. Willis 3.00
Dec. 17—Freight, J. Z. Mims ..... .77
Dec. 17—Toilet paper, Downs Grocery Co. 13.00
Dec. 17—Ex-officio fees, J. Z. Mims 125.00
Dec. 17—Com. fee, T. J. Dorminey 47.45
Dec. 17—Cost condemnation care, J. Z. Mims 554.05
Dec. 17—Damage in condemnation case, J. Z. Mims 74.20
Dec. 17—Tick inspector, Ed Smitherman 75.00
Dec. 17—Merchandise, Baker & Taylor 24.88
Dec. 17—Com. fee, J. L. Burnett 56.95
Dec. 17—Pine, H. P. Willis 18.00
Dec. 17—Blacksmith, T. E. Carleton 16.10
Dec. 17—Pauper, Joe and Caroline Gray 8.00
Dec. 17—Pauper, Margaret Johnson 6.00
Dec. 21—Clerk, Bob Owens 2.00
Dec. 21—Manager, W. R. Houlditch 2.00
Dec. 21—Manager, B. B. Armstrong 2.00
Dec. 21—Clerk, E. L. Lenoir 2.00
Dec. 21—Manager, J. M. Robinson 2.00
Dec. 21—Light bill, Ala. Power Co. 38.64
Dec. 21—Mule hurt, B. F. Clark 10.00
Dec. 21—Examination, Dr. R. J. Eiland 2.00
Dec. 21—Visits to jail, T. J. Marcus 37.25
Dec. 21—Visits to poor house, S. C. Wood 77.85
Dec. 23.—Transferred to Road Fund 7,000.00
Dec. 29—Returning officer, W. M. D. O'Neal 5.10
Dec. 29—Manager, J. M. Langston 2.00
Dec. 29—Examination, Dr. J. P. Hayes 5.00
Dec. 29—Manager, J. M. Langston 2.00
Dec. 29—Clerk, J. M. Langston 2.00
Dec. 29—Clerk, Thos. C. Hall 2.00
Dec. 29—Insurance on poor house, C. R. Mullins 71.08
Dec. 29—Service in condemnation case, Chilton County vs. J. E. Gowan, et als., in eight cases, Grady Reynolds 200.00
Dec. 29—Com. fee, A. P. Vinson 39.55
Dec. 29—Clerk, J. M. Langston 2.00
Dec. 29—Clerk, J. M. Langston 2.00

$35,498.19

TO CASH RECEIVED from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1925—Land Redemption Fund.

Aug. 1—L. H. Reynolds,, Judge of Probate, land redemption ..... $ 27.29
Sept. 1—L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate, land redemption 103.26
Sept. 1—L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate, land redemption 40.84
Dec. 2—L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate, land redemption 14.15

$185.54

BY CASH PAID OUT from July 1, 1925, to December 31, 1925—Land Redemption fund.

July 10—Land redemption, J. Z. Mims ..... $ 27.99
Aug. 18—Land redemption, Jno. T. Ellis 105.91
Sept. 9—Land redemption, J. D. Cleckler 41.88
Oct. 16—Land redemption, J. Z. Mims 8.50
Nov. 23—Land redemption, O. O. Roper 10.94
Dec. 3—Land redemption, T. J. Rockett 3.57

$198.79

The following is a true and correct list of registered claims against Chilton County, and unless otherwise specified, are due and payable without interest:

The following road warrants bear 6 per cent interest:

W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... $500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1933 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1931 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1931 ..... 500.00
W. H. Wynn, due January 15, 1926 ..... 500.00
W. H. Wynn, due January 15, 1926 ..... 500.00
W. H. Wynn, due January 15, 1926 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1939 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1939 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1939 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1939 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1939 ..... 500.00
W. T. Taylor, due January 15, 1939 ..... 500.00
W. H. Wynn, due January 15, 1929 ..... 500.00
W. H. Wynn, due January 15, 1926 ..... 500.00
W. H. Wynn, due January 15, 1926 ..... 500.00
W. H. Wynn, due January 15, 1927 ..... 500.00
Funding road and bridge funds, due Jan. 1, 1947, with interest at 5 per cent per annum 200,000.00
Sims Drug Co. 2.80
Ernest Murphy 2.50
G. A. Coleman 24.04
L. E. Coburn 3.06
J. H. Gore & Son 3.05
C. B. White 10.00
C. L. Brown 2.00
H. M. Nix 2.00
W. M. Price 2.00
S. A. Curry 2.00
C. J. Jones 2.00
J. M. Nix 2.00
H. F. Ratliff 2.00
R. M. Hubbard 2.00
H. M. Nix 2.00
E. W. Honeycutt 2.00
S. A. Curry 2.00
J. P. Dykes 2.00
Jefferson County 4.68
G. W. Wilson 29.59
W. D. Horsley 2.00
A. R. Cooper 2.00
G. D. Retherford 2.00
G. W. Campbell 2.00
Rush Curry 2.00
M. M. Ratliff 2.00
T. E. Holsomback 4.91
Educational Exchange Co. 1,284.10
Howard Roper 2.00
Lum Williams 2.00
J. P. Jones 2.00
W. T. Womble 2.00
C. S. Edwards 2.00
W. E. Martin 2.00
Jim Patterson 2.00
H. H. Armstrong 2.00
Fonza Williams 2.00
W. C. McGraw 2.00
Alison Sims 2.00
T. G. Milling 2.00
J. B. Moore 2.00
P. O. West 2.00
Burnie Killingsworth 2.00
Rush Curry 2.00
K. M. McKinney 6.50
A. F. Mims 4.55
J. J. Vanderslice 1.35
W. O. Perry 4.97
T. A. Powell 1.65
Jas. A. Gaylor 2.85
C. J. Butram 8.55
A. F. Mims 2.20
J. P. Bean 3.47
Clarence Vines 1.20
Maurice Anderson 2.37
E. N. Adams 2.92
Grady Burnett 1.97
J. J. Vanderslice ..... .67
Mrs. C. M. Williams 5.15
V. H. Foshee 6
G. A. Colley 4.10
Herring-Hall Safe Co. 3.50
Mrds. Pearl Attoway 2.00
Geo. T. Guy 2.00
F. V. Popwell 2.00
W. W. Bishop 2.00
V. B. Champion 10.00
C. B. Cox 2.00
O. R. Mullins 2.00
J. A. Sims 2.00
F. R. Woodyard 2.00
D. C. Alred 2.00
C. M. Foshee 2.00
G. W. Fox 2.00
R. E. Fitts 2.00
J. J. Dubose 2.00
M. Robinson 2.00
J. N. McKee 2.00
L. R. Sawyer 2.00
S. A. Curry, sr. 2.00
Rush Curry 2.00
J. S. Bone 2.00
S. E. Waldrup 2.00
Mrs. A. T. Mitchell 2.00
S. B. Powell 2.00
S. L. Arledge 2.00
J. T. Davis 2.00
E. Robinson 2.00
E. C. Cox 9.00
J. W. Maddox 9.50
Wright Ramsey 31.25
Jack Mongolf 1.88
C. R. Roy 1.50
T. L. McKee 10.00
Nivens & Shaw 4.16
J. L. Gore 11.00
J. L. Gore 15.00
J. W. Foshe 6.00
John Jacks ..... .75
J. L. Wilson 3.40
W. H. Conway 2.00
W. R. Clements 2.00
W. H. Cofer 2.00
S. E. Waldrup 2.00
W. T. White 2.00
J. H. Green 2.00
J. L. Burnett 2.00
J. L. Patterson 2.00
B. L. Glasscock 2.00
E. F. Conway 2.00
J. D. Harell 2.00
H. H. Armstrong 2.00
W. D. Nix 2.00
W. H. Hayes 2.00
J. M. Parrish 2.00
G. C. Powell 2.00
M. M. Abrams 6.00
A. H. Mims 2.00
Will Cooper 4.00
J. B. Easterling 1.50
G. O. Foshee 4.70
J. E. Cobb 17.75
W. T. White 3.00
Mrs. V. J. Gragg 73.25
Mrs. W. A. Gulledge 10.25
J. D. Rudd 5.00
Jno. F. Pool 9.25
Ralph Calloway 10.00
J. A. Sample 5.75
A. F. Childress 19.00
J. H. Gillespie 15.50
S. L. Arledye 5.25
J. P. Dykes 5.25
E. G. Caldwell 9.00
Chilton Hdwe. Co. 5.60
J. B. Crane 5.00
Downs Hdwe. Co 36.95
J. L. Abbott 6.50
J. A. M. Jacks 1.00
W. D. Lovelady 19.30
Wess Williams 4.00
W. C. Dyer 39.97
T. E. Carleton 2.75
W. C. Dyer 2.00
Miss Eva Foshee 2.00
T. J. Deason 2.00
Eugene Mullins 2.00
J. O. Mize 2.00
G. W. Fox 2.00
J. H. Hodgens 2.00
J. A. Mims 2.00
W. T. Hand 2.00
J. P. Gentry 2.00
Athur Martin 2.00
B. H. Jones 2.00
J. L. Wilson 2.00
A. L. Foshee 2.00
A. L. Williams 2.00
Walter Jones 2.00
W. W. Cobern 2.00
Joe Mooe 2.00
W. Y. Williams r2.00
C. M. Foshee 2.00
Hill Foshee 2.00
A. L. Pipe 2.00
H. T. Gregg 2.00
W. J. Ruddick 2.00
W. H. Foshee 2.00
A. F. Mims 2.00
H. M. Nix 3.30
Bean Brothers 27.83
W. J. Ruddick 9.85
W. C. Jones 9.70
Will R. Clements 4.85
H. A. E. Smith 3.90
W. G. Conway 5.20
E. N. Adams 5.05
O. M. Martin 4.10
J. J. Vanderslice 1.15
Vida Lumber Co. 8.78
C. L.Wilkins 5.25
E. L. McKinney 1.75
Tobe Varden 8.75
Grady Sutley 2.00
W. A. Glass 2.00
Y. T. Busby 2.00
Geo. D. Barnard Sta Co. 216.53
W. J. Armstrong 2.00
Dixie Printing Co. 10.13
Mrs. A. C. Pyron 3.15
A. B. Abernathy 1.90
Allison Sims 1.00
J. M. Robinson 14.25
John Childress 43.20
C. C. Atkinson 27.69
T. G. Milling 14.10
E. E. Edwards 5.00
C. H. Parnell 20.08
C. H. Parnell 20.62
Frank Perry 8.00
Ben F. Vines 2.00
S. E. Waldrop 2.00
J. J. Pickens 2.00
W. H. Foshee 2.00
R. M. Sorrell 2.00
J. T. Guy 2.00
G. A. Coleman 2.00
Ralph Calloway 2.00
J. H. Green 2.00
S. M. Yates 2.00
W. G. J. Dorminey 2.00
Richard Robinson 2.00
J. W. Bailey 2.00
G. C. Veazy 2.00
Grady Culp 2.00
Celie Smitherman 18.00
Remington Typewriter Co. 107.50
J. Bice, Treasure 37.50
J. Bice, Treasure 82.20
C. W. White 2.00
Miss Dunkin Williams 18.00
Sanford Clark 1.05
Sanford Clark 1.00
Syntha Littleton 18.00
Geo. R. Moore 82.50
R. A. McLeod 14.00
G. D. Retrerford 30.00
J. D. Culp 13.00
J. E. Gowan 10.00
Chilton Hdwe. Co. 13.00
Clanton Produce Co. 7.00
Johnson Drug Co. 3.00
A. R. Duke 28.00
T. M. Taylor 79.19
T. L. Lecroy 2.00
A. T. C. Smith 2.00
Geo. Traywick 2.00
Jack Vines 2.00
A. Z. Bean 2.00
J. W. Mims 2.00
J. H. Jackson 2.00
Charlie Bell 2.00
J. E. Easterling 2.00
D. M. Apperson 2.00
W. H. Foshee 2.00
Burtie Parrish 3.00
Calvin Parrish 5.00
Thorsby Hdwe. Co. 4.32
A. R. Seals 8.50
F. H. Brown 4.22
J. T. McMillan 6.00
Moody McGee 14.00
C. L. Hayes 35.40
J. A. Huett 16.32
J. Watts Moore 4.50
J. J. Headley 75.15
L. J. Perry 50.00
Twin City Co. 36.61
Mullins & Moore 2.20
Howard L. Foshee 7.10
E. G. Caldwell 78.30
W. C. Jones 2.00
Mullins & Moore 17.50
Foote & Davies Co. 37.32
J. T. Davis 2.00
Chilton Hdwe. Co. 37.50
W. H. Harris 90.00
W. H. Harris 360.00
W. C. Mims 6.00
W. E. Deason 126.00
J. R. Askins 12.00
J. M. Mahan 45.00
C. C. Dennis 6.00
Dowdell Johnson 15.00
W. E. Hayes 21.00
Jones Varner 9.00
O. C. Blackmon 30.00
J. T. Jones 3.00
J. L. Downs 3.00
J. M. Parrish 33.00
J. H. O'Kelly 9.00
John Sanders 15.00
B. F. Dykes 15.00
T. L. McKee 30.00
T. L. McKee 18.00
J. Wiley Foshee 9.00
W. D. Burnett 24.00
J. L. Patterson 54.00
G. D. Retherford 9.00
G. C. Powell 30.00
Arthur Willis 12.00
Briggs Crumjton 21.00
J. L. Downs 3.00
W. M. D. O'Neal 45.00
T. C. Maherg 12.00
Frank Martin 42.00
A. Z. Bean 15.00
Celia Smitherman 12.00
J. D. Gay 3.50
Woodson Robin 65.00
Russell Grader Co. 548.20
Tissier Hdwe. Co. 49.50
Union Iron Works 7.50
H. L. Allen & Co. 18.33
J. H. Ratliff 1.50
Joe Wright 1.50
Guy O'Brien 1.50
R. E. Atchison 19.20
Foote & Davies Co. 37.32
J. A. Barnett 27.68
B. G. Jones 2.00
J. P. Gentry 2.00
W. H. Wilson 2.00
J. Mell Martin 2.00
Pauline Robinson 2.00
L. D. Bullard 2.00
G. W. Coburn 2.00
J. C. Coburn 2.00
T. D. Parnell 2.00
S. P. Collins 2.00
E. N. Bentley 2.00
Alfred Cofer 2.00
J. W. Bailey 2.00
W. G. Conway 2.00
W. G. Shaw 2.00
E. G. Caldwell 2.00
W. G. Conway 2.00
P. O. West 2.00
J. B. Wiggins 2.00
W. H. Rayborn 2.00
J. N. Ervin 2.00
T. W. Billingsley 2.00
H. B. Oliver 2.00
Sid Gibson 2.00
R. M. Foshee 2.00
R. L. Wilkins 2.00
J. A. Jones 2.00
J. R. Rucker 29.50
H. B. Roper 17.00
W. J. Gentry 3.55
D. L. Gilmore 1.50
C. N. Henley 18.00
K. L. Edwards 12.00
G. W. Jones 2.00
W. D. Nix 2.80
J. H. Martin 17.00
C. T. Walker 9.12
Jno. M. Ellison 10.00
Maplesville Hdwe Co. 5.95
Frank Willis 3.00
A. M. Attoway 2.00
C. L. Hayes 2.00
Clarence Hayes 2.00
C. R. Mullins 2.00
J. W. Howad 2.00
J. H. Carter 2.00
W. M. Oden 2.00
M. E. Dunsmore 2.00
D. S. Robinson 2.00
W J. Gentry 2.00
Wm. Dorminey 2.00
W. G. Conway 2.00
T. B. Miner 2.00
Mose Donovan 2.00
Perry & Buckley Co. 12.53
L. D. Easterling 2.00
Amos Harrell 8.00
Jesse McDaniel 1.75
Sid Gibson 4.65
A. M. Mims 1.50
Miss Kate Smith 1.15
Stanley Hayes ..... .75
Gatsie Wilson 12.00
F. M. Kelley 5.27
Newt Henley 18.00
C. T. Price ..... .43
J. F. Anderson 36.85
J. T. Abbott 4.05
W. A. Moore 16.50
F. H. Brown 9.95
J. L. Burnett 42.30
Supreme Court of Alabama 16.75
H. B. Roper 6.26
J. W. Teel 1.35
Walter Gray 1.00
S. M. Edwards 8.47
Farmers Hdwe. Co. 9.15
Will Cooper 2.00
Newton Dennis 1.00
Gulledge Bros. 29.20
Perry & Buckley 1.10
K. L. Edwards 18.00
J. H. Plier 3.50
J. A. Huett 15.84
Robinson Lbr. Co. 34.66
L. L. Seals 1.65
Standard Printing Co. 7.20
Standard Printing Co. 65.00
W. H. Conway 2.00
C. C. Conway 2.00
C. L. Hayes 2.00
J. N. Ervin 2.00
J. P. Gentry 2.00
T. H. Neighbors 2.00
Mary E. Oliver 2.00
W. H. Strock 2.00
Mrs. Lee Robinson 2.00
Mrs. Agnes Yeargan 2.00
Dock Messer 2.00
Horace Popwell 2.00
F. I. Popwell 2.00
R. F. Atkinson 2.00
C. L. Wilkins 2.00
Blossom Crumpton 2.00
W. M. Oden 2.00
Harvey Gentry 2.00
C. T. Walker 2.00
Sam Shoults 2.00
G. S. Burnett 2.00
Mollie Sessions 2.00
Mrs. E. R.Piper 2.00
J.C.Dennis 2.00
S.J.Dupriest 2.00
Perry Robinson 2.00
J. P. Bean 2.00
A. B. Retherford 2.00
W. G. Conway 2.00
W. R. Redding 2.00
Z. J. Jones 2.00
Joe Culp 2.00
J. Mid Mims 2.00
J. M. Parrish 2.00
J. A. Hayes 7.50
Underwood Typewriter Co. 53.03
Laura Ann Sims 4.00
Martha Roberts 4.00
Mrs. S. M. Dawson 18.00
Frank Abercrombie 12.00
Bates Garage 1.55
Cermo Mfg. Co. 21.11
L. D. Popwell 5.00
J. W. Franklin 2.25
Standard Printing Co. 150.00
Marshall & Bruce 16.00
J. L. Burnett 40.20
T. E. Carleton 8.60
W. M. D. O'Neal 25.92
Sou. Bell Tel. Co. 3.45
Effie Duke 21.56
W. G. Glass 3.75
Charlie Foshee 26.00
Houston Lowery 1.50
Harris Williams ..... .75
J. M. Wyatt 4.00
Horace Popwell 2.00
Clyde Chandler ..... .75
W. G. Glass ..... .75
Jack Goff ..... .75
A. Price 4.25
Cooper Merc. Co. ..... .70
W. C. Friday 4.35
Alphus Moore 4.50
W. A. Foshee 5.50
N. L. Miner ..... .75
E. L. Jones 2.65
Roary Jones 4.00
Enoch Headley 1.75
Robert Bowlane 11.00
L. W. Aycock 5.00
John Hall ..... .50
M. C. McSwain 7.34
Leonard Culp 4.80
G. S. Minor 11.25
Joe Moore 24.50
J. W. Beasley 1.50
W. A. Barnett 8.00
Burnett & Moore 4.80
Grady Reynolds 200.00
Leonard Boyd 13.63
George Burnett 1.50
Perry Gore 60.00
Perry Gore 101.25
Mrs. John Collins 1.60
J. M. Mahan 27.50
W. M. D. O'Neal 20.24
O. F. Davenport 1.75
W. G. Rasberry 4.44
R. L. Veazy 1.75
Span Jones 24.00
Cliffofrd Chidlress 39.50
Jesse Hayes 4.37
D. I. Deramus 3.00
James Spear 5.25
L. M. Nation 4.81
Lum Williams 6.00
W. H. Veazey 20.00
Russell Grader Co. 158.80
P. M. Martin 4.00
J. M. Deramus 13.25
J. R. Mitchell 8.75
S. R. Barnes 12.00
Dock Bryant 5.25
Abe Smith 5.25
W. G. Vinson 12.00
Ed Little 5.25
Henry Patterson 16.00
J. W. Harrison 3.37
J. A. Sample 4.00
J. T. O'Neal 1.75
W. M. D. O'Neal 11.25
L. B. Crocker 3.50
W. M. D. O'Neal 31.25
W. T. Ward 27.50
Clifton Crane 2.25
Arthur Green 7.00
Oliver Smith 5.50
Martin Wright 5.25
W. A. Littlejohn 27.00
V. M. Mims 3.50
W. G. Taylor 6.75
Paul Littlejohn 49.50
J. L. Conway 7.00
W. H. Wilson 17.50
J. A. Sample 18.00
Alphus Dennis 1.50
Henry Patterson 3.50
Elijah Smitherman 5.25
Tom Smitherman 5.25
H. L. Ratliff 15.75
J. B. Crane 19.50
Claudie Smitherman 5.25
Oscar Turner 6.00
Dave Wilson 6.00
T. H. Langston 6.00
Charlie Wilson 4.50
Walter Wilson 16.00
Harley Wilson 4.50
John Langston 6.00
T. G. Wyatt 9.00
J. M. Wyatt 6.00
Bascum Driver 12.00
W. C. Robinson 15.00
A. L. Bowles 38.50
D. W. Jones 42.00
E. B. Culpepper 45.50
Guy Williams 33.00
G. W. Lewis 30.25
J. M. Gore 4.00
Burgin Ray 49.50
G. W. Melton 18.75
J. J. Hayes 6.00
W. M. Cassel 8.00
G. W. Melton 18.75
Harvey Melton 1.75
W. E. Jacks 42.50
R. W. Wrigmht 24.75
E. F. Klinner 27.00
J. F. Bearden 4.50
James Robinson 2.00
C. R. Deason 5.25
W. H. Wilson 65.00
Rufus Childress 57.74
Charlie Porter 3.00
Lussie Burnett 16.00
J. T. Childress 17.98
Lussie Burnett 13.12
Grady Wallace 30.00
M. C. Moore 30.00
W. A. Moore 19.00
Dennis Burnett 14.00
Jimmie Ward 1.50
Houston Ray 1.50
J. D. Gentry 3.00
Grover Price 1.50
W. E. Childress 3.50
Crit Glass 3.00
M. C. Childress 4.00
B. F. Rasberry 14.00
B. F. Rasbery 9.00
Allen Waldrup 4.50
John Davenport 4.50
W. E. Jacks 4.51
Miles Benson 7.50
R. M. Benson 20.50

Edgar B. Elebash
(Elebash Jewelry Co.)
REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted
Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

Wanted To Buy
500 HEAD of CATTLE

I want to buy 500 head of Cattle, all kinds. Will Pay the Best Market Price; also, will trade Milch Cows for Dry Cattle.

Bay Thickett

Clanton - - - - - - - Alabama

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

W. M. U. QUARTERLY MEETING

The W. M. U. Quarterly Meeting of Chilton County Association will be held at New Salem Church, three miles southeast of Thorsby, on January 21. The Young People's Meeting will be held at Thorsby Baptist Church, January 16. We hope to have good crowds at both meetings.—Mrs. W. J. Billingsley, Supt.

——PBG——

A. A. POINDEXTER'S GOLDEN SEAL TONIC

—o—

Successfully used for twenty-four years as the Household's Greatest Friend. It is unequaled for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nausea, Colic, Sour Stomach and Heart Burn.

It is a Body Builder. Get it at Upchurch Drug Company, Clanton, Ala.

Sanford Barber Shop

Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

NEW SALEM

—?—

We are glad to announce that the work of the Kingdom at this place is showing signs of progress. At our last conference we had an old time confession meeting. Several of our members got right with the church and their Lord. We believe that if more of our members would take this step that our church would have a greater power.

On next Sunday, January 17, there will be an ordination service, for the purpose of ordaining Bro. Ben Duke as a member of our Board of Deacons. Bro. Duke is an earnest and devoted Christian. We believe that the church is fortunate to have him. We earnestly hope that every member will be present next Sunday and bring at least one visitor, and start the new year with a greater Sunday School and larger attendance on the church service. A cordial welcome is extended to all. Come and worship with us. —B. F. Dykes, Pastor.

——PBG——

PREACHING AT CONCORD ON THIRD SUNDAY

—?—

Editor Union-Banner:

Will you please announce in your paper that I will preach at Concord the third Sunday in January? We were rained out the first Sunday, so we will have our regular services the third Sunday.—R. L. Bonner, Pastor.

——PBG——

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

AUCTION SALE

—o—

On Thursday, January 21st, at J. B. White's old Home Clanton Route 6, will be sold Household Furniture and Farming Implemeents, Syrup Mill, one Fine Milch Cow to freshen soon, one 2-horse Wagon, and one Buggy. All will go to the highest bidder for cash. Thursday, January 21st; Begins at 10 o'clock A.M.

—o—

J. B. WHITE, Clanton, R. 6.

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

—o—

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixing your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired feet. We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no matter how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a square deal.

—o—

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SHOP

CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

3 RAILROADS WILL SPEND $7,000,000

L. & N., M. & O. AND G., M. & N. ARE ALL PLANNING IMPROVEMENTS FOR 1926

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Mobile.—Railroads entering Mobile will spend approximately $7,000,000 in 1926 for improvements and maintenance according to announcement by local officials.

The Mobile & Ohio Railroad will pay $1,525,500 for equipment this year, including five heavy Mikado type freight locomotives, four Pacific type passenger locomotives, 500 automobile cars, four steel passenger coaches, six steel baggage and express cars. A great deal of the equipment will be used on this division.

The Gulf, Mobile & Northern railroad will spend $3,000,000 in 1926. Of this amount $2,000,000 will be spent on the maintenance of the road's holdings in Mobile, including terminals and trackage at Mobile. The other $1,000,000 will be used to improve the road bed of the Gulf, Mobile & Northern all along the line.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad is erecting electric block signals on the Mobile, New Orleans division, which will be completed during the year at a cost of approximately $500,000. This road is planning to erect a new freight depot on Water street, which will occupy the entire block between Eslaya and Church streets, replacing the present building on Water street.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

The Tri-Cities Daily, founded in 1907 by M. S. Hansbrough, has been sold by him to J. H. Hard, Jr., of Birmingham, Clint Wilson, of New Orleans, and Don Watts, of Miami, Fla. Mr. Wilson will be actively in charge of the publication.

Bessemer is the fastest growing city in Alabama, according to Eugene Fies, vice president of the Alabama Water Co. Records of the company that more than 500 persons are added to the city's population each month, Mr. Fies states.

R. V. Taylor, former mayor of Mobile, recently appointed to the Interstate Commerce Commission by President Coolidge, is expected to testify before a Senate committee, named to investigate his fitness for the place.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morris, of Edwardsville, are reputed to be the oldest couple in Alabama. He will celebrate his 100th birthday in April, while she is only a year younger. Both are in good health.

Delegations from Hale, Bibb and Perry Counties went to Montgomery recently to urge upon Governor Brandon the appointment of Thos. E Knight as Circuit Court judge to succeed Judge S. F. Hobbs, resigned.

W. C. Campbell, of Trussville, who was injured when his auto tank exploded near Birmingham recently, has died of his hurts. He attempted to see into the tank, using a lighted match for illumination.

After telling a hard luck story which lasted more than an hour, a masked man robbed S. C. Roberson, Birmingham grocery clerk, of $40, got into his auto and sped away. He said he had a sick wife and children.

Alabama shipped 330 carloads of Satsumas from Nov. 1, 1925, to January 5, 1926, as against only two carloads during the same period a year ago, state department of agriculture record show.

The R. H. & W. C. Agee Grocery Co., of Selma, one of the largest wholesale grocery firms in the State, will go out of business shortly, due to the death of both R. H. and W. C. Agee, majority stockholders.

J. J. Mickey, a private of the U. S. Army stationed at Maxwell Flying Field at Montgomery, was crushed to death recently when the side of a gravel pit in which he was working caved in.

Radio fans and officers of the law in Jefferson Country are trying to locate a mysterious radio broadcasting station near that city which is charged with putting out obscene jokes and songs.

Upward of 250 delegates from all over North Alabama have signified their intention of attending the north Alabama annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. to be held in Huntsville in February.

Alabama-made cement will be used in Pier No. 2 to be built in the port development of Mobile. A contract has just been let for the 54,000 barrels needed.

Judge O. A. Steele, of the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit is reported to be considering entering the race for Congress from the Seventh Congressional District.

Thousands of dollars in damage was done to telephone and telegraph wires in the vicinity of Albany-Decatur by the recent fall of snow.

Ed Betts, of Talladega county, who was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1918 for murder has been pardoned by Governor Brandon.

The Southern Railroad will begin work within a month on its new $100,000 passenger station at Anniston, reports from that city show.

Joint revival services will be held shortly by the churches of Talladega in the new county courthouse.

——PBG——

Mrs. A. S. Jones is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan in Birmingham.

LAND SALE
At Auction
Friday, Jan. 22nd TEN A. M.

Col. Thos. W. Millican
Auctioneer

The M. Manning farm, 310 acres, better known as the Davenport old place, 3 miles west of Thorsby, 4 miles south-west of Jemison, on the Thorsby and Randolph Road, 1 mile west of Pate's Chapel church and School, 1 and 1-2 miles east of Pleasant Grove Church and School. This farm with two good settlements will be subdivided into small tracts of 40 to 120 acres and sold to the highest and best bidder.

Mr. Manning has moved to Verbena, and has decided to sell this fine farm at public auction. This property is in one of the best communities in Chilton County and is well adapted for all agricultural products.

GO OUT AND LOOK IT OVER BEFORE THE SALE

Terms One-third Cash Balance in Two or Three Annual Payments Terms

WE WILL ALSO SELL A FINE PAIR OF MATCH MULES AND ONE 2-HORSE WAGON, ONE COMPLETE SET OF BLACKSMITH'S TOOLS, SEVERAL THOUSAND FEET OF FINE LUMBER, ONE COW AND YOUNG CALF AND FARMING TOOLS.

FREE One big GOLD CASH PRIZE and many other cash prizes will be given away during the day FREE

SOLD BY

Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.

CLANTON, ALA.

Big Auction Sale
At Clanton
Saturday, Jan. 23d Two P. M.

The PALACE CAFE and MARKET sell at public auction to the highest bidder. Best equipped cafe and market on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway. A good money-making established business.

LOOK This cafe is equipped with a Westinghouse Electric Range Stove and hot plate, electric coffee urn, tables, chairs, lunch counter, and stock, dishes, a good line of staple groceries and in short, everything necessary for first class cafe.

The Market is equipped with Shannon meat box, one large ice box, Lipman automatic refrigerating machine, large display cooler, sausage mill and sausage stuffer, two meat blocks, two pair scales, one iron safe and one fine cash register. This cafe and market is doing a wonderful business. On account of his health, Mr. Marcus, the proprietor has decided to sell. This is the best location on the highway. Your opportunity. COME AND BUY AT YOUR OWN PRICE.

Free Big GOLD CASH PRIZE and numerous other cash prizes will be given away absolutely FREE Free

SOLD BY

Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.

CLANTON, ALA.

ESTABLISHED 1903 THE ESTABLISHED 1892

UNION-BANNER

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1926 NUMBER 40

What's ?P.B.G.? Watch This Paper!

Like PIRATES? Read The Banner!

Pay Your Poll Tax and Register Now

February 1st is Last Day To Pay Poll Tax Board of Registrars At Court House Now

—?—

Those who are due to pay a poll tax in Chilton County are reminded that the same must be paid on or before the first day of February in order to qualify you to vote in the important elections this year. The office of the Tax Collector in the court house is open every day now in order to accomodate those who desire to pay.

We would urge upon every citizen the duty of paying poll tax and taking your part in the affairs of our government. When you pay your poll tax and register you are then entitled to the expression of your voice and your ballot in deciding the great and important question of who shall be your officials and how your public business shall be conducted. It goes without saying that this is a privilege that every man and every woman should guard zealously and exercise with profound diligence.

The time for registration of voters is also at hand. The Board of Registrars will be at the court house every day from now until the close of the month of January. Any person in any Beat in the county who is entitled to register, may come to the court house and go before the Board and become a registered voter.

There are many young men and young women who have become 21 years of age who are entitled to register. This is written in order to bring the matter to your attention, and with the hope that all who read it may come along and register if you are entitled to do so.

The soldiers who served in the world war are exempt from all past and future poll tax, and may become qualified voters for life by going before the Probate Judge and getting an exemption certificate and registering before the Board of Registrars.

Two years ago Chilton County won the prize among all the counties of Alabama for the fact that the greatest percentage of its citizens voted in the general election. That is a distinction of which we may well be proud, and may we hope and strive to maintain it. For the best governed people are those who take the most interest in their own affairs by casting their ballots for the men and measures which they believe best for themselves.

——PBG——

TWO CHILDREN BURNED; ONE DEAD

—?—

Two children of Charles Glass at Jemison were seriously burned last Wednesday, when one of them poured some gasoline into an open fireplace.

One of the children, a boy about six years old, died at the Central Alabama Hospital in Clanton Wednesday night. The other, a girl about 12 yars old, was not so badly burned, and it is thought she will recover.

——PBG——

If you don't start "Porto Bello Gold" in the next issue of The Union-Banner you're bound to regret it.

THREE BIG STILLS DESTROYED IN STUMPS HILLS

—?—

Last Friday the officers went into Stumps Hills near the steel bridge and destroyed three 400-gallon stills and 800 gallons of beer. Two of the stills were "loaded for bear" and ready to "run." No arrests were made as the officers were unable to find anybody at the stills. Officers conducting the raid were W. L. Dunn of the State force, Tom Burns of the Federal squad, with Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee.

On Saturday Federal officer Burns with Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee, found a part of a still and five barrels of beer in the western part of the county near the Freeman place. The outfit was destroyed but no arrests made.

——PBG——

DIEF'S SERVICE STATION HAS NOVEL FEATURE

—?—

Dief's Service Station is inaugurating a new feature of much interest to automobile owners. The tag number of every car registered in Chilton County is kept in a box at the filling station. Two of the numbers are drawn out every morning and placed on a blackboard. If the car bearing a tag of the same number on the blackboard comes to the filling station during the day the owner is given five gallons of gasoline free. The scheme has already aroused much interest. Many car owners are watching the blackboard every day looking for their tag numbers to appear.

——PBG——

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL COINS

—?—

An appeal to the South to show her appreciation of her meaning to the Confederate soldiers, living or dead, by making possible the carving of our heroes on Stone Mountain was contained in a telegram to Governor Brandon Thursday from W. B. Freeman, Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate Veteans, Richmond.

Following receipt of the telegram Governor Brandon, who issued a proclamation Monday, designating the week of January 17th to 23rd as Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial week, made public a second appeal to Alabamians Thursday afternoon. This appeal follows:

"I have, as Governor of Alabama, issued a proclamation, calling upon Alabamians to respond to the cause of perpetuating our history on enduring stone. I am in receipt of an appeal from the Commanding Geneal of the Confederate Veterans and again I call upon all Alabamians to respond. 'Let us not forget.' The South owes it to herself to purchase these Memorial coins and prove her patriotism."

——PBG——

ARRESTED FOR PUBLIC DRUNKENNESS

—?—

Jim Driver was arrested on the streets of Clanton last Saturday evening for public drunkenness. His case was docketed in the Mayor's Court.

DEATH OF JOHN ROGERS BRINGS SORROW

—?—

The death of Mr. John Rogers of Jemison has brought genuine sorrow into the hearts of a great number of friends who have known and loved him as a good man throughout many years of his useful life.

He died at his home in Jemison on Monday, January 11, and was buried at Union Grove the following day. Mr. Rogers was 76 years old, a member and a deacon of Union Grove Baptist church, having been connected with the church in its early years before the present building was erected.

He leaves a wife and ten children to mourn the loss of a husband and father who will live in their memory as a kind and loving angel of righteousness who has been their faithful companion for many years.

Rev. Buford Lawrence conducted the funeral services.

——PBG——

FRIENDSHIP

—?—

Next Sunday is regular preaching day at Friendship church, near Clanton. There will be Sunday School as usual; preaching at 11:00 and 7:30, Rev. W. P. Lowery, the pastor, in charge.

There will be singing in the afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The public has a cordial invitation to come out and be with us in these services.

——PBG——

R. E. Cammack, vocational education supervisor of the Alabama Department of Education, spent last Wednesday on a visit of inspection to the Chilton County Training School and the Isabella Vocational Agricultural School.

READ ABOUT THE MILLICAN LAND SALES

—?—

Much interest is being shown here in the land sales which are being conducted by Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company, under direction of Col. Thos. W. Millican and his associates, Geo. M. Millican and Clyde Mayhall. The sales which have been put on have been highly satisfactory to property owners and buyers, and there are other sales coming which will be very interesting.

Announcements and full particulars of the sales appear in The Union-Banner this week.

On February 4th the Bill Powell farm on the highway south of Clanton will be sold. This is a very desirable piece of property and it is sure to be a great attraction to buyers.

——PBG——

COTTON GROWERS CONFERENCE HERE MONDAY

—?—

The cotton growers of Chilton county are called by Governor Brandon to meet at the court house in Clanton next Monday at 10 o'clock. It is hoped that every farmer in the county will attend. There are matters to be discussed which are very vital.

——PBG——

Last Sunday morning Ben Duke and his family, in their car, were going to church at New Salem. As they started to cross the paved highway at Bice's Ovens a big Buick six-touring car driven by Mrs. R. C. Lawson of Birmingham hit the Ford and knocked it about twenty feet out into a cotton patch. No one was hurt. The bumper was torn off the big car. A wheel and a tire on the Ford were demolished.

CHARLEY GLASSCOCK FROM SAND MOUNTAIN HERE

—?—

The Union-Banner office was delighted to have as a visitor on Tuesday, Mr. Charley L. Glasscock of DeKalb County, accompanied by his brother, A. H. Glasscock of Jemison. Mr. Glasscock is an old Chilton citizen who left here some dozen or more years ago and pitched his tents in that favored part of north Alabama, known as Sand Mountain. He has done well up there, and is recognized among his neighbors as one of DeKalb's best citizens.

Last summer his daughter married, and she and her husband are keeping house and looking after the place while Mr. and Mrs. Glasscock spend a month down here with their old acquaintancess of years ago.

Before returning to Sand Mountain they will visit a sister at Georgiana, below Montgomery.

Speaking of his impressionss upon this visist Mr. Glass stated that he was surprised to see so much change and improvement in Clanton.

——PBG——

POOR LAND IS BIG PROBLEM

—?—

Lack of sufficient plant food in the cultivated soils is declared to be the chief reason for unprofitable farming in Alabama, by Frank Boyd, formerly Extension Agronomist, in his 1925 report, which was submitted just before he left the State.

Mr. Boyd pointed out that approximately 10,000,000 acres are in cultivation in Alabama and that "practically every acre is lacking in sufficient organic matter and nitrogen."

To make up this shortage he said that the farmers of Alabama spent about $19,000,000 for fertilizers of all kinds in 1925. Approximately 75% of it was used on cotton, which requires a complete fertilizer, consisting of phosphorus, nitrogen and potash.

"Under our system of farming," said Mr. Boyd, "our acre-yields of cotton would be so low as to make production unprofitable without commercial fertilizers. So much of this fertilizer is used unwisely that a large acreage of fertilized cotton is produced at a financial loss to the growers."

Mr. Boyd showed that Alabama farmers will receive liberal profits by using much larger applications of fertilizer than they are now using, as an average, if they get the right ingredients and mix them at home.

With an apologetic air, he mentioned that only 50,000 to 75,000 of the 10,000,000 acres in cultivation are planted to winter legumes for soil improvement. About 1,500,000 acres are planted to summer legumes if all kinds but the general practice is to plant only the stubble and less valuable land. "The major part of the soil improvement work must be accomplished through winter legumes with which we have barely scratched the surface, although substantial progress has been made," he added.

——PBG——

Judge Gulledge, chairman of the Board of Registrars, urges the people to come and get fixed up. The Board is in session at the court house now until the last of January, and anyone from any Beat who is entitled to register may do so.

RED MEN HELD SPECIAL MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

—?—

Waxahatchie Tribe No. 9, Improved Order of Red Men, of Clanton, held a special meeting Tuesday night, at which a number of visiting chiefs from Tecumseh Tribe of Birmingham were guests.

Notable among the visitors were A. H. Mixon, Great Chief of Records of the Great Council of Alabama; Hon. Frank Andress, R. E. Whaley, J. C. Clelland, C. D. McKee, F. M. Guillon, and W. E. Robinson.

The Tribe assembled around the council fire for a short business session, after which some very fine addresses were made by the visiting brothers.

Mr. Andress, who is a Past Great Sachem of Alabama, made the principal address. His talk was most inspiring, and filled with many beautiful pictures of the patriotism and usefulness of the Red Man.

When the council fire was quenched the body went to a cafe where a delightful supper was enjoyed.

The affair was a great inspiration to the local members of Waxahatchie Tribe, and its effect will doubtless be noticed in the increased interest in Redmanship in this reservation.

——PBG——

ORATORICAL CONTEST

—?—

In cooperation with the Alabama Education Association, to present educational needs to the people of Alabama, the Affiliated Exchange Clubs of Alabama will sponsor an oratorical contest among the high schools of this state. They will give valuable prizes to the winners in these contests. The state prize will be a $500 scholarship to some college in Alabama. District prizes, one for each congressional district winner, will be handsome gold watches properly inscribed and suitable for either boy or girl winners.

Topics for the speeches will be on some phase of Alabama's Educational Need. Selection of speakers for each high school to speak in the county elimination contests will take place during the week of April 5-9. On the evening of April 9th contests will be held to select county representatives in the District Contests. These county winners will compete for selection as representative of the Congressional District on the evening of April 16th. The District winners will compete for the State Prize on the evening of April 23rd.

Officials of the Exchange Clubs will assist school men in promoting and conducting these contests in the county, district, and state contests.

The plan has the hearty approval of the State Superintendent of Education and the Executive Committee of the Alabama Education Association.

——PBG——

"Fifteen men on a dead man's chest, Yo ho, and a bottle of rum . . ."

——PBG——

It's here! The great novel of the Spanish main—"Porto Bello Gold," by Arthur D. Howden Smith. Watch for it in the next issue of The Union-Banner.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

by ARTHUR D. HOWDEN SMITH

COPYRIGHT by ARTHUR D. HOWDEN SMITH

GOLD, Jewels, Fights, Buckets of——, well, it's a pirate story and undoubtedly the best one that has come out since Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island." And the odd fact is that it is founded on that masterpiece of adventure; for Arthur D. Howden Smith, the amazingly clever producer of thrilling romances in his eager moments and of costume novels in his quieter moods, hit upon the unique idea of taking some of Stevenson's characters at periods in their career before "R. L. S." became acquainted with them and of plotting the stirring events that led to the placing of the treasure on the island. The consensus of critical opinion is that "Porto Bello Gold" is a fit companion to the other great story.

Don't Fail to Read This Smashing Serial Beginning Next Week in The Union-Banner !

Statement of the Condition of

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Clanton, Ala., Close of Business December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Loans,	$253,180.82
Overdrafts,	246.99
Banking House,	2,700.00
Furniture-Fixtures,	2,727.25
Bonds,	20,400.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	471,300.11
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	78,934.58
Deposits,	$656,620.59
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

The Peoples Savings Bank, opening its doors for business on the morning of December 7, 1901, received deposits from twenty-one citizens of Chilton County. An examination of the books of the bank reveals that some of these original depositors have passed away; some have moved away; but over one-half of the original number or their direct heirs, still maintain accounts with The Old Reliable. Further examination reveals that at the end of the year 1901, the number of depositors had increased more than one hundred per cent, and out of these over fifty per cent of them or their direct heirs still do their banking business with this bank.

In 1901, The Peoples Savings Bank, a mere youngster, provided its customers with Safety and Service. Today, this same old institution, the trail blazer, Chilton County's first bank, the veteran that has weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century, provides its customers with that same safety and service.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS ON OUR RECORD

Condensed Statement of the Condation of the

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

At the Close of Business January 4, 1926

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts,		$476,727.53
Overdrafts,		1,713.73
United States Bonds,		30,000.00
Banking House,		10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures,		3,236.98
Redemption Fund,		1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank,		2,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	$227,104.40
Stocks and Bonds,	58,827.75
		285,932.15
TOTAL,		$811,688.90

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	34,854.78
Circulation,	28,800.00
Deposits,	698,034.12
Rediscounts,	(NONE)
Bills Payable,	(NONE)
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95

Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59

Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12

TOTAL RESOURCES MORE THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

Big Auction Sale

At Clanton

Saturday, Jan. 23d Two P. M.

The PALACE CAFE and MARKET sell at public auction to the highest bidder. Best equipped cafe and market on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway. A good money-making established business.

LOOK This cafe is equipped with a Westinghouse Electric Range Stove and hot plate, electric coffee urn, tables, chairs, lunch counter, and stock, dishes, a good line of staple groceries and in short, everything necessary for first class cafe.

The Market is equipped with Shannon meat box, one large ice box, Lipman automatic refrigerating machine, large display cooler, sausage mill and sausage stuffer, two meat blocks, two pair scales, one iron safe and one fine cash register. This cafe and market is doing a wonderful business. On account of his health, Mr. Marcus, the proprietor has decided to sell. This is the best location on the highway. Your opportunity. COME AND BUY AT YOUR OWN PRICE.

Free Big GOLD CASH PRIZE and numerous other cash prizes will be given away absolutely FREE Free

SOLD BY

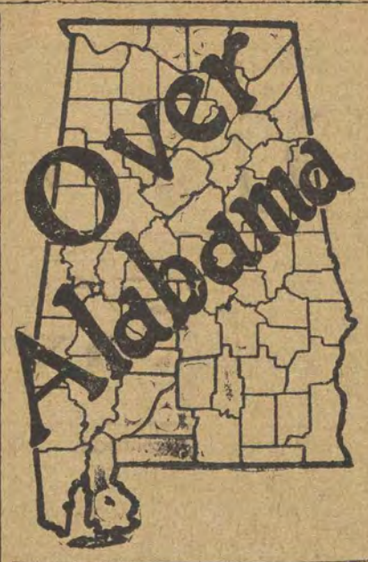
Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.

CLANTON, ALA.

Registration Notice

—o—

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of "An Act to Provide for the Registration of Electors," enacted by the Legislature of 1920, the Registrars of the County of Chilton, Alabama, do hereby give Notice that the following Appointments are set for the purpose of Registering those qualified under the law to Register as Electors:



Precinct 4—Courthouse	January 18 to January 30, inclusive, 1926
Precinct 16—Providence	February 1, 1926
Precinct 11—Cane Creek	February 2, 1926
Precinct 1—Mullins schoolhouse	February 3, 1926
Precinct 12—Mineral Springs	February 4, 1926
Precinct 12—Robinson's Store	February 5, 1926
Precinct 9—Thorsby	February 6, 1926
Precinct 6—Enterprise	February 8, 1926
Precinct 10—Cooper	February 9, 1926
Precinct 5—Verbena	February 10, 1926
Precinct 5—Mt. Creek	February 11, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse	February 12 to February 18, inclusive, 1926

—o—

No one can Register except in his or her own Precinct and at the Courthouse in Clanton, Alabama.

—o—

J. W. E. GULLEDGE, Chairman,
E. H. ADAMS,
J. L. JOHNSON,
Registrars of Chilton County, Ala.

A sub-committee of the directors of Advertise Alabama, Incorporated, met in Birmingham recently and went over replies sent by the organization to prominent business and professional men all over the state. Without exception, these replies indorsed the proposed advertising campaign and agreed to help bear the expense, it is said. A campaign for funds will be inaugurated shortly.

Because Governor Brandon is unable to decide between Attorney Thos. E. Knight, of Greensboro, and Attorney Henry F. Reese, of Selma, both applicants for the place made vacant by the recent death of Judge S. F. Hobbs, of Selma, the judgeship may remain vacant, it is said, until the election this fall.

R. V. Taylor, former Mobile mayor, was recently confirmed as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission by the U. S. Senate. The vote was practically unanimous, despite reports that there would be considerable opposition to his confirmation.

J. B. Vines, former chief of police of Lipscombe, was found burned to a cinder underneath his destroyed auto, near Bessemer recently. The cause of the fire could not be ascertained. His money and watch were missing.

American Legion post commanders and adjutants from all over Alabama gathered at Montgomery recently for a two-day session. The meeting, an annual event, had for its object discussion of plans for the legion's work.

Many Morgan County farmers met recently in Hartselle and mapped out a program for "balanced" farming in 1926. F. W. Gist, of Auburn, and J. T. High, district farm agent, were among the speakers.

Jim Franklin, of Buhl, was bound over recently under $1,000 bond for possible complicity in the murder of Charley Parker, also of Buhl, who was found buried in a shallow grave recently.

Walker county farmers expect to plant "balanced crops" this year, it is said. To this end, F. W. Gist, farm expert from Auburn, will meet with them shortly to discuss the matter.

Etowah county made an average of only 175 pounds of lint cotton to the acre last year, according to District Farm Agent Binford, while Marshall made 236 pounds and DeKalb 296.

L. P. Lewis and his son, Everett, of Ft. Payne, have been bound over to the grand jury on charges of arson, growing out of a fire which burned the elder Lewis' store recently.

The Huntsville Chamber of Commerce recently purchased 70 acres of land near that city which it plans to hold for sites for manufacturing plants which may wish to locate in that city.

The United Overall Company, which has been operating a plant at Talladega, is now transferring it to Gadsden. It will be accompanied by close to 100 families, it is said.

John Henry Conrad, widely known Houston county farmer, was recently found guilty of murder in the second degree for having killed his son. He was sentenced to 10 years.

C. H. Graham, a white man said to have fleeced many Alabama firms and individuals by means of worthless checks, is in jail in Birmingham in default of a $10,000 bond.

The Alabama Public Service Commission held a meeting at Huntsville recently to hear that city's demands for better depot facilities at the hands of the Southern railroad.

The Louis M. Short Baptist Widows' and Orphans' Home at Troy received $24,319.55 in cash contributions during the Christmas holidays, officials of the Home announce.

The city of Albany recently voted more than two to one against the proposal to change from an aldermanic to a commission form of city government.

The last traces of trolley service have disappeared in Twin-Cities, since the trolley wires were torn down recently. Busses have replaced street cars.

Two unmasked bandits walked into the DuBoise cafe in Birmingham recently, took $185 from the manager's pocket, and the cash drawer, and made their escape.

Emily Marie Perude, 13 year old girl of Tuscaloosa, was fatally injured recently when an auto in which she was riding struck a street car.

James Ray, president of the Ray Handle Factory, of Gadsden, was arrested recently, charged with arson, the charge growing out of the fire which destroyed the handle factory.

Failing to gain entrance into the safe of the Alabama Power Company's office at Decatur, recently, burglars gutted a meat market next door.

A special session of the Talladega County Circuit Court will open February 2nd.

Thirteen stills were destroyed in one raiding party in Cleburne county recently.

—PBG—

Read the ADS for better bargains

DEATH OF MRS. FANNIE BICE

—?—

The death angel visited the home of Mrs. Mattie Deason on last Wednesday morning and carried away her beloved sister-in-law, Mrs. Fannie Bice. She was 70 years old and has been a member of the Baptist church for years.

Mrs. Bice leaves three brothers: T. J. Deason, J. D. Deason, Monroe Deason to mourn her, together with a host of friends who dearly loved her. She was kind to everyone.

Mrs. Bice married some time in the year 1920, and lived in Coosa county during her married life. Both her and her husband were old and disable to work, so she came back to her people, and Mr. Bice went to live with his children.

Everything that loving hands and medical skill could do was done for her, but all in vain. The Lord knew best and called her home beyond this vale of tears, where she has eternal rest.

Rev. Lowery conducted the funeral service at Sardis church Thursday at 11 o'clock.—Her Niece.

—PBG—

UNCLE DOCK WELLS WRITES

—?—

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in the good old Banner this week. I reckon all my friends think I have run away and gone back to Georgia, but I am still at Thorsby. I was taken down with the flu three weeks ago. I haven't been out of my room since. I tell you it almost got the best of me. I thought several times I would have to hand up my checks, but, thank the Lord, I felt they were signed right by the Blood of Christ. But I feel a lot better today, and hope I will soon get to come to Clanton and come around to see everybody. I ask everybody to pray for me.

Yours for the "good old Banner,"
A. C. WELLS.

—PBG—

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

—PBG—

A. A. POINDEXTER'S
GOLDEN SEAL TONIC

—o—

Successfully used for twenty-four years as the Household's Greatest Friend. It is unequaled for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nausea, Colic, Sour Stomach and Heart Burn.

It is a Body Builder. Get it at Upchurch Drug Company, Clanton, Ala.

Sanford Barber Shop

Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

SOME FIGURES ON CHILTON COUNTY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

—?—

The appropriation which Chilton County received from the state for public schools in 1925-26 is $34,540.06. The payroll for teachers in the public schools of the county is a little over $15,000.00 per month. Therefore it may be seen that the state appropriation would run our public schools about two months.

Besides the state appropriation, there are two other sources from which our public schools draw funds to operate upon, viz: the special county school tax, and the special district tax.

All schools in the county get their part of the state appropriation, and also their part of the special county tax. These two sources make it possible for all schools in the county to have a term of about 5 months.

Then there is the special district tax in those districts which have voted such a tax, which adds to the funds from the state and county, making it possible in those districts to have a school term of more than 5 months.

—PBG—

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING

—?—

The quarterly young people's council met with Thorsby Baptist church on January 16. A splendid program was rendered. Mrs. Dawson, a state worker, was present and gave us an inspiring lecture which gave us a greater determination to work for Christ. Other speakers present were Rev. Bonner and Rev. Lowery, who made splendid talks.—Mrs. Howard Garrick, Sec'y.

—PBG—

LITTLE DORRIS EMSLEY

—?—

On Friday, January 15, about 1:30 p. m., the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Emsley of Autaugaville, and carried away their little darling baby girl, Dorris. She was missing about 30 minutes and was found down in a small ditch near the yard. All skill was rendered to recover her, but it failed. She was only 16 months old, and we know she is at rest in a hame of peace and love beyond this vale of tears and sorrow.

She leaves a mother, father, two brothers, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss.

She was laid to rest at Big Springs cemetery, the funeral ceremony conducted by Rev. McGloan.

"Weep not, dear parents,
Your babe is at rest;
For God, who took it,
Knew it was best."

—PBG—

CARD OF THANKS

—?—

I wish to thank the good people of Sardis community, also Dr. Downs, for the faithful service rendered during the illness and death of my sister. I especially thank Sister Mat for opening her doors and giving her home in the last days. The Lord said "Inasmuch as ye did it to one of the least of these, my brethren, ye did it unto me." God bless each one who gave a helping hand.—T. J. Deason.

—PBG—

"If each famer would grow all his feed it would be a long time before we would have an over-production of cotton; and the farmers would be more prosperous."—L. N. Duncan, Auburn.

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

—o—

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixing your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired feet. We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no matter how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a square deal.

—o—

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SHOP
CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

ATWATER KENT
RADIO
THINK WHAT IS BACK OF IT

A DEMONSTRATION will do more than anything else to convince you that the ATWATER KENT is the instrument you want.

Come in today and examine these masterpieces of radio skill.

We will gladly instruct you in the operation—and install the set in your home.

O. M. Carter, Clanton, Ala.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Birthday Celebration.

Mrs. J. E. Gowan entertained at her home on Monday afternoon, giving a party in celebration of the 7th birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Ruth. Cut flowers and potted plants were used to decorate the living room, while a color scheme of pink and green was artistically carried out in the decorations of the dining room. Games and music were enjoyed by the little folks. A contest, "Pinning on the Donkey's Tail," furnished much amusement and resulted in Elizabeth Lawrence winning the prize. The booby was presented to Iva Mae Timmerman. The little guests were then invited into the dining room. The table was beautifully decorated. Streamers extended from the chandelier to the four corners and the central motif was a large birthday cake with seven lighted candles held in rosebuds. The cake contained the usual symbols. The ring was cut by Ratie Mae Haughey, the dime by Billy Green Retherford, and the button by William Hodges. Mrs. Gowan, assisted by Mesdames Haughey, Thomas, Elmore, served chocolate and cake. The boys were given little balls and the girls small dolls as favors.

Those present were Mary Frances Atkinson, Peggy Page, Dixie Johnson, Olive Rainer Elmore, Elizabeth Harris, Mary Armstrong, Eloise Rasberry, William Hodges, Cameron McDavid, Jr., Hilda Hart, Elizabeth Lawrence, Katherine Stephenson, Ratie Mae Haughey, Nell Ross Mullins, Sally Mahan, Hal Broadhead, John Ezell, Elizabeth Williams, Blanche and Iva Mae Timmerman, Gladys Martin, Jas. Jones, Doris Lawrence, and Billy Green Retherford.

—?—

Oyster Supper at Baptist Church.

The ladies of Circle No. 3 of the Woman's Missionary Society will give an oyster supper in the basement of the Baptist church Friday evening, January 22nd. You are cordially invited to be present. Go and help these ladies in raising funds to support a missionary on the foreign field.

—?—

Thursday Sewing Club Meets.

Mrs. V. J. Gragg entertained the members of the Thursday Sewing Club at her home on last Thursday afternoon. The living room attractively decorated with pink carnations, narcissus and potted plants. Various kinds of needle work was done during the afternoon. A delicious desert course was served by the hostess.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames E. E. Upchurch, John T. Ellis, Latham of Montevallo, John M. VanDerveer, and J. P. Hayes.

—?—

Mrs. Jones Hostess To Bridge Club.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Oscar Jones delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home on First Avenue. For this occasion carnations and narcissus were used to decorate the home. Following a series of bridge games, Mrs. V. J. Heard held high score and was presented two dainty hand-made handkerchiefs.

The hostess served a delicious salad plate with coffee to Mesdames N. S. Johnson, John Browder, J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, V. J. Heard, Arthur Johnson, Grady Reynolds, H. M. Simpson, C. Fenn Jones, Eric Hart; Misses Bettie and Kathleen Mullins.

—?—

Reception Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Following a regular meeting of the Julia Beauchamp Chapter No. 271 of the Eastern Star a reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fenn Jones, on last Thursday evening at the Masonic Hall. Mr. J. B. Atkinson, in behalf of the Chapter, presented Mrs. Jones, who is Worthy Matron, a beautiful silver pitcher, appropriately engraved. Mr. Jones made a very impressive talk in accepting the gift. After the presentation hot chocolate and sandwiches were served to those present.

—?—

Young People's Council.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Young People's Council of Unity Association was held at the Baptist church at Mt. Creek Saturday, January 16th. Miss Frances Moore presided over the meeting. The devotionals for the day were conducted by Mrs. G. C. Harris, and Rev. Roberts, of Verbena. Miss Hannah E. Reynolds made a most inspiring address, and in the afternoon spoke on the "Lottie Moon Christmas Offering." The officers for the ensuing year were introduced by the Associational Young People's Leader, Mrs. J. C. Hughes, of Billingsley. Those responding were: President, Miss Frances Moore, Secretary, Miss Maude Lee Patrick, and Stewardship Chairman, Miss Bonnie Clyde Griffin. A song by the Sunbeams of Marbury was sung, and also one by the Clanton Sunbeams. Elizabeth Johnson and Lester Gilbert told "Why I Like 'World Comrades.'" The attendance banners were awarded to Marbury G. A., Marbury R. A., and Clanton Sunbeam. The enrollment committee reported 68 young people present.

—?—

Intermediate Sewing Club Meets.

The members of the Intermediate Sewing Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Loren Smith on last Thursday afternoon at her home. The living room was decorated with narcissus and potted plants. The afternoon was spent doing fancy work.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Joe Higgins, served a delicious plate luncheon to Mesdames V. J. Smith, Bill Murphy, M. B. Arant, Milton Smith, Grady Heflin, and Lucien Duncan.

—?—

Miss Danforth Entertains.

Miss Janice Danforth entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Danforth, Saturday afternoon, celebrating her thirteenth birthday. For this occasion potted plants were used in decorating the home. Games, music and contests were features of the afternoon's entertainment. Prizes were won by Nell Goodgame and Leroy Martin. The hostess, assisted by her mother and Miss Erin Danforth, served jello and cake.

Those included in this hospitality were Nell Goodgame, Gladys Thomas, Vivian Gray, Bernice Williams, Doris Lawrence, Mary Foshee, Julia Ruth Hester, Leroy Martin, John Ponder Lawrence, Jo Erle Gowan, and others.

—?—

Missionary Society Meets.

The Missionary Society of the Baptists church met Monday afternoon at the church. Mrs. S. J. Ezell had charge of the Bible study for the afternoon. The topics discussed were "The Fact of Conversion" and "The Psychology of Conversion." The references used were: Regeneration, Rom. 6:3-23; Conviction of sin, Gen. 4:13, and others; Repentance, Lk. 18:10-14, and others; Faith, John 3:16-36; Forgiveness of Sin, Matt. 1:21, Lk. 24:47, Acts 26:16-18.

—?—

Birthday Party.

Mrs. Percy Pitts entertained last Wednesday morning at her home, giving a party in celebration of her little daughter Myrtle's birthday anniversary. For this occasion cut flowers and potted plants were used to decorate the home. Games were played, and "Pinning on the Donkey's Tail" was the contest enjoyed. Nell Neighbors won the prize, a box of candy. The dining room was beautifully decorated in a color scheme of pink and white. The table was centered with a birthday cake which had four tiny lighted candles. Pink and white streamers extended from the chandelier to the table. Ribbons, with the usual symbols attached, extended from the cake and were drawn by the little guests. Attractive animal cakes were used as place cards. Guy Alred drew the ring and William Hodges the dime. Mrs. Pitts, assisted by Mesdames Ross and Trotter, served jello and cake.

Those present were Theda Wyatt, Ann Ross, Mary Frances Atkinson, Robert Penter, Jane Pitts, Peggy Page, Callen Alred, Nell Rockett, Edith Parrish, James Catherine Crumpton, Mary Calloway, William Hodges, Guy Alred, Jane and Nell Neighbors, and Mary Calloway.

—?—

Associational Meeting at Maplesville.

A splendid meeting of the W. M. U. of Unity Association was held Friday January 15th, at Maplesville at the Baptist church. The meeting was called to order by the supeintendent, Mrs. G. C. Harris. The morning and afternoon devotionals were led by Mrs. Grady Broadhead and Rev. McPheeters, respectively. Plans for the year's work were discussed by the associational officers. Reports from the societies were read and showed that each organization is doing splendid work. An inspiring address was made by Miss Emma Leachman, field worker of the Southern Baptist Convention. At noon a lovely luncheon was served by the ladies of the church at the Maplesville Hotel. Mrs. S. J. Ezell spoke very forcefully on "Prayer and Missions." Round table discussions were led by Mesdames J. E. Gowan and W. C. Dyer. Again Miss Leachman was heard with the greatest of interest. With prayer by Rev. McPheeters, a meeting with a note of optimism sounded throughout, came to a close. The banners were awarded as follows: Attendance, Jones W. M. S.; Mileage, Clanton W. M. S.; A-1 Society, Billingsley W. M. S.

—?—

News has been received of the death of Mrs. Francis Stebbins of Lansing, Mich., following a short illness. Mrs. Stebbins will be remembered as Miss Jamie DeBardeleben, a sister of Mrs. E. M. Pinckard.

Mr. S. P. Smith of Enterprise was in town Tuesday.

Mr. W. W. Wingard, who has been ill with pneumonia, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Popwell of Birmingham spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Calloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Broadhead and little son of Enterprise were visitors to town Monday.

Mesdames J. E. Gowan, G. C. Harris, J. Lee Smith and Lester Gilbert of Marbury, attended the associational meeting of the W. M. U. at Maplesville Friday.

Messrs. Grady Reynolds, G. D. Retherford, O. M. Carter, and Dewey Rockett, motored to Birmingham last Tesday.

Mr. O. C. Thomas made a business trip to Montgomery the first of this week.

Mesdames J Z. Mims, J. F. Armstrong, and Leila Williams were among those attending the W. M. U. meeting at Maplesville Friday.

Mrs. J. E. Gowan and children, Jo Erle, Ruth and Paul, motored to Mt. Creek Saturday to attend the Young People's Council.

Mr. Will Lambert of Maplesville was in town Tuesday.

Mesdames Arthur Willis, W. A. Willis, Leonard Farley, and Miss Bettie Mullins spent Friday in Maplesville attending the W. M. U. meeting.

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

USED CARS

Buick Touring Car, good shape,	$375
Overland Touring Car, runs good,	$250
Hudson Cut-Down,	$75
Auburn Beauty,	$75
Ford Truck,	$125
Ford Truck	$40

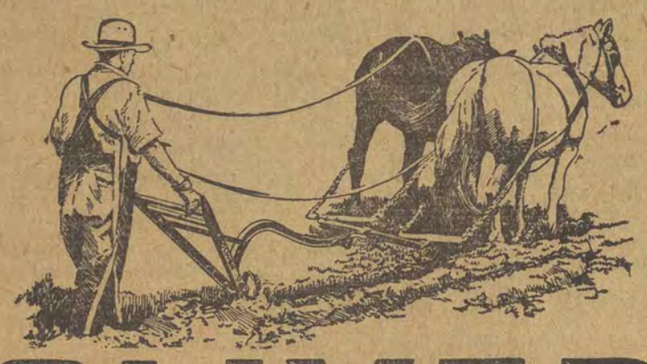
These cars can be bought on small cash payment.

Automobile Tires

Lot good 29 x 4-40 Balloon Tires,	$17.45
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Cords,	$9.85
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Fabric Tires,	$8.95
Lot good 30 x 3 Fabric Tires,	$8.45
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Red Tubes,	$2.55
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Gray Tubes,	$2.25
Lot good 30 x 3 Gray Tubes,	$2.10

Bates Garage

Clanton, Ala.



"I Have Always Used An Oliver Plow"

That is what Oliver plow owners are telling their neighbors and here's why!

Turning clean, even width furrows and thoroughly breaking up the soil, Oliver plows do the kind of work which means the right start for a good seed bed. Easily handled and light in draft they make plowing easier for the plowman and his team. Their sturdy construction means many years of dependable service.

Once an Oliver owner, always an Oliver owner. Come in and we will show you our line of plows. We have just the type for your kind of plowing.

JONES HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALABAMA

OLIVER

Our New Spring Millinery, Coats and Dresses Have Arrived

—AND THEY ARE RIGHT UP TO THE MINUTE.

—PRICES LOWER THAN IN MANY SEASONS.

One lady told us the other day that she only wished that flour and coffee were as reasonably priced as our spring showing of Coats, Dresses and Hats.

COME IN TO SEE US

It is a pleasure for us to show you through this beautiful line

Alred Mercantile Co.

(Inc.)

Clanton, Ala.

Robinson Bargain Store

Has Many New Items To Offer You This Week

Silk Pongee in All Colors

Georgette, Flat Crepes, Printed Crepes, and Satin Back Crepes.

Lovely Underwear.---Ladies Bloomers, Princess Slips and Chemise; New Line of Ladies Gloves in newest Shades.

Shoes.---Blond Kid and Satin Pumps and one strap Slippers; Ladies Slippers and high-top Shoes in low heels in large sizes, the pair 89c

Mens and Boys Dress and Work Shoes, $1.50

Corsets, all sizes, ... 50c

Ladies Shirt-Waists, ... 25c

For Men and Boys.---Shirts, 50c each; Underwear and Pants at bargains; Boys Caps, 50c; Socks, 10c; Mens Scarfs, 98c; also Mens Lumber Jackets.

If Its Bargains You Want, We Have Them.

Make our Store your Headquarters while in town. Get your Dresses cut in our Dressmaking and Hemstitching Department for 25c, which is less than the cost of the pattern.

MILLINERY A SPECIALTY

Millinery — Dressmaking — Hemstitching

LADIES REST ROOM

Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALABAMA

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

If you know somebody that knows somebody that knows a Republican who has not registered or is due a poll tax, call their attention to this important matter now!

——PBG——

"I propose actively and energetically to assist farmers to promote their welfare through cooperative marketing."—Calvin Coolidge.

——PBG——

Remember "Treasure Island?" Read "Porto Bello Gold" and learn of the thrilling events which took place before the action of Stevenson's classic starts. It begins in the next issue of The Union-Banner.

——PBG——

If one-third of the cane sugar now imported into the United States were replaced with corn sugar, a new market for 125,000,000 bushels of corn each year would be found.

——PBG——

Fur farming in the United States and Alaska is steadily developing, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. There are over 2,000 fur farmers in the United States and Alaska; the majority of them are raising silver and blue foxes. Over $15,000,000 is invested in the business.

——PBG——

Miss Josephine Eddy of Auburn reports that 5,246 girls were enrolled in clothing club work in Alabama in 1925. They made 6,050 dresses, 13,586 undergarments, and 630 hats. It was the most popular project with the club girls. Eleven counties held county clothing contests and one State contest was held in Montgomery.

——PBG——

The best estimates are that the American people ate 300,000,000 gallons of ice cream during 1925. This represents a gain of about 25,000,000 gallons. The increase is said to have been due to drouth and hot weather which prevailed in many sections last summer, and also to the tendencies of the manufacturers toward consolidation which cuts costs.

——PBG——

The famous apple growers association of Hood River Valley, Oregon, has only about 800 members but handles 70% to 80% of the fruit grown in that Valley. The growers have been organized 33 years. Their organization has enabled them to acquaint the people of the United States with their apples, which are now famous.

——PBG——

Alabama farmers are buying their soy beans earlier than usual this year. For the first time they are buying cooperatively on a State-wide basis. The County Farm Bureaus of 17 counties have collected orders from the individual members, pooled them with the State Farm Bureau in Montgomery, and the beans have been bought and delivered. Purchases to date total 4,055 bushels, which were bought direct from growers in Virginia and North Carolina.

Why Is It--

REPUBLICANS OF CHILTON COUNTY BESTIR YOURSELVES

—?—

The Union-Banner is proud to have the privilege of speaking to the Republicans of Chilton County as your own newspaper, which strives with you to sustain those ideals which we hold in common as our mutual interest, and likewise labors with you in contravention of those measures which we hold to be detrimental to the common welfare of our county.

Therefore, we feel in our place now to urge every Republican in the county to place upon your mind and heart for the next two weeks the important duty of helping to see that every Republican pays his or her poll tax, and that every Republican who has not already done so becomes properly registered and qualified to vote.

For several years past the Republican party, through its duly elected officials, has conducted the affairs of Chilton county in a safe and honorable way. Therein our county has progressed materially. She stands today on a par with the best managed counties in Alabama. There is not a county in the state, Republican or Democratic, that can show a better business record of its officials than that which stands behind Chilton's Republican officials of the present and the past.

Now, Republicans, The Union-Banner is proud of such a record on the part of those whom we have had to serve our county. We are proud, first, because the men who have made such a good record are Republicans. Second, we are proud because the good record they have made stands to the benefit of Chilton County and every citizen who lives within her borders.

We believe every Republican is proud of the fine record your party has made. We believe further, that it is the duty of every Republican to bestir yourselves to help keep the Republican party strong in numbers so that we may be able to keep men in office who will perpetuate the good record that our party has made in the past.

There is something that almost every Republican in the county can do now and should do now to help get other Republicans to register and pay poll tax.

Do it folks, and do it now. It would be too late to talk about how well the Republicans governed Chilton county after the Democrats get control of it again. You remember what a fix you got into from 1910 to 1916 by going to sleep on the job and letting a few Democrats get hold of the county's affairs.

——PBG——

THE OLD STORY

—?—

During the first year that the German railroads were taken out of politics and managed and operated by practical railroad men they turned a loss of $100,000,000 annually into a profit of $275,000,000, says a recent news dispatch. Until the railroads were taken over by an international commission they had been operated for five years by ministers responsible to Parliament, and every year money had to be drawn from the national treasury to make up a heavy deficit.

Industries operated by political managers in Germany are little different from those in other countries. Political considerations are always placed before economic considerations. They increased wages and the number of rail workers in Germany to curry favor with the workers; then they reduced freight rates to curry favor with shippers—and professed not to understand why the railroads did not pay expenses.

Experience in our own country and elsewhere has repeatedly demonstrated that the functions of representative government are not those essential to the economic and efficient operation of industry. There is no escaping the conclusion that to maintain a sound government at its highest efficiency, we must limit its field of operations to purely gavernmental affairs and keep it out of business.

——PBG——

When a farmer produces feed and consumes it he sells it to himself at the highest price—the retail.

——PBG——

We don't know a farmer who has gone broke with diversified farming but we do know many who have had hard sailing with too much cotton.

——PBG——

Use the Want-Ad Column for results.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of January 17, 1901.

Sunday evening last, fire destroyed a barn on J. W. Cox's place east of Clanton. The building was filled with cotton seed and fodder. No insurance. Loss $100.

—?—

On January 8 a warrant was sworn out by Rev. T. J. Deason for the arrest of a negro named John Wiley for using a stick on his son, Benjamin Deason, and threatening to shoot him if he didn't give him some tobacco.

—?—

"Big Ike" reports that the Sunday School at Shoults is about froze out.

—?—

The municipal election at Clanton Monday was hotly contested, both sides putting out their utmost strength. There were two tickets in the field, one headed by J. P. VanDerveer for Mayor, with W. I. Mullins, E. M. Pinckard, Tipton Mullins and Guy Higgins for Councilmen. The other was headed by Leroy Watts for Mayor, with W. T. Callen, Dr. W. E. Stewart, W. A. Middleton and Dr. E. A. Matthews for councilmen. The first named ticket proved the successful one, VanDerveer receiving 11 more votes than Watts, and his ticket coming out in the same way. G. Higgins led the entire ticket by three votes.

—?—

Hon. Tipton Mullins, one of the presidential electors of the State went and cast his vote at the capitol on Monday.

—?—

Mr. W. F. Claughton of Verbena has been reappointed watchman at the capitol.

—?—

Miss Mollie Davis of Bozeman visited Clanton Saturday.

—?—

Mrs. E. W. Duke of Prattville is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips.

—?—

Mr. Scott Chestnutt of Birmingham is in town.

—?—

Miss Angelina Smith of Coosa is visiting her grandparents here, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Smith.

—?—

Judge Adams returned from Texas last Sunday. He left his son, J. B., doing as well as can be expected after his accident.

—?—

Mr. Ira Chapman of Montgomery was in town Wednesday.

—?—

Mr. E. E. Connell, formerly of Jumbo and recently from Texas, will leave soon for Havana, Cuba.

—?—

Rev. F. A. Gibson has again been called to his former charge at Milo, Ala.

—?—

Messrs. Sartor and Kicker have dissolved partnership, Mr. Kicker retiring, while Mr. W. H. Sartor will continue business at the same place.

—?—

Henry Cox, while squirrel hunting the other day, saw a very fine deer in Mr. Jas. Smith's pasutre.

—?—

Bill Smitherman killed three wild geese at one shot and crippled and captured the fourth.

—?—

J. W. Collins of Thorsby butchered three hogs that weighed 1,020 pounds. The largest one weighed 502.

——PBG——

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE COVERED

with a fire insurance policy in one of the companies we represent. Then you need have no fear of fire in a financial way. You can rest comfortably in the confidence that if a fire should occur at your house, the loss, large or little, will be paid promptly by the company you are insured in. Do it to-day.

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

"Chuckle" Column

DEFINITIONS OF PET PHRASES

"He's All Wet"

—is a term that can be used in referring to a novice trying his level best to conquer a grape fruit.

"His Vertebrae Need Tightening"

—describes the spinal condition of a man about to fire the big Swede cook out of his household.

"Turn Off the Weeps"

—first uttered by a husband, who finding a handkerchief too small to stop his wife's tears, had to offer her a new dress.

"He Got a Severe Mental Shock"

—Has nothing to do with Electricity. It describes the state of mind that comes over a man when he feels his last suspender button part company with his trousers at the same time he hears a rip in the coat of his hired dress suit.

——§§§——

Love—is something that makes a single man see double for life.

——§§§——

Picked up China last night. No—not on the radio. Wife broke one of her best dishes on our head.

——§§§——

If you hear a bird whistling his soup, don't think that he is lacking in culture. Maybe, the d—m soup IS hot?

——§§§——

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

The fliv stalled on a railroad track,
The train was coming fast;
But the train had four-wheel brakes
And stopped—to let the fliv go past.

——§§§——

When some folks haven't got much to talk about—they talk about themselves.

——§§§——

The only way to get rid of people who bore you by their presence—is to tell them you think you're getting smallpox.

——§§§——

Nothing Small About 'Em!

A woman may be physically small, yet she will insist upon buying clothes for a large figure. Ask any husband who has to foot the bills.

——§§§——

It's bad enough to have a pest looking over your shoulder to read your newspaper while in the street car, but when he pokes you in the ribs fumbling for his glasses—it's time to find another seat or fold up the paper.

——§§§——

The fellow who minds his own business has a good mind on him.

Smilin' Charlie Says

"'These statistics on th' lower cost o' livin' must be based on what th' 'other fellow' pays - - - '"

——§§§——

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"Didn't I tell you not to trump my ace?"

——§§§——

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

POPLAR SPRINGS

—?—

We have splendid services every second and fourth Sunday. We want everybody to come next Sunday to see our Sunday School and hear our pastor. We have Sunday school every Sunday at 10 o'clock.

Miss Lena Downs is at home on a vacation.

Messrs. Lawton McDowell, Chester Downs and Dewey Parrish are down in Florida now.

Misses Libbie Dykes and Lena Downs were guests of Mrs. J. L. McDowell Thursday afternoon.

Miss Jewell McDowell is working at the Chilton Bakery at present.

Miss Ora Devaughn spent the week end in Verbena with relatives.

We are glad to state that little Dolphus McDowell, son of J. W. McDowell, was brought home Saturday night from Birmingham, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

——PBG——

Have all your livestock a warm dry bed these cold nights.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

—?—

Following is the program of the Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Chilton County Association, to be held with Oak Grove Baptist Church, January 31st, 1926.

9:45 a. m.—Devotional, by T. J. Deason.

10:00—"Sunday Schools," C. C. Conway.

10:30—"1926 Program," B. Lawrence.

11:15—Sermon, B. F. Dykes.

12:15—Noon.

1:30 p. m.—Devotional, W. H. Falkner.

1:45—"W. M. U.," State and County workers.

2:15—"B. Y. P. U.," R. L. Bonner.

2:45—"Layman's Part," H. D. Durbin, and others.

3:30—Miscellaneous.

3:45—Adjourn.

Committee.

——PBG——

Join with your neighbors in buying and operating a spray pump.

Keeps Baby's Skin Soft

There are three things that are used daily in baby's bath that must be pure and good; the soap, the sponge and the talcum powder. When you use the kind we supply you may be sure of baby's skin always being soft, pink and healthy. You get none but the best when you come or send to us for baby's toilet accessories.

ALRED DRUG COMPANY
"The Home of Quality"
CLANTON, - - - - ALABAMA

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

—?—

Default having been made in the papment of the indebtedness secured by a mortgage executed by W. W. Ford and his wife, Sarah E. Ford, on the 2nd day of March, 1925, to Ingram Land Company, a corporation, conveying the hereinafter described property, which mortgage was duly recorded in the Probate Office of Chilton County, Alabama, in Volume 197, Record of Mortgages, at page 455, and which said mortgage, together with the indebtedness secured thereby, has been transformed and assigned to the undersigned, I, R. J. Foster, Jr., the assignee of the said mortgage and the said indebtedness, will, on the 16th day of February, 1926, between the legal hours of sale, sell in Clanton, in front of the court house door of Chilton County, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest and best bidder for cash, the following described real estate situated in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

Beginning at the Northeast corner of A. C. Wells' lot, said Lot being a part of Lot No. One (1) in Block "N" in the Town of Jemison, Alabama, thence West Fifty-two and one-half feet (52½) to Main Street, thence North Thirty-five (35) feet to Bibb Street, thence East along Bibb Street Fifty-two and one-half (52½) feet to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Depot Lot, thence South along said Lot Thirty-five (35) feet to the point of beginning, said lot being the North part of Lot No. One (1) in Block "N" in the Town of Jemison, Alabama.

The aforesaid property being the property described in said mortgage.

The proceeds derived at the said sale will be applied in strict accordance with the terms of said mortgage.

This 9th day of January, 1926.

R. J. FOSTER, Jr., Assignee.
EDGAR ALLEN,
1-14-3t-ch Atty. for Assignee.

——PBG——

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

LIST OF PENSIONERS IN CHILTON COUNTY, ALA.

—?—

Class A—$75.00

Askins, J. A., Clanton;
Boyd, W. R., Clanton;
Burnett, W. L., Jemison;
Blankenship, W. J., Clanton;
Baxley, J. A. P., Mt. Creek;
Brantley, J. N., Jemison;
Cooper, W., Mt. Creek;
Cash, B., Clanton;
Gibson, W. L., Jemison;
Gulledge, J. W. E., Clanton;
Glasscock, W. M., Jemison;
Henley, J. A., Clanton;
Hamilton, H. C., Jemison;
Hawse, J. L., Mt. Creek;
Honeycutt, R. M., Jemison;
Hornady, G. A., Clanton;
Jones, W. B., Clanton;
Martin, J. C., Jemison;
Mullins, O., Clanton;
Mills, R. P., Billingsley;
Miller, M. D. L., Clanton;
McDowell, J. J., Clanton;
Nelson, J. T., Maplesville;
Nix, J. P., Maplesville;
Piper, A. M., Thorsby;
Parrish, A. L., Clanton;
Popwell, A., Clanton;
Roebuck, R. M., Maplesville;
Robinson, M., Clanton;
Scott, S. S., Verbena;
Sims, J. M., Clanton;
Thomas, C., Clanton;
Terry, J. N., Jemison;
Teel, T. J., Clanton;
Watts, D. B., Calera;
Williams, M. A., Clanton;

Class 1—$27.50—Widows

Champion, H. W., Verbena;
Childers, A. A., Clanton;
Collum, S. M., Jemison;
Dawson, O. F., Clanton;
Durbin, A., Clanton;
Edwards, M. J., Clanton;
Easterling, M., Clanton;
Honnicutt, E., Clanton;
Johnson, T. J., Clanton;
Kemp, A., Clanton;
Moore, M. J., Clanton;
Moore, E., Clanton;
McCary, R., Maplesville;
Moore, Mary J., Clanton;
Northcutt, M., Jemison;
Pate, M., Clanton;
Patterson, M. J., Verbena;
Rawlinson, J. A., Billingsley;
Roper, R. J., Clanton;
Roberts, Mary A., Clanton;
Smith, M. M., Clanton;
Spivey, M., Maplesville;
Traywick, R., Clanton;
Traywick, N., Clanton;
Watley, S., Jemison;
Williams, R., Clanton;

Class 2—$22.50—Widows

Allen, F. J., Clanton;
Bice, H., Clanton;
Barefield, N., Calera;
Blassingame, F., Clanton;
Culver, M. A., Mt. Creek;
Cooper, S., Clanton;
Claughton, E., Verbena;
Culp, M. J., Clanton;
Courtney, F. E. J., Clanton;
Ireland, S. A., Clanton;
Fitts, E. F., Stanton;
Foshee, M., Jemison;
Griffin, N. K., Clanton;
Griffin, M. M., Clanton;
Gregg, S. C., Plantersville;
Gullahorn, C., Verbena;
Gray, Sarah J., Clanton;
Haynes, M. K., Clanton;
Hayes, M. J., Clanton;
Hubbard, B., Jemison;
Haywood, N. A., Clanton;
Harris, S. M., Clanton;
Littleton, M., Clanton;
Letcher, B. F., Plantersville;
Lowery, M. A., Jemison;
Martin, Z. A., Calera;
McKinney, N. E., Clanton;
Morris, P. C., Clanton;
Mullins, M. A., Clanton;
Merchant, E., Maplesville;
Northcutt, M., Jemison;
Popwell, Mary A., Clanton;
Robinson, E. J., Clanton;
Smith, S. C., Clanton;
Scarbrough, S. J., Clanton;
Smith, M. J., Clanton;
Taylor, M. A., Clanton;
Turner, M. E., Clanton;
Willis, B. F., Clanton;
Wright, D. A., Clanton;
Wyatt, M. A., Clanton;
Wise, J., Clanton;

Class 3—$18.50—Widows

Armstrong, A. L., Montevallo;
Best, A., Clanton;
Barness, M. A., Jemison;
Bushby, L., Jemison;
Cates, S. R., Jemison;
Calloway, A., Clanton;
Driver, J. K., Clanton;
Dykes, A., Verbena;
Davenport, L., Clanton;
Dudley, L. M., Clanton;
Eaves, M. E., Clanton;
Eiland, G. S., Clanton;
Guthrie, L., Jemison;
Houston, J. C., Maplesville;
Johnson, M. E., Clanton;
Lester, M., Maplesville;
Moore, S., Clanton;
McCormick, C. J., Clanton;
Moore, R. A., Clanton;
Vickers, B. H., Clanton;
Willis, W., Clanton.

I, L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate in and for Chilton County, Alabama, hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of List of Pensioners in Chilton County, as shown by records in the Probate Office.

This, January 18, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

——PBG——

William Rhodes, who was injured by a fall from a house some months ago, was in town Tuesday for the first time since he was hurt. He is not able to walk yet.

——PBG——

Leo M. Farrot of the General Education Board, of Chicago, and J. S. Lambert, rural school supervisor of Alabama, were here last Thursday, making a visit to the Chilton County Training School.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

—?—

The Sunday School workers of the Prattville District, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will meet at Prattville on Wednesday, February 3, for the annual Institute. A large attendance is expected as this District embraces in whole and in part the following counties: Autauga, Bibb, Chilton, Lowndes and Elmore.

Prominent visiting speakers are on the program including O. S. Gates of Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. W. D. Agnew of the Woman's College of Alabama, Clarence M. Dannelly and Miss Margaret Patterson of Montgomery; and Miss Irene Glover of Century, Fla.

Speakers within the District include the following well known Sunday School folk: Mr. C. R. Weldon and Rev. W. S. Guice of Wetumpka; Mrs. G. D. Patterson of Tallassee; Mrs. Gordon Deramus of Booth, Ala.; J. T. Ellison of Centreville, Ala.; and Rev. W. M. Curtis of Prattville.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a. m., and adjourn at 3:30 p. m., with the ladies of the Prattville church serving lunch at noon.

Plans of work for 1926 will be discussed, and officers for the District will be elected.

——PBG——

STATE EXECUTIVES WANTED

—?—

The federal government for the past three years has been able to constantly reduce taxes, while the state governments have been constantly increasing them.

In a few states where state taxation has been lowered, it has come about by the vigorous efforts of an able executive in the office of Governor.

Governors who have either increased tax burdens or been unable to reduce them have generally been men who merely play politics, or individuals of clerical capacity.

If state governments are to escape the woes of mob rule or the dictator, the people must select executives who are strong enough to curb the appetite for political spoils.

——PBG——

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

—?—

In pursuance and in accorance with the terms and directions of a commission, issued and addressed to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, bearing date the 18th day of January, A. D., 1926, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, in front of the Court House of said County, on Thursday, the 18th day of February, A. D., 1926, at 12 o'clock M., all that certain real property, which is described as follows:

W½ of the SW¼, SE¼ of the NW¼, ten acres on the South side of NE¼ of the NW¼, and NW¼ of the NE¼, less ten acres in the SE corner, all in Sec. 24, Township 23, Range 14, Chilton County, Alabama; which said land is to be sold under the decree of said Court, for the purpose of division among the several owners thereof, who are as follows, to-wit: Laura J. Lloyd, Mollie Moritz, W. E. Honeycutt, Emmie Harrell, Mertis Reynolds, Edna Robinson, Alpha Honeycutt, Julian Thompson, Earl Honeycutt, Ralph Honeycutt, Emmett Honeycutt, Ulrica Oglesby, Chas. E. Honeycutt, J. L. Honeycutt, Jr., Jewel Thomas, Essie M. Shaw, Jessie B. Durham, R. L. Honeycutt, J. C. Honeycutt, H. H. Honeycutt, Erby McCrary, Alice Wideman, Olin Martin, and Inez Martin.

R. M. HONEYCUTT,
1-21-4t. Commissioner.

——PBG——

The many friends of Miss Mary L. Gray are glad to have her back home again after a two week stay with friends and relatives in Birmingham.

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

Healthy Mothers, Healthy Children

Montgomery, Ala.—"A little less than a year ago, and during expectancy, I was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did so, and it proved to be a wonderful benefit to me. I advise prospective mothers to take the 'Favorite Prescription' for I am sure they will not regret it."—Mrs. R. F. Rudder, 323 Randolph St.

Obtain this famous "Prescription" now, in tablets or liquid, from your dealer, or write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. Send 10c if you wish a trial pkg. of the tablets.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

NOTICE TO FARMERS—I have 36 tons of nitrate of soda for sale at cost. Anyone who has not bought soda should come at once; first come, first served. Don't wait. It must go. L. H. Bean, Farmers Hardware Co., Jemison, Ala. 1t-ch.

DESERTED OR STOLEN—Ford car, found in road near my home, 5½ miles south of Clanton, January 14, 1926. Owner may get car by describing it and paying for this ad. J. J. Headley, Clanton, R 6. 1t-pd.

FARM FOR RENT—Two-horse farm, for rent on halves; good mules, good plow tools, good land; located on the edge of Clanton. See Julius Burnett at Clanton Motor Car Co., or Henry Burnett Saturday nights and Sundays at home in Clanton. 1-21-2t-p

MONUMENTS & TOMBSTONES—Best Georgia marble; good work and satisfaction guaranteed. No money paid until set up at cemetery. See or write W. J. Bice, Clanton, Ala., Route 4. 1-14-4t-pd

FOR SALE—I have 20 lots in Ozone, sub-division near Mobile, Ala., in Blocks 17 and 19, in Ozone Add., in Section 30, Township 2, Range 2, Mobile County. I have no use for them so far away; I owe $30 taxes on the entire bunch; first offer of $10 each and party to assume the taxes, will get them all. Who is first? Better wire V. A. PALM, Hastings, Nebraska. 1-7-4t-ch

FOR SALE—One 5-room new house and lot in Gowan Addition, within one block of high school, complete with water and lights. See me at Service Barber Shop. Jesse C. Jones, Clanton, Ala. 1-14-2t-pd

CHEVROLET TRUCK—For trade for touring car, or for sale; good casings, good condition. Apply to H. L. Ratliff, Maplesville, Ala., Rt. 2. 1-14-2t-pd.

PLETCHER NEWS

—?—

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Abbott and family of Autaugaville spent the week end here with relatives.

Mrs. Alice Weldon and sons, Leonard and Virgil, spent the week end in Billingsley with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Nummy.

Mr. Carl Keener of Alpine community called on Miss Jewel Abbott Saturday night.

Miss Cordelia Johnson is spending a few days in Bessemer with relatives.

Mr. Willie Clyde Witson of Selma spent the week end with his parents and young bride.

Mr. Sam Connell and sister of Summerfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson and family.

Miss Bertha Rainwater returned from Autaugaville last Wednesday after spending a few days with her brother.

Mr. Preston Johnson of Bessemer spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson.

Misses Jewel and Gracie Abbott had as their guests Sunday night Misses Cordelia and Lula Johnson, Bertha Rainwater, and Messrs. Preston Johnson and Morris Rainwater.

Mrs. G. B. Williams spent Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Ousley, of Alpine community.

——PBG——

JOHNSON-SMITH

—?—

On Saturday night, January 16, about 8:30 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Inez Johnson to Mr. Glover Smith. Rev. Kidd united them in matrimony in Vincent, Alabama.

Miss Johnson was a very charming and popular young lady of Sterrett, and the daughter of W. L. Johnson.

Mr. Smith is a very popular young man of Liberty Hill community. He is of sterling character, and the son of Mr. J. M. Smith, manager and treasurer of Thorsby Fruit Growers Association.

They motored to Thorsby Sunday and spent the afternoon and night with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Mastin, where a delightful six-course dinner was served the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mastin and Mr. Gresham Smith were present at the wedding dinner and the few hours of enjoyment that followed.

The bride and groom will make their home at the old home of Mr. J. M. Smith.

Their many friends wish them many long years of happiness.

——PBG——

The next Fifth Sunday meeting of the Chilton County Baptist Association will be held at Oak Grove, above Jemison, the fifth Sunday in January. —T. J. Deason.

Big Auction Sale

LOTS and LOTS of LOTS

Tuesday, January 26th

AT 10 O'CLOCK, A. M.

Col. Thos. W. Millican
Auctioneer

The S. C. Cox 12-acre tract

in North Clanton, on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway will be subdivided into small tracts and sold at PUBLIC AUCTION.

These lots are fine residence property, with some nice business locations, and are in easy reach of the schools and churches of Clanton, the best city on the Highway.

STOP! Think of Clanton's possibilities and of Clanton's future. LOOK how she is growing by leaps and bounds. THINK of the buildings now under construction. BUY one or more of these lots for a home. Invest in these lots and watch your money DOUBLE.

THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS. COME AND BE WITH THE CROWD. JAN. 26.

Good Band Music

Win a Free Lot---Yes

TWO NICE RESIDENCE LOTS GIVEN AWAY ABSOLUTELY FREE. ALSO MANY OTHER CASH PRIZES.

COME BE WITH US ON THIS BIG DAY

Tuesday, January 26th

AT 10 O'CLOCK, A. M.

SOLD BY

Tenn.-Ala. Auction Company

CLANTON, ALA.

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Last Tuesday Mrs. Martin Petersen entertained the school teachers on Master Leroy's tenth anniversary. A pleasant hour was spent and refreshments were served to Misss Mary Sue Stuart, Misses Kate and McMae McNeil.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan made a business trip to Birmingham on last Thursday, returning Sunday night.

Miss Elizabeth Mendenhall of Montgomery is a guest of Mrs. Nels Petersen.

Thorsby Baptist church has made arrangements to hold a series of evening meetings for one week beginning Sunday, January 24th. Dr. S. J. Ezell, pastor of Clanton Baptist Church, has been engaged to conduct the meetings, which will be primarily to arouse a spirit of responsibility among members of the church and congregation and to arouse a quickening of religious interest among Thorsby people in general. It is hoped that there will be a generous attendance by all the people of Thorsby and vicinity.

Arrangements are under way to hold a series of special meetings at the Congregational church February 14th to 22nd, inclusive Rev. James W. Davenport of Robbins, Tennessee, who was for five years the beloved pator of this church and who commands the love and respect of the whole community, will be in charge of the meetings, and it is hoped that all who can will avail themselves of an opportunity to again sit under the ministrations of this popular and forceful preacher.

Thorsby Institute will close its fisrt semester of the school year 1925-26 on Friday, January 29th. The second semester will begin Monday, February 1st, at which time there will be an opportunity for the enrollment of new students who contemplate attending this school.

The January meeting of the Board of Trustees of Thorsby Institute held last Thursday, was one of considerable importance. The work of the new building committee was heartily approved and complimented. Arrangements were made for further needed improvements in equipment. Miss Helen C. Jenkins was unanimously elected principal of the school for the ensuing year and was also made chairman of the Faculty Committee, who will report nominations for next year's faculty and report same at the April meeting, when an effort will be appointed whose duty it shall be to present nominations at the April meeting, for five trustees for three years, to succeed those whose terms expire in July, also officers of the Board, and members of standing committees for the ensuing year.

Because the school will be in session Saturday, January 23rd, the sales room in the basement of the cottage near the tower will not be open on that day. On succeeding Saturdays, until further notice, it will be open from 9 to 12 a. m., but there is no certainty that the place will be open on Saturday afternoons.

The annual meeting of stockholders of The Bank of Thorsby was held at the bank last Tuesday morning. A 10% dividend was declared. The authorized capital of the institution was by vote increased to $30,000 with a paid in capital of $20,000.

The stockholders elected the following directors for the ensuing year: Chairman of the Board, A. M. Grimsley; C. E. Lucas, J. R. Martin, Felix Eiland, A. E. Reagan, J. H. Goddard, C. C. Petersen, E. W. Butler.

The directors elected the following officers for the ensuing year: C. E. Lucas, President; C. C. Petersen, Vice President; C. C. Driskill of Chattanooga, Cashier; Miss Bertha Littleton, Bookkeeper.

One can not fail to note the change in the office of Cashier. Mr. C. R. Foss was regretfully let out at his urgent request on account of poor health. His separation from the bank will be effective February 1st. However, we will not lose this popular and enterprising young business man. Mr. Foss has made an alliance with Thorsby Hardware Co., where his duties will consist chiefly of outside work among their patrons in Thorsby and vicinity. His duties will begin there February 1st.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday, January 21st at the home of Mrs. Conrad Carlson.

The Congregational Ladies Aid Society held their annual meeting at the church Monday afternoon. Satisfactory reports were made by the officers, showing a social meeting every month during the past year; $25.00 was donated to Thorsby Institute building fund, and a considerable sum spent on improvements at the parsonage, leaving a small balance in the treasury. The following officers were elected for 1926: President, Mrs. E. W. Butler; Vice President, Mrs. J. E. Each; Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Goddard; Treasurer, Mrs. Carl C. Petersen.

At a special meeting Thursday afternoon the Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association voted to give a shower for the benefit of Thorsby Junior High School, Domestic Science department. This resulted in furnishing equipment for this branch of the school to the extent of $25 to $30 worth, including a 4-burner oil stove and various household utensils for culinary use, with which the girls began their work last Tuesday afternoon, under the direction of Miss Stewart.

Mr. Bean, the principal, states that arrangements are practically completed for equipment with which to begin operation of the Manual Training department in the near future.

Last Saturday night the actors in a recent minstrel show given here by the school, went to Maplesville and pulled off a repetition of their entertainment with pleasure to their audience and profit to the school.

Thorsby Junior High Basket Ball team, under Coach Brown, is being heard from with credit to themselves and the school. This team consists of David McCary, Eugene Littleton, Hershall Hayes, Lester Pate, and James Nelson. They recently went to Stanton where they stood against Leo Langston's quintette and defeated them by a score of 14 to 11. Plans have been made for another contest between these teams on Thorsby's ground on Saturday, January 30th.

There will be Scandinavian services at Concordia Lutheran church at Thorsby at 10:30 a. m., next Sunday.

It is gratifying to note that the administration of our public school in cooperation with interested citizens of Thorsby, is really giving our children an opportunity to utilize to the full extent the facilities afforded by a modern school building.

—PBG—

HOSPITAL NOTES

—?—

Mr. J. A. Thompson was discharged from the Central Alabama Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McAdoo, who has been critically ill and little hopes held for his recovery, is now improving very fast and is expected by his nurses and doctors to be able to leave the hosiptal within the next few days.

The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass of Jemison were brought in on the night of January 14. Both were burned badly at their home by the explosion of gasoline. The little boy died within a few hours; the girl is still in a very critical condition at the hospital.

Mrs. Donald Merchant and young daughter, Julia Annette, are both doing nicely.

Mrs. M. L. White, who has been ill for several days is improving fast, and will soon be able to return to her home.

Miss Grace Robinson, a former nurse of the Central Alabama Hospital, who left in September and took up her studies in Jasper, Alabama, at the Walker County Hospital, has returned to finish her training in this hospital.

The Central Alabama Hospital has changed its old dress for a new one, and after having undergone this change is prepared to do its full duty of its requirements as an A-1 hospital or it can not be a training school and as the training school has been reorganized, so the requirements must be carried out.

—PBG—

BANK STOCKHOLDERS ANNUAL MEETING HELD

—?—

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples Savings Bank was held in the office of the bank on Monday, January 18, 1926.

The past year has been a most successful one and the stockholders are very much pleased with the outlook for the future.

A dividend of $12.00 per share was declared to stockholders, and the balance of the earnings for the year 1925 was passed to the Undivided Profits account.

The bank is entering its twenty-fifth year and the stockholders are justly proud of the fact that their stock has netted them a substantial income through the years and that the value of their stock has increased considerably.

The stockholders are pleased in that they have never been assessed. The bank has grown steadily and today the financial structure is solid, as it has been during the last quarter of a century.

All old officers and directors were reelected.

The stock of the Peoples Savings Bank is owned exclusively by local citizens.

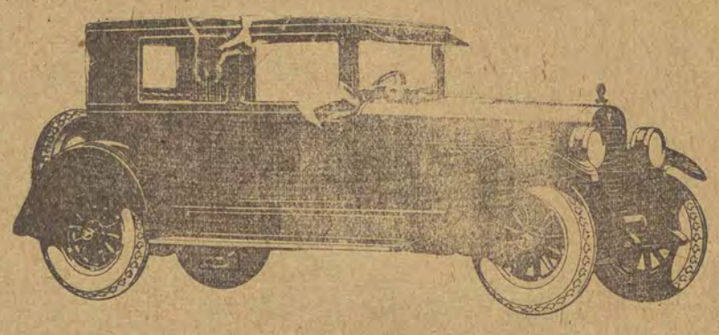
—PBG—

NEW LAW PARTNERSHIP—SMITH & STEPHENS

—?—

The readers of this paper and the many friends of the two gentlemen will be glad to learn that Mr. A. C. Smith and Mr T. Calvin Stephens, ex-Principal of the Chilton County High School, have formed a partnership for the practice of law in Clanton.

Mr. A. C. Smith is well known to the readers of this paper and to the people of Chilton County, having practiced his profession here since 1893. He was admitted to the bar at Prattville, Autauga County, Alabama, March 6th, 1890, and practiced law at that place until he moved to Clanton October 16th, 1893, where he has continued the practice of his chosen profession for over thirty-two years.



Mr. T. Calvin Stephens is a native of the State of Georgia. He came to Alabama and to Chilton County as a teacher, and for the past two years has carried on at the Chilton County High School.

Mr. Stephens has had thorough preparation fo work in his chosen profession. An A. B. of the Ohio Northern University, he took a post graduate course of two years in the University of Chicago in Political Science and Political Economy. Afterward, upon the opening of the law school of the University of Chicago he entered the law school and finished the three-year course in law in 1909. He entered the practice in Panama City and practiced until he quit to enter the army in the late war. Since that time he has been in the school room. He recently resigned as principal of the Chilton County High School and is taking up the practice of law in Clanton.

—PBG—

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

LOST—Pair of eye glasses on streets of Clanton, Wednesday. Reward if returned to C. G. Leitzman or Union-Banner office. 1t-pd

HUDSON

In ten years of value leadership, Hudson Super-Six performance, quality and price advantage have never been so outstanding as today.

The Coach has long been acknowledged the "World's Greatest Buy", because of its utility, performance and value. Now among luxurious cars, the beautiful Brougham and the Sedan give Hudson the same unrivalled position among luxurious cars. They have all the distinction of finest custom built cars, with a price advantage based on the world's largest production of 6-cylinder cars.

The Coach
$1165

The Brougham - $1450
7-Pass. Sedan - - 1650
Freight and Tax Extra

These cars may be purchased for a low first payment and convenient terms on balance.

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, ALABAMA

WIFE OF SEABORN JONES KILLED IN FALL

—?—

The wife of Mr. Seaborn Jones, who lives at the Bob Martin place above Thorsby, fell from a barn last Saturday and broke her shoulder. She was injured otherwise internally and never regained consciousness. She died Sunday night and was buried Monday at Pine Hill cemetery near Jemison.

Mr. Jones had Just moved to the Bob Martin place, having lived near Jemison for the past few years.

—PBG—

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

—PBG—

WANTED—Salesman and Collector to represent us in City of Montgomery. Applicant must be able to furnish automobile and make bond. Apply in person at 214 Dexter Ave. See Mr. Coakrey, Mgr. 1-21-2t-c

—PBG—

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON

—?—

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, who was convicted in the Circuit Court of Chilton County on March 30, 1925, on a charge of violating prohibition law, and sentenced to six months in the penitentiary, will make application for pardon or parole.

This, the 13th day of January, 1926.—Martin Giles.

—PBG—

Mr. Jim Gardner of Verbena was a business visitor to town Thursday.

Mrs. W. A. Reynolds, Mr. Julius Reynolds and Jane Pitts motored down to Greenville last Thursday and visited relatives.

Quick Way to End Dangerous Cough

Why let a dangerous cough hang on when you can, through a simple treatment, get speedy relief and often break it up completely in 24 hours?

This treatment is based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So the worst cough quickly disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

Do Your Gums Bleed When You Brush Your Teeth

Put a stop to it before pyorrhea develops.

Creosene is a new, improved, pleasant form of home treatment for pyorrhoea infected gums which banishes this terrible disease by killing the germs, saves you a frightful expense and severe pain.

Bleeding gums stopped in 12 hours; soreness disappears in 24 hours; pus clears up in two to three days; teeth begin to tighten in ten days, and if your trouble has not been completely eliminated in three or four weeks, get your money back.

Creosene is sold by all good druggists at $1.00 a bottle, or sent direct from Creosene Co., Desk 4-W, Atlanta, Ga., on receipt of price. Guaranteed satisfactory or money refunded. For sale by Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

Colored Subdivision

At AUCTION

Monday, Jan. 25

10:00 O'CLOCK, A. M.

The J. B. Downs tract of about 3 Acres, between Kincheon Road and Welch Street, south of Second Avenue in West Clanton; will be cut into nice Residence Lots and sold to the highest and best bidders.

This is absolutely the best property in Clanton's Colored Section. Come out! Buy a lot---Own your home. Terms: one-fourth cash, balance in three equal semi-annual payments.

You make the price; We make the Deed. FREE --- Several Cash Prizes will be Given Away Absolutely Free.

--- SOLD BY ---

Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.

Remember---Monday, January 25; 10 A.M.

Notice of Delinquent Tax Assessments

Notice is hereby given that all tax assessments of both real and personal property which are not returned to Tax Assessor before the first Monday in February will be subject to a penalty of ten per cent of the assessed value thereof.

S. M. PATE

Tax Assessor, Chilton County, Ala.

SPECIAL NEWS

I have bought the Bankrupt Stock of C. C. Armstrong, and am now in Business at his old Stand.

I can sell you Dry Goods and Shoes at less than Wholesale Cost.

I also have a fine line of Staple and Fancy Groceries. I can save you Money on anything you need.

These are not cheap goods but Good Goods at a Cheap Price.

Be sure and get my Figures before you buy elsewhere.

DONALD MERCHANT
General Merchandise
Clanton, - - - - - Alabama

J. R. OWEN

— DEALER IN —
GENERAL MERCHANDISE, SHOES, ETC.

A Good Country Store, where you can buy Goods at Standard Prices with the Guarantee of the Highest Quality to be obtained anywhere.

We call your attention to our Extra Values in Shoes, that are Guaranteed to wear a reasonable time or you get a new pair.

I buy Country Produce. Your trade Appreciated.

Owenville, Ala. Clanton, Ala., R. 3

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

Improved!

a Revelation in Low Priced Transportation

A type of performance never before approached in any low priced car—a new smoothness of operation—new flexibility—new swiftness of acceleration—new beauty—new comfort—these have been added to its already world-famous power and economy to make the Improved Chevrolet a revelation in low priced transportation.

Just take one ride in this remarkable car—and you will be amazed to find that qualities heretofore the chief advantages of owning costlier cars are now obtainable in a car of very low price.

The introduction of the Improved Chevrolet marks an outstanding achievement in the automobile industry.

New Low Prices!

Touring	$510	Sedan	$735
Roadster	510	Landau	765
Coupe	645	½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
Coach	645	1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

All Prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated

CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

ENTERPRISE NOSES OUT STANTON BY 12-9 SCORE

—?—

Enterprise and Stanton staged a lively game on the latter's court on Wednesday, January 13. The count was tied at the end of the first half, but in the second, Enterprise showed too much stuff for the Stantonians, and the final whistle found the score Enterprise 12, Stanton 9.

The Enterprise boys are going fine this season, having suffered only one defeat.

——PBG——

STANTON NEWS

—?—

The Parent-Teachers Association met at the school auditorium Saturday afternoon with quite a large attendance. It was decided that the erection of the new school room will begin in the near future.

Mr. E. W. Jacks, operator of the tractor on the public roads, and formerly of Maplesville, has moved his family to Stanton.

H. R. Schurter made a business trip to Selma last Friday.

Leo Langston spent Saturday in Clanton.

Mrs. T. D. Parnell was on the sick list last week but is improving now.

Mr. J. L. Burnett, our able county commissioner, has moved his family on account of school facilities here. We are glad to have Mr. Burnett with us.

Glenn Woolley is expected home from Ft. Benning, Ga., some time this week.

The old carriage house at what was formely the Penny McGhee place in ante-bellum days has just been torn down. This old carriage house, which was a relic of the days of the Civil War, seems to have been a target for both contending armies in the battle that was fought here on April 7, 1865, its walls having been pierced by 28 bullets on that memorable occasion. There is a tradition, and by many is thought to be a fact, that General Forrest killed two Union soldiers with a six-shooter near where this old carriage house formerly stood. There is an old oak tree still standing that bears, even now, scars from bullets fired on that day.

——PBG——

WEST CHILTON

—?—

Our people are still enjoying their aftermath of the holidays, which is quite usual in late years, requiring several weeks to get settled down for the new year.

Several cases of pneumonia in these parts. Three children of Carl McCarter have been sick with it; also, Percy Crumpton has had a severe attack. All are now reported convalescent.

Miss Rebecca Vann, about 80 years old, died on the G. W. Hodgens farm recently. She lived a good, quiet life. She was buried at Pleasant Grove.

Lum Pate and wife and Miss Callie Smitherman of Sardis visited here last week.

A great crowd attended the Allen Mahan sale. The real estate part of the property was secured by John W. Mahan of Birmingham, formerly one of Randolph's best young men.

Died in Tuscaloosa on the evening of January 13, Mr. Thomas Waldrop, son of Isaac Waldrop of Beat 14. He had been in Tuscaloosa several months for treatment. The body reached here on the 15th, and was buried at Pleasant Grove Saturday afternoon, attended by a large crowd of his relatives and friends.

This community was severely shocked to hear of the sad accident to Mr. C. G. Class' children at Jemison. We deeply sympathize with him.

Married on the evening of the 9th, Joseph Smith, Jr., and Miss Lizzie Crumpton, Rev. J. P. Gentry officiating.

Miss Madene Waldrop, one of the accomplished young ladies of Beat 2, is behind the counter at John S. Waldrop's store.

J. P. Cost, a native of this part, now of Clanton, was here a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Martin have moved to the Joseph Waldrop farm.

Everybody should support The Union-Banner. It is of more intrinsic value to the aveage person than a daily, because there is a tone of interest and recognition in the county weekly not possibly visible in the big dailies.

Mr. Oscar Waldrop of West Frankfort, Ill., came down Friday to attend his brother's burial.

We note the political bee seems to be buzzing around several prospective candidates just now.

We need among the candidates, good men, of course, and business men as well. We can not succeed without a combination of that kind.

We noticed some weeks ago that Dr. B. F. Giles of Birmingham was dead. We remember him as a beautiful singer of the old church music. He became a minister, and was connected with a female college. He once lived in Chilton county. Some of the older people of Mulberry and Macedonia remember him.

Mr. Isaac Waldrop has just retuned from a visit to his son and daughter at West Frankfort, Ill., and his daughter at Maben, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cummins of Straven, Ala., visited at W. R. Redding's Saturday and Sunday.

——PBG——

18 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar for One Dollar.—Jas. C. Jones, Clanton.

——PBG——

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

Wanted To Buy
500 HEAD of CATTLE

I want to buy 500 head of Cattle, all kinds. Will Pay the Best Market Price; also, will trade Milch Cows for Dry Cattle.

Bay Thickett

Clanton - - - - - - - Alabama

WYATT & GOLDEN
BLACKSMITH SHOP

We are opening up in front of Gray's Mill on Third Avenue North, a blacksmith shop. On Saturday, January 23, we will be ready to do your horseshoeing and repair work. We will be pleased to serve you.

JOHN D. WYATT
G. B. GOLDEN

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS FROM STUMPS HILLS

—?—

Mr. Editor:

I hope that all may act commencing with the new year so that we may be the recipients of many grand and glorious blessings. We feel that we inhabitants of this much-favored section of the United States, by which we enjoy under our system of government all our rights and privileges that could be bestowed upon any people, as we of Stumps Hills are.

We would have you believe that we are the most law-abiding people to be found not undertake to tell you all about our managing little tricks in politics and religion. When a fellow passes to a certain age, if he does not see cause to go in the pigeon hole, we tell him to walk in; but I am almost sure you fellows are not so rash.

We make our servants talk, and when it comes to electing our officers in church or state we go to figuring with a few who are best up on tactics and land our man before you could say "Jack Robinson" with your mouth open.

We notice you fellows are beginning to call your committees together, I reckon to stir up and interest the dear people. We don't have that to do in Stumps Hills. We speak one and the same thing, and extend all others our sympathy because of their division.—Oliver Mullins.

——PBG——

GUARDIAN'S SETTLEMENT NOTICE

—?—

The State of Alabama, Chilton County, Probate Court, January 16, 1926.

This day came A. L. Cobb, Guardian of Pauline Lowery, Cecil Murray Glass and James Milton Lowery, and files his account, vouchers, evidence and statement for final settlement of his said Guardianship.

It is ordered that the 8th day of February, 1926, be, and the same hereby is, appointed as the day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

Witness my hand this 16th day of January, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-21-3t Judge of Probate.

——PBG——

CEDAR GROVE NEWS

—?—

The first quarterly conference of the Methodist Protestant church of Clanton circuit will be held at Cedar Grove church, Saturday, January 23. All the church officials are expected to be present.—G. B. Golden, Pastor.

CONTEST ON HIGHWAY SAFETY

—?—

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—Planning the solution of the traffic problem a generation ahead is the policy of the Highway Education Board, according to a statement here announcing the fifth national safety campaign open to all elementary schools of the country.

The campaign incudes an essay contest for pupils and a lesson contest in which teachers in elem ntary schools are to compete. In these contests $6,500 is given for the best essays and the best lessons, the prizes the gifts of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, which cooperates with the Board in its highway safety enterprises. The contests close February 24th of this year.

The contest is being announced now to the schools of the country. Pupils are requested to write essays of 500 words in length on the subject "My School's Share in Highway Safety." Four hundred thirty-eight medals and as many cash prizes will be given for the best essays in the several states, while three national awards will be given for the premier essays that are written by the pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades in school. The first national prize consists of a gold watch and a trip to Washington with all expenses paid, the winning pupil being under the care of Board officials.

In each state a gold medal and a check for fifteen dollars will be given for the best essay, and a silver medal and a ten-dollar check for the second best paper. The number of third prizes, each consisting of a bronze medal and five dollars, varies somewhat in proportion to the elementary school enrollment. New York State, for example, receives 27 state prizes, while the number for Alabama is 9, for California 13, Texas 19, Illinois 20, and other states in proportion.

The contests are the fifth of a concerted program undertaken by the Board at the suggestion of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, looking toward some amelioration of present conditions. It is believed by Board officials and many others that the surest plan for relief, both immediate and in the future, is to interest the schools, pupils and teachers, principals and superintendents, in a campaign which is broad enough to involve humanitarian principles, and grave enough to affect the foundations of our economic system insofar as it pertains to transportation.

——PBG——

FOUND

—?—

On Wednesday, January 13, three young men were seen in the woods near Wessington, going through a bundle of clothes. One of them put on a pair of overalls, and then becoming frightened they ran to a small car and went south. Evidently the clothes had been stolen. There are some small childrens' clothes in the bundle. They were done up like they were ready for the wash, as there was a bar of soap in them. Owner may describe the bundle and get it at the home of W. J. Northcutt, Jemison, Route 2.

Adams Grocery Store
The Place To Buy. Why?

Because the people who do buy are satisfied with prices and satisfied with the goods. And I have other things—Notions of all kinds, needles, pins, handkerchiefs, Gold Fountain Pens extra cheap, Gold Watch Chains. A lot of pretty little things. Come and see.

S. M. ADAMS South Clanton

CLANTON LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Merchant announce the birth of a daughter, whom they have named Julia Annette.

Miss Hazel Kreider spent the week end in Montgomery with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid and son, Cameron, Jr., motored to Montgomery Sunday and spent the day.

Mrs. John M. Bridges and children returned Sunday to their home in Bessemer, after a two week visit to her parents, Judge and Mrs. L. H. Reynolds.

Mrs. Elmer Bayzer of Lock 12 was in town attending the teachers' meeting Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McNeil of Mineral Springs were among the teachers in town Saturday.

Mr. Harvey Chandler left Sunday for Douglas, Ga., where he was called on account of the death of his brother-in-law.

Mrs. J. B. Mauney and daughter, Marjorie, spent last week in Billingsley with M. Mauney.

Mr. Lett of Verbena was in town Saturday.

Mesdames E. E. Upchurch, John T. Ellis, Latham, M. B. Arant, S. J. Ezell, and Grady Broadhead attended the meeting of the W. M. U. at Maplesville Friday.

Mrs. Kelly and children of Thorsby were shoppers in town Monday.

Mrs. E. E. Edwards of Fairview was in town shopping Wednesday.

Mrs. A. C. Harper, who has been ill for some time, is able to be out again.

Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Mims and little daughter of Maplesville were in town Saturday.

Mr. A. M. Grimsley of Fayette was in town Tuesday to attend the annual stockholders' meeting of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Herbert Turner of Gorgas was visiting friends in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Benziger and little daughter of Lock 12 were in town Friday.

Mr. Billy Walker of Maplesville was among the visitors in town Saturday.

Misses Frances Moore and Pearl Minor attended the Young People's Council at Mt. Creek Saturday.

Dr. Hughes B. Kennedy of Birmingham spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Pipes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Newell and children of Birmingham were gests of Judge and Mrs. L. H. Reynolds for the past week end.

Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch and Mesdames John T. Ellis and J. Mell Martin left Wednesday on a motor trip to Miami, Fla., where they will visit Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Hopkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis.

Mr. W. H. Strock of Verbena was a business visitor to town Friday.

Mr. George Trotter motored to Birmingham Thursday to transact business.

Dr. J. P .Hayes went down to Montgomery last Wednesday to accompany Mrs. Sidney Weldon, who underwent an operation at a local hospital.

Misses Mary McSwain, Jean and Myra Johnson, who are students at Thorsby Institute, spent the week end with home folks.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson spent Monday shopping in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ruffin made a business trip to Montgomery on last Thursday.

Mrs. H. B. Oliver of Verbena was among the visistors in town Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones and Mrs. Carrie Mullins motored to Birmingham and spent Monday and Tuesday with relatives.

Mrs. J. Hance Alred is spending several days at Mitchell Dam with Mrs. Clifford Mullins.

Mr. J. B. Atkinson and little daughter, Mary Frances, spent Friday in Montgomery.

Mr. Charles Moore of the University of Alabama came home Tuesday afternoon to spend several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore.

Rev. E. A. Norris of Verbena was in town Saturday.

Mesdames G. C. Harris, Grady D. Broadhead, Elizabeth Harris, Helen and Elizabeth Eubanks and Hal Broadhead attended the Young Peoples Council at Mt. Creek Saturday.

Prof. H. A. Harris of Stanton was among the visitors in town Saturday.

Miss Bettie Morris Gardner visited relatives and friends in Verbena a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson of Jemison were here Saturday.

Rev. C. C. Wilkerson has returned from Wadley and reports that Mrs Wilkerson is improving following an attack of pneumonia.

Miss Gent Gardner of Verbena spent the week end with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foshee have moved to Montgomery. Mrs. Nix Mullins is occupying their home.

Mrs. Horace Davis and little daughter, Frances, of Verbena, were visiting relatives here Friday.

Mrs. P. C. Smith has gone to Fitzpatricck, where she was called to the bedside of her uncle, Mr. Moss.

Rev. Hornady of Mt. Creek was a visitor in Clanton Friday.

Mr. Claud Connell of Ensley was a recent visitor to friends in Clanton.

Mr. Roy Sawyer of Shelby was in town on business Wednesday.

Mrs. J. L. Ruffin and son, Bronson, spent a few days at Wetumpka recently with her mother, Mrs. Darby.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foshee and little daughter of Billingsley were visitors to town Saturday.

Miss Callie Watts has returned from Montgomery to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sartor before going to market.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS
Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"

Clanton . . . . . Alabama

LAND SALE
At Auction
Friday, Jan. 22nd TEN A. M.

The M. Manning farm, 310 acres, better known as the Davenport old place, 3 miles west of Thorsby, 4 miles south-west of Jemison, on the Thorsby and Randolph Road, 1 mile west of Pate's Chapel church and School, 1 and 1-2 miles east of Pleasant Grove Church and School. This farm with two good settlements will be subdivided into small tracts of 40 to 120 acres and sold to the highest and best bidder.

Mr. Manning has moved to Verbena, and has decided to sell this fine farm at public auction. This property is in one of the best communities in Chilton County and is well adapted for all agricultural products.

GO OUT AND LOOK IT OVER BEFORE THE SALE

Terms — One-third Cash, Balance in Two or Three Annual Payments — Terms

WE WILL ALSO SELL A FINE PAIR OF MATCH MULES AND ONE 2-HORSE WAGON, ONE COMPLETE SET OF BLACKSMITH'S TOOLS, SEVERAL THOUSAND FEET OF FINE LUMBER, ONE COW AND YOUNG CALF AND FARMING TOOLS.

FREE — One big GOLD CASH PRIZE and many other cash prizes will be given away during the day — FREE

SOLD BY

Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.

CLANTON, ALA.

ESTABLISHED 1903 THE ESTABLISHED 1892

UNION-BANNER

VOLUME XIII. —TEN PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1926 NUMBER 41

What's ?P.B.G.? READ PAGE 2

Like PIRATES? READ PAGE 2

Monday Last Chance to Pay Poll Tax This Year

You Can Register Till February 18th; But Pay Your Poll Tax by the First

This is the last chance we will have to remind our readers that it is time to pay your poll tax. Next Monday, February 1st is the last day for payment this year. There a great many people in the county who are due a poll tax and who have not yet paid. It is high time those who have not paid are waking up as the time is going to be out before you know it.

The registrars will be here the rest of this month. Beginning February 1st they go out for a round over the eastern part of the county. Their dates in the different beats can be found in the big registration notice elsewhere in this paper.

They will be back at the court house February 12th to February 18th.

It should be remembered that all money paid for poll tax goes to the schools and then the elections this year are very important. Every man and woman should be qualified to cast their votes.

Monday is the last day. Don't forget it. The women are especially urged to pay up, as it is among them that most of the delinquents are found.

PALMER WRITING METHOD AWARDS

The Palmer Method of writing was recently adopted in the Clanton Grammar School. The following awards have been granted to the pupils of this school: Gold Star Pins, 27; Palmer Method Buttons, 71; Progress Pins, 69; Student's Final Certificates, 14; Improvement Certificates, 5; High School Diplomas, 1. Miss Vivian Gray is the only pupil in this school to receive a High School Diploma.

From Pillar to Post.—"Your speedometer shows you have gone 25,000 miles. Been taking some long tours?"

"No, the 5,000 is the distance I have covered going back and forth to the office, and the other 20,000 is the distance I have covered looking for parking places."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

W. D. Burnett of Billingsley was a visitor to Clanton Monday.

When pirates fall out there's the deuce to pay. Read of treacherous dealings and sinister plots in "Porto Bello Gold," that starts in this issue of The Union-Banner.

Letter From Reynolds

Editor Union-Banner:

Permit me to say a few words in regard to the qualifications of anyone to vote. When any poll tax payer writes me about their poll tax, please look at your receipts. See if all are exactly the same—same Beat. If any difference write me what they are.

Write me when you registered, give your birth, give all the Beats you have been in, and this will save two or three letters trying to get you straight on the Poll List. I wish every qualified voter was on the qualified list.

When you change Beats write me to change your record. The law only requires me to send to each Beat the list of qualified voters of that Beat. I urge all voters in Beat 4 to see if they are in the proper District. There are four Districts in Beat 4. District 1 is all the territory east of the L. & N. Railroad and north of the Higgins Ferry Road; District 2 is all the territory west of the L. & N. Railroad and north of the Maplesville Road; District 3 is all the territory west of the L. & N. Railroad and south of the Maplesville Road; District 4 is all the territory east of L. & N. Railroad and south of Higgins Ferry Road, all originally being Beat 4.

Keep in mind if you are to vote this year and are due a poll tax you must pay it on or before February 1, 1926.

I can not understand how any person would let $1.50 disfranchise them when it goes to the public schools. I have heard of some school teachers who were teaching school and would not pay a poll tax, which would be used in paying their salary.

Some ladies say they do not believe in voting, but this does not relieve them of the responsibility of taking an interest in their governmental affairs. The laws of the land have placed this responsibility upon you.

I wish every person entitled to qualify would do so, and then vote their convictions.

If you are in doubt about your record, write me and I will gladly look it up for you.

The list of qualified voters will be published in April. Keep a close look out for your name.

Yours truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

Lee Vickers of Thorsby was among the visitors to Clanton Monday.

ADDITIONAL ROOM FOR SCHOOL AT STANTON

We are informed that a new room is being added to the already splendid building of the Stanton Junior High School. This building was recently completed on the State 8-1-S plan.

CAMPAIGN TO MODIFY VOLSTEAD ACT BEGINS

Wheeler of Anti-Saloon League Flays Friends of Liquor Traffic in Rousing Speech.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The long-heralded drive for modification of the Volstead Act has begun. Completion of the preliminary steps in the campaign to liberalize the prohibition law was announced Sunday. The joint legislative committee representing 4 organizations claiming an aggregate membership of more than six million voters now is ready to bring the wet and dry fight to a climax before the senate house committees in public hearings on bills aimed at modifying the prohibition law.

Although dates for these hearings have not been set as yet indications are that the house judiciary committee will take up consideration of the modifications bills in the house within the next couple of weeks. The senate judiciary committee probably will take up the senate bills about the same time.

The organizations which have combined to work for modification thru the joint legislative committee are the American Federation of Labor, the association against the prohibition amendment, the Constitutional Liberty league of Massachusetts and the Moderation League, Inc. These four groups cooperated in fighting for revision of the Volstead Act during the sixty-eighth congress.

It is the purpose of the joint legislative committee to prove to the congressional committees the complete failure of the Volstead Act as a temperance measure.

A statement issued Sunday announcing the committee's plans said:

"The committee will present many witnesses of national reputation and facts to prove that the Volstead Act has resulted in wide-spread corruption of state, federal and municipal officials; that it has undermined respect for all law and official authority, therefore contributing greatly to the terrifying crime conditions existing throughout the country; that it has had a disastrous and demoralizing effect on the youth of the country exemplified in a disquieting record of crime and intemperate tendencies with specifically 85 per cent of the violent crime being perpetrated by mere boys and girls who in the pre-prohibition days would not have arrived at a stage of criminal action; that it has driven the manufacture of alcohol beverages into millions of homes thereby engendering disregard for law particularly in the minds of children and that it has been a prolific breeder of hypocrisy in the political, religious and business life of the nation.

"The Committee also will stand ready to supply individual members of congress with statistical and other infomation on the failure of the prohibition law to fulfill the promises made for by its advocates."

The committee has opened offices in Washington. From this headquarters located near the department of justice will eminate the propaganda aimed at prohibition revision.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, replied to an address today in the Deleware Avenue Baptist church, Wilmington, Deleware, to statements made by Senator Edwards of New Jersey, and others at the meeting here last week of the Deleware division of the Association against the Prohibition amendment.

"Not all the arguments of the brewer's friends," he said, "will persuade this nation to re-license its worst and most treacherous foe—the liquor traffic."

The "exploded arguments" of the speakers at the anti-prohibition meeting, he asserted, were "neither new nor true."

LIBERTY HILL—CEDAR GROVE

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove singing society met at Cedar Grove last Sunday afternoon, with a large crowd. The directors were J. W. Lowery, Harrison Hayes, Leonard Culp, Kermit Lowery, Glover Smith, and Gresham Smith. Organists were Mrs. Bonnie Rollins and Miss Onzell Eiland.

We elected officers for another year. Mr. J. W. Lowery was reelected President; Leonard Culp, Vice-President; D. W Ward, Secretary at Liberty Hill; Kermit Lowery at Cedar Grove; also, a Program Committee was elected, consisting of Alpheus Littlejohn, Eula Foshee, and Glover Smith.

We were glad to have so many visitors with us. Come again. We also invite all singers and lovers of music to come and be with us at any time. The dates are the 1st and 3rd Sundays at Liberty Hill, and 2nd and 4th at Cedar Grove.—Kermit Lowery, Sec'y.

Mr. J. O. Johnson of Thorsby was in Clanton Monday attending to some business matters.

YES, WE WILL HAVE THE RABBIT HUNT

We have had several inquiries concerning the annual rabbit hunt for Washington's Birthday, February 22. In reply, we wish to say that the fellows seem to be anxious for it, and so far as The Union-Banner knows, we will have it as usual.

A word from R. L. Duffy of Mt. Creek says don't forget the rabbit hunt, which we take to mean that "Duff" will be there with his high leg boots on, ready to wade the briar patches and "skeer" 'em out. Duff was one of the best "rabbit dogs" in the gang last year.

Watch The Union-Banner for further definite details before the 22nd of February. Those rabbit hunts have always proved to be more fun than a barrel of monkeys, and we hope that this year will be the best in history.

HERE IS SOME GOOD NEWS FOR CLANTON

We are told that plans are in soak for beginning work on Clanton's new Grammar school building right away. It is to be hoped that this is not another false alarm.

Clanton needs a new grammar school building worse than anything else that can be mentioned.

That thing we have got up there for our children to go to school in is a shame and a disgrace.

Let us have a school building that is equal to the ones at Thorsby, Verbena, Collins Chapel, Jemison, Stanton, and other places.

ALL IN A YEAR'S WORK

The students of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, according to the annual report just issued, have made during the last year 43,580 visits to jails, hospitals and lodging houses, conducted or aided 63,000 meetings, directed choirs and sung solos to the number of 22,116, taught 2,770 Bible and mission study classes, interviewed 88,063 persons, of whom 7,094 professed conversion, and distributed 964,399 tracts and Scripture portions. Each week approximately 100 groups of students preach the gospel throughout the city and every Sunday nearly 700 students teach Sunday school classes in the churches of Chicago and nearby towns.

This remarkable institution, which was founded 40 years ago by the distinguished evangelist, D. L. Moody, has an annual registration of 1,000 in its day school and nearly 1,000 in its evening school. Its curriculum embraces studies in the English Bible with 63 other subjects, including music courses which are very popular—piano, organ, singing, composition of hymns, and evangelistic playing. The Institute also has a correspondence school in which 10,000 are registered.

FRANK MARTZ ARRESTED

Sheriff Littlejohn received a request from officers in Montgomery Tuesday to arrest Frank Martz. The road was placed under guard and when the wanted man came along in a big Nash car, he was halted and placed under arrest. The Montgomery officers came to Clanton and got Martz Tuesday night.

The following is taken from The Montgomery Advertiser:

Miss Pearl Perry, 21 1-2 North Lawrence Street, was found in an unconscious condition by the roadside near Delriado early Tuesday evening, with a girl companion, who was also ill. The women were brought to the county jail and from there Miss Perry was transferred to a local hospital, where it was said her condition was not serious.

According to report to members of the sheriff's department the women were abandoned on the road by a man with whom they had left Montgomery. The man, whose name was not revealed by officers, was later reported to have been arrested in Clanton. Members of the sheriff's department left Montgomery late Tuesday night to take the prisoner into custody.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT THORSBY

There will be an old time fiddlers convention held at Thorsby Junior High School on Saturday night, February 6. Admission will be 20c and 30c. We have the promise of several of the best musicians of the county to play. There will be a good variety of music given, ranging from the old time break-down to the best string band music and fantastic piano playing.

All good musicians are especially invited to come and play. There will be several cash prizes to the best performers.—W. T. Bean.

"Dr. Ignorance Drops" Scott of Jemison was a visitor to The Banner office while in Clanton Monday.

J. E. Dorminey of Union Grove was in Clanton Monday.

HILL GROCERY COMPANY TO OPEN STORE IN CLANTON

One of the new buildings just finished by Dr. Sam Johnson below Upchurch's on Seventh Street, will be occupied by the Hill Grocery Company. The Hill Grocery Company is a big concern, having a chain of stores all over the country.

The coming of this company to Clanton is a fine thing for us, and too, it shows that Clanton is a good city, because they only locate in such places. They handle an enormous trade and their coming here will mean the greatest advance in the grocery business that has ever come this way.

We are indeed glad to have the Hill Grocery Company locate in Clanton as such businesses as this mean a lot to a town and community.

The other new building of Dr. Johnson at the same place will be occupied by a restaurant, but we are unable to learn who will operate it.

VELPO MIMS CAUGHT WITH LIQUOR

Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee caught Velpo Mims near Mountain Springs last Sunday afternoon with a five-gallon can of liquor. When the officers approached, Mims grabbed his liquor and ran. Deputy Foshee followed the chase and got so hot after him that he was forced to shed his liquor and overcoat in order to get away.

The liquor was destroyed, and Mims came to the Sheriff's office Monday and made his bond.

MR. WILLIS SAYS FIX YOUR GROUND WIRES

Mr. George Willis, one of the Directors of the Peoples Telephone Co., urges the phone holders of the system to fix up their ground wires and batteries. Mr. Willis says he believes that if the many defects that exist in this respect were corrected it would do a great deal to help make the phone service better.

We are glad to pass the suggestion of Mr. Willis on to the phone holders, and wish to add that it is our opinion that this is a matter which every phone holder should look after at once.

NEGROES GET HIGH RANK FOR ATTENDANCE

—?—

We are informed that the Chilton County Training School (colored) ranks second in the State of Alabama for attendance. Ninety-six per cent of the enrollment of the school is rated at regular in attendance.

The colored citizens of Chilton county and the boys and girls who attend this school are going about the business of education with a determination that is going to bring them full measure of success.

NEGROES BUILDING TWO NEW SCHOOLS

Two new negro school houses are being built in Chilton County, one at Lomax and one at Thorsby. Each is to be a 1-teacher school. Funds for the buildings are being provided by local subscriptions, with aid from the Rosenwald fund.

THAD W. GORDON HERE IN INTEREST OF CHEVROLET

—?—

Mr. Thad W. Gordon, traveling representative of the Campbell-Ewald Company of Deroit, was in Clanton Monday in the interest of Chevrolet advertising campaign. He called upon Polk Brothers, local Chevrolet dealers, and discussed with them the plans of Chevrolet manufacturers to put on a great advertising and sales campaign for 1926.

Chevrolet sold more cars in 1925 than in any other previous year. With the improved cars they are now building, it is expected that their sales in 1926 will surpass last year.

Campbell-Ewald is one of the greatest automobile advertising firms in the United States. They handle the advertising business of General Motors Corporation, of which Chevrolet is a part.

HIGH SCHOOL IMPROVING

We are informed that much improvement is noticeable at the Chilton County High Scrool. Mr. Ellis and his assistants are getting things in working shape and it is expected that the school will soon come into its own as the head of our county school system.

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS SUBJECT TO ROAD DUTY

It is the order of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Ala., that all persons subject to public road duty can pay $5.50 to the Judge of Probate on or before March 1. Failing to pay, will have to work seven days.

This fee can not be paid after the above date.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-28-5t-ch Judge of Probate.

LAND VALUES INCREASE RAPIDLY HERE

Recent sales of city and country property here by The Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company show that property is on the rise in point of value. Many recently successful sales have proved this.

Tuesday Col. Millican and his associates sold the property of Sam Cox just north of town on the paved highway. This is a part of the Watts place, 12 acres, which Mr. Cox bought two years ago for $600. It sold on the block Tuesday for a little over $2,600.

HAPPY VALLEY

Please give me space to say a few words as I never see anything from this part of the country.

The farmers are getting the blues very bad on account of so much rain.

Mr. Joe Langston has sold out his place to Mr. John Franklin.—A Reader.

Today is the time to start reading "Porto Bello Gold," Howden Smith's compelling story of the Spanish main. Turn to Page 2 NOW!

Statement of the Condition of

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Clanton, Ala., Close of Business December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Loans,	$253,180.82
Overdrafts,	246.99
Banking House,	2,700.00
Furniture-Fixtures,	2,727.25
Bonds,	20,400.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	471,300.11
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	78,934.58
Deposits,	$656,620.59
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

The Peoples Savings Bank, opening its doors for business on the morning of December 7, 1901, received deposits from twenty-one citizens of Chilton County... An examination of the books of the bank reveals that some of these original depositors have passed away; some have moved away; but over one-half of the original number or their direct heirs, still maintain accounts with The Old Reliable. Further examination reveals that at the end of the year 1901, the number of depositors had increased more than one hundred per cent, and out of these over fifty per cent of them or their direct heirs still do their banking business with this bank.

In 1901, The Peoples Savings Bank, a mere youngster, provided its customers with Safety and Service. Today, this same old institution, the trail blazer, Chilton County's first bank, the veteran that has weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century, provides its customers with that same safety and service.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS ON OUR RECORD

Condensed Statement of the Condation of the

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

At the Close of Business January 4, 1926

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts,		$476,727.53
Overdrafts,		1,713.73
United States Bonds,		30,000.00
Banking House,		10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures,		3,236.98
Redemption Fund,		1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank,		2,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	$227,104.40
Stocks and Bonds,	58,827.75
		285,932.15
TOTAL,		$811,688.90

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	34,854.78
Circulation,	28,800.00
Deposits,	698,034.12
Rediscounts,	(NONE)
Bills Payable,	(NONE)
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95

Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59

Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12

TOTAL RESOURCES MORE THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

By Arthur D. Howden Smith

Copyright by Arthur D. Howden Smith
WNU Service

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—The story opens in New York, about the middle of the Eighteenth century. Robert Ormerod, who tells the tale, is talking to Peter Corlaer, chief of fur traders, and man of enormous strength, when Darby McGraw, Irish bonded boy, brings news that a pirate ship is "off the Hook." An old sea captain announces he has been chased by the notorious pirate, Captain Rip-Rap. The elder Ormerod tells Robert the pirate is Andrew Murray, his (Robert's) great-uncle, commanding the pirate ship, the Royal James. Murray is an ardent Jacobite.

CHAPTER II.—Next day Robert and Darby encounter a one-legged sailor, John Silver, whom Darby conducts to a tavern. Robert meets a young woman from a Spanish frigate who is seeking her father, Colonel O'Donnell. He takes her to the place she designates.

CHAPTER III.—Murray with a force of sailors visits the Ormerod house. He announces his intention of carrying off Robert, by force, if necessary, promising him a great future. The father is powerless. Peter Corlaer insists upon accompanying Robert.

CHAPTER IV.—Robert and Peter are taken aboard a brig. Murray, with Colonel O'Donnell and Darby McGraw, are also there. O'Donnell goes ashore and the brig sails.

CHAPTER V.—Robert meets a blind sailor, Pew. The fellow's blindness apparently troubles him little, but Robert instinctively dislikes and fears him.

CHAPTER VI.—The Royal James and the Walrus, the latter commanded by Flint, Murray's partner in piracy, appear. Murray offers Flint a share in the loot of a Spanish treasure ship if he will co-operate with him. Flint insists Robert be left with him as a hostage, while Murray, in the Royal James, takes the treasure ship, Flint to await him at the "Rendezvous."

CHAPTER VII.—O'Donnell, Jacobite in the Spanish service, with his daughter, are on the treasure ship. He has given Murray particulars of her sailing. Robert and Peter agree to remain with Flint.

CHAPTER VIII.—Reaching Skeleton island, in the West Indies, Flint's men, at Murray's suggestion, begin the erection of a fort and stockade. The Royal James is made ready for the encounter with the treasure ship. Robert and Peter go aboard the Walrus.

CHAPTER IX.—Flint confines the two men, but Peter's enormous strength enables them to escape. They reach the Royal James and hide until the vessel sails.

CHAPTER X.—The treasure ship is an easy prey. Murray makes a pretense of seizing O'Donnell and his daughter, Moira, as prisoners.

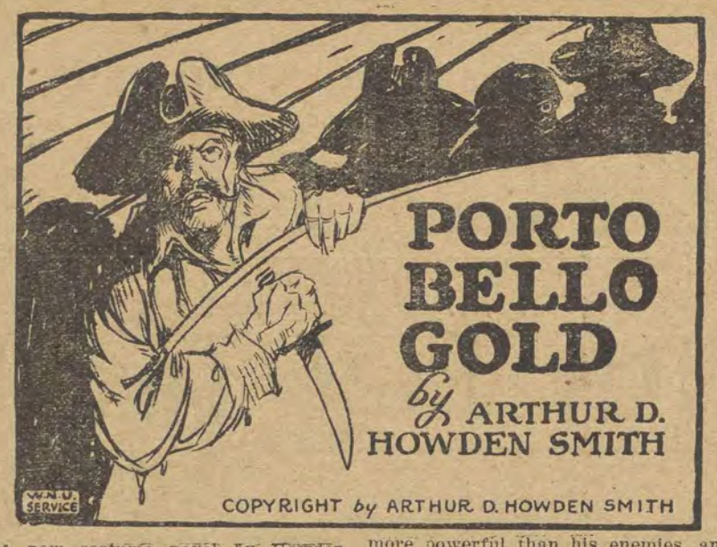
CHAPTER XI.—Moira O'Donnell comes to accept Robert and Peter as friends. Murray leaves O'Donnell, Moira, Robert and Peter to bury his half of the treasure on the Dead Man's Chest (Treasure Island) while he sails on a five-day voyage. Thus the pirates are ignorant of the whereabouts of part of the treasure, the gold being hidden when Murray returns.

CHAPTER XII.—Flint is indignant over the division of the spoils, made in his absence, but after a conference with John Silver agrees to take his portion and accept the situation.

CHAPTER XIII.—Fearing treachery from Flint, Robert and Peter swim to the Walrus and learn of a plot to seize the Royal James. They return with the news. Flint attempts a surprise, is beaten off, and Murray puts to sea, pursued by the Walrus. A running fight begins. O'Donnell is killed during the battle. Both vessels encounter a violent hurricane. The Royal James reaches the Dead Man's Chest, a wreck, and is beached.

CHAPTER XIV.—Murray at once begins preparations to make the Royal James seaworthy. The Walrus is sighted. Murray abandons the ship and takes refuge in the fort. Some of the pirates, insane at thought of the treasure, forget discipline and begin a wild celebration. Murray orders five of them to be given 150 lashes apiece.

CHAPTER XV.—Flint lands a force and a night attack is made, the attackers being admitted into the stockade by one of the five flogged the night before. Beaten off, the men of the Walrus retreat. Silver and Pew are unable to escape. Summoned to surrender, Pew stabs Murray with a thrown knife, inflicting a wound from which he dies in a few hours.



CHAPTER XVI.—With Murray's death the fighting ends, and resistance being impossible Robert and Peter surrender on Flint's assurance of safety and good treatment.

CHAPTER XVII.—The men of the Walrus meet to decide whether to divide the treasure they have and disband or continue search for the portion hidden by Murray. Finally Flint, with six men, lands to bury the treasure. He returns alone, having killed his companions. The hiding place is known only to him.

CHAPTER XVIII.—Fever breaks out on the Walrus and men die rapidly. The crew decides to sail for Savannah, Ga., an unprotected port. They reach it safely. Flint dies in a drunken debauch, leaving a map, holding the secret of the treasure's hiding place, with Bones, his mate.

CHAPTER XIX.—After Flint's sea-burial, Bones produces the map and is chosen captain. The pirates decide to force the prisoners to reveal the hiding place of Murray's portion of the treasure. They are brought on deck. Bones demands Moira for himself, but Robert claims her as his prize. They fight a knife duel, Bones being worsted. A general battle follows, and in the confusion Robert and Peter, with Moira, Darby, and Ben Gunn, Murray's steward, take to a rowboat.

CHAPTER XX.—The fugitives elude pursuit and reach shore. They secure food, clothing, and arms, finally reaching Charleston. There Robert and Moira are married. Gunn leaves the party and the other four travel overland to New York, all having had enough of the sea. Home again, Ormerod, senior, welcomes Robert and Peter as men returned from the dead, Robert doubly welcome because of his bride. Of the fate of Bones, Silver and the others of Flint's desperadoes, the narrator has no knowledge, save only that the Walrus sailed from Savannah and was never heard of again.

A new costume novel by Howden Smith is an event of no mean importance. But a pirate story which includes many of the famous Robert Louis Stevenson's characters from "Treasure Island"—Long John Silver, Pew, Billy Bones and the rest—is in the nature of a literary banquet.

"Porto Bello Gold" is a swashbuckling, blood-curdling tale of piracy on the Spanish Main. It is a combination of brave deeds and shameful; friendship, love, hate and high adventure. In point of time, the action takes place a few years previous to that of Stevenson's masterpiece and tells, in fact, of how Captain Flint and "Rip-Rap" Murray raided the Spanish gold galleon and buried their ill-gotten treasure on the lonely island known as the Dead Man's Chest—the inspiration for the well-known pirate song, "Fifteen Men on the Dead Man's Chest, Yo-ho-ho and a Bottle of Rum!"

Sir Harry Johnston, a few years ago, startled the literary world with "The Gay Dombeys," a continuation of Dickens' "Dombey and Son." Howden Smith, however, is even more intrepid in attempting to preface a great masterpiece with a story of his own. He has succeeded to an extraordinary degree, the consensus of critical opinion being that "Porto Bello Gold" is a worthy companion to "Treasure Island."

The story is not and does not pretend to be Stevenson's in any particular. Howden Smith has simply availed himself of a number of the characters in the earlier tale and of several situations which Stevenson referred to as episodes of the past and with which he and his characters had no immediate concern. For example, there is the character and part in the plot of the boy, Darby McGraw. Stevenson merely makes passing mention of him, but in Howden Smith's story he supplies the interest which Jim Hawkins supplies in the Stevenson story—that is, the juvenile adventure element and the reactions of a boy to the glamour and realities of pirate life.

CHAPTER I

My Father's Secret.

I was in the counting room, talking with Peter Corlaer, the chief of our fur traders—he was that very day come down river from the Iroquois country—when the boy, Darby, ran in from the street.

"The Bristol packet is in, Master Robert," he cried. "And, oh, sir, the watermen do say there be a pirate ship off the Hook!"

I remember I laughed at the combination of awe and delight in his face. He was a raw, bog-trotting bit of a gossoon we had bought at the last landing of bonded folk, and he talked with a brogue that thickened whenever he grew excited.

"For the packet, I do not doubt you, Darby," I answered. "But you must show me the pirate."

Peter Corlaer chuckled in his quiet, rumbling way, his huge belly waggling before him beneath his buckskin hunting shirt, for all the world like a monster mold of jelly.

"Ja, ja, show us der pirates," he jeered.

Darby flared up in a burst of Irish temper that matched his tangled red hair.

"I would I were a pirate and had you at my mercy, you butter tub," he raged. "I'll warrant you'd tread the plank!"

"Darby," said I, "have you done the errands my father set you?"

"Every one," answered he.

"Very well. Then get you into the storeroom and sort over the pelts Peter fetched in."

He flung off with a scowl as I turned to Peter.

"My father will wish to know the packet arrived," I said. "Will you go with me to the governor's? The council must be on the point of breaking up, for they have been sitting since noon."

Peter heaved his enormous body erect. And I marveled, as always after a period of absence, at his proportions. To one who did not know him he seemed a butter tub of a man, as Darby had called him—a mass of tallow, fat limbs, a pork barrel of a trunk, a fat slab of a face upon which showed tiny, insignificant features grotesquely at variance with the rest of his bulk. His little eyes peered innocently between rolls of fat which all but masked them. His nose was a miniature dab, above a mouth a child might have owned.

But under his layers of blubber were concealed muscles of forged steel, and he was capable of the agility of a catamount. The man had not lived on the frontier who could face him barehanded and escape.

"Ja," he said simply. "We go."

He stood his musket in a corner and slipped off powder horn and shot pouch the while I donned hat and greatcoat, for the air was still chilly and there was a scum of snow on the ground. We passed out into Pearl street and walked westward to Hanover square, and there on the farther side of the square I spied my father, with Governor Clinton and Lieutenant Governor Colden.

And it made my heart warm to see how these and several other gentlemen hung upon his words. There had been those who slandered him during the uproar over the '45, for he was known to have been a Jacobite in his youth; but his friends were more powerful than his enemies, and I joy to think that he was not the least influential of those of our leaders who held New York loyal to King George when many were for casting in our fortunes with the Pretender.

He saw Peter and me as we approached and waved up to him, but at the same moment there was a slight disturbance on the eastward side of the square, and another little group of men came into view surrounding a grizzled, ruddy-cheeked old fellow, whose salt-stained blue coat spoke as eloquently of the sea as did his rolling gait. I could hear his hoarse, roaring voice clear across the square—

"—ran him tops'ls down; —— my eyes, I did; and when I get to port what do I find, but not a king's ship within—"

My father interrupted him:

"What's this, Captain Farraday? Do you speak of being chased? I had thought we were at peace with the world."

Captain Farraday discarded the listeners who had attended him so far and stumped across the square, bellowing his answer in tones which brought shopkeepers to their doors and women's heads from upper windows.

"Chased? That I was, Master Ormerod, by as ——, scoundrelly a pirate as flouts the king's majesty i' the——"

Here he perceived who accompanied my father. Off came his hat, and he made an awkward bow.

"Your sarvent, your excellency! My duty, Master Colden! But I have no words to withdraw, for all I did not see who was near by to hear me. Aye, there is more to be said, much more; and matters have come to a pretty pass when the rascals come north to these ports."

Peter Corlaer and I joined the little group of merchants who were with the governor, and the other curious persons hovered as close as they dared.

"But I find this hard to give credence to, captain," said Governor Clinton pleasantly enough. "Pirates? In these latitudes? We have not been bothered by such of late. Did you have sight of the ship which pursued you?"

"Sight? Marry, that I did; and uncomfortable close, your excellency. She came up with a so'easter two days past, and at the first I made her out for a frigate by the top hamper she carried."

"I Made Her Out for a Frigate."

"A frigate?" protested Master Colden. "So big as that?"

"Aye, sir, my master! And if I have any eye for a ship's lines and canvas she was none other than the Royal James that chased me three days together when I was home bound from the West Indies in '43."

"That would be the vessel of the fellow known usually as Captain Rip-Rap," spoke up my father, and there was a quality in his voice which led me to regard him closely.

It was manifest that he labored in the grip of some strong emotion; but the only indication of this in his face was a slight rigidity of feature, and none of the others marked it. I was the more amazed because my father was a man of iron nerves, and also, though his earlier years had been starred with a series of extraordinary adventures, so far as I knew he had had nothing to do with the sea.

"True for you, Master Ormerod," answered Captain Farraday; "and since Henry Morgan died there hath not lived a more complete rogue. One of my mates was taken by him off Jamaica ten years gone and cites him for a man of exquisite dress and manners that would befit a London macaroni, God save us! And, moreover, is as arrant a Jacobite as ever was. Witness the name of his ship."

"I have heard he sails usually in company," remarked my father.

"He works with John Flint, who is no less of a rascal, albeit rougher, according to those unfortunates who have fallen in his path. Flint sails in the Walrus, a tall ship out of Plymouth that was on the Smyrna run before she fell into his hands. Betwixt them they are a pretty pair."

Captain Farraday stopped perforce for breath, and Governor Clinton seized the opportunity to ask with a smile:

"Captain Rip-Rap, did you call your pursuer? What manner of name is this?"

The merchantman shrugged his shoulders.

"Nobody knows, sir. But 'tis the only name he goes by. I ha' heard that years past—oh, it may be twenty or more—he stopped a home-bound Chesapeake packet, and when the master was haled aboard the first question he asked was 'did he have any rip-rap in his cargo?' For it seems he is singularly partial to that mixture of stuff. And now, I ha' been told, his own men give him this name, for even they do not know for certain that to which he was born.

"'Tis said he was a gentleman who suffered for his political convictions, but that is as like to be a lie as the truth. All I know is that he chased me in past the Hook, though the Anne showed him a clean pair o' heels and had run him tops'ls down wi' sunrise this morning. And when I made the harbor, 'twas to find there was not a king's ship to send after him."

"Yes," nodded the governor; "the Thetis frigate sailed for home with dispatches a week ago. But I will send express to Boston, where Commodore Burrage lies, and bid him to get to sea without loss of time. Doubt not, our good commodore will make them rue the day."

And with Lieutenant Governor Colden and the rest he made to move off. Only my father lingered.

"You have letters for me, Captain Farraday?" he asked.

"Aye, indeed, sir—from Master Allen, your agent in London. I was on my way to deliver 'em. And a goodly store of strouds, axes, knives, beads, tools, flints and other trade goods to your account."

"I will accept the letters at your hands, and even save you the trip to Pearl street, captain," replied my father. "My son, Robert, here, will visit you aboard ship in the morning and take measures to arrange for transshipping your cargo."

"I ha' no quarrel with such terms," rejoined Captain Farraday, fishing a silken-wrapped packet from his coat-tail pocket. "Here you are, Master Ormerod. And I'll be off to the George tavern for a bite of shore food and a mug of mulled ale."

My father fidgeted the packet in his hands for a moment.

"You are certain 'twas Captain Rip-Rap who chased you?" he asked then.

"I'd swear to his foretops'ls," answered Farraday confidently. "As I said afore, he chased me once in '43, and Jenkins he took off Jamaica in the ship Cynthia out o' Southampton, when Flint was for drowning the lot o' them; but Rip-Rap, in his cold way, says there was no point to slaying without purpose, and they turned 'em loose in the longboat. And there's none left 'on the Account' that sail in a great ship fit to be a King's frigate, save it be Rip-Rap—Flint's Walrus is a tall ship and heavy armed, but hath not the sail spread o' the Royal James. Jenkins says she was a Frenchman, and 'tis to be admitted she hath the fine-run lines the Frenchies build."

My father was hard put to it to make head against this flow of talk, but at last he succeeded.

"It was my understanding," he said, "that Captain Rip-Rap disappeared from the West Indies during the late war. I give you thanks, captain. Pray call upon me at your leisure, and if I can be of any service to you I am at your command."

Captain Farraday stumped off toward the George, a tail of the curious at his heels, and I grinned to myself at thought of the strong drink they would offer him in return for his tale. There was no chance of his being sober inside of twenty-four hours.

My father nodded absently to Peter, who had stood throughout the entire conversation, his flat face sleepily imperturbable.

"I like it not," he muttered, as if to himself.

Peter gave him a quick look but said nothing.

"Is there anything wrong, father?" I asked.

He frowned at me, then stared off at the housetops in a way he had, almost as if he sought to peer beyond the future.

"No—yes—I do not know."

He broke off abruptly.

"Peter, I am glad you are here," he added.

"Ja," said Peter vacantly.

"You have not looked at your letters yet," I reminded him.

"I have no occasion to," he retorted. "There is that which—but the street is no place for such conversation. Come home, my boy; come home."

Darby McGraw met us at the door, and from his wild gaze I knew him to be half expecting to see the pirates hot-foot at our heels.

"Have you performed your tasks, Darby?" questioned my father.

"Yes, master."

"Be off with you, then. I wish not to be disturbed."

"See can you find us late news of the pirates, Darby," I added as he slipped by.

He answered me with a merry scowl, but my father spun on his heel.

"What mean you by that, Robert?" says he.

I was nonplussed.

"Why, naught, sir. Darby is daft on pirates. He—"

Peter Corlaer shut the room-door upon the Irish boy and came toward us, moving with the swift stealth that was one of his most astonishing characteristics.

"Ja, he does not know," he said.

"What?" challenged my father.

"What you andt I know," returned the Dutchman calmly.

"So you know, too, Peter?"

"Ja."

I could restrain my impatience no longer.

"What is this mystery?" I demanded. "I thought I knew all the secrets of the business; but sure, father, I never thought to hear that we were concerned as a firm with pirates!"

"We are not," my father answered curtly. "This is a matter of which you know nothing, Robert, because until now there has been no occasion for you to know of it."

He hesitated.

"Peter," he went on, "must we tell the boy?"

"He is not a boy; he is a man," said Peter.

I flashed my gratitude to the fat Dutchman in a smile, but he paid no attention. My father, too, seemed to forget me. He strode up and down the counting room, hands under the skirts of his coat, head bowed in thought. Tags of phrases escaped his lips:

"I had thought him dead—strange if he bobs up again—here is a problem I had never thought to face—mayhap I exaggerate—it cannot have significance for us—Certes, is must be accident—"

"Neen, he comes for a purpose," interrupted Peter.

My father stayed his walk in front of Peter by the fireplace, wherein blazed a heap of elm logs.

"Who do you fancy this Captain Rip-Rap to be, Peter? Speak up! You were right when you said Robert is no longer a boy. If there is danger here, he deserves to know of it."

"He is Murray," replied Corlaer, his squeaking voice an incongruous contrast with his immnse bulk.

"Andrew Murray!" mused my father. "Aye, 'twould be he. I have suspected it all these years—held it for certainty. But I made sure when he failed to show himself after the last war that Providence had attended to him. It seems I was wrong."

"Whoever he is, this pirate can do no harm to us in New York," I made bold to say.

"Be not too sure, Robert," adjured my father. "He happens to be your great-uncle."

He reached up to the rack over the fireplace and selected a long clay pipe, which he stuffed with tobacco the while I was recovering from my astonishment.

"Your uncle?" I gasped then.

"No; your mother's."

"But he was the great trader who conducted the contraband trade with Canada!" I cried. "I have heard of him. 'Twas he established the Doom trail to enable him to supply the French fur traders with goods to wean the far savages from us! You have told me of him yourself, as hath Master Colden. 'Twas he whom you and Corlaer and the Iroquois fought when you broke down the barriers of the Doom trail and won back the fur trade to our people. Why, 'twas then you—you—"

I knew the deep feeling my father still had for my long-dead mother, and I scrupled to stir his memories. He himself took the words from my lips.

"Yes, 'twas then I came to love your mother. She—she was not such as you would expect to find allied by any ties with so great a scoundrel. But she was his niece—past doubt, Robert. She was a Kerr of Fernieside; her mother had been Murray's sister. Kerr and Murray were out together in the '15; Kerr fell at Sheriffmuir. His widow died not long afterward, and Murray took poor waif Marjory.

"He did well by her—there's no denying that. But he always intended to use her to further his own designs. He had a cold eye for the future, with no thought except of his own advantage, and if I— But there's no need to go into that. You know, Robert, how Corlaer and the Seneca chief, Tawannears—he who is now the Guardian of the Western Door of the Long House—and I were able to smash the vast power Murray had built up on the frontier.

"We smashed him so utterly, discrediting him too, withal, that he was obliged to flee the province; and even his friends, the French, would have none of him—at least, aboveboard. I have always fancied he still served their interests at large; for he is at bottom a most fanatical Jacobite, and eke sincere in a queer, twisted way. Aye, there is that about him which is difficult to understand, Robert. Himself, he hath no hesitation in believing he serves high purposes of state in all he does."

"Only a madman could lay claim to serving the state as a pirate," I objected.

"You speak with overconfidence," rebuked my father. "There are men alive today who can remember when Morgan and Davis and Dampier and many another brave fellow of the same kidney lived by piracy and served the king at one and the same time. Some of 'em were hung in the end, and Morgan died a knight. It can be done."

"How?"

Consider, my boy! Murray—your great-uncle, mind you!—is a Jacobite. For our present government he hath only hatred and contempt. Any means by which that government was undermined would seem to him justifiable as aiding to bring about its downfall. Look to the fantastic humor of the man in naming his ship the Royal James!"

"If he be, indeed, the man you think he is," I returned, none too well pleased with the thought of having a pirate for a great-uncle. My father laughed kindly and tapped me on the knee with his free hand.

"I know how you feel, dear lad," he said. "'Twas so identically your mother talked. Bless her heart! We were fresh married when the precious rascal sent us by one of his tarry-breeks that necklace which lies now in my strong box—the loot of some Indian queen mayhap. In his way he cared for her, and he took much interest in all she did. By hook or crook he had word of us, however far he wandered. He knew when you were born. He knew when she died. And now that you have reached manhood he shows his sails outside Sandy hook. I do not know what it means, Robert, but I like it not! I like it not!"

"But we are not at sea," I protested "We are in New York. There are soldiers in Fort George. Commodore Burrage will be down from Boston anon. What can a pirate ship, what can two pirate ships, effect against us? Why, the city train bands—"

"'Tis not force I dread," my father cut me off. "'Tis the infernal cleverness of a warped mind."

"Ja," agreed Peter.

My father thrust the stem of his pipe toward him.

"You feel it, too, old friend?" he cried then.

"If Murray is here be means no goodt," the Dutchman answered ponderously. "No pirates come nort' in der coldt weather for just fun. Neen! Here is too much danger; no places to run andt hide."

"At the least we are on the alert," I said.

My father laughed, and Corlaer's ridiculous, simpering giggle echoed his grim mirth.

"An intelligent foe discounts so much upon launching his venture," my father answered. "Let us hope we have a modicum of luck to aid us. Whatever plan Murray hath in trend 'twill come to us unexpected and adroit in execution. But tush! There's the dinner bell. A truce to foreboding!"

CHAPTER II

The One-Legged Man and the Irish Maid.

The next morning I was occupied for several hours in checking over the needs of our trading stations with Peter Corlaer, so that it was the middle of the forenoon before I was able to leave the counting room to go aboard Captain Farraday's ship and concert with her people the lightering of that portion of the cargo which was destined for our warehouse.

Darby McGraw eyed me so wistfully when I took my hat that I sent him to the kitchen to secure a bag of fresh-killed chickens and winter greens, knowing such food would be welcome to sailors after a long voyage, and bade him carry it to the dock.

I Sent Him to the Kitchen to Secure a Bag of Fresh-Killed Chickens.

We walked down Pearl street to Broad street, where the landing basin indents the land; and I was passing on, with intent to secure a wherry from the foot of Whitehall street to row me out to the Bristol packet, when Darby drew my attention to the soaring masts and tangled cordage of a great ship lying at anchor in the East river anchorage.

"'Tis a frigate, Master Robert!" he exclaimed.

There was no mistaking the rows of painted gun-ports and the solid bulwarks; and for a moment I fancied Commodore Burrage had anticipated our needs. Then the flag at her mizzen truck rippled out, and I beheld the red-and-gold banner of Spain.

"D'ye suppose he hath come after the pirate?" whispered Darby, all agog.

"Not he," I answered, laughing. "'Tis a Spaniard, and he and his kidney are not hungry for pirate gore. But look, Darby! There's another strange vessel—beyond the frigate."

I pointed to a battered little brig with patched and dirty sails and a

(To be continued Next Week)

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

WANTED—Salesman and Collector to represent us in City of Montgomery. Applicant must be able to furnish automobile and make bond. Apply in person at 214 Dexter Ave. See Mr. Coakrey, Mgr. 1-21-2t-c

FARM FOR RENT—Two-horse farm, for rent on halves; good mules, good plow tools, good land; located on the edge of Clanton. See Julius Burnett at Clanton Motor Car Co., or Henry Burnett Saturday nights and Sundays at home in Clanton. 1-21-2t-p

MONUMENTS & TOMBSTONES—Best Georgia marble; good work and satisfaction guaranteed. No money paid until set up at cemetery. See or write W. J. Bice, Clanton, Ala., Route 4. 1-14-4t-pd

FOR SALE—I have 20 lots in Ozone, sub-division near Mobile, Ala., in Blocks 17 and 19, in Ozone Add., in Section 30, Township 2, Range 2, Mobile County. I have no use for them so far away; I owe $30 taxes on the entire bunch; first offer of $10 each and party to assume the taxes, will get them all. Who is first? Better wire V. A. PALM, Hastings, Nebraska. 1-7-4t-ch

WANTED COTTON SEED—Will exchange good 7% meal or pay cash for sound clean seed. Will be in Clanton on January 29th and 30th, and February 5th and 6th. J. N. Dennis. 1-28-2t-ch

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

WANTED—A few trucks for hauling lumber at Billingsley, Ala. Mauney Lumber Co. 1-28-2t pd

FOR SALE—Two 6-ox teams and two drays, for sale. Apply to J. O. Chambers, Maplesville, Ala., Route 2. 1-28-2t-pd.

Have you Lost a Turkey? If so, call at the Banner office and find out where it is. One has been taken up in Clanton. 1t-ch

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

FOR SALE—Carbide light plant suitable for farm home. Cost me $400 a year ago; will sell for much less now. If interested see or write J. O. Johnson, Thorsby, Ala. 1-28-2t-p

REVIVAL AT THORSBY

Beginning Sunday, January 24, a revival is being held at the Thorsby Baptist church, lasting one week. This meeting will not take the place of our regular revival. Our aim is to have a church revival. We are not going out after the lost so much, but we want to get every member of our church attending every service every Sunday, doing everything he can to advance the Kingdom of God.

Dr. Ezell, pastor of the Clanton Baptist church, will do the preaching. Services at night only, at 7:30 p. m. Come and worship with us.—R. L. Bonner, Pastor.

Use the Want-Ad Column for results.

USED CARS

Buick Touring Car, good shape,	$375
Overland Touring Car, runs good,	$250
Hudson Cut-Down,	$75
Auburn Beauty,	$75
Ford Truck,	$125
Ford Truck	$40

These cars can be bought on small cash payment.

Automobile Tires

Lot good 29 x 4-40 Balloon Tires,	$17.45
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Cords,	$9.85
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Fabric Tires,	$8.95
Lot good 30 x 3 Fabric Tires,	$8.45
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Red Tubes,	$2.55
Lot good 30 x 3 ½ Gray Tubes,	$2.25
Lot good 30 x 3 Gray Tubes,	$2.10

Bates Garage
Clanton, Ala.

LOOK FOR THIS Trade Mark

Moulded into the metal of all genuine OLIVER chilled repair parts is this trade mark.

It is your guarantee that the shares you buy for OLIVER plows are of the highest quality and will fit perfectly. They are built in the same factory as your plow.

Successful performance of your OLIVER plow can be guaranteed only when genuine repairs are used.

We are Authorized OLIVER dealers and sell genuine OLIVER shares.

JONES HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALA.

"LIGE BATES' BOOGER"

Editor The Advertiser:

In a recent issue of your paper I saw a news item about a wild animal that is spreading terror among the citizens in Crenshaw county in the Spring Hill community and I am wondering if this animal is not the same one or of the same species as one that spread terror in the Providence neighborhood in Chilton county back in 1895-96 and 7?

That one appeared in that section in the fall or early winter and roamed the fields and woods at will until spring or early summer, and disappeared and was seen no more until the following fall or winter, and it was known as "Lige Bate's Booger," as he was the first to encounter it.

The writer was helping dress some hogs on one occasion and it came up to within thirty feet of me. I got a day light view of it and it was as large as a large shepherd dog, was a dark brownish black with long shaggy hair, longer at the neck and gradually shortening as it extended to the back of its hips and it stood slightly higher at the front than at the rear.

L. I. Bates, F. O. Bates and myself encountered it one night and it followed us for a mile and we took three shots at it with shot guns but we were unable to bring it down. It left us and we saw no more of it, but the next morning my father saw it standing about twenty yards from the yard gate and he ran into the house for a gun. While he was gone it went down through a field and he saw it jump a fence and from the center of a road it sprang and vaulted another fence without touching it and disappeared in the woods.

When dogs were put on the trail of the animal they would run it freely for a distance and all at once they would come running back to their master whining and howling with their hair all turned up the wrong way and no amount of coaxing would get them to return to the trail.

The description given in The Advertiser in reference to its tracks, stride, etc., exactly tallies with the tracks and stride of the Lige Bates Booger, and it is doubtless the same one, or of the same species.

That one was never known to attack any person, except that it jumped into a wagon one night with a man and a woman, but it was fought off without doing any damage other than giving the occupants a wonderful fright; and it was never learned where it denned or went when it left that section, neither was it reported as being seen going or coming for its winter visits to that section.

It was never reported to have killed anything in that section other than there were signs of rabbits having been eaten while it was in there and it was supposed that it was responsible for a goodly amount of that.

Its species was never established but in later years I have come to the conclusion that it more resembled the hyena family than any other that I have ever been able to locate except that it was larger than any hyena I have ever seen.

J. A. THOMAS.
201 May St., Montgomery.
—The Montgomery Advertiser.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by a certain mortgage executed by Hattie E. Jones and husband, John C. Jones, dated November 24th, 1924, to J. E. McCullough, said mortgage conveying the hereinafter described real estate, which mortgage appears on record in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record Vol. 202, page 304, the undersigned mortgagee will on Friday, the 26th day of February, 1926, in front of the post office in Stanton, Chilton County, Alabama, within the hours of legal sale, sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate situated in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

The NW¼ of the NE¼ of Section 28, Township 20, Range 12, the above described being the identical real estate described and conveyed in said mortgage. The proceeds of said sale will be applied according to the terms of said mortgage.

This, the 25th day of January, 1926.

J. E. McCULLOUGH,
Mortgagee.
THOS. A. CURRY,
1-28-4t Attorney for Mortgagee.

IN MEMORY

On last Wednesday week at 9:15 a. m., at his home, the dear Lord saw fit to take our dear brother, John Henry Davis, out of his suffering. He had been afflicted for some time. He was about 50 years of age.

He leaves a wife, seven children, an aged mother, four brothers, two sisters and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his death.

He was a kind and loving husband and father, and we believe he was a real Christian, although he had never united with any church. His remains were laid to rest at Bethel cemetery. Elder J. S. Kelly and J. W. Howell conducted the funeral services.

We wish to thank the good people in the community in which he lived for their kindness during his sickness. No one ever lived in a better community. We also wish to thank the doctors for their kindnesses. They did all they could for him, but all in vain. A greater power called him home.—His brother.

The Motor Age.—Young Mother (proudly)—"See! Baby is learning to walk!"

Friend—"Oh, do you think it really worth while to teach him? Practically nobody walks nowadays."—Life.

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

Improved!

A Type of Performance Never Before Obtained In Any Low Priced Car

Thousands have already driven the Improved Chevrolet. They know its new smoothness, new stamina, new swiftness of acceleration.

They know that in performance it completely dwarfs every Chevrolet achievement of the past and that it ranks as the finest Chevrolet in Chevrolet history.

And if you are one who has not yet been behind the wheel, you have more than a treat in store. You have yet to experience a type of performance never before offered in any low-priced car.

A performance so effortless, so smooth, so powerful, so spirited that you will call it nothing short of a revelation!

Chevrolet's leadership has been based on giving quality at low cost. Now the Improved Chevrolet gives another reason for an even wider margin of leadership—performance the equal of which has heretofore been unattainable in the low price field.

Drive where you will—and as long as you like, through traffic, through sand, through mud, over hills—and over mountains, if you please. Expect something really new, really worthwhile, something really unique—and you will not be disappointed.

New Low Prices!

Touring	$510	Sedan	$735
Roadster	510	Landau	765
Coupe	645	½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
Coach	645	1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

All Prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated
CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

NATIONAL FOREST IN ALABAMA TO BE GREAT GAME PRESERVE

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 27.—Arrangements, which were completed last fall between the Forest Service, representing the Federal Government, and the State Department of Game and Fisheries at Montgomery, whereby the Alabama National Forest in north Winston, south Lawrence and east Franklin Counties would be converted into a game preserve, have already become a positive fact, according to Commissioner I. T. Quinn of the State Department.

This year Commissioner Quinn is planting 100 head of deer in the Forest for propagation purposes, sixty-five of which animals have already been planted.

This project is a gesture in the direction of carrying out the policies outlined by Mr. Quinn when he assumed charge of the State Department. He declares that all public lands, embracing approximately 150,000 acres, will be brought under the control of the Department, to the extent of planting desirable species of game and birds thereon whenever necessary, and as fast as adequate protection can be provided.

It is expected that these State lands when supplied with brood stock, will provide breeding grounds for those species best suited to these areas, and by giving absolute protection to these areas, it will be a matter of only a few years when game from these breeding grounds and sanctuaries will overflow into neighboring territory for the use of the public.

Careless.—Sailor—"They've just dropped their anchor."

Mrs. Symp—"Gracious I was afraid they would! It's been dangling outside for some time."—Sea Bag (U. S. S. Oklahoma).

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

Next Monday is the last day on which you can pay poll tax.

"Porto Bello Gold," by Arthur D. Howden Smith, is one of the best stories of the decade. Read it serially in The Union-Banner, beginning with this issue.

Approximately fifteen persons out of every 100,000 in the United States are killed by automobiles every year. This exceeds two people in the the United States every hour, or more than 17,000 having their lives snuffed out annually by the carelessness of others.

A satisfactory solution of the surplus problem continues to be the big agricultural question before Congress. The leaders in agricultural work are unable to agree upon a plan for disposing of surpluses which are made from time to time under the most intelligent production. A determined effort is still being made to solve the problem. The South is vitally concerned because a large portion of each crop of cotton must be sold abroad.

Wool producers in 25 Illinois counties sold their 1925 fleeces on the co-operative basis. Two sales agencies handling the output of 352 farmers sold 82,909 pounds.

An unofficial estimate is that 38,000,000 sheep were on the farms of the the United Stetes the first of January as compared with 39,000,000 on the same date a year ago.

Total sales of $40,000,000 are reported by the Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association, St. Paul, for 1925. Over 80,000,000 pounds of butter was handled during the year for the 450 creamery members having 73,000 dairy-farmer members.

The organized cotton growers of Quennsland, Australia, are now making a study of the ginning business with a view to taking over cotton gins and operating them on a cooperative basis. In Texas and several other states in this country the farmers are operating gins cooperatively.

Those immortal characters who moved so vividly through "Treasure Island" are found again in "Porto Bello Gold," a story with a fine flavor of the sea, pirates and loot. Start it this week in The Union-Banner.

"Provision should be made to protect young fruit trees from rabbits during the spring."—S. H. Gibbons, Extension Horticulturist, Auburn.

Wet Item.—Onlookers gave three tears as Supt. Michael Crowley and a squad of twenty stalwarts, instilled with duty, wrecked fifty seized stills in front of police headquarters.—Boston Advertiser.

Why Is It--

WHY BUY AT HOME?

Almost anyone can give one or more good and sufficient reasons for buying what he wants, and can pay for, at home and from his local merchant, but it is not often that one can recall as many reasons as we state below:

Why Buy At Home?

Because my interests are at home.

Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.

Because I want first to see the goods before I buy them.

Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it, and not have to wait for weeks and even months.

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of the community.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because I sell what I produce at home and not elsewhere.

Because the man I buy from pays his part of the district, county and state taxes.

Because the man I buy from buys from me.

Because the man I buy from gives value received.

Because the man I buy from helps support my church, my lodge, and my home.

Because when ill luck, misfortune, or bereavement comes, the man I buy from is here with his kindest greetings, his word of cheer, and his pocketbook if need be.

Because the mail order houses have never broken a bush, plowed a furrow or built a foot of road, or built a church or school in my county.

Because the man I buy from helps build my roads and the schools that I may educate my children.

Why Patronize the Home Merchant?

The following is sufficient reason:

Who sympathized with you when your little girl was sick? Was it Sears, Roebuck & Co., or was it your home merchant.

Who carried you last winter when you were out of a job and without money? Was it Montgomery Ward & Co., or was it your home merchant.

When you want to raise money for your church or some needy person in your community, do you write to the Fair Store in Chicago, or do you go to your home merchant?

How much does Seigel, Cooper & Co., give toward keeping the public roads or paying the minister's salary?

When you were sick, how many nights did the Larkin Soap Company sit up with you?

When your loved one was buried, was it your home merchant who dropped a tear of sympathy and uttered the cheering word, or was it Marshall Field & Co., of Chicago?

Always patronize your home merchant.—S. R. Fowler's Store, Carbon Hill, Alabama.

FORESTRY LETTER

There will always be a very high proportion of Alabama land available for the growing of forests is indicated by the figures supplied by the 1925 agricultural census. According to these figures only about half of the land area of the state is in farms, there being a loss of about two and three-quarter million acres in this respect during the past five years. Further, there are only about nine and one-third million acres of the land in farms that is used for crop purposes, non-timbered pasturage, yards, roadways, and other agricultural uses, the remaining seven and one-third million acres being actual or potential forest land.

The proper use of lands has long been recognized as a state-wide and nation-wide problem. The determination of whether a particular tract may be more profitably used for a power site, quarry, farm, town site, forest, right-of-way, recreational area, mine, wharfage site, military reservation, or other special use is a matter usually requiring the consideration of a great many natural economic and civic factors. Authorities agree, however, that all land, like the other forms of capital, should be maintained in a productive condition. In the absence of an actual demand for its use for some higher purpose, practically any land in Alabama can be made to yield substantial returns through the growth of timber. Foestry invariably steps aside for agriculture or other more valuable use of land. It is increasingly evident, however, that in addition to the land obviously unfit for cultivation there are large areas of inviting but deceptive appearance upon which practical farming can not be undertaken.

At present there are about 22,000,000 acres of actual or potential forest land in the state. While this area may be reduced somewhat through new developments, the total amount of land supporting a forest growth, or which under prevailing natural and economic conditions may be expected to support such a growth in the future, will always remain very large.

The good farmer deserves a pretty home.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of January 24, 1901.

On Friday night last Mr. J. R. Kemp passed away at his home in the west end of Clanton, after a few weeks illness.

The following ad appeared in this issue of The Banner:

"Our Whiskey Department is the best in the State. Try a quart of our 'J. Martin's 5-year-old Virginia Rye' at 75c."

Mr. J. R. Popwell has retired from the firm of Broadhead & Popwell, and Mr. Mack Broadhead has gone into business with his father, the firm now being known as J. R. Broadhead & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Teel entertained a party of young folks Tuesday night.

Tax Collector T. J. Hubbard was in town last Friday.

Clanton cotton price today, 9 3-4 cents.

Mr. P. D. Wilson went to Birmingham Tuesday.

Mr. E. H. Culp of Lily was in town Tuesday.

If you want to get a determined crowd in Chilton County these days all you need to do is talk stock law. That will fetch 'em.

COTTON GINNED TO JANUARY 16 SHOWS 15,488,230 BALES

Washington, Jan. 23.—Cotton ginned prior to January 16 amounted to 15,488,230 bales exclusive of linters and including 336,486 round bales counted as half bales, compared with 13,306,813 bales, including 307,351 round bales to that date a year ago, the census bureau announced today.

Ginnings by states were:

Alabama	1,349,232
Arizona	100,676
Arkansas	1,473,783
California	98,039
Florida	40,147
North Carolina	1,118,029
Georgia	1,187,285
New Mexico	60,703
Louisiana	891,655
Missouri	266,739
Mississippi	1,794,072
Oklahoma	1,625,934
South Carolina	918,855
Tennessee	492,180
Texas	3,998,105
Virginia	51,317
All other states	19,549

By mulching the strawberry bed now loss of moisture will be prevented and the dirt will be kept off the berries when they ripen.

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE COVERED

with a fire insurance policy in one of the companies we represent. Then you need have no fear of fire in a financial way. You can rest comfortably in the confidence that if a fire should occur at your house, the loss, large or little, will be paid promptly by the company you are insured in. Do it to-day.

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and
Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

"Chuckle" Column

'SFUNNY WORLD

An ex-chauffeur in Boston is reported to be making a fortune bobbing women's hair. And probably driving a lot of husbands and fathers into speedy tempers.

—§§§—

"Long Hair For Women To Come Back"—news item. Sure, with a lot of hair tonic and patience—eh, ladies?

—§§§—

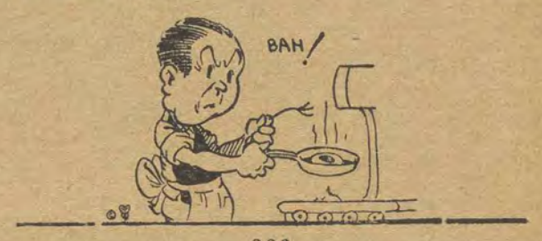
Frankly - - It Was A Rough Affair!

They had a riot call for the cops in a certain western town the other day. Seems some folks had a party and the guests decided that "honesty was the best policy" in speaking to each other.

—§§§—

As an equestrian, the Prince of Wales is a darn good pedestrian. Dispatches tell us he fell off a horse twice in one week again.

—§§§—



The best way to keep the prince from doing nose dives out of a saddle into the mud—is to try to get him interested in a game of chess.

—§§§—

"Ruin Of U. S. Seen In Rule Of Women" says an English explorer who recently visited this country. It's a good thing that fellow is on the other side of the pond, or our women would be measuring him for a King Tut outfit.

—§§§—

Seattle man sued his wife for divorce because she made him prepare his own meals. What did he expect in these days of "equal rights?"

—§§§—

Pretty Soft!

Fellow up in Montreal won $200 for an essay on "soft drinks." Not hard to take.

—§§§—

"Sinful Jazz To Fight It Out With Classic Music In Radio Test"—says radio article. Huh—why make a special test? That happens on our radio set every night when two stations broadcast so loud we can't tune either one of them out.

—§§§—

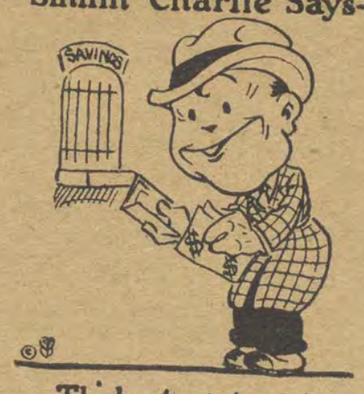
Down in Arkansas, they tell about a chicken that was hatched by the heat of a haystack. That's nothing. Up here the same thing is apt to happen if you hold one of our cold storage eggs in your hand too long.

—§§§—

Another news item says doctors urge "dancing in a violet ray." They do something like that in the dance palaces now. Only the critics speak of it as being "dancing in a violent way."

—§§§—

A New York "asbestos king's" son married his stenographer. Well, he ought to be safe from the "fire of a woman's wrath" if he ever gets into a quarrel with his wife.



—§§§—

Burglars in New York City used a rope to swing themselves from house to house. Who said—Darwin wasn't right?

—§§§—

Smilin' Charlie Says-

Th' best get-rich-quick scheme I know of, is a savings account contributed to regularily---"

—§§§—

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"Tell him I'm not in!"

—§§§—

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

What makes them so good?

TWENTY-FIVE years experience in making electrical instruments, the largest radio factory in the world, the most expert workmen—yes. But the real answer is the way Atwater Kent goes about it. You can't get anything marked "Atwater Kent" that isn't perfect. Come in for a demonstration.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

O. M. CARTER

CLANTON, ALA.

Sanford Barber Shop

Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

A. A. POINDEXTER'S GOLDEN SEAL TONIC

—o—

Successfully used for twenty-four years as the Household's Greatest Friend. It is unequaled for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nausea, Colic, Sour Stomach and Heart Burn.

It is a Body Builder. Get it at Upchurch Drug Company, Clanton, Ala.

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

—o—

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixing your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired feet. We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no matter how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a square deal.

—o—

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SHOP

CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

—?—

Default having been made in the papment of the indebtedness secured by a mortgage executed by W. W. Ford and his wife, Sarah E. Ford, on the 2nd day of March, 1925, to Ingram Land Company, a corporation, conveying the hereinafter described property, which mortgage was duly recorded in the Probate Office of Chilton County, Alabama, in Volume 197, Record of Mortgages, at page 455, and which said mortgage, together with the indebtedness secured thereby, has been transformed and assigned to the undersigned, I, R. J. Foster, Jr., the assignee of the said mortgage and the said indebtedness, will, on the 16th day of February, 1926, between the legal hours of sale, sell in Clanton, in front of the court house door of Chilton County, Alabama, at public outcry, to the highest and best bidder for cash, the following described real estate situated in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

Beginning at the Northeast corner of A. C. Wells' lot, said Lot being a part of Lot No. One (1) in Block "N" in the Town of Jemison, Alabama, thence West Fifty-two and one-half feet (52½) to Main Street, thence North Thirty-five (35) feet to Bibb Street, thence East along Bibb Street Fifty-two and one-half (52½) feet to the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Depot Lot, thence South along said Lot Thirty-five (35) feet to the point of beginning, said lot being the North part of Lot No. One (1) in Block "N" in the Town of Jemison, Alabama.

The aforesaid property being the property described in said mortgage.

The proceeds derived at the said sale will be applied in strict accordance with the terms of said mortgage.

This 9th day of January, 1926.

R. J. FOSTER, Jr., Assignee.
EDGAR ALLEN,
1-14-3t-ch Atty. for Assignee.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

—?—

In pursuance and in accorance with the terms and directions of a commission, issued and addressed to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, bearing date the 18th day of January, A. D., 1926, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, in front of the Court House of said County, on Thursday, the 18th day of February, A. D., 1926, at 12 o'clock M., all that certain real property, which is described as follows:

W½ of the SW¼, SE¼ of the NW¼, ten acres on the South side of NE¼ of the NW¼, and NW¼ of the NE¼, less ten acres in the SE corner, all in Sec. 24, Township 23, Range 14, Chilton County, Alabama; which said land is to be sold under the decree of said Court, for the purpose of division among the several owners thereof, who are as follows, to-wit: Laura J. Lloyd, Mollie Moritz, W. E. Honeycutt, Emmie Harrell, Mertis Reynolds, Edna Robinson, Alpha Honeycutt, Julian Thompson, Earl Honeycutt, Ralph Honeycutt, Emmett Honeycutt, Ulrica Oglesby, Chas. E. Honeycutt, J. L. Honeycutt, Jr., Jewel Thomas, Essie M. Shaw, Jessie B. Durham, R. L. Honeycutt, J. C. Honeycutt, H. H. Honeycutt, Erby McCrary, Alice Wideman, Olin Martin, and Inez Martin.

R. M. HONEYCUTT,
1-21-4t. Commissioner.

Don't expect good fruit next summer from trees not pruned this winter.

A man who starts a forest fire is guilty of treason against the present and all future generations.

—PBG—

Mr. Greer Culver of Verbena was a visitor to Clanton Saturday.

ATKINSON & PITTS

Lawyers

Office in Johnson Bldg.

CLANTON, ALA.

GRADY REYNOLDS

Attorney-at-Law

Office Opposite Court House

Clanton, Ala.

The South is preparing to raise more cotton than can be profitably sold, State Agricultural Statistician Gist, of Auburn, recently told a meeting of farmers, business men, bankers and others at Montgomery. Unless a cut in cotton acreage is brought about, he says, cotton will not bring a price at which it can be profitably sold.

Alabama's cotton crop for 1925 brought a record price of $155,000,000, according to F. W. Gist, state agricultural statistician. The next largest sum the state's cotton crop ever brought was $140,000,000, paid for the 1919 crop.

Gadsden's $200,000 high school building, less than two years old, was unable to properly accommodate 78 additional students who wished to register recently. There are now 654 students, 84 more than the building was designed to house.

A court fight which will determine the line between Gadsden and Alabama City has been begun at Gadsden. More than 300 acres of land, 2,500 persons, and millions of dollars worth of property will be affected, it is said.

Inavhoe Silva, convicted a short time ago of burglary in Jefferson County and sentenced to 10 years, has been given a 30-day parole by Governor Brandon to "look after his business."

Oats and truck crops in South Alabama are making fair progress, the latest weekly crop report from Washington shows. Little farm work is being done in any section of the State, it is shown.

A party of between 50 and 100 Detroit business men and capitalists recently visited Muscle Shoals in a body. They are said to have been most favorably impressed with the district's possibilities.

President Coolidge will be the principal speaker at the International Council of Religious Education to be held in Birmingham, April 12-19. It is estimated that 17,000 persons will attend the convention.

Jim Shawkey, a negro wanted for three cases of assault to murder, recently held a party of Montgomery County officers at bay for several hours in the woods not far from Montgomery.

The Spring term of the Madison Circuit Court, which will open on February 8, will find 200 criminal and 147 civil cases to be tried. There are three murder cases.

Haleyville is soon to have another brick building business. It will be two stories high. The lower floor will be occupied by the Alabama Power Co., and the upper by business offices.

Measles, appearing in the O'Neal community of Limestone County, is spreading rapidly and threaten to become epidemic, county health officers say.

The slayer of a protected buck in the national game and forest preserve in North Alabama has been apprehended and will be prosecuted State Game Commissioner Quinn announces.

Governor Brandon has freed 1,457 convicts, either by parole or pardon during the three years of his administration, figures compiled at Montgomery show.

The Georgia Railway and Power Company has been absorbed by the Southeastern Power and Light Company, which owns the Alabama Power Company.

National statistics show that Birmingham ranks very high among the cities of the country in deaths from autos. Last year her death rate was 24.4 per 100,000 of population.

The city of Opelika recently sold $225,000 worth of water works bonds to I. B. Tigrett & Co., of Memphis, for 101.62, or a premium above par of $1.62 per $100.

Senator Heflin expresses the belief that the House agricultural committee will favorably report the joint resolution providing for a commission to dispose of Muscle Shoals.

The Alabama Chapter of the D. A. R. will hold its annual meeting at Selma on March 10 and 11.

A move has been inaugurated in Sulligent for free mail delivery inside the incorporate limits of that town.

Republicans are said to be planning to put up a stiff battle to elect a congressman from the Seventh district.

Work on Pier No. 2 in the Mobile harbor development will begin very shortly, it is said.

The L. & N. will shortly erect a new bridge over the Mobile River at Mobile or will strengthen the present structure, it is announced.

The rural schools of Cleburne County will run only five months this year, according to County Superintendent M. A. Vickers.

Albany-Decatur members of Kamram Grotto recently won a $100 prize offered for the city turning in the largest number of applicants for membership.

Deposits in one Huntsville bank showed a gain of almost $250,000 in three months recently.

Read Your Home Town Paper.

Attention Cotton and Corn Growers

Nitrate of Soda Test Right In Your County

Mr. J. S. Jones, Cooper, Alabama, applied 200 pounds Nitrate of Soda per acre to his cotton at chopping time, in addition to sufficient Phosphate and Potash. Results:

With Nitrate ..... 1070 lbs. per acre
Without Nitrate ..... 720 lbs. per acre

Increase ..... 350 lbs. per acre

Mr. J. W. Gilmore, Thorsby, Route 1, Alabama, applied 200 pounds Nitrate of Soda per acre to his Corn when two feet high, in addition to sufficient Phosphate and Potash. Results:

With Nitrate ..... 34 Bu. per acre
Without Nitrate ..... 13.2 Bu. per acre

Increase ..... 20.8 Bu. per acre

Write for information how to use Nitrate and state crop you are interested in

W. Lambert Myers, District Manager

EDUCATIONAL BUREAU
CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA
1128 Hurt Building
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

"Straws Show

which way the soda goes" pleasantly welcomed by the thirsty lips, for even the sweetest lips are liable to become dry, at times. We cater to this thirst by providing pure soda water in a variety of most delicious flavors—those most in vogue with the fair sex generally.

ALRED DRUG COMPANY
"The Home of Quality"
CLANTON, - - - - ALABAMA

Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)

REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted

Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

Adams Grocery Store

The Place To Buy. Why?

Because the people who do buy are satisfied with prices and satisfied with the goods. And I have other things—Notions of all kinds, needles, pins, handkerchiefs, Gold Fountain Pens extra cheap, Gold Watch Chains. A lot of pretty little things. Come and see.

S. M. ADAMS South Clanton

Registration Notice

—o—

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of "An Act to Provide for the Registration of Electors," enacted by the Legislature of 1920, the Registrars of the County of Chilton, Alabama, do hereby give Notice that the following Appointments are set for the purpose of Registering those qualified under the law to Register as Electors:

Precinct 4—Courthouse	January 18 to January 30, inclusive, 1926
Precinct 16—Providence	February 1, 1926
Precinct 11—Cane Creek	February 2, 1926
Precinct 1—Mullins schoolhouse	February 3, 1926
Precinct 12—Mineral Springs	February 4, 1926
Precinct 12—Robinson's Store	February 5, 1926
Precinct 9—Thorsby	February 6, 1926
Precinct 6—Enterprise	February 8, 1926
Precinct 10—Cooper	February 9, 1926
Precinct 5—Verbena	February 10, 1926
Precinct 5—Mt. Creek	February 11, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse	February 12 to February 18, inclusive, 1926

—o—

No one can Register except in his or her own Precinct and at the Courthouse in Clanton, Alabama.

—o—

J. W. E. GULLEDGE, Chairman,
E. H. ADAMS,
J. L. JOHNSON,
Registrars of Chilton County, Ala.

FARMERS AT MEETING IN FAVOR OF REDUCED ACREAGE

In connection with the general campaign now under way to reduce cotton acreage in the south a number of Chilton County farmers met at the court house Monday. The sentiment of those present was decidly in favor of reduced acreage. When the vote was taken upon who would agree to plant less cotton this year than last year every man in the house, except eight, voted in favor of the resolution.

When the question of planting more acreage this year than last was taken, not a single man voted for it.

The question of reducing cotton acreage is another one of those things upon which it is hard to get united action by the farmers. When you ask the farmers about reducing their cotton acreage many of them will say, "I would like to reduce acreage, if everybody would, but it is of no use for me to reduce acreage and my neighbor hold to his same amount."

Presumably, of course, the idea in seeking reduced acreage is to hold down quantity production and expenses of cultivation, and to raise the price of the cotton produced.

This effect has been demonstrated in the variations in cotton acreage over a period of several years back. Let us look back and see.

Cotton prices were low in 1904. In 1905 a campaign was made for reduced acreage which brought it down about 13 per cent. Then in 1911 the acreage was increased 12 per cent over 1910 and the price dropped from 14 cents in 1910 to 8 cents in 1911. In 1912 efforts were made to cut the acreage, with the result of 5 per cent reduction.

In 1914 prices went to 6 cents, and the greatest production of our history brought a demand for reduced acreage. The acreage was cut 15 per cent in 1915. Again the acreage had been increased by 1919 and the price took another tumble from 35 cents to 13 cents. Consequently too much cotton and a demand for another decrease in acreage. Another cut of 15 per cent.

Thus we see that the past few years have been an up and down series of more cotton and less cotton with the resultant effect of less prices and better prices. On the whole, while cotton acreage has been bobbing up and down, it now stands, or did stand in 1925, 40 per cent more acreage than in 1911.

We believe the cotton farmers have got sense enough to see now that they can not afford to produce another record crop in 1926. It will undoubtedly be fatal to them if they do it.

If the cotton crop in 1926 is as big as it was in 1925, it will not average 10 cents a pound, and it will be beyond the power of any organization to save the farmers from the fate that such a situation will bring upon them.

Takes the Place of "Drastic" Calomel

Never take another dose of the old style "raw" calomel. There is a newer and more improved kind known as Pepsinated Calomel. It does not tear through your system like a streak of lightning. People who are ill or suffering with biliousness, constipation, indigestion, and especially with backache, headache and torpid liver can secure immediate and complete relief with this new mild Calomel. Hereafter when you buy calomel, always demand the "pep-si na ted" kind. It is better for you, for it is purer, milder and more beneficial to your entire system. In 25c and 50c packages. For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton, Ala.

SALE FOR PARTITION

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

By virtue of an order of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Ala., made on the 21st day of January, 1926, I, Victor J. Heard, the Commissioner named in said order, will sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public sale, in front of court house, at Clanton, Alabama, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the 15th day of February, 1926, for the purpose of distribution among Eddie Williams, Allie Jones, Hurtellene Culp, Leonard Williams, and Horace Williams, joint owners, on the following terms: cash, the following described property, viz.:

The S½ of the N½ of SW¼, Sec. 32, Township 22, Range 14; SE¼ of NE¼, Sec. 6, Township 21, Range 14, containing one hundred acres, situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This 22nd day of January, 1926.

VICTOR J. HEARD,
Commissioner.

1-28-3t-ch

W. M. U. QUARTERLY MEETING

The W. M. U. Quarterly Meeting met with New Salem church Thursday, January 21 We had a very interesting program, with several good speakers. Mrs. C. L. Martin reported the convention of the W. M. U. at Eufaula, which was very interesting. There were 8 societies reported, all with good reports. We accepted our apportionment for 1926. Everybody seemed more interested in the work and seemed to have a greater determination to do greater work in the coming year than they have in the past. We had a fine turn out from New Salem church. The ladies of Salem served a bountiful dinner.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Union Grove, April 22.—Miss Lena Downs, Sec'y.

COTTON VARIETIES DIFFER IN YIELDS

Wide variations in the yields of different varieties of cotton are shown by an official report of tests made by the Experiment Station at Auburn and also in cooperation with farmers over the State from 1922-25. In 7 tests conducted in north Alabama the highest yielding variety made an average of 429 pounds per acre against 263 for the lowest. On the sandy lands of central Alabama the highest was 331 pounds and the lowest, 221. In the black belt the highest was 389 and the lowest, 207. In south Alabama the highest was 370 and the lowest, 265.

The report of these tests was made by J. T. Williamson and H. B. Tisdale of the department of agronomy. It shows that in north Alabama Cook 10-10, Cook 588, Acala 5, Cleveland (Piedmont), and Cook 307 (Bridges) are the five leading varieties out of 14 varieties in 7 tests from 1922 to 1925. Cook 10-10 and Cook 588 were the most consistant high yielders. Bottoms, which did well some years in north Alabama, was a low yielder under 1925 conditions.

In Central Alabama Cook 307 (Bridges), Dixie Triumph, Cook 588, Cleveland (Piedmont), and Cleveland (Wannamaker) were the five leading varieties. These tests were conducted at Auburn and Prattville.

On the prairie soils of the Canebrake Experiment Station at Uniontown, Cook 10-10, Cleveland (Piedmont), Cook 307 (Bridges), Dixie Triumph, and Bottoms were the leaders in a three-year average.

In south Alabama the average of four tests conducted near Greenville, 1922-25, inclusive, shows that Cleveland (Piedmont), Acala 5, Bottoms, College No. 1, and Cook 588 were the five leading varieties.

STATE ROAD DEBT NEARLY 6 MILLION

AMOUNT AVAILABLE FOR NEW PROJECTS ESTIMATED TO BE $8,141,000

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Montgomery.—Complying with instructions from Chairman John A. Rogers, of the state highway commission, V. L. Hendrick, auditor of the state highway department, in a statement submitted to Mr. Rogers as to the amount the department now owes contractors for roads under construction, states that this amount is approximately $5,861,100. He adds that there are advertised for letting on February 10 ten projects totalling $1,190,000, pointing out that these two items aggregate $7,000,000.

Mr. Hendrix states further that after deducting the amount the department owes on contracts there will be approximately $8,000,000 which can be used in new contracts after the letting of the contracts advertised for February 10. The state has collected to date, Mr. Hendrix says, $18,000,000 of the $20,000,000 road bonds sold. The highway department, he states, has to its credit in the bond fund in the state treasury approximately $2,601,000, also that listed among the highway department's assets is included the federal appropriation of $1,541,000, which will be available for Alabama on June 30. The federal government, he says, is due Alabama $4,000,000 on the contracts now under construction, also that the state has $5,000,000 of road bonds still unsold.

Assets and liabilities of the state highway department at the present time are listed by Mr. Hendrick as follows:

Assets—Balance on hand in treasury, $2,600,000; balance due on bonds sold, $2,000,000; under contract and due by federal government, $4,000,000; federal appropriation June 30, 1926, $1,541,000; bonds unsold, $5,000,000.

Liabilities—Amount due on present contracts, $7,000,000; balance available new work, $8,141,000.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

The Huntsville city council has launched a move to improve the fire fighting apparatus of that city and to relay certain mains to meet requirements of the Southeastern Underwriters' Association. Failure to meet these demands would mean a higher insurance rate for the city, it is said.

With four candidates already unofficially in the sheriff's race and as many other aspirants for each of the other county places, Colbert County is looking forward to one of the warmest political fights it has known in years.

The annual council of the Episcopal Church of Alabama recently held a two-day session at Tuscaloosa. Bishop W. G. McDowell, of Montgomery, presided. There were more than 100 delegates in attendance from all over the State.

Fountaine's Miss Weeler, 577249, a two-year-old cow, owned by Summerville Bros., of Aliceville, in Pickens County, has just completed an official 365-day test in which she produced 5,860 pounds of milk and 350.71 pounds of butter fat.

Dr. W. J. Willingham, of the Troy State Normal School, has just bought a lot adjoining that on which the school's two dormitories stand. It is planned to erect a third dormitory on the new site.

The fourth Alabama inter-high school meet will be held at Alabama College, February 25, 26 and 27. It is expected that two-thirds of the high schools in the State will be represented.

Fire losses in Albany-Decatur during 1925 totaled only $24,721. Because of this showing, a movement is on foot to have insurance rates lowered in Twin-Cities.

Sam M. Dunwoody, of Columbia, has announced his candidacy for state agricultural commissioner. Mr. Dunwoody, a member of the legislature, is the first in the race for this office.

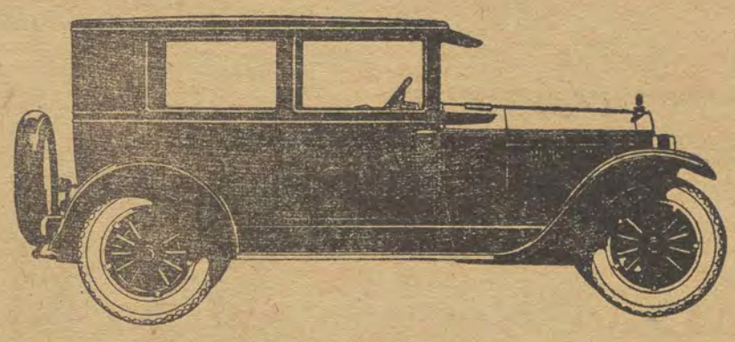
The state highway department will open bids on March 10 for road work involving many thousands of dollars. Work in Montgomery, Wilcox, Covington and Talladega Counties will be let.

Miss Henrietta Thompson, of Auburn, was elected vice president of the Alabama Home Economics Association at its annual meeting in Montgomery recently.

The third issue of Alabama port developments bonds, worth $1,100,000, were sold recently to Birmingham and Nashville bond houses for a premium of $2,650.

Limestone County farmers are reported to be buying soybeans in unprecedented quantities. A record-breaking acreage will be planted, it is said.

Work of paving Main Street in Marion will begin shortly, it is announced.



The Perry County Poultry Association staged a poultry show at Marion recently. A large number of birds were entered.

A new three-story fire-proof building to house the chemical laboratory will be erected on the University of Alabama campus shortly.

The University of Alabama Glee Club will make its annual appearance at Huntsville on the night of February 12th.

A picture of Wilson Dam, 15 feet long and 2½ feet wide was made by a Florence photographer recently.

If the orchard is well terraced or comparatively level it should be plowed up as soon as possible.

ESSEX COACH

A SIX $765 Freight and Tax Extra

The Essex Coach may be purchased for a low first payment and convenient terms on balance

For any closed car—even a "Four"—you pay almost as much as the Essex Coach costs. Yet what a difference in everything that counts—Performance, Quality, Comfort, Good Looks, and your pride in the car you own. A single ride will tell. And, in price, terms of payment, economy of operation, Essex is just as easy to own. Why accept less than a "Six"? Why not have the qualities of the most wanted "Six" type in the world?

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, ALABAMA

HIGH SCHOOL MEET TO BE HELD AT MONTEVALLO

Montevallo, Ala., Jan. 25.—The 4th Inter-High School Meet will be held at Montevallo again this year February 25, 26, and 27. From present indications the Meet this year will be larger and better than in past years. Inquiries are beginning to pour into the college about all phases of the Meet.

Contests will be held in Home Economics, Art, Declamation, Reading, Piano, Voice, Violin, and Basket-ball. Suitable individual and school prizes will be awarded. Alabama College will entertain representatives from the various high schools. No fees will be charged for any of the contests. The only expense to the high schools of the state in sending their students and teachers will be the railroad and taxi fare to and from Montevallo.

The basket-ball tournament this year will be under the direction of the State Athletic Association. The state is divided by this Association into eight divisions. Two teams will be selected in each division to come to Montevallo.

Announcements of the Meet have been sent to all high schools of the state. Special information can be secured from any of the following at Montevallo: M. L. Orr, Chairman of Committee on Arrangements; Edith Montgomery, Tournament Director; Ellen Gould, State Chairman of Declamation; C. B. Richmond, State Chairman of Music; Annie E. Sale, State Chairman of Home Economics; and Mary G. Stallworth, State Chairman of Art.

J. B. DOWNS PROPERTY SOLD MONDAY

The sale of the J. B. Downs property in west Clanton was put on Monday by Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company. The tract was divided into residence lots and sold readily to several different parties. The price the property brought was highly satisfactory.

Night Coughing Quickly Stopped

New Way Simple But Very Effective

Night coughing, with its distressing loss of sleep and dangerous sapping of strength and vitality, can now be almost instantly checked through a simple but wonderfully effective treatment that is economical, too.

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. For astonishing relief make this test tonight before retiring:—Simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the cause removed, coughing stops quickly and you sleep the whole night through.

The Dr. King's New Discovery prescription is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

Notice of Delinquent Tax Assessments

Notice is hereby given that all tax assessments of both real and personal property which are not returned to Tax Assessor before the first Monday in February will be subject to a penalty of ten per cent of the assessed value thereof.

S. M. PATE

Tax Assessor, Chilton County, Ala.

SPECIAL NEWS

I have bought the Bankrupt Stock of G. C. Armstrong, and am now in Business at his old Stand.

I can sell you Dry Goods and Shoes at less than Wholesale Cost.

I also have a fine line of Staple and Fancy Groceries. I can save you Money on anything you need.

These are not cheap goods but Good Goods at a Cheap Price.

Be sure and get my Figures before you buy elsewhere.

DONALD MERCHANT
General Merchandise
Clanton, - - - - - Alabama

If A Railroad Prospers

It Is Because It Has Helped Its Territory To Prosper

This bulletin is quoted practically verbatim from a recent advertisement published by the Western Electric Company. It is built around facts and tells its message in a way which should interest you:

"Railroad ties! Stretching far and wide, they help to tie the nation in closer bonds.

Florida gets its daily bread from Western wheat fields; Oregon woodsmen keep warm with Massachusetts woolens, and Southern cotton—delivered by rail; the Iowa wheat belt seeks shelter under Oregon and Alabama lumber—brought across the country by rail; the Maine trapper sweetens his coffee with Louisiana sugar—transported by rail; the smokers of the nation fill their pipes with Kentucky and Tennessee-grown tobaccos—transported by rail.

This is more than a job of fetching and carrying. It is a process that changes sectional wealth into national welfare. It is a work that intimately links the well-being of the people with the well-being of the railroads—for if a railroad prospers it is because that railroad has helped its territory to prosper.

Observe how this works out. The railroad in good financial condition is able to attract capital for improving its facilities. Then more freight can be handled. Crops can be moved faster. Business in general speeds up. Everybody benefits. For adequate transportation is essential to national prosperity.

It comes down to this. Now that many of the roads are beginning to earn a fair return, let us recognize that this is a good thing for the nation at large, because their financial soundness will enable them to render a satisfactory service today and to build for our growing transportation needs of tomorrow."

It is an interesting and significant fact that the territory served by the "Old Reliable" Louisville & Nashville Railroad has continuously grown solidly and substantially, during the past half century. This railroad affords unexcelled freight and passenger service, and in addition, is constantly adding to the welfare of the community by national advertising in newspapers, magazines, farm journals, booklets, etc., detailing and explaining the advantages of the territory it serves.

THE OLD RELIABLE L&N (LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.)

BAND MUSIC

GO TO

BAND MUSIC

W. L. (Bill) Powell's Farm

3 Miles South of Clanton
On Birmingham-Montgomery Highway
Near Falakto Station

Thursday, Feb. 4---10 A. M.

This Fine 60-acre Farm will be Subdivided and Sold at

AUCTION

A Fine Farm and Nice 6-room Residence
300 Sand Pear Trees, 400 Peach, Apple and Plum Trees
3,000 Producing Strawberry Plants

FREE Two dozen sacks of Sugar. Gold Cash Prize and many other CASH Prizes given away absolutely FREE COME

Terms One-third Cash
Balance in 1, 2, and 3 Years

Tenn.-Ala. Auction Company
Clanton, Alabama

Wanted To Buy
500 HEAD of CATTLE

I want to buy 500 head of Cattle, all kinds. Will Pay the Best Market Price; also, will trade Milch Cows for Dry Cattle.

—o—

Bay Thickett

Clanton - - - - - - Alabama

THE SOUTH MUST GROW ITS OWN FOOD

NO FARM SECTION CAN BUY ITS FOOD AND GRAIN AND BE PROSPEROUS

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special.)—Few people in the South realize the enormous drain there has been on the South's wealth through the steady food and grain buying during the past fifty years. What's the greater pity of it is the fact that most of this money comes directly out of the farm pocket," said H. G. Hastings, of Atlanta, Chairman of the Farm and Marketing Bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"For fifty years or more the cities and towns of the Cotton Belt have been furnishing food and grain to the farmer instead of our farmers feeding the cities and towns. While the cities and towns have had the best of this unnatural business, it has really impoverished both country and city."

"As nearly as can be ascertained, my own state of Georgia has spent in the last 25 years not less than two and one-half billion dollars for food and grain from the North and West, real hard cash money that ought to be sticking in our farmers' pockets. That money is gone never to return.

"It is no over-statement or exaggeration to say that twenty-five million dollars of the South's money has gone that way in the last fifty years. It was good, hard worked for farm money. What we have been doing is spending our lives growing cotton, trading it off for bread and meat at no profit to ourselves.

"No use to 'cuss' the powers that be in Washington or the trusts, tariff, banks or speculators. They may have had a part but a mighty small part in comparison with the part we ourselves have played. The way to stop that drain on our pockets is to stop buying food, grain and forage and produce those necessary items on home acres.

"The time to start is now. Plans for 1926 are being made. Before a plow is stuck in the ground, food, grain and forage acres should be set aside. These acres should and must be first instead of last consideration. When these are fixed, then the farmer can go as far as he likes with cotton, tobacco or other cash crop safely.

"Give the home garden a chance in this food production. It's a wonderful helper in cutting store bills in half for the folks that will give it a square deal instead of the usual 'lick and a promise,' mostly promise. Start the food production procession in 1926 and a money procession will start toward your pocket."

5 Beautiful Flowers Free!

Write for Hastings' Catalog

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN,
ATLANTA, GA.

The many friends of Miss Annie H. Gardner in Clanton and Chilton County will be glad to know that she is able to resume her work. She is now with the Walker County Hospital at Jasper. Miss Gardner was for a long time Superintendent of the Central Alabama Hospital at Clanton.

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF LAND

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Probate Court.

In pursuance of the directions and terms of a Commission dated the 21st day of January, 1926, issued to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bideer for cash, at public auction, on the 13th day of Febuary, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, on the hereinafter described lands in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit, the following described property:

South half of Southwest fourth; the Northwest fourth of the Southwest fourth, all in Section 8, Township 23, Range 14, consisting of one hundred twenty acres. All of the above being situated in Chilton County, Alabama, and being known as the Campbell Lands, Deceased, which said property is to be sold under the order of said Probate Court, for the purpose of division and partition between the several joint owners thereof, viz:

Henry Campbell, Eliza Campbell, William Campbell, Lannie G. Campbell, Leona B. Gaither, Harley R. Campbell, Cecil C. Campbell, John Acie Campbell.

This, the 21st day of January, 1926.

W. H. CONWAY,
1-28-3t-ch Commissioner.

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

S. M. Connatser of Thorsby was among the visitors to Clnaton Monday.

Helpfulness to Others, Man's Great Achievement

The man whose picture appears here was in every sense of the word helpful to mankind, as it was he who gave to the world Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has brought restored health to countless people. One of them says: "I suffered from indigestion for about three years without finding any relief until I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and this medicine helped me wonderfully." —(Signed) Mrs. V. Holten, Gloster, La.

All dealers, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WYATT & GOLDEN
BLACKSMITH SHOP

We are opening up in front of Gray's Mill on Third Avenue North, a blacksmith shop. On Saturday, January 23, we will be ready to do your horseshoeing and repair work. We will be pleased to serve you.

JOHN D. WYATT
G. B. GOLDEN

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

GIFTS PRESENTED MRS. JOHN DAVIS

Editor Union-Banner:

Inasmuch as God saw fit, in His infinite wisdom, to call from us our friend and brother—from his family and little ones, we, the friends of Mr. John Davis, give his wife the following in aiding her to raise her little ones, and to show our sympathy:

J. P. Lawernce, cash, $1.00; J. C. Smitherman, cash, 50c; J. I. Bice, 80 pounds corn, $1.20; Mrs. J. I. Bice, 6 quarts fruit, 90c; Geo. Anderson, cash, 25c; Bob Williams, 1 gallon syrup, $1.00; T. L. Williams, 1 bushel potatoes, $1.25; G. A. Keen, 1 bushel corn, $1.10; Mrs. G. A. Keen, 11 quarts fruit, $2.75; Mrs. T. J. Billingsley, half-gallon fruit, 35c; L. C. Keen, 1 bushel corn and 1 bushel potatoes, $2.35; O. C. Billingsley, 1 gallon syrup, $1.25; O. C. Billingsley, 3-4 bushel corn, 80c; Mrs. O. C. Billingsley, 4 quarts fruit, $1.00; T. W. Billingsley, 9 pounds meat and 3-4 bushel potatoes, $2.90; Mrs. T. W. Billingsley, 3 quarts fruit, 75c; Robert Mims, 2 bushels corn, $2.20; J. F. Traywick, 10 pounds meat, $2.50; Horace Popwell, cash, $1.00; W. L. Popwell, cash, 50c; J. H. Owen, 11 pounds meat, $2.75; Crawford Owen, 11 pounds meat and 1 gallon syrup, $3.75; R. N. Billingsley, cash, $1.10; Carrie Billingsley, 1 gallon syrup, $1.25; J. L. Billingsley, 2 bushels corn, $2.20; Carrie Billingsley, 17 pounds meat, $4.25; E. B. Owen, 22 pounds meat, $5.50, and 1 gallon syrup, $1.25; Johnnie Short, cash, 50c; J. R. Owen, 1 sack flour, $1.50; Mrs. J. R. Owen, 2 cans peas and 1 pair ladies gloves, $2.90; Joe Cox, 1 1-4 bushels corn, $1.35, half bushel potatoes, 65c, 1 gallon syrup, $1.25; Mrs. W. S. Cox, 11 pounds meat, $4.00; Rev. W. S. Cox, 1 1-4 bushels corn, $1.35; J. W. Cox, 1 1-4 bushels corn, $1.35; Mrs. J. W. Cox, 1 bushel potatoes, $1.25; J. J. Owen, cash, $1.00; M. W. Brown, cash, $1.00; total, $65.70.

G. A. Keen and J. R. Owen went with Mr. Owen's truck to get the articles for Mrs. Davis. We certainly thank the people for helping us show her our sympathy. May God bless you all, is our prayer.—G. A. Keen.

NEW SALEM

We, as the publishing committee, regret very much indeed that a long, interesting article can not be published about our church activities this week, although we feel that it should not be entirely neglected. We are sure that the church as a whole is very sorry that conditions have been so unfavorable on our regular preaching days as to prevent our assembling together, but owing to such disagreeable weather on our last three preaching days has been very disappointing to many. Regardless of unfavorable conditions, our faithful pastor has been present every time with a heart full of good messages for everyone. This is a duty in which he never fails us and everyone regrets that it was not possible for us to receive these good messages and make them a part of our daily lives. We know that everyone could have received a great benefit from each of them. Although there are regrets to be made, we feel sure that we may regain the loss of these messages as soon as our people are all permitted to assemble again.

The Ladies Club of this church met last Thursday and enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon together. Much business was discussed and the club was greatly pleased to receive three new members. The ladies are doing nice work and shall be greatly pleased to have anyone attend their meetings either as a visitor or as a member. Meetings are held on Thursday before the third Sunday in each month.

We trust that a large crowd will be present at the church on the first Sunday again, and that the weather will be favorable for a splendid service. We urge everyone to attend both services, especially the members of the Sunday School and B. Y. P. U., in order to receive new literature for the first quarter.

We are hoping to see a large crowd present, especially some visitors, and everybody striving to make it a success.—Clara Vines and Jewel Bean, Publishing Committee.

GUARDIAN'S SETTLEMENT NOTICE

—?—

The State of Alabama, Chilton County, Probate Court, January 16, 1926.

This day came A. L. Cobb, Guardian of Pauline Lowery, Cecil Murray Glass and James Milton Lowery, and files his account, vouchers, evidence and statement for final settlement of his said Guardianship.

It is ordered that the 8th day of February, 1926, be, and the same hereby is, appointed as the day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

Witness my hand this 16th day of January, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-21-3t Judge of Probate.

Alf Mims of Thorsby was here Monday. Friends who observed him closely are of the opinion that he shows progressive symptoms of a candidate. One fellow declares that he saw Alf buying campaign cigars, but we were not able to fully verify that statement.

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens

SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

CLASSIFIED ADS

MULES FOR SALE—I have one pair of farm mules for sale. May be seen at home of J. N. Dennis. Turner M. Dennis, Clanton, Ala. 1-28-2tp

FOR RENT—New 4-room bungalow, near Grammar School. F. R. Woodyard, Clanton, Ala. 1-28-2t-pd

ENTERPRISE NEWS

The school at this place is progressing nicely.

Miss Susie Huett spent Saturday night with Miss Mable Wilkins.

Miss Mable Wilkins entertained a large crowd at the singing Saturday night.

Misses Bernice and Pauline Davis spent Saturday night with Misses Frances and Ruby Williams.

Miss Lillie Stroud spent Sunday with Miss Essie Neeley.

Mr. N. O. Stroud and family spent Saturday night with Mr. Lorenza Williams.

Mr. Watson Gray and family spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Neeley.

Mrs. J. T. Williams spent a few hours with Miss Letha Neeley Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Clarence Billingsley was the guest of Miss Susie Huett Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Leon Pierce visited Miss Blanche Ray Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Stanley Davis and young bride attended the singing at Bethany Sunday afternoon.

Miss Essie and Mr. Aubrey Neeley spent Wednesday night of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Chandler.

Mr. O'neal Stroud was the guest of Miss Mavis Griffin Saturday night.

Mr. Lonie Stroud visited Miss Ruby Williams Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Cox from New Cedron visited Mr. C. L. Wilkins last Saturday night.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

—?—

Following is the program of the Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Chilton County Association, to be held with Oak Grove Baptist Church, January 31st, 1926.

9:45 a. m.—Devotional, by T. J. Deason.

10:00—"Sunday Schools," C. C. Conway.

10:30—"1926 Program," B. Lawrence.

11:15—Sermon, B. F. Dykes.

12:15—Noon.

1:30 p. m.—Devotional, W. H. Falkner.

1:45—"W. M. U.," State and County workers.

2:15—"B. Y. P. U.," R. L. Bonner.

2:45—"Layman's Part," H. D. Durbin, and others.

3:30—Miscellaneous.

3:45—Adjourn.

Committee.

J. M. Paschal of Beat 12 was in Clanton Monday.

Special Odds In FURNITURE
And House Furnishings

We have a number of odd items in Furniture and House Furnishings which we are closing out. You can buy these things at your own price.

Come in and see them. You will surely find something that you can use at the low prices we are offering.

Don't wait. This stuff is going at some price, and the first who come will get the bargains.

Retherford Furniture Co.

CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS

Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

TRY THE VULCAN

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"

Clanton . . . . . Alabama

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Mrs. Hollis Hostess At Bridge Party.

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. Hance Alred was the inspiration of a pretty bridge party given by Mrs. John Hollis of Mitchell Dam, at her home. Tables for the games were arranged in the living and sun rooms, which were artistically decorated with narcissus and potted plants. At the conclusion of the series of games Mrs. Kenneth Smith held high score and was given a pretty linen towel. The guest of honor was presented a box of candy.

A delicious salad plate with hot coffee was served to Mesdames Benziger, Fred Perry, Kenneth Smith, Cox, Clifford Mullins, Frank Callen, Miss Kathleen Mullins, and the honoree.

Verner-Adams Wedding.

A marriage of state-wie interest was that of Miss Sara Adams and Mr. Catlin Cade Verner which took place on Tuesday evening in the First Methodist church of Tuscaloosa in the presence of a brilliant throng of interested friends. The church was beautifully decorated for the wedding and Dr. Clare Percell and Dr. Charles M. Boyd performed the wedding ceremony. musical program was rendered by Mrs. Alston Maxwell and other local talent. Miss Adams was given in marriage by her father, Hon. William M. Adams. The maid of honor was Miss Helen Dennis of Atlanta, and Mrs. William Mitchell Adams served her daughter as matron of honor. The bride's matrons included Mrs. John W. Weaver of Anniston and Mrs. Clyde Reese Bachelor of Wetumpka. The junior bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Partlow and Miss Margaret Powers. Palm bearers included Misses Mary Bidgood, Nelson Persons, Elizabeth Ann Flinn and Mary Cobb of Birmingham. Misses Mary Elise Deal and Katherine Rumley were flower girls. Mr. Pearson Grimes served as best man and the groomsmen included William Alfred Rose of Birmingham, John Verner, Edward Verner, Dolph Cade, and James Ruttenbery of Birmingham. After the wedding Hon. and Mrs. W. M. Adams entertained with a beautiful reception in their home on Seventh Street in honor of the bride and groom, and later they left for a wedding trip.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Hon. and Mrs. Adams are former residents of Clanton. The bride spent her girlhood days here, having moved to Tuscaloosa after graduating from high school. She is pleasantly remembered as a girl of unusual charm and personality.

Oglesby-Wade.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Oglesby, of Centreville, Ala., announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys Fuller, to Mr. John Pierce Wade, of Clanton, Ala., the wedding to take place in April.—Birmingham News.

Mrs. W. C. Robinson made a business trip to Birmingham last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Lancaster and little Mary Alice Williams of Birmingham are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong.

Mr. Charles Moore returned Sunday to Tuscaloosa, where he attends the university, having spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore.

Mr. A. B. Bristow of Shelby spent several days here on business last week.

Mr. Frank Taylor of Wilsonville was a visitor here last week.

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt is improving, following a recent illness.

Rev. C. D. Messer of Petre is spending a few days with his son, Mr. McD Messer.

Mr. Lucien Duncan made a business trip to Montgomery Wednesday.

Mrs. Joe Gaines of Verbena spent Wednesday shopping in town.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

Mrs. Gerald Hostess to Bridge Club.

Mrs. L. F. Gerald delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and a few extra guests at her home on last Wednesday afternoon. The home was decorated for this occasion with narcissus and potted plants. Tables were arranged in living and music rooms for the games. Mrs. V. J. Heard won the prize, two pretty hand-made handkerchiefs. The hostess, assisted by Mesdames Arthur Johnson, Grady Broadhead, served a delicious luncheon.

Those enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mesdames Frank Callen, John Browder, V. J. Heard, Artthur Johnson, H. M. Simpson, N. S. Johnson, J. Watts Moore, J. W. Hayes, Hugh Jones, John C. Page, Grady Broadhead, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Mrs. Harris Entertains Circle.

The members of Circle No. 4 of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union were entertained at the home of Mrs. G. C. Harris Monday afternoon. Mrs. Harris conducted the afternoon's devotional, and also presided over the business session.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Elizabeth, erved a tempting salad course with hot chocolate to the following: Mesdames W. I. Mullins, Frank Denty, M. A. Mullins, J. P. Gore, Turner M. Dennis, Alonza Parrish, and Grady Broadhead.

Birthday Party.

On Saturday afternoon John Ponder Lawrence was host to a large number of friends at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lawrence, in celebration of his 13th birthday anniversary. Many games were enjoyed, and in a "bean" contest, Janice Danforth and Jo Erle Gowan were awarded prizes.

Delicious refreshments were served to Vivian Gray, Jo Erle Gowan, William Arthur Willis, J. C. Maddox, Edwin Wagoner, Jr., Aubrey Taylor, Arthur Johnson, Jr., Bill Minor, Vera Jones, Marjorie Mauney, Mary Nell Goodgame, Janice Danforth, Bernice Williams, Mary Foshee, Leroy Martin, and others.

Thursday Sewing Club Entertained.

The members of the Thursday Sewing Club were entertained by Mrs. J. P. Hayes at her home on last Thursday afternoon. The home was attractively decorated with flowers of the season, and potted plants. After sewing for a couple of hours, the guests were served a delicious salad plate with rot tea.

Those included in this hospitality were Mesdames John M. VanDerveer, J. Watts Moore, T. C. McSwain, Bama Cox, V. J. Gragg, J. Lee Smith, J. W. Hayes, and Morgan.

Girl's Auxiliary Mets.

Miss Lurline Minor entertained the members of the Girl's Auxiliary at her home on last Thursday afternoon. A splendid program was rendered and enjoyed by those present. Following the program a short business session took place, after which delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Sewing Club Luncheon.

The Intermediate Sewing Club was delightfully entertained last Thursday with a luncheon, when Mrs. Lucien Duncan was hostess at her home on Ninth Street. The home was tastefully decorated suggesting the valentine idea. The luncheon table was beautifully appointed, being centered with a crystal bowl of fruit, surrounded with red hearts. Small baskets containing mints were favors and pretty valentine cards marked the place of each guest. Covers were laid for eight.

A delicious course luncheon was served to Mesdames J. P. Crumpton, M. B. Arant, Joe Higgins, Bill Murphy, Milton Smith, Loren Smith, Grady Heflin, and the hostess.

Mrs. J. M. Morgan left Monday for her home in Columbia, S. C., after an extended visit to Mr. and Mrs. Grady Reynolds, who accompanied her to Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jones spent Wednesday in Montgomery.

Mr. J. E. Collins of Montgomery was a business visitor to town Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Johnson spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Birmingham, having had their little son's tonsils taken out.

Mr. Commodore Messer of Verbena spent Tuesday in town with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Adams and children of Thorsby spent last Thursday with Judge and Mrs. S. M. Adams.

Mr. E. B. Walton of Columbiana spent several days in town last week.

Mr. J. R. Owen of Fairview was here on business Wednesday.

Mr. Cleve Wtldon of Enterprise was in town Saturday.

Miss Bettie Morris Gardner spent several days recently in Birmingham with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Franklin and little daughter, Dorothy, of Thorsby, were in town Thursday.

Rev. B. V. Jones of Billingsley was among the visitors in Clanton Thursday.

Mesdames Lucien Duncan, M. B. Arant, Clyde Jones, and Bill Murphy motored to Montgomery Wednesday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. J. Hance Alred has returned from a visit of several days to Mr. and Mrs. John Hollins at Mitchell Dam.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald spent Monday shopping in Birmingham.

Mr. Joe Mullins, who is a student at the University of Alabama, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. P. D. Wilson.

Misses Maud and Beatrice Tate and Florence Grier spent the past week end in Montgomery and Wetumpka with relatives and friends.

Messrs. Will and Walter Deshazo of Mulberry were among those in town Monday.

Miss Lillian Pate of the grammar school faculty spent the week end with her parents at Thorsby.

Mr. J. K. T. Daniel was a business visitor to town Monday.

Mrs. Frank Callen and Miss Kathleen Mullins motored to Mitchell Dam Thursday and spent the day with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Elmore were guests for the week end of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard returned last Wednesday from an extended stay in Hampton Springs, and other points in Florida.

Mrs. J. Hugh Jones and daughter, Mary Courtney, spent the week end with relatives in Montgomery.

Mr. J. E. Carter of McMinnville, Tenn., was a recent visitor to tow.

Mrs. Sie Foshee, who teaches at Cooper, spent the week end with her home folks.

Mrs. D. S. Wingard of Shelby is visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. A. and W. W. Wingard.

Mesdames McD Messer and Briggs Crumpton spent Thursday shopping in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith of Elmore are spending a few days with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jones and children spent several days of last week in Montgomery, where Mrs. Jones underwent an operation.

Mr. J. A. Harris of Stanton was here Saturday attending the teachers' meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Reynolds spent Tuesday in Centreville.

Mrs. S. C. Wood of Thorsby was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pullem spent last week in Randolph with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Gray motored to Montgomery Monday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Penter left Monday for Birmingham, where they will reside.

Rev. R. L. Bonner of Jemison was in town Saturday.

Mr. Mauldin of Wilsonville was attending to business in Clanton Saturday.

Dr. S. J. Ezell is preaching every evening this week at Baptist church of Thorsby.

Mr. E. G. Caldwell of Pletcher was in town Tuesday.

Mr. W. J. Billingsley of Thorsby was a visitor in town Saturday.

Mr. W. H. Goodgame of Thorsby was in town Saturday.

Mr. W. M. Moore of Indian Grave was among those visiting in town Saturady.

Mr. Jones, principal of Isabella school, was in town Saturday.

Misses McMae and Kate McNeil of Jemison were among the teachers in town Saturday.

Mrs. J. E. Each of Thorsby was a shopper in town Tuesday.

Mr. J. D. Ray of Enterprise was in town Saturday.

Mr. J. L. Ruffin made a business trip to Birmingham last Thursday.

Mrs. Claude Reynolds, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Harry Tarpley, of Tuscaloosa, went down to Montgomery Wednesday to be at the bedside of their aunt, Mrs. N. B. Williams.

Mrs. M. L. White has been removed to her home following an operation at the Central Alabama Hospital.

Mrs. P. C. Smith has returned from a visit to relatives at Fitzpatrick, Ala.

Mrs. Claude Reynolds was called to Birmingham Tuesday on account of the death of her uncle, Mr. John B. Robinson. Mr. Robinson was a brother to Mrs. Reynolds' mother, Mrs. Sidney Johnson, who died only a few weeks ago. A sad feature concerning his death is that a sister, Mrs. N. B. Williams, of Montgomery, is seriously ill with pneumonia, having been unconscious for three days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Downs motored to Birmingham last Thursday and spent the day shopping.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for the kindness shown us during the illness and death of our husband and father, and also express our appreciation for the beautiful floral offering.—Mrs. J. A. Rogers and children.

William Elijah Robinson, an old Clanton boy, now employed in the Birmingham post office, was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday night, coming with the delegation of visitors to Waxahatchie Tribe No. 9, I. O. R. M. "Bill" has many friends here who were glad to see him again.

Sheriff Littlejohn destroyed a 100-gallon box still and 50 gallons of beer west of the Mahan place Wednesday. No arrests were made.

666
is a Prescription for
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,
Preventing Pneumonia

Our New Spring Millinery, Coats and Dresses Have Arrived

—AND THEY ARE RIGHT UP TO THE MINUTE.

—PRICES LOWER THAN IN MANY SEASONS.

One lady told us the other day that she only wished that flour and coffee were as reasonably priced as our spring showing of Coats, Dresses and Hats.

COME IN TO SEE US

It is a pleasure for us to show you through this beautiful line

Alred Mercantile Co.
(Inc.)
Clanton, Ala.

RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF REV. J. L. LONG

We are constantly reminded of the brevity of life. The changing season, the serf leaf, the fading flower, the departing friend, all remind us that life, though we live the allotted time, is but a span that leads from earth to glory, connecting the past, the future —two great eternities.

Again God, in His infinite wisdom, has called our beloved friend and brother from the walks of men. Rev. J. L. Long has answered the last great call, which sooner or later comes to us all. Though our friend be dead, yet his influence lives on.

Rev. J. L. Long was a Mason and a Missionary Baptist preacher for several years. Always teaching and pointing those to the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world. Of such are those who build monuments which neither rust, corrode, nor time efface.

Therefore, Be it Resolved, That, though we miss the genial presence, the sunny smile, and wise counsel of our brother, we can in humble submission bow to the will of God, who takes and gives at His pleasure.

Be it further Resolved, That, we extend our heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved, and point them to the star of hope, the resurrected Lord, who gave the beautiful promise, "I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, there ye may be also."

Be it further Resolved, That, a copy of these resolutions be sent to the county papers for publication, one sent to the home, and one spread upon the minutes of the Marbury Masonic Lodge.

Respectfully submitted,
R. L. DUFFEY,
J. D. GRIFFIN,
J. S. HUBBARD,
Committee.

There are 8,000,000 cattle under the supervision of tuberculosis eradicators in this country.

A healthy, well-sprayed tree, just as the same as a healthy animal, can do more work than one that is weakened or half starved.

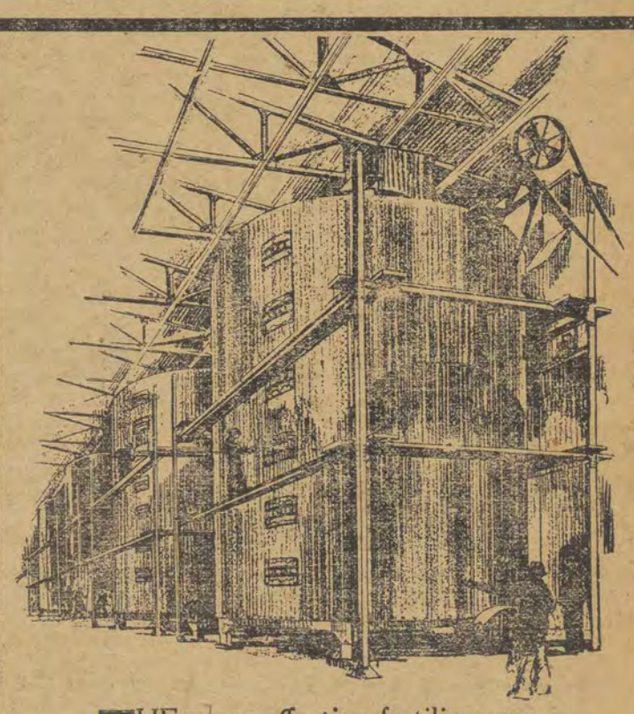
Captain Flint, one of the hardest boiled pirates in history, plays an important part in "Porto Bello Gold," the thrilling novel starting in this week's Union-Banner.

"The first fundamental for an economic dairy business is good cows." —F. W. Burns, Auburn.

Electricity is good for back aches if it is applied to household machinery.

No farmer can be richer than the land he cultivates.

Dr. and Mrs. Turner Dennis and children left Tuesday for Dothan, where they will spend the next two months.



Miss Willodean Reynolds, who is a student at Woman's College, Montgomery, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reynolds.

Mr. John Mims of Cedar Grove community was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. J. W. Hayes and little daughter, Bess, left Monday for St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend some time with Dr. and Mrs. Floyd. En route they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan in Birmingham.

Dr. J. P. Crumpton made a business trip to Birmingham Wednesday.

Mr. Baird of Evansville, Ind., is visiting his daughter, who is superintendent of Central Alabama Hospital.

THE more effective fertilizer cannot be made with a shovel. It's more than a mere matter of mixing. What to mix, how to prepare it for mixing, how to mix it and what to do with it after it is mixed are a few of the problems that can't be solved with a wheelbarrow. The illustration above shows one of the processes of fertilizer manufacture in one of the Royster plants.

F.S.R.
ROYSTER
Fertilizer
Clanton Agent JAS. C.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Mrs. James E. Biggs, formerly Miss Anna Berlin of Thorsby, and daughter, Marjorie, of Atlanta, Ga., were guests of Miss Naemi Turnquist last Saturday and Sunday. They left for Birmingham Monday, accompanied by Miss Turnquist. After visiting a few days there they will return to Atlanta.

Mr. W. M. Parnell, Miss Naemi Turnquist, and Mrs. James Biggs motored to Prattville last Sunday, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Higgins, who had been visitors in Thorsby on Friday of last week.

The many friends of Mrs. Conrad Carlson will be glad to learn that she is recovering from her illness of the past week, and all will hope for a speedy and complete recovery to her health.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Leary gave a radio entertainment for two hours last Monday night. Their guests were all the members of Thorsby Institute faculty except Mrs. Loveland, who remained at home with the students. An enjoyable and much appreciated evening was spent by the teachers.

Misses Lena Franklin and Ruth Martin of Howard College were home Saturday and Sunday after their mid-term exams.

W. L. Leary has gone to Birmingham and taken a position with The Virginia Life Insurance Company. His grist mill in Thorsby will be shut down indefinitely.

Mrs. R. L. Primm, who has been in Birmingham, ill for two weeks, returned to her home in Thorsby last Saturday night. She is still in a weak condition.

The Commercial Geography Class, under Miss Fairbanks, is the fourth of Thorsby Institute classes to give chapel programs. The first one in the fall was prepared by the American history, on Columbus. Then the American literature class gave an Irving program, and the class in French presented an amusing scene from Moliere's "Avarice." The subject taken by the geography class was rubber. Donald Lucas read the account of King Solomon's commercial adventures as recorded in First Kings. Jewel Martin explained the geography of rubber from a map of the world. Rube Reynolds described its production, and Willie Littlejohn some of its many uses. Ragnar Ekblad told of the reasons for the present shortage of rubber and some of the remedies that are being applied. The program took the time of chapel exercises last Monday morning.

The Ladies Guild social for January will be held at the home of Mrs. Nels Petersen on Thursday afternoon, of this week. Their annual meeting was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. W. Butler, and reports shown. Officers elected for the ensuing year were Mrs. Charles S. Howard, President; Mrs. James Bosworth, Vice President; Mrs. Nels Petersen, Secretary; and Mrs. E. W. Butler, Treasurer.

PLEASANT GROVE

Owing to unfavorable weather conditions and the large number of sick people, services at this place were poorly attended on Sunday, January 24. In spite of all this we had a very good service and made plans for the future which we believe will bear fruit to a greater and nobler church at this place. Among the most interesting of our plans are three special services. There is to be a special service for the young men and boys of the church and community together with others from other communities that may come. There will also be a special service for women and girls and one for fathers and mothers. The purpose of these meetings is to bring certain important questions before the young people and the fathers and mothers. Suitable speakers will be present at each of these services and it is hoped that they will be largely attended. Watch for the announcement of the date for these meetings.

We are very sorry to say that there are several sick people at present. Among them are Sisters Davewood Freeman, Mattie Childress, Minerva Waldrop, and Brother Glover Price. We pray that they may have a speedy return to health and be able again to assume their accustomed places.

Everybody is cordially invited to come and worship with us on the fourth Saturday, Sunday, and Sunday night, and at Sunday school every Sunday morning.—B. F. Dykes, Pastor.

On Sunday night, January 31, at the Congregational church, immediately following Christian Endeavor meeting, Rev. J. E. Each will give another stereoptical illustrated address concerning "The Great Southwest." A collection will be taken to defray the expenses of transportation on the slides.

Mr. E. W. Erickson, 87, died at his residence in Thorsby on Monday, January 25, and was buried in Thorsby cemetery Tuesday. A large number of Thorsby citizens attended the funeral. Rev. Bakke, pastor of the Lutheran church, officiated, and Mell Martin of Clanton was the funeral director. Mr. Erickson was born in Sweden and came to Thorsby in 1891. He has been quite feeble for several years and was seldom seen on the streets. He leaves three children, a son in Montana, a daughter in Duluth and a younger daughter, Mrs. Ernie Hansen, in Thorsby. Mrs. Hansen has made a home for her father for many years, and was assiduous in her care of him.

A Card Of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hansen desire to publicly express their grateful appreciation of the many kindnesses and helpful service rendered by their friends and neighbors during the illness, death and burial of their father, E. W. Erickson. They sincerely appreciate the floral offerings sent in at the time of the funeral.

The many friends of Clarence Bice in Thorsby and vicinity will be interested to know that since moving to Palatka, Fla., he has secured the agency for that section reprsenting one of the large real estate firms of Miami, Fla., who have a considerable real estate development enterprise at Putnam Gardens, near Palatka, of which Mr. Bice is local manager.

There are now more than 20 million motor vehicles in the United States.

Not a story of a treasure hunt, but an exciting account of a treasure burial—that's "Porto Bello Gold," starting in this week's issue of The Union-Banner.

MULBERRY—ISABELLA NEWS

Isabella's second basket ball team played Maplesville's second team last Friday and the score was Isabella 17, Maplesville 0.

Our Mulberry W. M. U. brought back the mileage banner from New Salem last Thursday. We hope we can bring back the membership banner next time in our Chilton Association, so let's get busy, ladies, and all go that can to our next quarterly meeting.

Our Mulberry W. M. U., Circle No. 1, will meet with Mrs. Young Smith next Saturday, January 30. We will have our program in the "Royal Service." As many as can, go to Mrs. Smith's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grooms from Sardis was visiting his brother, Curtis Grooms, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Farmer from Montgomery were visiting Mrs. Farmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning, Saturday and Sunday.

We missed Mrs. (McGraw) Bryan at Sunday school last Sunday. She was ill and was not able to attend.

Sunday was our regular preaching day. Our pastor, Rev. J. W. Mitchell, could not be with us, but he sent another preacher, Bro. Head, of Plantersville, who filled Bro. Mitchell's place and delivered a fine sermon.

Mr. James T. Dunlap from Birmingham came down last Thursday for his runaway son, Erskine, who had come to Mr. D. O. Manning to get work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. M. Webb, Mrs. Denson Conway and Mrs. W. T. White attended the W. M. U. quarterly meeting at New Salem last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning and A. B. Manning went to the M. Manning sale Friday, but owing to the bad weather the sale was called off until a later date.

Messrs. Emmett Conway and Akins Collins were visiting at the home of D. O. Manning last Sunday.

Mr. John D. Martin, who is attending school at Marbury this winter, was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Martin, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sexton and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Headley in Maplesville Sunday.

Lonie Smith from Marbury visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. Smith, Saturday and Sunday.

Many Thorsby people will be saddened to learn of the death of Mrs. Martha B. Hunter, which occurred at the home of her daughter in Los Angeles on January 16, after a sickness of less than two days. Mrs. Hunter was in her 80th year. She came to Thorsby in 1915 as a volunteer teacher in Thorsby Institute. At that time she was nearly 70 years of age, but her wonderful vitality and enthusiasm and devotion to her work and to her "boys" would have done credit to a person of half her age. She was much beloved by all who knew her—old and young. In 1917 she was called away from Thorsby by family ties, but returned in the fall of 1922 and spent two more years here very happily for her and for us. She was a great traveler. Within the past six months she has traveled several thousand miles. Most of this was alone. She spent a few days here in October. Mrs. Hunter was a devoted Christian woman, and will find rich enjoyment in the life "over there."

English services at 10:30 a. m., next Sunday at Thorsby Lutheran church.

FOR SALE—10,000,000 Cabbage and Bermuda Onion Plants; $1.00 per thousand; prompt shipments. Dorris Seed Co., Valdosta, Ga. 1-28-4t-c

MARTIN BARBER SHOP

I am now located in the Eiland Building on the Montgomery-Birmingham Highway and am prepared to do first class barber work at all times. Your patronage is appreciated.

ADOLPHUS MARTIN
Thorsby, Alabama

Good Flour

We have just taken over the agency of the Old Hickory Mills' line of fully guaranteed brands of flour, and we have secured the exclusive agency for this section. We have it bought at a price lower than the present market, and will sell it accordingly.

Don't overlook this opportunity to buy a real high grade of flour at a price that is right.

JAS. C. JONES
Wholesale and Retail
CLANTON, ALABAMA

COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed From Mauldin Farms

Wilsonville, Ala., on Southern Railway, or Vincent, Ala., on Central of Georgia Railroad

In 1924 the Auburn Experiment Station tested 25 varieties of cotton in north Alabama. COOK 10-10 headed the list. It made 495 pounds of lint to the acre. This was 64 pounds more than the next best yielding variety, and it was 244 pounds more than the poorest yielding variety.

The average of the 25 varieties tested was 362 pounds of lint to the acre. COOK 10-10 made 133 pounds (36 per cent) more lint to the acre than the average.

If the 1925 crop in Alabama was grown from average seed, the best seed (COOK 10-10) would have increased the crop 36 per cent, or 487,000 bales, worth $45,055,000. Forty-five million dollars is a sum worth saving to the State of Alabama. For a 10-bale farmer the same per cent increase would make his crop 13 3-5 bales. All farmers will not plant the best seed, but the man who does profits by it.

Read this copy of the four tests by the Alabama Experiment Station and the South Carolina Station and observe the place of COOK 10-10.

Results of Cotton Variety Tests Conducted in Lawrence County Alabama by S. L. Morrow, County Agent, in 1924.

Variety	lbs. lint per acre
Demonstrator—R. F. Clark Hillsboro, R. 1.
Cook 10-10	476
Cook 588	393
Cleveland - Piedmont	375
Acala No. 5	374
Bottoms Prolif.	362
Half and Half	353
Demonstrator—W. L. Simpson Moulton, R. 5.
Cook 10-10	246
Cook 588	240
Cleveland - Piedmont	220
Acala No. 5	202
Bottom's Prolif.	199
Demonstrator—G. N. Preuit, Town Creek
Cook 10-10	234
Cook 588	225
Acala No. 5	193
Bottom's Prolif.	191
Cleveland - Piedmont	166
Demonstrator—Willie Owens Town Creek, Route 3
Cook 10-10	430
Bottom's Polif.	412
Cook 588	404
Cleveland - Piedmont	346
Acala No. 5	298

Results of Cotton Variety Test, Clemson Agricultural College, 1924, Clemson, S. C.

Variety	lbs. lint per acre
Cook 10-10	442
Cleveland - Woolsey	421
Cook 588 - 219	419
King - Wood	414
Acala	401
Cook - Clemson	394
Cleveland - Coker	391
Cook 588 - Alabama	389
Sugar Loaf	387
Toole - New	385
Bottom's	374
Trice	372
Cleveland - Clemson	368
Cleveland - Coker 1-8	366
King - Original	366
Cleveland - Piedmont	358
Dixie - Triumph	354
Toole - Old	344
Carolina - Foster	342
Cleveland - Coker 1 1-16	342
Cleveland - H - Coker	342
Cleveland - Marrett	338
College No. 1, Ga.	337
Mexican Big Boll	333
College No. 1, Frank.	327
Lone Star	321
Delfos 6102	319
King - New	314
Cleveland - Bouknight	313
Salsbury	309
Express 95	282
Webber 49	280
Cleve. - Wann - M. S. Farm	280
Hartsville No. 19	275
Cleveland - Wann - J. E. W.	275
Willow Leaf	271
Delfos 631	262
Delta Type Webber	258
Express 433	231

Results of Cotton Variety Tests by Alabama Experiment Station, Auburn, Ala.

TABLE NO. 1—NORTH ALABAMA

Variety	Lbs. lint per acre: Average four tests 1922-24, inc.	Average two tests in 1924
Cook 10 - 10	410	495
Bottoms	365	407
Cook' 588	354	409
Cook' 307	346	409
Cleveland (Pied.)	345	418
Acala No. 5	337	393
Dixie Triumph	325	427
King	321	356
College No. 1	310	369
Culpepper	307	370
Trice 270 - 41	305	377
Mexican Big Boll	303	361
Cleveland (Wann.)	300	357
Express 350	297	353
Toole	290	367
Trice	287	298
Lone Star	256	308
Webber 49	247	288
Webber (Deltatype)	213	251
Cook 1627		431
Cook 1616		380
Delfos 610 2		377
Salsbury		364
Express 95		327
Lightning Express		308

In 1925 one of my tenants made 55 bales on 60 acres; another made 30 bales on 33 acres. On smaller plats we made as much as two bales to the acre.

Twelve hundred pounds of COOK 10-10 seed cotton gins a 500-pound bale.

In 1925 Shelby County club boys planted my seed; 41 boys on 41 acres averaged 1,171 pounds of seed cotton. This was a bale to the acre.

In Pickens County 100 boys in 1925, with COOK 10-10 seed, averaged 1 bale to the acre.

In Marion County in 1925, with COOK 10-10 seed, 35 boys averaged 1,457 pounds of seed cotton to the acre. This was more than a bale to the acre.

I have been growing COOK 10-10 since 1920. I grow no other cotton. My seed are pure. I saved no 1925 seed after the fall storm. I plant a breeding patch every year from which choice selection is made for the next year's breeding. By this method I keep up my high yielding strain.

YOU MAY HAVE GOOD LAND, USE GOOD FERTILIZER AND DO GOOD WORK, BUT YOU CAN NOT MAKE THE BEST YIELDS UNTIL YOU PLANT THE BEST SEED.

PRICE—$2.00 per bushel of 32 pounds in 2½ bushel bags, shipped from Wilsonville, Ala., on Southern Railway; Vincent, Ala., on Central of Georgia R. R.; Arkwright, Ala., on A. B. & A. R. R.

Post Office address: MAULDIN FARMS, Vincent, Ala., or Wilsonville, Ala.

"For Men May Come and Men May Go, But I Go On Forever."—Tennyson's Brook.

Mr. C. C. Driskill, late of Chattanooga, is now installed as Cashier in place of C. R. Foss (resigned), and will be glad to meet and greet all our friends.

A change of Men does not imply any change of policy at

THE BANK OF THORSBY
Thorsby, Alabama

ESTABLISHED 1903 THE ESTABLISHED 1892

UNION-BANNER

What's ?P.B.G.? READ PAGE 6

Like PIRATES? READ PAGE 6

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1926 NUMBER 42

Coolidge Visit In B'ham Is Assured

World Sunday School Congress to Be Held in Magic City During Week of April 12th.

When the International Sunday School Association and Congress of Youth holds its convention in Birmingham during the week of April 12 to 19, in conjunction with the 17th quadrennial convention of the International Council of Religious Education, the nightly gatherings at the municipal auditorium will be featured by artistic numbers and elaborate musical programs.

Special preparations are being made to make "Coolidge Night," Thursday night, April 15, the outstanding event of the convention week, and the settings will include the choruses of all the high schools as a background. Preparations for this feature have already begun, in view of the fact that positive assurance has come from Washington that President Coolidge will be here and deliver an address on that night on "Christian Citizenship," and it became known Saturday that even the local arrangements for the housing and entertainment of the President and his official staff have been completed.

On Monday night the opening gathering of the international convention, all the trained choir singers of the city will be massed together, and on Wednesday night all of the college orchestras, augmented by other musicians. Friday night will be featured by the great pageant, and Saturday night, April 17, will see all public school orchestras assembled to supply the musical background for the great meeting. At Sunday afternoon meeting, April 18, a junior choir of girls will supply the music, and for Sunday night, the combined college glee clubs of the city and the T.C.I. chorus will be heard in one great chorus, supplemented by a great orchestra.

H. Augustine Smith of Boston University will have charge of the general musical and artistic features of the convention and the details of the local musical arrangements are being completed by Miss Leta Kitts, supervisor of music in Birmingham's public schools, and Mrs. George Houston Davis.

While all these preparations are being made for what promises to be the greatest religious convention ever attempted in the South, requests for reservations continue to pour in on the local organization, of which Dr. Jos. M. Broady, pastor of the Sixth Avenue Presbyterian church, is chairman, and D. R. Price, executive secretary of the Birmingham Sunday School Council, executive secretary.

Among requests for reservations received in Saturday morning's mail were some from Toronto, Canada, Pottston, Pa., from the secretary of the Congregational Educational Society of Boston, Mass., and a large number of others.

POPLAR SPRINGS

Messrs. Otis Jones and Douglas Hammond, and Misses Louella McDowell and Gertie Mae Wilson visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Giles Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. McDowell visited Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph McDowell Friday.

Mrs. Reedo Popwell Mrs. Bessie Driver, and Mrs. J. C. Wilson visited Mrs. Ed Giles Wednesday.

The oyster supper at the home of Mr. Ed Giles Monday night was fine.

MRS. MAHALA EASTERLING DIED LAST SUNDAY

Mrs. Mahala Easterling, age 88 or 89, died last Sunday, January 31, 1926, at the home of her son, Lewis Easterling, 5 miles east of Clanton. She was the wife of Elijah Easterling, who died in 1889.

"Grandma" Easterling, as she was affectionately known, was one of the oldest citizens of Chilton County. She leaves a warm place in the hearts of hundreds of friends and relatives who have found good counsel with her for many years.

Burial was made beside her husband at Walnut Creek Monday, with a great throng of sorrowing friends and relatives paying their last tribute of respect. Rev. F. A. Gibson conducted the funeral.

FINDS AXE EMBEDDED IN CENTER OF BIG OAK TREE

A peculiar finding is reported by Willis Barber, negro of Clanton. He was sawing down a two-foot Spanish oak at the home of Mr. J. Hance Alred, and when the saw got to the center of the tree it struck something. The block was later split open and in the center was found a double-bit axe. There were no signs of bruises or rough places on the surface of the tree. The axe and wood block were brought to the Banner office for display.

PRESS ASSOCIATION ENDORSES PUBLICITY SCHEME

The Alabama Press Association at its mid-year meeting in Birmingham Saturday gave its hearty endorsement to the work now being done by and for Advertising Alabama Abroad, Inc. President J. C. McLendon, whose work in behalf of All-Alabama-Advertising Campaign was duly recognized by resolution, made a report on the subject, as did Garrard Harris, associate editor of The Birmingham News and director for the Birmingham district in the A. A. A.

The Birmingham meeting was informed by a telegram from Wallace J. Parham, Jr., that "The Publicity Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Alabama's seaport welcomes the opportunity to assist in Advertising Alabama Abroad. Please announce a subscription of $500 for this cause."

Mr. Parham is chairman of the Mobile publicity committee and also vice president and director of A. A. A.

Mr. Harris told the editors and publishers that the work has so far progressed that the purchase of advertising space and preparation of literature for distribution may start before the first of March; that orders of publishers for Alabama information are now being filled by volunteer contributors.

Resolutions were adopted calling on the legislature to appropriate $25,000 per year to advertise Alabama; opposing the policy of the government in printing return cards or envelopes; fixing the dates of "Alapressa" publication quarterly; thanking the Hillman Hotel for courtesies and The Birmingham News for its cooperation, also for the luncheon given the association attendants at the Southern Club.

Interesting talks were made by Victor Hanson, Jesse B. Herrin, Dr. L. N. Duncan, Howard A. Smith, P. O. Davis, and David Holt. Black Belt problems, dairying, and the Coast Country were discussed.

THREE BIG STILLS DESTROYED IN STUMPS HILLS

Officers report the destruction of three big stills in Stumps Hills Tuesday. They were of the kettle type, built of zinc and wood, and held about 300 to 400 gallons each. They were loaded with beer and waiting to be "run off." No one was present when the officers arrived and no arrests were made.

The place where the outfits were found is on Waxahatchie, near the Shelby County line. All three of the boxes were connected in a series so as to make the operation continuous from one to the other.

Officers making the raid were Deputies Culp and Foshee and State Officers Baker and Nelson.

T. A. CRIM

We, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Glass, have felt very lonely since the death angel came and claimed the father and grandfather of Mrs. Glass and children. The dear one is greatly missed by all his loved ones, but his vacancy means more to this home, as he spent the last 11 weeks of his life herein.

T. A. Crim, age 76, made his departure from a bed of constant suffering to a permanent and peaceful home on Wednesday evening, January 20.

During his illness, a period of more than a year, he lived with his children.

The funeral was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. A. Harrell, of Jemison, and conducted by Bro. Monroe Honeycutt, one of his boyhood friends. Bro. Weston of South Calera also made a brief but appropriate talk concerning conversations that he and the deceased had held.

Mr. Crim is survived by a wife, Mrs. Frances Crim, and four children: Mesdames T. J. Glass and S. A. Harrell, Messrs. C. D., and J. R. Crim, all of whom wish to join other relatives in thanking friends for their kindness and respect, also for the floral offerings.—Lillie Belle and Alma Glass.

COUNTRY LINES URGED TO BUILD NOW

Rev. W. S. Cox, vice-president of the Peoples Telephone Company, is urging all the lines from the rural districts to complete their building of new lines into town to those points where the company is going to build with insulated wire. Mr. Cox says those lines need not wait for the insulated wire to be put up in town, pointing out that a good deal of time may be saved if those lines from the country can be built to the terminal points by the time the insulated wire is put up.

Ewart Corley, formerly of the Chilton County News, now living at Daytona, Fla., was in Clanton several days recently.

THE FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING AT OAK GROVE

The Chilton County Baptist Association met in its fifth Sunday meeting with the Oak Grove Baptist church, Sunday, January 31, 1926. The congregation was called to order at 10 o'clock and devotional service was conducted by Rev. T. J. Deason.

At 10:15 a. m., the meeting was organized, by electing Rev. T. J. Deason, chairman, and J. Z. Mims, secretary, for the day.

The subject "Sunday Schools" was ably discussed by Rev. B. F. Dykes, Bro. C .C. Conway having failed to get there.

"The 1926 Program" was very ably and interestingly discussed by Rev. B. Lawrence.

At 11 o'clock, Rev. B. F. Dykes, as was scheduled, delivered an able address, taking as the foundation of his discourse Psalms 78:9. This sermon was a treat to the congregation, and it was unfortunate that a larger congregation was not present to hear it.

At the noon hour a very sumptuous dinner was spread in regular Oak Grove style. If you have ever been there on an occasion like this you know what this style is. If you have not, the next time you hear of anything going to be there it will be the pleasure of your life if you will just go and see.

In the afternoon Rev. Paul Oden, the blind preacher, sang "Will The Circle Be Unbroken?" and "Tell Mother I'll Be There," which were greatly apreciated. The afternoon was carried out with good discussions to each question. It seemed that all present enjoyed the day very much and I know of no reason why the attendance was not better. Probably it would have been better under better weather conditions.

At the close of the program the following resolution was read and adopted:

"Be it Resolved, That, we, the messengers and visitors to the Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Chilton County Baptist Association, extend to the good people of Oak Grove church and community our heartfelt thanks for their kind hospitality shown us during our stay among them, and that we pray God's richest blessings upon them."—J. Z. Mims, Sec'y.

OFFICERS INVESTIGATE DEATH OF SIX-WEEKS-OLD CHILD

Sheriff Littlejohn, Solicitor G. C. Walker, and Dr. T. J. Marcus were engaged Tuesday in conducting an investigation into the death of a six-weeks-old child of Jim Connell, which was reported to have been secretly buried by Connell early Thursday morning in an old abandoned field near where he lives at the Higgins place on the bank of Coosa River, 11 miles east of Clanton.

Reports reaching the officers here during the week tended to indicate that foul play on the part of Connell might have had a part in bringing about the death of the child. The proper legal steps for handling the case were instituted, and the body was exhumed on Tuesday afternoon. It is reported that nothing was found to indicate that the child died from any cause other than that which was natural.

The investigation was conducted by Judge Gulledge before a jury. The verdict was that the child had died from effects of a disease contracted before birth, and that the father and mother, being alone and unable to provide a public burial, chose the best that their state of life could devise, which was to wrap the body in a blanket, put it in a box and bury it.

Sheriff Littlejohn carried a little coffin down there and placed the body in it, and the people agreed to bring it to Providence cemetery and bury it.

The story of the sickness and death of the child is a sad narrative, the pathos of which is augmented by a knowledge of the conditions and circumstances of the family. The people live in a deserted portion of Chilton County some miles from any other folks save perhaps a family of negroes nearby. The child was born six or seven weeks ago, opening its eyes upon a world that was nothing but ignorance, horror, disease, hunger, shame and degradation. To say that the poor thing was sick during the whole of its brief life must be expressing the truth mildly.

Somebody is said to have been at the home last Wednesday night, which is the last information coming from the dismal place until someone related how Jim Connell, about daylight Thursday morning, took the lifeless body of the infant and buried it with his own hands on a hillside in an old field near the house.

There began the rumor that it might have been killed in some crude way. It is some consolation to hear that the investigation of the officers puts quiet that rumor.

It is surely not the will of a good and loving God that children should be born into such families and reared like wild animals. Rather, we would believe that it is the supreme mercy of Him to take a human soul from such an existence and call it back into the divine existence.

ABOUT READY TO BEGIN REBUILDING TELEPHONE LINES

Officials of the Peoples Telephone Company announce that they are about ready to begin their program of rebuilding the telephone system in Clanton, which includes reconstruction of the lines with insulated wire and completely overhauling the switch board at the central office.

The material for rebuiuilding the lines will be bought this week. All lines are urged to bring their assessment to the secretary-treasurer. Mr. G. O. Foshee, just as soon as possible.

Vice-President, Rev. W. S. Cox, is actively in charge of the rebuilding program, and he expects to see the job through in the shortest time possible, consistent with good work.

JANUARY MARRIAGES

Hubert Wilson and Miss Lurla Thomas.

George Glass and Miss Nellie Scott.

Gerthie Johnson and Miss Marion Popwell.

Britton D. Nelson and Miss Minnie Thornton.

Frenza Miner and Miss Beanie Mims.

G. H. Allen and Miss Ida Cooper.

Lloyd T. Williams and Miss Elsie Courtney.

Virgin Brantley and Miss Frances Christian.

Fonza Ellison and Miss Agnes Vines.

George Shoults and Miss Etta Mae Hall.

J. W. Simmons and Miss Mary Bolan.

George Murr and Miss Mary A. Hicks.

Hugh Traywick and Miss Katie Robinson.

Lester Downs and Miss Loraine Miller.

A. D. Miner and Miss Cupidean Flemming.

William W. Giles and Miss Annie Rhodes.

Anderson Baker and Miss Pearl DuBose.

O. C. Boatfield and Miss Maudie Garris.

Luther P. Bean and Miss Lucile Glasscock.

Guy Roberts of Miami, Fla., was calling on his friends around Clanton the first part of this week.

MRS. MARY E. WATTS BURIED HERE SUNDAY

The body of Mrs. Mary E. Watts, age 75, was brought to Clanton from Birmingham and buried here Sunday. She died early Saturday morning at her home in Birmingham.

She is survived by one brother, T. J. Cottingham; one son, Leroy Watts, and one daughter, Mrs. W. C. Satterwhite, all of Birmingham; and several grand children and great grand children.

Her husband was Mr. Make Watts, a brother of Mr. Nat Watts. They lived in Clanton many years ago, and will be remembered by many of our older citizens.

W. A. HUCKABEE MOVED

To my Customers and Friends:

You will please take notice that I have moved my cafe business into the Headley building, down near the depot. When in town call on me. I am better prepared to serve you meals than ever before. I thank you for your past trade, and solicit your future trade.—W. A. Huckabee, Prop.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION

There will be a Fiddlers Convention at Stanton Junior High School on February 27, at 7:30 p. m. If you can saw the strings come along, and if you can't, then be sure to come and bring someone with you to help you listen to the splendid program to be put on. Admission will be 15c and 30c. 4t

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and relatives who were so kind and attentive to us during the sickness and death of our dear husband and father. May God add His richest blessings to them all.—Mrs. Mollie Scott, Reedie Scott, Era Scott.

JUDGE REYNOLDS ATTENDED BURIAL OF MINERS

Judge L. H. Reynolds went up to Helena last Sunday to attend the burial services of the ill-fated miners who lost their lives in a mine explosion Saturday. Eleven white men and 17 negroes were killed. One of the dead was a nephew of Judge Reynolds.

The occasion is reported to have been a most saddening one. Seven caskets were lined up alongside as many open graves. The bodies were interred one at a time with a short ceremony for each one at the grave, following a funeral for the whole number.

COLORED P. T. A. TO MEET

The Chilton County Parent-Teacher Association for Colored Schools will hold its second annual session Friday, February 12th, from 9:30 a. m. to 4: p. m. The local Parent-Teacher Association reports the type of work which has been done through their P. T. A. this term.

Miss Mary E. Foster, the State Supervisor and Directress of P. T. A. work, will give an address. You will be inspired if you hear her. The P. T. A. singers will delight their hearers with many beautiful selections, of which Mrs. Lela Woods is directress.

Our white friends are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

ETTA CREAGER COATES,
County Supervisor.

Spacing Of Cotton On Land Influences Yield

Two Stalks in Hill 18 Inches Apart, In Three and One-Half Feet Rows Lead at Auburn.

The spacing of cotton plants in the spring has much to do with the yield in the fall. The Agricultural Experiment Station at Auburn ran a spacing test in 1924, repeated it in 1925, and the report just made by Prof. M. J. Funchess, director, shows that the yield varies from 719 pounds to 1,115 pounds of seed cotton per acre. The difference is due entirely to spacing, because all other conditions were the same.

Twenty-four different widths and arrangements of spacing were included. Plants were left 1, 2, 3, and 4 to the hill, 6, 12, 18, 24, 30, and 36 inches apart. All rows were three and one-half feet apart. Results show that 12, or one-half, of these arrangements made from 1,040 to 1,115 lbs. of seed cotton per acre, and that the other half made from 979 lbs. down to 719 pounds. Briefly, half of them exceeded 1,000 and half fell under 1,000, based on a two-year average.

Those that fell under 1,000 included all spacings 6 and 12 inches apart, 18 and 24 inch spacing with 4 stalks in a hill, and 30 and 36 inch spacing with one stalk in a hill. The highest yield of 1,115 pounds was made with two stalks in a hill 18 inches apart.

In making this report, Prof. Funchess says that the Sonth Carolina Experiment Station has about concluded that the rule should be to get 20,000 stalks on an acre. Two stalks to a hill 15 inches apart in three and one-half foot rows makes about 20,000 stalks on an acre.

COL. THOS. W. MILLICAN MAY MAKE HOME HERE

Col. Thos. W. Millican, the world-famous auctioneer is prospecting upon the matter of making Clanton his future home. He has been conducting land and real estate sales here since early last fall, and he has learned to like the place very much. Now he has brought the Missus and the kids down here to see how they like the place. For the present they have rooms at the home of Mrs. Crichton.

Here's hoping that everything pans out all right and that Tom decides to hang up his hat in Clanton for good. He is a born hustler of the kind that is most valuable to any place of promise and possibilities if he decides to call it home. Clanton has got all the symptoms of promise for the future and Col. Millican can see our great potential possibilities. He will make Clanton a most valuable asset, and The Union-Banner gladly welcomes him and his family, hoping that they may decide to make it permanent.

TWO NEW BRICK BUILDINGS

Work was begun Monday morning on the erection of two new brick buildings on Seventh Street, at the place known as the old Will Adams property. The new structures are being built by Dr. Arthur Johnson. No information could be obtained as to who will occupy them.

This is a fine location for business property and is one of many new developments that are soon to be launched along the highway north of 2nd Avenue.

Statement of the Condition of

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Clanton, Ala., Close of Business December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Loans,	$253,180.82
Overdrafts,	246.99
Banking House,	2,700.00
Furniture-Fixtures,	2,727.25
Bonds,	20,400.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	471,300.11
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	78,934.58
Deposits,	$656,620.59
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

The Peoples Savings Bank, opening its doors for business on the morning of December 7, 1901, received deposits from twenty-one citizens of Chilton County.. An examination of the books of the bank reveals that some of these original depositors have passed away; some have moved away; but over one-half of the original number or their direct heirs, still maintain accounts with The Old Reliable. Further examination reveals that at the end of the year 1901, the number of depositors had increased more than one hundred per cent, and out of these over fifty per cent of them or their direct heirs still do their banking business with this bank.

In 1901, The Peoples Savings Bank, a mere youngster, provided its customers with Safety and Service. Today, this same old institution, the trail blazer, Chilton County's first bank, the veteran that has weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century, provides its customers with that same safety and service.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS ON OUR RECORD

Condensed Statement of the Condation of the

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

At the Close of Business January 4, 1926

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts,		$476,727.53
Overdrafts,		1,713.73
United States Bonds,		30,000.00
Banking House,		10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures,		3,236.98
Redemption Fund,		1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank,		2,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	$227,104.40
Stocks and Bonds,	58,827.75
		285,932.15
TOTAL,		$811,688.90

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	34,854.78
Circulation,	28,800.00
Deposits,	698,034.12
Rediscounts,	(NONE)
Bills Payable,	(NONE)
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95

Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59

Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12

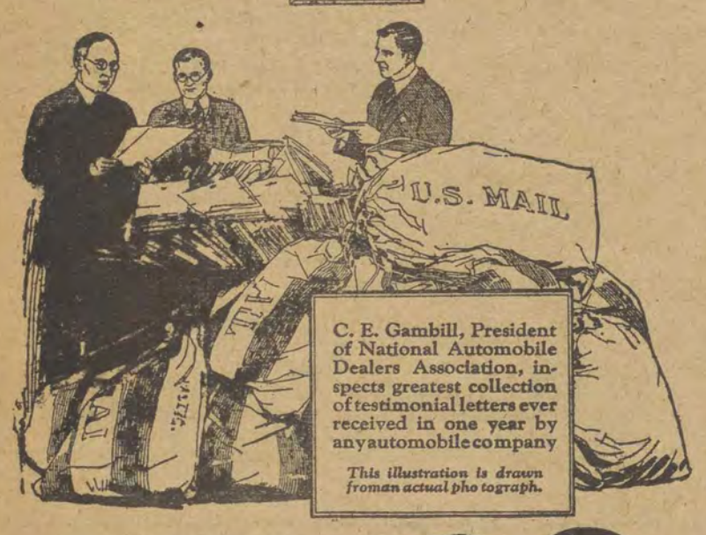
TOTAL RESOURCES MORE THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

Closing Out Sale

We Are Closing Out Our Entire Stock of

Shoes and Dry Goods



AT AND BELOW COST

Don't Fail to Take Advantage of This SALE while it Lasts

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

C. E. Gambill, President of National Automobile Dealers Association, inspects greatest collection of testimonial letters ever received in one year by any automobile company

This illustration is drawn from an actual photograph.

50,000 Testimonials!

In 1925 Chevrolet had its greatest year. During that time more than 50,000 testimonials were sent to the Chevrolet Motor Company by owners. This tremendous avalanche of evidence indicates the public appreciation of the car and its performance.

In 1926 Chevrolet offers the Improved Chevrolet at New Low Prices—thus giving the public in greater degree than ever before—

QUALITY AT LOW COST

The Touring Car	$510	The Sedan	$735
The Roadster	$510	The Landau	$765
The Coupe	$645	½ Ton Truck	$395
The Coach	$645	1 Ton Truck	$550

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Polk Brothers Motor Company

Incorporated

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The G. A.'s of Thorsby Baptist church met on January 27th, 1926 at the Grammar School. We had a very interesting program with 10 present. They accepted their 1926 aportionment. They are planning for great things in the coming year under their leadership, Mrs. W. J. Billingsley.

The R. A.'s met at Thorsby Baptist church on January 28th, 1926. A very interesting program was rendered. Devotional was conducted by the president, Herbert J. Peterson. Readings by several of the R. A.'s. A testimony was given by each boy, telling of the things that were most impressive to them from Dr. Ezell's sermons.

It was very interesting to hear them give their testimonies. Each boy led in sentence prayers. There were 11 present and four new members were received.

Mrs. Howard Garrick has accepted the leadership of the Sunbeams. She is planning a great work for them in the new year.

There has just closed a great revival at the Thorsby Baptist church. Dr. S. J. Ezell has preached some wonderful sermons. After hearing these good sermons, the people will set new resolutions to do great things for the Master's Kingdom. The house was filled each night.

The Y. W. A. of Thorsby Baptist church met with Mrs. Webb Parrish on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 26th. It was opened with prayer by Mrs. Curtis Billingsley; prayer by Mrs. W. J. Billingsley; prayer that everyone may have God's Word, by Miss Dollie Sorrell. "What the Church Means to Me," by Miss Edith Robinson. "Having a part in God's Work," by Mrs. Howard Garrick. An interesting talk on Margaret Fund was made by Mrs. G. F. Harper.

There were 13 present together with 8 visitors. Dismissed by sentence prayers for social hour. An interesting contest was carried out, Mrs. Ethel McCain receiving the prize.

A delightful salad course was served by the hostess, Mrs. Webb Parrish.

We met Mr. T. M. Williams, District Manager for The Alabama Power Company, recently, and he reports instalment of their current in about a dozen places in Thorsby since they began operations here December 17. These are new instalments, above those who had signed up for the service before the current was turned on.

Real estate seems to be in considerable demand in Thorsby at present, Jim Pate is selling lots on the tract he bought from the Nortons a few years ago, two new houses are already nearing completion, anl two more lots fronting the new highway have recently been sold for immediate improvement—one to Pete Franklin, and another to a Mrs. Merchant, whose husband recently died in Washington, D. C., and who is a sister of J. D. Cleckler. Mr. Cleckler went to attend the funeral and help about settling up their affairs, then brought his sister home with him.

Mr. Cleckler has also stated that he will build another new house on the property adjoining his present residence, but that it will face the Montgomery road across the street from Charles S. Howard's home.

Mr. Howard Junkerman, who has been in a sanitarium for several months, returned to his home in Thorsby Monday night. He is looking exceedingly well, and appears to be much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mead and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mead had as their guests last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smalley and sons, Arnold and Junior, also Messrs. M. Connell and Earl Mead, all of Birmingham, who were trying out a new Chrysler car.

We are pleased to see Dr. Wood at home again, after several weeks in New Orleans, while taking a special course in surgery.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a social at the dormitory next Saturday night.

Mr. Maddox and all the dormitory boys were entertained at dinner last Sunday by Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Each, at the parsonage.

Scandinavian services at 10:30 at Thorsby Lutheran church next Sunday.

Prof. W. T. Bean has been elected principal of the public school for the ensuing year by the local board of trustees, subject to approval by the County board of education.

The manual training department is installing equipment in tools furnished by the town council, and the boys are engaged in fitting up the necessary benches, etc., a wark in which they are all interested and ambitious to get things moving.

The girls of the Junior High, under Miss Stewart, are getting down to work with their two new Singer sewing machines, and only regret that not more than one can use a machine at the same time. However, they are doing very well in spite of such handicaps.

Next Sunday night at the Congregational church, immediately following Christian Endeavor, there will be another of those praise services which have been an enjoyable feature of the activities of this church in the past two years. You are invited.

Next Friday afternoon, on their home ground, there will be a double header basket ball game when Thorsby home teams, one each of boys and girls, will contest with their visitors from Maplesville. This will probably be the most interesting affair in basket ball to be pulled off in Thorsby this season, and well worth seeing. Remember, Friday afternoon, February 5.

On Friday night of this week, at 7:30, there will be what is known as cottage prayer meetings in preparation for the special services at the Congregational church February 14 to 21, inclusive, under the direction of Rev. J. W. Davenport, former pastor of this church. One of these meetings will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Petersen, led by Miss Marian Fairbank, the other at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn on Montgomery road, led by Rev. J. E. Each. It is expected that people living in the vicinity of either of these homes will attend one or the other of these meetings, and take an active part in them.

Brother Davenport has expressed the wish that the entire community will join in attendance of as many of the services of the entire series as may find it possible to do so.

On Saturday night, February 6, the fiddlers contest, so-called, altho it embraces other musicians for the sake of variety, will be held in the public school auditorium. Many of the best musicians in Chilton County are on the program, and have signified their intention to come, and quite a number of Clanton and Jemison folks are expected to grace the occasion, besides many from other surrounding communities. The proceeds will go into the school equipment fund. Admission will be 20c and 30c—surely these are "popular prices."

FRIENDSHIP

Mr. Tom Wyatt was on the sick list but is better now.

Mrs. Robert Hann, Mr. Henry Hann and wife spent the week end at Titus.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely.

Miss Dethel Honeycutt spent last Thursday night with Miss Ruby Bates.

Mrs. Lillian Robinson and children spent Thursday night with her mother, Mrs. John Gore.

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt and children spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Beanie Bates.

Master Carles Wyatt spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Beanie Bates.

COUNTY BOARD TO MEET ON FEBRUARY 19TH

The County Board of Education will hold its February meeting on the 19th, instead of the 26th. All persons are urged to take due notice and come before the Board on that day with any business they may have to present.

SHERIF'S SALE — REAL ESTATE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, and to me directed, whereby I, as Seriff of said county, was commanded to make the sum of thirty-two and 77-100 dollars, principal and interest, and twenty-two and 35-100 dollars, cost of suit, the amount of a certain judgment and costs therein, obtained at the July Term, 1925 of said Court, against W. W. Wilson in favor of O. O. Roper, I have levied upon and will sell to the highest bidder for cash at public sale, at the court house door of said county, between the hours of 11 o'clock, a. m., and 4 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the 1st day of March, 1926, all the right, title and interest of the above-named W. W. Wilson, in and to the following described real estate, viz:

The southwest fourth of the northeast fourth of section twenty-eight, township twenty-one, range thirteen, situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This, the 27th day of Jan., 1926.

T. J. LITTLEJOHN, Sheriff.

Posted at the court house door on Jan. 27th, 1926.

T. J. LITTLEJOHN, Sheriff.

2-4-3t-ch.

666

is a Prescription for

COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU

It is the most speedy remedy we know,

Preventing Pneumonia

MARTIN BARBER SHOP

I am now located in the Eiland Building on the Montgomery-Birmingham Highway and am prepared to do first class barber work at all times. Your patronage is appreciated.

ADOLPHUS MARTIN
Thorsby, Alabama

LONG DISTANCE PROGRAM PUT ON BY STARR MUSIC CO. HERE

On last Saturday night, by means of the Southern Bell Long Distance Telephons and through the courtesy of the Clanton operator, Messrs. Jack Hood, Claudy Wyatt and E. T. Weldon of the Starr Music Company of Clanton, put on a musical program, which was broadcast to several towns and cities of Alabama and nearby states. The towns hearing their program were Birmingham, Montgomery, Attalla, Americus, Ga., Columbus, Ga. Montevallo, Calera, Nashville, Tenn., Dothan, Selma, and several Bell telephones at Mitchell Dam, together with a number of local phones connected with the station.

This was a rather unique way of broadcasting music, but those tuning in on their long distance phones and hearing station J A Z Z of Clanton perform express themselves as being highly pleased with the results. The program consisted of Piano and Harmonica solos, violin and jazz horn solos, singing, etc.

HONOR ROLL FOR THE CLANTON GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The following pupils made an average above 90 and were not absent nor tardy during the fifth month:

Junior II Grade.—Nelson Parrish, Ora Mae Lawley, Vivian Gray, Minnie Gray.

Sixth Grade.—Willie Maude Kelly, Mary Nelle Jones, Zebbie Gray, Mary Heard, Myrtle Headley, Herman Harris, Mary Sue Jones, Erien Littlejohn, Ottis Miller, Alvin Moatts, Evelyn Nix, Jane Roberts, Pauline Wells, Manette Wallace, Fred Busby.

Fifth Grade.—Grady Carter, Herbert Ward, Elizabeth McSwain, Dorothy Sessions, Lois Miller, Flora Jones, Doris Aldridge, Nellie Mae Caldwell, James Parrish.

Fourth Grade.—Joe Moore, John Ezell, Pauline Plyler, Mary Frances Rasberry, Grady Reynolds, Leadus Edwards, Elizabeth Harris, Lawrence Gerald, Carl Jones, Cecil Jones, Hal Broadhead.

Third Grade.—I. V. Jones, Ruth Jones, Katie Lou Marcus, Grace Plyler, Helen Roberts.

Second Grade.—Lake Jones, Lois Foshee, Bill Armstrong.

First Grade.—Cecil Carter, Marjorie Brown, Juanita Miller, Elizabeth Williams, Clive Aldridge.

Mr. Pat Harton, popular salesman for Graham Paper Company, of Montgomery, was in Clanton one day last week, peddling paper.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

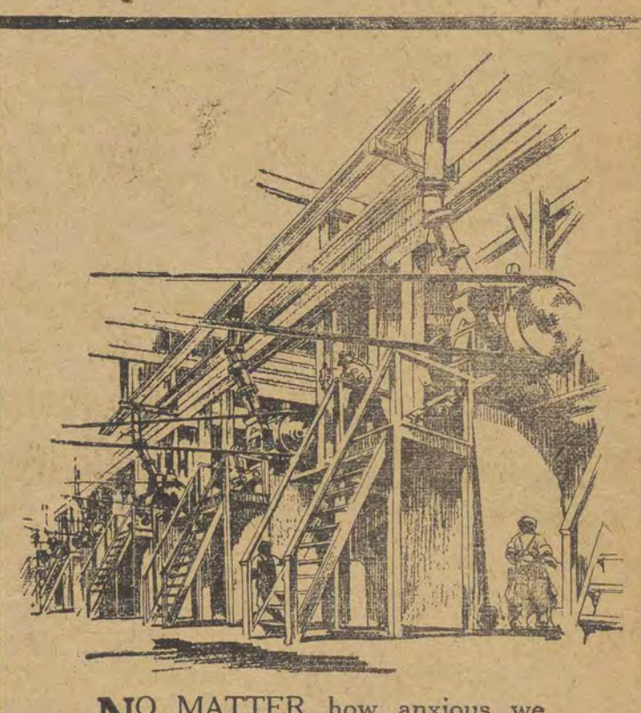
For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsilitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.



Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

Safety Service

A large motor car traverses the streets of this section, bearing the above inscription. What words could better be used to convey a proper idea of a well-ordered BANK?

"Safety Service" is always implied in connection with a bank. Our highest ambition is to render Safety Service.

THE BANK OF THORSBY
Thorsby, Alabama

NO MATTER how anxious we might be to produce the more effective fertilizer, it would be impossible without the skill acquired in more than forty years' experience, and the exact and intricate processes of manufacture which we have perfected, one of which is shown above.

F.S.R.

ROYSTER

Fertilizer

Clanton Agent JAS. C. JONES

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

MONUMENTS & TOMBSTONES—Best Georgia marble; good work and satisfaction guaranteed. No money paid until set up at cemetery. See or write W. J. Bice, Clanton, Ala., Route 4. 1-14-4t-pd

WANTED COTTON SEED—Will exchange good 7% meal or pay cash for sound clean seed. Will be in Clanton on January 29th and 30th, and February 5th and 6th. J. N. Dennis. 1-28-2t-ch

FOR SALE—Carbide light plant suitable for farm home. Cost me $400 a year ago; will sell for much less now. If interested see or write J. O. Johnson, Thorsby, Ala. 1-28-2t-p

Cabbage Plants—Frost Proof Carolina Plants, Onion Sets and Kicker English Peas. — Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

FOR SALE—Two 6-ox teams and two drays, for sale. Apply to J. O. Chambers, Maplesville, Ala., Route 2. 1-28-2t-pd.

WANTED—A few trucks for hauling lumber at Billingsley, Ala. Mauney Lumber Co. 1-28-2t pd

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

FOR RENT—New 4-room bungalow, near Grammar School. F. R. Woodyard, Clanton, Ala. 1-28-2t-pd

MULES FOR SALE—I have one pair of farm mules for sale. May be seen at home of J. N. Dennis. Turner M. Dennis, Clanton, Ala. 1-28-2tp

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

STRAIGHT SALARY: $35 per week and expenses; man or woman with rig to introduce POULTRY MIXT'RE. Eureka Mfg., Co., East St. Louis, Ill. d

LOST—Pocketbook containing two $20 bills and three nickels lost in Clanton last Saturday. $5.00 reward if finder will return to Sam Johnson, at Ellis Filling Station, Clanton. 1t-pd.

FOR SALE—Snow white Spitz puppies, graded milk goats, R. I. white pullets, black Minorca cockerels. Geo. Leitzman, Clanton. 1t-pd.

SALE FOR PARTITION

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

By virtue of an order of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Ala., made on the 21st day of January, 1926, I, Victor J. Heard, the Commissioner named in said order, will sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public sale, in front of court house, at Clanton, Alabama, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the 15th day of February, 1926, for the purpose of distribution among Eddie Williams, Allie Jones, Hurtellene Culp, Leonard Williams, and Horace Williams, joint owners, on the following terms: cash, the following described property, viz.:

The S½ of the N½ of SW¼, Sec. 32, Township 22, Range 14; SE¼ of NE¼, Sec. 6, Township 21, Range 14, containing one hundred acres, situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This 22nd day of January, 1926.
VICTOR J. HEARD,
1-28-3t-ch Commissioner.

SATSUMA ESTABLISHES SELF TO NEW ENVIRONMENT HERE

Comes From Japan to New Conditions and Becomes Important

Auburn, Feb. 1.—After coming from Japan on the other side of the world, being introduced to strangers and to new conditions, and going through adverse circumstances, even a freeze of ten degrees above zero, the satsuma orange has come through and established itself as an important industry along the Gulf Coast, especially Mobile and Baldwin Counties, Alabama.

The delicious satsuma, which is the most prominent of the kidglove type of orange, was introduced in the U. S. from Japan about 1895. For many years it was given little attention and not until about ten years ago did people really wake up to its possibilities. Steadily, therefore, the satsuma acreage has increased until it is now a major horticultural products on the Gulf Coast.

Its severest test came in January, 1924, when the temperature dropped to ten degrees above zero, and the industry was actually reduced to the extent of 59 per cent. The 1923 crop, just prior to the freeze, totaled 700 cars, but practically none was made in 1924. A year later, 1925, production was estimated at 350 car loads, or half of the peak year of 1923.

In going through these experiences growers learned a lot about how to take care of their groves. They know now that improper methods and lack of attention will bring failure, while scientific methods, with which leading growers are familiar, will bring success.

Foreseeing their problems and also their possibilities, the majority of the growers have been co-operating in the marketing of their fruit, as well as in the production; and to co-operation they attribute their success. The satsuma has already been introduced on 45 of the big market centers of the United States and Canada, and wherever it is known, it is liked.

PRACTICAL REFORESTATION

The reforestation movement has received new impetus through the utterances of public men and the activities of the American Reforestation Association, which has enlisted the cooperation of many public spirited citizens of Alabama. This movement does not contemplate in all cases the replanting of denuded land to the same kind of timber it originally produced. On the contrary, there is a strong tendancy to advise the planting of trees that serve more practical purposes than the original timber growth.

Reforestation of cut-over lands of the South by attempting to encourage a new growth of pine, has its obvious difficulties, chief of which is damage, if not complete destruction by fire. A number of years of young growth of pine may be secured, only to be lost through a forest fire that gains headway in the dead grass in fall and winter. At best, and even with the utmost good fortune, pines require many years to produce a return to the land-owner. This is true, also, of other kinds of trees in other sections of the country. In southern California, for instance, an effort is being made to encourage the planting of date trees, and considerable progress has been made along that line. In the Southern states special emphasis is placed upon the planting of pecan trees, which not only afford splendid shade and add beauty to the surroundings, but, after a few years of care, will return an annual profit and will continue that profit for hundreds of years. Owners of waste lands in the South are urged to reforest with the best varieties of pecans.

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS SUBJECT TO ROAD DUTY

It is the order of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Ala., that all persons subject to public road duty can pay $5.50 to the Judge of Probate on or before March 1. Failing to pay, will have to work seven days.

This fee can not be paid after the above date.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-28-5t-ch Judge of Probate.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by a certain mortgage executed by Hattie E. Jones and husband, John C. Jones, dated November 24th, 1924, to J. E. McCullough, said mortgage conveying the hereinafter described real estate, which mortgage appears on record in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record Vol. 202, page 304, the undersigned mortgagee will on Friday, the 26th day of February, 1926, in front of the post office in Stanton, Chilton County, Alabama, within the hours of legal sale, sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate situated in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

The NW¼ of the NE¼ of Section 28, Township 20, Range 12, the above described being the identical real estate described and conveyed in said mortgage. The proceeds of said sale will be applied according to the terms of said mortgage.

This, the 25th day of January, 1926.
J. E. McCULLOUGH,
Mortgagee.
THOS. A. CURRY,
1-28-4t Attorney for Mortgagee.

NEW CEDRON

We are having some rainy weather now, and the farmers are getting behind with their work.

Mrs. Ratliff and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Deramus.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Askins are sick and improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Moates spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Penton.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT THORSBY

There will be an old time fiddlers convention held at Thorsby Junior High School on Saturday night, February 6. Admission will be 20c and 30c. We have the promise of several of the best musicians of the county to play. There will be a good variety of music given, ranging from the old time break-down to the best string band music and fantastic piano playing.

All good musicians are especially invited to come and play. There will be several cash prizes to the best performers.—W. T. Bean.

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens

SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Do Your Gums Bleed When You Brush Your Teeth

Put a stop to it before pyorrhea develops.

Creosene is a new, improved, pleasant form of home treatment for pyorrhoea infected gums which banishes this terrible disease by killing the germs, saves you a frightful expense and severe pain.

Bleeding gums stopped in 12 hours; soreness disappears in 24 hours; pus clears up in two to three days; teeth begin to tighten in ten days, and if your trouble has not been completely eliminated in three or four weeks, get your money back.

Creosene is sold by all good druggists at $1.00 a bottle, or sent direct from Creosene Co., Desk 4-W, Atlanta, Ga., on receipt of price. Guaranteed satisfactory or money refunded. For sale by Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

—?—

In pursuance and in accorance with the terms and directions of a commission, issued and addressed to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, bearing date the 18th day of January, A. D., 1926, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, in front of the Court House of said County, on Thursday, the 18th day of February, A. D., 1926, at 12 o'clock M., all that certain real property, which is described as follows:

W½ of the SW¼, SE¼ of the NW¼, ten acres on the South side of NE¼ of the NW¼, and NW¼ of the NE¼, less ten acres in the SE corner, all in Sec. 24, Township 23, Range 14, Chilton County, Alabama; which said land is to be sold under the decree of said Court, for the purpose of division among the several owners thereof, who are as follows, to-wit: Laura J. Lloyd, Mollie Moritz, W. E. Honeycutt, Emmie Harrell, Mertis Reynolds, Edna Robinson, Alpha Honeycutt, Julian Thompson, Earl Honeycutt, Ralph Honeycutt, Emmett Honeycutt, Ulrica Oglesby, Chas. E. Honeycutt, J. L. Honeycutt, Jr., Jewel Thomas, Essie M. Shaw, Jessie B. Durham, R. L. Honeycutt, J. C. Honeycutt, H. H. Honeycutt, Erby McCrary, Alice Wideman, Olin Martin, and Inez Martin.

R. M. HONEYCUTT,
1-21-4t. Commissioner.

SHOOTING SLINGSHOTS

For boys to break glass windows, windshields, etc., and to molest the property of others with slingshots is just as much a violation of the law as the destruction of property in any other way. Reports are that in some communities of the county this practice of the young boys is becoming a menace. This matter should be looked after by the parents of boys, as such practices might bring serious trouble both to the boys as well as their parents.

How To Quickly Stop Bad Coughs

It is often surprising how quickly the heaviest cough disappears when treated by a remarkable new method.

Here is the method, based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So the severest cough soon disappears completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

J. R. OWEN

— DEALER IN —
GENERAL MERCHANDISE, SHOES, ETC.

A Good Country Store where you can buy Goods at Standard Prices with the Guarantee of the Highest Quality to be obtained anywhere.

We call your attention to our Extra Values in Shoes, that are Guaranteed to wear a reasonable time or you get a new pair.

I buy Country Produce. Your trade Appreciated.

Owenville, Ala. Clanton, Ala., R. 3

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

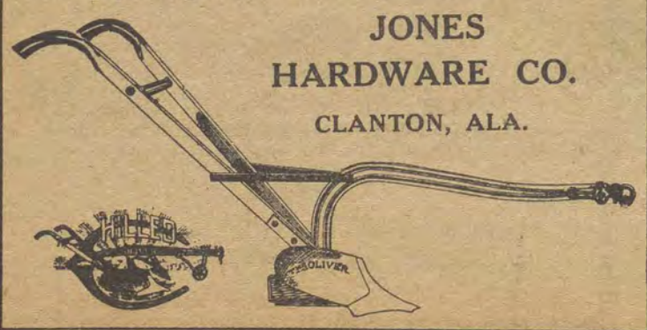
OLIVER



WALKING PLOWS

No matter what kind of soil you have—or under what conditions you must do your plowing—there is an Oliver plow that will answer your purpose.

The thousands of Oliver plows that are now in use are proof of their wide range of suitability, of their dependable service and of the satisfaction they give to their owners.

Easily handled, light in draft and strong and durable, Oliver walking plows do the kind of work which you like for the start of a good seed bed.

For better plowing, easier done, ask for an Oliver plow. We have one suited to the kind of plowing on your farm.

JONES HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALA.

MULES

AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Clanton, Saturday, Feb. 6th

We will sell a car load of good Missouri Mules, running in age from 3 to 6 years old, and weight from 800 to 1,000 pounds, all broke. We want everybody interested to attend this sale. Every mule will be sold. Dealers and speculators come, if you want one or a car load. THIS IS NO SHAM SALE but a sale where you will be dealt with squarely. Have sold over 400 mules in south Alabama. References: Bank of Bismark, Mo., or anyone we have ever sold to.

COME TO CLANTON, RAIN OR SHINE
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6TH

1 P. M. Rain or Shine at P. D. Wilson's Barn Near the Wade Gin

James E. Rice & Co.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

WHY SOUTHERN POLITICAL INFFLUENCE LAGS

No one who looks intelligently into political conditions in the Southern states can avoid amazement at the steady decline of the Southerner's interest in the government under which he lives. The casual reader of political statistics may regard present conditions as not materially different from the conditions of thirty years ago, but present conditions are materially different from those of 30 years ago.

Take the State of Texas for example. In 1896 the population of the state was about half the present population. The potential vote of the state was 600,000. The actual vote polled was 555,000.

In 1924 with the population of the state doubled and the potential electorate quadrupled by reason of woman suffrage, out of the potential electorate of 2,600,000 only 657,000 votes were cast.

In Georgia in 1896 there were 164,000 votes cast. In 1924, with a population increased by 1,000,000 and the electorate enlarged by woman suffrage, the total was 166,000. One adult out of twenty voted in 1924.

Tennessee voted 323,000 in 1896 with male suffrage — 23,000 more than that in 1924, although in the latter year it had 600,000 greater population than in 1896, with woman suffrage added.

Virginia voted 70,000 less in 1924 than in 1896, despite the large increase in population and the expansion of the electorate by woman suffrage.

Alabama voted 30,000 less in 1924 than in 1896, despite her 800,000 larger population and woman suffrage.

The single state of New York polls a heavier vote than all the states of the Solid South, with Oklahoma, Kentucky and Missouri and one or two Western states thrown in for good measure.

See how the states compare in voting for members of the Federal house of representatives.

In Virginia the average of voters to the congressional district is under 30,000. In Indiana the average is 100,000. In Mississipi the average is 14,000; in Illinois the average is 90,000.

As much as we may decry the direct primary which undoubtedly is a deadly blight upon party vigor, and as much as we may denounce the vicious system of coupling the right of suffrage with the head tax, which unquestionably operates to deprive the very poor of the voting privilege, the fact remains that the true expxlanation of the fading Southern interest in political affairs must be sought elsewhere.

It is noticeable that the young men and women of today are not deeply interested in elections at all. They emerge from the universities and colleges by thousands year after year with a far milder interest in political matters than in sports or society. Their school years fail to stir an interest in political science or political history.

As for woman suffrage, it has been almost a complete failure in the South so far as numbers are concerned. Of the 3,000,000 Southern women brought into the American electorate by the nineteenth amendment, it is very doubtful that 300,000 of them avail themselves of the privilege. It is well nigh impossible to get young women between the ages of 21 and 30 interested in politics.

If the adult literate negroes of the Southern states had all voted in 1924 for negro tickets, they probably would have carried every Southern State with the excxeption of Texas, Oklahoma and North Carolina.

Time was when much was said about the suppression of the negro vote in the South. That cannot be said now. Illiteracy among Southern negroes has well nigh disappeared. The negroes have simply lost the voting habit and no longer care anything about it. The process that killed the voting habit among the negroes operated with still more deadly effect among the whites.

The Southern politicians are not particularly worried about the lack of interest in politics. The comparatively few citizens who do what voting there is done, and therefore constitute the ruling minority, are good citizens and seem to do about as well as a larger electorate might do in the opinion of the leaders.

In the larger sense, however, the slowing interest of Southern people in politics is becoming a menace to good government, and if such conditions existed in all of the States of the Union, the ultimate fate of the Republic would be problematical.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

OF INTEREST TO HUNTERS

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 2.—One thousand pair of quail will be released in the State during the latter part of February by the Department of Game and Fisheries, it was learned at the office of Commissioner I. T. Quinn, of the Department of Game and Fisheries, today.

"These birds," stated Mr. Quinn, "will be placed in the hands of local organizations of the State to be planted by them in suitable covers where there is a scarcity of quail.

"The Department has realized for several years that the first step in wild life conservation is adequate means of protecting such resources, and while the warden force which I have under my direction," declared Mr. Quinn, "is wholly inadequate to give that protection from the onslaughts of man and vermin, through the splendid cooperation of sportsmen and other interested citizens of the State our small but efficient squad of wardens has done wonderfully well.

"As a result, there are communities and counties of the State so well protected that we can afford to initiate constructive conservation by rehabilitation through planting brood stock of different species of game birds and animals in suitable well protected areas of the State."

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

LITTLE PEN-O-GRAMS

We notice the announcement of candidates in other counties of the State. Who will be the one to break the ice in Chilton?

The ground hog theory worked fast and accurately this year. At 10 o'clock Tuesday the sun was shining and by 12:30 it was raining. Guess we will have some more unfavorable weather yet.

A contract for $40,000,000 worth of life insurance, $40,000,000 worth of accident insurance and $6,000,000 worth of weekly benefit insurance has been placed by the Studebaker Motor Company for the benefit of its employees.

The total cost of government in this country, covering the exxpenditures of federal, state and local governmental authorities and including capital outlays, amounted to $10,252,000,000 in 1924, as against $2,919,000,000 in 1913, according to a report on "Cost of Government in the United States," prepared and made public January 17 by the National Industrial Conference Board, of New York.

A press dispatch from Cairo, Egypt, states that the Makwar Dam on the Blue Nile far down in the Sudan has been opened. It will bring under irrigation 300,000 acres which will be devoted to cotton raising. Egyptian officials expect cotton grown here to supply Lancashire mills in England, which draw most of their cotton from the United States. Work on this dam was started in 1913. It cost approximately $65,000,000.

MR. J. R. SUMNER NOW IN CHARGE OF WOCO-PEP

The Woco-Pep Company of Tuscaloosa has taken over the distributing agency of Woco-Pep in the Clanton territory. Mr. R. J. Sumner is here now in active charge of the company's affairs.

Mr. John T. Ellis, who has had the Woco-Pep wholesale business here since its introduction a few years ago, has disposed of his interests in the wholesale end of the business to the Tuscaloosa concern. Mr. Ellis will continue to handle the retail business at the Woco-Pep filling station on Second Avenue and Sixth Street.

The Woco-Pep Company of Tuscaloosa is an organization of considerable magnitude. They handle the wholesale business of Woco-Pep products in the territories of Tuscaloosa, Selma, Anniston, York, Greensboro and Clanton.

Mr. Sumner says that he expects to move his fmaily to Clanton and make this his permanent home. We welcome him and his firm to our city and hope that his dealings here may be both pleasant and profitable.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Baker of near White City, former Chilton people, were in Clanton Tuesday.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of January 31, 1901.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Morgan gave the young people a candy pulling Friday night, which was enjoyed by all who attended.

Mr. Tipton Mullins went to Selma Monday.

Mr. John Marcus, while running to the train to mail a letter Friday night, ran over a hand car and broke his leg.

Mr. W. A. Middleton has returned from a visit to her son, Dr. W. T. Middleton, at Mt. Carmel.

Mr. J. T. Rockett of Coopers was in town Tuesday.

Mr. G. S. Eiland of Coopers was among our visitors Tuesday.

Hon. L. B. Pounds stopped over here Monday night on his way to Montgomery.

Marriages:—E. J. Vinson and Miss Jane Driver, Milford Watson and Miss Maggie Langston, John H. Hays and Miss Summer Henley, J. L. Burnett and Miss Lizzie Smitherman, W. J. Murr and Miss Dosie Headley.

FARM AND HOME FACTS

The cold weather has helped more than it has hurt.

The best mattress will lose its shape on ridged or sagging springs.

Straighten the seams before they are pressed if you want them to come out straight afterwards.

Sometimes money spent for a new stove means a saving in fuel that helps make up the difference.

Whitewash still holds its supremacy.

Scrubby trees in the woodlot might well be cut for fuel, thus at the same time making room for the young, valuable timber.

The variety of seed planted this spring will have much to do with the harvest next fall. Query: Do you know that you have good seed of the best varieties?

The wise feeder knows that hunger is the best sauce, and that his stock will gain faster if they are always able to eat just a little more than he gives them.

Preferably, spring oats should be planted not later than February. Although they do not yield like fall oats they should be better than buying feed.

The "Auburn Maximum" method of fertilizing cotton led in returns per dollar invested over all Alabama last year, just as it did in previous years. The only objection heard to it comes from farmers who say "It makes too much cotton."

The horse, which furnished all the motive power for personal transportation in Washington has been barred from some of the streets of the city as a means of relieveig traffic congestion. The Horse Association of America has protested such action.

The American Association of Nurserymen is asking congress for an appropriation for an arboretum at Washington. They propose to include in it a collection of the trees of the world and use these plants for study and experimental work.

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE COVERED

with a fire insurance policy in one of the companies we represent. Then you need have no fear of fire in a financial way. You can rest comfortably in the confidence that if a fire should occur at your house, the loss, large or little, will be paid promptly by the company you are insured in. Do it to-day.

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.

"Chuckle" Column

A NERVOUS DISORDER PUT TO MUSIC!

This modern age with its hectic life,
We are informed, is responsible for
The "nervousness in babies."
Guess that's about right. Some of
The painted up "babies" we have Observed doing the Charleston on
A dance floor do look like they
Were victims of some kind of nervous
Disorder. Investigation disclosed
That they started to kick the slats
Out of their cradles when very young.
And as soon as they were old enough
To stand on their own or somebody else's
Feet—they ventured forth upon the Waxed lumber to continue kicking their
Heels off and other folks in the shins.
As a dance, the Charleston sure calls
For a nerve specialist.

Whot Say?

—§§§—

Colors are said "to be adaptable in the curing of many diseases." Taking another look at our collection of late

Christmas ties—it's beginning to dawn on us that somebody has us slated for the undertaker.

—§§§—

His friends spoke of him as being a man of "concrete ideas." After listening to a few of those ideas, we're thinking his friends referred to his skull.

—§§§—

A few of our best families could stand a little pruning. Just—to get rid of some of the prunes on them.

—§§§—

A Sharp Question That Went Flat!

Proudly, the father boasted that his off-spring could "play any tune on the piano by ear." Whereupon we asked—"Doesn't she use her fingers at all?" What a stabbing look we got from the wife.

—§§§—

Some folks in this ol' world delight to hand out "applesauce" with one hond and—slip a banana peel under your heel when you're not looking with the other.

—§§§—

LOOK OUT FOR THE—"WISE-ACRES!"

There may be a lot of estate down in Florida but—look before you buy. Not all of it is—REAL!

—§§§—

Some folks plod along all their life and never reach Easy Street. Others are thrust upon it—only to knock down the golden lamp-posts somebody else put up to guide them.

—§§§—

More brain and less jaw action is the best transportation to Success.

—§§§—

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"With time changing everything else-pretty soon man is gonna be in that preferred position that th' women folks held a few years ago----"

—§§§—

It used to be "spare the rod and spoil the child." Now—the child uses the rod for a walking stick and blows cigarette smoke into the ol' man's face. 'Tis a great age.

—§§§—

FAMOUS LAST LINES
"These Bargains won't last long."

—§§§—

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

What makes them so good?

TWENTY-FIVE years experience in making electrical instruments, the largest radio factory in the world, the most expert workmen —yes. But the real answer is the way Atwater Kent goes about it. You can't get anything marked "Atwater Kent" that isn't perfect. Come in for a demonstration.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

O. M. CARTER

CLANTON, ALA.

Sanford Barber Shop

Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

—o—

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixing your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired feet. We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no matter how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a square deal.

—o—

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SHOP

CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

EQUIPMENT FOR DUCO WORK IN ALL CHEVROLET PLANTS

Arrangements whereby the 6500 Chevrolet dealers throughout the country will be enabled to give complete Duco service to the motoring public are now being worked out in detail with E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., according to J. P. Little, manager of the parts and service division of the Chevrolet Motor Co.

Heretofore Duco service has been available only through the distributors and refinishing stations of the duPont organization. Under the new plan each Chevrolet dealer will be equipped to do all classes of Duco work, from minor touch-up operations to a complete refinishing job.

Complete Duco equipment has been installed in all of the 20 Chevrolet service schools in the United States for the purpose of demonstrating to every Chevrolet dealer the importance of properly equipping his shop to service Duco.

During the last few months every Chevrolet service promotion and used car representative, together with all Chevrolet parts managers and service school instructors, have been given complete training courses at the Chevrolet factories in the use of Duco equipment.

Chevrolet dealers may send men from their service departments to any Duco distributor for training in the application of Duco, and they have been assured also of the co-operation of more than 50 du Pont company field service men.

With installation of equipment, dealers will be able to re-finish their used cars for ready re-sale, to give quick service on Duco finish to patrons and to build up good will by their ability to maintain the appearance of customers' cars.

CHILTON COUNTY MINUTES NOT CALLED FOR

Minutes of the Chilton County Baptist Association for the following churches have not been called for yet:

Bethsalem, A. J. Wilkins, clerk; Chestnut Creek, C. D. Hughes, clerk; Center Hill, Lorace Cobb, clerk; Corinth, J. A. Jones, clerk; Macedonia No. 2, V. G. Smith, clerk; New Harmony, Chas. Davidson, clerk; Sardis, H. G. Deason, clerk; Union Springs, Mrs. S. E. Ervin, clerk.

The clerks of above churches are urged to come or send for their minutes.

FORESTRY LETTER

Montgomery.—Money to burn is apparently a realized wish in many instances, says the Alabama Commission of Forestry. It is no unusual thing for a person to burn up valuable material and then go to the bank to borrow money to replace what he has thoughtlessly destroyed. This is especially true of natural fertilizing materials.

Fertilizer is one of the greatest objects of expenditure on the part of the landowner. Crops, trees and other plant growth require certain chemical elements in the soil, such as lime, iron, phosphorus and nitrogen. These with five or six others, regarded as essential to the growth of land plants. Practically all of these elements are found in most of the decayed vegetable matter resulting from leaf mold and forest litter. In fact, such material has been analyzed and evaluated in comparison with commercial fertilization, for which the landowner pays good money, and found to be the equivalent of from two to six dollars or more in value per acre.

Nitrogen, in particular, is absolutely necessary to plant growth and forms a portion of most of the fertilizer purchased by the farmer. It is found in abundance in the leaf mold that accumulates on unburned land, being worked into forms available for the use of plants through the action of living soil bacteria. When plant material is burned the nitrogen, the most necessary chemical element of all, escapes in various forms of gas and vapor and is definitely lost to the soil.

The moisture and fertilizing elements accumulated in the soil of the woodlands do not remain permanently fixed, but take part in the general circulation and percolation of ground water and thus make their influence felt in the subsurface of adjacent cultivated lands. Thrifty landowners also often save thousands of dollars annually by hauling the humus and leaf mold from the woods and placing it directly upon the fields.

CARD OF THANKS

The children of Mrs. Mahala Easterling wish to thank their friends and neighbors for the kindness shown them during the recent illness and death of their mother.

KEY!—Do you have a key? If so, bring it to the Upchurch Drug Co. Your key may be the lucky one.

ATKINSON & PITTS

Lawyers

Office in Johnson Bldg.

CLANTON, ALA.

GRADY REYNOLDS

Attorney-at-Law

Office Opposite Court House

Clanton, Ala.

Registration Notice

—o—

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of "An Act to Provide for the Registration of Electors," enacted by the Legislature of 1920, the Registrars of the County of Chilton, Alabama, do hereby give Notice that the following Appointments are set for the purpose of Registering those qualified under the law to Register as Electors:

Precinct 12—Mineral Springs	February 4, 1926
Precinct 12—Robinson's Store	February 5, 1926
Precinct 9—Thorsby	February 6, 1926
Precinct 6—Enterprise	February 8, 1926
Precinct 10—Cooper	February 9, 1926
Precinct 5—Verbena	February 10, 1926
Precinct 5—Mt. Creek	February 11, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse	February 12 to February 18, inclusive, 1926

—o—

No one can Register except in his or her own Precinct and at the Courthouse in Clanton, Alabama.

—o—

J. W. E. GULLEDGE, Chairman,
E. H. ADAMS,
J. L. JOHNSON,
Registrars of Chilton County, Ala.

COOLIDGE WILL COME TO B'HAM

WORLD SUNDAY SCHOOL CONGRESS TO BE HELD WEEK OF APRIL 12

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Birmingham.—When the International Sunday School Association and Congress of Youths holds its convention in Birmingham during the week of April 12-19, in conjunction with the seventeenth quadrennial convention of the International Council of Religious Education, the nightly gatherings at the municipal auditorium will be featured by artistic numbers and elaborate musical programs.

Special preparations are being made to make "Coolidge Night," Thursday night, April 15, the outstanding event of the convention week, and the settings will include the choruses of all the high shools as a background. Preparations for this feature have already begun, in view of the fact that positive assurance has come from Washington that President Coolidge will be here, and deliver an address on that night on "Christian Citizenship," and it is known that the local arrangements for the houseing and entertainment of the President and his official staff have been completed.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

Richard Moulton, a negro, is in the Tuscaloosa jail after having perhaps fatally cut Cato Glover and his son, William Glover, at Forkland. The younger Glover, a cripple, cannot live, it is said. The elder Glover is a brother in-law of former Lieutenant-Governor W. P. Seed.

L. F. Martz, who claims Birmingham as his home, was arrested at Montgomery recently on the complaint of Miss Pearl Perry, of a prominent Montgomery family. She charges that Martz beat her and put her out of his car when she repulsed his improper advances. She is in a hospital.

Farmers of the United States will do better if they will use intelligent efforts to help themselves instead of depending upon governmental assistance, Aaron Sapiro, nationally-known agricultural and marketing expert, recently told a large audience at Auburn.

Twenty-seven miners lost their lives in an explosion in the Premier Coal Company's mines at Mossboro, near Birmingham, recently. A "windy shot" is said to have caused the explosion. There were 60 men in the mine at the time.

Reports from Washington show that the Warrior barge line operated at a loss of $406,000 during 1925. The Mississippi line showed such a profit however, that the loss of the combined line was only $27,042.66.

The British rum schooner Martha Adams, recently captured in the Gulf of Mexico, is to be sold by federal authorities at Mobile. The boat and her liquor cargo is worth $500,000. The liquor will be destroyed.

S. C. Cowan, of Union Springs, has qualified as a candidate for the state senate from the Twenty-sixth District comprising Bullock and Macon counties.

The public service commission recently heard a petition of the Alabama Power Company for permission to erect a transmission line from near Demopolis, 16 miles to Linden.

O. L. Johnson, of Birmingham, was recently arrested for running over both a man and a woman while fleeing from "speed cops." Police officers say he was making 60 miles an hour.

Bids will be opened March 10 for the lift span of the Tennessee river bridge at Albany-Decatur. More than 1,000,000 pounds of steel will go into the span, it is said.

Tax values in Alabama showed a gain of $48,705,064 in 1925 over 1924 records just compiled at Montgomery show. Total tax values in the state last year amounted to $1,069,013,265.

Morgan county residents paid their poll tax in large numbers, reports from Albany-Decatur show. Some voters have paid up for the first time in 20 years, it is said.

Three hundred and seventy-five Gadsden school children were neither absent nor tardy at school during the entire fall term, records just compiled show.

Meetings are being held in various sections of Etowah county to encourage more poultry raising. H. G. Gardner, Auburn poultry specialist, is in charge.

The Auburn Lions Club has launched a movement for the erection of a post office building in that city.

The annual midwinter session of the Pickens County Teachers' Institute was held at Reform recently.

A Junior Chamber of Commerce has been organized at Anniston.

Dothan has signed a contract with the Pea River Power Company to supply that city with electric lights and power.

The public service commission has refused to allow the Alabama Power Company to replace street cars in Montgomery with busses.

With five candidates in the race and at least three others due to enter, the race for Walker county sheriff promises to be the hottest in history, it is said.

A board of trade was recently organized at Collinsville.

Read Your Home Town Paper.

MAPLESVILLE LASSIES WALLOP JEMISON

The Maplesville Girls' basket ball team trimmed the Jemison girlies to the tune of 24 to 11 on the latters' court last week. The game was a snappy one throughout.

INDIAN GRAVE

There was a singing at the home of Mr. W. Y. Parker last Tuesday night. A large crowd attended.

Miss Everee Coggins entertained a number of young people at her home last Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Carter of Prattville visited Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Askins Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Limbrick of Haynes visited Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Limbrick Sunday.

Mr. W. E. Adams, who is at work near Dadeville, is spending the week end at home.

Messrs. Preston Patrick of Billingsley, and Aaron Parker of East View community, attended the singing last Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Parker visited Mr. John Parker and family of East View Saturday night.—A Reader.

COTTON SEED—Half and half, $1 per bushel. See A. P. Vinson, Clanton, Route 6. 1t-pd.

Read Your Home Town Paper.

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky. "I would get nauseated. I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief.

"A neighbor told me of

BLACK-DRAUGHT

Liver Medicine

and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything. It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and feel full of pep, and could do twice the work."

Bilious attacks are "seasonal" with many people. Millions have taken Thedford's Black-Draught to ward off such attacks, and the good results they have reported should induce you to try it.

All Druggists'

E-109

MACEDONIA

Last Friday was a sad day at Macedonia, on account of the burial of Mildred Glass. The occasion was made doubly sad by the fact that her little brother had just preceded her to the grave.

Mildred was a beautiful, intelligent girl, loved by all. Her little brother was of equal interest. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Glass.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Lowery.

How we do sympathize with the sorrowing relatives. Weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning. The ransom has been paid, and their return is sure. There will be a resurrection of both the just and the unjust. Thy children shall return from the land of the enemy. Though they were dead, if they then believe they shall live, and if the living ones then believe, they will never have to die. Then the Spirit and the bride will say "Come," and whosoever will may live. All who are in their graves shall come forth. Then in that beautiful approaching day—

"We will walk 'mid the trees by the river,
With the loved ones by our side."

Their precious remain rest near their original childhood home, until the shadows flee away.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Circuit Court, in Equity—E. C. Hayes, Complainant, vs. Zeleemer Hayes, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of Omar L. Reynolds that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that her place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address can not be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that application be made in The Union-Banner, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Zeleemer Hayes, to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 3rd day of March, 1926, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

Done at office in Clanton, this 1st day of February, 1926.

W. D. SPIGENER,
Register.

2-4-4t-ch

HEAVY SHOWER OF HAIL HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Clanton experienced a hail storm about dark Sunday night. Many people declare it was the most hail we have had for many years. Some say that the hailstones covered the streets to a depth of two or three inches.

One man reports that there was so much ice that it took a motorist 15 minutes to negotiate the hill from the railroad to the Wilson Hotel.

The shower was accompanied by plenty of thunder and lightning.

THE TRAINED NURSE

knows where prescriptions are best put up, and smiles when she sees our label on them, because she is sure that her patient is getting a medicine containing the purest and freshest of drugs, that it is accurately compounded by an expert, and will surely help her in making her patient well again.

ALRED DRUG COMPANY

"The Home of Quality"

CLANTON, - - - - ALABAMA

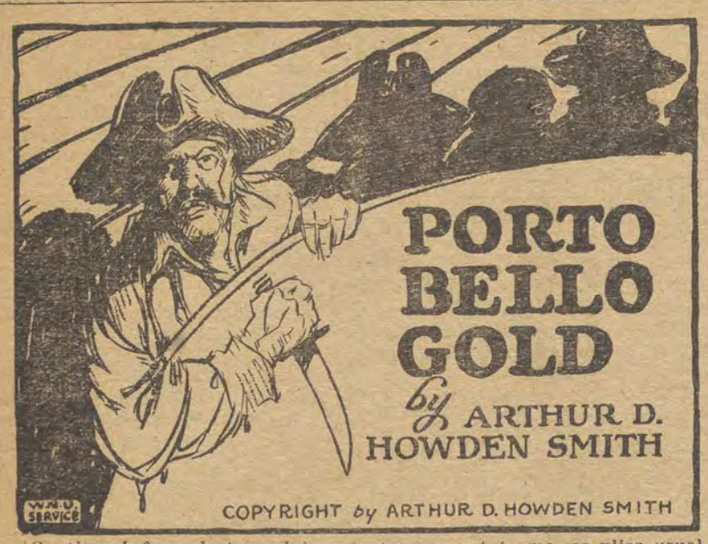
Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)

REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted

Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.



Adams Grocery Store

The Place To Buy. Why?

Because the people who do buy are satisfied with prices and satisfied with the goods. And I have other things—Notions of all kinds, needles, pins, handkerchiefs, Gold Fountain Pens extra cheap, Gold Watch Chains. A lot of pretty little things. Come and see.

I BUY CHICKENS and EGGS

S. M. ADAMS South Clanton

(Continued from last week.)

"Not he," I answered, laughing. "'Tis a Spaniard, and he and his kidney are not hungry for pirate gore. But look, Darby! There's another strange vessel—beyond the frigate."

I pointed to a battered little brig with patched and dirty sails and a spatter of white showing in her black-painted hull where a round shot had sent the splinters flying.

"And he hath seen the pirates, or I am amiss," I added. "His escape must have been exceeding narrow."

Darby's eyes waxed as large as a cat's in the dark.

"Whurra, whurra, do but look at the shot hole in the side of him! 'Tis he will have made a noble prayer. And now will ye mock me for saying there are pirates abroad, Master Robert?"

"Not I, Darby Yon fellow has been closer to death than I like to think of," I answered.

"Now there was as true a word as ever was heard spoke," proclaimed a pleasant voice behind me. "And shows most unaccountable understanding and humanitee, so it do, seeing as there's precious few landsmen as stop to figger out the chances a poor sailor must take and never a thankee from his owners nor aught but curses from his skipper, like as not. True as true, young gentleman. I makes you my duty, and says as how, seeing I was one of them vouchsafed a miraculous salvation, I hopes you'll permit me to offer my most humble thanks."

I swung around to scrutinize the owner of the voice and saw a handsome, open-faced man in the prime of life, big and strong of his body, but with only one leg. The other, the left, had been lopped off high up near the hip, and he supported himself upon a long crutch of very fine-carved hardwood — mahogany, I afterward discovered. This crutch he employed with all the dexterity of his missing limb.

While I looked at him and he was first speaking he hopped up beside me with a confidential air that was very flattering to a young man and impressed Darby even more.

"Are you from the brig yonder?" I asked curiously.

"Aye, aye, young gentleman, I am; and one of the miserable sinners as was saved by an inscrootable Providence as takes no account o' men's deserts, just or unjust, as the preachers' sayin' is. Out of Barbaders, I am, in the brig Constant. Name o' Silver, sir—John, says my sponsors in baptism.

"But my mates most generally calls me 'Barbecue' 'count o' my being held a monstrous fine cook. And there's a tale to that, young sir. Ah, yes! This weren't the first time I suffered at the hands o' them pirates that scourge and ravage the seas to the despite of poor, honest sailormen."

"Was it off Sandy hook they attacked you?" I inquired.

"Off Sandy hook?" he repeated. "Maybe 'twas so, gentleman. We took small reckoning o' where we were. Our one thought was to make port whole and safe."

"But I see they hulled you?" I pressed him.

"That?" he answered. "Oh, yes; but— May I make bold to ask, sir, ha' other vessels been chased off New York port, do you know?"

I pointed to where Captain Farraday's craft swung at her anchor a scant quarter-mile above the brig.

"That Bristol packet ran the notorious Captain Rip-Rap tops'ls down but yester morning," I told him.

His brows knit together in a frown, apparently of thought.

"Captain Rip-Rap you says it was! Blister me, young gentleman, but that's dreadful news. Well, well, well! A fortunate escape as ever was. And 'tis good hearing that others was ekal lucky. But I dare say the king's ships will be after him by now?"

"No, there's none nearer than Boston," I answered. "'Twill be a week at the least before we can hunt the scoundrels hence."

He wagged his head dolefully.

"Blister me, but that's ill news. Fortunate, indeed, I was to draw clear."

One of the wherrymen was sculling toward us along the shore, and I waved to him to pull under the piling on which we stood.

"I must be off," I said. "I congratulate you, Master Silver, on your escape."

He bobbed his head and pulled at his forelock.

"Thank'ee kindly, young gentleman. Here, sir, let me catch the painter. Right! Will ye ha' the basket on the thwart by ye? And this nice lad here, doesn't he go, too? No?

"Maybe then ye'd add a mite to your kindness and let me borry his time for a half-glass or so for to show me a couple o' landmarks I must make in the town. I wouldn't ask it of ye, sir, only as ye see, I'm half-crippled in a manner o' speakin', and this is a strange port to me, as plies usual to the West Injies."

"Use the lad by all means," I answered. "Darby, take Master Silver wherever he wishes to go."

Darby's freckled face gleamed at the prospect of more of the company of this one-legged sailorman who talked so easily of pirate fights and flights.

"Oh, aye, Master Robert," says he. "I'll help him all I know."

My wherryman was on the point of laying to his oars when a sudden thought caused me to check him.

"By the way, Master Silver," I called, "it occurs to me that perhaps Darby may be unable to serve you in all that you wish. Do you seek anyone in especial?"

He hesiated for just the fraction of a minute.

"Why, not especially in particklar, sir," he answered at last. "I am for the Whale's Head tavern, if ye happen to know o' such a place."

I nodded.

"'Tis in the East ward close by. Darby can show you."

He shouted renewed thanks and stumped off agilely on his crutch, Darby strutting beside him with a comical pride.

Aboard the Anne I found all in confusion. Captain Farraday had not returned since he landed the preceding afternoon and undoubtedly was sleeping off an accumulation of divers liquors in the George tavern. The mate had gone ashore that morning to search for him, and would probably take advantage of the opportunity to emulate his skipper's example. Master Jenkins, who had missed drowning at the red hands of the redoubtable Rip-Rap and Flint, was in charge of the ship. He was a melancholy, sour-visaged East-countryman, who moved with a deliberation as pronounced as Peter Corlaer's, and inspecting the manifests with him was a tedious business. The afternoon was gone when we concluded our work, agreed upon the time of arrival of the lighters on the morrow and returned to the deck.

My wherry had been dismissed long ago, and he bade the bosun muster a crew to row me ashore.

As my boat straightened away from the Bristol packet's side a barge shot around the hull of the Spaniard and pulled after us, a dozen brawny fellows tugging at the oars. A single cloaked figure sat in the stern sheets beside the officer in command. The two boats made the Broad street slip almost together, and I leaped ashore, tossed several coins to the sailors who had rowed me and started to walk off, bent upon reporting to my father, who, I knew, would be provoked by the length of time my errand had consumed. But I had not walked far when a man called after me from the wharf head.

"Senor! Sirr-rr-rah!"

I turned to face the coxswain of the frigate's barge and a farrago of Spanish gibberish of which I understood not a word. And upon my saying as much a second person stepped forward into the yellow glow of an oil lanthorn which hung from a bracket upon a warehouse wall hard by. 'Twas the cloaked figure of the barge, and instead of a midshipman or underofficer the scanty light revealed a young woman whose lissome grace was vibrant through the cumbersome folds of her wrap. A single ejaculation of sibilant Spanish, and the coxswain was hushed.

"Sir," said she in English as good as my own, "can you direct me to the Whale's Head tavern?"

I could bring forth no better than a stammer in answer. She was the second stranger that day to ask for the Whale's Head, which my father had remarked the previous evening for a noted resort of bad characters; and certes, she appeared to be the last sort of woman who might be expected to have anything to do with the kind of roistering wickedness which went on there. Also, I could not forbear asking myself how came so fair a maid aboard a Spanish frigate.

In the soft lanthorn light she was anything but Spanish in her looks. Dark, yes, with hair that shone a misty black, but her eyes were as blue as Darby McGraw's, and her nose had the least suspicion of a tilt to it. Her mouth was wide, with a kind of twist at the ends that quirked up oddly when she laughed and drooped with a sorrow fit to crack open your heart if she wept. And she was little more than a child in years, with a manifest innocence which went oddly with the question she had asked me.

A slim foot tapped impatiently upon the cobbles as I stared.

"Well, sir," she said coldly, "does it happen you do not know English better than Spanish?"

"N-no," I managed to get out. "But the truth is, the Whale's Head is no place for such as you, mistress."

Her eyes narrowed.

"I do not catch your meaning, perhaps," she answered. "It is my father I go to meet there."

"But he would never favor your coming there at this hour," I protested. "Indeed, you should never think of it."

"I will be the judge of that," she retorted, instantly haughty. "And if my father is there I can come to no harm."

"If he is," I said. "I doubt you have mistaken his ordinary."

"No, no," she said decidedly. "I heard him speaking with them of it. But it may be you are right, sir, and I will not be so ungrateful as to flout a kindly stranger's well-meant advice. Juan can go into the tavern when we come to it, and I will bide outside. But somewhere I must walk, for my feet are all dancey with the way of the sea, and we shall be away again with the tide in the morning. This is the last dry land I shall tread in many a week."

"If you will allow me, I'll put you on your way for the Whale's Head," I offered. "I must walk in that direction."

"Sure, sir, it is a great favor you offer," she answered. "I cannot but thank you."

And she gave an order in Spanish which fetched the underofficer she called Juan and one of his men out from the shadows. They fell in behind us as we walked off along the line of the warehouses.

"You are upon a long voyage?" I ventured.

"You may well say so," she cried. "From here to the Floridas, and after that on to Havana and the cities of the Main."

"But you are never Spanish!" I said. "I ask not in idle curiosity, though—"

Her laughter was like a chime of bells.

"Sure, they say I am Irish as the pigs in the Wicklow hills where I was born."

And all of a sudden she was grave again.

"I'm not knowing your politics, sir, but there's maybe no harm in just telling you my father was of those who opposed the Hanoverian and fought for King James and Bonnie Charlie. And because his own king cannot employ him, he serves Spain."

"It is not pleasant for an Englishman to think of all the brave gentlemen who must serve foreign monarchs," I acknowledged. "But I hope you will be happy in the Indies, mistress."

"Oh, we shall not be staying there long," she answered blithely. "My father is an engineer officer, and he must inspect the fortifications on the Main and elsewhere. We shall return to Spain within the year. But look, sir! Is not that sign intended to be a whale's head?"

"Yes," I said. "This is the tavern."

One look at its flaring windows and the cutthroat gentry who swaggered in and out of the low door convinced my companion that I had not misrepresented the character of the place. She drew back to the curb, and the corners of her mouth drooped sadly.

"Glory, what an ill hole!" she murmured. "Now for why would the padre come hither? Business, says he; but—"

And she shook her head with a vague and doubting emphasis.

"I would not seem to be thrusting myself upon you, mistress," I said, "yet I am fearful your Spaniards cannot make themselves understood. Will it please you that I inquire within for your father?"

She considered, catching a corner of her lip betwixt white teeth.

"Troth, sir," she answered finally, "I see not how I can avoid going the deeper in debt to you."

There was a moment's pause.

"And how shall I—"

"Ay de mi!" she exclaimed with a bubble of laughter. "How stupid of me to be forgetting I am just a maid off the sea to you. Ask for Colonel O'Donnell, sir, and tell him his daughter waits without."

I shouldered a drunken sailor from my path, lowered my head to pass under the lintel of the tavern's entrance and so gained the hazy blue atmosphere of the taproom, cluttered with tables, foul with smoke and stale ale lees, abuzz with rough voices bawling oaths and sea songs.

It was the chorus of one of these songs which first distracted my thoughts from the Irish girl outside—a wild, roaring lilt of blood and ribaldry:

"Fifteen men on the Dead Man's Chest—
Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of rum!
Drink and the devil had done for the rest—
Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of rum!"

I looked to the corner whence it came, and discovered the one-legged sailor, John Silver, thumping the time with a pewter mug on the table-top as he led the group around him, foremost among whom, after himself, was Darby McGraw, flaming red mop standing out like a buccaneer ensign, shrill voice carrying above the thundering basses of his companions—as villainous a crew, to outward seeming, as I had ever looked upon. I noted especially a pasty, tallowy-faced man, whose shifty eyes were masked by a skrim of greasy black hair, and a big, lusty, mahogany-brown fellow with a tarry pigtail, who evidently found as much satisfaction in the song as poor, fuddled Darby.

Silver saw me almost as soon as I spotted him, and with a quick word to the others, got to his feet and stumped across the room, dragging Darby after him by the arm.

"So you come after him, Master Ormerod, did you?" he shouted to make himself heard in the confusion. "And ashamed o' myself I oughter be,

"I Did Not Come After Him," I Answered.

says you, and with reason, too. But I'm not one to lead a likely lad astray, and all Darby's had was good, ripe ale and two earsful o' sea-gossip as'll give him things to dream o' for nights to come."

"I did not come after him," I answered; "but as I am here he had best return home with me. Where did you get my name, Silver?"

He pulled his forelock knowingly.

"Why, from Darby, o' course, sir—not that anybody on the water-front couldn't ha' told me, seein' what a kind-hearted, friendly young gentleman you are. But asking your pardon for the liberty, sir, can I serve you in any way?"

"I don't think so," I told him. "I am seeking a Colonel O'Donnell."

I fancied a flicker of surprise stirred the bluff friendliness mirrored in his face. He stared around the room.

"Never heard o' the gentleman, sir, which ain't surprizin', seein' I was never here before this morning, myself; but I ran into some old shipmates of mine as gave me the run o' the place, and it may be I can find out for you from one o' them. Just you wait here a shake, Master Ormerod, and I'll see what I can do."

Silver disappeared through a door at the rear in company with one of the drawers, and in a few minutes he came swinging in again on his crutch, ahead of a tall, lantern-jawed man in a rich dress of black-and-silver, whose gold-hilted sword proclaimed the gentleman. This man Silver ushered to me with a crudely hearty courtesy.

"Here's luck, Master Ormerod," he called when he was within earshot. "My friend had heard tell the colonel was above-stairs. This here's the young gentleman I spoke of, your honor. My duty to ye both, sirs, and always pleased to serve."

And off he swung on his crutch again to be received with acclamations by his cronies in the corner.

The lantern-jawed man gave me a keen glance, almost a suspicious glance, I should have said.

"Well, sir?" he said. "I understand you desired speech with me?"

"If you are Colonel O'Donnell—"

He nodded curtly.

"—I am to tell you that your daughter awaits you outside," I concluded.

He was genuinely startled.

"My daughter? But who are you, sir, who act as her guardian?"

I was nettled, and did not hesitate to show it.

"She asked me the way hither when she came ashore," I retorted, "and, deeming it scarce probable that you would care to have her enter the taproom, I even offered my services to fetch you forth to her."

I saw now his resemblance to her, for the corners of his mouth twitched down in the same way her's had. And he muttered something like a curse in Spanish.

"It seems I am beholden to you, sir," he answered stiffly. "She is a

(Continued on Page 7)

COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed From Mauldin Farms

Wilsonville, Ala., on Southern Railway, or Vincent, Ala., on Central of Georgia Railroad

In 1924 the Auburn Experiment Station tested 25 varieties of cotton in north Alabama. COOK 10-10 headed the list. It made 495 pounds of lint to the acre. This was 64 pounds more than the next best yielding variety, and it was 244 pounds more than the poorest yielding variety.

The average of the 25 varieties tested was 362 pounds of lint to the acre. COOK 10-10 made 133 pounds (36 per cent) more lint to the acre than the average.

If the 1925 crop in Alabama was grown from average seed, the best seed (COOK 10-10) would have increased the crop 36 per cent, or 487,000 bales, worth $45,055,000. Forty-five million dollars is a sum worth saving to the State of Alabama. For a 10-bale farmer the same per cent increase would make his crop 13 3-5 bales. All farmers will not plant the best seed, but the man who does profits by it.

Read this copy of the four tests by the Alabama Experiment Station and the South Carolina Station and observe the place of COOK 10-10.

Results of Cotton Variety Tests Conducted in Lawrence County Alabama by S. L. Morrow, County Agent, in 1924.

Variety	lbs. lint per acre
Demonstrator—R. F. Clark Hillsboro, R. 1.
Cook 10-10	476
Cook 588	393
Cleveland - Piedmont	375
Acala No. 5	374
Bottoms Prolif.	362
Half and Half	353
Demonstrator—W. L. Simpson Moulton, R. 5.
Cook 10-10	246
Cook 588	240
Cleveland - Piedmont	220
Acala No. 5	202
Bottom's Prolif.	199
Demonstrator—G. N. Preuit, Town Creek
Cook 10-10	234
Cook 588	225
Acala No. 5	193
Bottom's Prolif.	191
Cleveland - Piedmont	166
Demonstrator—Willie Owens Town Creek, Route 3
Cook 10-10	430
Bottom's Polif.	412
Cook 588	404
Cleveland - Piedmont	346
Acala No. 5	298

Results of Cotton Variety Test, Clemson Agricultural College, 1924, Clemson, S. C.

Variety	lbs. lint per acre
Cook 10-10	442
Cleveland - Woolsey	421
Cook 588 - 219	419
King - Wood	414
Acala	401
Cook - Clemson	394
Cleveland - Coker	391
Cook 588 - Alabama	389
Sugar Loaf	387
Toole - New	385
Bottom's	374
Trice	372
Cleveland - Clemson	368
Cleveland - Coker 1-8	366
King - Original	366
Cleveland - Piedmont	358
Dixie - Triumph	354
Toole - Old	344
Carolina - Foster	342
Cleveland - Coker 1 1-16	342
Cleveland - H - Coker	342
Cleveland - Marrett	338
College No. 1, Ga.	337
Mexican Big Boll	333
College No. 1, Frank.	327
Lone Star	321
Delfos 6102	319
King - New	314
Cleveland - Bouknight	313
Salsbury	309
Express 95	282
Webber 49	280
Cleve. - Wann - M. S. Farm	280
Hartsville No. 19	275
Cleveland - Wann - J. E. W.	275
Willow Leaf	271
Delfos 631	262
Delta Type Webber	258
Express 433	231

Results of Cotton Variety Tests by Alabama Experiment Station, Auburn, Ala.

TABLE NO. 1—NORTH ALABAMA

Variety	Lbs. lint per acre Average four tests 1922-24, inc.	Average two tests in 1924
Cook 10 - 10	410	495
Bottoms	365	407
Cook' 588	354	409
Cook' 307	346	409
Cleveland (Pied.)	345	418
Acala No. 5	337	393
Dixie Triumph	325	427
King	321	356
College No. 1	310	369
Culpepper	307	370
Trice 270 - 41	305	377
Mexican Big Boll	303	361
Cleveland (Wann.)	300	357
Express 350	297	353
Toole	290	367
Trice	287	298
Lone Star	256	308
Webber 49	247	288
Webber (Deltatype)	213	251
Cook 1627		431
Cook 1616		380
Delfos 610 2		377
Salsbury		364
Express 95		327
Lightning Express		308

In 1925 one of my tenants made 55 bales on 60 acres; another made 30 bales on 33 acres. On smaller plats we made as much as two bales to the acre.

Twelve hundred pounds of COOK 10-10 seed cotton gins a 500-pound bale.

In 1925 Shelby County club boys planted my seed; 41 boys on 41 acres averaged 1,171 pounds of seed cotton. This was a bale to the acre.

In Pickens County 100 boys in 1925, with COOK 10-10 seed, averaged 1 bale to the acre.

In Marion County in 1925, with COOK 10-10 seed, 35 boys averaged 1,457 pounds of seed cotton to the acre. This was more than a bale to the acre.

I have been growing COOK 10-10 since 1920. I grow no other cotton. My seed are pure. I saved no 1925 seed after the fall storm. I plant a breeding patch every year from which choice selection is made for the next year's breeding. By this method I keep up my high yielding strain.

YOU MAY HAVE GOOD LAND, USE GOOD FERTILIZER AND DO GOOD WORK, BUT YOU CAN NOT MAKE THE BEST YIELDS UNTIL YOU PLANT THE BEST SEED.

PRICE—$2.00 per bushel of 32 pounds in 2½ bushel bags, shipped from Wilsonville, Ala., on Southern Railway; Vincent, Ala., on Central of Georgia R. R.; Arkwright, Ala., on A. B. & A. R. R.

For Sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby; J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Brothers, Verbena.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Study Club To Meet.

Mrs. G. C. Harris will entertain the Study Club at her home in South Clanton, Friday afternoon, February 5th, at 3:00 o'clock.

Miss Mullins Hostess To Bridge Club.

Miss Kathleen Mullins was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and a few other guests on last Wednesday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Mullins. The living room was decorated with potted plants. Bridge was played at three tables. Mrs. H. M. Simpson held top score and was presented two pretty hand-made handkerchiefs. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. Watts Moore, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee.

Those enjoying this affair were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Frank Callen, Lawrence Gerald, V. J. Heard, Arthur Johnson, Oscar Jones, Grady Reynolds, J. Watts Moore, J. Hugh Jones, H. M. Simpson, and Hughes Kennedy of Birmingham.

Mrs. Cox Hostess At Luncheon.

Last Thursday Mrs. Bama Cox delightfully entertained the members of the Thursday Sewing Club at a luncheon at her home on West Second Avenue. For this occasion potted plants and cut flowers were artistically used to decorate the home. The luncheon table was centered with red and white carnations. Attractive place cards, carrying out the Valentine idea, marked the place of each guest. A delicious four-course luncheon was served. The afternoon was spent doing various kinds of fancy work.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames J. Watts Moore, J. P. Hayes, J. Lee Smith, T. C. McSwain, V. J. Gragg, John M. VanDerveer, Mallie White, Lucien Duncan, Bill Murphy, and C. Fenn Jones.

Miss Murphy Hostess.

Miss Lorene Murphy was hostess to the members of the Girls' Auxiliary at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. P. Murphy, on last Thursday afternoon. The living room was made bright with flowers of the season tastefully arranged. After a discussion of various problems of the organization the hostess, assisted by her mother, served delicious refreshments to Mesdames J. A. Hester, Tom Parrish, Misses Wood, Minnie Fiquett, Mittice Duncan, Gladys Williams, Lurline Miner, Bernice Williams, and others. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday afternoon, February 4th, at the home of Miss Mildred Danforth, at 3:15 o'clock.

Bean - Glasscock Wedding.

A marriage of much interest to many people throughout this county was that of Miss Lucile Glasscock and Mr. Luther Bean, which took place Sunday, January 31, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Armstrong, Rev. Armstrong performing the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Glasscock of Jemison. Mr. Bean holds a responsible position in the Clanton postoffice. Congratulations and best wishes are extended to this popular couple by their many friends.

Civic Club Entertained.

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt entertained the members of the Civic Club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Eighth Street. Narcissus were used to decorate the home for this occasion. Mrs. Hugh Jones presided over the meeting. Each member present answered roll call with "something that will benefit Clanton." The President announced that Mr. Omar L. Reynolds would address the club at the next regular meeting to be held the second Tuesday in March at the home of Mrs. J. Lee Smith. The hostess served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee to Mesdames Hugh Jones, Omar Reynolds, J. Lee Smith, J. B. Mauney, J. P. Hayes, D. C. Alred, J. Watts Moore, S. J. Ezell and Grady Broadhead.

Intermediate Sewing Club Meets.

The members of the intermediate Sewing Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Milton Smith at her home on last Thursday afternoon. Various kinds of fancy work was done throughout the afternoon. Delicious sandwiches and tea were served by the hostess to the following club members and guests: Mesdames Grady Heflin, Lucien Duncan, Loren Smith, Joe Higgins, Bill Murphy and B. F. Higgins. At this meeting three new members were unanimously elected, Mesdames Paul Ousley, and Briggs Crumpton.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Womens Missionary Society met at the Baptist church Monday afternoon. Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, president, conducted the devotional and also presided over the business session. Mrs. J. E. Gowan acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Kin Vinson. Splendid reports were made by the four circle chairmen. The special work undertaken by the society for this year is to support a missionary on the foreign field. Mrs. Woodward (Miss Mable Williams) of Maplesville, was chosen as the missionary to be supported.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald and Mesdames H. M. Simpson, J. Hugh Jones, Grady Broadhead motored to Montgomery Friday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. J. R. Mullins, Miss Marzelle Mullins and Edwin Mullins of Montgomery were guests of relatives the past week end.

Mrs. Hughes Kennedy and little son, Hughes III, left Saturday for their home in Birmingham, having spent several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Pipes.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Farrior of Birmingham were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spigener, for the week end.

Mrs. Curry Thomas spent Friday shopping in Montgomery.

Mrs. Clifford Mullins and little daughter Emmy Sue of Mitchell Dam, spent several days recently with Mrs. J. Hance Alred.

Mr. L. F. Gerald made a business trip to Montgomery Wednesday.

Mr. W. Z. Hodges and son, William, spent Friday in Montgomery on business.

Mr. Frank Mullins spent the week end in Wetumpka with friends.

Mesdames W. I. Mullins, J. Watts Moore, J. R. Mullins, Misses Kathleen and Marzelle Mullins and Mr. Frank Mullins motored to Birmingham Saturday to visit Mrs. Wilkins (Brownie Cook) who is ill in Harris' Infirmary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Duncan and baby, Betsy Ann, Mrs. J.P. Crumpton, J. P. Crumpton, and Dorothy Duncan motored to Marion Sunday and spent the day with Miss Elizabeth Duncan, who is a student at Judson College.

Mr. Chester Hann of Bessemer spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hann.

Miss Kathleen Mullins is spending this week in Montgomery with Miss Marzelle Mullins.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robinson attended the funeral of their uncle, Mr. Mims, at Cedar Grove Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ellis and Mrs. Mell Martin returned Sunday from a motor trip to Miami, Fla., where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. Latham Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jones and little daughter, Nell Ross, spent the week end in Brewton with Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Gowan.

Mrs. Clarence Foley and baby of Montgomery spent the week with Mrs. Grady Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Letcher of Plantersville visited Mrs. Bama Cox last Sunday.

Mrs. Claud White of Birmingham visited Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White this week.

Mr. Bob Williams left Sunday for Montgomery, where he will continue his work with the Alabama Power Company.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Downs motored to Birmingham Sunday and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones spent several days in Biringham last week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shepard. While there they attended the John McCormack concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foshee visited friends at Stanton last week.

Mrs. H. L. Davis and Miss Gertie Mae Davis are spending some time in Birmingham with Mrs. Jack Seale (Bessie Davis) who underwent an operation at the Baptist Hospital recently.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Hall motored to Montgomery Tuesday and spent the day shopping.

Rev. R. L. Bonner of Jemison was among the visitors here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis and little daughter, Frances, of Verbena, were in town Saturday.

Miss Mary Ellis, who attends Woman's College in Montgomery spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ellis.

Mr. Oliver Weldon of Verbena was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Heflin have moved into the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Penter, who have gone to Birmingham to reside.

Mrs. Avie Goodgame of Pine Level spent Monday shopping in town.

Mr. Harry Gordon of Columbiana was in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Williams and little daughter, of Jemison, were visitors to Clanton Monday.

Mr. Stanley Davis of Enterprise was here Saturday.

Mrs. Elmer Bazer of Lock 12 attended the teachers meeting here on Saturday.

Mr. H. T. Pipes made a business trip to Birmingham Monday.

Mr. Sam Cowart, who is working in Mobile, spent Saturday with relatives and friends here.

Miss Nell Stubblefield of Coopers spent Saturday in town.

Prof. O. L. Devaughn of Coopers was transacting business here Saturday.

Rev. M. W. Mims of Maplesville was a visitor in town Saturday.

Uncle Bill Walker of Mulberry was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wilson of Pletcher were visitors to Clanton on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Duffey and children of Mt. Creek were visitors here Thursday.

Mrs. Howard Foshee nd little daughter, Edith of Montgomery, spent last Wednesday in town with friends.

Mr. W. J Billingsley of Thorsby was among the visitors in Clanton last Friday.

Mesdames Arthur Willis, Leonard Farley, G. C. Harris and Miss Bettie Mullins attended the quarterly meeting of Shelby County Associational W. M. U. at Calera Friday.

Mr. Paul Klotz of Montgomery was in town Tuesday.

MRS. POOL AND MRS. PROWELL STOP HERE

Mrs. B. F. Pool and Mrs. M. J. Prowell stopped in Clanton last Wednesday night on their way home to Linden from Fort Payne. They came by and asked The Union-Banner to say hello to their friends for them this week.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page 6)

child, and vastly ignorant of the world, and I must be both father and mother to her."

I bowed and stood aside to make room for him to pass out.

"Master Ormerod, the seaman called you, did he not?" continued O'Donnell. "Perhaps, sir, you will permit an older man to compliment you upon an honorable deportment."

A slightly pompous tone invaded his speech.

"I am not unfamiliar with the chief centers of our Old world society, Master Ormerod, and I have the honor to hold the office of chamberlain to a monarch, who, though he may not be named upon English soil, will some day recover the estate a usurper has deprived him of. I need say no more, I am sure."

"I understand, sir," I replied. "And may I suggest that Mistress O'Donnell is awaiting you?"

He brushed by me with a click of impatience, and Darby and I followed him to the street. As we all three emerged, Mistress O'Donnell darted up to her father and caught at the lapels of his coat.

"Ah, padre," she cried in a brogue that clotted and slurred her words, "you'll not be holding it against me because I wearied of the ship and would feel the earth crumbling underfoot, and me so lonely for lack of you I was near to weeping the while I sat in my cabin with naught to do but read my Hours!"

He wilted, as must any man have done, flinging his arm around her with a gesture that verged on the theatrical.

"Tush, tush, Moira," he rebuked her gently; "'twas unbecoming in you, and in Spanish lands such conduct would lead to trouble. See that you do it not a second time. I will give you in charge of Juan; and, having had your taste of freedom, you must return aboard, for I have matters yet requiring my attention. Ah, yes, and you must thank this gentleman properly for his gallantry. Master Ormerod, my dear! His father is a great merchant of this town."

Mistress O'Donnell swept me a willowy curtsey, and as I bowed acknowledgment I wondered where he had secured such exact information about me.

"Sure, I'll not be after trying to thank you," says my lady to me with a twinkle in her eye. "For I couldn't find the words would express my gratitude. But for you, 'tis an awful fool I'd have made of myself this quarter-hour past."

Colonel O'Donnell hemmed reprovingly.

"Let it be a lesson to you, my girl, My thanks to you again, Master Ormerod. My compliments to your father, if it please you. Good night sir."

I understood that he wished to be rid of me, and accepted the cue.

"Good night, sir." I replied. "And a fair voyage to you, mistress. If I can be of further service, pray command me."

"No, Master Ormerod, here our paths diverge," she answered softly, and placed her hand upon her father's arm.

A moment later I was hurrying north and west, Darby McGraw chattering beside me.

(To be continued Next Week)

WATCH FOR THE BIG ADS

— of the —

Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.'s

AUCTION SALES

Saturday, Feb. 13th, at 10 A. M.

Several Small Tracts in the Reynolds Addition in Northeast Clanton

Saturday, Feb. 13th, at 2 P. M.

The OCIE POWELL house and vacant lot in the GOWAN ADDITION of Clanton

Saturday, Feb. 20, at 10 A. M.

The W. S. Alston 400 acre Farm, 8 miles east of Wetumpka on the Rockford and Equality Road

Tuesday, Feb. 23, at 11 A. M.

The home of W. W. HAND 7 miles south of Marbury on the new Birmingham and Montgomery Highway

"WE CAN SELL YOUR LAND"

Ready Now---Fashionable New

Modes For Early Spring

When you see these new fashions, we feel sure you will agree that never before has Spring apparel been more lovely, for these beautiful models are Paris inspired and are from America's finest makers. And they will become the joy and pride of smartest Spring wardrobes.
That one may be charmingly and appropriately costumed for a very moderate outlay is noted in the pricings of these smart new garments.

Exclusive Spring Coats

It s a thrill to say "hello" to the new Coats we are showing now, just when women are looking forward to a change from heavy fur coats to attractive medium weight models. Whatever style or color you may desire can be found here. You will be surprised at the reasonableness of the prices too.

Lovely New Millinery

The smartest new Spring Hats at attractive prices. Hats for all occasions in small, medium and large head sizes. Pert little shapes of satin, taffeta, faille, straw and combinations. In all the new shades designed as fashion-right for Spring. Come and make your selection no.w.

Exquisite New Lingerie

Sheer, delicate and lovely are the newer lingerie undies for Spring and later days when the temperature soars. Assortment includes crepe-dechine, French voiles and shadow batiste, gowns envelope chemise and slips in orchid, flesh, pink, rose, green, blue and white. Specials in glove and rayon silks.

Headquarters For New Styles

Our ambition is to make our store the center for style in Clanton. Therefore, we have spared no effort to provide the very best and latest in everything that is suitable and desired by women who want their wardrobes to be up to the last minute. We invite you to visit us and look over our selections.

Don't Forget Our Hemstitching and Dressmaking Department

The Ladies are Invited to Visit Our Rest Rooms

The Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALABAMA

-- LOOK --

20% DISCOUNT

— SALE ON AUTO CASINGS —

—o—

	Was	Now
30 x 3 Firestone Fabric ..	$12.00	$ 9.60
30 x 3½ Firestone Fabric ..	$13.75	$11.00
30 x 3½ Firestone Reg. Cor	$15.00	$12.00
30 x 3½ Firestone Extra C(	$18.35	$14.68
32 x 4½ S. S. Cord	$43.30	$34.65
32 x 4½ H. D. Cord	$57.60	$46.00
30 x 5 H. D. Cord	$66.80	$53.44

ALSO MANSFIELD CASINGS AT SAME PRICES AS FIRESTONES

—o—

Estate of D.I. Deramus

VERBENA, ALA.

CHEVROLET NEWS

A novel method of instruction for retail automobile salesmen, combining use of motion picture film with carefully prepared talks, used for the first time by the Chevrolet Motor Co., has been productive of remarkable results, according to R. H. Grant, general sales manager. Salesmen are taught through these pictures how to best demonstrate the Chevrolet car to interested prospects.

Although placed in operation among 1,160 dealers of the Chevrolet organization a comparatively short time ago a total of 12,760 dealer meetings have already been held with an attendance of 71,236. Meetings held by dealers and factory representatives have totalled 19,020 with a combined attendance of 102,486.

As prepared by the sales department, the plan calls for delivery of a projector to each dealer subscribing to the service. A new film is sent out every two weeks, accompanied by a sales talk in manuscript form. In instructing his salesmen, the dealer may use the explanatory talk direct from the manuscript, or use it as the basis for an extemporary address embodying the latest in sales methods. Indicated in the manuscript in bold-faced type are the points to be emphasized by projection of the suitable picture on wall or screen. Among the dozen films so far distributed are: "Why Do People Buy Automobiles"; "Where Can I Find Prospects"; "How Direct Mail Helps You"; and "Giving a Road Demonstration."

The plan, presenting the most up-to-date ideas in retail selling, has met with an enthusiastic reception by dealers and has been credited with increased sales, according to thousands of letters received by the sales promotion department. The working hours of salesmen have been better organized, aid has been furnished in meeting and solving seasonal and other problems and the selling thought of the factory, zone office organization, the dealer and the salesman has been unified. Its use is to be continued indefinitely with a constantly increasing scope.

Hastings' Seeds

Catalog Free!

Free Flower Seeds for You

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN,
ATLANTA, GA.

Read the ADS for better bargains

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF LAND

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Probate Court.

In pursuance of the directions and terms of a Commission dated the 21st day of January, 1926, issued to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bideer for cash, at public auction, on the 13th day of Febuary, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, on the hereinafter described lands in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit, the following described property:

South half of Southwest fourth; the Northwest fourth of the Southwest fourth, all in Section 8, Township 23, Range 14, consisting of one hundred twenty acres. All of the above being situated in Chilton County, Alabama, and being known as the Campbell Lands, Deceased, which said property is to be sold under the order of said Probate Court, for the purpose of division and partition between the several joint owners thereof, viz:

Henry Campbell, Eliza Campbell, William Campbell, Lannie G. Campbell, Leona B. Gaither, Harley R. Campbell, Cecil C. Campbell, John Acie Campbell.

This, the 21st day of January, 1926.

W. H. CONWAY,
1-28-3t-ch Commissioner.

FOR SALE—10,000,000 Cabbage and Bermuda Onion Plants; $1.00 per thousand; prompt shipments. Dorris Seed Co., Valdosta, Ga. 1-28-4t-c

Always Reliable

Jackson, Miss.—"For several years off and on whenever I began to feel bad or rundown in health, I would take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it always built me up in a short time and made me feel like a different woman."—Mrs. T. J. Williams, 317 E. Pearl Street.

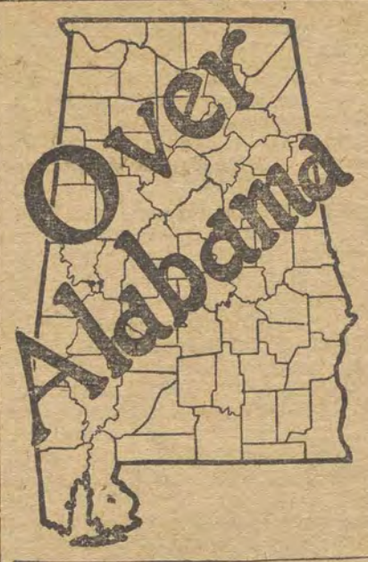
Ask your neighbor about this "Prescription" which has sold for 60 years. Obtain it now in tablets or liquid from your dealer. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., 10c for trial package of tablets and write for free confidential medical advice.

Health is your most valuable asset. Do not neglect it.

WYATT & GOLDEN
BLACKSMITH SHOP

We are opening up in front of Gray's Mill on Third Avenue North, a blacksmith shop. On Saturday, January 23, we will be ready to do your horseshoeing and repair work. We will be pleased to serve you.

JOHN D. WYATT
G. B. GOLDEN



KEY!—Do you have a key? If so, bring it to the Upchurch Drug Co. Your key may be the lucky one.

CHASSIS TROUBLES

When it comes to brake band, axle, wheel or any kind of chassis trouble we are as expert in correcting it as we are in putting your engine in order. There is not a job of auto repair work that we can not do well and promptly. Let us go over your car and put it in first class condition now. We guarantee satisfaction.

BATES GARAGE, Clanton, Ala.

A personal encounter between Alderman A. D. Maddox, of Bessemer, and Chairman Patterson, of the Alabama Public Service Commission was averted recently only by the interference of other members of the Bessemer City Council. Mr. Maddox took exceptions to something Chairman Patterson said and attempted to attack him. The hearing resulted in the commission's deciding that rates charged by the Alabama Water Company in Bessemer are not excessive, although in a few isolated cases, they are too high.

Attorney General Harwell G. Davis has had the body of James Knox, a Flat Top mine convict exhumed to prove or disprove reports that Knox was beaten to death instead of dying from poison taken with suicidal intent, as was said at the time. Knox was sent up from Mobile almost a year ago for forgery and died within less than two months after reaching Flat Top.

The Atlas Portland Cement Company, of Leeds, recently shipped the last few hundred sacks of cement needed to complete Wilson Dam. Leeds, with less than 4,000 persons, claims the distinction of having furnished 75 per cent of the cement used in the world's biggest dam.

Materials are being assembled at Attalla for a 500,000 gallon reservoir to be built there by the Alabama Water Company, beginning February 1st. The reservoir will cost $26,000, and the company will spend in additional $5,000 in new meters and connections, it is stated.

A city-wide "dry" raid was called off in Birmingham recently when federal authorities learned that bootleggers had been tipped off to what was coming. The officers know the identity of the party disclosing their plans and he will be punished, they say.

Bud Jones, a Walker County man recently released from the state insane asylum, went on a rampage at his home after getting possession of a shot gun. He slightly wounded his son and narrowly missed an officer who sought to take him in charge.

The Alabama Rock Asphalt Company, of Tuscumbia, is making improvements which will include two and one-half miles of railroad track and the purchase of a locomotive and a number of dump cars.

Robert Patterson, of the City National Bank of Selma, has been named postmaster of that city to succeed R. H. Mangum. Mr. Patterson will be the first Republican postmaster Selma has had in 45 years.

A move has been launched in the United States Senate for equal distribution between all adjoining states of all power generated at Muscle Shoals above that needed for the manufacture of nitrates.

The body of J. W. Thomas, of Bessemer, who disappeared from home a month ago, has just been discovered in the Warrior River with a bullet hole in his head. He was murdered officers say.

President J. C. McLendon and Secretary R. B. Vail, of the Alabama Press Association, have joined editors from almost every section of the United States in a state-wide tour of Florida.

Mrs. Erwin Craighead, wife of the editor of the Mobile Register,, died recently, after a long illness. She was a leader in woman's club and charitable work, widely known throughout the state.

Alabama's state convict department cleared $926,000 for the state last year, as compared with $660,000 in 1924, records just compiled at Montgomery show.

A special grand jury was convened at Mobile recently to investigate the case against Campbell Stark, a negro charged with the murder of Police Officer Chris Dean.

A large party of Alabama teachers will tour Europe next summer, leaving Birmingham early in June.

A large Detroit real estate corporation recently opened offices in the Muscle Shoals District.

The Alabama Press Association held its semi-annual meeting in Birmingham recently.

A "white way" has just been installed in the business section of Bay Minette.

The Pea River Power Company of Troy, and the River Falls Power Company of Andalusia, are stagging a fight for the privilege of serving Opp.

Fire recently destroyed a barracks building at the Jacksonville State Normal School. Not a few students lost their clothing in the fire.

The public service commission has ordered the N. C. & St. L. to provide better passenger facilities at Stevenson.

Rev. J. T. Fielding, a Methodist minister of Rockford, has announced his candidacy for the legislature.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner.

WIDOWER CONGRATULATED

"Since my wife's death, five years ago, I have suffered greatly from stomach and liver trouble and gas attacks. I lost over 50 lbs., and at times was as yellow as saffron. My doctors could not help me. Six doses of MAYR'S 'One Dose Will Convince' have entirely cured me. I have regained my weight and every one is congratulating me how well I look." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, inculding appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

LOST—One basket ball score book, between Stanton and Thorsby, on Friday, January 30. This is the property of Stanton Junior High School ball team. Finder will receive reward. Leo C. Langston, Athletic Director. 2-4-3t-ch

KEY!—Do you have a key? If so, bring it to the Upchurch Drug Co. Your key may be the lucky one.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, in the Probate Court of Chilton County.

Application having been made on this day in due form by Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, administratrix of the Estate of J. W. Lawrence, deceased, for an order authorizing the sale of lands described therein, belonging to said estate, for the purpose of paying debts, on the ground that the personal property is insufficient therefor; the 22nd day of February, 1926, has been appointed for the hearing of such application at which time all parties interested can appear and contest the same if they see proper.

2-4-3t-ch L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate, Chilton Co.

GUARDIAN'S SETTLEMENT NOTICE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County, Probate Court, January 16, 1926.

This day came A. L. Cobb, Guardian of Pauline Lowery, Cecil Murray Glass and James Milton Lowery, and files his account, vouchers, evidence and statement for final settlement of his said Guardianship.

It is ordered that the 8th day of February, 1926, be, and the same hereby is appointed as the day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

Witness my hand this 16th day of January, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-21-3t Judge of Probate.

Tom Woolley and Leo Langston of Stanton were in Clanton Tuesday taking in the sights of the city.

Special Odds In

FURNITURE

And House Furnishings

We have a number of odd items in Furniture and House Furnishings which we are closing out. You can buy these things at your own price.

Come in and see them. You will surely find something that you can use at the low prices we are offering.

Don't wait. This stuff is going at some price, and the first who come will get the bargains.

Retherford Furniture Co.

CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

BEWARE OF

IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS

Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"

Clanton . . . . . Alabama

ESTABLISHED 1903 THE ESTABLISHED 1892

UNION-BANNER

VOLUME XIII. —TEN PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1926 NUMBER 43

What's ?P.B.G.? READ PAGE 8

Like PIRATES? READ PAGE 8

STATE PREPARES TO QUIT GALLOWS AFTER OCT. 1

Governor Prepares Electric Chair for Kilby Prison, in Accordance With Law.

Montgomery, Feb. 6. — Criminals sentenced to death after Feb. 28, 1927 in Alabama will be electrocuted at Kilby Prison instead of dying on the gallows, as has been the custom in this State.

This was the contents of a statement issued by Governor Brandon on Saturday in which he stated that the state was making preparations for the installation of an electric chair at Kilby prison by Oct. 1, 1926, law enacted in 1923 by the state legislature.

This was the date set by a law enacted by the state legislature in 1923 for the installation of the electric chair system.

Sen. J. C. Inser of Gadsden is the author of the law abolishing the gallows and it was only after a fight had been carried on in the state legislature for 10 years that it was finally passed in 1923.

When Kilby Prison was planned, a section was set aside for an electric chair, and it is not probable that a separate building will be built for the death house.

Alabama is adopting this system of execution is following the example set by many of the states of the Union.

MR. CONNELL DESIRES EXPLANATION

Mr. Jim Connell, Sr., who lives near Clanton on the Lock 12 Road, has requested The Union-Banner to state that the story about Jim Connell in last week's paper was not about him, but was concerning another Jim Connell, sometimes referred to as Jim Beck, who lives on Coosa River.

We do not believe that anyone who read our story last week will be misled or confused as to the parties referred to. But it is the wish of Mr. Connell, Sr., that we offer this explanation, which we are glad to do at his request.

W. L. POWELL HOME BROKEN INTO LAST SATURDAY NIGHT

The home of W. L. Powell, two miles south of Clanton on the new highway, was broken into last Saturday night by burglars and some articles stolen. Mr. and Mrs. Powell were away from home until about 9 o'clock, and when they returned at that hour they discovered that something had happened since they left. Mr. Powell reports the following missing: one pistol, one .22 rifle, pair of glasses, gold watch, bracelet, several gold rings, three shirts, one suit of clothes and two or three pair of pants. In all the things taken were worth about $100.

Mr. Powell reports that two suspicious young men were seen around near his home all during Saturday afternoon. They talked to several people who lived near Mr. Powell, and were seen at various places on the highway and in the woods near the Powell home. No one knew either of the boys. It is thought that these were the parties who did the burglary but there is no clue as to who they were or where they went to.

OYSTER SUP. AT MAPLESVILLLE

The W. M. U. of Maplesville, Ala., are planning to have an oyster supper Saturday night, February 13th, at the City Cafe. Public invited.

SEE "THE NAUGHTY BRIDE" FRIDAY NIGHT

"The Naughty Bride" is the title of a three-act comedy which is to be presented at the Chilton County High School auditorium next Friday night, February 12th, at 8 o'clock.

The play is being brought here from Columbiana by Mrs. Mildred Wallace and Mrs. Paul Luck, and is composed of the Columbiana Dramatic Club. The program is represented to be a high class amusement with excellent talent playing the parts.

Those who remember the excellent program which Mrs. Wallace brought here a year ago will be assured that the coming attraction will be worthy of our hearty patronage.

There will be special music between acts by the Columbiana orchestra. Proceeds will go for the benefit of the Chilton County High School Athletic Association. Price of admission is 25c and 50c.

We hope that the visitors will be received by a large audience, as we feel assured that their play is of such character as to merit it.

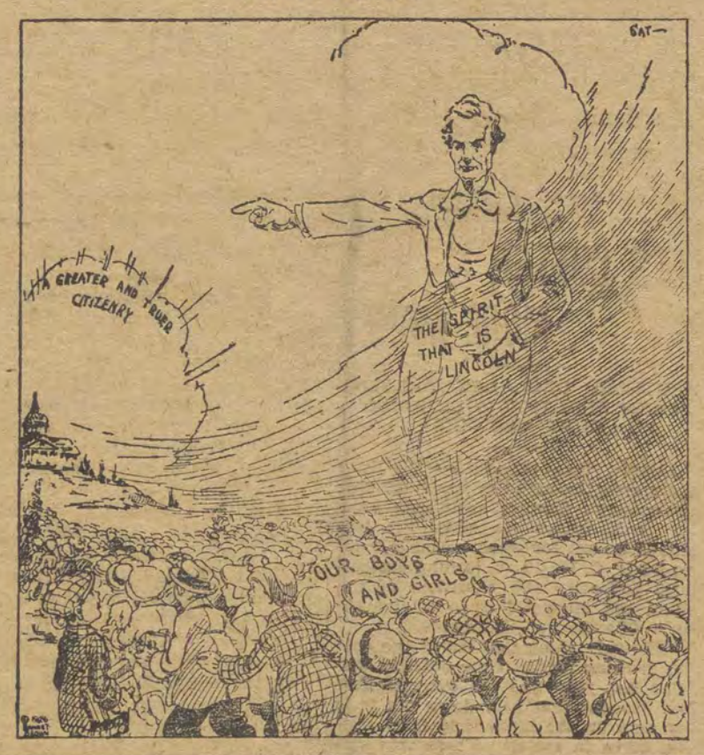
WILL CULP CANDIDATE FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Mr. Will G. Culp is now an avowed candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926. His formal announcement is in the candidate column this week.

Mr. Culp has been a prominent and active figure in the Republican party of Chilton County for several years. He just recently resigned as chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of the county, in which capacity he served the party successfully for several years.

He has never held an elective office. He has been deputy sheriff for some years, and has demonstrated an ability to handle public matters which makes sure his success as Tax Collector if he is nominated and elected.

Mr. Culp has the support of many strong friends and it is expected that he will make a hot race for the tax collector's job.



WILL BUILD GRAVEL ROAD

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 3.—The dream of a paved highway from Birmingham to Montgomery during the administration of Governor Brandon will not come true. Information at the state highway department Wednesday was to the effect that the engineers will propose to the commission the graveling of the highway from Montgomery to the Chilton county line and that contracts for paving be not let for one or two years. The highway commission has taken no action toward the placing of a surface on the Autauga county section but a decision must be made during the next few weeks as the work of grading the road is now in progress.

The engineers contend that one or two years should elapse before the paving is laid in order that the road may settle. It was stated at the highway department that a temporary gravel surface can be placed and that the highway can be used pending the laying of the permanent paving.

Work has been practically completed on the concrete paving in Chilton county and the contractor has indicated that the road will be open from the Autauga-Chilton line some time during February.

Their Guide

BIG BUSSES NOW RUN ON SCHEDULE TIME

Travelers between Birmingham and Montgomery and intermediate points are glad to note the return of the big busses to operation on regular schedule time at all points. For some time past the condition of the detours south of Clanton, together with bad weather conditions, has made the service of the big cars somewhat uncertain. Now that the new paved highway has been opened to traffic, there is to be no more delays and disappointments.

Discussing the bus service with The Union-Banner, Mr. Langley of Birmingham, one of the officials of the transportation company authorized this statement:

"You can say to the people of Clanton and Chilton County now that the highway is open to traffic south of Clanton, and that we are able to operate our big busses on schedule time, eliminating the delays and disappointments which have doubtless inconvenienced many during the recent period of bad roads and bad weathr.

"The Birmingham - Montgomery Transportation Company expects to put forth every effort in the future to give to the public between the cities of Birmingham and Montgomery, the best bus and passenger transfer service in the South. Our big cars are equipped and furnished in the best and most modern manner for the comfort and convenience of our passengers.

"We believe that, properly conducted, our service is destined to become soon a great factor in the business and recreational life of the people along our route, and we shall spare no effort and expense in keeping every phase of our business up to the standard that is demanded by a discriminating public."

People who travel on the busses are reminded by Mr. Langley, further, that they are fully protected by insurance against accident or injury in amounts up to as high as $30,000.00. This protection is automatically provided by the transportation company for each and every passenger who rides with them. There is also insurance protection for baggage of passengers.

The regular schedule of the busses in Clanton is as follows:

Going south arrive here at 9 a. m., 3 p. m., and 8 p. m.

Going north arrive here at 7:50 a. m., 2:50 p. m., and 8:50 p. m.

FAMOUS BAND TO PLAY IN MONTGOMERY ON SUNDAY

Lieutenant Commander John Philip Sousa, the "March King," and his famous Band of more than 100 musicians, the biggest Band in the world, will appear at the Auditorium in Montgomery next Sunday, February 14th, for matinee and night performances. This is the "Third of a Century Tour" as Mr. Sousa and his Band have been organized since 1892.

In spite of his seventy years, Mr. Sousa is as spry as ever. His present tour lasts 35 weeks and take him into 202 cities in 43 states and four Canadian provinces, where he conducts no less than 432 performances.

Mr. Sousa appeals to the American public so strongly that his coming is always a spectacular event. The Sousa business organization estimates that this season's performances will be attended by no less than one million persons.

"The Stars and Stripes Forever," said by many to be the greatest march ever written, and several of the other famous Sousa compositions will be played at the Montgomery concert on next Sunday.

Pud Walker left for Tuscaloosa last Monday to take a look at things around 'Bama.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Elmore spent Thursday shopping in Birmingham.

WARNING SOUNDED BY PARTY LEADERS

Washington, Feb. 5.—A warning to the democratic party "against making prices, low wages and poverty a campaign issue in the coming election" was sounded today in a statement by John H. Kirby, president of the Southern Tariff association.

The statement, which challenged the resolution introduced in the house by Representative Hull, democrat, Tennesse, sponsoring a downward revision of schedules, at the same time defended the Fordney-McCumber tariff act as a "prosperity produced for the South."

"Against the fallacies put forth by Congressman Hull," Mr. Kirby said, "we submit the arguments presented by Congressman Hudspeth of Texas, and the position of Georgia and Louisiana congressmen on the tariff, whose democracy is as sound and whose economies are much sounder than those of Congressman Hull."

FIDDLERS CONVENTION DREW BIG CROWD AT THORSBY

The fiddlers convention at Thorsby last Saturday night drew a record crowd, and proved to be a most entertaining event for everybody. There were plenty of fiddlers, and plenty of music of the good old time variety, composed of fiddles, guitars, banjos, mandolins, etc.

The program was begun by a quartet of singers consisting of Akins Collins, Jim Lecroy, David Childress, and Prof. Brown, with Miss Genie Collins at the piano. The evening's program was interspersed with several excellent numbers by these singers.

Watermelon Johnson of Haynes, was the first fiddler to appear, and he started the thing off by cracking three of the old time jigs in jam-up fashion.

Others coming in for a part on the program were Jim Courtney, Jim Robinson, Harley Ray, Ward, Charley Eiland, Price, F. Smith, J. C. Price, Fate Courtney, Bill Courtney.

If anybody thinks we are not growing a new crop of old time fiddlers as the aged ones pass out, they ought to hear Bill Courtney, a young man of scarcely 21 years, and some of the others who performed Saturday night.

The judges were J. D. Collins, J. O. Johnson, and Cary Martin. When they came to decide who was the best fiddler they couldn't decide between Watermelon Johnson, F. Smith and Harley Ray. By request of the judges these three again played three minutes each, after which first honor was given to F. Smith, who was awarded $5 in cash. Mr. Johnson was given second prize of $3. For the group players the honor was divided between Bill Courtney and his crew and Charley Eiland and his helpers, each group drawing $2 in cash.

The convention was put on by Prof. Bean and his associates at the Thorsby Public School.

Mr. Bean is greatly pleased with the success of the occasion, the proceeds of which will be a great help to the domestic science department of the school.

Some time ago Mr. Bean trained his students for a play which was rendered with splendid success both at Thorsby and Maplesville. He says he yet has the cast in working order and would be glad to carry it to any other place in the county.

DICK BROWN TRIED IN FEDERAL COURT

The trial of Dick Brown, charged with making liquor, was held in Federal court at Montgomery Tuesday. He was fined $100 and given a suspended sentence of one year in the penitentiary, pending good behavior.

Brown was arrested at a still in Coosa county by officers Gillespie and Foshee about a year ago.

BUSINESS SCHOOL TO OPEN IN CLANTON

The Georgia-Carolina School of Commerce is going to open a school at Clanton, provided they can secure a class of a sufficient number who are interested in taking courses which they offer.

Mr. J. H. Owens, representative of the school, is at the Wilson Hotel for a few days to explain the courses of study, rates of tuition and further details in which prospective students may be interested.

If you are interested in taking a business course of any kind right here at home, see Mr. Owens at once. This will not be a correspondence course. The class will be established right here in Clanton for day or night work to suit the convenience of the students.

As soon as a sufficient number of students have been enrolled to justify the class, Mr. Owens will announce the place where the class will assemble for study and practice.

Elsewhere in this paper you can find an advertisement that will tell you more about the school.

Mr. Owens is a splendid man, and we hope he may be able to get up the class for Clanton. There are doubtless a score or more people in this vicinity who ought to take advantage of the offerings of the school.

TOM ROCKETT CANDIDATE FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Mr. J. T. Rockett announces this week that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed himself at Tax Collector of Chilton County. Mr. Rockett has held down the job for the past five years and he has made an official record that is a credit to himself and the Republican party which put him in the office.

We might go on and tell our readers a lot of this, that and the other about Tom, but it is no use. You all know him perhaps; and besides, when it comes to getting folks told, Tom is a past master, and we rather expect that he will see you in due time and tell you all about his case.

BOARD OF REGISTRARS AT COURTHOUSE 12TH TO 18TH

Beginning Friday, February 12th, the Board of Registrars of Chilton County will resume their session at the court house, continuing there through the 18th.

We remind the people again now that those who have not already registered and who are entitled to register may appear before the board during this session and do so.

After the 18th the registration books will be closed. This will be the last chance for voters to register and qualify for voting this year.

Anyone in any Beat in the County can register at the court house from February 12th to 18th. Don't neglect this matter as this is your last chance.

THREE BABIES BORN TWO DEAD

Mrs. R. Q. Baker, who lives 4 miles from Verbena, on the Mitchell Dam road, gave birth to three babies Tuesday. The triplets were two boys and one girl. One of the boys was dead when born, the other died a short while after birth. The girl still lives and gives promise of being a fine healthy child.

MELLON MOVES TO MAKE DRY LAWS HARDER TO EVADE

Even Fiercer Fight Against Liquor to be Waged in United States During Coming Year.

Washington, Feb. 6.—In the face of another upheavel of words from proponents and opponents of prohibition, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is ready to submit to congress a series of amendments at the dry laws, aimed at reinforcing the government position in the never-ending rum war.

Mellon placed his approval on a program of changes in the national prohibition act and tariff laws drown up by Gen. L. C. Andrews, dry czar.

Andrews drafted the services of former Rep. Andrew J. Volstead, of Minnesota, author of the prohibition act; Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, and other dry leaders preparing the amendments.

A number of conferences were held with Attorney General Sargeant, who is understood to have ruled that the legislative proposals meet all constitutional requirements.

It was disclosed that the Volstead Act, as passed and subsequently amended by congress, does not mean exactly what its author intended. There were many glaring knot holes which bootleggers have been able to climb, while the act is so ineffective in many particulars that U. S. Attorneys have emplayed customs and internal revenue laws wherever possible in prohibition prosecutions.

A number of Andrews' amendments are understood to bring the law nearer to what was originally intended.

Coincident with completion of the legislative pogram, Andrews announced that he had placed most of his prohibition administrators on probation.

"Several are doing excellent work, but the rest are on probation status," Andrews said.

"It has come to the point where they must deliver the goods of prepare to see their places filled by men who can do it."

SAM PATE CANDIDATE FOR TAX ASSESSOR

The announcement of Mr. Sam Pate as a candidate to succeed himself as Tax Assessor of Chilton County appears elsewhere in this issue of The Union-Banner.

Sam has assessed taxes in Chilton County for the past five years. He is perfectly frank to say that he likes the job and wants the people to let him keep on assessing for another four years after his present term expires a year hence.

Sam is a Republican. He was elected by the Republicans, has served as a Republican, and seeks re-election as Republican. He has made a good official, one that reflects credit upon himself and the party which put him in the office.

He makes no statement to the voters this week besides his formal announcement, but he indicated that he would "come out" with something for the voters to think about right soon.

One-half of the fertilizer value is in urine and this is lost if the bedding of the animal is not sufficient to absorb it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Smith and children and Mr. Wiley Smith motored to Montgomery Friday to visit Mr. Charles Miller, who is seriously ill.

Statement of the Condition of

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Clanton, Ala., Close of Business December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Loans,	$253,180.82
Overdrafts,	246.99
Banking House,	2,700.00
Furniture-Fixtures,	2,727.25
Bonds,	20,400.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	471,300.11
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	78,934.58
Deposits,	$656,620.59
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

The Peoples Savings Bank, opening its doors for business on the morning of December 7, 1901, received deposits from twenty-one citizens of Chilton County... An examination of the books of the bank reveals that some of these original depositors have passed away; some have moved away; but over one-half of the original number or their direct heirs, still maintain accounts with The Old Reliable. Further examination reveals that at the end of the year 1901, the number of depositors had increased more than one hundred per cent, and out of these over fifty per cent of them or their direct heirs still do their banking business with this bank.

In 1901, The Peoples Savings Bank, a mere youngster, provided its customers with Safety and Service. Today, this same old institution, the trail blazer, Chilton County's first bank, the veteran that has weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century, provides its customers with that same safety and service.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS ON OUR RECORD

Condensed Statement of the Condation of the

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

At the Close of Business January 4, 1926

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts,		$476,727.53
Overdrafts,		1,713.73
United States Bonds,		30,000.00
Banking House,		10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures,		3,236.98
Redemption Fund,		1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank,		2,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	$227,104.40
Stocks and Bonds,	58,827.75
		285,932.15
TOTAL,		$811,688.90

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	34,854.78
Circulation,	28,800.00
Deposits,	698,034.12
Rediscounts,	(NONE)
Bills Payable,	(NONE)
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95

Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59

Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12

TOTAL RESOURCES MORE THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

Your nickels and dimes will buy lots in this big new 5 and 10 cent store

V. J. ELMORE

5c, - 10c, - and - $1.00 - Store

Look for the big red front--Connel old grocery store stand

A SPECIAL SALE FOR SATURDAY

25c

10 qt. galvanized steel Pail, can be used for well bucket, milk, or water bucket.

No. 1, 70c——No. 2, 80c
No. 3, 90c

Good heavy galvanized steel Tubs.

60c

Brass rub boards—nothing to wear out.

40c

8 qt. steel galvanized well buckets. Cheap at the price.

50c

Brooms—this is a real value. 4-string brooms—very good weight.

15c

Floor Mats, good size. You will have to see them to appreciate them.

Local Items About Folks

Miss Bettie Morris Gardner spent last week end in Verbena with relatives.

Miss Margie Murphy, who teaches at Jemison, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. P. Murphy.

Miss Irene Jones of Bessemer spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones.

Dr. J. P. Crumpton made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Mrs. J. A. Hester returned Wednesday from a visit to relatives in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodyard and children and Miss Claytine Tucker of Birmingham motored down and spent Sunday in Clanton.

Mr. Walter Bentley, a professor at Howard College, spent the week end in town with friends.

Mr. Span Jones of Mulberry was in town Tuesday.

Miss Venie Fox and Messrs. W. E. Pearce and Clyde Weaver of Birmingham were guests of Miss Goree Calloway for the week end.

Dr. and Mrs. P. T. Hinkle and Mrs. Claud White motored to Montgomery Thursday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weekley of Montgomery were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor for the last week end.

Mr. J. Q. Wade made a business trip to Montgomery Tuesday.

Mr. Tom Pyron and Miss Martha Pyron have gone to Birmingham to reside.

Mr. E. P. Guy of Montgomery was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood of Lock 12 were shopping in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Edwards of Tampa, Fla., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Calloway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ruffin and son, Bronson, visited friends in Thorsby Sunday.

Mr. Jim Rasberry spent Sunday with his parents at Mulberry.

Don't forget to see the used cars at Clanton Motor Car Co. Some mighty good bargains.

SHERIF'S SALE — REAL ESTATE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, and to me directed, whereby I, as Seriff of said county, was commanded to make the sum of thirty-two and 77-100 dollars, principal and interest, and twenty-two and 35-100 dollars, cost of suit, the amount of a certain judgment and costs therein, obtained at the July Term, 1925 of said Court, against W. W. Wilson in favor of O. O. Roper, I have levied upon and will sell to the highest bidder for cash at public sale, at the court house door of said county, between the hours of 11 o'clock, a. m., and 4 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the 1st day of March, 1926, all the right, title and interest of the above-named W. W. Wilson, in and to the following described real estate, viz:

The southwest fourth of the northeast fourth of section twenty-eight, township twenty-one, range thirteen, situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This, the 27th day of Jan., 1926.

T. J. LITTLEJOHN,
Sheriff.

Posted at the court house door on Jan. 27th, 1926.

T. J. LITTLEJOHN,
2-4-3t-ch. Sheriff.

666
is a Prescription for
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,
Preventing Pneumonia

MARTIN BARBER SHOP

I am now located in the Eiland Building on the Montgomery-Birmingham Highway and am prepared to do first class barber work at all times. Your patronage is appreciated.

ADOLPHUS MARTIN
Thorsby, Alabama

AROUND NORTH CLANTON

Joe Grooms and mother now live in the house formerly occupied by Horace Headley. Mrs. Grooms has charge of the North Clanton store.

Jonathan Headley has moved to North Clanton. He is now building an addition to the little cottage which has been vacant for some time.

The Blackmon girls spent Sunday with Uncle Jeff Blankenship.

Ten snow white Spitz puppies were the center of attraction of a number of callers at the Leitzman home Sunday afternoon.

The young people of the community met at the home of J. A. Edwards one night last week in honor of Arthur Edwards and his friend, Mr. Pitts from Birmingham.

Lum Wilson and family of Collins Chapel were guests at the home of his brother, Irving Wilson, Sunday.

Miss Mattie Lou Arant, who has been on the sick list for some time resumes her studies at school this week.

Sam Edwards of Birmingham was at home Sunday.

Mrs. Hall Tyus' sister, Mrs. Hand, from Newton, Ala., is visiting relatives in the vicinity.

Mr. Deloach was reported quite sick Sunday.

Mrs. Hanley, of Birmingham, is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. F. Rowland, who has been quite ill. At this writing she is greatly improved.

W. H. Kennedy is out on his semi-annual trip tuning pianos, accompanied by his daughter, Mary, of Wetumpka.

Kin Vinson, Dave Mims, Webb Parrish and Mr. Thomas spent Monday and Tuesday on a hunting trip to Crenshaw County.

COLORED P. T. A. TO MEET

The Chilton County Parent-Teacher Association for Colored Schools will hold its second annual session Friday, February 12th, from 9:30 a. m. to 4: p. m. The local Parent-Teacher Association reports the type of work which has been done through their P. T. A. this term.

Miss Mary E. Foster, the State Supervisor and Directress of P. T. A. work, will give an address. You will be inspired if you hear her. The P. T. A. singers will delight their hearers with many beautiful selections, of which Mrs. Lela Woods is directress.

Our white friends are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

ETTA CREAGER COATES,
County Supervisor.

Read Your Home Town Paper.

Safety Service

A large motor car traverses the streets of this section, bearing the above inscription. What words could better be used to convey a proper idea of a well-ordered BANK?

"Safety Service" is always implied in connection with a bank. Our highest ambition is to render Safety Service.

THE BANK OF THORSBY
Thorsby, Alabama

LESS COTTON MORE MONEY

HASTINGS DECLARES PRESENT FARM PRACTICE WILL BANKRUPT FARMERS

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special.)—"We have again seen the result of too much cotton acreage. Strange as it may seem the more cotton we make the less money we get for what we make," declared H. G. Hastings, leading agricultural authority and chairman of the Farm and Market Bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"The only thing that saved the cotton growing farmer from outright disaster last year was the extreme heat and drought that held down the yield per acre on the more than forty million acres in cotton. There was sufficient cotton acreage planted to have made with favorable season somewhere near twenty million bales and a price of 10 cents per pound or less.

"One of the Cotton Growers' Associations recently announced that the 1925 cotton crop will sell for four hundred million dollars less than it cost to make it, making reasonable allowance for labor cost. What sort of folks are we anyhow to keep on growing at a loss? There is no profit to the farmer in planting all or nearly all cotton and buying all or nearly all the food and grain consumed by family and live stock.

"Our farm operations and our farm pocketbooks are never going to get right until we quit spreading cotton over the whole South only to draw our meat and meal and other food stuffs as well as grain, etc., from Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha at prices two to three times what cost would be if made on home acres.

"We have been trying to carry on a farm system based on a one cash crop, which has impoverished every people everywhere in the world that have tried it. It is steadily impoverishing our farmers here in the South. There is only one safe farm system. That is to produce on home acres so far as possible every pound of food, grain and forage needed for family and live stock.

"A good all-year-round home vegetable garden, plenty of corn and oats, forage and hay crops, to see you through without buying more, cows, hogs and chickens. All these cut cotton costs, afford the best of healthful living and leave the farmer owning his cotton instead of owing it at the end of the year."

CANDIDATES

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. T. Rockett, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. G. Culp, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. M. Pate, Thorsby, Ala.)

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

FORESTRY LETTER

A greater percentage of survival of young trees transplanted from the woods to ornamental or shade tree sites will result if greater care is taken in their selecteion and handling, according to the State Commission of Forestry. Young trees growing thruout the woodlands lack the advantages of those raised in nurseries. Through human aid the latter have received their proper proportion of sunlight, specially adapted soil, pruning and other requirements tending toward a suitable balance of top, stem and root system. The young trees of the forest, however, have been competing among themselves for these advantages and comparatively few of them are of a well balanced development during their early stages of growth.

Where there is an abundance of young trees in the nearby woods, however, their comparative cheapness may offset the better quality of nursery grown stock. As a rule, the younger the tree the less the difference as compared with those raised in the nursery. In general, the weakening effect of severe competition does not show in forest grown stock until the individual trees reach sapling size.

The natural desire of a tree planter is for the larger specimens. However, the prospect of successful transplanting of forest trees is in inverse ratio to their age. The younger the tree, the better chances it has for survival in its new site. This is due to many circumstances, especially to the proportion of the root system that it is possible to remove when the tree is taken up. It is very essential that the roots, particularly the smaller ones, be kept as intact as possible. In the case of a larger tree it is seldom practicable to bring up all of the roots excepting at a prohibitive expense. With small saplings and seedlings, however, the roots can often be removed entire with very little difficulty. The younger trees removed in this way will usually overtake and exceed in growth the larger ones which have been transplanted at the sacrifice of a considerable portion of their root systems.

WOMAN DOING GOOD WORK

"I have been bad off with stomach and liver trouble and bloating for many years. No doctors or medicine helped me. On the advice of my druggist, I bought a bottle of MAYR'S "One Dose Will Convince" and I don't want to miss a single dose. It has given me more benefit than all the medicine I have ever taken. I feel that I am doing good to recommend it to others." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Devaughn and family motored to Montgomery Friday to see their daughter.

Miss Libbie Dykes spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Mack Culver.

Dr. J. P. Crumpton has been making several trips lately to the home of his father and mother, both of whom have been seriously sick. We are glad that recent reports say they are better.

INFANT DEAD

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thomast n died Thursday night, February 4th. Burial was at Pine Hill cemetery at Jemison.

..The Union-Banner is $1.50 a year

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

Don't forget to see the used cars at Clanton Motor Car Co. Some mighty good bargains.

AUCTION

Saturday, February 20

At Dexter, 8 mi. east of Wetumpka, on Rockford and Equality Road

SALE

The W. S. Austin Plantation, 400 Acres, with 4

Settlements will be subdivided into small tracts and sold at absolute auction. Terms: 1-3 cash, balance in 1, 2, and 3 years.

Come! Big Day For All Come!

PRIZES, PRIZES, PRIZES—Free gold pieces and one fine full-blood Holstein bull given away free; also several full-blood heifers given away free. Come early and get your free tickets. Each person will have a free chance at the cattle. A $5.00 gold piece will be given to the one who will ride this bull 50 yards. Come and see the sight free, but stay behind the fence.

Contest—Cash prize to the best old time fiddler. Everybody bring your fiddles, guitars or banjos. OLD Men's Foot Race—A sack of granulated sugar for the man above 60 years old who wins a 50-yard foot race. Ugly Man Contest—One sack of sugar for the ugliest man on the ground, the ladies to be the judges. Come everybody. Your friends will be there. Come—C—A—1000—people.

Hear two of the world's best auctioneers both crying the same bid at the same time. They look alike, dress alike, talk alike; they will entertain you. Most like a circus to hear them. Music by brass band. Bring your check boo kalong. You might decide to bid on something. Remember we will sell 4 good mules, farming tools, cows, hogs, trucks, and many other things.

Sold by Dr. J. E. Gowan and

Tenn.-Ala. Auction Co.

Clanton, Alabama

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

LOST DOG—Black and white spotted extra large full blood hound, named "Lead." Left about 2 weeks ago. $5.00 reward for dog or information leading to recovery. W. A. Glass, Jemison, Rt. 3. 2-11-3t-pd

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

FOR SALE—10,000,000 Cabbage and Bermuda Onion Plants; $1.00 per thousand; prompt shipments. Dorris Seed Co., Valdosta, Ga. 1-28-4t-c

LOST—One basket ball score book, between Stanton and Thorsby, on Friday, January 30. This is the property of Stanton Junior High School ball team. Finder will receive reward. Leo C. Langston, Athletic Director. 2-4-3t-ch

COTTON SEED—Half and half, $1 per bushel. See A. P. Vinson, Clanton, Route 6. 1t-pd.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
* *
* A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens *
* *
* SMITH & STEPHENS *
* Attorneys-At-Law *
* Office in Smith Building *
* CLANTON, ALABAMA *
* *
* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS SUBJECT TO ROAD DUTY

It is the order of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Ala., that all persons subject to public road duty can pay $5.50 to the Judge of Probate on or before March 1. Failing to pay, will have to work seven days.

This fee can not be paid after the above date.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-28-5t-ch Judge of Probate.

COUNTY BOARD TO MEET ON FEBRUARY 19TH

The County Board of Education will hold its February meeting on the 19th, instead of the 26th. All persons are urged to take due notice and come before the Board on that day with any business they may have to present.

Col. Thos. W. Millican and George Lovewell made a business trip to Linden Monday.

SALE FOR PARTITION

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

By virtue of an order of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Ala., made on the 21st day of January, 1926, I, Victor J. Heard, the Commissioner named in said order, will sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public sale, in front of court house, at Clanton, Alabama, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the 15th day of February, 1926, for the purpose of distribution among Eddie Williams, Allie Jones, Hartellene Culp, Leonard Williams, and Horace Williams, joint owners, on the following terms: cash, the following described property, viz.:

The S½ of the N½ of SW¼, Sec. 32, Township 22, Range 14; SE¼ of NE¼, Sec. 6, Township 21, Range 14, containing one hundred acres, situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This 22nd day of January, 1926.
VICTOR J. HEARD,
1-28-3t-ch Commissioner.

OLIVER

WALKING PLOWS

Between The Plow Handles

Walk in the furrow between the handles of an Oliver plow and you will know why it is used by so many farmers.

You will find it easy to do a good job of plowing with an Oliver because it sheds the dirt, turns a well pulverized furrow and runs smooth and steady.

When you buy don't be satisfied with an imitation—be sure you get the Genuine Oliver Plow. We have in stock the type that is exactly suited to your plowing conditions.

JONES
HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALA.

J. MELL MARTIN
Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.
And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101
J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

SHRIMP---OYSTER OUTLOOK IS GOOD

SUCCESSFUL SEASON ANTICIPATED BY GATHERERS AND CANNING FACTORIES

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Bayou La Batre.—With the formal opening of the shrimp and oyster season in the Mississippi Sound region, indications point to one of the greatest and most successful seasons in many years. A large number of boats are being used gathering the oyster and shrimp, and the eight canning factories of the district are expecting great activity during the coming weeks.

A wide area in the Mississippi Sound through Grant's Pass from Mobile Bay is covered by the oyster trade. Besides the oyster beds in the Sound, there are several small islands which are said to yield large quantities of oysters each year.

Motor packets will run between Mobile and the shrimping grounds to purchase the day's catch from the boats, it is learned. Boats will also be used to dispatch oysters and shrimp to the canneries here.

State oyster bottoms in East Portersville Bay and off Cedar Point were opened to tonging for the first time this season. In May and June last year 35,000 barrels of seed oysters were planted on these bottoms by the State Department of game and fisheries. It is now estimated that there are approximately 100,000 barrels of oysters on the bottoms as a result

ALABAMA BRIEFS

The fifteenth annual session of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Alabama Methodist Conference convened Tuesday at the Dauphinway Baptist Church and continued throughout Friday. Represented at the conference were delegates from 716 auxiliaries representing more than 20,000 members. In addition to these a number of interested visitors were in attendance.

Governor Brandon is considering a parole for John George, 84 year-old moonshiner, now in Wegra mines. It developed that George, after serving in the Confederate Army, attempted to serve with the Union forces, but would not be accepted. He bases his plea for clemency on his having been a Confederate soldier, it is said.

Anniston 1926 sidewalk paving program will call for an expenditure of approximately $24,000, according to city officials who are mapping out the projects to be undertaken during the year and putting them into ordinance form for submission to the city council.

Jasper's water system is to be improved until it conforms in every particular to specifications of the Southeastern Underwriters' Association. The Alabama Water Company, which owns the system, has announced that $26,000 is to be spent on the plant, beginning February 15th.

Lum Scott, a farmer living near Ohatchie, was murdered and his wife brutally beaten over the head with a hammer by a band of four men who appeared at the Scott home recently. No reason for the crimes have been learned.

The basketball tournament of the Normal school districts, including about 50 boys' teams and 15 girls' teams, will be held Feb. 25, at the S. N. S. gymnasium, Jacksonville. The entries are being made now.

Despite continued bad weather, Madison County roads have been worked regularly through the winter and are in better shape than at any time in the county's history, reports from Huntsville state.

As part of the underprivileged child program of the year, the Kiwanis Club of Albany-Decatur will bring a prominent specialist in children's diseases to the Twin Cities in June or July to conduct a one-day clinic.

The Demopolis Chamber of Commerce is waging a campaign for the completion of the Dixie Overland highway between Demopolis and Livingston, a distance of 30 miles.

A regional conference on stewardship, brotherhood and missions in Alabama, was held in the First Methodist Church, Birmingham, last week with approximately 1,100 delegates present.

The Northern Alabama Railroad will erect a new passenger station at Jasper, beginning very soon, reports from the Walker County metropolis show.

A Metzger, for many years engaged in the dry goods business at Huntsville, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities are listed at $10,000 and assets at $5,000.

Both in numbers and in value, there has been a marked decrease in the state's cattle and hogs since 1920, figures compiled by F. W. Gist, at Auburn show.

The term of the Pike County white schools will be a month longer this year than last, it is reported. The term will now run 6½ months.

Total of $5,080.50 was paid into the schools of Morgan County by the payment of poll taxes, it was shown by tabulation of H. H. Hill, tax collector.

William English, a farmer living near Florence, was found dead in a field near his home recently. Indigestion is believed to have killed him.

Deposits in one Huntsville bank showed a gain of almost $250,000 in three months recently.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by a certain mortgage executed by Hattie E. Jones and husband, John C. Jones, dated November 24th, 1924, to J. E. McCullough, said mortgage conveying the hereinafter described real estate, which mortgage appears on record in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record Vol. 202, page 304, the undersigned mortgagee will on Friday, the 26th day of Februay, 1926, in front of the post office in Stanton, Chilton County, Alabama, within the hours of legal sale, sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate situated in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

The NW¼ of the NE¼ of Section 28, Township 20, Range 12, the above described being the identical real estate described and conveyed in said mortgage. The proceeds of said sale will be applied according to the terms of said mortgage.

This, the 25th day of January, 1926.
J. E. McCULLOUGH,
Mortgagee.
THOS. A. CURRY,
1-28-4t Attorney for Mortgagee.

FIVE GALLONS PAINT FREE

A large paint concern, in furtherance of an advertising and introductory campaign now in progress, offers to give, free of charge, five gallons of its best house paint, any color, to one property owner at each postoffice or on each rural route in this county. This concern wants its paint on a house in each locality this season, which is the purpose of this remarkable offer. It also wants a local salesman in each county. Persons interested are requested to write the Kero Paint Company, Dept. 26, Louisville, Kentucky. 1t(Adv.)

Takes the Place of "Drastic" Calomel

Never take another dose of the old style "raw" calomel. There is a newer and more improved kind known as Pepsinated Calomel. It does not tear through your system like a streak of lightning. People who are ill or suffering with biliousness, constipation, indigestion, and especially with backache, headache and torpid liver can secure immediate and complete relief with this new mild Calomel. Hereafter when you buy calomel, always demand the "pep-si na ted" kind. It is better for you, for it is purer, milder and more beneficial to your entire system In 25c and 50c packages. For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton, Ala.

5 Beautiful Flowers Free!

Write for Hastings' Catalog

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN,
ATLANTA, GA.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

—?—

In pursuance and in accorance with the terms and directions of a commission, issued and addressed to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, bearing date the 18th day of January, A. D., 1926, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, in front of the Court House of said County, on Thursday, the 18th day of February, A. D., 1926, at 12 o'clock M., all that certain real property, which is described as follows:

W½ of the SW¼, SE¼ of the NW¼, ten acres on the South side of NE¼ of the NW¼, and NW¼ of the NE¼, less ten acres in the SE corner, all in Sec. 24, Township 23, Range 14, Chilton County, Alabama; which said land is to be sold under the decree of said Court, for the purpose of division among the several owners thereof, who are as follows, to-wit: Laura J. Lloyd, Mollie Moritz, W. E. Honeycutt, Emmie Harrell, Mertis Reynolds, Edna Robinson, Alpha Honeycutt, Julian Thompson, Earl Honeycutt, Ralph Honeycutt, Emmett Honeycutt, Ulrica Oglesby, Chas. E. Honeycutt, J. L. Honeycutt, Jr., Jewel Thomas, Essie M. Shaw, Jessie B. Durham, R. L. Honeycutt, J. C. Honeycutt, H. H. Honeycutt, Erby McCrary, Alice Wideman, Olin Martin, and Inez Martin.

R. M. HONEYCUTT,
1-21-4t. Commissioner.

W. H. Robinson of Beat 16 was a visitor to Clanton Monday. He reports that Mrs. Robinson is seriously sick at her home.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Circuit Court, in Equity—E. C. Hayes, Complainant, vs. Zeleemer Hayes, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of Omar L. Reynolds that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that her place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address can not be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that application be made in The Union-Banner, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Zeleemer Hayes, to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 3rd day of March, 1926, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

Done at office in Clanton, this 1st day of February, 1926.
W. D. SPIGENER,
2-4-4t-ch Register.

Clyde Mayhall left Monday for a short trip to Hartselle.

Stop Night Cough This New Way

Quick Relief Thru Simple Treatment

Thousands who have been unable to sleep nights due to irritating night coughing can now obtain practically instant relief and sleep soundly the very first night—through a simple but wonderfully effective treatment.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the throat soothed and cleared, coughing stops quickly, you sleep undisturbed, and the entire cough condition soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

90c DOWN

Puts This Outfit In Your Home

The Lowest and best Offer that we Have ever made

Remember $1.05 for Your Old Iron—Any Old Iron!

Combination Offer:

Western Electric Iron. An evenly balanced, evenly heated, 6-pound iron, with a non-kink cord.	$3.95
Rid-Jid Ironing Table. An open-end, folding ironing table. Solid, steady, will not wobble. Easy to set up and take down.	5.00
Value	8.95
Special Price	7.95
Allowance on Your Old Iron	1.05
Net Cost	6.90

Only 90c Down—Balance $1 a Month

ALABAMA POWER CO.

55 Stores in Alabama

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

Electric ranges are now in use in 125 Alabama farm homes.

One of the best crops that the farmer can cultivate during his leisure hours is the love for good literature.

By pruning trees before spraying the farmer not only has less surface to spray but he can do an effective job in less time.

It is estimated that $500,000,000 was spent for radio receiving sets in 1925, as compared with $10,000,000 in 1922.

It is now a question for America to conserve and build up her soil fertility in order that famine may not blight the nation as the years march on.

In October, 1923, Jeff Smith, a Franklin County, Tenn., farmer, bought a brood sow for $20 and since then she has farrowed 62 pigs in 5 litters. He raised 47 of them. Sales to date total $846, according to the Tennessee Extxension Service.

Monthly consumption of butter in the United States has increased nearly 30,000,000 pounds since 1920, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Consumption in 1925 is estimated at 159,000,000 pounds a month compared with 130,000,000 pounds in 1920.

Five Texas farmers each cultivating five acres in cotton reported making 1.504 to 1,606 pounds of lint cotton per acre in 1925, according to a press dispatch from Dallas. Many other farmers took part in this contest which is sponsored by a daily newspaper in Dallas, but these five were the leaders. The highest yield in 1924 was 1,037 pounds per acre.

The Senate of the United States has passed the Cummins Bill legalizing the use of corn and fruit sugars in canning and preserving. Corn growers are elated because they are looking to sugar as an outlet for part of their surplus corn. Already large quantities of corn is being used in this way. It is said that one bushel of corn weighing 56 pounds can be made into 25 pounds of sugar, 15 pounds of syrup, 14 pounds of gluten, or 1 1-2 p unds of corn oil. Over 60 products are now being made from corn.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE COVERED

with a fire insurance policy in one of the companies we represent. Then you need have no fear of fire in a financial way. You can rest comfortably in the confidence that if a fire should occur at your house, the loss, large or little, will be paid promptly by the company you are insured in. Do it to-day.

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.

Days We'll Never Forget

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION COMES AROUND TO REASON

It will be interesting to note that the Alabama State Highway Commission has at last come to itself and announced a policy of reason and practical common sense in road construction. They say they are going to grade and gravel the new highway through Autauga county and wait a couple of years before they put on the concrete paving.

The regrettable part of the story is that the highway commission has gone on blundering for four years before discovering a law of concrete road construction that has been obvious to thousands of casual observers. A farmer, lawyer, doctor, or any practical man can see that the only sensible plan to build concrete roads is to first have a permanent foundation that is seasoned and settled. It has been evident that the cause of the breaks in the road thru Chilton County is that it was laid on green fills. Anybody ought to have known that such construction was not safe. We believe the highway commission knew it was not safe.

If they will grade the road and build the fills thru Autauga County, gravel the road and turn traffic on it for two years, before concreting, then, granting of course that they put down good concrete, there will be no complaints about cracks and breaks in the road.

For a road as expensive as that thru Chilton County, it is foolish for a man to attempt to excuse his mistakes by saying that he knew it was unsafe to put the paving on green fills, but it was done in order to hurry up construction and opening of the road, and that they figured on having to replace a certain percentage of it. The road thru Chilton County could have been graded and graveled and opened for traffic much quicked that it was concreted.

And our guess is that the graveling would not have cost nearly as much as that part of the concrete that has broken and cracked.

The best modern diet standards call for two servings of vegetables, besides potatoes, for each of us daily.

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

HERE THEY COME— THE CANDIDATES

Beginning with this issue of The Union-Banner, and from now until November, we shall have with us a number of candidates for county offices. For some weeks a few of the more or less politically inclined have been shivering and hesitating to jump in and break the ice. Monday Tom Rockett got so close to the edge that he lost his balance and fell overboard. Before he hit the water, Sam Pate and Will Culp took the plunge and all three of them came up together. Perceiving that these are in, others will doubtless follow in rapid succession. This is written Monday night, and we would not be surprised if some should come in before the paper is printed for this week.

There is promise of a good crop of candidates when all the entries have been made. The race this year is open for the election of a Sheriff, Tax Collector, Tax Assessor, two members of the court of county commissioners, two members of the County Board of Education, and a representative in the Legislature. There will be one or more candidates for each of these offices in the Republican primary, and of course the Democrats will have a number who will be seeking the favor of the voters of the county.

The primary will come off on August 10th, between now and which time there are many long hot days on the program. It is going to be a sizzling summer for the office seekers, no doubt.

THE PAPER FROM THE OLD HOME TOWN

Talk about your literature
And papers up to date,
About the Legislature
And doin's through the State—
To me they ain't comparin'
Though I look the world aroun'
To the little newsy paper
From the old home town.

There's something brewin' in the air
The day the paper comes.
Ma she goes about her work
And either sings or hums—
But I just get so restless
Till the postman brings it down,
And I'm first to grab the paper
From the old home town.

Ma comes into the settin' room
And lets the dishes go
And listens while I read about
The folks we used to know,
For births and deaths and land deals
And weddin's, too, abound—
All are mighty interestin'
From the old home town.

I know it ain't so classical
As these big dailies are,
That tell about the prize fights
And latest movie star,
But just for my enjoyment
There's nothing I have found
Like the little newsy paper
From the old home town.
—Mrs. Effie Crawford.
Indianola, Ia.

Lice do most injury to cattle in late winter and early spring.

Young cattle and pigs should be carefully examined for lice an intestinal worms at this season.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of February 7, 1901.

Senator W. R. Oliver has introduced a bill in the legislature to establish the Mullins School district in Chilton County.

Representative Pounds introduced a bill in the legislature to incorporate the town of Thorsby. The bill passed the house by a vote of 65 to 0.

Dr. W. E. Stewart went to the capitol city Saturday.

Mr. Russell McDaniel of Montgomery spent Sunday with his parents.

Tom Gullahorn of Parkwood was here Monday.

Mr. Frank Crichton is spending a few days in Chicago.

Tax Collector T. J. Hubbard was in town last Friday.

Mrs. F. M. Woods visited Montevallo Monday.

Born to Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes a fine girl.

Mr. C. J. Stewart has sold his gin to Mr. J. L. Maddox.

Mr. E. Driver of Cooper was a visitor here yesterday.

KEEPING COWS MEANS $86,160 EXTRA INCOME IN CHILTON

An added income of $86,160 a year is enjoyed by Chilton County farmers indirectly as a result of keeping cows, according to the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. This income is in the form of a more fertile soil due to the manure of the dairy cows in this county. On the basis of practically a $20.00 fertilizer valuation per animal per year, this means a total of $86,160 added to the richness of the soil in this county every twelve months.

Manure is a source of the most valuable plant food obtainable, says the Institute, but to preserve it at its highest value or efficiency, it should either be put directly to the fields each day or conserved until such a time as the opportunity offers itself to spread it. Feeding trials have proven that an ordinary cow, while putting from 15% to 18% of the total energy of the food she consumes into milk, actually returns to the soil 80% of the elements of soil fertility in her feed in the form of manure. This has led many dairymen to discover that the purchase of good concentrate feeds for their cows not only more than pays for itself in increased milk production but that it also supplies necessary food to farm crops that are expensive when bought in the form of commercial fertilizer.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and
Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

"Chuckle" Column

MY VALENTINE!

We met her. And looked into
Her eyes until we were dizzy.
And she looked into our
Twinklers. And we both sighed.
A few nights later, we were
Parked on a bench under a
Shady tree and a giggling
Moon. We held her hand. Then—
She held ours. Our stiff shirt
Front cracked in rhythm to our Heavy breathing. Our Adam's
Apple got jammed under our Collar button as we popped
The question. She lowered her
Eyes and then shifted her head
To the padded shoulder on
Our $9.98 blue serge suit—
And sweetly stuttered "Yes."
Wedding Bells.
Then there came a St. Valentine's
Day. Chivalry was still in our
Makeup. Proudly we strode home
With a splendid bouquet of Roses
That had cost us every cent we
Saved out of our lunch money
For a month. As soon as we Stepped over the threshold, she Spotted the gif. With her arms
Extended and a surprised look
On her face, she came forward
And—
Proceeded to
Violently grab us by the coat
Lapels—push us back and forth—
And inquire as to whether or not
We were "in our right mind" and—
"Where have you been gambling
Again" and then she started to weep
That "we had something to hide"
Or—"we wouldn't be bringing her
Any funeral offerings"—and, and Etc.
Words Failed Us!

MORAL: SEND YOUR GIFT BY MAIL!

———§§§———

"Women give men full blame for petting 'disease' "—says a newspaper headline. Yes, but it's funny how many women there are who are willing to be victims and stay in quarantine for the rest of their lives.

———§§§———

Erased!

Man told his wife "he made a mistake when he married her." So she corrected it. Now—she's a widow.

———§§§———

The only way to make some women keep a secret is not to tell 'em one.

———§§§———

"Romeo too much in love to find job and support Juliet"—states news item. Shades of Shakespeare! Couldn't he, at least, have gotten Juliet a job?

———§§§———

Many a home has seen its "Teapot Dome" days. Hubby sassed the wife. Teapot handy. Hubby's dome unguarded. Crash. Tell it to the judge.

———§§§———

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"Things at home may not be quite as romantic as they are in th' movies --but, they're a darned sight more substantial-"

———§§§———

FAMOUS LAST LINES

(Wife to smaller half)—"If you were up with a sick friend last night, how come all these I. O. U. slips in your pocket?"

———§§§———

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

COUNTY LINE

There will be three one-act negro plays given at County Line school house, February 20, at 7:30 o'clock. Admission, 10c and 20c. Everybody come and bring someone with you. There is fun for all.—Willie Belle Graves.

It is true that fall is the proper season for planting oats in Alabama, but spring oats should pay if you are short on feed.

Cramped and Suffered

"My back and head would ache, and I had to go to bed," says Mrs. W. L. Ennis, of Worthville, Ky. "I just could not stay up, for I would cramp and suffer so. I was very nervous. My children would 'get on my nerves.' It wasn't a pleasure for me to try to go anywhere, I felt so bad.

"My mother had taken

CARDUI

For Female Troubles

at one time, so she insisted that I try it. I took four bottles of Cardui, and if one should see me now they wouldn't think I had ever been sick.

"I have gained twenty pounds, and my cheeks are rosy. I feel just fine. I am regular and haven't the pain.

"Life is a pleasure. I can do my work with ease. I give Cardui the praise."

Cardui has relieved many thousands of cases of pain and female trouble, and should help you, too.

Take Cardui.

At All Druggists'

E-100

NOTICE TO CREDITORS OF FIRST MEETING

In the District Court of the United States for the Middle District of Alabama.—In Bankruptcy.

In the matter of S. B. Rainwater, Post Office Pletcher, Chilton County, Alabama.

The aforesaid party having been adjudged a Bankrupt, under the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to Establish a Uniform System of Bankruptcy Throughout the United States" approved July 1st, 1898, meeting of the Creditors of said Bankrupt is called at the office of the undersigned Referee, in the United States Court House, Montgomery, Alabama, on the 18th day of February, next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to make proof of debts, and for the election of a Trustee, and such other matters as are necessary and required by the Act of Congress aforesaid.

Montgomery, Ala., February 3, 1926.

M. S. CARMICHAEL,
Referee.

1t-pd.

Last Call for COTTON SEED—

I expect to load out my last car of cotton seed on Friday & Saturday of this week. Bring what seed you have to sell or excxhange for meal on those days. J. N. DENNIS.

LIBERTY HILL

The Liberty Hill - Cedar Grove Singing Society met here Sunday afternoon with a large crowd, and had some good singing. The following directors sung three songs each: J.W. Lowery, Harison Hayes, W. F. Gilliland, Dave Melton, Kermit Lowery, Leonard Culp, Houston Melton. Organists for the afternoon were: Mrs. Bonnie Rollins and Miss Lucile Price. Two quartets were sung by the local quartet band.

We thank the visitors from Poplar Springs and others for their help, and invite you to come again. All singers and lovers of music have an invitation to visit us at Liberty Hill on the first and third and at Cedar Grove on the second and fourth.

Read the ADS for better bargains

More Than 75% of the Million Dollars

A Day Taxes Paid by the Railroads Goes to State and Local Governments

The steam transportation lines of the United States are now paying taxes at the rate of $42,000.00 every hour of the twenty-four, Sundays and Holidays included, the gigantic total of approximately $365,000,000.00 per year.

While this budget covers Federal, State, County and Municipal taxes, it is a significant fact that the welfare of the community in which you live is affected to the extent of 75% of this great total. In other words, 75c out of every dollar taxes paid by the railroads goes into state and local treasuries, and every time you buy a railroad ticket or ship a consignment of freight you are contributing to the development of your community and the prosperity of your state and nation.

These tax funds are used to defray the operative expenses of all branches of our Government. They are used to build roads, to operate schools and to support public institutions. For many years past the amount of money paid in taxes by the steam railroads has exceeded that paid in dividends to the owners of railroad securities.

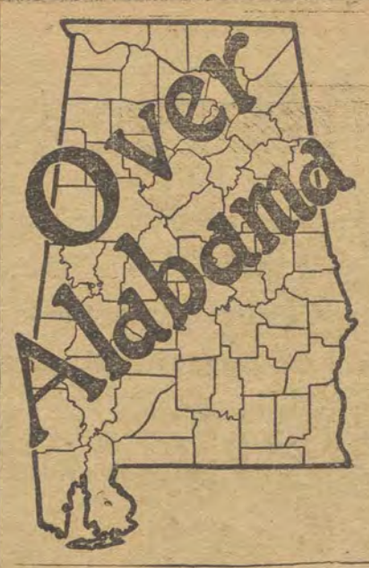
Remember these figures and compare them with the relatively small taxes paid by the bus and truck lines, which are operating over roads built and maintained partly by railroad taxes and which are competing with the steam carriers for your patronage. Be fair to the railroads—they are affording the American people the greatest transportation service in the history of the world—and at the lowest cost.

In 1925 the L. & N. Railroad paid taxes amounting to over seven million dollars, a sum substantially greater than the dividends paid to its stockholders.

THE OLD RELIABLE L&N RAILROAD SYSTEM

E-17

Closing Out Sale



We Are Closing Out Our Entire Stock of

Shoes and Dry Goods

AT AND BELOW COST

Don't Fail to Take Advantage of This SALE while it Lasts

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

John Monaghan, of Pelham, Ga., contractor for the substructure of the Leesburg bridge over the Coosa river, in Cherokee County, has notified the state highway commission that he is unable to finance the job to completion and requested that the Union Indemnity company of New Orleans, which made his bond, be called in to complete the work, according to information from the highway department.

Word reached Alabama recently of the death in Panama City, Panama Canal Zone, of President W. L. Mapother, of the L. & N. Railway. Mr. Mapother, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Whiteford Cole, the former president the N. C. & St. L., were in the tropics on a pleasure trip. Mr. Mapother dropped dead on the street.

Plans for enlarging and improving the long distance telephone service in Alabama during this year include five new circuits to extend from Birmingham, it was announced by T. Barton Baird, district manager of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company in Birmingham.

The Alabama City city council has just divided that city into four wards and will elect eight aldermen and a mayor at the next city election. This was found necessary because the city has now grown to more than 6,000 and eight aldermen are required by law from cities of that size.

Improvements to the Jasper waterworks system, to cost $26,000, are to begin as soon as materials already en route arrive. This announcement was made by engineers of the Alabama Water Company, owners of the Jasper plant.

Hopes for a concrete highway from Birmingham to Montgomery in the immediate future have been abandoned with the decision by the state highway department to put gravel on the road from Montgomery to the Chilton County line.

The farmers, merchants and bankers of Randolph County met recently and planned a 1926 farm program. Larger production of food crops and ecenomic production of cotton were subjects mainly stressed.

L. Z. Johnson, Birmingham man who recently drove his auto into a crowd of people about to board a street car, inflicting injuries on a man and woman, which later caused their deaths, is being held for murder without bail.

The Alabama Public Service Commission has postponed indefinitely consideration of the case involving a general revision of rates on sand, pending a decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Virgil Murphy, Houston County farmer, is in jail at Dothan, charged with the murder of his wife. He is said to have admitted the killing, saying he planned to kill himself, too, but got drunk and forgot it.

T. R. Bynum, president of the First State Bank of Altoona, and associates have purchased the interest of C. S. Hardin in that institution and have elected Roy Shelton cashier to succeed him.

Claude Harvey, sentenced to 30 years for taking part in a suicide pact which cost his sweetheart her life, has just been paroled by Governor Brandon. He was sentenced from Shelby County in 1917.

Wallace J. Aderhold, young business man of Anniston, sustained a fractured arm, hip and probably serious internal injuries when his airplaine struck a rock in landing on the greens of the Anniston County Club.

The interstate commerce commission has been asked by the Alabama Docks Commission for the right to build 37½ miles of belt line railroad in connection with the development of the Port of Mobile.

The Cherokee County Democratic executive committee has set April 1, as the last day on which candidates for county offices may qualify for the primary election in August.

The Huntsville Kiwanians have begun rehearsals for their annual musical show which they expect to produce February 15 and 16 at the Grand theatre.

Up to January 16th, Pickens County had ginned 18,728 bales of cotton from the 1925 crop as compared to 11,713 bales at the same time last year.

Unusual activity is reported around Selma in both suburban and rural real estate. A realty "boom" in the spring is being forecast.

The Montgomery-Birmingham highway is now open for travel the entire stretch of 104 miles, between the two cities.

Convictions and penalties for violations of the state game laws in 20 counties are shown in the latest report of the state game commissioner.

Mrs. Charles Cay, owner of the Yacht Club Inn at Dunedin, Fla., has purchased the Riverside Hotel at Mentone.

Dr. B. A. Taylor, of Montgomery, has been named chairman of the Alabama Pythian Home Commission.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

A Lover of Statistics

There was a seance on—a regular seance, with a trance medium and a black cheesecloth cabinet and a mysterious table rapper and a ghostly guitar picker and a smell of frying cabbage floating in from the back of the house and everything orthodox, like that. The medium was a stout lady in black, who was raising a brown mustache and whose controls took those liberties with the English language which seemingly is permitted in a realm where there is neither space nor time—nor grammar. She came from Brooklyn, where so many of those who take in spiritualism for a living do come from, but at the time of which I speak she was playing the provinces, as the troupers say. The audience was of fairish size. Amid the throng sat a half-grown youth from about three miles out on R. F. D. No. 3. He was attending his first spiritualistic seance. And he was being suitably impressed. As manifestation succeeded manifestation, his eyes popped and his ears twitched. If he had had gills, beyond doubt they would have opened and closed.

Presently the medium's husband, who acted, so to speak, as ringmaster, desired to know whether there was yet another present desirous of having speech with some dear departed one. If so madame would undertake to establish liaison.

This was the cue for the yokel. He mustered courage to stutter an embarrassed plea. He wished to have speech with the shade of his late father.

After a proper wait there were sounds in the cabinet and through the darkness there spoke the tones of one of seeming hoary age.

"Is that you, my son?" asked the voice.

"Yes, paw, this here is me," answered the youth.

"Was there any questions you wished to ast me concernin' my present state?" continued the accommodating voice.

The boy thought a moment. Then:

"Where air you, paw?" he inquired with simple directness.

"Heaven, my son."

"Air you an angel, paw?"

"Oh, yes, my son."

"An angel with wings and a harp and everything?"

The answer was somewhat muffled but seemingly in the affirmative. The son considered a moment. Then he had an inspiration.

"I say, paw," he demanded sagely, "whut do you measure frum tip to tip?"

(Copyright by the Central Press Association.)

The Made-in-England Substitute

An American actor with a reputation for wit—a reputation, by the way, which is deserved—went to a luncheon given by a famous actress to several members of her supporting company. Among the guests of honor was an English leading man, who rather fancied himself—and showed it. He monopolized the conversation, speaking copiously and feelingly of himself, his personality and his merits.

From his place across the table the American eyed him with a rapidly enhancing disfavor. At length he turned to the man sitting next him on the right.

"Our British friend over there is by way of being a regular ass isn't he?" he asked in a whisper.

"Oh I'd hardly go so far as to say that," answered his neighbor.

"Well, he'll do, won't he, till one comes?" said the American.

(Copyright by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW SALEM

Preaching services were held at New Salem Saturday, Sunday, and Sunday night, as these were our regular preaching days. We are glad to say that a large crowd attended every time, and listened to the fine sermons our pastor, Rev. B. F. Dykes, delivered to us.

There have been several Sundays that have been so bad until no one could attend church, but we were very thankful that Sunday was a beautiful day. It was a gift that God sent to us from Heaven, and we are glad to say that we had many visitors out Sunday. We hope everyone feels welcome when they enter our church.

The sermon that was delivered to us in the morning was "The Leadership of God." It was a splendid sermon and we hope everyone enjoyed it.

B. Y. P. U. services were held at 6:30, and a fine program was rendered. We hope everyone will be present next Sunday night and bring someone with them.

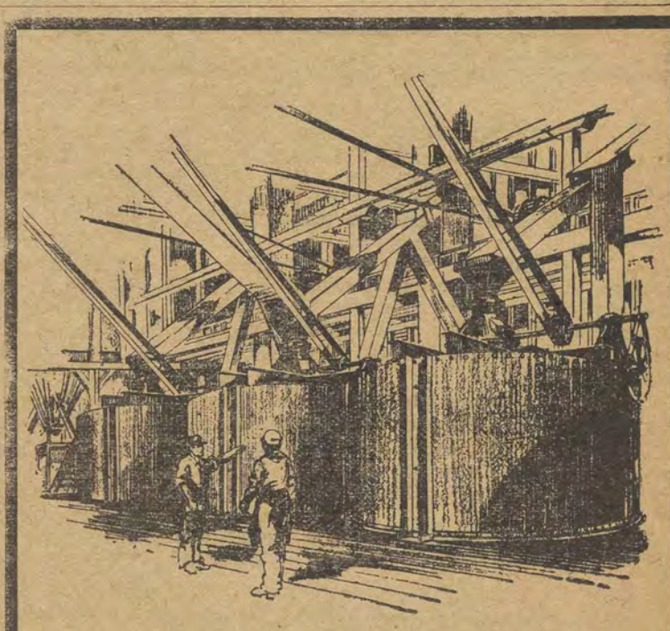
Following B. Y. P. U. preaching services were held. The subject was "Joseph's Choice." It was indeed a fine sermon, and we hope everyone received a great benfit from it.

Our next preaching day will be the third Sunday, February 21, and we invite everyone to come and be with us. We are glad to have visitors from the surrounding churches, and want everyone to feel that they are welcome.—Clara Vines, Jewell Bean, Publishing Committee.

PROVIDENCE—BEAT 13

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper for a few words regarding this place.



We are proud to say that we have an evergreen Sabbath school at this place, which is progressing nicely under the management of C. S. McCain, Superintendent. Also, the B. Y. P. U. is to be congratulated upon the good good work and efforts they are putting forth, and we bid them godspeed.

We expect to resume our regular second Sunday afternoon singing at this place, and cordially invite the adjoining societies, Oak Grove, Oak Hill, and Center Hill, to be with us next Sunday afternoon, February 14.

Come, all lovers of music, and let's make this a real singing service.

With best wishes to The Union-Banner and its many readers.—A Subscriber.

Good pastures and big livestock profits go together.

THE right ingredients, properly prepared, mixed, cured and milled, make effective fertilizer. Proof that a shovel and a screen are not enough is submitted in the above illustration, which shows one of the intricate processes in one of the Royster Fertilizer plants.

F.S.R.

ROYSTER

Fertilizer

Clanton Agent JAS. C. JONES

Good Flour

We have just taken over the agency of the Old Hickory Mills' line of fully guaranteed brands of flour, and we have secured the exclusive agency for this section. We have it bought at a price lower than the present market, and will sell it accordingly.

Don't overlook this opportunity to buy a real high grade of flour at a price that is right.

JAS. C. JONES

Wholesale and Retail

CLANTON, ALABAMA

STOP! LOOK AND LISTEN!

On December 1st, 1925, we turned over our stock of General Merchandise and Fixtures to a big Atlanta firm to be sold out, lock, stock, and barrel. This was done for several reasons, the main one being that we had no assurance of the store house longer than the first of the year. Now that we have been able to make new arrangements, we will continue the business under the same management, with Miss Grace Foshee and Miss Etta Baker in charge. We invite our friends and former customers to continue your visits to our store.

Some of our Specials for Friday's and Saturday's Selling

98c
—10 yds good heavy Sheeting for the two days only; limit 10 yds to a customer.

$1.98
—About 50 prs. Men's work and dress Shoes. Good styles and sizes. Come and look them over.

$10.00
—Good assortment of Boys' and Men's Suits. You will have to come early to get one; only a few.

½ PRICE
—About 40 short pants boys' Suits for just one-half the former price.

$4.95
—John B. Stetson Hats. See, we may have just what you want.

$1.19
—Good Overalls! The kind that sell for much more money.

New Spring Goods arriving almost every day. Come to see us.

CHICAGO SALES CO.
NEXT TO FIRST NATIONAL BANK—CLANTON, ALA.

One marked CASH price to everybody. NO EXCEPTIONS.

WEST CHILTON

The farmers are taking on new life, preparing for another crop. After the failures or successes of the previous year, the farmer enters the arena or agriculture with renewed hope and cheer, which brings to mind the saying of our old friend, E. G. Cofer, that "the farmer is the only one who can make a success in a failing business."

Mrs. Belle Smith went to Birmingham Saturday to visit her daughter.

Mr. John S. Waldrop, one of our popular merchants, was out visiting, Sunday, accompanied by Miss Lizzie Waldrop.

Marion Cofer's little child has been quite sick, but is now convalescent.

Information has reached us that Mr. Luke Smith, of Aliceville, is dead. He was born and raised here, where he has many friends and relatives to regret his passing.

Mr. Pratt Crumpton, one of the business men of Childersburg, accompanied by his wife, were recent visitors here.

Sunday morning Mr. Tom Dawson died, with pneumonia. Another valued citizen is gone. We regret it very much, and tender our sympathy to the sorrowing relatives.

One of Mr. J. O. Crumpton's sons is quite ill with pneumonia.

R. W. Waldrop and Relius Smitherman are working in McCary's garage at Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crumpton have both been on the sick list.

At this writing Mr. John P. Nix is reported quite feeble.

An annual rabbit hunt for February 22nd is being inaugurated here. Mr. C. W. Langston seems to be the leader in the movement. They will meet at Gentry's store to chase the "red necks."

Our old friend, J. F. Armstrong, and family, for some years in Birmingham, later of Maplesville, have again located in their old home in Randolph.

Our country, our agriculture, and all our varied avocations of life are progressing rapidly. What we need above all is the crowning feature of unselfish good will abounding full and free. We have got to learn that yet. We will learn it, and look back and see how foolish we were. We need the good will of the holidays on an increasing scale to last all the year.

We note with interest the subject of Judge Reynolds' address at the McKinley banquet in Birmingham. It was appropriate and timely. Mr. McKinley was a president greatly loved by the people.

Mrs. Nat Smith is the leading lady of our section in the growing of flowers. She is preparing to have a profusion of them.

Mr. W. R. Redding is re-terracing his farm. Mr. Redding is one of our leading citizens.

BETHSALEM NEWS

Mrs. C. C. Vinson is on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Moore and little son, James, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wright and baby spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bowles.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Mims of near Thorsby spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wright.

Misses Everee and Myrtle Jones spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moore.

Mr. Charley Askins and family and several others visited Mrs. C C. Vinson Sunday.

Misses May Hill and Altabelle Vinson spent Sunday with Miss Dollie Pierce.

Mr. S. A. Askins and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Johnson.

Mr. Morris Bowles was the guest of Miss Eunice Boyd Sunday afternoon.

Misses Ruby Bowles and Myree Bowman spent Saturday night with Miss Agnes Askins.

Mr. Robert Moore attended a funeral service at Shiloh Sunday.

Next Saturday and Sunday are our regular preaching days at Bethsalem. Everybody come.—A Reader.

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS

Prof. Earl Thomas spent several days in Montgomery recently, attending to some matters pertaining to our school building.

Last Thursday Mrs. Earl Thomas received news that her brother had undergone an operation for appendicitis, and was doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sexton attended the funeral of Mrs. Sexton's brother, Mr. Edwards, of Sardis, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Giles are the proud parents of a fine boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Williams from Birmingham were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Jim Lecroy, accompanied by Miss Steele, one of the teachers from Jemison, visited Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lecroy Sunday.

Mr. Wilbur Veazey from Birmingham was visiting in our community Sunday.

The following attendede the old fiddlers convention at Thorsby Saturday night.: Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Williams; Misses Ethel Mize, Olivia Lathem, Glois and Dorothy Manning.

Messrs. Guy H. Deshazo and Sam Sloan of Fort Payne were visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Deshazo Saturday and Sunday.

BEST VARIETIES OF CORN ARE REPORTED

A good way to increase the yield of corn next fall is to get good seed of the best yielding varieties this spring, according to experiments conducted by the Agricultural Experiment station at Auburn; and also in cooperation with farmers over the State.

The results of these experiments include the 1925 average and are reported by Prof. M. J. Funchess, Director, Experiment Station; J. T. Williamson, who supervises local experiments with farmers; and H. B. Tisdale, who conducts the variety tests on the Experiment Station at Auburn.

Based upon an average of 5 tests, conducted from 1922 to 1925, Weekley, Neal's Paymaster, Pee Dee, Douthit, and Whatley are leading varieties in north Alabama. Weekley led with 20.3 bushels, while Douthit and Whatley were tied for fifth place with 17.7 bushels. Fourteen varieties were included in the tests and the yield of the lowest was 13.5, which shows the importance of using the best varieties.

The average for the last 4 years on the Experiment Station at Auburn, which is in central Alabama, shows that Whatley, Hastings, Pee Dee, Weekley, and Williamson were the leaders.

Seven tests conducted in south Alabama, 1920-25, show that Neal's Paymaster, Hastings, Whatley, Garrick, Watson, and Weekley, were leaders. The highest average of this group was 25.3 bushels and the lowest 23.7. A total of 13 varieties was included in the south Alabama variety tests and the lowest of them all was 17.4 bushels.

The leading varieties in all three sections are of the two-ear type.

If you wish to sell your Cotton Seed and buy better planting seed, bring them to Clanton Friday or Saturday of this week. J. N. DENNIS.

PEYTON C. DENNIS DIED IN MONTGOMERY

Peyton C. Dennis, age about 80 years, died at his home in Montgomery last Saturday morning at six o'clock. Funeral services were held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Burial at Elmwood cemetery. He is survived by his wife and one son, Dr. George A. Dennis of Montgomery.

Mr. Dennis had many warm friends in Chilton County. He lived here all his life until about 12 years ago, when he went to Montgomery.

Little potatoes are unsafe for seed because there is no way of telling the kind of vine from which they came. Little potatoes from a good yielding vine may be all right, but little potatoes from inferior vines certainly should not be planted. And since there is no way of determining the parent vine, members of the Extension Service staff at Auburn suggest planting larger potatoes in order to be safe.

Starting the baby chicks off right will mean better pullets next fall.

AUDITORIUM, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 14

Matinee 3:00 P. M.—Night 8:15 P. M.

The World's Greatest Musical Organization

SOUSA AND HIS BAND

Lt. Commander John Philip Sousa, Conductor

An Organization of 100 Musicians

Seats on Sale at Jesse French & Sons Piano Co.

Prices $1.10, $1.65, and $2.20

USED

Ford

CARS

See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1925 Roadster, New Paint, with Pick-up Body	$250.00
1923 Touring, New Paint, looks good	$140.00
1924 Coupe, New Paint, a real Bargain	$225.00

Ford Trucks Cheap

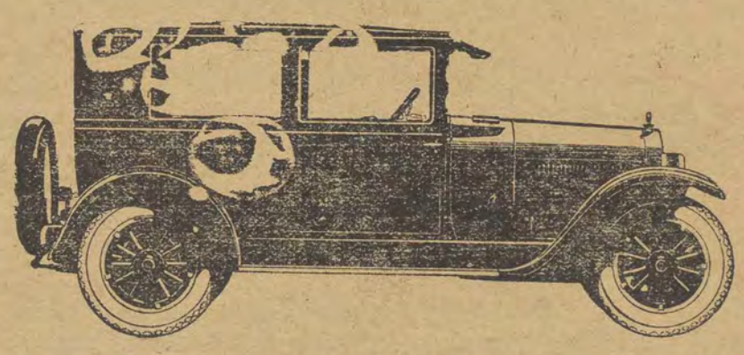
If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company

Sales Ford Service

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Clanton, Ala.



CATTLE and HOGS Wanted

I want to buy a number of beef cattle and hogs, either fat or lean. Will pay the best Market Price. If you have any for sale, see or write me, or call me over phone. I have no place of business in Clanton, but can be found here most of the time.

W. W. [Bud] JONES

Clanton, Ala.

The Time Proven "Sixes"—and World's Largest Sellers

ESSEX "6" COACH

This is a year of "Sixes." The trend is more irresistible than ever. Hudson-Essex are the largest selling "Sixes." And today they are lower in price, finer in quality, greater in value.

In ten years of value leadership Hudson Super-Six performance, quality and price have never been so outstanding.

And in all advantages of design, workmanship and materials Hudson and Essex are alike.

Thousands turning from "Fours" find the Essex Six in price, appearance, quality and performance the car of greatest appeal. And Hudson, among the higher priced cars, has no rival in value or sales.

$765

Hudson Coach $1165

Hudson Brougham $1450

Hudson 7-Pass. Sedan $1650

Freight and Tax Extra

These Cars May be Purchased for a Low First Payment and Convenient Terms on Balance

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Big Price Reduction Sale

For the next five days we are going to offer our Big Stock of Shoes, Dry Goods, Clothing and Ready-to-wear at a big reduction. Below are a few of the wonderful values taken at random from our big stock.

1 lot of 65c Brooms, just 25 in the lot, to be sold at 39c
1 lot of $1.00 Felt House Slippers, in all sizes 73c
1 lot of Suitcases, special $1.50 quality, our sale price ..98c
1 lot of Men's good work Shoes, priced at $1.98

1 lot of Percales, special sale price, per yard 8c
1 lot of Ladies new Spring Hats. Special sale price ..$1.98
1 lot of Sheeting, special. per yard 9c
Men's Best Grade Overalls, all sizes $1.33

1 lot of Children's Wool Suits, in nice patterns, to close out at .....98c and up
1 lot of Ladies Silk Hose, in all the new colors, formerly sold up to $1.00. Slightly damaged 25c

WE HAVE HUNDREDS OF OTHER BARGAINS. COME AND SEE THEM YOURSELF AND BE CONVINCED.

We have a special lot of Men's Suits in broken sizes to be closed out. These suits formerly sold up to $25.00. Our price $9.95

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE

WE HAVE A BIG SALE OF SHOES. DON'T FAIL TO SEE OUR LINE BEFORE YOU BUY.

Speech by Judge Reynolds on The Party of William McKinley

"The Republican Party of William McKinley" was the subject spoken to by Judge L. H. Reynolds before the Republican League of Alabama at the Tutwiler Hotel on Friday night, January 29th. Following is the Judge's speech in full:

"It is almost the universal rule that distressing periods have made the greatest statesmen, and thus it is that the deplorable conditions of 1897 emphasized the greatness of William McKinley as a statesman and as president of our country. When he assumed the role as Commander-in-Chief of the destinies of this nation, the country was torn asunder by internal and external conditions. Everywhere business was depressed, laborers were out of employment, and tramping from Maine to border and from coast to coast begging and seeking work, trying to keep body and soul together. Starvation and distress stalked on every hand, soup houses were established and people begged to sleep in the jails for even the comforts they might find there. But upon the horizon there appeared the first dawn of light, for news was gladly received throughout this country that William McKinley was elected president.

"History has taught, and history has since taught that with the Republican party comes prosperity. Capital and labor lifted their distressing countenances, confidence was restored, the hum of industry echoed and the wheels of commerce began to move, the smoke could once more be seen curling from the smokestacks that once stood idle, tramps found work to do, soup houses were closed, and everyone there penetrated into the humblest home of the land the beginning of prosperity and the love of William McKinley.

"And now may we ask what was the cause of all this distress? There was here the same prosperity, the same money, the same crops as we had before the panic. There can be but one answer and that one answer is high prices and there can be but one cause of high prices and that cause is protective tariff. One of the first acts of the administration of William McKinley was to investigate and maintain the machinery of a protective tariff, and he has since been known is one of the founders of protective tariff. In his message to congress he advocated the passage of such a tariff and a dollar that would buy a dollar's worth of anything on earth. His idea was that this influence of a protective tariff would necessarily force consumers to buy more goods at home and of course would mean more money at home and thus our country would be enriched. It was being established as a well known fact in his administration that our country could not prosper at low tariff, cheap prices and low wages. To my mind, there can be no policy advocated by this Statesman that has proved as successful and beneficial to the people of the United States as the policy advocated by President McKinley. His policy lifted our nation out of chaos into tranquility, from poverty to prosperity, from discontent to peace and happiness. There are those of us today who, from our own personal experience, and who lived through these trying days, know that the words I speak are more than trite beatitudes. The truth and the soundness of the policy advocated by this statesman are best tested in digressing for a moment and pondering over the conditions of our country today, after having existed under a similar policy for the past four or five years. It is true, history has repeated itself, and after emerging from another great crisis that shook the uttermost boundaries of this world, America today is enjoying probably the greatest normal prosperity that we have ever known. This prosperity has been sung throughout the length and breadth of this great nation and the abundance thereof felt in far away lands. Our country is peaceful, prosperous and happy as could be expected for a country of one hundred ten million souls and of forty-eight states of many nationalities, creeds and beliefs.

"What more after all could a party of William McKinley or of Calvin Coolidge offer than prosperity. A party of dead traditions or memories of a far away past cannot compare, for from prosperity comes happiness, harmony, cooperation; from prosperity there is no hunger or deprivations of the comforts of life for those who will try; from prosperity comes the ability and opportunity to educate the youth of the land in both a literary and Christian way. Therefore, my friends, a party that has not brought prosperity or cannot bring prosperity is not the party for this nation.

"The Republican party of William McKinley is of course reflected in the life of the man. I had the honor and pleasure of being appointed upon a committee to meet President McKinley at Atlanta when he came to the South. He made a speech in that city and I traveled on the train with him to Tuskegee, Ala. He spent the night there with my aunt and the next day spoke to the students at Tuskegee Institute. From there he went to Montgomery and spoke to the Legislature of Alabama. From my personal contact with the man, I was most strongly impressed with his lovable disposition and his accessability. In his presence he made one feel perfectly at ease and there was no indication whatever of any spirit of superiority in his nature. If it became my duty to relate one act of the man which I thought best described his nature it would be the last act of his life. As we are told, when the fatal bullet from the innocent-looking hand of his assassin had been fired which took the life of the President, and when the officers had rushed upon the assassin as if it were their desire to seek retributive justice with the life of the assassin, Mr. McKinley then in his dying moments, knowing that this man had taken from him all his worldly interest, he ordered the officers to spare this man and bring no harm upon him. This to me seems to me to illustrate the great character of this man.

"In conclusion, there are those today who were not in accord with all the principles advocated by this man but in his devotion for the undying principles of truth, justice and patriotism, I believe this country joins with us in the extolement of these virtues, and may they live on and be embibed and imitated by the statesmen of the future."

CHEVROLET NEWS

An unprecedented winter demand for Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks necessitated a production last month nearly three times that of January, 1925, it is announced by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co.

The January production was more than 44,000, which eclipses any previous January production in Chevrolet history. Under the tentative February production schedule, the company will build more than 51,000 units or nearly twice the number produced in the corresponding month of last year.

The heavy winter production is the result of demand which Chevrolet buyers have made upon the company's dealers since the announcement by President Knudsen of reduced prices and numerous improvements on the entire Chevrolet line,

Instead of storing reserve stocks against the requirements of spring business, the dealers report that they are delivering immediately their shipment of cars to waiting buyers.

Last year Chevrolet Motor Company led all manufacturers of three-speed sliding-transmission cars by building more than 500,000 units. According to present plans, President Knudsen expects to exceed the 1925 record by a comfortable margin.

Guy H. Deshazo and Samuel Slone of Fort Payne spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Deshazo on Mulberry.

What makes them so good?

TWENTY-FIVE years experience in making electrical instruments, the largest radio factory in the world, the most expert workmen—yes. But the real answer is the way Atwater Kent goes about it. You can't get anything marked "Atwater Kent" that isn't perfect. Come in for a demonstration.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

O. M. CARTER
CLANTON, ALA.

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

—o—

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixing your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired feet. We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no matter how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a square deal.

—o—

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SHOP
CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

HOME ESSENTIALS

such as hot water bags, atomizers, douches, rubber gloves, sanitary goods, etc., will be found at Alred Drug Company's drug store in large variety and of the right quality at reasonable prices. This is a home service of which we are proud. Avail yourself of it.

ALRED DRUG COMPANY
"The Home of Quality"
CLANTON, - - - - ALABAMA

Registration Notice

—o—

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of "An Act to Provide for the Registration of Electors," enacted by the Legislature of 1920, the Registrars of the County of Chilton, Alabama, do hereby give Notice that the following Appointments are set for the purpose of Registering those qualified under the law to Register as Electors:

Precinct 5—Mt. Creek ..... February 11, 1926
Precinct 4—Courthouse .... February 12 to February 18, inclusive, 1926

—o—

No one can Register except in his or her own Precinct and at the Courthouse in Clanton, Alabama.

—o—

J. W. E. GULLEDGE, Chairman,
E. H. ADAMS,
J. L. JOHNSON,
Registrars of Chilton County, Ala.

AUTAUGAVILLE NEWS

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words about this place.

Our school is progressing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill have moved to Prattville.

On last Saturday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Long and carried away the spirit of her dear husband. He was 84 years old.

Mr. J. D. Sims visited Mr. J. S. Bone recently.

About 8 o'clock last Saturday Mr. Claude Wyatt and Myrtle Bone were happily married. We wish them a long and happy life together.

Miss Daisy Langston and sisters visited Misses Lera and Josie Bone Saturday.

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

Edgar B. Elebash
(Elebash Jewelry Co.)
REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted
Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

Adams Grocery Store
The Place To Buy. Why?

Because the people who do buy are satisfied with prices and satisfied with the goods. And I have other things—Notions of all kinds, needles, pins, handkerchiefs, Gold Fountain Pens extra cheap, Gold Watch Chains. A lot of pretty little things. Come and see.

I BUY CHICKENS and EGGS

S. M. ADAMS South Clanton

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER III

A Caller in the Night

We sat late at dinner that night, for my father must needs have me repeat at length the tale of my experiences during the day, revealing a perturbation unusual in him, although Peter Corlaer ate on with placid solemnity.

"I have heard of this Colonel O'Donnell," said my father when I had made an end. "He was in Scotland with Prince Charles—one of the Irish crew who bogged a promising venture, if what men say be true. I marvel at his temerity in landing here, for there must be a price upon his head in England. Doubtless he was consorting with some of our Jacobite sympathizers at the Whale's Head—a fitting place for such an intrigue!

"The captain of the frigate called upon the governor this morning, so Master Colden told me, with a cock-and-bull story of a mistake in his reckoning that took him north of his course. I smell the taint of a Jacobite plot!"

"Mistress O'Donnell said they were for the Floridas," I protested. "Sure, they are not far out of their course."

My father smiled for the first time.

"The little maid would have no knowledge of her father's purpose. And if she did— No, no, lad, I had my share of plotting in my youth. Our Jacobites are a pernicious lot. But there! In such a devious business we might not hope to reach the truth, nor am I greatly concerned thereat. Most Jacobite plots are ill-planned sallies by desperate, misguided men. No, boy, what irks me most is the tidings you had of the one-legged sailor. Silver, you called him? Yes, I like it not to hear the pirates are outside our harbor. It hath the look of daring beyond the ordinary. If Murray—"

The door behind me opened, and I saw my father's jaw drop. Peter, at my right hand, let his eyelids blink, then went on quietly cracking nuts between his huge fingers.

"Did I hear you call me, Ormerod?"

The voice from the doorway had a chill, level quality that was as resonant as the tolling of a bell.

"'If Murray—' I thought I heard my name?"

I screwed around in my chair. There in the doorway stood the most remarkable figure I had ever seen. A large man, straight as an arrow despite the years that had planted crow's feet so thickly about his eyes, his square shoulders showed to advantage the exquisite tailoring of the black velvet coat he wore. His small clothes were of a fine yellow damasked silk, and his stockings of silk to match. Diamonds flashed from the buckles of his shoes, his fob, his fingers and the hilt of his dress-sword. A great ruby glowed in the Mechin jabot that caseaded from his throat. Over his arm hung a cloak, and under his elbow was tucked a hat cocked in the latest mode.

But it was the memory of his face that abided with you. The features were all big and strongly carved; the nose was a jutting beak above a tight-lipped mouth and a jaw that was brutally square; the eyes were a vivid black, flecked with tawny lights. His hair was of a pure, silvery whiteness and drawn back, clubbed and tied with a black ribbon. His cheeks and brows were furrowed by a maze of wrinkles, yet the flesh seemed as firm as mine. In every way he suggested breeding, gentility, wealth; but there was a combined effect of sinister power and predatory will, a hint of ruthless egotism which took no account of any interests save his own.

He acknowledged my prolonged stare with a slight bow, mildly derisive.

"Your son, Ormerod?" he continued "My grandnephew? Robert, I think, you named him, for the redoubtable Master Juggins of London, who aided you to start life anew after you had contrived to wreck yourself upon the rocks of a foresworn Jacobite career."

My father rose slowly to his feet.

"Yes, he is my son, Murray. It is neither his fault nor mine that he is also your grandnephew. As to his name, Robert Juggins was a better man than you or I, and you cannot inspire my son against me by hinting at hidden chapters of my early life. He knows that I was deluded into serving the Stuarts, and lived to learn that country comes before king."

The man in the doorway nodded his head.

"I would not seem discourteous," he remarked suavely. "I note another old friend, Ormerod—or perhaps I should say an old enemy. Permit me to observe, Corlaer, that you wear well with the years—as well as myself, indeed."

Peter squeezed a hickory-nut between his forefinger and thumb and looked up vacantly into Murray's face.

"Ja," he said.

"Lest you should be tempted by some misapprehension," pursued Murray, "I may inform you that I have every reason to suppose myself safe from any measures you might take against me. I hope to do what I have come here for tonight without injuring anybody, and if you gentlemen will listen to me quietly for a few moments I am confident that the issue will be harmless for all of us."

He cast his cloak and hat upon a chair by the fire, and put his hand upon the vacant one betwixt my father and me.

"May I?" he asked.

My father, still standing, said nothing; and Murray, with a shrug, accepted the silence for consent, sank gracefully into the seat and drew a golden snuff-box, studded with brilliants, from a pocket.

"With your permission," he said springing the cover.

A fragrant whiff of snuff-tobacco tickled my senses as he offered it generally.

"'Tis excellent stuff," he remarked "Ripe Rip-Rap. What? None of you? Ah, then—"

He dusted a pinch under his nostrils, inhaled and daintily used his handkerchief, a lace-edged morsel such as women carry.

My father leaned forward across the table, a blaze of hatred in his face.

"'Tis true, then!"

Murray regarded him in some surprise.

"True? My dear sir, I assured you 'twas Rip-Rap."

My father turned to Peter and me.

"After I told you—about this man, Robert—I hoped that I was wrong—that I had done him an injustice. But now he has convicted himself out of his own lips."

Murray gently deposited the snuff-box upon the table in front of him.

"Ah," he murmured. "I see! You were referring to my nickname, or, shall we say, nomme de guerre?"

My father laughed bitterly.

"Nomme de guerre! Name of a pirate! But let us have it, fair and openly, Andrew Murray. Are you Captain Rip-Rap?"

"I suppose most people would agree with your description," replied Murray; "although personally I prefer the word buccaneer. It is susceptible to so much wider use, and there is about it a suggestion of— However, we are not interested here tonight in the more abstruse branches of etymology. I am the person popularly known on the high seas as Captain Rip-Rap, and I fancy I might have logical grounds for arguing that if any disgrace adheres to me by that admission, 'twas you, Ormerod, who drove me to the practice of what you call piracy."

"'Tis like you to take that tone," said my father. "I drove you from the practice of what amounted to piracy on the land. There is no difference in the way you earn your livelihood today, Murray. You were an outlaw, and you are an outlaw."

"I fear you are incapable of doing me justice," sighed Murray. "You should know that I have always labored to serve higher ends than the mere sordid pursuit of money, such as has possessed you and those like you."

He swung around suddenly upon me.

"But I am forgetting my purpose!" he cried. "Stand up, grandnephew, and let me have a look at you."

I would not have heeded him, but my father said quickly:

"Do as he asks you, Robert. I'd not have him think you are crooked in the legs."

So I stood.

"A likely build," he remarked warmly. "You favor your father, I see—save in the face, it may be. There you are your mother, my maid Marjory. Ah, sweet chit, would she were with us now! A sad loss; a sad loss, lad!"

The expression which came to my father's face was terrible in its intensity of passion. He leaned closer to Murray, white to the cheekbones, his nostrils pinched in.

"Murray," he said, "make an end of such talk! As you value your life, mention her not again. I know not what cards you hold up your sleeve here, but if we all die in the next moment I will slay you as you sit if you profane her memory with your foul tongue."

Murray stared up at him coolly and took a pinch of snuff.

"Ah, well, you were always prejudiced," he answered. "I— But it serves no purpose to reopen old wounds. I am of one mind with you there."

He leaned abruptly across the table.

"I will be frank with you, Ormerod—and with Nephew Robert here. I am somewhat in difficulties—"

"If 'tis money—" began my father.

My great-uncle's gesture was sufficient check to this.

"I am not in difficulties for money, although I am like to be in difficulties shortly in connection with an embarrassing quantity of it. In fine, sir, I am upon the point of launching the coup of my career, one which will entail consequences of a stupendous character, and in the end, I venture to predict, echo in throne-rooms and chancelleries. Aye, kingdoms shall—"

He broke off.

"It is not necessary that I should go into that. Suffice it for the present if I say that I am in the position of a man who has partially tamed an unwieldy band of wild animals. My own ship I can rely upon up to a certain point, but I have associated with me—"

"That would be Flint?" interjected my father.

"I am flattered by the knowledge of my affairs which you display," replied my great-uncle with one of his courtly inclinations. "Yes; I had occasion, when I first went to sea, for a competent navigator. Flint served me in that capacity until I became independent, and I then fitted him out with his own ship. We have cruised in company since. I am not betraying a professional secret when I add that he is a man whose undoubted force of personality is offset by a certain turbulence and crudeness of wit which make him difficult to handle—increasingly difficult to handle, I may say. I foresee trouble with him in the future in connection with the coup to which I have already referred. I require a young man to stand at my elbow and assist me in curbing unruly spirits. I promise a great future for such."

"Command of his own pirate craft, no doubt?" pressed my father.

"That would be an offer to draw most stout youths," returned my great-uncle. "Bah, what is piracy, that you and your kind prate against it, Ormerod? Is it any worse in character than four-fifths of the business practiced in this world? What are you and those like you but men who seek to deprive others of their lawful gains that you may add to your stores what the others possessed? I take from the wealthy, who can afford to lose, what they have dishonestly got, more often than not, and much of what I win I contribute to the Cause to which you gave your first loyalty."

"An admirable code of ethics," observed my father. "But come to the point. What will you have? That I should apprentice Robert to you to be indentured a good, honest, trusty and skillful pirate?"

"Even so."

My father sat back in his chair.

"I'll not," he said.

Murray treated himself to a pinch of snuff.

"What does our young man himself say?" he asked.

"I say that you offer me no inducement," I answered as shortly as I could.

"What Does Our Young Man Himself Say?" He Asked.

"'Odslife," he swore. "No inducement? My dear nephew, I offer you an open, bracing life—for a brief space; a share in a brave venture; an opportunity to rehabilitate your family, to rise to place, title and honor."

"On a pirate's deck?" I jeered.

"From a pirate's quarterdeck," he corrected me gravely. "I am on my last cruise. The Royal James is to vindicate her name. Aye, in years to come she will be regarded as a shrine of loyalty and devotion, and to have sailed with Andrew Murray in her—Why, sir, who remembers today of Robin Hood aught but that he was true to King Richard in adversity?"

The man's surety was amazing.

"This passes all reason," said my father wearily. "You must be insane."

"Not at all," retorted my great-uncle. "I am the leading practitioner of my profession. Winter, Davis, Roberts, Bellamy, all the more noted—ah—pirates of recent years, were small fry compared to me. I tell you, Ormerod, you stand in the boy's way."

"He is not a boy, but a man," snapped my father. "And able to judge his own course."

"So be it."

My great-uncle turned to me once more.

"It appears this decision is left betwixt us two, Nephew Robert," he said. "So I must inform you that I am determined to have your aid in any event—by force, if you will not accompany me reasonably."

There was a snap as a Brazil nut split apart in Peter's grip. Murray waved an airy hand in his direction.

"'Tis true that you are the most powerful man I ever met, Corlaer," he remarked; "yet I urge you not to attempt violence. I have sufficient men in the house to overpower you, and I should not hesitate to slay Ormerod or you at need. The boy is the only one of you three whose life hath value to me."

"He means it, Peter," said my father. "Keep your hands down."

"Ja," squeaked Peter.

"You were ever a wise man, Ormerod," resumed my great-uncle. "I venture to congratulate you upon the soundness of your judgment. Now for you, Nephew Robert. Come with me you shall, but I prefer that you come willingly. Therefore I lay before you these inducements: Firstly, we sail upon a venture which hath a color of state business, although a strict legalist would denounce it piratical—you see, I endeavor to deal honestly by you after my fashion; secondly, no harm is intended to you; thirdly, the rewards of our project will be singularly rich; fourthly, I design to exploit the advantages which shall accrue to me solely for your benefit—you, Robert, are my heir, and if I have need of you in the execution of my coup, nonetheless I shall be able to repay you for whatever you do in my behalf a hundredfold, both materially and otherwise. I am, after all, your nearest kin after your father, and I say in all humility my assistance is not to be despised."

"I won't go willingly," I answered. "Even did your arguments tempt me, I should resent your threat of compulsion."

"Admirably spoken," he applauded. "Egad, I perceive you have the proper spirit. You are exactly the lad I require."

"I am the lad you'll not get," I shouted. "Call in your bravos, and I'll tear their throats out for you."

"Gently, gently," he remonstrated. "My bravos, as you term them, are not lambs, Nephew Robert, and I must warn you that the killings would not be all on the one side. If you value your father, stand fast."

And he drew from a waistcoat pocket a silver whistle, which he placed to his lips. A thin blast piped through the room, and a dozen hairy seadogs surged in from hall and kitchen. Raps on the two windows indicated that others mounted guard outside.

My father's face was a mask of mingled rage and fear—not fear for himself, but for me. He stared at the savage figures, the bared cutlasses, the ready pistols, almost with unbelief in the reality of his vision. And certes 'twas a weird spectacle in that orderly house in the town we of the province looked upon as the most advanced in the colonies—and became to me the more weird as I glimpsed next the hall door a grim mahogany face and a hangman look beneath a skrim of black hair, and behind the two a familiar carroty head.

"Ho, there, Darby!" I called out. "What are you doing in such company? Did you know those men for pirates when you drank with them at the Whale's Head?"

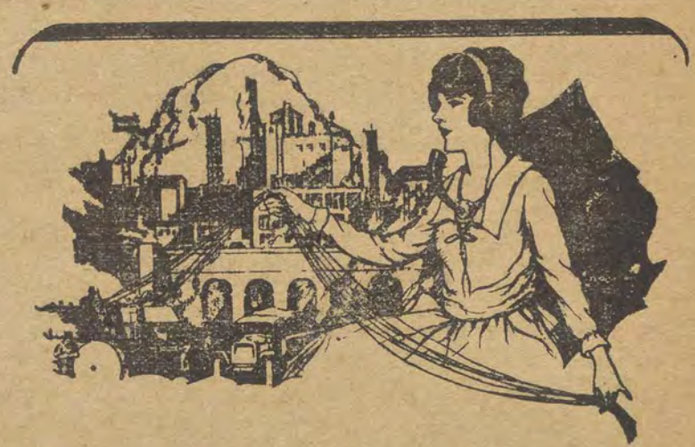
"Sure, they ha' taken me into their crew," he answered brazenly.

"And 'twas you let them into the house and betrayed your master!" returned my father sadly. "I had not expected this of you, Darby. Have we not been kind to you?"

Darby wiggled uncomfortably.

"Oh, aye; main kind, Master Ormerod," he admitted. "But they would ha' had ye, whether or no. Sure, they're a grand crew, tricksy crew. And anyway, ye see, I was born to be a pirate. My troth, I was!"

Murray laughed pleasantly.



"'Tis a valiant youth, and should go far," he observed. "Moreover, he speaks the truth when he says we should have won our way in to you without his aid. The accommodation was convenient, but by no means essential.

"Where is Silver, Master Bones?" he added.

The man with the mahogany face touched his hat.

"John was seeing to it the sarvants

(Continued to Page Nine)

6,800 New Telephones At Your Service

MORE than 6,800 new telephones were added to the Bell Telephone System in Alabama last year.

This was a splendid achievement, requiring the best efforts of a highly trained organization, and the expenditure of more than $2,000,000 for plant additions and replacements.

There are now 78,300 Bell telephones in Alabama, a striking evidence of the substantial growth and progress of the State.

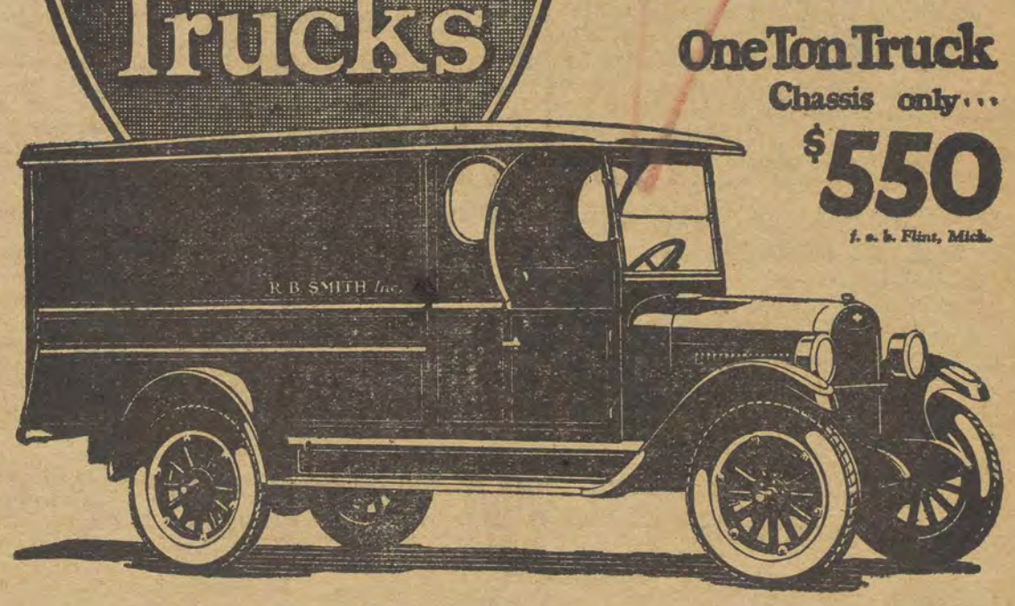
W. E. BARE, Alabama Manager

"BELL SYSTEM"

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

One Policy, One System, Universal Service

for Economical Transportation



CHEVROLET

The World's third Largest Builder of Trucks

Twelve great factories unsurpassed in completeness of manufacturing and engineering facilities! Two basic truck models, each with a durable, powerful chassis designed to combine economy and reliability! Dealers and service stations everywhere stocked with parts to render prompt low-cost service! The most economical time payment plan in existence! That's why Chevrolet has become the third largest builder of motor trucks in the world!

See us today. Let us prove that you can save from the start by buying a Chevrolet.

One Ton Truck
Chassis only...
$550
f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated

CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Mrs. Reynolds Hostess.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Grady Reynolds was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others at a lovely luncheon. Mrs. Heard received the guests at the door. Later, attractive tally cards carrying out a color scheme of yellow and green were passed and the guests found their places at tables arranged in the living, dining and sun rooms. Each table was centered with a crystal bud vase of buttercups. A delicious course luncheon was served, followed by a series of bridge games. Mrs. N. S. Johnson held high score and was presented two beautiful hand made handkercheifs.

Those enjoying this lovely hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Allred, John Browder, Frank Callen, Lawrence Gerald, V. J. Heard, Arthur Johnson, N. S. Johnson, Oscar Jones, J. Watts Moore, H. M. Simpson, J. Hugh Jones, Guy Roberts, and J. T. Herndon of Miami, Fla.

Birthday Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson were hosts at a most enjoyable affair recently when they entertained at a dinner party complimenting Misses Gracie Mae Ramsey, Esther Farley, Edith Stephenson, and Rev. Frank Ashlock, whose birthdays were during the same week. The home was attractively decorated with potted plants and pink and white carnations. The dining table was beautifully appointed, being centered with a large white birthday cake embossed in pink rosebuds and green leaves. Crystal candlesticks holding white candles shaded with pink shades were placed on either side of the cake. Covers were laid for the following guests:

Rev. Frank Ashlock, Misses Maxine, Mary and Esther Farley, Gracie Mae Ramsey, Louise, Edith and Kathryn Stephenson, Messrs. Berber Farley, George Stephenson, and the host and hostess. After dinner, music, games and contests were enjoyed. The members of the young people's organization of the Seventh Day Adventist church presented Rev. Ashlock a fountain pen on this occasion.

Old Fashioned Spelling Bee.

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist church will have an old fashioned spelling bee at the court house Tuesday, February 16th, 7:30 o'clock. Admission, 10c.

Mrs. Duncan Entertains.

The members of the Intermediate Sewing Club and others were entertained by Mrs. Lucien Duncan at her home on last Thursday afternoon.

Potted plants and flowers of the season adorned the living and dining rooms. The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. P. Crumpton, served a tempting salad plate with hot tea.

Those present were Mesdames Bill Murphy, M. B. Arant, Clyde Jones, Grady Taylor, Clarence Foley, Joe Higgins, Milton Smith, Loren Smith, and Briggs Crumpton.

Mrs. Harris Hostess To Study Club.

The Study Club met at the home of Mrs. G. C. Harris in south Clanton on Friday afternoon. For this occasion narcissus, potted plants and decorations suggestive of St. Valentine's Day were used to beautify the home. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Grady Broadhead. In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. J. E. Gowan was appointed to serve. Several letters of interest concerning the work of the Federation were read and discussed. Mrs. John M. VanDerveer was appointed Chairman of the Better Homes Committee. The topic for the afternoon's program wos "Contemporary American Literature." Roll call was responded to with "Name of Contemporary American Writer." A splendid paper, "American Novelist—St. Clair Lewis," written by Miss Kathleen Mullins, was enjoyed by all. Mrs. J. P. Hayes' subject was "American Poet—Joyce Kilmer," which was most interesting. "The Contemporary Short Story—Octavus Roy Cohen" was to have been given by Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The hostess, assisted by Mesdames S. J. Ezell, J. E. Gowan, and Miss Elizabeth Harris, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee.

The members present were Mesdames B. M. Roberts, John C. Page, Eric Hart, V. J. Heard, Oscar Jones, John M. VanDerveer, Lawrence Gerald, J. P. Hayes, J. E. Gowan, L. C. Ross, R. C. McDavid, J. A. Hester, Grady Reynolds, and Grady Broadhead.

The guests of the afternoon were Mesdames S. J. Ezell and J. B. Mauney.

Parent-Teacher Association.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Grammar School Friday, February 12, at 2:30 o'clock. A full attendance is expected.

Mrs. McSwain Hostess to Club.

Mrs. T. C. McSwain delightfully entertained the members of the Thursday Sewing Club at her home on last Thursday afternoon. After a couple of hours doing fancy work a delicious salad course with hot coffee was served to Mesdames J. Watts Moore, J. P. Hayes, J. Lee Smith, J. M. VanDerveer, V. J. Gragg, H. M. Simpson, and J. Hugh Jones.

Miss Clara Schrader of Shelby was shopping in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Lane and son of Montgomery were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White for several days last week.

Mrs. Clarence Foley and little daughter, Sophie Marie, after a delightful visit to Mrs. Grady Taylor, returned to their home in Montgomery Sunday.

Don't forget to see the used cars at Clanton Motor Car Co. Some mighty good bargains.

Mr. B. E. Jones of Montgomery was in town Monday.

Circle No. 4, W. M. U. Meets.

Circle No. 4 of the W. M. U. met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Gore on last Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The devotional was led by the chairman, Mrs. Grove Harris, after which a splendid program on Japan was carried out.

The hostess served a tempting salad plate to the following members: Mesdames Mack Wyatt, Geneva Calloway, Grover Harris, Eric Hart, Bama Cox, Frank Denty, M. A. Marcus, M. A. Mullins, Jethro Hayes, Fonza Robinson, Willie Bean, Hubert Jones, Lonz Parrish.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore are spending a few days in Mobile. While there they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brigance.

Dr. Conway of Jemison was a visitor to town Wednesday.

Mrs. Ed Plier of Bartow, Fla., spent Wednesday in town with relatives en route home from Birmingham, where she was called on account of the illness of her father, Mr. Nunnaly, who died in a Birmingham hospital.

Mr. Cleve Mims of Billingsley was in town Thursday.

Mr. Stanley Thornton of Birmingham spent Thursday in town with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan of Birmingham were guests of their mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones, for the week end.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page Eight)

was all secure, sir," he answered. "Here he is now."

A gap appeared in the ranks by the kitchen door, and the one-legged man I had met on the water-front that morning stumped in on his long crutch, as cheerfully serene as any honest householder.

"Was you askin' for me, captain?" he said. "We just finished up behind there—all gagged and roped, Bristol-fashion, safe for a day, sir."

And to me—

"My duty, Master Ormerod, and I hopes we'll know each other better soon."

"I find we shall need a cart, John," said my great-uncle.

My father turned very pale.

"You—you— My G—d, Murray, you can't kidnap the boy this way! Think! There are troops in Fort George. Once the hue and cry is raised you'll be—"

"But it will not be raised," replied Murray calmly. "I regret it, but we shall be obliged to tie up you and Peter so that you will be incapacitated until some kind friend happens to call on the morrow. By that time we shall be at sea."

I snatched up the chair upon which I had been sitting and brandished it over his head.

"Call off these scoundrels of yours or I'll batter out your brains," I snarled.

"John," he said, ignoring me, "you will be so kind as to pistol the elder Master Ormerod if his son launches a blow at me."

"Aye, aye, sir," answered Silver.

And he leveled a weapon at my father. I knew, without looking behind me, that Peter and I were covered by other men. It was Peter who spoke first.

"Put down der chair, Bob," he ordered quietly.

The man called Black Dog cast the noose of a rope over his head and jerked his arms close to his side.

"Neen, neen," objected Peter, and with no visible effort he snapped the hempen strands.

A gasp went up from the room, and there was a hasty retreat from his neighborhood.

"Pistol that man, if you must," called Murray; "but use your cutlasses, if possible."

"Neen," said Peter again. "We don't fight."

"We might as well be killed now as let them carry off Bob," said my father with a sob in his voice.

"Neen," said Peter a third time. "Deadt, you stay deadt. Perhaps Bob gets away from them some time. Better he be with Murray than he be deadt."

"Intelligently logical," commented Murray. "I commend the sentiment to you, Nephew Robert."

Peter's little eyes glinted toward him.

"I go with Bob," he said.

"No, no," denied Murray quickly. "You were not invited, friend Peter."

"If I don't go, Robert don't go," replied Peter. "Andt you don't go. Perhaps I don't kill you, but if there is shooting you don't get away. Ja!"

Murray contemplated this speech.

"Your proposition then," he said, "is that you insist upon sharing my nephew's new career or else will endeavor to secure the deaths of all of us, including his and your own?"

"Ja!" answered Peter.

"You may come," decided my great-uncle. "Your muscles should prove useful. John, I fancy we shall require triple bonds on this prisoner."

"Aye, aye, sir," assented Silver. "We ha' plenty o' stout manila. One o' you lads run back and get those coils I left by the stove. That's the proper spirit, Darby. Always willin'. You'll make a rare hand, you will. And how about makin' fast that gentleman as is goin' to stay behind, captain?"

Murray looked at my father, and from him to me.

"Have you reconciled yourselves to what I may justly style the inevitable?" he inquired suavely.

My father collapsed into his chair with a groan.

"If you will not suffer the boy to be hurt!" he exclaimed.

"My word of honor to that," returned my great-uncle very seriously. "His comfort and safety rank ahead of my own, Ormerod, for I anticipate that he is to achieve all those triumphs which fate denied me. 'Tis true I hope to crumple them briefly, but—" and for the first time a shadow clouded his face—"I am, as you doubtless know, in my sixty-fourth year, and a fickle Providence, regarding the divinity of which I am inclined to share the skepticism of the French philosophers, is scarce likely to indulge me in a very prolonged extension of life's span. Nor indeed would I have it otherwise. I feel no inclination for the senility of extreme age. Do you submit?"

My father bent his head.

"Yes—for his sake—you! Robert, no violence. We are in a coil we cannot escape for the present; but rest assured I will do everything I can to secure your release."

My great-uncle motioned Silver forward.

"Make Master Ormerod as comfortable as possible, John," he instructed. "Yes, tie him in his chair. Ormerod, accept my advice, and leave well enough alone. Within a year, possibly—two, at most—the boy will be safe and advanced in fortune beyond your wildest dreams."

"Let me have him back as he is—'tis all I ask," groaned my father.

Murray took snuff.

"A highly correct attitude, sir," he remarked. "Have you more to say? Very well, John; you may affix the gag. No, not that gunnysacking. Here is a silken kerchief will do. And now, friend Peter, we turn to you—and you, Nephew Robert. I would these precautions were unnecessary. Let us trust your inclinations will become more friendly toward me upon closer acquaintance."

(To be continued Next Week)

Mr. D. O. Manning of Mulberry was a visitor here Monday.

Mesdames Frank Foshee and Bama Cox spent Saturday in Stanton with their sister, Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. R. G. Walker of Birmingham, Miss Jean Gardner and Mrs. N. L. Gardner of Verbena were guests of Miss Bettie Morris Gardner and Mrs. Williams Monday.

Mrs. J. T. Herndon, who has been the guest of Mrs. Guy Roberts, left Monday morning for a visit to relatives in Atlanta, before returning to her home in Miami, Fla.

LOOK

Another Chance

Auction Sale

Saturday, February 13

11:00 A. M.

The new Reynolds Addition in Northeast Clanton, on Lock 12 Road, has been replatted into small tracts from 2 to 3½ acres in each tract, and will be sold to the highest bidder on the above date. Each tract will face a street and is large enough to make a good suburban home. Room for your house, barn, garden, and a small pasture.

Be sure to come out and take advantage of this opportunity to buy a nice piece of Clanton property—"the town with the bright future."

Each person will have a free chance at all prizes given away.

SOLD BY THE

Tenn.-Ala. Auction Company

CLANTON

Business School

Clanton, Ala.

The Georgia-Carolina School of Commerce

of Brunswick, Ga.,—Goldsboro, N. C., is going to open a school at Clanton, providing a sufficient number are interested in taking a standard stenographic, commercial or secretarial course either in the day or night school at once.

J. H. Owens, Representative of the school, will be at Wilson Hotel for a few days to explain courses of study, rates of tuition and further details in which you will be interested and determine whether there is sufficient interest in Clanton to justify placing the school here. Therefore, if you are interested in taking a course right here at home see him at once.

COURSES OF STUDY

These are the courses of study that are being offered for reservation. They speak for themselves, and need no arguing. Call or phone for details.

STENOGRAPHIC COURSE

Gregg Shorthand, Touch Typewriting, Business English, Business Correspondence, Penmanship, Spelling, Rapid Calculation, General Office Practice, and allied subjects.

COMMERCIAL COURSE

Bookkeeping, Banking, Business Arithmetic, Rapid Calculation, Business English, Business Correspondence, Penmanship, Spelling, General Office Practice, and allied subjects.

SECRETARIAL COURSE

A complete combination of the two courses enumerated above and intended for those who wish to qualify for high-grade secretarial and executive positions.

Day and Night Sessions, Individual Instructions, Diplomas. Positions for Graduates.

For all details of this exceptional opportunity see or phone J. H. Owens at Wilson Hotel.

The School will open in a central location as soon as a sufficient number are enrolled.

Georgia-Carolina School of Commerce

O. M. LANE, Vice Pres. J. H. OWENS, Representative

BRUNSWICK, GA.—GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Ready Now---Fashionable New

Modes For Early Spring

When you see these new fashions, we feel sure you will agree that never before has Spring apparel been more lovely, for these beautiful models are Paris inspired and are from America's finest makers. And they will become the joy and pride of smartest Spring wardrobes.

That one may be charmingly and appropriately costumed for a very moderate outlay is noted in the pricings of these smart new garments.

Don't Forget Our Hemstitching and Dressmaking Department

The Ladies are Invited to Visit Our Rest Rooms

The Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALABAMA

PASTURE STARTING SEASON IS NOW HERE

With the season here for starting permanent pastures the county agents and livestock workers of Auburn are reminding farmers at their meetings, on their farms, by correspondence, and through the press that a good pasture is the basis of profitable meat and milk production; and that Alabama can have as good pastures as any other State. F .W. Burns, Livestock Specialist, is insisting that pastures be not overlooked this spring.

It is neither difficult nor expensive to start a good permanent pasture in Alabama. The best land for pasture is the low land with plenty of moisture, perhaps too wet for general agricultural purposes.

With such land a good pasture may be had by removing the brush and undergrowth, sowing the seed without previous plowing, and turning cattle on to get what grazing they can and also to keep the weeds and wild grass down so that the seed planted can germinate and get started. If the land is too low some drainage may be necessary, but plowing before planting is undesirable. If the seed get to the ground they will germinate and grow.

The plants for such pastures vary in different sections. For central and south Alabama a mixture of 10 pounds of lespedeza (Japan clover) seed, 5 pounds carpet grass, and 3 pounds of Dallis grass per acre is a good mixture. In north Alabama farmers have found that a mixture of lespedeza, Dallis grass, redtop, and perhaps Bermuda is preferred. Time for planting is late February and March.

Mrs. Ruby Dykes returned to her home Sunday, after spending a week with friends and relatives in Montgomery.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, in the Probate Court of Chilton County.

Application having been made on this day in due form by Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, administratrix of the Estate of J. W. Lawrence, deceased, for an order authorizing the sale of lands described therein, belonging to said estate, for the purpose of paying debts, on the ground that the personal property is insufficient therefor; the 22nd day of February, 1926, has been appointed for the hearing of such application at which time all parties interested can appear and contest the same if they see proper.

2-4-3t-ch L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate, Chilton Co.

Sanford Barber Shop
Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF LAND

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Probate Court.

In pursuance of the directions and terms of a Commission dated the 21st day of January, 1926, issued to the undersigned by the Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of said county, I will proceed to sell to the highest bideer for cash, at public auction, on the 13th day of Febuary, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, on the hereinafter described lands in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit, the following described property:

South half of Southwest fourth; the Northwest fourth of the Southwest fourth, all in Section 8, Township 23, Range 14, consisting of one hundred twenty acres. All of the above being situated in Chilton County, Alabama, and being known as the Campbell Lands, Deceased, which said property is to be sold under the order of said Probate Court, for the purpose of division and partition between the several joint owners thereof, viz:

Henry Campbell, Eliza Campbell, William Campbell, Lannie G. Campbell, Leona B. Gaither, Harley R. Campbell, Cecil C. Campbell, John Acie Campbell.

This, the 21st day of January, 1926.

W. H. CONWAY,
1-28-3t-ch Commissioner.

POPLAR SPRINGS

We are glad to state that the condition of Mrs. Gertrude Jones is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie McDowell and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie McDowell Sunday.

Miss Jewell McDowell was the guest of Miss Libbie Dykes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Traywick were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wells Sunday.

Miss Letha Patterson was the guest of Miss Myrtle McDowell Sunday.

Misses Arena and Lena Traywick were guests of Miss Leola Edwards Sunday.

Misses Everee and Marveen Cox were guests of Miss Eula Knight Saturday night.

Miss Ida McDowell was guets of Miss Lena Downs Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Easterling and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie McDowell Sunday.

There will be preaching at this place next Sunday. Everybody invited to attend.

Build Up Your Health With
DR. PIERCE'S
GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

If You Would Avoid
COUGHS, COLDS, GRIPPE.

A Tonic which Dr. Pierce prescribed when in active practice 60 years ago.
In Liquid or Tablets, at your Dealers.
Send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. Tablets.

OAK CROSS TIES WANTED

I am now paying the following prices for Oak Ties, delivered to my yard at Clanton:

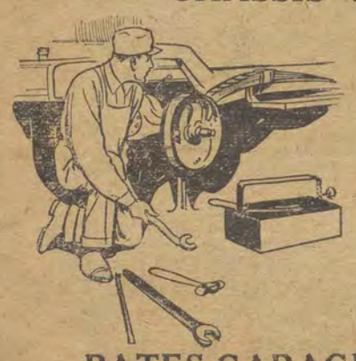
SAWN

Grade 5—7 x 9 x 8½—8-inch face, ... $ .90
Grade 4—7 x 8 x 8½—7-inch face, ... .80
Grade 3—7 x 9 x 8½—6-inch face, ... .60

Smooth hewn ties, 5c less. Must be sound timber, all bark removed. Cash paid each load. See me for specifications

ROBERT TEEL, Clanton, Ala.

BABY CHICKS



—o—

HIGHEST QUALITY - PRICES RIGHT
Book Your Orders Early and Avoid Disappointment
Custom Hatching - Brooders
Poultry Supplies

—o—

F. E. MASTIN
Thorsby, - - - - - Alabama

CHASSIS TROUBLES

When it comes to brake band, axle, wheel or any kind of chassis trouble we are as expert in correcting it as we are in putting your engine in order. There is not a job of auto repair work that we can not do well and promptly. Let us go over your car and put it in first class condition now. We guarantee satisfaction.

BATES GARAGE, Clanton, Ala.

CLANTON LOCALS

Mrs. P. D. Wilson spent last Thursday and Friday in Anniston with relatives.

Misses Jean and Myra Johnson, Mary McSwain and Mr. John VanDerveer, Jr., students at Thorsby Institute, spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Reynolds and children have returned to their home in Montgomery after a delightful visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong and Mrs. O. O. Roper motored to Boothton Sunday and were guests of Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Roper.

Mr. Vincent Gragg of Mitchell Dam spent the week end with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. V. J. Gragg.

Miss Sarah Mullins spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Annie Mullins.

Miss Lurline Harper of Selma spent last week end with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Harper.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Webb of Mulberry were visitors to towns Monday.

Mr. J. D. Broadhead made a business trip to Montgomery Friday.

Messrs. Monroe Wyatt, George Wyatt and Tom Mims spent Monday fishing on Coosa River, catching the first fish of the season.

Mesdames J. E. Gowan and J. B. Mauney motored to Birmingham Monday and spent the day shopping.

Miss Estelle Littlejohn of Birmingham is visiting friends and relatives in town.

Mr. L. F. Gerald made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and son, Jack, of Birmingham, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Broadhead Sunday.

Mrs. C. K. Evans has returned from a visit to her mother in Corinth, Miss.

Mr. Ben Manning of Mulberry was in town Monday.

Miss Kathleen Mullins has returned from a week's visit to Miss Marzelle Mullins in Montgomery.

Mesdames N. S. Johnson, L. F. Gerald; Misses Jean Johnson and Celia Gerald attended the afternoon performance of "Mr. Wu" in Birmingham last Saturday.

Miss Mary Upchurch, who attends Howard College, spent the week end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch.

Rev. Hartman of Nashville, Tenn., spent last week in town.

Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson and children motored to Montgomery Wednesday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. Frank Callen spent Friday shopping in Birmingham.

Mr. Jesse Woodyard of Birmingham visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard the past week end.

Mesdames Inez Gullahorn, J. B. Brodnax and little daughter, Sarah, and Miss Zella Gullahorn of Birmingham motored down and spent Sunday with Mrs. Grady Broadhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gerald and children spent Sunday in Birmingham as guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Horn.

Messrs. J. R. Mullins, Frank Mullins, Mrs. W. I. Mullins, and Helen and Joe Moore motored to Birmingham Sunday and visited Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Mullins.

Mrs. Guy Roberts of Miami, Fla., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reynolds.

Mrs. Renfro Mullins of Montgomery spent a few days of this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foshee.

Mr. W. J. Billingsley of Thorsby spent Monday in town.

Miss Jimmie Morrow of Birmingham was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Broadhead for the week end.

Mrs. Haughey spent Tuesday shopping in Birmingham.

Messrs. Jesse Sam and Jo Erle Gowan attended the basket ball game at Mitchell Dam Thursday evening.

Mr. C. D. Hughes of Cooper was a visitor in Clanton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wingard and son, Chester, motored to Birmingham Saturday to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

Mesdames W. A. Reynolds, Guy Robets, Percy Pitts, and Miss Willodea Reynolds motored to Birmingham Thursday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. C. R. Mullins and Miss Rubye Branch of Alred Mercantile Co., left Sunday afternoon for market.

Miss Agnes Wingard of Birmingham spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wingard.

Rev. W. M. Mims of Maplesville was in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Higgins of Elba announce the arrival of a daughter on January 29.

Mr. Jones, principal of Isabella school, was in town Saturday.

Mr. W. W. Fox is able to be out again, after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Clarence Evans spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. C. Wingard of Wetumpka spent Saturday in town with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Claud White returned to her home in Birmingham Saturday, after a ten-day visit to Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White.

Mr. Cleve Weldon of Enterprise was among the teachers in town Saturday.

Mesdames W. J. Billingsley and R. L. Bonner of Thorsby were shopping in town Saturday.

Mr. H. A. Harris of Stanton attended the meeting for teachers here Saturday.

Mr. J. D. Griffin of Marbury attended the teachers' meeting here Saturday.

Mr. Guy Higgins of Prattville was a business visitor in town Friday.

HILL'S

Seventh Street --- Back of Upchurch's

Come To HILL'S Saturday
For Your GROCERIES

Flour 24lb bag $1.29

Salmon, 2 cans . . .	25c	Tomatoes 3 cans .	25c
Coffee, per lb	29c	Corn per can . .	10c
Campbell's Soup, Tomato-Vegetable, can . . .	10c	Oatmeal	9c
No. 10 pail Pure Lard .	$1.58	No 10 pail Snow-drift	$1.60

Sugar 100 lbs $5.90

We thank the good people of Clanton and surrounding territory for the patronage they have given us.

MR. I. N. LANGSTON SUFFERS STROKE OF PARALYSIS

We learn that Mr. I. N. Langston of Jemison is seriously ill, having suffered a severe stroke of paralysis in the left side last Sunday night.

He was stricken as he was going to bed, and was found helpless on the floor some time later by his son, Raz Langston.

Mrs. Charley Plier is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Plier in Bartow, Fla.

BEWARE OF
IMITATIONS
BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS
Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"
Clanton . . . . . Alabama

ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala.— "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1926 NUMBER 44

TO BEGIN PAYING BONDS THIS YEAR

Editor Union-Banner.

We the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, request you to again publish an article for us. We feel like we impose on your good nature in requesting you so often to publish matters that we want the public to know, but we have no other way of reaching the people.

The Court repealed the law requiring parties hauling lumber, logs or timber with trucks to take out County license, but we have learned that the impression has gone out that the law requiring all parties not to haul over the roads when they are wet was also repealed. Now this law was not repealed, and we call attention to parties hauling over the roads that they must observe this law strictly, and it is the duty of each overseer of the roads to prosecute everyone violating this law. No person is permitted to haul over 800 pounds over the roads in 24 hours after a 20-minute rain of anything, between the first of May and December, nor until 36 hours after such rain from the first of December to the first of May. No one can haul lumber, logs, timber, cordwood, cross ties or minerals during the above times after such rains.

The Court set aside $50,000 out of the taxes this year to pay on the old bond debt the County owes. We know this means that we must economize—save all the money we can, and we urge all parties that have business with the County to help us in every way they can to save money. We urge all road supervisors to spend as little as possible in keeping up their roads, make no bills to amount to anything unless you get permission from your Commissioner.

We urge the cooperation of all the people in the County to help us save all the money we can. We urge all the County officers not to buy anything that they can get along without this year.

There will be some people who think it is not best to pay any of the bonds that will not be due until 1947, but we are paying 5% on these $200,000 bonds, which is $10,000 per year. We have already paid $70,000 on the bonds and still owe the $200,000.

We feel like it is our duty to pay these bonds off as fast as we can.

We realize that there is a great demand for better roads and that the price of material and work is very high, and we assure the public that it is the intention of the Commissioners to keep on improving the public roads of the County.

We bought over $15,000 worth of sewers last year and it is our intention to buy still more, but still we feel like it is our duty to save all the money we can and pay off this bonded debt as fast as we can, and if the people will cooperate with us, help us take care of the money and help us to protect the public roads, not haul over them when they are wet, we feel like we can pay this $50,000 on the bonds and still maintain our good road program.

Yours truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.
J. M. MIMS,
T. J. DORMINEY,
J. L. BURNETTE,
A. P. VINSON,
Commissioners.

CHILTON HIGH LOSES IN DOUBLE BATTLE

Chilton High lost a double battle in basket ball on the local court here last Friday afternoon.

The girls were easily swamped to the tune of 49 to 13 by Maplesville High School. Maplesville's team exhibited an all-around ability to handle the ball and handle it well, while the game showed that Chilton has at least two good ones in Ray, a forward, and Hines, a guard. These two turned in a good report, and were supported poorly.

The boys fared better, but lack of practice showed against them while they were being defeated by Shelby County High. Chilton showed better passing, but couldn't find the ring while shooting. If anything Chilton passed the ball better than Shelby, but Shelby's superior goal-shooting ability told heavily, although Chilton's guards were right on their toes.

Coshatt and Seals were the luminaries for Shelby, while Rutland was the principal scorer for Chilton.

OFFICERS RAID STILL IN COOSA

Federal prohibition officers A. J. Roberts and W. H. Gillespie, and State law enforcement officer A. L. Kimbrough raided a still about 1 1-2 miles of Quincy, in Coosa County, last Friday, and captured Will Mitchell, of Quincy. Officers reported that two other men were at the still, but escaped, and it is not known yet who these men were.

A 100-gallon copper still, 30 gallons of whiskey, and 1,500 gallons of beer were destroyed. The still was in operation, going full blast when the officers appeared.

MURDER AT LOCK 12

Monday night about 6 o'clock Viola Darby, a negro woman, shot and instantly killed another negro woman named Mary Simpson in the Darby woman's home at Lock 12. The weapon used was a 32-calibre pistol. Two shots were fired, both taking effect in the right breast.

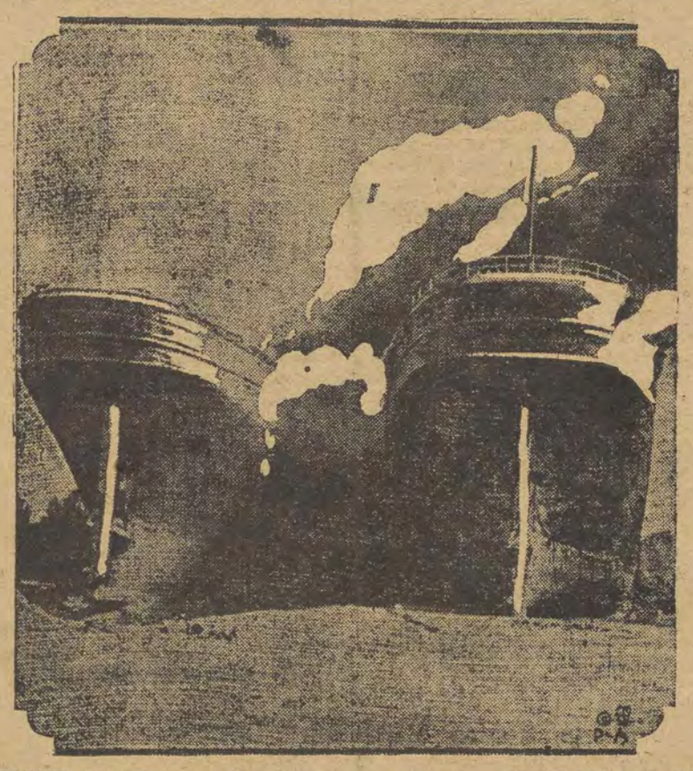
The Darby woman stated to Chilton County officers that Mary Simpson had attacked her in her own home with a fire poker, and that she shot in self defense.

The negro woman was arrested and brought to jail in Clanton. The preliminary trial was held Wednesday morning before Justice of the Peace J. W. E. Gulledge.

DAVIS-GRAY

Mr. Carl Gray and Miss Agnes Davis were married Tuesday night at the home of Mr. Shelley Davis of Route 2.

Mr. Gray is the son of Mr. W. J. Gray, of Route 2, near Maple Springs. His bride is the daughter of Mr. Shelley Davis, of the same community.



Immediately after the ceremony, the young couple visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis, of Clanton.

S. J. M. WEBB CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

At the urgent solicitation of a great number of his friends, Mr. S. J. M. Webb of Mulberry has consented to make the race for membership on the Board of Education of Chilton County. His announcement appears elsewhere in the candidate column.

Mr. Webb is a good man, a loyal Republican, and his friends who know him intimately declare that he will be an excellent selection for the important place on our school board.

Wartime Ships Go Up In Smoke "For Junk"

FOUR ships that cost the government more than $3,000,000 to build during the late war, were fed to the flames recently. They were boughtfor scrappage at $2,000 each. Stripped of all moveable brass and iron lxtures, they were taken up a slough at high water and there left stranded when the water receded—then set ablaze and what twisted iron remained was salvaged by workmen. Above—the Fort Sheridan and Bedloe burning.

COME TO THE RABBIT HUNT NEXT MONDAY

The annual rabbit hunt will be staged next Monday, February 22nd. All who are interested are requested to meet the crowd at Uncle Jack Vines's place on the Lock 12 Road about 8:30 a. m. Everybody come. Bring all your dogs, but leave your guns at home. Many sportsmen have expressed an interest in the event during the past few weeks, and it is predicted that this will be the best hunt that has ever been pulled off. Everybody come, and don't forget to be there by 8:30.

E. T. DAWSON

On the morning of February 7th death claimed E. T. Dawson of Pleasant Grove, Beat 14. He was a good and useful man, a citizen of sterling worth, a deacon in the church; his life was quiet, consistent and true.

As he sought the higher life, we entertain for him hope that the laurels of immortality await him, a celestial body to shine like the sun—like the firmament.

One writer supposes "the combined brilliancy of the three hundreds suns of the Magellanic clouds, each of which is fifty thousand times brighter than our sun, will pale before the celestial glory" to which Mr. E. T. Dawson aspired.

His body was laid to rest at Pleasant Grove, in the presence of a large gathering of his friends. The casket was covered with flowers. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. F. Dykes.

"Over and over it comes to me,
The message of comfort from Galilee,
The voice of Christ through storms I hear,
Lo, it is I, there is naught to fear."

EXAM. FOR POSTMASTER AT VERBENA, ALA.

To fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in Verbena, Ala., the United States Civil Service Commission has announced, at the request of the Postmaster General and in accordance with an order of the President, an open competitive examination. Receipt of applications will close March 17, 1926.

To be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must reside within the delivery of the post office for which the examination is held, must have so resided for at least two years next preceding the examination date, must be in good physical condition and within the prescribed age limits. Both men and women are admitted.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained at the post office at Verbena, for which the examination is held, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Messrs. Alphus Jones and W. A. Jones, two prominent citizens of Corinth community, were in Clanton last Tuesday. They report the "water is fine" for fishing around Knight's Ferry.

NEGRO WEDDING

There will be a coon wedding, like they have in southern Georgia, at the McCary school Friday night, February 19, at 7:30. Everyone is invited. Admission 10c and 15c.—Mrs. Dennis.

Mr. Harry Gordon of Columbiana was in town Tuesday.

DUDLEY COLLINS IN RACE FOR COUNTY SHERIFF

The name of J. Dudley Collins is the first out for the office of Sheriff in the Republican primary of August 10th.

Mr. Collins needs no introduction to the people of Chilton County. He was Tax Collector for several years, and while in that position he became well-known in all parts of the county.

For some years past he has been engaged in the pursuit of his own private business of farming and sawmilling.

Mr. Collins has always been a loyal Republican, and his official record has been commendable. He has served the people well in every trust conferred upon him. He is expected to be a strong candidate for Sheriff.

THE HIGH SCHOOL COLUMN

Hereafter, Chilton County High School will have their own column in The Union-Banner. The column will be under the head "Campus Activities." In their column they will give all the news, humor, etc., from C. C. H. S., and the department should be very interesting.

SINGING AT OAK GROVE NEXT SUNDAY

There will be a singing nert Sunday afternoon at Oak Grove. The new books will be used. Everybody invited to come.

ISABELLA-MULBERRY NEWS

The rally day at Isabella last Friday was enjoyed by a large crowd. Mr. Lambert of Montgomery, Judge Reynolds, Rev. B. Lawrence, and J. H. Owens, representative of the business school in Clanton, attended. Mr. Lambert, Judge Reynolds and Rev. B. Lawrence spoke to us about our accredited high school, and if we around Isabella would take as much interest in our school as these men told us we should, we would soon have a building we would be proud of. They all made fine talks, and we hope they will visit our school again.

Messrs. Earle Williams and "Blonda" Connell were visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Williams Sunday.

Miss Evie Lecroy, who is working in the Bessemer store of her brother-in-law, W. T. Tucker, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lecroy, Saturday and Sunday. She was accompanied by little Edna Earle and Jack Tucker.

The Mulberry W. M. U. met at the home of Mrs. O. F. Davenport Saturday afternoon, and went through with the Royal Service program. There were several at the meeting. We will meet with Mrs. Bessie Conway on March 6th.

D. O. Manning and Charlie Giles made a business trip to Selma Monday.

CORINTH

The singing society met in regular session Sunday afternoon and elected officers for the coming year: A. L. Robinson, chairman; E. L. Jones, assistant chairman; W. A. Jones, secretary; A. M. Jones, assistant secretary; N. J. Jones, J. A. Jones, C. R. Jones, arranging committee.

After the election A. M. Jones, A. L. Robinson, and N. J. Jones sang three songs each.

Our society will meet each second and fourth Sunday afternoon.—W. A. Jones, Sec'y.

K. M. VINSON CANDIDATE FOR TAX ASSESSOR

The name of Mr. K. M. Vinson is added to our list of Republican candidates this week, having announced as a seeker after the job of assessing taxes in Chilton County.

Mr. Vinson is well known in most parts of Chilton County, having been actively engaged in a business capacity for several years, which has brought him into contact with many people.

Before the world war Mr. Vinson was clerk in the Tax Assessor's office under Mr. J. N. Dennis, holding the job for about three years. During this time he gained a full knowledge of the work of the office.

During the war he served as a soldier of the United States, putting in ten months overseas.

For the past three years he has been connected with the Clanton Motor Car Company.

This is not his first venture in politics. Two years ago he was a candidate for the office of county treasurer, and was only defeated by a close margin.

Mr. Vinson is a good man who has always taken an active interest in the furtherance of the interests of the Republican party. Many of his friends are strongly backing him for the Tax Assessor's office, for which he is well qualified.

ALFRED F. MIMS CANDIDATE FOR TAX COLLECTOR

The race for Tax Collector is now a three-cornered affair, the name of Alfred F. Mims of Thorsby having been added to the list of candidates.

Mr. Mims got in the race last Saturday. He has the throttle wide open and is running in high. He says the fellow that beats him will know that he has had some race.

Mr. Mims is a successful farmer of Beat 9, having never before taken a jump in the political arena. He is a staunch Republican, and it goes without saying that he would make a good official if the people see fit to elect him.

VINES SEEKS RE-ELECTION TO SCHOOL BOARD

Mr. J. L. (Fate) Vines of Beat 9 is a candidate in the Republican primary to succeed himself as a member of the Board of Education of Chilton County. He has held this position for the past eight years, and in seeking re-election he asks the people to place their stamp of approval upon his past official record.

McADOO FAMILY THANKS CLANTON

We take this means to thank the good folks of Clanton who were so kind and helpful to us during the long sickness of our child in your good hospital. We wish to thank the entire hospital force, and the town in general, for their many kindnesses while in your midst. We were sick and ye visited us. We were strangers and ye took us in. Inasmuch as ye did these things unto us ye did them unto Him, who shall reward you even for every cup of water given in His name. Billy is doing fine and will soon be himself again. In His name we wish for the entire town every good thing in 1926.

Your true friends,
MR. and MRS. E. C. McADOO,
Gleason, Tenn.

FIDDLERS AT MARBURY FEBRUARY 25

The Parent-Teachers Association of Marbury announces tdat there will be a Fiddlers Convention at the Marbury High School auditorium on Thursday night, February 25th, at 8 o'clock.

An invitation is extended to everybody to attend, with the assurance that everything will be provided to furnisd an enjoyable time.

All fiddlers are invited to come and take part in the program. The following list of prizes will be given to the fiddlers:

First prize, $10; second prize, $5 pair of shoes; third prize, $4 razor; fourth prize, $2.50 cash; fifth prize, $2.50 box of cigars; sixth prize, $1.50 sack of flour; seventh prize, $1 tie; eighth prize, $1 belt; ninth prize, $1 pair hose; tenth prize, $1 cash; eleventh prize, $1 cash; twelfth prize, $1 cash.

After the fiddling program there will be an old time Virginia reel. Admission charge will be 25c and 35c.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT MAPLESVILLE

There will be a fiddlers convention at the auditorium of Stanton Junior High School at 8 o'clock p. m., on February 27th. All fiddlers are invited to take part in the contest and everybody is invited to attend. The P. T. A. will sell refreshments. Admission 20c and 30c. Proceeds go for school's benefit.

REV. J. S. HAND MOVED BACK TO CLANTON

Rev. John S. Hand, formerly of Newton, Ala., has moved back to Clanton. Rev. Hand is one of the oldest ministers to graduate from the Baptist College at Newton.

Rev. Hand expects to make his home here permanently and will accept the pastorate of churches in this vicinity. He will continue to take care of his churches in East Alabama until the field opens up in Chilton County.

MAPLESVILLE HI WINS TWO

Besides the 49 to 14 drubbing the Maplesville High School girls gave Chilton High's girls, Maplesville's Boys won another for their school last week. They met the Jemison boys on the Maplesville court and nosed them out 23 to 20.

RABBIT HUNT IN BEAT 2

There will be an all day rabbit hunt on Monday, February 22, All who wish to take part are asked to meet at the store of Gentry & Cofer 5 miles west of Jemison, Beat 2.

A note to The Union-Banner says: "We want everyone who can come to do so. Bring your dogs and lunches along, but no guns will be allowed in the hunt. The rabbits are so thick out our way that they are gnawing fruit trees and destroying crops."

Grape vine cuttings properly cut and inserted in the ground in February will take root and grow. This is a cheap though rather slow way to get grape vines. Ask your county agent about it.

Statement of the Condition of

THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK

Clanton, Ala., Close of Business December 31, 1925

RESOURCES:

Loans,	$253,180.82
Overdrafts,	246.99
Banking House,	2,700.00
Furniture-Fixtures,	2,727.25
Bonds,	20,400.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	471,300.11
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock,	$ 15,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	78,934.58
Deposits,	$656,620.59
TOTAL,	$750,555.17

The Peoples Savings Bank, opening its doors for business on the morning of December 7, 1901, received deposits from twenty-one citizens of Chilton County... An examination of the books of the bank reveals that some of these original depositors have passed away; some have moved away; but over one-half of the original number or their direct heirs, still maintain accounts with The Old Reliable. Further examination reveals that at the end of the year 1901, the number of depositors had increased more than one hundred per cent, and out of these over fifty per cent of them or their direct heirs still do their banking business with this bank.

In 1901, The Peoples Savings Bank, a mere youngster, provided its customers with Safety and Service. Today, this same old institution, the trail blazer, Chilton County's first bank, the veteran that has weathered the storms for nearly a quarter of a century, provides its customers with that same safety and service.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help
SOLICITING NEW BUSINESS ON OUR RECORD

Condensed Statement of the Condation of the

First National Bank

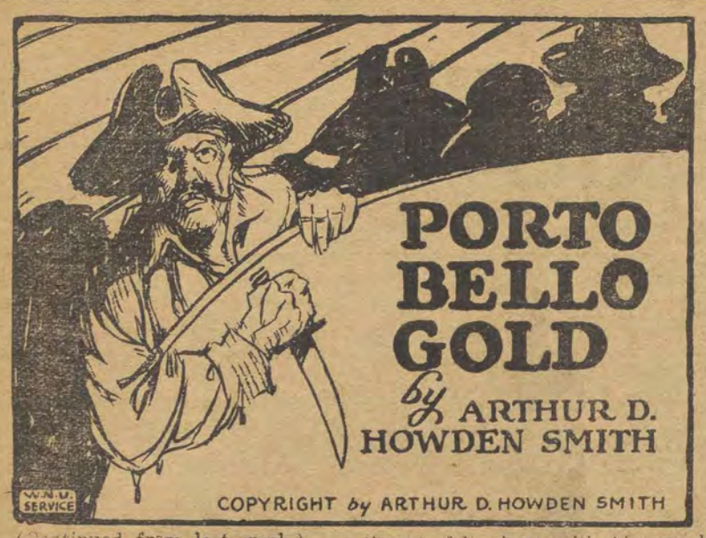
OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

At the Close of Business January 4, 1926

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts,		$476,727.53
Overdrafts,		1,713.73
United States Bonds,		30,000.00
Banking House,		10,478.51
Furniture and Fixtures,		3,236.98
Redemption Fund,		1,500.00
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank,		2,100.00
Cash in Vault and in Banks,	$227,104.40
Stocks and Bonds,	58,827.75
		285,932.15
TOTAL,		$811,688.90

LIABILITIES:



Capital Stock,	$ 50,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits,	34,854.78
Circulation,	28,800.00
Deposits,	698,034.12
Rediscounts,	(NONE)
Bills Payable,	(NONE)
TOTAL,	$811,688.90

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT

Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95
Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59
Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12

TOTAL RESOURCES MORE THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION DOLLARS

We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER IV

An Inkling of the Plot

My poor father's face, with the tears standing in his eyes, was the last object I saw in the wan light of the guttering candles. The next moment my captors lugged me into the darkness of the garden and pushed me upon a hand-cart such as was used to fetch up the frailer kinds of merchandise from the docks. Peter's immense body already occupied most of the cart's cramped space, and I was squeezed precariously between him and the near side, the which Silver perceiving he prodded Peter into a more restricted compass and then spread a tarpaulin over both of us.

"Proceed, John," ordered my great-uncle's voice. "You remember the way? The Green lane, 'tis called. Four men should be sufficient to ac company you. I will go on by another street with the rest of our party."

"Don't ye worry yourself, captain," returned Silver.

Footsteps thudded away on the gravel, and I heard the scratching of the one-legged man's crutch as he stumped in front of us and the cart jolted forward. We emerged into the Green lane, heading toward the East river, and a thrill tickled my spine as I heard the chanting tones of old Diggory Leigh, our ward watchman.

"Ten o'clock of a clear, dark night, and the wind in the nor'west. And all's well!"

"Easy, all!" whispered Silver's voice. "Push on, ye swabs; push on! But hold your gab. I'll do the talking."

The steel piece on the butt of his crutch tinkled on the cobbles as he stumped ahead of the cart.

"Ho there, shipmate," he hailed cordially. "And does you do this the whole, livelong night?"

Diggory's lanthorn-stave jingled on the ground.

"I do," he returned in pompous tones. "What keeps you abroad so late? Y'are seafaring men, I judge."

"Now I calls that clever," protested Silver with unconcealed admiration. "You sees us in the dark, and straight off you says, 'seafaring men.' I can see you're a vigilant watchman, shipmate. I'd hate to be a neefarious fellow in your town. Blow my scuttlebutt, I would!"

Diggory's appreciation of this tribute was mirrored in his voice.

"'Tis essential that our citizens be protected," he answered. "Yet there are those who have accused me of sleeping on watch."

"Skulkers, they be—low-lived skulkers as ever was," Silver assured him. "I know how you feel. Here we've been a-workin' since sunup, a-shiftin' cargo and stowin' it aboard, and I'll lay you a piece of eight the captain never so much as sarves out a extry noggin o' rum."

Diggory's stave jingled again as he sloped it over his shoulder.

"The wisest men are not always those in authority, friend," he said. "Ye might think, from the way some of the corporation talk, 'twas they bar the night-walkers and wastrels from the city's streets! Bah!"

And his wailing voice receded into Pearl street.

"What are you night-walkers and wastrels a-sniggerin' about?" demanded Silver of his following. "George Merry, I'll lay into you with my crutch. Put some heft behind this here blessed cart. Ain't ye ashamed o' yourselves, a-laughin' at a brave, hard-workin' watchman as keeps wicked pirates from liftin' your goods?"

A few hundred feet farther on we rattled off the cobbles onto the planked surface of a wharf.

"That you, John?" growled a voice.

"Aye, aye, Bill. Where's the captain?"

"Gone off in the jollyboat. That 'ere Spanish Irisher is a-waitin' him aboard."

Silver pulled the tarpaulin from over our heads.

"Here, George Merry, can't you and your mates handle the big fellow? Two to his head and two to his feet—and drop him easy or he'll stove in the boat. Now, my gentleman—" this to me—"we'll pass you down, too. You must pull a strong oar with the captain for him to be so anxious to get you offshore hale and whole. It'll be place and rank for you, messmate, or a chance to swim wi' the sharks.

"Where's the red-headed little Irisher, Bill?"

"I sent him off with the captain," replied Bones. "Down wi' you, John. We'll cast off."

From where I now lay, propped up in the bow with my head resting on Peter's huge stomach, I could see the wharf a few feet above and the vague figures of the pirates and behind them the shadowy outline of the warehouses and an occasional dim light. Silver lowered himself to a seat upon the stringpiece of the wharf, dropped the butt of his crutch to the forward thwart, felt about with his one leg and came to rest in front of Peter and me. The crutch he allowed to slip to the bottom of the boat, and in its place he took an oar. Bill Bones found a seat in the stern sheets.

"All clear," muttered Bill. "Give way."

The oars fended off from the wharf, and the boat crept out into the stream, where it felt the full strength of the tide, just beginning to turn. The bow bounced up as the first wave hit it, and Peter, beneath me, emitted a dismal groan through his gag. Silver, bending diligently to his oar, looked over his shoulder.

"You would come, messmate," he said. "'Tis nobody's fault but your own."

"Look Sharp," Called Bones. "The Brig's Just Ahead."

Another groan from Peter, and he lay still.

"Look sharp," called Bones. "The brig's just ahead."

A riding light gleamed high above us in the velvet gloom. I heard the faint slap-slap-slap of water against an anchored hull.

As we rounded under her counter a couple of ropes rattled down to us and I heard the creaking of tackle and hoist.

"Make fast the young 'un first," rasped Bones.

"Aye, aye, Bill," answered Silver and I became conscious that the one legged man and another were knotting a loose rope beneath my arm-pits. "All right, above there?" called Silver presently.

The block began to whine. The rope tautened; the unseen block whined louder; and I rose involuntarily from my position across Peter's belly. My feet were jerked from a thwart, and I kicked the air. The grunts of men hauling in unison floated from the brig's deck, and as I rose faster I commenced to swing like a pendulum. Inside of a minute I was dangling over the bulwarks, feet kicking frantically for standing room. A man caught me by one arm and drew me inboard, shouting the while to "slacken away!" and so I came down again with a bump that was like to crack my knee-caps, deposited as so much cargo upon the pitchy deck.

Dazed by treatment I had never sustained before, I stood heedless as the ropes were unfastened beneath my arm-pits, my bonds slipped off and the gag extracted from my aching jaws. I was just beginning to take in the aspect of my surroundings when Corlaer's cask of a body topped the bulwarks, swung with ludicrous unconcern for an instant as I dare say mine had done, and then lurched in and crashed to the deck. The Dutchman was purple in the face, with white spots dotting the congested area of his cheeks, and gasping for breath. His stomach heaved tumultuously as the gag was removed.

"What ails you, Peter?" I cried.

"Der water," he moaned. "It makes me sick."

And sick he was—violently.

I heard Bones continuing to shout orders; and there was a constant bustle of men running back and forth over the decks, a clattering of ropes and shrieking of falls and blocks. For'ard sounded an ordered trampling of feet and a chorus of rough voices bellowing the wild sea-song I had heard in the Whale's Head tavern:

Fifteen men on the Dead Man's Chest—
Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of rum!
Drink and the devil had done for the rest—
Yo-ho-ho, and a bottle of rum!

Corlaer, weak as a rag, sank in a heap of buckskin in a dark corner by the bulwarks.

"Neen, neen," he answered when I would have helped him. "Not'ings, Bob. I get better by and by. Der salt water—it is always so with me."

"I'll get you some rum," I said firmly.

And, rising, I was on the point of seeking the nearest man to ask where a drink might be obtained when footsteps clicked on the deck behind me.

"They are a dangerous company," said a voice with an unmistakable brogue to it.

"What would you?" returned my great-uncle. "We could not employ his majesty's people in such a business. And all things considered, my fellows can handle it far better and more expeditiously."

They passed through the rays of the lanthorn which swung from the mainyard. Aye, the first speaker was Colonel O'Donnell. The little Irish maid! His daughter. My father had been right in his suspicions.

But what could be the tie of interest between a colonel in the army of the king of Spain and an outlaw who had defied the whole structure of civilization? A Jacobite plot? It seemed preposterous!

"'Tis my daughter I was thinking of," explained O'Donnell as they reached the starboard gangway close by where I stood over Peter's prostrate form. "A woman on a pirate ship!"

"My dear sir, Rule Four of the Code of Articles under which our company is governed—does it surprise you that we have our own laws?—forbids the taking and keeping of women as spoil aboard our ships. We have had experience in the past of the evils which flow in the wake of a struggle for women's favors."

"Shall you not flout your own rule if my daughter comes aboard?" pressed the Irishman.

"She will not come as a prisoner, but as a guest," returned Murray blandly. "After all, colonel, the Royal James is my ship—and in that respect differs from most outlaw craft which are held by the entire crew as a community. No, no; you need not concern yourself."

"I like it not, I say!" persisted O'Donnell. "Why did you bid me bring her? You were hot for her coming so soon as you heard I had a daughter."

"Would you have left her by her lone in a strange country?" answered my great-uncle impatiently. "Tut, man, be sensible. Who would suspect a man who had his daughter with him? 'Tis true this enterprise is fraught with danger, but no maid can go through life without sniffing peril. We will guard her as we shall the treasure."

"I'll hold you to that," rapped O'Donnell as he climbed over the bulwarks and felt for the ladder. "I am not proud of myself when I think of her innocence. Holy saints, what a coil! Well, well, no matter. I must be going, for the night wanes."

"Yes," assented Murray. "And stir your frigate's captain to a swift passage."

The Irishman nodded.

"If necessary we'll pass by the Havana. Luckily Porto Bello is the intendente's chief worry. You'll hover, then, off Mona passage?"

"Aye, from the south tip of Hispaniola to the north of Porto Rico, save it storms, when we'll run for shelter in the bay of Samana, where the old buccaneers were wont to lie. Diego can find us. He has done it before. Just give him ample time."

"So soon as the Santissima Trinidad has her orders Diego shall know."

He started to descend and then climbed back.

"She has heavy metal, Murray. Are you certain—"

My great-uncle laughed.

"Be at ease upon that point, chevalier. We could take two Spaniards of the Santissima Trinidad's metal. I fear I must bid you good evening, though. Hark!"

The bell of the Spanish frigate rang out eight times.

"Midnight!" exclaimed O'Donnell. "Can you be gone by dawn?"

"My dear sir," returned my uncle lightly, "this brig will never be seen again—anywhere—by anybody."

O'Donnell shivered.

"Good night," he said abruptly, and his head vanished behind the bulwarks.

I heard the rattle of oars, a low order in Spanish, the steady splash and spatter of rowers as the boat pulled away. My great-uncle watched it for a moment, then turned toward where I stood.

"Well, Nephew Robert, what did you make of us?" he inquired.

I contrived to keep my voice level, for I would not give him the satisfaction of supposing he had startled me.

"That you are engaged in deeper villainy even than my father feared."

"You have a narrow-minded view of life," he remarked. "However, 'tis a defect can be remedied by experience. By the way, do not jump to conclusions from what you overheard. You shall have the whole tale anon, but until you possess a more intimate knowledge of the situation you are better off in ignorance."

"To me you are a singularly bloody pirate, and that is all."

"The injustice of youth!" he commented evenly. "I was the uncle and tender guardian of the mother you never knew, Robert."

"I share my father's feelings upon that point," I cried, and raised my hand in a threatening gesture.

He did not stir.

"Your conversion will be quite as difficult as I had foreseen," he said. "No, you would gain naught by striking me. Impartially I may recommend you to adopt an attitude which will secure you the maximum of liberty and opportunity. Of what avail for you to force yourself into confinement?"

"Sir," I returned, "be convinced of this: The day you attack a defenseless ship I will slay as many of you as I can and contentedly die."

It has a sound of theatricalism now, but I meant it at the time.

"I purpose nothing of that sort for you," answered my great-uncle. "And while I am tempted to argue you out of a position founded upon a false ethical basis, I shall content myself with the observation that you would do well to hold your temper in leash until you find a need for its employment."

He glanced overside.

"I see we are under way. I must ask you to excuse me for the present, Robert. I am constrained to serve as pilot."

He raised his little silver whistle, and its shrill call fetched several of the crew aft.

"Aye, aye, captain." It was Bones. "What's your wish, sir?"

"Have this poor fellow"—Murray gestured toward Corlaer's recumbent form—"carried to one of the staterooms. Use him gently. Bid the Irish boy—what's his name? Oh, Darby!—bid Darby tend him and fetch him what he requires.

"This gentleman, here"—he indicated me—"is my great-nephew, Master Bones. It may be he will succeed me in command of the Royal James some day, although he is not with us of his own wish as yet. He is to have complete freedom except he undertake to achieve aught to our disadvantage. Pass the word to me men, if you please."

"That's a queer lay," growled Bones. "Is he friend or enemy, captain?"

"An intelligent question," replied my great-uncle. "We may call him an enemy who is to be treated as nearly as possible as a friend."

"Blasted if I see any sense in it," affirmed Bones. "But whatever you says, captain."

"Exactly," said my great-uncle.

"Stir your stumps, ye lousy swabs," roared Bones to his men. "Hitch on to this here land-whale. —— my lights and gizzard if I ever see such a monstrous heap o' human flesh! We'd ought to take him to the South seas and sell him to the canneybals. That's all he's good for. Come on, young gentleman, you may be the captain's nevvy or by-blow or whatever 'twas he called ye, but everybody works on this ship. Lend a hand."

I obeyed him in silence, while he and the others cursed and blasphemed with a fluency defying description. What a company! Except in Murray's presence they owned no discipline, accepted no restraint. Palpably they hated as well as feared him, and I found myself wondering how secure a hold he had upon their passions. Let them once cast off the spell of his magnetism and superior wickedness, and they would become so many irresponsible agents of lust and destruction.

I shuddered and was glad of the hooded cabin-lamp as we stowed Peter's limp body into the constricted space of a bunk; gladder still when they tramped away and left me alone with the Dutchman.

Through a porthole the lights of New York winked farewell to me. I was as frightened as a child by himself for the first time in the dark.

(To be continued Next Week)

CHILTON HIGH REINSTATED

On February 2, Chilton County High School was notified that they had been reinstated in the Alabama State Athletic Association, and were eligible for athletic competition with any high school in the state.

Chilton was discredited last fall in a general athletic scramble in which several high schools took the same dose, while in other schools not discredited several individual players were barred frfom participating in games by their schools.

In "Campus Activities," the C. C. H. S. column, starting this week, you can read how the students feel about it, and tell how proud they are.

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS SUBJECT TO ROAD DUTY

It is the order of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Ala., that all persons subject to public road duty can pay $5.50 to the Judge of Probate on or before March 1. Failing to pay, will have to work seven days.

This fee can not be paid after the above date. L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-28-5t-ch Judge of Probate.

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.
And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101
J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

CATTLE and HOGS Wanted

I want to buy a number of beef cattle and hogs, either fat or lean. Will pay the best Market Price. If you have any for sale, see or write me, or call me over phone. I have no place of business in Clanton, but can be found here most of the time.

W. W. [Bud] JONES
Clanton, Ala.

Take a Ride in the Improved Chevrolet

So superbly smooth is its performance and so delightful its comfort that you will step from the wheel amazed that such power, speed and snap could be achieved in a car that costs so little.

No matter what car you are driving or intend to drive—take a ride in the Improved Chevrolet and experience the positive revelation it will afford. Thousands have already done it—and thousands know the new meaning of Quality at Low Cost.

See us today and let us give you a demonstration

Prices f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Touring	$510
Roadster	510
Coupe	645
Coach	645
Sedan	735
Landau	765
½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated
CLANTON, ALABAMA
QUALITY AT LOW COST

Don't forget to see the used cars at Clanton Motor Car Co. Some mighty good bargains.

666
is a Prescription for
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,
Preventing Pneumonia

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

Local Items About Folks

Mrs. Jennie McMorris of Prattville is visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White.

Mrs. W. I. Mullins returned last Wednesday from a few days' visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Mullins in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ross motored to Birmingham Monday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. I. C. Sapp of Douglass, Ga., was the guest of her brother, Mr. Harvey Chandler, Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Curlee and little son, Bill, of Birmingham, spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Curlee.

Miss Gertie Mae Davis is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Seale, in Birmingham.

Mrs. Hugh Foshee is spending several days in Montgomery with her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Mullins.

Mrs. J. W. Hayes and little daughter, Bess, returned Tuesday afternoon from an extended visit to Dr. and Mrs. Floyd of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. Berber Farley, accompanied by his sisters, Mary, Maxine and Esther, motored to Montgomery last Thursday and spent the day.

Dr. N. S. Johnson made a trip to Birmingham Sunday, taking a patient to South Highland Infirmary.

Dr. A. M. Gowan of Brewton was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Oscar Jones and Mr. Jones Sunday.

MRS. DIANA MIMS

Mrs. Diana Mims, age 74, wife of Mr. Pate Mims of Providence, Beat 16, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Tommie Bates, last Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock. She had been sick of pneumonia for exactly one week.

She is survived by her husband and five children: Elijah Mims, Mrs. Anna Wyatt, J. Mid Mims, Mrs. Laura Bates, and Sidney Mims.

The remains were buried at Providence Friday afternoon, Rev. W. W. Robinson officiating.

FRUIT TREES—I have a few good fruit trees left over that I will sell at a bargain. Also, a little sample cotton, suitable for quilts or beds, to sell. J. N. Dennis. 1t-ch

Mrs. J. R. Mullins, Miss Marzelle Mullins and Mr. John Durwood Mullins of Montgomery came up Friday afternoon and spent the night and Saturday with relatives. They were accompanied home by Mr. Mullins.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callen spent Tuesday in Birmingham.

Mrs. W. I. Mullins is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Gowan, and Dr. Gowan, in Brewton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Connell, and Miss Kathryn Hayes motored to Bessemer Sunday and visited relatives.

Mrs. E. E. Upchurch has returned from a visit of several days to Dr. and Mrs. P. I. Hopkins in Dothan.

Mrs. C. R. Mullins returned Friday from market where she purchased spring goods for Alred Mercantile Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith of Prattville spent Sunday here with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Welch announce the arrival of a son on February 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ellis made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Mr. Tom Thornton from Portland, Oregon, is visiting relatives in Clanton. He will be here for several days.

Don't forget to see the used cars at Clanton Motor Car Co. Some mighty good bargains.

MAN HAS MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

"I was oold by our family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition. I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of MAYR'S "One Dose Will Convince." Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old. I am sure I never could have survived an operation." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appesdicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

LOT SALE

Friday, Feb. 26 10:00 A. M.

At Public Auction

The four lots of R. C. Mixon, known as the old Junius Winkfield estate on the corner of 2nd Ave. and 1st Street in the heart of Clanton

This property is fine for residence and excellent corner for a business

Terms 1-4 Cash

Balance in three payments

Come everybody come. Many prizes to be given away absolutely FREE

SOLD BY

Tennessee - Alabama Auction Co.

CLANTON, ALA.

Here It Is--Fans--The Original Baseball!

NOW that the Hot Stove League is in session—here's g'ving you dyed-in-the-wool fan-delegates something to talk about!

Any idea as to how many years ago it was when the first baseball was constructed, a patent applied for and granted on it? No? Well—put this date down in your memory, note-books or anything else you have for memorandum of interesting information. The first baseball was patented July 17, 1883.

How that data came to light was through the energy and love of the game of some rabid baseball fans in the United States Patent Office at Washington, D. C. They searched and searched and finally found not only the "dope" they wanted, but the original baseball model itself.

The above photograph depicts Assistant Commissioner of Patents, Mr. Fenning, holding the ball on which the patent was granted.

UNION GROVE

Preaching services were held here Saturday night and Sunday morning. We were glad to have so many attentive listeners to the good sermons our pastor, Rev. W. P. Lowery, delivered.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely.

The United Singing Society met here last Sunday at 2 o'clock. The singing was opened with song and prayer by the president, A. H. Glasscock. Directors for the afternoon were Messrs. A. H. Glasscock, E. H. Foshee, Jasper Oaks, Akins Collins, E. L. Glasscock, H. H. Hayes, and Mr. Powell from Clanton. Organists were Misses Flossie Cobb and Inez Hayes.

The singing was very good. We were glad to have so many visitors from other communities with us. We thank the Oak Grove class for their presence and splendid help. We invite them to come again. The society is improving, and we think it will continue to improve as the weather gets better.

The United Singing Society will meet at Collins Chapel next Sunday, February 21, at 2 o'clock. All who are interested in the society and officers must be present as we will elect officers for 1926 at that meeting.

The singing society is certainly a good thing. It is a part of God's work. We hope the newly elected officers will take great interest in the work and keep it going, alive and flourishing, because it gives a chance to do something in the work of the Master. Let's all take a hand, and make 1926 our best year in singing praises to God.—Sec'y.

VIOLA DARBY ACQUITTED

Viola Darby, the negro woman who shot and killed Mary Simpson, another negro woman, at Lock 12 last Monday night, was acquitted in Justice J. W. E. Gulledge's court Wednesday morning, after the negro had proved that she shot in self defense.

L. & N. SERVICE

Transportation companies are called upon sometimes to perform tasks not quite in their usual line, but they usually succeed in carrying out these duties with amazing promptitude.

On the L. & N. Railroad recently, while one of the passenger trains was en route from Etowah, Tenn., to Cincinnati, Ohio, Conductor T. H. Wells was informed that a woman up forward needed expert assistance. He quickly ascertained the trouble and when his train reached Englewood, Tenn., he called for Dr. Seay, one of the company's physicians, who climbed aboard and a little later the train had one more lady passenger who, however, was without a ticket, but was permitted to ride free on account of her tender age, she being only twenty minutes old.

Mother and daughter proceeded on their journey to Cincinnati without further incident.

AROUND NORTH CLANTON

Mrs. Jonathan Headley is quite ill at this writing.

The Miss Dosters entertained a few of their friends Saturday night with a candy party.

Stanley Kennedy, who is working with T. C. I. in Bessemer, was home for the week end.

Mr. Joe Grooms and the Misses Blackmon recently spent an evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leitzman. With Miss Gracie at the piano and Mr. Grooms with the violin, the evening soon passed pleasantly.

Flu is raging in north Clanton, members of four families being sick with it now.

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"Remember, it wuz just about a year ago that you resolved never again t' celebrate th' New Year that way--"

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

The Real Point of the Joke

Two American performers, filling vaudeville engagements in London, took lodgings together in a house on a side street back of Covent garden. Late at night, following the first day of their joint tenancy, they left the theater in company and, having had a bite and a drink at a chophouse set out afoot for the new diggings. One of the pair undertook to show the way. The trouble was, though, that for the life of him he couldn't recall the name of the street where the house stood nor the number of the house itself. For nearly an hour they wandered through deserted byways seeking their destination. Finally they happened upon a street which wore a familiar look. And sure enough, half way down the block stood the house where they were quartered.

With glad cries of relief the tired pair hurried to it. Here a fresh difficulty arose. They had no latch keys. Coming away that afternoon neither had thought to ask their landlady for a key. However, the second man figured he could pick the lock. He worked at it vainly for another half hour while his companion fidgeted about. Finally in disgust and despair he gave it up as a bad job, and the two of them went to a hotel, where they spent the remainder of the night.

Now comes the point of the story: The man who could not remember the name of the street, nor the number of the house was Barton the Memory-Wizard. The man who could not master the lock was Houdini the Handcuff King.

(Copyright by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Mr. Joe Parrish, formerly of Lock 12, and now of Birmingham will move to Muscle Shoals in the near future.

STANTON NEWS

We are now ready to build the additional room on the school house here.

H. R. Schurter made a business trip to Clanton Monday.

Mrs. I. U. Hicks of Lawley spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. J. C. C. Woolley.

Thomas Woolley has been appointed acting Postmaster here by the Postmaster General.

Mr. Zeddie Hamrick of Safford came up to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. G. M. Hamrick, recently.

A number of young men of Sardis community were visitors in Stanton Sunday.

Mrs. W. C. Dyer and Miss Eva Easerwood were shopping in Selma Saturday.

Miss Elsie Schurter, who is teaching at Safford, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schurter.

One of the most delightful entertainments of the year was a Valentine Party given at the home of Miss Elizabeth Thrash Monday night. It was attended by quite a large crowd of the young people of this town. The Thrash home was cleverly and artistically arranged with decorations suitable for the occasion. Many interesting games were played, the most enjoyable of which was a Dramatic Contest. Among the other games enjoyed were "Scrambled Verse" and an archery contest.

CEDAR GROVE

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove Singing Society met at Cedar Grove last Sunday afternoon, with a large crowd. The singing was good and everybody seemed to be tuned up just right.

Directors for the afternoon were J. W. Lowery, D. T. Melton, Houston Melton, Harrison Hayes, Kermit Lowery, and Glover Smith.

Organists were Mrs. Zelma Littlejohn, Mrs. Bonnie Rollins, Miss Lucile Price, and Miss Onzelle Eiland.

We were glad to have so many visitors with us, and invite them to come again.—Secretary.

There are lots of trees and shrubs in the nearby forest that will add wonderfully to the landscape and appearance of the home; and the only cost in getting them is to transplant them.

During February and March thousands of farm boys in Alabama will enroll in club work. Many of them will be in the cotton club, although some will be in the corn, pig, and other clubs.

Mrs. W. L. Popwell returned home last Wednesday from an extended visit to relatives in Birmingham and Talladega.

How to Stop That Weakening Cough

Why let a heavy, stubborn cough wear you down when you can get speedy relief and often break it up completely in 24 hours through a remarkable new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So with the cause removed the worst cough soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

Prune and spray the fruit trees before the buds begin swelling.

A fireless cooker costs little but it saves fuel and time and adds to the flavor of the food.

The farmer, just as the merchant, needs to take inventory of his business each year. Those who have not taken this inventory can well afford to do so before planting their crops.

Russia is preparing to export to America during the next six months 6,000,000,000 eggs, 80,000,000 lbs. of butter, and 40,000,000 chickens, ducks, turkeys, and wild fowl, says a press dispatch.

Over 4,500,000 pounds of wool of the 1925 clip was marketed by the Ohio Wool Growers Cooperative Association, which has a membership of 10,200 growers. Most of the wool came from Ohio, although some came from Indiana and Michigan, and a little from Pennsylvania.

The first four locomotives used in the United States were built in England. They cost, including freight, insurance, and customs, about $3,130 each as compared with $60,000 for a modern locomotive. The heaviest of these four locomotives was 7 tons and could pull only 5 or 6 "carriages," while the modern locomotive can pull 80 to 100 cars.

With the present prices of farm real estate about 100% of the prewar prices as compared with 200% for city real estate, farm management specialists at Auburn say that the present should be a good time to buy farms because the two groups of property should get on a more even basis of valuation in the future.

A ton of unleached wood ashes contains about 100 pounds of potash, 40 pounds of phosphoric acid, and 600 pounds of lime, which makes unleached ashes a valuable fertilizer. A cord of hardwood will produce about 40 pounds of ashes. Softwood produces less than this, and the potash content is only about two-thirds as much. The potash in ashes is all water-soluble. Ashes must be kept under cover or the potash will leach out. Wood ashes should not be mixed with organic fertilizer, such as manure.

WRIGLEY'S P.K.

NEW HANDY PACK

Fits hand ~ pocket and purse

More for your money and the best Peppermint Chewing Sweet for any money

Look for Wrigley's P. K. Handy Pack on your Dealer's Counter G7

Sure - - We Don't Mind That!

COMMISSIONERS COURT WILL TACKLE THE BOND ISSUE

In these days of high prices, good roads, and fast living, it is a common thing to hear of cities, towns and counties going in debt via the bond issue route. But here in Chilton County we are fortunate that the rule is reversed. We are in the happy circumstance of getting our bond issue paid off rather than our debt increased.

Our court of county commissioners have announced to the people that they have passed an order setting aside $50,000 out of the taxes this year which will be paid on the bonded indebtedness of the county. If you have not already done so, read the signed article by the commissioners and probate judge on the front page of this paper. It tells all about the matter.

The bonded indebtedness of the county is $200,000. The commissioners estimate that they will be able to pay $50,000 each year for this and the next three years, which will wipe out the bond issue and thereby effect a saving of $10,000 a year which has been going out each year for interest ever since the debt was made.

The Union-Banner takes this opportunity to commend the action of the commissioners in the steps they have inaugurated to pay off the county debt. We believe that the people of the county likewise, will be glad to learn of the action taken.

It is the soundest business policy which can be followed by those in charge of county finances.

Those of us who can remember back a few years can recall the circumstances under which our county became involved in this debt. We can remember how Judge Reynolds and his associates on the commissioners court came in charge of the county affairs with the debt hanging over them. They stood at the opening of a way that was dark and void of promise, yet commanded by the people of the county to advance.

Their steps have been well guarded. Their task has been next to an impossible one. But they have gone through the worst of the way, and it is indeed a cause for rejoicing that they now declare that they can see the light breaking through what has been the darkest period of Chilton County's financial history.

To our mind the greatest tribute that can be paid to Judge Reynolds and those who have labored with him in the Commissioners Court for the past ten years is to say that even now they are ready to begin to pay off the two hundred thousand dollar debt that was handed down to them by their predecessors in office.

You have done fine, fellows; really, we believe, better than the people thought you could. Congratulations!

THE PEOPLE NEED TO BE LET ALONE

Candidates for county office on the Republican ticket are announcing, and pretty soon the long, hot race for the primary in August will be well under way.

Apropos of this campaign a few observations seem worthy of expression just now.

First of all, the Republicans of Chilton county need, more than all else in this campaign, to be let alone by the politicians.

The people can be trusted to decide upon whom they need and want to serve them in the public offices, and they do not need any advice from political "fixers" in order to decide the question.

The Republicans of Chilton county do not need any dictation from anybody. They need only to counsel with themselves and vote their true and honest convictions.

Each candidate should stay strictly on his own ground, running upon his own merits and not upon the demerits of his opponent.

A candidate for one office need not be unduly concerned about the political business of another candidate running for another office. Every candidate will have his hands full to tend to his own business and get enough votes to be nominated.

The Republicans need to be let alone and allowed to vote their own convictions. That done, we can see no danger of disintegration.

Each voter has got a head, and he or she ought to be ready now to tell the world that he will butt with it.

It takes politics to run a political party just as it takes grease to run an automobile. But too much politics, like too much grease, will surely cause somebody in the neighborhood to get unnecessarily soiled and spattered. It is possible to get too much of a good thing.

Anybody and everybody who wants to can run for office. The voters are able to judge as to who they want to be candidates in the general election, and if they are let alone by busybodies and fixers, they will make no mistake on August 10th.

Every voter who casts a ballot in the Republican primary on August 10 should also support the Republican nominees in November. If he or she feels that it might not be possible to do that, he should be honest and honorable enough to stay out of the primary.

Likewise every candidate who is defeated in the primary, should be loyal to the ticket in November.

ATTENTION—RADIO FANS!

On Monday night, FeFbruary 22, station WAPI, the Auburn broadcasting station, will be on the air, operating on 248 meters. This station is mainly for the benefit of farmers, as all kinds of reports for farmers will be given out from time—reports of tests by the Alabama Experiment Station, etc. So farmers, if you have a set, set it to catch the "stuff" coming in on 248 meters next Monday night, as they expect to put out an A-1 program. This is the farmers' station, and they are urged to make the most of it.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of February 14, 1901.

Dr. H. W. Caffey is a candidate in the Constitutional Convention, subject to action of Democratic primary.

"The Chilton Reflector" is a new venture in the newspaper field of Chilton County, published at Maplesville.

Thorsby is having an interesting time at its first municipal election. There are three tickets in the field headed by K. G. Faegre, A. Horn and J. Bice.

The Reynolds contest case in the Senate was heard last Thursday and decided in favor of Mr. Oliver.

Considerable dissatisfaction is being expressed in Beat 5 at the passage of stock law, and vague threats are being made that the people will not submit to it.

Mrs. E. M. Pinckard is visiting her parents in Tuskegee.

Mr. J. M. Potts and wife and Miss Emma are visiting Florida.

Prof. W. M. Riddle of Thorsby was in town last Saturday.

The infant of Mr. W. J. Watson was badly burned last Friday while the mother was away.

Jeff Davis, a negro, charged with murder, made his escape from jail Monday. Sheriff Kilgore has not yet recaptured him.

Will Bristow, a youth about 16 years old, while playing about a freight train at Jemison last Saturday, fell beneath the wheels and was terribly crushed. He died about two hours afterward.

Health authorities say that colds which seem of very little consequence to many people often lead to such serious diseases as pneumonia and tuberculosis.

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE COVERED

with a fire insurance policy in one of the companies we represent. Then you need have no fear of fire in a financial way. You can rest comfortably in the confidence that if a fire should occur at your house, the loss, large or little, will be paid promptly by the company you are insured in. Do it to-day.

VanDerveer Real Estate & Insurance Co.

"Chuckle" Column

THIS—THAT—AND THE OTHER

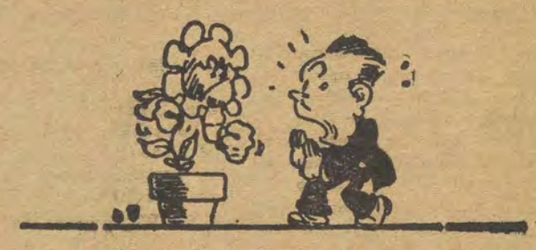
One of London's famous merchants asserts that "the greatest of all crimes is laziness." That's not a crime. That's a luxury.

—§§§—

Automobile Exhausts!

Balloon tires cover a multitude of anatomy when passing over some luckless pedestrian.

—§§§—



Had one of those so-called "Chummy Roadsters" threaten our existence to-day. In fact, it got so chummy that—two inches more and it would have embraced our physical frame.

—§§§—

He claimed his motor worked fine at sixty miles an hour. Now he's settling the claim—by working out the fine the judge plastered on him!

—§§§—

They tell us there's a plant over in India that has muscles and, if you strike it, it shows fight. It'll sort o' plant one on your breather, so to speak?

—§§§—

UNCLE JAKE SAYS:

"If a man smite thee on one cheek—turn to him the other. But—duck before he swings!

"He who fights and runs away—better stay in hiding if he wants to save himself a hospital bill.

"Many a man starts out to hit the high spots in life but, sooner or later, he lands hard on the fact that it doesn't pay.

"He who would advise Youth nowadays—can learn something.

"Many a short fellow can talk way over the head of a tall one."

—§§§—

Not a few misguided persons in the world with appetites for "Roast Breast of Peacock" on incomes that barely permit the lowly Beans and Pork.

—§§§—

Oft where there's a will, there's a way—distant relatives have of thinking it's a chance for getting some money without working for it.

—§§§—

Here It Comes - - There It Goes!

Papers say married men make more money than bachelors. But that don't mean anything. They never have it long enough on pay day to realize their superiority.

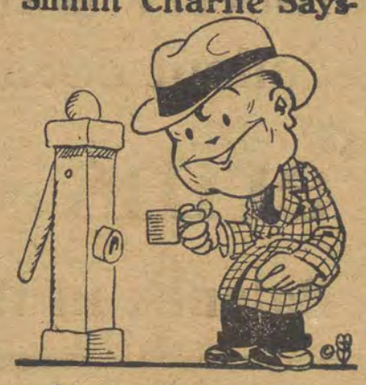
—§§§—



It may be soft coal but the bills for it are pretty hard to take some times.

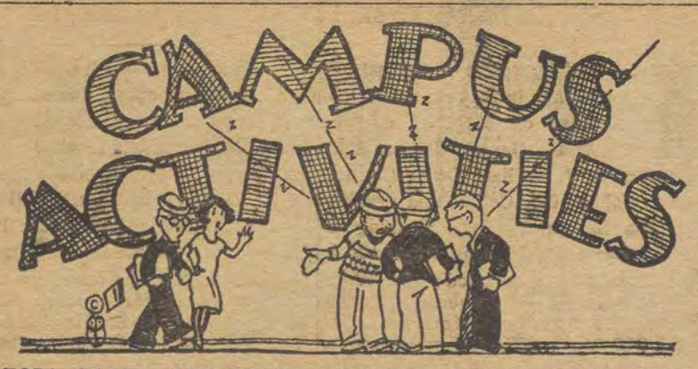
—§§§—

These are the days the coal baron still chirps—"Mine is a lovely business!"

—§§§—

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"Our plumber sent his chauffeur over this mornin' t' tell us he couldn't keep his appointment and t' call up his secretary t' make a new one."



—§§§—

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"Excuse me. Your mistake!"

—§§§—

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

STOP! LOOK! AND READ!

Chilton County High School! Are you interested? How many times have you thought to Stop, Look, and Listen? This time, if you will stop, look and Read a line or two, you will continue.

The Union-Banner has been so kind as to give us a column each week in their paper, so we are going to give their readers a bit of news and gossip, so that they may see what we are doing.

C. C. H. S. Reinstated.

If asked what February 2nd meant to us, at C. C. H. S., any of the boys and girls could tell more than any person could ever remember. Why? Because this was the day Chilton County High School was notified of her reinstatement in the State Athletic Association. What does this mean to us? It means that we are now a member of the Association again, and have the right to compete with not only the average but the very best high schools of the State.

Just stop and think for a minute our feeling when first notified of our ineligibility and dismissal from the Athletic Association, and when our manager received answers to requests for games with some of the highest rated schools of the State, stating that it was impossible for them to schedule games with us, as we were no longer fit to be in the Association. How did we feel, as a student body, who had striven to put dear old C. C. H. S. on a cash basis so as to have the good will of every individual, and promote the athletics of the school? Did we sit down and think over the past? No! We went to work, checked up, and sent in a perfectly clean sheet for inspection. Were we discouraged, and did we say "It can not be done?" No! That isn't the old C. C. H. S. spirit! We started working harder with a broader smile than ever, because we had a foresight of what would be ours in the end.

Someone may ask, "Oh well, what if they were reinstated. What does all this foolish athletics amount to, anyway?" It does this—it produces a more useful boy or girl, one who is stronger, mentally and physically, because of athletics, one who uses team work and cooperates with his fellowman, respects his leaders and "snaps into line and follows through" to accomplish something.

"Well, what's the value of the reinstatement?" may be asked. It shows that we are on our job, not slackers, out to prove to Chilton County that we are worthy of athletics in the very best form. Our players, then, are not the ones who play solely for the game, but the ones who work in school, that they may take a part in all clean, wholesome athletics.

Now the question arises, "What is to be done now?" These little words that mean "all"—they are "support" and "cooperate" with your school.

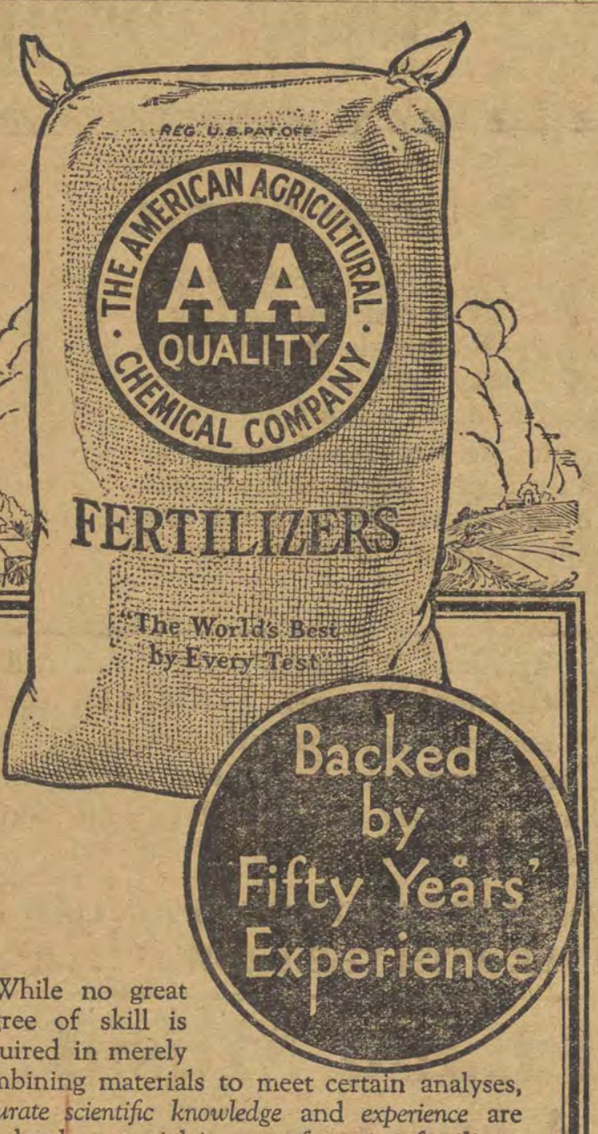
In English class a poem of Whitman's was under discussion:

Miss McCullar: "Whitman gives us one definition of grass as 'the Lord's handkerchief'."

Jack Jones: "Well, I wish the Lord would keep His handkerchief off my lawn."

Thomas handed in a paper in exams with this heading:

"Lord of hosts, be with me yet,
Lest I forget, lest I forget."



At the end of the paper the teacher found:

"The Lord of hosts was with me not,
I forgot, O, I forgot."

Jim Higgins: "I'll be glad when the contest is over."

Abe: "What contest?"

Jim: "Between the teachers, to see who can give the most work!"

Backed by Fifty Years' Experience

While no great degree of skill is required in merely combining materials to meet certain analyses, accurate scientific knowledge and experience are absolutely essential in manufacturing fertilizers of the highest crop-producing value.

It is due to advanced methods of manufacture, developed by scientific research and years of practical fertilizer experience, that "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers have the greatest crop-producing powers and excel other fertilizers by producing larger yields and better quality crops.

"AA QUALITY" FERTILIZERS

BEST KNOWN TO YOU UNDER THE FOLLOWING BRAND NAMES

BRADLEY'S SEA FOWL FERTILIZER
AMERICAN BIGBEE
GOULDING

Manufactured only by

The American Agricultural Chemical Company

Montgomery Sales Department
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG., MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Our Agricultural Service Bureau will help solve your farming problems. Send for Dr. H. J. Wheeler's Crop Bulletins. Address: 92 State Street, Boston, Mass.

GUATEMALA ADOPTS QUETZAL, NEW COIN

Turns From Paper Money to Silver Coin.

Washington.—A new coin has made its appearance in the money-changing marts of the world. It is called the quetzal, and is the silver standard of Guatemala. After 28 years of a paper money regime the Central American republic is now issuing silver money, to be followed shortly by gold coins, and smaller fractional ones of copper.

"A step forward in finance is in keeping with other developments of this most populous, and perhaps most richly endowed, of all the Central American countries," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society. "Guatemala possesses the largest railroad mileage of any country between Mexico and South America, and, although figures vary from time to time, the value of its exports, well up in the millions, will be found each year ranking first or second among Central American countries.

Leadership Traditional.

"Guatemala's place near the front of the Central American procession is traditional. At the coming of the first Europeans the region was inhabited by the Maya-Quiche Indians, fierce fighters but among the most highly civilized peoples of their time. Their history reads like a romance and the remarkable ruins they have left indicate a widespread realm of power and influence. The Spaniards made Guatemala the administrative center of all of Central America and part of Mexico.

"After throwing off the Spanish yoke the country was for a time a part of the empire of Mexico, but in 1823 an independent nation was formed under the title of the Central American federation, embracing also the present Honduras, Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. One by one the states seceded and formed independent republics.

"Another unsuccessful attempt to unite several Central American countries was made in 1921. A treaty ratified by Guatemala, Honduras and Salvador resulted in a federation known as the Republic of Central America, with Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, the administrative seat. The new republic, however, was short-lived. Guatemala today continues in a sole role with the other nations of the world, although many co-operative agreements, especially in relation to international railroads, have been made between the members of this effervescent Latin-American family.

"Guatemala has an area about equal to that of the state of Louisiana and is the second largest of the Central American republics. As it is about midway between the United States and South America, and fronting both on the Caribbean and the Pacific, it occupies a strategic position, both politically and economically. Mountains near the west coast, however, divide its population unequally.

"Coffee might justly be said to be the commercial patron saint of Guatemala, for other potential riches have been overlooked or ignored in the development of great plantations to help keep America and Europe supplied with the cup that cheers. Volcanoes that so often level its buildings and houses make rich returns in deposits of volcanic ash that renew the soil and make fertilization unnecessary. A large part of the chicle that goes into the manufacture of chewing gum in the United States comes from Guatemala. Banana farms in the tropical lowlands have lately begun to rival the coffee plantations in production.

"Guatemala City, the nation's capital, presents another example of the progressive spirit of the country. Practically destroyed by a violent earthquake in 1917, there are hardly any traces of the catastrophe in the orderly, well-built city of churches, theaters, clubs, shops and homes of today.

Natives Largely Indians.

"About 60 per cent of the population is of pure Indian blood and almost half the remainder are half-castes. In the mountains of northwestern Guatemala live thousands of pure-blooded Indians, maintaining the traditions of their forefathers. They have won the admiration of travelers for their physique, cleanliness and scrupulous honesty. One visitor tells of trying to buy a ring from an Indian girl who refused to sell because it was not pure gold, and she did not wish to sell a stranger an imitation!

"The nature lover finds the tropical lowlands of Guatemala a fascinating land, with their dense forests covering more than a million acres. Giant trees are linked together by trailing vines above a gorgeous carpet of orchids, waxen begonias, the peculiar blossoms of the plantain, and scarlet poinsettias.

"The new coin bears the name of the bird that is the national emblem of liberty of Guatemala. The quetzal is more truly a bird of liberty than the American eagle, for the quetzal will not even live if kept in captivity. It is still, as it was to their Maya ancestors, a more or less sacred symbol to the Guatemalians. A story is told concerning the part a quetzal played in the unequal duel between the Maya king Tecum Uman, and Don Pedro de Alvarado, the Spanish conqueror, which was fought to prevent further bloodshed. A quetzal, in his efforts to aid the king, pecked at the eyes of Don Pedro through the holes in his helmet, the only vulnerable spot, as he was clad in steel from head to foot."

Mr. Durwood Mims of Liberty was in town Monday.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA

Governor W. W. Brandon has issued a proclamation designating Friday, March 5, as Arbor Day in Alabama. The observance of Arbor Day is in accordance with a very old custom originating in Europe in the 5th century. The growing scarcity of trees and the depletion of forest resources impelled the people of a little Swiss village to plant an oak grove in the public square, and the anniversary of the planting date was observed thereafter each year with appropriate ceremonies by the villagers.

In the United States, Arbor Day was first observed in Nebraska in 1872. The lead of this State was rapidly followed by others. In Alabama, Arbor Day has been observed practically continuously since 1887. The Governor's Proclamation states:

"Whereas, the forests and trees of the State of Alabama are essential to the health, happiness and welfare of the people; and

"Whereas, due to our great consumption of forest products and to the destruction caused by fires, there is a steadily diminishing supply of growing timber in the face of a constantly increasing demand; and

"Whereas, trees on our school grounds, about our homes, in the parks and along the public highways are necessary to the full usefulness and enjoyment of such places;

"Therefore, I, William W. Brandon, Governor of the State of Alabama, do designate and set apart the day of Friday, March 5, 1926, as Arbor Day. I urge upon the citizens, clubs, civic and patriotic associations, and especially upon the schools of the State, the observance of this day by the planting of trees in suitable places and by such other appropriate exercises as may further the knowledge and appreciation of the benefits to be derived from the culture and preservation of trees and forests.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol, in the city of Montgomery, on this 12th day of February in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-six.

WM. W. BRANDON,
Governor.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Circuit Court, in Equity—E. C. Hayes, Complainant, vs. Zeleemer Hayes, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of Omar L. Reynolds that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that her place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address can not be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that application be made in The Union-Banner, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Zeleemer Hayes, to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 3rd day of March, 1926, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

Done at office in Clanton, this 1st day of February, 1926.

W. D. SPIGENER,
2-4-4t-ch Register.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by a certain mortgage executed by Hattie E. Jones and husband, John C. Jones, dated November 24th, 1924, to J. E. McCullough, said mortgage conveying the hereinafter described real estate, which mortgage appears on record in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record Vol. 202, page 304, the undersigned mortgagee will on Friday, the 26th day of February, 1926, in front of the post office in Stanton, Chilton County, Alabama, within the hours of legal sale, sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate situated in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

The NW¼ of the NE¼ of Section 28, Township 20, Range 12, the above described being the identical real estate described and conveyed in said mortgage. The proceeds of said sale will be applied according to the terms of said mortgage.

This, the 25th day of January, 1926.

J. E. McCULLOUGH,
Mortgagee.
THOS. A. CURRY,
1-28-4t Attorney for Mortgagee.

Misses Lester Carlee, Miss Gladys Roy, Mr. Reymon Carlee, and Mrs. Carlee motored to Clanton Sunday to visit Miss Jewell Powell.

USED

Ford

CARS

See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1925 Roadster, New Paint, with Pick-up Body $250.00
1923 Touring, New Paint, looks good $140.00
1924 Coupe, New Paint, a real Bargain $225.00

Ford Trucks Cheap

If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company

Sales Ford Service
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Clanton, Ala.

BEWARE OF

IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS

Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

TRY THE VULCAN

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"

Clanton . . . . . Alabama

MAKING FARM RECORDS TALK

By D. H. OTIS
Agricultural Director,
American Bankers Association.

Any one who has driven an automobile in a new country knows the value of a good road map. Farm accounts, properly kept, are a reliable road map to aid the farmer in directing the business management of his farm.

D. H. Otis

In farming communities where records have been kept in considerable number it is not uncommon to find differences in net income of $1,000 per farm between the average and the poorer farms of the community. It is also frequently found that there is a difference of over $1,000 between the average farm and a few of the better farms of the community. These differences of from $1,000 to $2,000 per farm in the net income are of vital concern to any farm in any community.

Where to Get the Facts

Farm records and inventories will reveal the reasons for these differences. The various colleges of agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture have a collection of records and farm management surveys from which they find it possible to construct standards or guides showing actual attainments under good systems of management. Figures of this kind are available to county agents and farmers who desire to use them. It is also possible to organize farm accounting groups in a community and with the help of the College of Agriculture to develop community standards showing what the average and what the better farms are doing. These standards or examples of what the more successful farms are doing, when handled in such a way as not to divulge the identity of the owners, are a wonderful help in pointing out to the less successful farmers the weak spots in the business management of their farms.

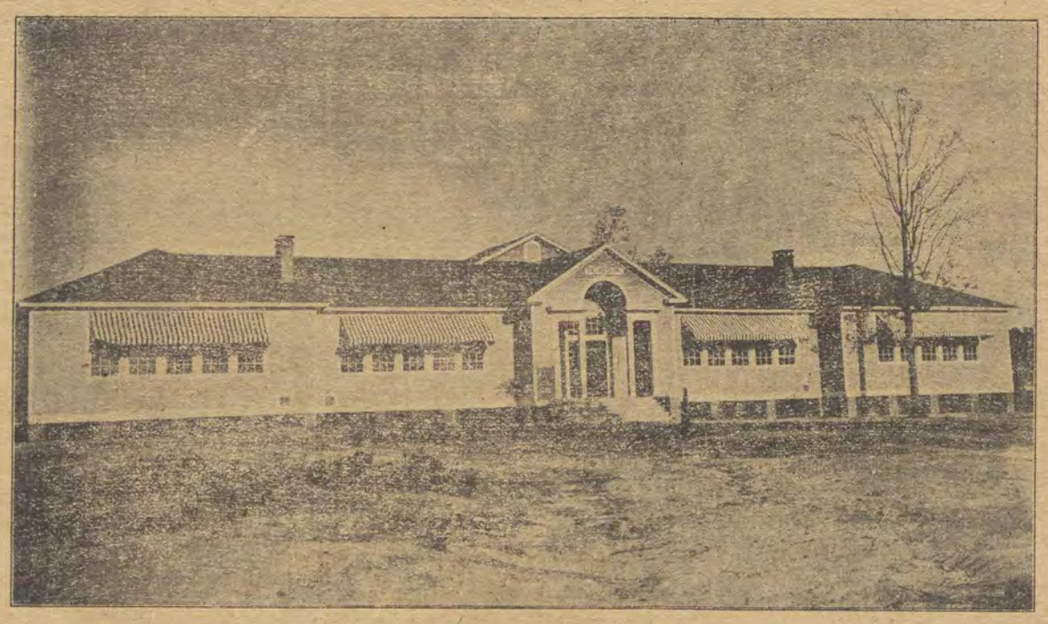
How to Use the Facts

The farmer who keeps a careful record of the factors relating to the business management of his farm is in position to compare his farm with the average and with the best in the volume of business, as number of acres, total investment, number of cows, total receipts and total expenses. He can check on his diversity of income by comparing his income from sale of cows, sale of livestock, livestock products and sales from miscellaneous sources. His quality of business can be studied by comparing such items as income per acre or income per cow, etc.

By such a process the farmer is in position to make his records talk to him and point out the weak and the strong features in his farm operation. There is no tax that we pay today that compares with the tax we pay for our ignorance. This is true on the farm as elsewhere. Farm records, including inventories from which it is easy to form financial statements, will do wonders in reducing the tax of ignorance and placing farm business on a business basis and inspire confidence in the farmer, himself and with all those with whom he deals.

BANKERS HELP

Minnesota bankers played a constructive part in boosting the attendance at the Northwest Dairy Exposition held in connection with the State Fair in September. Five hundred members of the Minnesota Bankers Association received letters from the chairman of the agricultural committee, asking them to assist in forming delegations from their respective communities to attend the show.



The Atlanta, Ga., Clearing House gives the boll weevil no rest. In an effort to effect a concerted and statewide poison war on the boll weevil, this institution sent letters recently to all the bankers in the state asking that they assist in emphasizing the need for a wholesale war on the pest. According to a recent survey poisoning is being done on the larger farms, but not to any appreciable extent on the small farms. According to reports by the Department of Agriculture, the boll weevil infestation is heavier this year than ever before, and if allowed to go unchallenged the crop will be destroyed. Immediate and extensive action is urged.

Over two hundred bankers in Iowa recently made an arrangement to attend the Iowa State University for a two-day period and study farming and farm problems. The bankers will sit as students under the professors in the agricultural department, and will dig right down to the bottom of the many subjects which are of mutual concern to themselves and the farmers. This action on the part of the bankers of Iowa shows a real spirit of interest and a determined intention to understand.

Clark County (S. D.) Bankers, have appointed an agricultural committee of five to aid the county agent in putting across the latter's program of work, with especial emphasis on a ten acre corn contest and eradication of tuberculosis in the county.

Guaranteed Circulation over 2,500...

Collins Chapel Junior High School

Collins Chapel Junior High School, shown above, is located two miles east of Thorsby, in one of the most wide-awake and progressive communities in Chilton County. This is one of the most beautiful of Chilton County's rural schools, and a fair example of the results from this County's high standard school program. This type is taking the place of the one-room schools.

Suspicions About Wall Street and How They Arise

By FRANCIS H. SISSON, President
Trust Company Division, American Bankers Association

WOULD-BE economists, political orators and the general public make frequent positive assertions about the functions of Wall Street without any realization of what constitutes Wall Street or what purpose it serves. Lack of knowledge breeds suspicion. Yet it is not difficult to understand the nature and function of Wall Street. Let us set down a few of the facts which account for the existence and nation-wide, as well as international, services of Wall Street.

F. H. Sisson

There are 316 banks in New York with combined capital and surplus of about $1,400,000,000. Their deposits aggregate over $11,500,000,000, and during 1924 their total volume of business reached nearly $250,000,000,000. The New York Stock Exchange in 1925 sold 463,000,000 shares of stock and in 1924 $3,828,000,000 worth of b nds. Wall Street is the national credit and money market. It is just as essential that there be markets for money and for stocks, bonds, mortgages and other securities as for cotton, corn, tobacco, wheat, hogs and other commodities.

If Wall Street Were Destroyed

Wall Street is the natural evolution of the forces of trade and finance. It exists because there is imperative need for it in the nation's business. If some cataclysm should destroy the financial district of New York we would see frantic efforts to re-establish it so that trade and industry could continue. If the production and marketing of agricultural and industrial commodities did not need such a financial institution, Wall Street would not exist.

We depend upon the farmer to help maintain the general level of prosperity. Wall Street as a money market is called upon to finance the growth and marketing of farm crops. Many Wall Street bankers were born and raised on farms. If they were not thoroughly familiar with agricultural requirements, they could not hold their present positions in the financial world.

In the period of deflation, Wall Street suffered proportionately as much as the farmer. The aggregate losses of Wall Street banks mounted to a staggering sum. Wall Street is not an independent institution, but an organic part of the country's business system, necessarily reflecting the ups and downs of business.

Four Billion Dollars

An approximate estimate of the main items in Wall Street's financial operations in handling farm crops shows that New York banks for the purpose of agriculture put out commercial loans to the value of one billion dollars, hold bankers' acceptances for another billion, buy commercial paper such as cattle and sheep loans for a third billion and carry balances of country banks for a fourth billion. Thus Wall Street furnishes a $4,000,000,000 river of credit annually to produce farm products and float them to market.

The outward flow to rural banks enables them to make the required advances on farm crops and for warehousing and handling cotton, tobacco, wheat, raisins, prunes and countless other products. Outside of his own personal efforts on his farm, Wall Street is the biggest single factor in the prosperity of the farmer. After these commodities have been moved to market, the money used in handling them returns to Wall Street for investment. New York is the largest security market in the country and offers a use and market for the idle capital of the rural banks between crops.

Funds from every part of the country flow to New York, attracted by the greater opportunity for their profitable use found in this center. Thus the accumulations of deposits are large, and in turn the openings for the useful employment of these funds in the facilitation of trade, industry and investment are upon a correspondingly ample scale. It is clear that these funds must be employed sanely, constructively and to the real service of the business community. Otherwise they would inevitably soon be withdrawn.

Huge Investments Help Farmers

These huge investment operations in Wall Street are of significance to the farmer. Much of the $10,000,000,000 invested in farm mortgages was advanced by Eastern financial institutions. In no sense is Wall Street's interest in agriculture local or sectional. The main function of New York financial institutions is to send money where it is most needed.

Another service rendered to agriculture by Wall Street is the purchase of Farm Loan bonds, Joint Stock Land Bank bonds and the debentures of the Intermediate Credit Banks. There is a total of $1,451,800,000 of this paper outstanding, of which New York banks took about one billion.

Wall Street loans to country banks are made at low rates, usually below 4½ per cent. The local banker's rates to his customers are adjusted to local conditions, which cannot justly be laid at the door of Wall Street.

General financial service to other industries related to agriculture also helps the farmer substantially. Wall Street loans to the packers, railroads, millers and farm-machinery manufacturers to help them serve agriculture.

Wall Street is as necessary and serviceable in the handling of credit and capital as is the cold-storage plant in caring for seasonal perishable products. The necessity of such a credit center in a country with a $60,000,000,000 annual business is obvious.

What the People Want

Every great international bank in New York maintains close relations with thousands of other banks in the United States and in every foreign country of any importance. The movements of commerce and investment are supported upon this interrelated system of domestic and foreign banks. Thus it comes about that the products of the farm, factory and mine are financed by these banks all the way from the producer to the foreign consumer.

Wall Street in the discharge of its true functions as the nation's reservoir of capital and credit includes the whole business community in its field of operations. Its control lies with the people. Their demands govern it, and their presence or absence from the market determines its trends. Wall Street prospers as farming and industry prosper. Its service is to the people of the whole country and, for them, to the people of other countries. It is the direct reflection of American agricultura, industry and commerce.—From the Country Gentleman.

NEITHER HERE NOR THERE
(By Irvin S. Cobb.)

Two French Canadians were traveling down a Quebec river in a houseboat. One of them knew the river and the other did not.

They anchored for the night on a bar. During the night the river rose and along toward daylight the craft went adrift. Three hours later the motion awoke one of the travelers. He poked his head out of the door. An entirely strange section of scenery was passing.

"Baptiste! Baptiste!" he yelled. "Get up! We ain't here no more."

"No, by gar!" said his companion after a quick glance at the surroundings—"we are twelve mile from here!"

(Copyright by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

EGGS FOR HATCHING—Kerlin's White Leghorn eggs, $1.25 for 15. Rhode Island Red eggs, $1.25 for 15. J. N. Dennis. 2-18-2t-ch.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goer of Maplesville were in Clanton Monday afternoon.

Mr. Julius Reynolds is now working in the store of Hill Grocery Company in Clanton. Mr. McEarthen, the local manager for Hill, says that he is mighty well pleased with the business he is receiving from the people of Clanton and Chilton County.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed on the 30th day of May, 1925, by Dewey Collins, Ella Collins, G. J. Collins, Dovie Collins, B. F. Collins, Otis Collins and Frankie Collins to the Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate, Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record 210, page 209, and which mortgage was duly transferred by the said Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, to F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan on June 6th, 1925, and default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, we, the said F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan, as transferees of said mortgage, will proceed to sell at public outcry, in front of the Courthouse door in the City of Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, on the 30th day of March, 1926, the interest of the above named mortgagors in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:—

The S½ of NW¼ of Sec. 27, and all that part of the SE¼ of the NE¼ of Sec. 28 lying on the East side of the creek running through and across said SE¼ of NE¼ of Sec. 28, and known as Swift Creek. All above described lands being and lying in Tp. 21, R. 14, containing 120 acres more or less, Chilton County, Alabama.

The proceeds of the sale as above described will be applied to the payment of the indebtedness secured by the above described mortgage and a reasonable Attorney's fee, together with the expenses incident to the sale.

This, the 16th day of February, 1926.

F. M. CHAPMAN,
WILL HOGAN,
Transferees.
BALLARD & PAGE,
Attorneys for Transferees.
2-18-4t-ch.

IN MEMORY

On February 6th Mrs. N. J. Maddox closed her eyes in endless sleep. For days the life of this much loved one had hung in the balance, all that loved ones could do was done, but the death angel beckoned, calling her to the beautiful shores of the Isle of Somewhere. Those who knew Mrs. Maddox longest and most intimately loved her best, for to know her was to love her. God, in His wisdom and love, has released the spirit from its tenement of clay and taken her to be with him forever.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. N. J. Maddox, and one daughter, Mrs. E. G. Mullins.

The funeral was conducted Sunday morning by Rev. T. J. Deason at Shiloh church, and interment was made there.

She is gone but not forgotten,
Never will her memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
'Round the grave where she is laid.

A host of friends, and kindred too,
We have to love each other,
But on this earth God gives to each,
Just one dear Mother.

And then the time to us must come
When Mother's hands are folded—
To us the dearest, fairest hands
The master sculptor molded.

The angels kiss the loving eyes,
Closed by the white-winged reaper,
The pulseless breast is now at rest;
God, keep the silent sleeper.

But let's not think of her as dead,
Just waiting over yonder
In that fair land,
The sunshine land of wonder.

We'll see her smile again some day,
His promise still rings true:
"I'll go and stay a little while,
Then I'll come back for you."

—Mrs. J. D. Mullins.

BIG AUCTION SALE

LOTS and LOTS of LOTS

Saturday, Feb. 27th

AT 10 O'CLOCK, A. M.

The J. W. P. Murphy 12-acres

just North of the S. C. Cox Addition, recently sold by this company, in North Clanton on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway will be subdivided into lots and sold at Public Auction.

These lots are fine residence property, with some nice business locations, and are in easy reach of the schools and churches of Clanton, the best city on the Highway.

STOP! Think of Clanton's possibilities and of Clanton's future. LOOK how she is growing by leaps and bounds. THINK of the buildings now under construction. BUY one or more of these lots for a home. Invest in these lots and watch your money DOUBLE.

THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS. COME AND BE WITH THE CROWD. FEB. 27.

Good Band Music

Win A Free Lot---Yes

TWO NICE RESIDENCE LOTS GIVEN AWAY ABSOLUTELY FREE. ALSO MANY CASH PRIZES.

COME BE WITH US ON THIS BIG DAY

Saturday, February 27th

AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

Come hear Cols. Millican and Mayhall crying the same bid at the same time. They dress alike, look alike, act alike.

SOLD BY

Tenn.-Ala. Auction Company

CLANTON, ALA.

INDIAN GRAVE ITEMS

Farmers of this community are beginning their crops for the year.

There was Sunday School and preaching at Indian Grave Sunday and Sunday night. A large crowd attended both services.

Mrs. W. J. Billingsley is on the sick list this week.

There was a basket ball game last Friday afternoon at this place, between Indian Grave and Enterprise, Enterprise winning, 30 to 13.

A large crowd attended the fine singing at Concord Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Alonza Askins called on Miss Smith Sunday.

Mr. Preston Patrick of Billingsley was the guest of Miss Winnie Adams Sunday evening.

Mr. Sam Brigance called on Miss Alma Askins Sunday.

Miss Winnie spent Sunday night with Miss Katie Limbrick.

Messrs. W. W. Jones and W. E. Adams, who are at work at Dadeville, spent the week end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Carter and little son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Askins.

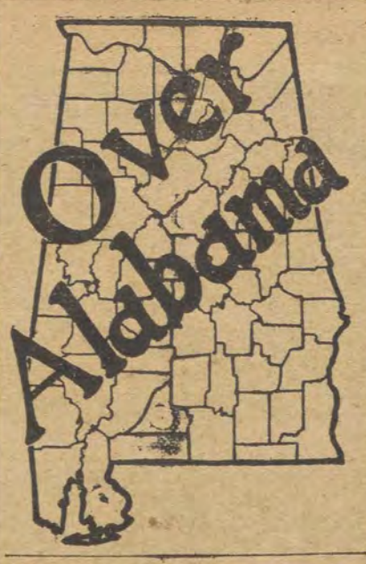
Mrs. Donie Limbrick spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. W. E. Adams.

Miss Essie Johnson dined with Miss Clara Belle Jones Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones motored to Prattville Monday.—A reader.

County home demonstration agents in Alabama report that 13,995 women and girls were enrolled in club work in 1925. Over half of them, or 8,147, were girls. Both show an increase over 1924.

MANY LOAFING COWS AND HENS



There are lots of loafing hens and boarder cows in Alabama. Through his crop the reporting service, F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, got the information on cows and hens last year, finding that 44% of the cows kept for milk did not return yields during the year, and that 69% of the hens did not give an egg as a daily return for their upkeep. Furthermore, the average yield of milk per cow when milked was rather low and, therefore, not sufficient to make up for those that failed to produce.

The following table shows the average production by months for both cows and hens. The first column of figures gives the per cent of cows milked; the second gives gallons of milk per cow per day; the third gives number of eggs per day from 100 hens:

January	61	1.35	19
February	57	1.36	20
March	55	1.44	36
April	53	1.58	52
May	50	1.68	46
June	57	1.70	43
July	55	1.69	40
August	57	1.61	32
September	57	1.59	28
October	57	1.47	23
November	51	1.46	19
December	56	1.57	17

COUNTY LINE

There will be three one-act negro plays given at County Line school house, February 20, at 7:30 o'clock. Admission, 10c and 20c. Everybody come and bring someone with you. There is fun for all.

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

The state highway commission has agreed to construct the road in Bibb County from Centreville to the Perry County line, conditioned on $50,000 being loaned the state for use on this project, to be repaid when the state comes into possession of new funds for road building, in addition to the present bond issue.

Committees in charge of arrangements for the Rotary convention of the twenty-sixth district have reported to the Huntsville club, declaring that preliminary arrangements will be completed far in advance of the convention, which will assemble in April. An unusually large attendance is expected.

The Gadsden-Birmingham bus line is being sued by W. H. Ballew. Mr. Ballew claims the bus on the Rainbow drive knocked his wagon and two mules off a high embankment into a ditch, wrecking his wagon and breaking the mules' legs and causing him to suffer much physical pain.

The United States Steel Corporation has distributed more than $28,000 in pensions to retired employes of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co. in 1925, the fifteenth annual report of the United States Steel and Carnegie pension fund discloses.

The Mobile Bay Bridge Company, who will build a bridge connecting Mobile with Baldwin County, has awarded the contract for the roadways in connection with the construction of the structure to Jerry Gwin, of Birmingham, for $279,300.

Captain Charlie C. McCall of Montgomery, state examiner of accounts, has qualified with R. B. Evins, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, as a candidate for the democratic nomination for attorney general in the August primary.

The city commissioners of Sheffield at a regular meeting recently, passed a resolution calling for a municipal election to be held March 15, to authorize a bond issue for $75,000 to be used in the construction of a new hospital.

A very interesting project in home making is being worked out by the students of the Troy State Normal School, under direction of their teacher, Miss Schaefer. Each section has been given a certain amount, $100, $125, etc., to furnish a bedroom.

Mobile City Commissioner Harry T. Hartwell has authorized the statement that he would present to the city commission at an early date a plan for a bond issue to build a new city hall and auditorium seating over 5,000 persons.

Ross Rumore, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Toney Rumore, of Bessemer, is recovering from injuries received when the automobile in which he was driving was struck by an A. G. S. passenger train.

G. W. Moore, of Montgomery, representative of the Alabama Public Service Commission was in Bessemer recently to make a thorough investigation of all complaints involving excessive water rates in the city.

Permission has been given by the Decatur city council to the Alabama Water Company for the erection of an electric line from the corporate limits east of the city to the new water tank.

Following a drop in temperature of eighteen degrees on February 10, coming in the wake of a period of unusually warm weather, Anniston was visited by one-inch snow.

Walking too close to the heels of a young mule owned by his father, Post Martin Holloway, Jr., six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Holloway, of Hartsell, his life.

Hamilton Callen, a member of one of the most prominent families in Selma, is believed to have shot and killed himself in the tool house of Live Oak cemetery at Selma.

Robert Newton, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Turner Newton, of North Florence, was seriously injured when he was knocked down by an automobile near his home.

E. R. Hollinsworth, deputy sheriff of Colbert County, has returned from Oklahoma, where he went to bring back to the State an alleged embezzler.

The open season for quail shooting will come to an end in Alabama February 20, and in the meanwhile hunters in Madison County, it is said, are doing all the hunting that the weather will permit before the end.

Dry officers of Moulton made a raid on three stills near the Forest Reserration and seized a still with about 1,200 gallons of beer.

The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic has placed an all-time switch engine in the Roanoke yards.

Governor Brandon has paroled Stella Foster upon recommendation of the Board of Pardons.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

Practically Destitute in Fact

Some of my dearest boyhood memories cluster about a gravel-covered wharf where the Tennessee like an amorous lady, kisses the Ohio not once but twice and then in the embrace of the wider, stronger stream goes romancing away to receive the parental blessing of that father of all the rivers, the Old Mississip. There on the porch of an ancient boatstore overlooking the mating-place of the waters I heard tales of the older days when the gamblers rode the packets and the mate knew no closed season on black roustabouts and the b'lers busted from time to time and scattered proud steamboats in splintery smithereens. There too, I one day heard what I still, after all these years, regard as a magnificent example of spontaneous American humor.

Tilted back in his chair on the boatstore porch sat Cap'n Joe Fowler, as typical a Kentuckian as the fag end of the last century produced. A packet bound from Cincinnati to New Orleans, landed. Up the steep slope of the wharf came a tourist lady from up North somewhere—anywhere across the Ohio was "up North" to us in that town. In the crook of her arm this lady bore the first Mexican hairless dog Cap'n Joe had ever seen. The animal was no larger than a full grown rat; in fact it rather resembled a rat. It seemed a miserable, naked, sickly little thing which shivered even though the air was balmy and flinched with vague uneasiness at every sound.

As the lady drew close Cap'n Joe stood up and made a low bow to her.

"I beg your pardon, madam," he said in his best company drawl, "but might a total stranger so far intrude upon you as to ask you a question."

"You might," she said, her sharp accents in strong contrast to his deeper yet infinitely softer tones.

"Thank you, madam," he said. "The question, madam, relates to the dog you air carrying. Is that your own dog?"

"It is," she said.

"Is that the only dog you've got?"

"It is."

"Madam," said Cap'n Joe, "ain't you mighty nigh out of dog?"

(Copyright by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

FARMERS ADVISED ON FUTURE DEMANDS

No increase in the demand for farm products produced in the United States in 1926 as compared with 1925 is foreseen, according to a forecast, based upon present conditions, prepared by F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician, and J. D. Pope, specialist in farm management and agricultural economics.

During the first half of the year business activity will probably be maintained at the present prosperous level, and wage earners will continue to provide a satisfactory market for the unsold balance of the 1925 crops. For the period in which 1926 crops will be harvested and marketed there are more facts pointing toward lower than toward higher demands.

"Just as certain basic industries are now adjusting their future production schedules for a lower domestic demand during 1926-27 so should agriculture as a whole, insofar as it depends upon domestic demands. Plans for 1926 should be planned on a basis of a market at least no stronger, and probably somewhat weaker, than the present," they said.

The present prospects in the foreign markets are that the demand for American farm products produced in 1926 will be no better than for the products of 1925, unless the competing products of foreign producers should be reduced by a less favorable season. Recovery of home production in these foreign countries and protected tariff of this country are reducing demands from abroad.

While this is the outlook for the nation as a whole, conditions in Alabama threaten danger with too much cotton; while, on the other hand, there is little danger of too much feed crops especially corn and hay. Based on national, and even international, demands the farming program adopted for Alabama by a committee of bankers, farmers, and agricultural workers calling for adequate feed crops, more livestock, and "only as many acres in cotton as can be properly fertilized and cared for under boll weevil conditions and scarcity of labor," will pay.

COUNTY BOARD TO MEET ON FEBRUARY 19TH

The County Board of Education will hold its February meeting on the 19th, instead of the 26th. All persons are urged to take due notice and come before the Board on that day with any business they may have to present.

NOTICE

The Executive Committee of the Chilton County Baptist Association is called to meet at Clanton next Friday, February 19, at 10:00 a. m., at the court house. Pastors, deacons and workers are requested to be at this meeting. Don't fail to come.—Executive Committee.

DEATH OF MR. TOM DAWSON

On Sunday morning, February 7, the death angel visited the home of brother Tom Dawson, near Jemison, and called the father, husband and friend to that land where suffering is known no more.

Bro. Dawson was 43 years of age and had been a member of Pleasant Grove church for 13 years. He served well as a deacon of this church for the last several years. Bro. Dawson was a devoted husband and loving father. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss, together with two sisters, one brother, and a host of friends.

The family wishes me to thank all of the good people for their kindness and splendid spirit of helpfulness shown during the sickness and death of their husband, father, and brother.

B. F. DYKES, Pastor.

BABY CHICKS

—o—

HIGHEST QUALITY - PRICES RIGHT

Book Your Orders Early and Avoid Disappointment

Custom Hatching - Brooders
Poultry Supplies

—o—

F. E. MASTIN
Thorsby, - - - - - Alabama

OLIVER
WALKING PLOWS

A Plow for Each Soil Condition

There is an Oliver built walking plow for each soil condition—a wide range of types to suit all kinds of plowing.

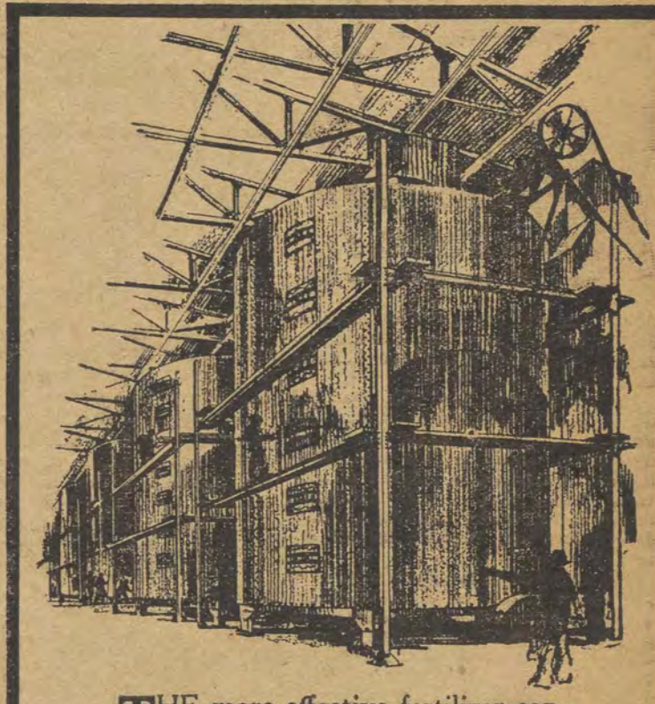
Each type is light in draft, is sturdy and easy to handle, features which have made it the outstanding preference of better farmers.

If you have never plowed with an Oliver ask your neighbor—ask anyone who has owned an Oliver plow.

We are the Authorized Oliver Dealers, selling the GENUINE OLIVER PLOWS and REPAIRS. Come in and look at our stock. We can show you a plow that will suit you.

JONES HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALA.

Closing Out Sale



We Are Closing Out Our Entire Stock of

Shoes and Dry Goods

AT AND BELOW COST

Don't Fail to Take Advantage of This SALE while it Lasts

Clanton Mill & Gin Co.

THE more effective fertilizer cannot be made with a shovel. It's more than a mere matter of mixing. What to mix, how to prepare it for mixing, how to mix it and what to do with it after it is mixed are a few of the problems that can't be solved with a wheelbarrow. The illustration above shows one of the processes of fertilizer manufacture in one of the Royster plants.

F.S.R.
ROYSTER
Fertilizer
Clanton Agent JAS. C. JONES

Important Price Policy for

HUDSON-ESSEX

We Discontinue F. O. B. Factory Prices and Announce "At-Your-Door" Prices

Effective February 15, These Cars Will Be Priced to Include Freight, War Tax and Equipment. No Charge Will Be Added for Handling. There Will Be Nothing Else to Pay. Remember these are NOT F. O. B. Factory Prices, but the DELIVERED Prices at Your DOOR

The Price You Pay to Drive Away

All Cars Are Complete with the Following Equipment:

Bumper Front and Rear . . . Electric Windshield Cleaner . . . Rear View Mirror . . . Transmission Lock (Built In) . . . Radiator Shutters Moto-Meter . . . Combination Stop and Tail Light

Hudson Super-Six

COACH - - - $1380
Brougham - - 1640
Sedan - - - - 1830

Essex Six Coach $930

Convenient and Easy Purchase Terms For Those Who Desire

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Hudson is World's Largest Builder of "Sixes" and Third Largest Builder of Motor Cars

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

FOR SALE—Pure half and half cotton seed, $2.00 per bushel. We paid, when ordered, $5.00 per bushel. If interested see A. T. or J. S. Davis, Clanton, Ala., R 2. 2-18-4t-pd

FOR RENT—Two horse crop for the fourth, or standing rent. Apply to J. R. Holley, Clanton, Route 6. 2-18-2t-pd.

HOME FOR SALE—Eight-acre lot with 4-room house, barn and chicken house, bearing fruit trees, apple, peach, pear, plum, pecan, and scuppernong. Well fenced garden and chicken yards, pasture and woodland, in suburbs of Clanton. Inquire of C. G. Leitman. 1t-pd

LOST—Rear bumper off automobile, lost Monday between Clanton and Lock 12. Reward of $1 if returned to Union-Banner office. 1t-pd

LOST—One basket ball score book, between Stanton and Thorsby, on Friday, January 30. This is the property of Stanton Junior High School ball team. Finder will receive reward. Leo C. Langston, Athletic Director. 2-4-3t-ch

LOST DOG—Black and white spotted extra large full blood hound, named "Lead." Left about 2 weeks ago. $5.00 reward for dog or information leading to recovery. W. A. Glass, Jemison, Rt. 3. 2-11-3t-pd

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

FOR SALE—10,000,000 Cabbage and Bermuda Onion Plants; $1.00 per thousand; prompt shipments. Dorris Seed Co., Valdosta, Ga. 1-28-4t-c

FOR SALE—My home in Clanton, located just south of Adventist school; corner lot; all modern conveniences, including large range stove connected with bath room and sink in kitchen; $2,000.00 Write E. C. Powell, 1113 Fourth Ave., South, Albany, Ala., or see W. L. Powell at pressing shop, Clanton, Ala. 2-18-3t-ch.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, in the Probate Court of Chilton County.

Application having been made on this day in due form by Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, administratrix of the Estate of J. W. Lawrence, deceased, for an order authorizing the sale of lands described therein, belonging to said estate, for the purpose of paying debts, on the ground that the personal property is insufficient therefor; the 22nd day of February, 1926, has been appointed for the hearing of such application at which time all parties interested can appear and contest the same if they see proper.

2-4-3t-ch L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate, Chilton Co.

NEGRO MINSTREL

There will be a Negro Minstrel at Alpine schoolhouse Saturday night, February 20. Fees: 5c for children and 10c for grown-ups. Everybody invited to be present.—Allie Thomas.

John Foshee, formerly of Stanton, is now honeymooning in Miami, Fla. He and his young bride will be at home to friends after February 20, at 2nd Ave., Powderly.

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens

SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Hastings' Seeds Catalog Free!

Free Flower Seeds for You

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN,
ATLANTA, GA.

Broadcasts Good News !

Jackson, Miss. — "For more than twenty years I have found relief by taking a bottle or two of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription off and on. It has never once failed to relieve me of suffering and I am glad of this opportunity to recommend so reliable a medicine." — Mrs. O. O. Hill, 220 E. Hamilton St.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form, or send 10c for trial sample to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

Start at once with this "Prescription" and see how quickly you'll pick up—feel stronger and better.

Sanford Barber Shop

Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

Do Your Gums Bleed When You Brush Your Teeth

Put a stop to it before pyorrhea develops.

Creosene is a new, improved, pleasant form of home treatment for pyorrhoea infected gums which banishes this terrible disease by killing the germs, saves you a frightful expense and severe pain.

Bleeding gums stopped in 12 hours; soreness disappears in 24 hours; pus clears up in two to three days; teeth begin to tighten in ten days, and if your trouble has not been completely eliminated in three or four weeks, get your money back.

Creosene is sold by all good druggists at $1.00 a bottle, or sent direct from Creosene Co., Desk 4-W, Atlanta, Ga., on receipt of price. Guaranteed satisfactory or money refunded. For sale by Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

OAK CROSS TIES WANTED

I am now paying the following prices for Oak Ties, delivered to my yard at Clanton:

SAWN

Grade 5—7 x 9 x 8½—8-inch face, ... $ .90
Grade 4—7 x 8 x 8½—7-inch face, ... .80
Grade 3—7 x 9 x 8½—6-inch face, ... .60

Smooth hewn ties, 5c less. Must be sound timber, all bark removed. Cash paid each load. See me for specifications

ROBERT TEEL, Clanton, Ala.

CHASSIS TROUBLES

When it comes to brake band, axle, wheel or any kind of chassis trouble we are as expert in correcting it as we are in putting your engine in order. There is not a job of auto repair work that we can not do well and promptly. Let us go over your car and put it in first class condition now. We guarantee satisfaction.

BATES GARAGE, Clanton, Ala.

PLETCHER NEWS

Misses Grace and Jewel Abbott gave a party Saturday night in honor of St. Valentine's Day. The room was beautifully decorated with red paper hearts, while the pot ferns and lights were covered with red paper. Preceding the arrival of guests the boys chose partners by taking a valentine heart each, which were hanging on white cardboard, bordered with tiny red hearts. Mr. Preston Johnson being the winner in a contest, was presented a large valentine. Games and amusements were enjoyed thruout the evening. Those present were Misses Louise Rawlinson, Bertha Rainwater, Mollie Belle Ousley, Ruth Abbott, Lula and Cordelia Johnson, Ruby Cruise, Myrtle Dickinson, Nettie and Lillian Sims, and Willie Poole; Messrs. Ernest and F. D., Jr., Wilson, Morris Rainwater, Preston Johnson, Carl and Wilton Keener, Wade Ousley, Cliff Sims, Gilly Roberts, Moody Hayes. Hot chocolate and marshmallow cake was served at a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Reed and daughter, Faye, of Plantersville, spent the week end here with relatives.

Mr. Leonard Poole of Tuscaloosa and Misses Madge Terry and Jessie McCarty came over Sunday and spent the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Poole.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Walker of Bessemer spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ousley.

Mr. E. J. Poole spent a few hours in Clanton Friday on business matters.

Mr. Preston Johnson of Bessemer spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ousley of Alpine community spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Williams.

Mrs. J. L. Abbott spent Wednesday with Mrs. T. B. Rainwater.

Misses Grace and Jewell Abbott and Preston Johnson motored to the singing over at Alpine church Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Abbott spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ousley.

SINGING SATURDAY NIGHT

There will be a singing next Saturday night, February 20, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Powell. Everyone is invited to come and hear some good singing.

SEPTIC NEEDLE CAUSES DEATH

The prick of a septic needle to dislodge a blackhead on her cheek, cost Miss Jessie May Bush, pretty 19-year-old Autaugaville girl, her life, on Wednesday, February 10.

Miss Bush died Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from blood-poison. She had been dangerously ill since Sunday when she was taken to a Montgomery hospital, just three days after the abrasion became infected.

Miss Bush is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bush; four brothers, Ray, Charles, Clayton and Ellis Bush, all of Autaugaville, and three sisters, Mrs. Julia Smith, Tampa, Fla., and Misses Edna and Pauline Bush, of Autaugaville.

SARDIS NOTES

Mr. J. H. Green is on the sick list this week.

Mr. nd Mrs. W. S. Bowles visited Mrs. Bowles' father, who is ill, last week and spent two days.

Mrs. Eva Klinner visited her mother last week.

Messrs. Len Green and Eugene Kemp were the guests of Misses Ethel and Gladys Deramus last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Headley spent Sunday with the latter's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Carter were guests of Mrs. Carter's parents Saturday night and Sunday.

Messrs. Thomas and Len Green were guests of Misses Gladys and Ethel Deramus Sunday.

Mr. Eugene Kemp spent Saturday night with Mr. Len Green.

Mr. Thomas Green from Coosa county visited his parents Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. Tollie Hayes has returned to his home from Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Hayes from Orville came to see Mrs. Hayes' father, who is ill, Saturday night.

Mr. Alfred Wright was the guest of Miss Bessie Green Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Enzo Klinner spent a few hours Sunday with Mrs. Klinner's uncle, Mr. J. H. Green.

Mr. Jack Donovan spent a few hours with Mr. J. H. Green Sunday night.

Messrs. Thomas Green and Aaron Roper returned to work in Coosa county Sunday afternoon.—A reader.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation for the kind, faithful and untiring efforts of our friends and relatives during our sad experience in the death of our triplet babies, Clarice, Clarence and Clifton, born February 9th.

While we are sad, yet glad for God doeth all things well. We know we have treasures in Heaven, where moth and rust doth not corrupt, and thieves and robbers do not break through nor steal.

We wish to thank all who ministered to us in our sorrow, for the many kind words and helping hands. May God's richest blessings rest upon all, and if we can render service to any we will be glad to do so.—Mr. and Mrs. R. Q Baker.

IN MEMORY

On the afternoon of February 10, Girlie Crumpton of Beat 2 departed this life, a victim of pneumonia. He was a young man. He leaves a father, mother and one brother, besides relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Burial was at Union Springs cemetery, attended by many of his friends. Funeral services conducted by Rev. R. M. Honeycutt.

Though he is gone, the radiant bow of hope spans his grave. All that are in their graves shall hear the Divine voice and come forth. The ransom has been paid and that insures his return, amid environment of love, peace, good will, truth, life, health, hope, righteousness, under the administration of the glorified elect and Heaven's loving King, who will lead him and all who are athirst to the fountain of life.

"He knows, He loves, He cares, is always near
To bless and keep; ah, then, why should I fear?"

CHEVROLET NEWS

The automotive industry is offering unprecedented values it is declared by R. H. Grant, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who bases his opinion upon the exhibits which he has inspected at the New York, Detroit and Chicago shows.

"A large majority of automobile buyers will receive during 1926 an even greater value for their money than they did in 1925," Mr. Grant asserts.

"The values represented by present-day automobiles are emphasized by the fact that despite all improvements made during the last decade, the ratio of present and pre-war automobile prices is 65 cents per dollar, a reduction of 35%. The average price of all commodities is 67% higher than in 1913.

"The garage in which you shelter your '65-cent' automobile now costs $1.96 for each dollar it would have cost in 1913. While the quality of automobiles improved and their prices decreased, the cost of living was rising to $1.67 per pre-war dollar, the cost of clothing to $1.74, the cost of shoes to $1.65, and the cost of household furnishings to $2.16.

"Most of the cars shown at the recent exhibits are better cars than those offered last year. The industry is not resting on its honors. It continues to progress. In some cases prices have been reduced even in the face of important mechanical improvements and attractive body refinements. The reason, of course, is that the cost per unit drops as the volume of manufacturing increases."

Read the ADS for better bargains

"Get in the Well Dressed Circle"

Young Men--

ARE PARTICULAR about the patterns and style of their clothes and we've kept this in mind in making our Spring selection of CURLEE CLOTHES.

We believe we know what the young men in this town and surrounding country want in Spring suits and we invite you to come in and inspect this unusual assortment.

That CURLEE CLOTHES will wear well is a foregone conclusion but what we want you to know is that in addition to this they have snap and style.

You can buy them at just the price that you want to pay for a good suit.

NEW SHIRTS——NEW SHOES

Parrish's STYLE SHOP

CLANTON, ALABAMA

HILL'S

Seventh Street --- Back of Upchurch's

Your Dollar Will Buy More at Hill's Than Any Place Else

Sugar, 17 lbs $1.00

Coffee, per lb	29c	Comp. lard 8 lb	$1.20
Tomatoes 3 cans	25c	Wesson Oil pt	27c
Corn per can	10c	Cocoa per lb.	25c
Salmon, 2 cans	25c	Alaga Syrup gal	95c
Eagle Brand Milk	19c	P & G Soap, 2 bars	9c
Pork and Beans, can	9c	Catsup large size	20c
Calumet Baking Powder 1lb	29c	Macaroni or Spaghetti, pkg	7½c
" " " 5lb	95c	Kerosene oil, gal.	18c

Flour 24lb bag $1.29

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Joint Hostesses At Bridge Party.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mesdames Lawrence Gerald and Grady Broadhead were joint hostesses, giving a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Gerald on Fifth Street. For this occasion the decorations were in keeping with the Valentine season. Red and white carnations and ferns were used in the living, music, and dining rooms, where tables were arranged for the games. The guests were met at the door by Misses Kathryn Hayes and Celia Gerald, who later passed attractive Valentine tallies. A series of bridge games were played at seven tables. The high score prize, a hand made vanity set, was won by Mrs. J. Hance Alred. Mrs. Eric Hart received the next highest score prize, a tea pot, and Mrs. Percy Pitts was presented a pretty guest towel for low score prize. The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. J. Watts Moore, Misses Kathleen Mullins, Kathryn Hayes and Celia Gerald served a tempting salad plate, that further carried out the Valentine idea.

Those included in this hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Frank Callen, V. J. Heard, Eric Hart, Arthur Johnson, N. S. Johnson, H. M. Simpson, Hugh Jones, Grady Reynolds, Omar Reynolds, J. Watts Moore, C. Fenn Jones, H. F. Downs, Clarence Evans, P. D. Wilson, Percy Pitts, John M. VanDerveer, John C. Page, J. B. Mauney, Guy Roberts of Miami, Fla., Clifford Mullins, Fred Perry and John Hollis of Mitchell Dam; Misses Bettie Mullins, Madelyn Orr and Kathleen Mullins.

Mrs. Simpson Hostess.

Mrs. H. M. Simpson was a most gracious hostess to the members of the Wednesday Card Club last Wednesday morning, at her home on Fifth Street. Baskets of spring blossoms and ferns decorated the home. Following a series of bridge games Mrs. N. S. Johnson was awarded the high score prize, two dainty hand made handkerchiefs. The hostess served a delicious course luncheon.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Frank Callen, Arthur Johnson, N. S. Johnson, Oscar Jones, J. Watts Moore, Grady Reynolds, V. J. Head, J. Hugh Jones, John C. Page, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Girl's Auxiliary Meets.

The members of the Girl's Auxiliary were delightfully entertained by Miss Minnie Fiquette at her home on Fourth Avenue last Thursday afternoon. The devotional was led by Mrs. Hester. A Personal Service Committee was appointed and other phases of the work discussed.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to Misses Lurlene Miner, Gladys Williams, Vera Jones, Bernice Williams, Julia Ruth Hester, Minnie Fiquette, Delene Williams, Gertie Mae Fiquette, and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

Parent-Teachers Association Meets.

An interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held at the Grammar school Friday afternoon. Mrs. L. F. Gerald, president, called the meeting to order. The minutes were read by the secretary, Miss Eva Cheshire. Reports were made by chairmen of the various committees. A splendid program was rendered, under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Broadhead.

Mesdames Gerald and Broadhead Joint Hostesses.

A pretty affair of the Valentine season was on last Thursday afternoon when Mesdames Lawrence Gerald and Grady Broadhead were joint hostesses at an informal tea at the home of Mrs. Gerald on Fifth Street. The beautiful home was attractively decorated with a profusion of red and white carnations. The tea table was centered with a silver basket of carnations and fern tied with red tulle. Red and white hearts were suspended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, the chandelier being showered with hearts and cupids. Crystal candle sticks with burning red tapers were arranged around the centerpiece. The confections also were suggestive of the season. Mrs. J. P. Hayes and Miss Kathleen Mullins presided over the tea pots and Mrs. N. S. Johnson poured coffee. The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Arthur Johnson, assisted by Miss Kathryn Hayes. Cards were received by little Miss Celia Gerald. Selections on the piano were rendered during the afternoon by Mrs. Barney Roberts, Misses Madelyn Orr, Kathryn Hayes and Celia Gerald. Mrs. L. C. Ross and Miss Orr sang several numbers. Assisting in the dining room were Mesdames J. Watts Moore and J. Hugh Jones. The hostesses received their guests in the living room.

Included in the guest list were Mesdames W. E. Martin, E. V. Smith, J. D. Broadhead, J. Q. Wade, J. P. Hayes, J. C. Jones, C. Reese Mullins, L. C. Ross, E. E. Upchurch, John T. Ellis, J. E. Gowan, G. C. Harris, J. Lee Smith, S. J. Ezell, V. J. Elmore, R. C. McDavid, Curry Thomas, W. M. Wyatt, T. H. Neighbors, D. C. Alred, M. L. White, John Armstrong, Donald Merchant, P. T. Hinkle, Lucien Duncan, George Trotter, J. P. Crumpton, Geo. Polk, Wesley Danforth, J. B. Atkinson, C. B. Stephenson, Irene Rasberry, Barney Roberts, Leonard Farley, Arthur Willis, J. Hance Alred, Oscar Jones, V. J. Heard, Grady Reynolds, N. S. Johnson, H. M. Simpson, John Browder, J. Hugh Jones, Arthur Johnson, J. Watts Moore, Frank Callen, N. S. Johnson; Misses Kathleen Mullins, Vera Mae White, Thelma Guy, Greer, Leona Stanley, Eva Cheshire, Maud and Beatrice Alexander, Lillian Pate, Ivilyn Ingram, Eoline McCullar, Helen Evans, Lillian Taylor, Hazel Kreider, Naemi Turnquist, and Madelyn Orr.

Mrs. Callen Hostess.

An enjoyable affair of the past week was a spend-the-day party, when Mrs. Frank Callen was hostess at her home on Fifth Street. The home was attractviely decorated with carnations and potted plants. The dining table was centered with red and white carnations. The place cards were suggestive of St. Valentine's Day. Covers were laid for ten.

Those enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, J. Watts Moore, John Browder, Lawrence Gerald, Arthur Johnson, N. S. Johnson, H. M. Simpson, Grady Broadhead, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Intermediate Sewing Club Meets.

The members of the Intermediate Sewing Club were entertained by Mrs. Briggs Crumpton on last Thursday afternoon. Spring flowers and pottend plants adorned the home for this occasion.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. P. Crumpton, served a delicious salad course to the following members: Mesdames Bill Murphy, Joe Higgins, Lucien Duncan, Loren Smith, Milton Smith, Grady Heflin, and J. P. Crumpton.

Valentine Party.

The pupils of the fourth grade at the Grammar school enjoyed a Valentine party Friday afternoon, given by the teacher, Miss Leona Stanley. Games, contests and story telling were features of the afternoon's entertainment. Prizes were awarded Marie Frazer, Wilson Maddox, and others. Julia Edwards and Hal Broadhead acted as postal clerks and many valentines were distributed. Delightful refreshments were served and little red and white bon-bon baskets were given for favors.

Bridge Club Entertained.

Mrs. John Browder delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club at her home last Tuesday afternoon. The living room was beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations and spring bowers. The high score prize, two decks of Congress cards, was won by Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The hostess served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee.

Those playing were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, N. S. Johnson, V. J. Heard, T. C. McSwain, Arthur Johnson, Lawrence Gerald; Miss Kathleen Mullins, and the hostess.

Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson, Misses Edith, Louise and Kathryn Stephenson, Mildred Franz and Geo. Stephenson motored to Montgomery last Thursday and spent the day.

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

Master Callen Alred, who has been ill with influenza for several days, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor spent Thursday and Friday in Montgomery with friends.

Mr. Lawrence Gerald spent Thursday and Friday in Montgomery on business.

Mrs. Tom Thompson and little son, Tom, Jr., of Selma, are visiting her mother, Mrs. J. P. Gore.

Misses Leona Stanley, Thelma Guy, and Greer spent the week end in Rockford with Mrs. William Harris.

Mrs. Ludie Lenoir has gone to Selma to visit relatives for several weeks.

Mr. Charles Seibert of Finsley spent Sunday in town with friends.

Mrs. J. Hugh Jones and little daughter, Mary Courtney, spent the week end in Montgomery, and attended the concert of Sousa's Band Sunday afternoon.

Mesdames J. P. Gore and Parrish motored to Maplesville Wednesday on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Evans went to Columbus, Miss., this week.

Mrs. Chestnut, Mrs. A. L. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bearden, and Mr. Ike Vaughn of Birmingham visited friends here Sunday.

Mr. Robert Evans visited Birmingham this week.

Miss Hazel Kreider spent the week end with her mother in Montgomery.

Mr. Wallace Jones, accompanied by Misses Sara Evans, Eleanor Neely, and Mr. R. P. Radford, Westinghouse representative, of Kentucky, spent a few hours in Clanton Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Parnell of Maplesville were visitors in Clanton last Wednesday.

Mrs. Robert Williams spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Montgomery with Mr. Williams, who is working there.

Mr. C. B. Cox off Dade City, Fla., was in town Monday visiting relatives and frfiends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Martin of Mulberry were here shopping Wednesday.

Mr. William Walker of Maplesville was a visitor to town Friday.

Mrs. M. P. Dovenport of Thorsby was among those shopping in town Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lyman of Autaugaville were intown Thursday.

Mr. Edward McMorris of Birmingham was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White for a few doys last week.

Mr. Bob Williams, who holds a position with the labama Power Company in Montgomery, spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parrish of Mitchell Dam visited relatives and friends in town Sunday.

Mr. Webb of Isabella community was in town Soturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Calloway and children were visitors to Clanton Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. G. C. Harris and children spent Sunday in Birmingham with Mrs. Harris, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at South Highland Infirmary last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Higgins of Prattville were in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stroud of Birmingham spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nivens.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wingard and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wingard motored to Shelby Sunday and spent the day with relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. B. V. Jones and daughter, Willie, of Billingsley, were shopping in town Monday.

Mrs. J. Lee Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and little daughter, and Mrs. J. P. Hayes motored to Montgomery Monday, where Mr. Miller underwent treatment.

Mrs. Martin Nix and daughter, Evelyn, of Birmingham, spent the week end with Mrs. J. M. Potts.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowci have moved out to their farm.

FERTILIZERS—I take pleasure in offering ARMOUR'S BIG CROP Fertilizers for cash as follows—15-5-5, $41.55; 11-2½-3, $29.25; 8-3-5, $30.30; 16% Phosphate, $18.30; 20% Phosphate, $21.30; Muriate of Potash, $41.00 per ton, in 200-lb bags. Your trade will be appreciated. J. N. Dennis.
2-18-2t-ch.

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

— o —

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixing your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired feet. We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no matter how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a square deal.

— o —

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SHOP
CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

CLOSING OUT

I am now closing out my entire stock of FURNITURE and HOUSE FURNISHINGS. am going to quit business as soon as I can sell out the stock I have on hand, and I want to get it out of the way at once.
I have some attractive bargains which I am offering as long as they last. Better come and look them over before they are gone.
I have a special lot of screen doors and screen wire which I am offering cheap at close - out prices. This is the time of year to buy screens and this is the chance for you to save money.

Retherford Furniture Company
CLANTON, ALABAMA.

Specials for This Week

—Little boys fine wash suits in long and short pants
—Phillip Jones line of men's collars in newest styles
—Ladies novel collar and cuff sets
—Baby creepers in all colors
—A beautiful line of childrens silk and lisle socks in all colors

—FOR THE LITTLE GIRLS we have bought a big line of HATS. Buyers so often overlook the little misses when it comes to hats, but we have remembered them. A beautiful hat for every little girl in the county is right here.

—Ladies new brassiers fashioned in lovely laces and silks
—With every $25 in trade we will give a lovely work basket

Robinson Bargain Store
CLANTON, ALABAMA

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

"What makes them so good?"

TWENTY-FIVE years experience in making electrical instruments, the largest radio factory in the world, the most expert workmen—yes. But the real answer is the way Atwater Kent goes about it. You can't get anything marked "Atwater Kent" that isn't perfect. Come in for a demonstration.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

O. M. CARTER
CLANTON, ALA.

School Opening

The Business School will open at Clanton Thursday, February 25th, over Broadhead's Store. Day class report at 9:00 a. m.; Night class at 7:30 p. m.

A few more scholarships open. See or write

J. H. OWENS, Representative
CLANTON, ALA.

Georgia - Carolina School of Commerce
BRUNSWICK, GA.

Shumate CUTLERY
Made of Razor Steel—It Stays Sharp
For Sale by
Alred Drug Company
CLANTON, ALA.

Edgar B. Elebash
(Elebash Jewelry Co.)
REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted
Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Rev. E. W. Butler returned from Pittsfield Ill., last Thursday, where he went a week before to attend the funeral of a Mr. Ducey, the husband of his sister. Many Thorsby people will remember Mrs. Ducey, who spent a summer at the Butler home several years ago. On Sunday morning his niece, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ducey, Mrs. Helen Warthen, who went from Washington, D. C., to attend the funeral of her father, stopped off here for the day, on her way to Jacksonville, Fla., where she will take a government position, to which she has been transferred from Washington. She spent a few hours at the Butler home and seeing things in Thorsby, as this was her first visit in this section. In the afternoon, the Butler family took her to Montgomery to make the acquaintance of their son, Clarence Butler, a cousin whom she had never seen. After a brief visit with her new found cousin and his family she took the night train for Jacksonville, to report for business Monday morning.

Last Saturday Mrs. Loveland, accompanied by Mrs. Post and Misses Lois Hawks and Odie Lee Arthur, all of Thorsby Institute, motored to Montgomery, an outing which they greatly enjoyed.

Construction work on Thorsby Institute auditorium is now well under way. The purr of the concrete mixer dominates the site, and the surrounding area looks like a lumber yard. E. F. Mead and son of Thorsby have the contract for concrete wall footings and also for hollow concrete tile work for the walls.

Arthur Littleton and Emmet Billingsley started work Tuesday morning on the new house for Mrs. Merchant, a sister of J. D. Cleckler, who recently lost her husband in Washington, D. C. Mr. Cleckler went on to attend the funeral and assist in settling up Mrs. Merchant's affairs, she then came with him to Thorsby to make her home here, and has recently purchased a very desirable site on the corner of the highway and directly across an intersecting street from the home formerly owned by Mrs. Wilder, and sold to a Mr. Gentry.

Miss Blanch Croker, who has been spending some time with Mrs. E. R. Piper, was returned to her home in Bessemer.

The W. M. U. met with Mrs. Kelly Monday afternoon. A very interesting program on "Japan" was rendered by the members.

That whole section of Thorsby comprising a ten-acre tract now owned by Jim Pate, who bought it from the Nortons after their house burned, seems to be slated for subdividing and improvement with substantial buildings and commodious grounds. Streets have been opened extending all the way across it on the east side, past the new public school building and connecting with Jones Street on the north end, while the south end connects with the street which runs along the north side of the Nat. Bentley tract, formerly the A. K. Horn home. A street has also been opened on the north side of the Pate tract, connecting Summit, or extending to it, to the new street described above. This makes the public school building easily accessible from any direction on good streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davenport now occupy their new home on this tract, facing Michigan Avenue, and Mrs. Wilder's new home at the south-east corner of it is drawing near completion. Pete Franklin has also purchased a good sized lot adjoining the one sold to Mrs. Merchant and has it graded as if ready to begin building operations.

Nat. Bentley is putting the finishing touches on his new store building adjoining the town hall and facing the new highway. He says it will soon be opened for business, but did not say what it will be or who will have charge of it.

J. M. Smith, Manager of the Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association, tells us that about 200,000 new strawberry plants have already been ordered for planting this spring, and he confidently expects it will reach 250,000 before the end of the season. This is enough to plant upwards of 60 acres. Looks as though some of the farmers in Thorsby and vicinity still have confidence in the strawberry industry, which has been established here for upwards of 20 years.

Rev. J. E. Each and family had a visit Saturday from a long time friend from Tampa, Fla., Dr. L. F. Adams, a dentist, and president of the Florida Dental Association. He spent the night with them, and Mrs. Each and their two boys took him to Montgomery by automobile early Sunday morning.

Rev. James W. Davenport of Robbins, Tenn., a former pastor of the Congregational church at Thorsby, arrived here last Saturday night to conduct a series of special meetings beginning last Sunday morning and continuing with daily services in the church at 10 a.m., the usual hour for the morning services and at night immediately following Christian Endeavor, which will make it about 7:10 p.m., which is expected to end the series of meetings under Mr. Davenport.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society will meet this week, Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. M. J. Soberg. The Parent-Teachers Association announce a social to be held at the public school auditorium Saturday night, February 27th, for the benefit of the piano fund. You are invited to come and enjoy the social hour and incidentally assist in a good work.

Thorsby Institute Honor Roll
First Semester

First—Ruth Champion, Geraldine Dobson, Claudie Eiland, Hazel Maddox, Martha Williams.

Second—Dorothy Butler, Sydney Davenport, Onzelle Eiland, Doris Freman, Marie Hopkins, Jewel Martin, Corinne Polk, Addie Primm, Lois Primm, Dollie Sorrell, Loyd Howard, Myra Johnson, Betty Lakeman, Palmer Lefstead, Willie Littlejohn, Gordon Sorrell, Mary Tindol, Ruth Turner, Frances Wilson.

Third—Dovie Atwell, Jewell Bean, Addie Brown, Dorothy Butler, Margie Champion, Ruth Champion, Alta Mae Each, William Each, Ragnor Ekblad, Doris Freeman, Meryl Freeman, Isabella Gilbert, Clara Grigsby, Mabel Howard, Lewis Kelly, Coy Kirkland, Eva Mae Lynch, Dessie Robinson, Martha Williams, Frances Wilson and Boona Wood.

The American History Class had charge of the Lincoln program on February 12th. Lorena Primm's biogaphical sketch was followed by reading of a clipping from "Perfect Tribute," which was splendidly given by A. T. Arthur.

An impromptu valentine party Saturday was enjoyed by the faculty and dormitory students.

Scandinavian services next Sunday at 10:30 a.m., at Lutheran church at Thorsby.

The Parent-Teachers Association met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Peterson last Tuesday afternoon. A large number of members and visitors were present. After a delightful social hour, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Miss Ruth Peterson of Birmingham visited relatives and friends in Thorsby last Sunday.

The W. M. U. Society met at the home of Mrs. Ben Davenport on last Thursday. A large number attended, and after a social hour, delightful refrfeshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bob Davenport.

Mrs. Bonner of Jemison was the guest of Mrs. Ben Davenport last Thursday.

Mrs. Curtis Billingsley left last Tuesday night for Oceola, Fla., to join her husband, where he holds a responsible position.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonza Parrish of Clanton were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Parrish Sunday.

Miss Hattie Davenport of Birimngham was the guest of her father and mother here Sunday.

Mrs. Marvin Davenport and Mrs. Emmett Billingsley spent Friday afternoon shopping in Clanton.

Mrs. B. L. Davenport entertained the Berean & Fidelis class of the Thorsby Baptist church last Friday night, February 12th. After a series of games, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Marvin Davenport, served delightful refreshments.

Mrs. Herbert Peterson had as her guests for dinner Tuesday, Rev. and Mrs. Each, Rev. J. W. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard.

Mrs. R. L. Davenport left Tuesday morning for Robertsdale, Ala., where she was called to attend the bedside of her sister, who is very ill.

Dr. Adams of Florida was the week end guest of Rev. and Mrs. Each.

SHERIF'S SALE — REAL ESTATE

The State of Alabama, Chilton County—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, and to me directed, whereby I, as Seriff of said county, was commanded to make the sum of thirty-two and 77-100 dollars, principal and interest, and twenty-two and 35-100 dollars, cost of suit, the amount of a certain judgment and costs therein, obtained at the July Term, 1925 of said Court, against W. W. Wilson in favor of O. O. Roper, I have levied upon and will sell to the highest bidder for cash at public sale, at the court house door of said county, between the hours of 11 o'clock, a. m., and 4 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the 1st day of March, 1926, all the right, title and interest of the above-named W. W. Wilson, in and to the following described real estate, viz:

The southwest fourth of the northeast fourth of section twenty-eight, township twenty-one, range thirteen, situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This, the 27th day of Jan., 1926.

T. J. LITTLEJOHN,
Sheriff.

Posted at the court house door on Jan. 27th, 1926.

T. J. LITTLEJOHN,
2-4-3t-ch. Sheriff.

MARTIN BARBER SHOP

I am now located in the Eiland Building on the Montgomery-Birmingham Highway and am prepared to do first class barber work at all times. Your patronage is appreciated.

ADOLPHUS MARTIN
Thorsby, Alabama

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Next to what a man earns, his Bank Account is his most closely guarded secret. He wants to feel absolutely sure in his own mind that his banker is just as much of a confidential adviser as his lawyer or his doctor.

Therefore, we say "Let's Get Acquainted." We want you to know us and have confidence in us before you decide to open an account at this bank.

THE BANK OF THORSBY
Thorsby, Alabama

Chas. E. Lucas, President C. C. Driskill, Cashier

CANDIDATES

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. T. Rockett, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. G. Culp, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. M. Pate, Thorsby, Ala.)

FOR MEMBER BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

Clanton, Ala., Route 4.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. L. Vines.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. D. Collins, Clanton Ala., Route 8.)

FOR MEMBER COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. J. M. Webb, Maplesville, Ala., R 1).

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by A. F. Mims, Thorsby, Ala.)

AUCTION

Land Sale

Thorsby, Friday, Feb. 19

The D. H. Dean home, better known as the John Henley place, one good house and outbuildings with 4 acres of land right on the B. and M. Highway, will be sold at auction.

Col. Thos. W. Millican
Auctioneer

Remember that Thorsby is a fine town with electric lights, and is located in one of the best farming sections of Alabama. It has a first-class public school and one of the best High Schools in the State. So don't forget when you invest in property in or near Thorsby, you are making an investment that will double in only a short time.

Investigate the future prospects of this property and come to the sale and let us talk it over with you

There will be something to entertain you every minute at this sale. It is like a circus to hear two of the world's greatest auctioneers, crying the same bid at the same time. There will also be cash prizes given away and everybody present will have a free chance at all prizes. BE THERE!

THORSBY HARDWARE COMPANY

Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co.

Come to the Big

AUCTION

Tuesday, February 23

SALE

On the Premises

The W. W. Hand Farm, 102

acres, two good settlements

Seven miles south of Marbury and 12 miles north of Prattville, on the new Montgomery and Birmingham Highway. This fine farm will be subdivided and sold at absolute auction to the highest bidder. Terms 1-3 cash, balance in 1 and 2 years.

Come! Big Day For All Come!

Free prizes, Band Music. Hear the world's best pair of Auctioneers. They look alike, act alike, crying the same bid at the same time. Almost like a circus to hear them.

SALE MANAGED BY

Tenn.-Ala. Auction Co.

Clanton, Alabama

"WE CAN SELL YOUR PROPERTY"

ESTABLISHED 1903 THE ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama.

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala.— "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1926 NUMBER 45

Borah and Reed On World Court

Senator From Idaho Follows Steps Of Missourian In His Talk At Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Two senatorial opponents of America's adherence to the world court, one a democrat and the other a republican, have launched their opening broadsides here against that measure, senators who supported it and methods by which the issue was brought to a vote in the senate.

Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, addressing a Washington birthday gathering Sunday night, pleaded for the defeat of "every man who voted for this iniquitous measure," and then moved on to East St. Louis, where he was to speak again Monday night.

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, who arrived in Chicago shortly after the Missouri senator and participated with him in a parade arranged in their honor, attacked the world court in a radio speech preliminary to his formal addresses.

"The American people, and the American people alone, can save the policies of Washington," Senator Borah declared.

Say Fight To Be Renewed

Speaking to thousands in the Coliseum and to countless others listening in on the radio, the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee declared the first battle in the fight for American policies and American principles was lost with the vote of the senate for adherence to the world court.

The next fight—that to take the United States into the League of Nations—is now being organized, he said.

"We will lose the next fight as we lost the last one," Senator Borah declared, "unless the great body of the people themselves take up the gage of the battle. It is up to you. You can save the policies of Washington, and no one else can."

OLD TIME SINGING AT COURT HOUSE

There will be an all day singing in the old Christian Harmony books at the court house in Clanton on the first Sunday in March, the 7th. Everyone in the county interested in the old time singing is urged to be present.—J. N. Scott, President.

J. P. BEAN CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

J. P. (John) Bean of Beat 12 is a candidate for County Commissioner of the first District in the Republican primary of August 10. Mr. Bean is a new man in politics, having never before asked for public office. He has lived all his life in Beat 12, and is recognized among his home people as a man of the finest character and unusual ability. He is opposed by Squire Waldrop and T. J. Dorminey.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT STANTON

There will be a fiddlers convention at Stanton Junior High School auditorium on Saturday, February 27, at 8:00 p. m.

All musicians are invited to come and take part in the contests, and all others are invited to come and listen. A good time is assured for all. Admission 20c and 30c.—H. A. Harris.

JOHN S. DENNIS, ESQUIRE, A MAKER OF ROPE

Harking back to the olden days unknown to the flappers and flivver-flushers of the present time, Squire Dennis has written the latest chapter in the story of how our grandfathers and grandmothers lived and provided their common necessities. He had need for a new set of plow lines for his spring sowing, and he set about making them right on his farm.

He told the story in these few words:

"I needed some plow lines, and I suggested to the old woman that we make them during a cold winter day when we could not be outside. She got out her cards and went to work on the cotton. I rigged up the old spinning wheel. Pretty soon we had the thread made. Together we twisted the thread, and right away I had my plow lines. Here is what they look like."

He handed us a piece of rope about two feet long, and if we are any competent guesser, it is as good plow line as can be bought at any store. The Banner now has the sample of Mr. Dennis' product on display with our collection of various other relics and curiosities. This will doubtless bring to the minds of many the recollection of the time when their mothers spun the thread and wove the cloth that was made into many a suit of "jeans britches," which it looked like an impossibility to wear out.

BOY FALLS 55 FEET FROM LIGHT POLE

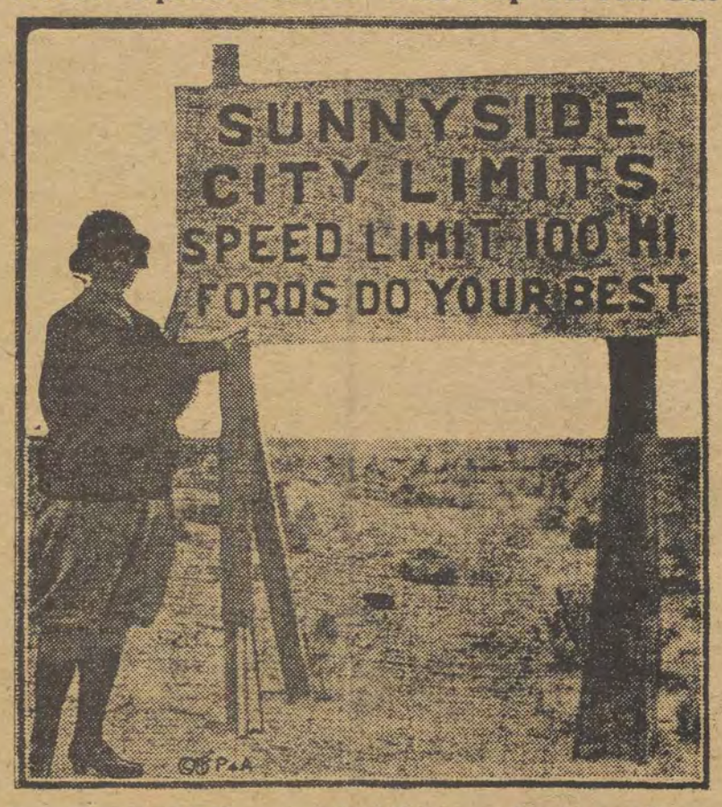
The remains of William Gordon Wright, age 23, were shipped to Martin at Clanton Saturday, from Birmingham.

The story of the young man's death is a very sad one. He and another young man were working as linesmen for the Alabama Power Company out a few miles from Birmingham. They were working on a 35-foot light pole which was standing in a bank beside a road. The dirt on the bank gave way and the pole fell across the road and the boys both fell with the pole into a hole 20 feet deep, making the complete fall 55 feet. Wright's skull was crushed and he died almost instantly. The other young man was not hurt.

Undertaker Martin kept the body in his parlor here Saturday night, and Sunday morning carried it to Independence, in Autauga County, where interment was made. Rev. Woods, from Howard College, conducted the funeral.

FROM B. L. COBB

Editor Union-Banner:



The report is being circulated that the County Board of Education has donated $1,500.00 of the people's money toward the erection of a school building for Clanton. We ask that the County Board advise the people whether this is true or not. If so, how each one voted on same.

Respectfully,
B. L. COBB.

MR. JIM GRANT IN TOWN SATURDAY

Uncle Jim Grant, who has been confined to his bed for many months, was able to come out to town for a short while last Saturday. All of his friends were delighted to see him. We hope that his condition may continue to improve steadily.

Where "Speed Demons" Can Step On The Gas

SUNNYSIDE, IDAHO carries off all the honors for the most liberal regulations set up for motorists. On the highway between Boise and Pocatello, just outside the Sunnyside city limits, is a large sign bearing the legend—"Speed Limit, 100 miles!" The sign is located on a 30-mile straightaway and is said to be official. What a wonderful place for our "speed demons" to whom less than 50 miles an hour is like attending a funeral!

Percy M. Pitts Candidate For Chilton Representative

Mr. Percy M Pitts of Clanton is a candidate on the Republican ticket for Representative of Chilton County in the next legislature of Alabama. Mr. Pitts is a prominent attorney of Clanton, a member of the law firm of Atkinson & Pitts. He was a candidate for the State Senate four years ago, for which he received a majority of votes in Chilton County.

Mr. Pitts came to Clanton several years ago from Shelby County. He is a graduate of the University of Alabama. He is a life-long Republican. His father was for many years a prominent figure in the Republican party in Shelby County.

FROM FLORIDA

On Washington's birthday the Havana school met with all the other schools of Gadsden County in the annual field meet at Quincey, Fla. All kinds of games and exercises were given, with the several schools competing for honors.

Last Friday brought one of the worst rains of the season. The Ocklocknee is now out of the banks, tying up traffic completely.

Mr. Johnnie Phillips is in bed with flu.

Dr. Wright of north Texas preached for us Sunday at Havana Baptist church. He will begin a revival here on March 14 to run for two weeks. He is a great evangelist, and it is thought a great meeting will result.

State Highway No. 1 is bing graded through this place now, and we hope to soon have a paved road east and west.

Miss Margaret Robinson and Lamar Calloway visited Quincey Friday evening.

Miss Carolyn Shelfer spent Thursday with Miss Margaret Robinson at Gibson. The rain caused the school truck to have to stay in that day and so there was no school.

Mr. Emory was called to Ailey, Ga., Friday on account of the sickness of his mother.

Mr. J. E. Riley visited his mother at Dothan, Ala., Sunday. He was accompanied by his family.

Mr. Henry Robertson was at Tallahassee one day last week.

Several boys from Cooper: Arcie Duke, Kicker Foshee, Mr. Sandlin, Dewey Deloach and Mr. Murphy passed through here last Thursday en route to Brooksville, Fla., to begin work with C. B. Cox.

Mr. J. E. Robinson made a business trip to Tallahassee last Wednesday.

Spring flowers are beginning to burst forth, and it looks like spring is here.—L. A. Callaway.

THANK NEIGHBORS

We wish to thank Mrs. Zeb Mims, Mrs. Andrew Jones, Mrs. Frank Foshee and others for their kindness during our sickness with flu. May God's richest blessings be upon you all.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones.

Mr. W. W. Jones of Billingsley was in The Banner office Monday. He brought in a piece of pine wood that he got at Dudley Thompson's sawmill in Tallapoosa County. The wood contained an old telephone spool, and the wood had grown completely around it.

Two Caught For Violating The Prohibition Laws

Last Sunday Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee went out west of Thorsby on a whiskey search. After looking over the place of Enoch Davenport, of Pleasant Grove community, the officers found four barrels of beer, a conductor and worm near the Davenport home. The beer and still parts were found in a pit in a new ground covered with a large pile of brush. Davenport was arrested and made bond.

Near Smith Schoolhouse Steve Dutton was caught with about a half-pint of whiskey in his pocket. Dutton was brought to jail, and at this writing has not made bond.

MEETING OF INTEREST

On Thursday, February 18, the Executive Committee of the Chilton County Association met with some pastors and workers at the court house for the purpose of discussing plans for future work.

The first thing unanimously agreed upon was to try to carry out during March "Alabama's Educational Program," leaving it with the pastors to arrange the programs as near as possible to meet the needs of their different churches.

Another important agreement was to resume the pastors' and workers' monthly meetings, setting Monday following the 4th Sunday in each month as dates on which to meet. Therefore, March 1st is the date of the first meeting, to be held at the court house. All pastors and workers are asked to cooperate in this work.—W. J. Billingsley, Chairman; H. R. Oden, Secretary.

ENTERPRISE

The preaching by Rev. Raines at Bethany Sunday morning was fine.

The girls of Enterprise school played ball at Cooper Thursday afternoon.

Supt. Lawrence visited Enterprise school last Tuesday, and complimented the school highly.

LIBERTY HILL

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove Singing Society met here Sunday afternoon with a very large crowd.

The president being absent, the singing was called to order by the vice president, Leonard Culp.

Directors for the afternoon were Leonard Culp, D. T. Melton, Zack Lowery, Harrison Hayes, Kermit Lowery, Houston Melton, Glover Smith.

Organists were Misses Etta Foshee and Onzell Eiland, Mesdames John Rollins, and Earl Williams.

Several quartets were rendered by our local quartet.

We were dismissed with prayer by Rev. A. L. Foshee. We invite visitors to meet us at Cedar Grove next Sunday afternoon.—D. W. Ward, Sec'y.

AROUND NORTH CLANTON

Mr. Stanley was called home from Prattville on account of the illness of his children.

Mr. Sam Foshee is reported very sick with pneumonia.

Miss Mary Kennedy, who is engaged in stenographic work in Wetumpka, spent Sunday with home folks.

Miss Grace Leitzman has enrolled in the Clanton Business school.

LARGE AMERICAN EAGLE KILLED ON THE RIVER

Visitors to The Banner office last Saturday saw the head and talons of a huge American eagle which was killed by the champion hunter, Napoleon Willis, Friday afternoon. This was one of the largest eagles ever known in this part of the country, having a wing spread of 7 feet and 4 inches. Willis saw the bird perched upon a dead tree, and by his expert craftiness managed to slip up to within thirty or forty yards and brought him down with his shot gun.

Nip has accomplished many feats in the woods which mark him out as the chief of all hunters and fishermen in this County. He has captured the biggest of catamounts alive, killed hundreds of squirrels where the ordinary amateur hunter declared "there ain't none," and when he goes fishing he always brings back a mess whether they bite or not.

TWO AUTO ACCIDENTS ON NEW CEMENT HIGHWAY

Two bad auto accidents was the toll taken during the past week end on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway, near Clanton.

Saturday night about 7 o'clock a bus of the "Blue Goose" line, running on the B. & M. Transportation Company's schedule, loaded with girls returning to Woman's College at Montgomery from a basket ball game they attended at Montevallo, forced a Dodge coupe, driven by C. H. Rodman of Cedarvale, Kansas, off the cement and into a telephone post, near Cooper. Mr. Rodman suffered a broken arm. The bus is said to have been running at teriffic speed when the accident occurred.

On Sunday, Mrs. C. H. Maxwell, accompanied by a lady friend, both of Birmingham, tried to make the curve at the Johnson farm, 1 mile north of Deatsville, with too much speed. Their Essex coach didn't go around the curve, but went straight, centering a big pecan tree. The front of the car was smashed, and the ladies were taken to Birmingham for treatment of cuts from flying glass broken from the windshield.

ALRED CHILD HURT

Guy Alred, the small son of Mr. Bud Alred, was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Gladys Kemp, last Saturday evening, and severely injured. The child was struck by the car and thrown against the pavement, causing a painful cut on the head. Miss Kemp saw the child and made an effort to stop the car, which was moving slowly when it hit him.

SUPT. LAWRENCE IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Rev. Buford Lawrence, county superintendent of education of Chilton County, is in Washington, D. C., this week attending the meeting of the National Council of Educational Officials.

We expect him to return home the latter part of this week and will try to get him to give us a long account of his visit to the nation's capitol for publication in our next issue.

J. M. ASKINS DEAD

Mr. John M. Askins, age 75, died at his home on Billingsley Route 1 on February 12th. The remains were buried the next day at New Cedron.

"Coolidge Again" Says Judge Gary

Great Prosperity Will Come With His Reelection, Is the Steel King's Belief.

Washington, Feb. 20.—President Coolidge will be renominated, reelected and the country will ride upon the greatest wave of prosperity ever known, Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, predicted here.

Mr. Gary, who with Mrs. Gary has been attending a few social functions and visiting old friends in a brief respite from arduous business cares, gave his views on important political question in an exclusive interview with Universal Service. He said:

"I hold no brief for any political party, for the present administration or for President Coolidge. I am a business man, especially interested in busisess progress and prosperity.

"I have not seen very much of the president and my opinions of him are formed largely from what has been and is being published. He seems to have the respect and confidence of the people generally.

"His administration of public affairs has the approval of a majority of citizens and this includes approval of the present congress of the United States.

"The present tendencies are in the right direction and the public will receive the benefit. It seems to me that the chief aim of the majority of our officials, from the president down, is to advance the best interests of the whole country rather than that of any political party.

"Any prediction I might make in regard to the future would include several 'ifs': If President Coolidge shall continue persistently and uninterruptedly his natural disposition to modestly, simply, courageously, wisely and unselfishly administer affairs of the government in the direction of future progress and prosperity and the full recognition of moral obligations in preference to the political success of persons or party, as we expect, there is nothing that will interfere with his renomination and election, resulting in the greatest prosperity the country has ever witnessed.

"To me it seems remarkable that the confidence throughout the country in President Coolidge and his associates and the basic fundamental conditions is so general.

"Action of the present congress in giving non-partisan support to tax reduction is an example of the changed viewpoint of politicians.

"It is much more in harmony with the wishes of the people back home than those observed by some past congresses."

I. N. LANGSTON DIES AT JEMISON

The death of Mr. Isaac N. Langston occurred at Jemison last Wednesday night. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Hendrix, assisted by Rev. Ezell of Clanton, on Friday, and the remains were laid to rest in the Pine Hill cemetery. He was buried with Masonic honors by the Jemison Lodge, assisted by the Knights Templar of Clanton.

The deceased was the father of five children—D. L. Langston, J. M. Langston, E. B. Langston, Asa Langston, and Mrs. E. G. Hyman.

"I Shall Endeavor to Prove Myself Worthy of Your Friendship"

THOSE were the words George Washington once wrote to a prominent leader who sought his acquaintance. In the same manner, he later proved that he appreciated the friendship of all who loyally stood by him in the founding of this great republic!

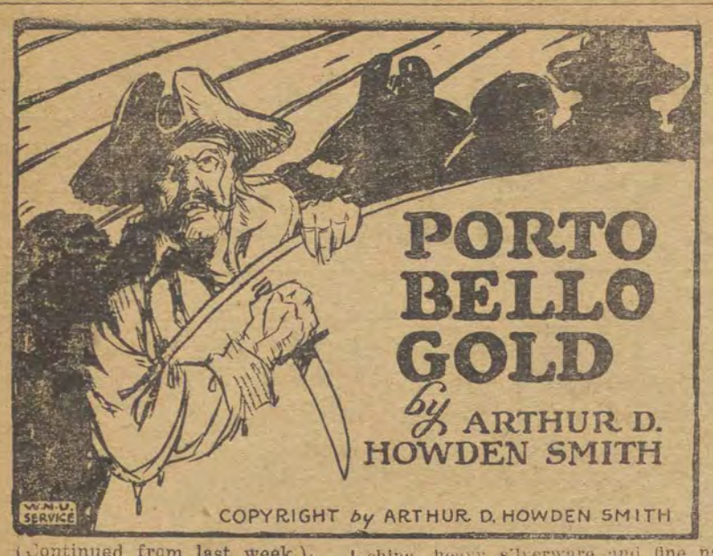
THIS BANK functions under the same policy. It not only seeks your acquaintance but asks the opportunity to prove itself worthy of YOUR FRIENDSHIP!

SO FEEL FREE to stop in any time and seek our friendly views and advice on any financial problem. We're sure we can be of Service to you - - yes, give you the help you'll appreciate for years to come!

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

First National Bank
OF CLANTON, ALABAMA



Safeguard your Interests

You carry insurance on your life and on your home: this means a considerable outlay.

If you do not safeguard your interests by maintaining a bank account you are neglecting a duty that costs you nothing.

An account in this bank SPELLS CREDIT and credit often means WEALTH.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT
Deposits December 31, 1923—$529,051.95
Deposits December 31, 1924—$639,103.59
Deposits January 4, 1926—$698,034.12
We Want Your Business, Great or Small, Promising You Safety and Service.

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER V

Aboard the Brig.

I woke with a ray of sunshine streaming across my face through the thick, greenish glass of a deadlight and an odd feeling of contentment. There was a soothing swissh-sh of divided waters; and the brig herself was swaying easily in a following sea.

Corlaer was sleeping the sleep of utter exhaustion, and I was at pains not to disturb him as I slipped to the floor, opened the door and entered the main cabin. This was deserted save for the boy Darby, who was curled up on the seat under the stern windows, peering out at the brig's creamy wake. He heard the door close after me and swiveled round at once, landing lightly on his feet as if he had been to sea for years.

"Och, Master Bob," says he, "I thought ye'd never wake up. Ah, it's the grand, grand day. And do ye smell the brine in the air? It makes the toes of your two feet dance, whether ye will or no—troth, it does."

'Twas impossible to nourish resentment against the boy for his betrayal of us. He was as naturally lawless and unmoral as a young wolf, but I could not resist a jeer at his recent transformation.

"And how does it seem to be a pirate, Darby?"

"Oh, fine! Sure, I always knew I wasn't intended for a bond-boy to run errands and carry bales. Ah, it's the grand life, Master Bob! They tell me himself—" he jerked his thumb toward the door of a stateroom opposite that in which Peter and I were berthed—"is own uncle to ye, and some day, if ye choose, ye can be as great as him. Faith, and I know what my choice would be!"

"Is it your idea that pirates never work?" I inquired.

His face fell a trifle.

'Och, there's work everywhere ye go, bad 'cess to it! But I'm to have my own cutlass and two pistols for my belt, and they say I'm good luck."

"Good luck? How's that?"

"Sure, it's my hair, I think. Flint—him that this crew sail with by usual—he has a liking for a red-headed lad. Such as meself brings him luck, so they swear, and Long John——"

"Who?"

"Long John—Mister Silver, to be sure—him with the one leg we talked to by the shore yesterday—he says I'll go far with Flint."

I had to laugh at my own bemusement at the picture Darby's remark called up. Yesterday morning at this hour I had been laboring industriously in the counting room in Pearl street. And how much had happened since then! I harked back to my setting forth for the Bristol packet, the casual conversation with the one-legged mariner—how skillfully he had pumped me and annexed Darby to his plot!—the encounter with the Irish maid—

With this I curbed my recollections. Thought of Moira O'Donnell was unpleasant, for I could not rid my mind of the suspicion that she must be bound up in some way in the schemes her father worked at in co-operation with my great-uncle.

But there! I found relief in this reflection. Certes, her father could be no worse than my relative; and here was I, innocent of any art or part in Murray's devious ploys, yet tossed into the grip of their mechanism as ruthlessly as if my life depended upon his success. And perhaps it did. What more natural, then, than that she was equally innocent? Aye, from the conversation betwixt the two conspirators I had overheard the night before it appeared that she was ignorant, probably in greater ignorance of her father's plans than I, else how explain O'Donnell's concern upon discovering the character of the men with whom she was to be thrown in contact?

And this aroused a further recollection. What was it the lass had said as we parted?

"Here our paths diverge."

She would not have said that had she known all, for there had been no necessity for the lie. Doubt not, she was in entire ignorance of the black evil these two plotted! I was glad with a great burst of exultation which must have shown itself in my face, for Darby exclaimed:

"There was a good fairy flicked a wing over you, Master Bob! Glory, but ye had the happy thought. Will ye throw in with us and be a pirate chief? Troth, there'd be no better."

'Not I, Darby; but I will have a bite to eat, if such there be aboard a pirate craft."

"Lashin's of everything in nature," rejoined Darby briskly. "Sit to the table yon, and I'll fetch it from the galley."

The table was set and ready, not with coarse crockery and steel forks, knives and spoons, but with dainty china, heavy silverware and fine napery, too. I commented on this when Darby returned, balancing smoking dishes and a jug of hot chocolate upon a tray.

"'Tis the way himself—" his thumb indicated the starboard stateroom door—"will live. The best of everything he'll have, and on his own ship nigger slaves to serve him, and they in liveries like grand gentlemen have."

"You seem to have experienced no

"You Walk Like a Blasted Admiral, No Less."

trouble in becoming intimate with your new companions, Darby," I remarked.

"It's me head does it," returned Darby, unabashed. "As I told ye, it brings good luck."

"Not to me," I retorted with a grin.

"And don't ye be too sure," he flashed. "We'll maybe sail a long ways together; and I'm your friend, Master Bob, for ye were never one to let me be put upon in the counting-room."

"Humph," said I. "That is to be seen. Where is himself,' as you call him?"

"Asleep in his berth. Troth, he was up until dawn conning the brig through the harbor shoals."

"Are we outside?"

"Sure, we're by and beyond what they call Sandy hook. There's only the wide ocean in front."

"I'm for the deck, then," I answered.

The companionway was empty, and I met nobody until I had climbed to the deck. 'Twas passing strange that I so readily adapted myself to the sea and its ways, seeing that all my life I had never been beyond the waters of the inner harbor. Yet 'tis the fact that I had no discomfort or misgiving and even acquired instinctively the sailor's tricks of standing and walking, as was commented upon by no less an authority than John Silver.

The deck was deserted for'ard. One man was lashed to the main cross-trees, sweeping the entire circuit of the horizon with a spyglass. Aft there were only Silver and another fellow at the wheel. The one-legged man waved to me with his crutch from his seat on the cabin skylight.

"Come and talk with Long John, Master Ormerod," he called. "Where did ye find them sea-legs o' yourn? You walk like a blasted admiral, no less."

"I found them below," I answered, for the life of me unable to resist the scoundrel's ingratiating manner. "Where are the rest of your company?"

He laughed and winked at the man at the wheel, an awful-looking creature, so heavy of shoulder as to appear deformed, with a green shade over deeply sunken eyes that were all pitted around with tiny blue scars.

"Is that foretops'l drawin' full, John?" asked the man with the green eye-shade in a voice that was singularly soft.

Silver squinted aloft.

"She'll do," he decided.

"Would you mind telling me how a blind man can steer?" I inquired.

The man with the green eye-shade chuckled in a way to chill your blood, so sardonic, so overpoweringly evil was the caliber of the mirth it suggested.

"Don't go to makin' up your mind Pew can't see everything, Master Ormerod," said Silver, shifting his crutch. "I'd hate to have him decide to take a shot at me. Steer? Well now, what's needed in steerin'? A strong arm, says you, and you says true. Also and likewise, an ear for canvas. Lastly and leastwise, an eye for the course.

"Any man can read a compass, young gentleman; but not every sailorman can feel how his ship takes the wind and meets his rudder quick when she wants meetin'. Pew can. Give him some one like me to play eyes for him, and he'll steer as straight a course as a packet-boat wi' a bonus on the voyage."

"Are there many cripples in your crew?" I asked curiously.

"Cripples?" repeated Silver. "It all depends on what you might mean. There's cripples and cripples. Some on 'em ye pays their screw—"

"Their what?" I interrupted.

"Their screw, the what d'ye call it—insurance money. So much we get from the prize money extry for the hurt. Pew, he got a thousand pounds, which same he blowed in three nights in St. Pierre. D'ye mind, Ezra? I got eight hundred pounds for my leg—and fair enough, if you asks me."

"And that eight hundred pounds I'll gamble you ha' stowed away in a safe hole, John," said Pew with a gentleness which gave the words a peculiarly sinister significance.

Silver nodded almost complacently.

"What I gets, I keeps. I'm none o' your free spenders, rich today, poor tomorrow. Some day I'll be retirin' from piratin', and then I'll aim to ride in my own coach and sit in parleyment."

"You'll have to sail your own ship first, John," said Pew, and the remark was fraught with implications that made me turn cold at the pit of my stomach.

It was as if you could see the trail of bloodshed and suffering Silver would blaze to possess that ship and to exploit her to advantage.

"And why not?" returned Silver vigorously. "We'll name no names, Ezra, but captains can't live for ever. Some is aged and some soaks theirselves in rum. You never know! You never know!"

"There's Bill Bones, as has ideas on the subjeck," remarked Pew.

And he contrived to make me feel the horror of a long-drawn-out feud and rivalry.

"Yes, there's Bill," ruminated Silver. "Flint's mate, is Bill. Flint's best pal, is Bill. Flint's confeydantey, some says, is Bill. Well, well! But we was talkin' o' cripples and how a blind man can steer, which is a long way off from Bill, who isn't neither crippled nor blind, and maybe has hopes, so he has, when he remembers that."

Pew laughed so coldly, with such demoniac inhumanity, that I experienced a sudden fellow-feeling for Master Bones, distasteful as I had found him—also, a pronounced desire to change the subject. The bare proximity to such whole-souled, heartless cruelty was unpleasant.

"Do you commonly indulge in exploits like yesterday's, Silver?" I asked. "Did you take this ship designedly to carry you into New York?"

"You might say truthfully she was the best fitted for it of several," he acknowledged. "Blow my other stick off if she was good for anything else."

"Not forty pounds in her," mumbled Pew, twiddling the wheel-spokes.

"Her crew—"

Silver raised his eyebrows and gave me a slow wink.

"Poor unfortunates! 'Twas one time we couldn't take chances."

Pew's chuckle tickled icily from under the eye-shade which cast a green blur over his whole lower face.

"I suppose there is a hell for such as you," I said, trying to keep my voice steady.

"Some says there is and some says there isn't," answered Silver venomously. "No use to worry, says I."

I was so wrought up that I think I must have come to blows with them, but for a fortunate diversion. Bones and several other men emerged from the fo'csle hatch, yawning and stretching their arms, evidently having just arisen from sleep. At the same moment Peter Corlaer climbed from the cabin companionway, lurched for a moment, on his feet and then staggered precariously toward the bulwarks. I started for'ard to aid him, and Bones ran aft with a loud yell.

"Don't ye spoil my decks, ye fat cow!" he shouted.

Poor Peter, regardless of both of us, seized a stay and clung to it abjectly, quite helpless. Bones reached him first and gave him a shove which sent him plunging into the scuppers head first.

"Get up," snarled Bones, and dealt him a vicious kick with a heavy sea-boot.

Peter groaned, and I caught Bones by the arm.

"D—n you for a coward!" I shouted. "Captain Murray bade you use us gently. Is this how you obey?"

He snatched free of me and yanked out a knife.

"Obey, ye lousy lubber!" he howled. "I'm Flint's mate, and I'll show ye who can say obey to me. Get back there or I'll cut your heart out and eat it afore ye."

I looked about me for a weapon, anxious to give him a lesson; but there was not a sign of anything handy, and I backed away cautiously from the menace of his knife. Silver shouted to him to let us be, as did one or two others; but his only answer was a string of the curses in which he was so proficient, and he continued to circle after me.

For myself I was not greatly frightened, for, as it chanced, knife-fighting was an art in which I was somewhat expert, thanks to instruction from my father's Indian friends; but I was concerned lest the scoundrel make a dart at Peter and slay the Dutchman as he lay inert. Judge of my amazement then when Peter swayed to his feet, holding on to the bulwarks to pull himself erect. His face was white, but he abandoned his support without hesitation and advanced, crooked-legged, across the deck toward us.

"I take him, Bob," he said.

I jumped between him and Bones in time to stop the pirate's rush, dodging a knife-thrust by the width of my coat-sleeve.

"Keep away, Peter," I panted. "I can handle him. You can't. You'll—"

"I take him," repeated Corlaer.

He reached out his hand, grabbed my shoulder and spun me from his path as easily as if I had been a child. And I did not attempt to return to his side, for I had felt the strength in his arm and knew that I had no cause to question his ability to take care of himself against any man, however armed.

"Let him be, Bill," called Silver again—was I wrong in fancying his tone unduly officious, provocative?

"I'm d—d if I do," rasped Bones. "If he wants it, he'll get it."

He sprang at Peter with knife upraised, aiming to slash his throat; but Peter moved with lightning speed to counter him. One immense arm, thick as a tree-bough, shot out and imprisoned the wrist of the knife-hand; a twist, and the knife pinged on the deck. The other arm captured a thigh, and Bones was reared above Peter's head.

Peter gave him a preliminary shake as if to prove to him how completely he was in his power and started to walk back to the lee bulwark. Bones shrieked like the lost soul he was, certain that Peter intended to cast him into the sea; but half-way across the deck Peter came to a loose halyard. He lowered Bones carelessly, tucked him under one arm and proceeded to reeve a landsman's slip-noose. We all watched him with utter fascination, and it is an indication of the pirates' code in such affairs that none of them intervened. But Peter was not to hang Master Bones.

"Your object is no doubt praiseworthy, Peter," remarked my great-uncle from the cabin companionway

(Continued to Page 7)

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS SUBJECT TO ROAD DUTY

It is the order of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Ala., that all persons subject to public road duty can pay $5.50 to the Judge of Probate on or before March 1. Failing to pay, will have to work seven days.

This fee can not be paid after the above date. L. H. REYNOLDS,
1-28-5t-ch Judge of Probate.

INSURANCE MAN TELLS ON FRIEND

"He suffered considerably from gas in stomach and colic attacks, and at times was very yellow. His doctors diagnosed his ailment as gall bladder trouble and that an operation was necessary. Some one persuaded him to try MAYR'S 'One Dose Will Convince.' Since taking it one year ago he tells me he has been able to eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County, Circuit Court, in Equity—E. C. Hayes, Complainant, vs. Zeleemer Hayes, Defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of Omar L. Reynolds that the Defendant is a non-resident, and that her place of residence and post-office address is unknown, and that such address can not be ascertained after reasonable effort; and, further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is of the age of twenty-one years:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Register that application be made in The Union-Banner, a newspaper published in the County of Chilton, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Zeleemer Hayes, to plead, answer, or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 3rd day of March, 1926, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

Done at office in Clanton, this 1st day of February, 1926.

W. D. SPIGENER,
2-4-4t-ch Register

Mr. and Mrs. Johns and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Harton of Montgomery were visitors to Clanton last Sunday. They were guests at the Exchange Hotel.

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

CATTLE and HOGS Wanted

I want to buy a number of beef cattle and hogs, either fat or lean. Will pay the best Market Price. If you have any for sale, see or write me, or call me over phone. I have no place of business in Clanton, but can be found here most of the time.

W. W. [Bud] JONES

Clanton, Ala.

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

Improved yet every model costs less..

New Low Prices

Touring	$510
Roadster	510
Coupe	645
Coach	645
Sedan	735
Landau	765

f.o.b. Flint, Michigan

At new low prices the Improved Chevrolet represents the biggest dollar for dollar investment ever offered in automobile history.

Every model costs less!—yet every model gives you smoother, snappier, more flexible performance at every speed—new comfort in more resilient springs—new beauty of colors in Duco finish. And in addition, there are numerous features essential to motoring satisfaction such as modern three-speed transmission, speedometer, Alemite lubrication—and on all closed models Fisher bodies and balloon tires.

Never before did your dollar buy more—and one ride in the Improved Chevrolet will prove it.

Ask for a Demonstration!

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated

CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Clanton Girl Among Honorees.

Members of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, both active and alumnae, entertained the following initiates, Miss Katherine Tolson, of Gadsden; Miss Mary Upchurch, of Clanton; Miss Helen Wright, of Talladega; Miss Dorothy Dawson, Miss Margaret Bass, and Miss Allene Price, who have recently become members of Kappa chapter at Howard College, with a banquet at the Tutwiler on Saturday evening.

The table was centered with a plaque representing Greek letters of the fraternity developed in violets and white sweet peas and cathedral candles in silver cases tied with blue. The place cards were wreathed violets, and the favors were diamond-shaped booklets decorated with violets, diminutive blue baskets holding violet-embossed mints also marked each place.

The toastmistress was Miss Leila Woods, president of the Birmingham alumnae, and many toasts and after-dinner speeches of interest to sorority members were given.—Birmingham News.

Charley Foshee of Beat 6 was in Clanton Saturday.

"Every farmer should spray his orchard before growth starts."—S. H. Gibbons.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

Thursday Sewing Club.

Mrs. J. Lee Smith was hostess to the Thursday Sewing Club Thursday afternoon at her home on Seventh Street. For this occasion the home was decorated with baskets of pink and white carnations and potted plants. The afternoon was spent doing various kinds of fancy work.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. V. J. Gragg, served a tempting salad course to Mesdames John M. VanDerveer, W. M. Wyatt, Bama Cox, and Grady Taylor.

Mrs. Callen Hostess.

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Frank Callen was hostess at a lovely bridge party at her home on Fifth Street. For this occasion carnations, buttercups and potted plants were effectively used to beautify the home. A series of bridge games was played at five tables. Mrs. J. Hance Alred held top score and received a pretty jardiniene. The next to highest score was held by Miss Bettie Mullins. An attractive vase filled with buttercups was presented to her. The booby fell to Mrs. Eric Hart, which was a dainty guest towel. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. Hance Alred and Miss Kathleen Mullins, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee. A miniature "Uncle Sam" suggestive of Washington's birthday was presented each guest as a favor.

Those enjoying this gracious hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, V. J. Heard, Eric Hart, Arthur Johnson, N. S. Johnson, Omar Reynolds, J. Watts Moore, C. Fenn Jones, Hosea Downs, Fred Perry of Mitchell Dam, T. C. McSwain, Guy Roberts of Miami, Fla., Clifford Mullins of Mitchell Dam, J. W. Hayes, L. F. Gerald, Grady Broadhead; Misses Bettie and Kathleen Mullins.

Mrs. Gowan Entertains.

Mrs. J. E. Gowan, superintendent of the Junior department of the Baptist Sunday school, delightfully entertained the pupils who made the honor roll the last quarter, allowing each to invite a guest. The home was artistically decorated with spring blossoms and potted plants, suggesting Washington's birthday. Various kinds of games were played. A contest, "Matching Partners," written in little red hatchets, was enjoyed. A delicious ice course was served the guests.

Those making the honor roll were Joe Moore, Helen Moore, Jo Erle Gowan, Vivian Gray, Elizabeth Harris, Mary Nell Jones, Pauline Wells, Hal Broadhead, Margaret Jones, Margaret Johnson, Ruth Moody.

The invited guests were Janie Beth Johnson, Dan Smith, Elois Jones, Myrtle Lee Baker, Leora Mims.

Mrs. Willis Entertains Missionary Circle.

A delightful affair of this week was Monday afternoon when Mrs. Arthur Willis entertained the members of Circle No. 3 of the Baptist Missionary Society at her home on Fourth Street. Cut flowers and flags were used to decorate the living and dining rooms. Mrs. J. P. Hayes presided over the business session. At the conclusion of the business, the hostess passed an interesting contest on George Washington, which afforded much pleasure. Mrs. Willis, assisted by Mesdames A. L. Farley, Tom Parrish, and Miss Bettie Mullins, served brick cream, further carrying out the idea of Washington's birthday. Each plate contained a miniature hatchet.

Those enjoying Mrs. Willis' hospitality were Mesdames S. J. Ezell, E. E. Upchurch, Clarence Evans, Tom Parrish, S. E. Bruce, John M. Robinson, J. M. Curlee, J. P. Hayes, J. Hance Alred, Grady Taylor, A. L. Farley, J. A. Jones, Grady Broadhead, and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Y. W. A. Reorganized.

A few of the members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary and others met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Hayes Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of reorganizing the Auxiliary. The home was beautifully decorated with baskets of pink and white carnations.

The following officers were elected: President, Miss Pearl Miner; Secretary, Miss Erin Danforth; Treasurer, Miss Frances Moore.

After the business session, Mrs. Hayes, assisted by Mrs. J. Watts Moore, served delicious sandwiches and ginger ale. Those present were Misses Frances Moore, Pearl Miner, Eva Cheshire, Thelma Guy, Leona Stanley, Vera Mae White, Kathleen Mullins, Mesdames J. Watts Moore, S. J. Ezell, and Clarence K. Evans.

B. Y. P. U. Social.

The B. Y. P. U. social given recently at the church was thoroughly enjoyed by those attending. Mrs. L. C. Ross, the effecient B. Y. P. U. leader, had planned many various kinds of entertainments, as matching hearts, heart contest, piercing a large heart with arrows, etc. Delicious refreshments were served to about twenty guests.

SHOULTS NEWS

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely. A large crowd attends every Sunday. Our prayer meeting is doing fine also. Everyone is invited to come out to our prayer meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Henderson of Maplesville visited relatives here last week.

Mrs. W. M. Oden and Mrs. W. L. Garner have been sick the past week, but are improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady McAfee from Freemont, Ala., were visiting Mr. J. R. McAfee Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. A. Kelley and family from Birmingham were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lum Lawley Sunday.

We have prayer meeting at Shoults every Sunday night. Everybody invited to be present.—A Reader.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan of Birmingham were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Rasberry Thursday.

Mr. Erskine Connell of Ensley spent the week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Connell.

Mr. L. A. Collins of Montgomery was a visitor in town Tuesday.

Mr. Houston Hull of Haynes was here Tuesday on business.

Mr. E. G. Caldwell of Pletcher was among the visitors in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. Bill Orr who is a student at Auburn spent the week end with his Mother and Sister.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Duffey and children of Mt. Creek were the guest of friends and relatives here for the past week-end.

Mr. Clifford Mulins of Mitchell Dam was in town Saturday.

Mrs. Irene Rasberry and little daughter, Eloise, attended the funeral of Mrs. Lucy Ann Rasberry at Mulberry Thursday.

Mr. J. B. Hicks of Maplesville was in town Monday.

Mr. D. C. Alred has returned from Atlanta where he carried his son, Robert for treatment.

Mrs. J. A. Nivens is recovering from an attack of Influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Smith who have been living in Mrs. Carrie Mullins' home have moved to Mississippi.

Mr. G. C. Harris went up to Birmingham Sunday to accompany Mrs. Harris Home who is a convalescent following an operation for appendicitis at South Highland Infirmary.

Mr. Archie Harris of Stanton was here Saturday attending the Teachers meeting .

Miss Margaret Hester of B'ham spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

Miss Sarah Cox of Dade City is visiting relatives and friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Parrish of Mitchell Dam were visitors in town Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Richards of Ensley were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wingard Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gerald made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Prof. Thomas of Isabella attended the teachers' meeting here Saturday.

Dr. J. C. Dubose of Maplesville was among the business visitors in town Saturday.

Mr. Oliver Weldon of Indian Grave was here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Popwell, Mr. Irby Popwell and Miss Clara Mae Popwell of Clermont, Fla., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Calloway.

Mr. Will Marcus of Lock 12 was in town Saturday.

Mr. Moore of Calera was a visitor in town Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herold of Jemison were shopping in town Thursday.

Mr. Cleve Mims of Mulberry was a visitor to Clanton Thursday.

Mr. Clarence Shaw of Cherokee spent Thursday in town with relatives and friends.

Mr. C. D. Hughes of Cooper was among the visitors here Saturday.

Mr. T. L. Patrick of Billingsley was a business visitor in town Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Martin of Isabella were shopping in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Welch of Greenville are visiting relatives.

Mrs. Alice Williams returned home Saturday after a week's visit to relatives and friends in Birmingham.

Mr. J. D. Ray of Anniston spent Sunday with his mother.

Mrs. A. L. Robinson is recovering from an attack of flu.

Prof. Thomas of Isabella was in town Monday.

Miss Louise Connatser of Thorsby visited relatives and friends here last Monday.

Mrs. A. J. Stevens and Miss Smith of Haynes were here Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Smith is seriously ill with flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parsons and children of Marbury were guests of Mrs. Nannie Crichton Friday.

Mrs. Walter Calloway and Miss Ellen Calloway of Pratville spent last Wednesday in town with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Downing (Abbott McKinnon) of Brewton announce the birth of a son.

Judge and Mrs. L. H. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Omar Reynolds motored to Bessemer Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bridges.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Elmore have as their guest Miss Kate Rainer of Elba.

Mrs. John C. Page and little daughter, Peggy, have returned from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Bostick in McMinnville, Tenn.

Mrs. Guy Roberts, after a delightful visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reynolds, left Wednesday afternoon for Atlanta, Ga., to visit her friends there before returning to her home in Miami, Fla.

New Things

—Ladies Hand Purses in the newest styles No costume is complete without one.

—Novelty Scarfs in exquisite colors and designs.

—Ladies Shoes in the popular grey and blonde shades, with hose to match.

—All silk printed crepe de chine and fuloids. No material is better suited for the serviceable dress. Every wardrobe needs one.

—A new lot of Ladies HATS. The styles are beautiful and the prices reasonable.

—Don't forget that we carry mens Shoes and Socks and numerous other things for the men.

Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Mesdames John and Charley Gaines of Haynes were shopping in town Tuesday.

Mrs. W. I. Mullins has returned from a visit to Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Gowan, at Brewton.

Miss Irene Jones of Bessemer spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones.

Miss Elizabeth Duncan, a student at Judson College, Marion, spent the week end with her brother, Mr. Lucien Duncan, and Mrs. Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Yates and little daughter, Ruby, of Tuskegee, are spending a few days in town with relatives and friends.

Mesdames Horace Davis and Caffey of Verbena were shopping here Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Popwell and children of Clermont, Fla., are guests of relatives and friends for a few days.

Mrs. J. B. Atkinson and children, Mary Frances and Jo Ann, visited Mrs. Atkinson's mother at Vincent recently.

Mrs. C. V. Heath is spending the week with friends at Jemison.

Mr. O. M. Strickland of Birmingham was a visitor in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. H. T. Pipes is recovering from an attack of influenza.

Mr. F. A. Gulledge of Verbena was in town Tuesday.

Misses Jean and Myra Johnson, Mary McSwain, students at Thorsby Institute, spent the week end with their parents.

Mr. Mose Robinson is seriously ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Farrior of Birmingham spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spigener.

Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ezell and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spigener motored to Birmingham Wednesday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Farrior.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Jones and Messrs. Bob and Jeff Smitherman of Bessemer attended the funeral of Mrs. Rasberry at Mulberry Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Pow and children of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. VanDerveer Sunday.

Mr. M. B. Billings of Birmingham spent Tuesday in Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Popwell and daughter, Mildred, motored from Birmingham Saturday and spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Calloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Caffey of Verbena announce the birth of a son on February 16th. Mother and baby are at a Montgomery hospital.

CHESTNUT CREEK

Our singing society met last Sunday afternoon, with a large crowd of attentive listeners. As it has been quite a while since our society met we were glad to see so many interested again.

The house was called to order by the chairman, Mr. W. M. Devaughn, by directing one song.

Directors were Messrs. Jesse Baker, Jesse Jones, Clyde Mims, L. T. Grant, Archie Devaughn, Ammie Boswell, O. L. Devaughn, W. M. Devaughn, I. D. Huett, V. J. Hughes, D. W. Raines, S. M. Yates, W. F. Gilliland, and R. T. Grant.

Pianists were Misses Lena Mae Devaughn and Beatrice Grant, Mrs. Jesse Baker and Mrs. Minnie P. Mims, and Mr. Lee Grant.

Several quartets were nicely rendered. The last one, "God Is In His Heaven," was exceptionally fine. Our society will meet twice a month—on the first and third Sundays. We hope to see every one present again.—Mrs. Mollie Minor.

Last Sunday was preaching day at Eastview. A singing was held in the afternoon.

Mrs. Tom Thompson and little son, Tom, Jr., have returned to their home in Selma after a delightful visit to Mrs. J. P. Gore. Mr. Thompson motored over Sunday and they accompanied him home.

Dr. and Mrs. Will Wilson of Birmingham visited relatives here last week end.

Mrs. Fred Nelson is able to be out again for the first time in several weeks, following a very serious operation in Montgomery, where she was in a critical condition for some time.—Opelika Daily News. Mrs. Nelson has many friends in Clanton who will be glad to know of her recovery.

Clays Comedy Shows present, without fail, both Friday and Saturday nights at Tent Theatre, Ellis Lot, in Clanton "The Death of Floyd Collins" or "The Sand Cave Mystery."

FERTILIZERS—I take pleasure in offering ARMOUR'S BIG CROP Fertilizers for cash as follows—15-5-5, $41.55; 11-2½-3, $29.25; 8-3-5, $30.30; 16% Phosphate, $18.30; 20% Phosphate, $21.30; Muriate of Potash, $41.00 per ton, in 200-lb bags. Your trade will be appreciated. J. N. Dennis. 2-18-2t-ch.

A Sale of USED CARS

We are compelled to move our USED CAR stock in order to make room for NEW CHEVROLET cars which are coming in. We are offering big bargains in these used cars in order that we may dispose of the entire stock in the quickest possible time.

ALL OF THESE CARS HAVE BEEN RECONDITIONED and ARE IN PERFECT RUNNING ORDER NOW.

If you are interested in a used car you will save money by buying from us during this sale. We list below a few of the cars offered during this sale:

Chevrolet Coupe, late model, balloon tires	$325
Ford Coupe, late model	250
Ford Touring, 1925 model	175
Ford Touring, 1924 model	165
Ford Touring, 1923 model	150
Chevrolet Truck	250
Chevrolet Truck	100
Ford Truck, Jumbo transmission	150

All of the above cars can be bought with small cash payment and liberal terms on the balance. Let us demonstrate them to you

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

Cars CHEVROLET Trucks

CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

FREE

With every $10 Cash spent with us we will give either a set of cups and saucers, or a set of plates. With every 50 cents worth of soap and powder we will give one mixing bowl FREE—as long as they last.

We buy goods in large quantities at jobbers' prices, and will sell for cash at absolute wholesale prices, where package is not broken. We will give these prices on Lard by the can, Flour by the sack, Sugar by the sack, Soap or Powder by the case, Coffee by the bucket.

COME TO SEE US AND SAVE MONEY!

Baker & Taylor

CLANTON, ALABAMA

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

The farm family deserves the best in living that can be provided.

The Indians of South America used pit silos long before white men came to this country.

The remarkable development of rayon is said to be one of the marvels of modern industrialism. It is estimated that 51,000,000 pounds of this new fibre was made in 1925, this being five times the volume of five years ago, and about 35% above 1924. Present estimates place the 1925 production at 65,000,000 to 70,000,000 pounds.

A recent utterance of President Coolidge is a fine idea of Americanism: "Whether one traces his Americanism back three centuries to the Mayflower or three years to the steerage, is not half so important as whether his Americanism of today is real and genuine." A family tree that spreads over a period of centuries of prominence does not mean as much as what a man is in 1926, U. S. A.

Does Alabama believe in separation of church and State? A correct answer would be that a majority of us do. This being the case, is it a just law to force the reading of the Bible in the public schools of the State? People should read the Bible all right, but what about using the law to force them to do it. The issue is now under litigation in the courts of the State.

The production of lard substitutes has increased from 784,179,000 lbs. in 1922 to an output of 1,200,000,000 pounds in 1925. In 1923 the total amount of lard produced in federal-inspected packing plants was 1,980,000,000, this being considerably less than in 1924 and 1925. An almost equal amount was produced on farms and in butchering plants too small for government inspection. It seems that lard substitutes are having much to do with lard prices.

HUGO BLACK HERE

Hon. Hugo Black, of Birmingham, candidate for United States Senator from Alabama, was in Clanton last Saturday looking after his political business. Mr. Black has many friends here who will doubtless form a strong organization locally for his support.

Why Is It--

CHRISTIAN COLLEGE PLANNED

Panama City, Fla., Feb. 23.—Details of plans for the founding of a $5,000,000 college at College Point, in the St. Andrews Bay district a few miles outside of Panama City, were announced here today by the Rev. Dr. Robert "Bob" Jones, widely-known evangelist of Montgomery, Ala.

"The institution," Dr. Jones said, "will be interdenominational in character and will be consecrated to the upholding of orthodox Christian teachings. It will be built as the first unit in a great educational and religious center designed by Dr. Jones to combat the 'modern trend in education which has crept into the nation's schools and colleges and is turning out our boys and girls as a race of atheists and agnostics.' It will be a school to which mothers and fathers may send their sons and daughters and go to bed at night secure in the knowledge that their children's faith in orthodox Christianity will not be stolen away."

In addition to the college, Dr. Jones' plans call for a preparatory school and an all year 'round Chautauqua Center to which he expects to bring the world's greatest lecturers, ministers and teachers.

The site for the college will be a 35-acre tract in the center of College Point which has been deeded by Minor C. Keith interests to Dr. Jones, acting as trustee for a board to be named later by him.

Construction on the college, Dr. Jones said, will begin within the current year and it is expected it will open its doors to students for the fall term of 1927. The college will operate as an all-year-'round school and may offer degrees at the conclusion of three full years of study instead of the usual four "college years." The climate here, with the mild winters and temperate summers, will, Dr. Jones believes, make such a plan feasible.

A feature of the college building program will be the fact that not a single donation or contribution will be sought, all funds being supplied through an arrangement between Dr. Jones and the Keith interests, whereby they have agree to turn over to his board 25% of the gross receipts from sales in the College Point development which they are building up as a model city around the college.

Proper housing, sanitation, air, sunlight, and conveniences are essential to maximum results in city factories. The farmer's barn is his factory; his animals, his workers.

Seed of wilt-resistant tomatoes are just as cheap as those attacked by this disease and are much more certain of making a good crop.

How is business?" we asked one of the leading business men of Clanton the other day. "All right," he said and continuing: "There is nothing wrong with business now. Some are complaining that business is dull, and it is true; but it is due to the time of the year. We are just now getting back to really normal times following the fluctuations of the war period, and people have not had normal prosperity in so long that they don't jjust exxactly recognize it. Yes, business is all right. The country is prosperous, everybody is at work, and I can see no reason to complain."

In one day last year the Southwest Alabama Wool Growers Association pooled and sold cooperatively at Citronelle, Mobile County, 80,000 lbs. of wool for 49 cents a pound. The Association is composed of sheep owners in Mobile, Baldwin and Washington Counties.

Luther E. Foshee is now connected with the Clanton Motor Car Company in the capacity of Ford salesman.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO CONDEMN LAND

State of Alabama, Chilton County—
Chilton County vs. Carrie S. McMaster, et al—In Probate Court.

To: Mrs. Annie S. Allen, c/o Jack Parrish, West Hampton, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Bessie S. Hestle, No. 4 Parkview Apt., Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. J. M. Bruner, No. 20 Peden St., Westminster, S. C.

You are hereby notified that Chilton County, a Municipal Corporation, has filed in the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, for the condemnation of certain lands and interests therein described and among said lands described in said application are the following:

A strip of land 50 feet wide lying 25 feet on either side of a center line as located and staked by the Highway Department of Alabama designated as Federal Aid Project No. 100-B, and more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the property line of Willie Howard and the Simpson Estate with the center line of said road, depths running 1389 feet, more or less, to the intersection of the property line of said Simpson Estate and J. R. Taylor with the center line of said road running in a Southwesterly direction from said property line of Willie Howard to the property line of J. R. Taylor. The above tract of land lying in the South-East Quarter of the North-West Quarter of Section 17, Township 20, Range 16, Chilton County, Alabama, and containing One and 59/100 (1 & 59/100) Acres, more or less.

The said application avers that said Chilton County proposes to construct, build, use, maintain a public highway or road, and in so doing the land above described, of which you are an owner, or have an interest therein, will likely be traversed or crossed by said road, and you are hereby notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the court for the 19th day of March, 1926, and you may appear and contest said application if you think proper.

Witness my hand, this, the 17th day of February, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS.
2-25-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

Prof. H. A. Harris of Stanton was in Clanton last Saturday. He urges all of his friends who can do so to come to the fiddlers convention at his school on Saturday night of this week.

The largest calf club in the world is in Todd County, Kentucky, with 115 club boys and girls enrolled.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of February 21, 1901.

Disastrous Fire At Clanton.

About 3:00 o'clock last Saturday morning fire was discovered in Popwell's store and the store recently vacated by J. E. Evans. It had taken hold when the alarm was given. The fire spread with great rapidity and soon took as its toll seven stores with most of the contents. The stores were: J. W. Davis, A. Popwell, L. D. Popwell, C. W. Robinson, G. L. Phillips, Mrs. Phillips' new store, J. E. Evans and Mose Mims. These stores were located on the north side of Second Avenue between the Court House and the two-story brick building belonging to P. D. Wilson, and occupied by W. Kanter. The total loss was $4,000.00, with no insurance at all.

Mr. W. G. Hand of Jemison has gone to south Alabama to live.

Mr. H. W. Caffey announces this week to represent Chilton in the Constitutional Convention, on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. J. H. Patton is back in school at Jemison after several weeks of carpenter work.

The State Senate last week passed a bill establishing stock law all over Chilton County. The people of the County are opposed to such a measure.

Mr. Leroy Watts came down from Birmingham Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown of Montgomery have been visiting the family of Mr. W. H. Foshee the past week.

Married this week—J. T. Hamrick and Miss Mary Anderson, W. M. Willis and Miss Ann Jones, G. L. Hamilton and Miss Sarah E. Headley, Clyde Pierce and Miss Josephine Goodson, Arnold J. Kerner and Miss Ethel Johnson, J. A. Kicker and Miss Nettie C. Wells, L. B. Thompson and Miss Frances M. Lambert, Charley N. Shaw and Miss Martha J. Atkinson.

Mrs. Prescott of Verbena is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. E. Johnson.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Honorable L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate Court of Chilton County, I, Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, Administratrix of the estate of J. W. Lawrence, deceased, will sell at public outcry to the highest bidder in front of the Court House door of Chilton County, Alabama on Monday, the 22nd day of March, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, for cash, the following described real estate belonging to said estate, to-wit:

The North half of the Southwest quarter, and the North half of the Southwest quarter of the Southwest quarter, and the South half of the Southwest quarter of the Northwest quarter, all in Sec. 10, Tp. 21, Range 11, containing 120 acres, more or less, and being situated in Chilton County, Ala.

MRS. J. W. LAWRENCE,
Administratrix.
ATKINSON & PITTS,
2-25-3t-ch Attys. for Admx.

EGGS FOR HATCHING—Kerlin's White Leghorn eggs, $1.25 for 15. Rhode Island Red eggs, $1.25 for 15. J. N. Dennis. 2-18-2t-ch.

"Chuckle" Column

'SFUNNY WORLD

A Chicago motorist, after twice knocking down a traffic policeman before he was nipped, nonchalantly asked "What did I do?" The judge told him in two words. "Six Months!"

—§§§—

Winnipeg jail prisoner made a meal of safety-razor blades. Evidently, his appetite was on edge at the time.

—§§§—

"Taxes on silk hosiery threaten to lengthen women's skirts!" What's that? Oh—it's an item from London, England. Just so it don't happen in this country.

—§§§—

Eggs pass for money in Armenia, according to reports. Eggs pass for that here too—and plenty of it!

—§§§—

Get The Point?

"Obesity Can Be Cured With the Needle"—says headline. Now don't take that seriously and go pushing any needles into the hide of some fat friend. You might find yourself playing a harp!

—§§§—

Omygosh! Man in Pennsylvania has a private coal mine in his yard. After paying that final installment on our last bushel of coal, we're just burning up with envy over that fellow's possession. Just think, he can tell the coal trust—"Well, if you don't like it, you can 'lump' it!"

—§§§—

If you flirt three times with the operator they take your phone away—over in China. Not much chance of that happening over here. After trying in vain for an hour to get a number—a man don't feel much like flirting with the operator.

—§§§—

A WISE POLICY!

Parisian women have formed a motor club. And since then, the French insurance companies have written more pedestrian policies than ever before. No telling what those women will drive at—now that they're organized.

—§§§—

Scientist wants the world to know that "bow-legs are a sign of courage." So that's what warps 'em. We always blamed it on horseback riding.

—§§§—

"The busy man requires nine hours of sleep"—says a noted doctor. But, doctor, even then he's busy—sawing wood!

—§§§—

A London publisher let the cat out of the proverbial burlap by informing the public how old certain English actresses were. He's runnin' yet.

—§§§—

Cedar Rapids, Ia., boasts eight growing banana trees. Yes, they've got some bananas!

—§§§—

To hand the graduates - - Sheepskin Shrouds!

They intend to teach saxaphone playing by mail now. Hope they'll employ undertakers to award the diplomas.

—§§§—

By the time a person is 60 years old, he or she will have lived 1,676,160,000,000,000,000,000 micro-micro seconds—a scientist has figured out. Who said "Life is short enough at its best?"

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"I have did the same thing Lincoln done - educate myself, says Bill Byers--"

FAMOUS LAST LINES
"Here—have a drink. I'll pump!"

—§§§—

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

WHY PAY MORE when you can buy it for less at the CHICAGO SALES COMPANY'S store?

CHICAGO SALES CO.

NEXT TO FIRST NATIONAL BANK—CLANTON, ALA.

You don't have this opportunity every day; why miss it? Be on time Saturday and get your share

Saturday Will Be Dollar Day

$1.00
—11 yards of good quilt lining. Now is the time to line up all your quilts.

$1.00
—10 yards of Sheeting. Don't confuse yourself by thinking this is the thin quality that is being offered by some. This is GOOD. Come see for yourself.

$1.00
—4 big BATH TOWELS, size 19 x 39 inch. A good heavy towel, the kind that usually sell for 35 and 40c. We will reserve right to limit quantity to each customer.

$1.00
—Childrens Dresses, age 7 to 14, two dresses for $1.00. These are Ginghams and a wonder for the price. The making is worth the money.

$1.00
—3 good four-stran brooms. Not the cheap kind and not the best but a big bargain for the price.

$1.00
—One lot of mens hats. We may have your size and just the hat you want. Come and look them over.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

LOST DOG—Black and tan male hound about 7 or 8 months old; scar in front of left hind leg. Left my place about 4 weeks ago. Reasonable reward for information as to his whereabouts. Lawrence Littleton, Billingsley, Ala., R 1. 1t-pd

FOR SALE—Thoroughbred Rhode Island Reds; 2 cocks and 20 hens; eggs, $1.50 for setting of 15; $2.50 for 30. V. T. Cobb, Jemison, Ala. 2-25-3t-pd.

LAND FOR SALE—40 acres, 30 acres in cultivation; 1 settlement; located near Stanfield old mill on Hinkle Road, 2 1-2 miles from Clanton. For further particulars see or write A. J. Tyus, Clanton, Ala., R 3, or B. W. Tyus, owner, 3924 Mattie Ave., Birmingham, Ala. 1t-pd

FOR SALE—Pure half and half cotton seed, $2.00 per bushel. We paid, when ordered, $5.00 per bushel. If interested see A. T. or J. S. Davis, Clanton, Ala., R 2. 2-18-4t-pd

FOR RENT—Two horse crop for the fourth, or standing rent. Apply to J. R. Holley, Clanton, Route 6. 2-18-2t-pd.

LOST DOG—Black and white spotted extra large full blood hound, named "Lead." Left about 2 weeks ago. $5.00 reward for dog or information leading to recovery. W. A. Glass, Jemison, Rt. 3. 2-11-3t-pd

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

FOR SALE—My home in Clanton, located just south of Adventist school; corner lot; all modern conveniences, including large range stove connected with bath room and sink in kitchen; $2,000.00 Write E. C. Powell, 1113 Fourth Ace., South, Albany, Ala., or see W. L. Powell at pressing shop, Clanton, Ala. 2-18-3t-ch.

LOST—Handbag, between Clanton and Jemison, on highway, Saturday, about noon. Contained lady's and baby's clothes. Black handbag. Finder please return to Banner office or Peoples Savings Bank. 1t-pd.

NOTICE OF GUARDIAN'S PETITION TO SELL LANDS

State of Alabama, Chilton County—Probate Court, February 22, 1926.

This day came J. D. Collins, Guardian of William Green Price, a non compos mentis, and filed his petition in due form and made oath, praying for an order to sell certain lands described therein and belonging to said non compos mentis, for the purpose of maintenance and payment of debts.

It is ordered that the 16th day of March, 1926, be appointed a day for the hearing of said petition, at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same if they think proper.

Witness my hand, this 22nd day of February, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
2-25-3t-ch Judge of Probate.

Well, folks, here we are again. We hope you liked our articles last week, and we will try to have some good ones every time. We appreciate the compliments we have received on our column.

The staff's work has been misplaced somehow, much to the editor's sorrow, as he has the whole job this week.

There is a rumor that our boys' basket ball team may go to Jacksonville for the games there. Go to it, boys. We're with you 100 per cent!

It just didn't seem natural to go to the rabbit hunt Monday without knowing that we were playing "hookey." As one boy remarked, "It took all the joy out of life."

Some of our teachers took advantage of the holiday on Monday to visit friends and relatives.

In just a few days baseball practice will begin at C. C. H. S. All the boys seem eager to get started. We hardly expect to put out a championship team this year as we did last, but we have some good material. Y'u never can tell! Connatser, Ruffin, Mullins, and Sanford are the only men left from last year's team. Rutland may develop into a good moundsman, but his help is not in sight at present.

All fans are invited to come out to see our practice.

Miss Ingram: "I will not give a written lesson today."
Jack Jones: "What's the matter—is your conscience hurting you?"

Miss Evans: "What do we celebrate on the 22nd of February?"
Mose Simpson: "The rabbit hunt!"

Miss Taylor: "Have you ever heard of Genoa?"
Tom Teel: "Sure! Genoa's Ark."

"The Picture On The Wall."
(By A. Poett, of C. C. H. S.)

In my room on the seventh floor,
You see it as you open the door;
It hangs there now, as it has for years,
And o'er it I've shed pen-up tears.
The face is kind, the eyes, so true!
The sorrow it suffered, I never knew.

The hairs are gray, the cheeks are pale,
It's all I have—that's not for sale.
Oh, Mother dear, if you only knew
The days and hours I've needed you;
Your voice is gone—stilled by death;
No more my cheek shall feel your breath.

The place in my heart that belonged to you
Is empty, now, and dead, like you;
Oh, Mother dear, look down from above,
And guide your child with a mother's love
As thru this world he gropes his way,
Seeking and longing for a better day.

When you were here on earth with me
My faults and sins you could not see;
But now you know, as some knew then—
That I was headed for the pen.
But God, when He took you away,
Kept me from going further astray.

But, Oh! What a price I've had to pay
For the deeds I did before that day.
Oh, Mother dear, ask Him now
If He will show me the way, and how
I may be what you'd have me be
If you were here on earth with me.

T. J. DORMINEY OUT FOR COMMISSIONER AGAIN

T. J. Dorminey is a candidate for County Commissioner in the first district on the Republican ticket. Mr. Dorminey has been a member of the Commissioners Court for the last four years. He says he wants to serve the County four more years in order to help carry through to completion a number of important measures that have been inaugurated during his present term. Opposed to him in the primary so far announced are Squire Waldrop of Beat 14 and John Bean of Beat 12.

T. A. MADDOX CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

T. A. Maddox of Beat 9 is the first to announce as a candidate for County Commissioner in the second district of Chilton County on the Republican ticket for the primary on August 10.

Mr. Maddox was a candidate for this place in the primary four years ago, and he made lots of friends in that race. The demand for him to run again has been very insistent by a large number of people.

Men who know him intimately, who have lived a neighbor to him for many years, declare that he is a man of excellent qualities and ability for a good Commissioner.

Give the baby chicks some buttermilk.

S. E. WALDROP CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Squire S. E. Waldrop has entered the race for County Commissioner in the first district on the Republican ticket. Mr. Waldrop is well known in this County, having served as County Commissioner two terms in the past. He lives west of Jemison, and is in the western part of the district. Up to the present time he is opposed by T. J. Dorminey, present Commissioner, and John Bean of Beat 12.

J. N. SCOTT ANNOUNCES FOR COMMISSIONER

The Union-Banner is carrying in its announcement column this week the name of Mr. J. N. Scott of Jemison for Commissioner from the First District of the County. Mr. Scott is a well known and tried Republican who has always stood strongly and unflinchingly for the principles of the Republican party. Although this is the first time he has ever announced for office, yet he has in every campaign for the past two or three decades been very active in the support of the Republican nominees.

"Dr. Ignorance Drops," as his many friends sometimes call him, needs little introduction to the people of the County. He has written many letters to The Banner, and nearly everybody knows him. He has had a broad and varied experience in life, having farmed, built railroads, saw milled, merchandised, and he has succeeded at everything he has undertaken. He is now in the merchandise business at Jemison. And too, he is a Missionary Baptist preacher.

Mr. Scott says that heretofore, he has prescribed his "ignorance drops" for other candidates, but now he is going to take some of his own medicine by becoming a candidate himself.

B. C. APPERSON HERE SATURDAY

Mr. B. C. Apperson was in Clanton last Saturday on his way to his home in Birmingham. He spent last week with his mother, Mrs. D. C. Apperson, who was seriously sick with pneumonia. Crichton said that the Apperson boys from the four corners of the earth came home to see their mother, whom they found to be in a very serious condition. She is out of danger now, we are glad to learn.

LAW REQUIRES OWNERS TO KEEP DOGS CONFINED

Montgomery, Feb. 22.—"A large number of complaints, each year, are registered with the Department of Game and Fisheries by citizens of the State, relative to the promiscous running-at-large and roaming-at-will of a large number of dogs," said Commissioner I. T. Quinn, of the Department of Game and Fisheries.

"It is claimed," said Mr. Quinn, "that these free-roaming dogs of all grades and kinds destroy a great many ground-nesting birds and their eggs, each season. They not only take heavy toll of the bird-life of the State, but also destroy a great quantity of livestock and domestic poultry."

It is pointed out by Mr. Quinn that the Legislature of 1915 passed an Act which, if enforced by the proper authorities in the several counties of the State, would go a long way toward protecting game, domestic poultry and live-stock. This Act, he declares, provides that a person owning or having in his possession any dog, or dogs, shall keep same confined, and failure to do so is declared a misdemeanor under Section 3221, Criminal Code of 1923, and is punishable by a fine of not less than $2.00 nor more than $50.00.

It is pointed out, however, that the owner of a dog may allow such dog to accompany him without violating any statute, and that the statute does not apply to dogs properly licensed and tagged. It is further shown that the statute becomes of full force and effect only upon its adoption by the Courts of County Commissioners, or Boards of Revenue, of the several counties of Alabama. Mr. Quinn states that farmers and sportsmen of the State, desiring relief, should appeal to the aforesaid Courts for the adoption of such a statute, for their respective counties.

A good home should be the real aim of every successful farm business.

"Terraces should be mended before spring rains set in."—L. C. LeBron, Auburn.

USED

Ford

CARS

See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1926 Touring, New Paint	$350.00
1925 Coupe, New Paint	$350.00
1924 Coupe, New Paint	$225.00
1923 Touring, New Paint	$140.00
1924 Touring, New Paint	$150.00

Ford Trucks Cheap

If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company

Sales Ford Service

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Clanton, Ala.

BEWARE OF

IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS

Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"

Clanton . . . . . Alabama

CHASSIS TROUBLES

When it comes to brake band, axle, wheel or any kind of chassis trouble we are as expert in correcting it as we are in putting your engine in order. There is not a job of auto repair work that we can not do well and promptly. Let us go over your car and put it in first class condition now. We guarantee satisfaction.

BATES GARAGE, Clanton, Ala.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

The W. M. U. met with Mrs. W. J. Billingsley last Tuesday, the 16th. A very interesting program was carried out by the members. Afterwards delightfful refreshments were served.

Next Sunday, Feb. 28th, is regular preaching day at Thorsby Baptist church. Everybody is invited.

Miss Ruth Martin and Miss Lena Franklin, who are students at Howard college, spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scholl and children, Mrs. J. M. Scholl of Ensley, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Piper Sunday.

Mr. Dolphus Martin will be working in the Thorsby Bakery shop every Saturday, having taken Mr. Emmett Billingsley's place.

Mr. Robert Robinson and wife, who have been visiting relatives here left last week for Texas.

Miss Anna Werness spent last week end with home folks.

The public school seems to be hard hit by influenza. Prof. Bean has been ill for several days, but was back at work Tuesday morning. Miss Kate McNeil was off for several days last week with the same trouble. This week Miss McMae McNeil is also sick and her room is closed.

Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer, who has been quite seriously ill for some time, is reported to be improving. Her father, Mr. Fred Krahman, recently had a fall which considerably injured his back; he is slowly improving.

Mr. C. C. Driskell, cashier of the Bank of Thorsby, was taken ill Friday, but was on duty again Tuesday morning.

There was a serious smash-up of automobiles Saturday afternoon near the hotel, by miscalculation of the drivers. A large truck driven by a Mr. Brown of Fairfax, Ala., collided with a Ford car. Both vehicles were put out of commission but none of the occupants were seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard and their nephew, Floyd Howard, motored to Ensley Saturday evening to visit Edward Howard. Mrs. Lewis Howard will remain in Ensley for several days; Mr. Howard and Floyd returned Monday.

Mr. A. E. Reagan made a business trip to Birmingham Saturday, returning Tuesday morning.

Miss Alitha Parker, director of music at Thorsby Institute, will take Misses Lois Primm, Irene Benson and Dorothy Butler to Montevallo to enter the music contest to be held there, to which contestants from many Alabama schools have entered. It will be held Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mrs. Sarah Parrish of Clanton is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Wm. Billingsley at her home in Thorsby.

A letter from Curtis Billingsley and his wife, recently received, states that they have commenced housekeeping at Ocala, Fla.

Lieut. Robert Robinson of the U. S. army, who has not been in Thorsby for four years, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson., stopping over on his way to El Paso, Texas, where he will be stationed. Mr. Robinson is accompanied by his wife.

Mrs. Paxson returned Tuesday from a vsit to her daughter, Mrs. Hall of Birmingham.

The Ladies Guild social will be held at the home of Mrs. Carl Peterson on Thursday of this week.

The Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association will hold a box social at the public school auditorium Saturday evening, February 27th. Everybody is cordially invited to participate. Proceeds will be for the public school piano.

Mr. W. H. Goodgame has purchased a 75- h.p. electric motor to supply power instead of steam for his cotton gin. He will also erect another ware house.

Miss Elizabeth Butler of Montgomery spent the week end with Miss Dorothy Butler.

The series of special meetings at the Congregational church, which has been held during the past week, closed Sunday night with Rev. J. W. Davenport of Robbins, Tenn., a former pastor of this church, have been marked by unusual seriousness and good attendance. The spirit of co-operation of the whole community, regardless of church affiliation, was a pleasing feature of the meetings. Rev. Davenport is a very forceful speaker and deep spirituality was evident in all the meetings. There is no question but that the people of Thorsby have experienced a spiritual wakening that will endure in the strengthening of the bonds of Christian fellowship.

Pastor Eac announces that a praise service will be held Sunday night, March 7th. The subject for the service will be "The Cross."

"FLAGS OF THE WORLD"

"Flags of the World" is the title of a splendid operetta by the boys and girls of Maplesville, which will be presented at the high school auditorium in Clanton on Friday night of this week. The play is a very interesting one in which are presented costumes, flags and music of 24 nations of the earth. The boys and girls of the play have been coached by the expression teacher, Mrs. Carpenter, of Maplesville.

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Clanton Grammar School are sponsors of the play here and they will appreciate a liberal patronage. Admission will be 20c and 35c.

LADIES PLANNING FOR FOURTH OF JULY

The ladies of the Methodist church of Clanton have decided that they will have their annual barbecue on the fourth of July again this year. No details are yet worked out, but they will keep the matter under consideration and perfect the plans in due time.

"The Death of Floyd Collins," Friday night, Clanton, Ellis Lot. Admission: Adults, 25c; children under 12 free with parents.

New Method Quickly Banishes Heavy Coughs

Why be annoyed and weakened by persistent, strength-sapping coughing spells when you can, through a very simple treatment, quickly stop all irritation and very often banish the trouble entirely in 24 hours?

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. Thus, with the throat soothed and cleared, coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

DEEP WELLS—WELL MADE

We now have in Thorsby a complete Modern outfit for making or repairing BORED WELLS. We have had many years of experience in this line. We solicit your patronage.

NELSON & LARSEN
Thorsby, Ala.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Next to what a man earns, his Bank Account is his most closely guarded secret. He wants to feel absolutely sure in his own mind that his banker is just as much of a confidential adviser as his lawyer or his doctor.

Therefore, we say "Let's Get Acquainted." We want you to know us and have confidence in us before you decide to open an account at this bank.

THE BANK OF THORSBY
Thorsby, Alabama

Chas. E. Lucas, President C. C. Driskill, Cashier

CANDIDATES

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. T. Rockett, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. G. Culp, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. M. Pate, Thorsby, Ala.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR MEMBER BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

Clanton, Ala., Route 4.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. L. Vines.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. D. Collins, Clanton Ala., Route 8.)

FOR MEMBER COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. J. M. Webb, Maplesville, Ala., R 1).

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by A. F. Mims, Thorsby, Ala.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

T. J. DORMINEY.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. J. Dorminey.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Reublican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. N. SCOTT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. N. Scott, Jemison, Ala.)

SARDIS NEWS

The play given at McCary school house last Friday night was a good one and a large crowd was present to enjoy it.

Prof. Ralph Glasscock and Messrs. Dewey and Horace Deason made a business trip to Clanton Saturday.

Mr. Grady Deason of Selma was a visitor here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Klinner spent Sunday with Mr. Klinner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Klinner.

Mr. W. W. Klinner has returned home after a visit to Birmingham.

Mr. Tollie Hayes, who has been ill for some months, attended church and singing Sunday.

In Clanton, Friday and Saturday nights, Tent Theatre, Ellis Lot, First motion picture of the Death of Floyd Collins. See it.

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. P. BEAN.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. B. Bean, Clanton, Ala., R 8.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the second district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

T. A. MADDOX.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. A. Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 4.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. E. WALDROP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. E. Waldrop, Jemison, Ala., R 1.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama from Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

PERCY M. PITTS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by Percy M. Pitts, Clanton, Ala.)

666
is a Prescription for
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,
Preventing Pneumonia

WEST CHILTON

The big rabbit drive of West Chilton was pulled off in good style last Monday. It was a great success. The crowd was about 100 strong, ranging in age from childhod to 65 years. Mr. C. W. Langston was president. Many rabbits were caught. The crowd started from Gentry's store, going west to the Mahan farm, then south to Mrs. Belle Smith's, then east to Shiloh colored church, then north to Mars Hill. The visitors were Rev. J. N. Scott of Jemison, and two young men from Marvel.

Percy Crumpton, who has been sick quite a while was carried to an infimary at Birmingham Saturday.

Mr. C. W. Langston attended his uncle's funeral at Jemison Friday.

Mrs. Belle Smith was out visiting Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Crumpton of Free Springs visited the latter's father, Mr. H. H. Armstrong, Sunday.

Miss Willie Mae Cofer visited at Mr. W. R. Redding's Sunday.

Mrs. Redding and Mrs. Crumpton were out shopping Saturday afternoon.

The editorial in last week's Banner on "letting us alone" and "loyalty," is a good one, and worthy of a second reading. Loyalty is the keynote.

People are buying fertilizer in this section now.

The Banner's Thorsby department continues to be a source of interest, as well as the news of 25 years ago.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION

There will be a fiddlers convention at Vermont school, 3 miles north of Pletcher, 15 miles west of Clanton, 7 miles east of Stanton, on Friday night, March 19th. All fiddlers are invited come and take part, and all others are invited to come and listen. Come early to get a seat, as we will be crowded.—Ralph Glasscock, Prin.

We Guarantee THIS STOPS ROUP

A flock of fine healthy layers all roupy! The serious loss of high priced eggs. Yet we guarantee you can avoid this blight. Use Pratts Roup Remedy for prevention or treatment. Safe, sure and economical.

Mrs. Wm. J. Kerl of Red Bay, Ill., says, "Pratts Roup Remedy is positively the best thing I know of for roup. I have tried it so often with the best results and would not use any other."

Pratts Roup Remedy
[Tablets or Powder]

To Our Customers: We stand behind Pratts Roup Remedy unconditionally. Either it gives complete satisfaction or your money is returned

Sold and Guaranteed by
ALRED DRUG CO.
Clanton, Ala.

GRIST MILL FOR SALE—10-H. P.

Ottawa Engine, 20-inch rock, practically new; cheap for cash. G. S. Miner, Verbena, R 2. 1t-pd

NOTICE TO HARP AND HARMONY SINGERS

I am instructed by Mr. D. B. Ingram of Wilsonville, to invite you all to an all day singing in the Sacred Harp book, in the court house at Columbiana, next Sunday, February 28th.—Z. J. Jones.

BIG AUCTION SALE

LOTS and LOTS of LOTS

Saturday, Feb. 27th

AT 10 O'CLOCK, A. M.

The J. W. P. Murphy 12-acres

just North of the S. C. Cox Addition, recently sold by this company, in North Clanton on the Birmingham and Montgomery Highway will be subdivided into lots and sold at Public Auction.

These lots are fine residence property, with some nice business locations, and are in easy reach of the schools and churches of Clanton, the best city on the Highway.

STOP! Think of Clanton's possibilities and of Clanton's future. LOOK how she is growing by leaps and bounds. THINK of the buildings now under construction. BUY one or more of these lots for a home. Invest in these lots and watch your money DOUBLE.

THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS. COME AND BE WITH THE CROWD. FEB. 27.

Good Band Music

Win A Free Lot---Yes

TWO NICE RESIDENCE LOTS GIVEN AWAY ABSOLUTELY FREE. ALSO MANY CASH PRIZES.

COME BE WITH US ON THIS BIG DAY

Saturday, February 27th

AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

Come hear Cols. Millican and Mayhall crying the same bid at the same time. They dress alike, look alike, act alike.

SOLD BY

Tenn.-Ala. Auction Company

CLANTON, ALA.

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS

This community was saddened last Thursday when they heard of the death of Mrs. Lon Rasberry, of Birmingham. She was brought to Mulberry and buried beside her husband, Mr. Shep Rasberry. All her children accompanied her. The casket was covered with flowers. Rev. J. O. Williams, of Bessemer, conducted the funeral service. The sympathy of this community goes out to the bereaved, as we all learned to love her, while she lived here, before going to Birmingham.

Mr. Earle Thomas took a bunch of our boys down to Auburn last week end, and all reported a fine time. A few of the boys are planning to enter Auburn next year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Oliver, of Birmingham visited Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning Saturday and Sunday.

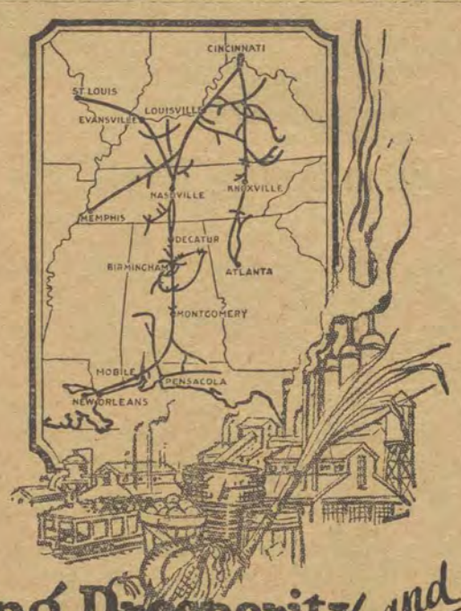
Miss Ethel Mize, one of our teachers, was visiting Miss Jessie Mims in Thorsby last Sunday. Miss Jessie teaches in Maplesville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carter and family were visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Edwards recently.

Mr. John W. Jones, principal at Isabella, was in Clanton Saturday on some school business.

Mr. Tommie Abernathy and family of Siluria visited in this community Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Hayes from Clanton were the week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright.



OAK GROVE

Our singing Sunday was a great success. We had a large crowd, and some good singing.

Directors were W. J. Northcutt, L. R. Cobb, Florence Cook, Dick Martin, Jack Cobb, Lum Scott, E. H. Foshee.

Organists were Flossie Cobb, Mrs. S. Y. Dorminey, Mrs. Childress.

We thank our visitors from Jemison, Union Grove, Pleasant Grove, and other places.

Sharing Prosperity and Helping to Produce It

The latest statistics furnished by the United States Census Bureau indicate that in the fourteen states served by the "Old Reliable" the ratio of prosperity to every 100,000 population is substantially greater than that of the United States as a whole.

By furnishing adequate freight and passenger service for both long and short distances and by constant striving for betterment in every department of its service, this Railroad is adding to the prosperity of the territory it serves.

Remember that in the matter of wages, taxes and maintenance expenses, the steam railroads of America are investing large sums of money which pay large returns in community prosperity. The railroads deserve your patronage. They are affording the highest type of transportation service every day in the year and are working shoulder to shoulder with you for community good.

THE OLD RELIABLE L&N (LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.)

THE GENUINE

OLIVER

WALKING PLOW

The name Oliver on a walking plow gives the assurance of satisfactory work throughout a long period of time.

For that reason when you ask for a plow be sure you are getting the real Oliver and not a substitute.

You do not need to be satisfied with an imitation for we, as authorized Oliver dealers, carry plows made by the Oliver Chilled Plow Works. When you buy here you know you are getting the genuine article.

Call and let us show you the plow that will meet your requirements.

JONES HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALA.

BABY CHICKS

—o—

HIGHEST QUALITY - PRICES RIGHT

Book Your Orders Early and Avoid Disappointment

Custom Hatching - Brooders
Poultry Supplies

—o—

F. E. MASTIN
Thorsby, - - - - - Alabama

BURNING WOODS DOES NOT DESTROY BOLL WEEVVIL

Montgomery, Feb. 22.—The farmers of Alabama have found that burning the woods has no effect upon the boll weevil, according to information received from the cotton growers. This finding has been welcomed by most landowners since it assures them that it is not necessary to burn up part of their property to protect the remainder.

In the early days of the attempts to control the boll weevil it occurred to many people that if the hibernating insects could be burned in their wintering places there would be few left to propagate in the spring. Some confusion existed, however, as to where the weevil spent the winter. Before detailed information was available on this point, it was assumed that they were scattered fairly generally. As a result most people burned not only their fields but also all of the woodlands in the vicinity.

Doubt first arose as to the efficiency of this method when it was discovered that, although the woods were burned paintakingly practically every year, the boll weevil continued to increase at its former rate, or even still more rapidly. If burning the woods destroyed the insects, clearly there should have been no boll weevils left, since the woods burning certainly had been done very thoroughly for a great many years.

The landowners who gave the most careful attention to this problem came to the conclusion that something was radically wrong. Upon studying the food habits of the weevil they found that there was no plant upon which he could live excepting the cotton. Cotton does not grow in the woods, consequently there were no weevils in the woods. The landowners found that in burning their forests to get rid of the boll weevil they were actually destroying valuable young timber and soil mulch, while the weevil was hibernating in the fields, around their edges and in the cracks and crevices of the farm buildings. In numerous cases they found more boll weevils under the shingles of their houses than in any other place.

Like any other creature that has persisted through many efforts at its destruction, the weevil favors himself in every way. He stays close to his food and hibernates in the nearest suitable place. As a result of these researches, chief dependence is now placed upon poisoning the weevil in the fields during its feeding stages.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

Absolutely Replete With Thrills

When Opie Read, the writer, was a printer down in Tennessee many years ago he worked on a small weekly paper and boarded with the keeper of a small general store.

"My host," said Read to me, "was the most inveterate checker player in the state, and his wife was the best cook that ever lived in any state. The house was right next to the store and the place where I worked was just across the road. One day the dinner horn blew, and I broke for the store to pick up the old man and hustle for the table. I was as hungry as a bear, and as I came across the road I could smell fried chicken and other good things; and I fairly dribbled at the mouth.

"The husband was sitting at the back of the store playing checkers with another old chap. These two were the checker champions of the county. I told him dinner was ready and begged him to come on, because I knew his wife wouldn't put the dishes on the table until he showed up; but he was right in the middle of a close game and he only shook his head.

"I stood there waiting, getting hungrier and hungrier every minute, and madder and madder! That dinner was bound either to scorch or get cold—and maybe do both; but there sat that old pair of fossils silent as mummies and still as the grave. Neither of them moved an inch for fifteen minutes. Finally my host scratched his head for a couple of minutes—it seemed hours to me—reached over deliberately, picked up a counter, held it poised in the air for another minute and then put it back in its original place and said, half to himself: 'Well, this is excitin'!'

"It was at this juncture," said Read, "that I hauled off and kicked his blamed old checkerboard clear out of the front door!"

(Copyright by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed on the 30th day of May, 1925, by Dewey Collins, Ella Collins, G. J. Collins, Dovie Collins, B. F. Collins, Otis Collins and Frankie Collins to the Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate, Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record 210, page 209, and which mortgage was duly transferred by the said Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, to F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan on June 6th, 1925, and default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, we, the said F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan, as transferees of said mortgage, will proceed to sell at public outcry, in front of the Courthouse door in the City of Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, on the 30th day of March, 1926, the interest of the above named mortgagors in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:—

The S½ of NW¼ of Sec. 27, and all that part of the SE¼ of the NE¼ of Sec. 28 lying on the East side of the creek running through and across said SE¼ of NE¼ of Sec. 28, and known as Swift Creek. All above described lands being and lying in Tp. 21, R. 14, containing 120 acres more or less, Chilton County, Alabama.

The proceeds of the sale as above described will be applied to the payment of the indebtedness secured by the above described mortgage and a reasonable Attorney's fee, together with the expenses incident to the sale.

This, the 16th day of February, 1926.

F. M. CHAPMAN,
WILL HOGAN, Transferees.
BALLARD & PAGE,
2-18-4t-ch Attorneys for Transferees.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page 2)

behind us, "but I fear I must request you to let the man go. He is of some value to a friend of mine."

Peter regarded Murray curiously.

"He knifes Robert and me—ja," answered the Dutchman.

"He will not do it again," Murray assured him. "Master Bones!"

Peter regretfully unhitched the noose from Bones' neck and administered a shove which sent him reeling across the deck, to carom into the butt of the mizzenmast, recoiling with the loss of a broken tooth and ending up in a battered heap at Murray's feet. My great-uncle regarded the fellow with obvious displeasure.

"Stand up, Master Bones," he said.

Bones stumbled to his feet, bleeding from several cuts and scratches. He was very plainly frightened at what lay ahead of him.

"Master Bones," resumed my great-uncle, "you are for the present under my command, and I happen to have somewhat old-fashioned theories as regards discipline and the carrying out of orders. You have recently disobeyed an order of mine."

"Sure, I didn't—"

"Master Bones," my uncle went on without raising his voice, "did you ever know a man named Fotherill—Jack, I believe, was the given name?"

Bones nodded, unable to speak.

"And what did I order done to him, Master Bones?"

Bones moistened his lips.

"Keel-hauled, he was."

"Correct," agreed my great-uncle. "Keel-hauled. A most expressive phrase, Robert," he added to me, "Technically, I should explain, it involves drawing a man under the keel of a vessel. It has—shall we say?—unpleasant consequences."

He turned to Bones.

"No man disobeys an order of mine more than once, Master Bones. That is all. You may go for'ard."

The man started to slouch off, wiping the blood from his cheek with his coat sleeve; but Peter stepped in front of him.

The Dutchman took an oaken belaying-pin from the rack around the mizzenmast, held it out toward Bones and the others and calmly broke it in two with his bare hands and tossed the fragments overside.

"Admirable!" exclaimed my great-uncle. "What words could hope to express so much as that gesture? And it intrigues me to note that Corlaer has a distinct taste for the dramatic. Silver, has the lookout sighted any vessel?"

"Not a sail since we cleared Sandy hook, sir," the one-legged man answered briskly.

"Very good. Keep on this course and call me at once should a sail show in any quarter." And he descended with proper dignity to his breakfast.

(To be continued Next Week)

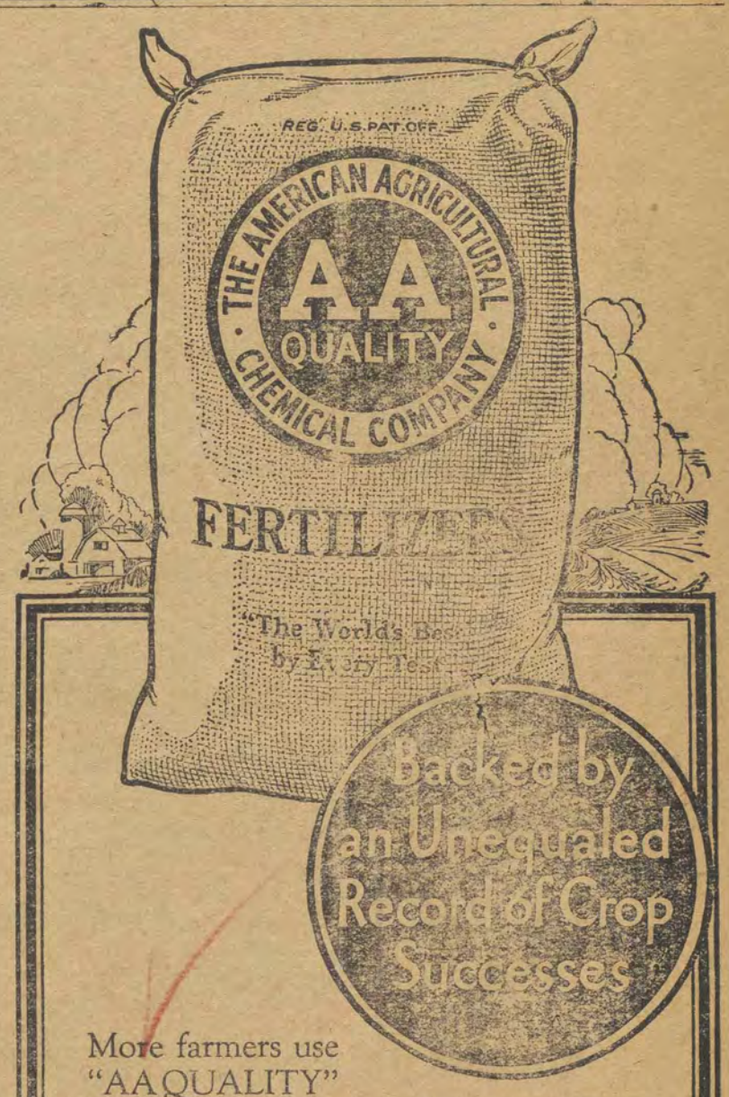
INDIAN GRAVE

Farmers in this section are behind with their work.

A large crowd attended the singing at this place Sunday afternoon.

Mr. D. M. Jones, and Misses Jettie and Winnie Adams and Everee Coggins motored to Billingsley Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Sam Brigance was the guest of Miss Alma Askins Sunday.



Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Carter spent Sunday with Mrs. J. C. Billingsley and family.

Mr. Alonza Askins was the guest of Miss Smith Sunday.

The play at Billingsley schoolhouse Friday night was fine, and enjoyed by many.

There will be a Fiddlers Convention at this place Friday night, March 5th. Everybody invited to be present.

Mr. Preston Patrick called on Miss Winnie Adams Sunday.

More farmers use "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers every year than any other make of fertilizer sold.

This country-wide preference for "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers has been earned and maintained by their unequaled record for producing the largest yields and best quality of all crops. To insure the best crops, year after year, use

"AA QUALITY" FERTILIZERS

BEST KNOWN TO YOU UNDER THE FOLLOWING BRAND NAMES

BRADLEY'S SEA FOWL FERTILIZER
AMERICAN BIGBEE
GOULDING

Manufactured only by

The American Agricultural Chemical Company

Montgomery Sales Department
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG., MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Our Agricultural Service Bureau will help solve your farming problems. Send for Dr. H. J. Wheeler's Crop Bulletins. Address: 92 State Street, Boston, Mass.

Important Price Policy for

HUDSON-ESSEX

We Discontinue F. O. B. Factory Prices and Announce "At-Your-Door" Prices

Effective February 15, These Cars Will Be Priced to Include Freight, War Tax and Equipment. No Charge Will Be Added for Handling. There Will Be Nothing Else to Pay. Remember these are NOT F. O. B. Factory Prices, but the DELIVERED Prices at Your DOOR

The Price You Pay to Drive Away

All Cars Are Complete with the Following Equipment:

Bumper Front and Rear . . . Electric Windshield Cleaner . . . Rear View Mirror . . . Transmission Lock (Built In) . . . Radiator Shutters Moto-Meter . . . Combination Stop and Tail Light

Hudson Super-Six

COACH - - - $1380
Brougham - - 1640
Sedan - - - - 1830

Essex Six Coach $930

15

Convenient and Easy Purchase Terms For Those Who Desire

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Hudson is World's Largest Builder of "Sixes" and Third Largest Builder of Motor Cars

IN MEMORY

On February 19th the death angel visited the home of Mr. N. L. Owens and took away the spirit of his wife. She leaves her husband, 4 children, 4 sisters, and 4 brothers, besides a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss. Her remains were carried to Shiloh for burial. Rev. F. A. Gibson conducted the funeral services.

MAULDIN'S Cook 10-10 Cotton Seed, for sale by W. H. Conway, Jemison; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby J. N. Dennis, Clanton; Gulledge Bros., Verbena; and C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala.

Read Your Home Town Paper.

5 Beautiful Flowers Free!

Write for Hastings' Catalog

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN, ATLANTA, GA.

THE BEAUTY EVERY WOMAN ENVIES

ROSY CHEEKS, SATINY SKIN, BRIGHT EYES Depends Upon The Health.

Ask Your Druggist For DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY THE GREAT HERBAL TONIC In Fluid or Tablet Form.

Sanford Barber Shop
Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

BETHSALEM NEWS

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely.

Mrs. C. C. Vinson is some better this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wright are on the sick list this week with flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphus Moore spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Williams.

Mrs. Jim Pierce visited Mrs. R. L. Wright Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Moore visited Mr. Martin Wright Sunday.

Mr. Ivan Popwell and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wright Sunday.

Several of the young men from Bethsalem attended preaching at Bethany Sunday.

Mr. Ben Deason and family from Floyd visited Mr. T. H. Williams here Sunday.

AUCTION SALES HERE THIS WEEK

The Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company has two property sales in and near Clanton this week. Friday they will sell the Uncle Junius corner property, four lots on second avenue and first street. Saturday they will sell the J. W. P. Murphy subdivision on the paved highway north of town.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 Cotton Seed for sale by J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; and Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala., and Vincent, Ala.

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens
SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Takes the Place of "Drastic" Calomel

Never take another dose of the old style "raw" calomel. There is a newer and more improved kind known as Pepsinated Calomel. It does not tear through your system like a streak of lightning. People who are ill or suffering with biliousness, constipation, indigestion, and especially with backache, headache and torpid liver can secure immediate and complete relief with this new mild Calomel. Hereafter when you buy calomel, always demand the "pep-si-na-ted" kind. It is better for you, for it is purer, milder and more beneficial to your entire system. In 25c and 50c packages. For sale by Upchurch Drug Co., Clanton, Ala.

NEW SALEM

We are proud to bring glad tidings from this place again. It always fills our hearts with pleasure to speak a good word for our church, and not only do we alone speak this but it is the expression from the depths of many other hearts as well. The Scriptures represent the heart as the very center of man's being—the spring of action. It is from the heart that a man speaks. As he thinks in his heart, so he is. So we, as the represestative body of our church, speak from the abundance of our hearts of the good messages brought to us on Sunday and Sunday night, from God, through our pastor. This short message can be fully appreciated only by those who attended the service and received the rich blessings sent from above. We feel that God blessed our church and gave us His most Heavenly smile last Sunday. He provided for two of His messengers to be with us, our pastor, and Paul Oden, the blind boy who graduates from Howard College this year. No doubt many readers of this paper have been blessed in having heard Paul sing or lecture, but if you haven't, you have missed an opportunity to listen to an inspired worker of God.

The subject that was so wonderfully discussed Sunday morning was of the three talents. Could it have been possible for every member of our church, as well as the people of the community to have heard this subject discussed, we feel that more would faithfully fulfill their duty of helping bear every cross. A beautiful song was rendered by Paul, which gladdened every heart. He gave an inspiring talk in Sunday school. He showed us that if we would only lift the stone Jesus would perform the miracles. He really felt these words as they were uttered, or he could not have implanted them so firmly in our minds and hearts. "As he thinks in his heart, so he is."

A better sermon could not have been delivered than the one given Sunday night. The subject was "Heaven," and quite a number of people enjoyed this splendid sermon. The whole audience seemed to be filled with the same spirit as the pastor as the blessings of Heaven were brought fully before our minds. Paul again sang two beautiful songs—"The Old Rugged Cross" and "When They Ring The Golden Bells For You And Me." God seemed to fill his very soul with the Holy Spirit, and he revealed the same love to us through these songs. May the richest of God's blessings be his all through life, in every song he sings, in every prayer he prays, for without this no heart can be regenerated.

We especially welcome all the visitors who were with us Sunday, and may it be possible for each of them to be with us again in our B. Y. P. U. and church. We need your cooperation and support, and hope to have it by seeing all your faces in our audience regularly.—Clara Vines, Jewel Bean, Committee.

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

A revival meeting being conducted by Bishop Mouzon, at Troy, is attracting large crowds.

Three grocery stores were robbed at Talladega and large quantities of food supplies stolen.

Birmingham's new down-town sanitary sewer has been completed at a cost of approximately $300,000.

Fire originating from defective wiring caused $5,000 damage to one of Birmingham's large department stores.

Howard College, Birmingham, claims to have the distinction of having the only Co-Educational Glee College in the South

Farmers of the southern section of Morgan County are making preparations for the biggest crop in years.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new brick building at Haleyville, which is to be occupied by the Alabama Power Company.

The latest addition to the Methodist Orphanage at Selma, where there are housed 200 children and young people, is a barber shop.

Work has been started on the new dining room at the McLester hotel at Tuscaloosa, and the room will be large enough to hold 125 people

Florence civic clubs have agreed to cooperate with the city commission in an effort to build a new school building in the western part of Florence

November 2-6 has been decided upon by the Calhoun County fair committee as the date for the Calhoun County Fair, to be held at Anniston, next fall.

John W. Abercrombie, state superintendent of education, is in Washington attending the annual meeting of the national council of state superintendents of education.

J. W. Helms, night city marshall at Abbeville, is held without bond in the county jail, following the death of Roy Grantham, who was clubbed by the city officer.

Officer J. M. West, at Albany-Decatur, has been freed on a $2,000 bond, awaiting hearing of his appeal from a seven-year sentence on a charge of killing Asberry Murray, a negro. blank for entry in the contest.

MILLICANS SOLD HAND FARM IN AUTAUGA COUNTY

Col. Thos. W. Millican and Clyde Mayhall, auctioneers of the Tennessee-Alabama Auction Co., sold the farm of Mr. W. W. Hand in Autauga County Tuesday. They report that it was a good sale, the price being a figure that was satisfactory to all.

REFUGE

Meeting was held at this place Saturday and Sunday, being our regular meeting days. Our pastor, Rev. M. J. Parrish, gave us two of the best sermons we have ever heard. A large crowd attended both services. Our Sunday school last Sunday was good also.

The singing society met in regular session Sunday afternoon, and we enjoyed some real good singing. The house was called to order by chairman, and prayer by O. R. Robinson. Directors were J. W. Cleckler, S. V. Miller, Dewey Huett, C. H. Robinson, J. E. Minor, S. L. Baker, O. R. Robinson, all singing 3 selections each. Organists were Mrs. Annie Robinson, Miss Jewel McDowell and Mr. C. H. Robinson. Benediction by R. M. Robinson. We were glad to see a good crowd out, and invite them back again.—M. Lockhart, Chairman.

IN MEMORY

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Benson last Saturday morning, February 20, and took the spirit of their darling baby, Thomas Madison. He was sick about 18 days. All was done for him that Dr. Wood and kind friends could do, but God saw fit to take him home. He was only 4 months old.

Weep not dear father and mother, for though he can not come back to us, we can follow in the footsteps of our Savior and go to him, where there will be no more deaths nor heartaches.—A Friend.

Col. Thos. W. Millican, the auctioneer, is now living in one of Mr. Jesse Greer's houses near the Grammar school.

Mr. W. P. Milling of Selma was in Clanton Tuesday looking after some business affairs of his father, the late T. G. Milling of Stanton.

Tom Millican and Clyde Mayhall were business visitors in Birmingham on Monday.

Last Saturday was a busy day in Clanton. The political pot got to boiling right along. It was the first rush of the new crop of candidates and all of them displayed some fine running ability.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Essex coach has been run 2 months; has extra tire, tag, insurance; in perfect condition; will trade for Ford. If interested inquire at Union-Banner office. 2-25-2t-pd.

Don't forget to see the used cars at Clanton Motor Car Co. Some mighty good bargains.

"Get in the Well Dressed Circle"

Purely American--

are the Spring models of CURLEE CLOTHES that we are now showing. Straight through the line from the conservative models to suit the man of mature age to the latest models fashioned to meet the approval of the young men, there is something characteristically American about their lines.

American designers are setting the pace for the clothing manufacturers of the world and it is a pleasure to offer to the men of this community these Spring CURLEE CLOTHES designed by Americans for Americans.

The materials, the tailoring and the reasonable prices will appeal to you.

Parrish's STYLE SHOP

CLANTON, ALABAMA

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)

REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted

Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

LET US GIVE YOU A LIFT

—o—

We can give you and your Family a Lift, by Fixing your run-down Shoes, thus relieving your sore, tired feet. We can heal sick Shoes and punctured Soles, no matter how bad off they are. We guarantee to you a square deal.

—o—

ALABAMA HARNESS & SHOE SHOP
CLANTON - - - ALABAMA

We Pay Highest Cash Price for Eggs & Chickens

HILL'S

50 lb Can Pure Lard for $8.25

The store with the Red Front--7th st.

Export Soap 7 bars 25c

English Peas 2 No. 2 cans	25c	Dime Brand Milk	14c
Sweet Mixed Pickles, qt.	35c	Corn, per can	10c
Campbell's pork & Beans	9c	Tomatoes, 3 cans for	25c
Corn Flakes-Post Toasties	10c	Peanut Butter, per lb	30c
Salmon, 2 cans	25c	French Mustard	13c
Karo Syrup, gallon	60c	3-Minute Oatmeal	9c
Ajax Coffee, per lb	29c	Ohio Matches, 6 boxes	25c
Domino Sugar, 4-X, box	10c	Split Silk or O-Boy Flour	$1.29
No. 10 pail Pure Lard	$1.58	Argo Starch, package	4c
Piconaise, large size	28c	Del Monte peaches, 2½ can	30c
Swansdown Cake Flour	35c	Ocean Spray Cran. Sauce	20c
Shredded Wheat, package	11c	O-Cedar Polish, large size	41c
Fame Catsup, small	10c	Kerosene oil, per gallon	18c
Large, 20c—Gallon	75c

Grandma Wonder Flour . . . $1.50

The Flour with a smile in every bite. The very highest patent.

Trade with HILL'S and save the difference

ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala. — "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —TEN PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1926 NUMBER 46

CHILTON WILL HAVE BIG FEDERAL BRIDGE

U. S. Will Build Bridge Across Coosa River Between Clanton And Rockford.

The general prosperity of the South was singularly reflected Monday in the passage by the national house of representatives of bills authorizing the construction of 25 bridges in five southern states by use of federal funds. In addition, the expenditure of $2,000,000 for the improvement of Savannah harbor was recommended by Major General Harry Taylor, chief of engineers, United States army.

Alabama came off with the lion's share of bridges in yesterday's legislation, this state drawing 16 of the 25. Louisiana came next with 4. Virginia followed with 2, and Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee received 1 each.

This legislation was regarded in Washington, dispatches from the national capital said, as an indicative of the federal government's response to the South's demand for quicker mail service in the rural districts and a greater opening of avenues to markets by the farmers.

No estimate in the cost involved in the construction of these bridges was obtainable Monday, but it was well assured that it would run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Students of economics pointed out, however, that the real value was not to be computed in terms of dollars and cents but rather in the general development of the regions that these bridges would serve. In several instances where new bridges are to be built it has been necessary for many years for farmers to make 10 and 15-mile hauls with their product in order to reach a bridge spanning a stream, thus to reach a point really only a few miles from the starting point.

While the bills authorizing these bridges were passed by the house it was regarded as fairly certain that the senate would follow suit within a short time.

The bridges legislated on would include spans for the following streams in Alabama:

Tombigbee at Aliceville.
Tombigbee at Jackson.
Tombigbee on Butler-Linden road between Choctaw and Marengo counties.
Tombigbee at Gainesville.
Elk on Athens to Florence road.
Tennessee at Scottsboro.
Tennessee at Whitesburg ferry.
Tennessee at Gunterville.
Coosa at Childersburg.
Coosa at Fayetteville.
Coosa on Clanton-Rockford road.
Coosa at Pell City.
Pea at Samson.
Pea at Geneva.
Pea at Elba.
Choctawhatchie at Geneva.

MULES FALL IN WELL

A Negro farmer was plowing in a field on the Thompson place a few weeks ago. One of the mules of his team was blind and stepped into an old well. The other mule or horse was pulled in also, and quicker than you could say scat the negro was left holding his plow handles with no team hitched to it. The well was filled up and the team was buried harness and all.

MY TRIP TO WASHINGTON

Many people have been asking me about my trip to Washington, and I am taking this means to tell the people of the county something about it. I have said this to many, and I might say to the reader—I wish you could have been with me. It was a trip to be enjoyed for many reasons. I enjoyed it because of the opportunity to study and get other people's point of view relating to the school work, and the privilege of seeing the country.

I went with the Alabama-Texas delegation. We had a train all to ourselves. This train was held in Atlanta long enough for us to be "bussed" out to Stone Mountain, where we saw the work being done on the Confederate Memorial. I saw this about two years ago, just before the wrangle which has delayed the work considerably. It is a striking illustration f what happens when people are fighting each other. Very Little has been done in these two years.

One thing that impressed me very much was the number of cotton mills along the road through north Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina. We were told that one town had twenty-seven. Many others had two, three and four. I feel that if these people find it profitable to operate cotton mills in these States, it would be more profitable here in the heart of the cotton belt. With the coming of the Alabama Power Company, mills ought to spring up all over the State, and we ought to see to it that some are located in Chilton County.

On Monday night President Coolidge spoke to us. He is a good looking man but his wife is far in the lead. Some one asked me how she was dressed. I do not know about that, because I have never formed the habit of seeing people's dress. If you were to ask me what kind of dress my wife had on today when I went home for lunch, I would be forced to admit that I did not notice. But Mrs. Coolidge has a face that is beautiful enough to attract without a display of attractive dressing. In fact, it was not painted.

The Washington press did the President an injustice, at least from the Southern point of view. They wrote up his speech the next morning, and in big headlines represented him as condemning race prejudice. He said little about this, but did condemn sectional prejudice. I suppose the editors must have been so contaminated with the latter that they wanted to hide behind something. He advocated the establishment of a National University to be located somewhere in the center of the United States. I hardly agree with this movement. It would, no doubt, be great, but it would not serve the masses. I feel that we had better turn our attention a little more to the other end of education and development of our elementary and secondary schools and in so doing serve more people.

There were other speeches that were very interesting but space would not admit giving even a summary of them.

Of the many points of interest visited while there I think the most interesting was the home of George Washington, his church and Masonic Lodge. The rooms of his home are kept as they were when he lived there. His trunks, watch, sword and many other things which he used, are to be seen. Even the little bed and chair of his little adopted daughter are preserved. In his Lodge is to be seen the chair he sat in while Worshipful Master. It is now encased in glass. Services are still held in his church, and one visiting the church has the privilege of taking a seat in this pew if he so wishes.

I guess that I had better not try to tell more, and close this letter by saying that if you wish to visit a place of interest you can not select a better place than the Capitol of this great nation of ours.

B. LAWRENCE,
County Supt. of Education.

Best Out of 9,903,540 Cows

When Mollie, owned by James E. Larrowe of Detroit, Mich., was chosen as champion grade Holstein cow at the National Dairy Show at Indianapolis, she automatically became the best out of 9,903,540 Holstein grade cows in America. Mollie, who is five years old, is the granddaughter of Cedar Lawn Canary Paul who won the championship at the National Dairy Show in 1920, and whose head, neck, crest and rump were chosen by the Holstein-Freisian association as typical of the True Holstein bull. In the 322 days that she was in milk last year, she produced 12,904 pounds of milk and 571.9 pounds of butterfat. She is now on the Larrowe Research Farm at Detroit.

SENATE TO RUSH PASSAGE OF SHOALS BILL

Adoption of Resolution is Certain Action Expected Before End of This Week.

Washington, March 1.—The same coalition of senate Republicans and Democrats that crushed independent opposition to the tax bill and the world court today took the Coolidge Muscle Shoals resolution to rush it thru the upper house.

The resolution calls for appointment of a joint congressional committee to conduct negotiations for a lease of the $137,000,000 government and nitrate project established on the Tennessee river in Alabama during the war.

The house already has adopted the resolution, drafted on the suggestion of President Coolidge, and it appears only a matter of a few days until the senate acts favorably and the commission is appointed.

Adoption Is Certain.

Its adoption by the coalition in the senate is such a foregone conclusion that leaders already have discussed who should be appointed by the senate to serve on the committee created by the resolution.

The United Press is informed Senator Keyes, New Hampshire, Capper, Republican, Kansas, and Heflin, Alabama, will receive the assignments.

Opposition to the resolution is led by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, who favors government operation of the project and believes its lease will result in strengthening the hold of big power companies on electricity produced in the United States. Norris has been seriously ill and unless he inaugurates a strong fight, the debate will not be prolonged.

ALONZA McCARY OPERATED ON

Alonza McCary, son of Mr. H. F. McCary of Friendship was operated on at the Central Alabama Hospital for appendicitis last Thursday morning about 8:00 o'clock. Reports say that the young man was in a serious condition, but the operation was successful and late reports say that he is improving from the operation rapidly.

G. D. RETHERFORD HAS BOUGHT CHERO-COLA PLANT

The plant of the Clanton Chero-Cola Bottling Company in Clanton was bought this week from Mrs. J. M. Potts by Green D. Retherford. Mr. Retherford assumes charge of the business now and will continue its operation at the same place.

The furniture business of Mr. Retherford has been disposed of by him and hereafter he will devote his entire time to the conduct of his bottling Company.

OAK GROVE

There will be a box supper at this place next Saturday night at C. N. Cofer's. Everybody come and have a good time; also come to the singing Sunday afternoon; we will have with us Prof. A. B. Robinson from Lewisburg.

HOME WORKERS DID BIG WORK IN 1925

Reports of Miss Harris shows that 8,147 Girls and 5,788 Women Were Enrolled

Auburn, Ala., March 1.—The annual report of Miss Agnes Ellen Harris, dean f women at Auburn and State home demostration agent, shows that 13,933 farm women and girls were enrolled in club work in 1925. Of this number 8,147 were girls and 5,788 were women. The girls were organized in 508 clubs and the women into 334 clubs, under direction of 40 county home demonstration agents of the State.

Clothing was the most popular project of the year among the girls with 3,447 ingaged in it. Foods came next with 1,738. Food preservation and poultry each attracted about the same number. Home furnishings, home management, health, basketry, gardening, and dairing attracted many.

Among the women the foods project was the most popular with 3,119 of them engaged in it. Food preservation was next with 2,667; basketry, gardening, and dairying came next; while home furnishings, home management, health and poultry were popular.

In reporting some of the results, Miss Hrris said that 1028 women improved their practices in food preparation, 1,510 imprived their practices in vegetable cookery, 864 in meat cookery, and 1,270 in the preparation of school luncheS. She reported also that 3,805 hats and 21,081 dresses and coats were made by the women.

The girls made 6,050 dresses, 13,586 undergarments, and 630 hats. County clothing contests were held in 2 counties with 1,960 girls competing. Twenty four county winners attended a State clothing contest in Montgomery and 48 attended a short course in Auburn.

Similiar results were obtained with other lines of work done by women and girls.

A CORRECTION

In our report last week of the wreck of the Dodge coupe near Cooper, we stated that the "Blue Goose" bus, which was reported to have forced Mr. Rodman off the highway, was running on the schedule of the B. & M. Transportation Company. The B. & M. Company wishes us to state that the "Blue Goose" bus was not running on their schedule, as reported, and was not connected with the Birmingham Company in any way.

They also wish it known that their drivers are instructed to never exceed 35 miles per hour. This Company carries insurance up to $30,000 for every person who rides their buses, and is the only firm in the state who does so.

If our article of last week caused any bad opinion of the B. & M. Company, its buses or drivers, we hope this explanation will be sufficient to correct the error.

D. H. GENTRY IN RACE FOR COMMISSIONER

D. H. (Dock) Gentry of Beat 9 has entered the race for County Commissioner in the second district subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10.

Uncle Dock needs no introduction at our hands. He is a man who has been prominent in the public life of Chilton County in the past, having served one term as Commissioner in the same job he is asking for now.

Mr. Gentry will have a statement to make to the voters in a few weeks.

Success does not come to the inefficient producer.

FEBRUARY MARRIAGES

H. H. Perkins and Miss Lucy Morgan.
Eddie Wingard and Miss Dessie Dennis.
J. A. Thompson and Miss Rader Driver.
Robert Hunt and Miss Lottie Day.
C. C. McCary and Miss Clara Jackson.
Carl Gray and Miss Agnes Davis.
J. B. Smith and Miss Lillian Mason.
Bernard W. Headley and Miss Rosie Coggins.
Howard Davis and Miss Dollie Mae Hicks.
John E. Dennis and Miss Effie Driver.
Ervan Rasberry and Miss Era Mae Atchison.
Elijah Smitherman and Miss Hermie Gentry.
Alton Driver and Miss Effie Mae Mims.
J. G. Lawrence and Miss Myrtle Gipson.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT CLANTON

There will be a Fiddlers Convention at the Court House at Clanton on Saturday evening, March 13th, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited. We want every fiddler who possibly can to be present. Three prizes will be given for the best fiddlers, and there will be other entertainments and contests. The proceeds will go to the Methodist church. We urge the public to come out, and we promise you a good time.—Circle No. 2, Methodist Ladies Aid.

CORINTH SINGING SOCIETY

We have a few cases of "flu" around Corinth, otherwise health conditions are good.

Our singing society met in regular order Sunday afternoon, and the following directors sung four songs each: T. L. Robinson, J. M. Taylor, J. R. Robinson, E. F. Taylor, A. M. Jones, and N. J. Jones.

Our Sunday school is going fine under the faithful leadership of our faithful superintendent, Bro. N. J. Jones, and the good instruction of our teachers.

Visitors, be sure and come to see us at every opportunity.

With best wishes to The Banner,,
A. M. Jones, Asst. Secy.

MRS. ROXIE EVERS DIED AT MOUNTAIN CREEK

Mrs. Roxie Evers, age 68 years, died at the home of Mrs. M. J. McDaniel at Mt. Creek last Thursday morning. She was a sufferer from paralysis, having been ill for a long time, twelve years or more.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Bidie Evers, and one son, Wm. Evers. The body was buried at Chestnut Creek Friday.

J. H. BENSON IN RACE FOR COMMISSIONER

J. H. (John) Benson of Beat 9 has announced himself a candidate for County Commissioner from the second district subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10.

Mr. Benson has never held public office. He was a candidate for Commissioner four years ago, but was defeated in the primary. His friends insist upon him running again, and he has decided to offer his services.

TREND TO ANARCHY IS SEEN BY SPEAKER

Anarchy is Ultimate End of Teaching of Evolution, Supreme Kingdom Orators Say.

Birmingham, March 1.—An indictment against "several books" being taught in Birmingham public schools as "subtle exponents of the theory of evolution;" the charge that "the theory of evolution is a religion that is seeking to displace and discredit the Christian's Bible," and a resume of history and plans of the Supreme Kingdom, marked Sunday's meeting of that organization in the municipal auditorium.

Principal speakers of the occasion were Edward Young Clarke, sovereign, and Dr. William J. Mahoney, prime minister.

Dr. Mahoney declared that evolution is one of the "steps to ultimate anarchism." He listed the steps as paganism, humanism, modernism, evolutionism, atheism and anarchism. "Not only is the theory pagan in origin and pagan in concept, but it is being fed to the immature mind as irrefutable fact," he declared.

Several high spots in the address of Mr. Clarke were:

"There is no compromise with evolution. We will wage a relentless war until every book championing the theory and every teacher expounding it is removed from the public schools.

"In the moment that America, as a nation, falls away from God, in that moment will her decadence begin. All nations and people have grown great or remained small according to their concept of Deity.

"Not only is evolution an atheistic doctrine which would stamp the religion of the Bible as senile, ridiculous mythology, but it is experimental—unsubstantiated. You have no right to teach as fact an experimental theory to the immature mind."

Since its incorporation January 17, this year, Mr. Clarke stated that his organization had grown to a membership of 60,000, representing 10 states. It was organized in four states including Indiana, Ohio, Georgia and Florida, he stated, and expanding at present at a rate of 300 to 500 new members a day. He declared that the membership of the organization would number from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 within the next 12 months.

During the course of his address Mr. Clarke took to task "The New York World and other periodicals that have sought to discredit me with lies.

"I admire as a worthy adversary the man who would oppose me with truth," he said. "Others will find their efforts a boomerang."

It was stated that organization work in Birmingham has been placed in charge of W. E. Carr, who has offices in the Arcade.

OLD TIME SINGING AT COURT HOUSE

There will be an all day singing in the old Christian Harmony books at the court house in Clanton on the first Sunday in March, the 7th. Everyone in the county interested in the old time singing is urged to be present.—J. N. Scott, President.

Harvard University plans to establish a graduate school of agrichlture.

Must See Ahead

If there is a sharp curve in the road, you go slow. You want to see what's ahead. After dark you will not drive without lights for the same reason.

Being able to see ahead is what insures safety and success, no matter what the undertaking. In financial as well as other affairs, the only way to look into the future is by the light of the past. Successful men have worked, planned and SAVED. Why not follow the light they have given and do likewise? Our Bank will help you.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help
CLANTON, ALABAMA

It Takes More Than a Sign Over The Door To Make A

- BANK -

It takes experience, brains, and above all, the proper organization for the protection of depositors.

This bank is regularly examined by officials of the Federal Government. Every transaction must meet their rigid requirements. Your money is absolutely safe in this bank. It is here until you need it, and yours when you want it.

If you are not already a depositor you are cordially invited to open an account.

This Bank is Under Government Control

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA
Safety—Service—Accomodation

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER VI

Tall Ships and Lawless Men

There was a noticeable tightening of discipline after my great-uncle's admonition to Bones, and Peter and I were let severly alone, except by Silver, who, I think, found satisfaction in annoying the mate by the effusiveness of his cordiality to us. A second lookout was sent into the foretop, and the watch on deck were continually on the alert.

My great-uncle paced the deck with measured strides throughout the afternoon, his head bent upon his chest, not a word for anybody. When night came he supervised the hoisting of two lanthorns, red and green, one above the other, to the main truck; and he ate very little of the excellent meal which Silver cooked in the galley and Darby served us in the cabin.

Peter was almost himself again, although he dared eat but little and suffered qualms when the brig rolled much from the perpendicular. He was asleep as soon as he lay down, but I drowsed lightly for some hours, and all that time I could hear overhead the tap-tap-tap of footfalls in even cadence as my great-uncle strode from the stern railing to the cabin companionway and back again.

Yet when I went on deck in the morning it was to discover Murray already there, dressed with his customary immaculate precision, his face fresh and unfatigued. He stood astraddle close by the wheel, hands clasped behind him, his gaze fixed upon the tossing waters ahead.

"You seem perturbed," I said.

"I am," he returned frankly. "I have two problems upon my mind."

"Unfortunately, I see no signs of pursuit," I answered.

He smiled.

"Nor will you, Nephew Robert. No, my problems are connected with the difficult task of attaining an imaginary spot in this trackless waste and puzzlement as to whether I have correctly estimated an equation of human values. You are not, perhaps, mathematical? Ah, too bad! There is no mental exercise so restful and diverting to the mind as algebra. But figures lack the warm interest of human equations. As, for instance, the exact degree of trust to be imposed in untrustworthy persons."

"Sail ho!" shouted the lookout in the main crosstrees.

Murray's calm face flushed with sud-

"I Trust Nobody Further Than I Must," He Retorted.

den emotion, and he took a step forward.

"Where does she lie?" he trumpeted through his clasped hands.

"Maybe one, two points to larboard, sir."

"Can you make her out?"

"Ony tops'ls, sir; big 'uns."

"Let me know as soon as you make her," said Murray, and turned back to me.

But almost at once the other lookout in the foretop sang out—

"Second sail to larboard, sir, comin' up arter t'other chap!"

Murray rubbed his hands together with every evidence of satisfaction.

"Ah!" he exclaimed. "It appears that my estimation of the safe degree of trust to be imposed in the given situation was within the bounds of accuracy."

"I don't understand you."

"No? In plain English let us say then that my own vessel and consort are meeting me according to plan."

"Why do you speak of trust?" I challenged. "Cannot you trust your own people?"

"I trust nobody farther than I must," he retorted.

And without another word he produced a patent folding spyglass from his pocket and clapped it to his eye. Silver, who had been an interested witness to the scene from his aerie atop of the cabin skylight, hopped across the deck to my great-uncle's side.

"Beggin' your pardon, captain," he said. "But I'd make oath that tops'l 's the canvas you took out o' the mogul's ship off Pondicherry. Mind it, sir? 'Twas uncommon bleached and looked whiter'n our cloth."

Murray handed him the glass.

"Stap me, Silver, but I believe you are right," he returned. "What a hawk's eye you must have! Here, see what you can make of it with this."

Long John peered through the glass, steadying his crutch against the butt of the mizzen.

"Aye, 'tis—"

"R'yal James to leeward!" hailed the foretop.

And the main crosstrees echoed, not to be outdone—

"Walrus comin' up astarn o' her!"

"'Tis they, never a doubt," assented Silver as he lowered the glass. "Diggin' into it they are, too, and a lusty show o' canvas to both o' them. If you was to ask me now, captain, I'd say Flint isn't willing to plow your wake."

My great-uncle indulged in a pinch of snuff, a mildly cynical smile upon his handsome features.

"I thank you," he acknowledged. "And now I would have the men tumble up their gear from below and make ready the boats. I shall also leave it to you, Silver, to lay the powder-train. How much have you?"

"Three casks, sir."

"Excellent. But allow us ample time to get free."

"Why do you give your orders to Silver and not to Bones?" I inquired curiously after the one-legged man had gone for'ard.

My great-uncle lowered his glass with a benevolent smile.

"I rejoice to perceive that you have an observant tendency," he commented. "Why do I single out Silver for orders? Ah! The reasons are quite obvious. To begin with, he is gifted with a personality which enables him to secure the accomplishment of tasks; but perhaps as important as that consideration is the parallel fact that it lies to my interest to develop the seed of dissension in the Walrus' crew. Their future contains infinite possibilities. Who knows what trifling factor may influence the dictates of fate? I am, you may say, in a minority of one among some hundreds of headstrong, willful, intemperate men. United, they would crush me like a fly on the wall. Divided, and kept divided, they are so many instruments for the fulfilling of my desires. Wait until we are aboard the Royal James, Robert. Then you will realize what I offer you."

"I have heard much of it already," I agreed dryly.

"Anon you shall hear all," he answered. "Let us get Flint across-table from us in the James' state cabin with a beaker of rum at his elbow. Then you shall hear me talk."

Bones came up to speak to him; and I rejoined Peter, who was glumly watching the unlashing of the small boats and the rigging of the falls by which they were slung overside.

As Murray nodded dismissal to Bones, Silver left us and hopped up to him.

"All set and ready below, captain," he announced.

My great-uncle cast his eye at the approaching ships, now so near that we could make out quite distinctly the contour of their hulls, painted yellow, with a white band delimiting the ports, man-o'-war fashion. The James was already beginning to take in some of her top canvas.

"Very good, Silver," he answered. "Master Bones! You will bring the ship to and put over the boats."

There was a great flapping and banging as the brig rounded to, and with much yo-ho-hoing the boats were lowered into the water.

"You will go off first, Master Bones," ordered Murray. "Kindly present my compliments to Captain Flint and say that I should like to have a word with him aboard the James at his early convenience."

Bones sullenly touched his cap and led better than half the crew into one of the two longboats the brig had carried. Murray nodded to Silver as they cast off.

"Start your train," he said shortly. "Nephew Robert, I wish you and Peter to go into the second boat. At once, please!"

Peter and I climbed clumsily down the ladder of cleats nailed to the brig's hull and dropped into the bobbing longboat. Peter groaned as we crawled over the thwarts.

"Like der waves is my stomach—oop—andt down. Now I be sick, ja!"

And he was.

Presently Murray descended the brig's side with an agility which put me to shame and took his seat in the stern sheets. Darby swarmed down like a monkey and ensconced himself beside us in the bow. Silver was slung over in the bight of a rope, and the last of the crew tumbled over after him, one upon the other's heels. Oars were thrust out, and we pulled rapidly toward the Royal James, wallowing in the trough of the sea, a quarter-mile away. The Walrus, foaming up under a cloud of canvas, was almost as near, and on our weather board.

Boom! The roar of an explosion behind us was as sharp as the smack of an open hand. I turned my head. So did the others. Murray was looking back, too, and the rowers rested on their oars.

A cloud of smoke jetted up from the brig's hatches. She heeled over to starboard as we watched, gave a quivering lurch and commenced to slide under by the head. We could hear the slap of the sails as they struck the waves. In two minutes she was gone.

"That was well-contrived, Silver," remarked my great-uncle. "'Sdeath, but you are a man of parts. Give way, lads!"

He nodded the length of the boat to me.

"I trust you perceive the significance of that, Nephew Robert. A certain young man, we will say, disappears from New York. A certain brig disappears simultaneously. Some might go so far as to associate the two disappearances. Frigates put to sea in search of a certain brig—but the brig is no more."

The men at the oars laughed loudly, and I made no answer. What could I say? I felt very hopeless.

The bulwarks of the James were lined with heads and faces as we pulled under her counter and made fast, and even at that distance the complexity of her crew was apparent. I saw Portuguese, Finns, Scandinavians, French and English cheek by jowl with negroes, Moors, Indians and slant-eyed yellow men. But what impressed me the most was the absolute silence which greeted us, a silence all the more impressive because the wind carried to our ears the bedlam of shouts, cheers, oaths and imprecations with which the Walrus was receiving Bones' boat several hundred yards away.

Murray waved me to the ladder as he set foot on the first cleat.

"Up with you, Nephew! Peter also. The rest go to the Walrus."

Darby snatched at my hand as I rose.

"Whirra, whirra, but there's an ache in my heart to be parted from ye, Master Bob!" he cried. "And if we was to be pirates it do seem we might be together on the same ship!"

He made to follow me, indeed, but Silver pulled him back.

"You stays wi' us, Darby,'" growled the one-legged man. "Blast ye, lad, you're our good luck. Flint'll douse the ship in rum after one look at ye."

"We'll meet again, Darby," I said. "Never you fear."

He was still jabbering in a mixture of grief and joy when I climbed over the bulwark and dropped beside my great-uncle into the midst of another world.

Fore and aft from poop to fo'csle stretched the wide deck from which the lofty spars rose like forest giants. The massive bulwarks were shoulder-high, and inboard everything was painted red exactly as in a king's ship. The hundreds of men who had watched us from the bulwarks had all sifted for'ard. We stood in the midst of an open space, with only three others.

One of these three was a very small old man with wispy gray hair and deeply bronzed face, from which his eyes peered intensely blue and childishly simple. He had gold rings in his ears, and his dress was neat and plain.

"My sarvice, captain," he greeted Murray. "Ship's in order, I hope. —— my eyes if we've had so much as a —— o' genuine wind since the —— hussy bore away from ye off the Hook."

The effect of the unspeakable blasphemies which poured with mild intonation from his lips was ridiculous, but nobody appeared to notice it, and I learned afterward that his habit of swearing by the anatomy of the twelve apostles and various saints and sacred figures was the quaintest of several quaint characteristics of an unusual personality.

"We won't complain about that, Master Martin," replied my great-uncle. "I have brought back my grandnephew to be the mainstay of my old age. Here he is—Master Ormerod, Martin. Ah, and this is a friend of his and an old enemy of mine, Peter Corlaer," as Peter rolled over the top of the bulwarks. "He is more to be reckoned with than you might suppose, is Peter.

"Master Martin, Nephew Robert, is my mate, and as such, my right hand and arm."

Martin stepped back, and the second of the three men confronting us touched his cap. This was a square, heavy-built fellow with a dour glint to his eye, who wore a decent blue cloth coat and small clothes.

"And here is Saunders, Master Martin's second," continued my great-uncle. "A Scot like myself. My nephew should make a fine Scotsman; eh, Saunders?"

"He's a braw-lookin' laddie in seemin'," Saunders agreed cautiously.

"Your meaning is that we must prove him?" responded Murray. "Quite true. We shall. Hola, Coupeau!"

And he rattled into a string of French which I could not follow as the third man met him with a bow and a scrape of one foot. Coupeau was as brutal in looks and manner as Black Dog or Bill Bones, but without the sinister implications of speech and action that made me shudder whenever the blind man Pew approached me or spoke in my hearing. He had been branded on the cheek, and an attempt to obliterate the brand—or perhaps 'twas the superimposed scar of a wound—had made that side of his face a very nightmare. His wrists and forearms showed gouges that wound upward like snakes and suggested what other torments his gaudy clothing concealed.

"Coupeau," remarked my great-uncle, turning again to me, "is our gunner. I saved him from the French galleys, and he is not without devotion tinged by self-interest which is to be preferred above all.

"And now we will go aft and prepare to receive Captain Flint."

Murray led us to a door in the break of the poop which was opened for us by a stalwart black in a red livery coat, who ushered us along a companionway lined with stateroom doors into a spacious state cabin stretching the width of the stern. The walls were paneled in mahogany; silver sconces were fastened at intervals, and a wondrous luster chandelier was pendant from the ceiling, itself uncommonly lofty for shipboard; several paintings in the French school hung at the sides; and there were trophies of peculiar arms and armor. Underfoot were Eastern rugs, thick-piled and soft of hue.

My great-uncle surveyed this magnificence with pardonable pride. 'Twas evident it meant something to him.

"Diomede," he said to the negro, "where is Master Gunn?"

A high, piping voice answered him from the companionway.

"Coming, worshipful sir. Ben Gunn's a-coming. I jest stopped by the galley to fetch up your chocolate."

The man who followed the voice trotted in bearing a silver pitcher of steaming chocolate, Murray's favorite drink; aye, and food. He was a slender fellow, with a simple, open face, clad in plain black as became an upper servant. He stopped dead at sight of us.

"Set your tray on the table, Gunn," instructed my great-uncle. "This is my grandnephew, Master Ormerod, and his friend, Master Corlaer. They are to sail with us a while."

Gunn pulled his forelock and ducked.

"Sarvant, gentlemen," he acknowledged. "Allus glad to please, is Ben Gunn. Bound to oblige ye, gentlemen. You jest name your drinks, and I'll fetch 'em up from the wine-bins."

"Food as well, Gunn," said Murray. "And Captain Flint is coming aboard."

Ben Gunn cocked his head one side.

"That means rum," he commented. "Plenty o' rum, says you. Jest leave it to Ben, captain."

He ducked and scraped again and skipped off into the companionway with a kind of wiggle like a self-conscious child.

"My steward," remarked my relative."

"The man is a half-wit, is he not?" I asked.

"A natural, yes," assented Murray, tasting the chocolate.

"I should think it would be dangerous to have one so simple in such close proximity to you."

My great-uncle smiled.

"You are quite, quite wrong, my boy. It is for the very reason that the man is incapable of spying that I use him. He is more valuable for my purposes than the most intelligent member of the crew."

He broke off.

"This chocolate is by no means so well brewed as Silver's. An extraordinary fellow, that, monstrously clever—exactly the sort of man, Robert, I never permit to remain near me. Indeed, if you possess the patience and the interest to analyze the composition of my officers and crew you will observe, I believe, that there is not an independently clever man amongst them. Aye, and if you find me a clever man aboard the Royal James—yourself and friend Peter excepted, of course— I will thank you to point him out to me, and I will straightway make a present of him to Flint, who must have half a dozen of the Walrus' crew who esteem themselves equally capable with him of commanding her.

"I am not—by necessity I am not—regarded with affection by my followers. And on the whole, I think I have gotten along better by means of fear than I might have by means of affection. Fear is a natural element in a pirate's career. What place has he in his life for affections? Hark! Do I hear something?"

He did beyond question—an uproar of curses and shouts upon the deck outside.

"It is only that Captain Flint has come aboard. Pray take your seats. I promise you an interesting episode."

The door to the deck banged open, and a harsh, domineering voice bellowed in the companionway.

"—— me, Martin, what the —— —— —— d'ye think ye are? By the —— —— —— ——, ye lousy, slack-bellied swab, ye made us—"

"Stow that, ye —— —— —— apology for a —— —— —— ——," interrupted Martin mildly from the deck. "Why, any —— —— would ha' had more sense than you!"

"Like ——! I'm my own master, I am. I—"

"Ye may be when ye stand on the Walrus' deck, but here you're only another —— —— —— as doesn't know better'n to veer after—"

"Belay for a —— —— lackey, ye slab-faced chunk o' rotted sea-horse! I'll talk to your master!"

Slam went the door, and a mutter of curses rambled from the companionway, preceding a tall, blue-jowled man in a flaming red coat all cobwebbed over with gold lace. He halted in the cabin entrance, hands on his hips, feet planted wide, close-set green eyes flickering balefully on either side of a long nose that seemed to poke out from a tangle of lank, black hair.

"Back, eh, Murray?" he snarled. "Two men the richer for your effort. Gut me, 'twas a fool's errand!"

"Pardon me," objected Murray, "but I am considerably more than 'two men the richer' in consequence of my run ashore—although I would not appear by these words to deprecate the importance to be attached to the acquisition of my grandnephew and Master Corlaer. Permit me, Captain Flint! Master Ormerod, my grandnephew, and Peter Corlaer."

Flint scowled at us, flinging himself into a chair at the opposite end of the table from my great-uncle.

"A youth and a fat man!" he ejaculated. "And unwilling at that, so Bones tells me."

"Master Bones was correct in that statement," my great-uncle assented cheerfully; "but I fancy he neglected to add that the 'fat man' took his knife away from him and must have hanged him had I not intervened."

An appreciable degree of respect dawned in Flint's eyes.

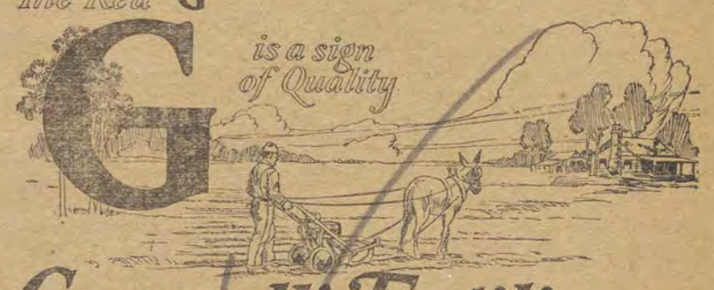
"He is no butter-tub if he bested Bill," conceded the Walrus' captain. "Curse me, though, if I see why you should add a cub to your crew."

"Tut, tut, captain," remonstrated Murray. "'A cub!' Think again. The boy is my heir."

"All he'll fall heir to will be the rope that hung you," returned Flint. "But I'll own I did you wrong when I accused you of being but two men the better by your shore expedition. I was forgetting the red-headed mascot John Silver fetched aboard. 'Tis the first promise o' luck we ha' had!"

My uncle took snuff with much delicacy and rang a silver bell in front of him.

"Gunn is late with the liquor. I must ask your indulgence, captain, for compelling you to talk dry."



Ben Gunn bustled into the cabin and deposited a trayful of decanters, bottles and flasks before us. Captain Flint, without awaiting an invitation, seized upon an earthern receptacle labeled "Gedney's Jamaican Rum," pried out the cork with the point of a knife, tilted it to his mouth and drained a mighty dram. Then he set it down beside him, wiped his mouth on his coat-cuff and cleared his throat.

I pushed a cut-glass carafe of water toward him, supposing he would wish some dilution, and he laughed jarringly.

"You ha' much to learn, my lad," he jeered. "We don't spoil good rum wi' water aboard the Walrus. There's a cask broached this minute on the spar-deck, and all hands fillin' their pannikins as fast as they can empty

(Continued to Page 6)

The Red "G"
is a sign of Quality

Grasselli Fertilizers

are manufactured to give crops a quick start and early maturity. This is very necessary under Boll Weevil conditions.

Satisfaction in every sack, for over 20 years. Look for the big red "G" on the bag.

THE GRASSELLI CHEMICAL COMPANY
Birmingham Gadsden Dothan

FOR SALE BY

MULLINS & MOORE
Clanton, Alabama

Telephone Growth In The South

THE details and results of the operations of the Southern Group of Bell Telephone Companies during the year 1925 enable you to be familiar with the progress of the telephone industry in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, the Carolinas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee. This presentation is but a continuation of our policy of taking the public fully into our confidence, and expressing the appreciation of the telephone workers for your friendly interest and co-operation.

In these nine States there was an expenditure last year of approximately $23,668,700 for gross additions to the telephone plant.

There was a net gain of 54,186 new telephone stations, making a total of 1,147,590 telephone stations in the nine States. Of these 772,979 are Bell owned, 336,430 are owned by other companies, but connected with the Bell System.

The investment in service, December 31, 1925, was $143,962,506, not including $2,855,011 of construction work in progress.

To build, operate, maintain and manage this system requires the services of an army of skilled men and women, whose annual payroll amounts to $20,835,362. Another big expense was the tax bill of $3,966,784 for last year, which is three times as great as the tax bill for the year 1918.

It is a matter of pride that the service was the best for any year since the war.

Another source of satisfaction has been our happy relations with our customers and with the public. The telephone workers appreciate your friendly co-operation, and it encourages them to strive continually to render the kind of service you want.

W. E. BARE, Alabama Manager

"BELL SYSTEM"
SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
One Policy, One System, Universal Service

Groceries --- Fruits

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

Leader Reductions

Below are printed a few of the many Reductions that are to be found in our large stock. There are hundreds of other things in like proportion.

One lot of mens Scout Work Shoes, made with composition soles; a dandy for every day use; all sizes; special, ... $1.99

One lot of good Cotton Checks in assorted Patterns; first come first served; yd., ...9c

Lot of ladies low-cut Oxfords in all sizes but broken lots; shoes worth up to $5; no high heels; special, ... $1.98

Extra Special---lot of ladies felt house Shoes in all bright colors and shades; all sizes; Special, per pair, ... 69c

One lot of mens heavy Blue Work Shirts, triple stitched; full faced sleeves; all sizes; a real value for 69c

One lot of good Bed Ticking; special per yard, only 10c

One lot ladies new Spring Hats, just received; come and get first chance $1.98

Lot ladies 50c sport Ribbed hose, in all colors; special, ... 39c

Lot childrens 25c hose in black only; all sizes 5 to 10; special, ... 14c

Lot of ladies Silk Hose, in all colors, slightly imperfect, ... 25c

One lot ffine Curtain Scrim in white and ecru; special per yard, ... 9c
Lot mens Felt Hats, in all sizes, assorted colors; special, ... $1.39
Lot good heavy Turkish Bath Towels, ... 23c
One lot of Suit Cases, $2 values, only $1.25
Lot of 65c Brooms, special, ... 33c
One lot of mens all-wool Suits in broken sizes; all colors and shades; special, $9.75

Exceptional values and large stock of new Spring Dresses, Coats, mens and boys Suits, Shoes and Hats—all prices have been reduced.

THE STORE THAT ALWAYS SAVES YOU MONEY

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE
CLANTON, ALA.

THE STORE WHERE YOU GET QUALITY AND LOW PRICES

Be sure and see our lovely Coats and Dresses, and you will be glad you came and looked.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Last Sunday the Missionary Committee had charge of the meeting of the Christian Endeavor. It was supposed that a very rich member of the society had died and had left for missions, either in China, India or Japan, $10,000. Each field had a representative who gave their plea. After this, the society voted as to which field needed help most, and India won. Such meetings create a desire for more mission work.

Rev. Bakke announces Scandinavian service at 10:30 next Sunday at the Swedish Lutheran church. There will be no service the Fourth, but on the 21st at 10:30 a.m., there will be English confirmation service.

Mr. W. H. Goodgame, made a business trip to Birmingham last Friday.

Mrs. Mary Littleton and daughter, Bertha, were visitors to Clanton last Thursday.

Mr. E. N. Bentley spent last Friday in Birmingham on business.

Mr. Sidney J. Davenport was host to the senior class of Thorsby Institute and others last Friday night, when he celebrated his 19th birthday. The home was very pretty with flowers and potted plants. The color scheme was carried out in pink and white. After games and contests delicious refreshments were served to about 25 guests.

Mrs. W. J. Billingsley and Mrs. Sara Parrish were the guests of Mrs. R. L. Bonner at Jemison Thursday.

Mr. Ernest Eiland, who has been working at Valdosta, Ga., has been spending a few days at home with his parents, having been on the sick list.

Mrs. W. L. Leary was a visitor to Birmingham Tuesday night of last week.

Mrs. Chas. Lucas was hostess last Friday afternoon, when she entertained in honor of Mrs. Pete Watters. After a seciol hour, delightful refreshments were served to Mesdames N. C. Peterson, Carl C. Peterson, G. F. Harper, E. R. Piper, H. W. Peterson, and Pete Watters.

Miss Palma Dahl spent Sunday here with her father.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Piper and Mrs. G. F. Harper left Monday for a few days visit to Birmingham.

Mrs. Pete Watters returned to her home in Ensley Monday, after spending several weeks with Mrs. E. R. Piper.

Mr. Sylvester Robinson of Birmingham was a visitor to Thorsby Saturday and Sunday.

This week is being observed as the week of prayer at the Thorsby Baptist church. The following auxiliaries observe on the days named: W. M. U., Monday p.m.; Y. W. A., Tuesday; R. A., Wednesday; G. A. Thursday; Sunbeams, Friday.

The teaching force of the Thorsby Public School is all at work this week and business is in progress as usual.

In a walk about town we note some real estate activities. Thorsby Institute auditorium walls for the basement, with its room, are nearing completion. Mrs. Merchant's new house on the highway near the Gin is now under roof and work is progressing nicely. A few rods to the north Mr. Pete Franklin is putting up a small building to be used at a filling station not only for motors but for motorists, otherwise known as a "lunch room." Stll further north we find Robert Davevnport's new house practcally completed and occupied; while over to the east on the same tract, Mrs. Wlder's new home is so far toward completion that he has moved in. Up on Michigan Ave., not far south of Jones Street, a force of men is at work tearing down the old house formerly owned by Mrs. T. O. Swan but now the property of George Mims. Since most of the material is yet of better quality than can now be had at reasonable cost, Mr. Mims will use it in the erection of a neat modern bungalow. In conversation with Mrs. G. L. Foshee, we learned that she wants to sell her home here and build a small house for herself in the vicinity of the homes of her two married haughters near Clanton. Since the death of her husband, she longs to be near her kinsfolk.

Mr. H. H. Dahl has rented his farm to Adolphus Martin.

The basket ball tournament, together with a reading, declamation and music contest at Alabama College, Montevallo, said to have been participated in by representatives from 150 Alabama high schools, claimed the attention of a large contingent of Thorsby citizens during the last three days of the past week. Two students from Thorsby Institute music department, Miss Loris Primm and Miss Dorothy Butler, were entered as contetants. While they acquitted themselves with skill that attracted considerable attenion, neither of them won the honor.

Irene Benson, Dorothy Butler, Lois Primm, and Miss Parker, returned home Friday night, after a delightful two-days visit at the Alabama College in Montevallo. The three girls went as candidates from Thorsby Institute to play in the Piano contest. Almost all day Thursday was spent in the "try-outs." In the evening they attended a recital given by the music department of the college.

ORMAN HOLLEY, 16, DEAD

The death of Orman Holley, age 16, son of J. R. Holley, died at the home of his father last Sunday night following a brief illness with flu and pneumonia. Burial was at Mt. Pisgah Tuesday, the funeral conducted by Rev. J. H. Lembrick and Rev. T. J. Deason. Martin had charge of the burial.

The young man was a student in the Chilton County High School. His class attended the funeral in a body, six of his boy friends in the class acting as pall bearers.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Mrs. R. D. Davis of Clanton was operated on for appendicitis last week and is improving fast. She will soon be able to return to her home.

Mrs. Newt Wyatt, who came into the hospital last week in a very critical condition, is improving nicely after having undergone a major operation.

Miss Sarah Lambert, who has been ill for several weeks, is expxecting to return in the next day or so.

Mr. J. E. Thomas was operated on Tuesday, and is resting fine now.

Mrs. J. T. Weldon, who was brought to the hospital Sunday night is improving fast and is the mother of a five-pound girl.

Mr. S. D. McCary was operated on Monday afternoon, and is resting very nicely.

I want to buy 1,000 bushels of Peas in the next ten days. M. A. GORE, Clanton, Ala. 1d

UNCLE JUNIUS PROPERTY SOLD

Last Friday the Tennessee-Alabama uction Company sold at public auction the four lots belonging to R. C. Mixon and better known as the Uncle Junius place just west of the cemetery. Mr. Jim Popwell bought the corner lot and the other three were bought by Mr. Joe Franklin. The whole deal brought $1,600. Both Mr. Popwell and Mr. Franklin say that they will improve the property within the near future.

Mrs. S. L. Thornton and children of Birmingham spent the week end here with relatives.

Mr. W. M. Devaughn of Verbena was among the visitors in town last Thursday.

Mr. Buford Lawrence has returned from Washington, D. C., where he went to attend an educational convention.

Mr. W. E. Harrison of Columbiana was in town Thursday.

Mr. J. A. Nivens went to Chelsea Thursday to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law.

Mr. Robert Evans went to Montevallo Saturday on business.

Rev. W. M. Mims of Maplesville was in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown spent the week end in Sylacauga.

Mr. Martin Nix of Birmingham was in town last Wednesday.

I want to buy 1,000 bushels of Peas in the next ten days. M. A. GORE, Clanton, Ala. 1d

GUS ALBERT BURIED HERE

Gus Albert, age 44, died at his home in Birmingham last Saturday night. His body was shipped to Clanton and buried Monday. Dr. Ezell conducted the funeral, and Martin had charge of the burial.

Mr. Albert is survived by his wife, who is a daughter of Mr. Pink Giles, and four children.

About twelve years ago Mr. Albert came to this county during the construction of Lock 12, and was employed as a cook at the construction camp on the river. Some years ago he went back to Birmingham, where he has been living ever since.

His death was preceded by a short illness with flu and pneumonia.

DEATH OF D. W. PATTERSON

Daniel W. Patterson, age 56, died suddenly at his home three miles south east of Deatsville on February 23rd. He was buried at Chestnut Creek cemetery at Coopers on February 24th. Dr. Ezell conducted the funeral and Martin had charge of the burial.

Mr. Patterson is survived by a wife and nine children.

DEATH OF S. J. DUPRIEST

Sidney J. Dupriest of Mineral Springs, Beat 12, died at the hospital in Clanton last Tuesday, February 23. He was 64 years old, and is survived by a large family of children. His wife died last June.

Mr. Dupriest had been in bad health for some months past, and was at the hospital for treatment. He was able to be up and walking about the recreation rooms of the hospital when a sudden attack of heart failure snuffed out his life unexpxectedly.

He was buried at Collins Chapel on February 25th, the funeral being conducted by Rev. W. P. Lowery with Martin in charge of the burial.

FOR RENT--One 2-horse Farm Two 1-horse farms; first class land.—Gulledge Bros., Verbena, Ala. 1c

FARM FOR SALE

Good red land farm at a bargain, 30 miles from Montgomery, 5 miles from Autaugaville, railrad town, near Montgomery-Selma Highway. Old colonial home, tenant houses, 8 horse rented this year. Lots of level land; 640 acres, $10,000.

Reason for selling—the young man who owns it lives in another State, is engaged in mercantile business and needs the money. Advise quick action. Come in car and look it over.

J. G. HICKS, Autaugaville, Ala.

Very Special

For The High School Girls

Beautiful Compacts made in the High School colors with a little C. H. S. pennant on each one. Girls, don't miss this opportunity to get one of these lovely novelties.

New Wash Goods

In fast colors, for the spring dresses. The newest in dress materials. Pongees in all colors. Now is the time to get a sport dress Cheap!

Window Draperies

Winter, with its soot and smoke, is almost gone, and this is the season to get New Draperies for the home. Just received a big shipment of handsome draperies and bright, cheerful colors. We will make them for you.

Robinson Bargain Store

Clanton, Ala.

Starr Music Co.'s

Special Announcement

We are going to give you the chance of a lifetime

For the next few days we will sell you either of these Pianos at a Real Bargain.

Princess Baby Grand . $750

Regular Price $875.

Starr Upright Richmond Model . $425

Regular Price $475

These are New Pianos that have never been in any home. Be sure to come and see these Bargains if you want to buy a Piano worth more than what you pay for it. Terms if desired.

Also hear your Favorite Record played on the Player Piano with Mandolin Attachment.

We have with us Mr. M. Raulf, factory expert Piano Tuner and Repair man. His work is guaranteed. Let us know about your Music Troubles.

STARR MUSIC COMPANY

Bell Phone 97 E. T. Weldon, Mgr.

CLANTON, ALABAMA.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

Plant seed in the garden each week.

This is the last call for winter spraying.

"No farmer should plant seed that is not the best." M. J. Funchess, Auburn.

Plenty of exercise and green pastures during pleasant days are essential to best results with the sow.

Plan a systematic crop rotation trat will provide abundance of feed for all livestock kept on the farm.

"Save the spring pigs for they will be more valuable than usual this year." F. W. Burns, Auburn.

Fifteen ccoperative cotton-marketing associations in 13 states have a total membership of 280,000 and handle 90 per cent of the American cotton crop.

"Farmers should prepare to farm this year so they will make money even tho the price of cotton is low." L. N. Duncan, Auburn.

In a recent taxation discussion in congress it was brought out that the wealth of the United States in tangible property in 1922 was $300,000,000,000. About $9,000,000,000 of it, or 3 per cent, is transferred by death annually.

Insurance against hail is a new service offered Illinois farmers by the Illinois Mutual Insurance Cnmpany which was formed last year by the Farm Bureau of that State. Under the new plan farmers will be able to insure their crops against hail at a rate of $2.00 to $2.50 per $100 of risk.

A southern rural electrification conference, the first electrical meeting of its kind ever held in the United States, has been called for Montgomery, April 6 to 8. Farmers, leaders in agricultural and rural electrification work, extension workers, agricultural college officials, representatives of the hydro-electric power companies, and others interested will be present.

President Coolidge gave a twist to his pen and lopped more than $300,000,000 from the taxbills of his employers, the American people. Representative Garner, of Texas, ranking democratic member of the house finance committee, and Representative Green, Iowa, chairman of house finance committee, witnessed the signing of the new revenue law.

The Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association has recieved for marketing cooperatively 106,212 bales of the 1925 cotton crop. This represents an increase of 26,863 over the previous year, which was the largest up to that date. The books of the Association show that its first year, the 1922 crop, it received 57,410 bales; next year 65,316; and the third, 79,388. Autauga, Limestones, and Lauderdale were the three leading counties in pooling cotton of the 1925 crop.

Recent reportss indicate the 1925 crop is not being consumed quite as rapidly as was indicated earlier in the season when it was thought that consumption would be around one million bales in excess of the previous year. At present old crop prices are 4½ to 6¼ cents and new crop prices are 7 to 7½ cents a pound under quotations a year ago. If farmers increase their average over last year, or even hold it up to that high point, further declines are expected.

Squire John S. Dennis of beat 11 is considering the matter of running for Representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama. He will announce his decision in the matter in a few days.

THE 50TH BIRTHDAY OF THE TELEPHONE

The 50th birthday of the telephone will be celebrated March 10th this year by 320,000 Bell telephone workers and thousands of others throughout the United States and Canada.

In honor of the occasion men and women in the telephone industry everywhere will wear an attractive button, showing a telephone and the numerals 50. These workekrs during the 24-hour period of celebration will enable telephone subscribers to complete 67,700,000 messages— an almost unbelievable expansion from one sentence on March 10, 1876, to the millions of conversations March 10, 1926.

Open house will be observed at the local telephone office on March 10th, in commemoration of the anniversary. Telephone subscriberr and the general public have been invited to visit the office during birthday week and see how telephone service is rendered.

There are 20,500 Bell telephone workers in the Southeastern states who will join in the nation-wide celebration. The South can claim with pride that the telephone owes a part of its development to the reception given it in the South in its infancy.

Among the first telephone exchanges established were those opened in some of the leading cities of the South during the year 1879. Among the cities in this pioneer list are Augusta, Savannah and Atlanta, Ga.; Charleston, S. C.; Wilmington, N. C.; Mobile, Ala.; Louisville, Ky.; and Richmond, Lynchburg and Norfolk, Va.

The first building ever erected to be used exclusively as a telephone exchange was constructed in Louisville, Ky., some fifteen years before the close of the nineteenth century.

Four days after his 29th birthday and three days before the first sentence was transmitted, Alexander Graham Bell, an impetuous young Scotchman, received his patent for the telephone. If he had lived until today, he would have seen his first telephone system of two crude instruments, connected by a few feet of wire, and protected by a single patent, develop into a system of 16,600,000 Bell owned stations, connected by 51,000,000 miles of wire, and protected by a total of 9,000 patents. There are 27,213,100 telephones in use in the world today, of which number, 61% are located in the United States and most of them are a part of the Bell System.

On March 10, fifty years ago, the first sentence was transmitted over the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell from his laboratory on the top floor of an old house in Bosaon to Thomas A. Watson, his assistant, in another room on the same floor. The first words words transmitted were "Mr. Watson, come here. I want you." These two men were the sole active telephone workers at that time.

The early days of the telephone furnish a thrill'ng story of a desperate struggle for life in a cold business world which frowned on sinking money in a "toy," as the telephone was then called. Four men gave themselves without reserve to bless the world with the electrical transmission of speech. Each made a distinct contribution. Bell contributed his inventive genius; Thomas A. Watson, his skilled craftsmanship which fashioned Bell's idea into a working instrument; Thomas Sanders, the first financial assistance, which was inspired by the love of his daughter for the romantic inventor; and Gardiner G. Hubbard, the first publicity man for the telephone, the personality necessary to acquaint the world with its possibilities. The common contribution of each was faith and enthusiasm that entailed sacrifice. Thomas A. Watson is the only member of this group living today.

Development in business and organization backed by the patient toil of the scientists in the Bell Research Laboratories has featured the telephone's progress in recent years.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO CONDEMN LAND

State of Alabama, Chilton County—
Chilton County vs. Carrie S. McMaster, et al—In Probate Court.

To: Mrs. Annie S. Allen, c|o Jack Parrish, West Hampton, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Bessie S. Hestle, No. 4 Parkview Apt., Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. J. M. Bruner, No. 20 Peden St., Westminster, S. C.

You are hereby notified that Chilton County, a Municipal Corporation, has filed in the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, for the condemnation of certain lands and interests therein described and among said lands described in said application are the following:

A strip of land 50 feet wide lying 25 feet on either side of a center line as located and staked by the Highway Department of Alabama designated as Federal Aid Project No. 100-B, and more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the intersecsection of the property line of Willie Howard and the Simpson Estate with the center line of said road, depths running 1389 feet, more or less, to the intersection of the property line of said Simpson Estate and J. R. Taylor with the center line of said road running in a Southwesterly direction from said property line of Willie Howard to the property line of J. R. Taylor. The above tract of land lying in the South-East Quarter of the North-West Quarter of Section 17, Township 20, Range 16, Chilton County, Alabama, and containing One and 59|100 (1 & 59|100) Acres, more or less.

The said application avers that said Chilton County proposes to construct, build, use, maintain a public highway or road, and in so doing the land above described, of which you are an owner, or have an interest therein, will likely be traversed or crossed by said road, and you are hereby notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the court for the 19th day of March, 1926, and you may appear and contest said application if you think proper.

Witness my hand, this, the 17th day of February, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS.
2-25-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Honorable L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate Court of Chilton County, I, Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, Administratrix of the estate of J. W. Lawrence, deceased, will sell at public outcry to the highest bidder in front of the Court House door of Chilton County, Alabama on Monday, the 22nd day of March, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, for cash, the following described real estate belonging to said estate, to-wit:

The North half of the Southwest quarter, and the North half of the Southwest quarter of the Southwest quarter, and the South half of the Southwest quarter of the Northwest quarter, all in Sec. 10, Tp. 21, Range 11, containing 120 acres, more or less, and being situated in Chilton County, Ala.

MRS. J. W. LAWRENCE,
Administratrix.
ATKINSON & PITTS,
2-25-3t-ch Attys. for Admx.

Investigation of the punishment met by "Pete" Taylor, a convict who recently died at an Alabama convic camp eight days after he began serving his sentence was broadened at Tuscumbia when his father, J W. Taylor, demanded the exhumation of his son's body to ascertain if possible what caused his death.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of February 18, 1901.

The Chilton Reflector "does not know how to be anything but a democrat, and it would be worse than useless for anyone but a democrat to go to the convention, and the opposition will be a little more than a notch on a stick."—Editor Hudson.

The earth was covered with snow last Tuesday morning.

Mr. J. M. Beasley of Jemison paid a visit to Hard Town last Saturday.

Mr. E. W. Willis reports having seen a signal star for the past few nights. He says it was about a half-hour high at 8 o'clock, and moves back and forth.

Former Senator J. H. Parker from Wetumpka was here Wednesday.

Mr. Tom Evans of Birmingham visited relatives here Sunday.

Chilton County has a new Tax Commissioner, Mr. W. M. Adams of Clanton, who was appointed Wednesday.

Married this week—J. F. Durden and Miss Julia Headley, J. W. Walker and Miss Annie Bowman, E. H. Wingate and Miss Mary C. Caffey.

Those initiated in the Masonic fraternity last week—Guy Higgins, W. T. Aldridge, A. C. Smith, Dr. O. M. Wisehart, J. P. VanDerveer, W. H. Sartor, W. I. Mullins, Dr. E. A. Matthews, and C. J. Stewart.

Mr. N. A. Logan has removed his family from Strasburg to Clanton.

Dr. H. W. Caffey has announced as a delegate to the state Democratic convention. Dr. Caffey was the first Probate Judge of Lowndes County after the Civil War.

Col. Robert H. Knox went to Montgomery Tuesday on legal business.

A bill was passed in the House yesterday to "provide for holding stock law elections in the districts of Chilton County to discontinue and amend laws preventing stock from running at large therein."

After six years' litigation in which it has resisted the efforts of the Alabama public service commission to require it to construct a new station at Attalla, the Southern railway has decided to quit the fight and to make up plans immediately "for a station that will serve every purpose."

The Big Jack Rabbit MINSTREL SHOW

20 People

Will arrive in Clanton Monday, March 8th, and open under Canvas on the Vacant Lot Monday Night, 7:30. IT IS FREE. Come EVERYBODY—and enjoy a good laugh. This is a clean and moral show in every way for Ladies, Gentlemen and Children. Under management of the Ben Tone Man. Introducing Ben Tone and the Famous Jack Rabbit Remedies. He will give short health lectures each night for ten days—Beneficial to the young as well as the old. This company has just closed a five-week campaign for the Tillman Drug Co., in Selma, where they met with great success. And these Remedies have been endorsed by many of the leading Druggists throughout the South. They will be here for at least ten days to demonstrate these remedies for UPCHURCH DRUG CO., who have been awarded exclusive agency in Clanton.

The Jack Rabbit Remedies

Don't Forget Monday Night, March 8th, at 7:30. COME

Shumate
CUTLERY
Made of Razor Steel—It Stays Sharp
For Sale by
Alred Drug Company
CLANTON, ALA.

"Chuckle" Column

IF--

You live beyond your Income—people say
"You're a gambler."

IF—

You live within your
Means and occasionally
Have spine enough to Say "No!"—they call
You a "piker."

IF—

You wear a perpetual
Grin, they think you're
Silly or they whisper
Suspicions that you
Have "something on the Hip."

IF—

You frown or are Engaged in deep thought—
They label you
A "grouch."

IF—

You put on a blank
Expression, they claim
You're "dead from the Neck up."

SO—

What's the use? Just—
KEEP SMILING!
And let the rest of the World go to—

The beauty parlors to
Have its gloomy wrinkles
Ironed out!

——§§§——

Ha-Ha! Ha-Ha! Just glimpsed a newspaper heading that said—"CHEWING FOOD IS AID TO HEALTH!" Not a bad idea. It might keep us from choking.

——§§§——

Want To Hire A Nice Clerk - - - Temporarily Unemployed?

Happened into a department store yesterday and heard a lady ask the clerk:
"What have you in Men's Shirts?"
"See the floor-walker!" was the reply.

——§§§——

Uncle Ezra just came in and—snapping his red suspenders—gave us these straight from his windpipe:

"Clotheslines, by heck, often reveal the inside story of yer neighbor's wealth.

"The man who can't face the music is outta tune somewhere in his makeup.

"If all men lost their heads in a pinch—the hatmakers would hafta go outta business.

"Many a baker's son has been college-bred.

"If yer 'at sea' on anything, it usually means—the joke's too deep."

——§§§——

See where the experts say "drinkers eat more candy than ever before." Huh—they've got to. They can't afford to have their wives get wise.

——§§§——

Hey! Who Threw That Brick?

Lettuce remark:
"Are not two heads better than one when—they're cabbage?"

——§§§——

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"And then the villian jumped on his horse and rode in all directions!"

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

ENTERPRISE NEWS

Please allow me a few lines in the dear old Banner.

People of this community are farming right along.

Mr. and Mrs Morris Logan of Enterprise visited Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Logan of Cooper last Saturday and enjoyed a fine time, it being Mrs Ella Logan's Birthday, she was 47 years of age and a fine dinner was served, and a large crowd was present.

Mrs Evie Logan and Mrs Susie Gray visited Mrs. Sarah Boockholt last Thursday and enjoyed a nice time.

Mr. John and Mrs Evie Logan of Enterprise were in Cooper Saturday shopping

Mr. Newt Logan and little sisters, Lillian and Zora Bell visited their sister Mrs. Bessie Driver of Eastview last Saturday and enjoyed a nice time.

A Reader

BETHSALEM NEWS

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphus Moore spent Thursday night with Mrs. Doshia Vinson.

Mrs. Lula Gray visited Mrs. Emma Pierce Saturday.

Mrs. Nancy Friday spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Stella Askins.

A truck load of people attended the singing at Bethany Sunday afternoon.

Next Saturday and Sunday are our regular preaching days. Everybody invited.

Telepathy.—"I can understand how they find new planets, but I can't understand how they get to know their names!"—Vikingon Also.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

CLANTON GRAMMAR SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

The following pupils made an average above 90 and were not absent during the sixth month:

Junior II.—Nelson Parrish, Stanley Nivens, Minnie Gray, Mary Foshee, Louise McSwain, William Arthur Willis, William Honeycutt, Georgia Wood, Vivian Gray, Bill Minor.

Sixth Grade—Zebbie Gray, Mary Heard, Myrtle Headley, Herman Harris, Mary Sue Jones, Erin Littlejohn, Leora Mims, Ottis Miller, Charlsie Pyron, Jane Roberts, Pauline Wells, Manette Wallace, Joe VanDerveer.

Fifth Grade—Anderson Wallace, Herbert Ward, Dorothy Sessions, Lois Miller, Margaret Johnson, Sallie Mahan, Imogene Simms, Elizabeth McSwain, Frank Sullivan, Alex Hayes, James Parrish, Nellie Mae Caldwell, Jasper Cox.

Fourth Grade—Hal Broadhead, Lee Allen Minor, Carl Jones, Cecil Jones, Elizabeth Harris, Mavis Miller, John Thomas Marler, Helen Moore, John Ezell, Mary Frances Raspberry, Dan Smith, Pauline Plyler, Grady Reynolds.

Third Grade—Marvin Minor, I. V. Jones, Pauline Cox, Elizabeth Gragg, Ruth Jones, Katie Lou Marcus, Louise Maddox, Grace Plyler, Alsie Mae Wilson.

Second Grade—Bill Armstrong, Celia Gerald, Maldia Askins, Gladys Martin, Mary Courtney Jones.

First Grade—James Jones, Thelma Arant, Juanita Miller, Gladys Roper, Annie Rea Wilson, Elizabeth Williams, Ruth Minor, Lois Langston, Delene Thomas, Cecil Carter, Escynia Popwell.

Music—Ethel Mae Jones, Louise McSwain, Mary Heard, Mary Foshee, Hilda Hart, Lawrence Gerald, Celia Gerald, Sallye Mahan, Elizabeth McSwain, Elizabeth Gragg, Gladys Martin, Nell Neighbors, Priscilla Johnson, Lucile Scroggins, Ruby Moatts, Dorothy Sessions, Frances Higgins, Lavolia Roper, Vivian Gray, Elizabeth Harris, Charisie Pyron, Eloise Raspberry, Nell Ross Mullins, Manette Wallace, Margaret Johnson, Lois Miller.—W. E. Martin, Principal.

LIBERTY HILL-CEDAR GROVE

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove Singing Society met at Cedar Grove last Sunday afternoon with an extra large crowd, and had some fine singing.

The directors for the afternoon were Mr. J. W. Lowery, Mr. Abe Robinson, Mr. Zack Lowery, Mr. Kermit Lowery and Harrison Hayes.

The organist were Mrs Bonnie Rollins, Mrs. Shade Dorminey and Miss Lucile Price.

We were glad to have so many with us, and invite them to come back again.

CHEVROLET NEWS

A greater number of automobiles is being built this month by Chevrolet Motor Company than ever before was produced in a single month by any manufactorer of modern three speed gear shifft cars.

The schedule, which constitues a new monthly record for Chevrolet, calls for more than 57,500 passenger cars and trucks. According to W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the company, this total is more than 14,000 greater than the production during March of 1925.

To attain this record production, plant facilities were increased recently to a daily maximum of 2,525 motors, the day and night shifts now averaging 135 motors per hour.

The new high schedule for March follows a persistent, winter demand for Chevrolet which neccessitated a record January production of more than 44,000 units, three times the production of January, 1925. In February Chevrolet production rose to 51,000 which was nearly twice the number of units built during the corresponding month of last year.

INDIAN GRAVE NEWS

Dear Editor.

Please allow us a small space in your paper this week.

We were glad to see such a pretty day last Sunday.

There was a singing at this place Sunday afternoon and a large crowd attended. We had some real good singing.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Carter and their llitle son spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Askins.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Carter spent the day with Mrs. M. M. Billingsley and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Watt Spigner dined with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Coggins Sunday.

Miss Winnie Adams dined with Miss Lora Billingsley.

Mrs. M. M. Billingsley and her family motored to Haynes last Saturday night and reported a nice time.

Mr. Preston Patrick and Misses Winnie and Jettie Adams and Everee Coggins motored to a play last Friday night and reported a nice time.

Miss Everee Coggins spent the night with Misses Jettie and Winnie Adams last Friday night.

Burning the Candle at Both Ends.—Mrs. W. F. Watson of Stearns St. will entertain at a bridge party for a few days.—Society News in a Connecticut paper.

Preapered for the Worst.—Wife—"That boy of ours gets more like you every day."

Husband (meekly)—"What's he been up to now?"—The Humorist (London).

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page 2)

'em wi' red-headed Darby astride the Butt for luck."

"Which means you will be in no condition to make sail a few hours hence," deplored my great-uncle, wagging his head. "'Tis foolishness, Flint. This rum-swigging will yet prove the undoing of you and every man of your crew."

"Look to your ship, and I'll look to mine," snapped Flint, quaffing a wineglass of the goblet's contents.

My uncle stared him straight in the eye with a hard, direct thrust of power which stirred my unwilling admiration.

"To Whom Do You Owe Your Present Position?" He Asked Coldly.

"To whom do you owe your present position?" he asked coldly.

Flint made a patent attempt to stare him down, but abandoned the effort and looked away.

"Some might say one thing and some another," he muttered.

"To whom do you owe your present position, Flint?" repeated Murray.

"Oh, to you, most like," admitted Flint. "Blast you!"

"Have I ever led you into difficulties?" continued my great-uncle.

"Not if—"

"Have I ever led you into difficulties?"

"No."

"Have we failed in any important venture since our association began?"

"You ha' a head on your shoulders," conceded Flint.

"And you have not," amended Murray. "No, do not say any more. You are an excellent man to handle your ship, Flint, and as fearless as any of our ruffians; but you are no more capable of looking ahead a week or two than Ben Gunn."

"Well, what would you?" Flint flung at him with an air of defiance, which Murray ignored.

'I would make the greatest coup we have attempted."

Flint laughed disagreeably.

"So you said when you arranged to go into New York, but you have carried back no treasure with you."

My uncle regarded him with what, under other circumstances, I should describe as honest indignation.

"You fool!" he said with a rasp in his voice—and I did not wonder that Flint pulled sidewise in his chair as if to avoid a stab. "Did you think I was to go into that huddle of a town, with its wealth in furs and groceries, and fetch out a treasure?"

"What then?" demanded Flint, moistening his lips.

My uncle leaned forward across the table, lips drawn tight over his teeth. His eyes shot sparks.

"Knowledge, fool! Intelligence! That which wise men labor a lifetime to secure and the ignorant pass by in the gutter."

Murray rose from the table and commenced to stroll the length of the cabin, hands clasped under the skirts of his coat. And as he strolled he talked. Flint followed his every move uneasily, with occasional drafts of rum. Peter and I watched the two of them, fascinated by this conflict of wills, which was to exert a vital influence upon our lives—yes, and upon those of hundreds of others.

"I must speak in simple terms, I perceive. Flint," began my great-uncle.

The passion was out of his voice, and the sentence trickled from his lips slowly, with an air of detachment.

Flint nodded sullenly, seeing that an answer was required.

"We have frequently discussed the possibility of taking one of the Spanish treasure ships," continued Murray. "But we have never attempted the project because we could not discover the date of sailing or the port wherein the treasure was embarked. It hath been the custom of the Spaniards in recent years—in fact, since the depredations of Morgan and his brethern to shift arbitrarily the port of embarkation from year to year, as likewise to change the date of sailing. One year the port would be Cartagena, the next Chagres, the next Porto Bello, the next even Vera Cruz. They have been known to ship the year's produce of the mines around Cape Horn. And similarly the treasure ships, which used formerly to sail invariably in the fall of the year, now depart whenever it pleases the fancy of the council of the Indies to fix a date."

He paused, and Flint rasped—

"So much is known to all of us."

"I conceded as much," answered Murray smoothly. "What follows you do not know. When we returned from Madagascar—"

"'Twas against my advice," growled Flint. "Ye play too much wi' politics."

"With politics! Exactly," agreed my great-uncle. "Well, perhaps I do. 'Tis true that so far I have obtained trifling advantage from the sport, excluding one substantial fortune, this vessel we are in and the information which makes it possible for me to take this year's treasure ship."

Flint sat erect. I caught my breath. Peter, too, showed a gleam of excitement in his little eyes that twinkled from behind the ramparts of flesh that masked his solemn face.

"—— me, Murray!" swore Flint. "Do you say that in sober earnest? How—how much?" he quavered.

"One million five hundred thousand pounds."

There was a moment of silence. The clean, golden sunlight flooded through the stern windows and dappled the polished surface of the table with darting molts and beams. Flint's jaw dropped on his chest. His green eyes glared. Peter and I were as dazed as himself. Only my great-uncle remained calm, pacing quietly up and down the carpeted deck, eyes fixed upon some distant vision of the future.

"All—that?" stammered Flint. "'Sdeath! 'Twould be the greatest haul in our time, Murray."

"It is ours," affirmed Murray. "Upon terms."

"Terms?" echoed Flint. "What terms? Who can compel us to terms?"

My great-uncle came to a stop in front of him.

"My terms, let us say," he answered.

"But if ye know of yourself where it can be taken why must we bother wi' terms, Murray?" clamored Flint. "What's riches for us can be pared down to short cuts if it must be shared out right and left. If we take it, why not take all?"

"Because," retorted Murray with a burst of terrible energy, "I have passed my word as to the terms upon which the treasure is to be taken."

"What's your word?" rapped Flint.

For a moment I thought my great-uncle would strike him. He made to draw back his arm, and perspiration stood out in white beads upon his forehead. Flint feared it, too, but did not raise a hand to protect himself, charmed to immobility by the virulence of the basilisk's stare which Murray directed at him.

"It is my word," said Murray finally in a very soft voice. "No more, Flint. A poor thing, as the poet hath said, yet my own! Also—that I may chime in harmony with your mental processes—it happens that my personal interests are bound up with the observance of these terms.

"It is a matter we will not discuss further, since it is beyond the range of your comprehension. I shall merely say that the terms are fixed, and that you will either accept or reject them."

"What are they?"

"As to division of the spoils? One hundred thousand pounds to myself as author and architect of the plan; seven hundred thousand to our two ships; and seven hundred thousand to my friends who co-operated with me to make it possible."

Flint brought his fist crashing down upon the table.

"I'll be —— if I accept!" he shouted. "What? Less than half to our company? And you sneaking off with a cool hundred thousand pounds in your pockets, and your friends, as like as not, splitting secretly with you!"

My great-uncle refreshed himself with snuff, contriving to invest the ceremony with an effect of distaste which I found amusing.

"Stap me, but you have a low mind!" he drawled. "Allow me to direct your attention to the fact that the plan amounts to my friends and I undertaking voluntarily to present you an opportunity to participate in the division of seven hundred thousand pounds, for which you will be called upon to do nothing except agree to follow out several stipulations I shall lay down."

"Let's hear 'em."

My great-uncle ticked off the items upon his finger-tips.

"First, 'tis highly desirable that we should lie low during the ensuing months. Activities such as we usually conduct would tend to affright the council of the Indies and bring about a change in plan for the treasure ship's sailing."

"What shall we do, then?"

"My counsel is to bear up for Spyglass island and careen there. Both ships are foul, and 'twill prove an excellent opportunity to make all clean and right."

Flint nodded.

"We shall need our speed against the Spaniard," he commented.

"I shall," returned my great-uncle with some emphasis. "This brings me to my second point. 'Tis advisable that we do not cruise in company for the treasure. I aim to intercept the Santissima Trinidad before she passes from the Caribbean into the Atlantic."

The blue look became intensified in Flint's face.

"You'd leave the Walrus behind?" he demanded.

"I must. Figure it for yourself," argued my relative. "Two tall ships plying the narrow seas, within easy sail of Jamaica and the Havana and Marmico! We should have the frigates after us in no time. My plan is to masquerade as a king's ship, running from any ugly customers who show themselves."

"Aye," said Flint. "And after you'd taken the treasure and stowed it all below hatches what thought would

Continued to Page 6)

FREE

With every $10 Cash spent with us we will give either a set of cups and saucers, or a set of plates. With every 50 cents worth of soap and powder we will give one mixing bowl FREE—as long as they last.

We buy goods in large quantities at jobbers' prices, and will sell for cash at absolute wholesale prices, where package is not broken. We will give these prices on Lard by the can, Flour by the sack, Sugar by the sack, Soap or Powder by the case, Coffee by the bucket.

COME TO SEE US AND SAVE MONEY!

Baker & Taylor

CLANTON, ALABAMA

A Sale of USED CARS

We are compelled to move our USED CAR stock in order to make room for NEW CHEVROLET cars which are coming in. We are offering big bargains in these used cars in order that we may dispose of the entire stock in the quickest possible time.

ALL OF THESE CARS HAVE BEEN RECONDITIONED and ARE IN PERFECT RUNNING ORDER NOW.

If you are interested in a used car you will save money by buying from us during this sale. We list below a few of the cars offered during this sale:

Ford Roadster, 1925 Model, Good as New	$250
Ford Coupe, 1925 model	300
Ford Touring, 1925 model	175
Ford Touring, 1924 model, New Paint	165
Ford Touring, 1923 model	150
Ford Touring, 1924 model	140
Chevrolet Truck, 1924 model, Disc Clutch	125
Overland Touring, 1923 model	125

All of the above cars can be bought with small cash payment and liberal terms on the balance. Let us demonstrate them to you

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

Cars CHEVROLET Trucks

CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)

REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted

Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

PASTORS' AND LAYMEN'S MEETING

The pastors and laymen of the Unity-Chilton Associations met at the court house Monday and organized a Pastors' and Workers' Conference. They are to hold their meetings on Monday after each Fourth Sunday. It is not intended that it shall be a preachers' meeting any more than for the laymen. All people interested in the bettering of the church life in the two associations are asked to take part.

Officers were elected as follows:

President, Dr. S. J. Ezell; Vice-President, Rev. W. P. Lowery; Secretary-Treasurer, B. Lawrence.

WOMAN TOOK POISON

It has been reported that Mrs. Mack Baker who lives west of Clanton, took a big dose of arsenic of lead last Sunday night, supposedly with the intention of ending her life.

Some hard work on the part of doctors saved her from death.

FOR MEMBER COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of member of the county board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

W. J. EASTERLING.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. J. Easterling, Clanton, R 1.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. H. GENTRY.

(Paid political adv., authorized by D. H. Gentry, Clanton R 4.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. H. BENSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. H. Benson, Clanton R 4.)

PORTO BELLO GOLD

Continued from Page 5)

you give to us aboard the Walrus, eh? You'd be up and off, and we might whistle for our share."

"You wrong me, Captain Flint," replied my great-uncle simply.

But Flint gave an ugly laugh. It might be the rum or the stimulus of the debate or a gradual access of self-reliance; but he was no longer to be cowed by moral suasion.

"If I wrong you, Murray, 'twould be the first time without valid cause," he rejoined. "Come, come! You must think of me better than that. It won't wash. What you say sounds well enough. It may be true. But I coudn't go back and report it to a fo'csle counsel on the Walrus and expect to have it believed. I have to blink myself when I think of it. ——!" He grinned evilly. "I know what I'd do in your shoes."

My great-uncle regarded him speculatively.

"What, then, is your answer?" Murray inquired.

"I don't play on those terms," returned Flint with decision. "Let me cruise with you, have a share in taking the prize, and I'll talk differently."

Murray shook his head.

"'Twould ruin the plan. I know you, Flint. 'Tis not in you to cruise for days and forego fat merchants that cross your bows, ripe to be plucked. No, I can't risk it. Alone, I can contrive not to attract attention. In company, we should stir up a hornet's nest."

"Curse me for a canting mugger, then, if I'll trade on it," snarled Flint. "I'll not trust you, Murray, and that's flat."

"Suppose that I gave you a hostage?" suggested my great-uncle tentatively. "One whose life means to me more than my own."

"The man does not live," Flint swore roundly.

"He sits across the table," returned Murray. "My grandnephew and heir. I will go so far as to assert that the only reason I concern myself with this exploit is that I may secure estate and preferment for him."

Flint eyed him shrewdly, looked from him to me and from me to him.

"Your grandnephew, you say? Long John says you're choice o' him. Still— No I like not your terms, Murray. They offer too little."

"They are the best I can offer," answered Murray definitely. "I will add, that there may be no misunderstandings, Flint, that the odd seven hundred thousand pounds goes to promote the interest of a cause, and not to line the pockets of Spanish officials, as you may suspect; and it is highly probable that considerable of my share will follow it. I pay seven hundred thousand pounds, to be divided share and share by the two ships' companies, and your company will incur no risk to win it."

Flint rose and settled his belt.

"I accept, for that I can do no better," he said. "But I must have the hostage." He snapped his finger toward me.

"Come on, my lad. We'll show you the life of real gentlemen adventurers aboard the Walrus."

"I'm no negro man to be bargained over and passed from owner to owner!" I exclaimed hotly. "You can make me go, but I'll not step willingly."

Flint was about to answer with a spurt of oaths when Murray interrupted.

"You anticipate matters," he rebuked his associate. "There is no occasion for a hostage yet. We shall sail at once for the Rendezvous. It will be weeks, aye, months, before I am in shape to sail west under Hispaniola. Time enough then to talk of delivering your hostage."

For an instant Flint appeared to be about to object to this view, but he evidently decided it was not worth another dispute.

"Let it go," he assented gruffly. "We'll settle the details at the island. D—n me—" this with a sudden revival of friendliness— "I knew we had not picked up that red-headed lad for nothing! 'Tis a sure sign o' luck."

And out he swaggered from the cabin, stamping and banging the door and sprinkling curses freely as he gained the deck and shouted for his boat's crew to row him back to the Walrus.

(To be continued Next Week)

New Way to End Dangerous Cough

The most stubborn cough is relieved with the first dose, and is very often broken up entirely in 24 hours by a new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs.

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but also loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. So with the cause removed, the severest cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too —no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

CANDIDATES

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. T. Rockett, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. G. Culp, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. M. Pate, Thorsby, Ala.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama from Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

PERCY M. PITTS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by Percy M. Pitts, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. D. Collins, Clanton Ala., Route 8.)

FIDDLERS CONVENTION

There will be a fiddlers convention at Vermont school, 3 miles north of Pletcher, 15 miles west of Clanton, 7 miles east of Stanton, on Friday night, March 19th. All fiddlers are invited come and take part, and all others are invited to come and listen. Come early to get a seat, as we will be crowded.—Ralph Glasscock, Prin.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR MEMBER COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. J. M. Webb, Maplesville, Ala., R 1).

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by A. F. Mims, Thorsby, Ala.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

T. J. DORMINEY.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. J. Dorminey.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Reublican primary to be held on August 10

J. N. SCOTT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. N. Scott, Jemison, Ala.)

FOR MEMBER BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

Clanton, Ala., Route 4.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. L. Vines.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. P. BEAN.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. B. Bean, Clanton, Ala., R 8.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the second district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

T. A. MADDOX.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. A. Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 4.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. E. WALDROP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. E. Waldrop, Jemison, Ala., R 1.)

666

is a Prescription for

COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU

It is the most speedy remedy we know,

Preventing Pneumonia

YOU GET MORE EGGS

A hen will lay twice as many eggs with a little of the proper help. Pratts Poultry Regulator supplies abundant egg-making ingredients. Vital ingredients from rare seeds and imported herbs. So valuable are these that Regulator practically doubles the value of any mash. You build up vitality among your birds—give them strength to resist roup and cold weather disease.

Hundreds of leading commercial poultrymen admit their success is due to Pratts Regulator.

Half a century of Pratt reliability is behind Regulator. None other would dare make this amazing guarantee.

Pratts Poultry Regulator

To Our Customers: We stand behind Pratts Poultry Regulator unconditionally. Either you get more eggs from the same birds or we return your money.

Sold and Guaranteed by

ALRED DRUG CO.

Clanton, Ala.

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

Now-more than ever before—

Check Price for Price Value for Value

Reduced Prices

Touring	$510
Roadster	510
Coupe	645
Coach	645
Sedan	735
Landau	765
½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Think how low the recent reduction of Chevrolet prices brings the cost of a fully equipped automobile. Compare what you get for Chevrolet's new low prices with any other car in the world.

Remember that Chevrolet equipment includes speedometer, Fisher Body and balloon tires on closed models, Duco finish, Alemite lubrication system and scores of other features essential on a modern motor car.

Now more than ever before, check price for price and value for value—and you will buy a Chevrolet. Come in.

Ask for a Demonstration!

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Why Pay More When You Can Buy It From Chicago Sales Company's Store For Less?

CHICAGO SALES CO.

NEXT TO FIRST NATIONAL BANK—CLANTON, ALA.

Look For The Big Yellow Front—Next To First National Bank.

This Week End Specials

$10.00 SUITS

In this lot of Men's and Boys' Suits you will find some that sold up as high as $20.00; your choice this week end—$10.00.

HALF PRICE

We are offering our entire stock of Boys' short pants suits at just half their original price—come and look them over.

NEW

Just arrived, a big line of little boys' long pants in the new spring shades. You will have to see them to appreciate them. Priced to sell as low as $2.49 a pair.

11 YARDS—$1.00

Again we offer you, this week end, the well kniwn Melvale cotton checks for quilt lining; big assortment of patterns to select from.

PETERS SHOES

Why buy shoes that have no name when you can buy Peters Diamond Brand at the same price. For the week end will offer a big line of Men's shoes, Special $2.89

NEW

Hundreds of Ladies 'and Children's new spring hats to select from; all brand new, just arrived. For this week end we will offer some real values in this line.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Essex coach has been run 2 months; has extra tire, tag, insurance; in perfect condition; will trade for Ford. If interested inquire at Union-Banner office. 2-25-2t-pd.

FOR SALE—Thoroughbred Rhode Island Reds; 2 cocks and 20 hens; eggs, $1.50 for setting of 15; $2.50 for 30. V. T. Cobb, Jemison, Ala. 2-25-3t-pd.

FOR SALE—Pure half and half cotton seed, $2.00 per bushel. We paid, when ordered, $5.00 per bushel. If interested see A. T. or J. S. Davis, Clanton, Ala., R 2. 2-18-4t-pd

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

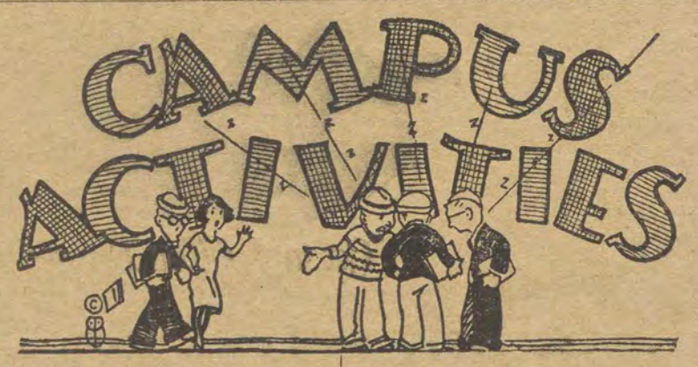
FOR SALE—My home in Clanton, located just south of Adventist school; corner lot; all modern conveniences, including large range stove connected with bath room and sink in kitchen; $2,000.00. Write E. C. Powell, 1113 Fourth Ace., South, Albany, Ala., or see W. L. Powell at pressing shop, Clanton, Ala. 2-18-3t-ch.

FOUND—Sack of shorts found last Saturday night near high school. Now at Sheriff's house. Owner may get same by paying for this ad. 1t

AUCTION SALE—On Monday, March 8th, 1926, we will sell at auction several old wood buildings, now located on the new High School grounds at Verbena, Ala. Sale begins at 10:00 o'clock, a. m. J. H. Gulledge, S. L. Gibson, J. C. Pattillo, Building Committee. 1-c

COTTON SEED—Pure Half and Half cotton seed grown by us from seed brought of Summerhours in 1925. Selected and ginned on special gin days. Price $2.50 per bushel. Gulledge Bros., Verbena, Ala. 3-4-2t-pd.

WANTED—One horse cropper, to work about 20 acres good land, either third and fourth, or on halves. Must be man with good reputation, and willing to work. J. M. Glasscock, Jemison, Ala., Route 2. 3-4-2t-pd



FOR SALE—I have about 3 dozen pair U. S. Pants, new: Straight bottom sizes 33x33-34x31½ and 35x30. Price only $2.75, while they last, prepair U. S. Pants, new; straight bot- Route 5. 3-4-4t-pd.

FOR SALE—Two starters and generators for Fords, complete with gears and cut-outs. $12.50 and $18.00. G. W. Moates, Clanton, Ala., R. F. D. No 5. 1t-pd.

3 handy packs for 5¢

WRIGLEY'S P.K.
NEW HANDY PACK
Fits hand ~ pocket and purse
More for your money and the best Peppermint Chewing Sweet for any money
Look for Wrigley's P. K. Handy Pack on your Dealer's Counter G7

This week we wish to introduce to the people of Chilton County, Mr. Vaughn Brunner, new coach, instructor in science, mathematics, and manual arts at C. C. H. S.

Mr. Brunner was born at Cottonwood, Ala., received his early education at the Dothan High School, and finished at Jackronville Normal in 1923. He later attended the University, and holds an A-grade certificate. While in college Mr. Brunner held some major honors, of which captain of the baseball team, and manager of all athletics at Jacksonville, were two.

The pupils and faculty feel very fortunate in having Mr. Brunner with us this year.

The pupils of the high school are now working for the honor roll. Just watch this roll each month, and see how it grows.

Honor Roll, first month, second semester—grades in all subjects, 85% and above:

Senior III.—Reese Mullins, Lottie Vance.

Senior II.—Dewey Smith.

Senior I.—J. D. Evans, Buster Foshee, Susie Griffin, Myrtle Kelly, Howard Parrish, Mary Lee Pyron, George Rasberry, James Wade.

Don't sit supinely on your roost,
But come along and help us boost
For better things of every kind—
And leave your kicking clothes behind;
And let the dogs of war be loosed
On every guy who doesn't boost!

Miss Ingram: "Who was Joan of Arc?"

Howard Parrish: "The English Jonah."

Lewis Williams: "Pauline, are you 'Abie's Irish Rose'?"

Mr. Ellis was bubbling over with enthusiasm at the regular attendance of his pupils at chapel. "Dear children," he said, "now today, out of the whole school, only one is absent—Thomas Gragg. Let us hope he is ill."

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS

Rev. J. W. Mitchell filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church (Mulberry) Saturday and Sunday.

The B. Y. P. U. meeting will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. We want all the people, young and old, to come and be with us.

Mrs. Earle Thomas has gone to Davidson, Ala., to visit her brother, who underwent an operation recently.

Messrs. Leo Langston and Thomas Woolley and Misses Glois Manning and Olivia Lathem attended the fiddlers convention last Thursday night at Marbury.

A Ford coupe in which Mr. Abercrombie of Clanton was riding fell off the Mulberry bridge last Sunday. The car was wrecked completely, but he was not hurt.

The B. Y. P. U. social at the home of S. J. M. Webb Saturday night was enjoyed by a large crowd of young folks. After a few interesting games the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Earl Thomas, served hot chocolate and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Webb of Montgomery visited Mr. and Mrs. S. J. M. Webb Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells of Ensley visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning last week end.

Mr. Guy H. Deshazo of Fort Payne was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Deshazo, Saturday and Sunday. He left for Miami, Fla., on Monday.

FROM SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

Hello folks! Maybe you are surprised to hear from me, but I haven't forgotten any of you. I enjoyed taking my wife to see all my friends and relatives last summer and we hope to come back again in the near future.

In the meantime, you folks come out to Seattle and form your opinion of the northwest, as I have.—Burl F. Littlefield, Seattle, Wash.

NEW HARMONY SCHOOL HOUSE

There will be no singing at this place next Sunday afternoon. All lovers of old time singing go to the Court House in Clanton next Sunday, March 7th. Take a lunch with you and spend the day in singing those good old hymns.—J. M. Williams.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Star Touring car, 23 model, in first class running condition new battery, two new tires others fairly good, seats and upholstery in real god shape. Will exchange for Roadster of equal value or sell for part cash and balance on time if desired.—G. W. Moates Clanton, Ala., R. F. D. 5 1t-pd.

MULES FOR SALE—I will sell at public auction, in front of the court house in Clanton, between the hours of 12 o'clock, noon, and 2 p. m., on next Saturday, February 6, a pair of good farm mules; well broke. Dewey Powell, Clanton Ala., at Ellis' Filling Station. 1-p

ARMY EXAMINATIONS

First Sgt. G. V. Harrison, in charge of the Regular Army Recruiting Station, at 1927½ Second Avenue, Birmingham, Ala., writes The Union-Banner as follows:

"A final examination for appointment as Second Lieutenant in the Regular Army will be held in the United States from June 21 to June 26, 1926. It is estimated there will be approximately 150 vacancies. Further information, showing posts at which examination will be held may be obtained form the Commanding General, 4th Corps Area, Atlanta, Ga. In order to be eligible one must be a member of the Regular Army or some other authorized service. Sergeant Harrison states that many ambitious men are enlisting in the Regular Army with a view to training and further study in preparation for the examination. Those who apply now may be accepted in the Coast Artillery, Infantry, Cavalry, and many branches of the Staff Departments. Enlistment period is for three years. Men from 18 to 21 must have consent of parents; those from 21 to 34 may enlist at their option.—Grover V. Harrison, 1st Sergeant, DEML (RS) In Charge."

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

To Mamie Cooper, residence unknown; to Carl Dawson, Julius Dawson, Agnes Dawson, Gladys Dawson, Edward Dawson, Reuben Dawson, Hershel Dawson, Marvin Dawson, Elvin Dawson, Vasteen Wright, minors.

Notice is hereby given that the 2nd day of March, 1926, came Euell Davis Dawson, Executor of the estate of W. R. Dawson, deceased, and filed his accounts, vouchers, evidence and statement for a final settlement of same, and that the 2nd day of April, 1926, has been appointed as the day for making such settlement, at the said Probate Office at the court house of Chilton County, Alabama, at which time all parties in interest may appear and contest the same if they deem proper.

This, the 2nd day of March, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
3-4-3t-ch Judge of Probate.

NOTICE OF GUARDIAN'S PETITION TO SELL LANDS

State of Alabama, Chilton County—
Probate Court, February 22, 1926.

This day came J. D. Collins, Guardian of William Green Price, a non compos mentis, and filed his petition in due form and made oath, praying for an order to sell certain lands described therein and belonging to said non compos mentis, for the purpose of maintenance and payment of debts.

It is ordered that the 16th day of March, 1926, be appointed a day for the hearing of said petition, at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same if they think proper.

Witness my hand, this 22nd day of February, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
2-25-3t-ch Judge of Probate.

FRIENDSHIP NEWS

There are a few cases of "flu" in this community.

Farmers around here are very busy preparing their fields for the great oncoming of General Green and his gigantic forces.

Candidates have not yet begun to stir very much but we are expecting them most any time.

Last Saturday was our regular preaching day; we were glad to see so many out. We feel sure that the excxellent sermon delivered by our pastor, Bro. Lowery, will make every one present more eager to come back next Fourth Sunday.

Sunday afternoon was our regular singing time, and a good crowd was present. We had some fine singing. Directors for the afternoon were, A. D. Huett, O. R. Robinson, Steve Baker, A. O. Boswell, Rube Miller, Vester Miller, M. Lockhart, C. H. Robinson, Johnnie Minor, R. E. Powell, Jesse Baker and J. A. W. Mims. Organists were Mrs. Jesse Baker, Mrs. O. R. Robinson, Mr. A. O. Boswell and Mr. C. H. Robinson. We were glad to see so many visitors and we extend the invitation to everybody to come and help us sing praises to God every Fourth Sunday afternoon.

Bro. M. Lockhart will preach it Friendship next Sunday night at 6:30. Everybody come.

A. D. HUETT, Secy.

Clyde Mayhall of the Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company is spending this week in South Alabama.

Thos. W. Millican and George Lovewell left Clanton Sunday for Linden, Marengo County, where they will conduct a big sale of city property this week.

FOR SALE— One 4-room house. $850 Cash.—Tom Hand, 215 3rd. St. Prattville, Ala., 1t. pd.

Rev. E. A. Norris of Verbena was among the visitors to Clanton Monday.

W. W. Parnell was a visitor to Clanton Monday.

USED

Ford

CARS

See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1925 Roadster, a Bargain	$225.00
1924 Coupe, New Paint	225.00
1923 Touring, New Paint	150.00
1924 Touring, New Paint	140.00
Some Tourings, Good Values	40.00

Ford Trucks Cheap

If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company

Sales Ford Service
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Clanton, Ala.

BEWARE OF

IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS
Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

TRY THE VULCAN

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"

Clanton . . . . . Alabama

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Civic Club To Meet.

The Civic Club will meet Tuesday afternoon, March 9, at 3 o'clock, with Mrs. J. Lee Smith. All members are urged to be present.

Intermediate Sewing Club.

The Intermediate Sewing Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Joe Higgins last Thursday afternoon at her home on Sixth Street. Baskets and vases of jonquils and hyacinths were used to decorate the home. The afternoon was spent sewing.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Loren Smith, served fruit jello and cake to Mesdames Milton Smith, Grady Taylor, Lucien Duncan, Bill Murphy, Frank Higgins, Paul Ousley, E. V. Smith, and Loren Smith.

Mrs. Alred Hostess.

Mrs. J. Hance Alred was hostess to the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others on last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fifth Avenue. The home was profusely decorated with narcissus, dafodils and other spring blossoms. Following a series of bridge games played at three tables, Mrs. Arthur Johnson held high score and was presented an attractive set of mixing bowls. Mrs. V. J. Heard received the booby prize.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Callen and Miss Kathleen Mullins, served a delicious salad plate with iced tea to the following members and guests: Mesdames N. S. Johnson, L. F. Gerald, H. M. Simpson, Oscar Jones, Frank Callen, V. J. Heard, J. Watts Moore, Arthur Johnson, T. C. McSwain, Clarence Evans, Grady Broadhead, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Girl's Auxiliary Meets.

The Girl's Auxiliary met last Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Delene Williams. The president, Miss Lorene Murphy, presided over the business session and also had charge of the program, which was splendidly rendered. The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Leonard Williams, served delicious refreshments to the following members: Misses Minnie Fiquette, Lorene Murphy, Mary Foshee, Julia Ruth Hester, Pauline Lawrence, Vera Jones, Janice Danforth, Delene, Gladys and Bernice Williams, and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

Mrs. S. C. Wood and mother of Thorsby were visitors in Clanton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud White of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White Friday.

Mr. S. Hazlett of Talladega Spgs., was here Saturday.

Mrs. W. H. Foshee has returned from a visit of several days to Mrs. J. R. Mullins in Montgomery.

Miss Mary Upchurch, who attends Howard College, Birmingham, was the week end guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, for the week end.

Mr. Bentley of Howard College spent the week end with friends in Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Flem Higgins have come from Rockford and are now living in their home on Eighth Street.

Thursday Sewing Club Luncheon.

The members of the Thursday Sewing Club were delightfully entertained at a luncheon on last Thursday, when Mrs. John M. VanDerveer was hostess at her home on Eighth Street. For this occasion spring blossoms adorned the home. The luncheon table was beautifully appointed. A lace cover over yellow was used to carry out the color scheme. The center piece was a basket of buttercups. Attractive cards with riddles and a hidden answer were used to mark the place of each guest. A regular course luncheon was served. Sewing was the afternoon's diversion.

Those enjoying this lovely affair were Mesdames J. Watts Moore, J. P. Hayes, T. C. McSwain, V. J. Gragg, E. E. Upchurch, John Armstrong, and H. M. Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald and children, and Mesdames Arthur Johnson, W. M. Wyatt and Grady Broadhead motored to Birmingham Saturday to attend the final performance of "Blossom Time."

Mr. H. C. McDonald and son, Whitley, of Wetumpka, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ezell Sunday.

Mr. William Smith of Sylacauga is visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary Smith, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. C. V. Heath has returned from a week's visit to friends at Jemison.

Mr. John VanDerveer, Jr., who attends school at Thorsby Institute, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. VanDerveer.

Mr. Loren Smith, who is taking a course in pharmacy in Birmingham, spent the week end with his wife.

Mr. Stanley McNeil of Jemison was a visitor in town Saturday.

Mesdames Frank Foshee and Bama Cox spent Sunday in Plantersville, visiting their sister, Mrs. E. S. Letcher.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor at Sylacauga.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Brown (Minnie Roper) were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Roper, for the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor motored to Montgomery Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Foley.

Miss Sara Mullins spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Annie Mullins.

Mrs. Bob Williams and little Erskine Seale spent the week end in Montgomery with Mr. Williams.

Mrs. F. W. Hall left Monday for her home in Owensville, Ind., after a three-months visit to Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Popwell and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Broadhead motored to Montgomery Wednesday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. Clifford Popwell made a business trip to Birmingham Thursday.

Mrs. J. R. Mullins, Miss Marzelle and Mr. John D. Mullins motored up from Montgomery Saturday and spent the week end with relatives.

Mr. Frank Mullins spent the week end in Birmingham with relatives and friends.

Messrs. Robert and Clifford Popwell and Leon Brown went down to Wetumpka Tuesday on business.

AN ANSWER TO THE INQUIRY OF MR. B. L. COBB

Editor Union-Banner:

In last week's issue of The Union-Banner I noticed a request signed by Mr. B. L. Cobb to the School Board of Chilton County asking them as to how they voted when appropriating to the Town of Clanton $1,500 for school purposes and as to whether or not it was true that they did appropriate that sum of money.

As I am one of the members of the Town Council of the Town of Clanton who requested the School Board to appropriate $15,000.00 for the school building of the Town of Clanton and they were considerate enough to make the appropriation, I feel that I should inform Mr. Cobb, as well as the citizenship of the county of the true facts about the appropriation, as I realize the purpose and intent of his request which is very apparent at this time, not only on his part but others who are, it seems, at certain political seasons ready to pick up something to criticize the officials who are striving to the best of their ability to put over a progressive educational campaign in the county.

For your information, the Town of Clanton is located in school district designated "A," and this district levies a special tax of three mills each year for school purposes, which includes also the erection of new school buildings. This tax is a local tax and does not apply to the territory in which Mr. Cobb resides, and he does not pay any part of the same, as his district does not levy a special three-mill tax. The appropriation of $15,000.00 was not made from funds paid by the people of the county but as stated before, the same is paid by the tax payers within district "A", which includes towns of Thorsby and Jemison. Prior to the making of this appropriation the town of Thorsby had received for school building and its equipment $6,095.00, and Jemison received $5,116. Jemison has a population of 419, Thorsby 420 and Clanton has 1916, which is over four times more than either Thorsby or Jemison.

Before receiving the $15,000 appropriation it is necessary for the people of the town of Clanton to raise $45,000 to match the appropriation by the school board, and the appropriation still remains in the possession of the treasurer of the county school funds and will not be used unless the town raises the said $45,000, which we hope to do within the next few months and build us a modern school building which the town needs and deserves.

From this special three-mill tax in district "A" the tax payers pay annually approximately $21,848, and of this sum the Alabama Power Company, which is located within district "A" pays approximately $14,000, which shows that the people of the district outside of this corporation will not pay any part of the appropriation, and this being true, the only person who has the right to complain about the appropriation within the district would be the Alabama Power Compmany and certainly Mr. Cobb could not complain as he is in a District that does not even levy a local tax.

The records of the tax office are public and the above figures can be verified by anyone who will take the time to go over the same; and the records of the School Board show the vote in making the appropriation. I feel certain that this appropriation was not made for any political purpose and that the Town of Clanton needed the appropriation to aid in carrying out its policy to provide its children with ample school building and equipment. From a close observation of the actions of the present school board, it is apparent that they do not care to put the schools into politics and certainly Mr. Cobb and I too, as well as other good citizens of the county, strive to keep the schools from being made a political issue.

Yours for better schools,
J. B. ATKINSON.

Miss Mary Ellis, who is a student at Woman's College, Montgomery, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ellis.

Dr. W. A. Gowan of Thomastown, Miss., was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Oscar Jones, and Mr. Jones, recently.

Mr. W. J. Bllingsley of Thorsby was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Higgins and baby and Mrs. Loren Smith motored to Birmingham Tuesday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. John VanDerveer made a business trip to Birmingham the first part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mrs. Irene Rasberry and Miss Eloise Rasberry motored to Birmingham Wednesday evening to attend grand opera.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Connell are spending a few days in Birmingham with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Mullins and Mr. J. Watts Moore made a business trip to Shelby Tuesday.

Mr. Tom Smith of Mt. Creek is at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Mary Smith.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Bonner and little son of Jemison were visitors to Clanton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bayzer of Lock 12 were n town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Pipes spent Monday in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid and son, Cameron, Jr., motored to Montgomery Monday.

I want to buy 1,000 bushels of Peas in the next ten days. M. A. GORE, Clanton, Ala. 1d

Remember when you buy your bread from out-of-Clanton bakeries you are injuring your home man, who is here with his family, trying to make an honest living by giving you bread at live-and-let-live prices, and doing his part to help make Clanton a better town.

Do you want to starve him out of town and help kill a home enterprise which Clanton needs?

Think about this when you go to buy your bread, and call for

Blue Ribbon Bread

Made in Clanton by

Chilton Bakery

"Get in the Well Dressed Circle"

Spring is Here--

So are the New Spring CURLEE CLOTHES.
Where is the man who doesn't want to be in keeping with the rest of the world at this season of the year?
Come in and look over our selection of fresh, Spring Patterns. Shake off your Winter Shell and slip into a Spring Suit of CURLEE CLOTHES.
The prices are unusually reasonable this season.
We have a wide assortment of Patterns.

Feel Them!

IRON CLAD silk. Touch it. Feel it. The exquisite beauty of Iron Clad silk hosiery, and the loveliness of the latest shades are irresistible. Graceful feminine curves revealed in dainty silken Iron Clads display a strangely elusive charm that only Iron Clad silk can give. Ask for them at our store. They wear. They wash again and again. And they stay new a long, long time. Remember. Iron Clads!

Why they like Iron Clads

Any man who wants to be well dressed is attracted by a sock that has the style and dressy appearance of Iron Clad socks. And Iron Clads are just as popuar with wives who buy socks for their husbands. That's because the remarkable durability of Iron Clads means fewer holes to darn. Let us show you the latest styles in Iron Clads.

Men, It's Time For That New Spring Hat

And Here's the Place to select it---

—the store where only becoming, up-to-the-minute Hats are sold.
Featured is a wide smartly curled brim, medium low crown felt hat with Satin lining; comes in several smart shades of brown and grey.
Don't wonder about prices. We always make them right.

A complete stock of Blonde Kid, Patent and Satins in all Sizes.

Plenty of Lee Unionalls for the children in all sizes.

Parrish's STYLE SHOP

CLANTON, ALA.

HAS WILD ANIMAL IN SOUTH ALABAMA BEEN CRIPPLED

Finding of Animaml's Foot Arouses More Speculation in So. Ala.

The mysterious monster of Crenshaw County and probably the Lige Bates booger seen in Chilton several years ago, has again aroused the speculation of an Alabama town. This time Georgiana is the victim. Recently a foot of some wild animal was found on the railroad track by E. P. Edge of that city, and has set dame rumor wagging its tongue as to whether or not it might have been that of the monster which has devoured dogs and small animals of Crenshaw and other surrounding counties.

Monday in proof of their assertion, W. P. Bishop was in Montgomery and exhibited the foot to a representative of the Montgomery Journal. Undoubtedly it is the foot of some wild animal, but no one has yet been able to connect the foot and the animal to which it belongs. It is thought to be the foot of a bob cat or a lion.

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

What makes them so good?

TWENTY-FIVE years' experience in making electrical instruments, the largest radio factory in the world, the most expert workmen—yes. But the real answer is the way Atwater Kent goes about it. You can't get anything marked "Atwater Kent" that isn't perfect. Come in for a demonstration.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

O. M. CARTER
CLANTON, ALA.

ENTERPRISE NEWS

Quite a large crowd attended the services at Bethany Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Lee Boockholt is on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stroud from Clanton visited Mr. S. D. Deloach Sunday.

Several from this community attended the singing at Indian Grave Sunday evening.

Miss Myrtle Keel visited Mr. and Mrs. Archie Taylor Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilkins spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. C. L. Wilkins.

Mr. J. F. DeVaughn and family spent the day Sunday with Mrs J. T. Williams and children.

Misses Jewell Deloach, Marie Stroud and Eula Mae Robinson visited Miss Lillie Stroud Sunday.

Mr. Lorenza Williams and wife spent Sunday with Mr. Arthur Chandler and family.

Miss Lula Jones from Bethsalem spent Saturday night with Mrs. J. T. Williams.

Mr. Willie Williams and wife spent Sunday with Mr. J. W. DeVaughn.

Mrs. J. A. Huett has been very sick for a few days.

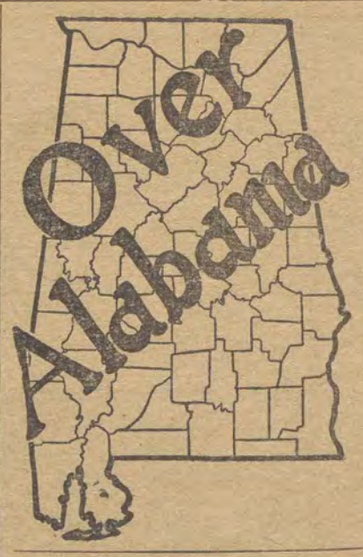
Mr. Lewis Williams and family spent Sunday with Mr. Lonnie Williams.

Miss Eliza Williams is glad to be back with friends and relatives after spending several weeks with her sisters Mrs. Culver and Mrs. Adams of Birmingham.

Mr. Oscar Eiland and family from Montgomery spent Saturday night with Mr. C. B. Huett.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams visited his sister, Mrs. Beulah Williams, Sunday.

Mr. Will Vinson and family have been visiting relatives here the last part of last week.



Mr. Willis Bishop and wife visited her father, Mr. Keel, Sunday.

About 62 per cent of purebred livestock is marketed directly for meat purposes.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

The city of Selma will buy a new street sweeper to cost $6,000.

A training school for hay inspectors will be held in Montgomery, March 15.

Fire did considerable damage to the Jones-Baugh cotton warehouse in Huntsville.

Work has been started on the Tuscaloosa-Foster Ferry highway by the contractors.

The Tuscaloosa County schools will hold their annual fair in Tuscaloosa March 5 and 6.

D. H. Riddle, prominent Alabama lawyer, died at his home in Goodwater, March 23.

The Baptists of Millport are planning the erection of a new church edifice at an early date.

The flu epidemic seems to have spread over most of the state; it is mild in form, however.

A conference of negro farmers will be held at the Negro training school near Carrollton March 5.

Freight rates on washed sand and gravel have been reduced between Montgomery and Mobile.

Work has commenced on the two acre athletic field for Boy Scouts at Camp Horn near Tuscaloosa.

The city of Anniston recently sold $65,000 of paving bonds to Ward Sterne & Co., of Birmingham.

The state game and fish department is "planting" 2,000 quail in different parts of the state it is announced.

Senator John Craft, of Mobile, has announced that he will be a candidate to succeed himself in the state senate

Construction of a 500,000 gallon water reservoir will begin at Attalla within the next few days, it is reported.

T. A. Bryant, Albany-Decatur merchant, was killed by a young white bandit, who seems to have made good his escape.

Albany and Decatur are planning to raise $50,000 to be used in a campaign to induce industries to locate in the Twin Cities.

Chester Buford was convicted in the Madison Circuit Court on a charge of forging a check and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

On account of illness Judge C. P. Almon is unable to hold the first two weeks of the spring term of the Lauderdale Circuit Court.

The Presbyterians of Athens are holding a series of evangelistic meetings, the pastor being assisted by the other pastors of Athens.

Chas. Jackson, Mobile negro, was fined $100, and given two years in the Atlanta penitentiary for burglarizing the post office at Plateau.

Birmingham committees are busy soliciting funds with which to finance the thirty-sixth annual reunion of Confederate soldiers and sailors.

Records show that Birmingham's city government has lived within its income the past four months in succession—breaking a record of the past four years.

The U. S. Senate adopted a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of war to loan army cots for use at the Confederate Veterans' Reunion to be held in Birmingham in May.

Holding that "Blue Ribbon Malt" is not an intoxicating beverage, Judge William M. Walker in Jefferson chancery court sustained the right of the Birmingham Post to advertise the malt.

Sixty-six farmers of Pike County received a total of $7,1765.60 in payment for 501 hogs, which they furnished for the sales held by the Troy Co-Operative Hog Sales Association last week.

A verdict of not guilty was returned by a Madison County jury in the case of John Sloan charged with violating the state banking laws, while acting as an official of the defunct Bank of Madison.

Congressman M. C. Allgood, of the seventh district, will introduce a bill in Congress to turn over to the State of Alabama a tract of government land in the northeastern part of the State, for park purposes, according to information from the state department of archives and history.

That Hoot Taylor, Colbert county convict, died of natural causes at Flat Top prison November 21, and not from cruel treatment was the declaration of the state board of administration which has supervision of all State prisons in Alabama, made in a formal report to Governor Brandon, who made public the report together with a letter to the board of administration approving its findings. The release of the board's report came as a surprise since no indications had been given that the board of administration had been making an investigation of the case.

The Union-Banner is $1.50 a year

POPLAR SPRINGS

Please allow us just a small space in your paper this week.

We are glad to say that we are having reasonable weather for farming and gardening.

The condition of Mr. J. W. McDowell's family is improving.

Mr. Lincoln Devaughn is on a vacation at home for a while.

Miss Rena Hawkins was the guest of Miss Ida McDowell Sunday night.

Mrs. Willie Jones has returned from the Hospital in Montgomery and is doing fine.

Mr. Mason Snider was the guest of Miss Rena Hawkins Saturday night.

Mr. Cornelius Lewis was the guest of Miss Ida McDowell Sunday p. m.

Mrs. Jew Lewis of Birmingham spent the week with her mother Mrs. F. F. Hawkins.

Miss Ida McDowell took dinner with Miss Rena Hawkins Sunday.

Mr. Rudan McDowell and wife spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Knight of Bethel community.

Mr. J. L. McDowell and family ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Easterling Sunday.

The condition of Miss Luella McDowel, a light stroke of appendicitis, is improving.

Everybody come to our Sunday School at 10 a. m., and preaching at 11: a. m. Sunday.

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

A radio set is a good thing to have on a farm.

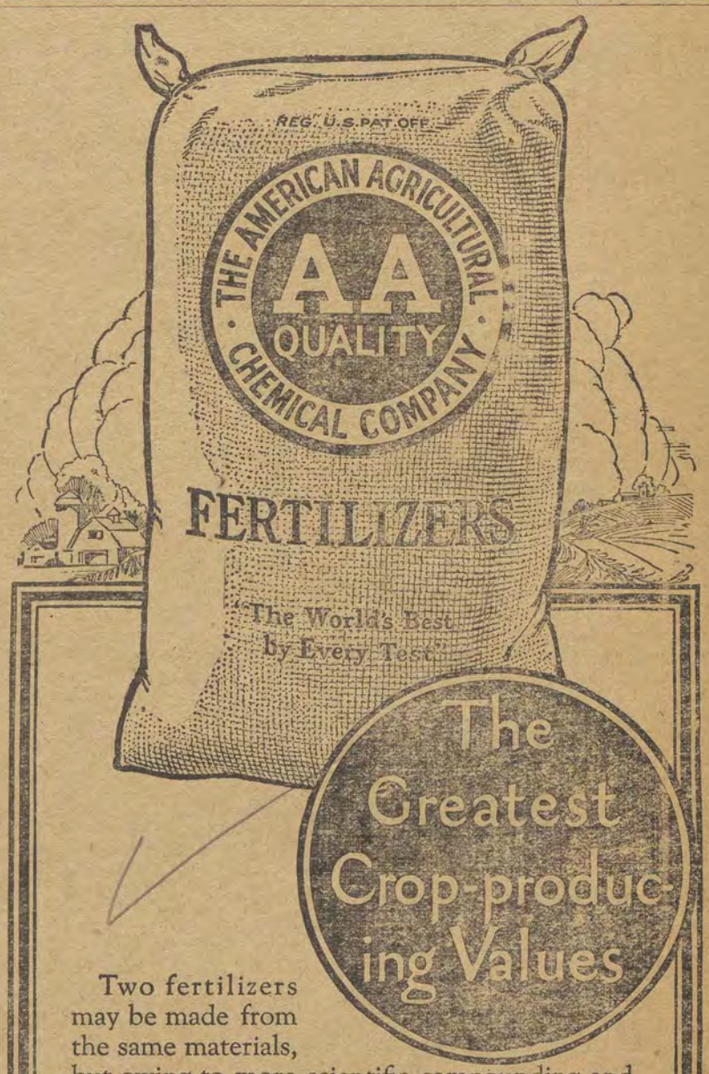
MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed on the 30th day of May, 1925, by Dewey Collins, Ella Collins, G. J. Collins, Dovie Collins, B. F. Collins, Otis Collins and Frankie Collins to the Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate, Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record 210, page 209, and which mortgage was duly transferred by the said Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, to F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan on June 6th, 1925, and default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, we, the said F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan, as transferees of said mortgage, will proceed to sell at public outcry, in front of the Courthouse door in the City of Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, on the 30th day of March, 1926, the interest of the above named mortgagors in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:—

The S½ of NW¼ of Sec. 27, and all that part of the SE¼ of the NE¼ of Sec. 28 lying on the East side of the creek running through and across said SE¼ of NE¼ of Sec. 28, and known as Swift Creek. All above described lands being and lying in Tp. 21, R. 14, containing 120 acres more or less, Chilton County, Alabama.

The proceeds of the sale as above described will be applied to the payment of the indebtedness secured by the above described mortgage and a reasonable Attorney's fee, together with the expenses incident to the sale.

This, the 16th day of February, 1926.



F. M. CHAPMAN,
WILL HOGAN, Transferees.
BALLARD & PAGE,
2-18-4t-ch Attorneys for Transferees.

PLESANT GROVE CHURCH

We are glad to say that health in this commmunity is improving and we are looking forward to a great service next Saturday and Sunday, February 27 and 28. There will be a special series of services here Saturday, Sunday and Sunday night, there will also be a service here Saturday night if the church sees fit. Mr. Paul Oden, the blind preacher and singer, will offer a special attraction and inspiration. Everyone will thoroughly enjoy the wonderful singing. The subject Sunday morning will be "Sour Grapes", but they are not the ones the fox jumped for and could not reach. Come One! Come All! and let us have an old time revival.

If you want to be on the inside be there Saturday.—Rev. B. F. Dykes, Pastor.

Ouch!—OPERATORS, experenced, to sew on shirts. LEVI STRAUSS & CO., 250 Valencia.—Ad in the San Francisco Examiner.

The Greatest Crop-producing Values

Two fertilizers may be made from the same materials, but owing to more scientific compounding and better manufacturing, one of these may have much greater value as a crop producer.

"AA QUALITY" FERTILIZERS

contain all the essential crop-producing elements so scientifically compounded, proportioned and blended as to furnish properly balanced and continuously available plant food throughout the entire growing season.

Insure the best crops by using

"AA QUALITY" FERTILIZERS

BEST KNOWN TO YOU UNDER THE FOLLOWING BRAND NAMES

BRADLEY'S SEA FOWL FERTILIZER
AMERICAN BIGBEE
GOULDING

Manufactured only by

The American Agricultural Chemical Company

Montgomery Sales Department
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG., MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Our Agricultural Service Bureau will help solve your farming problems. Send for Dr. H. J. Wheeler's Crop Bulletins. Address: 92 State Street, Boston, Mass.

BE SURE

You have a right to expect the best service from your Oliver plows. They are built for that purpose but they are guaranteed only when equipped with genuine Oliver repairs.

Be sure then that you get genuine Oliver repairs—repairs that are made in the same factory as your plow.

Let the Oliver trade mark be your guide when buying repairs. It is your best assurance that the part you buy will fit perfectly and last longer.

JONES HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALA.

BABY CHICKS

HIGHEST QUALITY - PRICES RIGHT

Book Your Orders Early and Avoid Disappointment

Custom Hatching - Brooders
Poultry Supplies

F. E. MASTIN
Thorsby, - - - - - Alabama

Lower Prices
HUDSON-ESSEX

Now Effective (February 27)

Though the automobile tax reduction law will not become effective until March 26, we make this reduction now protecting Hudson-Essex buyers many days in advance. So there is no reason to wait. Buy NOW.

NEW PRICES
"At Your Door"

ESSEX SIX–COACH . . .	$ 915.00
HUDSON COACH	1360.00
Hudson Brougham	1615.00
Hudson 7–Pass. Sedan . .	1805.00

Remember these are not "f. o. b. factory prices," but the delivered prices at your door, including freight, remaining war tax, and the following equipment:

Bumper, front and rear - - - - - - - - Electric Windshield Cleaner
Rear View Mirror - Transmission Lock (built in close) - Radiator Shutters
Motor-Meter - - - - - - - - - - - - Combination Stop and Tail Light

Easy terms, of course——————No dlivery handling charge

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Hudson is World's Largest Builder of "Sixes" and Third Largest Builder of Motor Cars

"AGAIN" New "Lower Prices"

New Delivered Prices Effective Today:

Roadster - - - $898
Touring - - - - $899
Coope - - - - - $950
Sedan - - - - $1008

Patterson & Ingalls

204 to 210 N. Court St. Phone 3395
MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Dodge Brothers Motor Cars

DEAD BABY FOUND IN LARD CAN

A Gruesome occurence transpired last Friday when the dead body of a white baby was found in a lard can in a brier hedge at the back of the Parnell houses at Maplesville. The Sheriff's office at Clanton was called and Deputy Foshee went over there and made investigations. Dr. Parnell concluded the baby had been there for about three weeks or a month, as the head had already decayed. The little body had no clothing on at all. It was a girl baby and was, according to Dr. Parnell and the officers, a fully devoloped baby.

The little body was taken and buried in the Maplesville cemetery. Investigations are being made as to how and under what conditions the body of the baby came to be there.

WALNUT CREEK

There will be a cemetry cleaning at Walnut Creek church next Friday, March 5th. All interested meet to work all day. All trees will be cut. If any objections come and make same. G. N. Easterling.

A Pleasent Investment.—Gus. D. Revol, well known agent of the Cadillac Auto Company, will shortly occupy the handsome Bacher Home, 3504 Napoleon Avenue with his family, which he recently purchased.—Personal item in a New Orleans paper.

Where's Mr. Barnum?
—A girl with no rouge on her face wins the health prize at Barnard College. Miss Elizabeth Metzger, 2 years old, is 5 feet 4½ inches tall, weights 120 pounds.—Editorial note in a Detroit paper.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

POPLAR SPRINGS

Here we come again being to late for last week.

We had a grand sermon delivered to the people Sunday, preached by Rev. Norris, taking his text from Matt. 6:33.

Mrs Willie Jones was able to attend preaching Sunday.

The condition of Mrs. J. W. McDowell is nicely improving.

Miss Ida McDowell was the guest of Miss Rena Hawkins Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Downs spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Traywick Saturday.

Misses Lillian and Esther Lee Dennis and Gertie Baker were guests of Miss Letha Patterson Sunday.

Mr. Lawton McDowell and Mr. Chester Downs returned from Florida Thursday night.

Miss Beatrice and Genia Grant and Miss Pearlie Minor were visitors to Church Sunday. We thank them for helping sing and envite them back again.

Our Church was finished the past week, and painted, the women paying for the job.

We invite everyone to be at our Sunday school at 10 o'clock Sunday.

Guy DeShazo arrived in Clanton last Thursday from north Alabama. After spending a few at home he left Monday for points in Florida. Mr. DeShazo expects to locate permanently in Florida if he can find anything that suits his taste.

Bossy's Helpful Husband.—FOR SALE—Milking Shorthorn bull—Roan—weight 1750, Record of merit ancestry. Priced reasonable. A.Zeller, North Liberty.—Ad in an Iowa paper.

Ain't Nature Wonderful?—
HONEY.
In cans made by Expert Bees, pure honey.
2½-pound cans.....65c
5-pound cans.....$1.25
—From a market ad in a West Virginia paper.

Remarkable Club

THE UNION-BANNER WEEKLY 1 YEAR
and
THE BIRMINGHAM POST DAILY
1 YEAR
BOTH FOR $4.00

The price of The Post alone is $3.50. Here is an opportunity to procure your favorite County Paper and a progressive independent daily newspaper at a very special price.

The Union-Banner gives you all of the local news, interestingly told. The Birmingham Post prints all the news of the State, Nation and World, and all the special features of metropolitan dailies.
Send $4.00 for this club today!
Send all orders to—

THE UNION-BANNER
Clanton, Ala.

OAK HILL

The United Singing Society met in regular session here Sunday afternoon, with a large attendance, and only a scattered class prevented it from being one of the best we have had yet. The class was composed of good singers from almost all parts of the county.

Directors for the afternoon were A. H. Glasscock, L. R. Cobb, H. H. Hayes, Vester Campbell, Akins Collins, Will Northcutt, E. L. Glasscock, with Prof. A. H. Glasscock directing the second time.

Organists were Misses Emma Campbell and Inez Hayes.

We had the Oak Grove class with us, who did their part in making the occasion the success that it was. We invite them and all other visitors to be with us at all times. The society meets with Thorsby next Sunday afternoon. All members are urged to be present. Everybody is invited, whether you sing or not. Your presence will be appreciated.—Secretary.

Hastings' Seeds Catalog Free!

Free Flower Seeds for You

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN,
ATLANTA, GA.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens
SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

'Twould Require Tact.—Simmons had returned from his vacation.

"I certainly enjoyed the husking-bees," he said to a friend. "Were you ever in the country during the season of husking-bees?"

"Husking-bees! exclaimed the girl; "why I never heard of that! How do you husk a bee anyway, Mr. Simmons?"—The Open Road.

Boxes Come High.—
MEN'S TIES $1.95
THESE SELL ORDINARILY FOR $1.49. IN INDIVIDUAL GIFT BOXES.—From an ad in the Alanta Journal.

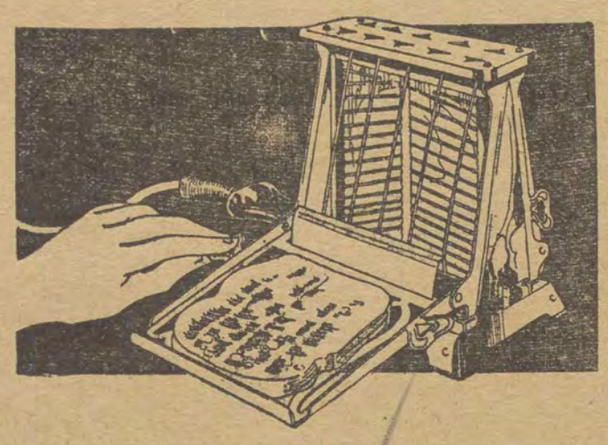
Bridge Runs Wild.—
JAMES BUSHEE AND WIFE HAVE NARROW ESCAPE RUN INTO BY STATE ROAD BRIDGE
—Headline in a Pennsylvania paper.

Capacious Pockets.—
COTTON ON DISPLAY
Sixteen bales produced by Smith county man in Hotel Lobby.
—Headlines in a Texas Paper.

Choosing One's Customers.—
BABIES
We have FOODS and TOILET PREPARATIONS for INFANTS which are GUARANTEED.
—From an ad in an Ohio Weather Almanac.

Do Your Gums Bleed When You Brush Your Teeth

Put a stop to it before pyorrhea develops.



Creosene is a new, improved, pleasant form of home treatment for pyorrhoea infected gums which banishes this terrible disease by killing the germs, saves you a frightful expense and severe pain.

Bleeding gums stopped in 12 hours; soreness disappears in 24 hours; pus clears up in two to three days; teeth begin to tighten in ten days, and if your trouble has not been completely eliminated in three or four weeks, get your money back.

Creosene is sold by all good druggists at $1.00 a bottle, or sent direct from Creosene Co., Desk 4-W, Atlanta, Ga., on receipt of price. Guaranteed satisfactory or money refunded. For sale by Alred Drug Co., Clanton.

Now Is The Time

To get that electric toaster

This is electric toast month and we are making a special effort to let everybody in on the benefits of electric toast.

Once you have eaten toast made on this fine electric toaster you will never feel that breakfast is complete without your toast. Toast can be made right at the table and eaten while still warm and delicious. Golden brown toast is healthful and gives you plenty of energy to start the day right and keep going at full steam until luncheon.

Toast Is Good For Many Occasions

Not only at breakfast can this toaster be used but for the children's lunch it will be very handy. Children will have their appetites appeased at noon or after school by appetizing toast sandwiches and have surplus energy for their work or play of the afternoon.

And for that bridge luncheon or midnight supper, toast sandwiches will satisfy. The convenience and speed of this electric toaster will be appreciated on such occasions.

Alabama Power Company

55 Stores in Alabama

We Pay Highest Cash Price for Eggs & Chickens

HILL'S

50lb Can pure lard $8.25

Tomatoes by the Case $2.00

The store with the Red Front--7th st.

Cornflakes or Post Toasties 3 for 25c

Great Northern beans, 3-lb	25c	Prunes, 2lb	25c
Bull Head catsup, 2 for	25c	Pioneer corn, No. 2 can	10c
Peacock syrup, per gallon	72c	Swifts Pure Lard No. 10 pail	$1.58
Ajax, the coffee with an aroma of strength, lb	29c	Rumford or Calumet Baking Powder, lb can	29c
Home made Ribbon Cane syrup, per gallon	$1.00	Campbell's Pork & Beans Large cans, 3 for	25c
3-Minute oatmeal	9c	Nice whole grain rice, lb	9c
Dried Apples, per lb	18c	Argo starch	4c
Export soap, per bar	4c
Chum salmon, 2 cans	25c

Split Silk Flour . $10.25 bbl.

The Flour that is GUARANTEED to please you or YOUR MONEY BACK

ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala. — "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 11, 1926 NUMBER 47

DR. W. B. CRUMPTON DIED IN MONTGOMERY TUESDAY

State's Foremost Baptist Minister Succumbs to Heart Trouble in Montgomery Hospital

Montgomery, Ala., March 9.—Dr. W. B. Crumpton, 84, former president of the Alabama Anti-Saloon League, Confederate veteran, pioneer Baptist minister, one of Alabama's leading citizens, died at a Montgomery hospital at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. An attack of the heart is reported to have caused his death. Dr. Crumpton was carried to the hospital Monday morning. His physician, Dr. Fred Wilkerson, said that his death was hastened by a fall which Dr. Crumpton suffered Sunday night at his home on Sayre street.

Dr. Crumpton was one of the outstanding Baptists of Alabama. He was leader of dry forces of the State for many years, being one of the first to start the movement to drive saloons from the state and nation.

He was a member of the First Baptist church of Montgomery, and was also a mamber of Camp Lomax of Confederate veterans. Dr. Crumpton had made Montgomery his home for many years, and had served as secretary-treasurer of the Alabama Baptist Convention for many years, and had filled other high positions with the denomination.

Dr. Washington Bryan Crumpton was born on February 24th, 1842 at Camden in Wilcox county, Alabama. He was the son of Henry Tally and Matilda (Bryan) Crumpton, who lived at Cahaba, Camden and Pine Apple, the former of whom was a native of South Carolina, grandson of Richard Bryan of South Crolina.

The Crumptons came from England originally and the Bryans from Ireland. Ancestors on both sides fought in the Revolutionary and Indian wars.

Rev. Crumpton received his early schooling in Camden, Pine Apple and Pleasant Hill. He enlisted in the 37th Mississippi infantry regiment, C. S. army and served as sergeant until near the close of the war when he was elected lieutenant. He was wounded at Vicksburg, Nashville and front of Atlanta.

He attended Georgetown College, Kentucky, soon after the war of secession but was never graduated. He began to preach in 1867 and was ordained in the regular work of the Baptist ministry January 31, 1870 at Town Creek church, Dallas county, at the request of Pleasant Hill church. He was a Baptist pastor for many years and has been corresponding secretary of the Baptist State Missionary Board for 25 years.

He was an advocate for prohibition for more than 35 years and was president of the Alabama Anti-Saloon Leagus from the time of its organization until recently. He is the author of "A Book of Memories, 1842-1920." Dr. Crumpton's latest publication was "How Alabama Went Dry."

Dr. Crumpton is survived by his second wife, Florence I. (Johnson), three daughters and one son. Two of his daughters are wives of prominent Baptist ministers.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown and Rufus will be glad to know they are fast recovering from influenza. They have been seriously ill for some time.

I want to buy 1,000 bushels of peas in the next few days. Bring them in quick. M. A. Gore, Clanton, Ala. 1t-p.

MR. HERROD VISITOR HERE MONDAY

Mr. W. T. Herrod of Plantersville was among the visitors to Clanton Monday. Some years ago Mr. Herrod was a member of the Court of County Commissioners of Chilton County, during which time he was a frequent visitor here. When he gave up his office he moved down to Plantersville in order to place his children in Dallas County High School.

During the past two years Mr. Herrod has been following the carpenter trade, working at Selma and Demopolis. At present he is resting for a while at his home and going about among his old friends.

"I am not in politics any more," said he, "but I observe that a good number of the boys are warming up for the races this year. I follow the public affairs of Chilton County with much interest, and my hope is that the Republican party may continue its splendid management of affairs up here."

JOHN MADDOX ARRESTED WITH LIQUOR

Sheriff Littlejohn caught John Maddox with four bottles of liquor last Saturday. He was arrested and brought to jail where he remains yet, not having made bond.

Maddox had his liquor hid in the woods near Samaria Church. When he went to get it, supposedly for the purpose of selling it to some of his customers, the officers watched him and took possession of him and his goods. This is the second or third time Maddox has been arrested on charges of violating the prohibition laws in recent years.

NOTICE COUNTY BOARD MEET

The Chilton County Board of Education will hold its next meeting on March 19th instead of March 26th. This is necessary because of the meeting of the A. E. A., which is held on the latter date.—B. Lawrence, Supt.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the good people of our community and of other communities and of Clanton who lent helping hands and spoke comforting words to us during the sickness of our precious little boy, Lake. We also thank Dr. Napoleon Johnson, who was so kind and attentive to him. Lake's little heart is being made to rejoice with nice presents and flowers which we appreciate so much. May God pour out his richest blessings on each of you, is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones.

JACK RABBIT MINSTRELS HERE ALL THIS WEEK

The famous Jack Rabbit Minstrel show is in Clanton this week showing every night under a big tent on the vacant lot, corner of Sixth Street and First Avevnue. The troupe arrived on Monday, and their first performance Monday night was greeted by a large crowd.

They will put on a different show is charged. Reserved seats are 15 every night this week. No admission cents each.

Everybody is invited to come to the show every night this week. It is a gang of real negro minstrels. They guarantee to make you laugh if there is nothing the matter with you. And if there is anything wrong with you physically, they will sell you some medicine to put you right.

Fiddlers Convention at The Courthouse Saturday Night

Twenty-Four Valuable Prizes To Be Given To Best Fiddlers. Lots Of Fun.

Everything is all set for a big time at the court house next Saturday night, when the Methodist ladies will present the best old time fiddlers in this section of Alabama for a grand concert jubilee. A fine list of prizes have been subscribed by business firms of Clanton, as follow:

Clanton Motor Car Co., $5 in cash; Johnson Drug Co., $4 Military brush; Alred Mercantile Co., $3.50 pair of Star Brand Shoes; Alred Drug Co., $3.50 razor; First National Bank, $2.50 in cash; Peoples Savings Bank, $2.50 in cash; Downs Grocery Co., $2.50 box of cigars; Mullins & Moore, $2.00 cash; Jones Mardware Co., $2 Clauss razor; E. E. Upchurch, $2 box of Prince Albert Tobacco; Farmers Hardware Co., $2 flash light; Chilton Hardware Co., $2 pocket knife; Chicago Sales Co., $2 shirt; W. H. Hayes, $2 sack "Full-o-Pep Egg Mash"; Hayes Drug Co., $2 pipe; Lee Smith, $1.50 can Canova coffee; The Leader, $1.50 shirt; J. C. Jones, $1.50 can Mammy's coffee; M. A. Gore, $1.50 sack flour; Elmore's, $1 tie; Broadhead & Son, $1 tie; Tom Kemp, $1 pair men's hose; W. A. Kemp, $1 tie.

Clanton Motor Company, local Ford dealers, will give one inner tube to the ugliest man running for office in Chilton County. Three ladies will be the judges.

Uncle Bill Mullins will "cut the pigeon wing," as of 50 years ago. and Mr. W. H. Sartor will do the "Charleston," as of today.

Admission, 35c for adults; children under 12 years, 20c. Everybody is invited. You are promised two hours of enjoyment. The proceeds will go to the Methodist church of Clanton, Methodist ladies, Circle No. 2.

W. J. EASTERLING CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Owing to his late announcement last week we failed to give our readers an introduction to Mr. W. J. (Bill) Easterling, who is a candidate for member of the County Board of Education. Bill is a well-known business man and farmer. He has been engaged in various business activities in Clanton for several years, and, also has extensive farming interests in Beat 16.

He is a man of good business ability, and would bring to the educational board a very valuable practical knowledge of how to do things in the interest of the schools, should he be elected to the place.

Mr. Easterling is a Republican, and is a candidate in the Republican primary. He was a candidate for County Commissioner two years ago.

MAT WARE OPENING NEW PLACE ON SEVENTH STREET

This week Mr. Mat Ware is opening his new Clanton Cafe on Seventh Street in the Johnson Building back of Upchurch Drug Co. Concerning this place Mr. Ware says he is going to have a place that is as fine as any cafe in the larger cities, and will be prepared to please the most discriminating trade. He invites the public to visit his new place.

He will continue his business in the Popwell Building on Second Avenue, operating a lunch counter and barbecue stand.

SHERIFF FOUND BOY WITH LIQUOR SUNDAY

Sheriff Littlejohn was passing thru the community out towards Pinedale last Sunday and encountered a young man with a jug of liquor in a car. At the appearance of the officer the boy threw the jug out of jthe car and stepped on the gas. Since that time the boy has been on the jump to keep out of reach of the law.

SALE FOR PARTITION

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

By virtue of an order of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Ala., made on the 9th day of March, 1926, I, Victor J. Heard, the Commissioner named in said order, will sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public sale, at Clanton, Ala., in front of the court house door, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the 27th day of March, 1926, for the purpose of distribution among Eddie Williams, Allie Jones, Hurtellene Culp, Leonard Williams and Horace Williams, joint owners, on the following terms: cash—the following described property, viz:

The south half of the north half of the southwest quarter, Section 32, Township 22, Range 14; also the southeast fourth of the northeast fourth, and the east half of the northeast quarter of northeast quarter of Section 6, Township 21, Range 14; situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This March 9th, 1926.

VICTOR J. HEARD,
Commissioner.

3-11-3t-ch.

ROBERT BEAN CANDIDATE FOR BOARD OF EDUCATION

The name of R. H. Bean, of Collins Chapel, Beat 9, is added to the list of candidates this week, he having offered himself for membership on the county board of education.

In making his announcement Mr. Bean stated:

"I realize that it is up to somebody to make the sacrifice that is required in order that our school business may be properly attended to. I have always made a sacrifice of my own personal interests for the cause of better education and better schools, and I shall be glad to continue this same spirit of sacrifice in an even larger way if the people of the county want me to serve them on the board of education."

Mr. Bean is well known in a good portion of Chilton County. He has lived in the Collins Chapel community all his life and is a good man for the place he is asking for. He is a Republican of the "Simon Pure" variety.

SQUIRE DENNIS CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Mr. John S. Dennis, of Beat 11, has entered the race for Representative of Chilton County in the legislature of Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10. Mr. Dennis is the second one in this race, the other one being Hon. Percy M. Pitts, of Clanton.

Mr. Dennis is a well-known citizen of Beat 11, where he has been an active figure in the Republican party for many years.

D. F. JONES IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Five candidates are now in the field for the office of county commissioner of the first district. The last one to jump in was Mr. D. F. (Frank) Jones, Mr. Jones is well known in the district and in many parts of Chilton County. Running against him are John Bean of Beat 12, T. J. Dorminey, present commissioner, J. N. Scott of Jemison, and S. E. Waldrup.

TWO MEN ARRESTED ON WAY TO STILL

Monday evening Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee got a bit restless and decided they would cruise around for a while. They set out to the northward and were soon joined by Deputy Loss Robinson, proceeding on into Stumps Hills, seeking whom they might devour.

They had not gone far before they encountered their victims. Two men, Chap Horton and Ocie Barnett, were on a two-horse wagon going to a still to make a run. On the wagon they had all the apparatus and paraphernalia necessary in the making of liquor. They had all of the still except the furnace and the kettle.

The men were arrested and brought to jail. Judge Gulledge held their preliminary trials Tuesday. Each was bound to the grand jury on bonds of $750. At the time of this writing they have not made bonds and are of course still in jail.

LARGER ACREAGE IN COTTON EXPECTED

As the farmers proceed with their work preparatory to planting their 1926 crops, information continues to develop indicating that a very large acreage will be planted in cotton and not enough in corn, hay, and other feed crops this year. Reports from every cotton-producing state indicate a strong tendency toward cotton, and apparently Alabama farmers expect to plant as much cotton as they have ever planted in one year.

Fertilizer sales to date this season are far ahead of the same date last year. The final increase is not expected to be equivalent to the increases in sales to date. Farmers are buying earlier under the stimulus of cooperation in order to get it at a lower price and have it on hand before time to put it in the ground.

Weather conditions generally have been favorable to crop production in Alabama. The heavy rains of January and early February were followed by a period of relatively little rain for the season. An unusual amount of sunny cool weather put the soil in good condition and enabled farmers to go forward with their plowing. Unofficial reports indicate that up to early March more than the normal amount of plowing had been done.

Reflecting the favorable outlook, the tendency of the price of cotton has been downward for some time. Old crop prices are approximately 5 to 7 cents and new prices around 8 cents a pound under quotations a year ago. The cotton trade seems to be inclined to a 17 or 18-cent level for October, and cotton growers who are looking forward are preparing to plant with the understanding that present conditions point to lower prices for cotton next fall.

CIRCUIT COURT WILL BEGIN MARCH 22

The regular January term of the Circuit Court of Chilton County will convene on Monday, March 22. At this time the grand jury will be in session.

The first week of the court will be given to the disposition of cases on the civil docket, which are as follows:

Mary Fitzpatrick vs. M. D. Foshee, et als.

Alabama Power Co., vs. Rebecca Driver and Mary Fitzpatrick.

Felix Eiland vs. Percy M. Pitts.

J. A. W. Mims vs. J. H. Adams, J. R. Mullins, garnishee.

The Gordon Hollow Blast Grate Co., vs. Thompson & Sons.

Moore & Handley Hardware Co., vs. Thompson & Sons Lumber Co.

Strickland Bros. Machine Co., vs Thompson & Sons Lumber Co.

Will G. Shaw vs. Harry Roper.

J. C. Watson vs. B. M. Killingsworth.

Alabama Chemical Co., vs. W. J. Benton.

Alexander Riggins vs. Sam M. Edwards.

J. D. Wells vs. Firemans Fund Insurance Co.

Chilton County vs. Mamie C. Norrell, W. M. Sandlin and T. C. McSwain.

Lillie Goodgame, adms. of Roy Goodgame, vs. L. & N. R. R. Co.

Mrs. J. F. Capps vs. J. L. Webb.

W. R. K. Stanford vs. Southern Railway Co.

James M. Abrams vs. Judy Abrams.

Martha J. Dutton et als., vs. Thos. J. Mims.

Firemans Fund Insurance Co., vs. A. P. Vinson.

Chilton County vs. R. J. Eiland et als. (L. D. Popwell).

M. A. Gore vs. J. H. Hosey and Mark Hosey.

John W. Hawkins vs. L. & N. R. R. Co.

Chilton County vs. J. Lee Cox.

Branch E. Simmons vs. Dewey Branch, et als.

D. L. Shackelford, as Clanton Motor Car Co., vs. J. G. Haigler.

S. E. Bruce vs. Alabama Power Co.

Callie Culp vs. W. F. Culp.

W. Y. Hayes vs. Edgar Atchison.

Will Hudson vs. L. & N. R. R. Co.

Mrs. Mandy Smith vs. L. & N. R. R. Co.

L. H. Reynolds vs. J. J. Hayes.

J. R. Askins vs. Albert Adams.

Mrs. J. G. Cline vs. W. A. Kemp.

W. D. Taylor vs. Alred Mercantile Co.

George E. Jacks vs. B. & M. Transportation Co.

C. A. Pattilli vs. F. D. Wilson & Sons.

Ellen Wright vs. Chilton County.

E. H. Foshee vs. H. H. Jones.

Mrs. K. R. Haughey vs. Western Union Telegraph Co.

W. A. Reynolds vs. M. & O. R. R. Co.

The second week of court, beginning on March 29th, will be devoted to trial of cases on the criminal docket.

FLOYD

There was a singing at this place Sunday. A large crowd attended and enjoyed some real good singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Huett visited Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Taylor were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Taylor Sunday.

Mr. Houston Strock attended the singing at this place Sunday.

EDWARD O'NEAL'S VIEWS ARE BEING SOUGHT

Secretary of Agriculture Has Invited Farm Bureau President To Come To Capital For Conference.

Hon. W. M. Jardine, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., has invited Edward A. O'Neal to come to Washington and talk with him on agricultural questions. "If you can find time to come to Washington at Government expense," said the Secretary, "I would like to sit down and talk over a number of matters to which I have been giving a great deal of time."

Mr. O'Neal has notified the Secretary that he will make the trip to Washington as soon as other engagements will permit him to go, perhaps March 5 and 6.

When the letter from Mr. Jardine was received Mr. O'Neal found that his schedule was complete until March 5 and 6. He is out addressing Farm Bureau members in meetings.

This invitation from the Secretary of Agriculture is a distinct honor and also a recognition of the Alabama Farm Bureau President and his views and opinion on agricultural topics.

BASEBALL BEGINS AT C. C. H. S.

In this good old U. S. A., when the sun begins to peep out for whole days at the time, and redbirds begin to sing, something begins to throb within every boy. He may not know just what it is at first, but pretty soon the symptons begin to show. It's the baseball fever! People in other countries can never learn to care much about our national game, but it does seem to be "in the blood" of almost every lively American no matter what they do or where they live. Out of every 100 Americans, just about 99½ take to baseball like a duck to water.

Any afternoon now that you happen to pass the ball park at Chilton High you can hear the timber cracking the old horsehide, as the young men struggle for positions on the varsity team that will represent that school in interscholastic games this spring.

Coach Bruner has a green bunch to make a team out of, but from the stiff practice he was putting them thru one afternoon last week, should be rounded into shape pretty soon. The best way we can express our opinion of Coach Bruner's ability is that he "knows his stuff," and also knows how to teach it to his boys.

We didn't have time to look around much, but Reese Mullins at third, Roy Connatser at short, and Alton Connatser at first, seemed to be grabbin' 'em nicely for the practice they have had this season. Right here we urge all the fans to watch "Little Connie" Connatser at short this year. He looks good in the shortfield and with the willow. Later we will be able to give a better view of the prospects.

Although they are mostly green men, there are enough to pick a good team from, as the field is covered every afternoon with youngsters who try, and keep on trying to learn.

No games have been announced this year as yet, but if you feel you must see some baseball, come out and see the practice each afternoon. Maybe that'll keep the fever down 'till the real article comes along.

Mrs. Grady Reynolds and children are recovering from influenza.

Must See Ahead

If there is a sharp curve in the road, you go slow. You want to see what's ahead. After dark you will not drive without lights for the same reason.

Being able to see ahead is what insures safety and success, no matter what the undertaking. In financial as well as other affairs, the only way to look into the future is by the light of the past. Successful men have worked, planned and SAVED. Why not follow the light they have given and do likewise? Our Bank will help you.

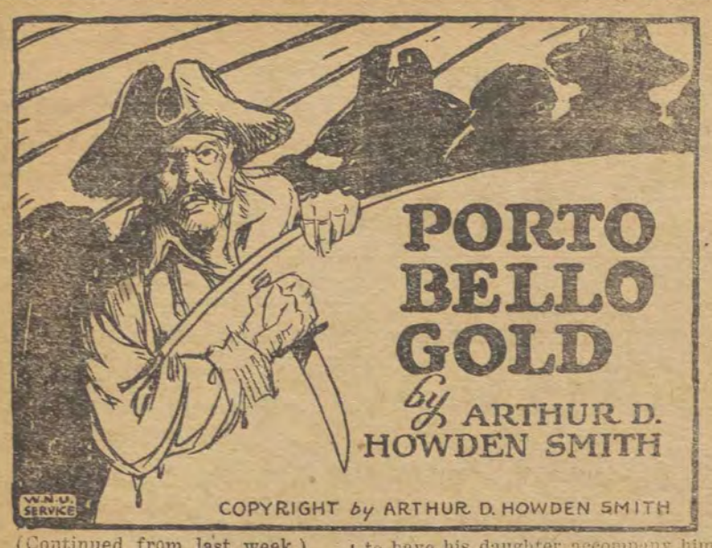
Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help
CLANTON, ALABAMA

It Takes More Than a Sign Over The Door To Make A

-BANK-

It takes experience, brains, and above all, the proper organization for the protection of depositors.



This bank is regularly examined by officials of the Federal Government. Every transaction must meet their rigid requirements. Your money is absolutely safe in this bank. It is here until you need it, and yours when you want it.

If you are not already a depositor you are cordially invited to open an account.

This Bank is Under Government Control

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA
Safety—Service—Accomodation

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER VII

A Wicked Old Man's Dream

My great-uncle sank into his chair with a gesture of disgust and poured three fingers of brandy into a wine-glass.

"Phaugh!" he exclaimed. "At times I am nauseated by the company perforce I keep."

I laughed, and he put the glass from his lips, peering at me across its rim as if surprised.

"You find occasion for mirth in my remark, Robert?"

"No," I said; "I am only expressing to you my feeling that you have as little claim to possession of a sense of honor as the man who was just here."

Murray's large face, with its powerful, craggy features, glowed with the radiance of an intense personal conviction.

"What is honor? Or dishonor? Certes, here we have a call for close reasoning. No hasty generalities can dismiss so vexed a problem, which hath consumed the attention of gentlemen since gentility's institution. I conceive of honor as the quality of being faithful to oneself, to the ethical standard one has established for this life we pass through so precariously."

"So that if a man practices dishonesty toward all save himself he preserves his honor!" I protested.

"Now do you twist my thoughts," replied my great-uncle. "And in the same breath you raise a complementary question: What is dishonesty—or honesty? As I have told you before, I take from those who have much, those who prey upon others."

"You are clever with words," I sneered; "but I'll not be fooled. What have you to say of your craft in deluding O'Donnell into risking his daughter aboard this treasure ship? Do you call it honorable to persuade a foolish unbalanced fellow to take an innocent young girl out of a convent, her half across the world, and to cloak a miserable conspiracy, plunge her into the society of such scoundrels as Flint and yourself?"

Instead of losing his temper, as I had expected, my great-uncle stared at me very earnestly throughout this tongue-lashing. A speculative look came into his eyes.

"You have seen this maid, I believe," he said.

"I met her by accident. 'Twas I

"I Met Her by Accident."

saved her from walking into the Whale's Head after her father."

"You did very well," he approved warmly. "And you spoke to her? Prithee, Robert, what manner of maid is she? A lady?"

"Yes."

"She should be an exquisite chit, Robert. She has good blood in her. Her mother was a younger sister of the duke of Leitrim, and her father's father was a younger son of Lord Donegal. She will be much to the fore when King James returns to Whitehall."

"If he does!" I jeered. "I marvel that you should use so hardly a maid of such birth."

"Hardly? Why do you say that?"

"Oh, an end to your shabby deceits and subterfuge!" I shouted. "I ha' told you already I know she is to be dragged aboard your ship when you take the Santissima Trinidad. I could stomach your treatment of me, Murray. But to expose a slip of a girl, scarce more than a child, to life on this floating hell and the attentions of Flint and his lambs!"

My great-uncle pursed his lips.

"What a vehement youth! As to the maid's inclusion in our scheme, 'twas manifestly of the chiefest importance that Colonel O'Donnell's connection with me be not suspected. And the best way to cloak that was to have his daughter accompany him."

"But why?" I persisted. "Why all this devious deceit? Why mix a young maid in an unsavory intrigue? Why make her father disloyal to his master?"

Murray flushed crimson.

"He is not disloyal to his master," he replied with his first show of anger. "Colonel O'Donnell's master, my master—aye, your master—is King James! What doth O'Donnell care for the paltry Spaniard who sits in the palace at Madrid? What do any of us care for the Spaniards, who have not been men enough to live up to their declarations of support of the Stuarts? Boy, are you a fool?"

There was that about his rage which benumbed my own and awakened again the reluctant admiration which puzzled and embarrassed me. What was it my father had said of him?

"He is sincere in a queer, twisted way."

Past doubt, he was. I sensed a warped nobility of mind which stirred me to sympathy and pity. I felt of a sudden as if our places had been reversed, as if his white hairs were mine, and his my unlined face.

"Perhaps I am a fool," I said. "Yet if I know nothing of your plan and so am inclined to misconstrue it, whose fault is that?"

He dropped knife and fork and fixed me with his eyes, so marvelously alive and bright in their setting of crow's feet and wrinkles, so luminous with youth.

"Those are the first words you have spoken which have had any tinge of kindness to them," he answered. "Tis my fault you are so far ignorant, Robert, and I will endeavor to repair the error. I did not seek to delude you when I told you I carried you from New York because I needed your assistance, and that is so far true that I admit without hesitation I must have your help before I can achieve aught of my future plans for bettering your station in life. In fine, Robert, I need you at this time being more than you can need me; and your hostageship with Flint is but the least of the services I hope from you."

"That is frank," I replied. "And I will match it. I have told you I'll not help in piracy; nor will I. The taking of this treasure ship is—"

"Bide, bide," he interrupted. "Before you commit yourself further let me tell my story."

He left the table and took from a cupboard in the wall a rolled map which he spread upon the table between us, shoving aside the plates and glasses to make room for it. I saw at a glance 'twas a chart of the Caribbean sea and the Spanish main and the islands which stretched from the top of the Floridas to the Brazils.

"This is for reference," he remarked. "My story begins in Europe, and we require no map for that. Your father, Robert, was a stout Jacobite at your age. He has since changed his convictions; but we'll say nothing on that score. I, on the contrary, was born a Jacobite and am one still, heart and soul. I shall never rest until the Hanoverian usurper has been displaced.

"I was on the other side of Africa when I first had word Prince Charles had raised the White Cockade in Scotland in the '45. I sailed for home as you have heard and was many months too late to be of service. But I established touch with friends in France who work for the cause, and so learned that the good work was going merrily on. All that is wanted for another rising is money—gold!"

He paused, and a slow, strange smile shadowed his face and he drew a finger across the map on the table.

"I said I would tell you a story," he went on. "But after all 'tis only a dream—a wicked old man's dream, Robert. 'Tis so you think of me, I know—and your father—and Peter there—and—I wonder what the little maid you spoke with would think! Or the poor, throneless old king who huddles over his brazier for warmth in the dreary palace in Rome that is all he has left of his majesty! Or Prince Charlie, who flits back and forth from France to the Low countries, scheming and plotting and always curbed for lack of—gold!

"Gold! We stumble for lack of it in every enterprise. With sufficient of it you may upset kingdoms, buy pardons, obtain patents and honors and place. 'Tis a definite substance, mark you, hard and shining and heavy in the hand—not such thistle-down as dreams are made o'.

"When was the thought born? I cannot say. Flint and I had often sought the yearly treasure ship, but never had sight of her. Then one day the idea came to me to utilize my Jacobite friends in France and Spain. A bribe, which I supplied, procured for O'Donnell, already an officer on the regular establishment of the Spanish forces, appointment as an inspector of fortifications on the ports on the Main.

His forefinger explored the chart before us and came to rest upon a dot on the flank of the narrow neck of land which joins the two Americas.

"There is Porto Bello, which was the port of the old treasure galleons and discarded as such by the Spaniards after Morgan sacked it. But later they restored and strengthened the fortifications, although in the late war our Admiral Vernon carried it by surprise. At that time Cartagena was the treasure center, and when Vernon attempted it he was repulsed with loss. Two years since the council of the Indies decided to resume sailings from Porto Bello, which is the most advantageously situated of all ports on the Main for the collection of the treasure.

"See! 'Tis about midway betwixt Mexico and Peru, and the mines of Veragua are at its back door. The treasures are fetched south from La Vera Cruz by a ship under escort of the Garda Costas and transferred at Porto Bello to the ship for Spain, which puts forth about the beginning or middle of September.

"This is a strong ship and well manned, but the Spaniards have been taught by centuries of experience to accept no risk for her. Her identity is never known in advance, even to her captain. He sails from Cadiz for the Main under sealed orders which he doth not open until mid-Atlantic is passed, and these orders do but carry him to Porto Bello."

"Then how shall you have word of her sailing?" I broke in, swept off my feet by the rush of this amazing narrative.

"That is O'Donnell's task. He will reach Porto Bello during the summer and be so concerned for the state of the fortifications that he'll refuse to leave until he has put them in defensible condition. Whilst he is there he will receive dispatches from Spain summoning him home on urgent affairs. He will elect to embark upon the treasure ship because she is large and commodious and likewise safe. And thanks to his position, he will have accurate knowledge some days in advance of her sailing date. When he has obtained this fact he will convey it secretly to one Diego Salvez, an agent I maintain in that port. Diego, by O'Donnell's help, will get out of town and put to sea in a fast sloop he hath in a little river near where was the ancient town of Nombre de Dios, so that we shall have sure tidings of the Santissima Trinidad's coming and be prepared for her."

"But what of her course?" I scrutinized the map. "There are three separate exits from the Caribbean into the Atlantic."

"You have clapped on to the nub of our problem," said Murray. "'Twas the piece of information I was at most pains to obtain. The Santissima Trinidad will head for the Mona passage. I will show you why. The first aim of the Spaniards is to conceal her voyage; she sails a course which keeps her as much as possible in open seas. And the best exit for that purpose is the opening between Hispaniola and Porto Rico.

"My intent is that the Royal James shall ply off the westerly mouth of the passage from about the end of August, avoiding all intercourse with shipping and keeping as far out to sea as is practicable. When Diego appears we will restrict the space of our beat, and 'twill be impossible for the treasure ship to escape us. If she runs we can catch her, and at fighting I can take any don under a ship-o'-the-line."

"So much I heard you declare to Colonel O'Donnell aboard the brig," I said. "But what comes next? You take the Santissima Trinidad—and then?"

He moved his forefinger over the surface of the map and brought it to rest in front of a tiny outline sketched in ink on the expanse of sea east of Cuba and somewhat to the north of Hispaniola. Northward of this spot stretched the far-flung myriads of the Bahamas.

"That is what you have heard Flint and me refer to as the Rendezvous, and Spyglass island," he answered. "It has other names, I believe. Some have called it Treasure island, although I know of no treasure upon it. 'Tis said that Kidd discovered it, and certes, others of the old-time buccaneers were wont to maintain themselves there. We are bound thither now to refit and careen, and when we have the treasure safe under hatches we will return to the island to divide it and concert arrangements for delivering their share to Colonel O'Donnell's friends."

"What will Flint say to your fetching in strangers to your hiding place?" I asked.

A furrow deepened betwixt my great-uncle's lambent eyes.

"He'll not like it, Robert," he admitted. "I have O'Donnell's word to betray none of our secrets, and indeed 'tis to his own interest to keep hidden his part in this affair; but Flint may well make trouble. 'Tis a determined dog, and a greedy. Look you, boy, will you stand by me in the affair? For the girl's sake, if for no other reason?"

"Why not leave her aboard the treasure ship?"

He regarded me askance.

"It may be we must sink—"

I started up.

"Now, that I'll ha' naught to do with! I ha' told you I'd fight if you butchered the defenseless."

He waved me back.

"Peace, peace! We cannot carry off all the Spaniards in any case, and—"

He hesitated.

"—O'Donnell must be protected," he concluded.

"Against what?"

"Wagging tongues. I tell you his part must never be known. The Santissima Trinidad disappears, and with her the treasure and all her company. There's no other way."

"Take the treasure, if you must," I retorted; "but do not stain your hands with the blood of men who have not harmed you."

"I must slay some of them, in all probability," returned my great-uncle. "What difference between that and slaying all?"

I remembered the thrill of reprobation with which even the most devoted adherents of King George had heard of the butchery of the Scots wounded after Culloden.

"There's but one thing to do," I said. "You must make pretense of bearing off the daughter, and you can imprison the father, too, in order to silence his objections."

"A fit role for a pirate captain," mused my great-uncle. "El Capitan Rrrip-Rrrap and how he devoured the virgin! I can hear the stories that will be told in the Havana wine-shops. But I must have my price, Robert. If I spare such Spaniards as escape our great guns and the boarding-cutlasses, will you agree to stand back of me in the division of the spoils with Flint?"

"I'll not become lieutenant in your piracies, if that be your meaning," I returned.

"No; my meaning is plain, boy. I wish you and Peter to help me to get clear of Flint with the O'Donnells and their portion of the treasure."

"But why return to the Rendezvous at all? Bear off with the O'Donnells and land them and their treasure before you deliver Flint his share."

"'Tis not so simple as all that. The action with the Santissima Trinidad will require cannonading, and that will be heard. Probably we shall be seen sailing away. We may be pursued. The surviving Spaniards, whom you will have me spare, will speedily have their frigates after us. We must remain under cover for a period."

"Very well," I said. "I will do what you ask for the maid's sake—if Peter is willing."

"Ja," assented Peter.

Murray caught my hand in a quick, firm clasp.

"Good!" he cried. "'Twill be the first o' many times we stand shoulder to shoulder. Ah, Robert, I ha' dreamed a splendid dream, and any man who helps in its achievement will not have lived in vain. We'll take this gold and build an avenue of victories for the king's ride to Whitehall. What will we not do? We'll rouse the claymores from the hills! We'll carry the Irish brigade to London town! We'll fetch home the Wild Geese from their haunts of exile! We'll ha' the beacon fires ablaze from end to end of the Three Kingdoms! And the White Cockade over all!

"There'll be no talk of pirates then! 'Twill be my lord duke of Jedburgh, marquis of Cobbielaw and Earl and Baron Broomfield; aye, and an English peerage to boot. We'll ride high, Robert—aye, with the highest!"

He broke off short, and the glow in his eyes charred out.

"'Tis not a bad vision for a wicked old man to dream; eh, boy? Remember it when you hear the crowds a-cheering us in the Strand."

(To be continued next week.)

FROM INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA

The Union-Banner received the following letter recently:

"Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 1, 1926.
Editor Union-Banner:

Will you put a few lines in your paper to let the people know that I am in Indianapolis. I am at this cancer hospital, and hope to be cured in a short time. I don't see why people die with cancer when they can be cured. I hope to be back home by the 15th of March. If I don't come to Cooper, will be in Bessemer with my daughter, Mrs. C. E. Holley. My home is in Cooper.—Harvey Connell."

The hospital referred to was the cancer hospital of Doctors Root and McNeill, of Indianapolis.

LIBERTY HILL

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove Singing Society met here Sunday afternoon, with a small crowd. The president being absent, singing was called to order by Glover Smith.

Directors were Glover Smith, Kermit Lowery, Houston Melton, and Miss Gladys Jackson. Organists were Misses Etta Foshee and Lucile Price. Closing song by Glover Smith. Dismissed in prayer by Rev. A. L. Foshee. We thank the visitors for their help.—Sec'y.

FRIENDSHIP

We are glad that the flu has about made its round in this community.

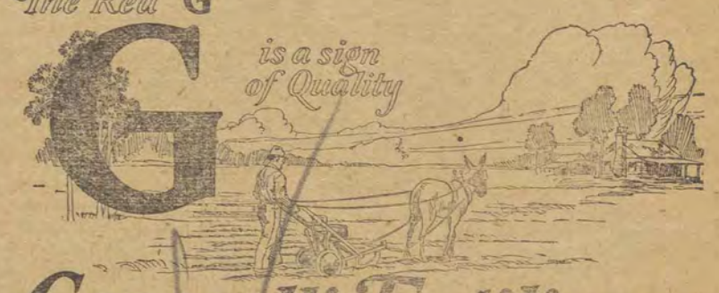
The weather is good most of the time now, and the farmers have a good chance to go on with their work.

Preaching at this place last Sunday night was enjoyed by many. Rev. Lockhart delivered a very interesting discourse on "How to walk in Christ."

Several people from around here attended the singing at the courthouse Sunday.

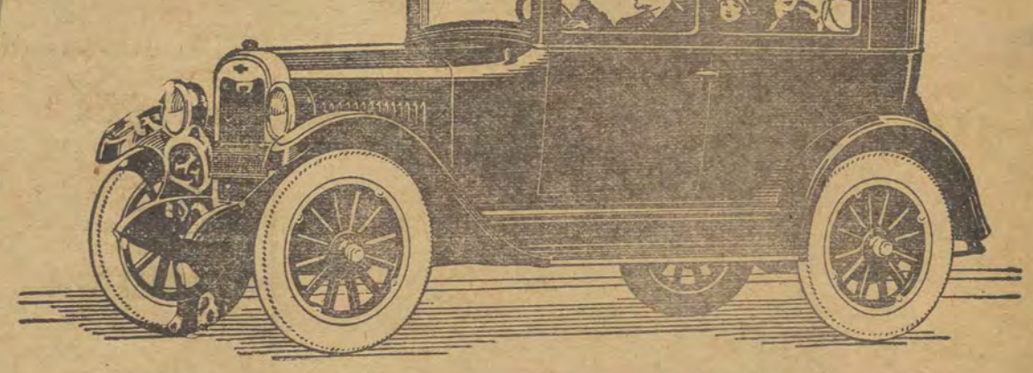
Mr. H. V. Honeycutt and family spent Sunday with relatives near Lock 12.

Misses Myrtle Hand and Lucile and Dethel Honeycutt spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Hand.



Mrs. Beanie Bates has been on the sick list for the last few days, but is improving now.

Woe be unto those who failed to pay their road tax, as our overseer is after some of them every time it rains.



Misses Alphia Cagle and Miss Cox from Mitchell Dam were visitors at the home of A. D. Huett for a short while Sunday afternoon.

ANOTHER NEW FILLING STATION

Work is now in progress on the erection of a new drive-in filling station at the corner of Seventh Street and Third Avenue north. We understand that the business will be operated by the Empire Oil people, who are planning to enter this territory with a wholesale and retail business. They have also erected two large storage tanks at the switch in South Clanton.

The Red "G"

Grasselli Fertilizers
are manufactured to give crops a quick start and early maturity. This is very necessary under Boll Weevil conditions.
Satisfaction in every sack, for over 20 years.
Look for the big red "G" on the bag.
THE GRASSELLI CHEMICAL COMPANY
Birmingham Gadsden Dothan
FOR SALE BY MULLINS & MOORE
Clanton, Alabama

for Economical Transportation
CHEVROLET
The Coach
$645
f.o.b. Flint, Mich.

Carefully check the quality and equipment offered in the Improved Chevrolet Coach! Check it against any five-passenger closed car in the world! Know what its new low price really means!
Where else can you get for $645 a five-passenger closed car with balloon tires, speedometer, fine Fisher body, Duco finish, one-piece VV windshield, Alemite lubrication and other essentials to modern motoring?
Come in—note these many quality features—get a demonstration—experience the car's amazing performance—and then you will realize how much more it gives for $645 than any other five-passenger closed car on the market today.
Ask for a Demonstration!
New Low Prices
Touring . . $510
Roadster . . 510
Coupe . . 645
Coach . . 645
Sedan . . 735
Landau . . 765
½ Ton Truck . 395
(Chassis Only)
1 Ton Truck . 550
(Chassis Only)
f. o. b. Flint, Michigan
Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated
CLANTON, ALABAMA
QUALITY AT LOW COST

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Norton, with their guests Mr. and Mrs. Yancey Kelley and baby daughter of Portland, Conn., motored to Mitchell Dam, where they were courteously welcomed by Mr. J. F. Porch, switch board operator, and inducted into the mysteries and wonders of the great plant. One interesting piece of mechanism was called "potentiometer", which indicates automatically on various cards the temperature of the different bearings in the complicated machinery. It performs its functions like a thing alive.

The Christian Endeavvor topics for last Sunday night were on "Perseverence." The meeting was in the form of a mail order. Clipping were given out numbered from one to twenty, each one containing one step to the meeting. As No. 1, a song; No. 2, a prayer; and so on till the meeting was completed.

The society is having some very interesting meetings now.

The Batist Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. E. R. Piper. It had been planned to meet with Mrs. Ben Franklin but changed on account of sickness.

Thorsby concert band, having done little or nothing for about a year, held a meeting last Monday night with a view of reorganizing under the leadership of J. O. Johnson, a veteran band master.

Mrs. T. W. Robinson has been quite seriously ill the past week with meningitis but not of the contagious type. She is reported to have passed the crisis and has good prospect of recovery now.

Miss Elizabeth J. Robinson, librarian at Thorsby Institute, has been quite ill with flu for a week past but has so far recovered as to be again on duty.

Mrs. M. C. Post, another valuable member of the T. I. faculty, has also been confined to her room for several days with the same trouble, but is slowly improving.

Mrs. S. C. Wood spent last Sunday with friends in Birmingham.

Last Friday a meeting of the R.A.'s, a boy's club, was held at the home of Mrs. S. C. Wood.

Mabel Howard wishes to express her sincere thanks to every boy, girl and adult person who voted for her in the beauty contest at Clay's show last week, which enabled her to win the prize.

Mrs. M. A. Gore spent Friday shopping in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover A. Bice and daughter, Oleta and son, H. L. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pate and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Walker, all motored to Deatsville last Sunday and took birthday dinner with Mr. Walker's mother, who was 84 years old.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Bonner spent Friday and Saturday of last week in Birmingham with friends.

The Baptist Girls Auxiliary met with Mrs. W. J. Billingsley Wednesday afternoon, March 3rd; a missionary program was carried out by the members.

Mr. Joyce Sorrell of Birmingham spent Sunday here with relatives.

Mr. E. N. Bentley spent Wednesday of last week in Birmingham on business.

A committee has been appointed to see about getting a lot for the erection of a new Baptist church in Thorsby.

The Y. W. A. met at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, March 2; all the members were present with several visitors. A splendid program was carried out.

Mrs. C. C. Driskell spent last Thursday afternoon in Clanton shopping.

Mrs. E. G. Hyman of Clanton was the guest of Mrs. E. R. Piper last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Sara Parrish of Clanton, who has been spending a few days with Mrs. W. J. Billingsley, returned to her home last Saturday.

Mrs. D. J. Flummer of Birmingham returned home Sunday, after spending a few days with Mrs. E. R. Piper.

The United Singing Society had a full house last Sunday afternoon and enjoyed a fine song service.

Next Sunday is regular preaching day at Thorsby Baptist church, services morning and night at the usual hour. You are invited.

On Saturday night, March 13th at 7:30, in Thorsby Institute dining hall, the first music recital of the year, under direction of Miss Alithea Parker, pupils of the piano deparment, will be responsible for the program. Mrs. Loveland will read; the boys quartette will sing.

The monthly praise service at the Congegational church on last Sunday night was another manifestation of the interest of the people of Thorsby and vicinity of the joy of singing. The house was filled to capacity and the program, all pertaining to 'The Cross' was enhanced by a large electrically illuminated cross. Special music was rendered.

Friends of Helen and Joe Moore, twins of Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore, will regret to learn of their illness.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid and son, Cameron, Jr., motored to Montgomery Wednesday evening to see "Blossom Time."

Mr. Grady Reynolds is spending several days in Montgomery on business.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson went up to Birmingham Wednesday evening to be the guest of her sister, Miss Alee Stewart. They attended the performance of "Thais."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Murphy, Mesdames M. B. Arant, Clyde Jones, and Lucian Duncan were among those motoring to Montgomery Thursday to see "Blossom Time."

AUCTION SALE

Saturday, March 13th, at 10:00 A. M., at my home one mile east of Thorsby, to the highest bidder FOR CASH—1 full-blood Jersey cow, fresh; 1 Jersey yearling; a lot of chickens, farm tools, and various house furnishings.

H. H. Dahl, Owner - J. M. Mims, Auc'r
Thorsby, Alabama

With Money in the Bank Subject to Your Own Call You are Independent of Poverty, Failure, Hard Times, Toil in Old Age.

Start on the road of independence today. The start may be hard but the end is easy. Depend on us for best results. We welcome you today. Try Us For Good Banking.

THE BANK OF THORSBY
Thorsby, Ala.
"Be Dependent on Your Bank Account."

The New Cafe

A. N. MINER, Proprietor

"A Good Place To Eat"

Located near the Court House

Hot biscuits for breakfast, corn bread, vegetables and chicken for dinner.

We invite you to eat with us when in Clanton. We are preparing to feed you when you come to court next week.

CLANTON LOCALS

Miss Evelyn Maddox spent the week end with friends at Thorsby.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson spent Friday shopping in Birmingham.

Mr. J. E. Robinson of Havana, Fla., is spending a few days with his father, Mr. Mose Robinson, who continues ill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stephenson and children of Chicago arrived Sunday for an extended visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson, who motored to Calera to meet them.

Mrs. T. C. McSwain returned Thursday from a delightful visit to relatives at Auburn, Ala.

Mr. George Busby of Calera visited Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wingard Thursday.

Miss Kate Rainer left Friday for her home in Elba, after a delightful visit of some weeks to her sister, Mrs. V. J. Elmore.

Mesdames J. Lee Smith, J. P. Hayes, P. T. Hinkle, and Grady Broadhead motored to Montgomery Thursday to see "Blossom Time."

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith of Prattville were guests of relatives Sunday.

Messrs. O. M. Strickland and Billings of Birmingham were visitors to town last Wednesday.

Mrs. Lucien Duncan had the misfortune to fall and break her arm Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor and family who have been residing in Sylacauga moved back to Clanton and are occupying the Ed Plier house next to the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robinson motored to Wetumpka Sunday to visit friends.

Mrs. R. L. Duffey and children of Mt. Creek were guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Gray Monday.

Mesdames E. E. Upchurch, John T. Ellis, and C. Fenn Jones motored to Montgomery Thursday and spent the day shopping. They remained for the evening performance of "Blossom Time."

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Downs, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis, motored to Montgomery Thursday evening to see "Blossom Time."

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lyman of Autaugaville visited friends here Tuesday.

Mrs. Tom Curlee and little son, Bill, of Birmingham, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Curlee last week.

Mr. William Smith, who has been at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Mary Smith, was called home Monday on account of the illness of his wife.

Miss Dewey Branch visited friends in Birmingham last week.

Mesdames Clifford Mullins and John Hollis of Mitchell Dam were guests of Mrs. J. Hance Alred Monday.

Mesdames W. I. Mullins, J. Watts Moore, J. Hugh Jones, and Miss Kathleen Mullins motored to Montgomery Thursday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. Ed Wagoner has returned from South Highland Infirmary, Birmingham, where she underwent treatment.

Mesdames W. M. Wyatt and children Kin Vinson and children, and Mr. Courtland Retherford motored to Montgomery Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Omar Reynolds spent several days of this week in Prattville, attending court.

Mrs. J. R. Mullins of Montgomery was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foshee Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Downs and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Downs motored to Birmingham Sunday.

Mrs. Paul Devoll and daughter of Atlanta, Ga., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hugh Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Supples, Mrs. Caraker and son of Montgomery were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hugh Jones Sunday.

Miss Kathleen Mullins is the guest of Miss Marzelle Mullins in Montgomery.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mr. J. E. Thomas is recovering from an operation which was performed about a week ago, and will soon be able to return home.

Little Arthur Huguley from Calera was brought to the hospital Monday, and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Tom Weldon and little daughter, Anna Frances, are both doing fine.

Mrs. Newt Wyatt, who underwent a serious operation a week ago is recovering fast, and is expected to be able to return home within the next few days.

Mrs. Etta Knight, who was brought to the hospital in a serious condition is doing fine, and a quick recovery is expected.

Mrs. Maline McCary who was operated on for appendicitis a week ago is recovering fast.

Mr. Lonza McCary who has been in a very serious condition is thought to be doing nicely.

Mrs. R. A. Hudson is the proud motrer of a 10-pound girl. Both mother and baby are doing fine.

Mr. W. A. Huckabee who was brought into the hospital yesterday is resting well.

Mrs. Tom Nix who underwent a slight operation yesterday, stayed at the hospital a few hours and then returned home, and is reported to be doing fine.

Little Horace Moore, brought in Sunday, having been hit by a car while playing on the highway, was examined thoroughly, and found to have only a few scratches. He was able to return home with his father and mother.

Mrs. Lucien Duncan, brought into the hospital with a badly broken arm, is reported as resting as well as can be expected. She left soon after her arm was set.

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County.—
In Probate Court.

On this, the 10th day of March, 1926, came M. L. Hall, guardian of Brainard Baxley, a minor, age sixteen years, and filed her petition in writing under oath in this court for an order to sell certain lands in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

The southeast quarter of the southeast qcarter, Section 20, Township 22, Range 14, which is the property of said minor and described in said petition, for the purpose of Maintenance and education of said minor.

It is ordered that Saturday, the 3rd day of April, 1926, be appointed a day for the hearing of said petition when any person interested may appear and contest said application if they deem proper.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
3-11-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

PLUMBER THOUGHT HE NEEDED NEW PIPES

"My stomach and intestines were always full of gas and I often had severe colic attacks. The pain and soreness caused me to think I needed a new set of pipes. Since taking MAYR'S 'One Dose Will Convince' all this has disappeared and my only trouble now is to make enough dough to buy all the food I'd like to eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation wwhich causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Special for Farmers

Arm & Hammer Soda, 7 packages	25c
18lb Sugar	$ 1.00
Good quality flour, per bbl	$10.00
German Kainit, per ton	$15.00
Best quality pea green Alfalfa hay, per ton	$38.00
Good quality Syrup, per gallon	65c

We carry all sizes in Chattanooga Plows and repair parts.

We carry the full line of "Alfocorn" mule, horse, dairy and chick feed.

Wholesale and Retail

JAMES C. JONES

Clanton, Ala.

All Right If It's There—If It Isn't, BEWARE!

GENUINE OLIVER REPAIRS SOLD BY

JONES HARDWARE CO. CLANTON, ALA.

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

And Now - - - TAX REDUCTION ALLOWED

Effective at once, the delivered price of all Chevrolet models is reduced. Chevrolet buyers will be given the benefit of the recent tax reduction, though it does not become officially operative until March 29. Thus for the third time since the first of this year Chevrolet emphasizes its supremacy in dollar-for-dollar value.

PRICES:

Touring	$510
Roadster	510
Coupe	645
Coach	645
Sedan	735
Landau	765
½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

First---Reduced Prices

Early in January Chevrolet announced sweeping price reductions.

Then---The Improved Chevrolet

Shortly thereafter the improved Chevrolet was announced at these reduced prices. Instantly it met with such an increase in popularity that it became necessary to break all previous production records for January and February.

And Now---A Further Saving

Although the reduction in automobile taxes does not become officially effective for some time, the full amount of this reduction is now passed on to Chevrolet buyers. Thus Chevrolet again emphasizes that principle of value on which it has built the greatest success ever attained by any manufacturer of modern gear shift automobiles. Come in! See the improved Chevrolet! One ride will be a revelation.

Chevrolet Motor Company
DETROIT, MICHIGAN
Division of General Motors Corporation

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated
CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

WHO IS THE UGLIEST CANDIDATE

There are lots of candidates running for office in Chilton County. It is a common question as to who is the best one and who will get the most votes. A new question has now been sprung: Who is the ugliest candidate? The question of who is the best candidate, and who will get the most votes is not so pushing. The answer can wait til the primary in August. But the burning issue is who is the ugliest candidate. That can't wait. It must be settled now. So the matter will come up for disposal Saturday night at the fiddlers convention at the court house when three ladies will be called upon to decide it.

There is much speculation as to who will win the prize. The man who is declared to be the ugliest candidate will be given an inner tube by the Clanton Motor Car Co. It will take some keen eye to decide, with such men in the race as Tom Rockett, Bill Culp, Jap Scott, John Dennis, John Bean and Alf Mims. Then there is Uncle Frank Jones, Squire Waldrup, and the sage of Stumps Hills, Kin Vinson and Sam Pate, all of whom stand a fairly good show of winning. But there is one candidate who can not expect ever to win the prize. We refer to Bob Bean. He is too good looking to even gain entry into an ugly man's contest.

Oh yes, we nearly forgot some of them. There is Uncle Dock Gentry, Tommy Maddox and John Benson, all candidates who are more or less good or bad looking. And the lone candidate for Sheriff, littlest and last to mention, Dudley Collins; what do you reckon he would do if he should fail to win the prize?

The ladies of the Methodist church are doing their best to provide a heap of fun for those who come to the fiddlers convention at the court house Saturday night. On the program are such good features as the following: The old time dance of 50 years ago, done by Uncle Bill Mullins. The new dance of today, known as the Charleston, done by Mr. Will Sartor. Of course there will be all sorts of fiddling by the best ancient and modern musicians in this section of Alabama.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO CONDEMN LAND

State of Alabama, Chilton County—
Chilton County vs. Carrie S. McMaster, et al—In Probate Court.

To: Mrs. Annie S. Allen, c|o Jack Parrish, West Hampton, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Bessie S. Hestle, No. 4 Parkview Apt., Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. J. M. Bruner, No. 20 Peden St., Westminster, S. C.

You are hereby notified that Chilton County, a Municipal Corporation, has filed in the Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, for the condemnation of certain lands and interests therein described and among said lands described in said application are the following:

A strip of land 50 feet wide lying 25 feet on either side of a center line as located and staked by the Highway Department of Alabama designated as Federal Aid Project No. 100-B, and more particularly described as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the property line of Willie Howard and the Simpson Estate with the center line of said road, depths running 1389 feet, more or less, to the intersection of the property line of said Simpson Estate and J. R. Taylor with the center line of said road running in a Southwesterly direction from said property line of Willie Howard to the property line of J. R. Taylor. The above tract of land lying in the South-East Quarter of the North-West Quarter of Section 17, Township 20, Range 16, Chilton County, Alabama, and containing One and 59|100 (1 & 59|100) Acres, more or less.

The said application avers that said Chilton County proposes to construct, build, use, maintain a public highway or road, and in so doing the land above described, of which you are an owner, or have an interest therein, will likely be traversed or crossed by said road, and you are hereby notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the court for the 19th day of March, 1926, and you may appear and contest said application if you think proper.

Witness my hand, this, the 17th day of February, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS.
2-25-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

Shumate
CUTLERY
Made of Razor Steel—It Stays Sharp
For Sale by
Alred Drug Company
CLANTON, ALA.

Oh Boy! What A Girl!

DISFRANCHISEMENT OF VOTERS

The non-voting citizenship of the South is one of our greatest political problems. But nothing is being done about it other than that some few political writers mention the subject now and then. Occasionally some figures are quoted to show that the percentage of voters to population is not near as great as it was years ago.

The condition that has grown upon the South is but the natural outcome of some curious and questionable enactments in the constitutions and laws of the states of the South.

The whole intent of the laws when enacted was to keep the negro from voting. But the bad part of it is that the working of the laws did not stop at keeping the negro from voting, but has also disfranchised more white folks than negroes.

Twenty-five years ago Alabama was preparing for the Constitutional Convention of 1901, which was to lay the ground work of the plans to disfranchise the negro. Concerning this convention, during the campaign to elect a representative from Chilton County, Prof. E. Y. McMorries issued the following statement published in The Banner:

> Believing suffrage to be the birth-right of the Anglo-Saxon race, I oppose the disfranchisement of any white voter of the State, except for crime. I oppose a wholesale disfranchisement of the negro. Some have shown themselves to be honest, intelligent, worthy citizens, and it would not be right to disfranchise such, especially where they have acquired property and are therefore tax-payers. In conferring the ballot upon the negro I could be more influenced by his general character and common sense than by his so-called educational qualifications.

About the same time the above statement of Prof. McMorries was published, the executive committee of the Populist party of Chilton County adopted and published a resolution on the subject as follows:

> We, the Executive Committee of the people's party of Chilton County, are opposed to the holding of a constitutional convention for we believe that many white men will be disfranchised if the convention is held.

These statements are interesting because they show that there were men who foresaw the evil effects of the laws that were being agiated and warned against them.

Judge L. H. Reynolds was Chilton's representative in the Constitutional Convention of 1901, and it will ever be an honor to him that he refused to sign the Constitution of 1901.

Burning over pastures does no good but lots of harm.

A cow needs from 3-4 to 1 1-2 ounces of salt each day.

Ask any housewife if she prefers running for water in the yard or having it run for her in the house.

The best gardeners plant, fertilize, and work every week in the year.

The U. S. census of 1920 shows that for every hundred female persons living on farms there were 109 male persons.

A good radio receiving set puts a farmer in direct touch with the best in information and entertainment.

Recent reports indicate that more boll weevils are hibernating now than during any winter since 1915, the United States Department of Agriculture has announced. The studies were made in Louisiana, Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

The second forecast of cotton production in India indicates a production of 5,064,000 bales of 478 pounds. This is an increase of 404,000 bales over the first forecast and approximately the same as the final estimate for last year, which was 5,069,000 bales.

An experiment conducted by the New Jersey Experiment Station revealed that direct sunlight is necessary for baby chicks to make maximum growth. In this experiment 1,000 chicks kept under glass weighed only 1-4 of a pound each in 12 weeks, while 200 chicks of the same age but kept out-of-doors in direct sunlight averaged 1 1-2 pounds each.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Honorable L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate Court of Chilton County, I, Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, Administratrix of the estate of J. W. Lawrence, deceased, will sell at public outcry to the highest bidder in front of the Court House door of Chilton County, Alabama on Monday, the 22nd day of March, 1926, at 12 o'clock, noon, for cash, the following described real estate belonging to said estate, to-wit:

The North half of the Southwest quarter, and the North half of the Southwest quarter of the Southwest quarter, and the South half of the Southwest quarter of the Northwest quarter, all in Sec. 10, Tp. 21, Range 11, containing 120 acres, more or less, and being situated in Chilton County, Ala.

MRS. J. W. LAWRENCE,
Administratrix.
ATKINSON & PITTS,
2-25-3t-ch Attys. for Admx.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of March 7, 1901.

On February 25 Mr. Albert Wright of Kincheon split 1,004 rails ten feet long in three-quarters of a day, the timber being ready cut.

Hon. Tipton Mullins is a candidate to represent Chilton County in the Constitutional Convention.

Rev. F. M. Woods preached two fine sermons at the Baptist church last Sunday.

Mrs. O. R. Bell has returned home from Birmingham.

Judge Craig of Selma was a visitor here Monday.

Married—E. L. Burnett and Miss Mary Collins.

Jim Hester of Tennessee is among Clanton friends this week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds a fine baby girl.—Valley Creek News.

ENORMOUS LOSSES FROM FIRES

Forest fires burned approximately 16% of the 22,000,000 acres of forest land in Alabama during the year 1925 as compared with 34% in 1924 and 36% in 1923, according to the compilations of the State Commission of Forestry just completed.

The total number of fires amounted to 11,229. The total area burned was about 3,395,887 acres. Lightning caused 9 fires, railroads 493, lumbering 1,177, brush burning 2,694, camp fires 113, use of fire in hunting 1,117, smokers 771, incendiaries 2,542, miscellaneous causes 324, while 2,029 were of unknown origin.

Fires covering less than 1-4 acre numbered 395, those between 1-4 and 10 acres in extent 2,127, between 10 and 100 acres 4,219, between 100 and 1,000 acres 3,533, while 955 were over 1,000 acres in extent.

The proportion of forest land burned in the organized forestry districts was about 6 1-2%, while in the unorganized territory it was approximately 18%.

In terms of one person per fire, it is estimated that 18,072 persons engaged in fighting forest fires without compensation from the State. Of these 15,535 were farmers and stockmen, 156 were railroad employees, 1,000 were lumbermen's employees, and other volunteers numbered 1,381. Private equipment was used in fire suppression to a hire value of $691.07. The total money value of private fire fighting efforts on the part of landowners and others is estimated at $28,219.45.

Forest fires occurring in Alabama during 1925 resulted in money damage amounting to $3,920,987. Of this amount $479,015 comprised damage to merchantable timber, $3,131,205 injury to young growth, $107,485 damage to wood products, $4,899 loss to other forest products, $163,318 damage to range and pasturage, and $35,064 damage to buildings, fences and other improvements. It is to be borne in mind that under current conditions only direct losses are practicably ascertainable and that indirect losses are often very high, sometimes exceeding the total of the direct damage.

PLETCHER NEWS

Mr. Preston Johnson of Bessemer visited his parents Sunday.

Mrs. Gergia John, Mrs. Nettie Abbott, and Mr. Hollis Poole went fishing on Little Mulberry Friday.

Miss Ruby Cruise attended the fiddlers convention at Billingsley Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Reed spent the week end with relatives in Pletcher.

Friends of Mrs. Bob Carter will regret to learn that she is confined at home on account of a wound she received recently.

A hot iron and a clean piece of blotting paper are good for taking grease spots off wall paper.

Remarkable Club

THE UNION-BANNER WEEKLY 1 YEAR
and
THE BIRMINGHAM POST DAILY
1 YEAR
BOTH FOR $4.00

The price of The Post alone is $3.50. Here is an opportunity to procure your favorite County Paper and a progressive independent daily newspaper at a very special price.

The Union-Banner gives you all of the local news, interestingly told. The Birmingham Post prints all the news of the State, Nation and World, and all the special features of metropolitan dailies.
Send $4.00 for this club today!
Send all orders to—

THE UNION-BANNER
Clanton, Ala.

THIS MARRIED LIFE!

—§§§—

"AGED COUPLE MEET - - - WED - - - FUSS IN DAY"
—headline

As Bill Shakespeare would have remarked—"'twas ever thus!"

—§§§—

In married life—"two heads can stop more dishes than one!"

—§§§—

Some wives are so generous they don't even allow friend husband to carry his own house key.

—§§§—

Love is a wonderful thing. Most of the time a lot of husbands and wives don't know whether to kiss, kick or kill each other.

—§§§—

HOW TO KEEP 'EM AT HOME!

When a wife says "she's tired of married battling" and wants to "go home to her mother," her husband should smilingly reply—"Well, dear, let me help you pack!"

Then—watch her change her mind.

—§§§—

When a "clinging vine" type of wife starts to sob about "the rich men she might have married"—it's usually a case of "sour grapes."

—§§§—

How To Get Homesick!

Have the wife invite all her relatives to come and stay at your home—say, for about six months.

—§§§—

An "un-sung hero" is a husband with bravery enough to hold a quarter out of his pay envelope on Saturday nights.

—§§§—

If the wife likes to play bridge but doesn't know how—her husband is the fall guy and has to bridge her debts.

—§§§—

Two can live as cheaply as one—if one don't eat.

—§§§—

WHY IS IT—

That the birds who yell loudest about the "cold soup" and bawl out the waitress in a restaurant, are often—the same parties who are glad to raid the ice-box if the wife doesn't show up in time for dinner. And when she does come home, they give her the "sweetest" smile—.

Sigh-chology!

Little does the modern young man realize that when she sighs "yes" to his proposal—he will soon be sighing hotly over her quick disposal of his wages.

It's the man who pays and pays and pays. Before marriage he pays her one sweet compliment after another and after marriage, he pays—just one installment after another on the furniture she buys on credit.

The minute a husband says he's "boss of the house"—the ambulance attendant rings the front door bell.

—§§§—

If a husband wants to know "who's running the place" and gets noisy about it when the wife's around—he'd better start running!

—§§§—

FAMOUS LAST LINES

(From The Wife)

"NO—I said! That settles it!" (And it did.)

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

Why Pay More When You Can Buy It From Chicago Sales Company's Store For Less?

CHICAGO SALES CO.

NEXT TO FIRST NATIONAL BANK—CLANTON, ALA.

Look For The Big Yellow Front—Next To First National Bank.

Hundreds of Dollars Worth of New Spring Merchandise Now Arriving

FOR OUR REGULAR WEEK END SPECIALS READ DESCRIPTIONS AND PRICES BELOW

LADIES HATS

Ladies newest Spring Hats, divided into two groups for Friday and Saturday selling—$1.98 & $2.98.

CHILDREN'S HATS

Hats for the Children and little Misses. For Friday and Saturday selling, two lots on special sale, at 89c & $1.49.

EASTER DRESSES

New arrivals in Easter dresses in the new printed crepes, etc., special for Friday and Saturday, $9.95.

SLIPPERS

New slippers from the world's largest manufacturers, all in well-known brands, for Friday and Saturday we are marking a big lot to be sold at $2.98.

PIECE GOODS

Friday and Saturday, new printed Pongees, just the cloth for the Easter dress, per yard 49c

SCRAP BUNDLES

A good size scrap bundle, assorted scraps and remnants in all colors, for Friday and Saturday, 65c each.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:

10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

FOR SALE—Thoroughbred Rhode Island Reds; 2 cocks and 20 hens; eggs, $1.50 for setting of 15; $2.50 for 30. V. T. Cobb, Jemison, Ala. 2-25-3t-pd.

FOR SALE—Pure half and half cotton seed, $2.00 per bushel. We paid, when ordered, $5.00 per bushel. If interested see A. T., or J. S. Davis, Clanton, Ala., R 2. 2-18-4t-pd

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

FOR SALE—My home in Clanton, located just south of Adventist school; corner lot; all modern conveniences, including large range stove connected with bath room and sink in kitchen; $2,000.00 Write E. C. Powell, 1113 Fourth Ace., South, Albany, Ala., or see W. L. Powell at pressing shop, Clanton, Ala. 2-18-3t-ch.

COTTON SEED—Pure Half and Half cotton seed grown by us from seed brought of Summerhours in 1925. Selected and ginned on special gin days. Price $2.50 per bushel. Gulledge Bros., Verbena, Ala. 3-4-2t-pd.

WANTED—One horse cropper, to work about 20 acres good land, either third and fourth, or on halves. Must be man with good reputation, and willing to work. J. M. Glasscock, Jemison, Ala., Route 2. 3-4-2t-pd

FOR SALE—I have about 3 dozen pair U. S. Pants, new: Straight bottom sizes 33x33-34x31½ and 35x30. Price only $2.75, while they last, prepair U. S. Pants, new; straight bot- Route 5. 3-4-4t-pd.

I want to buy 1,000 bushels of peas in the next few days. Bring them in quick. M. A. Gore, Clanton, Ala. 1t-p.

WANTED—To trade Dodge Sedan in good mechanical rondition for large vacant lot in Clanton, or will trade same in on small house and lot. Give description, location, and price of property. Address XY, c|o The Union-Banner. 3-11-2t-p

LOST—On Clanton and Billingsley road, on the night of February 20, a 33 x 4 1-2 Michelin tire on rim. Finder please notify Bates Garage, Clanton, Ala. 3-1-2t-p

LOST—3 miles east of Clanton, female hound pup, two-thirds grown; white with small red and blue specks; large black spot over eye and ear. If found notify Arthur Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 2, and receive reward. 3-11-2t-ch.

The Manual Training Department.

Under the careful supervision of Mr. O. V. Bruner the members of the Manual Arts class of Chilton County High School are doing excellent work. Mr. Bruner is a capable and enthusiastic instructor. He has formed a cooperative group of wide-awake, energetic workers. Various parts of the building and contents are undergoing a transformation affected by the hands of these students. The whole school is beginning to sit up and take notice. The work room of this class, as well as the Home Economics room, has been renovated. Tables for various uses are under construction. Repair work of the building is in the care of this class. To say the least, the Manual Art students are profiting by the course in receiving training that will be helpful to them in later life.

Lovesick soul: "Where can I find love?"

Thomas Gragg: "In the dictionary, foolish."

Dr. Wilkerson, pastor of the Methodist church, came down and spoke to the student body in chapel last Wednesday. We are always glad to have him come down. His talks are always interesting, and the students derive much benefit from them. We hope to see him again next Wednesday, and anyone else who cares to visit us.

Miss Taylor went to the telephone.

Central: "Number, please."

Miss Taylor: "Give me the Wilson Hotel."

Mr. Ellis: "You don't want much, Miss Taylor."

Hush, little Senior,
Don't be so bold;
You're just a Freshman
Four years old.

Miss McCullar: "Where can I find Tom Johnston?"

Mr. Ellis: "What period is this?"

Miss McCullar: "The third."

Mr. Ellis: "In the boiler room."

LOST—Monday, March 8, on streets of Clanton, gold locket, set with 6 diamonds. Has initials "L. M. L." engraved on locket. If found return to Union-Banner office or B. F. Higgins, and receive reward. 1t-pd.

FORD COUPE FOR SALE—1925 model, equipped with balloon tires; may be seen at Main Street Garage, Clanton. 3-11-2t-pd.

STORE FOR RENT—Place formerly occupied by Retherford Furniture Co., on Sixth Street. Dr. Arthur Johnson, Clanton, Ala. 1t-p

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS

On account of bad weather the W. M. U. did not meet last Saturday afternoon. It will meet next Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. J. M. Webb.

Prof. Earle Thomas left Saturday for Davidson, returning Monday with Mrs. Thomas and their daughter Reta, who had been spending a week with Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laney.

The vocational boys at Isabella have almost completed their desks, swings, tables, hall trees, and will carry them home. One boy is making a kitchen cabinet. The boys are working under Prof. Earle Thomas.

Our County Superintendent, B. Lawrence, visited the Isabella school last Thursday.

Mrs. J. H. Wells and her two children, Nellie Mae and Joe James, returned to their home in Ensley Sunday after spending a week with Mrs. Wells' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning. Mr. Manning came for them Sunday morning in his car.

Mr. W. F. Deshazo received a telegram from his son, Guy, Thursday, stating that he reached Miami safe and sound.

Mrs. Denson Conway is on the sick list.

Miss Catha Conway of Shawmut, Ala., is visiting relatives in this community.

Miss Glois Manning visited her sister, Mrs. C. T. Farmer, in Montgomery, last week end.

ENTERPRISE

The Enterprise girls played basket ball with the Clanton girls Tuesday afternoon, Enterprise winning 4 to 3. Enterprise girls won from the Haynes girls Wednesday afternoon by the same score.

Mr. Mann Stroud and family spent Saturday night with Mr. J. M. Stroud.

Mrs. Letha Neeley and little daughter spent part of last week with her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Lee Gray.

Mr. Keel and family motored to Birmingham Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stroud, returning Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Izora Stroud spent Sunday with Mrs. Nellie Thornton at Cooper.

There was preaching at Pleasant Valley Sunday.

Our school is getting better and better every day.

BETHANY

There are a few cases of flu in this community.

Several young people from Bethany attended the singing at Chestnut last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brigance spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bone.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Summerlin are the proud parents of a baby girl, whom they have called Lillian.

Mesdames Josie Williams and Lula Deloach visited Mrs. Susie Gray Friday.

Mrs. Katie Bone of Autaugaville is visiting relatives at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dykes visited Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Logan Sunday.

The third Saturday and Sunday are our regular preaching days. You are invited to come, and bring someone with you.

Although the Hood River Valley of Oregon is nationally famous for its apples, the Apple Growers Association which has headquarters at Hood River, Oregon, has only 800 members. The Association handles 70% to 80% of the fruit produced in the Hood River Valley. The growers have been organized 33 years.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

State of Alabama, Chilton County.
To Mamie Cooper, residence unknown; to Carl Dawson, Julius Dawson, Agnes Dawson, Gladys Dawson, Edward Dawson, Reuben Dawson, Hershel Dawson, Marvin Dawson, Elvin Dawson, Vasteen Wright, minors.

Notice is hereby given that the 2nd day of March, 1926, came Euell Davis Dawson, Executor of the estate of W. R. Dawson, deceased, and filed his accounts, vouchers, evidence and statement for a final settlement of same, and that the 2nd day of April, 1926, has been appointed as the day for making such settlement, at the said Probate Office at the court house of Chilton County, Alabama, at which time all parties in interest may appear and contest the same if they deem proper.

This, the 2nd day of March, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
3-4-3t-ch Judge of Probate.

NOTICE OF GUARDIAN'S PETITION TO SELL LANDS

State of Alabama, Chilton County—
Probate Court, February 22, 1926.

This day came J. D. Collins, Guardian of William Green Price, a non compos mentis, and filed his petition in due form and made oath, praying for an order to sell certain lands described therein and belonging to said non compos mentis, for the purpose of maintenance and payment of debts.

It is ordered that the 16th day of March, 1926, be appointed a day for the hearing of said petition, at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same if they think proper.

Witness my hand, this 22nd day of February, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
2-25-3t-ch Judge of Probate.

APPLICATION FOR CHARTER FOR BOB JONES COLLEGE IS MADE

Tallahassee, Fla., Mar. 9.—Application for a charter for the Bob Jones College, a $5,000,000 interdenominational school being built at College Point, in the St. Andrews Bay district, by the Rev. Dr. Bob Jones, widely-known evangelist of Montgomery, Ala., has been filed in the Secretary of State's office here.

The charter application sets forth that the college is to be an "institution for the general education of the people in the essentials of culture, the arts and sciences, giving special emphasis to the Christian religion and the ethics revealed in the Holy Scripture.

By the charter, the school also is pledged to "combat all atheistic, agnostic, pagan and so-called scientific adulterations of the Gospel" and while evolution is not specifically named, there is a declaration that the school will "unqualifiedly affirm and teach the inspiration of the Bible (both Old and New Testaments) the creation of man by the direct act of God and the incarnation and virgin birth of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ."

The text of the charter, bearing on these subjects, is to be incorporated as part of all teachers' contracts and anyone who does not subscribe to these beliefs will not be permitted to teach in the school.

Funds for the school, the charter application declares, will come entirely from an arrangement between Dr. Jones and the owners of the site for the college and no donations will be sought.

In ten days after the new radio Station WAPI was formally opened at Auburn, Alabama, complimentary reports had been received from 26 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. One-third of the first 264 came from Alabama, and Georgia was next with a total of 18. Illinois and Missouri tied with 13 each, while Iowa scored 10. Two reports came from California.

Mr. E. P. Guy of Montgomery was a visitor in Clanton Tuesday.

USED

Ford

CARS

See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1925 Roadster, a Bargain	$225.00
1924 Coupe, New Paint	225.00
1923 Touring, New Paint	150.00
1924 Touring, New Paint	140.00
Some Tourings, Good Values	40.00

Ford Trucks Cheap

If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company

Sales Ford Service

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Clanton, Ala.

BEWARE OF

IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS

Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

TRY THE VULCAN

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"

Clanton . . . . . Alabama

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Fifth Monday Meeting.

The Missionary Society of the Baptist Church of Clanton is planning a unique meeting at their church on the fifth Monday, March 29, at 3:30 o'clock. The success of the meeting depends entirely on the cooperation of the Christian women of the town, all of whom are urged to be present.

The program is to consist of five papers, written by women from the five churches in our town. The papers are to be written on the subject: "A Serious Problem of the Modern Church," preferably, a solution also will be suggested in the paper. Each church is to be represented by one paper, written by any woman in that church. The papers should be typewritten on plain typewriter paper, no name of either author or church put on them, but signed only by a number that the author may select, which number must be known only to herself and the member of the Committee from her church. In a plain envelope let her seal a slip, giving her name and denomination, pin this to her paper and turn over same to her Committee Member not later than March 26th. The papers are to be read by one good reader selected by the Committee. The audience will then vote by ballot, designating the papers by their respective numbers, for the best paper. The envelope marked with the winning number will then be opened, and the author's Church will be presented a suitable award, the gift of the hostess society. Special music from several of the churches will be interspersed in the program. The winning paper will be printed in the county papers.

Please join the committee in making this an enjoyable and profitable afternoon, filled with Christian fellowship together.—Committee, Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, Baptist church; Mrs. John VanDerveer, Presbyterian church; Mrs. Curry Thomas, Christian church; Mrs. C. B. Stephenson, Adventist church; Mrs. J. C. Jones, Methodist church.

Study Club Meets.

Mrs. Eric Hart was hostess to the Clanton Study Club on Last Friday afternoon at her home. For this occasion pink carnations and ferns were used to decorate the home. The president, Mrs. Grady Broadhead, presided over the meeting. The topic for the afternoon's program was the opera. The club collect was read in union and was followed by roll call, answered with name and composer of an opera. Miss Kathleen Mullins read Mrs. Arthur Johnson's splendid paper "The life of Verdi, and the story of 'Il Trovatore'." Mrs. Roberts favored the club with a beautiful piano solo "Selection from 'Il Trovatore'." This was followed by a selection "Quartette Rigolette" on the Victrola. Mrs. J. W. Hayes in a most pleasing manner presented "The life of Bizet and the story of opera 'Carmen'." Another selection on the Victrola "Le Toreador" was heard. Mrs. N. S. Johnson kindly consented to tell of hearing Mary Garden sing in the opera "Thais" during the grand opera season in Birmingham. This concluding the program the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Hilda, served a delicious salad plate with hot tea.

Mrs. Carrie Mullins was an invited guest. The club members present were Mesdames John M. VanDerveer, L. F. Gerald, J. E. Gowan, J. Watts Moore, R. C. McDavid, B. M. Roberts, N. S. Johnson, T. C. McSwain, V. J. Heard, J. A. Hester, J. W. Hayes, Grady Broadhead; Miss Kathleen Mullins and little Peggy Page.

Parrish-Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Monroe Parrish, of Clanton, Ala., announce the engagement of their daughter, Johnie Esther, to Mr. Grover C. Walker, of Clanton, the wedding to take place at the home of the bride on the evening of April 7. No cards.—Birmingham News.

Mrs. W. C. Robinson made a business trip to Birmingham Friday.

Mrs. Callen Hostess.

The members of the Wednesday Bridge Club were entertained by Mrs. Frank Callen at her home last Wednesday afternoon. The living room was decorated with jonquils, narcissus and potted plants. Following the games Mrs. V. J. Heard was presented a pretty mayonnaise set, for high score prize. Mrs. Arthur Johnson received the booby prize, a bowl of narcissus.

The hostess served a delicious salad plate to Mesdames L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, J. Hance Alred, N. S. Johnson, V. J. Heard, H. M. Simpson, Oscar Jones, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Circle Entertained.

The members of Circle No. 4 of the Baptist Missionary Society were entertained at the home of Mrs. Hubert Jones on Monday afternoon. Mrs. W. I. Mullins was in charge of the meeting. Following the program Mrs. Jones, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Sewell, served a tempting salad plate with hot chocolate.

P. T. A. To Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held at the Grammar school Friday afternoon, March 12, at 2:30 o'clock. The president is very desirous that all chairmen be present and make a complete report. All members are urged to be present.

Marshmallow Toast.

An enjoyable affair was Tuesday evening when a group of young people, chaperoned by Mrs. C. B. Stephenson, hiked about a mile out from town and had a marshmallow toast. Story telling and singing of songs was enjoyed by the fireside. Those included in this affair were Misses Edith, Louise and Catherine Stephenson, Mary Maxine and Esther Farley; Messrs. Berber Farley and George Stephenson, and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson.

Birthday Celebration.

Miss Elizabeth McSwain was hostess to a number of friends Saturday afternoon in celebration of her 10th birthday anniversary. Spring blossoms adorned the home for this occasion. Games and contests were enjoyed. The dining table was centered with a large white birthday cake that held ten burning candles. A color scheme of yellow and white was artistically used in other decorations of the table. A delicious ice course was served.

Those enjoying this affair were Priscilla Johnson, Margaret Johnston, Helen Roberts, Clyde Jones, Imogene Sims, Mary Robinson, Alice Mae Polk, Doris Lawrence, Janie Beth Johnston, Louise and Mary McSwain, and Anderson Wallace.

Birthday Dinner.

A happy occasion was on last Friday evening when Master John Ezell and little Grace Hicks Ezell jointly celebrated their birthday anniversaries with a dinner. The table was beautifully appointed. A color scheme of yellow and maroon prevailed. Streamers were exxtended from the chandelier to the table. Tiny baskets of candy marked the place of each guest. The centerpiece was a large birthday cake, which was centered with three candles representing the third birthday anniversary of little Miss Grace Ezell, while these were surrounded by nine candles to represent that of Master John Ezell. A delicious course dinner was served.

Jones-Cox.

The marriage of Miss Sara Cox and Mr. Crit Jones, which took place at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ezell Friday evening, March 5, at 8 o'clock, came as a surprise to their many friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cox of Dade City, Fla., formerly of Clanton. She is a graduate of Chilton County High School and has also been popular among the younger set. Mr. Jones is the only son of Mrs. Clyde Jones, and is also a graduate of C. C. H. S. Congratulations and best wishes are extended to this young couple by their many friends.

Civic Club Meets.

Mrs. J. Lee Smith delightfully entertained the members of the Civic Club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Seventh Street. The home was profusely decorated with baskets of pink and white carnations and potted plants. Mrs. Hugh Jones presided over the meeting. The roll call was answered with "quotations suggesting Arbor Day." Plans for a spend-the-day at the home of Mrs. J. B. Mauney the first Tuesday in April were made for as has been customary for several years the Club planned Easter baskets for the poor. Mrs. J. B. Mauney read an interesting paper on "Conservation." The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Grady Broadhead, served a delicious salad course with hot coffee. Members enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames Omar Reynolds, D. C. Alred, W. M. Wyatt, Oscar Jones, J. B. Atkinson, J. W. Hayes, J. B. Mauney, J. Hugh Jones, Grady Broadhead.

Woodyard-Cross.

A marriage of interest to many throughout this county was that of Miss Alma Cross to Mr. Euell Woodyard, which took place at the home of the bride, in Hampton Springs, Fla., at 2:30 o'clock March 6. Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left for a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard, in Clanton. Upon their return they will be at home in an already furnished apartment.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner

Y. W. A. Meeting.

The members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary were entertained by Miss Erin Danforth Tuesday afternoon at her home on Second Avenue. Baskets and vases of spring blossoms were used to decorate the living room. Following the business session a splendid program was enjoyed. The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. E. Danforth, served a salad plate with iced tea.

Those present were Misses Evelyn Littlejohn, Vera Mae White, Pearl Miner, Frances Moore, Annie Bell White, Jewel Miner, and Mrs. J. P. Hayes.

Mrs. Murphy Entertains.

Mrs. Bill Murphy entertained the members of the Intermediate Sewing Club Friday afternoon at her home on Ninth Street. The decorations were blossoms suggestive of spring season. After spending a couple of hours sewing, the hostess served a tempting ice course to Mesdames Lucien Duncan, Flem Higgins, and Grady Taylor.

Mrs. A. D. Martin of Mulberry was shopping in town Wednesday.

Mr. Greer, Singer sewing machine representative, made a business trip to Deatsville Wednesday.

Mr. J. L. Ruffin spent Thursday in Birmingham on business.

Mr. Jasper Calloway left Friday for Tampa, Fla., to spend some time with his daughter, who has returned home after an extended visit to her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Atkinson and children visited relatives at Sylacauga recently.

Messrs. T. H. Neighbors, Eric Hart, "Red" Wagoner and Grady Broadhead are spending the week at their camp on the Coosa River.

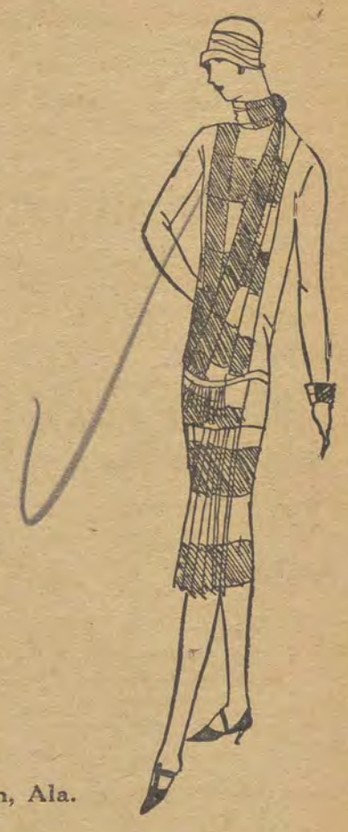
Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pitts and children spent several days recently with relatives at Sylacauga.

Mrs. Addie Taylor and daughter, Miss Frances, of Montgomery, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sartor.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan of Birmingham spent the week end with their mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones.

TRADE CADET MARK

Registered U. S. Pat. Office



When Style Is Essential
Elmores Is Dependable

Look for the sign

Elmore's
LADIES & GENTS FURNISHINGS

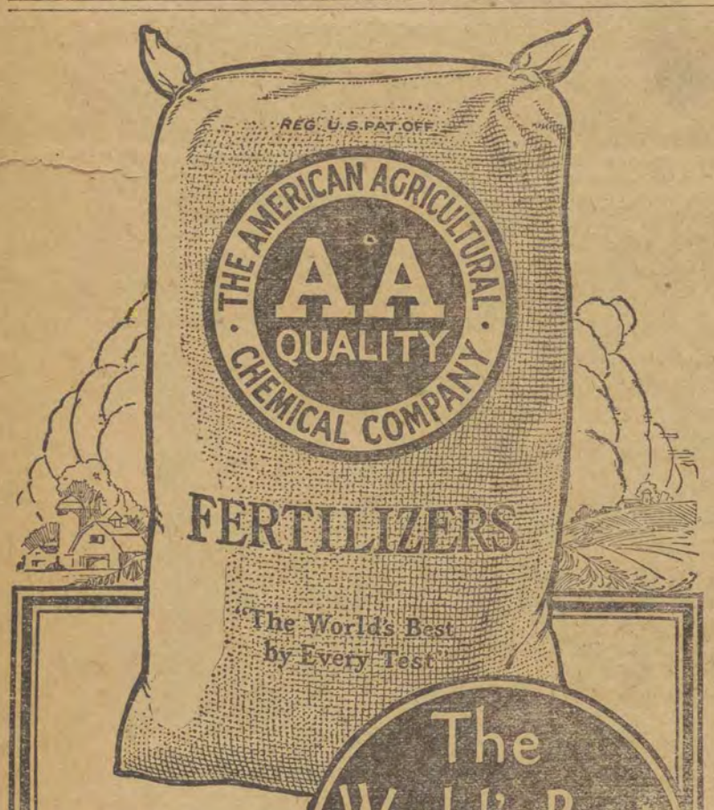
On the corner Clanton, Ala.

M-1

Old Friend In New Form

Scientists have proved that Cod Liver Oil—from the liver of the Cod Fish—acts like "sunshine" inside the baby chick—promoting healthy bone growth and preventing rickets. But Cod Liver Oil loses its value when exposed to light and air.

The new Alfocorn process prevents this loss. In Alfocorn Chick Mash the Cod Liver Oil is mixed with bone-making minerals which preserve the "sunshine" vitamins.



Alfocorn Chick Mash is rich in dried Buttermilk, the complete food which means freedom from digestive troubles. Table Oatmeal supplies heat and energy. Other ingredients furnish every food element for fast, healthy growth. Insure your chicks by feeding Alfocorn Chick Mash—the perfect starting ration.

Free! Come in and see the new Alfocorn Chick Fountain. Insures clean water all the time. Strong, sanitary, easy to fill. You'll need one or more of them. Free!

Jas. C. Jones
CLANTON, ALABAMA

ALFOCORN
Guaranteed
BABY CHICK MASH
In Dollar Mark Bags

The World's Best Crop Producers

Sweepstake Prize Potatoes in Wisconsin
Grand Championship Corn in Missouri
and—
First Premium Tobacco in North Carolina

are some of the notable awards to crops grown with "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers in 1925.

Year after year "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers produce the largest yields and best quality crops. Their unequaled crop-producing records clearly reflect the practical value of the expert knowledge gained by more than half a century of scientific research and actual fertilizer manufacturing experience. To insure the largest yields and best quality of all crops use

"AA QUALITY" FERTILIZERS

BEST KNOWN TO YOU UNDER THE FOLLOWING BRAND NAMES

BRADLEY'S SEA FOWL FERTILIZER
AMERICAN BIGBEE
GOULDING

Manufactured only by

The American Agricultural Chemical Company

Montgomery Sales Department
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG., MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Our Agricultural Service Bureau will help solve your farming problems. Send for Dr. H. J. Wheeler's Crop Bulletins. Address: 92 State Street, Boston, Mass.

Spring's Newest Footwear

—there are plenty of Styles from which you may choose, especially designed to meet the demands of the New Silhouette.

$1.00 Hat Sale

You will look far before you will find a more charming array of New Spring Hats than we have here. Correct in Mode and Materials, you will find these especially Chic Garments most interesting to view and economical to own, at only $1.00

Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALA.

NEGRO MINSTREL

There will be a negro minstrel at Pilgrim's Rest schoolhouse Saturday night, March 13, at 8 o'clock. Good laughs, jokes, songs and music will be furnished by the members of the school. Everybody come and enjoy the evening. Admission 10c and 15c.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed on the 30th day of May, 1925, by Dewey Collins, Ella Collins, G. J. Collins, Dovie Collins, B. F. Collins, Otis Collins and Frankie Collins to the Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, which said mortgage is recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate, Chilton County, Alabama, in Mortgage Record 210, page 209, and which mortgage was duly transferred by the said Autauga Banking & Trust Company, a Corporation, to F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan on June 6th, 1925, and default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said mortgage, we, the said F. M. Chapman and Will Hogan, as transferees of said mortgage, will proceed to sell at public outcry, in front of the Courthouse door in the City of Clanton, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, on the 30th day of March, 1926, the interest of the above named mortgagors in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:—

The S½ of NW¼ of Sec. 27, and all that part of the SE¼ of the NE¼ of Sec. 28 lying on the East side of the creek running through and across said SE¼ of NE¼ of Sec. 28, and known as Swift Creek. All above described lands being and lying in Tp. 21, R. 14, containing 120 acres more or less, Chilton County, Alabama.

The proceeds of the sale as above described will be applied to the payment of the indebtedness secured by the above described mortgage and a reasonable Attorney's fee, together with the expenses incident to the sale.

This, the 16th day of February, 1926.

F. M. CHAPMAN,
WILL HOGAN, Transferees.
BALLARD & PAGE,
2-18-4t-ch Attorneys for Transferees.

NOTICE

The War Department has announced the appointment of Mr. J. B. Atkinson and Mr. H. M. Nix as County Representatives for the Citizens' Military Training Camps for the coming summer.

Mr. Atkinson and Mr. Nix state that they will receive a supply of application blanks for the training camp shortly and will be ready to pass these out to young men between the ages of 17 and 24 who might want to take a month's encampment in July, at government expense.

Congress appropriates nearly $3,000,000 annually to enable young men to develop their physical powers under proper supervision.

Railroad fare, meals enroute and at camp, uniforms, laundry, athletic equipment and medical and dental treatment are furnished.

Only 16 vacancies have been allotted Chilton County and it is expected that these will all be taken by April 1st. Others may apply and if vacancies occur later they will be taken care of.

BETHSALEM NEWS

We had a large crowd at Sunday school last Sunday. We want everyone to come out an help us.

Next Saturday and Sunday are our regular preaching days. Everybody come and be with us.

A truck load of young people from this community attended the fiddlers convention at Billingsley last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore of Calera have moved back to this community.

Mrs. T. W. Williams spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. C. Vinson.

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

HOW ARE YOUR VALVES?

When you bought your auto the valves in the motor were well fitted—well seated. This was done at the factory. But after you have driven your car a few hundred miles, the valves undergo a change due to the extreme heat to which they are subjected, by reason of the almost continuous explosions of gasoline in the explosion chamber. This heat treatment they receive changes their shape. The valves become warped, permitting compression to go by. They become "set" in the new form the heat has given them and the heat will not change them again. However, continuous usage will wear them out of true. When this occurs, it is absolutely necessary to reface and reseat the valves in order to have a smooth running, smooth working motor, such as you would like to have in your own car.

After years of experience in handling valve problems and a most careful investigation of its merits we have installed the KWIK-WAY System which is a series of scientific operations by which motor valves are serviced with mechanical accuracy without the use of grinding compound. It gives old motors new life and makes new motors better. It gives motors their old time snap and power, stops waste, saves gasoline and oil. You'll get much more mileage out of your gasoline. That's switching filling station profits to your own pocket.

We will be pleased to show you this new system and talk it over with you.

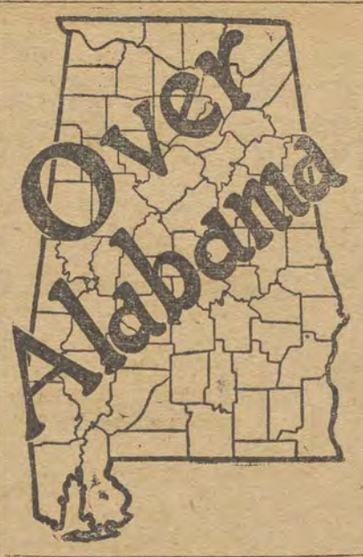
Yous for real service,
WHITE'S GARAGE
Clanton, Ala.

A Sale of
USED CARS

We are compelled to move our USED CAR stock in order to make room for NEW CHEVROLET cars which are coming in. We are offering big bargains in these used cars in order that we may dispose of the entire stock in the quickest possible time.

ALL OF THESE CARS HAVE BEEN RECONDITIONED and ARE IN PERFECT RUNNING ORDER NOW.

If you are interested in a used car you will save money by buying from us during this sale. We list below a few of the cars offered during this sale:



Ford Truck, with Cab, 1924 Model	$150
Ford Coupe, 1925 model	300
Ford Touring, 1925 model	175
Ford Touring, 1924 model, New Paint	165
Ford Touring, 1923 model	150
Ford Touring, 1924 model	140
Ford Truck, with Cab, 1925 Model	200
Overland Touring, 1923 model	125

All of the above cars can be bought with small cash payment and liberal terms on the balance. Let us demonstrate them to you

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

Cars CHEVROLET Trucks

CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Walker county's school term has been lengthened to seven months of the present year.

A cave-in in a field near Bessemer, the first to occur around Bessemer, has been reported.

Horace Myers, paymaster of the Sunset Cotton Mills at Selma, shot and killed himself March 4.

Eighteen head of pure bred, registered Hereford bulls were sold at Montgomery at an average price of $61.33.

Over 30 schools in all parts of Tuscaloosa county were represented at the annual school fair held at Tuscaloosa.

Anniston police made a total of 152 arrests during the month of February, the report of the warden, Gus Waters reveals.

A. L. Sharp, of Sprague Junction, was killed in a crap game in Montgomery. Clyde Vann is charged with the killing.

John Helton, of New Market, charged with the murder of Ellis Miller, was acquiteed by a Madison county jury.

The acreage to be planted in cotton at the state prison farms this year will be about the same as least year, it is reported.

Nathan Miller, 6-year-old, died at a Tuscaloosa hospital of burns received at the home of his parents near Lock 13 on the Warrior river.

The dwelling house occupied by Cornelia Jackson, negro, at Rockford, caught fire and her two children, ages 4 and 1, were burned to death.

The million-dollar endowment campaign for Birmingham's two colleges was headed by a gift of $20,000 by G. T. Wofford, president of the Wofford Oil Company.

Joe Sheppard, of Tuscaloosa, has bought the land holdings, 22,000 acres from the Henderson Land & Lumber Company. The property is located south of Tuscaloosa.

Forest fires occurring in Alabama during 1925 resulted in damage amounting to $3,920,987, according to the annual report of the state commission of forestry.

Birmingham's first grand opera season was a financial success. With between 16,000 and 17,000 paid admissions at the three performances of the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

Decision to co-operate with Ensley organizations in bringing about a proposed white way from Ensley to Fairfield and extending up Gary avenue was voted by the Fairfield Exchange Club.

Dr. C. C. Carmichael, president of Alabama College, has announced that a course in social work will be inaugurated at Alabama College at the beginning of the fourth term on March 15.

So far there have been only two men from Jacksonville to be in politics this year. One has announced his candidacy for tax assessor, and the other is in the race for sheriff of Calhoun county.

Ezra E. Cowser, 19-year-old foundryman, was burned to death, and Frank Green and T. R. O'Barr, fellow workmen, are believed to have been fatally injured, in an explasion which virtually demolished Woodward Iron Company's No. 1 furnace, near Bessemer.

The gold footballs for the members of the Alabama championship football team which defeated Washington at Pasadena have been distributed to the men. The ball has engraved on it the name of the player, designation of the championship won and the score of the Washington game.

At an auction sale recently in Washington, D. C., under the auspices of the Alabama Society of that city, Alabama's special number Stone Mountain memorial coin, allotted to the Alabama Society at the national capital, brought $64.38. Announcement of the sale and the price paid for the special coin was contained in a letter received by Governor Brandon from John A. Elmore, former Montgomerian, president of the society.

Plans for development of the property of the Florence Golf and Country Club are going forward rapidly with a landscape architect on the job laying out the new course which promises to be one of the finest in the South. The course will be laid out on regulation tournament links of 6,600 yards. A Birmingham firm is drawing plans for the club house which will cost $12,000 and which will be built according to plans which will permit extension and enlargement. At the present time the membership of the club is 117, with a limit having been placed at 150.

Soybeans are replacing cowpeas for hay.

FREE

Trade $10.00 Cash and get a SET OF CUPS AND SAUCERS F-R-E-E!

Trade $5.00 Cash and get a BOWL FREE!

Trade $5.00 Cash and get a $6.00 TABLE SET FOR $2.98!

Baker & Taylor

CLANTON, ALABAMA

NEW SALEM

We had a fairly good crowd out to services Sunday, in spite of the unfavorable weather.

Our pastor, Rev. B. F. Dykes, was not with us Sunday, on account of other arrangements. We had with us Mr. Fox from Howard College who is in the senior class this year. He is a splendid man. He delivered a fine message for the morning service; the title was "Jesus." We know everyone enjoyed it. He explained to us how wonderful Jesus was in His work. We hope all wwho heard Mr. Fox will take his advice and live up to the standard set by Jesus Himself.

Next Sunday is our regular preaching day. Everyone is always welcome here.—Publishing Committee.

OAK GROVE

There are a few cases of flu in this community.

Our Sunday school is doing fine. We have good attendance.

The singing society met at this place Sunday afternoon with a large crowd.

Directors for the afternoon were W. J. Northcutt, L. R. Cobb, O. B. Robinson, E. H. Foshee, Vester Campbell, H. H. Hayes.

Organists were Flossie Cobb, Lesta Cobb, Jewell Cobb. We had several visitors from Union Grove and other places. We were glad to have them and invite them back again. We also had Mr. O. B. Robinson, our singing school teacher, for the first time since he left. We were glad to have him back with us.

Mrs. A. C. Thornbro put on a play Sunday night, "Where there's a Will there's a Way," by the Intermediates, which was fine. We had two quartets by Miss Ollie Glass, Akins Collins, W. J. Northcutt, and E. H. Foshee. The Seniors also had a good program.

Sunday is our regular preaching appointment.

The W. M. U. is holding a training school this week in the afternoons.

Mr. C. L. Martin of Wylam has been at home the past week.

Miss Flossie Cobb, who has been staying with her aunt at Helena, was at home Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Martin is attending the business college at Clanton.

Mr. Earl Johnson of Underwood spent a while here Sunday.

Miss Rosa Lea Martin gave her Sunday school class a dinner Sunday.

SHOULTS

There will be a play at Shoults schoolhouse next Saturday night, March 13, "Clubbing A Husband." It will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Proceeds go for benefit of the church. Everybody invited to come.

YOU GET MORE EGGS

A hen will lay twice as many eggs with a little of the proper kind of Pratts Poultry Regulator. Supplies abundant egg-making ingredients. Mixed ingredients from rare seeds and imported herbs. So valuable are these that Regulator practically doubles the value of any mash. You build up vitality among your birds—give them strength to resist roup and cold weather disease.

Hundreds of leading commercial poultrymen admit their success is due to Pratts Regulator.

Half a century of Pratt reliability is behind Regulator. None other would dare make this amazing guarantee.

Pratts Poultry Regulator

To Our Customers: We stand behind Pratts Poultry Regulator unconditionally. Either you get more eggs from the same birds or we return your money.

Sold and Guaranteed by
ALRED DRUG CO.
Clanton, Ala.

666
is a Prescription for
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,
Preventing Pneumonia

IN MEMORY

On February 28th God saw fit to take our loved one, Mrs. Hattie Strothers, to the great beyond. She was a member of Mars Hill church, and was a great Sunday school worker while she lived in our community. Of late she lived in Birmingham, and died at the T. C. I. hospital.

She leaves to mourn for her her husband and four children, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Johnson, two brothers, Eugene and Hughey Johnson, and two sisters, Mrs. Sudie Smith, and Miss Berthyl Johnson, besides a host of other relatives and friends.

She was laid to rest in Mars Hill cemetery, the funeral being conducted by Rev. Ed Littlejohn. Weep not, dear friends, for our loss is Heaven's gain.—A friend.

Only 25% of the dairy bulls in the United States were purebred according to the last census.

Edgar B. Elebash
(Elebash Jewelry Co.)
REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted
Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

J. MELL MARTIN
Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

We have just received a new lot of Shirts of the Phillps - Jones Laundry-Proof line. They are made up in the latest colors and Styles. Let us show them to you before you buy.

Specials for Saturday

9-4 or 81 in. sheeting per yard 39c

Lot Ladies hats, just arrived, each .. $1.98

Lot Ladies hats, $3.50, $4 values $2.98

W. Z. Hodges Dry Goods Co.

Clanton, Ala.

1 Lot Men's Shirts Each 98c

4lb real good quality green coffee for $1.00

10lb granulated sugar for 60c

5 Beautiful Flowers Free!

Write for Hastings' Catalog

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN, ATLANTA, GA.

Mrs. B. M. Roberts made a business trip to Birmingham Saturday.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

Sanford Barber Shop

Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

A PUBLIC STATEMENT FROM MR. J. N. SCOTT

To the voters of Chilton County:

For eight years my friends in the different parts of the County have been soliciting me to announce for County Commissioner in the first district, and especially for the last two months many of them insisted on me coming out. So I have done so, realizing the responsibility of the office. But with the experience I have had through life I feel competent to perform the duties of the office with respect to myself, with credit to our County, and in honor of the Republican party. I was born and reared in Chilton County, always payed my poll tax and voted here, regardless of where I was located; have taken an active part in trying to fight the battles of our party, as many of you know who have read my "Ignorance Drops" that have appeared in the paper from time to time. For this reason it is needles for me to say much as to how I stand.

Anyway, first of all, I stand for good roads and spending the County's money economically, and give every man and community a square deal. It was truthfully said by the editor that I had a lot of experience in life. I have worked 23 years on the railroad as section foreman, extra gang foreman, and general foreman of construction. On this job I handled two work trains, one steam shovel, and 85 men, and, as stated, ran a sawmill for 1 1-2 years. I think I know how to get a days work for a days pay, and how to handle other people's money. I have graded railroads, built railroads and bridges and have kept them up, and have seen dirt roads built in other counties as well as in this, and I think I could make some improvements, should I have a chance. Now I ask you to read and consider these "Ignorance Drops," and when you have done so, remember this is my first time to ask for anything in the way of an office. I have no fight to make against my opponents, only that two of them have had the office for two terms, and I think that is enough. Mr. Bean is a much younger man than myself and you might have a chance to honor him later on when I am gone.

So, in conclusion, I solicit your votes and influence in my behalf, and it will be appreciated ever so much. Whether I lose or gain in this campaign, I will be found to be the same old doctor.

So I thank you Mr. Editor for your statement made in the paper in regard to my "ignorance drops." They are wonders for building up. Do you know that since I went to Clanton and got into that commissioners vat and took that bath and got the first dose, it has built up what they call a pip jinnie right on the end of my nose, and my, how it did hurt, and was so contrary that it did not want me to touch it. But it is about well now; so you see, I have had a time.

Will write again some time; but will ask if any of you voters have any thing encouraging, just drop me a little note and I will appreciate it, and will remain, yours truly,

J. N. SCOTT.

P.S.—Say, Mr. Editor, as you know I was the last one to announce and take that bath in the commissioners race. I have been waiting for some of the others to state how they came out, but as they haven't I thought I would start the ball to rolling. Any way, the good book tells us that "Last shall be first and first last." So I hope that is going to be true in this case, if no others announce later.

CANDIDATES

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. T. Rockett, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. G. Culp, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by A. F. Mims, Thorsby, Ala.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. M. Pate, Thorsby, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. D. Collins, Clanton Ala., Route 8.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama from Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

PERCY M. PITTS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by Percy M. Pitts, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

JOHN S. DENNIS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by John S. Dennis, Clanton, Ala., R 1.)

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

FOR MEMBER OF COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for membership on the County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

R. H. BEAN.

(Paid political adv., authorized by R. H. Bean, Clanton, Ala., R 8.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of member of the county board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

W. J. EASTERLING.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. J. Easterling, Clanton, R 1.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. J. M. Webb, Maplesville, Ala., R 1).

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

Clanton, Ala., Route 4.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. L. Vines.)

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens

SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

T. J. DORMINEY.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. J. Dorminey.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Commissioner of the First District of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. F. JONES.

(Paid political adv., authorized by D. F. Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Reublican primary to be held on August 10.

J. N. SCOTT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. N. Scott, Jemison, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. P. BEAN.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. B. Bean, Clanton, Ala., R 8.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. E. WALDROP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. E. Waldrop, Jemison, Ala., R 1.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. H. GENTRY.

(Paid political adv., authorized by D. H. Gentry, Clanton R 4.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. H. BENSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. H. Benson, Clanton R 4.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the second district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

T. A. MADDOX.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. A. Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 4.)

Mr. and Mrs. Euell Woodyard of Hampton Springs, Fla., arrived here Sunday afternoon to spend some time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard.

I want to buy 1,000 bushels of peas in the next few days. Bring them in quick. M. A. Gore, Clanton, Ala. 1t-p.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

We Pay Highest Cash Price for Eggs & Chickens

HILL'S

50lb Can pure lard $8.25

Tomatoes by the Case $2.00

The store with the Red Front--7th st.

Karo Syrup Gallon - - - - 58 Cts.

Northern Beans, per lb 10c
Bull Head catsup, 2 for 25c
Peacock syrup, per gallon .. 72c
Ajax, the coffee with an aroma of strength, lb .. 29c
Home made Ribbon Cane syrup, per gallon $1.00
3-Minute oatmeal 9c
Dried Apples, per lb 18c
Export soap, per bar 4c
Chum salmon, 2 cans 25c

Prunes, 2lb 25c
Pioneer corn, No. 2 can 10c
Swifts Pure Lard No. 10 pail $1.58
Rumford or Calumet Baking Powder, lb can .. 29c
Campbell's Pork & Beans Large cans, 3 for 25c
Nice whole grain rice, lb 9c
Argo starch 4c

Split Silk Flour . $10.25 bbl.

The Flour that is GUARANTEED to please you or YOUR MONEY BACK

Clanton Cafe

NEW PLACE NOW OPEN ON SEVENTH STREET

We invite our friends and patrons to visit our new place on Seventh Street, back of Upchurch's. We are now ready to serve you.

We have done our best to design and equip this place in a way that will enable us to satisfactorily serve the most discriminating.

Your business will be appreciated at all times.

CLANTON CAFE

M. L. WARE, Proprietor
CLANTON, ALA.

Flour per sack . $1.25

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala. — "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1926 NUMBER 48

PECULIAR ROBBERY AT HARTSELLE, ALA.

Officers and Citizens of Town Held Bound and Gagged While Job is Being Finished Off.

Hartselle, Ala., March 15.—Without a single clue as to whither they went or from whence they came about 20 robbers entered Hartselle early Monday morning, captured the town, dynamited the vault of the Farmers and Merchants Bank and made their escape with fifteen or twenty thousand dollars. As a precaution against interference by citizens, the telephone cable was cut right up against the wall of the building in which the local exchange and long distance office is located.

Every telephone in the town of Hartselle was put out of commission, and long distance connection was severed. This is supposed to have occurred some time between midnight and 2 o'clock in the morning. The local operator who was on duty Sunday night did not know of the cutting until later in the night. She states that she heard the blast when the bank vault was blown open.

Citizens appearing on the streets, some to catch trains and those returning from Sunday visits, were immediately made prisoners and held until after the robbery was completed. The only bloodshed was suffered by Dr. J. D. Johnson, a dentist, who was wounded in the thigh by lookouts when he appeared on the scene. Dr. Johnson was taken to a hospital in Albany, where he is reported out of danger.

Long distance telephone connection was restored about 7 o'clock Monday morning and a crew was immediately put to work repairing the cable; this, it is said will require more than another day to complete and restore full local telephone service.

New Angle Develops.

Hartselle, Ala., March 15.—A new angle was injected into the investigation of the robbery of the Bank of Hartselle at an early hour Monday morning when yeggs succeeded in getting away with a sum estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 when it was learned that one or two mail pouches are missing from the Louisville & Nashville depot, where the mails had been placed for the southbound train. At midnight, according to the story pieced together from the spectators and victims of the robbery, two men dressed in corduroys, approached Ernest Mitweede, vice president and cashier of the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Hartselle, with an oil can and inquired where they could get some gas.

They were told that there was no place open at that time of the night. One of the men suggested that the policeman, Leslie Williams, might help them. Mr. Mitweede and the bandits then set out in search of the officer.

After finding him, both men were covered with guns and bound. Others then appeared and forced the front door of the bank with a crowbar.

Inside the men began to drill the safe to prepare for the first shot of nitroglycerine. Others were stationed at the street which they patrolled with sawed off shotguns. They patrolled for an hour while their companions drilled at the safe.

Station Agent Made Prisoner.

At 1:45 o'clock when Brady Huey, station agent, came out of the depot to look for the mail which was thrown off of the northbound train, he was confronted by two men, with shot guns, who commanded him to hold up his hands. The station agent complied. O. K. Williams of Birmingham, who was waiting at the station for the Birmingham train was also taken in tow by the bandits, who tied him to the ticket agent and marched him off to the bank, after one of the men had climbed the telegraph pole and clipped the wires.

En route they encountered Mack McGinnis and Bob Bripsby, negroes. While one of the bandits guarded the station agent and the Birmingham man the other captured the two negroes.

All four were marched off to join the police officer and banker in the rear room of the bank. Entering, McGinnis, the victims said, began to protest at the treatment he was receiving and "had to be quieted" by one of the bandits with a blow across the head.

In the meantime another of the gunmen had rounded up Chester Young and herded him into a coal house in the rear of the bank.

The first blast was fired a few seconds after the capture of the station agent and Williams, witnesses declared. After the first blast the whir of an electric drill could be heard at the vault, to be followed shortly by another blast. Eight were fired before the door yielded to the bandits.

Dentist Is Wounded.

In the meantime Dr. John B. Johnson, dentist, who has rooms upstairs a few doors from the bank heard the explosions and thought that it was a fire alarm. He seized his gun and rushed to the window, fired several times and then began to shout fire.

He then seized a few clothes and went to the street. As he rounded the corner toward the bank he was met by a shot from one of the bandits' pistol and fell with a bullet in the thigh.

This little affair was the only thing which distracted the yeggmen from their job of opening the safe, according to the victims bound in the rear room.

This ended when the eighth and last blast tore through the last steel wall and carried away the front of the bank with it.

Three clicks, which sent the men back to their work after the shooting of the doctor, seemed to play a great part in the robbery, the victims said. Whenever one of the bandits approached another he sounded three clicks and if he received three clicks in turn, all was well. If not, there was a shot and a warning to "keep off, or have your brains blown out."

Citizens Watch At Safe Distance.

Before the robbery was completed a group of Hartselle citizens who had been alarmed by the blasts, had gathered around. All came out unarmed thinking that the blasting was a fire alarm. None, however, returned for arms.

Some told that they had stood at a safe distance and watched the yeggmen work for two hours. The guards did not seem to mind this as long as they kept out of the block where the safe was being blown, but continued to pace their beats in plain view.

The Birmingham train came in and stopped when it found the "red board against it." Conductor J. A. Taylor of Birmingham, after making an investigation, called Birmingham, made a brief report and received orders to get his train out of danger. En route he spread the alarm at Cullman and Sheriff Lowry, with the Culmann chief of police and several deputies, sped to the scene, only to arrive 30 minutes after the bandits had departed.

No one was able to give any trace of the bandits after they left the bank. The men bound in the back room of the bank declared that after the last terrific explosion, the men filed through the back room with the money on their shoulders, with orders to them to lie still. They then disappeared into the night, and with them $20,000 in gold, paper and silver.

One man, John Pope, declared that a large car of an undetermined make had been parked in front of his residence for several hours. All during time, he said, the lights were kept on and the motor was running.

AUNT PATTY SMITH BURIED HERE SUNDAY

Mrs. Mary M. Smith, affectionately known as "Aunt Patty," died at her home in Clanton last Saturday morning at the ripe old age of 95 years. The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church, Rev. S. J. Ezell in charge.

Aunt Patty was perhaps the oldest person in this community. She was born May 20, 1830, in Coosa County. She had been a resident of Clanton for more than half a century. Her husband, Patrick Smith, died several years ago.

She was the mother of eight children, two daughters and six sons.

For several years past she had been an invalid, blind and helpless. During all this time her daughter, Mrs. Nannie Crichton, had lived with her and nursed her most lovingly and with tender care.

Aunt Patty was a woman of the most admirable Christian character, loving, kind and affectionate. She had been a member of the Baptist church for 75 or 80 years.

Kilby Candidacy Has Endorsement of Ex-Governor Comer

Alabama's Two Business Governors Have Long Been Associated In Politics

Nothing that has taken place in the present senatorial campaign has created more interest in the state at large than the endorsement of the candidacy of former Governor Thomas E. Kilby, the only business man in the race, by former Governor B. B. Comer, who is generally credited with being one of the strongest political factors in the state.

Declaring that Governor Kilby "impressed his strong business capacity on the affairs of the state," which he left "in splendid condition," and expressing the belief that he would "carry the same business capacity into the affairs of the nation," Governor Comer says he will support Kilby because he knows that every human and property interest will have his intelligent consideration in the event he is elected to represent the state at Washington.

Governor Kilby is making his race for the senate on his record as governor. He contends that no man should be elected to this highest office within the gift of the people who has not given an account of his stewardship in public service. With that idea in mind, he appointed former Governor Comer to the United States senate as an expression of appreciation on the part of the people of Alabama for the service he had rendered in rescuing the state from railroad domination and corporate control.

Ever since Kilby was a member of Comer's Sunday School class at the First Methodist church in Anniston, there has been a close personal and political relationship between the two men. They think alike on all public questions and will go down in history as Alabama's two greatest business governors.

In his letter endorsing Kilby for senator former Governor Comer says:

"Dear Governor Kilby:

In your candidacy for the United States senate, to succeed Senator Underwood, you have my unqualified endorsement. I have known you for many years, known you in different positions and in all, including that of governor, which I regard as one of the highest positions, I have found you working in the interest of the people. You have made good.

"There are people in Alabama who think that I made the state a good governor. These same people, I am sure, think that you also made a good governor. You certainly impressed your strong business capacity on the affairs of the state, and left same in splendid condition, and I feel sure that you would carry the same business capacity into the affairs of the nation, and that as the years went by your usefulness would improve and that you would reflect credit upon the state.

"There will be other candidates, good men. I shall support you, my friend, because I know that under you every interest, both human and property, will be forcefully and intelligently cared for.

Faithfully yours,
B. B. COMER."

(Paid Political Advertisement by Kilby Club of Anniston.)

DEATH OF MRS. J. A. PIERCE

The death angel visited the home of Mr. Arthur Pierce near Gateman, Miss., Tuesday, March 9, and took away the spirit of his loving wife, Mrs. Annie (Bryant) Pierce, age 35, after several days illness with flu and pneumonia.

She leaves a husband and six children to mourn her loss. The oldest is a son 15 years of age, and there are 5 girls from 1 to 11 years of age.

The body was brought to Bethsalem for burial. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Joe Moore Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Neither the husband nor children were able to attend the funeral.

We wish to extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy, and pray God's richest blessings on them all.

FOURTH SUNDAY MEETING

Following is the program for the Fourth Sunday Meeting to be held at Oak Grove March 28th:

9:15 a. m.—Sunday School.
10:00—Devotional, by the pastor.
10:15 to 11:15—"The Value of the Church," by E. A. Norris and others.
11:15—Sermon.
12:00—Noon hour.
1:15 p. m.—Devotional, by Mr. Will Northcutt.
1:45—"The Needs of the Churches," by B. F. Dykes and others.
Adjournment.

We hope to have Miss Addie E. Cox, a returned missionary from China, [illegible] this meeting. We invite [illegible] come and help us.—

[illegible]ssee was [illegible] fid-

NEW CHILTON BRIDGE VOTED BY SENATE

Washington, March 12.—Construction of 16 bridges over Alabama streams were authorized in 16 bills passed by the senate today. The bills were called up by Senator Heflin.

Five of the bridges will be built across the Coosa river: one near Childersburg, another near Fayetteville, another at Pell City, another near Wetumpka, and one on the Clanton-Rockford road, between Chilton and Coosa counties.

Three will be across the Tennessee river: one near Scottsboro, another near Whitesburg Ferry, and another near Guntersville.

Tombigbee river will be crossed by four bridges: one near Aliceville, another near Jackson, another near Gainesville and one on the Butler-Linden road between Choctaw and Marengo counties.

Three bridges will be built over the Pea river: one near Samson, one near Geneva, and another at Elba.

WOCO-PEP DEALERS MEET

Agents and dealers of the Wofford Oil Company gathered in Birmingham at the home plant on Wednesday, 17th, for the celebration of the 23rd anniversary of the Company and the 8th birthday of Woco-Pep motor fuel.

Mr. R. J. Sumner of the Wico-Pep Company of this city, was among those attending and was accompanied by several of the Woco-Pep dealers.

The program of entertainment for the Woco-Pep Birthday Celebration began at 10 o'clock Wednesday, with the registration and inspection of the company's plant and tank farm, at 33rd St., and 9th Ave., No., Birmingham. Motion pictures of the gathering were made and this was followed by a tour of the city to visit the drive-in stations of Birmingham district. At noon a luncheon was held at the Axis Club when Frank W. Miller, Vice President of Sloss-Sheffield Steel & Iron Co., spoke on "Benzol—What It Is and Does," and W. G. Clarke, Chief Lubricating Engineer of the Pure Oil Co., makers of Tiolene motor oil, spoke on "Automobile Lubrication."

The luncheon was follow d by several station contests in various city stations, and at 6:30 o'clock the annual Woco-Pep Birthday Banquet was held at the Tutwiler Hotel with city officials and other dignitaries as guests of honor. G. T. Wofford, founder and president of the Wofford Oil Co., and originator of Woco-Pep as the first "anti-knock" motor fuel in America, was host on the occasion celebrating the 23rd anniversary of the company's founding.

The Woco-Pep Birthday Party is an annual affair looked forward to with a great deal of interest by the Woco-Pep representatives, and the event this year was the biggest in the history of the company, according to reports of those in attendance.

Little Grace Ezell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ezell, is recovering from an attack of influenza.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON OR PAROLE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will make application for pardon or parole. I was convicted on a charge of murder in the Fall Term, 1915, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

3-18-3t-pd. BONNIE MORRIS.

ALL HAD BIG TIME AT FIDDLERS MEET

Convention at Courthouse is Attended By Fiddlers from Far and Near.

There was a record crowd at the Fiddlers Convention at the court house last Saturday night, and it was unanimously voted by those present that it was the most thoroughly enjoyable affair staged here in many seasons.

The ladies of the Methodist church of Circle No. 2, who got up the affair are to be congratulated upon the splendid manner in which the program was carried out. They took in $161.86 at the door for tickets, and the cake contest brought in nearly $100.

Misses Goree Calloway and Audell Burnett were nominated in the pretty girl contest for the cake. Miss Calloway "took the cake" but she had to show some speed to keep ahead.

Judge Reynolds acted as chairman and introduced the fiddlers. A big high platform had been arranged in front of the bar of justice upon which the fiddlers were placed to perform. The judges were Commissioner A. P. Vinson, G. O. Foshee, and Mrs. Dalene Broadhead.

Prizes were awarded to the musicians in the order named below:

J. C. Price, Powell, F. Smith, C. N. Eiland, Henry Cleckler, Tom Coker, J. C. Terrell, Tom Courtney, Jim Robinson, J. N. Courtney, B. W. Hopper, Harley Ray, Jack Courtney, A. P. Williams, Jim Bullard, W. A. Wright, W. D. Clark, Norrell Weaver, W. T. Hand, L. L. Courtney, Mrs. J. M. Robinson, Mrs. Coker.

There were fiddlers in attendance from Tallassee, Centreville, Calera, Prattville, and all parts of Chilton County.

The fiddlers themselves had a good time. After the program was over they were carried to Miner's Cafe, where the Methodist ladies "set them up" to a supper.

The little 7-year-old girl of Henry Cleckler provided a fitting close for the program when she took the platform and exhibited some old fashioned dancing that was a surprise to the audience.

Many people who sought admittance were turned away because of the fact that they could not get seats or standing room in the court house.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION VOTES TO MAKE REPAIRS IN AUTAUGA

The state highway commission last Thursday voted to improve the Birmingham-Montgomery highway through Autauga county by graveling the worst places on the highway in view of the early opening of the Reese's Ferry bridge. Work of placing gravel on bad spots on the road will be undertaken immediately.

It is planned to eventually pave the entire highway between Birmingham and Montgomery, but it is considered advisable to wait until the road settles before laying pavement, the present condition of the highway in Autauga county being regarded as too "green" to warrant paving at this time.

The highway commission adjourned Thursday to meet again April 5.

Mr. L. F. Gerald made a business trip to Montgomery Friday.

Must See Ahead

If there is a sharp curve in the road, you go slow. You want to see what's ahead. After dark you will not drive without lights for the same reason.

Being able to see ahead is what insures safety and success, no matter what the undertaking. In financial as well as other affairs, the only way to look into the future is by the light of the past. Successful men have worked, planned and SAVED. Why not follow the light they have given and do likewise? Our Bank will help you.

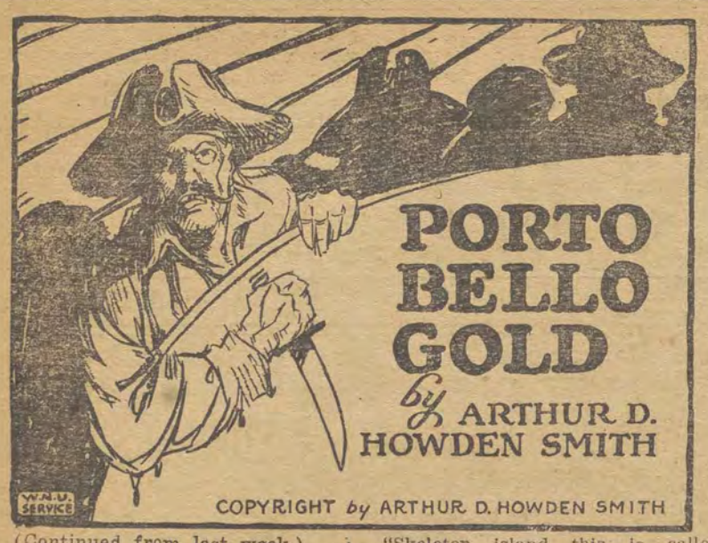
Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help
CLANTON, ALABAMA

It Takes More Than a Sign Over The Door To Make A

-BANK-

It takes experience, brains, and above all, the proper organization for the protection of depositors.



This bank is regularly examined by officials of the Federal Government. Every transaction must meet their rigid requirements. Your money is absolutely safe in this bank. It is here until you need it, and yours when you want it.

If you are not already a depositor you are cordially invited to open an account.

This Bank is Under Government Control

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA
Safety—Service—Accomodation

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER VIII

The Island

One day was like another aboard the Royal James, although to a landsman the routine of duties, work and varying weather was charged with unending interest. My great-uncle held his pack of wolves on a short leash and exacted from them all the efficiency of a man-o-war's company.

Each morning he inspected the ship from stem to stern, accompanied by his officers, and he was not slow to administer rebukes for shortcomings or oversights. Later in the forenoon the men were exercised at the great guns, and in the afternoon there was pike and cutlass drill. The watch was rigorously maintained.

In the Afternoon There Was a Pike and Cutlass Drill.

My great-uncle was particular that I should be well garbed, and forced upon me several suits of his abundant wardrobe which were given the necessary alterations by a former journeyman tailor who had escaped from Newgate on the eve of execution for the murder of a scolding wife. He would have done as much for Peter also; but the Dutchman refused to be parted from his salt-stained buckskin shirt and leggings; and an odd figure Corlaer made, in all conscience, striding the decks of the Royal James in the costume of a forest-runner, even to the knife and hatchet hung on either thigh.

To the west of the Bermoothes—within sight of which we never came—we encountered the Walrus again, Flint having had substantially the same experience as ourselves, and thenceforth we continued in company. We were eleven weeks out of New York when a cluster of rocky peaks soared above the heat-haze dead ahead.

My great-uncle, after a single squint through his object-glass, handed the instrument to me.

"'Tis the island," he said. "I'd know those peaks anywhere."

The double lens etched distinctly a rugged spread of land, shelving up out of the sea from a succession of yellow beaches on the east to a series of small hills which culminated in a range of considerable height along the westward side, running almost due north and south. The interior seemed to be heavily forested; the trees climbed the mountains to within the last few hundred feet of their summits, which were bare rock, precipitous in the case of the midmost and highest, a cloud-hung giant which dominated the island.

Nearing its shores, I descried the tangled masses of trees which clothed most of its surface. A few conifers shot up to goodly stature, but the greater part of the forest growth was gnarled, wind-tortured dwarfs, misshapen abortions of trees. The whole effect of the place seen from offshore was sinister and forbidding, repulsive as the silent ferocity which emanated from the blind man Pew.

My great-uncle turned over the conduct of the ship to Martin and crossed to where Peter and I stood, staring about us.

"Starboard, Master Martin!" called my great-uncle as he joined Peter and me. "Starboard your helm, if you please. Aye, on to this shoal here We shall have three fathoms and less to careen in. Bid them drop the anchor."

Martin bawled an order. A whistle piped, and there was a great clatter and rustling of rope running loose, a mighty splash that drove the birds in tumult into the air; and the Royal James swung to her cable close under the lesser island's shore. My great-uncle waved one hand over the bulwark.

"Skeleton island this is called, Robert," he said. "I tell you because you demonstrate so grewsome an interest in the more horrifying episodes of our past. But I regret I must confess that I know of no authentic detail to account for the nomenclature. Pirates have a way of naming a spot to suit themselves, without rime or reason, if the fancy once moves them."

"May we land?" I answered, ignoring his gibe.

"Suit yourselves," he returned with a shrug. "I must have all my men busy aboard here, however, and can spare none to guide you."

"Ja, ja," urged Peter. "We shoodt some goats, eh?"

"If you please," agreed Murray. "Ben Gunn will find you a brace of light muskets preferable to our rack-blunderbusses. I'll have the gig put overside, and you may row yourselves, if you will. I desire above all things, Robert, to deal gently with you. Therefore I ask you to believe I am considering your own safety when I require your promise to be aboard again not later than an hour after sundown."

"Why, what harm—"

The Walrus slatted past us, her canvas in a slovenly mess alow and aloft, a dozen men howling orders and counter-orders from poop, waist and fo'csle, Flint in his red coat strutting the poop and adding his own bellow to the din whenever the confusion showed signs of dissolving.

My great-uncle's eyes strayed across the narrow gap of water betwixt the two vessels.

"Well, damme, it's been a —— of a voyage, Murray!" shouted Flint.

"We are here," returned my great-uncle urbanely.

"Aye, and what to do wi' ourselves?" Flint called back. "Blast me for a —— —— —— if I can see what five hundred —— —— —— are to do wi' months on their hands, and naught but rum-drinking' and quarrellin' for diversion."

"There's your ship to clean, man," replied Murray. "She needs it."

Flint answered with a curse.

My great-uncle indulged in one of his essentially Gallic shrugs and dusted a pinch of snuff into his nostrils.

"Captain Flint doth not agree with me, it seems. But to return to your question. You were about to ask me what harm could befall you ashore. I answer you that I do not know, but that in all candid truth we are here, to quote my associate, some 'five hundred —— —— ——,' and accidents may happen. Therefore, I suggest that you be aboard not later than an hour after sunset. On second thoughts, Robert, I regret that I shall be unable to permit you to leave the ship save upon your parole on those terms."

"You have it," I answered shortly, and followed Peter down the sideleats into the gig.

We rowed up the estuary for the mouth of the little river which we had seen from the James' deck, and our course took us under the yellow hull of the Walrus. A shrill voice hailed from a gunport, and Darby McGraw's red head was thrust out beside the frowning black muzzle.

"Glory be, Master Bob, and do they let ye go free wherever ye will? Sure it's yourself must be one o' the grand favorites over yon. Are ye an officer yet?"

I was about to answer him when Flint gloomed down at us from the towering poop.

"Come aboard here, my hearty," Flint hailed me.

"We are going ashore," I answered; "and I have reason to hasten."

Flint scowled.

"Well, ye'll come soon enough. And when I get ye I'll learn ye a thing or two! There's too much politics and favoritism aboard the James to suit me, and ye can tell your great-uncle or granddaddy or whatever be may be, blast him for a —— —— —— —— ——, that John Flint says so!"

Darby bobbed up on the poop beside him very much out of breath.

"Troth, he's no more'n the old master's son that I worrked for in New York, captain darlin', and him that good to me always I had a main likin' for him, indeed and indeed I did! And I'm fair crazy to be ashore afther the weeks and months we'll ha'—

Flint clapped him on the shoulder, abruptly jovial.

"Ah, if it's shore you'd be that's a different matter," says he. "I'm for goin' ashore myself. Bill, call all hands away for the boats, and we'll have a grand goat-hunt up Spyglass. John Silver shall barbecue 'em for us. And break out a couple o' casks o' rum. Lively now, my lads! We'll enjoy ourselves like the honest pirates we are!"

A frenzy of cheering answered him, and I backed water with my oars.

"You heard, Peter?" I said over my shoulder.

"Ja; dot's badt."

"We can't go where they do."

"Neen."

We ran our boat aground on a sandy bank on the far side of a point which concealed us from the Walrus. Then we took our guns and walked inland through the trees up a graduated sandy slope to the top of a little hillock.

"This would be a good place for a fort," I mused.

"Ja," said Peter. "You got water, too."

He pointed to a streak of green vegetation along the sandy slope of the knoll which we traced to a spring issuing from the summit.

"Now we got water, we better eat," he added.

"But what about the goats?" I cried. "We were to—"

"No," he insisted stubbornly; "ve don't shoodt. If we shoodt, der pirates hear us andt come. We waidt until they are all ashore. Then we go back to Murray."

"I'll not be driven from the first pleasure we have had in months," I protested childishly.

"We do it again," replied Peter placidly. "Next time Murray he come wit' us himself, ja."

"Yes, but—"

"Now you be sensible, Bob. Der Injuns is goodt friendts beside them fellers, ja. We go back to der James. Soon all o' them be ashore andt drunk. Drunk, they like to kill us, but they can't row—neen."

And we rowed back to the James ingloriously in the dusk, the shouts of the Walrus' carousers echoing to us from the shore.

The watch aboard the Royal James challenged us as we made fast by the larboard side-ladder, and when we climbed over the bulwarks to the deck Master Martin flashed a lanthorn in our faces with a gust of oaths in his absurdly gentle tones.

"By the —— —— —— ——, but I hoped 'twas that —— —— Flint come a-seekin' mischief," he complained.

"Where is Captain Murray?" I answered.

"In his cabin."

And in the same mild manner he continued to his men:

"To your stations. Remember cap'n's orders. Now these two are aboard, ye'll fire at any boat that approaches and challenge afterward."

The negro lackeys stood aside as we came to the cabin entrance under the poop; the door was open. Down the dark tunnel of the companionway with its stateroom doors on either hand Peter and I could see my great-uncle sitting at the table in the main cabin, a glass of wine at his elbow, a chart spread out before him.

I recounted briefly our conversation with Flint and the determination Peter and I had reached in consequence. He nodded agreement with it.

"You did quite right, Robert. Peter did not exaggerate the dangers inherent in the situation."

"You will excuse me," he went on, "if I return to my studies. I have much upon my mind."

We bade him good night and went to our staterooms, weary enough from the unwonted exercise of rowing. As I shut my door I noted that he was measuring distances in the Caribbean with calipers, and jotting figures upon the margin of the chart.

In the morning all hands were occupied with the task of careening the ship. 'Twas when the work was proceeding satisfactorily that my great-uncle bade Martin tell off a dozen hands who were good shots and call away the longboat.

"I marvel that you dare to leave the James in this defenseless condition," I said to him as the longboat pulled off up the anchorage past the silent bulk of the Walrus.

"There need not necessarily be danger this afternoon," he said. "'Tis all quiet ashore, and I doubt if there is a man sufficiently sober aboard the Walrus to carry a carton of powder from the magazine."

"But by evening they'll ha' slept it off," I insisted.

"True, and with it their lust for bloodshed—for the time being, at any rate. Our problem then will be to turn Flint's mind to some undertaking which will divert his attention and occupy him until we need no longer be concerned for his whimsies."

We landed south of the first river, below where Flint's party had held their carouse, and proceeded inland through a wooded valley, with hills rising to right and left of us and the Spyglass towering in the distance. The day was very clear, and the mountain's summit was a gray cone against the blue of the sky. Even our sullen, hangdog escort of seamen became almost cheery under the influence of their changed surroundings, and with the sight of their first goat they began to whoop and shout like schoolboys. Murray, despite his age, was as spry as the youngest of us, and he never wasted a shot.

We had maintained a brisk pace on our wanderings, and we reached the site of the spring well before sunset. My great-uncle surveyed the situation with a calculating eye, estimated the stand of timber on the hill's sides, and exclaimed that there was no neighboring eminence whence an enemy could command it.

"'Tis all you have asserted it to be," he said. "Moreover, it gives me an idea of a way in which we may occupy the energies of Captain Flint and his lambs for the ensuing weeks of our stay."

A thread of smoke trickled up beside the mouth of the rivulet in the woods along the estuary, and I indicated it to him.

"There is Flint," I said.

"Yes," he replied absently, and kept on.

The shadows were lengthening as we stepped out of the forest into a glade on the river's bank. Several additional fires had been kindled, and around each were huddled groups of

"There Is Flint," I Said.

pirates much the worse for the last night's drinking-bout. John Silver was the only man who appeared to have any animation left in him. 'Twas he first saw us, and evidently spoke to Flint, who sat with Bones and several other cronies at the smallest of the fires. He swung toward us as Flint rose unsteadily and tacked in his wake.

"Come a-visitin', captain?" Silver inquired cheerfully. "Mighty kind o' ye, sir, seein' as how most o' our lads is a bit the worse for liquor and blood-lettin'. My duty to ye, Master Ormerod. I hopes I sees you and your friend well?"

"Blood-lettin?" repeated Murray, ignoring the balance of his remarks. "The old story, eh? Well, well! You'll never learn. How many for the sailmaker's palm and needle?"

"Three, captain. And main lucky we are as—"

Flint lurched up beside him.

"Stow that, John," growled his captain. "I'll do the talkin'. What's your trouble, Murray?"

My great-uncle took a pinch of snuff with his inimitable knack of expressing acute disgust without moving a musele of his face.

"I have been a-hunting," he replied. "Shooting for the pot. We stopped on the way to our boat to pass the time o' day with you, Flint."

Flint snorted.

"Time o' day! H—l! 'Tain't like you to take the trouble."

"I am a person of most uncertain proclivities," replied my great-uncle. "I hear from Silver that last night's episode was accompanied by the usual fatalities."

"Three," assented Flint. "Two o' 'em could be spared—lousy dogs. The other was Toby Welsh, as stout a fellow as we had."

"Not bad for one night's work," commented Murray.

Flint was obviously in no very belligerent mood; he could scarce stand. But he flamed up at this.

"Aye, and what d'ye expect? How many months did ye tell me I must bide here wi' a crew that knows naught but how to brew the devil's broth? And how many men d'ye think will be alive by the end of the time? Gut me, but 'twill be like the song we sing o' the Dead Man's Chest!"

"I fear it will," agreed my great-uncle. "Unless you take measures to prevent it."

"Measures? There's a deal to be done in keeping twelvescore men from fighting on this chunk o' earth and rock!"

"There's your ship to be cleaned," said my great-uncle tentatively.

"I'd ha' mutiny on my hands did I call for it! They're all for a run ashore, and there'll be no working them aboardship until they ha' had their fill o' woods and mountains."

"Ah!" said my great-uncle. "Doubtless that is so. Well, if they must remain ashore a time, is it not in their own interest to erect themselves some shelter from the elements? We have often said that some day we should build ourselves a fort on the island."

"We ha'."

"I came upon the ideal spot this afternoon—a sand hillock overgrown with fine pines and oaks eastward of the swamps. It hath the airs from the ocean, a good prospect of the anchorage and the nearer waters, and

(Continued to Page 7)

WALNUT CREEK SINGING

The Walnut Creek Singing Society met in regular session last Sunday afternoon. A large crowd was present and enjoyed over two hours of very fine singing. Directors were: W. F. Gilliland Dewey Huett, S. V. Miller, W. M. Devaughn, J. E. Minor, I. D. Huett, J. A. W. Mims, O. A. Boswell, Jesse Baker, Archie Devaughn, Jean Wyatt and Jesse Jones. Organists were: Miss Lena Mae Devaughn, Mrs. Jesse Baker, Miss Alene Baker and Mr. O. A. Boswell.

Three quartets were sung during the afternoon, one arranged by Prof. W. M. Devaughn and the other two by Mr. Jesse Baker.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

To Mamie Cooper, residence unknown; to Carl Dawson, Julius Dawson, Agnes Dawson, Gladys Dawson, Edward Dawson, Reuben Dawson, Hershel Dawson, Marvin Dawson, Elvin Dawson, Vasteen Wright, minors.

Notice is hereby given that the 2nd day of March, 1926, came Euell Davis Dawson, Executor of the estate of W. R. Dawson, deceased, and filed his accounts, vouchers, evidence and statement for a final settlement of same, and that the 2nd day of April, 1926, has been appointed as the day for making such settlement, at the said Probate Office at the court house of Chilton County, Alabama, at which time all parties in interest may appear and contest the same if they deem proper.

This, the 2nd day of March, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

3-4-3t-ch

The Red "G"
G is a sign of Quality

Grasselli Fertilizers

are manufactured to give crops a quick start and early maturity. This is very necessary under Boll Weevil conditions.

Satisfaction in every sack, for over 26 years.

Look for the big red "G" on the bag.

THE GRASSELLI CHEMICAL COMPANY
Birmingham Gadsden Dothan

FOR SALE BY

MULLINS & MOORE
Clanton, Alabama

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

World's Greatest Closed Car Values

These new low prices set a new record of achievement in automobile history—one that establishes a new basis of motor car value, beyond question the greatest in the world.

Think of getting a beautiful, four-door Sedan for $735—a Coach for only $645—and other closed models at equally amazing new low prices which include speedometer, balloon tires, Duco finish, Fisher bodies, Alemite lubrication, and countless other fine car quality features.

No other closed cars offer equal value—none at the price offer equal beauty, durability, comfort or performance, snap and power. Come in—one ride will convince you.

Ask for a Demonstration!

New Low Prices

Coupe - - - $645
Coach - - - 645
Sedan - - - 735
Landau - - 765

f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

The Coach
The lowest priced Fisher Body Coach in the world

Government tax reduction on automobiles officially in effect on March 29 is allowed NOW on all purchases of Chevrolet Cars.

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated
CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Messrs. Arnold Soberg and C. R. Foss, with his wife and two small boys went to Birmingham Sunday to attend the Electrical Exxposition which opened in the municipal auditorium on Monday of this week. They also intended to have a look in at the big sale Pizitz put on Monday. They returned home Tuesday.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid social will be held Thursday afternoon, March 18th at the home of Mrs. Conrad Carlson.

Last Saturday night was the coldest middle of March weather ever experienced in Thorsby. Reliable thermometers registered 22 degrees above zero at 6 a.m. Sunday morning. Ice nearly an inch thick was formed Saturday night in a screened porch and it was near noon Sunday before the mercury rose above freezing point. Sunday and Monday nights the temperature was also below freezing. Strawberries and fruit in bloom were undoubtedly seriously injured; just how much only time will tell. The worst feature of damage to strawberries will be to delay the crop until so late that competition from other sections will reduce prices and profits.

The teachers of Thorsby public school were host and hostess for the Parent-Teachers Association social held at their auditorium last Tuesday afternoon.

Thorsby Institute has purchased two large chemical fire extinguishers, fixed on wheels for convenience in handling. Each machine is equipped with 100 feet of hose. There should be more of these machines in Thorsby, where there is absolutely no other effective mode of fighting fires.

Rev. Each announces that next Sunday night, at the Congregational church, he will put on another stereopticon exhibit consisting of places and scenes of interest in the Phillipine Islands, in connection with a discourse on Missionary activities among the people of these far off slands of the sea.

A novel program was put on at Christian Endeavor last Sunday night. The topic was "How can we overcome the spirit of anger and revenge?" The seats were arranged in four groups, two of them representing anger and revenge, the other two groups opposing these sinful faults. The discussions were lively and interesting. These young people seldom fail to have very interesting meetings, helpful to young people in many ways.

On our recent visit to Mitchell Dam we were very much interested in their system of controls, whereby a part of the current created is used to regulate the flow of water into the turbines which furnish the power to pull the huge generators. It is also used to operate the switch signals which instantly show by colored lights whether any of their numerous transmission lines are active or idle. The whole arrangement seems to demonstrate that sometimes "The thing created is greater than the creator," or somewhat in the nature of "a man lifting himself by his own bootstraps."

The music recital given by the piano pupils of Miss Alithea Parker was a portrayal of the early efforts of embryo artists, but several of the performers showed onsiderable talent in performance and interpretation of piano music. In the mind of the judges Miss Irene Benson was the winner of a prize offered for the most pleasing performance. Miss Dorothy Butler received the prize for the best work during the half year and Miss Lois Primm, Miss Pearl Steiner, Miss Dora Rowell and Miss Katherine Foss were given honorable mention. The recitation by Mrs. Loveland and one number sung by Thorsby Institute boys quartette composed of Olin and Hudson Williams, Gordon Sorrell and Sidney Davenport were notable features of the program.

Mrs. E. R. Piper was hostess to the W. M. U. last Thursday p.m. A large crowd attended. After a social hour delightful refreshments were served.

The Y. W. A. met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Peterson Wednsday p.m. at 3 o'clock. An interesting program was rendered by the members, after which delicious refreshments were served.

Dr. Wilson and wife of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Burdette Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Bonner of Jemison spent Sunday with Mr. an Mrs. Leonard Lowery.

Mrs. George Horsley and son of Birmingham spent Saturday and Sunday here with Mrs. Horsley's mother, Mrs. Aaron Littleton.

We are very glad to learn that Miss Bertha Littleton is improving, after a severe attack of influenza.

The Womans Missionary society met at the Thorsby Baptist church on Monday p.m. An interesting program was carried out.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mims of Clanton were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Webb Parrish Sunday.

Mrs. Howard Garrick was a delightful hostess last Thursday night when she entertained the Sunday school classes of the Baptist church. The home was very pretty, a profusion of potted plants and spring flowers being the only decorations. A series of games was enjoyed and afterwards an animal contest, Miss Aletha Johnson winning the prize for having the most points. The booby prize was won by Miss Lody Mae Hayes. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. T. R. Burdett served delicious refreshments to 35 guests.

Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Lowery spent Monday in Clanton with their son, Herbert Lowery.

Among those attending the Howard Glee Club concert at Clanton Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lowery, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lowery, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garrick.

Mrs. Howard Garrick spent Monday in Clanton with Mrs. Herbert Lowery.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Farrington and children of Birmingham spent Sunday here with Mrs. Aaron Littleton.

Mrs. C. R. Foss spent Tuesday in Birmingham on business.

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County.—
In Probate Court.

On this, the 10th day of March, 1926, came M. L. Hall, guardian of Brainard Baxley, a minor, age sixteen years, and filed her petition in writing under oath in this court for an order to sell certain lands in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

The southeast quarter of the southeast qcarter, Section 20, Township 22, Range 14, which is the property of said minor and described in said petition, for the purpose of Maintenance and education of said minor.

It is ordered that Saturday, the 3rd day of April, 1926, be appointed a day for the hearing of said petition when any person interested may appear and contest said application if they deem proper.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
3-11-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

NEWS FROM LOMAX

Messrs. V. B. Edwards and Charlie Burnett attended the fiddlers convention at Clanton Saturday night.

Mrs. Ollie Burnett visited Mrs. Pearl Adams Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Edwards attended Sunay school at Samaria Sunday.

Mrs. Ben Wells from Birmingham spent Sunday night with her sister, Mrs. Ollie Burnett.

"Campus Activities" is just fine, and we enjoy reading the articles every week.

G. O. McKee of Montgomery is still in Florida, where he went some months ago for his health.

WANTED—Five lumber trucks to haul at Lowndesboro, Ala.; 5-mile haul on good road. W. A. Reynolds, Clanton, Ala. 3-18-2t-ch

DEATH OF MRS. MANDY L. BURNETT

Mrs. Mandy L. Burnett, age 48 years, wife of Mr. Henry M. Burnett, of Clanton, died in a hospital in Montgomery Sunday night following a surgical operation. The body was brought to Clanton Monday morning and was buried Tuesday afternoon at New Cedron cemetery near Billingsley.

Mrs. Burnett was the daughter of Mr. Cobb Vinson, a well-known citizen of this County during his lifetime.

She is survived by her husband and five children: Mrs. Kin Vinson of Clanton, Mrs. Olvin McSwain of Montgomery, Julius Burnett of Clanton, Barney Burnett of Montgomery, and Arthur Burnett of Clanton. Five children had preceded her in death, one of whom was John Melton Burnett, soldier of the 123 Infantry, U. S. Army, who died at Camp Wheeler, Ga., during the World War.

Mrs. Burnett was an exemplary Christian woman, a member of the Clanton Baptist church.

A Personal Blessing

Mobile, Ala.—"I am glad to say that I was greatly benefited by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was badly run-down in health and two bottles of the medicine built me up and made me strong and well. I do not think any woman could take the 'Favorite Prescription' without being helped by it."—Mrs. E. L. Williams, 455 S. Franklin St.

Women, your health is your most valuable asset. So, why not get this Prescription today from your druggist, or write Dr. Pierce, President of the Invalids' Hotel, in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice, or send 10c for a trial pkg. of tablets.

Stubborn Coughs Quickly Stopped This New Way

It is often surprising how the most persistent, hacking cough that not only robs you of strength and sleep, but often leads to more serious trouble, yields quickly to a simple but wonderfully effective treatment.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the cause removed, coughing stops quickly, your sleep undisturbed, and the entire cough condition soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

Special for Farmers

Arm & Hammer Soda, 7 packages .. 25c
Good quality flour, per bbl $10.00
German Kainit, per ton $15.00
Best quality pea green Alfalfa hay, per ton $38.00
Good quality Syrup, per gallon 65c

We pay highest market price for Eggs.

We carry all sizes in Chattanooga Plows and repair parts.

We carry the full line of "Alfocorn" mule, horse, dairy and chick feed.

Wholesale and Retail

JAMES C. JONES
Clanton, Ala.

AUCTION SALE

Saturday, March 20th, at 10:00 A. M., at my home one mile east of Thorsby, to the highest bidder FOR CASH—1 full-blood Jersey cow, fresh; 1 Jersey yearling; a lot of chickens, farm tools, and various house furnishings.

H. H. Dahl, Owner - J. M. Mims, Auc'r
Thorsby, Alabama

With Money in the Bank Subject to Your Own Call You are Independent of Poverty, Failure, Hard Times, Toil in Old Age.

Start on the road of independence today. The start may be hard but the end is easy. Depend on us for best results. We welcome you today. Try Us For Good Banking.

THE BANK OF THORSBY
Thorsby, Ala.
"Be Dependent on Your Bank Account."

Personal Appearance

—has much to do with a man's success or failure in life.

—A poorly dressed man, no matter how brilliant, energetic or forceful he may be, is handicapped.

—Money invested in CURLEE CLOTHES to keep yourself looking your best, will yield big returns. Many a man's "stock in trade" is his personal appearance, and no man, no matter what his occupation, can afford to disregard it.

—We now have the CURLEE CLOTHES to fit men of all proportions and patterns to suit any taste.

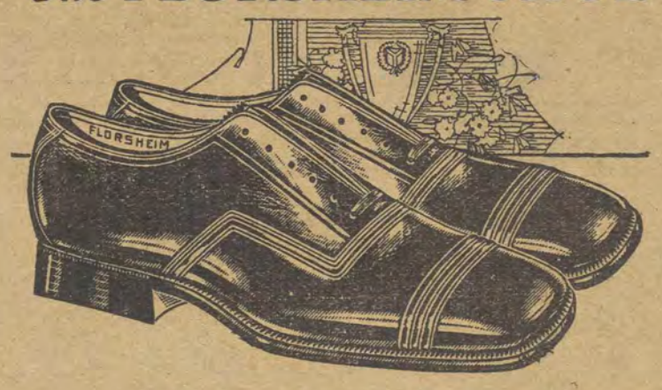
"Get in the Well Dressed Circle"

The New Cafe

A. N. MINER, Proprietor

"A Good Place To Eat"

Located near the Court House



Hot biscuits for breakfast, corn bread, vegetables and chicken for dinner.

We invite you to eat with us when in Clanton. We are preparing to feed you when you come to court next week.

Value Is More Expected

in SHOES than anything else you wear. In FLORSHEIM and SELZ shoes it is there in abundance—it is the selected leathers—it is the earnest standards of workmanship—it is the FLORSHEIM and SELZ values that keeps millions of men wearing these shoes season after season.

The FLORSHEIM SHOE

For 50 years and more these organizations have bettered the methods of shoe-making, have quickened production by labor saving machinery and selected the cream of the world's leathers in advantageous markets—all to give you better shoes for less money.

We can fit you with the style you like and the price you want to pay.

SELZ $6 $SIX

We have a beautiful display of the new spring dress fabrics, such as silk crepes, georgette, tub silks, fasheens, rayons, genuine peter pan—and we will be glad to show you these whether you are ready to buy right now or not.

NEW SHIRTS

Parrish's STYLE SHOP

NEW HOSIERY

CLANTON, ALA.

For The Small Folks Feet

We have a special lot of new Spring Shoes, and the extra care we use in fitting fully warrants your coming here to buy Shoes for your Children.

We also have the very latest in Wash Satins, in all colors. Prices very reasonable.

Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALA.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

OUR WEEKLY PAPERS

Every county has its weekly paper. Here in Alabama many of the counties have two or more. A few have three or four.

And editors of these papers are vitally concerned with agriculture and with rural people. Agriculture is as important to them as it is to the farmers themselves.

These editors have their problems just as we farmers have ours. Circulation and advertising, their two chief sources of income, do not come by magic. Circulation comes slowly and advertising frequently comes under pressure.

As farm people we have not given enough thought to cooperation with the editors of weekly papers. Unquestionably each farmer should be a regular subscriber to his weekly paper. If he subscribes for it he will read it because the weekly paper carries the news and information about and concerning the people of his county.

Fortunately many of them carry a great deal of agricultural news from Auburn and from elsewhere; and this is exactly what farmers want.

If every farmer in each county of Alabama would keep his subscription paid in advance he would be making an investment which would be very valuable for him and his family; and his editor woul be happy and could get out a better paper than is possible with a limited circulation.

Then, too, we farmers need to do more advertising. Frequently we have some little something for sale which is slow in being sold, whereas it would be sold rapidly if we would do a little advertising in a local paper. For a fraction of a dollar it can be turned into cash. An animal, for example, that is costing money every day to keep, can be turned into cash right away by using some printer's ink.

The Alabama Farm Bureau is intensely interested in the weekly papers of Alabama. Nine out of ten of them are interested in the Farm Bureau and want it to succeed. If you are not on the subscription list of your weekly paper we suggest that you get on it right away.—Alabama Farm Bureau News.

ALABAMA MARINES GETTING EDUCATION

Eighty-five per cent of the Alabama boys who have enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps during the last 6 months are taking advantage of educational courses offered by the Marine Corps Institute, according to information received by Sgt. L. F. Hill, who is in charge of the Marine Recruiting Office, old post office building, Birmingham. These courses, it is stated, are arousing a good deal of interest among the members of the Corps.

The Marines are not only gaining an education by extensive travel, but are backing it up with a little time spent each day in some text-book regarding some trade, said Sgt. Hill. From the Orient to the stations of the soldiers of the sea in this country, in fact wherever the mail carries, many students are waiting with eager expectations their percentage markings in order to know how their studies are progressing.

These courses, which are free, are open to all members of the Marines. The books are so plainly worded that little time is taken up in a complete understanding of their contents.

Do your deep plowing before planting.

Start the war on bugs as soon as the first one appears.

Both the immediate and log-time outlook for the cattle and swine industries are very favorable, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Why Is It - - -

A DISASTER IS IMPENDING

The outlook for cotton is not encouraging. The combined evidence available at present points to a condition before the end of 1926 which will be little short of disaster unless providence steps in and prevents self-destruction by the cotton growers of the South.

Despite numerous warnings it appears that farmers are now planting and preparing to plant perhaps as large or the largest acreage ever planted to cotton in one year in the United States. There is an abundance of evidence indicating such action. Furthermore, cotton growers in India, Egypt, and countries in Africa, as well as in Australia, will, in all probability, hold their acreage up to normal or increase it.

This big prospective crop is coming on top of a bumper crop in 1925. The figures indicate a big carry-over of old cotton this year. This condition is being reflected in the market as shown by a steady decline. Certainly the price of cotton is headed for a point below the cost of production.

The question arises, what shall we do?

The answer to this question is very simple but the application of the answer is very difficult. The answer is to plant less cotton and more feed crops. But, frankly, we do not think that cotton growers will do it. They are determined to plant cotton and lots of it, although it may mean bankrcptcy and self-destruction. Very few are stopping long enough to consider this. They are cotton mad and as usual a mad man becomes his own worst enemy.—Alabama Farm Bureau News.

OUR THORSBY SECTION

The best way for Thorsby people to get their news in the Thorsby department is to give it to Mr. Norton on Tuesday. Mr. Norton has had charge of this department for several years and his work has been entirely satisfactory. To give him the various items of news makes it more convenient for us and makes it more certain that they will get in the paper in the proper place.

We invite the business people of Thorsby to give Mr. Norton your orders for advertising and job printing. Every dollar you spend with us is deposited in your bank and stays in Thorsby. You owe it to your town to keep your money at home if possible.

We appreciate the manner in which you have helped Mr. Norton to keep his department up to the high standard of the past. Help him more in the future if you can and we will thank you.

Give your subscription to Mr. Norton, and thereby show him that you appreciate what he is doing for your town.—Editor.

Prof. H. A. Harris of Stanton was a visitor to Clanton last Saturday.

"Brood sows should be in good condition, free from lice, and receive individual care at farrowing time."—F. W. Burns, Auburn.

"All cull hens should be weeded out and sold before broilers are put on the market in large quantities."—G. A. Trollope, Auburn.

TELEPHONE LINES ACROSS RAILROAD ARE CONDEMNED

Rev. W. S. Cox, vice-president of the Peoples Telephone Co., states that all lines of the Peoples Telephone Company which cross the railroad in Clanton have been condemned because they do not conform to requirements which the railroad company prescribes for telephone lines crossing their right-of-way.

The new trunk line which the Peoples Telephone Company is building along Third Avenue north will be constructed across the railroad according to the standard requirements, and all other lines which cross at other places will have to be torn down.

Mr. Cox calls attention to this action of the railroad company, and urges all people who live on the west side of town and on farmers lines coming in from the west to cooperate with the Peoples Telephone Company in its present plan of reconstruction so that their lines may come across at Third Avenue. Otherwise, if their lines are left across the railroad at other places they will be taken down and servvice cut off after the Third Avenue trunk is finished.

The local officials of the railroad company are holding abeyancec the orders of condemnation in order to give everyone whose lines cross the railroad a chance to reconstruct and come across on the Third Avenue trunk line.

THE OLDEST CHEVROLET

A 13-year-old Chevrolet has been driven more than 260,000 miles by A. R. M. Stone, stationery broker of 6135 Wagner Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., who believes his machine is the oldest Chevrolet still in active service. The mileage represents more than 10 trips around the world.

Mr. Stone, a former locomotive engineer, purchased the car in 1913, the first year of Chevrolet production. The loss of a leg had incapacitated him for railroad work. In order to operate both the clutch and brake pedals with his one foot he connected them with a cross bar. This enabled him to throw out the clutch and apply the brakes in one operation. He drives from 60 to 70 miles daily within a radius of 40 miles of St. Louis.

Mr. Stone says he has replaced the car top and in addition has spent only $4 for replacement of parts. The Chevrolet has averaged 25 miles per gallon, he says. The car thus far has burned about 10,400 gallons of gasoline, or approximately the capacity of two railroad tank cars.

Alabamians are calling for Alabama products, but they must have standardized products inn large quantities. Talk with your county agent about it.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of March 14, 1901.

Mr. Tommie Herrod spent Saturday and Sunday with friends and schoolmates near Kincheon.--Jasmine News.

The saw mill of Chambliss & Richardson near Billingsley was destroyed by fire last Thursday night.

Camp No. 18 of Confederate Veterans met last Friday night at the home of J. H. Patton.—Jemison News.

A gun shot and a dog howled; that was old Wheeler. We take our eggs scrambled now.—Jemison News.

Ex-president Benjamin Harrison died at his home in Indianapolis Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. F. B. Ticknor is at home with his family for a couple of weeks rest.

Married at the residence of Mr. S. E. Bruce on Sunday afternoon, Mr. Allen Marlar and Miss Essie Baker, Rev. W. J. Armstrong officiating.

Mr. Posey Marcus and Miss Ellen Miller were married Sunday by Rev. D. F. Ellison.

Mrs. O. A. Duke and Lucile Croswell of Deatsville visited friends in Clanton Sunday.

Mr. W. M. Wilson visited Montgomery Monday.

UNION GROVE

Rev. W. P. Lowery delivered some fine sermons Saturday night and Sunday, at this place.

The United Singing Society met here Sunday afternoon. The meeting was opened with song and prayer by A. H. Glasscock. Directors for the afternoon were Messrs. O. B. Robinson, H. H. Hayes, E. H. Foshee, Akins Collins, and A. H. Glasscock. Organists were Mrs. Belle Dorminey and Miss Inez Hayes. The singing was good. We thank the visitors from other places for their help and invite them to come again.—Secretary.

Brock Wells and family of Selma spent Sunday and Monday with relatives and friends in Clanton. Brock tells us that Mr. Jimmie Lowe has returned from Florida and New Orleans and is now back on the job at the Selma Times-Journal.

Home making isn't the woman's job alone. What man is not interested in food, clothes, housing, where the money goes and how the children behave?

A large per cent of corn that will not germinate can not be detected without testing.

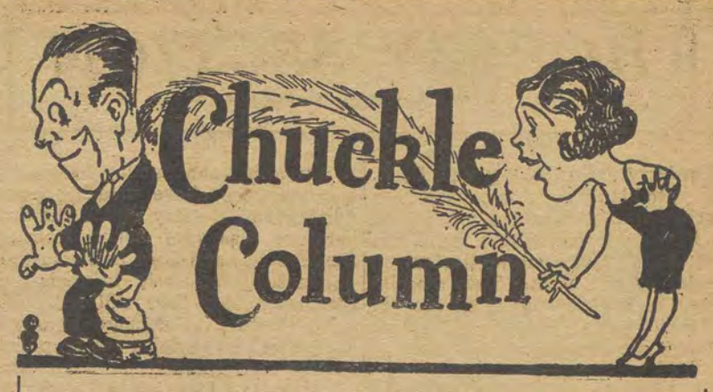
"Alabama's chief material asset is her agricultural land."—L. N. Duncan, Auburn.

Judge Makes Erroneous Prediction Regarding Lawyer

"About one clean shirt is all I thought he would ever wear. He had fallen away to a mere shadow; was as yellow as saffron and often doubled up with pain. Doctors continually gave him morphine and were about to operate for gall stones. MAYR'S 'One Dose Will Convince' quickly restored him to perfect health again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Rhyne's Cook Wilt-resistant cotton has been grown in this section for the last 5 years. I grow it exclusively and consider it the best variety to plant for this section on wilt land. I have seed for sale in new branded bags direct from Rhyne Bros., of Benton, Ala. J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.
3-18-4t-pd.

Shumate
CUTLERY
Made of Razor Steel–It Stays Sharp
For Sale by
Alred Drug Company
CLANTON, ALA.



Remarkable Club

THE UNION-BANNER WEEKLY 1 YEAR
and
THE BIRMINGHAM POST DAILY
1 YEAR
BOTH FOR $4.00

The price of The Post alone is $3.50. Here is an opportunity to procure your favorite County Paper and a progressive independent daily newspaper at a very special price.

The Union-Banner gives you all of the local news, interestingly told. The Birmingham Post prints all the news of the State, Nation and World, and all the special features of metropolitan dailies.
Send $4.00 for this club today!
Send all orders to—

THE UNION-BANNER
Clanton, Ala.

SIGNS OF SPRING !

Glorious sunshine pouring
Its warm rays through the Open office windows.

In one corner, the office boy
Keenly studying the baseball
Reports—his jaws working
Over-time on a wad of gum big Enough to choke a horse. Now
And then he pauses as if
Making mental arrangements
For his grandmother to "die"
Again on "Opening Day."

At the desks, clerks wearing
Far-away expressions.
One half asleep. Another chewing
On the end of a pen-holder
And counting the cracks in
The ceiling. And a third lazily
Pawing through a calendar and
Figuring the weeks ahead 'til
Vacation time.

Stenographers day-dreaming of
Their heroes and the moonlight
Nights to come. And occasionally
Tapping their typewriter keys
To write "Love and Kisses" into
The Boss' business correspondence.

Executives hiding behind high
Stacks of mail and—intently
Fingering sport goods catalogues
For prices on nifty golf outfits
And "Sure-Catch" fishing tackle.

Chirping birds without. Stifled
Yawns and un-answered ringing
Telephone bells within. To top it
All—there comes a roar from the Boss' office of
"Whoinell invented Work?"

YEP—SPRING IS COME !
Tra-la-la-la-la !

——§§§——

Fellow office slave just stuck his head in the door and said —"Wouldn't I make a lovely Spring sprite? Notice the way I can 'spring' around."

Honest, boss—cross my heart—I didn't mean to hit 'im that hard. Do you think he'll live?

——§§§——

One sees lots of dressy folks 'round these days. Prosperity has gone to their heads. Ain't you noticed their new Spring bonnets?

——§§§——

Honk! Honk! We jumped ten feet! Nothing hit us. We looked around. What relief. 'Twas only some poor duck—with a new Spring cold—blowing his nose.

——§§§——

You Have To Call 'Em On The Phone For Explanations !

Enough of that Spring stuff. Let's see what the papers say. Here's a good one. "Shorthand is an ancient art" reads the item. We know it. Only we wish a lot of people would quit trying to use it in writing longhand letters. Nobody but themselves can decipher the words.

——§§§——

"Styles For Women Going Higher" predicts another headline. 'Ray! 'Ray! 'Ray! Oh, h—l. The article referred to the heels on their shoes—not skirts.

——§§§——

Too many "starchy things" are not good for us, says the doctor. Righto. That last stiff collar we wore cut a ridge 'round our neck and the stiff shirt that went with it, wouldn't stay put. We're for shirts and collars that are only soft-boiled hereafter.

——§§§——

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"He who laughs last—laughs laughs!"

(COPYRIGHT, 1926, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

Location—Connell Old Grocery Stand, Between Alred Drug Store and Upchurch Drug Store.

V. J. Elmore 5c, 10c & $1 Store

Look For The Big Red Front. Your Nickels and Dimes Will Buy Lots In This Store.

The Lines We Carry You Can Always Get Here For Less Money

$1.00

We have a wonderful line of ladies new spring and summer Hats that we are selling for $1.00

89c

You will wonder how we can afford to sell these children's Hats for the price, but they are here—come look them over 89c

PAINT

1-2 pint, 15c; 1 pint, 25; 1 qt., 50c. The analysis is on each can, and we guarantee this paint to be as good as other lines that sell for much more.

GINGHAM

20c per yard 32-inch dress gingham. We are carrying a big line of staple piece goods: Apron Gingham, 10c; Curtain Scrim, 10c; Sheeting. 10c.

CANDY

Everybody likes candy. Our stock is always fresh. Come in and let us show you how little it will cost to sweeten up.

EASTER
APRIL 4th !

Hundreds of Easter cards and novelties to select from here. Let us show you.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

LOST—One snap pocket book, containing $31 or $32, in Clanton on Thursday, March 4. Finder please return to owner or Banner office and get reward. J. C. Smitherman, Clanton, Ala., R 3. 1t-pd.

LOST DOG—Brown and white male pointer pup, had on collar marked Mr. Dayle, Birmingham, Ala. Finder please return to R. W. Lowe Clanton, Ala., and recieve reward

WANTED—A man to represent the National Life Association of Des Moines, Iowa, in territory open in Chilton County. Company is 26 years old; assets of $3,000,000.00 for the protection of policy holders; four popular policies. Ordinary insurance age, 35, $16.36 per thousand. For particulars address W. C. English, State agent, Rockford, Ala. 3-11-4t-ch

WRIGLEY'S P.K.
NEW HANDY PACK
Fits hand ~ pocket and purse

More for your money and the best Peppermint Chewing Sweet for any money

Look for Wrigley's P. K. Handy Pack on your Dealer's Counter G7

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

WANTED TO BUY—Good, clean, sound nitrate of soda sacks. J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala. 3-18-3t-ch

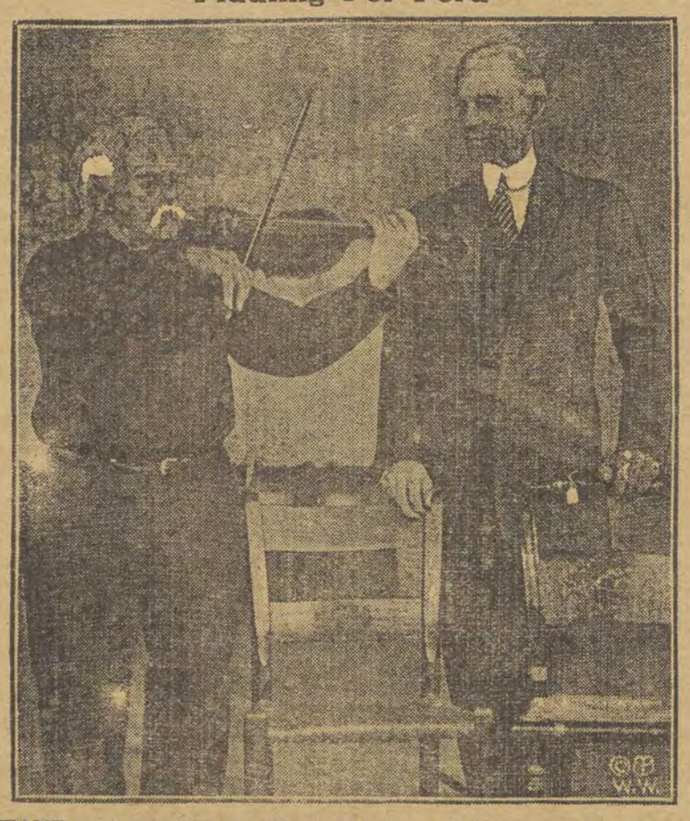
FOR SALE—A limited quantity of New U. S. Army Pants, in sizes 33x33, 34x31½, and 35x30 all Wool and brand New, while they last at $2.75 per pair, post paid. Money refunded if out of sizes wanted. G. W. Moates, Clanton, Ala., Route 5.

WANTED—To trade Dodge Sedan in good mechanical condition for large vacant lot in Clanton, or will trade same in on small house and lot. Give description, location, and price of property. Address XY, c|o The Union-Banner. 3-11-2t-p

FORD COUPE FOR SALE—1925 model, equipped with balloon tires; may be seen at Main Street Garage, Clanton. 3-11-2t-pd.

LOST—3 miles east of Clanton, female hound pup, two-thirds grown; white with small red and blue specks; large black spot over eye and ear. If found notify Arthur Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 2, and receive reward. 3-11-2t-ch.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION



There will be a fiddlers convention at Vermont school, 3 miles north of Pletcher, 15 miles west of Clanton, 7 miles east of Stanton, on Friday night, March 19th. All fiddlers are invited come and take part, and all others are invited to come and listen. Come early to get a seat, as we will be crowded.—Ralph Glasscock, Prin.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends of Corinth community for their kindness and help shown us while my mother was in bed with a broken hip. She is still in bed but is improving fast and will soon be up. We especially thank Mrs. E. A. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jones, Mr. Adelbert Norris, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Aaron, and the ladies of Jew Town (Cherokee Bluff) for transferring her to the hospital on February 12.—Wiley Barron.

Thos. J. Dorminey of Union Grove was among the visitors to Clanton last Saturday.

Fiddling For Ford

FAME came over-night to "Mellie" Dunham, Maine's champion fiddler, when Henry Ford sent for him and had him come to Dearborn, Mich. The story got 'round the country quick as a flash with the result that "Mellie" got on the big time vaudeville circuit where he is now entertaining many others with his trusty violin.

That Mr. Ford enjoyed Dunham's fiddling is indicated by the above picture—taken in the auto magnate's palatial home. It shows Mr. Ford listening to "Mellie's" rendition of "Turkey n the Straw," "The Campbells are Coming" and other old time selections.

PLETCHER NEWS

The negro minstrel at Pilgrim's Rest school Saturday night was enjoyed by a large crowd in spite of the cold weather.

Mr. Leonard Poole of Tuscaloosa spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Poole.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Chandler of Tallassee spent the week end here with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Reed and daughter, Faye, of Plantersville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Poole.

Miss Bertha Rainwater spent Sunday with Miss Grace Abbott.

Miss Willie Poole is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. D. T. Reed, in Plantersville.

Messrs. E. J. Poole and J. L. Abbott went to Autaugaville Thursday on business, spending the night with Mr. C. D. Abbott.

Miss Nellie Cruise of Plantersville attended the negro minstrel Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Carter and children of Jasmine, Ala., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Will Carter.

ENTERPRISE

The flu has been plentiful around here for a few weeks but has about died out now.

Several people from here attended services at Bethsalem Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Deloach are on the sick list.

Mrs. J. T. Williams and son visited relatives in New Cedron community Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stroud visited the former's parents Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Deloach visited the latter's father Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Leatha Neeley spent Sunday with Mrs. N. O. Stroud.

Mr. Louis Stroud from Georgiana spent the week end with home folks.

Mrs. Izora Stroud spent Tuesday night with her sister, Mrs. Carrie Lee Gray.

Mrs. J. T. Williams and children spent Thursday night with Mrs. J. T. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenza Williams spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Stroud.

CANE CREEK

There will be an old Sacred Harp singing at this place nexxt Sunday afternoon, March 21st. Everybody is invited to come. We especially want the old book singers to come and be with us. Singing will begin at 1:00 o'clock. P. C. WELDON.

Mr. Marvin Sorrell and Miss Mary Lowe of Birmingham attended the fiddlers convention at the court house Saturday night, returning home Sunday afternoon.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and
Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

USED

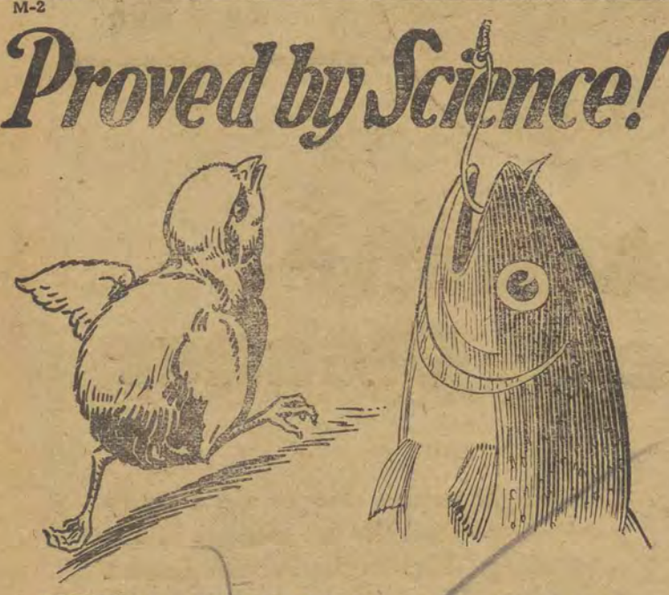
Ford

CARS

See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1925 Roadster, New Paint	$250.00
1925 Coupe, New Paint	225.00
1924 Touring, New Paint	150.00
1925 Touring, New Paint	175.00
Some Good Values	40.00

Ford Trucks Cheap



If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company

Sales Ford Service
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Clanton, Ala.

M-2

Proved by Science!

THE value of Cod Liver Oil—from the liver of the Cod Fish—for feeding baby chicks has been proved for the poultry raiser by science. It puts "sunshine" inside the chick—24 hours a day. It insures proper bone development and prevents leg weakness.

The Alfocorn Process for the first time prevents loss of the "sunshine" vitamins of Cod Liver Oil when exposed to light and air. In Alfocorn Chick Mash they are sealed in by mixing the Cod Liver Oil with bone-building minerals.

Alfocorn Chick Mash is rich in dried Buttermilk—the food with perfect growth-promoting proteins. It contains Oatmeal for heat and energy, and every other food element for building bone and flesh. Feed Alfocorn Chick Mash to turn chick losses into poultry profits.

Free! Come in and see the new Alfocorn Chick Fountain. Insures clean water all the time. Strong, sanitary, easy to fill. You'll need one or more of them. Free!

Jas. C. Jones
CLANTON, ALABAMA

ALFOCORN
Guaranteed
BABY CHICK MASH
In Dollar Mark Bags

BEWARE OF

IMITATIONS

BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS
Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

TRY THE VULCAN

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.

Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.

"Oscar Jones' Store"
Clanton . . . . . Alabama

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Bridge Club Entertained.

Mrs. L. F. Gerald delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club on last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fifth Street. The decorations on this occasion were hyacinths, narcissus, daffodils and other bright spring blossoms. At the conclusion of the games, a set of linen tea napkins and a novelty powder puff were awarded Mrs. Frank Callen and Mrs. Grady Reynolds, respectively. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Grady Broadhead, served a delicious salad plate with sherbet and iced tea.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames V. J. Heard, Grady Reynolds, Arthur Johnson, J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, N. S. Johnson, H. M. Simpson, and Grady Broadhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hosts.

On last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald were hosts at a dinner party at their attractive new home. A profusion of bright spring blossoms were used to decorate the home . The dining table was centered with an attractive silver basket of daffodils and fern, around which were seated Misses Thelma Guy, Leona Stanley, Hazel Kreider, Celia Gerald; Mesdames B. M. Roberts, and Grady Broadhead; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald, Hal Broadhead, and Lawrence Gerald, Jr.

Thursday Sewing Club.

Mrs. E. E. Upchurch was hostess to the members of the Thursday Sewing Club and others last Thursday afternoon at her home on Eighth Street. The home was attractively decorated with japonicas, peach blossoms and potted plants. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. John T. Ellis, served a elicious salad plate with hot coffee.

Included in this hospitality were Mesdames V. J. Gragg, J. P. Hayes, John T. Ellis, Bama Cox, J. Lee Smith, John M. VanDerveer, C. Fenn Jones, and Latham Ellis of Miami, Fla.

Mrs. A. D. Martin of Mulberry was in town Wednesday.

Mr. C. B. Cox of Dade City, Fla., is spending a few days in town.

Mr. E. G. Caldwell of Pletcher was a business visitor to town last Wednesday.

Mrs. C. N. Parnell of Maplesville was shopping in town Wednesday.

Mr. Guy Higgins of Prattville was here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Euell Woodyard and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard motored to Birmingham Wednesday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Woodyard.

Mrs. E. E. Edwards of Route 5 was shopping in town Saturday.

Mrs. S. C. Wood and her mother of Thorsby were here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Powers of Lock 12 were shopping in Clanton Friday.

Mrs. P. M. Pitts and Miss Willodean Reynolds spent Friday shopping in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Euell Woodyard left Friday for their home in Florida, after a delightful visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard.

Dr. and Mrs. V. J. Gragg motored to Birmingham Monday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. Latham Ellis of Miami, Fla., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mell Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ellis.

Mrs. G. O. McKee and children of Montgomery spent Sunday with Mrs. Bud Jones.

Mrs. J. R. Mullins of Montgomery spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foshee.

Miss Mary Upchurch, a student at Howard College, spent several days of this week with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch.

Mr. John T. Ellis and son, Earl, returned last Thursday from a motor trip to Miami and other points in Florida.

Miss Kathleen Mullins returned Saturday from a week's visit to Miss Marzelle Mullins in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Olvin McSwain of Montgomery came up Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. McSwain's mother, Mrs. Henry Burnett.

Mr. Orville Mastin of Birmingham spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald.

Mrs. W. H. Foshee is ill with flu.

Miss Leona Stanley spent the week end in Jemison with her sister, Miss Alma Stanley.

Girl's Auxiliary Meets.

The Girl's Auxiliary was entertained by Miss Vera Jones at her home on last Thursday afternoon. Bright spring flowers and potted plants adorned the home. The regular study course was led by Mrs. J. A. Hester.

After this, the hostess, assisted by her mother, served hot chocolate and cake to Misses Julia Ruth Hester, Gladys Williams, Mary Foshee, Vera Jones, and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parsons and children of Marbury were here Sunday to attend the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Mary M. Smith.

Miss Florence Grier was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dyer at Freemont the past week end.

Miss Thelma Guy spent the week end in Mt. Creek with relatives.

Messrs. Robert and Clifford Popwell left Monday for Dade City, Fla., after spending a few days with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crim and children of Lock 12 were shopping here Saturday.

Mrs. W. A. Gandy of Billingsley was a visitor here Saturday.

Mr. Greer Culver of Verbena was in Clanton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Reynolds and Mrs. D. C. Alred motored to Birmingham Friday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. Greer Robinson and sons of Birmingham spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. Doctor Robinson.

Miss Vera Mae White spent last week end with her parents at Mulberry.

Mrs. C. Rees Mullins spent Sunday in Montgomery.

Mr. J. R. Mullins spent the week end in Montgomery with his family.

Mr. Paul Klotz of Montgomery was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong and Mrs. O. O. Roper motored to Boothton Sunday and spent the day with Dr .and Mrs. G. C. Roper.

Mr. Willie Gray Orr is in a Selma hospital, where he has had his tonsils removed.

Friends will regret that Mr. L. D. Edge is ill with flu.

FOR SALE—125 S. C. White Ieghorn pullets, 1 year old; $1.00 each. R. C. Burkhalter, Verbena, Ala., R 1. 3-18-2t-pd.

CLYDE FOSHEE HURT IN WORK AT UNIVERSITY

Tuscaloosa, Ala., March 16.—Clyde H. Foshee, senior art and science student at the University of Alabama, is resting comfortably in the Druid City Hospital, after being the victim of an explosion in the chemical laboratory Saturday.

With Dr. J. Stewart Lloyd, he was doing some extra work in the laboratory. He had just condensed a flask of ammonia by boiling and was adjusting the blaze under the burner when the flask exploded. In addition to burning his face, it was at first feared he would be blind, but reports from the hospital indicate his sight was not impaired.

Clyde is the son of Mr. Charley Foshee of New Cedron community, near Billingsley. He is a graduate of Chilton County High School. At the University of Alabama he is a fellowship instructor in biology under Dr. Graham.

DOLL EDWARDS ARRESTED

Doll Edwards, son of Ben Edwards, was arrested by Sheriff Littlejohn in Clanton last Saturday night on charge of violating the prohibition law. He was put in jail and has not yet made bond.

WILLIE AND CLYDE BOWMAN ARRESTED

Willie and Clyde Bowman, two white boys, were arrested by Sheriff Littlejohn Tuesday night, charged with stealing an automobile tire. The boys were put in jail and have not made bond.

NOTICE

If the party who was seen to pick up my pocket book at the tent show Tuesday night will return same to me, he will be liberally rewarded, and nothing more said or done.—W. J. Watson, Clanton, Ala.

Parent-Teachers Association Meets.

An interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held at the Grammar school Friday afternoon. A splendid program was presented by the pupils of the 5th grade, and music pupils of Mrs. B. M. Roberts. The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. F. Gerald. Reports were made by various committees. The committee to secure a traffic officer to be stationed at the crossing of the Birmingham-Montgomery highway at Maddox's gin reported that same had been secured. Every morning from 7:30 until 8:30, and afternoon from 2:00 until 3:00, a traffic officer will see to the safety of school children having to cross the highway. All parents are urged to cooperate, seeing that their children cross the highway at the specified place. The president requested each chairman in the organization to make an annual report at the next meeting, which will be the second Friday in April. After all business was dispensed the pictures were awarded. Both pictures went to the second grade.

Mrs. Hinkle Hostess.

Mrs. P. T. Hinkle was a most gracious hostess Tuesday, when she entertained the officers of the Julia Beauchamp Chapter of the O. E. S. at a spend-the-day party at her home near Clanton. For this occasion flowers of the season and potted plants were used to decorate the home. During the day plans were formulated for the school of instruction for this district to be held here on March 30. Plans were also made for the banquet to be given by the Knights Templar Thursday evening, March 18. At the noon hour a course dinner was served. The dining table was centered with a bowl of bright spring blossoms. Covers were laid for ten.

Those present were Mesdames C. Fenn Jones, J. P. Hayes, H. T. Pipes, V. J. Gragg, C. C. Wilkerson, Bama Cox, J. E. Gowan, M. L. White, J. C. Jones.

CLANTON HOSPITAL NOW FULL OF PATIENTS

While we regret that anybody should have the misfortune to get sick, we are at the same time glad to know that when they do get sick Clanton has a place to take care of them and bring them back to health.

We are glad that many of the sick people of this County are making use of the Central Alabama Hospital. And those who are doing so are finding the hospital to be up to their highest expectations in point of service and care for the sick.

The writer visited every patient, fourteen in number, in the hospital last Sunday, and many were the commendatory expressions we received for the hospital. We have no institution in our County that is more deserving of the support of us all.

Following are a few news notes about people who are or have been in the hospital the past week:

Mrs. J. T. Weldon who has been a patient in the hospital for several weeks has returned home; both mother and baby are doing fine.

Mr. J. E. Thomas has returned to his home after an illness of several weeks in the hospital.

Mrs. S. D. McCarey of Maplesville has returned home after having undergone an operation at the Central Alabama Hospital.

Mrs. Newt Wyatt, who underwent a serious operation several weeks ago has returned home after a complete recovery.

Mrs. Etta Knight who has been a patient here for the last ten days is doing fine and is expected to return home within the next few days.

Mrs. Rena Driver of Cooper who was operated on for appendicitis is resting nicely.

Mr. W. A. Huckabee who has been a patient for the past week is resting better, and is expected to be able to return home within the next week or two.

Master Norris Huguley of Calera who was burned is improving fast.

Mrs. R. A. Hudson from Lock 12 is improving fast and both mother and babe are expected to be able to return home within the next few days.

Mr. Lonza McCary who has been ill in the hospital after undergoing an operation is improving as fast as can be expected considering the serious condition he was in when he was brought into the hospital.

Mrs. D. Z. Nix who underwent a minor operation Tuesday is resting nicely now.

Pete Cooper, colored, who underwent a minor operation a week ago has been allowed to return home.

LOST—March 8, one 3-strand string of pearls. Finder please return to Western Union or Upchurch Drug Co. Mrs. M. B. Arant, Clanton, Ala. 1t-pd.

WATKINS PROGRAMS OVER RADIO

Mr. J. P. Parrish, agent for Watkins products in this county, writes his friends to tune in their radios every Friday night from 8 to 9 o'clock and hear the special programs that are being broadcast by the Watkins Company on wave length 416. The program is a popular entertainment that is calculated to be of much interest.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henley, L. C. Henley, and Mrs. G. O. McKee and boys were driving around our city Sunday. They speak very highly of the improved appearance of Clanton.

Mr. Howard Foshee of Montgomery was in town Wednesday.

STORE AT MITCHELL DAM

—o—

I have bought the Store of Mr. Edwards at Mitchell Dam, and will consolidate my present Stock with the former. Will begin business at the Edwards Stand on April 1.

I will be glad to have my friends call on me at my new place of business.

—o—

A. L. ROBINSON

Verbena, Ala., - - Route No. 2

Ladies, don't forget to see these Hamilton Brown Shoes at ELMORE'S

Ladies, don't forget to see those Hamilton-Brown Shoes at Elmores—all solid leather in Blonde, Ivory Kid, Sauterne Kid, Satins, Patents, in the newest designs and latest style heels. Hose to match in Cadet line.

Our milliner, Mrs. Williams, has the newest creations in millinery in the finest to the cheapest. Selections ranging from 98c up.

Our Easter Dresses are arriving daily in Crepes, Silks, English Broadcloth,etc.

Look for the Sign Elmore's LADIES & GENTS FURNISHINGS On the Corner

When style is Essential, Elmore's is Dependable

Y.W.A. PROGRAM FOR MARCH 23

Topic: "Let the King of Glory in."

Hymn: "America."

Devotional, Psalm 24, by President.

Prayer, "That we may let the King in," by Mrs. J. P. Hayes.

1. "America's King," by Miss Vera White.

2. "The King of Glory," Erin Danforth. Vocal solo, Jewel Minor.

3. "Who is the King?" Frances Moore.

4. "The King and the Alabaster Boxes," Evelyn Littlejohn. Hymn, "O, Worship the King." Closing prayer.

Meeting to be held at the home of Jewel and Pearl Minor, Clanton.

MRS. MARY J. HARDY DEAD

The body of Mrs. Mary J. Hardy was brought to Clanton on Wednesday, March 10, and buried at Pleasant Grove church, 7 miles west of here. She died March 9 at the home of her son, Robert Hardy, in Birmingham.

She is survived by her aged husband, Henry Hardy, who lives in Birmingham, and six children, Robert, Jesse, and Oscar Hardy, Mrs. John E. Littlejohn of Clanton, Mrs. Childress of Birmingham, and one married daughter who lives in Atlanta.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. F. A. Gibson and Rev. A. L. Foshee.

RHYNE'S COOK

Wilt-Resistant Cotton

has led all wilt-resistant varieties in the Alabama Experiment Station tests for the last three years. Stood first in Mississippi Experiment Station test in 1924. A big boll early variety that runs 7/8 to 1 inch staple and turns out 38% to 40% lint.

Absolutely The Best Variety For Chilton County

Seed grown in this section are better adapted than any others from outside. Bred up by individual stalk selections for many years. These seed can be secured from C. A. Pattillo, Billingsley, Ala., J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala., or direct from us. Descriptive pamphlet and price list sent on request.

RHYNE BROS

Benton, Alabama

Cleans with its motor-driven brush

Cleans with its powerful suction

You Pay Only $2.50 Down

Balance Twelve Months.

Offer Ends April 15th

Double Action— to Clean Cleaner

$12.50 for your OLD VACUUM CLEANER

A generous trade-in help. And convenient terms that put this splendid new cleaner within reach of all.

Ask us to demonstrate in your own home

The straight suction sweeper was a pretty good thing—until the two-cleaners-in-one came along. Now in the Premier Duplex the motor-driven brush, combined with powerful suction, gets dirt the old cleaner couldn't loosen from the depths of the rug—gets thread and lint the old suction sweeper couldn't pick up—gets dirt a motor-driven brush can't pick up without the powerful suction. The first cleaner to combine, at maximum efficiency, both motor-driven brush and powerful suction.

Premier Duplex "FIRST AMONG CLEANERS"

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY

55 Stores in Alabama

EXPRESS THANKS

Editor Union-Banner:

We desire space in your paper to thank our friends for their kindness and help in the burial of our mother, Mrs. M. J. Hardy, who died at the home of her son in Birmingham on March 9th. We also thank Mr. Mell Martin for his services. May God bless you all is our prayer.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Littlejohn, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hardy, Mr and Mrs. W. N. Childress, J. W.Hardy and O. D. Hardy.

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

BIRMINGHAM GETS ALABAMA PRODUCE

The movement recently launched by Birmingham corporations to specify Alabama products in buying is now bearing fruit. Through a creamery in Montgomery, butter from Alabama cows is being bought by the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co., who inaugurated the movement. The same company is buying Alabama hay from the Farm Bureau Hay Association and has recently placed an order with this Association for all of its hay requirements, which amount to about 10 carloads a month or 120 carloads a year. A shipment of sweet potatoes from Clay County proved to be satisfactory and more will follow.

At present, plans are being made to put Alabama eggs on the Birmingham market in better condition and in larger quantities. The work will go forward first in Dallas, Montgomery, Baldwin, Mobile, and other counties where the demand is most pressing, and later extended to all other counties where there is sufficient need, if the plan proves to be as successful as the leaders anticipate.

Contrary to an opinion which prevails among some, these big corporations can not buy small lots of products direct from farmers. They must have standardized products of good quality in big quantities.

Therefore, to take advantage of it farmers must act in an organized way. With the cooperation of the Extension Service at Auburn, the Farm Bureau is developing this market as rapidly as feasible. The specialists and county agents of the Extension Service will help in grading, packing, etc., and the Farm Bureau will bring the products together in sufficient quantities to interest the big Birmingham buyers.

FARMERS PLEDGE SUPPORT TO CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING

In a State-wide mass meeting in the City Auditorium, Montgomery, on March 9, 700 farmers and agricultural leaders unanimously endorsed cotton marketing on the cooperative plan and re-dedicated themselves to the task of continuing and expanding this plan of marketing until it becomes universal in Alabama.

The meeting was for one afternoon only, and was held so that State and national leaders in cooperative work might tell farmers in person what this plan of marketing has done to date. Addresses were delivered by Prof. L. N. Duncan, Director of the Alabama Extension Service, Auburn; John S. Kernachan and Edward A. O'Neal of the Farm Bureau; J. E. Conwell, president of the Georgia Cotton Association; C. O. Moser, general manager of the American Cotton Growers Exchange; Aaron Sapiro, cooperative marketing attorney of California and Chicago; and Eugene Black, president of the Atlanta Bank & Trust Co.

Following those addresses a dozen farmers expressed themselves, each warmly endorsing the movement and pledging his support in furthering the movement. An opportunity was given for those present t sign a new 7-year contract which becomes effective with 1927 crop. New contracts signed that day plus those signed prior to the meeting represented an annual production of over 10,000 bales. It was announced that the new membership work will continue throughout the State during the next few months.

In addition to endorsing cooperative marketing and congratulating the officials of the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association on the efficient service which they have rendered, the farmers present passed a resolution calling on farmers of the Association to join with them in order to put the proposition over in a big way.

Finally, they said: "We earnestly call upon bankers, merchants, and all others to cooperate with us in this work, which we believe to be absolutely necessary for the future success of southern farmers."

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT CROSS ROADS SCHOOL

There will be a Fiddlers Convention at Collins Cross Roads school house, about one and one-half miles south of Thorsby Saturday night, March 20th. The following cash prizes will be given away to the fiddlers: 1st prize, $5; 2nd prize, $3; third prize, $2. There will be other prizes given. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the school. Admission, 15c and 25c.

FLOYD NEWS

There are a few cases of flu around here.

Next fourth Saturday and Sunday are our regular preaching days. Everybody come out and help us. We will be glad to have you with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Strength and children of Birmingham spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Strength.

Mesdames Will Huett and Edward Taylor spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor and son spent Monday night and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Taylor.

Mrs. J. M. Moore and children spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ocie Taylor.

Mr. Lewis Huett spent Sunday night with Mr. J. Thos. Moore.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page 2)

there is a spring at the very top."

"And I'm to do the work!" snarled Flint.

"Your men are to do the work," corrected Murray. "I should gladly assist them in it but for the fact that my own crew will be occupied aboard-ship during the duration of our stay. We of the Royal James, I may point out, are laboring in the common interest no less than your people will be if they undertake the construction of the fort."

"Blast me for a —— —— fool if I care two —— —— —— for the common interest!" cried Flint. "But 'tis true there is need of the fort, and if the men will bide ashore they should ha' a roof to their heads and a better place to camp than down here in the river vapors. I'll see what's to be done, Murray."

"You'll not regret it," replied my great-uncle. "I shall be glad to lend you aught I possess in the way of tools or advice."

The building of the hilltop fort appealed to some boyish strain submerged beneath the surface villainy of Flint's scoundrels. They went to their task with positive enthusiasm, clearing the hillock of timber, sawing and squaring the logs and erecting a substantial house of the more massive logs and after that an open stockade or paling of sapling stakes six feet high.

Murray's personal object was already accomplished. The Royal James was back upon an even keel, her bottom scraped clean, her hull fresh-painted inside and out, her rigging overhauled and canvas in order, spars tested and a weak topmast replaced, guns varnished, stores checked and stowed, sufficient great-cartridge for three actions prepared by the gunner, ballast aboard and distrubuted with a careful eye for sailing trim.

"As sweet and proper as though she was just from the hands of the dockyard fitters at Portsmouth," was Murray's comment on an evening about the beginning of August. "The tide ebbs on the break of dawn. I purpose sailing then."

"And you must deliver the body of your hostage beforehand," I answered as disagreeably as I could.

"Even so," he acknowledged. "'Tis regrettable, Robert, yet the time will come. I venture to predict, when you will look back with pride upon the inconvenience you suffered."

"I'll accept the inconvenience if I may escape the rascals alive," I retorted.

"Of that you need have no doubts," he said earnestly. "I shall accompany you, and you may hear my parting instructions to Flint. Friend Peter, will you indulge me for the space of half an hour whilst I visit the Walrus with my nephew?"

"Neen," answered Peter, and pushed away from the table. "I go too."

"No, no—"

"I go too."

"But naught was said of two hostages—"

"If Bob goes, I go," insisted the Dutchman. "Ja."

Murray shook his head.

"For you I might not be responsible, Peter."

"I will be responsible for myself," said Peter. "I go to der Walrus or you go oudt der window."

My great-uncle stared at him for a moment, then burst into laughter.

"By gad, you would! And after, become captain in my place, no doubt. You are unmatchable, Peter. What do you say, nephew?"

"I'd not have Peter risk his throat with mine," I answered uncomfortably."

"I go wit' you, Bob," repeated the Dutchman.

"You see!" cried Murray. "'Tis useless to object. Go with you he will. Well, you'll have company at least—and I shall lack a companion whose presence is not the less valuable for his silence. A good friend is Peter, Robert. I would he were mine!"

Peter rose.

"We go," he said. "Ja."

On deck Murray had the longboat called away, and we embarked in silence. 'Twas a hot night, with very little air stirring, and the ribald uproar on the Walrus was amazingly distinct. The James was like a tomb by contrast. Not a sound came from her, and the only lights she showed were in the waist and the main cabin. The Walrus was a blaze of lanthorns from poop to fo'csle, but Murray hailed the deck twice before he had an answer.

"Boat ahoy!" responded a husky voice then. "Why'n —— don't ye come aboard?"

"'Tis Captain Murray to see Captain Flint," replied my great-uncle calmly.

"Aye, aye, sir," answered the husky voice on a quaver of fear. "We'll call him directly. Will ye come aboard, sir?"

My great-uncle turned to Peter with one foot on the side ladder.

"Are you certain you must go with Robert?" he asked. "I can assure you no harm shall come to him."

"Ja, I go."

My great-uncle's reply was a shrug of indifference, and Peter and I climbed after him to the deck. The Walrus was a revelation after the ordered discipline of the Royal James. In a word, she was pig-dirty. Her deck was littered with all kinds of rubbish; her rigging was slack and spliced in a fashion which seemed lubberly to me, who was a lubber; her canvas was torn, poorly patched and wretchedly furled; boats, barrels, lumber, spare spars and cables lay about in entire confusion. The planks we trod on were slippery with grease. The paint was peeling from the bulwarks. There were spots of rust on the muzzle of a chase gun, which itself was hauled out of its proper position.

Flint came swaggering down to us from the poop in a condition which was in harmony with his surroundings. Like most of his men, he had discarded coat, shirt, stockings and shoes to accommodate himself to the heat of a tropical summer. His loose canvas trousers, identical with those the seamen wore, were streaked with dirt and tar. His bare calves and forearms were covered with dried blood where they had been scratched by brambles in his shore expeditions; out of the matted hair on his chest was thrust the head of a tiger, most marvelously tatooed in black and yellow. His hair was a lank frame for his saturnine face, stubbly with a week's growth of beard.

"What d'ye seek, Murray?" he growled. "Come to look us over?"

"I am come to fulfill my contract with you," replied my great-uncle. "I am sailing with the morning ebb, and I bring you, not one hostage, but two."

Flint stepped closer and scrutinized Peter and me.

"Two, eh?" What do I want wi' two?" What good's this fat man to me? He means nothing to you."

"On the contrary," denied my relative. "Master Corlaer is an old and valued enemy of mine, of whom I have hopes of making in time a friend."

"Well, he's no good to me; gut me if he is!"

"You will take both or none," said my great-uncle in the voice like a dripping icicle which he knew so well how to assume.

"Nasty, are ye?" rasped Flint. "Blast ye for a—"

A light in Murray's tawny eyes kindled like a flame under the reflection of the battle-lanthorns which were hung from the lower spars.

"Two it is," Flint ended hastily. "But ye'll never see either one o' 'em if ye don't make good on your bargain. I ha' supported much from ye, Murray, but—"

"You'll support more for sufficient gold," rebuked my great-uncle. "Tut, man, I read you like a book. When we first encountered you were proud to be mate of a trading brig. I have put you in the way to rank and fortune, if you know how to exploit your opportunities. Hark ye!"

"You said seven hundred thousand," snapped Flint.

"I said seven hundred thousand to be divided betwixt the two ships."

A shrewd look dawned in Flint's face.

"And where are ye a-goin' to pluck this million and a half o' treasure from?" he demanded. "You ha' said much of it, but you told me little. What course doth the treasure ship sail? Where do you lurk for her? There's wide seas betwixt the Main and the Atlantic, and ye can't stop every hole, Murray."

"You may safely entrust that portion of the task to me," replied my great-uncle dryly.

He offered me his hand, and somewhat to my own surprise I found myself inclined to accept it.

"Robert," he said, "I regret exceedingly the necessity I am under of inflicting this unpleasantness upon you. I shall endeavor to provide you adequate reparation. You also, friend Peter. Remember, we are working for a greater cause than our personal enrichment."

He vaulted lightly to the top of the bulwarks and dropped out of sight on the farther side.

"Gut me, but there's times I think he believes all he says," swore Flint.

(To be continued next week.)

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Presley Turner have moved to Deatsville, where Mr. Turner is in the saw mill business.

We regret very much to see Miss Ethel Mize leave for her home in Maplesville, for pupils and patrons had learned to love her.

Miss Vera White from Clanton visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tucker from West End, Birmingham, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning, Saturday and Sunday; also, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Farmer from Montgomery visited Mrs. Farmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning.

Mr. George Wright and sister, Mrs. Jessie Summers, from Birmingham, were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wright Saturday and Sunday.

EAST VIEW

The singing society met at this place Sunday afternoon with a large crowd.

The play at East View Friday night was enjoyed by a large crowd.

The singing at the home of Miss Fay Ray was well attended although the weather was cold.

Messrs. Willie and Clyde Bowman, Archie, Curtis and Clyde Chandler, and Evan Pierce of Bethsalem attended the singing at East View Sunday.

The East View singing society has changed singing afternoons. In the future it will meet on the third Sunday afternoon in each month.

Mr. Richard McKinney of Mitchell Dam was at East View Sunday afternoon.

The 1925 Irish potato crop was 323,000,000 bushels, or about 1-5 less than normal production.

FREE EGGS

Right in this county farmers have increased egg production 60%. For Pratts Regulator gets more eggs from the same flock. Extra eggs that are all net profit. Pays 5-10 times its cost from the day you start. Regulator supplies the egg making necessities that feeds alone lack. It doesn't "dope" or stimulate but is Nature's health and "egg maker." Gives more eggs the right way.

Pratts Poultry Regulator

To Our Customers: We stand behind Pratts Regulator unconditionally. You get more eggs or we return your money.

Sold and Guaranteed by

ALRED DRUG CO.
Clanton, Ala.

666
is a Prescription for
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,
Preventing Pneumonia

Flour per sack . $1.25

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

Effective March 10

$50 Price Cut On HUDSON-ESSEX

and applying on HUDSON BROUGHAM, HUDSON COACH and ESSEX COACH. This is in addition to the tax reduction made February 27 and is for cars equipped with front and rear bumpers, electric windshield cleaner, rear view mirror, transmission lock (built in), radiator shutters, motormeter, combination stop and tail light.

"At Your Door" Cost

Nothing More to Pay

ESSEX-6 COACH . . . . $ 864
HUDSON COACH . . . $1309
Hudson Brougham . . . $1564
Hudson 7-Pass. Sedan . . $1805

Convenient Purchase Terms

Don't be misled by F. O. B. or factory list prices. TO SUCH PRICES MUST BE ADDED freight, tax, handling and sundry other charges which greatly increase the actual cost. HUDSON-ESSEX prices are those you pay for delivery AT YOUR DOOR. They include freight and tax at the new low rate. No delivery, handling or other charges are made.

Buy Now for Prompt Delivery

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

Buy From Us in Bulk

At Wholesale Prices for Cash

Two or more customers can combine and buy soap, washing powder, soda, syrup, snuff, tobacco or other goods in bulk at wholesale prices for Cash.

Don't fail to see us for special price on syrup by the case.

We still give premiums for CASH trade.

Baker & Taylor

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)

REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted

Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

We have just received a new lot of Shirts of the Phillps - Jones Laundry-Proof line. They are made up in the latest colors and Styles. Let us show them to you before you buy.

Specials for Saturday

9-4 or 81 in. sheeting per yard 39c

Lot Ladies hats, just arrived, each .. $1.98

Lot Ladies hats, $3.50, $4 values $2.98

W. Z. Hodges Dry Goods Co.

Clanton, Ala.

1 Lot Men's Shirts Each 98c

4lb real good quality green coffee for $1.00

10lb granulated sugar for 60c

Hastings' Seeds Catalog Free!

Free Flower Seeds for You

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN, ATLANTA, GA.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

The Union-Banner is $1.50 a year..

This Trade Mark PROTECTS You

LOOK FOR IT!

ALL genuine OLIVER plow shares are carefully stamped with trademark shown here. These shares and repair parts are made in the same factory with OLIVER plows. Thus perfect fit and material of the highest quality are assured. OLIVER plows equipped with genuine repair parts are guaranteed to give perfect plowing satisfaction. Protect your investment by always looking for this OLIVER stamp of quality.

We are Authorized OLIVER dealers and sell Genuine OLIVER shares.

JONES HARDWARE CO.
CLANTON, ALA.

Clanton Cafe

NEW PLACE NOW OPEN ON SEVENTH STREET

We invite our friends and patrons to visit our new place on Seventh Street, back of Upchurch's. We are now ready to serve you.

We have done our best to design and equip this place in a way that will enable us to satisfactorily serve the most discriminating.

Your business will be appreciated at all times.

CLANTON CAFE

M. L. WARE, Proprietor
CLANTON, ALA.

SALE FOR PARTITION

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

By virtue of an order of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Ala., made on the 9th day of March, 1926, I, Victor J. Heard, the Commissioner named in said order, will sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public sale, at Clanton, Ala., in front of the court house door, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the 27th day of March, 1926, for the purpose of distribution among Eddie Williams, Allie Jones, Hurtellene Culp, Leonard Williams and Horace Williams, joint owners, on the following terms: cash—the following described property, viz:

The south half of the north half of the southwest quarter, Section 32, Township 22, Range 14; also the southeast fourth of the northeast fourth, and the east half of the northeast quarter of northeast quarter of Section 6, Township 21, Range 14; situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This March 9th, 1926.

VICTOR J. HEARD,
3-11-3t-ch. Commissioner.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

WEST CHILTON

Such cold weather. How we wish the winter would just kiss the summer good bye.

Everything is quiet.

Mr. Grundy Merchant of Randolph was here recently looking after forest protection.

Mr. John P. Nix died Friday afternoon, and was buried Sunday, in the presence of many of his friends and relatives. Funeral was conducted by Rev. Honeycutt. Mr. Nix was the last member of the original Nix family locating here about 100 years ago. Mr. Nix was well known as a good public spirited, big hearted, kind citizen. He spent his life here. He leaves his wife, four sons and two daughters. He was more than 80 years old, and fought for the lost cause during the Civil War.

Rev. G. W. Freeman of Randolph was at the burial here Sunday.

What an array of candidates we have, all worthy aspirants for official honors. But we can not elect them all. So a good number of them will have to sit down to a dish of "cold crow" after the primary, but of course they will render 100% loyalty to those who win the laurels of victory. This is not a contest to defeat somebody, but a family contest to get the best standard bearers for the party.

Be sure to look well to your Commissioners and board of education. Both are of paramount importance.

Mr. Rockett, our popular Tax Collector, and Rev. J. N. Scott were here Sunday.

Mr. J. D. Hodgens and wife visited near Providence Sunday.

CANDIDATES

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. T. Rockett, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. G. Culp, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by A. F. Mims, Thorsby, Ala.)

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. M. Pate, Thorsby, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala.)

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. D. Collins, Clanton Ala., Route 8.)

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama from Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

PERCY M. PITTS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by Percy M. Pitts, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

JOHN S. DENNIS.

(Paid political adv., authorized by John S. Dennis, Clanton, Ala., R 1.)

FOR MEMBER OF COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for membership on the County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

R. H. BEAN.

(Paid political adv., authorized by R. H. Bean, Clanton, Ala., R 8.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of member of the county board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

W. J. EASTERLING.

(Paid political adv., authorized by W. J. Easterling, Clanton, R 1.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. J. M. Webb, Maplesville, Ala., R 1).

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

Clanton, Ala., Route 4.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. L. Vines.)

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens
SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

T. J. DORMINEY.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. J. Dorminey.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Commissioner of the First District of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. F. JONES.

(Paid political adv., authorized by D. F. Jones, Clanton, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Reublican primary to be held on August 10.

J. N. SCOTT.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. N. Scott, Jemison, Ala.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. P. BEAN.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. B. Bean, Clanton, Ala., R 8.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the ffice of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. E. WALDROP.

(Paid political adv., authorized by S. E. Waldrop, Jemison, Ala., R 1.)

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. H. GENTRY.

(Paid political adv., authorized by D. H. Gentry, Clanton R 4.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. H. BENSON.

(Paid political adv., authorized by J. H. Benson, Clanton R 4.)

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the second district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

T. A. MADDOX.

(Paid political adv., authorized by T. A. Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 4.)

Sanford Barber Shop

Clanton, Ala., 7th Street

The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.

HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

We Pay Highest Cash Price for Eggs & Chickens

HILL'S

25lb Cloth Bag of Sugar $1.50

The store with the Red Front--7th st.

Karo Syrup Gallon - - - - 58 Cts.

Northern Beans, per lb 10c
Bull Head catsup, 2 for 25c
Peacock syrup, per gallon .. 72c
Ajax, the coffee with an aroma of strength, lb .. 29c
Home made Ribbon Cane syrup, per gallon $1.00
3-Minute oatmeal 9c
Dried Apples, per lb 18c
Sliced Bacon, per pound 37c
Chum salmon, 2 cans 25c

Prunes, 2lb 25c
Pioneer corn, No. 2 can 10c
Swifts Pure Lard No. 10 pail $1.58
Rumford or Calumet Baking Powder, lb can .. 29c
Campbell's Pork & Beans Large cans, 3 for 25c
Nice whole grain rice, lb 9c
3 Cans No. 2 Tomatoes 25c

Split Silk Flour . $10.25 bbl.

The Flour that is GUARANTEED to please you or YOUR MONEY BACK

ESTABLISHED 1903 THE ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala.— "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1926 NUMBER 49

OVER 2,000 MILES OF ROAD COMPLETED

Montgomery Ala., March 22.—On March 20, it is shown by figures compiled by Louis Dinsmore, office engineer of the state highway department, there were 2,266 miles of highway completed and under construction in Alabama, representing a cost of $27,413,212.36, and 70,260 lineal feet of highway bridges completed or under construction at a cost of $5,994,584.19. Figures given on costs include state, federal, county and municipal funds.

Federal aid projects that have been completed, embrace 1,378 miles of road at a cost of $17,239,766.84, also 38,538 lineal feet of bridges costing $3,138,798.92. These highway projects include 370.19 miles of sand-clay or top soil road, 816.69 miles of gravel or chert, 75.21 miles of bituminous concrete pavement, 41.86 miles of bituminous macadam pavement, 38.78 miles of surface treated macadam or chert, 5.67 miles of sheet asphalt pavement, and 29.92 miles of cement concrete pavement.

There are under construction, federal aid projects totalling 142.19 miles of road at a cost of $2,283,358.00, and 4,729 lineal feet of bridges to cost $565,861.57. State projects completed include, 127.68 miles of road at a cost of $1,621,362.09, and 4,872 lineal feet of bridges at a cost of $271,123.73. This road mileage is made up of 7.30 miles of sand-clay or top-soil highway; 88.40 miles of gravel or chert, 16.72 miles of cement-concrete pavement, 0.80 miles bituminous concrete pavement, 9.49 miles of limerock asphalt pavement, 2.39 miles of rawhide pavement, and 2.58 miles of asphaltic clay-gravel surfacing.

State projects under construction total 617.79 miles of highway, at a cost of $6,268,725.43, and 22,121 lineal feet of bridges, to cost $2,018,799.97. In every instance, Mr. Dinsmore included in his tabulation of state and federal projects completed and under construction, the mileage of each type of surfacing involved, and the cost.

LETTER FROM W. A. GOSS AT BAPTIST SEMINARY

"Louisville, Ky., March 19, 1926.
The Union-Banner:

Please announce through your columns that the final radio program for the year, given by the students of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, will be broadcasted from WHAS at Louisville Kentucky on Friday night, April 2, from 7:30 to 9:00, central standard time. During this program Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Seminary, will give a short talk on "The International Mind" and students from several foreign countries will sing their national hymns in their native tongues. So if your readers want to hear an interesting program, they may tune in on WHAS at Louisville at that time.

Yours truly,
W. A. GOSS."

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON OR PAROLE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will make application for pardon or parole. I was convicted on a charge of murder in the Fall Term, 1915, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

3-18-3t-pd. BONNIE MORRIS.

SHELBY REPUBLICANS WILL MAKE CAMPAIGN

The Republicans of Shelby County are making plans to wage a hard fight in the campaign this year for the election of county officers. There is much dissatisfaction among the people up there with the manner in which the county's affairs are being managed and it is thought that there will be a strong sentiment in favor of putting the county's business back into the hands of the Republicans.

Shelby County was Republican for many years prior to the election four years ago. It is not likely that a county that has enjoyed the good administration of the Republican party as long as Shelby has will very long tolerate the kind of business which they are now getting from "modern Democracy."

MRS. DOCIE GORE

Last Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the death angel wafted away the spirit of Mrs. Docie Gore, age 48. She had been a member of the Baptist church for 32 years.

Mrs. Gore was the mother of 11 children, 4 of whom died a few years ago. She is survived by 6 sons and 1 daughter—Lige, Arthur, Obie, Gradie, Reuben, and Pearlie Gore. She leaves 5 brothers and 4 sisters—Will, John, Jimmie, Henry, Arthur Cox, Mrs. Carrie Williams, Mrs. J. L. Wilson, Mrs. J. H. Traywick, and Mrs. Dave Easterling, all of Clanton.

Her remains were laid to rest in New Salem cemetery Monday at 11 o'clock, Rev. S. J. Ezell officiating, and undertaker Martin in charge of burial arrangements.—Everee Cox.

A LARGE GRAPE VINE

To The Union Banner's collection of curios last Saturday was added a cut of a large grape vine brought into our office by Mr. Less Broadhead of Clanton Ford. The cut, which was taken about 5 feet from the ground, measured seven and one-half inches in diameter. Mr. Broadhead cut up the huge vine into fire wood.

Mr. Broadhead states that it is a regular old wild grape vine, and was on his place near his house when he moved there 47 years ago. He says that the best he can remember, it was nearly as large when he first saw it as it is now. The vine bore grapes up until a few years ago, when it ceased to produce. Upon cutting the vine down it was found that the body of the vine was doty. The cut is on display at The Union-Banner office.

EASTER EGG HUNT

There will be an Easter egg hunt in the Ellis Grove on Saturday before Easter, at 3 o'clock, p. m. The ladies of Circle No. 4 of the Baptist W. M. S. have charge of the arrangements and extend an invitation to everybody to come.

PLEASANT HILL

Rev. Monroe Honeycutt will preach at this place the first Sunday in April. Everybody come on this day to Pleasant Hill, better known as Blow Grave Yard.

Uncle Mad Popwell was on the streets of Clanton Tuesday shaking hands with his many friends. He has been sick and unable to get out for several weeks past.

Use the Want-Ad Column for results.

HARWELL DAVIS CHANGED HIS MIND

Last Saturday Hon. Harwell G. Davis, attorney general of Alabama, announced his withdrawal from the Democratic race for Governor.

Everybody began to wonder why and "how come." The statement of Mr. Davis was that he could not afford such an expensive campaign as the governor's race would be. That, however did not set all the questions at rest.

Monday, Mr. Davis declared himself a candidate for Congressman from the Seventh District, on the Democratic ticket. That, to some extent, explains why he got out of the gubernatorial race. In the congressional race in the Seventh District he will be opposed by the present Congressman, Miles C. Allgood, J. M. Miller of Gadsden, and possibly some others in the Democratic primary. Also, the Democratic nominee will have Republican opposition in November.

The Seventh District is always a political battleground.

STEAM LAUNDRY FOR AUTOS

Marion Marcus and Doctor Robinson have put up a steam laundry for automobiles at the Robinson Machine Shop in Clanton. By use of the steam process they are able to thoroughly cleanse the dirt and grease from the lower parts of cars in a manner not possible with the use of cold water. They are already doing business and invite their friends to bring them their trade.

FREE EDISON TONE TEST AT CLANTON APRIL 6TH

Glen Ellison, baritone, and Alta Hill, pianist, of the Thos. A. Edison Company, will appear in a tone test with an Edison machine at the High School auditorium in Clanton Tuesday, April 6th, at 8 o'clock p. m. No charge will be made for admission, but tickets will be required. Get the tickets free at Upchurch Drug Co., after April 1st.

This will be really a great treat for those interested in the best music, and Mr. Upchurch desires that all who can may avail themselves of the unusual pleasure of hearing these Edison artists.

Remember the date, April 6th, at high school auditorium in Clanton, 8 o'clock p. m.

MISS PHELIE BAILEY

Our entire community was shocked Sunday afternoon, March 14, when it learned of the death of Miss Phelie Bailey, near Birmingham. She had been in failing health for several years, but for the last week she suffered intensely. Everything that loving relatives and friends could do was done, but God, understanding all things better than we, saw fit to call her home. To know her was to love her, and those who loved her most were the ones who knew her best.

She leaves a sweet old-aged mother, three brothers—George Bailey of Calera, John Bailey of Longview, and Eli Bailey of Birmingham, besides a host of friends, to mourn her loss.

Her remains were brought to Calera for burial. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Monroe Honeycutt of Providence. Two of her favorite songs, "Nearer, My God, To Thee," and "If You Love Your Sister, Meet Her In The Sky," were sung. Her body was laid to rest in the Rock Springs cemetery.

We will always remember her as a noble lady. She will be missed, not only by her loved ones, but by her friends who knew her so long and so well. Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones, yet we know that no human kindness can heal the broken hearts.—Lois Splawn.

BETHSALEM

On Sunday afternoon, March 21, a singing society was organized at this place. A large crowd was present, which was encouraging to the singers of the community.

The house was called to order by Mr. Clem Billingsley, who directed a song or two, followed by prayer by C. B. Huett. Afterward, Mr. Clem Billingsley was elected chairman of the society. A committee was appointed who arranged the following list of directors, who sang 3 songs each:

Elizabeth Griffin, Clarence Billingsley, Charles Tucker, Lela Taylor, and Clem Billingsley.

Organists were Misses Susie Huett and Lela Taylor.

We had some fairly good singing, but we hope to do better next time.

We cordially invite the neighboring societies to come out and help us. We hope to make our society one of the very best in the county. We meet every second Sunday afternoon. Everybody come and let's make it a success.—Sec'y.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their help and kindness during the sickness and death of our dear husband and son, C. E. Miller.—Mrs. Romie Miller, Mrs. Ida Miller, J. W. Smith and family.

CIRCUIT COURT, CRIMINAL DOCKET NEXT WEEK

The following is a list of cases on the criminal docket of the Circuit Court of Chilton County which will be tried here next week, beginning Monday morning:

J. M. DuBose, charged with violating prohibition law.

Geo. W. Hodgens, charged with manufacturing liquor and having still in possession.

T. S. Peavy, charged with manufacturing liquor and having still in possession.

George Collum, charged with seduction.

Will Kennedy, charged with assault to ravish.

Alphus Grant, charged with defaulting bond.

William J. Benton, charged with attempt to defraud by check.

Allen Brown, charged with violating prohibition law.

Wiley Jones, charged with violating prohibition law.

Will Gulledge, charged with assault with intent to murder.

Robert Edwards, charged with manufacturing liquor and having a still in possession.

Barto Wright, charged with assault to murder.

Elbert Hawkins, charged with manufacturing liquor.

Charlie Robinson, charged with assault to murder.

Chatman Trott, charged with violating prohibition law.

Rolie Waldrup, charged with violating prohibition law.

Joe Smith, charged with violating prohibition law.

Leander Brown, charged with possession of a still.

Alphus Grant, charged with violating prohibition law.

Ocie Barnett, charged with violating prohibition law.

Robert Edwards, charged with defaulting bond.

T. S. Peavy, charged with defaulting bond.

Walter B. Ozley, charged with assault and battery and conspiracy.

Forney Martin, alias Dick Martin, charged with assault and battery and conspiracy.

John H. Denham, charged with assault and battery and conspiracy.

Elmer Barnhill, charged with possession of a still.

Jasper Glenn, charged with violating prohibition law.

Tom Williams, charged with trespass after warning.

Will Price, charged with decoying away a child.

Jack Price, charged with decoying away a child.

Dewey Deason, charged with bastardy.

Amelia Smith, charged with violating prohibition law.

Stewart Smith, charged with violating prohibition law.

Enoch Davenport, charged with violating prohibition law.

Houston Kennedy, charged with violating prohibition law.

Walter Nix, charged with assault and battery.

Alphus Grant, charged with violating prohibition law.

Robert Cleckler, charged with manufacturing liquor and having still in possession.

CHILTON NEGRO SCHOOL WINS RECORD FOR ATTENDANCE

The record of attendance that has been established by the Chilton County Training School has brought that school into prominence among high authorities on negro education in the United States.

The record of the Chilton County Training School for attendance is second among all negro schools in Alabama.

Following are some extracts from a letter from Mr. Leo M. Favrot, field agent of the General Education Board which shows something of the credit that is given this school for its splendid attendance.

The letter addressed to Prof. I. B. Bryant, principal, says:

"In looking over the attendance records that have come from your school I note that for three months your record shows an average of more than 90% of the children enrolled in daily attendance.

"I am very much interested in learning the details of the attendance campaign you have carried on in your school. I would like to know definitely how you have stimulated good attendance through the teachers in your school, through the pupils, or through reaching the parents.

"I want to report before the National Association of Teachers in Colored Schools on school attendance campaigns, as carried on in county training schools of the South, and am naturally turning to those who are apparently meeting with the most success in promoting good attendance."

SINGING AT FRIENDSHIP

There will be singing at Friendship church next Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. Prof. W. M. Devaughn has promised to be present, and a number of other good singers are expected. Everybody who loves sacred music is invited.

ALBERT THOMAS AND "PLUTO" CAUGHT WITH THREE PINTS

"Pluto," the familiar old tin lizzie that was bequeathed to the high school last fall by a bunch of itenerant students from Florida, has at last come to a bad end not altogether unexpected. She was taken over Monday afternoon by Sheriff Littlejohn when he came up with Albert Thomas driving her into town with three pints of liquor concealed in his shirt bosom.

We were not able to find out just who "Pluto" belongs to, but it is said that somebody has been renting the old machine to Thomas for a dollar a day. The only thing that "Pluto" possesses is a record and a name, the record being an unknown quantity. She bears no tag nor certificate of title.

The arrest occurred just below the oil tanks on the Mt. Pisgah road. Thomas was brought to jail and later released on $500 bond.

GRAND JURY IN SESSION THIS WEEK

The grand jury of Chilton County was empanelled Monday morning by Judge George F. Smoot, and immediately went into session.

Following is a list of the men who compose the grand jury:

Columbus C. Conway, Foreman; Robt. L. Davenport, Walter Popwell, J. Edgar Dennis, H. B. Deal, Jim M. Popwell, Columbus C. Williams, W. Eddie Childress, Charlie L. Wilkins, J. Durwood Broadhead, Peter C. Weldon, Alfred F. Mims, Adolphus Gentry, Will S. Adams, Tom W. Billingsley, George Jones, Thos. N. Howard, Wm. W. Bishop.

PASTORS' AND WORKERS' CONFERENCE

The Pastors' and Workers' Conference of the Unity-Chilton Associations will meet in the Clanton Baptist church on Monday, March 9, at 9:30 a. m. We want it understood that this is not merely a preachers' meeting, nor altogether a Laymen's conference. It is a meeting for all Christian workers, and we urge a full attendance.—B. Lawrence, Sec'y.

FOURTH SUNDAY MEETING

Following is the program for the Fourth Sunday Meeting to be held at Oak Grove March 28th:

9:15 a. m.—Sunday School.
10:00—Devotional, by the pastor.
10:15 to 11:15—"The Value of the Church," by E. A. Norris and others.
11:15—Sermon.
12:00—Noon hour.
1:15 p. m.—Devotional, by Mr. Will Northcutt.
1:45—"The Needs of the Churches," by B. F. Dykes and others.
Adjournment.

We hope to have Miss Addie E. Cox, a returned missionary from China, with us at this meeting. We invite all who will to come and help us.—T. J. Deason, Pastor.

WILLIE BOWMAN EXONERATED ON THEFT CHARGE

At a trial in court this week Clyde Bowman and Cary Bowles plead guilty to stealing a tire from a car belonging to the Jack Rabbit show man.

Willie Bowman, who had been arrested in the case was exonerated and set free.

WRITERS' CONTEST ON CHURCH SUBJECT

The Missionary Society of the Baptist Church of Clanton is planning a unique meeting at their church on the fifth Monday, March 29, at 3:30 o'clock. The success of the meeting depends entirely on the cooperation of the Christian women of the town, all of whom are urged to be present.

The program is to consist of five papers, written by women from the five churches in our town. The papers are to be written on the subject: "A Serious Problem of the Modern Church," preferably a solution also will be suggested in the paper. Each church is to be represented by one paper, written by any woman in that church. The papers should be typewritten on plain typewriter paper, no name of either author or church put on them, but signed only by a number that the author may select, which number must be known only to herself and the member of the Committee from her church. In a plain envelope let her seal a slip, giving her name and denomination, pin this to her paper and turn over same to her Committee Member not later than March 26th. The papers are to be read by one good reader selected by the Committee. The audience will then vote by ballot, designating the papers by their respective numbers, for the best paper. The envelope marked with the winning number will then be opened, and the author's Church will be presented a suitable award, the gift of the hostess society. Special music from several of the churches will be interspersed in the progam. The winning paper will be printed in the county papers.

Please join the committee in making this an enjoyable and profitable afternoon, filled with Christian fellowship together.—Committee, Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, Baptist church; Mrs. John VanDerveer, Presbyterian church; Mrs. Curry Thomas, Christian church; Mrs. C. B. Stephenson, Adventist church; Mrs. J. C. Jones, Methodist church.

BENNIE COOPER ARRESTED FOR RAISING "ROUGH HOUSE"

Bennie Cooper, colored, "raised a rough house" over in Frog Level Sunday night and got himself tangled up in the net of Tom Littlejohn's law enforcement machinery. Bennie was put in jail on a charge of assault and battery. He made bond and was released Monday.

TEACHERS ATTENDING A. E. A.

Many school teachers of Chilton County are in Birmingham this week attending the annual session of the Alabama Educational Association. Buford Lawrence, county superintendent of education, left Wednesday morning and Prof. Ellis of the county high school left Tuesday night.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT ISABELLA

There will be an old time fiddlers convention at Isabella school house on Saturday night, April 3. All fiddlers are invited to come and bring their fiddles. Admission 15c and 25c. There will be prizes of $5.00, $3.00 and $2.00 given to the best fiddlers. Come on and hear some good old time music. Isabella is 6 miles from Maplesville and 10 miles from Clanton, on the Clanton-Maplesville road.

Must See Ahead

If there is a sharp curve in the road, you go slow. You want to see what's ahead. After dark you will not drive without lights for the same reason.

Being able to see ahead is what insures safety and success, no matter what the undertaking. In financial as well as other affairs, the only way to look into the future is by the light of the past. Successful men have worked, planned and SAVED. Why not follow the light they have given and do likewise? Our Bank will help you.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help
CLANTON, ALABAMA

It Takes More Than a Sign Over The Door To Make A

-BANK-

It takes experience, brains, and above all, the proper organization for the protection of depositors.

This bank is regularly examined by officials of the Federal Government. Every transaction must meet their rigid requirements. Your money is absolutely safe in this bank. It is here until you need it, and yours when you want it.

If you are not already a depositor you are cordially invited to open an account.

This Bank is Under Government Control

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA
Safety—Service—Accomodation

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER IX

Peter Plays at Bowls with Destiny

Darby McGraw's red head shone in the lanthorn light.

"Whisht, but it's Master Bob again! Now ain't this the mighty forchune to have ye with us! Ha' ye left the old devil yon for good?"

He nodded his torch of hair at the vague hull of the James. Flint exploded with raucous laughter.

"'The old devil yon,'" he repeated. "—— me, but it takes Darby to put the right word to a man. 'Tis what he is, blast him for the —— —— —— he sets himself up to be!"

Darby proffered him a huge silver beaker of rum.

"I fetched this from the cabin after ye, captain," said the Irish boy in his wheedling brogue. 'Troth, say I to meself, if the captain must talk with Murray he'll ha' a bad taste in the mouth o' him to be washed out, and I'd best ha' a sup o' sugar-juice handy for his needin's."

Flint seized the rum, threw back his head and drained the fiery stuff as if it had been wine.

"You said right, my lad," he answered sourly. "And I'm thinking I'll maybe need all the luck that red head o' yours can bring me. Where's Billy Bones?"

"Dhrunk under the cabin table," returned Darby promptly.

"Gut him for the souse he is! And Long John?"

"Sure, captain dear, 'twas yourself sent him ashore to keep the lads up to the fort from carvin' theirselves."

"So I did. Well, I'll see to the prisoners myself then."

"Pris'ners!" protested Darby, wide-eyed. "Och, captain, ye won't be hard on Master Bob! He's as kindly a young gentleman as ever I see—and Peter there is a grand fightin' feller. Ye should hear to tales they tell o' his murtherin' and slayin' with the red Injuns."

"I'll be as hard as they make me be," returned Flint. "But for tonight I must have them safe."

Peter, at my elbow, spoke for the first time.

"Ja, ja." We go. I have a wish to sleep."

"Sleep, is it?" jeered Flint. "That ye shall, my hearty! Come along o' me."

He led us aft, the others following, Darby in the rear almost in tears. At the end of a dark passage Flint unhooked a lanthorn from a wall and one of his men heaved up a trapdoor. Below was a pool of shadows that scuttled and swayed as if to escape the feeble light. There was an odor, also, none too pleasant.

I drew back.

"Certes, you could lodge us securely otherwhere than this," I protested.

"No, no," answered Flint. "There's not a door aboard hath a lock would hold Darby, let alone you two. I'm sorry for ye, lad, if it's no fault o' yours that you're here; but for tonight at least you must lie in the lazaret. Here, ye shall ha' the lanthorn to keep the rats off, and in the morning we'll manage different."

Peter pushed past me, and took the lanthorn from his hand.

"We go, ja," he squeaked. "Come, Bob."

I followed him without another word, already wondering at his extraordinary docility. A hasp clacked home in a bolt, and footsteps thudded away. I sat on the bottommost step of the ladder and peered hopelessly around me as Peter, swinging the lanthorn as high as the low deckroom allowed, prowled around the limited area of our prison.

A black rat as large as a cat rushed across my feet. Squeaks and rustlings sounded in the corners.

Peter returned to the ladder-foot, deposited the lanthorn on the floor and plumped himself beside it.

"What you t'ink, Bob?" he said blandly. "Do we stay or get oudt?"

I frowned at him.

"'Tis no joke," I snapped. "I had reasons for—"

"Ja," he agreed. "Der little gal."

"How did you know?" I exclaimed.

"I know," he replied with his simpering imitation of a laugh. "You t'ink der little gal is a good gal. You t'ink it is not goodt dot she be taken aboard der James. You want to be there andt be sure dot she is safe."

"'Tis true as gospel, Peter," I groaned. "I hoped to the last this ridiculous plan of Murray's would fall through in some manner, but the man has a damnable determination."

"Ja," agreed Peter. "I t'ink he takes der treasure ship, Bob. Dot's easy."

"Easy? I see not how!"

"Ja, it is easy to take her. But after comes his troubles. Much treasure is bad for pirates. We hafe troubles after. Suppose we get oudt tonight. Suppose we get oudt and back to der James. Ja?"

I looked around me skeptically at the heavy planking and stout timbers of the sides and for'ard bulkhead.

"It can't be done. 'Twould take a week to break out of this—and the James will be sailing in five or six hours."

"Neen," said Peter. "We get oudt—any time, we get oudt."

"How?" I demanded.

He picked up the lanthorn and led me for'ard to the bulkhead. The light showed that one of the oaken planks was slightly sprung, leaving an infinitesimal crack between its edge and the uppermost of its fellows.

"Are you planning to pry that off with your finger-nails?" I taunted him.

"Neen," he answered, and conducted

"Are You Planning to Pry That Off With Your Finger Nails?" I Taunted.

me to a corner whence the rats scudded as we approached.

He stirred his foot amongst some rubbish and turned up several long, wrought-iron spikes, such as are used to bolt together the heavier ship-timbers.

"Dot's plenty," he said.

I could hardly control the gush of relief that welled up in me.

"I believe it is," I whispered. "But oh, Peter, there is such little time!"

"Enough," he grunted. "Come! We begin."

We listened at the bulkhead for signs of life on the opposite side, but not a sound came through to us, although the clamor on the upper deck and in the poop cabin seeped into our dungeon from overhead. 'Twas stiflingly hot, and Peter's first care was to strip off his buckskin shirt and leggings.

"We got to swim," he said, eyeing them regretfully. "You don't need clothes tonight, Bob."

So I followed his example, and we fell to work with our spikes upon the sprung plank, the sweat pouring in rills of moisture from our half-naked bodies, our crude tools slipping in our greasy fingers as we pried and pushed and fought for every inch of space betwixt the plank and the upright it was nailed to. Peter did all the work.

As the last nail yielded to Peter's shoulder the thin clangor of the bell of the Royal James stole down to us out of the night. Four times it rang—two o'clock!

"Get oudt, Bob," whispered Peter.

I wriggled through the gap in the bulkhead, and he passed the lanthorn after me. Its flame was burning low, but I had sufficient light to determine that I stood in a stores-hold crammed with casks of rum, salt meat and ship's biscuit. A door in its for'ard bulkhead led to another hold of the orlop deck, where were a hatch and ladder leading up to the gundeck. I crept as far as the foot of the ladder and listened to the snores of the scores of men who slept in hammocks slung between the great guns of the battery. That way lay our only path of escape.

I returned to Peter in a mood that was none too cheerful; but he was already at work with his spike, hissing like a kettle on the boil as he prodded away with its blunted point. I was able to be of more assistance to him this time, since from the farther side 'twas possible to exert a greater leverage, once the plank was sprung loose. Yet the James sounded seven bells before we were successful. Peter grunted his satisfaction.

"We got time," he said. "Whoof! So much I sweat I slide me t'rough dot hole."

He was stripped to the buff, and his pink, hairless body was all a-glisten as he rolled into the opening. His head and shoulders made it easily, but I saw with dismay that his immense paunch was an insurmountable obstacle. He heaved and shoved and twisted. 'Twas no manner of use.

Peter backed out of his predicament to an accompaniment of squeaking grunts, and I followed him, too bitterly disappointed for words. Escape had seemed so easy—and now we were condemned to two months aboard the Walrus, very likely to exceedingly uncomfortable deaths, for I fancied that Flint was the sort of man to lose his queer mixture of fear and respect for my great-uncle as soon as they were out of touch.

"Hold der light here, Bob," said Peter, squatting on the litter on the deck, and he proceeded to extract a splinter from his foot.

"Ja, dot's goodt," he went on, standing up. "Well, we don't get oudt dot way."

He felt his way toward the ladder to the cabin-hatch.

"Always there is another way, Bob. If one way is not goodt, der other maybe is better. Ja! You see."

He climbed the ladder silently in his bare feet until his great shoulders were directly beneath the square of the hatch, and I heard a faint grinding of straining metal, the crackling of tortured wood.

"Ja," he panted, desisting. "We do dot. Now you be ready, Bob. Jump oop, quick. Maybe we got to kill some fellers, andt if we do we don't let them holler."

I could feel his legs quivering above me; the ladder itself vibrated under us. There was a whine, a sudden pop—and the hatch flew up in the air. Peter caught it on the flats of his hands before it could settle again and lifted it back. He was out in a flash, and I was hard on his heels.

We crouched on the main-cabin floor, staring about us for a sign of the pirates. The lights had all burned out, and it was several minutes before our eyes became adjusted to the starshine that sifted through the stern window.

At the exit to the deck we tarried to reconnoiter our situation, and 'twas lucky we did so. Eight bells rang out from the Royal James, and a voice most astonishingly close muttered a curse.

"Ye might think they 'ad a blarsted admiral aboard," answered a second voice.

A whistle shrilled, and the gruff voice of Saunders reached us quite distinctly ordering the topmen aloft.

"There they go, Jemmy," returned the second man. "We'll be free o' the swabs in another glass."

"And good riddance, says I," declared Jemmy, spitting into the scuppers.

I saw where they were then, leaning against the starboard poop-ladder and peering overside at the vague hull of the James. Peter's little eyes had identified them, too, and his fingers sank into the flesh of my arm, signaling me to stay where I was. He glided past me on to the deck, his body ghostly in the gloom.

"I'm —— if I can see as why we has to keep our peepers open," growled the second man.

"'Taint long now till morning," replied Jemmy. "What d'ye s'y to a dash o' rum, matey?"

He half-turned, and saw Peter's enormous white bulk hovering over him, and his teeth gleamed as he opened his mouth involuntarily to scream.

"I don't care if—" the second man said.

The Dutchman leaped, and his two arms whipped out. Jemmy's scream died in a guttural cough. He held pled the throat of each. He held them poised for a moment, then brought their heads together with an odd hollow smack like the cracking of egg-shells. They collapsed inert on the deck.

I darted for the rail, but Peter stayed me.

"Neen, neen," he objected. First I get me some pants, Bob. Andt we drop these fellers overboardt."

He was divesting the larger of the two of the single garment each one wore while he talked, and, conquering an instinctive sensation of repugnance, I did likewise.

"Dot's better, ja," remarked Peter complacently. "A little tight; but I don't like to be naked, Bob. Neen!"

He rose to his feet, buckling the dead man's belt around him.

"They'll splash!" I warned him as he picked up the big one.

"Nobody hears," he answered.

He lowered the body over the rail feet first, and the splash was less than I had expected. The second body followed with equal expedition, and Peter laid hold of one of several ropes that trailed untidily over the Walrus' side.

"Now we go, Bob," he said.

We entered the water almost together, and swam side by side down the anchorage toward the James. Peter, despite his discomfort at sea, was a remarkably powerful swimmer, thanks to his lifetime in the wilderness country of the frontier.

"The tide will take care of the dead men," I panted, stroking for all I was worth to keep apace with the Dutchman.

A whistle shrilled again aboard the James.

"Ja," said Peter. "Der anchor goes opp, Bob. We hurry!"

He was a dozen strokes ahead of me at the end. I found him hanging on to the heel of the rudder and calmly treading water. For'ard the capstan was clanking to a steady yo-hoing and trampling of feet. Yards were banging, sails were slatting, men were shouting and calling.

I looked up at the stern windows so high above us. From our precarious perch on the rudder the James towered like Spyglass mountain touchable but unattainable. Almost I could have cried out to my great-uncle and hailed him to have us hauled aboard. But common sense warned me he would certainly seize upon the opportunity to send us back to the Walrus as clinching evidence of his good faith. And I had no desire to face Flint with those two dead men to account for.

"What's to do?" I whispered to Peter, whose eyes were roving over the lofty stern. "We cannot bide here. Once she has way on her, we'll be tossed off."

"Ja," agreed Peter. "You see dot shiny picture oop there?"

He indicated a golden sunburst carved across the stern beneath the cabin windows.

"Yes," I answered, puzzled.

"I climb oop on der rudder, andt I holdt me on to der roundness in der middle. Andt you climb oop on my shoulders andt into der cabin windows, ja."

"But you? How will you—"

"You t'row me a rope."

He scrambled on to the rudder and slowly spread-eagled himself upward against the scrollwork which covered the stern. His hands, feeling blindly above his head, sought for and found a deep indentation in the rays below the center of the sunburst, and with this to cling to, he climbed a foot or two higher on to a shallow ridge which ran across the stern, a shelf scarce wide enough to give him toehold.

"Now you climb, Bob," he grunted

The rudder I surmounted with ease standing erect with a hand on one of Peter's legs to steady me. I stepped up to the ridge upon which the Dutchman stood with no more difficulty, holding to his leather belt. Then I changed my hand-hold to a ridge in the carving, and by his direction braced the toes of one foot in the slack of his belt as I heaved myself upward. Peter grunted. That was all.

I found a new hand-hold and brought my other foot up on to Peter's shoulder and stood erect there. Reaching upward now, better than two tall mens' height above the waterline, my groping finger-tips were still below the level of the stern windows. Peter sensed my difficulty.

"On my headt," he grunted.

I carefully lifted one foot, selected another hand-grip and mounted Peter's tow locks. Again I explored upward with one arm stretched to the limit of safety, but I failed by inches to clutch the sill of the stern windows.

"Jump," sobbed Peter.

"But you!"

"Jump!"

The rudder clacked as it was put over, and the James heeled slightly to the breeze.

I jumped. Peter sagged beneath me, but the fingers of my right hand fastened upon the ledge of the window. I heard a splash, and caught hold with my left hand.

"Ooop!" spluttered Peter from the water.

The rest was child's play compared to what had preceded it. The carving afforded toe-holds in plenty, and soon I had a leg over the windowsill and looked down at Peter trailing in the James' wake as he clung to the shelf which crossed the stern perhaps a foot above the water. He dared no longer hold to the rudder.

His big face was so white that it frightened me, and I tumbled inboard without stopping to make sure the cabin was empty. But my luck was with me, and I scurried around to find a rope. This was a hopeless quest in that luxurious apartment, so I ran up the companionway and just inside the door to the deck came upon a lead line, coiled and hung to a hook, which I appropriated.

Altogether these movements consumed less time than is required to describe them; but when I returned to the stern windows Peter was gone. I leaned out and stared back at the James' creaming wake—and a white arm flashed in a gesture of appeal twenty feet astern. I cast the lead behind him, and he caught the line as it settled into the water, cut the lead free with the dead man's knife at his belt, looped the slack under his shoulders, and with my feverish help hauled himself back to the shelf above the water line.

I lacked the strength to draw him up; but I fastened my end of the line to the cabin table, which was bolted to the floor, and then, foot by foot, Peter toiled upward. He was so weary at the last that I must pull him through the window, and he fell in a heap across the table, puddling the polished surface with the seawater that streamed off him, and the blood from his scarred hands.

A bottle of the aqua vitae my great-uncle favored stood by his place, and I took this and poured a liberal tot between Peter's lips. He staggered to his feet, blinking his eyes and red as a school miss.

"All right, Bob," he squeaked. "I be all right, ja."

His eyes chanced upon the lead-line, still fast to the table's leg, and he stopped and unknotted it and dropped it out of the window.

"We better not stay here," he muttered. "Neen! If Murray secs us—"

"Oh, my Gawd!"

Ben Gunn goggled at us from the companionway.

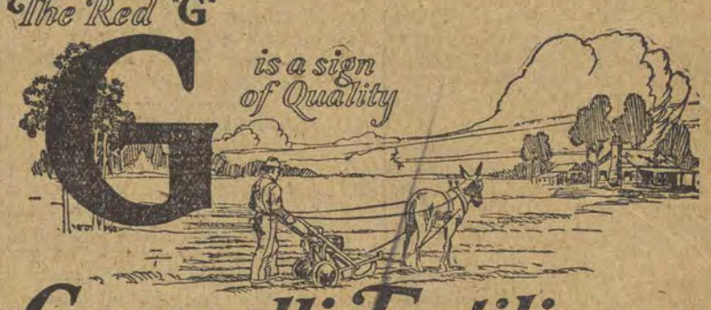
"Drowned they be!" he gasped to

(Continued to Page 7)

FIELD DAY AT CHILTON COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL

March 19th was a big day for the colored schools of Chilton County. Teachers, pupils and patrons from all parts of the county met at the Chilton County Training School and held their first field day program, an exhibition of industrial and class room work.

The Training School pupils entertained the visitors with an excellent musical program. Many games and folk dances rendered by the various schools furnished amusement for the 500 visitors who attended.



The awarding of prizes and certificates was one of the big features of the program. Nine children were awarded prizes for attending school every day during the school term. Fourteen children received certificates of promotion from elementary to Junior High School. Miss Ethel Love from the Chilton Belle school, Verbena, was the winner of the $10 prize for doing the neatest hand sewing. Miss Rosebud Williams, teacher in the Shiloh school, Jemison, received the $10 prize for being the teacher whose pupils, on the whole, had done the best hand sewing.

Prof. I. B. Bryant and the county supervisor, Mrs. Etta C. Coates, were the speakers. Prof. Bryant spoke on "The Value of Regular Attendance." Mrs. Coates' subject was "The Value of Industrial Work as Taught in the Public Schools."

Everyone was highly pleased with what they had seen and heard.—Reporter.

May 1 has been named as the date for a hairy vetch blossom festival at Wedowee in Randolph County, Ala. R. Y. Bailey, county agent, and originator of the idea, thinks that it will be a banner day for agriculture. The main feature of the festival will be a parade by the farmers who have raised vetch. They will feature it as a plant of "wondrous good."

The Red "G"
G is a sign of Quality

Grasselli Fertilizers

are manufactured to give crops a quick start and early maturity. This is very necessary under Boll Weevil conditions.

Satisfaction in every sack, for over 20 years.
Look for the big red "G" on the bag.

THE GRASSELLI CHEMICAL COMPANY
Birmingham Gadsden Dothan

FOR SALE BY MULLINS & MOORE
Clanton, Alabama

BEWARE OF
IMITATIONS
BE SURE YOU GET GENUINE "VULCAN" CHILLED PLOWS AND PARTS

VULCAN "BEST CHILLED" PLOWS
Made by The Vulcan Plow Co., Evansville, Ind.

Here are some of their great advantages—WELL FINISHED—STRONG and DURABLE—PERFECT FIT—and OF LIGHT DRAFT.

When you buy a Plow, consider Quality first, and Price second. The "Vulcan" Good Quality includes rib-strengthened mold, full chilled shin piece, interlocked point and standard. The strongest and most durable chilled point made.

Imitation points and parts do not fit properly, and a plow equipped with them can not do the quality of work expected. They break easy and are made of inferior material.

Be sure each part you buy bears the "Vulcan" trade mark, cast into the back of the share.

Best point this year, concave, self-sharpening, longer life than old ones, and will last twice as long as imitations.
Buy only genuine "Vulcan" repairs.

Chilton Hardware Co.
"Oscar Jones' Store"
Clanton . . . . . Alabama

Be Sure of Genuine Oliver Plow Parts By Always Looking for This Trade Mark

JONES HARDWARE CO., Clanton, Ala.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

By request of the Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association arrangements have been made to give a repetition with several changes of the minstrel entertainment recently given at the school auditorium, on Saturday night of this week. One feature of the entertainment will be the appearance of the Thorsby male quartett in popular negro melodies. Admission will be the same as for previous performances.

The public school board met last Monday night and re-elected as members of the faculty for the ensuing school year the Misses Mamie Sue Stewart, McMae and Kate McNeill. Action on election of Prof. Brown was deferred pending a definite agreement on salary. Only this one question prevented his re-election with the others. The board also elected Miss Ruth Martin subject to the approval of the county board of education of the application for an extra teacher.

Messrs. Fred and Lewis Howard, with their wives, and Lloyd Howard, motored to Fairfield Sunday to visit Edward Howard and family.

Mr. C. E. Lucas, presient of Bank of Thorsby, has been confined to his home for several days with pneumonia. eH is reported to be slowly improving, though still very weak.

Miss Bertha Littleton has been absent from her place in the Bank for several days on account of sickness, but expects soon to be at work again.

Mr. Nat Bentley is introducing metropolitan airs for Thorsby by laying a mosaic floor in his new building on the highway near Jones Street.

Mrs. F. E. Merchant, a sister of J. D. Cleckler, is rejoicing in taking possession of her new home, a neat six-room cottage at the corner of Franklin Street and the new highway. Mrs. Merchant is a widow with one little daughter, and has recently come to reside in Thorsby.

Mrs. G. L. Foshee has traded her house and lot at the corner of Michigan Avenue and Summit Street to J. D. Cleckler for a new house which Mr. Cleckler will build for her in the vicinity of the home of her two married daughters near Clanton. Mr. Cleckler has already sold the Foshee home in Thorsby to Relius Franklin, who will occupy it when Mrs. Foshee moves out.

Thorbsy public school is making preparations for their commencement program to be given April 11, 12 and 13.

Thorsby Institute auditorium is progressing nicely. At this writing a force of men are employed placing the joists and sub-floor for the large hall above the basement rooms and foundations for which the walls are completed. The next step will be erecting the walls of the big room, which are to support the roof.

Thorsby Institute dormitory boys together with Cecil Each, Wm. Each, Ragnor Ekblad, Ronald Lucas, Palmer Lefstead, and Henry Robinson, spent an enjoyable evening with Miss Fairbank at Tower Cottage last Saturday. We hear that Miss Fairbank and A. T. Arthur are excellent candy makers, and they agree that the boys are great consumers.

Because of the meeting of the Alabama Educational Association in Birmingham, Thorsby Institute will be closed Friday, March 26.

The Ladies Guild social will be held Thursday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. J. H. Goddard.

The Missionary lecture on the Philipine Islands given by Rev. Each at the Congregational church last Sunday night was fine. The stereoptican pictures were good and presented a graphic illustration of the transforming effect of Christian education in the appearance, character and lives of these semi-barbarous wards of Uncle Sam, especially of the savage and bloodthirsty Moros who inhabit the island of Mindanao. There were many expressions of surprise and interest from people in the audience, which filled the house to capacity.

Mrs. Herbert Peterson was hostess last Wednesday afternoon to the girls of the Y. W. A. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. After the meeting a contest was held, Mrs. Howard Garrick winning the prize. Afterward a delightful salad plate was served.

Miss Ruth Peterson of Birmingham spent Saturday night and Sunday here with her parents.

Miss Anna Werness spent the week end here with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Piper spent several days last week in Birmingham with friends.

Mr. Earl Leary left Monday for Tuscaloosa, where he holds a responsible position.

Miss Hattie Davenport of Birmingham, and the Whitehead family, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Davenport last Sunday.

Mr. W. J. Billingsley spent Tuesday in Clanton on business.

Next Sunday, March 28, is regular preaching day at Thorsby Baptist church. Services. morning, 11:00 o'clock; evening, 7:30 o'clock. Everybody invited.

Miss Lena Franklin, a student at Howard College, came home last Friday to stay until she recovers from the flu. We are glad to state that she is better.

A Farmer Boy's Success

From hard work on a farm to the study of medicine was the course Dr. Pierce pursued. Finally he determined to put up in ready-to-use form his 'Golden Medical Discovery' so the public could easily procure it. This 'Discovery' is a tonic in its effects on the stomach and digestive apparatus; an alterative in its action on the blood, liver and skin. It increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, enriches the blood, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young.

All dealers. Large bottles, liquid, $1.35; tablets, $1.35 and 65c.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package tablets.

When You Have Money In The Bank You Have Credit at the Bank. When you have Credit at the Bank you have Credit at every other place.

If your credit is good you can carry out your UNDERTAKINGS SUCCESSFULLY. All your neighbors have credit here and you will soon have if you begin putting your savings in our care. We solicit your business on sound principles and good Banking.

THE BANK OF THORSBY

Thorsby, Ala.

"We Bank the Public's Money."

The New Cafe

A. N. MINER, Proprietor

"A Good Place To Eat"

Located near the Court House

Hot biscuits for breakfast, corn bread, vegetables and chicken for dinner.

We invite you to eat with us when in Clanton. We are preparing to feed you when you come to court next week.

For the Men

New Straw and Panama Hats, the very latest styles, and prices reasonable.
We also have a new line of Oxfords. Buy for Easter. Very smart styles. Hats for small boys. All new.
Big surprise for the Ladies. Latest styles for Easter.

Robinson Bargain Store

CLANTON, ALA.

LEGAL NOTICE

State of Alabama, Chilton County.—
In Probate Court.

On this, the 10th day of March, 1926, came M. L. Hall, guardian of Brainard Baxley, a minor, age sixteen years, and filed her petition in writing under oath in this court for an order to sell certain lands in Chilton County, Alabama, to-wit:

The southeast quarter of the southeast qcarter, Section 20, Township 22, Range 14, which is the property of said minor and described in said petition, for the purpose of Maintenance and education of said minor.

It is ordered that Saturday, the 3rd day of April, 1926, be appointed a day for the hearing of said petition when any person interested may appear and contest said application if they deem proper.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
3-11-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

CANDIDATES

(All announcements under this heading are paid political advs., authorized by the parties whose names are signed to the same.)

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama from Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

PERCY M. PITTS.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

JOHN S. DENNIS.

FOR MEMBER OF COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for membership on the County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

R. H. BEAN.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of member of the county board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

W. J. EASTERLING.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

T. J. DORMINEY.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Commissioner of the First District of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. F. JONES.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Reublican primary to be held on August 10.

J. N. SCOTT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. P. BEAN.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the ffice of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. E. WALDROP.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. H. GENTRY.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. H. BENSON.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the second district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

T. A. MADDOX.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF THORSBY

LOCATED AT THORSBY, ALA.,
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 12, 1926

RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts,		$120,315.90
2. Overdrafts,		41.66
5. Banking House,		1,000.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures,		2,097.06
8. Cash (a) Currency,	$5,432.00
(b) Gold,	820.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	620.34
Total,		6,872.34
9. Due from Banks,		7,960.65
12. Checks and Cash Items,		306.13
TOTAL,		$138,593.74

LIABILITIES

1. Capital Stock Paid in		$ 10,000.00
2. Surplus Fund,		12,500.00
3. Undivided Profits less Expenses and Taxes paid,		1,067.62
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits,	$86,129.31
(b) Demand Certificates,	3,071.23
(f) Cashier's Checks,	280.20
(h) Unpaid Dividends,	20.00
Total,		89,500.74
6. Time Deposits (b) Time Certificates,		25,525.38
TOTAL,		$138,593.74

The State of Alabama, Chilton County: Before me came C. C. Driskill, Cashier of The Bank of Thorsby, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. C. C. DRISKILL, Cashier.

ATTEST:
E. W. BUTLER,
CARL C. PETERSON,
A. E. REAGAN,
Directors,

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 19th day of March, 1926.
C. R. FOSS,
Notary Public.

L. H. BEAN, Undertaker

Jemison, Ala.

Funeral Supplies, Including Metallic Caskets and Steel Vaults

I carry the most complete line of Caskets in the County, and sell for the lowest prices.

Hearse Service on Request

"Get in the Well Dressed Circle"

Dignity of Appearance

can be attained in these new CURLEE CLOTHES which we have recently received.

The clothing that a man wears reflects his personality and bankers, merchants and professional men prefer these CURLEE suits as best suited to their station in life. CURLEE CLOTHES enjoy an enviable reputation for durability and considering the quality, the price is very reasonable.

We offer a wide selection of patterns.

NEW OXFORDS—NEW HOSIERY

NEW SHIRTS—NEW UNDERWEAR

Parrish's STYLE SHOP

Clanton, Ala.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

Well, by not being in the League of Nations this month, we certainly missed a fine fight.

The Democratic national chairman claims credit is due his party for the new tax bill, and the next thing you know the Democrats will be claiming Secretary Mellon.

The ex-Kaiser is said to be tired of Holland and desirous of moving to Switzerland. If he isn't careful he may get mixed up in the League of Nations.

The greatest optimist in the world lives at Biddleford, Maine. It is said that he hasn't missed a Democratic caucus in his ward for forty-eight years

The three-cornered Republican senatorial fight in Pennsylvania would be much enjoyed by the Democrats, except for the fact that there aren't any Democrats there.

Wonder what Ponce De Leon would say if he came back to Florida now and found that the peaceful redmen had given way to the war-like real estate agents?

WHY WE PROSPER

Representatives of British labor have been sent to America to investigate conditions and to find out, if possible, just why wages and living conditions in the United States for the working people, are so much higher and better than in Europe. In America the working men for the most part have comfortable homes, plenty of nourishing food, and in many instances automobiles to go to and from their daily work. Conditions such as these are unheard of in Europe.

It is said that the British workers are finding out that our workmen prosper because of their efficiency, the greater output of their efforts, through the practice of mass production. This is daubtless true, but might it not be worth while, also to inquire as to why conditions have come about which make possible the present situation with regard to our labor.

Of course the American worker is intelligent and efficient, but some of this intelligence and efficiency is the result of his improved conditions rather than the cause. It is the fact that he has a good home, plenty of food, and a savings account which makes him efficient and intelligent. And the mass production which improves his output is due to a steady market. This steady market is furnished principally by the people of the United States. It is a home market, and the home market is preserved, and a great steady production made possible, by the protective tariff.

If we were on a free trade basis we would be competing with European nations in our great home market as well as in the world markets. Our manufacturers would be up against European dumping, and our working men would be competing with a European wage scale which does not take into account comfortable homes, good food and bank accounts. Mass production would not be possible under such conditions and we would soon be on an economic level with Europe.

Any investigation of our prosperity and the improved condition of our workers eventually brings the investigator to the fact that it is our immense home market which makes the present enviable situation possible, and that this home market is fostered principally by the protective tariff.

The many friends of Mr. W. W. Fox are delighted to see him able to be out again after several months of sickness.

Days We'll Never Forget--

SUGAR AS AN ISSUE

It is reported from Washington that the opposition to the administration, starting through an investigation in the Senate of the Tariff Commission, intends to make the sugar tariff the paramount issue in the coming campaign. If this is true, then the opposition is going to be as sadly disappointed as it was in its selection of issues for the 1924 campaign.

For the tariff on sugar is one of the schedules most easily defended by the advocate of protection to American industries. It is the theory of the sugar tariff proponents, that this duty on foreign sugar affords protection to the American sugar growers without which the American sugar growing industry would languish and expire altogether. And the sugar industry is important now, not only to the Southern cane sugar region, but to Colorado, Utah and other states in the north and west where the growing of sugar beets has become a very important industry.

The price of sugar to the housewife now is not excessive. But it is the theory of the free traders that if this tariff were taken off the price of sugar would be a trifle lower. Possibly this might be true for a brief period of time, until the American sugar growers were put out of business, and the farmers in several states thereby impoverished. But the foreign sugar industry is now pretty much of a trust, just as the rubber growing industry is a trust. So when American competition was killed off, there would be nothing to prevent the foreign sugar monopoly from doing exactly what the rubber trust has done—namely boost the price to a figure that would remind us again of war time prices.

Rubber manufacturers are now telling us that the way for American rubber users to protect themselves from foreign monopoly is to grow their own. What is true of rubber is true of sugar. If we want to protect ourselves from a foreign sugar monopoly we want to provide it with competition by continuing to grow our own. Not only will this help the beet sugar farmer. It will eventually assist the corn farmer too, because corn sugar is going to become an important American commodity in the near future.

EXCLUSIVE

"Does your wife enjoy being a voter?"

"I'm not sure," replied Mr. Meekton. "She says she hates the idea of being seen at the polls with some of the people who are voting nowadays."

Through the use of purebred sires for all classes of domestic livestock the Republic of Mexico is planning to improve its livestock. Purebred sires and other breeding stock will be bought and a roll of honor composed of persons participating in the work will be established.

The Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association, St. Paul, announces sales of approximately $40,000,000 in 1925. Over 80,000,000 pounds of butter was handled by this Association for its 450 member units having 73,000 dairy-farmer patrons.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner

THE UNION-BANNER IS NOW $1.50 A YEAR STRAIGHT

The readers of The Union-Banner are again reminded that the subscription price of the paper is $1.50 a year, straight, cash in advance, and all subscriptions are taken off the mailing list not more than fifteen days after expiration.

Some who have gotten the paper in $1.00 clubs heretofore are appealing to us to sell them the paper again at that price. We are forced to tell them that we can't accept subscriptions in that way.

The only way we accept subscriptions is at the full price of $1.50 for a year, $1.00 for 8 months, 75 cents for 6 months, and 50 cents for 4 months.

We know that The Union-Banner is worth $1.50 a year, and we hope all who have taken the paper in the past will continue with us. We would be glad if we could sell you the paper for $1.00, but we can't do it.

Using the wrong kind of fertilizer is equal to throwing money away.

Good seed, good fertilizer, good land, and good farmers make an unbeatable team.

"Only women with decided coloring can wear bright colors."—Miss Josephine Eddy, Auburn.

Hang pictures in the children's room down where they can see them. Pictures at the grown-up's eye level can't be enjoyed by the child.

One teaspoonful of gasoline to each hen, fed in a moist mash or on wheat, is a reliable remedy for all kinds of worms in poultry, including the tapeworm.

Hon. M. B. Grace of Birmingham, candidate for Attorney General of Alabama in the Democratic primary, was a visitor to Clanton Monday, in the interest of his political campaign.

Twenty-five farmers in Marshall County, Ala., are trying Bermuda onions this year. They have planted about an acre each. While it is an experiment, it is thought that they will succeed.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of March 21, 1901.

Thorsby held its first municipal election last Saturday. K. G. Faegre was elected mayor; J. Bice, J. L. Foss, C. K. Helland, Ira E. Sarber, and E. F. Mead, aldermen. There are now three incorporated town in Chilton, viz: Clanton, Jemison, Thorsby.

Messrs. Cal Foshee and Crump Graham of Maplesville gave us a pleasant call Sunday.—Stanton News.

Miss Velma White of Lily was a visitor here this week.

Mrs. W. T. Callen has returned home after a visit to relatives at Stanton.

Sheriff Kilgore on Tuesday went to Talladega and brought back John H. Easterling, who escaped from the jail at Clanton 14 years ago. He was under indictment for grand larceny.

Prof. J. M. Collier of Jemison was in town Saturday.

Dr. W. E. Stewart, W. H. Foshee, and T. A. Curry went to Montgomery to the State Convention Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Day of Dothan have been visiting the parents of the latter.

HOME BOUGHT vs. MAIL ORDER

Down in a certain town a man bought some groceries. The bill was $3.20, the dealer said.

"Good gracious," said the man. "I can get the same things from a mail order house for $2.82."

"That's less than they cost me," said the grocer, "but I'll sell them on the same terms as the mail order house just the same."

"All right," said the customer. "You can send them along and charge to my account."

"Not on your life," replied the grocer. "No charge accounts. You can't do business with the mail order house that way. Fork over the cash."

The customer handed over the cash.

"Now 2 cents for postage and 5 cents for money order."

The customer, inwardly raving, kept to his agreement and paid the 7 cents.

"Now 35 cents expressage."

"Well, I'll be ——," he said, but paid it, saying: "Now I'll take them home for myself and be rid of this foolery."

"Hand them to you? Where do you think you are? You're at home now, and you'll have to wait a week."

Whereupon he placed the articles on the shelf and put the money in his cash drawer.

"That makes $3.26," said the grocer. "These groceries have cost you 6 cents more and taken you a week longer to get them than if you had paid my price in the first place."

No, Thank You!—
LET US TAN YOUR HIDE!
—From a display ad in 'Farm and Fireside.'

Rhyne's Cook Wilt-resistant cotton has been grown in this section for the last 5 years. I grow it exclusively and consider it the best variety to plant for this section on wilt land. I have seed for sale in new branded bags direct from Rhyne Bros., of Benton, Ala. J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.
3-18-4t-pd.

about Taking Chances

American railroads are striving to reduce the number of accidents, both among their employes and the public generally.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad employs approximately 52,000 people; about 45,000 of these are employed in hazardous occupations, and it is a matter of pride on the part of this Railroad to state that the number of injuries and fatalities per year is constantly being reduced.

In the year 1923 there were 4,303 injuries among L. & N. employes, with 60 fatalities. During the year 1925 there was a reduction to 2,852 injuries, or one-third, and to 44 fatalities, or one-fourth.

In 1925 the L. & N. handled over 10,400,000 passengers an average distance of about 70 miles, without a single fatality, and with only 9 persons injured, in train accidents. In fact, as convincing evidence of the L. & N.'s remarkable safety record, there has not been a passenger killed in a train accident in the past six years, notwithstanding it has handled over 30,000,000 passengers an average distance of about 60 miles.

Safety devices of every sort are employed in this Company's shops and on every mile of track.

The American railroads are preaching and practicing "Safety First." Let everybody help.

L&N
LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.

120

ARTICLES OF TOILET

Ours is the drug store where you get the latest and best in toilet articles of every kind. We buy only the highest quality because we realize the importance of having face powders, creams and lotions good and dependable. Anything you buy from us will beautify without harm. For your toilet and bath depend on us for your supplies.

Alred Drug Company

CLANTON, ALA.

'SFUNNY WORLD

One of the east's largest cities boasts a woman as chief of the fire department. And why not? Don't most women know a thing or two about—hose and how to roll it?

Report says a London doctor has succeeded in "isolating single germs." Wonder what he did with the married ones?

They've Got To Be Whistled At!

"Bullets Used To Put Down Mexican Revolt" chronicles a dispatch from Mexico. Guess that's about the only language a lot of those rebels down there understand.

"Wine with wallop wins U. S. approval" according to a Washington report. How nice. Now try and get it—"with legal approval!"

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE!

Scientist says "give a plant a shot of liquor and it gets wobbly in the knees just like human beings." Only, in the case of a plant, it lays down and goes to sleep. Human beings, after a few shots, want to start out to lick the world. And not a few of them blossom out before the judge next mornin'.

Baldness, in some instances, they say is due to defective teeth. Gosh, we didn't know the roots of our hair started down that far.

"Seattle youngster, 3 years of age, shows knowledge of autos"—reads an item from that city. Well, well. That's a lot more than some of our 30, 40 and 50 year old youngsters, driving their own cars, can say. (Ask any pedestrian!)

"Trouble Ahead!" shouts a calamity-howling stargazer. He didn't mean "ahead." Guess what he wanted to say was "in my head."

Reindeer hides are now used for aviators' suits. So they can "horn in" better amongst the clouds?

The Dear Souls

London report states that English women now carry their money, a powder puff and a lipstick in the heels of their slippers because chiffon hose reveal the whereabouts of such valuables. That's what you'd call "stepping out on hubby's income," eh?

It Can't Be "Did!"

Radio engineer tells us he has some good "News for Radio fans. Static is to be entirely eliminated." Huh. It can't be done as long as some of these misguided note garglers get a place on the programs.

Bachelors of London have organized a debating class. Can't blame them. Having no "better halves" with whom to engage in verbal battles, they might as well go in training by arguing with each other.

Prying motion picture experts are said to have proved that even the "lowly radish feels the thrill of love." Yes, but many a horse-radish has made folks sprinkle tears of lovely (?) surprise after they had been tempted to embrace it!

New shingles—thirty inches long and one-half inch thick the greater part of the way—are now on the building market. Now—Johnny, you'll have to behave!

They've put special boots on an elephant in the London zoo to cure it of knock-knees. Which reminds us to ask—did you ever notice one of our 300-pound flappers with her galoshes open and flapping in the breeze as she leisurely strolled down the street. Then, you know what we mean.

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"What time will the 2 o'clock train get in?"

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

Why Pay More When You Can Buy It From Chicago Sales Co.'s Store For Less.

CHICAGO SALES CO.

NEXT TO FIRST NATIONAL BANK—CLANTON, ALA.

Our One Marked Cash Price Assures You Of the very lowest price. Everybody pays the same.

You Will Find A Store Full of New Goods Here

LOOK! THREE BIG SPECIALS SATURDAY!

$1.39

Men's good heavy grade Overalls, sizes to fit everybody.

Also, Jumpers to match, at the same price.

5 CENTS PER YARD

500 yards of good home spun quilt linging—not over 9 yards to one customer, and for the one day only, Saturday. Please don't ask for more than 9 yards.

98 CENTS PER YARD

Just received about 20 pieces of new flowered and printed Crepes, from New York. Just the cl th for your Easter dress. The patterns and quality are the best to be had.

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

LOST—3 miles east of Clanton, female hound pup, two-thirds grown; white with small red and blue specks; large black spot over eye and ear. If found notify Arthur Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 2. Information confidential, $5.00. 3-11-5t-ch

LOST OR STOLEN—1 white and liver spotted Pointer bitch, medium size, very friendly, answers to name "Kate"; missing from my place since Friday, March 19. Will pay liberal reward to finder or information as to her whereabouts. K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala. 3-25-tf

SONG BOOKS—If you haven't yet got your 1926 Showalter song book you will find them at the Clanton Cash Store; price, 35 cents each. A. D. Huett. 1t-ch.

WRIGLEY'S P.K.
NEW HANDY PACK
Fits hand ~ pocket and purse
More for your money and the best Peppermint Chewing Sweet for any money
Look for Wrigley's P. K. Handy Pack on your Dealer's Counter G7

I. T. Garner, optometrist, of Calera, will be in Clanton, over Tom Kemp's store, the fourth Saturday in every month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. 1-28-26—tf.

WANTED TO BUY—Good, clean, sound nitrate of soda sacks. J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala. 3-18-3t-ch

FOR SALE—A limited quantity of New U. S. Army Pants, in sizes 33x33, 34x31½, and 35x30 all Wool and brand New, while they last at $2.75 per pair, post paid. Money refunded if out of sizes wanted. G. W. Moates, Clanton, Ala., Route 5.

WANTED—A man to represent the National Life Association of Des Moines, Iowa, in territory open in Chilton County. Company is 26 years old; assets of $3,000,000.00 for the protection of policy holders; four popular policies. Ordinary insurance age, 35, $16.36 per thousand. For particulars address W. C. English, State agent, Rockford, Ala. 3-11-4t-ch

WANTED—Five lumber trucks to haul at Lowndesboro, Ala.; 5-mile haul on good road. W. A. Reynolds, Clanton, Ala. 3-18-2t-ch

FOR SALE—Farm consisting of 220 acres, about 70 acres in cultivation and the rest in timber; dwelling, tenant house; running water on place; located 3-4 mile north of Billingsley, Ala. For further information write Mrs. C. Faulkner, 14 Dunbar Street, Montgomery, Ala. 3-25-4t-pd

FOR SALE—One 4-room house in Clanton, on half-acre of ground, located on old B. & M. highway; price $850.00; half cash and terms on balance if desired. Apply to Tommie Hand, Prattville, Ala. 3-25-2t-pd

FOR SALE OR TRADE—One good mule; will sell cheap, or will trade for cattle. W. M. Devaughn, Verbena, Ala., R 2. 3-25-3t-ch

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

PROVIDENCE—BEAT 13

Our Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. are progressing nicely.

There is some sickness in this community at present. Mr. Berl Martin and Mrs. Jewel Gothard have been called to the bedside of their father, who is very ill.

We are expecting to hold a missionary service in our Sunday school on March 28, as requested of all Baptist people by the Southern Baptist Convention and Mission Board. We hope this meeting will be beneficial to all. We invite all who will to come and be with us in this service.

SHOULTS NEWS

We are having quite a cold snap but the farmers are worhing right along to get ready to plant when the spring weather opens.

Mr. Denson Sewell and Miss Amy McGee were married last Thursday.

Sunday was preaching day and a good crowd attended the service and Sunday school. We are having good prayer meetings now.

We had a fine play at the school house Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Denson Sewell dined with Mr. G. G. Sewell at Plantersville Saturday.

Bro. Ed Littlejohn and family were guests of Mr. H. S. Sewell Sunday.

So far we have had no flu in this section.

We will put new seats in the church in the near future.

There will be an oyster supper at the home of Silas Oden next Saturday night. Everybody come and be sure ot bring some one with you.

Mrs. Gladys Lathem spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. P. M. Sewell.

REFUGE

Last Saturday and Sunday were our regular meetings days, and as usual we heard some of the best sermons ever uttered. They were enjoyed by the entire congregation.

Our singing society met in regular session Sunday afternoon, and some fine singing was enjoyed. Directors were J. E. Miner, Willie Mims, Jesse Baker, S. L. Baker, O. R. Robinson, R. M. Robinson. Organists were Mrs. Annie Robinson, Mrs. Alice Baker, and Misses Alene Baker and Ruby Johnson.

SHILOH

There will be an all day service at Shiloh on the 1st Sunday in April. The program is as follows:

9:40 a. m.—Devotional service, by the pastor.

10:00—"The Value of the Church," by Judge Houston Howard and others.

11:15—Sermon, by Rev. M. W. Mims.

12:00—Noon hour.

1:20 p. m.—Devotional service, by J. D. Deason.

1:45—"The Needs of the Church," by J. L. Johnson and others.

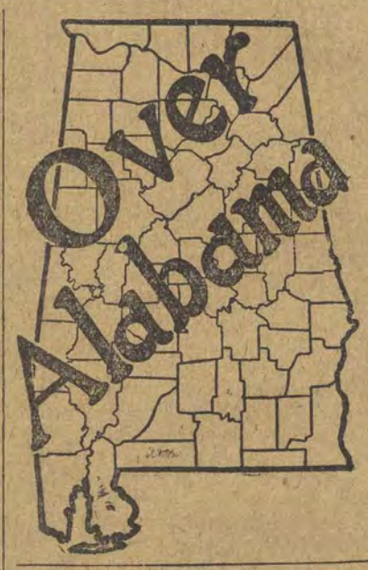
We invite all who will to come and help us in this meeting.—T. J. Deason, Pastor.

The National Poultry Council has issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to unite in a national program to pay homage to the American hen. "Hen Day" is to be observed in the various states as state committees see fit. The programs, according to the proclamation, will stress the egg's great distinction, its peculiar merit, and its usefulness in the diet of the people.

The rural woman who works 11 hours a day in the winter and 13 hours a day in the summer is listed by the census taker as not engaged in a gainful occupation; which seems equivalent to a grouping of unproductive members of society.

"The agricultural population produces the bravest men, the most valiant soldiers and a class of citizens the least given to all evil designs."—Cato, about 200 B. C.

Charley D. Hughes of Verbena was a visitor to Clanton Monday.



FRIENDSHIP

The weather is favorable for farming now and we are preparing to plant corn.

Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely. However, we hope to have a larger and more regular attendance when spring opens up.

Mr. J. C. Foshee and family from Birmingham have been spending a few days in this community with relatives and friends.

Next Sunday is our regular preaching day and we hope a large crowd will come out and hear the sermons. We feel sure you will be benefitted.

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Blueprints for the new passenger station at Attalla have been finished and approved.

Will B. Groce has sued the National Cement Company of Birmingham for $100,000, charging false arrest.

Kenneth Wright, of Tuscaloosa, has received notice of his appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

E. Wilkinson, president of the Western Grain Co., has been re elected president of the Birmingham Traffic Association.

A county-wide evangelistic campaign will be put on by the Tuscaloosa County Baptist Association to begin July 18 and continue until July 25.

D. J. Boutwell, 45, died at the Masonic Hospital, Troy, of paralysis. He was a rural mail carrier for 18 years and was widely known in Pike County.

C. W. Ashcraft, at the present time member of the State Legislature, has announced his candidacy to succeed himself in the House of Representatives.

Excavation work for the new Baptist Church at Carbon Hill is under way. It is to be a two-story brick structure and will cost approximately $20,000.

The city commissioners, at a meeting, adopted ordinances covering many streets to be improved in the City of Florence at an estimated cost of $141,000.

A church to church campaign is being conducted among the Baptist churches of Lauderdale County, under the auspices of the executive board of the association.

A committee including T. A. Bowles, chairman; B. B. Meadows, C. H. Rountree and F. H. Pointer was appointed to formulate plans for a civic industrial drive for Albany-Decatur.

The Tennessee Valley Bank Building, Huntsville's first high office building, will be finished by the first of April as far as the offices are concerned, according to the contractors.

Charles Norris, contractor for the King Co., from Chicago, has arrived in Sheffield and entered upon his duties. Work upon the King Co.'s street standard building will begin immediately according to Mr. Norris' statement.

The Alabama Public Service Commission has received plans for extensive depot improvements, from the Southern and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroads, for the depot at Stevenson, it was announced.

Rev. J. F. Akin, a student of the Southeastern Seminary, at Louisville Ky., who will graduate in June, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Jasper Presbyterian Church, which has not had a regular pastor for some time.

Edgar Fennel, Decatur negro, is dead as the result of an automobile accident on the Bee Line highway between Decatur and Athens. Something went wrong with the steering gear of the automobile, causing the wreck.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Bay Minette Presbyterian Church, under the leadership of Mrs. Ort H. Ertzinger, has just attained 100 per cent efficiency, according to the chart of efficiency points as prescribed by the general assembly of the church.

Joseph F. Collier, merchant and planter of Huntsville, has been elected general manager of the Dixie Warehouse and Storage Co., and will supervise the erection of the big cotton warehouse that is being built. The warehouse, which will be of about 10,000-cotton bales capacity, will be equipped with a sprinkler system and firewalls between compartments.

Mr. Sanford Clark of Mt. Creek was among the visitors to Clanton Monday.

PLEASANT VALLEY NEWS

Our Sunday school is growing fine. We have 90 on roll, with an average of 60 present every Sunday.

We have preaching each first Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be an egg hunt after service on the next preaching Saturday. Come and bring plenty of eggs.

Mr. R. C. Morris and family have been very ill with flu, but were able to be at Sunday school last Sunday.

Mrs. Cora Jones has been very ill, but is improving now.

We were saddened by the death of one of our members recently, Mrs. Leila Patterson. She leaves a husband and three children, one brother, two sisters, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss.

Mr. Gip Burkhalter died Friday and was buried at Chestnut Creek Saturday.

Mr. Will Morris and family spent Sunday with his father and mother.

SARDIS NEWS

Sunday was our regular preaching day. Everybody seemed to enjoy the sermon.

Mr. F. Owen and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Owens.

Miss Rosa Ratliff spent last week with her sisters, Mrs. Theresa Deavers and Mrs. Thula Cox.

Miss Alpha Ratliff is spending this week in Selma with her brother, Mr. Floyd Ratliff.

Mr. Clayton Ratliff of Selma was visiting in this community Sunday.

Isadore Zemurray, prominent wholesale fruit dealer of Gadsden, must pay $750 each to Willis Hood and R. E. Jones for alleged personal injuries and $740 to Green Jones for damage to his automobile, because of an accident on the Gadsden-Birmingham highway, according to the verdict of a St. Clair County jury at Ashville. It was claimed that Mr. Zemurray's car, going at a high speed, ran into the Jones car while it was standing still.

Negotiations by the officials of the Port of Birmingham Co. with the Southern Railway for the purchase of the Ensley Southern Railroad have come to a definite conclusion by the confirmation on the part of Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern, of the details for payment of the purchase price of $500,000, W. D. Nesbitt, president of the port corporation, announced. Simultaneously with the taking over by the Warrior River Terminal Co., a subsidiary of the Port of Birmingham Co. of the Ensley Southern, operations will begin as a part of the Mississippi-Warrior service

CHESTNUT CREEK

Our singing society met last Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The chairman opened the exercise by leading one song, after which prayer was offered by Rev. D. S. Robinson.

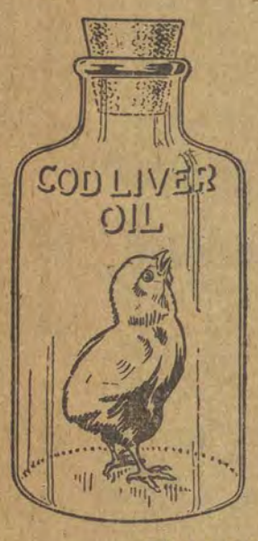
The large crowd of attentive listeners were entertained during the afternoon by Messrs. Taylor, Miller, Lee Grant, Jesse Jones, Ammie Boswell, R. T. Grant, J. R. Robinson, J. W. Cagle, W. M. Devaughn, and L. T. Grant. We had some quartets by Mr. L. T. Grant and his "girls" that were fine.

We are proud of the large crowds of people that attend our singings, and you are always welcome.

Our society will not meet next first Sunday afternoon because of the annual singing at Poplar Springs.—Mrs. Mollie Miner, Sec'y.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends in Clanton and community, also of Montgomery, for their kindness shown us during the illness and death of our wife and mother, Mrs. M. L. Burnett, on March 15th.—H. M. Burnett and family.



LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

M-3

Bottled Sunshine for Baby Chicks

IN ALFOCORN CHICK MASH

The biggest forward stride in chick feeding since poultry raisers learned the value of digestible protein! Cod Liver Oil is "sunlight" for baby chicks—it insures proper bone development, prevents leg weakness. But until the Alfocorn process was discovered, the "sunshine" vitamins of Cod Liver Oil were lost when exposed to light and air.

'Sunshine" is sealed into Alfocorn Chick Mash by mixing the Cod Liver Oil with minerals the chick needs.

Alfocorn Chick Mash is as complete as the egg food which the chicks got in the shell. Dried Buttermilk for proper digestion—creamy Oatmeal for heat and energy. Every other food element necessary for life and growth. If you want healthy, fast growing chicks that will develop into high-producing layers—Feed Alfocorn Chick Mash—the perfect starting mash.

Free! Come in and see the new Alfocorn Chick Fountain. Insures clean water all the time. Strong, sanitary, easy to fill. You'll need one or more of them. Free!

Jas. C. Jones
CLANTON, ALABAMA

ALFOCORN
Guaranteed
BABY CHICK MASH
In Dollar Mark Bags

USED
Ford
CARS

See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1925 Roadster, New Paint	$250.00
1925 Coupe, New Paint	225.00
1924 Touring, New Paint	150.00
1925 Touring, New Paint	175.00
Some Good Values	40.00

Ford Trucks Cheap

If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company

Sales Ford Service
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Clanton, Ala.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Birthday Dinner.

On last Friday evening Bill Miner entertained a few friends at a dinner party in celebration of his thirteenth birthday anniversary. Spring blossoms formed a pretty centerpiece on the dining table. A course dinner was served to Marjorie Mauney, Vivian Gray, Kathryn Hayes, Virginia Alred, Janice Danforth, Mary Goodwyn Jones, Erle Ellis, Arthur Johnson, Jr., and the host.

Y. W. A. Meeting.

Misses Jewel and Pearl Miner entertained the members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary at their home on Tuesday afternoon. The devotional was led by Miss Pearl Miner. The topic for the afternoon's program was "The King of Glory." Miss Erin Danforth read an interesting paper, "Let The King Of Glory In." A splendid paper, "Who Is The King?" was read by Miss Jewel Miner, and "The King and The Alabaster Box" was the subject of Miss Evelyn Littlejohn's paper. The hostesses served a delicious ice course to Mrs. J. Watts Moore, Misses Kathleen Mullins, Erin Danforth, and Annie Bell White.

Wedding at Mitchell Dam.

The home of the bride at Mitchell Dam was the scene of the marriage of Miss Alpha Inez Cagle to Mr. Thomas Eugene Wyatt, on Thursday afternoon, March 18, at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. E. A. Norris of Corinth administered the nuptial rites in the presence of a number of friends.

Mrs. Wyatt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Cagle of Mitchell Dam. Mr. Wyatt is publisher of The Union-Banner, of Clanton.

After a short wedding trip to Birmingham Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt returned to Clanton where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Oscar Jones Hostess.

A pretty affair of the past week was on Wednesday, when Mrs. Oscar Jones delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others at her home on First Avenue. The home was profusely decorated with pink and white carnations and flowering potted plants. Upon arrival of the guests tea and wafers were served by Mrs. J. C. Jones. Tally cards, table markers, and score pads carried out the St. Patrick's idea. Following a series of bridge games Mrs. John Browder held high score and was presented a pretty green flower bowl, and Mrs. Frank Callen was awarded the booby prize, a potted plant. Prizes were also suggestive of St. Patrick's Day. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Jones, served a tempting salad plate with hot coffee. On each plate was a tiny green hat filled with green and white mints.

Those included in this hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, John Browder, Frank Callen, N. S. Johnson, V. J. Heard, Arthur Johnson, Grady Reynolds, J. Watts Moore, Eric Hart, H. M. Simpson, Carrie Mullins, J. C. Jones; Misses Bettie and Kathleen Mullins.

Mrs. Paul C. Mims and young son spent several days of last week with relatives at Sylacauga.

Young Matrons' Sewing Club.

Mrs. Grady Taylor was hostess to the members of the Young Matrons' Sewing Club last Thursday afternoon at her home on Second Avenue. The home was decorated with pink and white carnations and potted plants. Mrs. Taylor, assisted by Miss Mary Foshee, served a delicious salad plate with ice tea.

Those enjoying this hospitality were Mesdames Joe Higgins, W. M. Wyatt, Hubert Jones, Lucien Duncan, Bill Murphy; Miss Mary Foshee.

Thursday Sewing Club Entertained.

The members of the Thursday Sewing Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. John M. VanDerveer last Thursday afternoon at her home on Eighth Street. Spring blossoms and potted plants were the decorations of the home for this occasion.

After a couple of hours spent in sewing, the hostess served delicious refreshments to Mesdames E. E. Upchurch, John T. Ellis, T. C. McSwain, J. P. Hayes, Bama Cox, M. L. White, V. J. Gragg, and J. Lee Smith.

Mrs. J. P. Hayes has returned from a few days visit to Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan of Birmingham.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson spent Friday shopping in Birmingham.

Mrs. J. R. Mullins and sons, John and Edwin, of Montgomery, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foshee.

Mrs. John T. Ellis expects to leave this week for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Longshore at Gadsden, and to visit friends at Greenville.

Mr. Joe Mullins, a student at the University of Alabama, spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. P. D. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wingard went to Shelby Monday to attend the funeral of Mr. W. B. Acker, a victim of the Woodward explosion.

Mr. Lathem Ellis of Miami, Fla., has joined Mrs. Ellis in a visit to relatives in town.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Felston Mullins will regret to know of the serious illness of Mrs. Mullins.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan of Birmingham were guests of their mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones, for the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Powers of Lock 12 were in town Saturday.

Mrs. Virgie Cromwell of Montgomery is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mullins and little daughter, Emmie Sue, of Mitchell Dam, visited relatives here Sunday.

Miss Bettie Morris Gardner spent the week end in Verbena with relatives and friends.

Miss Mary McGibboney of Shelby and Mrs. Geo. Busby of Calera were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wingard Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith of Prattville, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Elmore were here Sunday to attend the funeral of their brother-in-law, Mr. Charles Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sartor, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ross, and Mrs. B. M. Roberts motored to Montgomery Sunday and visited relatives.

Mr. Joel Gulledge of Verbena was here Monday.

Miss Louise Connatser of Thorsby visited friends here Friday.

Rev. E. A. Norris of Verbena was a visitor in town Saturday.

Mr. W. H. Strock of Verbena was in town Saturday.

Miss Hazel Kreider spent the week end in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Pipes spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Mrs. J. P. VanDerveer is visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Pow in Bessemer.

Miss Ressie Harris spent Sunday in Stanton with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harris.

Mr. W. J. Billingsley of Thorsby was among the visitors here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Benziger of Mitchell Dam were shopping in town Friday.

Rev. M. W. Mims of Maplesville was in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hughes and children of Cooper were here Saturday.

Miss Myrtle Powell spent the week-end with her father, Mr. Tom Littlejohn.

Mr. H. A. Harris Stanton was here Saturday attending teachers' meeting.

Miss Ruth Jones, who teaches near Jemison, spent the week end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hughes of Billingsley were visitors here Monday.

Miss Irene Jones of Bessemer spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callen motored to Montgomery Sunday.

Mr. T. C. McSwain made a business trip to Deatsville Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Parrish of Thorsby were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Browder Sunday.

Mrs. J. Hance Alred spent several days last week at Mitchell Dam with Mesdames John Hollis and Clifford Mullins.

Mr. F. A. Gulledge of Verbena was in town Monday.

Rev. C. D. Messer of Petre is visiting his son, Mr. Mc D. Messer.

Mr. T. L. Patrick of Billingsley was here Friday attending the executive board meeting of Unity Association.

Miss Cleo Broadhead spent the week end in town with relatives.

Mrs. T. C. McSwain spent Wednesday shopping in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McNeil of Jemison were visitors in town Friday.

Miss Leona Stanley spent the week end at Titus with home folks.

Rev. R. L. Bonner of Jemison was a visitor in Clanton Wednesday.

Miss Hattie Jones of Birmingham spent the week end with her parents near Clanton.

5 Beautiful Flowers Free!

Write for Hastings' Catalog

You can get 5 packets of seeds of 5 different and very beautiful flowers free. Hastings' 1926 Seed Catalog tells you all about it.

Hastings' Seeds are "The Standard of the South." They give the best results in our Southern gardens and on our farms. Hastings' new 1926 Catalog has 112 pages in all, full of pictures from photographs, handsome covers in full colors, truthful, accurate descriptions and valuable culture directions.

We want you to have this catalog in your home. It tells all about Hastings' garden, flower and field seeds, plants and bulbs. Write for it today. A postcard request brings it to you by return mail.

H. G. HASTINGS CO., SEEDSMEN, ATLANTA, GA.

Mrs. C. N. Parnell of Maplesville was shopping in town last Wednesday.

Mrs. Hedgepath, who has been teaching near Clanton, left Friday for Sylacauga.

Mesdames S. C. Wood and Howard of Thorsby were shopping here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore and children, Helen and Joe, motored to Montgomery Thursday and spent the day.

Elder and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson and son have returned from a motor trip to points in Florida, where they visited relatives.

Mr. Paul Klotz of Montgomery was in town Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. Ludie Lenoir returned Saturday from an extended visit to relatives at Selma.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Simpson spent Friday in Montgomery.

Mr. Frank Callen made a business trip to Montgomery Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor left Monday for a motor trip to south Alabama and Columbus, Ga.

Mesdames Frank Callen, L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, J. Watts Moore, and Miss Kathleen Mullins motored to Birmingham Friday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. Cecil Todd and baby, Cecil, of Birmingham, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Jones.

Mr. Frank Mullins made a business trip to Montgomery Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Calloway and children of Prattville were here attending court Tuesday.

Mr. W. I. Mullins spent Tuesday in Montgomery at the bedside of Mrs. Felston Mullins, who is critically ill.

Friends of Mrs. L. C. Ross will regret to know that she underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Central Alabama Hospital Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sarber of Elmore were visitors here Sunday.

Dr. Owsley and Mr. Johnson of Elmore were here Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Miller.

Dr. J. P. Hayes and Mrs. Grady Broadhead motored to Birmingham Tuesday and spent the day shopping.

Messrs. R. C. McDavid and John M. VanDerveer made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Miss Alma Robinson and Miss Elizabeth Duncan, students at Judson College, are spending the spring holidays with home folks.

Mr. Jack Hayes, who is in school at the University of Alabama, is spending a few days with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes.

Mrs. Mattie Williams returned Friday from a few days visit to relatives in Birmingham.

Mr. Jude Hosey of Sylacauga was a visitor here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter of Elmore were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Connell Sunday.

Mr. W. H. Kendrick of Elmore spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chestnut and Mr. and Mrs. Young of Montgomery attended the funeral of Mr. Charles Miller Sunday.

Messrs. Paul C. Mims and Clyde Lowe were visitors in Sylacauga last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. "Red" Woolley of Marion was visiting friends here Tuesday.

Mrs. Stanley Hubbard of Verbena spent a short while in town Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Stanley Davis of Enterprise was a visitor in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. E. G. Caldwell of Pletcher was here on business Tuesday.

Mr. H. C. Collins of Montgomery was in town Tuesday.

Hear the Edison artists at the high school April 6th. Free tickets at the Upchurch Drug Store after April 1.

C. E. MILLER DEAD

At his home in South Clanton last Saturday morning, occurred the death of Mr. Chas. E. Miller, age 35 years. The remains were buried at the Clanton Cemetery Sunday. Funeral services were conducted at the Clanton Baptist church by Rev. S. J. Ezell.

The deceased is survived by his widow, the daughter of Mr. J. Wiley Smith of Clanton, and one small daughter. Mr. Miller moved to Clanton only a few weeks ago from Elmore.

Hall Tyus has been called to the bedside of his mother, who is ill at Birmingham, where she is living with her daughter. She is about 90 years old, has been ill with flu and paralysis, and her case is doubtful. She has lived to see her third generation. She is a devoted member of the Missionary Baptist church.

Robert Evans made a business trip to Tuscaloosa last week.

CLANTON KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ELECT OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the Clanton Commandery No. 27, Knights Templar, held Tuesday night, March 23rd, officers for the ensuing year were elected. Those elected to the various offices were: Eminent Commander, J. S. Hubbard; Generalissimo, J. Mell Martin; Captain General, John D. Armstrong; Senior Warden, Dr. T. J. Marcus; Junior Warden, M. C. Broadhead; Recorded, G. C. Harris; Treasurer, W. H. Sartor; Prelate, S. J. Ezell; Standad Bearer, J. E. Rasberry; Sword Bearer, B. J. Sessions; Warder, Buford Lawrence; Sentinel, G. F. Harris.

The Commandery has just closed one of the most successful years of its history, with Dr. V. J. Gragg as Eminent Commander, who has just retired from this office.

The members of the Commandery have made arrangements to observe Easter at the Clanton Baptist Church, and the public has a cordial invitation to be present and worship with them.

Results Count!

Give Us Your Birmingham Listings

Birmingham property listed with us gets quick action. We'll advise you honestly and intelligently regarding the fair market value. We'll sell it at the best profit possible. If you want results give us your listing!

Lamar Smith Realty Co.

Realtors - Birmingham

1st Floor Bankers Bond Building

W. R. K. Stanford of Lawley was here this week attending Circuit Court. Mr. Stanford is suing the Southern Railway for damages which he sustained in an accident last year.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner

Night Coughing Relieved At Once

Why suffer continually from a persistent, weakening night cough when you can get almost instant relief, and usually break the cough completely in 24 hours by a new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. As a result even the worst cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF MAPLESVILLE

LOCATED AT MAPLESVILLE, ALA.,
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 12, 1926

RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts,		$ 54,526.90
2. Overdrafts,		23.03
3. U. S. Bonds, Cert. of Ind., and W. S. Stamps,		100.00
5. Banking House,		900.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures,		1,447.45
8. Cash (a) Currency,	$5,226.00
(b) Gold,	385.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies,	159.17
Total,		5,770.17
9. Due from Banks,		12,076.52
TOTAL,		$ 74,844.07

LIABILITIES

1. Capital Stock Paid in,		$ 10,000.00
2. Surplus Fund,		5,000.00
3. Undivided Profits less Expenses and Taxes Paid,		641.83
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits,	$44,703.41
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits,	$44,703.41
(f) Cashier's Checks,	302.13
Total,		45,005.54
6. Time Deposits (b) Time Certificates,		14,196.79
TOTAL,		$ 74,844.07

The State of Alabama, Chilton County: Before me came H. L. Smith, Cashier of The Bank of Maplesville, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. H. L. SMITH, Cashier.

ATTEST:
J. W. FOSHEE,
H. M. NIX,
F. H. BROWN,
Directors.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 17th day of March, 1926.
J. E. DENNIS,
Notary Public.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF

THE BANK OF VERBENA

LOCATED AT VERBENA, ALA.,
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 12, 1926

RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts		$ 85,007.19
4. Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants		25,930.00
5. Banking House		2,600.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures		700.00
8. Cash (a) Currency	$6,804.00
(b) Gold	395.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies	594.16
Total		7,793.16
9. Due from Banks		22,721.81
TOTAL		$144,752.16

LIABILITIES

1. Capital Stock Paid in		$ 15,000.00
2. Surplus Fund		7,500.00
3. Undivided Profits less Expenses and Taxes paid		3,136.55
4. Reserve for Taxes and Interest		235.17
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits	$117,697.01
(f) Cashier's Checks	183.43
Total		117,880.44
6. Time Deposits (b) Time Certificates	$1,000.00
Total		1,000.00
TOTAL		$144,752.16

The State of Alabama, Chilton County: Before me came H. W. Davis, Cashier of Bank of Verbena, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. H. W. DAVIS, Cashier.

ATTEST:
D. I. DERAMUS, Jr.,
H. B. OLIVER,
S. L. GIBSON,
Directors.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 18th day of March, 1926.
J. C. PATTILLO,
Notary Public.

STORE AT MITCHELL DAM

I have bought the Store of Mr. Edwards at Mitchell Dam, and will consolidate my present Stock with the former. Will begin business at the Edwards Stand on April 1.

I will be glad to have my friends call on me at my new place of business.

A. L. ROBINSON
Verbena, Ala., - - Route No. 2

Big Bargains in USED CARS

We have recently taken several good cars on NEW CHEVROLET cars, which we are offering at big bargains in order to make quick sale of them.

Chevrolet truck, 1924 model, B & B clutch	$125.00
Chevrolet truck, 1924 model, good condition	150.00
Ford truck, 1925 model, with cab, starter Jumbo Transmission, new paint, only	175.00
Ford truck, with cab, 1924 model, new paint, in perfect condition	165.00
Ford touring, 1923 model	125.00
Ford touring, 1924 model	125.00
Ford touring, 1925 model	25.00

All the above cars can be bought with small cash payment with liberal terms on the balance.

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

Chevrolet Cars and Trucks

Clanton, Ala.

RHYNE'S COOK

Wilt-Resistant Cotton

has led all wilt-resistant varieties in the Alabama Experiment Station tests for the last three years. Stood first in Mississippi Experiment Station test in 1924. A big boll early variety that runs 7/8 to 1 inch staple and turns out 38% to 40% lint.

Absolutely The Best Variety For Chilton County

Seed grown in this section are better adapted than any others from outside. Bred up by individual stalk selections for many years. These seed can be secured from C. A. Pattillo, Billingsley, Ala., J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala., or direct from us. Descriptive pamphlet and price list sent on request.

RHYNE BROS

Benton, Alabama

FAMILY REUNION

A happy occasion was at Mr. C. C. Hayes' last Wednesday, March 17, when the family all met at his home to celebrate his 67th birthday. All his children were there except Mrs. H. T. Childress. The children present were E. C. Hayes and family, N. Hayes and family, Dan C. Hayes and family, C. H. Hayes and family, R. C. Hayes and family, Mrs. Ben Childress and family, and Enoch Hayes and wife. There were 47 of the children and grand children. At noon a bountiful dinner was served to all. The day was spent in jolly talking and picture making.

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please,—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store. (adv)

MARINES ANNEX MORE RIFLE HONORS

Adding one more prize to the scores of shooting trophies they have won in the past, the U. S. Marines of Mare Island, won the Fort Winleld Scott Cup in the Coast Artillery Trophy match, recently fired at Oakland. Several six-man teams competed, the match being shot at ranges of 200 yards, both slow and rapid fire, 300 yards rapid, and 600 yards slow fire.

The competition is under the auspices of the California Rifle and Pistol Association, and has been held annually since 1922. The cup was won by the Coast Artillery team the first two years. The U. S. Marines entered the competition for the first time in 1924, and have succeeded in winning the trophy each year since that time.

FROM JEMISON

We were surprised to read the article in The Union-Banner from Mr. B. F. Littlefield, although we were glad to know that he and his wife enjoyed their trip from Seattle to Alabama to visit their friends and relatives last summer. We hope to have them with us again soon. There is always a welcome for them here.—Vergie Cost.

A registered cow, known as Panonia of Friendship No. 340202, owned by King Pharr, Catherine, Wilcox County, Ala., has won a gold medal and established herself as the champion milk producer of the Jersey breed in Alabama by producing 914 pounds of butter from 15,671 pounds of milk in 365 days while on official test. Her average production for the entire year was 5 gallons of milk and 2 1-2 pounds of butter per day. She milked as high as 60 pounds, or over 7 gallons, in one day.

"COW CAPACITY" KEY TO BIG MILK PRODUCTION

"Cow Capacity" is what causes a cow getting 10 pounds of grain a day to produce 35 pounds of milk, and another cow, under the same conditions and on exactly the same kind and amount of feed, to give only 20 pounds of milk, says the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics.

"Producing milk is not much different than producing shoes or any other commodity except that we here have to deal with a living animal with a milk-producing ability that is more or less inherited," according to the Institute. "One shoe-maker can turn out a pair of shoes to sell at five dollars while another can not afford to sell them for less than seven dollars. There is a big difference in the production costs. Similar differences hold true in dairying. The breed of the animals, their feed, the quality of the animals, and their management, all have their effect on the cost of their milk production. A good dairyman may be able to produce milk at a price that would financially cripple another dairyman.

"Feed is the largest single item in milk production. It takes about the same amount of feed to keep a high producing dairy cow alive as it does to maintain a cow of limited production. A cow can not turn out nutrients in the form of milk which she does not receive in her feed, and the big difference in the production of milk from individual cows lies in the kind of feed they are fed and the amount they are able to consume and convert into milk. A heavy producing cow can utilize a large amount of feed, while the small producer wastes it. It is this cow capacity that makes the large producer a more economical producer than the low producer.

"Many dairymen are misled by a false economy into buying 'cheap' feed for their herds," according to the Institute. "In most instances the cheap feed is not really worth as much at its price as another feed at a higher price. A group of cows on feed selling at $54 a ton, averaged 81 cents worth of grain for every 100 pounds of milk produced. A similar herd on $52 feed averaged 87 cents of feed for each 100 pounds of milk. This means that on the basis of milk produced on the higher priced feed, the $52 feed was really worth only $48.40 a ton, or $3.60 less than the price asked for it."

MRS. C. B. NORRELL
Studio of Music
Over Broadhead's Store
Violin, Piano, Theory, Harmony, modern phrasing and pedaling. Certificate from the Elenberg Conservatory of Music. Years of Experience. Terms Reasonable. Home phone. 3-25-4t-pd.

"It is not best to wash eggs that are to be hatched."—John E. Ivey, Auburn.

LIBERTY HILL

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove singing society met here Sunday afternoon. We had the best singing we have had this year. Directors for the afternoon were Leonard Culp, Harrison Hayes, Herbert Lowery, Kermit Lowery, D. T. Melton, Zack Lowery. Two quartets were sung by the local quartet, assisted by Mr. Herbert Lowery. Organists were Mrs. John Rollins and Miss Lucile Price. The singing was enjoyed by all present. We invite the visitors to come again. Meet us at Cedar Grove next Sunday afternoon—Sec'y.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page 2)

him self. "He done for 'em, Flint did!"

I was afraid he would run out on deck and cry an alarm, and I started for him to prevent this.

"Be still, Ben," I said. "We don't mean to hurt you."

He plucked up a little courage when I spoke.

"'Tain't right for ye to talk," he objected. "I never heard tell as how sperets—"

"We're not spirits," I answered. "We are as alive as you are. Here, feel this."

He shrank back as I placed my clammy, wet hand upon his neck, but the touch reassured him.

"Ye ain't sperets, says you," he repeated amazedly. "Nor ye ain't dead. And seein' as you're here, why, it do stand to reason as how ye ain't aboard the Walrus, which is where ye was and where ye oughter be."

He shook his head.

"'Tis perfectly natural," I retorted. "Master Corlaer and I have escaped from the Walrus."

Ben came a step or two into the cabin and stared hard at Peter. Then he turned a disapproving eye upon the pools of water we had sprinkled on the table and the rich carpet.

"Well, it do look to be 'ee two," he conceded grudgingly. "But ye ha' mucked up the cabin awful, and the captain will like to ha' me triced to

"Yes, He'll Hold It Against You, Ben, 'Tis a Shame."

the main for a dozen wi' the cat Maybe so," he agreed. "But he won't like it that ye come aboard this way."

I seized upon his opening without scruple.

"Yes, he'll hold it against you, Ben. 'Tis a shame."

He shivered, and I appreciated what my great-uncle's wrath must be.

"Ye wouldn't let him now! Master Ormerod! Oh, say ye wouldn't! Ye don't want poor Ben Gunn to be screamin' on the triangle."

"That I don't," I assented warmly. "You must hide us, Ben. Nobody will know that you had aught to do with our coming aboard; and indeed Captain Murray will not care, I think. 'Twas not of his own will he gave us to Flint."

"If 'tis so, why don't 'ee go up on the poop and tell the captain now?"

"He'd have to send us back to Captain Flint. You wouldn't like to be sent aboard the Walrus to stay, Ben."

Ben Gunn cocked his head on one side.

"I ain't so sure," he answered. "Maybe Flint would let me wear seaman's gear and tar my hair."

"If I ever command a ship you shall be a tarry sailorman aboard her, Ben," I promised. "But if you don't hide us quickly, Ben I'll never be able to make good on it."

He caught my hand in his.

"You jes come along o' me. Ben Gunn knows a thing or two, he does. I'll show 'ee, my master. You jest come along o' me."

Peter and I scpped after him up the companionway to a door for'ard of the staterooms we occupied, which led by way of a steep flight of ladder-stairs to the galley and service quarters, a space partitioned off from the vast sweep of the gundeck. Ben unhooked a lanthorn from the wall, opened a trap in the deck and signed us to follow him. At the bottom of a second ladder we found ourselves in a lazaret such as had been our prison aboard the Walrus. But there was this difference in our surroundings: That they were clean. The walls were whitewashed, and around them were ranged kegs and pipes of wines, ale and rum, and racks laden with bottles of various liquors.

"'Tis Murray's wine-cellar," I commented aloud.

Ben Gunn deposited the lanthorn in the middle of the floor and approached his mouth to my ear.

"Aye, and he keeps his treasure 'ere—when so be he has any," he whispered throatily.

"Doth he never come here?"

"Not he. Nor the naygurs, neither. Only Ben Gunn."

"What shall we do for food?"

Ben wiggled with embarrassment.

"Jest you leave that to Ben Gunn. He'll feed ye well, my master. Aye, that he will. And fetch ye clothes from the cabin. But don't 'ee forget the promise, sir. Oh, say ye won't!"

"I won't," I assured him. "But you must get back to the cabin and tidy up the mess we made. Haste, man!"

He scampered up the ladder as if the devil were after him—or Paradise within view.

And during the two days of our stay in the wine-cellar of the Royal James he was as good as his word. He fed us well. He brought me a sufficiency of clothing. And he procured for Peter a quantity of linen and cotton cloth, with thread and needles, with which the Dutchman fashioned himself garments to cover his inconveniently large body.

On the evening of the second day, having learned from Ben that the James had logged several hundred knots since leaving the Rendezvous, we decided 'twould be safe to appear before Murray, and we took an opportunity whilst Ben was serving his dinner to ascend through the galley and present ourselves in the main cabin.

My great-uncle glanced up as he heard the shuffling of our feet on the carpet. A furrow of perplexity was dug betwixt his eyes. Otherwise he revealed no astonishment.

"'Ods-blood! Here is a pretty coil! Peter, I'll wager I have you to thank for it."

"Ja," said Peter, and sat himself in his accustomed place at the table.

"How did you compass it?"

I told him, and he stared curiously at Peter, placidly eating across the table from him.

"I might have known it, Peter. No man ever held you in constraint against your will. I might have known it. What a mess! My plans and combinations all askew! Peter, y' have played at bowls with destiny! A half-hour since I saw my way clear. Now I must plot it fresh. Stap me, what a coil! What moved you to such a desperate course, Robert? Was it to be with me? Or was it O'Donnell's lass?"

I hesitated, frankly loath to hurt him.

"I was concerned for her," I admitted finally. "This ship is no fit place for a maid, as I have said before."

"'Tis better than some," he answered.

But my reply did not seem to annoy him. His gaze dwelt upon my face for several moments longer.

"Well, well," he said as he began to pace the carpet. "We must make the best of it, lad."

(To be continued next week.)

ALMOST TOUCHED BOTTOM

"The past 4 years I have been going down, down, down with catarrh of the stomach and had to give up work a year ago because of weakened condition. I suffered terribly from bloating and colic attacks. MAYR'S 'One Dose Will Convince' was recommended to me. I took a course of it and am now feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the people of Floyd community, and Dr. J. D. Eiland of Verbena, for the kindness and prompt service rendered us during the sickness and death of our wife, mother and sister, Mrs. Lela Patterson. We thank them also for the beautiful floral offerings.—Edgar Patterson, L. E. Patterson, Douglas Patterson, Ruby Patterson, Bertha Stockdale, Eugene Stockdale, Evelyn Stockdale.

SOYBEANS BECOME LEADING HAY CROP

The soybean has become the most poular hay crop in Alabama. Not many years ago it was little known but now it is grown throughout the State and farmers are replacing other hay with it.

The Agricultural Experiment Station at Auburn has conducted many soybean variety tests and has come to the conclusion that the Laredo and Otootan are the two best varieties for hay. Although Mammoth Yellow may make about as much hay as these varieties it is frequently coarse, and therefore, not as valuable.

Although the Laredo is a newer variety it appears to be gaining in favor among farmers. It produces about as much hay as the Otootan and rarely, if ever, fails to make seed, which the Otootan frequently fails to do. Furthermore, the Otootan matures later and must be harvested when weather conditions are more likely to be unfavorable for curing hay.

The soybean planting season in the South begins early in April and continues through June and into July.

The Experiment Station recommends that soybeans be planted in rows about two feet apart to permit enough cultivation to keep the weeds down. Two or three cultivations with a sweep or scrape going once in each middle should be sufficient. When planted in rows this way 8 to 10 pounds of seed of the Laredo and Otootan varieties will plant an acre. Mammoth Yellow seed are larger and require 25 to 30 pounds when planted in rows. If sown broadcast more seed are required.

Strange Coincidence.—
MAN SHOT IN HEAD ACCIDENTALLY DIES
—Healines in a New Orleans paper.

FREE EGGS

Right in this county farmers have increased egg production 60%. For Pratts Regulator gets more eggs from the same flock. Extra eggs that are all net profit. Pays 5 - 10 times its cost from the day you start. Regulator supplies the egg making necessities that feeds alone lack. It doesn't "dope" or stimulate but is Nature's health and "egg maker." Gives more eggs the right way.

Pratts Poultry Regulator

To Our Customers: We stand behind Pratts Regulator unconditionally. You get more eggs or we return your money.

Sold and Guaranteed by

ALRED DRUG CO.
Clanton, Ala.

666
is a Prescription for
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,
Preventing Pneumonia

Flour per sack . $1.25

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.
And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either.
It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

HUDSON-ESSEX

Now $50 Less and
"At Your Door"

ESSEX "6" COACH $ 864
HUDSON COACH 1309
Hudson Brougham 1564
Hudson 7-Pass. Sedan 1805

This covers all costs—freight, tax and the following equipment: Front and Rear Bumpers, Electric Windshield Cleaner, Rear View Mirror, Transmission Lock (built in), Radiator Shutters, Meto-Meter, Combination Stop and Tail Light.

So there is no uncertainty about the price you pay. No misleading "F.O.B. Factory" or so-called "list" prices, to which freight, tax, equipment and sundry other charges must be added. Hudson-Essex A. Y. D. prices tell what you pay and ALL you pay.

Were we advertising f. o. b. prices with former standard equipment, they would be:

ESSEX "6" COACH $735 HUDSON COACH $1135
Hudson Brougham $1385 Hudson 7-Pass. Sedan $1610

The lowest prices at which these cars ever sold

The "AYD" Plan is Saving Buyers From $25 to $50 on Every Car

H. M. Bates Garage

CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

Buy From Us in Bulk
At Wholesale Prices for Cash

Two or more customers can combine and buy soap, washing powder, soda, syrup, snuff, tobacco or other goods in bulk at wholesale prices for Cash.

Don't fail to see us for special price on syrup by the case.

We still give premiums for CASH trade.

Baker & Taylor

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)
REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted
Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

Dress Up For Easter

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED A BEAUTIFUL LINE OF DRESSES, COATS, DRESS GOODS AND OXFORDS. THEY ARE BEAUTIFUL AND ARE PRICED VERY LOW. OUR STOCK OF YOUNG MEN'S SUITS, SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, SHIRTS, TIES, UNDERWEAR AND HOSE, IS UP TO THE MINUTE. THEY ARE REAL CLASSY, AND WILL LOOK GOOD ON EASTER MORNING. WE ARE OFFERING SOME SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS FOR EASTER. BELOW IS A PARTIAL LIST OF OUR OFFERINGS FOR SATURDAY.

1 lot of Ladies full fashioned hose, in all colors, a real $1.95 value, for only 98c

1 lot of new beautiful printed crepes, a real good quality, in flowers and other designs, special, yard 98c

2,000 yards of 36-inch, 96-A unbleached Sea Island finish Domestic, a real 16c quality, (limit, 10 yards to a customer), special per yard 10c

We have a beautiful line of new Spring Hats for Ladies, Misses and Children; they are priced very reasonable, from ..... $1.45 to $1.95

1 lot of Ladies Blonde Kid Pumps n high and low heels; in pumps and with straps; a beautiful line to choose from, at $3.95

Beautiful full fashioned silk Hose to match, at 98c

We have a beautiful line of Young Men's Suits with 2 pairs pants; a large variety of colors and patterns, including the new blue double-breasted suit. See them before buying.

1 lot of Ladies Dresses, all new styles and beautiful shades, with long sleeves; special, all sizes $9.75

1 lot of Ladies Silk Hose, slightly imperfect, special Sale Price 25c

Don't be misled. See us before you buy, and you will save money.

1 lot Felt House Slippers, all sizes and colors 79c

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE
Clanton, Ala.

If you need a new Spring Coat, see us first. Our prices are lowest.

1 lot of Men's good Work Shoes, special $1.39

Where a combination of style and prices enables us to save you money

A. B. Baxley of Calera, and Prof. S. P. Williamson of Columbiana, accompanied by Mr. Wood and Mr. Long of Calera, were in Clanton last Tuesday on a business mission.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens
SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

LOMAX

The revival conducted by Elder Adams of Louisville, Ky., at the pentecostal church, which has been going on for two weeks, has closed, and the Elder has returned to his home.

J. L. Mitchell and wife who have been spending several months in Florida spent Thursday night and Friday with the family of A. A. Jackson, on their return to their home in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pilcher of Birmingham spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jackson.

The road machine has filled a few holes and ruts in the roads around Lomax and is standing at the top of the long red hill near Lomax. We wonder what they are going to do with that hill.

The writer and wife, in company with J. Riley Scott, motored to Pleasant Grove Sunday afternoon to the old time singing, which was an enjoyable occasion.

While in Clanton I noticed several candidates making themselves very familiar with everybody, and heard one who is running for Tax Collector say that if elected, anyone who, thru misfortune, let his tax become delinquent, he would not charge the collector's fee. I think such promises are worthy of consideration by the voters of our county.—The same old Observer.

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS.

Our W. M. U. met at the home of Mrs. W. T. White, also the G. A. girls and Sunbeam Band. All the leaders took their members to different rooms and everyone seemed eager to carry out their part. The W. M. U. carried out the Royal Service program. Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. D. O. Manning, on April 3. After our meeting we will have an Easter egg hunt for the children, and grown-ups too if they wish to take part. Be sure to be on time. Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Mr. Earle Thomas' mother from Bollings, and Mrs. N. C. Phelps from Honorville, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Thomas.

There will be an all day service at Mulberry Baptist church, with dinner on the table, next Sunday, March 28. Everybody is invited.

Guy H. DeShazo writes that he has secured a good position at Vero Beach, Fla., and is well pleased with the land of sunshine.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lecroy from Jonestown were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lecroy Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Olivea Lathem accompanied her father, Mr. Arthur Lathem, to Clanton Friday and bought a new Ford.

Rev. Tubb filled his regular appointment at the Isabella Methodist church Sunday, and preached a fine sermon.

Mrs. A. J. Lecroy and Mrs. Willie Jones took their pupils on a picnic last Thursday. After playing games and gathering wild flowers, they spread lunch on beds of pine straw. Miss Ethel Mize came from Maplesville Thursday, and took her pupils on a picnic. Her school was out several days ago, but all her pupils were waiting for her, as well as pupils from other departments. They reported an enjoyable time.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Montgomery, Ala., March 22.—Church and civic leaders in the Prattville District of the Alabama Methodist Conference are among the members of the Committee of Two Hundred meeting here this week to work out plans for the $500,000 endowment and building fund campaign of the Woman's College of Alabama.

The Prattville District is in Zone No. 3 of the campaign organization. M. M. McCall of Opelika is the zone chairman.

Fred M. Jackson, general chairman, presided at the committee meeting held at the College here on March 23. It was announced that the organization which will conduct the intensive campaign from April 25 to May 3, inclusive, will be formulated at once.

Among the members of this Committee of Two Hundred are Rev. W. M. Curtis, Prattville, presiding elder; F. M. Howard and Rev. J. R. McGlaun, Autaugaville; George D. Patterson, Tallassee; W. L. Lancaster, Wetumpka; Rev. Caleb Bates, Ft. Deposit; and Rev. C. C. Wilkerson, Clanton.

Executive Job.—Vincenzo Meile, father of the girl, was awarded in addition, $5,000 for expenses resulting from his daughter's injury. He operates a grocery store and six other children.—From a court item in a Brooklyn paper.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

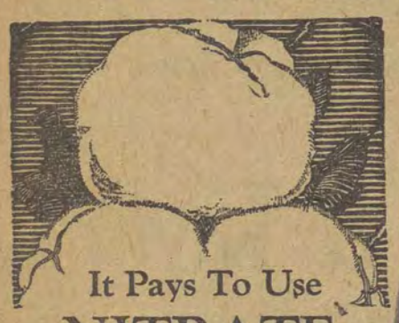
Statistical.—"I see in the paper that a widower with nine children has married a widow with seven children." "That was no marriage. That was a merger."—Washington Post.

Sanford Barber Shop
Clanton, Ala., 7th Street
The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.
HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

REPORT OF CONDITION OF
THE PEOPLES SAVINGS BANK
LOCATED AT CLANTON, ALA.,
AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS MARCH 12, 1926
RESOURCES

1. Loans and Discounts			$253,595.76
2. Overdrafts			9,714.77
4. Other Bonds, Stocks and Warrants			32,400.00
5. Banking House			2,700.00
6. Furniture and Fixtures			2,727.25
8. Cash (a) Currency		$22,743.00
(b) Gold		3,800.00
(c) Silver, Nickels and Pennies		2,258.22
Total			28,801.22
9. Due from Banks			199,082.44
12. Checks and Cash Items			1,872.38
13. Cash Items in Transit			4,352.37
TOTAL			$535,246.19

LIABILITIES



1. Capital Stock Paid in			$ 15,000.00
2. Surplus Fund			10,000.00
3. Undivided Profits less Expenses and Taxes paid			67,823.54
5. Demand Deposits (a) Individual Deposits		$305,988.51
(f) Cashier's Checks		635.67
(g) Certified Checks		126.25
Total			306,750.43
6. Time Deposits (b) Time Certificates		$135,672.22
Total			135,672.22
TOTAL			$535,246.19

The State of Alabama, Chilton County: Before me came F. J. Callen, President of The Peoples Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is true and gives the actual condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. F. J. CALLEN, President.

ATTEST:
N. S. JOHNSON,
W. L. POPWELL,
G. C. HARRIS,
Directors.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 20th day of March, 1926.
LAWRENCE F. GERALD,
Notary Public.

Use More Nitrogen!
Get More Cotton!

It Pays To Use
NITRATE of SODA

Southern farmers who have used Nitrate of Soda on cotton have found that the use of plenty of nitrate insures a big crop. The yield generally increases directly as the applications of Nitrate of Soda increase, and the difference in crop more than pays for the material.

Ask your county agent or send a postal card with your address to our nearest office for our free bulletins which have helped thousands of farmers to grow bigger and more profitable crops.

Chilean Nitrate of Soda—EDUCATIONAL BUREAU
Dr. William S. Myers, Director
1118 Hurt Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 402 Hibernia Bank Bldg., New Orleans, La.
702 Cotton Exchange Bldg., Memphis, Tenn. 57 East State St., Columbus, O.
27 Madison Avenue, New York

SALE FOR PARTITION

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

By virtue of an order of Hon. L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Ala., made on the 9th day of March, 1926, I, Victor J. Heard, the Commissioner named in said order, will sell to the highest bidder for cash, at public sale, at Clanton, Ala., in front of the court house door, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the 27th day of March, 1926, for the purpose of distribution among Eddie Williams, Allie Jones, Hurtellene Culp, Leonard Williams and Horace Williams, joint owners, on the following terms: cash—the following described property, viz:

The south half of the north half of the southwest quarter, Section 32, Township 22, Range 14; also the southeast fourth of the northeast fourth, and the east half of the northeast quarter of northeast quarter of Section 6, Township 21, Range 14; situated in Chilton County, Alabama.

This March 9th, 1926.

VICTOR J. HEARD,
Commissioner.

3-11-3t-ch.

Julius Reynolds spent the week end at Greenville.

We Pay Highest Cash Price for Eggs & Chickens

HILL'S

25lb Cloth Bag of Sugar $1.50

The store with the Red Front--7th st.

Karo Syrup
Gallon - - - - 58 Cts.

Jello, all flavors	10c	Prunes, 2lb	25c
Bull Head catsup, 2 for	25c	Pioneer corn, No. 2 can	10c
Peacock syrup, per gallon	72c	Swifts Pure Lard No. 10 pail	$1.58
Ajax, the coffee with an aroma of strength, lb	29c	Rumford or Calumet Baking Powder, lb can	29c
Home made Ribbon Cane syrup, per gallon	$1.00	Campbell's Pork & Beans Large cans, 3 for	25c
3-Minute oatmeal	9c	Nice whole grain rice, lb	9c
Dried Apples, per lb	18c	3 Cans No. 2 Tomatoes	25c
Corn fed, sugar cured Sliced Bacon, per lb	37c
Chum salmon, 2 cans	25c

JUST RECEIVED ANOTHER CAR OF
Split Silk Flour . $10.25 bbl.
The Flour that is GUARANTEED to please you or YOUR MONEY BACK

ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala. — "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —TEN PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1926 NUMBER 50

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION VISITS STANTON HIGH SCHOOL

The members of the County Board of Education were welcome visitors to Stanton Junior High School on Friday, March 19. Class work was discontinued during the hours of their visit, and the entire student body, with the teachers, assembled in the auditorium, where a short but interesting and amusing program, consisting of music, speeches and class "stunts" entertained the visitors. This program was in charge of Mrs. J. R. Northrup, teacher of music in the school.

Prof. H. A. Harris, principal, spoke a few well chosen words of welcome in behalf of the school, and gave the information that Stanton school will run 8 months, carrying all grades and retaining all teachers, thus preventing any interruption to the year's work. By this splendid cooperation Stanton community has indeed applied Alabama's slogan, "Every child an equal right," and the Board highly commended the citizens and Mr. Harris for the untiring interest shown. Each member of the Board responded to requests for short talks, which were interesting and appreciated.

Immediately upon completion of the program the Home Economics class, under the supervision of Miss Margaret Cottingham, teacher, served a delicious 5-course luncheon, all of which was prepared in the school, and too much can not be said in praise of the young ladies whose skill in cooking was so ably shown.

The Board expressed themselves as delighted with the conditions in the Stanton school, and they were invited to visit the school again. The gentlemen seated at the table were Messrs. Lawrence, Vines, Smith, Robinson, Billingsley, and Harris.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLIE JONES

Mrs. Ellie Jones, age 74, wife of Mr. J. S. Jones of Cooper, died at her home Thursday night. She was buried at Chestnut Creek cemetery on Friday afternoon.

She is survived by her husband, and six children, who are Mrs. Mandie Jones, Cooper; Mrs. Anna Arant, Clanton; Mrs. Francis Edwards, Verbena; Mr. Nattie Jones, Cooper; Mr. Ward Jones, Verbena; and Mr. Elie Jones, Wetumpka.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. D. Hughes.—N. J. Jones.

MARCH MARRIAGES

J. G. Lawrence and Mrs. Myrtle Gipson.

Tom Hand and Miss Ada Mae Doster.

Crit Jones and Miss Sarah Cox.

Charlie Burnett and Miss Leumerle Littlejohn.

Denson Sewell and Miss Annie McGee.

Cary Coleman and Miss Mabel Pate.

T. E. Wyatt and Miss Alpha Cagle.

Marvin Champion and Miss Flora Hayes.

Napoleon Posey and Miss Minnie Cofer.

T. G. Green and Miss Florence Hall.

G. W. Jackson and Miss Velma Martin.

Charles Seibert and Miss Lois Taylor.

J. P. Zorn an Miss Mary Porter.

Francis Alley and Miss Edna Reynolds.

GLEN ELLISON WILL SING AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM ON TUESDAY, APRIL 6

One of the musical treats of the season will be accorded the residents of Clanton on April 6th when Glen Ellison, the famous baritone, and Alta Hill, pianist, come to the High School auditorium for a concert.

Mr. Ellison has sung principal baritone roles in Grand Opera in England and Australia. His career in musical comedy is a long one in both countries also. His reputation has grown to be an international one, and it is well deserved, for Glen Ellison puts a good cheer, an evidence of inward happiness, into his songs that makes him irresistible.

Just listening to him and watching him is enough to make your troubles slip from your shoulders and vanish away. Mr. Ellison has the rare knack of putting his joyous personality into his songs, and it is this very ability that has made him one of the most popular singers we have.

The concert on April 6th will be by invitation, and the music lovers of Clanton are fortunate in having this chance to hear the famous baritone in some of his best songs.

Upchurch Drug Company has a supply of tickets of admittance which will be issued to those who apply for them.

OLD CITIZEN DIED NEAR CLANTON LAST THURSDAY

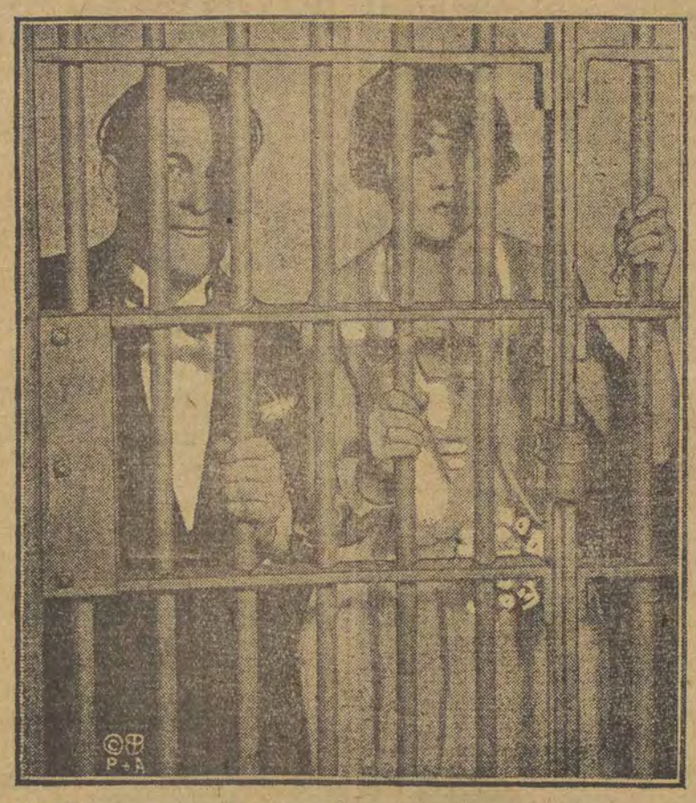
George Thomas, age 96 years, died last Thursday at the home of his son, L. W. Thomas, four miles north of Clanton, and was buried Friday at the Alridge graveyard, five miles south of Clanton. The funeral was conducted by Rev. W. W. Robinson.

Mr. Thomas was one of the oldest citizens of Chilton County, having lived here since he was two years old. He is survived by his sons, J. R. (Rube) Thomas of Montgomery, W. E. Thomas of Sylacauga, J. H. (Joe) Thomas of Tarrant City, L. W. Thomas of Bessemer, and one daughter, Mrs. S. E. Clark, of Clanton.

Mrs. Polly Thomas, wife of the deceased, passed from this life ten years ago. At the time of his death the descendants of George Thomas reached into the fifth generation, of whom there are now more than twenty.

Mr. Thomas is survived by his five children, 24 grand children, 24 great grand children, and 23 great great grand children. He lived near Clanton all his life and spent four years in the war between the states.

K. M. VINSON MAKES CHANGE



Just as we go to press we learn that Mr. Kin Vinson, who for a number of years has been connected with the Clanton Motor Car Co., has joined the Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc., as salesman for Chevrolet cars and trucks.

We understand that Mr. Vinson, accompanied W. M., and George C. Polk to Atlanta on Wednesday morning to attend the Chevrolet dealers' meeting and banquet.

We wish for Mr. Vinson much success in his new connection, and we predict that the already popular Chevrolet cars will be seen in increasing numbers on the streets of Clanton.

We think Polk Brother Motor Co., Inc., very fortunate in obtaining Mr. Vinson as salesman.

A Joke That Didn't Turn Out So Good

WHEN Scott Pembroke, motion picture director of Hollywood, recently married Miss Gertrude Short, dainty star of the films, some practical joker framed a stunt that didn't turn out so funny. The newlyweds were mysteriously arrested, handcuffed together and placed behind the bars.

All would have been well but—when the couple was finally released from jail, the key to the handcuffs was missing and so Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke had to spend the night shackled together. The photo above shows them in their temporary jail abode.

Criminal Cases Tried in Circuit Court This Week

The following disposition of cases on the criminal docket of circuit court had been made up to Wenesday morning:

J. M. Dubose, charged with violating prohibition law; nol pros.

Geo. W. Hudgens, charged with manufacturing ilquor and having a still in possession; cause abated on account of death of defendant.

T. S. Peavy, charged with manufacturing liquor and having still in possession; jury and verdict of guilty.

Geo. M. Collum, charged with seduction; continued.

Robert Cleckler, charged with manufacturing liquor and having still in possession; jury and verdict of guilty.

Will Kennedy, charged with assault to ravish; nol pros.

William J. Benton, charged with attempt to defraud by check; nol pros.

Allen Brown, charged with violating prohibition law; jury and verdict of guilty and fine $50.

Wiley Jones, charged with violating prohibition law; jury and verdict of guilty and fined $50.

Will Gulledge, charged with assault with intent to murder; plead guilty and sentenced 1 year and 1 day.

Barto Wright, charged with assault and battery; jury and verdict guilty and fined $5.

Elbert Hawkins, charged with manufacturing liquor; jury and verdict of guilty.

Charlie Robinson, charged with assault to murder; nol pros.

Chatman Trott, charged with violating prohibition law; jury and verdict of not guilty.

Charlie Robinson, charged with second degree murder; charged reduced to manslaughter in first degree and jury and verdict of guilty; sentenced to 1 year and day.

Rolie Waldrop, charged with violating prohibition law; jury and verdict of guilty and fined $50.

Joe Smith, charged with violating prohibition law; nol pros.

Leander Brown, charged with possession of a still; jury and verdict of guilty.

Alphus Grant, charged with violating prohibition law; continued.

Ocie Barnett, charged with violating prohibition law; defendant waived jury and plead guilty.

Robert Edwards et als., defaulting bond; forfeiture made final for amount of $50.

T. S. Peavy, et als., defaulting bond forfeiture made final for amount of $50.

Walter B. Ozley, charged with asand battery and conspiracy; continued by the state.

Forney Martin. charged with assault and battery and conspiracy; nol pros.

John H. Denham, charged with assault and battery and conspiracy; coninued by state.

Elmer Barnhill, charged with possession of a still; jury and verdict of not guilty.

Jasper Glenn, charged with violating prohibition law; continued under agreement of defendant to plead guilty at next term of court and accept fine of $75.

Tom Williams, charged with trespass after warning; continued by the state.

Will Price and Jack Price, charged with decoying away child; nol pros.

Dewey Deason, charged with bastardy; continued.

Amella Smith, charged with violating prohibition law; nol pros.

Stewart Smith, charged with violating prohibition law; continued by agreement of defendant to plead guilty at next term of court.

Enoch Davenport, charged with violating prohibition law; continued by agreement of defendant to plead guilty at next term of court and accept a fine of $50.

Following is a list of the jury that has been trying cases this week:

No.	Name	Beat
1.	J. Leland Powell	16
2.	Jim D. Sutley	2
3.	Wm. E. Baker	5
4.	Joe A. Maddox	4
5.	Albert L. Foshee	4
6.	Maxwell Hayes	4
7.	J. Frank Nelson	10
8.	C. Otto Jones	4
9.	Claud Wood	4
10.	Posey G. Marcus	4
11.	Ed Miner	4
12.	Robert N. Roebuck	3
13.	Hubert L. Smith	4
14.	Marvin P. Davenport	9
15.	W. Curtis Grooms	3
16.	Walter M. Lawley	7
17.	James Wright	14
18.	W. Arthur Honeycutt	9
19.	Geo. W. Edwards	4
20.	Lewis H. Wright	10
21.	Tom W. Kemp	4
22.	Ivy O. Blalock	4
23.	J. Lee Smith	4
24.	F. Burns Goodgame	4
25.	William B. Strock	5
26.	Gill G. Gray	4
27.	Ben L. Davenport	9
28.	Alonzo L. Robinson	4
29.	Will G. Conway	13
30.	Sidney J. M. Webb	3
31.	Joe W. Franklin	4
32.	J. Madison Hayes	2
33.	William W. (Bill) Klinner	15
34.	J. Hugh Davenport	3
35.	Andrew N. Miner	4
36.	Robert L. (Bob) Baker	4
37.	John A. Boockholdt	6
38.	Geo. Spivey	14
39.	J. Frank Dubose	5
40.	Preston Deramus	3
41.	Richard T. Robinson	12
42.	Oliver King	1

COLLINS CHAPEL SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

The commencement exercises of The Collins Chapel Junior High School will be held at New Salem church next Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody is invited.

FREE EDISON TONE TEST AT CLANTON APRIL 6TH

Glen Ellison, baritone, and Alta Hill, pianist, of the Thos. A. Edison Company, will appear in a tone test with an Edison machine at the High School auditorium in Clanton Tuesday, April 6th, at 8 o'clock p. m. No charge will be made for admission, but tickets will be required. Get the tickets free at Upchurch Drug Co., after April 1st.

This will be really a great treat for those interested in the best music, and Mr. Upchurch desires that all who can may avail themselves of the unusual pleasure of hearing these Edison artists.

Remember the date, April 6th, at high school auditorium in Clanton, 8 o'clock p. m.

CHEVROLET SALES INCREASE ONE HUNDRED PER-CENT

According to Geo. C. Polk, local Chevrolet dealer, the sales of Chevrolet cars and trucks for the first quarter of this year is exactly 100% more than for the same period last year in this territory.

This sales increase, according to Mr. Polk, is attributed to the fact that there has been many wonderful improvements incorporated in the Chevrolet in the last 18 months, and also that the car buyer of today has learned to check value for value in buying, and they find they get more real value in the Chevrolet.

Mr. Polk says that it is nothing uncommon for a prospect to call at their salesroom and say, "I have been advised by a friend who is driving a Chevrolet, that my next car should be a Chevrolet, so I want to see what you will allow me for my old car on a new Chevrolet."

This proves that the people who are buying Chevrolets are well pleased with them and want to see their friends driving Chevrolets.

Mr. Polk says that if the Chevrolet factories will supply them with cars, they will make the next quarter show 200% per-cent increase over the same period next year.

Hurrah for Mr. Polk! We love an optimist, and here's hoping the factories will increase production so they can get the cars.

JOHN T. ELLIS WILL MOVE TO TIFTON, GEORGIA

The many friends of Mr. John T. Ellis and family will learn with regret tha they are making preparations to leave Clanton to make their future home in Tifton, Ga.

Mr. Ellis goes to Tifton as the wholesale distributor of Woco motor fuels which he will handle in five counties, in addition to reailing same through a new filling station in the city of Tifton.

The Ellis Woco Pep Service Station in Clanton will continue under the management of Mr. Latham Ellis.

The Banner wishes Mr. Ellis much success in his new field.

Mr. Z. J. Jones of Jemison was a welcome visitor to the Banner office Tuesday night. He was in attendance at circuit court Tuesday.

More thanusual interest was shown in circuit court Tuesday when the trials of the men charged with flogging Mr. Thos. A. Curry were expected to come up. The court room was packed to capacity. The cases were not brought to trial owing to the absence of an important witness.

EASTER EGG HUNT

There will be an Easter egg hunt at Mack Baker's, 3 miles west of Clanton, on Easter Sunday at 2:00 o'clock.

Everyone is cordially invited to come and bring eggs.

Ex-Governor Thos. E. Kilby, candidate for the United States Senate, spoke to a gathering of voters and citizens at the court house in Clanton on Wednesday. It's none of our affair, but our opinion is that Governor Kilby is the ablest man the Democrats have to put in Underwood's place.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY RENDERED LAST WEEK

The following is a copy of the report of the grand jury of Chilton County, which was rendered by that body to Judge George F. Smoot in the Circuit Court last week:

We, the Grand Jury empanelled at this, the January Term, 1926, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, beg leave to make this, our final report.

We have examined 21 cases, 62 witnesses, and have returned 12 true bills.

We have examined the bonds of the county officials, and find the same with sufficient sureties to protect the county. We have examined the books of the County Superintendant of Education and find them neatly and correctly kept, as far as we could ascertain; we hereto attach his report and mark it Exhibit A. We find the books of the County Treasurer, as far as we could understand, to be in good condition; we hereto attach her report and mark it Exhibit B. We find the fee book of the Probate Judge has been kept as provided by law. We have examined the feed book of the Sheriff of the county and find it neatly and correctly kept. We have examined the poor house of our county and find the same in good condition; the inmates appear to be well provided for and well pleased; they have sufficient clothing and bedding. We have examined the jail of the county and find it well kept; the prisoners are well cared for.

The Grand Jury of the county has the information that the roads of our county are in first class condition, with few exceptions. We feel that the Commissioners Court should be congratulated upon the condition of our court house; the cornice that has heretofore been hanging has been removed and replaced with wood molding. It has been called to our attention that the water on the second floor of the court house, where the court room is located, is not sufficient, that the sanitary closets are nailed up at present; we suggest to the Commissioners Court that they look into this and if possible remedy the defect, as it would appear that it can be done with a very small cost.

We want to thank the Court for his able charge, the Sheriff for his courtesies extended to us, and the bailiff for his assistance. We also wish to thank our Solicitor for the help he has given us in our work.

Having completed our duties, we await the further orders of the Court.

Dated this, the 24th day of March, 1926.

C. C. CONWAY,
Foreman.

The following statement of school funds was made to the grand jury by Buford Lawrence, county superintendant of education, and was marked Exhibit A:

General Funds—Receipts, $106,293.06; disbursements, $93,681.68; balance, $12,611.38.

District Tax—Receipts, $38,063.43; disbursements, $35,360.00; balance, $2.703.43.

Miss Genie Collins, Treasurer of Chilton County, made the following financial statement of county funds, which was entered as Exhibit B:

General Funds, $53,303.95; Road Fund, $33,823.45; Special Gasoline Tax Fund, $5,037.56; Fine and Forfeiture Fund, $2,301.97; Land Redemption Fund, $436.84. Total, $94,903.77.

Must See Ahead

If there is a sharp curve in the road, you go slow. You want to see what's ahead. After dark you will not drive without lights for the same reason.

Being able to see ahead is what insures safety and success, no matter what the undertaking. In financial as well as other affairs, the only way to look into the future is by the light of the past. Successful men have worked, planned and SAVED. Why not follow the light they have given and do likewise? Our Bank will help you.

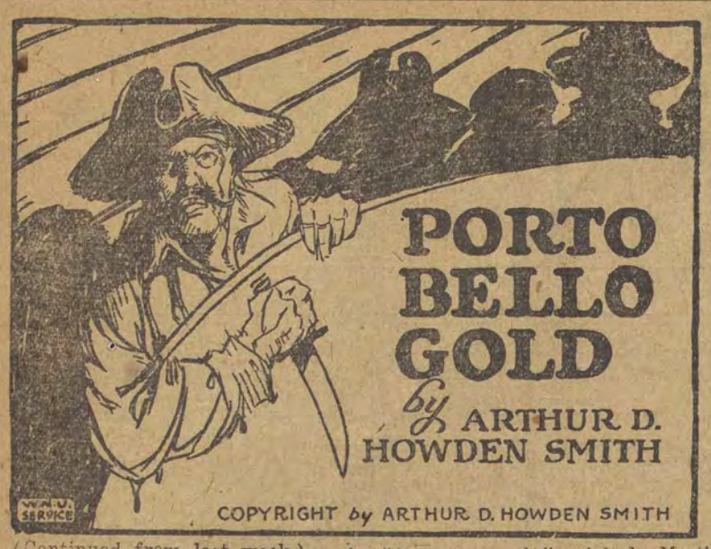
Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help
CLANTON, ALABAMA

It Takes More Than a Sign Over The Door To Make A

-BANK-

It takes experience, brains, and above all, the proper organization for the protection of depositors.



This bank is regularly examined by officials of the Federal Government. Every transaction must meet their rigid requirements. Your money is absolutely safe in this bank. It is here until you need it, and yours when you want it.

If you are not already a depositor you are cordially invited to open an account.

This Bank is Under Government Control

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA
Safety—Service—Accomodation

(Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER X

The Treasure Ship

There was no hint of triumph in my great-uncle's manner as the sloop came about and lay to under our lee quarter; nor did he exhibit excitement when she unloosed the small boat she towed astern and a half-dozen swarthy fellows commenced to pull it toward us. He indulged in a pinch of snuff and took his station by the starboard rail at the break of the poop. Peter and I followed him. Besides us there was only Martin, who stood aft by the man at the wheel.

The rowboat was as infinitesimal as an insect in those tossing wastes; but the man at the steering-oar guided it with uncanny skill, up the toppling crests that threatened to crush it, down the dizzy steeps that bade fair to hurl it to the ocean's oozy bottom, and brought it to rest a scant fifty feet from the James' hull, his long sweep fending and twisting to maintain the position. He was very dark and lean, with bare, corded limbs and a sinewy trunk covered by the remnants of a cotton shirt and trousers. His hair was a stringy black. His voice, when he spoke in answer to a sign from my great-uncle, was harshly rhythmical, but what he said I could not understand, for both he and Murray used Spanish.

My great-uncle asked two questions, both brief, and he answered as briefly. My great-uncle waved his hand again; he dug his steering-oar into the crest of one of the monstrous surges, and the little boat shot away like a round-shot from a gun. A few moments later we saw them make fast to the sloop and leap aboard, one by one. The sloop hauled her wind and beat off to westward in long, slanting tacks, and the James was once more alone in the western mouth of the Mona passage, Hispaniola a blur in the north and Porto Rico somewhere out of sight southeast of us.

Murray dusted a second pinch of snuff into his nostrils as he turned from the rail.

"Our three weeks' waiting hath not been in vain," he said. "The Santissima Trinidad was to sail from Porto Bello within the forty-eight hours after Diego put forth. She will be up with us in another five days. The fools have delivered her into our hands. By her sailing orders, so Diego told me, she must hug the south shore of Hispaniola, that she may be within easy run of Santo Domingo in case of accident. As for the nights, she'll be lighted up like Bartholomew's fair.

"Ja, it's all right if dot Englishman we sighted last week don't find a frigate," said Peter.

Murray's face fell a trifle.

"Yes, we have always that to reckon with," he acknowledged. "Stap me, I see not what the fellow could have suspected to send him kiting from us."

"If he suspected us, why not some of the other craft that have passed us on our beat?" I interjected. "There ha' been plenty."

My great-uncle pointed to the white ensign floating from the mizzen-truck.

"They were all Spaniards or Frenchmen," he answered. "They took us for a king's ship. No, there's little chance of interference. If there is—" his jaw squared—"I'll hunt the Santissima Trinidad into Cadiz port."

Nothing happened that day or the next. And so three more days passed with increasing tension. The look-outs in the crosstrees were relieved every two hours, that the men's vision might be fresh and unstrained. The sixth day was like its predecessors, blazing hot, bubbling the pitch out of the deck-seams, a gentle sou'east breeze barely sufficient to keep the sails drawing. Daylight found us farther to the south than we usually plied, since Murray feared the Spaniard might have missed his reckoning and shifted the designed course he was to follow.

Noon observation saw us returned to our customary station, and to guard against the possibility that the Santissima Trinidad had passed us in the heat haze whilst we were beating up from the south my great-uncle ran down the wind into the mouth of the passage for several glasses. We encountered a fishing-periagua then, and the Indians of its crew shouted back to Murray's question that no great ship had entered the passage that day. So back again we beat to windward the whole weary afternoon.

In the shadowy hour that precedes the dawn the hail came from the mast-head—

"Lights ho!"

"How do you make them?" Murray trumpeted.

"Red and yellow, over and under," answered the main crosstrees.

"Very good," replied my great-uncle. "Master Martin, pipe all hands to breakfast, and serve an extra ration of rum."

"Aye, aye, sir," sighed Martin. "And here's to luck, —— —— my eyes!"

The dawn came all at once, as if a magician had waved his wand. The red disk of the sun lifted over the horizon. And it was day. Westward, perhaps half a league, a great ship was wallowing toward us before the freshening wind. The coloring of her figurehead sparkled in the level rays which touched her dingy canvas and turned the sails to cloth-of-gold. The gaudy banner of Spain flapped with a spendid insolence in the pure light.

"She is heavy-laden!" exclaimed my great-uncle, staring at her through his prospect-glass.

"Heavy-armed, too," I added, pointing at the band of cannon along her sides.

"We'll make light of that," he answered. "But I shall have to pay somewhat for my Quixotic promise to you, Robert, to spare her crew. Ho, Coupeau, pass the word that the prize must not be pierced betwixt wind and water. I would bring down a spar or two at the beginning of the action, but concentrate your fire upon her decks."

"Oui, m'sieu'."

"But what of O'Donnell and his daughter!" I exclaimed. "On a shot-swept deck!"

"Tut, tut, my boy! You concern yourself needlessly. 'Tis a risky business and cannot be otherwise. What part do you and Peter purpose to play in the action?"

I was about to answer hotly that we would have naught to do with piracy when Peter said—

"Maybe we better go aboardt der Spaniard and catch der little gal, ja."

"An excellent idea," returned my great-uncle, looking expectantly at me. "I shall lead the boarders myself, and in the confusion I may be hard put to it, single-handed, to direct the fighting and save the O'Donnells from injury. If you two—"

"We'll do it," I said ungraciously. Then I nodded to the white ensign at the main peak.

"Will you fight under false colors?"

"They are not false," he retorted with tightened lips. "We fight for England today."

"England and Flint and Long John Silver and Bill Bones and Martin and Coupeau and—"

"Myself? Perhaps. But if those you have named share in the rewards of victory 'tis that England may profit thereby and the Good Cause triumph. What doth it matter, if King James return to London?"

"What indeed?" I echoed sarcastically, yet impressed against my will by his deadly earnestness.

A white puff of smoke jetted from our fo'csle, and a crackling explosion smote our ears. Coupeau had fired the first shot from one of the chase-guns, long eighteens, beautiful bronze pieces of prodigious range. Involuntarily we all focused our eyes upon the treasure ship, and a cheer from the gun-crews applauded the flapping rent that showed in the bulge of the Spaniard's foretops'l.

"Excellent!" murmured my great-uncle.

The Santissima Trinidad staggered for an instant like a man who has been struck unexpectedly by one he supposed to be a friend. Then she yawned to give us a full view of her colors; and as she yawned, broadening the target, Coupeau fired again. 'Twas a low shot, fired as the James dropped into the trough betwixt two waves, and all we could see of it was that apparently it plowed into the waist.

The Spaniard fired a gun to leeward and put over his helm, aiming to cross our bows and head up for Santo Domingo. Plainly he did not know what to make of the incident. To all appearances the Royal James was a king's ship. She showed the English naval ensign. So he evidently decided that hostilities must have broken out between the two countries, and in obedience to his sailing orders endeavored to avoid a fight and make for the nearest fortified Spanish port.

But the James sailed two feet to the treasure ship's one; and splendidly handled, we overhauled her within a glass of the first shot. In the meantime Coupeau kept pecking away at her, and as we came within range of our main battery her foretopmast crashed, covering her fo'csle with a tangle of top-hamper.

This was too much for her people, and she put up her helm, brought her entire battery to bear and let fly at us with all her starboard metal. 'Twas a poorly managed salvo, yet three or four round-shot swished across our decks, and an eighteen-pounder smashed a couple of men to jelly just for'ard of the poop.

Coupeau, working like a madman with his chase guns, was firing both together, laid on the same target, and now he succeeded in cutting down the foremast about twenty feet from the deck, sending the heavy spar and billowing canvas a-tumbling after the fallen topmast. The bulk of the wreckage fell overside, dragging the Santissima Trinidad down by the head and forming a sea-anchor to hold her stationary.

My great-uncle smiled with grim satisfaction.

"Ho, Saunders!" he hailed the second mate, who was stationed amidships. "Rig grappling-irons on the larboard bulwarks. We'll round the Spaniard as he lies. Let go your broadside, Coupeau!"

The gunner ran to the open main-hatch and bellowed the order down to the gun-deck. The planks seemed to spring under our feet. A thunderous series of detonations shook the James' whole fabric. The smoke-clouds were first driven away, then thickened to an impalpable mist, and the acrid stench of saltpeter and brimstone was choking in the nostrils. I had a wavery glimpse of a vast gilded figurehead, a heap of torn canvas and rigging.

We headed up into the wind with much creaking of yards and slatting of sails, and I heard faintly a clamor of wailing outcries from the smoke-bank that masked the Santissima Trinidad. Almost at once our broadside roared again, the red flames from the gun-muzzles licking out like hungry tongues.

The Spaniard blindly returned our fire as the James felt her way to-

(Continued to Page 7)

NOTICE

There will be a play at Indian Grave School House next Friday night April 2nd. Put on by Eastview School.

Everybody is invited. Admission 15 cents for children and 25 cents for adults. Teacher

Mr. Judson Strock of Verbena was in town Saturday.

HONOR ROLL—CLANTON GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The following pupils made an average of 90%, and were not absent nor tardy during the seventh month:

Junior II Grade—Lester Carter, Arthur Johnson, Vivian Gray, Georgia Wood, Nelson Parrish, Clarence Easterling, Ora Mae Lawley, Charles Rasberry, Mary Foshee, Louise McSwain, Janice Danforth.

Sixth Grade—Zebbie Gray, Mary Heard, Myrtle Headley, Astoria Tyus, Pauline Wells, Dorothy McKinnon, Harvie Lee Jones, Willie Maude Kelley, J. C. Maddox, Dethel Honeycutt, Mary Nell Jones, Ethel Mae Jones.

Fifth Grade—Margaret Jones Mary Robinson, Lois Miller, Dorothy Sessions, Elizabeth McSwain, Anderson Wallace, Dewey Williams, Carson Eiland, Nellie Mae Caldwell, Verawyl Johnson, Alex Hayes, Jasper Cox, Hal Broadhead, Lawrence Gerald, Earl Gray, Carl Jones, Cecil Jones, Vinson Veazey, Julia Edwards, Elizabeth Harris, Lee Allen Minor.

Fourth Grade—John Ezell, Pauline Plyler.

Third Grade—Alfred Moates, Morris Popwell, Renfroe Sorrell, Bruce McKinnon, Marvin Minor, Ruth Jones, Katie Lou Marcus, Louise Maddox, Kathleen Powell, Grace Plyler, Mildred Tyus. Dorothy Duncan.

Second Grade—Lois Foshee, Gladys Martin.

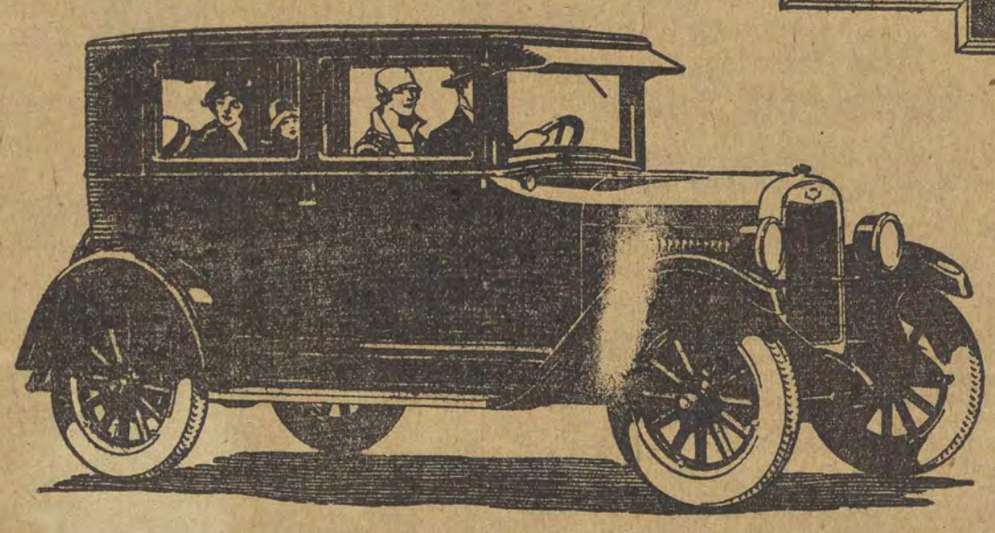
First Grade—Gladys Roper Juanita Miller, Joe Hall Johnson, Cecil Carter, Coy Lockhart, Louise Headley, Mattie Ruth Minor, Lois Langston.—W. E. Martin, Principal.

The Red "G" is a sign of Quality

Grasselli Fertilizers

are manufactured to give crops a quick start and early maturity. This is very necessary under Boll Weevil conditions.

Satisfaction in every sack, for over 20 years. Look for the big red "G" on the bag.



THE GRASSELLI CHEMICAL COMPANY
Birmingham Gadsden Dothan

FOR SALE BY

MULLINS & MOORE
Clanton, Alabama

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

The Coach
$645
f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Low in Price-
yet has the quality features of high-priced cars

Touring	$510
Roadster	510
Coupe	645
Sedan	735
Landau	765
½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

At the lowest price in Chevrolet history, this handsome, rugged coach gives you every quality feature essential to modern motoring satisfaction.

Think of buying, for only $645, a beautiful Fisher Body closed car, finished in beautiful colors of lasting Duco and offering such quality features as 3-speed transmission, balloon tires, Alemite lubrication, oil and water pumps, and Remy electric starting, lighting and ignition!

Come in! Learn how little it now costs to own and drive a quality closed car of modern design.

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.
CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

Mrs. T. W. Robinson, who has been seriously ill for the past three weeks, is now up and about in her home, although still in a weak condition. Her mother, Mrs. Maddox, who received injuries over two months ago in an auto accident, is improving, but is still unable to walk.

The mother of Jim Williams, 73 years old, has ben quite ill with pneumonia, but is now reported to be doing nicely with prospects for complete recovery.

Mr. an Mrs. C. E. Driskill have been called to Collinsville, where Mrs. Driskill's mother is critically ill at her home.

Chas. E. Lucas and Miss Bertha Littleton are on duty at The Bank of Thorsby again, after several days sickness in their respective homes.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday afternoon, April 8, at the home of Mrs. G. F. Harper.

Misses Jennye and Edith Robinson and Arthur Villadsen motored to Montgomery Sunday to see New York and Brooklyn play baseball; they saw "Babe" Ruth in action.

The Y. W. A. met with Mrs. Ed Piper Tuesday afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon, April 3, Mrs. Wm. Billingsley will entertain the R. A.'s at an Easter egg hunt; all the boys are to come and bring eggs.

On Wednesday afternoon, March 24, the executive meeting of the Baptist W. M. S. was held at Oak Grove church, north of Jemison; several Thorsby ladies were present.

The Lutheran Sunday school teachers have an organization which meets monthly at the home of one of its members; Tuesday afternoon of this week they met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Bakke.

On Easter Monday at 3:00 p. m., the Primary department of the Congregational Sunday school will hold their annual Easter egg hunt, under auspices of Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Butler, on the Butler home grounds; the mothers of the children are invited to come.

Mr. Ben Brown of Ozark, a former Thorsby Institute student, spent Sunday among friends in Thorsby.

Mrs. J. E. Each entertained Thorsby Institute dormitory people at a social at her home on last Saturday night. On Wednesday of this week she entertained the Congregational Ladies Aid Society. This society usually holds its monthly meeting the first Thursday of each month, but the day was changed by request of a number who want to attend the picnic Thursday.

On Thursday, April 1, Thorsby Institute will hold its annual picnic, the weather permitting; on Friday, April 2, the public school will hold its picnic; location for the festivities at both schools will be announced later.

Easter services at the Congregational church will begin at 7:00 p. m. Friday night of this week when Pastor Each will preach on "Good Friday, and its relation to Easter." Next Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock the usual hour for morning service will be given over to the Sunday school for their Easter program, which will contain several interesting features. At 7:15 p. m., after a short Easter sermon by Rev. Each, the usual monthly praise service will be held.

Messrs. R. A. Maddox and Robert Echols, and Misses Sue Murray, Odie Lee Arthur and Lois Hawkes, all of Thorsby Institute faculty, attended the Alabama Educational Association Convention in Birmingham last week.

A. T. Arthur and Boona Lee Wood have been elected delegates to the State Christian Endeavor Convention at Montgomery April 8-11.

We are always glad to note economic improvements when they occur. One of the slickest we have seen recently is the substitution, by Thorsby Institute, of electric power instead of gasoline for pumping their water supply. Heretofore the water has been hoisted, at considerable expense, into a tank on the top of a 75-foot tower, whence it flowed by gravity to points where needed.

Mrs. Howard Garrick will entertain the Sunbeams on Saturday afternoon at an egg hunt.

A feature of the Christian Endeavor meeting on Sunday night was the presentation of a pageant showing the responsibility of Christians toward those nations which have never heard the "Good News." The organist softly played "Just As I Am," while representatives of other nations dressed in costumes entered with bowed heads and bound hands and holding unlighted candles. They crossed the platform and kneeled with hands outstretched in an appeal to give them light. Then the organist played "Jesus Calls Us," as Christians entered bearing lighted candles and open Bibles, which they studied as they passed along and entered another room. In the last scene the Christians returned, and as the organist played "We've A Story to Tell to The Nations," they went to those who were kneeling, lighted their candles, unbound their hands and led them away in Christian fellowship. The pageant was given in an impressive manner and left a message for those who witnessed it.

Rev. and Mrs. Bonner of Jemison were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Billingsley Sunday.

Last Sunday was preaching day at Thorsby Baptist church. A large crowd attended.

Mr. J. B. Littleton and wife of Bessemer were guests of Mrs. Aaron Littleton and family Sunday.

Miss Lena Franklin returned to Howard College Sunday night, after several days illness with flu at her home in Thorsby.

The Royal Ambassadors and Girl's Auxiliary will hold an Easter egg hunt in the grove at the home of Mrs. William Billingsley on Saturday, April 3rd.

Messrs. W. H. Goodgame and H. W. Peterson spent Thursday in Birmingham on business.

Messrs. C. R. Foss and Clyde Meade were business visitors in Birmingham Saturday.

Mesdames Chas. Williams and F. R. Burdette, and Miss Bernice Williams spent Friday in Birmingham shopping.

When You Have Money In The Bank You Have Credit at the Bank. When you have Credit at the Bank you have Credit at every other place.

If your credit is good you can carry out your UNDERTAKINGS SUCCESSFULLY. All your neighbors have credit here and you will soon have if you begin putting your savings in our care. We solicit your business on sound principles and good Banking.

THE BANK OF THORSBY

Thorsby, Ala.

"We Bank the Public's Money."

181 Acres at Auction

The Young Farm

LOCATED ONE MILE EAST OF THE PROGRESSIVE TOWN OF PRATTVILLE, ALA., AT THE JUNCTION OF THE NEW BIRMINGHAM - MONTGOMERY HIGHWAY and THE TYLER GOODWIN BRIDGE ROAD.

Thursday, April 8, 1 P. M.

THIS SPLENDID BODY OF RED SANDY LAND HAS BEEN SUBDIVIDED INTO 27 TRACTS THAT RANGE IN SIZE FROM 1½ to 14 ACRES, EACH FRONTING ON ONE OF THESE HIGHWAYS AND ACCESSIBLE TO CHURCHES, SCHOOLS AND TO ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

REMEMBER THIS PROPERTY SELLS TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, REGARDLESS OF PRICE

Terms one-third Cash, Balance 1 and 2 Years

EVERYBODY INVITED TO ATTEND THIS SALE

Northington Brothers, Owners

Sale Conducted By

BRITT DAVIS AUCTION CO., MONTGOMERY.

* * * * * * * * * *

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. J. F. Weldon returned to her home last week after several weeks illness.

Little Arthur Huguley, who spent several weeks in the hospital, was able to return home with his father last week.

Mrs. R. A. Hudson returned to her home at Lock 12 last week. Both the mother and baby were doing fine.

Mr. Tom McKee, who was a patient in the hospital for several days, returned home a few days ago and is reported doing nicely.

Mr. W. A. Huckabee, who was a patient in the hospital for several weeks, has returned to his home.

Mrs. Rena Driver, who underwent an operation recently, has returned home, and is reported to be doing nicely.

Mr. Lonza McCary, who was critically ill for several weeks, has returned home and is doing fine.

Mrs. M. L. White has returned to her home after being in the hospital for several days. She is doing well.

Mrs. L. C. Ross has been in a critical condition for several days following a serious operation. She is improving nicely at present.

Miss Lula Huett, who has been in the hospital for several weeks, will soon be able to return home.

Mrs. C. Z. Driver is rapidly improving following an operation.

Mr. Harry Leeming who was hurt recently is doing nicely, and will be able soon to resume his journey to Florida.

Mr. J. H. Fortenberry of Siluria is doing nicely, and will soon be able to return home.

Lonnie Johnson, colored, who has been ill for several months, is back at the hospital and is doing fairly well.

Big bargains in our Easter Hat Sale, 50c, $1, and up—Robinson Bargain Store.

Mr. Howard Garrick spent Friday in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin of Clanton visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lowery Saturday night.

Mrs. Ida Belle Thomas, age 26, died at her home in Prattville last Wednesday. The body was shipped to Clanton and interment made in the Popwell cemetery Thursday. Rev. G. B. Golden officiated.

CANDIDATES

(All announcements under this heading are paid political advs., authorized by the parties whose names are signed to the same.)

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama from Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

PERCY M. PITTS.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

JOHN S. DENNIS.

FOR MEMBER OF COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for membership on the County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

R. H. BEAN.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of member of the county board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

W. J. EASTERLING.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

T. J. DORMINEY.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Commissioner of the First District of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. F. JONES.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Reublican primary to be held on August 10.

J. N. SCOTT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. P. BEAN.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the ffice of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. E. WALDROP.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

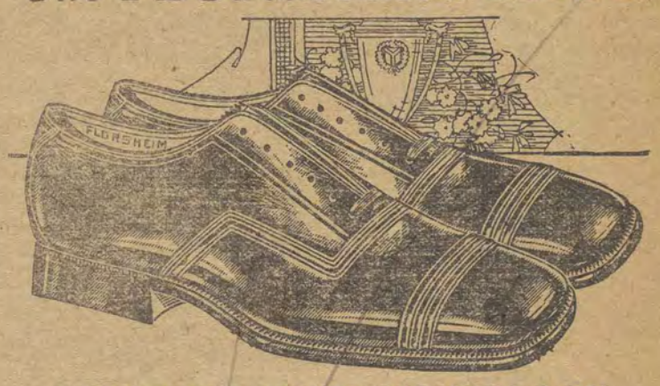
D. H. GENTRY.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. H. BENSON.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the second district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

T. A. MADDOX.



Get Your Clothes for Easter at PARRISH'S

"Get in the Well Dressed Circle"

You will be proud of your Easter Suit if you get it here. Every suit is perfectly tailored of pure woollens. We have a big stock so you will find just the shade you want.

The FLORSHEIM SHOE

HOW WILL YOUR SHOES LOOK EASTER MORNING?

Your hat will be appropriate, your tie new and fresh, and your clothes properly pressed—but how about your SHOES?

A new pair of SELZ or FLORSHEIM custom grade shoes not only will complete your attire, but also will add that feeling of satisfaction which goes with correct dress. Black and tan, low and high, carefully fitted. See our window display then come in and let us fit a pair.

New Shirts—New Underwear

Exclusively at

Parrish's STYLE SHOP

Clanton, Ala.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

U. S. AND THE LEAGUE

British newspapers are editorially expressing the opinion that the squabble over the council seats in the League of Naions will delay the adherence of the United States to the League of Nations will delay the adment in the United States. What Europeans seem unable to grasp is that Uncle Sam is not contemplating joining the League of Nations. Few people in America will begrudge any good that the League can do toward keeping the peace in Europe. But there is little or no sentiment in any political party in America which looks toward the United States' joining the League of Nations.

Doubtless the way League politics has been handled at Geneva during the past few weeks will make Americans all the more thankful that the United States is not a League member but it will not postpone our ratification of the League covenant because no such ratification is contemplated by any considerable following of the League in the United States.

Doubtless European hopes of our entering the maelstrom were magnified by our joining the World Court with reservations and our agreement to attend the disarmament conference. But this did not mean that the United States was contemplating joining the League of Nations. It is reported at Washington, that one reason for the delay of the arms conference was that the European nations desired to find out whether the United States was ready to join in a closer participation in international affairs. Commenting on this supposition the Boston Transcript, a newspaper more than friendly to the administration, says:

"The European countries anxious to get the United States into the League will be sorely disappointed if they really believe, as reported, that recent events mean this country has changed its opinion regarding joining the League. Sentiment in Washington and apparently throughout the country is as strong against membership in the League as it ever has been. If the disarmament conference really has been delayed for this reason, the quicker it is called the better."

THE BEAR CREEK PHILOSOPHER

Probably some of these statesmen who are in favor of light wines and beers will be willing, if they can't get what they want, to compromise on something a little stronger.

Harley Cooper, our popular young sheik, says hat the the new milliner at the Boston Store is so slow she doesn't even know who the Countess Cathcart is.

Henry Martin says that he can't see any use of Mussolini forming a Latin bloc, because nobody speaks the language anymore but the college professors.

Harold Quince, our popular young school teacher and candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, has come out in favor of government ownership of souvenir post cards.

Who remembers the old-fashioned woman who stayed at home on Saturday afternoon because she was afraid the bread in the oven might burn?

Uncle Billy Gamester says that he isn't going to buy any new collars until the price of rubber gets back tp normal.

Wonder what the King of Italy has to do now besides occasionally congratulating Mussolini?

Little Pen-O-Grams

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Written for This Paper By
FRANK P. LITSCHERT

The preliminary report of the House Committee on Foreign and Inter-State Commerce, which has been investigating the situation with reference to rubber, and other commodities, gives Uncle Sam the very sensible suggestion that in order to protect himself from foreign monopolies he ought, so far as possible, to "grow his own."

The price of rubber it is stated, has been reduced from $1.10 a pound to less than half that figure through the efforts of Americans in cutting down the demand for the product, as suggested by Secretary Hoover, and the situation is not so acute as it was a few months ago. But the fact of the foreign monopoly still remains and the advice is given that the United States do what it can to grow a rubber supply of its own. Some of this growing of course could be done in the Philiipines if American capital were encouraged to go there.

But the rubber monopoly is not the only one which was investigated. Coffee, potash, silk sisal, and other foreign trusts came in for their share. Coffee is controlled by the government of Brazil and this costs the American people $135,000,000 a year extra. Potash is controlled by German and French monopolies, and sisal, nitrates and silks by others of equal force and effect.

The report suggests that the United States ought to take stock of its own stores of potash and to arrange for the utilization of Muscle Shoals as soon as possible for the production of nitrates. The sisal situation ought also be looked into, it is added, and the report generally goes on the assumption that the only way to protect ourselves is to get supplies of our own.

Of course the minority view, while agreeing in the main with the report, is that something ought to be done about our protective tariff. It seems that the minority just can't refrain from blaming everything on to the tariff. Perhaps that is why it remains the minority most of the time. The minority seems to feel that the British rubber trust, the Brazil coffee trust, and the Franco-German potash have been organized to punish us because of our protective tariff.

Most people will probably take the sounder view that these foreign trusts were formed for the same purpose that all trusts are formed—not to get even with anybody but to make money. Now as crude rubber, coffee, and potash are not among the protected articles, why should these monopolies be formed just to punish us for our tariff? Did the Brazil government form the coffee trust because we put a tariff on English cotton goods, or did it take coffee under its control to make more money out of it? The answer is of course obvious.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Strock and daughter of Verbena visited friends here Sunday.

"Young pigs should have special care for the first two weeks."—F. W. Burns, Auburn.

It is estimated that the phosphorous deposits in the United States will last 2,200 years at the present rate of consumption.

The consumption of milk in the United States showed an increase of 27% from 1920 to 1924, going from 43 to 55 gallons per person.

The freezing point of most fruits is between 28 and 30 degrees Fahrenheit, but the banana is injured at temperatures considerably higher than actual freezing.

There is very little excuse for planting seed before the land is prepared thoroughly, but the farmer who does it will live to regret his error.

"Soil in poultry yards should be light and sandy enough to provide good drainage."—Prof. John E. Ivey, Auburn.

A forecast of the population of the United States on July 1, 1926 is put at 117,135,817, in a survey made public by the Bureau of Census. The population by the census of 1920 was 105,710,620, and an estimate made by the Census Bureau on July 1, 1925, had raised that figure to 115,378,094.

It always has been the view of the protectionists that after all it was of the greatest benefit to the American consumer to have flourishing home industries, because when the home industries are flourishing everybody has the money to buy with. This they have believed overbalanced the theoretical advantage of buying in the cheapest market. But it develops now that the free market is not always the cheapest, especially when the foreign monopoly gets in its heavy work.

Rhyne's Cook Wilt-resistant cotton has been grown in this section for the last 5 years. I grow it exclusively and consider it the best variety to plant for this section on wilt land. I have seed for sale in new branded bags direct from Rhyne Bros., of Benton, Ala. J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.
3-18-4t-pd.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of March 28, 1901.

Miss Minnie Muse is spending a few days in Birmingham, where she is working under a milliner from New York.—Jemison News.

Dr. H. W. Caffey is the Democratic, and L. H. Reynolds is the Populist candidate for representative of Chilton County in the proposed Constitutional Convention of Alabama.

Mr. W. M. Walker of Mulberry was in town Wednesday.

Mr. Lum Wilson visited Billingsley Wednesday.

Mr. Crit Jones spent Saturday in the capitol city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown of Montgomery are visiting the family of Mr. W. H. Foshee.

E. M. Pinckard went to Birmingham Tuesday.

W. M. Adams was a visitor to Birmingham Tuesday.

Bro. Dock Thornton held religious services at the Congregational church last Sunday.

On Friday afternoon Mr. Patrick Smith, while unloading some freight at W. I. Mullins' store, fell and broke a rib.

Dr. Dave Campbell is at home again after a visit to New York.

Dr. H. W. Caffey of Verbena was in town Tuesday, accompanied by his son, Lieut. Col. Caffey.

Mr. H. Touro went to the capitol city Monday.

Married—William Ray and Miss Mamie Mims; J. T. Stagner and Miss Emma Mims.

Good dairy cows will pay if given a good opportunity.

Land that made less than a third of a bale of cotton to the acre last year should not be planted in cotton this year. It should produce a crop of legumes to build it up, or, if this is not practical, should remain idle, because it is not profitable to cultivate.

The Holstein breed of dairy cattle now has to its credit 102 cows that have produced 1.000 or more pounds of butterfat in one year. In 1908 a cow of this breed startled the world by producing 998 pounds of butterfat from 25,992 pounds of milk in 365 days.

Ice cream consumption in the United States increased from 1.04 gallons per person in 1910, to 2.8 gallons in 1925, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Per capita consumption in 1924 was 2.5 gallons. It is estimated that 322,729,000 gallons were consumed in the United States in 1925.

The week of April 18-24 has been designated by President Coolidge as American Forest Week for 1926, according to an official proclamation made public by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "Too long have we as a Nation consumed our forest wealth, without adequate provision for its wise utilization and renewal," says the President. "But a gratifying change is taking place in the attitude of our industries, our landowners, and the American people, toward our forests."

Subscribe for The Union-Banner.

ARTICLES OF TOILET

Ours is the drug store where you get the latest and best in toilet articles of every kind. We buy only the highest quality because we realize the importance of having face powders, creams and lotions good and dependable. Anything you buy from us will beautify without harm. For your toilet and bath depend on us for your supplies.

Alred Drug Company
CLANTON, ALA.

Crown Gasoline | We guarantee to stop the chatter in your Ford | Polorine Mobiloils

If you will let us drain your crank case and refill with Polarine F.

We sell GOODYEAR and MANSFIELD tires and our prices are RIGHT.

TRY US AND SEE

We also want to wash and grease your car when it needs it.

Drop in and see if your License number is on the board and get 5 gals. gas FREE.

Dief's Service Station
"SERVICE A PLEASURE"

Open All Night | On the Highway Opposite Postoffice | Ladies Rest Room

APRIL DAYS—TWO KINDS !

(Scene - - Any Doorway)
(Characters - - Young Sweethearts)

SHE - - "Why, dearest—it's raining!"
HE - - "So it is, sweetheart. Wait here, I'll hail a taxi. Here—we are, snookums. Better not walk out on the muddy sidewalk. Here—let me carry you. You might get your sweet, little tootsies all wet and catch cold and get sick and then, maybe, oo'll die—"
(Business of sighing as he gently lifts her into cab.)
And that's that!

(Same Scene)
(Characters - - Married Couple)

SHE - - "Omyhevens, John, it's rainin' cats and dogs!"
HE - - "Ya don't have to be so noisy about it. I ain't blind or unconscious!"
SHE - - "How are we ever goin' to get home? We have no umbrella."
HE - - "Walk!"
SHE - - "Why, you tightwad. Go get a taxi!"
HE - - "Howdiya get like that? I ain't throwin' away any money for joy rides. C'mon! C'mon! Show some life in those puppies of yours. Move 'em back and forth. We're headin' for home!"
SHE - - "All right, Mr. Smarty, that'll cost you a new dress."
HE - - "Guess again."
SHE - - "Here, come back here! I can't get across this big puddle of water."
HE - - "Jump, ya rummy! Didn't ya me make it?"

She jumps - - lands in the middle of puddle - - and the battle rages on until they reach "Home - - Sweet - - Home!"

—§§§—

If things could be reversed and babes could tell us some of the cute phrases their parents used the night before—wouldn't the air be "blue"?

Shut Up - - Say Something!

"Good listeners," a writer tells us, "are in greater demand than heavy talkers." The line of married applicants forms on the right!

"NIGHT CLUB" is the new name for Ma's rollin' pin if Pop doesn't roll in before midnight.

—§§§—

When it comes to women's styles, words fail us. Next thing we know we'll be reading a thrilling news account from some forsaken corner of the globe, telling us about explorers having unearthed that now rarest of all earthly rarities—a "petticoat!"

—§§§—

FAMOUS LAST LINES

"He has two lovely black spots under his eyes, a flat nose and the sweetest disposition. No, not my husband. My dog!"

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"Pete Morley says his wife is th' kind o' person who buys a $10 lamp and wants a new suite of furniture t' match th' lamp--"

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

Plenty of Extra Sales people will be on hand ready to serve you.

Spring Opening Sale Starts Next Saturday, April 3rd.

Read every item listed on this page. It means Big Savings for You.

FOR MONTHS WE HAVE BEEN PLANNING THIS EVENT, AND HERE IT IS, JUST IN TIME FOR EASTER AND ALL OF YOUR MANY DIFFERENT NEEDS FOR THE SPRING AND SUMMER. WE HAVE SCOURED THE MARKETS OF THE COUNTRY IN ORDER TO SECURE THESE VALUES FOR YOU. THEY ARE THE MOST WONDERFUL, WE BELIEVE, EVER OFFERED IN A CLANTON STORE. WE HAVE BOUGHT NOTHING BUT THE NEWEST GOODS, AND THAT IN SUCH IMMENSE QUANTITIES SO THAT THERE WOULD BE ENOUGH FOR EVERYBODY. NOW WE ARE READY TO SERVE YOU. READ EVERY ITEM BELOW AND YOU CAN GAIN SOME IDEA OF WHAT WE ARE OFFERING YOU:

EXTRA

1,000 spools J & P Coats THREAD

3 Spools for 10c

While it lasts, only 3 spools to a customer.

SHIRT SALE

$1.49

—In this lot is nothing but good clean up-to-date and desirable merchandise. Every shirt is perfect. Six-button fronts, in choice colors and patterns. Collars attached and neckband styles. All sizes.

$1.49

Young Men's Suits

$10.00

—We have just about 25 of these suits to offer at this price, in sizes and ages 16 to 20, which is equal to about 34 to 38 size. If either of the sizes are yours, here's your opportunity!

BOYS WASH SUITS

—Whether or not you are familiar with the cost of materials and trimmings, you will readily recognize these as most unusual values. Every one is fresh and new. A big group to select from.

98c

Printed Chic Cloth

24c Yd

—We have about 30 pieces of this very popular cloth, just the thing for a little cheap dress for the home. Only about 1000 yards in the lot to offer.

2 Full Cases of Childrens SOCKS

—These socks are manufactured by the Chattanooga Hosiery Mills, and are sold under the brand of "Wonder Hose." We have them in the new spring and summer colors.

1 lot..... 25c pair

1 lot ..... 49c pair

Fine Footwear for Ladies

$2.98

—What an opportunity this is! Just one day before Easter, when most every woman or girl is giving serious thought to their footwear needs. These are Peters high grade shoes in all the new styles.

Our Entire Stock of Mens Regular $5.00 Shoes

$3.95

—This is probably the best shoe news that has been printed in a Clanton paper n a long time, even at the regular price of $5. Peters and Endicott shoes are superior to most shoes at the same price. This lot includes both high and low shoes.

100 Men's Smart Felt Hats

$2.98

—Hats that would sell in a regular way at $3.50, $4.00, and some at $5.00. An opportunity to get a new one for Easter at a worthy saving.

EXTRA

9-4 Bleached and unbleached Sheeting, worth 50c and 55c per yd.

As long as it lasts

39c Yd

EXTRA

For Saturday Only

Overalls $1.00

Good heavy blue denim in complete range of sizes. Not over 2 pr. to a customer.

LADIES! STOP! LOOK!

—About 50 genuine pattern hats, and really we could get up to $5.00 apiece for them, but we are going to group them in one lot and let you take your choice for—

$2.98

PRINTED CREPE

98c Yd

—While about 1,000 yards last we will sell Printed Crepe, guaranteed washable colors. You will find all the leading spring and summer shades and colors in thislot.

EXTRA

75c B. V. D. style Men's UNION SUITS

49c

Only 2 to a customer

PARENTS LOOK and READ

—Boys long Pants, new spring shades, in sizes from 6 to 11—

$2.49

—Same styles as above in sizes 12 to 16 for—

$2.98

—Boys adjustable size caps new bright spring shades for—

98c

NEW DRESSES Group 1

$2.98

—In this lot you will find printed cotton pongees, Irish Linen, all sizes. You'll be delighted with the smartness of the styles.

NEW DRESSES Group 2

$3.95

—The biggest dress value we know of; all made up in the newest and latest styles and materials. Big range of patterns and sizes to select from.

NEW DRESSES Group 3

$5.95

—These dresses you will have to see to appreciate, but you will find dresses in the lot that look just like $10 dresses. As long as they last for $5.95 each.

NEW DRESSES Group 4

$9.95

—Here is your chance to really dress up for Easter. We have taken dresses that we could easily sell for $15 and put them in this lot. Flat crepes, printed silks of all descriptions.

$2.00 Philippine Teddies

—These are hand-made and are beautifully hand embroidered. Fine material. While they last will sell for—

$1.29

EXTRA

15c DOMESTIC

36 in. wide. First Quality

10c Yd

EXTRA

A lot of big Bath Towels 19 x 40, worth 40c each

A big value—

4 for $1.00

Not over 4 to a customer

$2.00 Philippine Night Gowns

—These are hand-made and are beautifully hand-embroidered, fine material. While they last

$1.39

LADIES HATS

$1.98

Here is a Real Millinery Sensation

—These are the new spring hats. Every woman in Clanton and Chilton county who is going to have a new Easter hat should be here Saturday when the doors open.

500 Pairs of Silk Hosiery

—made to sell up to $1.50 per pair. Will offer in two groups as follows—

Group 1 .....98c

Group 2 .....$1.24

—Seldom, if ever before, has such values been offered in Clanton. So be here early.

CHILDRENS HATS

—A beautiful line of Children's dressed hats for—

$1.49

—Also about 50 hats in Pat Miland and other straw hats. The little hats are wonderful values for the price—

89c each

Don't Forget

The date, April 3rd. Be here on time. The doors will open at 8 o'clock A. M.

Chicago Sales Co.

Next to the First National Bank

CLANTON ALABAMA

We Repeat

The merchandise is of the most dependable grades. Every dollar's worth of it is brand new for Easter, for spring, for summer.

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE

Great Easter Sale

IF YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY ON YOUR EASTER PURCHASES, SEE US. WE ARE OFFERING BIG REDUCTIONS ON OUR ENTIRE STOCK. BELOW ARE A FEW OF THE MANY BARGAINS YOU WILL FIND HERE FOR YOU NOW:

$1.95 full fashioned pure silk HOSE in all sizes and colors, will sell for 98c

50c sport and pineapple ribbed HOSE for misses and ladies, all colors, special for 35c

1 lot of new PONGEES just received, beautiful patterns, a regular 50c value, special 29c

1 lot of 25c HAND TOWELS, special while they last, for 16c

1 lot of 65c BROOMS, 4-stran, while they last special for 33c

1 lot of 96-A 36-inch unbleached sea island Sheeting, special per yard 10c

Genuine PETER PAN GINGHAMS, special price per yard 45c

1 lot of new FRENCH CREPES in all kinds of patterns and colors, a 98c and $1.25 seller for 89c

1 lot of beautiful Soisettes and Broadcloths, all colors and patterns, special for 44c

1 lot of EASTER HATS for men and young men very special at $2.48

1 lot of Ladies New Spring HATS in a special offer at $1.95

1 lot of New RAYON SILK dresses all kinds, special for $3.79

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE
Clanton, Ala.

Beautiful line of NEW GINGHAMS DRESSES long sleeves, special $1.98

Don't forget our SHOE STOCK. See our new Blond Kid Slippers at $3.95

WE HAVE HUNDREDS OF OTHER ARTICLES ON THIS SPECIAL SALE. COME TO SEE THEM BEFORE YOU BUY.

SARDIS NEWS

Sunday school at this place has revived and we hope to have a large and regular attendance. We hope, also, that our people will show some interest in the singing society, as we have had no singing in some time.

The Pleasant Grove singing society will meet us here in the near future. We are more than glad to have them.

Mr. Jim Green has been ill for some time.

The death of Miss Mattie Carter of Stanton was quite a shock to this community. Miss Carter had many friends here.

Mr. Willie Bowman of Bethsalem was a visitor here Sunday.

Mr. Cleveland McGee of Maplesville and Mr. Garvie Lawley of Lawley were visitors to this community Sunday morning.

Miss Alphie Ratliff has returned from an extended visit to relatives in Selma.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klinner and children of Selma spent last week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Klinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Klinner of Burnsville spent the week end with relatives here.

Mr. John Burnett of Orville called here Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Flemon Lawrence of Brighton was a visitor here Sunday night.

Mr. Jack Donovan of Billingsley spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. Clayton Ratliff of Selma made a business trip to this place Monday.

Mr. I. T. Headley and family have moved near Selma.

Mr. Robert Chatman of Mt. Nebo was in our community Sunday.

Mrs. Ophelia Giles has returned to her home near Tuscaloosa after an extended visit to friends and relatives here. Mrs. Giles will be remembered as Miss Ophelia Ratliff, formerly of this community.

Miss Alma Klinner of Birmingham was a visitor to home folks Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie Bowles of Bethsalem spent last week with her parents here.

Much succes to The Union-Banner and its many readers.—An old subscriber.

DR. ARTHUR JOHNSON
CLANTON, ALA.
Diseases and surgery of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.
Office Hours:
9 to 12

A. C. Smith T. Calvin Stephens
SMITH & STEPHENS
Attorneys-At-Law
Office in Smith Building
CLANTON, ALABAMA

BIRMINGHAM MARINE CORPS LEADING IN RECRUITING

The U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Station in the old post office building, Birmingham, is leading all cities in the south in recruiting, according to information recieved by, Sergeant L. F. Hill, who is in charge of the station.

The record shows that applicants from practically every county in Alabama have applied for information at the office, and a large number have been enlisted.

All applicants are required to be A-1. The minimum height for enlistment in the Marine Corps is 65 inches, and the maximum is 73 inches. The age limit is 17 to 35 years, single, and of excellent character.

All men accepted will be transferred to the large Marine Corps training station, Marine barracks, Parris Island, S. C., where they will undergo an extensive training, after which they will be transferred to some port in the United States, or on one of Uncle Sam's battleships, or probably to some foreign country for active duty.

A feature of the Marine Corps is that all enlisted men are given a free course from the Marine Corps Institute, Washington, D. C. These courses are through correspondence and comprise all trades, arts, science, etc.

A Slight Precaution.—Son: "Can you sign your name with your eyes shut, daddy?"

Father: "Certainly!"

Son: "Well, shut your eyes and sign my school report.—People's Journal.

3 Bales of COTTON per Acre

Grown By A 13-Year-Old Boy It Pays To Use NITRATE of SODA

CLAUDE CRAIGHEAD of Athens, La., produced 2967 pounds of seed cotton, which ginned 1323 pounds of lint, on a measured acre of land. How many grown men are doing as well?

600 pounds of Nitrate of Soda furnished all the nitrogen for this crop.

Ask your county agent or send a postal card with your address to our nearest office for our free bulletins which have helped thousands of farmers to grow bigger and more profitable crops.

Chilean Nitrate of Soda—EDUCATIONAL BUREAU
Dr. William S. Myers, Director
...urt Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 702 Hibernia Bank Bldg., New Orleans, La.
...on Exchange Bldg., Memphis, Tenn. 57 East State St., Columbus, O.
...27 Madison Avenue, New York

EASTER SERVICE AT THE TEMPLE

Special Easter service will be conducted at the Temple church next Sunday. A special song service will be rendered, consisting of congregational singing, solos, duets and quartets. The Starr piano will be used for the accompaniment. The pastor and church welcome all to this service. "Let us come before His presence with singing."—The Temple Church.

FRIENDSHIP

Rev. W. W. Robinson and wife of Providence spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wyatt.

Farming is moving on fine around here. Most of us are planning to plant corn this week.

Mrs. Hazel Gilbert has returned home after a recent visit to her sister, Mrs. John Robinson, near Providence.

Mrs. Mary Collins of Jemison visited Mrs. Vinson Sunday.

Mr. Carl Gore of Atlanta, Ga., is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gore.

Mrs. Will Duke of Jemison visited Mrs. Ed Miller Sunday.

Last Sunday was our regular preaching day and our pastor, Rev. W. P. Lowery, delivered two very good sermons, which everyone enjoyed.

The singing society met last Sunday afternoon, and we had the best singing held at this place in several years. Directors for the afternoon were A. D. Huett, O. R. Robinson, Archie Devaughn, O. L. Devaughn, Vester Miller, J. W. Cagle, M. Lockhart, W. M. Devaughn, Jesse Baker, A. O. Boswell, and Johnnie Miner. Two splendid quartets were rendered, one of which was arranged by Mr. Jesse Baker, and the other was rendered by Prof. W. M. Devaughn and children. Organists were C. H. Robinson, Misses Lena Mae Devaughn and Aline Baker, Mesdames O. R. Robinson and Jesse Baker. We were glad to see so many with us, and we invite you to come back and bring someone with you. We appreciate the help we are receiving from neighboring churches, and we are going to do all in our power to keep up the spirit of cooperation.—A. D. Huett, Sec'y.

FROM ALMSHOUSE

Mrs. Oliver Smith and daughter, Mary Nell, have returned from a week's visit to Birmingham. They were accompanied home by little Miss Ruby Mae Bean.

Mrs. Pearl Bynum and daughter, Maggie Pearl, from Calera, spent a few hours with Misses Pearl and Verlie Thacker.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Grover Jones is doing nicely now.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Smith and little daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Smith.

Mrs. McNeil's school is out, and she is at home again with relatives and friends.—A reader.

Crime Note.—Daughter: "Did you hear, dad, they've just caught the biggest hotel thief on the Riviera."

Father: "Oh, which hotel did he run?"—The Passing Show (London).

I. T. Garner, optometrist, will be in Thorsby on Friday before the fourth Saturday in every month, and in Clanton over Tom Kemp's store the fourth Saturday in each month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. tf.

Julius Reynolds spent the week end at Greenville.

CORINTH

Our singing society met last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The chairman opened the singing by leading one song. After prayer the large crowd of attentive listeners were entertained by T. L. Robinson, J. F. Dubose, A. L. Robinson, A. M. Jones, each singing four songs. Organists were Mrs. Pearlie Hughes and Mrs. Lola Jones.

We are glad to have the large attendance that we have at our singings. You are always welcome.—W. A. Jones, Sec'y.

A farmer who plants his crop in the spring without taking into consideration what the results will be next fall is proceeding blindly, and the blind are liable to fall into a ditch any day.

JACKSON-MARTIN

Mr. George Jackson and Miss Velma Martin were married at the home of Mr. Wiley Davis Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom, with Messrs. Joe and Roy Jackson, and Miss Mattie Driver, motored to Birmingham. They spent the day with Miss Mattie Driver at her home, visiting Mrs. Mary Lue Burks Sunday night.

OMAR L. REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
OFFICE OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE
Clanton, Ala.

Athletic Poultry.—Marshall Latshaw says the council has instructed him to enforce the ordinance against chickens running at large and riding bicycles on the sidewalks.—News item in an Omak (Wash.) paper.

Sanford Barber Shop
Clanton, Ala., 7th Street
The best shave in town, haircuts, tonics, etc., up-to-date. Your Patronage appreciated.
HOT AND COLD SHOWER BATHS

We Pay Highest Cash Price for Eggs & Chickens

HILL'S

We Roast and Grind Your Coffee 4 lbs., $1.20 Guaranteed To Please

The store with the Red Front--7th st.

Karo Syrup Gallon - - - - 58 Cts.

Jello, all flavors	10c	Prunes, 2lb	25c
Bull Head catsup, 2 for	25c	Pioneer corn, No. 2 can	10c
Peacock syrup, per gallon	72c	Swifts Pure Lard No. 10 Pail	$1.55
Ajax, the coffee with an aroma of strength, lb	29c	Rumford or Calumet Baking Powder, lb can	29c
Home made Ribbon Cane syrup, per gallon	$1.00	Campbell's Pork & Beans Large cans, 3 for	25c
3-Minute oatmeal	9c	Nice whole grain rice, lb	9c
Dried Apples, per lb	18c	3 Cans No. 2 Tomatoes	25c
Corn fed, sugar cured Sliced Bacon, per lb	37c
Chum salmon, 2 cans	25c

JUST RECEIVED ANOTHER CAR OF

Split Silk Flour . $10.25 bbl.

The Flour that is GUARANTEED to please you or YOUR MONEY BACK

M-4

Cod Liver Oil in Powder in Alfocorn Chick Mash

Simple as ABC to Alfocorn Chemists. How to keep the "sunshine" vitamins in Cod Liver Oil from losing their value when exposed to light and air. Cod Liver Oil in Alfocorn Chick Mash is mixed with bone-making minerals that preserve the life-giving "sunshine" vitamins. It acts like sunlight in promoting proper bone development and preventing rickets (leg weakness).

Alfocorn Chick Mash contains all the food elements chicks are made of. Creamy table Oatmeal for heat and energy. Rich, dried Buttermilk to insure complete digestion. If you want healthy, vigorous, fast-growing chicks, feed Alfocorn Chick Mash—the perfect starting mash.

Free! Come in and see the new Alfocorn Chick Fountain. Insures clean water all the time. Strong, sanitary, easy to fill. You'll need one or more of them. Free!

Jas. C. Jones
CLANTON, ALABAMA

ALFOCORN
Guaranteed
BABY CHICK MASH
In Dollar Mark Bags

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:
10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

FOR SALE—125 S. C. White Leghorn pullets, 1 year old, $1.00 each. R. C. Burkhalter, Verbena, Ala., R 1. 1t-pd.

WANTED—Sawmill hands, good permanent job, near Montgomery on Birmingham - Montgomery highway. $1.75 per day and up; pay every two weeks. H. B. Reynolds, Millbrook, Ala. 4-1-2t-ch.

FOR SALE—Farm consisting of 220 acres, about 70 acres in cultivation and the rest in timber; dwelling, tenant house; running water on place; located 3-4 mile north of Billingsley, Ala. For further information write Mrs. C. Faulkner, 14 Dunbar Street, Montgomery, Ala. 3-25-4t-pd

LOST OR STOLEN—1 white and liver spotted Pointer bitch, medium size, very friendly, answers to name "Kate"; missing from my place since Friday, March 19. Will pay liberal reward to finder or information as to her whereabouts. K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala. 3-25-tf

Women, You Need Strength!

Birmingham, Ala.—"I have always taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription whenever I have felt the need of a tonic, and it has always given me better health and strength. My sister, also, has been benefited in the same way. I am quite sure that the prompt and persistent use of the 'Favorite Prescription will keep any woman in good health and my advice would be, do not delay."—Mrs. Ella Gaither, 607 N. 19th Street.

Sold by all dealers, in liquid or tablet form, or send 10c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

LOST—1 sack of Daybreak 10-2¼-4 guano, March 12, between Clanton and Enterprise schoolhouse. Reasonable reward if finder will notify L. P. Cagle, Billingsley R 1. 1t-pd.

COW FOR SALE—Extra good milk cow. Apply to R. M. Foshee, Jemison Route 2. 1t-pd

WANTED TO BUY—Good, clean, sound nitrate of soda sacks. J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala. 3-18-3t-ch

FOR SALE—A limited quantity of New U. S. Army Pants, in sizes 33x33, 34x31½, and 35x30 all Wool and brand New, while they last at $2.75 per pair, post paid. Money refunded if out of sizes wanted. G. W. Moates, Clanton, Ala., Route 5.

WANTED—A man to represent the National Life Association of Des Moines, Iowa, in territory open in Chilton County. Company is 26 years old; assets of $3,000,000.00 for the protection of policy holders; four popular policies. Ordinary insurance age, 35, $16.36 per thousand. For particulars address W. C. English, State agent, Rockford, Ala. 3-11-4t-ch

LOST—3 miles east of Clanton, female hound pup, two-thirds grown; white with small red and blue specks; large black spot over eye and ear. If found notify Arthur Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 2. Information confidential, $5.00. 3-11-5t-ch

FOR SALE—One 4-room house in Clanton, on half-acre of ground, located on old B. & M. highway; price $850.00; half cash and terms on balance if desired. Apply to Tommie Hand, Prattville, Ala. 3-25-2t-pd

FOR SALE OR TRADE—One good mule; will sell cheap, or will trade for cattle. W. M. Devaughn, Verbena, Ala., R 2. 3-25-3t-ch

The Cook 10-10 cotton has proved by test of the Experiment Station to be the best cotton for this part of Alabama. MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 seed are for sale by Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala.; Gulledge Bros., Verbena, Ala.; J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.
4-1-5t-ch.

Rev. M. W. Mims of Maplesville was in town Saturday.

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

J. OSMOND MIDDLETON
Attorney-at-Law
Office in New Hayes Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

Gruesome Find

AUTHORITIES at Astoria, N. Y., still are on the hunt for evidence leading to a solution of a mystery that followed the finding of the bodies of some 500 still born babies in St. Michael's cemetery there.

Half a thousand boxes, containing the tiny dead bodies—callously exposed to the elements—were discovered in the cemetery. The find created a tremendous sensation, followed by a very determined public demand for an investigation. Late reports, however, fail to disclose any information on results of the inquiry.

Photo above shows a detective looking down into the entrance of the horrible tomb.

6,000 FARM BOYS TO BE CLUB MEMBERS

With enrollment reports received from a dozen county agents an estimate is made that nearly 6,000 Alabama farm boys will engage in agricultural club work this year. The average enrollment per county for those reporting is a little under 100. Perhaps a few more will enroll. If the average per county agent is 100 the total for the State will be 5,700, because there are 57 county agents.

Among those reporting to date, Morgan County is leading with 207. J. C. Ford, former State leader, is county agent in Morgan County. Clarke is next with 147, and Dale is third with 117. C. L. Hollingsworth is county agent in Clarke, and G. W. Ray in Dale.

The enrollment for other counties reporting follows: Randolph, 106; Coosa-Tallapoosa, 104; Shelby, 95; Marengo, 94; Coffee, 60; Clay, 52; Bullock, 38; and Montgomery, 7.

The number of boys engaged in each project will not be known for some time, but T. A. Sims and J. C. Lowery, State leaders, estimate that 75% of them will be in the cotton club. Perhaps the pig club will be second, while a few will engage in corn club, peanuts, and other crops. In some counties poultry club work attracts many boys.

The chief purpose of club work is to teach by demonstrations better methods of farming. At first many prizes were offered but now they are discouraged because they cause boys to lose sight of the real purpose and become discouraged if they fail to win a prize.

POPLR SPRINGS

We wish to announce our regular Easter singing at Poplar Springs the first Sunday in April, Easter Sunday. You are cordially invited to attend.

J. W. COOPER,
H. W. DEVAUGHN,
J. L. McDOWELL.

CEDAR GROVE

The Liberty Hill-Cedar Grove Singing Society met at Cedar Grove last Sunday afternoon, with a large crowd, and had some good singing.

The directors were J. W. Lowery, D. T. Melton and Kermit Lowery. We would have had more directors but they were excused on some account which we did not learn.

We will postpone the singing at Libery Hill next Sunday on account of the singing at Poplar Springs and Thorsby.

We invite all singers and lovers of music to be with us anytime.

BETHEL

We want to ask everyone interested in this place to meet here Friday, April 9, at 1 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of cleaning off the cemetery. Everybody come and show respect for the dead.—Mrs. R. C. Burkhalter.

Cramped Her Style.—Mrs. Noise: "Why did you leave your last place?"

Cook: "They were trying to live within their income."—Life.

SENTENCED FOR ISSUING CHALLENGE TO FIGHT DUEL

Monroe Burch was convicted in the Cullman County Circuit Court last week on a charge of issuing a challenge to Grady McCoy to fight a duel with shotguns. Burch was sentenced to 2 years and 1 day in the penitentiary.

This is the first case of the kind that has appeared on the Criminal Court records of Alabama since 1847.

FORESTRY LETTER

A two weeks inspection of the principal features of forestry progress in Alabama has just been completed by an Inspector of the Federal Government in cooperation with the State Commission of Forestry. The field inspection covered parts of 20 counties lying in the chief timber growing regions of the State. Local and State records were also examined and checked in relation to the actual conditions existing in the forests.

Among the outstanding charges noted by the inspection as having developed within the last two years is the increased interest taken by landowners in the actual value of their forest properties. This is the real foundation of all forestry development. If the owner of the land appreciates the benefits and profits that will accrue to him through maintaining in forest growth those portions of his holdings not more valuable for other purposes, the practice of forestry will follow as a natural consequence. If the owner himself is indifferent to such possible values, there is little that can be done for him by his neighbors, the State of the Federal Government. However, the distinct advance among all classes of owners in the appreciation of forest benefits is encouraging to the local communities and the State at large.

Another point developed by the inspection, closely related to the former, is that concrete action is being taken by the interested owners to realize on the potential productivity of their forest lands. In most cases this is evidenced by the extreme care being taken to prevent promiscous burning of the woodlands. In many instances fire protection has been supplemented by the planting of barren areas and by the thinning of tracts on which the growth was too dense. Greater care is also being taken in the way of close utilization. Altogether it appears that during the past two years over 300,000 acres of forest land within the State, exclusive of public forests, have been definitely committed to timber growing on a scientific basis. The indications are that this amount will be rapily increased in the near future.

The inspection included comparison of the State forest fire statistics with the actual conditions on the ground, with the finding that during the past two calendar years the percentage of forest land burned in the State has decreased from approximately 36% in 1923 to about 16% in 1925. This result is attributed not only to the direct efforts of the State and Federal Governments, but also to public sentiment stimulated by forward looking citizens and the press of the State.

OBITUARY

On Friday, March 26, the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Lenora Pittman of Birmingham and took away her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Tyus, to the Heavens of God's eternal rest.

Mrs. Tyus was 90 years old, and was the wife of Capt. A. J. Tyus, who died in Clanton about 7 years ago. She was the mother of 6 children—4 boys and 2 girls, all of whom are now living except Will Tyus and Tom Tyus. Those now living are Hall Tyus of Clanton; Ben Tyus, Mrs. Lenora Pittman, and Mrs. Lillian Goodgame of Birmingham.

She was a member of the Baptist church from young womanhood until her death. She was a devoted and faithful wife and mother who valued truth and stood for the principles of right at all times.

Her remains were laid to rest beside her husband, Capt. A. J. Tyus, in the Clanton cemetery on Saturday, March 27. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Stephenson of Birmingham, who was a constant visitor at her bedside during her illness and death.

She was born in Thomaston, Ga. Besides the 4 children, several grandchildren and other relatives and friends are left to mourn her departure from this world.

New Way to Stop Night Coughing

Simple Method Brings Quick Relief

For almost instant relief from hacking, irritating, sleep-robbing night coughing there is a very simple treatment which, often with a single dose, stops all irritation and permits sound sleep the whole night through.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. People who have not slept well for nights are often surprised how quickly this simple method checks coughing and banishes the entire cough condition completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

RHYNE'S COOK

Wilt-Resistant Cotton

has led all wilt-resistant varieties in the Alabama Experiment Station tests for the last three years. Stood first in Mississippi Experiment Station test in 1924. A big boll early variety that runs ⅞ to 1 inch staple and turns out 38% to 40% lint.

Absolutely The Best Variety For Chilton County

Seed grown in this section are better adapted than any others from outside. Bred up by individual stalk selections for many years. These seed can be secured from C. A. Pattillo, Billingsley, Ala., J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala., or direct from us. Descriptive pamphlet and price list sent on request.

RHYNE BROS
Benton, Alabama

USED
Ford
CARS
See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1925 Roadster, New Paint	$250.00
1925 Coupe, New Paint	225.00
1924 Touring, New Paint	150.00
1925 Touring, New Paint	175.00
Some Good Values	40.00

Ford Trucks Cheap

If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company
Sales Ford Service
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Clanton, Ala.

SMILES BY MILES

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Miss Oglesby Honored.

On Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Langston on East Highlands Mesdames J. C. Langston, Clements Pratt and C. E. Hornsby entertained at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Gladys Oglesby, who will on April 7, become the bride of J. P. Wade of Clanton, Ala. On entering the reception hall of the attractive Langston residence the guests were met by the hostesses and honoree forming the receiving line. Each guest was registered in the bride's book by Miss Mary Cooper. Delightful punch was served in the hall by Miss Margaret Oglesby. The decorations of the occasion were green and white, carrying out St. Patrick suggestions. Little Mary Anna Thompson, representing a cupid, led the bride-to-be to an adjoining room, where the wedding bell and gifts awaited her. The prospective bride's maids opened the many beautiful gifts and passed them to each guest. Miss Oglesby wore embroidered white georgette in gold with a large Spanish shawl, presenting a most attractive appearance.

In the wishing contest, in which the guests participated, the prize, a beautiful candy jar, was won by Mrs. John P. Kennedy, who immediately presented it to the bride-to-be. Little Miss Harriette Brown delighted the guests with a reading, "A Humble Petition." Brick cream, cake and mints were served. Those assisting in serving were Mesdames O. P. South, Surry T. Langston, H. Brown Thompson, and Mary Griffin Hornsby. Sixty guests were invited and the afternoon was one of rare pleasure for those who attended.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Sewing Club Luncheon

Mrs. John T. Ellis delightfully entertained the members of the Thursday Sewing Club and others at a luncheon on last Thursday at her home on Eighth Street. The home was profusely decorated with daffodils and potted plants. The luncheon table was beautifully appointed. The centerpiece was a crystal bowl of daffodils. Attractive cards marked the places of Mesdames V. J. Gragg, E. E. Upchurch, John M. VanDerveer, Bama Cox, J. Watts Moore, J. C. Jones, J. Lee Smith, C. Fenn Jones, G. H. Denson, and Miss Evelyn Denson.

Mrs. Murphy Has Quilting Party.

Last Thursday Mrs. J. W. P. Murphy entertained a number of friends at a quilting party at her home near Clanton. The home was decorated with spring blossoms. At noon a sumptuous dinner was served cafeteria style.

Those enjoying this affair were Mesdames S. J. Ezell, C. V. Heath, W. I. Mullins, Laura White, M. A. Mullins, Robinson, John M. Robinson, Watt Willis, Sam Parrish, Miss Bettie Mullins.

Seibert-Taylor.

A wedding of much interest to many in Clanton and elsewhere took place at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Ezell Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, when Miss Lois Taylor became the bride of Mr. Charles Seibert of Ensley, in the presence of a few intimate friends. The bride was attired in blue, with accessories to match. Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left for Ensley, where they will reside. The bride has held a position with Elmore's for some time, and has many friends who extend best wishes.

Bridge Club Entertained.

The members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others were delightfully entertained by Mrs. John C. Page on last Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fifth Avenue. Narcissus and hyacinths, artistically arranged in baskets and bowls added to the attractiveness of the home. A series of bridge games was played at three tables. Mrs. N. S. Johnson held top score and was presented a compact concealed in an Easter egg. The booty prize, a rabbit in a large Easter egg, fell to Mrs. Grady Reynolds.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. C. McDavid, served a delicious salad plate to the following: Mesdames L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, Oscar Jones, N. S. Johnson, V. J. Heard, Grady Reynolds, H. M. Simpson, J. Watts Moore, Daphne of Tallahassee, Fla., and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Mrs. Johnson Hostess.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson was hostess on Friday, entertaining a group of friends at a spend-the-day party, at her home on Second Avenue. Spring blossoms and potted plants were used to decorate the home. The luncheon table was centered with a basket of daffodils and fern. Covers were laid for nine.

Those included in this hospitality were Mesdames L. F. Gerald, N. S. Johnson, J. Watts Moore, H. M. Simpson, Frank Callen, J. Hance Alred, Oscar Jones; and Kathleen Mullins.

Mrs. G. H. Denson and Miss Evelyn Denson of Dothan spent Thursday with Mrs. John T. Ellis.

Birthday Party.

A pretty affair of the past week was a birthday party given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. W. M. Wyatt in honor of her little daughter, Theda, the occasion being the fifth birthday anniversary of the little honoree. Mrs. Wyatt was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. George Trotter. The home was attractively decorated with spring blossoms and potted plants. Many games were played, and a contest, "Placing a carrot in the rabbit's mouth," was enjoyed. Dorothy Carter won the prize, a large Easter rabbit. Bill Hodges won the booby prize, a small Easter rabbit. When the birthday cake was cut Olive Rainer Elmore drew the ring, Dorothy Carter the dime, Mary Courtney Jones the thimble, and Joe Hall Johnson the button. The little folks were served refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Those in attendance were Jane Pitts, Ruth Gowan, James Catherine Crumpton, Gertiwyl Vinson, William Hodges, Thomas Pyron, Nell Rockett, Sam Johnson, Peggy Page, Hal Broadhead, Allee Stewart Johnson, Callen Alred, Kenyon Vinson, Joe Hall Johnson, Jane Neighbors, Dorothy Carter, Anne Cordelia Smith, Mary Wallace Calloway, Mary Courtney Jones, Nell Ross Mullins, Olive Rainer Elmore, Nellie Mae Caldwell, Leonard Farley, Jr., Bill Retherford, Gladys Martin, Jake Neighbors, Myrtle Pitts, Mary Frances Atkinson.

Thursday Sewing Club Luncheon.

On last Thursday Mrs. John T. Ellis entertained the members of the Thursday Sewing Club at a luncheon at her home on Eighth Street.

Study Club To Meet.

The Clanton Study Club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. P. Hayes Friday afternoon, April 2, at 3 o'clock. The annual election of officers will take place.

Executive Board To Meet.

The Executive Board of the W. M. U. of Unity Association will be entertained by Mrs. J. E. Gowan at her home on Thursday, April 1. All members are urged to be present.

Girl's Auxiliary Entertained.

The Girl's Auxiliary was entertained Thursday evening in the basement of the Baptist church by Circle No. 4 of the W. M. S. Various games, contests and music were features of the evening's entertainment. Delicious refreshments were served to those present.

Mr. W. I. Mullins spent Wednesday in Montgomery.

Mrs. Nannie Crichton left last Thursday for Lagrange, Ga., to visit her brother, Mr. John Smith.

Mr. Russell Edwards of Calera was a visitor here Tuesday.

Mr. N. A. Gray spent Monday in Montgomery on business.

Prof. and Mrs. S. F. Allen of Calera were among the visitors to Clanton Tuesday.

Judge L. B. Riddle of Columbiana was a business visitor to Clanton on Tuesday.

Mr. G. D. Retherford made a business trip to Montgomery Monday.

Sheriff J. J. Falkner of Columbiana was in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. Will White of Spigener spent the week-end with his mother and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White.

Mr. J. L. Ruffin made a business trip to Birmingham Tuesday.

Mrs. V. J. Elmore and little daughter, Olive Rainer, left Monday for Elba, where they will remain until after the wedding of Mrs. Elmore's sister, Miss Kate Rainer. They were accompanied to Montgomery by Mr. Elmore.

Mrs. Ernest Lane of Montgomery is the guest of her mother and Mrs. M. L. White this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Billingsley of Thorsby were among the visitors in Clanton Monday.

Mr. C. Baer of Calera was in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. Paul O. Luck of Columbiana attended court here Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Armstrong of Shelby were here Monday attending court.

Mr. A. A. Jauney and daughter, Miss Aljan, of Montgomery, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. T. Hinkle Monday.

Mr. Hubert Williams of Jemison was the guest of his sister, Mrs. N. A. Gray, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Downs motored to Birmingham Saturday.

Rev. Hornady of Mt. Creek was in Clanton Monday.

Dr. S. J. Ezell and Mr. Grady Broadhead motored to Montgomery Tuesday afternoon and were accompanied home by Mrs. Ezell and Mrs. Broadhead, who were returning from Columbus, Ga.

MAHOGANY PLAYER Piano now in Clanton; guaranteed new and one of our best instruments; fine tone, beautiful finish rolls, bench, scarf free; for sacrifice price and terms write Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., Box 848, Montgomery, Ala. 4-1-2tch

Miss Mattie Giles of West End, who underwent an operation for appendicitis a few days ago, is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor have just returned from south Alabama, and report a fine trip.

Mr. Alonza Parrish and several others from here spent Sunday out at Mulberry church at an all day singing.

Mr. Emmett Conway motored to Maplesville Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bill Murphy and one or two friends spent last Friday shopping in Birmingham.

Miss Burnice Broadhead of Birmingham is visiting her brother, Mr. J. H. Broadhead, and sister, Mrs. D. E. Golfe.

Mrs. W. N. Laney is improving from an attack of flu.

Among those attending the Alabama Educational Association in Birmingham last week were Messrs. Ellis, W. E. Martin, Frank Mullins, John Plier; Misses Thelma Guy, Leona Stanley, Maude and Beatrice Alexander, Lillian Pate, Vera Mae White, Florence Grier, Lillian Taylor, Ivilyn Ingram, and Eoline McCullar.

Miss Elizabeth Duncan returned to Marion Monday, where she is a student at Judson College, having spent the spring holidays here with Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Duncan.

Master Sidney Lewis Reynolds has returned from a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Tarpley, at Tuscaloosa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones made a business trip to Montgomery Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Smith and children, and Miss Kathryn Hayes, motored to Prattville Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith.

Mrs. Daphne ond little son of Tallahassee, Fla., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willis spent Wednesday in Montgomery at the bedside of Mrs. Felston Mullins, who is seriously ill at a Montgomery hospital.

Mrs. John Hollis of Mitchell Dam was shopping in Clanton Friday.

Mrs. L. F. Gerald and children spent Saturday in Birmingham with Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Horn.

Mesdames W. M. Wyatt, Kin Vinson, Grady Broadhead, Hugh Jones and little daughter, Mary Courtney, motored to Montgomery Wednesday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. Udah Curlee has gone to Jacksonville to enter the State Normal School.

Mrs. W. C. Robinson and Miss Alma Robinson motored to Montgomery Friday and spent the afternoon shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Popwell and children left Wednesday for Dade City, Fla., after a visit of several weeks to relatives.

Mrs. E. E. Upchurch, accompanied by Mesdames John T. Ellis and S. J. Ezell, motored to Birmingham Friday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Van Der veer spent Friday in Birmingham.

Miss Alma Robinson has returned to Marion, where she is a student at Judson College, having spent the spring holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robinson.

Miss Mary Upchurch, a student at Howard College, spent the week end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Bonner and little son of Jemison were visitors here Wednesday.

Mr. T. M. Pyron of Birmingham visited relatives here a few days last week.

Mr. Monroe Hubbard of Jemison was in town on business last Wednesday.

Messrs. Harry Gordon and Leo Friedberg of Columbiana were here Friday.

Mrs. J. P. Van Der veer has returned from a visit to Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Pow of Bessemer.

Supt. B. Lawrence attended the A. E. A. in Birmingham last week.

Mrs. D. C. Alred spent several days in Birmingham the past week.

Mesdames S. J. Ezell and Grady Broadhead accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Hughes of Billingsley, left Monday morning to attend the annual Eastern district meeting of the W. M. U. at Phoenix City.

Mr. Cleve Weldon of Enterprise was in town Friday.

Mr. Bob Williams of Montgomery spent the week end in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mullins of Mitchell Dam were in town Saturday.

Mr. J. D. Hughes of Cooper was a visitor in Clanton Saturday.

Mr. Clarence Evans, who travels for a Birmingham firm, spent the week end with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deering and daughter of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Robinson the past week end.

Dr. S. J. Ezell preached at Mulberry Sunday afternoon.

Mr. John T. Ellis has returned from a business trip to Tifton, Ga.

Mr. John Van Der veer and son, Joe, returned Sunday from a few days visit to Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Pow of Bessemer.

Mrs. G. O. McKee and boys left Montgomery Saturday for Lakeland, Fla., where they will join Mr. McKee and reside in the future. Their home address will be 722 Pear St., Lakeland.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Popwell motored to Thorsby Sunday.

Miss Cleo Broadhead who teaches at Jemison was in town a while Sunday afternoon, returning from the teachers' meeting held in Birmingham last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sie Foshee visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. King, at Maplesville, Sunday.

Misses Jettie Popwell and Bernice Broadhead, and Mrs. J. H. Broadhead attended the singing at Mulberry Sunday.

Big bargains in our Easter Hat Sale, 50c, $1, and up—Robinson Bargain Store.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayes spent a while Sunday in Opelika.

Mrs. O. T. McOliver, who has been in the T. C. I. Hospital in Birmingham, is doing nicely and is expected home soon.

Messrs. J. H. Broadhead, Vernon and S. A. Jones, and L. Williams motored to Montgomery Sunday to attend the ball game.

Rev. G. A. McLaren of Atlanta, Ga., is expected in town within the next few days to preach several sermons.

Mrs. Greer of Hampton Springs, Fla., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Calloway spent Sunday with relatives near Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Williams and family spent Sunday at Lock 12.

ROSIE THOMAS DEAD

Miss Rosie Thomas, age about 22, died Saturday moring and was buried at Aldridge cemetery Sunday morning. Rev. W. W. Robinson conducted the funeral. She was the daughter of Lewis W. Thomas.

Miss Lena Downs will be back on her old job at Chicago Sales Co., on Saturday morning. She invites all of her friends to take advantage of Chicago Sales Co. Spring Opening Sale which begins Saturday, April 3, and come to see her.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION COURT HOUSE APRIL 10TH

There will be a fiddlers convention at the court house on Saturday night, April 10th. The proceeds will go to the Methodist church. All fiddlers are especially invited. The people who were so well pleased with the other convention that they are anxious for another one. We hope to have a large crowd. We will prepare seats for all who will come. The program will be published next week.

The price of admission will be 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for the children under 12 years old.

We want to express our gratitude for those who came to the last convention and promise all a better time at this one.—Ladies of the Methodist Church of Clanton.

FOR SALE

Best 5-acre truck farm in Thorsby; buildings newly painted; all in A-1 condition; price $1,850.00. See L. E. DIEFENDERFER Thorsby, or DIEF'S SERVICE STATION Clanton, Ala.

BANANAS

25c per DOZEN

Car load nice ripe Bananas on track near depot Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday

BUNCHES, 50c UP

L. H. BEAN, Undertaker

Jemison, Ala.

Funeral Supplies, Including Metallic Caskets and Steel Vaults

I carry the most complete line of Caskets in the County, and sell for the lowest prices.

Hearse Service on Request

Formal Showing of Spring Footwear

Featuring Distinctive New Styles For Every Member of the Family

You are invited to attend this Formal Presentation of Spring Footwear with all the cordiality that befits the great promise of bright, active, outdoor days.

The store is abloom with a Spring garden of shoes for every occasion.

Now is the time for selection. You will find here not only the latest and final decrees of Fashion, but find them carried out in the very finest materials.

FOR WOMEN—slippers, pumps, and oxfords; satin, suede, soft kid, calf, and combinations; smartest new Spring shades.

FOR MEN—street, sports and dressy oxfords; kidskin, calf, elk, and patent leather; tan, brown and black; with and without rubber heels.

FOR CHILDREN—sturdy, broad toe 'highs,' slippers and oxfords in durable kidskin, calf; and patent leather for best.

We advise early selections while assortments are large and varied, and size ranges complete.

We are exclusive agents for Bobolink $1.25 and Rang Tang Hosiery, every pair guaranteed, even the Chiffon Rang Tang $1.65.

Alred Mercantile Company, Inc.

CLANTON, ALABAMA

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

Renew Your Health by Purification

Any physician will tell you that "Perfect Purification of the System is Nature's Foundation of Perfect Health." Why not rid yourself of chronic ailments that are undermining your vitality? Purify your entire system by taking a thorough course of Calotabs,—once or twice a week for several weeks—and see how Nature rewards you with health.

Calotabs are the greatest of all system purifiers. Get a family package, containing full directions. Only 35 cts. At any drug store. (Adv.)

MAPLESVILLE DOTS

Quite a crowd were entertained at the home of Mrs. Jim McGee Friday night, including many fdiends from Lawley.

Mr. L. L. Seals spent the week end with wife and children.

Mr. Luther Carter of Billingsley spent Saturday afternoon here.

Mrs. Melean McCary is home after an operation for appendicitis at the Central Alabama Hospital.

We are glad to have Miss Ethel Mize at home with us again. She has been teaching at Isabella.

Miss Mattie Lou Gray spent Saturday morning here.

We are glad to have Miss Willie King with us again, her school having closed.

Our Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. are progressing fine.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner.

MULBERRY-ISABELLA NEWS

Don't forget to come to the old time fiddlers convention at Isabella school house next Saturday night, April 3. There will be several old time fiddlers there to make some good music.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carter and family and Mrs. Tula Smith were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Edwards, last week end.

Mr. Wilbur Veazy of Birmingham was among his friends and relatives at Mulberry Sunday.

The Sunday school service at Mulberry Baptist church last Sunday was enjoyed by a good sized crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jeter, all of Southside Baptist church, Birmingham, attended the Sunday School rally at Mulberry Sunday.

Prof. Earle Thomas attended the teachers' meeting at Birmingham last week.

Mrs. Hattie Thomas gave a quilting one day last week. After the quilts were done she served candy to 14 ladies; pictures were made of ladies, quilts and all.

Mr. and Mrs. Deline Barnes and Miss Lula Dea Barnes, all from Selma, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Barnes, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Presley Turner and family of Deatsville visited the families of W. M. Wright and Mrs. Bud Houston Saturday and Sunday.

WIDOW CRIES FOR JOY

"I couldn't eat anything but raw eggs and sweet milk and was so weak I could hardly walk across the room. I would have been in my grave today if I hadn't taken MAYR'S when I did. When I think how I have suffered with my stomach and how good I feel now I cry for joy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Mr. Jack Hayes returned to the University of Alabama Monday, having spent several days with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes.

MRS. C. B. NORRELL
Studio of Music
Over Broadhead's Store
Violin, Piano, Theory, Harmony, modern phrasing and pedaling. Certificate from the Elenberg Conservatory of Music. Years of Experience. Terms Reasonable. Home phone. 3-25-4t-pd.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page 2)

ward him, the thunder of the two broadsides overpowering, numbing like the roaring of two beasts fighting in the night. I felt my great-uncle's hand on my arm; his voice was low, but distinct.

"We shall soon be broadside on with her," he said. "The O'Donnells will be on the poop: You had best get for'ard, Robert. If we board from abaft the foremast 'twill place you stagetically to seize upon them. You and Peter had best carry arms. I fear the Spaniards will not seek to differentiate betwixt you and my wicked self."

"Ja," assented Peter. "We go."

Amidships we encountered Saunders and a horde of men pouring up from the gun-deck to augment the boarding-parties. Peter and I tarried to select weapons from a rack by the main mast. He took a boarding-pike, and I contented myself with a cutlass.

A Final Blast From Our Guns Tore the Smoke Clouds to Shreds.

Murray, having inspected the grapplings and ascertained that hooks had been rigged from our yard-arms to clutch the Spaniard's rigging, rejoined us. He was dressed with his usual exquisite taste in watered gray silk, with white silk stockings and gray shoes with jeweled buckles. He wore no hat, and his white hair was clubbed and cued. The only weapon carried was a dress-sword, which he held unsheathed.

"An end to our immediate worries soon, Robert," he announced cheerfully. "The action has gone perfectly. I would not have varied a move so far. We have not lost a dozen men.

A final blast from our guns tore the smoke-clouds to shreds, and a vagrant wind-puff snatched them aside. 'Twas like the drawing of a curtain at a play. The treasure ship lurched helplessly not twenty fathoms distant, her rigging in tatters, her spars split and wounded, her fo'csle and foredeck one red litter, her bulwarks splintered, gunports blown in, guns dismounted.

The two ships jolted together, and in response to wind and helm the Royal James swung broadside on against the Spaniard, our bowsprit becoming entangled in her mizzen rigging. A dozen grappling-irons clattered in air and ground their hooks into her bulwarks. There was a brisk popping of small-arms, an exchange of threats and shouts of defiance.

My great-uncle, regardless of the firing, mounted the breach of a cannon which elevated him above the bulwarks, and Peter and I climbed into the forerigging, whence we had a fair view of both decks. The larboard bulwarks of the Royal James were crowded with men. Stripped to the waist, their lowering faces smutted with powder-stains, their hairy chests barred with tattooing, their backs more often than not scarred by the cruel welts of the lash, they tussled for first place and clung with their bare toes wherever there was a bit of running gear or an inch of space, gripping cutlasses in their teeth to leave hands free for pistol work or to steady themselves as they waited an opportunity to leap the narrowing gap between the vessels.

My eyes strayed to the Spaniard's decks. Little knots of men ran about confusedly. A stolid-looking fellow aimed a pistol at me and a ratline over my head fell apart. Officers were driving the sailors forward to meet us. A man in a laced coat and periwig was shouting orders from the poop, and my pulse quickened, for at his shoulder was the lanthorn-jawed face of Colonel O'Donnell—aye, and in the rear of both a skirt fluttered in the midst of a huddle of raven-black figures, priests and nuns.

"Jump!" squeaked Peter in my ear.

We jumped together, but my great-uncle was ahead of us. He leaped all of ten feet, sword in hand, alighted on the Spaniard's bulwarks, poised himself a moment and dropped into the center of a ring of foes. Before he had recovered his balance he had parried the slash of a cutlass and pinked an antagonist in the throat. And he beat down a leveled pistol as I gained the treasure ship's deck, inclined his head to avoid a murderous blow, ran the man through and almost in the same breath stepped a pace to the right to engage a fourth opponent—and all this with the cool precision of a fencing-master, unhurried, a flush of obvious enjoyment on his pallid cheeks.

But I saw no more. My task was to fight my way aft and protect the O'Donnells' and Peter and I turned our backs upon the struggle amidships. One wave of the pirates stormed in Murray's wake; the rest followed Peter and me. They were as brave as they were vicious, and we made rapid progress and were nearly at the foot of the poop-ladder when Murray's whistle shrilled behind us. I realized, too, that both O'Donnell and the officer in the laced coat were shouting volubly, the one in English and the other in Spanish, trying to make themselves heard above the din.

"—asks parley," came in broken phrases from O'Donnell. "—cannot understand—regrettable mistake—"

"Der Spaniard wants quarter," grunted Peter.

Indeed, those of the Santissima Trinidad's men who had been resisting us promptly flung down their arms, glad of the excuse to quit the fight; but the wolves of the James' crew were not schooled to show mercy, and they killed three poor fellows before Peter and I could knock up their cutlasses.

Murray's whistle blew a second time. There was a sudden hush, punctuated by the grinding of the two vessels, the thudding of unshod feet as more of the James' pirates dropped aboard the treasure ship, the gagging cries of the wounded, the nasal singsong of a priest pattering Latin prayers.

I seized the opportunity to look around. We were too close under the poop to see what went on beyond the rail directly overhead; but the main-deck, fore and aft, was a pitiful spectacle—cluttered with wreckage and dead men and bits of men and women wounded in every conceivable fashion, its yellow-sand carpet gemmed with carmine pools and rivulets.

My great-uncle, as immaculate as when he had ascended the James' bulwarks, stood a little ahead of the mass of his followers, his serene face and rich clothing in startling contrast with their nakedness and frank brutality. A trickle of blood dripped from the point of his slender sword. His attitude was that of an honorable man who wishes to be reasonable in a difficult situation.

"I believe I heard an appeal for quarter," he said quietly.

"Sir, you did," replied O'Donnell. "I have spoken for the gentleman beside me, Senor Don Ascanio de Hurtado y Custa, who is captain of this vessel."

"I am honored, sir," returned my great-uncle. "And yourself?"

O'Donnell did not altogether relish the playing of his part. He bit his lip and hestitated an instant before he answered.

"I am Colonel O'Donnell, an officer in the service of his Most Catholic Majesty."

"Ah; and what can I do for you, gentlemen?" inquired my great-uncle.

O'Donnell hesitated again and conferred with the Spanish officer.

"Sir," he said then, "Don Ascanio asks you by me: Since when have your country and Spain been at war?"

"To the best of my knowledge, they are not at this present," my great-uncle answered blandly.

"Then to what cause must me attribute this—this—ah— unwarrantable attack?" demanded O'Donnell.

"I am afraid," replied my great-uncle almost with sorrow, "that I am unable to satisfy your curiosity upon that point."

The Spaniard burst into a declaration of passionate intensity, which Murray interrupted.

"I am so fortunate as to comprehend the noble Spanish tongue," he said. "Would you be so kind, Colonel O'Donnell, as to acquaint your friend with the fact, and to assure him that I regret he must accept the situation as it stands? I am desirous of sparing the lives of those of his people who survive, but at a pinch I will slay them all to compass my intention."

"And what is that?" asked O'Donnell.

"To relieve Don Ascanio of the consignment of treasure he carries," answered my great-uncle. "When it is aboard my ship he shall be at liberty to continue his voyage."

O'Donnell proceeded haltingly to translate this statement. He never finished it. The Spaniard launched a fresh torrent of curses, broke his sword across his knee and tossed the pieces overside. My great-uncle nodded sympathetically.

"'Tis an unpeasant plight, I know," he said. "Had Don Ascanio not discarded his sword I should have been delighted to yield him an opportunity for such satisfaction as one gentleman may give another.

"However—I must stipulate further, Colonel O'Donnell, that the crew of the Santissima Trinidad shall be placed in confinement for so long as suits my purpose. Any resistance must cause additional bloodshed, which, I am sure, you will agree is unnecessary."

"Don Ascanio will say no more," returned O'Donnell. "He washes his hands of the whole proceeding. Abandoned by his crew—"

"Enough," interrupted my great-uncle.

He rattled off a sentence in Spanish, and there was an answering rattle of arms thrown on the deck. He spoke again, and the Santissima Trinidad's men all shifted to starboard and marched into the fo'csle, herded by a bristle of pirate cutlasses.

(To be continued next week.)

Which Disinfectant?

Disinfecting is worth doing when you use a disinfectant like Pratts.

Pratts Dip and Disinfectant is guaranteed to have high germ killing power. Long scientific study produced it. Use it freely wherever you have a disinfecting job. A gallon makes a barrelful. Backed by half a century of Pratt experience. Will not poison or irritate. No injury to hair, wool, or feathers.

Leading breeders and authorities have complete confidence in Pratts Dip and Disinfectant.

Pratts Dip and Disinfectant

To Our Customers: We guarantee Pratts Dip and Disinfectant to be a real germ killer. It must satisfy you or money back.

Sold and Guaranteed by
ALRED DRUG CO.
Clanton, Ala.

666
is a Prescription for
Preventing Pneumonia
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,

Flour per sack . $1.25

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

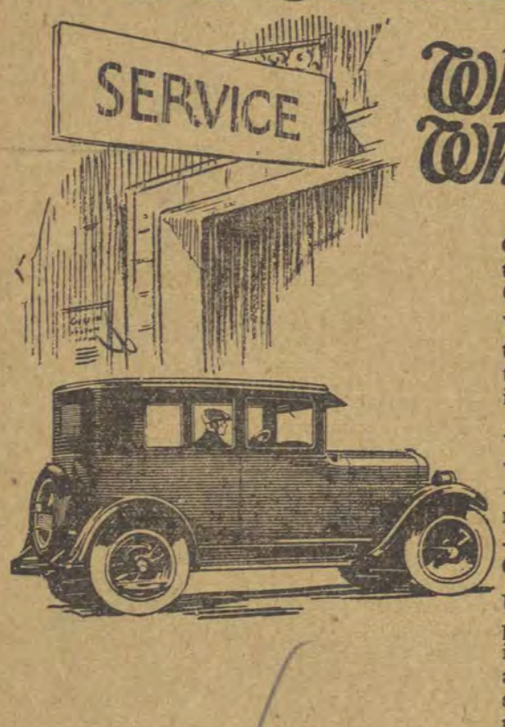
And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.



FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

You know—

What it will cost . . When you will get it

Our prompt, speedy, efficient service is one of the many advantages you enjoy in owning a Chevrolet.

Whether your car requires only a minor maintenance operation or a complete overhauling, these are the things you know before the work is started:

—what the total cost will be.
—when your car will be ready.
—that the work will be done in a capable manner.
—that all new parts will be of genuine Chevrolet manufacture.

Using the flat rate system of service charges, employing only trained and experienced mechanics, maintaining an adequate stock of parts, and having equipped ourselves with numerous special Chevrolet tools, we have made Chevrolet service a source of genuine satisfaction to Chevrolet owners. And that is a thing to consider in buying a new car!

New Reduced Prices

Touring	$510	Sedan	$735
Roadster	510	Landau	765
Coupe	645	½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
Coach	645	1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Inc.

Cars CHEVROLET Trucks

QUALITY AT LOW COST

WE STILL SELL AT

Wholesale Prices

FOR CASH IN BULK

Buy your soap, washing powder, syrup, snuff, tobacco, etc., in original packages, and we give them to you at wholesale prices.

Good Flour, plain or self-rising, per barrel $9.75

We still give premiums for cash trade.

Baker & Taylor

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Edgar B. Elebash
(Elebash Jewelry Co.)
REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST
Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted
Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

BIG SALE STARTS SATURDAY, APRIL 3rd

WE ARE GOING TO PUT ON A PRICE-SMASHING SALE WHICH STARTS SATURDAY, APRIL 3rd. EVERY ARTICLE WILL BE GREATLY REDUCED AND A GOODLY NUMBER WILL BE SOLD AT PRICES BELOW WHAT THEY COST US TO BUY.

PIECE GOODS

1 lot Ginghams worth 20c now.....12½c
1 lot Ginghams worth 25c now.....15c
1 lot 9-4 Sheeting worth 50c now.....39c
1 lot Remnants silk and satins.....98c

Every article in our piece goods department will be reduced in price. We have just received a shipment of crepe de chine in all colors and in the best quality, printed pongee, Georgette in all colors, printed crepe, Tubette, Tubcilla, and plain pongee and shantai in all colors.

NOTIONS

Everything in Notions will be reduced
1 lot Lace worth 10c now.....5c
1 lot Embroidery worth 10c to 15c now.....5c per yard
1 lot Ribbon at.....½ price
5c Ribbon now.....2½c yard
10c Ribbon now.....5c yard

CLOTHING

1 lot mens clothing worth $20 now ..$14.95
1 lot Boys Suits below cost. See them and you will buy.
1 lot mens dress shirts at.....98c
1 lot mens dress shirts at.....$1.24
1 lot mens dress shirts at.....$1.49
1 lot mens dress shirts at.....$1.98
1 lot mens dress shirts at.....$2.24
1 lot mens dress shirts at.....$2.49
1 lot mens dress shirts at.....$2.98

All of these are much below the regular prices. We have dress and work shirts for boys in sizes 12½ to 14, at sale prices.

1 lot mens overalls worth $2 now.....$1.49
1 lot boys overalls at rock bottom prices.

HOSIERY

1 lot childrens hose worth 25c now.....15c
1 lot childrens hose worth 50c now.....39c
1 lot mens hose worth 35c now.....24c
1 lot mens hose worth 50c now.....39c
1 lot ladies silk hose worth 75c now.....49c
1 lot ladies chiffon silk hose.....$1.29
These are full fashioned.

SHOES

1 lot mens slippers worth $4 now.....$2.98
1 lot mens slippers worth $5 now.....$3.98
1 lot mens work shoes worth 2.50 now 1.98

Ladies, if you have tired, aching feet, it will pay you to get a pair of Martha Washington Shoes. We have them in any style you would prefer, oxfords or straps. Don't fail to see our bargain counter of shoes.

We can supply your wants in children shoes

MILLINERY

1 lot ladies hats.....$1.49
1 lot ladies hats.....$2.49
1 lot ladies hats.....$2.98
1 lot misses hats.....$1.24

CHILDRENS DRESSES

We have just received a shipment of childrens printed English Broadcloth dresses sizes 7 to 14 to be sold at $1.49 and $2.49. These are real values.

GROCERIES

19 lbs. granulated Sugar.....$1.00
4 lbs Green Coffee.....$1.00
3 lbs Ground Coffee.....$1.00

WE ARE OFFERING IN THIS SALE A GREAT NUMBER OF WONDERFUL VALUES WHICH ARE TOO MANY TO NAME.

W. Z. HODGES, DRY GOODS COMPANY
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Miss Margaret Robinson and Master James Robinson of Havana, Fla., are guests of their uncle, Mr. W. C. Robinson.

FIVE GALLONS PAIN FREE

A large paint concern, in furtherance of an advertising and introductory campaign now in progress, offers to give, free of charge, five gallons of its best house paint, any color, to one property owner at each post office or on each rural route in this county. This concern wants its paint on a house in each locality this season which is the purpose of this remarkable offer. It also wants a local salesman in each county. Persons interested are requested to write the Central Oil Co., Dept. No. 26-A, Louisville, Ky.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PARDON OR PAROLE

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will make application for pardon or parole. I was convicted on a charge of murder in the Fall Term, 1915, of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life.
3-18-3t-pd. BONNIE MORRIS.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Johnson and children of Marbury were among the visitors in Clanton Friday.

The Cook 10-10 cotton has proved by test of the Experiment Station to be the best cotton for this part of Alabama. MAULDIN'S COOK 10-10 seed are for sale by Mauldin Farms, Wilsonville, Ala.; Gulledge Bros., Verbena, Ala.; J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala.; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby, Ala.; W. H. Conway, Jemison, Ala.
4-1-5t-ch.

OAK GROVE

The service at this place on Sunday, March 28, was a grand success. The value and needs of the church were ably discussed by Rev. E. A. Norris, B. F. Dykes and others, and a fine program on prayer by Bro. Norris at 11:00 a. m.

At noon a bountiful dinner was spread and enjoyed by all present.

We were glad to see so many visitors out. We are always glad to have you. Oak Grove is a wide awake little church, one of the best in the Association to its size and age. They know how to appreciate a pastor, and that is one of the secrets of the success of a church. A church that doesn't appreciate its pastor isn't doing much.

We hope to have a good meeting at Shiloh the first Sunday in April. Come and help us.—T. J. Deason.

Mr. Walter Bentley of Birmingham spent the week end in town with his friends.

Lillies of the Field are Beautiful
SO ARE OUR

EASTER FROCKS

Now, above all times of past seasons, will the ladies of the comunity find it to their advantage to call here and let us show you through our wide assortment of all that is beautiful in the newest creations from style centers in Sprng Frocks for every occasion at prices unusually reasonable. You will have to see them to appreciate their real beauty and true worth. Come—today or tomorrow—but don't miss seeing them.

Robinson Bargain Store
CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

part of the Louisville and Nashville authorities at Louisville, have gone into effect, retroactive to March 3, it was announced.

The Alabama health department will have a thorough survey made of the state's oyster beds near Mobile and on the Gulf of Mexico, according to H. J. Thrasher, chief sanitary officer of the department.

The Alabama Power Co. has refilmed its four major educational pictures for showing at various state and national events where opportunity is afforded for a picturization of Alabama's industrial and commercial opportunities.

Dr. U. B. Phillips, of the University of Michigan, who is writing a comprehensive history of the South, is spending several days in Montgomery for the purpose of carrying on research work in the State Department of Archives and History.

Although the announcement of a successful bidder for the construction of a new $100,000 station for the Southern railway in Anniston has not been made, work of clearing away tracks and other preparatory operations to the construction of the building are under way.

T. B. Curtis, of the Charleston and Western Carolina, with headquarters in Atlanta, will be one of the speakers at the first membership banquet of the Albany-Decatur Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was announced by President Smith. Mr. Curtis is one of the best known traffic men in the South and is thoroughly conversant with all transportation problems in the South. The entertainment committee of the local order is at work on plans for the banquet which will be given April 6.

Monroe Burch, Cullman County farmer, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary following the conviction of the charge of offering a challenge to fight a duel, according to Solicitor D. C. Almon on his return from Cullman. Solicitor Almon added that in his 30 years of experience as a public prosecutor, it was the first occasion he had encountered in which conviction was obtained on so unusual a charge. Another feature of the Cullman Circuit Court is the fact that not a single jury verdict of not guilty in all the criminal cases tried during the court term.

LOMAX NEWS

Mr. Jim Daniel of Dadeville visited his father, Mr. Tom Daniel, Saturday night.

Mr. Lonnie Adams and family of this place visited Mr. Jack Hayes' family Saturday night and Sunday.

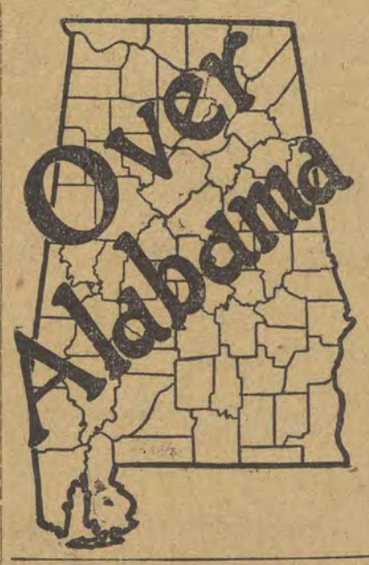
Mr. N. G. Ward of Liberty Hill community visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Evans and daughter, Sula, have been visiting relatives in Clanton for the last few days.

Mr. R. E. L. Ward and son, Julius, and Mr. Vernon Robinson motored to Lock 12 Sunday afternoon.

Miss Clotilde Johnson of New Salem community spent one night last week with her aunt, Mrs. Argo.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Connell of near Friendship visited the latter's mother, Mrs. Barrett, Saturday night and Sunday.



Mr. Tom Daniel of this place was called to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Will Gandy, at Birmingham, last week on account of the death of her little son.

Mr. Lonza Robinson of Sylacauga spent one night last week with R. E. L. Ward and family.

Mr. Charlie Jones and family spent Sunday night at the home of Mr. Moates.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Barrett of Collins Chapel community visited Mrs. Barrett and family recently.

666
is a Prescription for
Preventing Pneumonia
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

The present population of Anniston is estimated to be 27,000.

Arthur G. Smith has been nominated by the president to succeed himself as postmaster at Opelika.

John H. Raney, 85, the oldest native of Athens, died March 25. He was a Confederate veteran and well known in veteran circles.

Congressman M. C. Allgood, of the Seventh district, filed his announcement as a candidate to succeed himself with the secretary of state.

The Alabama Power Co. has asked permission from the Public Service Commission to discontinue service over its Picket Springs line at Montgomery.

The Alabama Public Service Commission has approved plans for the improvement of the Southern and N. C. & St. L. railroad station at Stevenson.

Lieut. R. T. Foster, stationed at Camp McClellan, announces the establishment of a permanent regimental post that will cost approximately $1,500,000.

According to figures just released Limestone county ginned in the 1925 season the largest cotton crop in its history, the total number of bales ginned being 39,092.

Dr. Rufus J. Barnett, Birmingham dentist, was found guilty of second-degree murder by a Jefferson county jury for killing Dr. R. R. McDaniel, another dentist, last May.

The Sauquoit Spinning Co. has been organized at Gadsden with Otto Agricola as president. A 20,000-spindle mill of the company is to be moved from Utica, N. Y., to Gadsden.

Final tabulation of ballots cast in the Bessemer primary showed that P. M. Matthews was elected mayor with 1,131 votes as against 756 votes for R. P. McTyiere, the other candidate.

The Alabama Public Service Commission approved a schedule of water rates to be applied by the Chickasaw Utilities Co. in the unincorporated community of Chickasaw, Mobile county.

At the regular monthly business session of the Carrollton Town Council an ordinance was passed providing that all main streets of Carrollton be cleaned, graded, graveled and generally improved.

The increase in wages forecast several days ago in Albany-Decatur on

OAK HILL

The United Singing Society met in regular session here Sunday afternoon, with a large crowd in attendance. After a song, and prayer by the president, the singing began in good style and got better throughout the two hours of almost continuous singing. The visitors who directed, in addition to the society's regular directors, were Messrs. J. R. Robinson of Verbena, Jack Cobb of Oak Grove, and James Franklin of Pleasant Grove, who, like the other directors, with the assistance of the society's faithful organists, did their part in making the occasion the great success that it was. We had the pleasure of listening to some of as fine quartets, we believe, as the county affords, rendered by one of the society's quartets, composed of Prof. Brown, Akins Collins, David Childress, and Jimmie Lecroy, all of Thorsby. We are proud of this quartet, together wih all the other good singers of the society, but we need and must have more musical schools throughout this country if we make the progress that we should. We are planning to have another school at this place this summer, taught by Prof. A. H. Glasscock, beginning about the third Monday in July, if nothing happens to prevent it. Prof. Glasscock taught a very successful school for us last summer, and we would be glad if some other good teacher would come and teach at the other places of the society's meeting.

We invite visitors from other places to come and take part with us. You always have a hearty welcome, whether you sing or not. Your presence will be appreciated.—Sec'y.

UNITED SINGING SOCIETY

The United Singing Society will meet with the Thorsby Baptist church Sunday afternoon, April 4, at 2:00 o'clock. Everybody invited.—Emmet Billingsley, Sec'y.

Service

"I keep six honest, serving men;
(They taught me All I Knew):
Their names are WHAT and WHY and WHEN,
and HOW and WHERE and WHO"
KIPLING

WHAT was the Declaration of London?
WHY does the date for Easter vary?
WHEN was the great pyramid of Cheops built?
HOW can you distinguish a malarial mosquito?
WHERE is Canberra? Zeebrugge?
WHO was the Millboy of the Slashes?
Are these "six men" serving you too? Give them an opportunity by placing

WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

in your home, school, office, club, library. This "Supreme Authority" in all knowledge offers service, immediate, constant, lasting, trustworthy. Answers all kinds of questions. A century of developing, enlarging, and perfecting under exacting care and highest scholarship insures accuracy, completeness, compactness, authority.

Write for a sample page of the New Words, specimen of Regular and India Papers, also booklet "You are the Jury," prices, etc. To those naming this publication we will send free a set of Pocket Maps.

G. & C. MERRIAM CO.
Springfield, Mass., U. S. A. Est. 1831

A Listing Here—Sells Birmingham Property

The listings on Birmingham property, left with us, will receive constant and tireless attention, until the property is sold at terms most satisfactory and profitable to the owner. Write for information.

LAMAR SMITH REALTY CO.
Bankers Bldg. Birmingham

ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala. — "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —EIGHT PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 1926 NUMBER 51

TEST ON PROHI LAW LAUNCHED TUESDAY

Senate Committee Room Crowded by Spectators Anxious to Hear Testimony Pro and Con.

Washington, April 5.—Arguments against the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act rolled upon the senate judiciary sub-committee today at the opening of the first real congressional inquiry of the workings of statutory prohibition. A flood of oratory was furnished largely by such wet leaders ah Senators Bruce, democrat, Maryland, and Edge, republican, New Jersey. It preceded testimony which will be offered during the next five days in the effort to convince the committee that modification of the law is essential to the public welfare.

After Senators Bruce and Edge, and Julian Codman of Boston, who has charge of the wets' case, had made statements to the sub-committee, Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury, was called as the first witness. His examination had scarcely begun, however, before the committee recessed until Wednesday, cutting off the hearing by an hour because of important business in the senate.

The initial session furnished little of the spectacular. There were a few sharp passages between some of the senators on the committee, presaging what probably is to come during the two weeks of the hearings. The hearing room was packed almost to suffocation and hundreds crowded the halls outside in the vain hope of eventually gaining admission.

Police guarded the doors and were scattered about the room. There was one attempt at a demonstration and Senator Means, republican, Colorado, the committee chairman, quickly quelled that with a threat to clear the room.

As the committeemen filed into the hearing room they found it turned into a moving picture studio with Kleig lights flanking the long committee table and a group of cameramen waiting to take closeups of the committee and witnesses before the hearing got under way.

After sitting through two hours of wet oratory, Assistant Secretary Andrews took the oath and submitted to questioning by Mr. Codman. The prohibition field marshal made clear his policy to dry up the sources of supply, but conceded that he would have to have a largely increased force to do it.

The federal forces are not concerning themselves much with distributors, Mr. Andrews said, leaving that task to the local police. He said it was useless to arrest a bootlegger because "his brother or his uncle would take up the traffic where the arrested man left off."

Disclosing a plan for a patrol of 1,500 to 1,600 men on the Canadian and Mexican borders, General Andrews said he believed this force would break up any organized smuggling traffic.

"Smuggling from Canada and Mexico does not furnish the supply," he explained. "Alcohol diversion, moonshining and smuggling from the sea furnish the real sources."

Increased forces to handle all of these problems are being sought and the assistant secretary expressed hope that with additional men he could reduce to a minimum the illegal diversion of alcohol from industrial channels. Explaining that he did not want to crowd court dockets with minor cases, he said his agents and the district attorneys picked out big cases in each district for trial.

"In other words you don't arrest all who are guilty," interrupted Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri. "You just arrest those of the guilty you select?"

"We do not begin to arrest all guilty of small offenses," returned the witness. "We want to leave that to the local enforcement officers."

SEVERAL HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT SUNDAY

A truck loaded with people was hit by a Ford driven by Reuben Willis on the highway toward Lock 12 Sunday afternoon. Several were hurt. The people on the truck live in the Enterprise community and were returning from a picnic.

The Ford car driven by Willis, in meeting the truck, ran too close to it, and hit the folks who were sitting on the flat bed with their feet hanging over the side. Estella and Louella Williams were the worst hurt. They were brought to Clanton and given medical attention.

The car driven by Willis belonged to J. D. Wyatt. Eddie Wyatt was in the car with him. The boys stepped on the gas after the accident but some of the people on the truck got in another car and overtook them. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Willis and Eddie Wyatt.

COLLINS CHAPEL SCHOOL EXERCISES

Closing exercises for the Collins Chapel Junior High School were held at New Salem church last Saturday night. Fifteen students received diplomas of graduation.

The program was featured by an educational address by Buford Lawrence, county superintendent of education.

The teachers of the Collins Chapel school are: John M. Parrish, principal; Miss Evie Jones, Mrs. Gertrude Calloway, Miss Clara Vines, assistants.

DID YOU KNOW IT?

Chilton stands third among the counties of the State in per capita taxable wealth for school children. For every school child in the county there is $1,808 worth of taxable property. Only the counties of Mobile and Jefferson rank ahead of Chilton in this respect. Chilton stands 30th in length of school term.

Alonza Robinson has gone to Wetumpka, where he will be connected with the Wade Ice Company.

Y. W. A PROGRAM FOR APRIL 13

Topic: "Yesterday and Today; a Land—a People."

Hymn: "Come Thou, Almighty King." Devotional, Psalm 62, by the president. Prayer, that God may become a refuge to our South American friends, by leader.

1. Yesterday—A Land—A People, by Frances Moore. 2. Today—Waiting for the Sunrise, by Miss Vera White. 3. A Land, by Miss Thelma Guy. 4. A People (a) by Miss Stanley; (b) by Evelyn Littlejohn.

Hymn, "To the Work." Closing Prayer.

Meeting to be held at the home of Evelyn Littlejohn.

Electricity Triumphs Over Steam!

HERE is pictured the scene at a practical demonstration and test as to which is the stronger—Electricity or Steam for railroad motive power. A Bi-Polar Electric Motor (Locomotive) was hooked to two Mallett-Articulated-Compound-Consolidated Engines to make the test by pulling opposite directions. The electricity and steam were turned on. Then, in spite of much spinning of drive wheels on the part of the steam engines, they were no match for the powerful motor which dragged both of them—fighting every inch—up a slight grade!

HENRY FORD PLANS BID AS SUBSTITUTE FOR REPORT

Southern Group of Power Companies Confer with Special Committee; Will Bid for Muscle Shoals.

Washington, April 6.—With Henry Ford reported ready with a counter bid, a group of southern power companies came forward today with proposals for leasing Muscle Shoals.

Thomas W. Martin, president of the Alabama Power Company, acted as speaker for the power interests and for more than two hours discussed with the joint Muscle Shoals congressional committee the merits of a bid which they expect to submit Saturday, the headline set by the committee.

Mr. Ford was reported as having already prepared a bid but he might withhold offering it until the recommendations of the committee are placed before the senate and house. There it could be offered as a substitute for the power companies' proposal.

The power companies were represented as controlling a capital of $150,000,000. It was the first time during congressional consideration of Muscle Shoals that power companies of Arkansas, Kentucky and Florida were found among the bidders. The companies associated in the proposed joint bid include the Alabama Power Company, Arkansas Light and Power Company, Louisiana Power Company, Mississippi Light and Power Company, Tennessee Power Company, Kentucky Utlities Company, Gulf Electric Company of Florida, Georgia Railway Light and Power Company, Memphis Power Company and Kentucky Power Company.

PRATTVILLLE ANNOUNCES BOOM

According to recent published reports, our neighbor city of Prattville is staging a building boom. Most notable is the fact that the town has secured a knitting mill, which is to begin building right soon.

In order to secure the location of this mill reports say that the people of Prattville donated a site upon which to erect the buildings of the factory, and subscribed $25,000.00 of stock in the concern.

We frequently hear the question asked: "How can Clanton get a mill or factory of some kind?"

We can get it just like Prattville got it. If we will secure a factory site and agree to take a few thousand dollars stock in an enterprise, we could secure an industry and have it building in Clanton in 12 months.

Until we do that we will continue to see industries locating in other towns all around us, and perhaps some of us will continue to wonder why they don't come to Clanton.

HANCOCK-DEVAUGHN

A recent marriage of much interest was that of Mr. John M. Hancock to Miss Lena Mae Devaughn, which occurred at the home of Mr. J. H. Foshee in Clanton, Friday afternoon, April 2nd. The marriage rites were administered by Rev. C. C. Wilkerson of the Clanton M. E. Church.

After the marriage the happy couple went to Birmingham, and returned Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Hancock is a popular Chilton County young man, having been for several years an employee of the Alabama Power Company at Mitchell Dam. The bride is the beautiful and winsome daughter of Prof. W. M. Devaughn of Verbena.

Mr. and Mrs. Hancock will make their home at Mitchell Dam.

ELECTRIC SERVICE GROWTH DEPICTED IN RURAL SECTION

Two and Half Years Bring 1,796 Farm Users in State, Electrical Conference Reveals.

Beginning two and one-half years ago, the rural electrical business in Alabama grew until 1,796 rural customers on 183.3 miles of transmission lines in 17 counties consumed 1,069,685 kilowatt hours, equivalent to 1,330,000 horse-power hours or 13,000,000 man hours in 1925, it was brought out at the opening session of the Southern Rural Electrical conference in session in Montgomery Tuesday.

In addition, 167.2 miles of lines, which will serve 1,822 customers and extend activities into seven new counties are either under construction at present or have been authorized.

Of all these customers not one has voiced dissatisfaction with electricity because they have found it economical, a time-saver, a drudgery remover and a burden bearer at the call of the user.

Meantime rural electrification work has been started in twenty states, from New Hampshire on the east to California on the west; from Minnesota on the north to Alabama on the south.

Alabama was among the first to start the work which was done by the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn in cooperation with the Alabama Power Company, which has invested about $500,000 on rural lines to date. In breadth of work, in thoroughness, in progress and in records kept, Alabama is at the top. While electricity is proving a blessing to the entire famly, so far it has meant most to the farm women.

These are among the high points of the first Southern Rural Electrification conference in session in the chamber of commerce building in Montgomery this week. More than one hundred men and women from ten southern states were present when Dr. E. A. White, chairman of the national committee on the relation of electricity to agriculture, called the convention to order at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Additional arrivals brought the attendance up to nearly two hundred by the end of the day. They came from Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Tennessee and Virginia.

STILL CAPTURED IN COOSA

Last Friday, April 2, Federal Law Enforcement officers Gillespie and Roberts, with Deputy Sheriff Harvey Foshee, raided a still about 2 miles southwest of Quincey, and captured Charlie Depoister at the still site. Along with the still and Depoister, the officers found 60 gallons of liquor and 1,500 gallons of beer. The still was a fine one, according to reports, being a 100-gallon affair, made entirely of copper. Officers reported that the whiskey was the purest they have seen turned out by a wildcat still. The plant was in full blast when the officers appeared on the scene.

Depoister was brought to Clanton and lodged in jail here.

Last Tuesday morning Sheriff Littlejohn and Deputy Foshee found two barrels of beer and some tin cans near Stanton. No arrests were made. Signs showed the still had just been moved.

They moved on northwest of Maplesville, near the Bibb-Chilton line, and found a still, flakestand and cap. The still was destroyed; no whiskey or beer could be found.

FIDDLERS CONVENTION AT THE COURTHOUSE SATURDAY NIGHT

There will be a fiddlers convention at the court house on Saturday night, April 10. Everybody invited. Admission fees will be 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for children under 12 years of age. The contest will begin at 8:00 o'clock. Proceeds will go to the Methodist Church. The following list of prizes will be given the fiddlers:

Five-dollar gold piece, first prize; $3.00 cash; Dief's Filling Station, 5 gallons of gas and 1 quart of oil; Downs Grocery Co., box of cigars; J. Lee Smith, sack of flour; Polk Bros., inner tube; M. A. Gore, sack of flour; Clanton Motor Car Co., inner tube; Alred Drug Co., $2.00 pocket knife; Chero-Cola Bottling Works, case of Chero-Cola.

Prizes will be given all who participate.

The inner tube that was offered for the ugliest candidate at the last convention was left over, and will be given to the "best looking" candidate at this convention, by Clanton Motor Car Co.

Judge L. H. Reynolds will manage this convention for us. We hope for a large crowd, and we assure all who come that they will enjoy the convention.

Thanking the good crowd we had at the last convention, we are,

Yours very truly,
METHODIST LADIES.

ALL DAY SINGING AT COURT HOUSE SUNDAY, APRIL 18

There will be an all day singing in the Sacred Harp at the court house the third Sunday in April, 18th.

Everybody is invited, all singers especially are urged to be present. Old time singers are urged to co-operate.

W. L. SANDERS.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION FOR BETTER HOMES WEEK

In connection with the nationwide campaign for better homes in America, Dr. V. J. Gragg, Mayor of Clanton, has issued a proclamation setting forth the week of April 25 to May 1 for observance of the movement in Clanton. His declaration is as follows:

I, V. J. Gragg, mayor of the city of Clanton, Alabama, by authority in me vested, do proclaim and set forth the week of April 25 to May 1, 1926, as "Better Homes Week."

The progress of a city, like the progress of a nation, is measured by the qquality of its homes. The better the homes, the greater will be the effort to preserve them.

I, therefore, recommend that the earnest support of the people of Clanton be given to this campaign and that every family in the city seek an opportunity to see and to study one of the demonstration homes being furnished and equipped by the public-spirited citizens of the city.

Given under my hand and seal, this 7th day of April, 1926.

The better homes movement is being sponsored by the churches, civic and social organizations in Clanton, and committees will be appointed to have charge of the different phases of the program. It is hoped that all citizens will cooperate in making the event both impressive and effective.

FINAL DISPOSITION CIRCUIT COURT CASES

Several Sentenced to Penitentiary; Heavy Fines Placed on Number of Prohibition Violations.

The circuit court of Chilton County finished up its docket for this session last Friday, with the following final disposition of cases which were not reported in last week's paper:

J. M. Dubose, charged with violating the prohibition law, nol prossed.

T. S. Peavy, charged with manufacturing liquor and possession of still; sentenced to one year and one day to 13 months in penitentiary. Defendant gave notice of appeal and went to penitentiary to begin serving his sentence.

Robert Cleckler, charged with manufacturing liquor and possession of still; sentenced to penitentiary for 1 year and 1 day to 13 months. Appeal taken and bond fixed at $1,200.

Will Gulledge, charged with assault with intent to murder; defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to 2 to 4 years in penitentiary. He has already been sent off to begin serving sentence.

Elbert Hawkins, charged with manufacturing liquor; sentenced to penitentiary for 15 to 18 months. Appeal taken and bond fixed at $1,200.

Charlie Robinson, charged with second degree murder; sentenced to penitentiary for 1 year and 1 day. Appeal taken and bond fixed at $500.

Rolie Waldrop, charged with violating prohibition law. Sentenced to 76 days hard labor for the cost and 3 months hard labor for punishment.

Willard McKnight, charged with having still in possession; sentenced to 1 year and 1 day to 13 months. Appealed and bond fixed at $1,200.

Ocie Barnett, charged with having still in possession. Jury and verdict of guilty; sentenced to 1 year and 1 day to 13 months. He has gone to begin serving sentence.

Lonnie Johnson, charged with burglary; Jury and verdict of not guilty.

Walter Bean, charged with bastardy; Jury and verdict of not guilty.

THORSBY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL CLOSES NEXT WEEK

The Thorsby Junior High School, Prof. W. T. Bean, principal, will close its 1925-1926 session the first of next week. The program for the closing exercises follows:

Sunday, April 11, at 11 a. m. Commencement Sermon by Dr. D. E. Mason.

Monday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m. A play, "The Old Fashioned Mother," by the Junior and Senior grades.

Tuesday, April 13, 7:30 p.m. Graduation exercises and address by Dr. R. E. Parker.

AUTO WRECK LAST SUNDAY

A Ford car driven by Lathen Wilson, and a big Jewett sedan took a swipe at each other on the curve at the Watts place above town last Sunday afternoon. The Ford was badly demolished. The sedan lost the fenders and a door on one side. No one was hurt.

It is reported that the driver of the Ford was attracted by something at a house on the right of the road against the curve, and allowed his car to swerve too far to the left, and not noticing the approach of the other car.

Must See Ahead

If there is a sharp curve in the road, you go slow. You want to see what's ahead. After dark you will not drive without lights for the same reason.

Being able to see ahead is what insures safety and success, no matter what the undertaking. In financial as well as other affairs, the only way to look into the future is by the light of the past. Successful men have worked, planned and SAVED. Why not follow the light they have given and do likewise? Our Bank will help you.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help
CLANTON, ALABAMA

Stockholders' Liability

This means that the stockholders of this bank are personally liable, in addition to the money paid for their stock, for an amount equal to the face value of the stock held by them.

This bank has a capital of $50,000 and its stockholders are liable for $50,000 additional, which therefore affords security for deposits amounting to one hundred thousand dollars, besides surplus and undivided profits of over thirty thousand dollars.

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA
Safety—Service—Accomodation

(Continued from last week.)

Murray walked aft to where Peter and I stood, uncertain what to do next.

"Have you seen her?" he asked.

"I think she is in that group of priests and nuns under the stern lanthorn," I said.

He compressed his lips, a habit he had whenever he must turn to some task he did not overly care for.

"'Tis a trick I shall find as distasteful as O'Donnell did our colloquy just now," he said shortly. "But we must be about it without delay. Our cannonade will have been heard ashore in Hispaniola with this wind. We must gather our loot and away."

The silence was oppressive as we ascended the poop ladder. A last babble of Latin ended on an hysterical note. The Spanish captain stalked to the far side of the deck, rumbling curses, and fixed his gaze upon the purple hills of Hispaniola. Behind the steering-wheel the black flock of religious gathered closer under the great, gilded lanthorn which crowned the high, pulpit-like recess intended to protect the helmsman; and amongst those cowled shaved heads and shapeless swathed forms the slim grace and sunny blue eyes of Moira O'Donnell were as patent as the growing fear with which her father met us.

"Don Ascanio has placed the conduct of matters in my hands. What is next? Must you—" he began.

He gestured expressively toward the vessel beneath us.

"It seems— I—I find myself— 'Tis a nauseating prospect— Several hundred men—and priests and nuns, Murray— Aye, a cardinal sin, one I'll never have absolution for, whatever betide—"

"You concern yourself without cause," said Murray soothingly. "We have arranged it differently, and to that end I shall act a part with your daughter which you must support; aye, to the offering of violence. And now, tell me, where is the treasure?"

"In the lazaret."

"Master Saunders!" called my great uncle, "Take fifty men and break out a quantity of treasure from the lazaret of the prize."

"Aye, aye, sir," returned Saunders and the pirates fell over themselves in their alacrity to have a hand in his business.

My great-uncle concluded the cleaning of his sword, crossed to the larboard railing and tossed the bloodied handkerchief overboard.

"Oh, Master Martin," he hailed the mate on the poop of the Royal James, "Be so good as to have a whip rigged from the foreyard-arm to sling aboard the treasure which Saunders is breaking out."

"Aye, aye, sir, I'll attend to it all myself," Martin assured him. "—— my eyes for a —— —— —— and all the Twelve Apostles, blast 'em for a —— —— lot of —— —— ——."

"A pungent fellow, Martin!" commented my great-uncle, recrossing the deck. "But we must play our little comedy here. You, chevalier, are cast for the Anguished Parent. I am the Aged Libertine. Peter is the Mute with the bowstring—be gentle, Peter. Robert—humph! I scarce know how to describe your role, Robert. You, shall we say, are to be Youth? You shall be Youthful Wantonness, and did we adopt all the exigencies of the plot 'twould be necessary for you finally to strive with me for the possession of the maid. But we will wave that anon. Play up to me, nephew! You, too, Peter!"

He left us and walked with a mincing gait, entirely different from his real catlike prowl, up to the black-garbed cluster surrounding Mistress O'Donnell.

"Stap me, a fair piece, this!" he drawled. "Too fair to bloom unseen. Come hither, mistress!"

But the maid answered him so dauntlessly that it made the blood prickle in my neck.

"A black shame on you, old enough to be the father of me and these others here! I know you for what you are, Captain Rip-Rap, and if you will be thinking I am one to fear you it is a sorry wakening you will have. Oh, you might better be down on your knees, asking pardon for the wickedness you have wrought, than plotting fresh evil, and threatening holy folk with your dreadful torments!"

"So you recognize me?" said my great-uncle. "'Tis an honor, mistress. But I fear you have heard much to my prejudice, and I must press you to visit my ship and learn the contrary."

"Step forward, colonel, and defend her," I muttered under my breath to her father.

He had the grace to blush, but he acted upon my suggestion with a semblance of sincerity.

"Sir, sir, what is this you do?" he cried. "Certes, there is some limit to your law-breaking! The maid is my daughter."

My great-uncle went through his snuff ritual with an artful exaggeration which was comical to one who knew him.

"Unfortunate!" he drawled. "I wish I could sympathize with you, sir."

And to me—

"Robert, you will conduct the lady to the James."

For the first time Mistress O'Donnell's glance lighted fair upon my face.

"Master Ormerod!" she gasped.

"You'd best come quietly, mistress," I snapped.

She flung her hands to fend me off, and the fat monk and the two nuns cast themselves upon us, the monk striking at my head with his heavy crucifix and the nuns scratching and clawing so that I was put to it to protect my eyes. They were surely three of the bravest people who ever lived, and but for Peter they would have worsted me.

The big Dutchman waded stolidly into the confusion, shoved O'Donnell from his path, upset the monk and pushed the two nuns out of the way.

"You take der little gal, Bob," he squeaked.

She struggled with all the strength in her lissome body, but I pinned her hands and tossed her over my shoulder—and then her father attacked me, with the Spanish captain, whose patience had been exhausted by this last outrage.

Murray drew his sword and forced the Spaniard back and Peter slung O'Donnell over his shoulder as easily as I had the maid.

"I got him, ja," he announced to Murray.

My great-uncle sheathed his sword. "Carry him along," he said. "Since he is so much concerned as to his daughter's fate, we will permit him to watch it. Afterward, it may be, he can afford us some additional amusement. Stap me, a most persistent fellow!"

A line of pirates staggered across the decks, backs stooped beneath burdens of portly casks and iron-bound chests, wire-wrapped and padlocked, each a-dangle with leaden seals impressed with the arms of the Spanish king. They leered at my writhing captive, but they all looked quickly away as my great-uncle descended to us.

"Can you manage her alone?" he asked me curtly.

"I'll manage her or go overboard with her," I barked.

He smiled.

"The right spirit, lad! Tut, tut, mistress," as she wrenched a hand free and dug at my eyes. "You concern yourself for nothing. We have but played at a game. Observe your father's attitude."

"The greater his shame!" she hissed. "That he should have suffered you to take me alive!"

"We are friends," urged my relative, lowering his voice. "'Tis but a pretense we make——"

"Friends! Ah, you are friends to the Powers of Evil!"

"Be patient a little longer, Moira," pleaded her father from his perch on Peter's shoulder. "I'll explain—"

She went of a sudden entirely limp and burst into a passion of weeping.

"Oh, padre, padre, to think of you a coward! 'Tis worst of all!"

O'Donnell swore helplessly.

I climbed by way of a carronade on to the larboard bulwarks, holding Mistress O'Donnell with one arm while I took a strand of rigging with the other; and even as I collected myself to jump the gap that separated the two vessels she twisted free of me and would have slid overside—to be crushed to death, most likely, for the two hulls were continually grinding together. I caught her in the nick of time, letting go my clutch upon the rigging, and was near to being dragged down with her, teetering back and forth as aimless as a feather blown by the wind. So that, what with her struggles and my own loss of balance, I gritted my teeth and jumped most precariously, hit or miss, and, I am bound to admit, landed upon the James' bulwarks rather by good fortune than skill.

I dropped to the deck in no very pleasant mood. "An ill recompense for one that hath been at pains to spare your father's reputation, mistress," I growled, as surly as any pirate of the crew. "You might ha' been my death."

She looked at me, too surprised to answer at once, and before she had recovered herself, my great-uncle and Peter joined us, Peter still placidly carrying Colonel O'Donnell like a flour sack.

I Caught Her in the Nick of Time.

Murray cast a swift glance of appraisal around his ship.

"We have come through very creditably," he remarked. "Martin, let me know as soon as the prize's treasure is all aboard."

He turned to us.

"The curtain is ready to fall upon our comedy. Will you accept my arm, Mistress O'Donnell? A glass of wine and a bite of sailor's fare will taste better than Robert's ear, which your hunger prompted you to nibble. Fie, fie, my lass!"

She stared at him with utter horror, yet suffered him to place her hand upon his arm. The spirit was gone out of her, exhausted by the strain she had been subjected to. She was like a butterfly spiked on a thorn.

Something of the same sensation must have affected my relative, for he patted the limp hand on his arm with a truly paternal kindness.

"Come, come, did I not say the comedy was ended?" he chided her. "You are as safe here as in your Spanish convent. But the deck is too public for our revelations. We will seek the seclusion of the cabin, and there the complete tale shall be unfolded for your reassurance, with your father a witness to support it."

She shook her head.

"I—I—know not what you mean."

"To be sure," he agreed. 'But you soon shall. Peter, good friend, prithee take three steps within the companionway and there deposit Colonel O'Donnel with decent propriety upon the two limbs Nature intended for his locomotion. Ah! Excellent! Allow me, mistress!"

Ben Gunn and the two negro lackeys ushered the party to their seats. Mistress O'Donnell sank into hers with a weariness that was pathetic. She was quite regardless of her surroundings. Peter took his accustomed place at the opposite end, and I sat beside her.

"Let me give you a glass of this aqua vitae, my lass," said by great-uncle. "'Tis efficacious for fatigue and the migraine. See, I taste it myself. 'Tis quite all right. You, too, chevalier? Excellent! Perhaps you will pass the flask to Master Corlaer yonder. And Master Ormerod yonder—my nephew. But I believe you and your daughter have had previous acquaintance with him."

O'Donnell muttered something none too civil, but the maid bestirred herself, and her eyes examined me again with the mingling of horror and stupefaction which governed her mood.

'How come you here?" she asked. "You—you—are you also a pirate?"

"I am a captive as surely as yourself," I returned. "Aye, more so."

"A captive!" she exclaimed, her interest fanned alight. "But surely you—"

My great-uncle interrupted her.

"Please, Mistress O'Donnell! Our tale is sufficiently complicated. Let us not make it more difficult to comprehend by confusing it at the beginning with side-issues. First, that there may be no misunderstanding, 'tis true that I am he who is known as Captain Rip-Rap."

She shrank away from him in a renewed access of terror.

"I have already told you that you have no cause to fear me," he went on gently, "and to prove that to you I will add that I am an outlaw—what is called a pirate, although I detest the word myself—because I am a Jacobite. I believe, too, I may claim your father as my friend."

He looked inquiringly at O'Donnell. The Irishman drained his glass.

"'Tis true," he assented. "This gentleman is one Andrew Murray, who was out in the '15 and was afterward in trouble in New York province on the score of intrigues with our friends and the French, Moira. He hath been a good servant to King James."

"But for why will you have been the death of all the poor folk on the Santissima Trinidad?" she cried."

"'Tis regrettable that Spaniards had to die, lass," answered my great-uncle, lowering his voice to a proper depth of emotion. "But I call to your mind that Spain has not helped the Good Cause as she might when there was a bonny chance of fetching the Stuarts home."

(To be continued next week.)

MAN SAVES WIFE IN NICK OF TIME

"My wife was unable to eat even the lightest food, and had fallen away to a living skeleton. She could not even keep doctor's medicine on her stofach and was tortured with pain. On the recommendation of a friend, I bought a bottle of MAYR'S, and she is all right now and has gained forty pounds." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Alred Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.

Mr. Judson Strock of Verbena was in town Saturday.

SALE OF LANDS TO PAY DEBTS

The State of Alabama, Chilton County—Probate Court.—In the matter of the Estate of R. D. Campbell, deceased.

Whereas, L. B. Gaither, Administratrix of the estate of R. D. Campbell, deceased, has filed her application in writing under oath, for an order to sell certain lands belonging to said estate and described in said application, for the payment of the debts of said estate, upon the grounds that the personal property of said deceased is not sufficient for the payment of the debts of said estate.

Whereupon, it is ordered that the 5th day of May, 1926, be appointed a day on which to hear such application, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said application if they think proper.

Witness my hand, this 3rd day of April, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

4-8-3t

FLORIDA NEWS

Miss Eula Shelfer, Miss Marguret Robinson and Mr. J. E. Robinson attended the Chautauqqua at Loyd's last week and reported a splendid time.

Miss Valda Shelfer a teacher of Loyds spent the week-end with home folks here.

Miss Myrtle Lamberts of the Capitol City was with home folks here the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Callaway visited the Capitol City Friday shopping.

Rev. and Mrs. DeShazo of Newton, Ala., are runing a revival here this week and are doing some able preaching. While here they are staying with the former's brother-in-law, Mr. Riley. Mr. DeShazo is a student of the Baptist school at Newton.

Mr and Mrs. Poston and family visited their mother at Gretna Sunday. He has a new Ford and will be traveling around.

Mr. Will Splawn has new tires on his car and reports have that he is going to visit Alabama around Calera and othe points next week.

Mr. J. E. Robinson drove up to Bainbridge last Thursday to carry Miss Marguret and Master James who are visiting in Clanton this week.

Mr. Perry Shelfer was in town this with a load of fresh cabbage, selling at 4c a pound.

The State Road Department is rapidly grading the new route for the Old Spanish Trail, Jacksonville to Pensacola through Gadsden County. We long to see this concreted and then we can keep out the sand and mud.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Poston of Quincy were in town last Saturday writing insurance for several parties.

Our King Fisher, Mr. Jarrard was on the lake Saturday and had 4 nice catfish and a turtle weighing about 75 pounds. This makes a fellow want to get out his tackle and bait.

Mr. Leonard Driver was driving around with Miss Slappy Sunday p. m.

Special service will be held at the Baptist church next Sunday. A large attendance is expected.

Petterson and Earnhart of Montgomery, Contractors are expected to begin work on the highway bridge over Ocklocknee River this week.

This Bridge will be nineteen hundred and fifty feet long and is to be reinforced concrete. They hope to build in a year. L. A. Callaway

COUNTY LINE NEWS

Farming is moving on nicely around here. Most of the people are ready to plant cotton.

Miss Winell Green and Mrs. C. J. Littlejohn and daughter, Miss Sadie Littlejohn, were guests of Miss Ione Cleveland Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Talmage Green and Miss Betsy Barnett were happily married at the home of her father, Mr. Barnett Sunday afternoon, Rev. Blake performing the ceremony. After their marriage the bride and groom motored to Selma on their honeymoon. They will return after a few days and go to Tuscaloosa to make their home.

Miss Lena Scott and Mr. Showalter Scott and Mr. Howard Roper from Birmingham spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Littlejohn.

Miss Nell Gaines and sister, Miss Darris Gaines, and Miss Hazel Shoults spent Sunday evening with Miss Sadie Littlejohn.

The per capita consumption of apples in the United States is about half an apple per day.

BANANAS

25c per DOZEN

Car load of nice, ripe Bananas on track near depot. Bunches, all sizes and prices. Monday and Tuesday, sure. Come early.

The Red "G" is a sign of Quality

Grasselli Fertilizers

are manufactured to give crops a quick start and early maturity. This is very necessary under Boll Weevil conditions.

Satisfaction in every sack, for over 20 years. Look for the big red "G" on the bag.

THE GRASSELLI CHEMICAL COMPANY
Birmingham Gadsden Dothan

FOR SALE BY

MULLINS & MOORE
Clanton, Alabama

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

Know what Chevrolet offers at these Low Prices

Modern Design
—typified by such important engineering developments as 3-speed transmission, economical valve-in-head motor, Remy electric starting, lighting and ignition, safe and easy steering mechanism and light action dry-plate disc-clutch.

Modern Construction
—such as you find in the highest priced cars; your assurance of economical operation, low maintenance costs and satisfactory ownership.

Modern Appearance
—stream-line beauty, colorful Duco finish, and rustless airplane-metal radiator shells on every model. All closed bodies by Fisher.

Modern Equipment
—complete instrument panel with speedometer, Alemite lubrication, vacuum fuel-feed, and on closed models, full balloon tires—all without extra cost!

Touring	$510
Roadster	510
Coupe	645
Coach	645
Sedan	735
Landau	765
½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

f. o. b. Flint, Michigan

Ask for a Demonstration!

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated
CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Mrs. Gowan Entertains.

Mrs. J. E. Gowan entertained the members of the W. M. U. of Unity Association on last Thursday at her home. Beautiful potted plants and cut flowers adorned the living room. Mrs. S. J. Ezell, assistant superintendent of the W. M. U. presided over the business session. The Eastern District meeting that was recently held at Phoenix City was reported. Plans for the Young People's Council to be held at Evergreen church April 17 were made. In the afternoon the program for the quarterly W. M. U. meeting to be held at Floyd April 21 was completed. At the noon hour a lovely course luncheon was served by the hostess. The dining room was decorated in the W. M. U. colors, lavendar and white. A silver basket of white carnations, tied with lavendar tulle formed the centerpiece on the luncheon table. This was surrounded with tiny lavendar baskets filled with white mints. The place cards and other decorations carried out the Easter idea.

Those attending this meeting were Mesdames J. C. Hughes and Hattie E. Dickinson of Billingsley, Lester Gilbert of Marbury, S. J. Ezell, J. Lee Smith, and Grady Broadhead of Clanton.

MRS. C. B. NORRELL
Studio of Music
Over Broadhead's Store
Violin, Piano, Theory, Harmony, modern phrasing and pedaling. Certificate from the Elenberg Conservatory of Music. Years of Experience. Terms Reasonable. Home phone. 3-25-4t-pd.

A number of Clanton baseball fans went to Birmingham Monday to see the game between the New York Giants and the Washington Senators.

Julius Stearn of Montgomery was in Clanton Tuesday making his usual weekly visit to local business houses. Mr. Stearn is salesman for Mercantile Paper Co.

Thursday Sewing Club.

The members of the Thursday Sewing Club were entertained by Mrs. V. J. Gragg last Thursday afternoon at her home on Fourth Avenue. Bright spring blossoms were used to decorate the home. A delicious salad course with hot coffee was served to the guests by the hostess.

Those present were Mesdames Bama Cox, John M. Van Der veer, C. Fenn Jones, Grady Heflin, and W. C. Roper.

P. T. A. To Meet.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Grammar School Friday afternoon, April 9, at 2:30 o'clock. The annual election of officers will take place. All chairmen are requested to make annual reports.

Mrs. Johnson Hostess.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Arthur Johnson delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others at her home on Second Avenue. The home was profusely decorated with daffodils, narcissus and potted plants. Attractive score cards with narcissus were used. A series of bridge games were played at three tables. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. H. M. Simpson held high score and was presented a pretty breakfast cloth. The booby prize, a hand embroidered towel, was given to Mrs. N. S. Johnson. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. L. F. Gerald, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee. Each guest was presented an Easter favor.

Those enjoying Mrs. Johnson's hospitality were Mesdames J. Hance Alred, Frank Callen, L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, H. M. Simpson, N. S. Johnson, J. Watts Moore, Grady Reynolds, Eric Hart, John C. Page, Grady Broadhead; and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Mrs. Wyatt Entertains.

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt was hostess to the members of the Young Matron's Sewing Club and others on last Thursday afternoon at her home on Eighth Street. Baskets of daffodils, violets and potted plants were attractively arranged throughout the home. Forty-two was played at three tables. Following the games Mrs. Hubert Jones held top score and was presented a pretty wall vase. The guest prize, a wall vase also, was presented to Mrs. Omar Reynolds.

Mrs. Wyatt, assisted by Mrs. J. Lee Smith, served a delicious salad plate with hot coffee to the following club members: Mesdames Joe Higgins, Loren Smith, Lucien Duncan, Latham Ellis, Bill Murphy, Hubert Jones, Julius Burnett, and Milton Smith. The guests for the afternoon were Mesdames Grady Reynolds, Kin Vinson, J. Lee Smith, and Grady Broadhead.

Study Club Meets.

The members of the Study Club and others were delightfully entertained by Mrs. J. P. Hayes Friday afternoon at her home on Seventh Street. For this occasion the home was artistically decorated with quantities of daffodils and potted plants. Mrs. Grady Broadhead, president, presided over the meeting. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. J. E. Gowan acted in that capacity. After the business session the annual election of officers took place, resulting in the following officers being elected: President, Mrs. J. M. Van Der veer; Vice President, Mrs. John C. Page; Secretary, Miss Kathleen Mullins; Treasurer, Mrs. L. C. Ross. The program for the afternoon was a discussion, "Which is nearest the heart of the people, music or literature?" Mrs. J. A. Hester read a most interesting paper in favor of music, while Mrs. Van Der veer discussed literature. This concluding the program, the Club adjourned to meet with Mrs. J. W. Hayes May 7, at 3:00 o'clock. The hostess, assisted by Mesdames Smith and Hayes, served a delicious salad course suggesting the Easter idea.

The Club members present were Mesdames J. E. Gowan, J. Watts Moore, Arthur Johnson, J. W. Hayes, John C. Page, J. A. Hester, R. C. McDavid, John M. Van Der veer, Eric Hart, P. D. Wilson, B. M. Roberts, Grady Broadhead. The guests were Mesdames J. C. Jones, Carrie Mullins, Daphne of Tallahassee, Fla., and Mauney.

Y. W. A. To Meet.

Miss Evelyn Littlejohn will entertain the Young Woman's Auxiliary at her home Tuesday afternoon, April 13, at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Wade Hostess.

Tuesday at noon Mrs. J. Q. Wade entertained the groomsmen of the Wade-Oglesby wedding party at a luncheon at her home on Third Avenue. The home was beautifully decorated. Roses lilies and narcissus were used to carry out a color scheme of pink and white. The luncheon table was centered with a crystal bowl of Easter lilies. A regular course luncheon was served.

Covers were laid for the following: Messrs. Jack Wade, Frank Mullins, James Wade, John Moore of Wetumpka, Hoyt Reynolds, Stokes Goodrich of Russellville, and little Miss Peggy Page.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson is leaving Friday for St. Louis to attend the National Scouts' meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robinson have moved to Wetumpka.

Joint Hostesses At Luncheon.

Mesdames Loren Smith and Joe Higgins were joint hostesses at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Higgins recently, when they entertained the members of the Young Matron's Sewing Club. The home was adorned with daffodils and potted plants. The luncheon table was beautifully arranged. The central motif was a basket of yellow daffodils, surrounded with tiny checks. On either end of the table were nests, containing varicolored eggs. The attractive place cards were suggestive of the Easter season, and tiny baskets, representing daffodils, filled with yellow and green mints in egg shape further carried out the color scheme of yellow and green. Covers were laid for ten.

Those included in this gracious hospitality were Mesdames Bill Murphy, W. M. Wyatt, Lucien Duncan, Crit Jones, Briggs Crumpton, Flem Higgins, Milton Smith, and Latham Ellis.

Miss Lurline Harper of Selma spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Harper.

Mesdames Lucien Duncan, Bill Murphy, Loren Smith, Clyde Jones, and M. B. Arant motored to Montgomery Tuesday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Reynolds went down to Montgomery last Thursday evening to see "The Big Parade."

Miss Bessie Thomas of Selma was the guest for the week end of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Spigener.

Mr. and Mrs. Crit Jones (Sara Cox) have gone to Dade City, Fla., to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of Isabella were in town Saturday.

Mrs. Wise of Cooper was in town shopping Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Each of Thorsby were visitors in Clanton Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willis and son, William Arthur, motored to Shelby Sunday and spent the day with relatives.

Mr. H. C. Collins of Montgomery was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Duncan of Birmingham were the guests of their mother, Mrs. A. S. Jones, the last week end.

Mrs. Jatie Wagoner and little daughter of Montgomery spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Sampey Davis.

Mrs. J. B. Atkinson and children, Frances and Jo Ann, are visiting relatives at Vincent.

Miss Mary Ellis of Woman's College spent the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ellis.

Mr. Walter Bentley of Birmingham spent the week end in town with his frends.

Mr. Sam Upchurch left Tuesday for Virginia, where he attends military college, having spent several days with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch.

Mr. Otis Gibson of Birmingham spent Sunday with Clanton friends.

Mesdames J. Q. Wade, John C. Page, little Miss Peggy Page, left Tuesday to attend the Wade-Oglesby wedding Wednesday evening.

Messrs. D. A. Wingard, M. L. White and John C. Page spent Tuesday fishing on the Coosa River.

Messrs. Frank Mullins, James Wade and Hoyt Reynolds left Monday for Centreville, where they will be attendants in the Wade-Oglesby wedding.

Miss Sara Jones left Monday for Birmingham to enter Alverson Business College.

Mr. J. B. Atkinson is attending court at Rockford this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud White of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. White Sunday.

Mrs. Martin Nix and daughters, Evelyn and Gladys, of Birmingham, were guests of Mrs. J. M. Potts Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seibert of Woodlawn were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gowan and children of Louisiana spent several days recently with Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Gowan.

Mr. W. M. Devaughn of Cooper was in town Saturday.

Mrs. J. U. Benziger and little daughter, Carolyn, of Mitchell Dam, were in Clanton Thursday.

Mr. J. L. Ruffin made a business trip to Montgomery Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Jones and daughter, Willie, spent Thursday shopping in town.

Mr. J. W. Pattillo and daughter of Billingsley were among the vistors in town Thursday.

Mrs. McDonald, Miss Esther McDonald, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hartley of Montgomery were guests of Mesdames J. Mell Martin and Latham Ellis Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Woodyard and children of Birmingham motored down and spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Woodyard.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Powers of Lock 12 were in Clanton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Foshee and children of Montgomery spent Saturday in town with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Der veer and sons, and Mrs. J. P. Van Der veer motored to Montevallo Sunday, where they joined Dr. and Mrs. Pow and children of Bessemer, and visited relatives. Mrs. J. P. Van Der veer remained for a few days visit with her sister.

Mesdames Arthur Johnson, J. Watts Moore; Miss Kathleen Mullins; Mr. Charles Moore, Arthur Johnson, Jr., Foster Miller, and Joe Hall Johnson motored to Montgomery Saturday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Marcus motored to Birmingham Sunday and visited relatives.

Mrs. Alonza Parrish and little son are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thompson in Selma.

Mr. Paul Klotz of Montgomery was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson and daughters, Jean and Elizabeth, motored to Montgomery Saturday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. Frank Mullins made a business trip to Montgomery Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hubbard and Miss Elizabeth Hubbard of Verbena were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore Tuesday.

Mrs. J. Hugh Jones and little daughter, Mary Courtney, returned Tuesday from a visit to relatives in Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald and children spent several days last week in Birmingham with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Horn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Smith and children and Kathryn Hayes motored to Birmingham Monday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Darby of Wetumpka were guests of Mrs. J. L. Ruffin Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Crumpton of Birmingham were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wingard this past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis and daughter, Frances, of Verbena, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Downs Sunday.

Mr. Charles Moore returned Sunday afternoon to the University of Alabama, having spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watts Moore.

Mr. J. S. Catts of Verbena was here Monday.

Mrs. R. L. Duffey and children of Mt. Creek were visitors in Clanton Monday.

Mrs. Hubert Gardner and little daughter of Wetumpka are visiting relatives here.

Mr. Bob Williams of Montgomery spent Tuesday with home folks.

Mr. Tom Duffey, who has been spending some time in Florida, visited his sister, Mrs. N. A. Gray, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ellis, Miss Mary Ellis and Erle Ellis motored to Evergreen Sunday and spent the day with relatives.

Miss Hazel Kreider spent the week end in Montgomery with home folks.

Mr. Truett Crumpton of Birmingham was the guest for the week end of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wingard.

Messrs. L. F. Gerald, R. C. McDavid, Mack Wyatt, J. C. Jones, Dick Hayes, Dewey Eubanks, N. S. Johnson, and V. J. Heard went to Birmingham Monday and attended the ball game.

Mrs. Daphne and little son left Saturday for their home in Tallahassee, Fla., after a fortnight's visit to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McDavid.

Dr. T. H. Neighbors and Mr. J. Hance Alred left Wednesday for an extended western trip.

Miss Mary Upchurch of Howard College spent the week end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Upchurch.

In 4 years' tests conducted by our State Experiment Station, including 1922 to 1925, Cook 10-10 cotton has proved to be the best for this part of Alabama. It ranks first on the list and made 34 pounds more lint to the acre than the next best yielding cotton tested.

At the Delta Branch Experiment Sation at Stoneville, Miss., in 1924, fifty-three varieties of cotton were tested. Both long and short staple varieties were included. They were ranked according to yield in cotton per acre. When seed and lint were both sold, Cook 10-10 ranked second, and made $194.52 per acre.

C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala., is the largest multiplier of these seed in the State. His seed are for sale by Gulledge Brothers, Verbena; J. N. Dennis, Clanton; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby; and W. H. Conway, Jemison. Nothing pays a farmer better than good seed. 4-8-tf-ch.

I. T. Garner, optometrist, will be in Thorsby on Friday before the fourth Saturday in every month, and in Clanton over Tom Kemp's store the fourth Saturday in each month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. tf.

The person who was seen to pick up sack of "Smiles" flour on 2nd Ave., Tuesday, please return same to Donald Merchant's Store. 1pd

PORTO RICO POTATO PLANTS
Ready May 1st to May 11th. Place your orders early.
Terms:—$2.50 per 1,000—cash with the order.
R. M. SORRELL
(On the farm formerly owned by Claus Carlson)
THORSBY . . . . . ALABAMA

BRING YOUR CAR TO
Clanton Steam Laundry
TO BE WASHED
Located on Sixth Street and First Avenue, at Robinson Machine Shop

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

USED
Ford
CARS
See Them at Clanton Motor Car Co.

1924 Roadster, new tires	$190
1925 Coupe, a bargain	225
1924 Touring, new paint	125
1924 Touring, new paint	150
Some Good Values, for	40

Ford Trucks Cheap

If you are going to buy a used car or truck any time soon, don't fail to see these Bargains. Come and let us show you.

Clanton Motor Car Company
Sales Ford Service
THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Clanton, Ala.

OPENING DAY
Saturday, April 10
NEXT TO MADDOX GIN

We invite you to visit our Service Station on the above date. With every five gallons of of GOOD GULF Gasoline you buy you will get one quart of SUPREME AUTO OIL
F-R-E-E!
Good Gulf Service Station
Clanton, Alabama

$50 LESS
The Lowest Prices at Which These Cars ever Sold
Hudson Brougham
Hudson Coach and
Essex Coach
HUDSON
ESSEX
and $25 to $50 Further Saved
on Every Car by the A.Y.D. Plan
At Your Door
With Nothing Else to Pay

ESSEX "6" COACH	$864
HUDSON COACH	1309
Hudson Brougham	1564
Hudson 7-Pass. Sedan	1805

Easy and Convenient Purchase Terms 17

Prices Include Freight, Tax and This Standard Equipment
Automatic Windshield Cleaner
Front and Rear Bumpers
Rear View Mirror
Transmission Lock (built in)
Radiator Shutters
Moto-Meter
Combination Stop and Tail Light

H. M. Bates Garage
CLANTON, - - - ALABAMA

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

CONSTITUTION BAITERS ENEMIES TO AMERCA

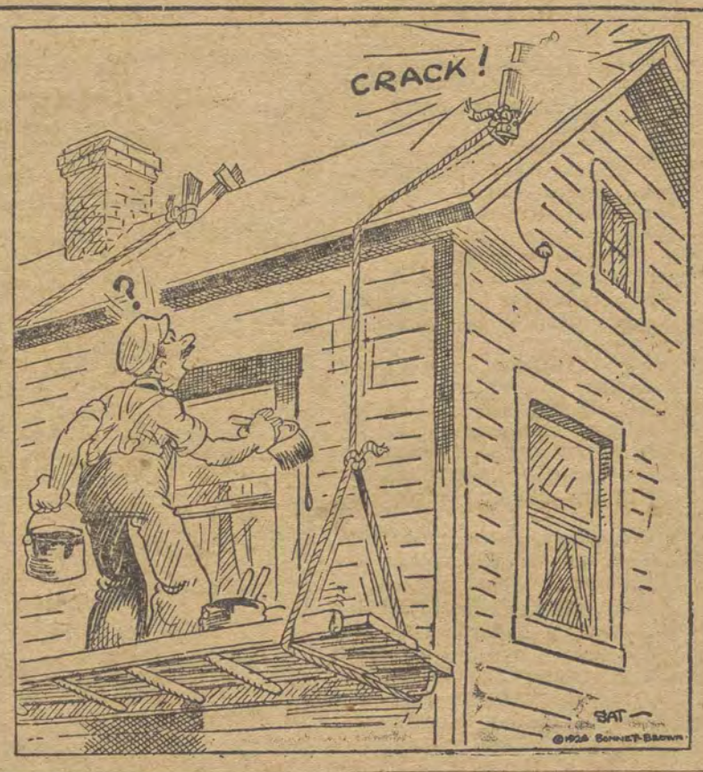
There are no greater enemies within our gates than those who assault our Constitution and the laws of the land. The more prominent and influential the assailant the more dangerous an enemy he is to the Republic.

The Constitution, if it ought to be changed, can be done so through processes provided by the Constitution itself and those who publicly encourage disrespect and violation of statutes put into effect by public opinion are not loyal Americans.

The common lawbreaker is more entitled to respect than the official who winks at law-breaking. The official has taken an oath to support the Constitution and laws of the land and if an executive official he is charged with responsibility for seeing to it that they are enforced. The public official who is faithless to his oath or to his trust is the most malign enemy or the republic.

Those who are ready to participate in mob violence are enemies of the republic. Within the past few weeks state troops have had to be called out in Kentucky and Delaware to protect prisoners from mob violence. The governors who ordered the troops out are entitled to credit, but the necessity for such action is a serious reflection upon the Americanism of those whose threats to take the law in their own hands made this action necessary. There is no crime for which the law does not provide a remedy. If a mob may today take into its own hands the administration of "justice" under provocation for a crime, tomorrow it may take the law in its own hands to murder the innocent. The only protection from violence the citizen has is the retention of the power of the courts to administer justice. The truly loyal citizen of the republic will not only refuse to take part in mob violence, but he will stand ready to protect even the vilest criminal until he has had a trial, by rallying to the support of the civil authorities.

HIS RIGHTS



"Why is old Riley Rezzidow bucking and snorting so about the new Post Office hours?" asked Dr. Slash or Mr. Potinis. "He seldom gets a letter any how."

"That's a fact," replied Potinus, "But he might get one some day, you know, and he stands square on his great American right to make as much trouble for public servants as he chooses.—Kansas City Star.

In 1900 it was—"All wool and a yard wide." But in 1926 it is—"All silk and as narrow as you can get into it."—Cincinnati Enqquirer.

Nutrition experts say that there ih no danger in eating fish and drinking milk at the same meal, provided both of these foods have been kept in good condition.

Little Pen-O-Grams

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

There are many opportunities for farm women to make extra money. Ask your home demonstration agent for suggestions.

The League of Nations produces harmony just like the chain that fastens two dogs does. While they are loose from each other they play together, but when they realize that they are tied together they will fight in spite of everything.

An Indiana hen during March laid a dozen turquoise blue eggs which were sent to President Coolidge for Easter. These blue eggs are not a good omen for the Democratic party in Indiana this year.

A lot of European lecturers come over here and tell us what we ought to do, at two dollars a seat, but we have yet to hear of an American lecturer giving good advice in Europe and getting paid for it at the same time.

The League of Nations has purchased a site for its new home at Geneva. Doubtless it will be eqquipped with sound-proof walls and shock absorbers.

Some idea of the buying power and the prosperity of the American people can be gained by a study of the automobile statistics of the nation. According to a report recently released by the Bureau of Industrial Technology, which has been conducting a survey of the automotive industry, the nation's annual bill for automobiles is 14 billion dollars, a per capita expenditure of $117. The amount spent for and on automobiles is greater than the value of our farm crops and twice as great as the sum annually expended for building.

In launching a big ship the other day six bottles of champagne had to be broken over its bow before it would move. Which goes to show that even the champagne isn't what it used to be.

A little oil and grease now may save a lot of sweat later.

Absence of occupation is not rest,
A mind quite vacant is a mind distressed.—Cowper.

BOB JONES COLLEGE

Panama City Fla., April 6.—A half million dollar life insurance policy, said to be one of the largest individual policies ever written in the south, was issued this week by the Reliable Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, to the Rev. Dr. Bob Jones, evangelist, of Montgomery, Ala.

The policy is payable to the Bob Jones college, the $5,000,000 interdenominational, orthodox, Christian college, which the evangelist is building at College Point, near here. It was taken by Dr. Jones to insure the completion of the program which he has mapped out for his school, in the event of his death. If the half-million dollars should be paid, it would be in addition to the funds which will come to the school normally through the arrangement which Dr. Jones has with the owners of the property on which the institution will be built.

The college is expected to be open for students by the fall of 1927. Construction on it will start September 1st of this year.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that more than 550,000 farms in the United States are now eqquipped with radio. A year ago a survey found 365,000, and two years ago only 145,000. The estimate is based upon reports from 1,056 county agents.

One hundred years ago 87% of the population of the United States was engaged in farming, but at present only 26% is so engaged, according to the Department of Agriculture. Yet this 26% is able to feed the remaining 74% and export more agricultural products than was possible 100 years ago.

The average consumption of meat in the United States was greater in 1925 than in any year since Federal meat inspection was instituted in 1907, says the report of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. The use of pork declined from past years, probably due to higher prices incident to the 20% decrease in hog receipts at central markets; but veal, beef and mutton all increased. The average person in the United States last year consumed 154.3 pounds of meat, the report shows. This was 4 pounds greater than the average consumption for the last 18 years.

Unfortunate is the farmer who gets in a hurry to plant and fails to make a good seed bed.

Horse collars which fit improperly are liable to cause sore shoulders.

Four centuries ago farmers tried to make white veal by frequent bleeding, cutting a small piece of the calf's tail off every day or two.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of April 4, 1901.

A singing at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Patton was enjoyed by several young people. The singing was fine owing to the vocal accomplishments of Messrs. G. M. Adams, R. B. McNeill, and J. M. Langston.—Jemison News.

Prof. J. N. Dennis has moved to Jemison.—Randolph News.

Mr. Wallace C. Edler was over among the good people of Beat 1 last week, and a large addition to the membership to the Farmers Mutual Insurance Association resulted from his labors.

Mr. T. G. Milling of Plantersville was in town on business Monday.

Mr. Buckner Harris of Stanton was a visitor here a day or two this week.

Judge Adams left for New Orleans Tuesday night to meet his son, Dr. J. B. Adams, who has sufficiently recovered to leave San Antonio, after his deplorable accident.

Wilson & Bro. have opened up in their new store house.

Mrs. Burt Higgins of Deatsville is visiting Mrs. Guy Higgins.

THE BEAR CREEK PHILOSOPHER

Speaking of the latest style of women's haircuts, its just as easy for a woman with long hair to neglect her children as it is for one of the bobbed variety.

Harold Quince, our popular young school teacher who is running for the Democratic nomination for Congress, has come out in favor of government aid for those afflicted with bootleggers blindness.

Henry Martin says that while the wets are complaining because they claim prohibition doesn't prohibit, he doubts if they would be satisfied if it did.

Sheriff Abel Abbott has made all arrangements to close up the Star chile parlor in case we get into war with Mexico.

Some of these movie heroes do their screen kissing like they were getting paid on the cost-plus plan.

The fight in the pool room last night started in an argument as to whether Babe Ruth would get more home runs this year than he did in 1925.

Merchants of Alexandria, Egypt, do not expect the Egyptian law restricting the cotton acreage one-third will result in a very material reduction this year, says the American Trade Commissioner of Alexandria.

In 4 years' tests conducted by our State Experiment Station, including 1922 to 1925, Cook 10-10 cotton has proved to be the best for this part of Alabama. It ranks first on the list and made 34 pounds more lint to the acre than the next best yielding cotton tested.

At the Delta Branch Experiment Sation at Stoneville, Miss., in 1924, fifty-three varieties of cotton were tested. Both long and short staple varieties were included. They were ranked according to yield in cotton per acre. When seed and lint were both sold, Cook 10-10 ranked second, and made $194.52 per acre.

C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala., is the largest multiplier of these seed in the State. His seed are for sale by Gulledge Brothers, Verbena; J. N. Dennis, Clanton; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby; and W. H. Conway, Jemison. Nothing pays a farmer better than good seed. 4-8-tf-ch.

Crown Gasoline

We guarantee to stop the chatter in your Ford

Polorine Mobiloils

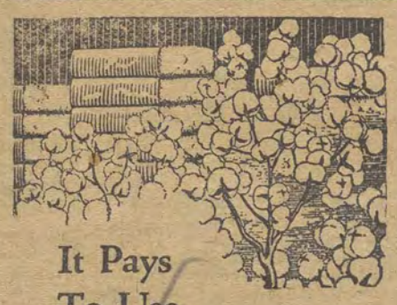
If you will let us drain your crank case and refill with Polarine F.

We sell GOODYEAR and MANSFIELD tires and our prices are RIGHT.

TRY US AND SEE

We also want to wash and grease your car when it needs it.

Drop in and see if your License number is on the board and get 5 gals. gas FREE.



Dief's Service Station
"SERVICE A PLEASURE"

Open All Night

On the Highway Opposite Postoffice

Ladies Rest Room

Fertilize Cotton Now!

Put a plentiful supply of Nitrate of Soda under your cotton now to give it a good start, and follow that up with a good side dressing before chopping out. That's the way to make profitable cotton.

It Pays To Use NITRATE of SODA

Ask your county agent or send a postal card with your address to our nearest office for our free bulletins which have helped thousands of farmers to grow bigger and more profitable crops.

Chilean Nitrate of Soda—EDUCATIONAL BUREAU
Dr. William S. Myers, Director
1118 Hurt Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. 402 Hibernia Bank Bldg., New Orleans, La.
702 Cotton Exchange Bldg., Memphis, Tenn. 57 East State St., Columbus, O.
27 Madison Avenue, New York

OUR HERO

From near and far, his townsmen
Gathered. Intently they listened
As he stood in their midst and—
In a voice that alternately shook
With emotion or vibrated with the Fire of defiance and wrath—
Shouted:

"He who as much as touches it with one little finger—dies like a dog!

"It's mine! My very own. It was I who nursed it through many anxious hours. It was I who cared for it, guided it and brought it up to be a treasure worth living for.

"I'll protect it with my last ounce of strength. Yes, only over my dead body shall my enemies lay hands upon it!"

"WHAT?"
Cried the mob. "Quick—don't keep Us in suspense!"
"WHAT IS IT?"

And looking in the direction of his
Pointing finger, they heard him
Say:
"Why — that darling little
Radish growing there so
Sweetly. Look! Look—it's AN INCH HIGH ALREADY !"
(Curtain)

———§§§———

Talking about Gardening, would you say, "this is the season you can watch your neighbor's wife roll and unroll her hose?" Hey there, neighbor, keep those bricks in your own back yard!

———§§§———

All You Have To Do Is To—
"Imagine" There's No Pain!

See where a noted chiropodist says that if your feet hurt, you should "keep right on walking and then walk some more until they stop aching!" Evidently meaning that when the pain from your corns and bunions renders your propellers unconscious—you'll be all O. K. Yes, but then—thy and walk. Blankety-Blank-Blank! G-r-r-r!

———§§§———

More advice: Another doctor says, "Folks should get at least sixteen hours of sleep a day." How? Eight at home and eight at the office?

———§§§———

Another M. D. claims "bad tempers are responsible for stomach-aches." So be careful. Be careful. No use getting a "hot head" if it's going to take a hot-water bottle on your tummy to cool you off.

———§§§———

Smilin' Charlie Says-

"There's a great many pretty girls who could wear clothes--- but don't---"

———§§§———

If you have too many gold teeth in your mouth, you're apt to have high doctor bills. Aren't you revealing part of your wealth?

———§§§———

Take Her Son And—
The Bills Go With Her !

Why is it the father's permission must be sought by a young man when he only means to do the ol' man a favor by cutting down some of his overhead expenses at home?

FAMOUS LAST LINES
"I'll never eat onions again!"

(COPYRIGHT, 1925, BY THE BONNET-BROWN CORPORATION, CHICAGO)

"THE LITTLE CLODHOPPER" AT ISABELLA SCHOOL

"The Little Clodhopper" is the title of a play that will be put on by the students and faculty of Isabella school on Saturday night, April 17, at 8:00 o'clock.

Price of admission will be 20 cents and 30 cents; proceeds will go for benefit of the school. Everybody invited.

Danger In Coughs That Hang-On

Neglected coughs often lead to worse trouble. Yet there is a simple method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery, which usually breaks the worst cough entirely in 24 hours.

Here is the method: You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. So the most stubborn cough soon disappears completely.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR COUGHS

CLASSIFIED ADVS.

RATES FOR ADS:

10c line for first insertion—5c line for each subsequent insertion. No ad taken for less than 25c.

FOR SALE.—One 1926 model Ford Touring Car, with snubbers, lock steering wheel, sun visor and other extras; good as new; will sell at a bargain. See K. M. Vinson at Polk Brothers Garage. 4-8-tf

WANTED—Sawmill hands, good permanent job, near Montgomery on Birmingham - Montgomery highway. $1.75 per day and up; pay every two weeks. H. B. Reynolds, Millbrook, Ala. 4-1-2t-ch.

FOR SALE—Farm consisting of 220 acres, about 70 acres in cultivation and the rest in timber; dwelling, tenant house; running water on place; located 3-4 mile north of Billingsley, Ala. For further information write Mrs. C. Faulkner, 14 Dunbar Street, Montgomery, Ala. 3-25-4t-pd

LOST OR STOLEN—1 white and liver spotted Pointer bitch, medium size, very friendly, answers to name "Kate"; missing from my place since Friday, March 19. Will pay liberal reward to finder or information as to her whereabouts. K. M. Vinson, Clanton, Ala. 3-25-tf

LOST—3 miles east of Clanton, female hound pup, two-thirds grown; white with small red and blue specks; large black spot over eye and ear. If found notify Arthur Maddox, Clanton, Ala., R 2. Information confidential, $5.00. 3-11-5t-ch

FOR SALE OR TRADE—One good mule; will sell cheap, or will trade for cattle. W. M. Devaughn, Verbena, Ala., R 2. 3-25-3t-ch

The teacher was explaining to a class of small boys and girls the meaning of the word "collision."

"A collision," she said, "is when two things come together unexpectedly. Now can anyone give me an example of a collision,"

"Twins!" said the Class Idiot.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO CONDEMN LANDS

State of Alabama, Chilton County.—In Probate Court.—Chilton County vs. Lewis Christensen et als. To: Mrs. C. A. Aubol, Big Lake, State of Minnesota, and owners unknown:

You are hereby notified that Chilton County, a municipal corporation, has filed in Probate Court of Chilton County, Alabama, for condemnation of certain lands and interest therein described in said petition, and said application avers that said County proposes to construct, build, use and maintain a public highway or road and in so doing, the land described in said petition, of which you are an owner or have an interest therein, will likely be traversed or crossed by said road, and you are hereby notified that the hearing of said application has been set by the court for the 5th day of May, 1926, and you may appear and contest said application if you think proper.

Witness my hand this, the 3rd day of April, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
4-8-3t-ch. Judge of Probate.

LAWLEY NEWS

Little Ed Mount has been very ill, but is improving now.

Miss Olivia Latham, a teacher at Isabella, spent the week end with her parents.

Miss Maggie Mae Head has returned from a week's visit to friends in Tuscaloosa.

Misses Mary and Della Barnes, who attend school at Centreville, spent the week end at home.

We have a splendid Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. here now.

Mr. C. H. Lawley of Artesia, Miss., spent Sunday with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cleveland spent the week end with parents at Centreville.

Messrs. Harvey Lawley and Charley Head motored to Maplesville Sunday.

Misses Carrie and Ollie Lawrence spent Saturday night with Mr. E. J. Lawrence and family.

Mr. Gordon Adams of Montgomery spent Sunday with home folks.

CANDIDATES

(All announcements under this heading are paid political advs., authorized by the parties whose names are signed to the same.)

FOR TAX COLLECTOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Tax Collector of Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters of the county in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

J. T. ROCKETT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County subject to the action of the Reublican Primary to be held August 10, 1926.

WILL G. CULP.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

ALFRED F. MIMS.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the Primary election to be held on August 10, 1926.

S. M. PATE.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

K. M. VINSON.

FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held on August 10, 1926.

J. DUDLEY COLLINS.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature of Alabama from Chilton County, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

PERCY M. PITTS.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Representative of Chilton County in the Legislature of Alabama subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

JOHN S. DENNIS.

FOR MEMBER OF COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

I hereby announce myself a candidate for membership on the County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

R. H. BEAN.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of member of the county board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

W. J. EASTERLING.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Member of County Board of Education of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. J. M. WEBB.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Board of Education of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican voters of the county at the primary election to be held August 10, 1926.

J. L. VINES.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER FIRST DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

T. J. DORMINEY.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Commissioner of the First District of Chilton County subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. F. JONES.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district, Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the voters in the Reublican primary to be held on August 10.

J. N. SCOTT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the first district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. P. BEAN.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the ffice of Commissioner from First District, subject to the action of the voters in the Republican primary to be held August 10, 1926.

S. E. WALDROP.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER SECOND DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

D. H. GENTRY.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the Second District of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

J. H. BENSON.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of the second district of Chilton County, Alabama, subject to the action of the Republican primary of August 10, 1926.

T. A. MADDOX.

MULBERRY - ISABELLA NEWS

There will be a picnic for all the Isabella school children and teachers and for anyone who wishes to take part on next Saturday, April 10th. So come with your lunch early. Remember that all of the teachers will go.

The United Singing Society from Thorsby will be at Mulberry Baptist Church next Sunday afternoon, April 12th. Everybody is cordially invited to come. There will be some good quartets and singing too.

The old time fiddlers convention at the Isabella school last Saturday night was very good. The proceeds for our school was $42.80.

Mrs. C. H. Oliver, accompanied by her nieces, Fronetta Edward and Doris Tucker, and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bond, from Birmingham, spent the week end with Mrs. Oliver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Manning.

Our B. Y. P. U. is now held at 6:30 instead of 3:30, at Mulberry every Sunday evening.

Mr. Roy Sanders from Montgomery was visiting in our community Sunday.

The W. M. U. and egg hunt at Mrs. D. O. Manning's last Saturday evening was enjoyed by 62 people. There were 173 eggs.

Mr. James Lecroy and Miss Elnar Summers from Jemison were visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lecroy Sunday.

Miss Fannie Morris and her son, Clyde, and Homer Carold, from Liberty, were visiting relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

NEWS OF COLORED PEOPLE OF THORSBY

There will soon be a Rosenwald school built for the colored people of Thorsby, Ala. The colored people have worked hard for this school. Through the untiring efforts of the Parent-Teachers Association they are able to qualify. They wish to make special mention of their white friends who co-operated so nicely with the P. T. A., contributing liberally when called upon, some manifesting enough interest to even visit the meetings that were held in the interest of the new school. Too much cannot be said in behalf of Mr. F. A. Gulledge, who has given the land for the school. Lucy Hopkins, who has not a child, raised $40.00 for the school.

JOSEPH SISTRUNK.

The labor spent in drawing water for livestock alone will pay for a water system before it is one-third worn out.

THE ANNUAL EASTER SINGING AT POPLAR SPRINGS

Another annual Easter singing was held at Poplar Springs last Sunday. The congregation was called to order by Prof. W. M. Devaughn, who sang one song, which was followed with prayer by Prof. J. L. Wilson.

The organization for the day was: W. M. Devaughn, chairman; J. L. McDowell, J. W. Cooper, and E. L. Glasscock, program committee; J. L. Wilson, secretary.

The directors for the day were: O. L. Devaughn, L.T. Grant, A.A. Beaird, I. D. Huett, Akins Collins, J. R. Robinson, J. W. Cagle, G. C. Powell, Jesse Jones, H. W. Lowery, C. H. Robinson, S. V. Miller, Lee J. Grant. Organists were: Lee Grant, Jewell McDowell, Mrs. Renfroe Jones, Beatrice Grant and Mrs. John Hancock.

Perhaps the most enjoyable feature of the program was the quartetts rendered by Messrs. L. T. Grant and children, W. M. Devaughn, A. A. Beaird, Archie Devaughn, Akins Collins and others.

The occasion was a most enjoyable one and we believe as a whole, the most successful ever witnessed by this community.

BETTER HOMES WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED IN CLANTON

The week of April 25 to May 1 is to be observed as better homes week in America. A local organization fostered by the church and civic and social organizations in Clanton will carry out a program that will adapt the movement to local conditions in Clanton. Full details of the movement will be published next week.

Big bargains in our Easter Hat Sale, 50c, $1, and up—Robinson Bargain Store.

MAHOGANY PLAYER Piano now in Clanton, guaranteed new and one of our best instruments; fine tone, beautiful finish rolls, bench, scarf free; for sacrifice price and terms write Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., Box 848, Montgomery, Ala. 4-1-2tch

Maybe This Contains A Hint For You

Montgomery, Ala.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the Favorite Prescription off and on for a number of years and they have always given me perfect satisfaction. As a blood tonic, I can recommend the 'Golden Medical Discovery' to be the best, and as a feminine tonic I can recommend the 'Favorite Prescription' to be unequalled."—Mrs. Ida Spencer, 216 Columbus St.

Since it is such a simple matter to step into a drug store and obtain Dr. Pierce's medicines anyone who earnestly desires to regain health and new life will waste no time in obtaining them.

We're Ready, Men

with the town's best Spring Clothes values!

KORRECT KLOTHES

A line of superbly Hand - Tailored Suits for the man who wishes the best at the lowest price Suits with 2 pair of pants from—

$12.50 to $30.00

in various fabrics.

Straw Hats of the Very Latest Styles Mens Ties in the Beautiful Spring Patterns. In fact, Men we are ready to fit you up fro top to bottom.

Men, don't forget our excellent offerings in Star Brand Shoes. We show the latest creations in style, the best in quality, price right!

Come to see us. It is a pleasure for us to show you whether you buy or not.

The Line with More Hand Tailoring

Alred Mercantile Company, Inc.

Clanton, Ala.

RHYNE'S COOK

Wilt-Resistant Cotton

has led all wilt-resistant varieties in the Alabama Experiment Station tests for the last three years. Stood first in Mississippi Experiment Station test in 1924. A big boll early variety that runs 7/8 to 1 inch staple and turns out 38% to 40% lint.

Absolutely The Best Variety For Chilton County

Seed grown in this section are better adapted than any others from outside. Bred up by individual stalk selections for many years. These seed can be secured from C. A. Pattillo, Billingsley, Ala., J. N. Dennis, Clanton, Ala., or direct from us. Descriptive pamphlet and price list sent on request.

RHYNE BROS

Benton, Alabama

TO KEEP BABY WELL

have your medicine chest well stocked with the needful things from our drug store. Such essentials for your child's comfort and health as baby talcum, vaseline, cold cream, gauze, cotton, nipples, antiseptics, etc. All our nursery goods fresh and choice.

Alred Drug Company

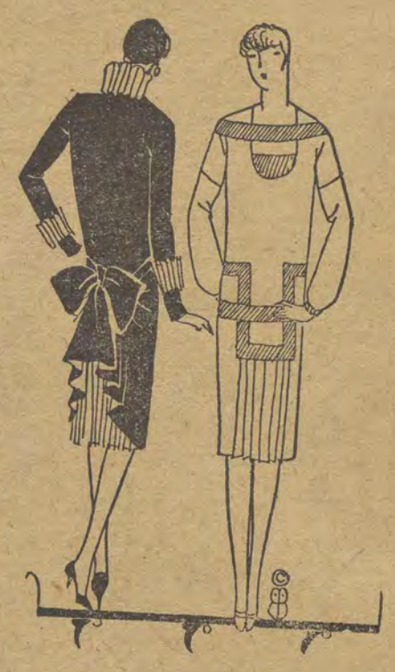
CLANTON, ALA.

Subscribe for The Chronicle.

For the young men you will find here a nifty assortment of suits and pants. We have the new Bordeaux Blues and grey in single and double breasted models, some with two pairs of pants.

We have just received a beautiful line of NEW PIECE GOODS

We have the niftiest line of chi l d r e n s wash suits in town, priced from 48c to $2.48. We also have them in long pants.



If you want a pretty dress see our line of beautiful dress goods in crepes, voiles, pongees, b r o a d-cloth, rayon silks, and radium silks. We have them in the latest designs and patterns, in flowers or in stripes; most any figure or design that will suit you. We will be pleased to show you, regardless of your intentions in buying. They are priced to meet the most conse r v a t i v e purse.

THE LEADER
MANAGER, M. LANDE

Our Shoes are solid leather with our usual guarantee. The season's very smartest styles will be found at our store. Shoes for everybody here.

We are offe r i n g for Saturday a few special prices picked from our mammoth stock. Come and see our new spring goods. We always sell better merchandise for less money.

Do you need a new dress? If so, see us before you purchase. Our prices are the very lowest; styles the latest.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager).

In the mad scramble for explorations of the north polar regions by airplanes, representing some half-dozen nations, during the summer, one young man born and raised in Thorsby has a prominent part. Mr. Leo Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Petersen, who reside in Thorsby is one of two naval attaches who have been detailed to accompany Commander Byrd, who sailed from Brooklyn navy yard on Monday of this week on the steamship Chantier, bound for King's Bay, on the island of Spitzbergen, off the northern coast of Norway, one place on this globe where the sun never sets. Their ship carries one Fokker Monoplane and one Curtis Oriole Biplane. Mr. Petersen has had several years navy experience as an aeroplane mechanic and has been detailed in that capacity for this perilous expedition. He is a clear eyed, clean, upstanding young man, born of Danish parents, and has a lot of Norseman blood in his veins. One can somewhat visualize the honor which has come to him when they stop to think what a responsibility for success of the enterprise rests upon him. He must know that every detail of these machines is in perfect working order, to perform the service for which it is intended, and we who know Leo have litt'e doubt that he is fully competent to justify the confidence placed in him by those in charge of the expedition.

Rev. Joseph E. Each, pastor of Thorsby Congregational church, as superintendent of Thorsby group of Congregational churches, extending into Elmore and Autauga counties, has been furnished by the Congregational Home Missionary Society, with headquarters in New York, what is designated as a "Congregational Service Car," in the form of a new and up-to-date Ford touring car. For several years these cars have been furnished to ministers in charge of a group of churches, often widely scattered, which it would be impossible for any man to properly supervise without some adequate means of getting about. Brother Each is also State Superintendent of Congregational Christian Endeavor Societies, and in this capacity will attend the State Christian Endeavor Society, which meets in Montgomery April 9-11. A. T. Arthur and Boona Lee Wood will also go as delegates from the Thorsby Society.

Last Sunday was a day of unusual interest at Thorsby Congregational church. A perfect day brought out a large attendance at the Easter services at the hour of the usual morning service. The program was participated in by the classes of the Sunday school from the little tots up. In the evening the house was again well filled for the monthly praise service, followed with a short Easter sermon by the pastor. In the afternoon the Junior Christian Endeavor Society resolved itself into a committee to distribute colored Easter eggs to many of the shut-ins of the community.

The program of Thorsby Public school as given below, was furnished by Prof. Bean, the principal:

The school is preparing to give the play, "The Poor Married Man," on Friday, April 9, given by the sophomores. The school will close April 13. The commencement program is as follows: Sunday, 11:00 a. m., Commencement sermon. Monday night, the play, "An Old Fashion Mother," will be given by the Juniors and Seniors. Tuesday night, graduating exercises. The following are expected to receive their junior high school diplomas: Cecil Cleckler, Pauline Lesley, Lola Mae Hayes, Erchel Martin, Rosalee Collins, Lester Pate, Lucile Lowery, Lucile Howard, James Nelson, and Gertie Sunburg. This week is taken up largely with final examinations and practice for the plays. On March 30 the Home Economics class served the faculty and senior class. The Easter idea was carried throughout.

Thorsby Institute Board of Trustees will hold their quarterly meeting at 9:30 a. m., Thursday, April 8. Important business is to be considered, and all trustees should be present. The meeting will be in the dormitory living room.

Thorsby Concert Band has been reorganized and will hold regular rehearsals twice a month in the Woodman hall. Their first reheasal was last Monday night. J. O. Johnson is leader.

R. A. Turner and family of Birmingham were week end visitors at the homes of Rev. and Mrs. Each and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goddard.

Miss Agnes Leary made an Easter visit to her home in Thorsby. She is a student at Howard College.

Mrs. Aaron Littleton was taken to Birmingham last Monday for treatment in an infirmary. She has been in very poor health for the past several months.

Mr. C. C. Driskill has returned from a visit to his mother at her home in Collinsville, and is again on duty at the Bank of Thorsby. He reports his mother as considerably well on the way to recovery from a severe illness.

Mrs. Robert Davenport has been ill for a week, but is now able to sit up.

Mrs. Wm. Billingsley is ill with flu.

Seymour, son of Sam Reynolds of Jemison, recently returned from an infirmary where he suffered an operation for appendicitis. He is now seriously ill with pneumonia.

Misses Jennye, Edith and Mary Sue Robinson, with Arthur Villadsen, went to Birmingham Sunday and spent the day with an aunt of the young ladies. They were accompanied home Sunday night by Miss Mae Whitle, who spent a day and night with friends in Thorsby. Miss Jennye returned to Birmingham with her and will spend a week visiting.

Misses Mabel and Lucile Howard went to Birmingham on a shopping expedition last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan and Miss Naemi Turnquist went to Birmingham last Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. Reagan returned home Sunday night. Miss Naemi came home Tuesday night.

Mrs. S. C. Wood is expecting her mother to return soon from Birmingham. Mrs. Wood is also expecting a two weeks visit from her brother, Mr. Eugene Parnell, of Anniston.

The Baptist ladies aid social will be held this week Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. F. Harper.

Next Sunday is regular preaching day at Thorsby Baptist Church, 11 a. m., and 7 p. m.

Mrs. Each, Mrs. J. O. Johnson and daughter, Edith, were guests of Mrs. M. J. Soberg Wednesday night. Miss Parker gave them instruction in knitting, etc. They listened to an assortment of radio entertainment. Mrs. Soberg served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson and little daughter were week-end visitors in Thorsby.

Mrs. Nels Peterson is visiting her parents at West Point, Ga.

The negro population of Thorsby have at last succeeded in their effort to raise money to secure the Rosenwald fund and a like amount from the state to build a modern school house. A four acre tract west of Thorsby was donated by Mr. F. A. Gulledge of Verbena.

Miss Louise Gore of Birmingham and Miss Ailen Gore of Collins Chapel were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Meade.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bosworth and family spent the week end in Birmingham.

Miss Lera Bean and Miss Cuba Littleton of Collins Chapel, graduates of the school there, entered Thorsby Institute Monday.

The Lutheran ladies aid social will be held at the home of Mrs. C. R. Foss Thursday afternoon, April 15.

R. M. Sorrell of Thorsby is putting in quite a large hotbed for growing sweet potato plants.

All graduates from junior high schools who wish to enter Thorsby Institute in September, 1926 and receive full credit for junior high school work must have had 9 months in junior 3. If such pupils enroll now and remain and successfully carry the prescribed work until the close of school, June 2, they will receive junior 3 credits.—Ethel Loveland, acting principal.

April 1st was an ideal day for the annual picnic of Thorsby Institute. The day was spent in playing games, taking pictures and visiting. According to the faculty and seniors they gave the baseball game to the school. The junior freshman classes won in the tug of war.

Mrs. Loveland and Miss Murray gave an egg hunt for the boarding students April 2. Supper was out of doors around a huge bonfire.

Our Congregational Christian Endeavor Society is growing somewhat in numbers. Last Sunday night we added H. Roscoe Maddox, Alta Each, Meryl and Doris Freeman, and Bertha Kirkland.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and gratitude to our friends for kindness and sympathy extended during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother.—W. A. Howard and family.

Thorsby Filling Station

We are now handling Woco-Pep Gasoline, Woco and Tiolene Motor Oils.

We carry Goodyear Tires and Tubes, and all kinds of Automobile Accessories.

WE ARE AT YOUR SERVICE!

THORSBY FILLING STATION

J. E. SMITH, Proprietor

Thorsby . . . . . Alabama

When You Have Money In The Bank You Have Credit at the Bank. When you have Credit at the Bank you have Credit at every other place.

If your credit is good you can carry out your UNDERTAKINGS SUCCESSFULLY. All your neighbors have credit here and you will soon have if you begin putting your savings in our care. We solicit your business on sound principles and good Banking.

THE BANK OF THORSBY

Thorsby, Ala.

"We Bank the Public's Money."

Remember We pay More for Chickens & Eggs

HILL'S

50 lb can Pure Lard	$8.00
100 lb best granulated sugar	$5.65
Oatmeal, per package	9c
Piconaise, large size	28c
French Mustard	13c
Navy Beans, per lb	7½c
Prunes, 2 lb for	25c
We roast and grind your coffee, guaranteed to please or your money back— 4 lb for	$1.20
Rice, whole grain, per lb	9c
Large Lima Beans, per lb	15c
Pet, Carnation or Bordens milk, large 11c–small	5½c
Tomatoes, No. 2 cans, 3 for	25c
Campbell's Soups, all kinds	10c
Del Monte sliced Pineapple No. 2 can	25c
Table Peaches, No. 2½ can each	22c
Stokeley's Hominy, large can	9c
Fame Catsup, Large Bottle	20c
Eagle Brand Milk	19c
Lemon or Vanilla Flavor, Jugs, each	10c

We Operate our own Flour Mills, and can sell you a Better Grade of Flour for less money. Split Silk, bbl, $10.25 Grandma's Wonder, - - - bbl, $11.25

The Old Reliable's 1925 Record

This Railroad has just completed its greatest year of service to its patrons and to the South, and the following statement is submitted in the belief that its details will interest that public which has made possible this banner year:

Carloads of freight handled, approximately	2,000,000
Number of tons handled	65,800,000
Higher than best previous year by	12.o%
Number of passengers carried	10,381,000
Average journey of each passenger (miles)	65.62
Employes in service	51,700
Total payroll	$75,751,000.
Improvements made during the year	$17,400,000.
State, Federal and other taxes paid, over	$ 7,000,000.

That the management of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad anticipates an even greater volume of business during this and succeeding years, and that it is preparing to take care of this business, is indicated by the fact that the appropriation so far for 1926 for standard equipment and other modern roadway facilities approximates $26,000,000.00, and this figure will be enlarged as the year progresses.

A great trunk-line railroad system is the finest industrial asset a community or city can possess. The above statistics indicate the great value of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to the South, where 96% of the "Old Reliable's" mileage is located.

THE OLD RELIABLE L&N (LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.) E-21

Which Disinfectant?

Disinfecting is worth doing when you use a disinfectant like Pratts.

Pratts Dip and Disinfectant is guaranteed to have high germ killing power. Long scientific study produced it. Use it freely wherever you have a disinfecting job. A gallon makes a barrelful. Backed by half a century of Pratt experience. Will not poison or irritate. No injury to hair, wool, or feathers.

Leading breeders and authorities have complete confidence in Pratts Dip and Disinfectant.

Pratts Dip and Disinfectant

To Our Customers: We guarantee Pratts Dip and Disinfectant to be a real germ killer. It must satisfy you or money back.

Sold and Guaranteed by

ALRED DRUG CO,
Clanton, Ala.

NEWS FROM FLOYD

The Floyd singing society met Sunday afternoon and enjoyed a fine singing. It began with singing directed by E. F. Taylor; prayer by W. J. Huett. The following directors sung: J. M. Williams, J. M. Taylor, Misses Lela Taylor, Leola Strength and Philip Headley. Organists were: E. P. McKinnie and Miss Lera Taylor.

We invite all singers to come and help us the first Sunday afternoon in each month. E. F. TAYLOR.

Science Note.—Chemistry Professor: "What can you tell me about nitrates?"

Student: "Well—er—they're a lot cheaper than day rates."

SARDIS NEWS

Sunday school at this place was attended by a large crowd Sunday, although many young people from this place attended the all day service at Shiloh.

The egg hunt given by the Sunday school Sunday afternoon was attended by a large crowd and enjoyed very much, especially by the Sunday school children.

Our singing society still meets but sorry to say, we haven't organized yet but hope to soon. We will sing two Sundays in the new books and two in the old Christian Harmony books. So we invite both old and young people out to join in singing praises to God.

A prayer service was held at the home of Mr. Jim Green Sunday night. Mr. Green has been sick for some time. Rev. T. J. Deason conducted the prayer service.

Several young people from here attended preaching at Adams Sunday.

Mr. Vernon Klinner, wife and baby, from Birmingham, were visiting relatives here Sunday.

Misses Mae Williams and Anthel Ratliff and Mr. Carson Williams motored over to Shiloh Sunday.

Miss Eva Klinner has returned home after an extended visit to relatives in Selma.

Mr. J. P. Adams and family of Selma spent Sunday at the home of Mr. John Minor.

Mr. Gordon Adams of Montgomery was a pleasant caller here Friday afternoon.

Messrs. Caldwell White and Moody Chambers of Birmingham spent last week end with friends and relatives in this community.

Mr. Lester Lenoir and Miss Bulah Chambers of Adams were pleasant callers here Sunday.

Miss Willie Hosey of Selma was the guest of Miss Eva Klinner Sunday.

WEST CHILTON

The proverbial cold snap for Easter arrived on time.

Quite a delegation from West Chilton attended Circuit Court last week.

Riley Smith of Birmingham came down for Easter.

J. D. and Newt Atchison of Ensley visited their parents here Tuesday.

Rev. S. N. Waldrop of Blocton was visiting here last week, en route to south Alabama.

The farms in this section are looking pretty—all broken and terraced and ready for planting.

Napoleon Posey and Miss Minnie Cofer were happily married recently. Rev. J. P. Gentry tied the nuptial knot.

H. H. Hayes of Jemison was in this community last week.

Mr. C. G. Glass of Jemison recently visited his father near Randolph.

Mr. White's family of Randolph visited Mrs. Ida Atchison here on the 27th.

Business was rushing at J. P. Gentry's last Saturday. The spirit of Easter was prevailing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hodgens visited Mr. S. G. Glass's family near Randolph on the 27th.

Rev. Falkner filled his appointment at Union Springs on March 27th.

Joseph Waldrop recently visited his cousin, Mr. J. L. Waldrop, in south Randolph.

Mr. Ocie Wright died at Prattville and was buried at Pleasant Grove a few days ago. He formerly resided here.

Mr. S. D. Jones has sold his farm here and located on Mulberry.

H. G. Cofer and wife, Verdie Brown and wife and Mr. R. Cofer of Siluria visited at Marion Cofer's Sunday.

The question of who shall compose the Board of Education is of vital importance just now. It is admitted by people in both town and rural districts that the rural schools are on a retrograde. Why is it? We are not presuming to know the cause or the remedy, but we know there is a defect somewhere. As the rural schools decline, so will the homes and real estate in the rural districts decline. As the country districts decline, so will the villages and towns decline. The boll weevil invasion corroborates that idea. We believe the candidates for the Board of Education should publicly define their convictions on this question. Because, if the schools cease to function, so will the country districts go. What is the remedy?

STATE NEWS PARAGRAPHED

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form

Sweeping down in Western style, four unmasked bandits looted three stores at Montgomery recently.

"Vegetable Week," which is sponsored by the Red Cross, was observed in all school in Walker County last week.

The City of Anniston, on April 12, will nominate candidates for mayor and the City Council at a municipal primary.

A fire, which is said to be the worst in the history of Dothan, on March 31 caused damage which has been placed at $225,000.

Remodeling the interior of a two-story building recently purchased by the state near the capitol building at Montgomery has been started.

Forty thousand dollars has been subscribed to a promised new law school building at the University of Alabama by the alumni of the university.

An unusual amount of building is going on at Sulligent at present. Several new dwellings are under construction and many others are being talked.

All previous records for building operations were smashed in Birmingham during the month of March, when $2,688,812.00 worth of new buildings were started.

The large tent of a dramatic company showing in Guntersville was whipped into ribbon by a heavy gale whcih passed over that community last week.

Continued cold weather, the last week in March, has greatly retarded planting of crops in Lamar County, however much of the land is now ready for planting.

Five of Anniston's traffic signals have been installed and the other two will be installed this week, making a total of seven signals which will regulate traffic at Anniston.

Another drive for the benefit of the Huntsville Hospital now nearing completion has been set for April 21, 22, 23 and 24. The objective is to get an additional $30,000 for the purpose of freeing the institution of all debt.

All necessary blanks for the complete organization of a Boy Scout troop at Sulligent have been received from national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America and the boys met last week and completed the organization.

The city board of education of Gadsden has authorized the construction of an eight-room annex to the Eleventh Street School, which is already the largest school building in Etowah County. The new addition will cost $35,000.

The crop of cucumbers and corn for "roasting ears' will be late along the Alabama gulf coast, according to B. P. Livingston, of the state agricultural department who has just returned to Montgomery, after making a survey of conditions.

The big guns, a German 150 mm. and a Belgian 120mm., part of the large number of war trophies allotted to the American Legion post at Huntsville by the war department, have been received and will be set up on concrete bases in court square.

Mrs. W. E. Bridges and her 6-year-old daughter were burned to death near Talladega, when the mother made her way into their blazing home, believing that the child had been trapped. The child, seeing her mother enter the burning building, followed her.

March 31 was the last day of the open season for any kind of game in Alabama, the season on turkey gobblers coming to a close on that date. The season had ended earlier for other kinds of game and there will be no more hunting under the law until next fall.

Scout officials at Sheffield, Tuscumbia and Florence are much encouraged over the response they are receiving in the drive to build a Boy Scouts camp at Muscle Shoals. Money and materials are being donated for the camp liberally. The Alabama Power Company has donated the site for the camp.

Frisco surveyors who have been at work at Tuscaloosa surveying two short unsurveyed links known as the Patterson and Finnell route have completed their work. They will next survey the route from Berry to Bazemore, the latter place being in Fayette County, and on the main line of the Frisco system and between Glenn Allen and Ellsmore. The survey just completed was carefully made and the people of Tuscaloosa are puzzled as to the object of the railroad in making these surveys when it was reported that the Tombigbee route had been definitely selected.

"Have an accident?" asked the fellow who arrived at the scene of an automobile wreck too late to be of any help.

"No, thanks," replied the victim, as he picked himself up, "I've just had one."

Subscribe for The Chronicle.

MR. GEO. C. POLK ATTENDS CHEVROLET CONVENTION

All previous production and sales records are to be shattered by the Chevrolet Motor Co., during 1926, according to Mr. George C. Polk, well known Clanton car dealer, who has just returned from Atlanta, where he attended the annual convention of the Chevrolet dealers from Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. Mr. Polk says that there were almost 500 motor car men in attendance at the great sales conclave; and he returned to his home with the "big picture" of the Chevrolet program for the coming months. In addition to the dealers who attended the merchandising conference and the annual banquet, there were many prominent bankers present from all sections of the South.

R. H. Grant, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, a man who is internationally recognized as one of the outstanding sales executives of the auto industry, presided at the sales convention and was the principal speaker at the banquet. The commander-in-chief of the Chevrolet sales forces was accompanied to Atlanta by his executive staff which includes a group of nationally known specialists who head various divisions of the vast Chevrolet organization; and, according to Mr. Polk, it was the largest delegation of automobile factory executives that ever invaded this territory.

H. J. Klinger, assistant general sales manager, acted as toast master at the banquet; and J. P. Little, manager of the parts and service division, was one of the speakers. M. D. Douglas, regional sales manager, the man who exercises general supervision over the Chevrolet sales organization of the Dixie region, was also among the speakers. L. S. Costley, zone sales manager, with headquarters at Atlanta, officiated as host to visiting dealers and factory officials during the convention.

Other members of Mr. Grant's staff who attended the Atlanta merchandising meeting were: William A. Blees, manager certificate sales division; W. G. Lewellen, assistant sales promotion manager; Sidney Corbett, manager fleet sales and truck division; T. G. Johnston, regional sales promotion manager; R. K. White, general sales promotion manager; and J. E. Grimm Jr., advertising manager.

The meeting at Atlanta was one of a series of similar gatherings being held in twenty-five of the largest cities in the United States.

During 1926, the Chevrolet Motor Company is to conduct the greatest newspaper advertising campaign that has ever been promulgated in the entire history of the motor car industry, states the local Chevrolet dealer. Mare than 4,000 American newspapers are now on the Chevrolet schedule; and the great co-operative advertising program which is being run in addition to the regular national campaign, has made a consistent advertiser out of every Chevrolet dealer in practically every city, town, hamlet and village in the United States and many foreign countries.

Without question, says Mr. Polk, the sales record of 1925 which totalled more than half a million Chevrolets, will be eclipsed during the present year. At this time sales are far ahead of the production schedule and every one of the thirteen plants operated by the vast Chevrolet organization are running at capacity in an attempt to keep up with the unprecedented demand for the Chevrolet product.

This, says Mr. Polk, gives some idea of the great demand for the Chevrolet product at this time.

HARP & HARMONY CONVENTION

The Chilton County Singing Convention of the Harp and Harmony books will meet at Pates Chapel, just west of Thorsby, on the first Sunday in May, and the Saturday before. All invited. Bring plenty of books.—Chairman.

PLEASANT HILL NEWS

Rev. H. M. Honeycutt was to have preached at this place last Sunday, but was detained. We hope to have him with us in the near future. Watch The Union-Banner for further notice.

Everyone around here enjoyed the Easter Sunday.

BORN TO MR. AND MRS. BROWN

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Brown of Thorsby are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby boy at their home on March 31st. They wish to publicly thank their many friends for their kindness and attention during the illness of Mrs. Brown. The mother and baby are doing fine now.

MAHOGANY PLAYER Piano now in Clanton; guaranteed new and one of our best instruments; fine tone, beautiful finish rolls, bench, scarf free; for sacrifice price and terms write Jesse French & Sons Piano Co., Box 848, Montgomery, Ala. 4-1-2tch

MINERAL SPRINGS

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow us space in the dear old Banner to say a few words.

Everything around the Springs is moving on nicely, and everyone is enjoying these spring days.

Mr. Euell Dobbs from Cherokee spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dobbs.

Mr. Graham Gilmore from Cherokee is visiting home folks this week.

Miss Carrie Mae Retherford from Clanton visited here Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Greene Retherford of Clanton visited her sister, Mrs. Alice Retherford Saturday.

Misses Mary Giles, Merrell Retherford, Gladys Dobbs, and Bertlue Gore spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Lera Mae Martin.

FROM JUDGE ADAMS

I wish to thank the people for their liberal patronage, and to say that I am improving and my business is growing. Come and see me at South Clanton. I handle the best groceries.

S. M. ADAMS.

WE STILL SELL AT

Wholesale Prices

FOR CASH IN BULK

Soap, Washing Powder, Syrup, Snuff, Tobacco, Lard, etc., at Wholesale Prices for CASH.

Good Flour, plain or self-rising, $1.25 per sack, or $9.75 per barrel.

Good Mixed Feed, $2.25 per sack.

Cocoa—½lb.. 10c; 1 lb., 20c.

Buy in original packages and save money.

See our Spring line of Clothing before you buy.

Baker & Taylor

(Next to The Union-Banner Office)
CLANTON, ALABAMA

J. MELL MARTIN

Undertaker Clanton, Ala.

FUNERAL SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS, INCLUDING METALLIC CASKETS

I BUY RIGHT AND SELL RIGHT. NO ORDER TOO LARGE TO BE HANDLED NOR TOO SMALL TO BE APPRECIATED. SPECIAL PRICES ON HEARSE SERVICE.

Flour per sack . $1.25

We handle only Groceries, and by the way we do our buying, we are able to make you the best prices possible. Let us serve you with whatever you may want in Groceries.

And don't overlook our Fruit Stand either. It is the completest you have seen in Clanton.

DEL MONTE 101

J. L. Ruffin Clanton, Ala.

Edgar B. Elebash

(Elebash Jewelry Co.)

REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

Eyes Examined---Glasses Fitted

Selma, Ala. 133 Broad St.

L. H. BEAN, Undertaker

Jemison, Ala.

Funeral Supplies, Including Metallic Caskets and Steel Vaults

I carry the most complete line of Caskets in the County, and sell for the lowest prices.

Hearse Service on Request

We are still smashing prices of our quality merchandise. Same prices prevail as we advertised last week and also other values.

Hodges Big Sale Continues

In this advertisement we quote some prices on a number of things which we could not get in our advertisement of last week:

PIECE GOODS

1 lot Irish linen all colors, worth $1, now.....90c a yard
1 lot Embroidery, all colors, worth 75c, now.....49c a yard
1 lot Satine all colors, worth 50c, now.....39c a yard
1 lot Satine, all colors, worth 30c, now.....24c a yard

BOYS AND MENS CAPS

1 lot boys caps worth 75c, now.....59c each
1 lot boys caps worth $1.25, now.....98c each
1 lot mens caps worth $1.50, now.....$1.24 each
1 lot mens caps worth $2, now.....$1.49 each
1 lot mens caps worth $2.50, now.....$1.98 each

SHOES AND SLIPPERS

1 lot ladies dress shoes.....$2.95
1 lot ladies dress shoes.....$2.45
1 lot mens work shoes, worth $2.50, now.....$1.98
1 lot mens slippers worth $3.50, now.....$2.98
1 lot boys slippers, sizes 11½ to 2.....$1.75
1 lot boys slippers sizes 8½ to 11.....$1.45

HATS FOR MEN AND BOYS

1 lot boys hats worth $1.25, now.....98c
1 lot boys hats worth $1.50, now.....$1.24
1 lot mens hats worth $2.50, now.....$1.98
1 lot mens hats (fancy bands) worth $4, now.....$2.98
1 lot mens hats worth $4.50, now.....$3.24

GROCERIES—We have just received a fresh supply of the pure ground roasted coffee, price 30c a pound; also one lot Green Coffee, 4 lbs for $1; Sugar 19lbs for $1. Do not fail to see our store when you come to town. We have the lowest prices in Clanton all the time. Don't forget that.

W. Z. HODGES DRY GOODS COMPANY . . . . Clanton, Ala.

FORESTRY WEEK—APRIL 18 - 24

Montgomery, April 6.—Governor W. W. Brandon is urging that all interests of the state give due regard to American Forest Week, proclaimed by President Coolidge for the week of April 18th to 24th. The governor has directed the State Commission of Forestry to co-operate to the fullest extent possible with the schools, patriotic and civic organizations and the citizens generally in the suitable observance of this period.

Although the peak of the forest fire season, the planting season and the spring term of most of the rural schools will have passed before the dates of American forest week, nevertheless. much important good can be done in furtherance of timber growing on the non-agricultural lands of the state by specific organizations, timberland owners and the public at large.

The State Commission of Forestry is initiating a comprehensive movement toward a more complete appreciation of the significance of trees and forests in the general welfare of the State. The commission announces that during American forest week, and at all other times, its facilities are at the disposal of interested citizens and organizations.

M. C. Rawlinson of Billingsley, Route 2, was a visitor to The Union-Banner office last Saturday.

It's not too soon to plant for next fall's fair.

The tread of the boll weevil across the South was heard on all the cotton markets of the world.

Subscribe for The Union-Banner.

NOTICE OF SALE OF LANDS FOR MAINTENANCE

State of Alabama, Chilton County—In Probate Court.—In the matter of the Application of J. D. Collins, for Sale of Lands belonging to William Green Price, a non-compos mentis, for maintenance and payments of debts.

Whereas, J. D. Collins, guardian of William Green Price, did file in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Ala., on the 23rd day of February, 1926, his petition in writing praying for the sale of the hereinafter described lands belonging to William Green Price, a non-compos mentis, which petition was granted on the 16th day of March, 1926 and ordered by the court that said guardian sell said lands as provided in said order; therefore, in compliance with said order, I, J. D. Collins, as said guardian, will sell to the highest and best bidder for cash, at 12 o'clock, noon, on Tuesday, the 4th day of May, 1926, at the court house door of Chilton County, Alabama, the hereinafter described property, to-wit:

About two acres of land, more or less, heretofore on October 25th, 1904 purchased by said William Green Price from T. G. Williams and his wife, M. D. Williams, as described in the deed recorded in Volume 74 at Page 12, in the office of the Judge of Probate of Chilton County, Alabama, and being two acres, more or less, where the residence of non-compos mentis was formerly located and described as follows: Beginning at the established South East Corner of the North West Quarter of the North West Quarter of Section 16 thence West Three and 75|100 chains; thence North five and 33½|100 chains; thence East Three and 75|100 chains; thence South Five and 33½|100 chains to the point of beginning situated in Section 16, Township 22, Range 14 Chilton County, Alabama.

This the 3rd. Day of April 1926.

4-8-3t J.D. COLLINS, Guardian.

In 4 years' tests conducted by our State Experiment Station, including 1922 to 1925, Cook 10-10 cotton has proved to be the best for this part of Alabama. It ranks first on the list and made 34 pounds more lint to the acre than the next best yielding cotton tested.

At the Delta Branch Experiment Sation at Stoneville, Miss., in 1924, fifty-three varieties of cotton were tested. Both long and short staple varieties were included. They were ranked according to yield in cotton per acre. When seed and lint were both sold Cook 10-10 ranked second, and made $194.52 per acre.

C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala., is the largest multiplier of these seed in the State. His seed are for sale by Gulledge Brothers, Verbena; J. N. Dennis, Clanton; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby; and W. H. Conway, Jemison. Nothing pays a farmer better than good seed. 4-8-tf-ch.

Cooperative marketing of eggs and poultry in the United States has undergone great development in the last 15 years. One hundred and eighty-three farmers' business organizations report handling eggs or poultry or both during 1924. They sold more than 70,000,000 dozens eggs for approximately $22,000,000. Although only 31 of the 183 organizations were of the truly cooperative type, these 31 handled 90% of the business done in eggs.

Kilby's Record On Prohibition Has A Very Few Equals

Courageons Men Who Will Stand Hitched Needed In Congress

THOS. E. KILBY

The brewers and distillers of the United States, aided by foreign liquor interests, are now spending millions of dollars in an effort to break down the national prohibition law. In every state in the Union, the campaign is being waged with a zeal unprecedented since the eighteenth amendment was ratified and the Volstead law enacted. The next congress promises to be a veritable prohibition battleground. Accordingly, it is of vital importance that we elect to the House and Senate able, courageous men who will stand hitched on this issue.

Few men in the United States have a record for the enactment and enforcement of prohibition laws equal to that of former Governor Thomas E. Kilby, now generally regarded as the leading candidate in the race for senator from Alabama. In his platform, that record is summarized as follows:

"From 1905 to 1909 I was enforcing the law as Mayor of Anniston, and I demonstrated that prohibition CAN prohibit. In 1909 I was a member of the committee in Anniston working for the Amendment. In 1911 I was in the State Senate working for prohibition. In 1915, as Lieutenant Governor, I was protecting prohibition by appointing a majority of prohibitionists on every Senate committee. In 1918 I was working for the 18th Amendment. In 1919, as Governor, I was recommending to the Legislature the repeal of the two-quart law and signing the bill that repealed it and placed upon the statute book in its stead the bone-dry law, and at the same time I was creating the law enforcement department. Through the following four years to 1923 I was enforcing the law. In 1924 I introduced in the Alabama delegation to the National Democratic Convention a resolution that was passed, with a proviso proposed by me, that neither the delegation not any member thereof should do anything or countenance anything that would tend to weaken the Volstead Act or that would strengthen the condidacy of Governor Al Smith for the presidential nomination.

"Now, on the basis of that record of the past, I place this promise for the future: In case I am elected, I shall stand in the Senate firmly for the preservation of the 18th Amendment and for the Volstead Act and against any movement that may be proposed to repeal or weaken either."

Kilby keeps his platform promises. Every plank in his platform for Governor was written into law. In like manner, he will strive to fulfil his platform as Senator.

(Paid political advertisement by Kilby Club of Anniston, Ala.)

SHILOH

The meeting at this place the Fourth Sunday in April was well attended. A large number of visitors from other communities were there, to whom we give a hearty welcome. Judge Howard of Elmore County was present and made an interesting talk on the value of the church in fighting heresy in the form of evolution. Bro. Hand of Clanton preached a good sermon at 11 a.m., using as a theme, "A great day at Jerusalem."

At noon the good people spread a bountiful dinner which was enjoyed by all present. In the afternoon, the subject, "The needs of the Church," was spoken to by Prof. J. L. Johnson and others.

We had a really lovely day. It is so nice for a community to co-operate together in church work. It is cooperation that holds up the home and the community and the church. Without co-operation, it is all a failure. Ask yourself the question, "Do I co-operate with my church and community as I ought to?

No serious disorder occurred during the day, for which we are thankful.

T. J. DEASON.

L. D. POPWELL
Clanton, Ala.
Watches Repaired
Broken Lenses Duplicated and Spectacles Fitted
Frames Repaired.

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

For 6 years I practiced medicine. I graduated in Dentistry in 1895. I graduated in medicine in 1905. I practiced medicine in Birmingham for 6 years. I have practiced Dentistry constantly since. I guarantee satisfaction. Prices: A $50.00 set of teeth, upper and lower, $30.00; a $30.00 set of teeth, an upper or lower, $15.00. A fit guaranteed in either. A gold or porcelain crown, $7.00 each. Bridge work for teeth accordingly. Filling prices according to material and sizes. Teeth extracted positively without pain or danger, $1.00 each for next 30 days to get acquainted.

E. A. WILSON
Office in New Hayes Bldg.

GRADY REYNOLDS
Attorney-at-Law
Office Opposite Court House
Clanton, Ala.

Renew Your Health by Purification

Any physician will tell you that "Perfect Purification of the System is Nature's Foundation of Perfect Health." Why not rid yourself of chronic ailments that are undermining your vitality? Purify your entire system by taking a thorough course of Calotabs,—once or twice a week for several weeks—and see how Nature rewards you with health.

Calotabs are the greatest of all system purifiers. Get a family package, containing full directions. Only 35 cts. At any drug store. (Adv.)

New Words! New Words!
thousands of them spelled, pronounced, and defined in
WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY
The "Supreme Authority" Get the Best!
Here are a few samples:

agrimotor, hot pursuit, Air Council, mud gun, Ruthene, paravane, megabar, S. P. boat, aerial cascade, camp-fire girl, soviet, cyper, askari, sippio, sterol, shoneen, Red Star, overhead, abreaction, rotogravure, capital ship, mystery ship, irredenta, Flag Day, Esthonia, Blue Cross

Is this Storehouse of Information Serving You?

2700 Pages 6000 Illustrations
407,000 Words and Phrases
Gazetteer and Biographical Dictionary

WRITE for a sample page of the New Words, specimen of Regular and India Papers, FREE.

G. & C. MERRIAM CO.
Springfield, Mass., U. S. A.

666
is a Prescription for
Preventing Pneumonia
COLDS, GRIPPE and FLU
It is the most speedy remedy we know,

Don't Miss This ELECTRIC RANGE SALE

April 15th to May 31st

Special Demonstrations!

Watch papers for announcement of the demonstration dates.

Special Terms!

$10 Down — the balance in fifteen equal monthly payments.

$10 Aluminum Set With Each Range

During this sale only. Each purchaser of an Electric Range will be presented with a $10.00 set of highly polished Aluminumware absolutely FREE of charge, provided purchaser presents a coupon which may be obtained from any Electric Range owner.

Present Owners May Earn $10

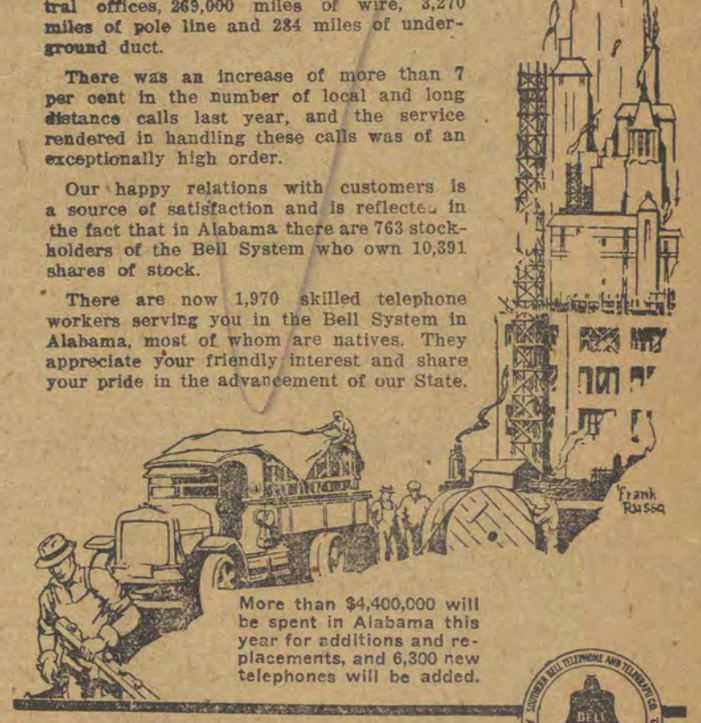
Present owners of Electric Ranges have been presented certificates which entitle them to earn $10.00 by selling Electric Ranges to prospective owners. Demonstrate your Electric Range to your friends, show them how economical, safe and dependable it is and what wonderful results you obtain. You will be astonished at the ease with which you can earn that $10.

Last year 750 of our customers gave up old methods of cooking and have become satisfied users of Electric Ranges. To own one is to boost it.

55 Stores in Alabama

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY

Telephone Service Expands To Meet State's Growth



THE extensive telephone construction and replacement work completed in Alabama last year is a reflection of the growth and progress of the State.

Alabama's telephone system has grown to the point where it now requires 80 central offices, 269,000 miles of wire, 3,270 miles of pole line and 284 miles of underground duct.

There was an increase of more than 7 per cent in the number of local and long distance calls last year, and the service rendered in handling these calls was of an exceptionally high order.

Our happy relations with customers is a source of satisfaction and is reflected in the fact that in Alabama there are 763 stockholders of the Bell System who own 10,391 shares of stock.

There are now 1,970 skilled telephone workers serving you in the Bell System in Alabama, most of whom are natives. They appreciate your friendly interest and share your pride in the advancement of our State.

More than $4,400,000 will be spent in Alabama this year for additions and replacements, and 6,300 new telephones will be added.

"BELL SYSTEM"
SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
One Policy, One System, Universal Service

ESTABLISHED 1903 — THE — ESTABLISHED 1892

Chilton County, The Heart of Alabama

UNION-BANNER

Clanton, Ala. — "Watch It Grow!"

VOLUME XIII. —TWELVE PAGES. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1926 NUMBER 52

NON JURY COURT HERE NEXT WEEK

The non-jury term of the Circuit Court of Chilton County will be held on Monday and Tuesday of next week April 19 and 20.

The civil docket will be disposed of on Monday. The following cases are listed:

W. C. Robinson vs. J. B. Downs.

Winter Loeb Grocery Co. vs Thompson & Sons; note.

Duckworth-Morris Insurance Agency vs. Thompson & Sons Lumber Co.; note.

National Cash Register Co. vs. E. T. Weldon; account.

Wampold-Loeb Shoe Co. vs. W. E. Plier; contest of exemption.

Scheuer Bros. & Co. vs. W. E. Plier; contest of exemption.

Lamar Grocery Co. vs. J. P. Daniel and T. L. Glass, W. C. Dyer, garnishee; note.

H. G. Pattillo and E. P. Russell vs. J. P. Daniel and T. L. Glass, W. C. Dyer, garnishee; note.

W. H. Smith vs. Daniel & Gass; labor.

Abner Mfg. Co. vs. J. R. Holley; note.

The Selig Co. vs. Chilton County; account.

L. M. Davenport vs. Ida Bradford; detinue.

C. A. Pattillo vs. T. D. Roper; attachment.

J. H. Culp vs. Goldman Anderson; note.

J. C. Headley vs. Mark Hosey; account.

Wilford Watson vs. Only Smith; appeal from justice court.

Mary Watson vs. Only Smith; appeal from justice court.

C. T. Wilks vs. R. L. Cook; attachment.

D. O. Manning vs. Clyde McLendon; attachment.

Downs Grocery Co. vs. G. C. Armstrong; note.

W. M. Walker vs. P. D. Wilson; note.

F. D. Wilson vs. S. B. Rainwater; note.

E. A. Hunter vs. O. Gray; note.

Security Finance Co. vs. Reese Wells; detinue.

Batson Grocery Co. vs. B. F. Clark; account.

The following cases on the non-jury criminal docket will come up for disposition Tuesday:

The State vs. B. Igo; in escape.

Steve Dutton, charged with carrying concealed pistol.

John Mims, charged with violating prohibition law.

Gene Lucas, charged with abusive, indecent and obscene language.

Arthur Watley, charged with violating prohibition law.

Floyd Dobbs, charged with carrying concealed pistol. Also a charge of abusive, indecent and obscene language.

Roy Davis, charged with abusive, indecent and obscene language.

Pate Aldidge, charged with failing to dip cattle.

Jack Cobb, charged with carrying concealed pistol.

Robert Harris, charged with violating prohibition law.

Foster Watt, charged with violating prohibition law.

The State, for the use of Chilton County, vs. T. L. Lucas; defaulting witness.

The State, for the use of Chilton County, vs. Grace Lucas; defaulting witness.

The State, for the use of Chilton Count, vs. Annie Smith; defaulting witness.

George T. Crim, charged with carrying concealed pistol.

Herman Crumpton, charged with violating prohibition law.

Dewey Lucas, charged with assault and battery.

C. C. Simmons, charged with petit larceny.

Velpo Mims, charged with violating prohibition law.

Archie Payton, charged with trespass after warning.

Johnnie Howard, charged with selling motor vehicle without transfer of title.

Steve Dutton, charged with violating prohibition law.

John Maddox, charged with violating prohibition law.

SOME OBJECTIONS TO OUR STORY OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Eddie Wyatt and Reuben Willis have expressed their objections to the story of their automobile accident printed in our last week's paper.

Willis has asked us to state by way of correction that he was not driving the car which swiped the truck and hurt several people. Wyatt insists that the car was driven by Willis, as stated in last week's paper. The Union-Banner does not know which one of the boys was driving the car. We were reliably informed last week that Willis was driving the car, and upon that information made such a statement in reporting the accident.

Eddie's objection to our story of last week is with the statement that after the accident the driver of the car sepped on the gas and attempted to get away. We were so informed, and made that statement upon our information. If we were wrong we are sorry for the error, as it is not our intention in any instance to publish statements that are untrue.

ALL DAY SINGING AT COURT HOUSE SUNDAY, APRIL 18

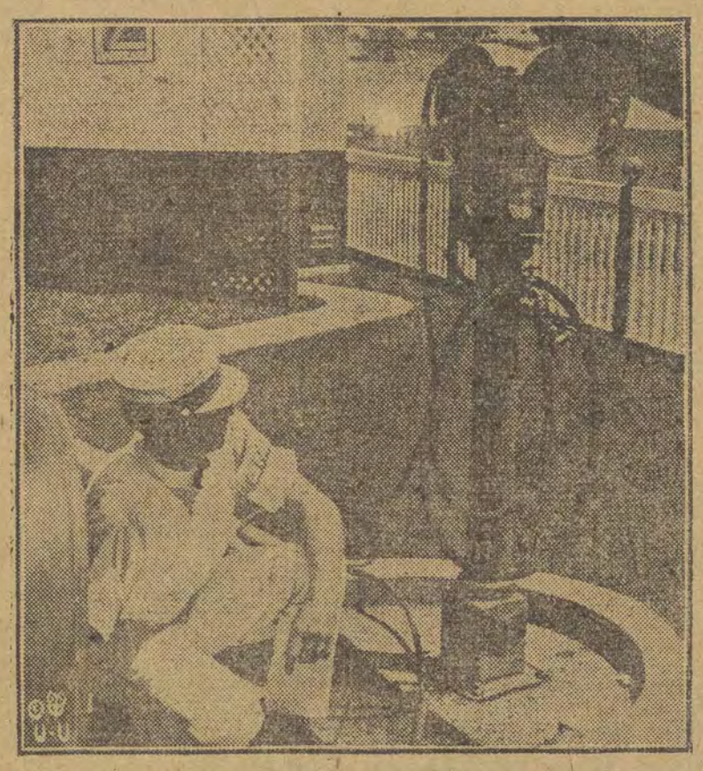
There will be an all day singing in the Sacred Harp at the court house the third Sunday in April, 18th.

Everybody is invited, all singers especially are urged to be present. Old time singers are urged to co-operate.

W. L. SANDERS.

MINERAL SPRINGS

All who are interested in Robinson cemetery are asked to bring tools and meet us next Saturday morning, April 17, to clean off same.—Muriel Retherford.



WILLIAMS-TRAYWICK

A recent marriage of much interest was that of Mr. Harris Williams and Miss Lavolia Traywick Sunday afternoon at the home of Rev. Jones of Verbena. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Montgomery, where they will make their future home.

MILLICAN GONE TO FOLEY

Col. Thos. W. Millican left Clanton this week for Foley, Baldwin County, where he will be located for several weeks conducting land sales. For the past two months he has been putting on some big sales at Linden, in Marengo County. His post office address for the balance of this month will be Foley, Ala.

New Automatic Tire Pressure Control

A LARGE oil company, operating in a western state has installed in its gas stations a series of new automatic tire pressure control pumps that are of much interest to motorists. With the machine, you simply turn the dial to the number of pounds of pressure you want in your tire, connect the air hose to it and you get the right amount of air and no more. The picture shows the air machine in operation.

WATCH PLANTED FOR 10 MONTHS STILL RUNNING

No, don't understand us to say that the watch was running when it was found, but it is running now and no work has been done on it. The story goes: Mr. George Tippett, who lives near Walnut Creek, a few miles from town, lost a French made watch, "La Roge," last June when he was plowing corn, and plowed the watch under. Last Tuesday, Mr. Tippett was plowing in the same field and plowed up the watch. And after he wound her up and set her she went to kicking right on without even opening the case. The hands were rusty, and the case, a silver plated one, was turned black and slightly bent up, but the watch is running and keeping good time, and no work has been done on it.

SHRINERS HERE HAD FESTIVAL MONDAY NIGHT

Shriners of Clanton staged a frolic at the Masonic hall Monday night when they were visited by a delegation of a dozen or more of the brethren from Montgomery. The visitors were headed by Potentate "Crick" Crenshaw.

The Clanton shriners served a barbecue supper in the grove at the Masonic Hall.

IRA PEGUES IS CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE

We read in a news item a few days ago that Mr. Ira Pegues of Stevenson, Ala., is a candidate for Representative of Jackson County in the Legislature of Alabama. Mr. Pegues taught school in Clanton some years ago and while here gained a considerable acquaintance. His potitical venture in his home county of Jackson will be followed with interest here. Mr. Pegues is a Democrat in politics. At present Jackson is represented in the Legislature by Messrs. Snodgrass and Thompson, Democrats.

AUCTION COMPANY HAS BEEN DOING BIG BUSINESS

George N. Lovewell of the Tennessee-Alabama Auction Company passed through Clanton Tuesday on his way to Fort Payne for a week's vacation with home folks. Mr. Lovewell stated that his company has been doing a rushing business lately, having conducted many successful sales at Thomaston, Linden, Marion and Greensboro. Col. Millican left Clanton Tuesday for Foley. They expect to be back in this county with a number of sales of farm lands this fall.

Mell Martin has been very pleasantly employed this week entertaining his father, Rev. D. S. Martin of Equality, who is here on a visit. He showed the old gentleman the big power plants on the river and other things of interest in this vicinity.

Hance Alred and Herbert Neighbors have gone to the Rio Grande valley in Texas. They will return in a car with Dr. Neighbors' father.

PLEASANT VALLEY NEWS

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely. There were 71 present last Sunday. Everybody invited to come and be with us next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burkhalter visited Miss Lavada Williams Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas are the proud possessors of a fine baby boy, born April 11.

RECITAL GIVEN AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

One of the most unique and thoroughly pleasing recitals ever given in Clanton was presented Tuesday night, April 6, at the high school auditorium by Mr. Glen Ellison and Miss Alta Hill. The recital was an artistic success in every respect, and Upchurch Drug Company is to be congratulated for securing these capable and charming artists for an appearance here.

It had been rumored that Mr. Ellison would sing in unison with his re-created voice and that the audience would not be able to tell the difference between re-created and living voice. Needless to say, many persons were skeptical. The skeptics were soon convinced, however, for in Mr. Ellison's initial number on the program, his lips ceased to move, but his song went on. Slowly it dawned on the mystified audience that Mr. Ellison was no longer singing, though his voice came forth as clear and sweet as before. Again he sang, but the audience only knew it was the living Mr. Ellison by the motion of his lips. It seemed as if there were two artists on the stage—two singers, but only one voice. The tones emanating from the new Edison were identical with those of the living artist, and it was impossible to detect any difference. The instrument produced, not an echo or copy, but the real thing, Mr. Ellison's voice, untainted by any mechanical transformation, and unspoiled by any metallic ring.

After the applause which followed this miracle exhibition, Miss Alta Hill shared the stage with her fellow muscian, the new Edison. She played in unison with the re-creation of living artists when the music came in double measure. The re-creation was identical with the original in every particular.

Further numbers in which Mr. Ellison and Miss Hill performed with themselves impressed the conviction of one's inability to distinguish between re-created art and 'ts original.

SINGING AT REFUGE NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Union-Banner has been asked to announce that there will be singing at Refuge church, five miles northeast of Clanton, next Sunday afternoon, April 18th. Prof. O. L. Devaughn and Prof. W. M. Devaughn have both promised to be present, together with their able helpers. A good singing is expected, and the public has a cordial invitation to be present.

WILL KENNEDY ARRESTED LAST SUNDAY

Will Kennedy, colored, was arrested and placed in jail last Sunday on a charge of violating prohibition law. The officers searched Kennedy's home on the Jim Mims farm and found a Nehi bottle full of liquor concealed in the meal barrel. Some jugs were found showing evidence of having had liquor in them. The negro was released on bond Monday.

DON'T FORGET THE PLAY AT ISABELLA SATURDAY NIGHT

If you want some place to go and enjoy yourself next Saturday night, don't overlook the play at Isabella school. A mighty good time is assured all who attend, and everybody is invited. Proceeds will go to the school. Title of the play is "The Little Clodhopper," by the students and faculty of the school.

POWER LINE TO GO TO COOPER, VERBENA, MT. CREEK, MARBURY

The Alabama Power Company is now building a new transmission line from Clanton southward along the highway which will serve the towns of Cooper, Verbena, Mt. Creek and Marbury with a 11,000-volt circuit feeding through the Clanton sub-station.

We understand that ultimately there will be some rural line connections made at points along this circuit for furnishing electricity to farm homes.

With the establishment of service southward, this will make a total of seven towns that get their electric service through the Clanton station, all of which will be getting juice directly from Lock 12 on the Coosa River.

HARTSELLE BANDIT BELIEVED CAUGHT

Louis Austin of Joplin, Mo., arrested Saturday in New Orleans as leader of the gang of bandits who recently blew up the Bank of Hartselle and terrorized the inhabitants of the town is positively the man, according to Birmingham officers who returned on Monday from New Orleans.

Austin, according to police officers, was identified by a Birmingham barber, who happened to be in Hartselle at the time, and also by a Birmingham woman who saw Austin here several days after the robbery, when he possessed a large roll of bills.

Austin, however, denied participation in the robbery.

He will not be brought back for trial, however, as he is wanted on a murder charge in Salt Lake City, and will be first taken there.

Officers going to New Orleans were Detectives H C. Propst and Paul Cole.

NEW ICE COMPANY HERE

Ike Danforth and Lester Jones announce that they will engage in the ice business in Clanton this summer, offering the people "Better Ice and Better Service." They have already begun to do business. Their truck will cover the city every day. A storage place has been provided in the old Chilton Warehouse Building. The ice supply will be shipped here from Montgomery.

SEVERE WIND STORM HERE LAST SATURDAY EVENING

The wind storm in Clanton last Saturday evening reached somewhat distressing proportions in some places. Many trees were blown down, doing damage to telephone and electric wires. Some buildings suffered minor damage.

The fierce wind of the twister type, was accompanied by a deluge of rain. The storm hit here about five o'clock in the evening.

ENOCH PLIER AT HOME AGAIN

Enoch E. Plier, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Plier, Route 1, Clanton, has returned home from a 7-year tour which included several foreign countries, and 43 states of the Union.

We thank God for keeping our boy safe during the seven years he has been away, and pray that He may continue His blessings.—E. E. Plier and family.

Omar L. Reynolds was a business visitor to Birmingham Monday.

BROWN BROS. HERE WITH EMPIRE GAS

Brown Brothers Manufacturing Co., distributors of the products of the Empire Gas & Oil Company of north Texas, are opening up their business in this territory with Clanton as headquarters and home office. For some months these gentlemen have been here engaged in perfecting preliminary plans which are designed to take care of a large volume of wholesale distribution as well as local retail service.

A big storage plant has been established at the switch south of Clanton where Empire products will be unloaded from railroad tank cars and carried by a fleet of trucks to all points in this territory. Clanton will be the home office of the concern. They have four distributing plants, one each at Montevallo, Columbiana, Jasper and Clanton. Mr. J. A. Brown is general manager of the company. He is a hustling business man of several years experience in the oil business.

The retail business of Empire products will be handled in Clanton by the new Clanton Service Station on the corner of Seventh Street and Third Avenue north, in charge of Mr. L. M. Latham. The opening of the new station will be on Saturday, April 24. Special announcement of the opening will be found elsewhere in this paper.

Mr. Brown says, "Empire gasoline is more powerful, has less knocks, sweet odor, is acid treated, is straight run, and every drop is the same kind. We handle extra high grade kerosene. All customers are well pleased with its use in lamps, incubators, etc. When they use our good Texas motor oil once, they are always sold."

The office of the Brown Bros. Manufacturing Co., will be in the Clanton Service Station.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Latham will live in Clanton. They say they like the city fine. We are glad to have these enterprising gentlemen cast their lots with us.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION

The next regular State Examination for teachers will be held at the court house on April 19, 20, and 21. All applicants not known to me must be properly identified, and no applicant will be permitted to take who does not live or teach in this county, or who does not present a permit from the State Department of Education, if living in some other county, to be transferred to this county.

No one will be permitted to take for Second Grade who has not finished at least two years of high school or its equivalent, and no one will be permitted to take for First who has not had the equivalent of a full high school course.

All applicants should be present at 9 a. m., on Monday, except those who turn in valid certificates to take for a higher certificate. Those turning in Thirds to take for Second should report at 3 p. m., Monday; those taking for First and submitting valid Seconds need not report until 1 p. m., Tuesday. Respectfully,—B. Lawrence, County Supt. Education.

Green Retherford went to Montgomery Saturday afternoon in the interest of his Chero-Cola bottling business here.

Must See Ahead

If there is a sharp curve in the road, you go slow. You want to see what's ahead. After dark you will not drive without lights for the same reason.

Being able to see ahead is what insures safety and success, no matter what the undertaking. In financial as well as other affairs, the only way to look into the future is by the light of the past. Successful men have worked, planned and SAVED. Why not follow the light they have given and do likewise? Our Bank will help you.

Peoples Savings Bank

Checking Accounts—Savings Accounts—Financial Help

CLANTON, ALABAMA

Stockholders' Liability

This means that the stockholders of this bank are personally liable, in addition to the money paid for their stock, for an amount equal to the face value of the stock held by them.

This bank has a capital of $50,000 and its stockholders are liable for $50,000 additional, which therefore affords security for deposits amounting to one hundred thousand dollars, besides surplus and undivided profits of over thirty thousand dollars.

First National Bank

OF CLANTON, ALABAMA

Safety—Service—Accomodation

(Continued from last week.)

"That is God's truth," she admitted with quick passion, "but I am thinking 'tis not overhonest."

"You talk nonsense, Moira," blustered her father. "Is it not better that this treasure should be employed to recover England and all the lands pertaining to the English crown for their rightful rulers—who will assist in the restoration of the True Faith—than it should be poured into the pockets of the king's favorites at Madrid? Why, lass, there are great lords, aye, a prince of the Church, no less, that set the seal of their approval to what we do. The people of Spain will be thanking us for the use to which we turned their treasure—and then we'll pay it back," he added with a happy inspiration.

"Odds, that we will!" indorsed my great-uncle. "What's a million and a half pounds to royal Spain? Aye, or to an England that waxes grandly prosperous under wise Stuart rule?"

She was silent.

His suave manner conveyed subtly an implication of the importance he attached to her approval.

"I would not inflict a dose of the material philosophy of age upon one so young and charming, my dear," he went on; "but possibly you will forgive me if I indicate to you the regrettable circumstance that the ideal is seldom attainable? In order to secure the means for re-establishing King James and what your father so quaintly terms the True Faith in the British isles, it hath been necessary for a gentleman of questionable legal status —myself—associated with others of yet more dubious antecedents and repute, to procure the death of divers Spanish persons, who, of themselves, had never wrought any harm against us or the cause we served. 'Tis by precisely such contraventions of precedent and lettered laws that epochal events are brought about. I trust my reasoning is clear?"

O'Donnell emptied a glass with an impatient growl that masked an oath.

"You are wasting time, Murray. Moira is a good lass, and my daughter; but what she thinks of this venture—"

"—is of considerable importance to me," my great-uncle protested. "I was compelled in the beginning of our acquaintance to give her a wrong impression of my character, and I am extremely desirous to have her good opinion."

'But why is Master Ormerod a captive? Why does he say I am a captive, if—"

"You are not a captive," returned my great-uncle. "At least, I say that under the impression that, as your father's daughter and a devout Jacobite, you would not, whatever your personal feelings might be, undertake to interfere with our plans."

"I am wondering are you all mad," she said blankly.

"You may well say so!" I exclaimed. "The truth is this, mistress: Master Murray hath besides his own ship's company a second band of pirates the which are restless beneath his thumb. He desired me to be his lieutenant to help him hold them in restraint, and—"

"You restrained them bravely aboard the Santissima Trinidad!" she said.

"That was to save you!" I declared.

"Troth, and I'm saved," she echoed sarcastically.

"Yes, you and your father," said Murray gravely. "Colonel O'Donnell risked everything on this coup of ours. To protect him 'twas essential it should never be known he was privy to it. We had the choice of two means to that end. One was to sink the Santissima Trinidad with all hands except yourselves. The other was to arrange to remove the two of you in such fashion as to establish your innocence. I am free to say the first was the easiest course. The dictates of humanity, however, prevailed.

How he rolled that last sentence.

"And what do you know of humanity that soaked the decks of the Santissima Trinidad with blood?" she answered. "You that the Spaniards cite as a byword for cruelty and wickedness! I will not believe a word that you say. I will not believe any man here. You are all smirched with the same badness."

Peter leaned his great bulk forward upon the table.

"Don't talk no more, you," he commanded the Irishman. "Neen, I talk! Little gal, Bob andt I we don't come wit' Murray because we like to. He makes us. Ja! He uses us. He uses your fat'er. He uses you. But when we are wit' him we do what we can to take care of you. It is not goodt for little gals to be on pirate ships. Neen!"

He leaned back.

"Dot's all."

Her blue eyes dwelt seriously upon his vast, flat face, with its insignificant features blobbed here and there.

"I believe you," she said.

"Stap me," jeered Murray. "Our Peter is discovered a squire o' dames —a preux chevalier. Peter, you ha' disguised your talents. We must know more of them."

"Ja," said Peter vacantly.

Mistress O'Donnell rose.

"Sir—" she addressed my great-uncle—"you will be excusing me if I do not linger for more conversation. What you do hath no concern with me. I am very distraught, and my heart is sick with the black sorrow, and I—I—" she swayed a little—"I would lie me down and—and—weep."

I slipped from my seat and steadied her.

"Take her to your stateroom, Robert," said my great-uncle. "You must lodge with Peter."

He rose, himself, bowing with the fine courtesy which became him nobly.

I guided her as far as the stateroom door. She thanked me faintly as I opened it for her, and I was abruptly impelled to recover her friendship.

"What I tried to tell you was the truth," I murmured, the words spilling fast from my tongue. "Indeed it was so! Peter Corlaer had the right of it. We two are no pirates, and all that we ha' done has been intended to make smooth your way."

There was a wistful light in her eyes as she lifted them under long, black lashes.

"God send you be honest, sir" she said. "I—I must wait to judge. The world is gone all twirly-round. Even the padre—"

She choked back a sob.

"You will not misunderstand," she ended with quiet dignity, "if I say no more that maybe already ha' said too much."

CHAPTER XI

The Dead Man's Chest

When I returned to the main cabin Ben Gunn was placing food on the table and my great-uncle was removing the liquor from Colonel O'Donnell's reach.

Nothing was said until the steward and the negroes had retired. Then Murray sat forward in his chair.

"There is a certain matter of importance to be discussed, colonel," he announced. "I must have your attention.

O'Donnell nodded sulkily.

"As you know, the crew of my associate, Captain Flint, some of whom you saw in New York, are not under the same discipline as my own men. I must have the security of the Rendezvous, and for that I must needs pay Flint. Also, I may have need of him in other ways. This venture is not yet consummated. 'Tis contrary to my instinct to break with Flint if it can be avoided. 'Tis similarly contrary to my instinct to trust him farther than I must, and in this immediate case I am loath to trust him."

"What's to do?" rasped O'Donnell. "Raise his price?"

"No, no. My suggestion is that we should stow away our friends' portion of the treasure before we return to the Rendezvous."

"Where?"

"I have been turning that in my mind for several weeks. There is an island south of Porto Rico in the Virgin group, a barren dot, hated by all seamen for sorry memories of shipwreck and suffering. They call it the Dead Man's Chest."

The Irishman frowned.

"What? Dump this gold we have risked so much to win on a sandbar for the first passing fellow to—"

"I have said no man will go there if he can help it."

"I like it not!" scowled O'Donnell. "My friends would have ugly things to say did the stuff slip from our hands in that way."

"'Tis less likely to slip from our hands on the Dead Man's Chest than aboard the Royal James," answered Murray. "Bethink you, chevalier! 'Twill give us time to let the hue and cry of the Spaniards die down and to arrange with your friends for its reception."

"Whatever you say, 'tis a miserable alternative," protested O'Donnell. "Let us rather hold north and set the treasure ashore in France."

"To run the gauntlet of French and English cruisers?" my great-uncle demanded scornfully. "'Odsblood, man,

"Last o' the —— —— Ruddy Boys Is Comin' Aboard, Sir," He Said.

you are out of your mind! And when you had landed it, what would you do? How much of it would go to your friends and how much to grease the pockets of French officials?"

My great-uncle took snuff, tapping the box thoughtfully after he had dusted the powder in his nostrils.

"To be strictly honest with you gentlemen," he remarked at last, "I am disposed to return to Flint because I foresee a possibility of my desiring to sacrifice him to cover our tracks. I have no definite plan in mind, but a situation might shape itself in which it would be desirable to supply a fugitive for Spaniard, Frenchman and English to chase. I should vastly prefer—as I am sure you would, too —that the fugitive be the Walrus and not the James. Also, until that situation arises, the Rendezvous is the safest hiding-place I know this side of Africa."

A step clumped in the companionway, and Martin stuck his grizzled head in the cabin.

"Last o' the —— —— ruddy-boys is comin' aboard, sir," he said. "What course will ye set?"

Murray looked at the Irishman.

"Here's the moment for decision, sir," he said. "'Tis for you to say what shall be done."

O'Donnell smacked his open hand upon the table top.

"A truce to arguing!" he exclaimed. "I am in your hands, Murray, whether it pleases me or not. Do whichever you think best."

My great-uncle turned to the mate.

"Cast loose from the prize, Master Martin and make all sail. The course is so'east by south."

"Aye, aye, sir."

There was an interval of silence after he had gone. The shouts of the pirates echoed from the deck, with the creaking of halyards and flapping of sails. The Royal James seemed to shake herself as she sidled free of the battered hull of the Santissima Trinidad, and through the stern windows showed the bowsprit and fo'csle of the Spaniard, still smothered beneath a mess of canvas and broken spars and rigging. Slowly we drew past her.

Murray rose.

"If you will pardon me, I have much to see to on deck. Should you desire any refreshment do but ring that bell and state your wants to the steward. Robert, if you and Peter can so far submerge your Hanoverian sympathies I should appreciate such aid as you might render in t' accounting of the treasure."

Peter and I went with him, as much to escape the company of the Irishman as to satisfy our curiosity regarding the chests and boxes we had glimpsed in transit across the Santissima Trinidad's deck. 'Twas a marvelous concentration of wealth. The columns of figures I set down never condescended to detail—5,000 pieces of eight, they would run, or 10,000 doubloons, 12,000 onzas, 20,000 castellanos, 25,000 eights, and so on. There was upward of two hundred thousand pounds in bar silver, fifty-pound ingots sheathed by threes in thick canvas jackets to facilitate their transport by mule-trains—each mule carrying a load of three hundred pounds. There was a quantity, too, of gold bullion, each ingot of eighty pounds in its own canvas jacket. There were a chest of precious stones, the value of which we could only guess at, and three chests of plate.

The total value, by the government estimates upon each package, chest or keg, was £1,563,995 in English money, exclusive of the jewels and the plate; and we did not conclude the accounting and bestowal of the treasure in Ben Gunn's wine-cellar until an hour past dusk, when Murray dismissed all hands with an extra ration of rum.

In the cabin we found Colonel O'Donnell asleep sprawled on the table with his head rested on his folded arms, a puddle of wine by his elbow. My uncle's eyebrows twitched upward.

"This gentleman is a chamberlain to King James, Robert," he remarked, "a Knight of Malta and of Santiago in Spain, a colonel of Spanish engineers and lord of I know not how many bog-manors in Ireland if he had his rights. And look at him!"

"Who brought him to this?" I retorted.

"Not I, my boy! To intrigue is not necessarily to license appetite. Well, well, 'tis doubtly fortunate I induced him to fetch along the little maid. Consider her plight in a Spanish convent, if anything happened to her father."

"Consider her plight in a pirate ship, if anything happened to him!" I jeered.

(Continued to Page 3)

SALE OF LANDS TO PAY DEBTS

The State of Alabama, Chilton County—Probate Court.—In the matter of the Estate of R. D. Campbell, deceased.

Whereas, L. B. Gaither, Administratrix of the estate of R. D. Campbell, deceased, has filed her application in writing under oath, for an order to sell certain lands belonging to said estate and described in said application, for the payment of the debts of said estate, upon the grounds that the personal property of said deceased is not sufficient for the payment of the debts of said estate.

Whereupon, it is ordered that the 5th day of May, 1926, be appointed a day on which to hear such application, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said application if they think proper.

Witness my hand, this 3rd day of April, 1926.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

4-8-3t

WE STILL SELL AT

Wholesale Prices

FOR CASH IN BULK

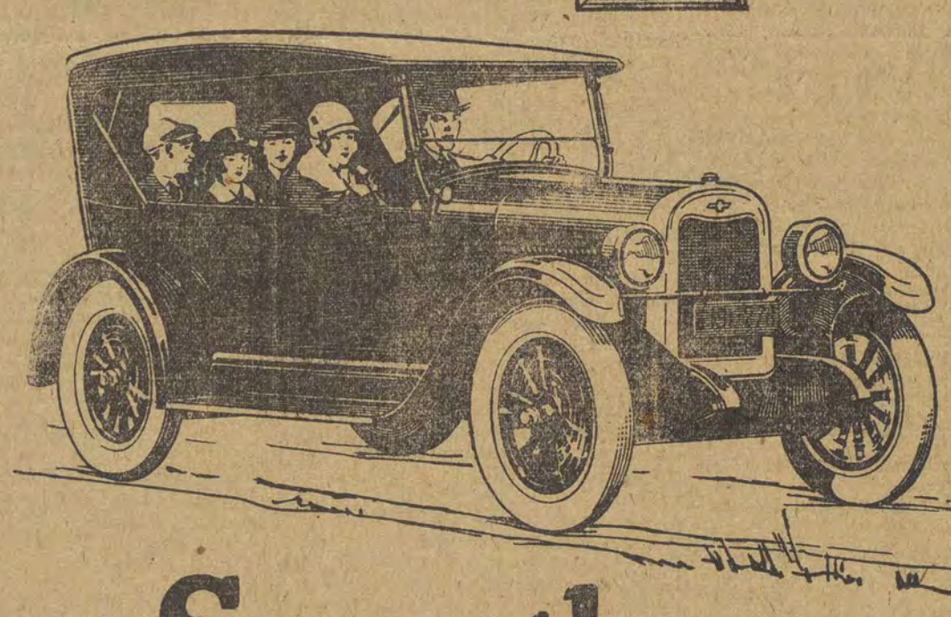
Soap, Washing Powder, Syrup, Snuff, Tobacco, Lard, etc., at Wholesale Prices for CASH.

Plain Flour, per barrel $9.50
Self-Rising Flour, per barrel $9.75

Good Mixed Feed, $2.25 per sack.

Cocoa—½lb.. 10c; 1 lb., 20c.

Buy in original packages and save money.



See our Spring line of Clothing before you buy.

Baker & Taylor

(Next to The Union-Banner Office)
CLANTON, ALABAMA

for Economical Transportation

CHEVROLET

The Touring Car
$510

Roadster	510
Coupe	645
Coach	645
Sedan	735
Landau	765
½ Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	395
1 Ton Truck (Chassis Only)	550

All Prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

so Smooth

—that after a single ride you will pronounce the Improved Chevrolet a revelation in low-priced-car performance.

so Powerful

—that its ability to conquer hills and plow through mud or sand will literally amaze you.

so Durable

—that the passing months will prove to you as it has to millions, the lasting economy of buying this low-priced car of modern design and quality construction. Let us give you one ride in the Improved Chevrolet!

Polk Brothers Motor Co., Incorporated

CLANTON, ALABAMA

QUALITY AT LOW COST

Our Prices Are the Lowest in Clanton

Big Sale and More New Goods Arriving

1 lot of big roomy work shirts, real values for 79c

WE ARE GIVING EXTRA LOW PRICES ON SHOES NOW

Ladies, if you have tired, aching feet you can get the comfort yau want with a pair of Martha Washington Shoes. See them at our store before you buy any others.

SPECIAL SALE OF SHIRTS

We have the biggest line of dress shirts we ever had. They are laundry proof, the Phillips-Jones line. They have plenty of length and room.

1 lot childrens dresses made of broadcloth in sizes 7 to 14 for.....$1.49

1 lot mens union suits.....49c
1 lot mens union suits worth $1, now....95c

In lots of more than one a cheaper price will be made.

1 lot of window shades.....59c
1 lot brooms with screw handles.....49c
This is something new.

1 lot childrens hose worth 25c, now.....15c

DON'T FORGET OUR LINE OF PIECE GOODS IS COMPLETE

We will give you this week 2 and 1-2 yds of 9-4 sheeting, enough to make one bed spread, for 98c

1 lot granulated sugar, 19 lbs for.....$1.00
1 lot pure ground coffee, 3 1-3 lbs.....$1.00
4 lbs. green coffee for.....$1.00

The W. Z. HODGES DRY GOODS COMPANY . . Clanton, Alabama

SOCIETY

Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Editor.

Oglesby-Wade Wedding Solemnized.

One of the quaintest and most impressive weddings of recent months was that of Miss Gladys Oglesby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Oglesby of Centerville, Ala., to Mr. John Pierce Wade of Clanton, which was solemnized Wednesday evening, April 7, at seven o'clock, at the historic old Presbyterian church which has been a land-mark in Centerville for over a hundred years.

The church was a radiant scene with the light from cathedral candles shedding a soft glow over a beautiful background of smilax and wild palms interspersed with Easter lilies. The bridal tones of gold and silver were completed by tall candelabra festoned with gold tulle.

Preceding the entrance of the bridal party "In the Gloaming" was played softly.

The music was furnished by Miss Augusta Parr from Greensboro., pianist, and Miss Sarah Daniels of Fayette, Ala., violinist, both sorority sisters of the bride. Miss Madelyn Orr sang "I Promise You" and "Because."

The bridesmaids were Misses Mary Cooper, Kathleen Wright, and Mattie Winn Nicholson of Centerville, Ala., and Miss Margaret Oglesby, sister of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore ankle length bouffant gowns of pale gold taffeta with gold lace and carried old fashioned bouquets of sweetheart roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. W. J. Fuller of Montgomery, wore a becoming gown of old gold chiffon.

Miss Mathilda Ann Jones of Gulfport, Miss., another sorority sister was maid of honor. She was charming in a pale gold georgette gown bouquet of Ophelia roses tied with buff tulle.

Master George Smoot, son of Judge and Mrs. G. F. Smoot of Wetumpka, was the ring bearer. He wore a suit of ivory satin and carried the ring in a lily.

Preceding the bride, the dainty little flower girls, Peggy Page and Lucy Elmore Fuller, entered wearing pale gold taffeta dresses and carried miniature bouquets of sunset rose buds.

The ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Eugene L. Crawford of Greensboro, who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents twenty-six years ago.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was beautiful in an afternoon gown of new ivory crepe Elizabeth, elaborately embroidered in silver with accesories to match. She wore a chic French hat beaded in pastel shades and carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses and valley lilies. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Stokes Goodrich of Russellville, Ala.

The groomsmen were James Wade, brother of the groom, Hoyt Reynolds, Frank Mullins, all of Clanton, Ala., and John Moore of Wetumpka, Ala.

The bride is a member of the Delta Zeta and Chi Delta Phi sororities and a former student of the University of Alabama where she was a leader in religious and social life, and also a member of the Black Friars.

Mr. Wade, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade of Clanton, is a former student of the Lincoln Memorial college of Tennessee. He is a prominent young business man of Clanton where he has a host of friends.

After an extended wedding tour including Cuba and other points of interest, Mr. and Mrs. Wade will be at home to their many friends in Clanton.

Prior to the wedding Mrs. Wade was the recipient of many lovely courtesies, the most recent being the dinner party given for the bridal party by Miss Mary Cooper Monday evening and the reception given for the wedding guests Tuesday evening by the bride's mother. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. J. Q. Wade of Clanton, Mrs. J. C. Gravely of Montgomery, and Mrs. John C. Page of Clanton. Miss Thelma Martin of Centerville presided over the bride's book. Mrs. Splawn of Leeds served tea from a beautifully appointed table. The bride's table with a cover of Italian cut work held the pyramid cake embossed in yellow rose buds and lilies of the valley where a miniature bride and groom stood under a wedding bell suspended from an arch. Silver candle sticks with burning candles and artistic baskets of white roses surrounded the cake.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade of Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Splawn of Leeds, Judge and Mrs. G. F. Smoot of Wetumpka, Misses Willie and Bertha Fuller of Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Page of Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Shangs of Montgomery, Mrs. G. I. Burdin of Bessemer, Mrs. A. C. Shelby of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callen, and Miss Kathleen Mullins of Clanton, Benjamin Ferguson of Leeds, James Shelby of Ensley, Edward Burton of Bessemer, and Cary Fuller of Montgomery.—Contributed.

Civic Club Spend-The-Day.

The members of the Civic Club enjoyed a spend-the-day Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. B. Mauney on First Avenue. The home was profusely decorated with spring blossoms. A color sceme of pink and white predominated. At the noon hour a sumptuous luncheon was served cafeteria style.

In the afternoon the regular business session presided over by Mrs. Hugh Jones was held. Several important matters were brought before the club.

Those enjoying this affair were Mesdames L. F. Gerald, Hugh Jones, J. Watts Moore, W. I. Mullins, Clarence Evans, W. M. Wyatt, Kin Vinson, J. B. Atkinson, J. W. Hayes, Joe Calloway, Omar Reynolds, D. C. Alred, and Grady Brodhead; Misses Helen Evans, Eoline McCullar, and Ivilyn Ingram.

Scott-Connatser Marriage.

On last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fox was the scene of a pretty home wedding, when Miss Louise Connatser plighted her troth to Mr. H. T. Scott. Rev. S. J. Ezell pronounced the vows in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. The Fox home was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. A color sceme of pink and white was effectively carried out. The bride was attired in blue with harmonizing accessories. She carried a bride's bouquet of white sweet peas showered with lilies of the valley. Her only attendant was Miss Davis of Anniston. Mr. Broadus Connatser, brother of the bride, served as best man. The bride and groom left immediately following the ceremony for a wedding trip, after which they will return to Birmingham to make their home.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Connatser of Thorsby, Ala., a successful teacher who has made many friends throughout this section of the state. Mr. Scott, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., now holds a responsible position with a concern in Birmingham.

The out-of-town guests for the wedding were Miss Juanita Connatser of Jacksonville, Miss Davis of Anniston, and Mr. Broadus Connatser of Tuscaloosa.

Y. W. A. Meeting.

Miss Evelyn Littlejohn was hostess to the members of the Young Woman's Auxiliary Tuesday afternoon at her home on West Second Avenue. Baskets of spring blossoms and ferns decorated the living room.

The following program was rendered:

Topic, "Yesterday and Today; A Land—A People."

Hymn, "Come, Thou Almighty King."

Devotional, Psalm 62, by Miss Pearl Minor.

Prayer, "That God may become a refuge for our South American Friends," Thelma Guy.

"Yesterday, A Land—A People," Frances Moore.

"Today, Waiting for the Sunrise," Leona Stanley.

"A Land," Thelma Guy.

"A People," Pearl Minor and Evelyn Littlejohn.

Hymn, "To the Work."

Delicious refreshments were served to Misses Thelma Guy, Leona Stanley, Frances Moore, Pearl Minor, and Mrs. J. P. Hayes.

P. T. A. Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held Friday afternoon at the Grammar School. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. L. F. Gerald. Several important matters were brought before the organization. One was a discussion as to where the Junior High School should be placed. A motion was made and carried that the Junior High School be retained with the Grammar School. Mrs. R. C. McDavid presented the plans of the Better Homes Committee of the county and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt requested the P. T. A. to give five dollars to this committee for a prize to be offered for beautifying unsightly vacant lots. This was granted. Splendid annual reports from all chairmen were made. There was raised this year through the efforts of the organizations, between $500 and $600. Following the business session the election of officers took place. It was with reluctance that the organization accepted Mrs. Gerald's refusal to serve again as president, she having served so efficiently and untiring. The election resulted: President, Mrs. J. A. Hester; Vice President, Mrs. J. E. Gowan; Secretary, Miss Thelma Guy; Treasurer, Miss Leona Stanley. A most entertaining program was rendered by the pupils of Miss Lillian Pate. The pictures for attendance were awarded to Miss Guy's room.

Young Matrons' Club.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Lucien Duncan was a most gracious hostess when she entertained the members of the Young Matrons' Club at her home on Tenth Street. Yellow and white were the colors emphasized in the decoration of spring blossoms.

The hostess served a delicious salad course with hot coffee to Mesdames Briggs Crumpton, Grady Taylor, W. M. Wyatt, Bill Murphy, Joe Higgins, Loren Smith, Milton Smith, Flem Higgins, Hubert Jones, Latham Ellis, and John Browder.

Mrs. J. A. Hester, Misses Margaret and Julia Ruth and William Hester motored to Auburn last week end and visited Mr. Joseph Hester, who is a student at A. P. I.

Mrs. J. P. Van Derveer left Monday for an extended visit to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Richards (Bess Van Der veer) in Shreveport, La.

Mrs. J. B. Downs has returned from Denver, Colo., where she visited Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pickens. She was accompanied home by her little grandson, Mike Pickens.

Walker-Parrish Wedding Solemnized.

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Monroe Parrish, when Miss Johnnie Esther Parrish and Mr. Grover C. Walker were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Parrish, grandfather of the bride. The home was artistically decorated for the occasion with Southern Smilax and white carnations. An improvised altar was made of smilax and on either side were candelabra with lighted tapers. The bride was attractively attired in blue with gray accessories, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Following the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walker left by motor for Montgomery and New Orleans, where they will spend several days. Upon their return they will be at home in Clanton. The bride is a graduate of the Chilton County High School, and is a very popular and beautiful young girl. Mr. Walker is a graduate of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute and the School of Law at the University of Alabama. He is now solicitor of Chilton County, and is one of the prominent professional men of Alabama.

Mrs. Johnson Hostess.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson delightfully entertained the members of the Wednesday Bridge Club and others on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Sixth Street. Pink and white carnations and potted plants were effectively used to decorate the home. Following a series of bridge games Mrs. Arthur Johnson held top score and was presented a beautiful sterling silver berry spoon. A game of "Old Maid" was the booby prize. A delicious salad course with iced tea was served by the hostess.

Those enjoying Mrs. Johnson's hospitality on this occasion were Mesdames L. F. Gerald, Arthur Johnson, Frank Callen, John Browder, Hance Alred, H. M. Simpson, Grady Reynolds, J. Watts Moore V. J. Heard, Eric Hart, Carrie Mullins, and Miss Kathleen Mullins.

Messrs. J. P. Hayes, V. J. Heard, Percy Pitts, Grady Broadhead, "Red" Wagoner, and Alex Hayes motored to Tuscaloosa Friday to visit Mr. Jack Hayes, and witness the ball game between Alabama and Cleveland.

Mrs. N. S. Johnson has gone to St. Louis to attend the national meeting of Girl Scouts.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chestnut of Birmingham were guests of Miss French Evans Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Stephenson, Misses Edith and Kathryn, and George Stephenson motored to Birmingham Thursday and spent the day shopping.

Mrs. Franz is recovering from a recent serious illness.

Mrs. L. Parrish and little son returned Sunday from Selma, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thompson.

Mr. Geo. Mims of Mulberry was in town Saturday.

Mesdames Latham Ellis, Hurst, Loren Smith, and Miss Jewel Minor motored to Montgomery Tuesday and spent the day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reynolds and Miss Willodean Reynolds motored to Prattville Tuesday and spent the day.

Messrs. V. J. Heard and J. B. Atkinson made a business trip to Montgomery Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolin DuBose of Maplesville were visitors here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Walker returned Sunday from their wedding trip to New Orleans.

Mr. J. R. Mullins spent the week end with his family at Montgomery.

Mr. Wallace Jones of Birmingham spent several days last week with his mother, Mrs. Willie Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fox spent several days in Birmingham last week purchasing a new Buick sedan.

Mrs. Minnie Evans of Lomax was the guest of Mrs. E. T. Weldon Monday.

Mrs. H. A. Turner and son, Herbert, Jr., left Tuesday for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will join Mr. Turner, who has been there for several months for his health. En route they will visit Mrs. Turner's sister, Mrs. W. C. Beener, at San Antonio. Tex.

Mr. Ocie Webb spent the week end with home folks at Mulberry.

Mr. Harry Gordon of Columbiana was in town Monday.

Mrs. G. H. Lightsey of Verbena was here Monday.

Messrs. W. E. Pearce Clyde Weaver, Dasel McVay, Misses Vennie Fox and Daisy Downs of Birmingham were guests of Miss Goree Calloway Sunday.

Mrs. S. C. Wood of Thorsby was in town shopping Monday.

PORTO BELLO GOLD

(Continued from Page 2)

He appealed to Peter, whimsically humorous.

"Stap me, the boy wears upon my nerves! Was ever a youth so callow in his assurance of righteousness?"

Peter's little eyes twinkled.

"He is right, andt you are right. You are a big rascal, but dot time maybe you was right."

"Don't be an idiot, Peter," I rasped.

"'Tis you are the idiot," affirmed my great-uncle. "Here are you and Peter—two honest men if any ever were—and myself, with less claim to virtue perhaps, but as acute an interest, if the truth be known. And all three of us a-hungering to safeguard the lass. What mother might ask more?"

"And Flint," I amended. "He'd protect her, I suppose."

"He'll never have the chance, Robert," he answered gravely. "You and Peter have played ducks and drakes between you, with my plans; but John Flint is not the man to overreach me. Give him rope, lad—and we'll present him his chance to hang.

I was up early in the morning, but Mistress O'Donnell and my great-uncle were before me. As I climbed to the poop I saw them standing by the weather rail, Murray expressing deference in every line of his straight figure and handsome, old-young face, the little maid eyeing him with a comical mixture of antipathy and respect.

"Here is my nephew, who will settle all your remaining doubts, Mistress Moira," proclaimed Murray; "and with your leave I'll be about my morning inspection."

She watched his retreating back with a kind of fascination.

"Sure, I never met the like of him," she said at last. "He puts me in mind of the grand gentry the padre brings to see me in Madrid—and him a pirate! But I'm thinking yourself will be the same queer sort, Master Ormerod, you that can be generous and gallant to a foolish maid and as cruel as the wildcat the Indians showed us in the hills up behind Porto Bello."

"It must seem so to you," I answered. "But the truth is that I am as much the sport of Fate as yourself."

"Do you tell me so?" she replied politely.

"Do but let me tell you my story," I pleaded, "and you will think better of some things."

So I began at the beginning and told her all from the moment Darby McGraw had run into the counting-room in Pearl street—and how remote in time and place that seemed as we stared out upon the blue-green rollers of the Caribbean and the tropic sun warmed toward its noon intensity! She listened with mounting interest, never interrupting save for an occasional "Glory!" "Oh, blessed saints!" "Holy Virgin, can such things be!" But when I came to the escape from the Walrus she broke in upon me.

"And you did that to be handy by if I had need of you! Oh, sir, forget the wicked suspicions I owned! 'Tis a true friend you will be—and the large gentleman, too. What is he called? Master Corlaer? Alas, I am heavy in your debt, and always shall be."

She was wholly trustful with Peter and me from then on and spent most of her time with us.

On the seventh morning after the action with the Santissima Trinidad we raised a slow, sandy islet, densely choked with low trees and bush growth, bare of any characteristic that invited human habitation. Murray approached it with caution, a man in the chains dipping the lead continually, and we came to anchor under its lee and a mile or more offshore.

In the meantime Martin and a party of some fifty men had been passing up treasure from the wine-cellar or lazaret; the anchor cable ran out and Murray issued an order to lower all the small boats.

He took snuff, staring contemplatively at the sand-hillocks of the Dead Man's chest.

"Here is my plan," he pursued. "I will have eight hundred thousand pounds set ashore in the boats—my own share of one hundred thousand, chevalier, as well as the seven hundred thousand pounds guaranteed to your friends. I will then land you four, with sufficient provisions, and bear away in the James to the so'th'ard, returning in five days to pick you up. In the intervening period you should be able to transport the treasure to a safe spot and bury it. In that way, chevalier, its safety can be assured until we are able to return for it with the James or some other craft dispatched by your friends."

"Your plan is maybe the best in the circumstances," answered O'Donnell.

There was more talk back and forth but the end of it all was that O'Donnell accepted by great-uncle's plan, and Moira was won over likewise by the argument that so long as the treasure was stolen it had best be assured to a worthy purpose. Peter and I agreed for a complex of reasons—because of the little maid for one thing, and for another, because there was an excitement in the burial of treasure which neither of us had tasted before, and also, of course, because, when all was said and done, we were prisoners and we must. But I'd never seek to deny that we had pleasure from the thrill that came to us late in the afternoon of that day as we stood on the narrow beach of the islet beside a great stack of kegs and chests, axes, pickaxes and shovels, a barrel of water and boxes of food from Ben Gunn's larder, watching the boat that had landed us pull back to the James.

The first afternoon and evening we spent in selecting a hiding-place in a shallow valley protected from the terrible storms which sweep those seas. Colonel O'Donnell and Moira were detailed to do the digging, as neither was as capable as Peter and I of managing the weighty bulk of the casks and chests. And after that we worked unremittingly, except for a couple of hours at midday and a short snatch of sleep about dawn; for the starlit nights, with their bracing sea-winds, were the most comfortable times we had. Yet the tops'ls of the James were within sight before we had disposed of the last spadeful of sand from the hiding place and replanted its area with the trees and bushes we had removed with every care to preserve their roots.

(To be continued next week.)

Mr. J. L. Ruffin made a business trip to Birmingham Thursday.

Mr. O. L. Devaughn of Cooper was in town Saturday.

In 4 years' tests conducted by our State Experiment Station, including 1922 to 1925, Cook 10-10 cotton has proved to be the best for this part of Alabama. It ranks first on the list and made 34 pounds more lint to the acre than the next best yielding cotton tested.

At the Delta Branch Experiment Sation at Stoneville, Miss., in 1924, fifty-three varieties of cotton were tested. Both long and short staple varieties were included. They were ranked according to yield in cotton per acre. When seed and lint were both sold, Cook 10-10 ranked second, and made $194.52 per acre.

C. M. Mauldin, Wilsonville, Ala., is the largest multiplier of these seed in the State. His seed are for sale by Gulledge Brothers, Verbena; J. N. Dennis, Clanton; W. H. Goodgame, Thorsby; and W. H. Conway, Jemison. Nothing pays a farmer better than good seed. 4-8-tf-ch.

I. T. Garner, optometrist, will be in Thorsby on Friday before the fourth Saturday in every month, and in Clanton over Tom Kemp's store the fourth Saturday in each month. All work guaranteed. See him if you need a pair of spectacles. tf.

MRS. C. B. NORRELL
Studio of Music
Over Broadhead's Store
Violin, Piano, Theory, Harmony, modern phrasing and pedaling. Certificate from the Elenberg Conservatory of Music. Years of Experience. Terms Reasonable. Home phone. 3-25-4t-pd.

ATKINSON & PITTS
Lawyers
Office in Johnson Bldg.
CLANTON, ALA.

BRING YOUR CAR TO
Clanton Steam Laundry
TO BE WASHED
Located on Sixth Street and First Avenue, at Robinson Machine Shop

Straight Chairs, Rockers, Tables, Ice Boxes, Bedsteads, Selling Cheap

You can see these things in my building formerly occupied by Lawrence. This stock must be closed out by the first of May. It will sell dirt cheap. Come and see it.

W. W. FOX, Clanton, Ala.

THE UNION-BANNER

Published every Thursday at Clanton, Chilton County, Ala.

W. M. WYATT and T. E. WYATT
Publishers and Proprietors

Entered April 15, 1913, at Clanton, Ala., as Second Class Mail Matter, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE:

One Year	$1.50
Eight months	1.00
Six months	.75
Four months	.50

(Strictly cash in advance)

Bell Phone 63 Peoples Phone

PROTECTION WAS FIRST AIM OF U. S. CONGRESS

When the thirteen colonies had achieved freedom and set about the establishing of an orderly government through the Constitution, one of the first things this country sought to secure was economic independence by fostering home industry, according to Peter Roman Sterling, who discusses the historical constitutional phases of the protective tariff policy in the current issue of the National Republic under the title "Protection and the United States Constitution."

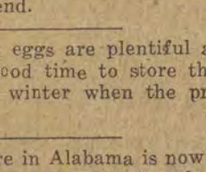
"Protection for American manufacturers was one of the chief reasons for the formation and adoption of the Constitution of the United States. There is no end of proof of this assertion," Mr. Sterling says.

"The first bill passed by the First Congress was a tariff bill. While it was being debated, Fisher Ames, of Massachusetts, said: 'I conceive, sir, that the present Constitution was dictated by commercial necessity, more than any other cause. The want of an efficient government to secure the manufacturing interest, and to advance our commerce, was long seen by men of judgment, and pointed out by patriots solicitous to promote our general welfare.'

"Daniel Webster, student and expounder of the Constitution, in a speech at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1833, said: 'The protection of American labor against the injurious competition of foreign labor, so far, at least, as respects general handicraft productions, is known historically to have been one end designed to be obtained by establishing the Constitution.'

"Rufus Choate, while discussing 'the power and duty of Congress to continue the policy of protecting American labor,' in the Senate of 1842, said: 'A whole people, a whole generation of our fathers, had in view, as one grand end and purpose of their new government, the acquisition of the means of restraining, by governmental action the importation of foreign manufactures, for the encouragement of manufactures and of labor at home, and desired and meant to do this by clothing the new government with this specific power of regulating commerce'."

With the return of spring the Sunday automobile casualty reports in the newspapers on Monday morning begin to read like war bulletins again.



Senators may rave as they will about the Locarno situation and the disarmament problems, but most of the public will continue to be more interested in speculating on how many home runs Babe Ruth is liable to get this summer.

If there were a "Use Your Mind Week," all other "weeks" would come to a sudden end.

Now, when eggs are plentiful and cheap, is a good time to store them for use next winter when the price will be high.

"Agriculture in Alabama is now on trial and all the jurymen are farmers. Hence farmers are masters of their own fate, be it good or bad."—L. N. Duncan.

The busiest season of the year on Alabama farms is here.

New Words! New Words!
thousands of them spelled, pronounced, and defined in
WEBSTER'S NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY
The "Supreme Authority" Get the Best!
Here are a few samples:
agrimotor soviet abreaction
hot pursuit cyper rotogravure
Air Council askari capital ship mud gun sippio mystery ship
Ruthene sterol irredenta
paravane shoneen Flag Day
megabar Red Star Esthonia
S. P. boat overhead Blue Cross aerial cascade
camp-fire girl

Is this Storehouse of Information Serving You?
2700 Pages 6000 Illustrations
407,000 Words and Phrases
Gazetteer and Biographical Dictionary
WRITE for a sample page of the New Words, specimen of Regular and India Papers, FREE.
G. & C. MERRIAM CO.
Springfield, Mass., U. S. A.

Father Time---Up-To-Date!

THE GENEVA FAILURE

In spite of the fact that the League of Nations met and adjourned without getting Germany into the organization, and even if everyone has gone home to try to forget about it for the time being, discussion of the situation seems to be as prolific as ever.

The principal fact that stands out of the whole mess from an American point of view, is that every American ought to be thankful that we were not members of the League when this March session was held.

There can be little doubt that the league members are gravitating back to the balance of power system. The intriguing that went on back and forth at Geneva is abundant proof of this. If the United States were in the League of Nations we would have been compelled to take some part in this, to favor one combination or another.

German delegates claimed that at Locarno they were given to understand that Germany would get into the council "as is" without the introduction of other members at the same time, which they characterized a "breach of faith." France on the other hand maintained that she had no such understanding and that Poland, as an ally of France, interested in the Locarno pact, with much at stake, ought to be in the council as a permanent member.

It was on this rock that the council split. True it was Brazil which finally broke up the meeting but nobody seriously believes that Brazil acted on her own accord. The kindliness with which she has been treated by the European powers since is, to say the least, significant. But if the United States had been in the League we would have had to do one thing or another. We would have had to stand by France and insist on the admission of Poland to the council or adopt the German view that she was a victim of a breach of faith and should have gone into the Council alone. But France and Germany were not standing alone. There were other nations supporting each viewpoint and in making our decision we would have offended one group of powers or another. And the political questions involved were questions in which we have no concern.

The United States is a nation apart. We have drawn our citizens from all countries in Europe, and it is peculiarly necessary that we refrain in taking sides in purely European questions.

Farm work done in the right way at the right time pays best.

Cream and milk cool 23 times as fast in water as in air of the same temperature.

We hear some talk of a new rural mail route proposed to be established out of the Clanton post office. Definite information has not been obtained as to the territory to be served, but it is understood it will extend over twenty-odd miles in a swing through the eastern part of Beat 4, through Beat 16, and possibly touch the northern part of Beat 10. Another route is needed there. We hope it comes through all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Will DeShazo of Mulberry were visitors to Clanton last Saturday.

H. C. Crenshaw of Montgomery was in Clanton Monday night attending a special festival of local shriners. Mr. Crenshaw is a high official of the Masonic order in Alabama, and is a leading business man of Montgomery. He is president and executive head of the Brown Printing Co. This was his first visit here in six or seven years and he expressed surprse to see how Clanton has "come out."

S. P. Shaw of Jemison was a visitor to Clanton Monday. It is hardly fair to Mr. Shaw to call him a visitor to Clanton. He is really one of us, having business interests here as part owner with his brother, of the gin formerly operated by Mr. J Q. Wade. During the ginning season Mr. Shaw stays here every day and operates the cotton gin.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Written for this paper by
FRANK P. LITSCHERT

A great deal of furor has been raised in the United States Senate and in Great Britain and Europe over statements on the international situation supposed to have been made by Ambassador Houghton, our representative to Great Britain, upon his return from the scene of action to confer with the President.

Just what Ambassador Houghton said and whether he said it or not seems to be a matter of dispute and conjecture. But among the people at large one fact seems pretty well established, and that is, whether he said it or not, he could have said it without violating the laws of veracity or in any way over-stating conditions on the other side of the Atlantic.

According to European newspapers, who seem to know more about it than we do, Ambassador Houghton took a decidedly pessimistic view of conditions in Europe. He is supposed to have expressed the opinion that the recent activities at Geneva indicated that Europe was going back to the old theory of the balance of power with its accompanying intrigue. He is also alleged to have intimated that, altho a preliminary conference for disarmament has been called, Europe is not ready to disarm and does not expect anything to come of the conference.

Whether or not our Ambassador to Great Britain said these things does not change the real situation. Nearly every correspondent in Europe has been sending us practically the same kind of news during the past few weeks. Now if this is the true condition of affairs, it is a little difficult to see why hiding the truth from the world is going to do any particular good. On the other hand a little light on the subject might be decidedly beneficial, although embarrassing to the European politicians who don't want conditions changed. The age of secret diplomacy was supposed to have passed with the setting up of the League of Nations. And if we are to have open diplomacy we must have the true conditions to go by.

There is no need of naming it or describing it. Just bring it to Clanton and set it up under a tent and the folks will flock to see it day after day, night after night. What fools we mortals be! Won't it be awful if everybody here don't learn to skate? As bad perhaps as the terrible humiliation of not possessing an automobile.

Silage is the best winter substitute for grass. A dairyman with 20 or more cows can not afford to be without a silo.

A decrease of 479,000 people on the farms of the United States, January 1, 1926, as compared with January 1, 1925, is estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The figure for January 1, 1925, was 31,134,000 as compared with 30,655,000, January 1, 1926, a decrease of 1.5%. These figures include all men, women, and children living on farms.

In 1925 a total of 1,069,685 kilowatt-hours of electric energy were consumed by 1,796 rural customers of hydro-electricity on 183.3 miles of transmission lines in 17 counties of Alabama. This is equivalent to approximately 1,330,000 horsepower-hours, or 13,000,000 man-hours. This rural work was started 2 1-2 years ago and is now in progress in 20 states with Alabama a leader.

"Farm women need fewer hours of work and more hours for thinking and recreation."—Miss Agnes Ellen Harris, Auburn.

W. M. U. QUARTERLY MEETING

The Chilton County W. M. U. will hold their quarterly meeting at Union Grove church April 22.

Miss Addie Cox, returned missionary from China, will be there to tell us about China. Several other good speakers will be present. We ask that every church in this Association be represented.—Mrs. W. J. Billingsley.

25 YEARS AGO

News Items As Published in The Banner in Its Issue of April 11, 1901.

Mr. W. C. Dyer has purchased Dr. C. N. Parnell's residence. Dr. Parnell will move to Ensley.—Stanton News.

Messrs. Crump Graham and Cal Foshee of Maplesville were in Stanton Sunday.—Stanton News.

The wife of Mr. E. J. Mims of Concord community die on April the 3rd.

Mr. Arch Candler of Deming, New Mexico is visiting relatives in Clanton.

Miss Sallie Strock of Verbena is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. E. Johnson.

Miss Jessie McGehee of Stanton was a visitor here this week.

Married—Marion F. Wagoner and Mrs. Mary E. Askew.

Mr. Floyd Jones of Lily has been made town marshal of Thorsby.

Miss Bettie Young of Jumbo is visiting friends here this week.

Dr. N. S. Johnson is at home again after spending a term at Mobile Medical College.

Moses Mims is erecting a new store house on the Adams place.

Renfro Mullins left last week to attend Bryant & Stratton business college at Louisville, Ky.

C. J. Stewart has bought the lot owned by J. E. Evans and will erect the brick store house proposed by Mr. Evans.

THE BEAR CREEK PHILOSOPHER

Henry Martin has just returned from a trip to Chicago and says it's a good thing they didn't have those double deck houses in the crinoline days.

